——— Amendment—extent of court's power to alter frame of suit—suit for eviction on ground of wrongful possession—decree awarding rent, legality of. The court's power to alter the frame of a suit is co-extensive with the power that it has to make amendments under r 3 of O. XIV of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. The court cannot convert one cause of action into a different cause of action Where the plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title to the land in dispute and prayed (1) that he might be put into possession thereof by ousting the defendants, and (2) that he might be awarded mesne profits by way of damages for use and occupation for the period during which the defendants had been in wrongful possession of the land, held, that the court was not competent to give a decree against the defendants on the basis that they were tenants of the plaintiff and liable to pay rent to him. JHARI SINGH v. PIRTHI NATH SAHU 2 Pat. L. J. 69

——— O. XIV, r. 6—

See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 587

——— The Court cannot, where there is no agreement as is indicated in O. XIV, r. 6, of the Civil Procedure Code, go outside the allegations in the plaint in order to decide an issue as to whether the plaint discloses a cause of action. KSHITISH CHANDRA ACHARYA CHOUDHURI v. OSMOND BEEBEE (1912) 16 C. W. N. 516

——— O. XVI (1882 Code, ss. 59-78)—

——— O. XVI, r. 4—Sale of immoveable property in execution of an order for payment of expenses of witness, legality of—S. 36, scope and effect of. In a certain suit the plaintiff was ordered to pay a certain sum as expenses for one of his witnesses. The order was executed and certain immoveable property of the plaintiff sold in execu-

[illegible]

treated as a short and summary procedure for realisation of the expenses of a witness in addition to other modes of execution of orders under the provisions of s. 36 of the Code That section does not make any order capable of execution which was not so before. The section only means that the procedure prescribed for execution of decrees shall apply to execution of such orders as can be executed under the Code. There being a specific provision in that behalf in O. 16, r 4,

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XVI (1882 Code, ss. 59-78)—contd.

[illegible]

ALI MEATH . . . 26 C. W. N. 877

——— O. XVI, rr. 10, 12—Fine for non production of documents, conditions to be fulfilled before imposing fine—Duty of Courts and Settlement Officers to strictly follow the law relating to issue and service of summons. O. XVI, r. 10, of the Civil Procedure Code does not apply where there has been no summons upon any body to produce the documents, and no order under r. 12 can be made until the procedure laid down in r. 10 has been followed where that rule applies. The Civil Courts, and particularly the peripatetic Settlement Courts, which cause a large amount of disturbance to local interests, cannot be too careful to follow the provisions of law strictly as regards summoning persons and documents before them. NABADIP CHANDRA NANDI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 511

——— O. XVI, r. 12 (1882 Code, s. 170)—

See s. 141 . 23 C. W. N. 560

——— O. XVII (1882 Code, s. 156)—

See O. XXI, R. 16. 5 Pat. L. J. 390

——— O. XVII, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 157)—

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT. 4 Pat. L. J. 712

——— O. XVII, rr. 2, 3—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O. IX, R. 13 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 286

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT. 4 Pat. L. J. 277

See EX-PARTE DECREE. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 956

——— O. XVII, r. 2, O. IX, r. 3 and O. XXXII, r. 3—Adjourned hearing—Plaintiffs' default—Non-appearance of defendant—Dismissal of suit—Fresh suit on the same cause of action. The plaintiffs filed a suit against several defendants, one in

At

for again sued the minor defendant alone on the same cause of action :—Held, that the dismissal of the first suit did not operate as a bar to the maintainability of the second suit, since the order passed in the first suit was a nullity as between the plaintiffs and the minor defendant. DAMU v. VAKRYA (1919) . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 767

——— O. XVII, r. 3 (1882 Code, s. 158)—

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT 4 Pat. L. J. 481

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XVII, r. 3 (1882 Code, s. 158)—contd.

1. ——— Procedure—Order for parties to appear with witnesses at adjourned hearing—Default of plaintiff's witnesses—Dismissal of suit. On the date fixed for the hearing of a suit the parties and their witnesses were present but, as there was some prospect of a compromise, the hearing was adjourned. On the adjourned date the plaintiffs were present, but their witnesses, though summoned, did not appear. The plaintiffs did not apply for an adjournment, nor did they ask the Court to enforce the attendance of their witnesses under O. XVI, r. 10, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the Court, acting apparently under O. XVII, r. 3, of the Code, dismissed the suit. The plaintiffs appealed, and the District Judge, dealing with the case as if the plaintiffs had made default in appearing remitted the case to the first Court to be disposed of according to law. Held, that the procedure of the District Judge was erroneous: he should have proceeded under O. XLI, r. 27, to direct the admission of fresh evidence, and under O. XLI, r. 25, to refer the issues for trial, to the Court of first instance. Per Curiam—"As we read the present Code we think it leaves the Court a discretion to proceed at once when witnesses have failed to attend if from any circumstances before it has reason to believe that the evidence of such defaulting witnesses is material and that the witnesses are defaulting. It would be for the witnesses to show that their absence rested on lawful excuse." RAM NARAIN DUBE v. JAGDEO (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 690

2. ——— Adjourned hearing—Suit dismissed on merits—Remedy of plaintiff—Procedure. At an adjourned hearing of a suit in the Court of a Munsif the plaintiffs were not present and their pleader intimated to the Court that he had no instructions to go on with the case. This suit was thereupon dismissed under O. XVII, r. 3, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, on the ground that the claim was not proved. The plaintiffs then made an application for restoration under O. IX, r. 4. The Munsif dismissed the application and his order was affirmed by the District Judge. Held, on application in revision by the plaintiffs, that no revision lay. The suit having been dismissed under O. XVII, r. 3, of the Code on the merits, the plaintiffs' remedy was by way of appeal against the Munsif's decree. Lalta Prasad v. Nand Kishore, I. L. R. 22 All. 66, followed. GAURA BIBI v. GHASITA (1911)

I. L. R. 34 All. 123

3. ——— Procedure—Suit partially heard, but dismissed as for default because plaintiff was not in a position to continue it—Appeal—Inherent powers of High Court. A plaintiff whose case had been partly heard failed to continue the prosecution of it, not because he wished to do so, but because, owing to various difficulties connected with the absence of his pleader and of some of his witnesses, he thought that he was unable to proceed further with it. Thereupon the Court passed an order dismissing the suit "for default." Held, that the Court should not have dismissed the suit "for default," but should have decided it as best it could on the merits and on the materials then before it. Badam v. Nathu Singh, I. L. R. 25 All. 194, referred to. The circumstances of the case constituted a casus omissus so far as the Code of Civil Procedure was concerned, but the High Court had inherent power to entertain an appeal against the decision of the Court below though none was specifically provided for. SUKKHU KOERI v. RAM LOTAN KOERI (1919)

I. L. R. 41 All. 663

——— O. XVII, r. 3, O. IX, r. 3—After issues had been framed the 4th May was fixed for hearing. Subsequently plaintiff applied to add certain minor defendants, 6th June was fixed for appointment of guardian ad litem. Plaintiff having failed to file process for service on guardian suit was dismissed. Held, that the court should have dealt with the suit under O. XVII, r. 3 and therefore there was no res judicata. In a suit on a mortgage against the executants and members of joint family who had purchased the equity of redemption except the grandson. Held, suit was bad for non joinder. A point of law not agreed in the Lower Court can be raised in 2nd appeal if it does not require consideration of the evidence and is based on the finding of the Lower Court. SHAIKH ABDUL RAHMAN v. SHIB LAL SAHA

5 Pat. L. J. 650

——— O. XVII, r. 3, Sch. II, Cls. 18 and 22—Reference to arbitration—Stay of suit—Arbitrator unwilling to act—Suit not barred by agreement to refer.—Power of Court to proceed with the suit. The plaintiff and defendant who were partners dissolved the partnership by an agreement, one of the terms of which was that certain matters of account should be referred to the decision of two named persons. Thereafter, in spite of this agreement, the plaintiff filed a suit which was subsequently stayed under para. 18 of the second schedule of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, to enable the parties to refer their dispute to the arbitration of the two agreed persons. One of these persons, however, having been found unwilling to act and the arbitration appearing impracticable the plaintiff eventually applied for removal of stay. The Court however, without removing the stay, proceeded to decide the suit upon the materials before it, purporting to act under O. XVII, r. 3, of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, and held that the suit was barred by the agreement to refer. The plaintiff having appealed to the High Court. Held, that the suit was not barred by the agreement to refer to arbitration by reason of the provisions of para. 22 of the second schedule of the Civil Procedure Code; and that the Court should have removed the stay and decided the suit on its merits. LAXMAN v. MANJUNATH (1921) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1181

——— O. XVIII, r. 2 (1882 Code, ss. 179 and 180)—

See HIGH COURT RULES.

I. L. R. 42 All. 542

——— O. XVIII, r. 5 (1882 Code s. 182)—

See DEPOSITION . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 895

See PENAL CODE, 1860, s. 193.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 361

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XVIII, rr. 5, 6—

See Deposition I. L. R. 45 Calc. 825

See Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 239, 435, 436, 439. I. L. R. 42 Mad. 561

——— O. XVIII, r. 18—

See Co-owners I. L. R. 39 Mad. 501

——— O. XIX, r. 3 (1882 Code, s 916)—

See Affidavit . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 259
14 C. W. N. 153

——— O. XX, rr. 1, 2, 3 (1882 Code s. 198)—

See Judgment . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 97

——— Judgment written, signed and dated by trial Judge, pronounced in his absence by Judge in charge—Act, whether a nullity or irregularity—Waiver of irregularity—Prejudice, proof of, if necessary—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 99—Object of provisions relating to delivery of judgment. The provisions of the law relating to the delivery of judgments have been framed for the benefit of the parties litigant, and their contravention is an irregularity curable by consent or waiver. The first Subordinate Judge having heard a case reserved judgment on 6th May 1915. On 29th May 1915 he wrote, signed and dated his judgment and on 31st May 1915, during his absence from headquarters, the second Subordinate Judge, who was in charge of the first Court, delivered that judgment: Held —That the judgment was not pronounced, dated and signed in conformity with the requirements of the Code. But the error did not constitute an illegality which nullified the proceedings It was an irregularity which could be waived and was waived, no objection having been taken at the time the judgment was pronounced. If an act of the Court was without jurisdiction or infringed a rule prescribed on grounds of public policy, the proceeding became a nullity; if it was, on the other hand, only an irregular exercise of jurisdiction, a contravention of rules framed by the legislature with a view to afford protection to the individual litigant, he might waive the benefit thereof and would not be entitled to obtain a reversal of the decree except on proof that the merits had been affected The purpose of the rule which has been infringed has to be examined in order to determine whether the infringement is an irregularity only or an illegality nullifying the proceeding. Fort Gloster Jute Manufacturing Co. v. Chandra Kumar Das 24 C. W. N. 791

——— O. XX, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 199)— Judgment—Judgment written by the Judge who [illegible] a Judge of [illegible] pronounced [illegible] y pronounce [illegible] iced by the [illegible] withstanding that at the time the judgment was written the judge who wrote it had ceased to be the Judge of the court in which the case was tried. Basant Bihari Ghoshal v. The Secretary of State for India in Council, I. L. R. 35 All. 368, and Satyendra Nath Roy Chaudhri v. Kastura Kumari Ghatwalin, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 756, followed. Lilawati Kunwar v. Chote Singh . I. L. R. 42 All. 362

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XX, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 199)— contd.

——— Judgment written but not delivered before transfer of Judge—Successor in office competent to pronounce his own judgment. Where a judge fixed a date for delivering judgment, wrote it out and placed it upon the record, but was transferred before the date fixed, and his successor took a different view and delivered his own judgment: Held, that his successor in office was not obliged to deliver the judgment but was competent to pronounce a judgment of his own in the case. In the goods of Prem Chand, Moonshi, 44 Ch. D. 262, followed Re Baker; Nicholas v. Baker, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 32, referred to. Lachman Prasad v Ram Kishan (1910) I. L. R. 33 All. 236

——— Judgment—Judgment writen by the judge who heard the case after his transfer from the division and pronounced by his successor in office. A judge may pronounce a judgment written but not pronounced by his predecessor in office, and this notwithstanding that at the time the judgment was written the Judge who wrote it had ceased to be the Judge of the Court in which the case was tried Satyendra Nath Roy Chaudhuri v. Kastura Kumari Ghatwalint. I. L. R 35 Calc 756, followed. Basant Bihari Ghoshal v. Secretary of State for India (1913) I. L. R. 35 All. 368

——— O. XX, r. 3 (1882 Code, s. 202)—

See Judgment . . 5 Pat. L. J. 147

——— O. XX, r. 7—(1882 Code s. 205)

See Execution of Decree. 5 Pat. L. J. 490

See Limitation . I. L. R. 37 All. 527

——— O. XX, r. 11 (1882 Code, s. 210)— Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). O. XX, r. 11, and O. XXXIV, r. 6—Personal decree against mortgagor—Court's discretion to direct payment by instalment—Judicial discretion—Second appeal. In making a decree under O. 34, r. 6 of the Civil Procedure Code, against a mortgagor personally, the Court may direct the payment of the decretal amount in instalments under O. 20, r. 11 of the Code. Whether or not the Court exercised a sound judicial discretion in making the order cannot be reviewed in second appeal. Balgobindram Bhakat v. Chhedilal Saha, 11 C. L. J. 431, distinguished. Bidhu Sekar Bandapadhya v. Sudhury Mahatabuddin (1911) . . 15 C. W. N. 1083

——— O. XX, r. 12 (1882 Code, ss. 211, 212)—

See Partition . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 296

See Res-Judicata. I. L. R. 41 Mad. 188

——— The Court that passes a decree for possession can award mesne profits notwithstanding the amount thereof and s. 19 of the Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act does not limit the power conferred by this order on a Munsif Dinanath Sahai v Mussammat Mayawati Kuer . . . 6 Pat. L. J. 55

——— Notice directly sent by judgment debtor's attorney to decree holder held sufficient in circumstances and no [illegible]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XX, r. 12 (1882 Code, ss. 211, 212)—contd.

profits decreed. SHAMBHU NATH KHETTRI AND OTHERS v. SATISH CHANDRA MITTRA
25 C. W. N. 386

——— O. XX, r. 12 (2); XXI, r. 102 and XXII, r. 10; and s. 2 (11)—

See MESNE PROFITS.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 220

——— O. XX, r. 14 (1882 Code, s. 214)—

See s. 148 . . 1 Pat. L. J. 92

See PRESUMPTION I. L. R. 44 Calc. 675

——— O. XX, r. 16 (1882 Code, s. 215A)—

——— O. XX, r. 18—

See PARTITION . I. L. R. 41 All. 207
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 296

——— Partition—Appeal—Preliminary decree—Subsequent interlocutory order giving directions for preparation of final decree. In a suit for partition, a preliminary decree was passed and confirmed on appeal. When the case went back to the Court of first instance for the passing of a final decree that Court passed an order directing that actual partition should be made in accordance with certain directions then given by it: Held, that no appeal would lie against such an order, but its property could be questioned in appeal from the final decree. The Code of Civil Procedure contemplated the preparation of only one preliminary decree, and the order in question could not be regarded as more than an interlocutory order containing directions as to the preparation of the final decree. BHARAT INDU v. YAKUB HASAN (1913) . .
I. L. R. 35 All. 159

——— Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901), s. 32—Joint Hindu family—Partition—Occupancy holding—Existence of occupancy holding no bar to partition. Held, that the presence of an occupancy holding as an item of joint family property is no reason for not effecting a partition of the property as a whole. The Court can either give the occupancy holding to one party, taking from that party an equivalent in value, or if it be found impossible to do this, the Court can leave the occupancy holding undivided, merely making a declaration that the parties are entitled jointly to the holding. DWARKA v. RAM PAT (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 461

——— O. XX, r. 19—(1882 Code, s. 216)

See O. VIII, R. 6
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 873

——— O. XXI, r. 1 (1882 Code s. 257)—

See O. XXI, R. 53 AND 90.
4 Pat. L. J. 336

See EXECUTION.

——— Decree—Payment of money ordered in a decree—Payment ordered on a fixed date—Delay in making payment into Court owing to closing of Court—Payment on the opening day—General Clauses Act (X of 1897), s. 10—Practice. A decree provided as follows: "The plaintiff should pay, by the 10th day of April 1909, to the defendant Rs. 100. If the moneys are not paid by the plaintiff as agreed upon, the property in dispute will remain with the defendants by right of ownership and the plaintiff will have no right of ownership over the same." The plaintiff chose to pay the money into Court, and finding it closed on the 10th, she paid the money on the 14th April 1909, the day on which the Court re-opened. A question having arisen whether the payment so made was within the terms of the decree:—Held, that the payment was properly made, for O. XXI, r. 1 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, intended to enact and did enact that payment into Court was a valid compliance with the decree even though the decree directed payment to the decree-holder. WANA MARD RAVJI v. NATU WALAD MURHA (1910)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 257)—contd.

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 35

——— Payment of decree amount into Court—Notice to decree-holder—Cessation of interest whether from date of deposit or date of service of notice. Interest does not cease to run in respect of a decree-debt deposited in Court until the decree-holder gets notice of the deposit. RAMARAYA SHANBOGUE v. SHERBOTT VENKATARAMANAYYA (1919) . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 576

——— O. XXI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 258)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882, s. 231.
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 357

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s. 47.
6 Pat. L. J. 337

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURAL RELIEF ACT 1879, s. 71. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1128

See EXECUTION.
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 338

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 207

See EXECUTION PETITION.
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 251

See EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 233

See LIMITATION . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 630

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908, s. 17.
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 688

1. ——— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 244, 258—Decree—Execution—Satisfaction of the decree—Payment or adjustment not certified to the Court—Subsequent fraudulent execution. A decree was compromised by the parties out of Court. The payment, however, was not certified to the Court. The decree-holder having fraudulently applied for the execution of the decree. Held, that the Court should not in the exercise of its duty under s. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, allow a clear case of fraud to be covered and condoned by the provisions of s. 258 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, or O. XXI, r. 2, Civil Procedure Code, 1908. Trimbak Ramkrishna v. Hari Laxman, I. L. R. 34 Bom. 575, followed. HANSA GODHAJI v. BHAWA JOGAJI (1915). I. L. R. 40 Bom. 333

2. ——— Execution of decree—Decree payable by instalments—Payment of instalments not certified—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 182 (7). The effect of O. XXI, r. 2, is that a payment made on account of a decree and not certified to the Court executing the decree cannot be recognized by that Court for any purpose. Where, therefore, payments had been made towards liquidation of an instalment decree but such payments were not certified to the Court executing the decree, it was held, that limitation ran against the decree-holder from the date upon which the first instalment was due. "Certified and recorded" within the meaning of O. XXI, r. 2, signify that the executing Court being satisfied by either the decree-holder or judgment-debtors that a certain payment has been made in respect of decree has recorded the fact on the execution file. Gokul Chand v. Bhika 12 All. L J. 387, and Bhajan Lal v. Cheda Lal, 12 All. L. J. 825, referred to. Lakhi Narain Ganguli v. Felamani Dasi, 20 C. L. J. 131, dissented from. CHATTAR SINGH v. AMIR SINGH (1916) . . . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 204

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 258)—contd.

3. ——————— Limitation Act (IX of 1908), ss. 19, 20—Payment extending limitation—Certification of payment by decree-holders—Statement of payment in application for execution of decree if sufficient. A decree-holder in his application for execution of his decree notified to the Court that he had received a certain sum from the judgment-debtor and relied on this payment as saving limitation. It was found that the payment had in fact been made by the judgment-debtor himself by way of interest Held, that the decree-holder may either apply to certify payment before execution or may do so in his application for execution of the decree. That there was sufficient certification by the decree-holder and under the circumstances it was not necessary for the Court to record the certification, and O. XXI, r. 2 did not stand in the way of the decree-holder. That in the face of the finding, the fact of the endorsement and the question as to who made it and the authority by which it was made were immaterial KHATIBANNESSA BIBI v. SANCHIA LAL NAHATA (1915)

20 C. W. N. 272

4. ——————— Payment not certified if may be taken to extend limitation. Under O XXI, r. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code, an adjustment or payment of a decree which is not duly certified cannot be recognised by the Court for any purpose whatever, e g, for extending the time of limitation. KUTBULLAH SARKAR v DURGA CHARAN RUDRA (1912) 16 C. W. N. 396

5. ——————— Assignment of decree for benefit of judgment-debtor—Execution by assignee—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 258. A held a decree against C. It was arranged between C and B that B should advance the decree amount to C as a loan and that an assignment of the decree should be obtained in the name of B for the benefit of C. The decree was accordingly assigned to B who applied for execution. C set up the above arrangement as a bar to execution. B contended that such arrangement amounted to an adjustment of the decree and not being certified to the Court it could not be given effect to under O. XXI, r. 2, of the Civil Procedure Code. Held (their Lordships differing), per ABDUR RAHIM, J. That the arrangement amounted to an adjustment of the decree and not being certified, could not be pleaded as a bar to execution. The prohibition contained in O. XXI, r. 2, is not confined to cases where the parties to the transaction adjusting the decree stood at the date of such transaction in the relation of judgment-creditor and judgment-debtor. Per SUNDARA AYYAR, J. That O. XXI, r. 2, does not make uncertified adjustments invalid but merely forbids effects being given to such adjustments when they are set up as a defence to the execution of a decree by one entitled to do so. The section will not disentitle the judgment-debtor to prove facts which will show that the applicant is not the real transferee, even if the facts he relies on show that the decree has been adjusted. The prohibition regarding uncertified adjustments will not apply where the adjustment is made with a third party PONNUSAMI NADAR v. LETCHMANAN CHETTIAR (1912)

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 659

6. ——————— Fraudulent decree obtained jointly by two brothers—Admission in partition suit between brothers by one that decree fraudulent and that debter released upon payment of portion—Entry of satisfaction by the other of his share only of decree as discharged by payment—Application to execute for the balance—Executing Court if may act on the admission. S1, and S2, [illegible]

he admitted that the decree had been obtained by fraud on account of enmity between the brothers and B and that B had been released of his liability under it upon payment of Rs 200 only out of the decretal amount The payment, however, was certified in execution as made in part satisfaction only of the decree Subsequently S1 died and S2 filed a certificate in execution admitting receipt of another Rs 200 from B and the full satisfaction of his half share of the decree and then applied on behalf of the minor sons of S1 for execution of the alleged unsatisfied balance of the decree. Held, that the case really did not fall under the provisions of r. 2, O. XXI, Civil Procedure Code, as it was not a question of payment or adjustment of the decree, and the executing Court was justified in placing reliance on an admission solemnly made by the decree-holder himself prior to the application for execution in a suit in which the genuineness of the decree was in issue, and in dismissing the execution petition on its basis. BABAR ALI BOSAR v. SHISIR KUMAR BASU (1912) . 16 C. W. N. 951

7. ——————— Adjustment of decree, not certified through alleged fraud of decree-holder—Remedy of judgment-debtor—Execution [illegible] not open the fact [illegible] ee which provided in cl (1) of r. 2, of O. XXI, Civil Procedure Code, even when the conduct of the decree-holder is alleged to have been fraudulent. Gadadhar Panda v. Shyam Churn Naik, 12 C. W. N. 485, Ramayyar

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 258)—contd.

v. Ramayyar, I. L. R. 21 Mad. 356, Trimbak Ram Krishna Ranade v. Hari Laxman Ranade, I. L. R. 34 Bom. 575 ; 12 Bom. L. R. 686, referred to. Semble: It is open to the judgment-debtor to institute a suit for damages for fraud [Promanand Khasnabish v. Khepoo Paramanik, I. L. R. 10 Calc. 354, referred to] and the decree-holder also renders himself liable to proceeding under the criminal law. Madhub v. Novodeep, I. L. R. 16 Calc. 126, R. v. Bapuji, I. L. R. 10 Bom. 288, R. v. Muthuraman, I. L. R. 4 Mad. 325, R. v. Pillala, I. L. R. 9 Mad. 101, referred to. Where the judgment-debtor having appealed against the decree sought to be executed withdrew the appeal upon an adjustment come to with the decree-holder, and the fact of such adjustment was stated before the Appellate Court and was recorded in its order: Held, that an application by the judgment-debtor to the Court in which execution was subsequently applied for by the decree-holder praying for an investigation as to the facts of the adjustment was in substance one in continuation of the application before the Appellate Court and the two applications together constituted a sufficient compliance with the provisions of O. XXI, r. 2, cl. (1), and the fact of the payment should have been enquired into by the Court. BIROO GORAIN v. JAIMURAT KOER (1911) . . . 16 C. W. N. 923

8. ——— Adjustment of decree—certification by decree-holder—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 174 and 182 (7). If a judgment-debtor pleads payment or adjustment he must issue notice upon the decree-holder within 90 days of the payment or adjustment before he can certify payment within the meaning of the rule, but there is no corresponding disability imposed upon the decree-holder. The latter may certify payment at any time under Art. 82 (2) of the Sch. I of the Limitation Act, 1908. The application for execution must be made within three years from the date on which payment becomes due and the decree-holder may certify payment or adjustment in his application for execution. In such a case the Court has power to hear evidence as to the payment. SHEIKH ELAHI BUX v. NAWAB LALL . 4 Pat. L. J. 159

9. ——— Adjustment of partition decree—Adjustment as to partition of immoveable property—Necessity for certification by decree-holder—Sale by one decree-holder to another of his share in some of the lands decreed—Sale, not certified to Court, effect of—Subsequent application in execution by vendor for partition of lands sold and for other reliefs—Bar of execution. O. XXI, r. 2, Civil Procedure Code, applies to partition decrees which provide for the payment of money as well as for other relief, such as a partition of immoveable property, and to adjustments with regard to such property. Such an adjustment cannot be recognized, unless certified or recorded as required by the rule. Abdul Lathif Saheb v. Bathula Bibi Ammal (1914), 15 M. L. T. 338, and Sethurama Saheb v. Chota Raja Saheb, (1917) M. W. N., 327, followed; Kelu Nair v. Meenakshi (1913), 25 M. L. J. 586, not followed. RAMAKRISHNA RAO v. BALAKRISHNA RAO (1920) I. L. R. 43 Mad. 476

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 258)—contd.

10. ——— Adjustment of decree not certified if can be recognised by Court executing decree—Estoppel, if applies between decree-holder and judgment-debtor—Estoppel, if can be invoked to nullify an express statutory provision—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 174—Application for notice on decree-holder to show cause why adjustment should not be recorded, period of limitation for. A decree-holder applied for execution on the 1st June 1912. On behalf of the judgment-debtors objection was taken on the 27th June 1912 to the effect that the decree could not be executed inasmuch as it had been adjusted on the 11th February 1912 and, under the adjustment, the decree-holder had agreed to accept the judgment debt in certain specified instalments. This adjustment was not recorded as prescribed in sub-rr, 1 and 2 of O. XXI, r. 2. Held, that as the adjustment had not been recorded, the Court executing the decree could not recognise it under O. XXI, r. 2, sub-r. 3. That even if the application of the 27th June were treated as an application for the issue of notice to the decree-holder to show cause why the adjustment should not be recorded, it was barred by limitation under Art. 174 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act. Held (as to the contention that the decree-holder having subsequent to the alleged adjustment received payments in accordance therewith was estopped and the Court was bound to determine whether there had or had not been an adjustment), that this argument was clearly opposed to the provisions of sub-r. 3; and the doctrine of estoppel cannot be invoked to nullify an express statutory provision. JOGENDRA NATH SARKAR v. PROBHAT NATH CHATTERJEE (1913) 19 C. W. N. 650

10(a) ——— Certification of of payment out of Court to decree-holder—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 20 and Arts. 174 and 181—Period of limitation for certifying payment of money payable under a decree—Such certification if can be made in the application for execution. In a mortgage suit the preliminary decree was made in May 1912, and the final decree in January 1916. In August 1919, the decree-holder applied for execution and sought to escape from the bar of limitation by reference to a payment alleged to have been made by the judgment-debtor in October 1917. The lower Courts dismissed the application for execution as the alleged payment had not been certified or recorded under O. 21, r. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code: Held—That Art. 174 of the Limitation Act is applicable only to a case under sub-r. (2) of r. 2 of O. 21, i.e., where the judgment-debtor moves the Court for recording a payment as certified. The only article applicable in the case of a decree-holder certifying a payment to Court is Art. 181. The Court does not prescribe that such application must be distinct from an application for execution of the decree and there is obviously no objection to a combined application embodying a two-fold prayer, namely, first that the alleged payment be recorded, and secondly, that the decree be executed for the balance of the judgment-debt. Therefore if the application for execution is made within three years from date of the said payment, it is not barred by limitation. The decree-holder is not bound by the same rule of limitation as a judgment-debtor 26 C. W. N. 528

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 258)—contd.

11. ———— Payment or adjustment of decree—Certifying by Court—Limitation There is no period of limitation for the certifying or recording of a payment or adjustment of a decree by the Court, under O. XXI, r. 2, cl. 3 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. An application for execution certifying the payments already made amounts to a certifying under O. XXI, r. 2, which the Court is bound to take notice of, and if the payment is disputed the [illegible]

12. ———— Transferee-decree holder—Application to execute the decree— Transfer benami for one of the judgment-debtors—Objection by another judgment-debtor—Competency of executing Court to inquire into title of transferee. O. XXI, r. 2 (3), Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), does not disentitle a judgment-debtor from proving facts which will show that a transferee of a decree applying for execution is merely a benamidar of another judgment-debtor, even if the facts on which he relies show that there has been a payment which has not been certified; and, when the transferee is found to be such a benamidar, the Court is bound by O. XXI, r. 16, to refuse execution in his favour. Per Curiam—"We [illegible]

I. L. R. 46 Mad. [illegible]

13 ———— When no pay- [illegible]

tion does not state under O. XXI, r. [illegible] that the [illegible] either in whole or in part and cannot after the lapse of the period fixed by Art. 174 of the Limitation Act permit the judgment-debtor to plead any adjustment under O. XXI, r. 2(2). When the rights have recorded a payment made in adjustment of a decree is barred by limitation the judgment-debtor is not entitled to agitate the matter under s. 47. RADHA KANT LAL v. MUSAMMAT PARBATI KUER 6 Pat. L. J. 337

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 258)—contd.

14. ———— Uncertified adjustment of decree, effect of. Omission on the part of the decree-holder to cause an adjustment of the decree to be certified under O. XXI, r. 2 (1), of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, does not amount to fraud so as to give the judgment-debtor a right to relief by suit or otherwise. The provisions of r. 2 (3) of that order are imperative, that a court executing a decree is absolutely prohibited from entertaining directly or indirectly an uncertified adjustment of a decree. IMAMUDDIN KHAN v. BINDUBASINI PRASAD 5 Pat. L. J. 70

———— O. XXI, rr. 2 and 95—Upon an application by the decree holder, for delivery of possession the judgment-debtor set up an agreement for setting aside the sale by which he alleged it had been stipulated that the judgment-debtor would allow the sale to be confirmed, but that the decree-holder should not take possession for two years, within which period, if the judgment-debtor made certain payments, the decree-holder was to reconvey the property to the judgment-debtor, and he prayed that the agreement should be certified under O. XXI, r. 2, of the Civil Procedure Code, and the Court rejected the judgment-debtor's application on the ground that the agreement did not come within the scope of O. XXI, r. 2 : Held, that the order was appealable as coming within s. 47 of the Civil Procedure Code. Muttia v. Appasami, I. L. R. 13 Mad. 504, Mahdhusudan Das v. Govinda Pria Chowdhurani, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 34, Sariatoola Molla v. Raj Kumar Roy, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 709, Ram Narain Sahoo v. Bandi Pershad, I. L. R. 31 Calc. 737, Bhagwati v Banwari Lal, I. L. R. 31 All. 82, relied on. Bhimal Das v. Ganesh. Kuer, 1 C. W. N. 658, Mohomed Masraf v. Habia [illegible]

———— O. XXI, r. 2, and O. XXXIV, rr. 4 and 5——Mortgage suit—compromise agreement to pay by instalments, validity of—payment out of court, whether court may give effect to, in absence of certification. The provisions of O. XXXIV, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, relating to the preparation of a mortgage decree are not exhaustive. The parties to the mortgage suit may arrange among themselves as to the terms and form of the mortgage decree and they will be bound by the terms agreed upon unless they are opposed to public policy. A mortgage decree is not excluded from the operation of O. XXI, r. 2. The holder of a mortgage decree, or the judgment-debtor if he is within time under O. XXI, r. 2 (2), is entitled to certify payments made out of court. The court to which an application is made for a decree absolute is not a court executing the decree and, therefore, O. XXI,

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 2, and O. XXIV, rr 4 and 5—contd.

r. 2 (3), does not prevent the court from recognizing a payment or adjustment made out of court although such payment or adjustment has not been certified. MANGAR SAHU v. BHATOO SINGH . . . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 672 ——— Preliminary decree—Decree ordering payment by instalments and, in default of payment of any one instalment, ordering execution for whole amount—Default made—Payment out of Court—Application for decree absolute—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181. Held, that O. XXI, r. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure has no application to a decree for sale on a mortgage by which the mortgage money happens to be made payable by instalments. RAMJI LAL v. KARAN SINGH (1917)

I. L. R. 39 All. 532

——— O. XXI, r. 5, (1882 Code s. 223(6))—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, ss. 263, 264, 318, 319.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 373

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I. L. R. 35 All. 178

I. L. R. 43 All. 520

——— Agreement between one of the judgment-debtors and the decree-holder to enter up satisfaction of the decree—Agreement prior to decree—Application to enter up satisfaction, if maintainable—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 244. An application was made to the executing Court by one of the judgment-debtors to enter up satisfaction of the decree as against him, on the ground that there was an agreement to that effect entered into between himself and the decree-holder prior to the passing of the decree. The latter objected that such an application was not sustainable. Held, that the application was maintainable under O. XXI, r. 5 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Rukmani Ammal v. Krishnamachary, 9 Mad. L. T. 464, referred to. Laldas v. Kishondas, I. L. R. 22 Bom. 463, followed. Hassan Ali v. Ganzi Alim, I. L. R. 31 Calc. 179, dissented from. SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. KUMARAVELU AMBALAM (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 541

——— O. XXI, r. 6 (1882 Code, s. 224)—

See s. 42 . . I. L. R. 43 All. 394

——— O. XXI, rr. 6 and 22—Application for transfer of decree and for issue of notice upon judgment-debtor—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 182(5), latter application to the Court which passed the decree whether "an application in accordance with law or a step in aid of execution." An application for transfer of a decree was made on the 4th November 1910, in which there was also a prayer for issuing notice on the judgment-debtor. The notice having been twice returned unserved, the decree-holder applied on the 24th January 1911 for issue of another notice which was served and the decree was duly transferred. On the 7th January 1914 an application for execution was made to the Court to which the decree was transferred: Held—That the application for execution, dated the 7th January 1914 having been made more than three years after the application (for transfer of the decree, dated the 4th November 1910 was barred by limitation. A Court which transfers a decree has no power to issue a notice under O. 21, r. 22, therefore the application made on 24th January 1911 was not an application "in accordance with the Law" within Art. 182. HAZARILAL v. BAIDYA NATH SAHA

26 C. W. N. 292

——— O. XXI, r. 7—(1882 Code, s. 225)—

See FOREIGN DECREE

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 551

——— (Corresponding to Act XIV of 1882, s. 225)—Court of Wards Act (Bom. Act I of 1905), ss. 31 and 32—Executing Court, power of—Jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree under execution—S. 32 of the Court of Wards Act (Bom. Act I of 1905) not retrospective. Under O. XXI, r. 7, of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) the executing Court has no power to question the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree under execution. S. 32 of the Court of Wards Act (Bom. Act I of 1905) was not intended to apply to pending suits. In terms it refers to suits "brought by or against" a Government ward. S. 32 must be read with s. 31 which provides that before such a suit is brought notice shall be delivered to, or left at, the office of the Court of Wards. Thus s. 32 does not apply to suits pending at the time of the assumption of superintendence of the ward's estate by the Court of Wards. HARI GOVIND v. NARSINGRAO KONHERRAO (1913) . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 194

——— Execution of decree—Decree passed against a deceased person—Objection by alleged representatives of the deceased judgment-debtor that the decree is a nullity and incapable of execution against them. It is a good answer to an application for execution against the alleged representatives of a judgment-debtor to show that the judgment-debtor was dead at the time that the decree was made, and that such decree is void and incapable of a execution as against the person so dead. Imdad Ali v. Jagan Lal, I. L. R. 17 All. 478, followed. SRIPAT NARAIN RAI v. TIRBENI MISRA (1918) . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 423

——— O. XXI, r. 10 (1882 Code, s. 230)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882, s. 230.

——— O. XXI, r. 11 (1882 Code, ss. 235 and 256)—

See ATTACHMENT I. L. R. 38 Calc. 448

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, ART. 182.

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 949

——— O. XXI, r. 12 (1882 Code, s. 236)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I. L. R. 37 All. 527

——— O. XXI, r. 13 (1882 Code, s. 237)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 47 Calc 447

——— O. XXI, r. 14 (1882 Code, s. 238)—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877, SCH. II, ART. 179 . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 317

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 15 (1882 Code 231)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s 231.
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 357

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
4 Pat. L. J. 575

———— O. XXI, r. 16 (1882 Code s. 232)—

See EXECUTION
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 919

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
5 Pat. L. J. 639

See MAINTENANCE.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 13

1. ———— Decree—Assignment—Application for execution—Attachment before hearing judgment-debtor's objections—Notice to assignor and judgment-debtor—Attachment proceedings not merely irregular but illegal. The transferee of a decree having preferred a darkhast for execution, the judgment-debtor's property was attached in his shop by seizure before hearing his objections. The next day an order was made on the application of the judgment-debtor that the property should not be removed until his objections had been heard Subsequently the Court heard the judgment-debtor's objections and held that the transferee was entitled to execution of the decree against the judgment-debtor, the omission to hear the judgment-debtor's objections was a mere irregularity and proceedings in attachment should not be set aside Held, reversing the order and dismissing the darkhast, that Legislature having provided that the decree should not be executed until the objections had been heard, the proceedings were unlawful and not merely irregular as the objections of the judgment-debtor had not been heard. KASSUM GOOLAM v. DAYABHAI AMAPSI (1911)
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 58

2. ———— Execution of decree—Decree for money and costs of suit—Transfer of decree as to costs merely: Held, that a decree for payment of a sum of money and for costs of the suit is one and indivisible, and the decree holder cannot transfer the decree so far merely as it may be a decree for costs, retaining the right to execute the decree for the main sum awarded RAM CHANDRA NAIK KALIA v. ABDUL HAKIM (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 204

3. ———— Execution of decree—Res judicata. On application by a person to have his name substituted as decree-holder upon the ground that he was in fact the true owner of the decree, an order was passed, after notice to the judgment-debtor, permitting the applicant to execute the decree as its transferee: Held, on application for execution of the decree, [illegible]

[illegible] (1916)
I. L. R. 38 All. [illegible]

4. ———— Assignment of decree—execution by assignee—notice not served on assignor, effect of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 158 B (2)—Adjournment [illegible]

———— O. XXI, r. 16 (1882 Code, s 238)— contd

bound to grant Where the interest of one of the decree-holders in a decree has been transferred by assignment the decree cannot be executed until notice has been served upon the assignor in accordance with O. XXI, r. 16, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the fact that a notice purporting to be under s 158 B (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, has been shewn to the assignor will not dispense with the necessity of complying with the provisions of that rule. Where a case has been definitely fixed for hearing and witnesses have been called and expenses has been incurred, if it should turn out that owing to some default on the part of one of the parties the court has no power to hear the case, the court has a discretion to adjourn or dismiss it but. apart from an express provision of law, is not bound to grant an adjournment. MAHARAJA SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH v. HARIHAR JHA . 5 Pat. L. J. 390

5. ———— A mortgagee purchaser in a execution sale " with all arrears of rent " can execute a rent decree subsequently obtained by the mortgagors He should be treated as an assignee thereof ANANDA MOHAN ROY v. PROMOTHO NATH GANGULI
25 C. W. N. 863

———— Execution of decree by assignee—whether non-compliance with the provisions of the rule renders the execution proceedings void Held, that the provisions of O. XXI, r. 16, of the Code of Civil Procedure are of a mandatory character and that non-compliance with them renders all proceedings in execution void. Kassum Goolam Hoosein v. Dayabhai (I. L. R. 36 Bom. 58), Sreenath Dae v. Achutananda 6 Indian Cases 262), Bonomali v. Joy Kumar (29 Indian Cases 673), Gul Muhammad v. Bandu (56 Indian Cases 461), and Gulzari Lal v. Daya Ram (I. L. R. 9 All. 46), followed. Harnam Singh v. Hamira Mal (P. L. R. 1908, page 157), distinguished. NOTAN DAS v. LACHMAN SINGH . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 230

———— O. XXI, rr. 16 and 11, and O. XXII, r. 10—In the case of a joint decree where there is an assignment of interest by one decree-holder an application is not a fresh application for execution. The Limitation Act 1908, s. 22 does not apply to proceedings in execution of a decree. MUSSAMMAT GULAB KUER v. SYED MOHAMMED ZAFFER HASSAN KHAN . . 6 Pat. L. J. [illegible]

———— O. XXI, r. 17 (1882 Code, s. [illegible])—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. [illegible] Calc. [illegible]

———— O. XXI, r. 18 (1882 Code, s. [illegible])—

Cross decrees—[illegible] [illegible] a decree [illegible] from sale is passed [illegible] character [illegible] in a character different from the [illegible] a decree made [illegible] and which is enforceable against [illegible] by the arrest of his person and the attachment of his property. [illegible] other [illegible] has obtained his decree for [illegible] month in his individual and personal capacity.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 18 (1882 Code, s. 246)—contd.

other he is not ordered to pay any sum of money in his individual and personal capacity, but is only given an option to do so if he likes to save from sale some property in which he is interested. In such circumstances, therefore, r. 18 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure will not be applicable. Nagar Mal v. Ram Chand, I. L. R. 31 All. 240, distinguished. SHEO SHANKAR v. CHUNNI LAL (1916) . . I. L. R. 38 All. 609

——— O. XXI, rr. 18, 19, 20—Execution of decree—Cross decree—Set off—Money decree—Decree for enforcement of charge. Held, that under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 a Court is competent to set off a simple decree for recovery of money against a decree for recovery of money by enforcement of a charge. NAGAR MAL v. RAM CHAND (1919) . . I. L. R. 33 All. 240

——— O. XXI, r. 19 (1882 Code 247)—Execution of decree Cross claims under the same decree—Set- off allowed even if one of the claims could not be recovered owing to bar of limitation. The applicant applied to execute a decree for recovering the amount Rs. 445-8-0 which he was entitled to recover from the opponents as mesne profits. Under the same decree, the opponents were entitled to claim the sum of Rs. 855 as costs from the applicant; but they were prevented from recovering it as it was barred by limitation. They, however, claimed to set off the amount against the amount sought to be recovered by the applicant. The Subordinate Judge having allowed the set-off, the applicant appealed: Held, dismissing the appeal, that the applicant could not be allowed to execute his decree for the smaller sum, without reference to the larger sum which the decree awarded to the opponents. MADAPPA GANAPPA v. JAKI GHOSAL (1915) . . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 60 ——— Execution of decree under which two parties are entitled to recover money from each other. Under O. XXI, r. 19, C. P. C. the execution of a decree under which two parties are entitled to recover sums of money from each other is to be taken out by the party entitled to the larger sum and for so much as remains after deducting the smaller amount for which satisfaction is to be entered upon the decree. ANNADA MOHAN ROY v. ATUL CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY

24 C. W. N. 465

——— O. XXI, r. 21 (1882 Code, s. 230 (2)—
See STEP IN AID OF EXECUTION.
4 Pat. L. J. 521

——— O. XXI, r. 22 (1882 Code, s. 248)—
See LIMITATION ACT 1908, ART. 183.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1127

——— Execution proceeding without notice a nullity and without jurisdiction—Sale void. An order for execution made without notice under s. 248 of the old Civil Procedure Code (O. XXI, r. 22 of the new Code) is without jurisdiction and is a nullity and therefore the sale at such an execution cannot stand. Syam Mandal v. Satinath Banerji, 21, C. W. N. 776 (1916), Maharaj Bahadur Singh v. Indur Chand Bothra, 22 C. W. N. 390 (1917), Raghunath Das v. Sundar Das Khettri, I. L. R. 42 Calc. 72: s. c. 18 C. W. N.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 22 (1882 Code, s. 248)—contd.

1058 (P. C.) (1914) and Malkarjun v. Narahari, L. R. 27 I. A. 216: s. c. I. L. R. 25 Bom. 337 5 C. W. N. 10 (1900), referred to. A mere issue of the notice is not sufficient compliance with the section; it must be served; nor is the issue of such a notice only at a previous execution, not followed by actual service, sufficient for the purpose of the proviso to the section. GURUDAS BISWAS v. BHOWANIPORE ZEMINDARY CO., LD.
25 C. W. N. 972

——— O. XXI, r. 24 (1882 Code, ss. 250 and 251)—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s. 186 . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 122
1 Pat. L. J. 550
See WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT.
3 Pat. L. J. 636

——— O. XXI, r. 25 (1882 Code, s. 343)—
See ATTACHMENT I. L. R. 40 Calc. 849

——— O. XXI, r. 29 (1882 Code, s. 243)—
See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT, SS. 212 AND 215 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 153

——— Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1899), ss. 11 and 15—"Award." An award filed in Court under s. 11 of the Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1899) is nothing more than an award, although it is enforceable as if it were a decree. Execution of such an award cannot be stayed under O. XXI, r. 29 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). TRIBHUWANDAS KALLIANDAS GAJJAR v. JIVANCHAND LALLUBHAI & Co. (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 196

——— O. XXI, r. 31 (1882 Code, s. 259)—
See SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1

——— O. XXI, r. 32 (1882 Code, s. 260)—
See PENAL CODE, ss. 186 and 225.
3 Pat. L. J. 106

——— Execution of decree—Decree declaring rights of certain parties and forbidding interference therewith by other parties to suit—Mode of enforcing such decree. A decree was passed declaring the rights of certain parties to the suit to conduct certain religious ceremonies and enjoining on certain other parties to the suit to refrain from interfering with the celebration of the said ceremonies by the parties in whose favour the decree was passed. Held, that it was not competent to the Court passing such decree to secure obedience thereto by directing the Superintendent of Police to see that the ceremonies were carried out and to prevent interference therewith, nor was it competent to the Court to appoint a commissioner to see that the terms of the decree were given effect to. GOSWAMI GORDHAN LALJI v. GOSWAMI MAKSUDAN BALLABH (1918)
I. L. R. 40 All. 648

——— Breach of prohibitory injunction—Remedy, if by suit or application in execution. The remedy for a breach of a permanent injunction is by application for execution and not by suit. Per RICHARDSON, J. (BEACHCROFT, J. not expressing any opinion)—O. XXI,

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 32 (1882 Code, s. 260)—contd.

r. 5 of the Civil Procedure Code applies to injunctions both mandatory and prohibitory. SACHI PROSHAD MUKERJI v. AMAR NATH ROY (1918) 22 C. W. N. 851

——— O. XXI, r. 33—Decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Decree should not be executed by wife's detention in prison—Husband protected against civil or criminal proceedings for maintenance if wife disobeys Court's order to live with husband. A decree for restitution of conjugal rights was passed in favour of the plaintiff, the husband, by the lower appellate Court. It directed that the wife should go and live with the husband and in the event of wilful disobedience of the Court's order, the wife should be asked to go to jail as she had suffered rigorous imprisonment for three years on a criminal charge and was quite accustomed to that life. On appeal to the High Court, held, that under O. XXI, r. 33, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, the decree should not be executed by detention in Civil Prison, although the Court had power to order the wife, if she did not obey the decree, to go to jail. The tendency of modern legislation is against sending women to jail in civil matters It is a sufficient consequence for the refusal to obey a decree for restitution if the wife has to maintain herself, and cannot make any claim against her husband for maintenance. BAI PARWATI v. GHANCHI MANSUKH (1920) . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 972

——— O. XXI, r 34—(1882 Code, ss. 261 and 262)—

See COMPROMISE DECREE 25 C. W. N. 68

——— Compromise decree—Subject-matter of suit, what is—Suit for declaration that property attached belonged to Plaintiff and not to judgment-debtor—Compromise that Plantiff do execute mortgage [illegible] amount due fro[illegible] of mortgage bond [illegible] the compromise [illegible] V of 1908) O. XXI, r. 34. The Respondents brought a suit for declaration that certain property attached by the Appellant in execution of a money decree against another person belonged to them. A compromise was arrived at to the effect that the Respondents would execute a mortgage bond for the amount due from the judgment-debtor in favour of the Appellant. A decree embodying the terms of the compromise was passed and the mortgage bond not being executed within the time specified in the decree the Appellant applied for execution of mortgage bond in execution of the decree: Held, that the question what is the subject-matter of a suit must depend upon the facts of each case and in the present case the execution of the mortgage bond was a matter relating to the suit and having been directed by the decree was capable of being enforced in execution of the decree under the provisions of O. XXI, r. 34 of the Civil Procedure Code. SAUDAMINA DASI v. BEHARI LAL BISWAS 25 C. W. N. 63

——— O. XXI, r. 35 (1882 Code s. 263)—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 145 5 Pat. L. J. 104

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 35 (1882 Code, s. 263)—contd.

See BAILIFF . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 313

Suit for recovery of joint possession—Form of decree—Practice. Held, that a plaintiff who is entitled to possession jointly with other persons can be granted a decree for joint possession, whether the plaintiff was originally in joint possession and was subsequently dispossessed, or whether he had never been in possession Phani Singh v. Nawab Singh, I. L. R. 28 All. 161, dissented from. Bhairon Rai v. Saran Rai, I. L. R. 26 All. 588, Rahman Chaudhri v. Salamat Chaudhri, All. Weekly Notes, 1901 p. 48, Watson and Co. v. Ram Chand Dutt, I. L. R. 18 Calc. 10, and Bhola Nath v. Buskin, All. Weekly Notes, 1894 p. 127, referred to. Per Curiam—"In the full Bench Case of Bhairon Rai v Saran Rai, I. L. R. 26 All. 588, it was held that where the plaintiff had been ousted from joint possession we fail to see that on principal there is any destinction between the case of a person who was in joint possession but was subsequently dispossessed, and the case of a person who was entitled to joint possession, JAGARNATH OJHA v. 94, RAM PHAL (1911) I. L. R. 34 All. 150

——— Execution of decree—Purchase of undivided share in a house—Resistance to possession by judgment-debtor—Remedy to which purchaser is entitled. In execution of a decree held by her the decree-holder purchased an undivided share in a house which the judgment-debtor owned jointly with one S. On attempting to get possession the decree-holder was resisted, not by S, but by the judgment-debtor. Held, on a construction of rr. 35 and 95 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure, that the decree-holder was entitled to have the judgment-debtor removed from the premises. SARVI BEGAM v. TAJ BEGAM (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 181

——— O. XXI, 36—(1882 Code s. 264)—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 145. 5 Pat. L. J. 104

——— O. XXI, r. 41—(1882 Code 268)—

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 285

——— O. XXI, r. 46 (1882 Code 268)—

See DEPOSIT IN COURT. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 267

See PROHIBITORY ORDER. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 104

——— O. XXI, rr. 46, 52—Annuity, instalments not accrued due if attachable—Right to annuity if may be attached—"Debt," meaning of. A executed a conveyance of all his properties in favour of his son for the payment of his debts it being provided therein that the purchaser would pay the vendor a monthly sum of Rs. 40 the first payment to be made on the 1st October 1905 and the payment for every succeeding month on the first day of the month following between the hours of 1 A.M. and 6 A.M. the deed further providing that the vendor would not by mortgage or otherwise sell or charge or alienate the allowance payable to him; that on no account and in no circumstances was it to become payable to any person other than the vendor or his duly constituted attorney. The allowance was further declared to be a first charge upon a specified share of the estate so far as the subsisting mortgages executed by the vendor would allow: Held, that the allowance payable as annuity could not be regarded as a debt or even as a portion of the consideration for the conveyance payment of which was deferred, and no instalment of such allowance could be attached under r. 46 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code until it should have actually fallen due. A sum payable upon a contingency is not a debt and does not become one until the contingency has happened. Whether a claim is a debt or not is in no respect determined by a reference to the time of payment. Held, further, that the allowance could not also be attached under r. 52 of O. XXI of the Code, as that rule does not allow of an anticipatory attachment of money expected to reach the hands of a public officer and is restricted only to money actually in his hand. Quære: Whether, notwithstanding the restrictions upon alienation embodied in the conveyance the right to receive the annuity is attachable in execution. PADMANAND SINGH v. RAMAPRASAD MALVI (1911) . . . . . 16 C. W. N. 14

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXI, rr. 46, 52—contd.

——— O. XXI, rr. 46, 54—Sale in execution of a hypothecation debt—Moveable property. For the purposes of execution a debt due to judgment-debtor under a hypothecation bond is moveable property within the meaning of O. XXI, r. 46, Civil Procedure Code, and the procedure as to moveable property is applicable; the language

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXI, rr. 46, 54—contd.

mortgagee in a certain property should be in the manner provided by O. XXI, r. 46, Civil Procedure Code, for the attachment of a debt and not in the form provided for the attachment of immoveable property. Where, therefore, there was an attachment of the usufructuary mortgagee's right in the manner prescribed for attachment of immoveable properties and the mortgagor who did not receive from Court any order prohibiting him from making payment of the usufructuary mortgage debt, discharged the same by payment and obtained from the mortgagee a release of his rights some time prior to the actual sale thereof in Court auction. Held, that the sale of the mortgagee's right in Court auction was invalid and that the purchaser acquired nothing by the purchase as against the mortgagor who had redeemed the mortgage by payment. The fact that on the date of the payment the mortgagee could not have got a personal decree against the mortgagor for the payment of the mortgage debt on account of limitation, is immaterial as limitation does not put an end to the debt and does not prevent the mortgagor and mortgagee from paying and receiving the mortgage amount. RAMASAMI MOOPHAN v. SRINIVASA IYENGAR (1915) . . . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 389

——— O. XXI, rr. 46, 58 and 63—

See CONTRACT ACT 1872, s. 72.
I. L. R. 43 All. 272

——— O. XXI, r. 50—

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 415

——— O. XXI, r. 52 (1882 Code s. 272)—

See DECREE . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 80

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
1 Pat. L. J. 449
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 1072

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 52—contd.

Court, the respondents filed a petition to the effect that the appellant was trying to take out the money but that it might be kept under attachment by an order of the Court. On this petition, the Court ordered that the appellant was not to receive payment of the money unless and until the respondent's application was disposed of. At the hearing of the execution cases, the respondents contended that the question of title and priority in respect of the money in Court should be decided under O. XXI, r. 52: Held, that the order of the Court withholding payment of the money to the appellant virtually amounted to an attachment of the money after it came into the custody of the Court. That O. XXI, r. 52, was clearly applicable to a case like the present and there was no reason to narrow the words of the rule so as to make it applicable only to a case in which the property sought to be attached was in the custody of a Court other than the Court executing the decree. That as regards the question of priorities neither party perfected their charge by giving notice to the persons who were to make the payments to their mortgagor and accordingly apart from any question of notice the respondent's charge, which was prior in date must prevail. SURAJMALL AGARWALLAH v. RAM CHANDRA MAINTRI (1915) . 20 C. W. N. 412

———— O. XXI, r. 52, s. 73—Attachment of property in custody of Court—Rateable distri- [illegible] is in the custody of a Court it is the duty of such Court to hold it at the disposal of the attaching Court and it is the duty of the attaching Court, if the property attached is money, to call upon the custody Court to pay it into the attaching Court and in other cases, to provide for the realization of the property, and to divide the money or proceeds rateably between the attaching decree-holder and the other decree-holders who are entitled to distribution under s. 73, Civil Procedure Code, viz., those who have applied to it for execution before the receipt of such assets. Where the property in the custody Court is the subject of several attachments in execution of several decrees the custody Court must award priority to the first in point of time. If the other decree-holders want to share in the rateably distribution they must apply in time to the first attaching Court. The power conferred on the custody Court by the proviso to O. XXI, r. 52, Civil Procedure Code, to determine claims to priority, etc., does not entitle the custody Court itself to distribute the assets rateably among the attaching decree-holders. Katum Sahiba v. Hajee Budsha Sahib (1915), I. L. R. 38 Mad. 221, overruled. Thakurdas Motilal v. Josep Isbinler, (1917), I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1072, not followed. Where the attaching Court and the custody Court are the same, there is a receipt of assets within the meaning of s. 73, Civil Procedure Code, only when so much of the money standing to the credit of the judgment-debtor as is necessary to satisfy the decree-holders who have applied to it for execution, is ordered to be transferred to the credit of the first attaching creditor's suit. VISVANADHAM CHETTY v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTY (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 100

———— O. XXI, r. 53 [illegible] attached a mortgage-decree in favour of his judgment-debtors made under O. XXI, r. 53, Civil Procedure Code, 1908 The Court put up the decree for sale and it was purchased by the decree-holder for Rs. 200. The decree-holder having applied for execution of the balance of the decretal debt, the judgment-debtor contended that under the attached decree the decree-holder realized Rs. 600 which was much more than what was due on the decree which was sought to be executed and prayed that the Darkhast be struck off. Held dismissing the Darkhast. (1) that the decree attached ought not to have been put up for sale, (2) that under O. XXI, r. 53, the procedure to be followed when a decree either for the payment of money or for the sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge is attached, the Court should under sub-r (2) on the application of the creditor who had attached the decree of the judgment-debtor proceed to execute the attached decree and apply the net proceeds in satisfaction of the decree sought to be executed. VITHALDAS v. SUBRAYA (1920) . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 343

———— O. XXI, rr. 53 and 90 and ss. 47 and 60—Immoveable property decree for redemption, costs, and mesne-profits whether decree for costs and mesne-profits, after redemption, is a money decree. O obtained a decree on a mortgage giving him possession of the mortgage property unless it were redeemed by a certain date and awarding him costs and mesne-profits. The mortgage was accordingly redeemed, but the costs and mesne-profits remained unpaid. L attached C's decree in execution of a decree which he held against the latter. C objected that his decree was one for immoveable property within the meaning of s. 60 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and that, therefore, it was not attachable in execution of L's decree: Held, that as the only part of C's decree which was outstanding was the award on account of costs and mesne-profits, this decree was a decree for money, and that L was entitled to attach and execute it under the provisions of O. XXI, r. 53, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. LACHMAN OJHA v. CHARITAR OJHA . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 330

———— O. XXI, r. 54 (1882 Code 274)—

See s. 64 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 844

See O. XXI, r. 46.—I. L. R. 37 Mad. 51

———— O. XXI, rr. 54, (2), 66, 67 and 90—Non-publication of proclamation of sale in the village—Announcement of a wrong place as the place of sale—Sale held not in the place ordered by Court, but in the wrong place—Sale, illegal and null and void and not merely irregular. Where a proclamation of sale of lands in execution of a decree, as framed by the Court, was not published in the village where the lands were situate but the process-server intimated at the village that the sale would be held at a place and by an officer

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, rr. 54, (2), 66, 67 and 90—contd.

different from those fixed by the proclamation, a sale held at the place and by the official fixed by the proclamation is illegal and a nullity and not merely 'irregular' within the meaning of O. XXI, r. 90, Civil Procedure Code. Basharutulla v. Uma Churn Dutt (1889), I. L. R. 16 Calc. 794, applied. JAYARAMA AYYAR v. VRIDHAGIRI AIYAR (1921) . . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 35

——— O. XXI, r. 55 (1882 Code 276)—

See ATTACHMENT I. L. R. 44 Calc. 662

——— O. XXI, r. 57—

See ATTACHMENT . 3 Pat. L. J. 310

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXXVIII.
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 1

1. ——— Execution of decree—Attachment—Application for execution dismissed but subsequently restored on review. By a mistake of the Court an application for execution against property which was under attachment was dismissed, but the decree-holder obtained a review of that order and the executing Court was directed to proceed. There was no order removing the attachment. Held, on application by the decree-holder to sell the attached property, that the attachment still subsisted and was valid as against a sale made by the judgment-debtor previous to the review. AZIZ BAKHSH v. KANIZ FATIMA BIBI (1912) . I. L. R. 34 All. 490

2. ——— Attachment before judgment—Application for execution dismissed—Attachment if ceases—Second application for execution—Attachment if must be asked for. An order for attachment before judgment obtained at the instance of the decree-holder subsists after the decree for the purpose not merely of the original application for execution but for purposes of subsequent applications for execution as well. Where in such a case the original application for execution was dismissed: Held, that the decree-holder might apply for sale of the properties without taking out fresh attachment. The attachment referred to in the concluding portion of O. XXI, r. 57, is an attachment made under the provisions of O. XXI and not an attachment under the provisions of O. XXXVIII. GANESH CHANDRA ADAK v. BANWARI LAL RAY (1912)
16 C. W. N. 1097

3. ——— "Strike off," meaning of, if amounts to dismissal of attachment—Limitation. Where a decree was passed on the 15th April 1897, and on the 22nd February 1909 execution was commenced and it was ordered that the land should be attached and proclamation should be issued, the 15th April being fixed, for the date of the proclamation; and on the 15th April the proclamation not having been made owing to laches on the part of the decree holder an order was passed—"proclamation not filed, struck off:" Held, that this amounted to a dismissal of the attachment and a fresh application for execution after the 15th April 1909 was out of time. MANDHYAN SHEIKIYA v. BADRAM DALNI (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 204

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 57—contd.

4. ——— Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Sale set aside—Order purporting to maintain attachment—"Default" of decree-holder. In execution of a decree the whole of a house was sold by auction instead of a share held or which alone was saleable in execution of the decree. Various objections were raised and in the end the Court executing the decree passed the following order:—"The sale is set aside the application for execution is struck off The attachment will remain." Further applications were made for the execution of the decree, but they did not relate to the house in question As the result of these execution proceedings the decree was satisfied in part and the papers were sent back to the Court which passed the decree. Later on the decree-holder applied for the execution of the decree by sale of a part of the house. In the interval between this application and the time when the decree was sent back to the Court which passed it, the judgment debtor had sold the property to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs objected to the application for execution that they were the owners of the house and it was not saleable:—Held, that the attachment had come to an end on the decree-holders' application being struck off, and that a good title had passed to the plaintiffs by the sale. The word "default" used in O. XXI, r. 57, of the Code of Civil Procedure, is not restricted to default of appearance or matters of that description. It means a failure to do what the decree holder was bound to do, that is, to go on with his application and have the property sold. Namuna Bibi v. Rosha Miah, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 482, followed. Valiakath Puthiah v. Manakkal Parameswaran, 35 Indian Cases 240, and Karaturi Satyanarayana v. Gopisetti Narayana Swami Naidu Garu, 38 Indian Cases 300, dissented from. DILDAR HUSAIN v. SHEO NARAIN (1918)
I. L. R. 41 All. 157

——— Restoring a dismissed application for execution, effect of—Attachment of property terminated by dismissal of application for default—Sale after dismissal of application, purchaser if affected by restoration order. A property was attached in execution of a decree. subsequently the application for execution was dismissed for default; after the dismissal the judgment-debtor sold the property. The proceeding in execution was subsequently restored under O. XXII, r. 60, and sale-proclamation re-issued. On an objection by the purchaser to the sale: Held, that the attachment having under O. XXII, r. 57, come to an end the revival of the execution proceedings did not operate as a revival of the attachment so as to prejudice the rights of strangers who have in the interval acquired an interest in the property. Zainulabdin v. Mahomed Ashgar, L. R. 15 I. A. 12; Janukdhari Lal v. Gossain Lal Bahiya, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 107, s. c. 11 C. L. J. 254; 13 C. W. N. 710, Chetiattil v. Kumhi, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 175; Sasirama Kumari v. Meherban Khan, 13 C. L. J. 240. PATRINGA KOER v. MADHAVA NAND RAM (1911) 16 C. W. N. 332

——— O. XXI, rr. 57, 66—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 482
15 C. W. N. 428

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 58 (1882 Code s. 278)—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), ss. 20, 22, 46.
I. L. R. 36 All. 8

———— Execution of decree—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art 11—Limitation—Objection to attachment dismissed—Subsequent suit for possession—Investigation of objection by Court. Art. 11 (1) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, applies only to those orders made under O XXI. r. 51, which are made after investigation of the claim or objection; but it does not follow that, merely because the claimant has not adduced evidence or has not appeared, there has been no investigation within the meaning of the rule. Rahim Bun v. Abdul Kader, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 537 Shagun Chand, v. Shibbi, 8 A. L. J. 626, Chandi Prasad v. Nand Kishore, 20 Indian Cases 369, Lachmi Narain v. Martindell, I. L. R 19 All 253, and Kunj Behari Lal v. Kandh Prasad Narain Singh, 6 C. L. J. 362, referred to. GOKUL v. MOHRI BIBI (1918) . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 325

———— Execution of decree—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art 11—Limitation—Objection to attachment dismissed—Subsequent suit for possession—"Investigation" of objection by Court Where an objection made to the attachment of property within the meaning under r. 58, O. XXI, of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908), is disallowed because the objector did not appear on the date fixed, the order disallowing the objection is an order "against" the objector within the meaning of r. 63. GULAB v. MUTSADDI LAL (1919) I. L. R. 41 All. 623

———— O. XXI, r. 58 —Mortgage decree, for sale—Claim to mortgaged property, if lies—Claim

[illegible]

a mortgage decree; and where such a claim was once allowed, but subsequently the decree-holder having again applied for execution of the decree

[illegible]

Code, that in view of the authority of the case, DEEFHOLTS v. PETERS (2), the High Court could not interfere. MAHABIR PRASAD SINGH v. JOGENDRA NATH MANDAL . . . 26 C. W. N. 50

———— Execution—Attachment—Purchaser from judgment-debtor applying for removal of attachment—Order in attachment proceedings declaring the sale-deed ineffective—Suit to set aside the order —Attachment withdrawn pending suit—Suit by vendee against vendor to recover possession—Order in attachment proceedings not to operate to the prejudice of the vendee—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 11. The defendant executed a sale-deed in favour of the plaintiff. After the date of the sale, the property was attached by a creditor of the defendant. The plaintiff applied for removal of the attachment under O. XXI, R. 58, Civil Procedure Code, 1908. In the attachment proceedings the Court by its order, dated the 14th December 1915, held that the sale-deed was inoperative as it was effected to defraud creditors. The plaintiff filed a suit to set aside the order but it was withdrawn because the defendant settled with the judgment-creditor and attachment was raised. The plaintiff, thereupon, filed a suit to recover possession. The defendant contended that the suit not having been brought within a year of the order passed in attachment proceedings was barred by limitation Held, that the suit was not barred; as soon as the attachment was withdrawn, there was no longer any attachment or any proceedings in execution in which the order against the plaintiff would operate to his prejudice Gopal Purshottam v. Bai Divali (1893), 18 Bom. 211, relied on. Krishna Prosad Roy v. Bipin Behary Roy (1903), 31 Calc. 228, referred to. MANILAL GIRDHAR v. NATHALAL MAHASUKHRAM (1920)
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 561

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— Or. XXI r 58—contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 58—60—

See CLAIM . . 15 C. W. N. 817

———— O. XXI, rr. 58, 59, 60—Claim petition if may be determined after property attached is sold—Revision The Court acted in excess of its authority and in violation of the express provisions of the Statute in allowing a claim petition preferred under O. XXI, r. 58, after the property attached was sold, and the order allowing the claim was liable to be set aside on revision. GOPAL CHANDRA MUKERJEE v NOTOBAR KUNDU (1912)
16 C. W. N. 1029

———— O. XXI, rr. 58, 60 and 63 s. 64— Release of attachment, and subsequent private transfer of the property, effect of—O. XXI, r. 63, regular suit to establish right to attach the property—Necessary parties to the suit—Lessee who took lease subsequent to release from attachment added as a Defendant after expiry of the period of limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 11 and ss 22 (1) and 22 (2), applicability of—Attachment before judgment, difference in the rule—Property in the name of a female or other non-coparcener, presumption of ownership and burden of proof. P. and K. purchased certain immoveable property from one Tulmala Dasi, the ostensible owner. D., who held a decree for money against Fulmala's father-in-law (R) and uncle-in-law (S, effected an attachment on the property on the allegation that though it stood in the name of Fulmala the beneficial owners thereof were R. and S. Thereupon P. and K. the purchasers, preferred a claim under O. XXI, r. 58 and the property was released from attachment, after which L, took lease of the property from P. and K. Thereafter D. instituted a suit under O. XXI, r. 63 to set aside the order in the claim case. P., K., R., S., and Fulmala were all joined as Defendants and L., was subsequently added as a Defendant more than a year after the date of the order in the claim case: Held—That the order for release from attachment does not put an end to the attachment so as to leave the claimant free to deal with the property as he likes; if a suit is brought by the decree-holder to establish his right to attach the property and a decree is passed in his favour, the effect of the decree is to set aside the order of release and to maintain uninterrupted the attachment orginally made. Therefore in such a case any private transfer of the property by the claimant, though made after an order under r. 60 releasing the property from attachment, would be void under s. 64, Civil Procedure Code. Sardhari Lal v. Ambika Prosad, L.R. 15 I. A. 123: s. c. I. L. R. 15 Calc. 521 (1888), Phulkumari v. Ghanashyam, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 202 s. c. 12 C. W. N. 160 (P. C.) (1907), Mahomed Warri v. Pitambar, 21 W. R. 435 (1874), and Bonomali v. Prosonna, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 829 (1896), followed. Lalu Mulji v. Kasi Bai, I. L. R. 10 Bom. 400 (407) (1886), and other cases referred to. In a case of attachment before judgment, the revival of execution proceedings does not operate as a revival of the attachment so as to prejudice the rights of strangers who have in the interval acquired a title to the property. Patringa Kuer v. Madhavananda, 14 C. L. J. 476 (1911) and Mahabharat v. Surjya Kanta, (1918) Pat. 343; 3 P. L. J. 310 (1918), referred to. Under the provisions of Art. 11 and s. 22 (1), the suit as against L. was barred as she was not added as a party within one year from the date of the order in the claim case. S. 22 (2) did not save limitation as the assignment by the successful claimant took place after the order for release and as such the assignment was not "during the pendency of a suit." Though the general presumption is that all property acquired by or in the possession of a member of a joint Hindu family is joint property, there can be no such presumption where the disputed property stands in the name of a non-co-parcener. The onus lies on Plaintiff to prove that the ostensible owner is not the real owner. PROTAP CHANDRA GOPE v. SARAT CHANDRA GANGOPADHYAYA . . . 25 C. W. N. 544

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 58, 60 and 63 s. 64—contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 58, 61—Claimant in possession under a collusive sale if in possession as trustee for judgment-debtor. A judgment-debtor with the object of defrauding his creditor executed a collusive sale of his property in favour of a third person who was put in possession and preferred a claim to the property under r. 58 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code, when the same was attached by the creditor in execution of his decree: Held, that the claim should be rejected on the ground that the property was in possession of the claimant in trust for the judgment debtor within the meaning of r. 61 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code. It was not necessary, in order to defeat the claim, to show that the trust was one capable of enforcement by law. W. C. McINTOSH v. BIDHU BHUSAN SEN (1912) . . . . . 16 C. W. N. 959

———— O. XXI, rr. 58, 63—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), ss. 268, 278, 283.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 631

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) s. 169
I. L. R. 38 All. 537

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 45 Calc. 785

———— Order refusing in effect to investigate claim whether an order 'against' claimant within O. XXI, r. 63, Civil Procedure Code and Art. 11 of Limitation Act (IX of 1908).

———— O. XXI, rr. 58, 63—contd.

Held, by the Full Bench (1) that an order refusing to investigate a claim to attached property, on the ground that there was delay in filing it, is an order passed 'against' the claimant within O. XXI, r. 63, Civil Procedure Code, and Art. 11 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and (2) that an order on a claim petition merely stating that, as it was filed late, it will be notified to the bidders is in effect an order rejecting the claim to which the provisions of O. XXI, r. 63, will apply. Narasimha Chetty v. Vijiapala Nainar, 2 L. W. 206, and Ponnusami Pillai v. Samu Ammal, 31 Mad. L. J. 247, followed. Thithikutti Umma v. Thalakodi Chekkammutti (Second Appeal No. 1986 of 1916), overruled. VENKATARATNAM v. RANGANAYAKAMMA (1918) . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 985 ———— Property attached in execution proceedings—Claim preferred under O. XXI, r. 58, rejected under O. XXI, r. 63, without investigation—Suit brought by claimant more than one year after the order of rejection—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 11—Suit whether barred. In the course of certain execution proceedings the property in dispute was attached. The present plaintiff preferred a claim to the property under O. XXI, r. 58, C. C. P., which was rejected under O. XXI, r. 63, and the plaintiff then brought this suit to establish his title to the property and for consequential reliefs more than a year after the claim was rejected: Held, that the language of Art. 11 of the Indian Limitation Act of 1908 is more comprehensive than the language of the proceeding Act and the article cannot be restricted to those cases in which an investigation had taken place. NAGENDRO LAL CHOWDHURY v. FANI BHUSAN DAS (1918) .

23 C. W. N. 375

———— O. XXI, r. 58; O. XXXVIII, rr. 5 to 12—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT III OF 1907, ss. 13 (3), 47
I. L. R. 36 All. 65

———— O. XXI, r. 59 (1882 Code 279)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882, ss. 278, 283
I. L. R. 34 All. 365

———— O. XXI, r. 60, (1882 Code s. 280)—Execution of decree—Attachment of property—Claim by a person in possession of maintenance charge on the property—Sale of the property in execution subject to the charge—Suit to recover possession of the property after the death of charge-holder—Parties to appeal—Practice and procedure. Certain property in which a judgment-debtor was interested as a sharer was attached in execution of a decree against him. His mother applied to raise the attachment on the ground that she was in possession of the property, that she was entitled to retain it during her life-time and that it was subject to a charge for her funeral ceremonies. The property was sold subject to her charge and purchased by the plaintiff at the Court-sale. After the mother's death, the plaintiff sued to recover the judgment-debtor's share in the property by partition, when the judgment-debtor and a brother of his, defendants Nos. 2 and 1, respectively, contended that there was no attachment of the property at the time of sale and that the sale was, therefore, invalid. The trial Court decreed the claim on the ground that the sale was valid even though there was no attachment. Defendant No. 1 alone appealed; and the lower appellate Court held that absence of attachment vitiated the sale and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff having appealed. Held, that the property was sufficiently attached, that all the subsequent proceedings including the sale of the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor were in order, and that there was no real basis for the objection that the sale was void in consequence of the absence of attachment. Held, also, that defendant No. 2 ought to have appealed from the decree of the trial Court; and that in his absence the decree could not be reversed by the lower appellate Court on the appeal of defendant No. 1 alone. The Court, however, ordered defendant No. 2 to be joined as party to the appeal. VAIKUNT SHRIDHAR v. MANJUNATH MADHAV (1920) I. L. R. 44 Bom. 860

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 60 (1882 Code s. 280)—contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 61 (1882 Code 281)—
See R. 58 . . 16 C. W. N. 959

——— O. XXI, rr. 61, 62 (1882 Code 281, 282)—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1880, ss. 278, 283

——— O. XXI, r. 62 (1882 Code s. 282)
See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 447

——— O. XXI, rr. 62 and 63—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s. 278 I. L. R. 41 Bom. 64

——— O. XXI, r. 63 (1882 Code s. 283)—
See O. XXI, R. 58 .
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 985

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ARTS. 11, 13
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1196
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 733
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 785

See RES JUDICATA.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 698

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882), s. 53 I. L. R. 42 Mad. 143
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 730

——— Order in favour of the claimant—Alienation by the claimant subsequently—Suit by decree-holder subsequent to the alienation to set aside the order—Lis pendens, doctrine of, if applicable—Pendency of proceedings —Suit, a form of appeal—Alienee, joined as party after one year from the date of order, not a necessary party—No bar of limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 22, cls. 1 and 2. A purchaser of property from a claimant, after an order has been passed in his (claimant's) favour but before a suit under O. XXI, r 63 was instituted, is an [illegible] a neces- [illegible] parties [illegible] alienee [illegible] s s. 22, [illegible] xpressly [illegible] h cases. [illegible] he Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) is a mere continuation of the proceedings in a claim petition and all alienations during the continuance of the proceedings originated by the claim petition to the disposal of the suit brought to set aside the order passed on the claim petition are affected by the doctrine of lis pendens formulated in s. 52 of the Transfer of Property Act. Suits of this [illegible] their [illegible] es of [illegible] to be [illegible] Phu[illegible] Calc 202, followed. Veera Pannadi, v. Karupa Pannadi, Mad. L. T 154, Harishankar Jeabhi v. Naran Karsan, I. L. R. 18 Bom. 260, Keshori Mohun Rai v. Hursook Dass, I. L. R. 12 Calc. 696, and Settappa Goundan v. Muthia Goundan, I. L. R. 31 Mad. 268, referred to. KRISHNAPPA CHETTY v. ABDUL KHADER SAHIB (1913)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 63 (1882 Code, s. 283)—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 535

2. ——— Execution of decree—Suit for declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale—Valuation of suit. Held that in a suit for a declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree, where the value of the property is in excess of the amount claimed in execution of the decree, the proper valuation of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction is, not the value of the property, but the amount for which the decree may be executed. Dwarka Das v. Kameshar Prasad, I. L. R. 17 All. 69, and Dhan Devi v. Zamurrad Begam, I. L. R. 27 All. 440, followed. Phul Kumari v. Ghanshyam Misra, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 202, referred to. KHETRA v. MUMTAZ BEGAM (1915) . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 72

3 ——— Applicability to claims to property attached before judgment—O XXXVIII, r. 5. Held by the Full Bench, that O XXI, r. 63, Civil Procedure Code, applies also to orders on claims preferred to property attached before judgment. Ramanamma v. Bathula Kamaraju, I. L. R 41 Mad. 23, overruled. PRASADA NAYUDU v. VIRAYYA (1918) . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 849

4 ——— Mortgagee, filing claim petition—Petition dismissed—Suit to establish right dismissed—Subsequent suit by mortgagee to enforce his mortgage—Suit against mortgagor and purchasers in execution of a decree in another suit by the same creditor—Order on claim petition, whether conclusive. An order on a claim petition which has not been set aside in a suit by the claimant under O. XXI, r. 63, Civil Procedure Code, becomes conclusive, not only for the purpose of the execution of the decree in connection with which the claim was preferred but also of the execution of other decrees between the same parties. The establishment of the decree-holder's right to bring property to sale free from a claimant's alleged right involves the right of the purchaser at the sale to get a title to the property free from such right. Ramasamy Chetty v. Alagiri Chetty, (1905) 27 I. C. 800, followed; Umesh Chunder Roy v. Raj Bullubh Sen (1882), I. L. R. 8 Calc. 279, dissented from. SINGARIAH CHETTY v. CHINNABBI (1921) . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 268

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 65 (1882 Code 286)—

See RELIABLE DISTRIBUTION.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 789

———— O. XXI, r. 66 (1882 Code s. 287)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 482

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART. 182
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 949

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 447

1. ———— Ancestral property—General rules of practice for Civil Courts, Ch. IV, r. 5. Property to which title is made out by gift is not property inherited within the meaning of r. 4, Ch. IV, of the General Rules of Practice for the Civil Courts and such property is consequently not ancestral. FAZAL AHMAD v. WESAL-UD-DIN 1916) . . . . . L. R. 38 All. 481

2. ———— Sale proclamation—Valuation of property to be sold—Appeal. Held, that no appeal will lie from a statement made in a sale proclamation as to the value of the property advertised for sale. Sivagami Achi v. Subrahmania Ayyar, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 259, followed. AJUDHIA PRASAD v. GOPI NATH (1917)
I. L. R. 39 All. 415

3. ———— Suit for declaration that property is not liable to attachment—And sale—Valuation of suit. In a suit for a declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree, where the value of the property in question is in excess of the amount claimed in execution of the decree, the proper valuation of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction is, not the value of the property, but the amount for which the decree may be executed. Khetra Pal v. Mumtaz Begam, I. L. R. 38 All. 12, followed. Radha Kunwar v. Reoti Singh, I. L. R. 38 All. 488, referred to. ANANDI KUNWAR v. RAM NIRANJAN DAS (1918) .
I. L. R. 40 All. 505

4. ———— Setting aside a sale—Material irregularity in publication of sale proclamation—Under statement of revenue due on the land—Undervaluaton of property—Statement of the same by the decree-holder—No objection by the judgment-debtor to the amount of Government revenue or valuation—Mistake of the judgment-debtor as to interest in the property sought to be brought to sale—Duty of Courts in India in conducting sales in execution—Mistake of judgment-debtor due to action of decree-holder—Rule of estoppel of judgment-debtor, no application—Right of auction-purchaser before and after confirmation of sale—No absolute right for confirmation of sale. Though it was not incumbent upon the Court to state the value of the property in a proclamation for sale, a materially incorrect statement of the revenue or of the value of the property where the value is stated would constitute an irregularity which if it caused substantial injury to the judgment-debtors, would entitle him to have the sale set aside. Where the judgment-debtor's act in not objecting to the statement of the peshkash and in stating the value on the footing of the peshkash being correctly stated by the decree-holder was due to a mistake of fact regarding what the Court intended to sell, the judgment-debtor should not be held to be estopped from objecting to the sale on the ground of material irregularity. A party who does not raise an objection to the proclamation which he ought to have raised is estopped from complaining of an irregularity resulting from an erroneous statement which he should have corrected. Gridhari Singh v. Hurdeo Narain Singh, L. R. 3 I. A. 230, and Olpherts v. Mahabir Pershad Singh, L. R. 10 I. A. 25, referred to. Arunachellam v. Arunachellam, I. L. R. 12 Mad. 19, and Behari Singh v. Mukhat Singh, I. L. R. 28 All. 273, referred to. In India an execution sale is an act of the Court. Where an act of a Court is induced by the mistake of parties, it may be set aside. But the Court will not apply the rule of estoppel to cases where the judgment-debtor was not aware of the facts to which he was bound to object. KALAHASTI, RAJA OF v. MAHARAJA OF VENKATAGIRI (1913)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 66 (1882 Code, s. 287)—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 387

5. ———— Order of court fixing valuation—An order of a court fixing a valuation of the judgment-debtor's property under r. 66 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is not a decree and no appeal lies from such an order. DEOKINANDAN SINGH RAJAH DHAKESWAR PRASAD NARAIN SINGH . . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 13

6. ———— Sale proclamation order is a judicial act—Duty of court in setting value of property to be sold. The action of a court in settling the terms of a sale-proclamation under O. XXI, r. 66 is a judicial act and the value of the property should be stated as fairly as possible. MUNSHI RAGHUNATH SINGH v. HAZARI SAHU
2 Pat. L. J. 130

7. ———— Sale in execution of simple money decree—Notification of a mortgage in the proclamation of sale—Auction purchaser not precluded from challenging the validity of the mortgage. Held, that the notification of an incumbrance on the property about to be sold in a proclamation of sale made under O. XXI, r. 66, of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) will not preclude the auction purchaser from subsequently questioning the validity of the incumbrance. In this respect the Code of 1908 has made no difference in the law as it stood under the former Code. Shib Kunwar Singh v. Sheo Prasad Singh, I. L. R. 28 All. 418, and Jairaj Mal v. Radha Kishan, I. L. R. 35 All. 257, followed AGHA SULTAN KHAN v. MOHABBAT KHAN
I. L. R. 43 All. 489

———— O. XXI, rr. 66 and 70 (1882 Code s. 287)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, ss. 158, 163 AND 167 . 2 Pat. L. J. 176

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I. L. R. 43 All. 703

———— O. XXI, rr. 68, 69 (1882 Code 290 and 291)—

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 26

———— O. XXI, r. 70 (1882 Code 287)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, ss. 158, 163 AND 167 . 2 Pat. L. J. 177

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 71 (1882 Code s. 293)—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s. 47 . I. L. R. 39 All. 267

See SECOND APPEAL.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 223

——— O. XXI, rr. 71 and 84 to 87—Purchase in a Court sale of judgment-debtor's right to get a reconveyance of certain lands—Default in payment of balance of purchase-money within fifteen days of Court sale—Liability of purchaser for deficiency on resale. A purchaser in a Court auction of a judgment-debtor's right to get a reconveyance of certain lands on payment of a specified sum is, on default in payment of the purchased money within fifteen days of the Court sale, liable to pay under summary process under O. XXI, r. 71, Civil Procedure Code, any deficiency in the price on a resale, though the date stipulated for payment to get the reconveyance happens to be shortly after the Court sale and before the expiry of the fifteen days allowed for the payment of the balance. The loss of the

[illegible]

vided all the then existing rights of the judgment-debtor therein are correctly stated in the proclamation for the resale. Cases in which an existing encumbrance on the property is omitted to be mentioned at the time of the first sale but finds a place in the proclamation for the resale stand on a different footing. Baijnath Sahai v. Moheep Narain Singh, I. L. R. 16 Calc. 535, and Kali Kishore Deb Sarkar v. Guru Prosad Sukal, I. L. R. 25 Calc 99, distinguished. VENKATACHELLAMAYYA v. NILAKANTA GIRJEE (1917) I. L. R. 41 Mad. 474

——— O. XXI, r. 72 (1882 Code s. 294)—

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE.

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 357

——— Decree—Execution—Collector—Decree-holder allowed permission to bid by the Collector—Set-off—Power of the Court to allow set-off. A decree-holder having received from the Collector permission to bid, and having been declared to be the highest bidder, can apply to the Court for permission to set off the decretal amount against the purchase money. MARTAND TRIMBAK v. DAYA bin ABAJI (1919)

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 346

——— O. XXI, rr. 73 and 83—Several [illegible] off one of the decrees—Money paid into Court by alienee—Rateable distribution—"Assets held by a Court," meaning of Where several decree-holders in different suits had attached the same property of their judgment-debtor and applied for sale in execution of their respective decrees, but the judgment-debtor obtained permission of the Court under O. XXI, r. 83, to raise money by private alienation of the property to pay the decree amount due in one of the decrees, and the amount was paid into Court by the alienee. Held that the money, having been paid into Court under a pending execution application, was assets held by the Court under O. XXI, r. 73 of the Code, and was liable to rateable distribution among the several decree-holders who had applied for execution. Sorabji Coovarji v. Kala Raghunath, I. L. R. 36 Bom. 156, dissented from. Kathum Sahiba v. Hajee Badsha Sahib, I. L. R. 38 Mad 221, 224, referred to. Galstaun v. Woomes Chundra Bonnerjee, I. L. R. 44 Calc. 789, distinguished. THIRAVIYAM PILLAI v. LASKSHMANA PILLAI (1917) . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 616

——— O. XXI, rr. 84, 89, 92 (1882 Code ss. 306 310A, 312)—Execution of decree—Sale of immoveable property—Acceptance of final bid deferred—Application to set aside sale—Limitation: Held, that a sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree is not complete until the sale officer has accepted the final bid and the purchaser has paid in the deposit of 25 per cent. of the purchase money required by r. 84 of O. XXI, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. The period of thirty days prescribed by r. 92 will not, therefore, begin to run against a person applying under r 89 if for any reason the final bid remains for a time unaccepted by the sale officer. MUNSHI LAL v. RAM NARAIN (1912) I. L. R. 35 All. 65

——— O. XXI, r. 88 (1882 Code 310)—Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Pre-emption—Title of pre-emptor defeasible: Held, that a title to a share in undivided immovable property sold in execution of a decree which is still defeasible at the date of a sale in execution, is not sufficient to support a claim for pre-emption [illegible]

v. GHULAM HUSAIN (1913) I. L. R. 35 All. 296

——— O. XXI, r. 89 (1882 Code s. 310A)—

See s. 73 . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 619

See s. 115 . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 554

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885.

4 Pat. L. J. 55

See CONTRACT ACT, s. 70.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 556

See SALE . . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 69

1. ——— Execution of decree—Application to set aside the sale within [illegible]

after the sale. Held, that the judgment-debtor having done all that lay in his power to deposit the money in time and having been prevented by the action of the Treasury Officer, should be taken to have made the payment within the time allowed by law. Mahomed Akbar Z

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 89 (1882 Code, s. 310A)—
contd.

v. Sukhdeo Pande, 13 C. L. J. 467, referred to. MUNNA LAL v. RADHA KISHAN (1915)
I. L. R. 37 All. 591

2. ———————— Sale of immoveable property in Court-auction—Subsequent private sale by judgment-debtor—Application by judgment-debtor to set aside auction-sale—No locus standi to apply—Order rejecting application—Revision petition to High Court under Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 115—Not maintainable though order erroneous. Where after a sale in Court auction of certain immoveable property, the judgment-debtor sold away all his rights in the same property to a stranger by a private sale, and subsequently applied under O. XXI, r. 89, of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) to set aside the auction-sale: Held, that the judgment-debtor had no locus standi to apply under O. XXI, r. 89, to have the sale set aside. Anantha Lakshmi Ammall v. Kunnanchankarath Sankaran Nair (1913), Mad. W. N. 101, referred to. Ishar Das v. Asaf Ali Khan, I. L. R. 34 All. 186, followed. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J.—A Civil Revision Petition under s. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not lie against an order of the Lower Court rejecting an application under O. XXI, r. 89, though the order was erroneous in law, as the lower Court did not act illegally or beyond its jurisdiction or with material irregularity in arriving at the decision. Per SPENCER, J.—Neither an amendment of the petition nor the presentation of a fresh petition by the private purchaser could be allowed by the High Court to be made, as he was not a party to the proceedings in the lower Court and more than one year had expired after the time allowed by Art. 166 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) for filing a petition in the lower Court. SUBBARAYUDU v. LAKSHMINARASAMMA (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 775

3. ———————— Sale in execution of decree—Judgment-debtor privately selling the property so sold—Application by judgment-debtor to set aside Court sale. A judgment-debtor whose property has been sold at a Court sale in execution of the decree against him, has a right to apply to have the sale set aside as a person owning the property sold in execution of the decree within the meaning of r. 89 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908, in spite of the fact that he has transferred his interest in the property after the Court sale. PANDURANG LAXMAN v. GOVIND DADA (1916) . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 557

4. ———————— Non-transferable occupancy-holding—Purchase at mortgage sale—Subsequent rent sale and purchase by landlord—Right of first purchaser to set aside sale by deposit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885 as amended by E. B. and A. C. Act (1 of 1907), s. 170, (3). Where (in a case governed by Act I of 1907 E. B. and A. C.) the landlord himself purchases a non-transferable occupancy-holding at a sale held in execution of a decree for rent obtained against the registered tenant of the holding, a person who had within 12 years purchased the whole holding at a sale in execution of a mortgage-decree, is not entitled to set aside the sale by making a deposit under O. XXI, r. 89 of the Civil Procedure Code. Tarak Das Pal v. Harish Chandra Banerjee, 17 C. W. N. 163; s. c. 16 C. L. J. 548, Dyamayi Dasi v. Ananda Mohan Roy, 18 C. W. N. 971, and Ahmadulla Chowdhry v. Prayagsahu, 20 C. W. N. 39, referred to. ABDUR RAHAMAN SARKAR v. PROMODE BEHARY DUTT (1915) . . . . . 20 C. W. N. 40

5. ———————— Application by judgment-debtor to set aside sale in execution of a decree—Execution of sale-deed by judgment-debtor, not registered—Subsequent application, whether competent—Fresh sale-deed executed by him after application and registered before final order—Sustainability of application—Rights of parties to suit or application, whether affected by subsequent events. Where a judgment-debtor applied under O. XXI. r. 89, of the Civil Procedure Code, to set aside a sale of certain lands held in execution of a decree, and it appeared that he had previous to his application executed a sale-deed therefor which was not however registered, and that he had subsequent to his application executed a fresh sale-deed in respect of the same lands to the same vendee which was registered before final order was passed on the application, and the auction purchaser objected to the competency of the judgment-debtor to make or sustain the application: Held, that the judgment-debtor had locus standi to make the application, as he had not ceased to be owner of the lands at the time of his making the application; and that he did not lose the right to sustain the application by the subsequent execution and registration of a sale-deed as it is a well-recognized rule of law that the rights of the parties should be adjudicated as on the date of suit or application and not with reference to what transpires subsequently. Kurri Verreddi v. Kurri Bapireddi, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 336, and Ramanathan v. Ranganathan, I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1134, referred to. Subbarayaud v. Lakshminarasamma, I. L. R. 38 Mad. 775, distinguished, and Karalia Manuhai v. Mansuxhram, I. L. R. 24 Bom. 400, dissented from SETHURARAMASAMI NAYANIVARU v. SYED MIR HUSSAIN SAHIB (1918) I. L. R. 42 Mad. 508

6. ———————— Auction sale Application made to the Mamlatdar to set aside sale—Mamlatdar not a Court within the meaning of O. XXI, r. 89—Application must be made to Civil Court—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 166. An application by a judgment-debtor to have an auction sale held by the Mamlatdar set aside under O. XXI, rr. 89, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, must be made to the Civil Court. A Collector or other Revenue Officer, cannot be considered as a Court within the meaning of O. XXI, rr. 89, and, therefore, the judgment-debtor who presents his application to the Collector cannot stop limitation running against him. TIPPANGAVDA v. RAMANGAVDA (1919)
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 50

7. ———————— Civil Procedure Code, (1882) s. 308—Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Forfeiture of auction-purchaser's deposit. An auction-purchaser deposited in Court Rs. 1,000 out of a total sum of Rs. 2,200. Owing to the judgment-debtor making an application to have the sale set aside, the auction-purchaser did not deposit the remainder of the purchase money. The judgment-debtor's application was not accompanied, as it should have been, by court-fee stamps in payment of the expenses of the sale. Held, on application by the auction-purchaser for refund of the money deposited by him, that the Court would have exercised a proper discretion in allowing a refund as prayed, and it was allowed, subject to payment by the applicant of the expenses of the sale. MATHURA PRASAD PANDE v. GAURI SHANKAR DAS (1910) I. L. R. 32 All. 380

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 89 (1882 Code, s. 310A)—contd.

8. ——— Execution of decree—Sale in ...

... set aside. A decree-holder held two decrees against the same judgment-debtor, the one being a decree for sale on two mortgages, and the other a simple money decree. In execution of the latter decree the decree-holder caused part of the mortgaged property to be sold by auction, and it was purchased by a stranger. Held, that the decree-holder was not competent to apply under O. XXI, r. 89, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, to get this sale set aside. MUHAMMAD AHMADULLAH KHAN v. AHMAD SAID KHAN (1911) I. L. R. 33 All. 481

9. ——— Execution of decree—Property sold by judgment-debtor to a third person after execution sale—Judgment-debtor not competent to apply to have auction sale set aside. Where a judgment-debtor after the ...
tion o ty to debto under dure, Debi ...
14 Oudh Cases 33, approved. ISHAR DAS v. ASAF ALI KHAN (1911) . . I. L. R. 34 All. 186

10. ——— Payment into Court of portion of a judgment-debt by persons other than the applicant, no right to take credit for—'Receipt,' meaning of. O. XXI, r. 89, Civil Procedure Code, is in the nature of an indulgence to judgment-debtors; and a judgment-debtor who wishes to take advantage of its provisions must strictly comply with the same, by paying all the amounts as directed by the rule, less any amount that may have been ...
h
...

minded to do so. Trimbak v. Ramchandra, I. L. R. 23 Bom. 723, and Kripa Nath Pal v. Ram Lakshmi Dasya, 1 C. W. N. 703, followed. Anantha Lakshmi Ammal v. Sankaran Nair, 21 Mad. L. J. 205, and Vedala Lakshminarasimha Charyulu v. Pacha Lakshmiamma (1912), Mad. W. N. 756, distinguished. KARUNAKARA v. KRISHNA (1915) . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 429

11. ——— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 310-A—"Decree-holder"

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V O —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 89 (1882 Code, contd.

—Execution of decree—Auction sal tion by judgment-debtor to set aside sa within thirty days—Auction purchaser n sary party to the application—Notice to a Rateable distribution claimed by other de —Satisfaction of the decree under whic perty was sold. The deposit under O. of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of be made within thirty days from the da It is not necessary that the notice requ given under r. 92 of the said order should within thirty days of the date of sal notice has been given under r. 89 to a affected thereby, the Court has full to set aside the sale. A decree-holde applied for execution of his decree, the ings in execution were transferred to the He issued a proclamation and procee the sale, but before the auction sale to he received from the Court intimation o tions made by other decree-holders ag same judgment-debtor for rateable dis The Collector inserted references to the ...

Code (Act V of 1908) on depositing in C payment to the purchaser a sum equal per cent of the purchase money, and for p to the decree-holder the amount specifie proclamation of sale as that for the reco which the sale was ordered. Although the was ...
the ...
appl
insuf
have been sufficient to satisfy not only his but also the claims of those decree-holders applications for rateable distribution ha brought to the notice of the Collector bef sale: Held, setting aside the sale, that th "decree-holder" in O. XXI, r. 89 of th Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), mean person alone for satisfaction of whose dec sale had been ordered and did not include persons who would have a right to claim ra distribution out of the sale-proceeds under of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of GANESH BAB NAIK v. VITHAL VAMAN (1912) I. L. R. 37 Bom

12. ——— A person is out of possession of certain immovable property, but is litigating to establish his title th is not entitled to make a deposit in court aside a sale of such property held in exe of a decree. If such a person does make a d and eventually loses the suit in which he endeavouring to establish his title to the pro put up for sale, he cannot recover the amou such deposit from the person found to be en to the property. NANDKISHORE JHA v. PA MIAN . . . . . . 2 Pat. L. J.

13. ——— Under-te ho ...
in th
th

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 89 (1882 Code, s. 310A)— contd.

At any rate, the scope of the rule is not narrower than that of s. 310A of the Code of 1882; and where the provisions of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Tenancy (Amendment) Act applies, a permanent under-tenure-holder has locus standi to apply under O. XXI, r. 89, to set aside the sale of a taluk in execution of a rent-decree. SARAT CHANDRA DAS v. MATI LAL CHACKERBUTTY (1919)
23 C. W. N. 597

14. ——— Application to set aside sale on deposit of decretal amount, if lies at the instance of mortgagor in the Original Side of the High Court. O. XXI, r. 89 may apply ordinarily to sales on mortgage decrees after attachment under the Code of Civil Procedure (as in the Mofussil) but it does not apply to a suit on the Original Side of the High Court where without attachment the sale has been held by the Registrar in comformity with the rules of the Court. In these matters the practice under the rules of the High Court and the Code of Civil Procedure are not workable together. SURENDRO KRISTO ROY v. GURU PADA GHOSH
24 C. W. N. 536

15. ——— Sale in execution of decree Judgment-debtor privately selling the property so sold to a third person after the execution sale but before confirmation of sale—Such subsequent purchaser, if entitled to apply under O. XXI, r. 89 to have the court-sale set aside. Where a judgment-debtor, after the sale in execution of his immoveable property but before the confirmation of the sale, sold such property to a third person, and such subsequent purchaser applied to have the Court-sale set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, of the Civil Procedure Code: Held—That he was not entitled to make the said application. The interest, if any, which he held in the property was not by virtue of a title acquired by him before the execution sale: his interest, if any, was by virtue of a title acquired after such sale and consequently he was precluded by the very terms of the rule from applying under O. XXI, r. 80 of the Civil Procedure Code. LALA v. HARENDRA LAL DAS.
26 C. W. N. 148

16. ——— Whether applicable to mortgage sale—Practice on the Original side of the High Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 310A—Letters Patent, cl. 37—Hechle's High Court Rules and Orders, Original Side, Ch. XXVII. O. XXI, r. 89 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908, applies to sales in execution of mortgage decrees on the Original Side of the High Court and the practice which at present prevails on the Original Side is contrary to law. Surendra Kristo Roy v. Guru Prosad Ghose, 24 C. W. N. 536 (1915), distinguished. VIRJIBAN DASS MOOLJI v. BISSESSWAR LAL HARGOVIND
24 C. W. N. 1032

——— O. XXI, rr. 89 and 90—

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR, P. 106, R. 17
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1132

——— Application under latter if may proceed after application under the former dismissed—Transferee of non-transferable occupancy holding, if may apply. There is no prohibition in the Code against an application being made under r. 90 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code after an application under r. 89 has been made and has been withdrawn or dismissed. Rr. 89 and 90 of the Civil Procedure Code permit of applications by persons who could not have applied under ss. 310A and 311 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882. BASIRUDDIN v. FAIMULLA (1911) . . . . . 17 C. W. N. 476

——— A Reversioner to a Hindu widow's estate is entitled to apply under rr. 89 and 90 to set aside a sale of immoveable property on account of fraud or irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. BRIJ KISHORE LAL v. PRATAP NARAIN . . 4 Pat. L. J. 360

——— O. XXI, rr. 89, 92—Sale in execution of a decree which is modified in review before confirmation—Sale if should be confirmed—Sale erroneously set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, before decree modified in review—Order setting aside sale reversed by higher Court—Application under s. 47 to set aside the sale—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 181—Limitation in suspense. O. XXI, rr. 89, 90, 91 and 92, C. P. C. pre-suppose a valid decree under which the sale is held, and r. 92 does not affect the power of the Court to refuse to confirm the sale, or make it compulsory to confirm the sale when the Court finds that the sale was held under a decree which did not authorise the sale. It would be unreasonable to require the Court to confirm the sale although it finds that the foundation of the sale is gone and then proceed under s. 47, C. P C., to set aside the sale which it has confirmed being fully aware that the sale was illegal. The Court in such circumstances would be justified in refusing to confirm the sale. When an order setting aside a sale under O. XXI, r. 89 was reversed on the ground that the deposit was insufficient, but in the meanwhile the decree itself was modified so that the sale had taken place for an amount in respect of which there was no subsisting decree, and the decree-holder thereupon applying for cofirmation of the sale the judgment-debtor objected to such confirmation and also applied under s. 47 to set aside the sale: Held—That the Court in such circumstances should refuse to confirm the sale. That Art. 181 of the Limitation Act would apply to the application of the judgment-debtor under s. 47 to set aside the sale, and the right to apply should be taken to have arisen when the order setting aside the sale under O. XXI, r. 89 was reversed or that right should be considered to have remained in suspense between the date on which the sale was set aside under O. XXI, r. 89 and its reversal by the superior Court. SHEIKH ARIATULLAH v. SASHI BHUSHAN HAZRAH . . . . . 24 C. W. N. 73

——— Execution of decree —Application to set aside sale in execution—Decree sent to Collector for execution—Tender of money to the Collector, the Civil Courts being closed— "Court." The word 'Court" as used in rr. 89 and 92 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure means the Civil Court, and not, in the case of a decree being transferred to the Collector for execution, the Collector. FAZAL RAB v. MANZUR AHMAD (1918) . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 425

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—— O. XXI, rr. 89 92—contd.

—— Claimant of property sold in possession—Claimant paying into Court the decretal amount to set aside sale—Whether payment voluntarily or involuntarily made—Suit to recover amount paid In execution of a decree obtained by the defendant against a third party the property was sold and purchased by the defendant. The plaintiff who claimed to be the owner in possession of the property protested against the sale and ultimately got it set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, by paying into Court the decretal amount and five per cent. of the purchase money. The amount being given to the defendant decree-holder and auction purchaser, the plaintiff sued to get it refunded as having been involuntarily paid Held, dismissing the suit, that under the terms of O. XXI, r. 89, the amount must be taken to have been vided that the money [sc. paid into Court under O. XXI, r. 89] should be paid in for a particular purpose, such money could not be treated as assets held by a Court." Sorabji Coovarji v Kala Raghunath (1911), 36 Bom. 156, approved of. Per SHAH, J. —"When an application to set aside the sale is made under O. XXI, r 89, and the amount required by the rule is deposited, it is obligatory upon the Court to set aside the sale, as provided by r. 92, sub-rule (2). The result of setting aside the sale is generally speaking in favour of the judgment- debtor. This result can be ensured by any person interested in the property by satisfying the claims of the decree-holder and auction-purchaser according to the provisions of the Rule. I do not see how a person can be allowed to go back upon his own act and to claim the amount back from the decree-holder after he has secured the benefit of having the sale set aside." Dooli Chand v. Ram Kishen Singh (1881), L. R. 8 I A. 93 and Seth Kanhaya Lal v. The National Bank of India, Limited (1913), L. R. 40 I. A. 56, considered. Ram Tuhul Singh v. Bisseswar Lall Sahoo (1875), L. R. 2 I. A. 131, observations relied on. NARAYAN v. AMGAUDA (1920) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1094

—— O. XXI, r. 89, and s. 115—Auction sale of immovable property—subsequent private sale by judgment-debtor—Application to set aside execution sale, whether maintainable by judgment-debtor —Revision—Jurisdiction—Erroneous decision of law. A judgment-debtor who, subsequent to the sale of his immovable property in execution, has sold his property privately, may apply to have the auction-sale set aside under O XXI, r. 89. An erroneous decision on a question of law or fact after jurisdiction has once been legally assumed is

LALL . . . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 340

—— O. XXI, r. 90 (1882 Code s. 311)—

See O. IX, R. 9 . 4 Pat. L. J. 135

See O. XXI, R. 53 . 4 Pat. L. J. 336

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—— O. XXI, r. 90 (1882 Code, s. 311)—contd.

See s. 141 . . 19 C. W. N. 758

See SALE . . 2 Pat. L. J. 157

1. —— Sale, application to set aside—Irregularity and consequent inadequacy of price established—Real value of the property found not to exceed decree which could not be further executed owing to limitation—Substantial injury whether made out—Debtor's right. Where it was found that there had been irregularities in conducting and publishing a sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree and that the property was sold at an inadequate price in consequence, the mere fact that the real value of the property sold did not exceed the amount of the decree, and that the unsatisfied balance of the decree could not be realised from the judgment-debtors by reason of limitation, would not bring the case within the proviso to O. XXI, r. 90. A debtor is entitled to have those steps taken for which provision is made by the Code for the purpose of ensuring that his property will realise an adequate price and so enable him to pay off his debt in money or money's worth. SANTO PROSAD SINGH v. SHEW NARAIN (1912). 16 C. W. N. 1022

2. —— Attachment before judgment—Property sold in execution—Locus standi of attaching plaintiff to apply to set aside sale. A plaintiff who has attached immoveable property before judgment, has no present interest in such property and is not entitled to apply under O. XXI, r. 90 to set aside a sale of the property in execution of a decree. Seudat Ray v Sree Canto Maity, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 639, 643 : 10 C. W. N. 634, Basiram Malo v Kattyani Debi, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 448 : 15 C. W. N. 795, relied on. JOGENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. MONMOTHA NATH GHOSH (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 80

3. —— "Immoveable property"—Whether sale of some of properties sold can be set aside—Substantial loss with regard to some, if vitiates sale as to whole. Where four lots of immoveable properties were sold in execution and it was found that there was substantial injury caused to the judgment-debtors with regard to one of the lots, but not with regard to the other three: Held, that in O XXI, r. 90, "immoveable property" means any one of the immoveable properties, the sale of which is liable to be set aside upon the grounds mentioned in the section. That the Court was not bound to set aside sale of all four lots by reason of irregularity and substantial loss caused thereby with regard to one of them. Macnaghten v. Mahabir Parshad Singh, I. L. R. 9 Calc. 656, 662, referred to. RAJANI NATH RAKSHIT v. KUSUM KAMINI MAZUMDAR (1914) . . . . . 18 C. W. N. 947

4. —— Sale of immoveable property in execution of money-decree—Holder of another decree against the same judgment-debtor whose application for execution had been dismissed for non-prosecution prior to sale, if entitled to apply for setting aside the sale. In execution of a decree for money, the immoveable properties of the judgment-debtors were sold and purchased by the opposite party on 9th April 1912. The petitioner, who also held a decree for money against the same

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 89 (1882 Code, s. 310A)—contd.

At any rate, the scope of the rule is not narrower than that of s. 310A of the Code of 1882; and where the provisions of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Tenancy (Amendment) Act applies, a permanent under-tenure-holder has locus standi to apply under O. XXI, r. 89, to set aside the sale of a taluk in execution of a rent-decree. SARAT CHANDRA DAS v. MATI LAL CHACKERBUTTY (1919)

23 C. W. N. 597

14. ——— Application to set aside sale on deposit of decretal amount, if lies at the instance of mortgagor in the Original Side of the High Court. O. XXI, r. 89 may apply ordinarily to sales on mortgage decrees after attachment under the Code of Civil Procedure (as in the Mofussil) but it does not apply to a suit on the Original Side of the High Court where without attachment the sale has been held by the Registrar in comformity with the rules of the Court. In these matters the practice under the rules of the High Court and the Code of Civil Procedure are not workable together. SURENDRO KRISTO ROY v. GURU PADA GHOSH

24 C. W. N. 536

15. ——— Sale in execution of decree Judgment-debtor privately selling the property so sold to a third person after the execution sale but before confirmation of sale—Such subsequent purchaser, if entitled to apply under O. XXI, r. 89 to have the court-sale set aside. Where a judgment-debtor, after the sale in execution of his immoveable property but before the confirmation of the sale, sold such property to a third person, and such subsequent purchaser applied to have the Court-sale set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, of the Civil Procedure Code: Held—That he was not entitled to make the said application. The interest, if any, which he held in the property was not by virtue of a title acquired by him before the execution sale: his interest, if any, was by virtue of a [ti]le acquired after such sale and consequently [he] was precluded by the very terms of the rule [fr]om applying under O. XXI, r. 80 of the Civil [P]rocedure Code. LALA v. HARENDRA LAL DAS.

26 C. W. N. 148

16. ——— Whether applicable to mortgage sale—Practice on the Original side of the High Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 310A—Letters Patent, cl. 37—Hechle's High Court Rules and Orders, Original Side, Ch. XXVII. O. XXI, r. 89 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908, applies to sales in execution of mortgage decrees on the Original Side of the High Court and the practice which at present prevails on the Original Side is contrary to law. Surendra Kristo Roy v. Guru Prosad Ghose, 24 C. W. N. 536 (1915), distinguished. VIRJIBAN DASS MOOLJI v. BISSESSWAR LAL HARGOVIND

24 C. W. N. 1032

——— O. XXI, rr. 89 and 90—

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR, P. 106, R. 17

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1132

——— Application under latter if may proceed after application under the former dismissed—Transferee of non-transferable occupancy holding, if may apply. There is no prohibition in the Code against an application being made under r. 90 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code after an application under r. 89 has been made and has been withdrawn or dismissed. Rr. 89 and 90 of the Civil Procedure Code permit of applications by persons who could not have applied under ss. 310A and 311 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882. BASIRUDDIN v. FAIMULLA (1911) . . . . . 17 C. W. N. 476

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, rr. 89 and 90—contd.

———A Reversioner to a Hindu widow's estate is entitled to apply under rr. 89 and 90 to set aside a sale of immoveable property on account of fraud or irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. BRIJ KISHORE LAL v. PRATAP NARAIN . . 4 Pat. L. J. 360

——— O. XXI, rr. 89, 92—Sale in execution of a decree which is modified in review before confirmation—Sale if should be confirmed—Sale erroneously set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, before decree modified in review—Order setting aside sale reversed by higher Court—Application under s. 47 to set aside the sale—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 181—Limitation in suspense. O. XXI, rr. 89, 90, 91 and 92, C. P. C. pre-suppose a valid decree under which the sale is held, and r. 92 does not affect the power of the Court to refuse to confirm the sale, or make it compulsory to confirm the sale when the Court finds that the sale was held under a decree which did not authorise the sale. It would be unreasonable to require the Court to confirm the sale although it finds that the foundation of the sale is gone and then proceed under s. 47, C. P. C., to set aside the sale which it has confirmed being fully aware that the sale was illegal. The Court in such circumstances would be justified in refusing to confirm the sale. When an order setting aside a sale under O. XXI, r. 89 was reversed on the ground that the deposit was insufficient, but in the meanwhile the decree itself was modified so that the sale had taken place for an amount in respect of which there was no subsisting decree, and the decree-holder thereupon applying for cofirmation of the sale the judgment-debtor objected to such confirmation and also applied under s. 47 to set aside the sale: Held—That the Court in such circumstances should refuse to confirm the sale. That Art. 181 of the Limitation Act would apply to the application of the judgment-debtor under s. 47 to set aside the sale, and the right to apply should be taken to have arisen when the order setting aside the sale under O. XXI, r. 89 was reversed or that right should be considered to have remained in suspense between the date on which the sale was set aside under O. XXI, r. 89 and its reversal by the superior Court. SHEIKH ARIATULLAH v. SASHI BHUSHAN HAZRAH . . . . . 24 C. W. N. 73

———Execution of decree—Application to set aside sale in execution—Decree sent to Collector for execution—Tender of money to the Collector, the Civil Courts being closed—"Court." The word 'Court" as used in rr. 89 and 92 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure means the Civil Court, and not, in the case of a decree being transferred to the Collector for execution, the Collector. FAZAL RAB v. MANZUR AHMAD (1918) . . I. L. R. 40 All. 425

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, rr. 89 92—contd.

——— Claimant of property sold in possession—Claimant paying into Court the decretal amount to set aside sale—Whether payment voluntarily or involuntarily made—Suit to recover amount paid. In execution of a decree obtained by the defendant against a third party the property was sold and purchased by the defendant. The plaintiff who claimed to be the owner in possession of the property protested against the sale and ultimately got it set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, by paying into Court the decretal amount and five per cent. of the purchase money. The amount being given to the defendant decree-holder and auction purchaser, the plaintiff sued to get it refunded as having been involuntarily paid. Held, dismissing the suit, that under the terms of O. XXI, r. 89, the amount must be taken to have been deposited for payment to the decree-holder voluntarily and unconditionally and therefore no suit could lie for its recovery. Per MACLEOD, C. J. :—"It seems to me that when it is expressly provided that the money [sc. paid into Court under O. XXI, r. 89] should be paid in for a particular purpose, such money could not be treated as assets held by a Court." Sorabji Coovarji v. Kala Raghunath (1911), 36 Bom 156, approved of. Per SHAH, J. —"When an application to set aside the sale is made under O. XXI, r. 89, and the amount required by the rule is deposited, it is obligatory upon the Court to set aside the sale, as provided by r 92, sub-rule (2). The result of setting aside the sale is generally speaking in favour of the judgment- debtor. This result can be ensured by any person interested in the property by satisfying the claims of the decree-holder and auction-purchaser according to the provisions of the Rule. I do not see how a person can be allowed to go back upon his own act and to claim the amount back from the decree-holder after he has secured the benefit of having the sale set aside." Dooli Chand v. Ram Kishen Singh (1881), L. R. 8 I. A. 93 and Seth Kanhaya Lal v. The National Bank of India, Limited (1913), L. R. 40 I. A. 56, considered. Ram Tuhul Singh v. Bisseswar Lall Sahoo (1875), L. R. 2 I. A. 131, observations relied on. NARAYAN v. AMGAUDA (1920) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1094

——— O. XXI, r. 89, and s. 115—Auction sale of immovable property—subsequent private sale by judgment-debtor—Application to set aside execution sale, whether maintainable by judgment-debtor—Revision—Jurisdiction—Erroneous decision of law. A judgment-debtor who, subsequent to the sale of his immovable property in execution, has sold his property privately, may apply to have the auction-sale set aside under O. XXI, r. 89. An erroneous decision on a question of law or fact after jurisdiction has once been legally assumed is [illegible] ler s. 115 of the [illegible] if the decision is [illegible] of jurisdiction in [illegible]

——— O. XXI, r. 90 (1882 Code s. 311)—
See O. IX, R. 9 . 4 Pat. L. J. 125
See O. XXI, R. 53 . 4 Pat. L. J. 226

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 90 (1882 Code, s. 311)—contd.

See s. 141 . . 19 C. W. N. 758
See SALE . . 2 Pat. L. J. 157

1. ——— Sale, application to set aside—Irregularity and consequent inadequacy of price established—Real value of the property found not to exceed decree which could not be further executed owing to limitation—Substantial injury whether made out—Debtor's right. Where it was found that there had been irregularities in conducting and publishing a sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree and that the property was sold at an inadequate price in consequence, the mere fact that the real value of the property sold did not exceed the amount of the decree, and that the unsatisfied balance of the decree could not be realised from the judgment-debtors by reason of limitation, would not bring the case within the proviso to O. XXI, r. 90. A debtor is entitled to have those steps taken for which provision is made by the Code for the purpose of ensuring that his property will realise an adequate price and so enable him to pay off his debt in money or money's worth. SANTO PROSAD SINGH v. SHEW NARAIN (1912). 16 C. W. N. 1022

2. ——— Attachment before judgment—Property sold in execution—Locus standi of attaching plaintiff to apply to set aside sale. A plaintiff who has attached immoveable property before judgment, has no present interest in such property and is not entitled to apply under O. XXI, r. 90 to set aside a sale of the property in execution of a decree. Scudat Ray v. Sree [illegible] Maity, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 639, 643 : 10 C. W. N. 634, Basiram Malo v. Kattyani Debi, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 448 : 15 C. W. N. [illegible] [illegible] JOGENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. [illegible] GHOSH (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. [illegible]

3. ——— "[illegible] perty"—Whether sale of some [illegible] can be set aside—Substantial loss [illegible] if vitiates sale as to [illegible] [illegible] immoveable properties [illegible] and it was found that there [illegible] caused to the judgment-debtor [illegible] one of the lots, [illegible] three: Held, that [illegible] able property" means [illegible] properties, the sale of [illegible] aside upon the ground [illegible] That the Court [illegible] of all four lots by [illegible] stantial loss caused [illegible] them. [illegible] I. L. R. 9 C[illegible] NATH [illegible] (1914) [illegible]

4. ——— able [illegible] of [illegible] whose [illegible] for [illegible] for [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 90 (1882 Code, s. 311)—contd.

judgment-debtors, had applied on the 13th March 1912 for execution of his decree; but his application was dismissed for non-prosecution on the 13th May 1912, and on the 20th May 1912 the petitioner applied to the Court to have the sale set aside under r. 90, O. XXI, Civil Procedure Code, on the ground of fraud and material irregularity. The lower Court rejected this application holding that he was not entitled to make it. Held, that the dismissal of the petitioner's application for execution of his decree on the 13th May for non-prosecution did not affect the right of the petitioner to a share in a rateable distribution of the assets, and on the date on which the application to set aside the sale was made under r. 90, it was made by a person entitled to a share in the rateable distribution of the assets and consequently should have been entertained by the Court. BYOMKESH CHACKRABARTTY v. JATINDRA NATH ROY (1913) 18 C. W. N. 1311

5. ———— Application to set aside sale dismissed for default—Dismissal of application for restoration—Appeal, if lies. An application to set aside a sale under r. 90 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code having been dismissed for default, the applicant applied for restoration of the case, but this application was refused. Held, that no appeal lay against the order refusing to restore the case. Cl. (e) to r. 1 of O. XLIII of the Code did not apply to this order. S. 141 of the Code which replaces s. 647 of Act XIV of 1882 has not effected any alteration in the law. On the date fixed for hearing of appellant's application to set aside a sale, the appellant came to Court and finding the Judge engaged in the trial of another suit, left the Court and went on another business leaving no instructions to his pleader. Returning later, he found that his case had been called on in the meanwhile and dismissed for non-prosecution. Held, that there were no grounds for restoring the case. Manilal Dhunji v. Gulam Hosain, I. L. R. 13 Bom. 12, and Ismail Ibrahim v. Jan Mahmed, 10 Bom. L. R. 904, relied on. Somayya v. Subbama, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 599, and Lalta Prasad v. Ram Karan, I. L. R. 34 All. 426, not followed. CHARU CHANDRA GHOSH v. CHANDI CHARAN RAY CHOUDHURY (1914) . . 19 C. W. N. 25

6. ———— Step in execution of decree for arrears of rent—Non-transferable occupancy holding, transferee of a portion of, if entitled to apply for reversal of sale. A transferee of a portion of a non-transferable occupancy holding is entitled to apply for reversal of a sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent obtained by the entire body of landlords. The rule formulated in r. 90 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 has a wider scope and is of a more comprehensive character than the rule laid down in s. 311 of the Code of 1882. ABDUL AZIZ v. TAFAZUDDIN SHEIKH (1914) . 19 C. W. N. 326

———— O. XXI, r. 90—

7. ———— Sale in execution of a decree—Application to set aside a sale by person claiming to be the real owner. Where immoveable property has been sold in execution of a decree against the ostensible owner, a person claiming to be the real owner is not competent to ask the Court to set aside the sale under O. XXI, r. 90. of the Code of Civil Procedure. Abdul Aziz v. Tafajuddin, 23 Indian Cases 839, referred to. HARDWARI LAL v. SALAMAT-ULLAH KHAN I. L. R. 38 All. 358

8. ———— Persons entitled to apply for setting aside sale—"Persons whose interests are affected by the sale"—Purchaser of holding sold in execution of mortgage decree if can apply for setting aside sale subsequently held by landlord in execution of rent decree. A holding was sold in execution of a mortgage decree against the tenant and purchased by the mortgagee; it was subsequently sold at the instance of the landlord in execution of a rent decree and the mortgagee applied under O. XXI, r. 90, Civil Procedure Code, to have the sale set aside on the ground of material irregularity and fraud in conducting the sale. Held, that the words of r. 90 "whose interests are affected by the sale" are very wide and the mortgagee had locus standi to make the application for setting aside the sale as his interests were clearly affected by the sale. SAILABALA DEBI v. NRITYA GOPAL SEN (1915) . . 22 C. W. N. 143

9. ———— Co-sharer landlord, whether entitled to apply under—Application after sale in execution of a decree in a suit under s. 148A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, whether proviso to s. 169 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act or s. 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure applies to such a case—S. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure, case if for revision under. In a suit framed under s. 148A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the five-sixth co-sharer landlords obtained a decree against the tenants of a tenure for arrears of rent due in respect thereof and in execution of that decree, in proceeding taken under Chap. XIV of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the said decree-holders (five-sixth co-sharer landlords) brought the tenure to sale and themselves purchased the same. Then, the remaining one-sixth co-sharer landlord, who also had a rent-decree in his favour against the tenure in arrear, but which decree was time-barred, applied for setting aside the sale under O. XXI, r. 90, of the Code of Civil Procedure, whereupon the five-sixth co-sharer landlords contended, amongst, other matters, that the decree which was executed was in the nature of a money-decree, and as such, the applicant, the one-sixth co-sharer landlord, had no locus standi to make the application under O. XX, r. 90, of the Code of Civil Procedure as he was not entitled to the rateable distribution of assets under s. 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure, his decree being time-barred and he having made no application for execution thereof; and both the lower Courts so decided. Held, that as the decree has the force and effect of a rent-decree the suit being framed in the manner provided for in s. 148A, the applicant was interested in the results of the sale under s. 158B and the proviso to s. 169 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and as such he was entitled to make the application under O. XXI, r. 90, of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held, further, that in dealing with the case merely under the provision of the Code of Civil Procedure and without advertence to the Bengal Tenancy Act the Court below had seriously erred Per COMING, J. It is doubtful whether the present motion falls within the scope of s. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. KHAGENDRA BHUSAN ROY v. JATINDRA NATH ROY (1918) . . . . . 23 C. W. N. 619

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 90—contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 90, 91 and 93—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), s. 22
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 837

———— O. XXI, r. 90 and 92—

See s. 104 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 122

See MADRAS ESTATES ACT, 1908, ss 111 AND 118. . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 351

Civil Procedure Code, within the time allowed by law, and the sale was confirmed, he cannot institute a suit to set aside the sale on the ground of material irregularity or fraud in the publication or conduct of the sale. Dictum of SADASIVA AYYAR, J., in Payidanna v. Lakshminarasamma, (1915), I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1076, dissented from BRAHMAYYA v. APPAYYA SASTRI (1921)
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 351

———— Application to set aside sale made before the new Code came into force—Fraud, general allegation of—Second appeal. The fact that the execution-sale took place and the application to set it aside on the ground of fraud was made before the new Code of Civil Procedure came into operation does not make the order passed on the application after the new Code came into force subject to a second appeal under the provisions of the old Code. General allegations of fraud unaccompanied by particulars are insufficient even to amount to an averment of fraud of which any Court ought to take notice Wallingford v. The Mutual Society, L. R. 5 A. C. 685, 697, followed. RAJ MOHAN PAL v. GOVINDA CHANDRA PAL (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 524

See ALSO BHADRESWAR GOLOI v. BISHNU CHARAN SEN (1910).
17 C. W. N. 525

———— O. XXI, r. 91 (1882 Code, s. 313)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 65.
14 C. W. N. 1096

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s 22
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 837

1 ———— Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 18, cl. (3)—Stamp Act (II of 1899), s. 35—Court-sale—Discovery that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest—Failure of consideration—Suit by auction-purchaser for possession or return of purchase money—Relations of the judgment-creditor and auction-purchaser—Suit not cognizable by Small Causes Court—Unstamped document regarded as non-existent. A Court-sale purchaser, having discovered that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold, brought a suit against the judgment-creditor for recovery of possession of the property, or in the alternative, return of the purchase money on the footing of

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXI, r. 91 (1883 Code, s. 313)—
contd.

total failure of consideration. A question having arisen as to whether the suit was maintainable. Held, that the suit was maintainable inasmuch as under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) there was an implied warranty of some saleable interest when the right, title and interest of a judgment-debtor was put up for sale and the purchaser's right based on such implied warranty to a return under certain conditions of the purchase-money which had been received by the judgment-creditor was recognized. The relations of the parties, namely, the judgment creditor and the Court-sale purchaser were in the nature of contract. Held, further, that such a suit, though the subject-matter was less than R500, was not cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, there being a prayer for possesion of immoveable property. An unstamped document being inadmissible in evidence must be taken as non-existent. RUSTOMJI ARDESHIR IRANI v. VINAYAK GANGADHAR BHAT (1910)
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 29

2. ———— Auction-purchaser induced to buy property of small value by misrepresentation—Remedy Where it appeared that it was known to the decree-holder that 1 anna out of a 1 anna 16 krants share put up by him for sale in execution of his decree had been previously sold in execution of a mortgage decree: Held, that it was not open to the purchaser at the sale who got 16 krants at least of the property purported to be sold to apply under O. XXI, r. 91, of the Civil Procedure Code, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property; though if he was induced to make the purchase by fraud, he might not be without other remedies. Naharmul Marwari v. Sadut Ali, 8 C. L. R. 468, Protap Chandra Chakrabartty v. Panioty, I. L. R. 9 Calc. 506, Ram Coomar Dey v. Shushee Bhooshan Ghose, I L. R 9 Calc. 626, Sonaram Das v. Mohiram Das, I. L. R. 28 Calc. 235, Durga Sundari v. Govinda Chandra, I L. R. 10 Calc. 368, Sant Lal v Ramji Das, I L. R. 9 All. 167, and Birj Mohan Thakur v. Rai Umanath Chaudhuri, I L. R 20 Calc. 8 : L R. 19 I. A. 151, referred to. SHEOGOBINDA SINGH v DHANUKDHARI SINGH (1915) . . 19 C. W. N. 1291

———— O. XXI, rr. 91 and 93—

———— When in a pending application to set aside execution sale under this order, decree holders were allowed to withdraw a portion of the purchase-money on executing a bond, which did not contain any provision for interest Held, that the Court had power under r. 93 to order refund of the money with interest. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. A. H. FORBES
25 C. W. N. 398

———— Execution of decree—Auction purchaser deprived of property purchased—Suit for refund of purchase-money—Sale not set aside. When, after a sale in execution of a decree has been confirmed, it is found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 91 and 93—contd.

has been set aside. Nannu Lal v. Bhagwan Das, I. L. R. 39 All. 114, followed. The following cases were also referred to in the judgments. Hira Lal v. Karim-un-nissa, I. L. R. 2 All. 780, Ram Narain Singh v. Mahtab Bibi, I. L. R. 2 All. 828, Dorab Ally Khan v. Abdool Azeez, L. R. 5 I. A., 116, Munna Singh v. Gajadhar Singh, I. L. R. 5 All. 577, Kishun Lal v. Muhammad Safdar Ali Khan, I. L. R. 13 All. 383, Shanto Chandar Mukerji v. Nain Sukh, I. L. R. 23 All. 355, Sidheswari Prasad Narayan Singh v. Goshain Mayanand, I. L. R. 35 All. 419, Mohideen Imbrahim v. Mahomed Muza Levai, 23 M. L. J. 487, Kumar Shaha Peddar v. Ram Gour Shaha Chaudhari, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 67, Muhammad Najib-ullah v. Jai Narain, I. L. R. 36 All. 529, Dost Mahomed Khan v. Prossunnonath Roy, S. D. A., (L. P.) 549, Rughoonath Suhay v. Brijbeharee Lal, S. D. A., (L. P.) 486, Greesh Chunder Pottar v. Lookhooda Moyee Dabee, 1 W. R., C. R., 55, Brajendra Roy Chowdhry v. Jugurnath Roy, 1 W. R., C. R., 147, and Sheikh Mahomed Basir-ulla v. Sheikh Abdulla, 4 B. L. R. (App.), 35, referred to. RAM SARUP v. DALPAT RAI

I. L. R. 43 All. 60

———— O. XXI, r. 92, (1882 Code, s. 312)

See s. 60 . I. L. R. 40 All. 680

See s. 144 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 206

See O. XXI, R. 89.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1094
I. L. R. 40 All. 425
17 C. W. N. 476

See O. XLI, R. 23 AND 25.

4 Pat. L. J. 645

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR P. 106, R. 17 I. L. R. 45 Bom., 1132

See MADRAS ESTATES ACT, 1908, ss. 111, 118 . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 351

———— O. XXI, rr. 92, 93——Execution of decree—Auction purchaser deprived of property purchased—Suit for refund of purchase money—Sale not set aside—Procedure. Held, that under the present Code of Civil Procedure an auction purchaser who has been deprived by means of a suit against the judgment-debtor of the property purchased by him cannot obtain a refund of the purchase money without getting the auction sale set aside. Munna Singh v. Gajadhar Singh, I. L. R. 5 All. 577, distinguished. Muhammad Najib-ullah v. Jai Narain, I. L. R. 36 All. 529, Shanto Chandar Mukerji, v. Nain Sukh, I. L. R. 23 All. 355, and Dorab Ally Khan v. Abdool Azeez, L. R. 5 I. A. 116, referred to. NANNU LAL v. BHAGWAN DAS (1916) . I. L. R. 39 All. 114

———— O. XXI, rr. 92 and 94—Sale certificate application for, duty of court to grant. The provisions of r. 94 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure are mandatory. Where the mortgage of a tenant's interest in a house purchased such interest in execution of a decree under the mortgage, held, that the court was bound to grant the purchaser a sale certificate, and was not justified in requiring him to produce a money-order receipt for the purpose of showing that he (the purchaser) had paid a mutation fee to the landlord in order to have his name entered in the landlord's books as transferee of the tenant's interest. BAIKUNTI MISSIR v. NARINDA SUNDARI DEBI

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 91 and 94—contd.

1 Pat. L. J. 446

———— O. XXI, r. 93, (1882 Code, s. 315)—

See O. XXI, R. 91 . 25 C. W. N. 366

See EXECUTION SALE.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 803

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 22

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 837

1. ———— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 313, 315—Auction sale under the Code, 1882—Sale of property in which judgment-debtor had no saleable interest—Right of purchaser to refund of purchase-money—Suit—Application—Suit for possession—Cause of action—Right of suit, accrued before new Code—Effect of new Code on such right—General Clauses Act (X of 1897), s. 6 (c) and (e)—Repealing statute, construction of. Where the plaintiff, who purchased some lands in court auction in 1907, brought a suit to recover possession thereof in 1908, and failed in the suit in 1909 and in the Second Appeal therefrom in 1911 on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property, subsequently instituted a suit in 1914 for the recovery of the purchase money from the decree-holder, and the latter contended that the suit was not maintainable. Held, that the suit was maintainable, notwithstanding the provisions of O. XXI, r. 93 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). The plaintiff had a right of suit under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882); and such right having accrued to him while such Code was in force it could not be affected by the provisions of the new Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) by virtue of the provisions of s. 6 (c) and (e) of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897). As the right of the plaintiff to make an application under O. XXI, rr. 91 and 93, would have been barred before the new Code came into force the new Code should not be so construed as to apply to the present case. Mohideen Ibrahim v. Mahomed Mura Levai, 23 Mad. L. J. 487, Parvathi Ammal v. Govindsami Pillai, I. L. R. 39 Mad. 803, followed. Rustomji Ardeshir Irani v. Vinayak Gangadhar Bhat, I. L. R. 35 Bom. 29, dissented from. Colonial Sugar Refining Company v. Irving, [1905], A. C. 369, applied. Abbott v. Minister for Lands, [1895], A. C. 425, distinguished. Gopeshwar Pal v. Jiban Chandra Chandra, I. L. R. 41 Calc 1125, followed. TIRUMALAISAMI NAIDU v. SUBARMANIAN CHETTIAR (1916) . . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1009

2. ———— Suit by purchaser of occupancy holding evicted in execution of landlord's decree to recover purchase-money if maintainable. The plaintiff purchased an occupancy holding in execution of a decree obtained by the mortgagee of the property and took possession of it; he was sued in ejectment by the landlords in whose favour a decree was subsequently made. The plaintiff sued to recover the purchase-money with interest. Held, that under the present Code of Civil Procedure the suit was incompetent. JURANU MAHAMAD v. JATHI MAHAMD (1917)

22 C. W. N. 760

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd

——— O. XXI, r. 94 (1882 Code, 316)—

See EXECUTION SALE.

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 309

——— The person who is declared to be the purchaser after the bids are concluded is the person in whose name the certificate is to be granted under O. XXI, r. 94, Civil Procedure Code. BABURAM MANDAL v. DOKHINA SUNDARI NAMASUDRANI . 24 C. W. N. 27

——— O. XXI, r. 95, (1882 Code, s. 318)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I. L. R. 43 All. 520

1. ——— Execution sale—Purchase by decree-holder—Delivery of possession—Order, whether appealable—S. 47, Civil Procedure Code, whether applicable. Where on a decree-holder auction-purchaser applying for delivery of possession of the properties purchased and obtaining possession by order of Court notwithstanding the objection by the judgment-debtor that the properties did not pass by the sale, the judgment-debtor preferred an appeal. Held, on a review of the authorities of all the Indian High Courts (which are conflicting), that the Patna High Court should not without very good reason depart from a long course of decisions in the Calcutta High Court where the balance of opinion has been since 1883 strongly in favour of the view that an appeal does not lie. ABDUL GANI v. RAJA RAM (1916)

20 C. W. N. 829

2. ——— Execution of decree—Transferee from auction-purchaser—Order for delivery of possession—Appeal—Revision. A purchased certain immovable property at an auction sale held in execution of a decree and thereafter transferred the property so purchased to B, the decree-holder B applied under O. XXI, r. 95, of the Code of Civil Procedure for an order for delivery of possession of the property purchased from A, and an order was passed. Held, that no appeal lay from the order for delivery of possession. Bhagwati v. Bunwari Lal, I. L. R. 31 All. 82, referred to. BUDDHU MISIR v. BHAGIRATHI KUNWAR (1917)

I. L. R. 40 All. 216.

3. ——— Whether appeal lies from order under r. 95. No appeal lies from an order under r. 95 of O. XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. HAJI ABDUL GANI v. RAJA RAM . . . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 232

——— O. XXI, r. 95, and s. 47—Rent decree against tenants obtained by co-sharer landlords—Partition proceedings in which tenant's holding falls into share of some of the landlords—Suit by latter against tenant for possession, whether maintainable—Limitation—Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng. of 1908), ss. 139 and 231—Whether s. 139 is retrospective—Suit for recovery of possession from tenants whose holding has been sold, whether is a suit for ejectment. Certain co-sharer landlords in a mouza [illegible] that a suit by the latter against the tenants to recover possession was not barred by s. 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. S. 139 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, is not retrospective and, therefore, where a rent decree was obtained against certain tenants in Manbhum prior to the 22nd November, 1909, on which date the Act was extended to that district, a suit by the decree-holders against the judgment-debtors, for recovery of possession, was held not to be barred by ss. 139 and 231 merely by reason of it not having been brought in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner within one year from the date when the cause of action accrued. S. 139 (4) does not include a suit to recover possession from tenants whose holding has been sold in execution of a decree inasmuch as such a suit is not a suit to eject a tenant or cancel a lease, and the tenants cease to be tenants at the time their holding is sold and their rights in the holding pass to the purchaser Per Jwala Prasad, J. In the case of a decree awarding rent or money no title to any property is created by the decree, but if the decree-holder purchases property in execution of a rent decree he is entitled either to apply for delivery of possession under O. XXI, r. 95 or to institute a suit for recovery of possession. Wher [illegible] recov [illegible] the d [illegible] proce [illegible] sion is by execution of the decree and not by suit. SARDAR SIRDHAR v. JAGESHWAR SINGH MAHAPATRA . . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 716

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —concld.

——— O. XXI, r. 95, and s. 47—concld.

——— O. XXI, rr. 95, 96—

See O. XXI, R. 35 I. L. R. 36 All. 181

——— Court-sale—Symbolical possession—Judgment-debtor in actual possession—Adverse possession—Limitation. In execution of a decree in a suit of 1890, the plaintiff purchased the plaint property at a Court-sale and a receipt for possession was given by the plaintiff to the bailiff on the 3rd July 1901. The defendants, judgment-debtors, who had been previously in possession of the property were, however, not disturbed in their possession at the date of the receipt. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession on the 3rd July 1913: Held, that the plaintiff was not entitled to succeed as the provisions of O XXI, r 95, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, under which the case fell were not complied with; a formal receipt for possession would not help the plaintiff to dispossess the defendants Radha Krishna v. Ram Bahadur, 20 Bom L. R. 502, distinguished. SHRIDHAR MADHAVRAO v. GANPATI PUNJA (1918)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 559

——— O. XXI, r. 96 (1882 Code, s. 319)—

See O. XXI, R. 35 I. L. R. 36 All. 181

——— O. XXI, r. 97 (1882 Code, s. 328)—

See BAILIFF . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 313

——— O. XXI, rr. 97 and 99—

See POSSESSION . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 907

——— O. XXI, rr. 97 to 103, (1882 Code, 335)—Effect of order under r. 99 in favour of a party in possession—suit by party against whom the order is made—limitation—Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908, articles 11 A and 151. The property in suit belonged to one B. L. who died in 1856 leaving a widow Mussammat M. who on 5th March 1866 sold it to R. M., a stranger. On 29th September 1904 Mussammat M. [illegible] arch

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 97 to 103, (1882 Code, 335)—concld.

1905 M. M., plaintiff, as daughter's son of B. L., sued for possession of the property making K. N. the adopted son of R. M., the sole defendant. Mussammat Ambo was the widow of R. M. The claim was decreed by the Chief Court on 7th July 1906 subject to payment of Rs. 1,400 for improvements to Mussammat Ambo. M. M. tried in execution of this decree to get possession of the property decreed to him, but was obstructed by Mussammat Ambo who alleged that she was in possession in her own right under a will by her husband, R. M. The decree-holder complained of the obstruction and Mussammat Ambo also applied to the Executing Court which found under O. XXI. r. 99, Civil Procedure Code, that Mussammat Ambo was in possession of the property on her own account and was claiming in good faith. That order was passed on the 18th June 1909. The Court definitely refrained from going into the question of title. On 20th October 1909 M. M. applied to the Chief Court for revision, but that application was rejected on 22nd April 1911 on the ground that he had another remedy available to him by suit under O. XXI, r. 103. On the 2nd March 1914 M. M. filed the present suit. Held, that the effect of the order of 18th June 1909, under O. XXI, r. 99, Civil Procedure Code, was to hold Mussammat Ambo entitled to possession as against the decree-holder unless and until a regular suit was brought against her, vide r. 103, and the plaintiff had to establish by that suit his own right to present possession as well as his own title and he could not succeed merely by showing that the finding under r. 99 was erroneous. Sardari Lal v. Ambika Pershad (I. L. R. 15 Calc. 521), (P. C.), and Khub Lal v. Ram Lochun (I. L. R. 17 Calc. 260, 262), referred to. Sarat Chandra v. Tarini Prasad (I. L. R. 34 Calc. 491), Raghunath Jha v. Brijnanda Singh (31 Indian Cases 444), and Bhagwanti v. Goman (42 P. R. 1909), distinguished. Held also, that the present suit for possession of the property against Mussammat Ambo having been brought more than a year after the date of the order under r. 99 was barred by time under article 11-A of the Limitation Act and was not governed by art. 141. Mahadev Ram v. Bibi Chimnaji (I. L. R. 26 Bom. 730), Bhimappa v. Irappa (I. L. R. 26 Bom. 146), Shagun Chand v. Shibbi (8 All. L. J., 626) and Chandi Prasad v. Nand Kishore (20 Indian Cases 369), referred to. CHAIL BEHARI LAL v. KIDAR NATH I. L. R. 1 Lah. 57

———— A fresh writ for possession can in certain cases be obtained even outside the period of the Limitation Act without making an application under order O. XXI, r. 97 within the period. RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD MISSRA v. RAM CHARAN MANDA . . 4 Pat. L. J. 95

———— O. XXI, rr. 98, 99, 101—Scope of suit under r. 103. The scope of a suit under r. 103 of O. XXI, Civil Procedure Code, filed to contest an order made under either r. 98, or r. 99, or r. 101 is not the determination of the mere question of possession of the parties concerned but the establishment of the right or title by which the plaintiff claims the present possession of the property. Nabadwipendra Mookerjee v. Madhu Sudan Mandal, (1912), 16 I. C., 741, (Calc.), followed. UNNI MOIDIN v. POOKER (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 227

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXI, rr. 98 to 103—Art. 11A of the Limitation Act will only apply to an order under rr. 98 to 103 which has been made upon investigation. SREEMATI NIRODE BARANI DASI v. MANINDRA NARAYAN CHANDRA 21 C. W. N. 853

———— O. XXI, r. 99, (1882 Code, s. 331 335)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, rr. 58, 63, 99—Claim, dismissed for non-prosecution—Obstruction by claimant to taking of possession by purchaser—Court if bound to investigate into bonâ fides of claim. Where a claim preferred under O XXI, r. 58, to immoveable property attached in execution of a money decree was dismissed for non-prosecution, and the property was sold, but the purchaser on proceeding to take possession was obstructed by the claimant: Held, that the only remedy of the claimant after his claim was dismissed under O. XXI, r. 63, though for default, was by a fresh suit and he could not ask the Court to hold an investigation of the claim under O. XXI, r. 99. JUGAL KISHORE MARWARI v. AMBIKA DEVI (1912) 16 C. W. N. 882

———— O. XXI, rr. 100 and 101 (1882 s. 332)—Judgment-debtor—Meaning of. The words "judgment-debtor" in O. XXI, r. 100 and 101, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, include the representative of the judgment-debtor and all persons, who are bound by a decree against the judgment-debtor and by a sale in execution of such decree. A person who has purchased a portion of a holding prior to the institution of a suit for rent under s. 148A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, is, so far as his interest is concerned, bound by a decree obtained under that section and by a sale in execution of such decree. Such a purchaser is not entitled to make an application under O. XXI, rr. 100 and 101. BHIKHIA JHA v. BRIJ BIHARI SINGH . . . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 478

———— O. XXI, rr. 100 and 101—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), art. 11. Where an application under O. XXI, r. 100, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, has been dismissed for default a suit under r. 103 is governed by art. 11 of the Limitation Act, 1908. SAIYID RAZIUDDIN HUSSAIN v. BINDESRI PRASAD SINGH . . 5 Pat. L. J. 652

———— O. XXI, rr. 100, 101 and 103, (1882 Code, 332)—Application made under r. 100—Order dismissing the application under r. 101—Whether such an order is an order "made under r. 101" within the meaning of those words in R. 103—Conclusive nature of the order. An order made against an applicant refusing him relief under r. 101 of O. XXI of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, is as much an order under that Rule, as an order granting him relief would be and the order would be conclusive under r. 103 subject to the result of a separate suit. ZIPRU v. HARI SUPDUSHET (1917) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 10

———— O. XXI, r. 101, (1882 Code, 332)—

See O. XXI, R. 98. I. L. R. 44 Mad. 227

See O. XXI. R. 100 . 2 Pat. L. J. 478

———— Joint possession with judgment-debtor if possession in one's own interest—Scope of section. A claimant who has an interest in the land of which possession has been delivered in execution of a decree either as a member of the family of the judgment-debtor or otherwise and who is affected by the delivery of possession, is a person who is in possession in [illegible] meaning of r. 101, [illegible] Code. RADHA GOBINDA MISRA v. RAGHU NATH MISRA (1913) . . 18 C. W. N. 695

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXI, r. 101 (1882 Code, s. 332) —concld.

——— O. XXI, r. 103 (1882 Code s. 332)—

See O. VI, R. 17 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 515

See O. XXI, R. 97 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 57

See O. XXI, R. 100.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 10

——— O. XXI, r. 103, and O. XXXIV, r. 1 Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 52 [illegible] in execution of mortgage decree—Right of the later purchaser to oust the former from possession—Order as to possession—Appeal—Suit. Where lands [illegible] made a party thereto, the purchaser [illegible] decree is not entitled to [illegible]

[illegible] Procedure Code, fall also under s. 47 of the Code, O. XXI, r. 103, does not prevent an appeal against an order therein, as it falls under s. 47 of the Code. VEYINDRAMUTHU PILLAI v. MAYA NADAN (1920)

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 696

——— O. XXII, (1882 Code 361 to 372)—

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 862

——— O. XXII, r. 1, (1882 Code, s. 361)— [illegible] s. 89— [illegible] the [illegible] ion [illegible] lies [illegible] and before judgment is given in the suit, the right to sue does not survive within the meaning of O. XXII, r. 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The expression "personal injuries not causing the death of the party" in s. 89 of the Probate and Administration Act does not mean injuries [illegible] wronged against the wrong doer [illegible] the death of either party. Haridas Ramdas v. Ramdas Mathuradas, (1889), I. L. R. 13 Bom. 667, and Ramchode Doss v. Rukmany Bhoy, (1905), I. L. R. 28 Mad. 487, followed RUSTOMJI DORABJI v. NURSE (1921) . I. L. R. 44 Mad. (F.B.), 357

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXII, rr. 2 and 4—

See SUBSTITUTION OF HEIRS.

25 C. W. N. 595

——— O. XXII, r. 3, (1882 Code, 363)—

See O. XVII, R 2.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 767

——— Death of appellant—application by some of the legal representatives under [illegible] itself sufficient to invalidate the award [illegible] plaintiffs appealed to the High Court At the hearing it was objected that appeal had abated, as the appellant had died and only his sons and [illegible] were governed by custom and they therefore bona fide believed that the sons were the sole heirs and legal representatives of their father. Held, that as the applicants (present appellants) bona fide believed that they were the sole heirs and legal representatives of the deceased appellant and had made their application for substitution on that belief the appeal did not abate, notwithstanding that by Muhammadan Law other persons would also be co-heirs of the deceased Musala Reddi v. Ramayya (I. L. R 23 Mad. 125), followed. Ghumandi Lal v. Amir Begum (I. L. R. 16 All. 211) and Haidar Hussain v. Abdul Ahad (I. L. R. 30 All. 115), referred to. Held also, that an award cannot be [illegible] this country simply on the [illegible] minds upon the matter [illegible] Law of Arbitration in India, second edition, pages 230 and 231. Bhabasundari Dasi v. Makhunlal Dey (8 Beng. L. R. 128), Muthukutti Nayakan v. Acha Nayakan (I. L. R. 18 Mad. 22) and In re Hopper (2 Q. B. 361), approved. Thammiraju v. Bapiraju (I. L. R. 12 Mad. 113) and Nand Ram v. Fakir Chand (I. L. R. 7 All. 523), distinguished. Bhagwan Das v. Shiv Dial (92 P. R. 1913), not followed. ABDUL RAHMAN v. SHAHAB-UD-DIN

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 481

——— O. XXII, rr. 3 and 5—Death of plaintiff—Order made to bring the legal representatives on record—Subsequent application by other persons to alter the order—Power of the Court to correct the order. A suit was filed by five persons one of whom R died while the suit was pending. Thereupon an application was made [illegible] of the minor G, son of the 1st plaintiff [illegible] should be brought on the record as legal representative of the deceased R [illegible] alleged adoption of G to R. [illegible]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXII, rr. 3 and 5—concld.

Judge granted the application and amended the record by substituting G's name for that of R. Subsequently the petitioners (minor daughters of R) having learnt of the application applied that G's name should be deleted and that their names should be brought upon the record in his place and G's adoption to R was fictitious. The Subordinate Judge held that he could not alter his previous order in view of r. 3 of O. XXII, Civil Procedure Code, 1908. Held, that under r. 5 of O. XXII, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, the Subordinate Judge had the power to correct the order previously made and to determine who were the real legal representatives of the deceased plaintiff. VATSALABAI v. SAMBHAJI PANDURANG (1918)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 168

———— O. XXII, rr. 3, 5, 9—Order dismissing application to be brought on the record as representative of the deceased plaintiff—whether appealable—O. XXII, r. 3—order of abatement of suit—whether a decree, and whether a person, not a party to the suit, can appeal—O. XXII, r. 9—whether applicable when abatement is not due to application not having been made within time. Ram Kanwar brought a suit against Narsing Das. While the suit was pending Ram Kanwar died, and the present appellant Ram Sarup made an application to be brought on the record as being the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff. The Court, finding that the applicant was not the legal representative, dismissed his application. The Court also passed separate order under O. XXII, r. 3, recording that the suit had abated inasmuch as no application by any legal representative had been made within six months of plaintiff's death. Ram Sarup next applied to have this Order of abatement set aside but his application was dismissed under O. XXII, r. 9. Ram Sarup then appealed to the High Court against all three orders. Held, that the present Civil Procedure Code provides no appeal from an order dismissing the application of a person to be brought on the record as the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff (vide O. XXII, r. 5) and that such an order is not a decree. Pakkai v. Pathumma (1913, Mad. W. N. 673), Balabai v. Ganesh (I. L. R. 27 Bom. 162) and Parsotam Rao v. Janki Bai (I. L. R. 28 All. 109), followed. Held also, that an order of abatement of the suit amounts to a decree, but that appellant in this case, not being a party to the suit, has no status to appeal therefrom. Balabai v. Ganesh (I. L. R. 27 Bom. 162) and Niranjan Nath v. Afzal Hussain (128 P. R. 1916) (F. B.), referred to. Held further, that an order under O. XXII, r. 9, can only be passed in cases in which an abatement takes place by reason of an application not having been made within the time permitted by law to implead the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff, and has no applicability to cases in which the suit has abated on account of some other cause, as in the present case. Although, therefore, an appeal is allowed from an order under r. 9 (vide O. XLIII (i) (k)) this rule has no application to the circumstances of the present case and the appeal must be dismissed on this ground alone. Niranjan Nath v. Afzal Hussain (128 P. R. 1916) (F. B.), followed. RAM SARUP v. MOTI RAM I. L. R. 1 Lah. 493

———— O. XXII, rr. 3 and 9—

See O. IX, RR. 8 AND 9.

. L. R. 35 All. 331

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXII, r. 4 (1882 Code, s. 368)—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 44 AND 144 . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 842

See MUHAMMADAN LAW-WILL.

I. L. R. 42 All. 497

See ABATEMENT . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 225

1. ———— Partnership—Suit for dissolution—Death of defendant after preliminary decree—Application for substitution—Limitation. In a suit for dissolution of partnership, after the preliminary decree was passed, one of the defendants died. Some two years after his death the plaintiff applied for substitution of the name of the heir of the deceased defendant, and asked the Court to proceed with the suit. Held, that in the circumstances O. XXII, r. 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure applied and the application was too late. Jamnadas Chhabildas v. Sorabji Kharsedji, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 27, followed. MOTI LAL v. RAM NARAYAN (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 551

2. ———— Abatement of suit—Death of plaintiff respondent after decree in her favour and pending an appeal—Application in appeal to declare the suit to have abated. An appellate Court has no power under O. XXII, r. 4, of the Code of Civil Procedure to declare that a suit, as distinct from an appeal, has abated in a case in which there has been a decree already made before the death in consequence of which the suit is alleged to have abated took place. SUNDAR PANDE v. MUSAMMAT KUMARI (1918)

I. L. R. 41 All. 283

3. ———— B, obtained a preliminary decree against T, in a mortgage suit and applied subsequently more than 6 months after the death of T for an order absolute and substitution of the heirs of T and preferred an appeal on refusal. This was dismissed and a second appeal was preferred. Held, that the appeal to the Lower Appellate Court was not an appeal from an order. The original order was an order rejecting the application to make the mortgage decree absolute and had the effect of finally dismissing the mortgage suit and was a decree and therefore a second appeal lay. Held further, that the suit had abated as the application had not been made within 6 months of the death. An application following on a preliminary decree for sale is not an application for execution. Until the final decree is passed the proceedings following the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit must be looked on as a proceeding in a pending suit. BHUTNATH JANA v. TARA CHAND JANA

25 C. W. N. 597

4. ———— In a suit for dissolution of partnership after the preliminary decree was passed one of the defendants died. Some 2 years later plaintiff applied for substitution of the name of the heir of the deceased defendant. Held that O. XXII, r. 4 applied and the application was too late . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 551

———— O. XXII, rr. 4, 6 and 9—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

4 Pat. L. J. 240

———— O. XXII, r. 4 and O. XLI, rr. 20 and 33—Suit by several Plaintiffs jointly for recovery of possession—Joint decree in their favour—Death of one, pending Defendant's appeal—Failure to bring his representatives on the record—Defect of parties

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXII, r. 4 and O. XLI, rr. 20 and 33—concld.

[illegible]

Plaintiffs pending the appeal leaving three sons and two grandsons by a predeceased son as his [illegible] died within six months. At the hearing of the [illegible] the deceased's grandsons [illegible] under O. XXII, r. 4, Civil Procedure Code, the appeal abated as against the heirs of the deceased Plaintiff only, the result of such abatement was that the appeal was imperfectly constituted, and, in the absence of necessary parties, the Court could not proceed to decide the appeal on the merits Bejoy Gopal v. Umesh Chandra, 6 C. W. N. 196 [illegible] power should be exercised. Upendra v. [illegible], I. L. R. 25 Calc. 565 (1898), Hudson v. Basdeo, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 109 : s. c. 3 C. W. N. 76 (1898) and Rupjaun v. Abdul, I. L. R. 31 Calc. 643 : s. c. 8 C. W. N 496, (F. B.) (1904), referred to. Quære. Whether the decisions in Sibo Sundari v. Raj [illegible] of the common manager. KALI DAYAL BHATTACHARJEE v. NAGENDRO NATH PAKRASHI

24 C. W. N. 44

———— O. XXII, rr. 4 and 9—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s 5.

I. L. R. 36 All. 235

———— O. XXII, r. 5 (1882 Code, s. 367)—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 535

See s. 115 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 76

———— O. XXII, rr. 5 and 6—

See O. XXII, R. 3.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 493

———— O. XXII, r. 6 (1882 Code, s. 461)—

See DEFENDANT, DEATH OF.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 682

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXII, r. 6 (1882 Code, s. 461)—concld.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

4 Pat. L. J. 240

———— O. XXII, r. 7 (1882 Code, ss. 369 [illegible]

[illegible]

but is voidable at the instance of the minor. Virupakshappa v. Shidappa (I. L. R. 26 Bom. 109), Ganesha v. Mul Chand (95 P. R. 1912, F. B.), and Muhammad Ibrahim v. Allah Bakhsh (145 P. R. 1919) [illegible] Muhammad Ishaq v. Bhabuti [illegible] tinguished. [illegible] set aside [illegible] the Limita[illegible]

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 10[illegible]

———— O. XXII, r. 8—Appeal—Insolvency of one appellant and death of the other—Abatement of appeal—Substitution of names—Limitation. Of two appellants in a civil appeal, one died and the other became an insolvent. Neither the representatives of the deceased appellant nor the official assignee applied within the time limited by the Court for substitution in place of the [illegible]

Assignee to appear and apply for the restoration of his name on the record after the adjudication is annulled, until an order is obtained under O. XXI, r. 8, of the Code of Civil Procedure, the proceedings cannot abate and must be deemed to continue. KHUNNI LAL v. RAMESHAR

I. L. R. 43 All. 621

———— O. XXII, r. 9 (1882 Code, ss. 371 and 372)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

4 Pat. L. J. 240

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s 5.

I. L. R. 36 All. 235

———— Abatement of appeal—Application for substitution presented after time—Act No IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act), s. 5. Whether or not a formal order to that effect is passed, a suit or appeal abates automatically when no application is made within time to bring upon the record the representative of a deceased plaintiff or appellant. If no formal order has been made, an application for substitution must be considered as an application under O. XXII, r. 9 (2), of the Code of Civil Procedure. Under the rule above-mentioned a court is competent to decide whether in the circumstances of the case [illegible]

v. MUHAMMAD YUSUF . I. L. R. 42 All. 540

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXII, r. 10 (1882 Code, s. 372)—

See O. I r. 10 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 199

See O. XXI, r. 16 . 6 Pat. L. J. 358

See Parties . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 328

1. ———— Assignee's application to be substituted for plaintiff, and to add plaintiff's son as defendant—Ex parte order upon unsworn petition—Ex parte order if may be recalled —Notice to parties interested, necessity of. A judicial order which may possibly affect or prejudice any party cannot be finally made unless he has been afforded an opportunity to be heard. When a person alleging to be the assignee of the interests of the plaintiff applied to be substituted in his place, and prayed that the plaintiff and his son who was no party to the suit be made defendants, and the Court made the order as prayed ex parte and without notice to the plaintiff. Held, that all orders of this character made ex parte are subject to the implication that they may be revoked at the instance of any party prejudicially effected thereby, and the Court has inherent power to give such directions as the justice of the case may require. That it was incumbent on the Court to reconsider the order in so far as it directed the substitution of the applicant in the place of the plaintiff, when the latter preferred objections to the order. That the addition of the plaintiff's son who was no party to the suit (though he himself had consented to be so added) could not be made without hearing the defendant as the applicant appeared, by that means, to be really seeking a relief not included in the plaint as originally framed. Semble. Applications of this character should be supported by an affidavit. Ajant Singh v. F. T. Christian (1912)

17 C. W. N. 86

2. ———— Lease, forfeiture of —Insolvency of a defendant—Vesting of his estate and effects in the Official Assignee—Refusal of Official Assignee to defend the suit—Inability of defendant to defend independently of the Official Assignee—Practice. In a suit by the lessor against the lessee for forfeiture of a lease by reason of breaches of covenant, no cause of action survives against a defendant who has become insolvent and whose estate has vested in the Official Assignee. If in such a case the Official Assignee refuses to defend a suit affecting the estate of the insolvent, the latter cannot defend independently of the Official Assignee. Tribhovandas Narotamdas v. Abdulally Hakimji (1914)

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 568

3. ———— Preliminary decree—Sale of mortgaged property—Right of purchaser to be made a party to the suit. A preliminary decree for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage was passed in 1908, but there was an appeal, and the decree of the High Court, which confirmed the decree of the Court below, was passed in 1910, and the time for payment of the mortgage money was extended. After the time fixed for payment had expired, but before the final decree was passed, the plaintiff decree-holder sold the mortgaged property, leaving with the purchasers a sum sufficient for redemption. Held, that the suit was still pending at the time of the sale and the purchasers entitled to have their names entered in the record as plaintiffs. Bhugwan Das Khettry v. Nilkanta Ganguli, 9 C. W. N. 171, referred to. Muhammed Masih-ullah v. Jarao Bai (1915).

I. L. R. 37 All. 226

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXII, r. 10 (1882 Code, s. 372)
—contd.

4. ———— Whether r. 10 includes leases granted pendente lite—addition of lessees pendente lite to the proceedings. The language of r. 10 of O. XXII of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is sufficiently wide to cover the case of leases granted by defendants during the pendency of a case. Where the defendants, during the pendency of the litigation, had leased several mica mines included in the property in suit, for a period of 20 years, to one person and for a shorter period to another person, held, that "interests" were created in the property in suit within the meaning of r. 10 of O. XXII, in favour of the lessees, and that the plaintiffs were entitled to have the lessees added as parties to procedings taken to ascertain the mesne-profits due to the plaintiffs under the decree in the suit and to compel the lessees to account for any profits which they had received from the land. Ram Kumar Lal Bhagat v. Raja Makund Sahi . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 596

———— O. XXII, rr. 10 and 13—

See s. 47. . . 4 Pat. L. J. 166

———— O. XXII, r. 11 (1882 Code, s. 582)—

See Limitation Act, 1908, Art. 182.
5 Pat. L. J. 731

———— O. XXII, r. 12—

See O. XXII, r. 4. 25 C. W. N. 595

———— O. XXIII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 373)—

See s. 115 . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 454
1. R. J.

See Contract Act, IX of 1872, ss. 134, 137 . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 52

See Jurisdiction (meaning of).
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 138

See Letters Patent, 1865, cl. 15.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 377

See Limitation I. L. R. 46 Calc. 168

See Probate . . 2 Pat. L. J. 535

See Withdrawal of Suit.
3 Pat. L. J. 651

———— Withdrawal without permission—Suit for ejectment—Insufficiency of notice to quit—Withdrawal of the suit without permission of the Court—Fresh suit after proper notice—Whether the previous suit a suit for the same subject matter—Res Judicata—Subject matter, meaning of. A suit was brought by the plaintiff to eject the defendant. Finding however that there was no sufficient notice to quit, he withdrew the suit without obtaining the leave of the Court. Subsequently the plaintiff having given a formal notice to quit brought a fresh suit for ejectment. The defendant contended that the withdrawal of the former suit without permission operated as a bar to the second suit under O. XXIII, r. 1 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. Held, that the withdrawal did not operate as a bar as the previous suit was not a suit for the same subject matter as the second suit within the meaning of O. XXIII, r. 1 of the Civil

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXIII, r. 1 1882 Code, s. 373) —contd.

Procedure Code, 1908. 'Subject-matter' means 'the series of acts or transactions alleged to exist giving rise the relief claimed.' RAKHMABAI v. MAHADEO NARAYAN (1917) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 155 ——— Withdrawal of suit when to be allowed. Courts in India have no general power of dismissing a suit with liberty to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit on the same matter. The only power they have in this respect is that given by O. XXIII, r 1, sub-r. (2), Civil Procedure Code It is not the object of that Rule to enable the plaintiff, after he has failed to conduct his suit with proper care and diligence and after his [illegible] failed to support his case, to obtain [illegible] fresh in [illegible] miscondu[illegible] opposite [illegible] CHANDRA [illegible]

——— Trial of a suit—Close of the trial after recording all evidence produced [illegible] closed and [illegible] the Court gave time to the plaintiff to adduce documents to counteract the effect of the documents already produced by the defendant. On the plaintiff's inability to adduce the documents on the appointed day, he applied for leave to withdraw from the suit with permission to file a fresh one on the same cause of action and the Court having passed an order granting the leave: Held, setting aside the order, that the Court acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. The hearing was finished and it was improper to allow plaintiff to try and produce docume[illegible] ments. ments [illegible] fendan[illegible] suit. [illegible] I. L. R. 37 Bom. [illegible]

——— Appellate Court, powers of—Withdrawal of suit. Held, that an Appellate Court can, under O. XXIII, r. 1, of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908), give a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed by the Court of first instance, permission to withdraw his suit and give him leave to institute a fresh one. Ganga Ram v. Data Ram, I. L. R. 8 All. 82, followed. Choragudi Chinna Kotayya v. Raja Varada Raja Appa Row, 27 Mad. L. J. 244, and Eknath v. Ranoji, I. L. R. 35 Bom. 261, dissented from. AFZAL BEGAM v. AKBARI KHANUM (1915). I. L. R. 37 All. 326

——— Withdrawal of a suit in Appellate Court—Power of the Court to [illegible] permission to withdraw with liberty to file a fresh suit—Jurisdiction. An Appellate Court can, [illegible] an appeal has been admitted, and [illegible] parties are represented before it, allow [illegible] to withdraw his case on proper [illegible] him to start afresh. Eknath v. [illegible] Bom. 261, distinguished. [illegible] v. DAHYABHAI GOVIND [illegible]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXIII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 373) —concld.

——— Order for with- [illegible] a fresh suit, if [illegible] circum- [illegible] rder for [illegible] a fresh suit made under O. XXIII, [illegible] ocedure Code, but in circumstances not within the scope of the Rule, cannot be treated as an order made without jurisdiction; such an order is consequently not null and void. A fresh suit instituted upon leave so granted is not incompetent. The Court trying the subsequent suit is not competent to enter into the question whether the Court which granted the Plaintiff permission to withdraw the first suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit had properly made such order HRIDAY NATH ROY v. RAM CHANDRA BARNA SHARMA . 24 C. W. N. 723

——— Inability to produce important evidence is not sufficient ground for granting permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh one on the same subject matter. UCHANT AHIR v. BASAWAN AHIR

6 Pat. L. J. 113

——— Application to withdraw from suit with liberty to sue again—Court, if may grant application but without liberty. Where the trial Court, being of opinion that no sufficient ground had been made out for allowing the plaintiff to withdraw from the suit with liberty to institute a fresh suit in the same cause of action, passed order allowing him to withdraw without such leave: Held, that the suit was not disposed of by the order. Where a plaintiff does not desire to withdraw from the suit unless with liberty to bring a fresh suit, and the Court considers that such liberty ought not to be granted, the proper course is simply to dismiss the application. Mohant Biharidasji Guru Govindasji v. Parshotamdas Ramdas, I. L. R. 32 Bom. 345, followed. SURADHANI DEBYA v. CHANDRA NATH PRAMANIK (1915)

20 C. W. N. 1011

——— Suit dismissed by trial Court, on evidence allowed to be withdrawn with liberty to sue again by appeal Court, though no formal defect by reason of which suit might fail was made out—Fresh suit if barred—Res judicata. Where a contested suit, in which evidence was called on both sides, having been dismissed by the [illegible] Court, the plaintiff was allowed by the [illegible] Court to withdraw from the suit with [illegible] bring a fresh suit, though no formal [illegible] reason of which the suit would [illegible] and really because the plaintiff [illegible] duce the necessary evidence [illegible] the order of the [illegible] jurisdiction and a [illegible] the same [illegible] was [illegible]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXIII, r. 1 (2) (a) and (b), O. VII, r. 10 and s. 115—Withdrawal of suit—Suit grossly under valued in the plaint—Real valuation beyond the jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court—Application by plaintiff for leave to withdraw portion of the suit with liberty to bring fresh suit—Leave, whether properly can be granted—Judicial discretion — Jurisdiction—Ejusdem—generis—Material irregularity in exercise of jurisdiction—' Other sufficient grounds' in O. XXIII, r. 1 (2) (b), construction of. The plaintiffs instituted a suit in a District Munsif's Court for recovery of possession of several items of immoveable property including a house, valuing the house at Rs. 200 and other items at Rs. 1,917 and odd for purposes of jurisdiction. The defendant objected that the house was grossly under-valued and that the suit was, on proper valuation beyond the jurisdiction of the District Munsif. A commissioner, appointed to ascertain its value, reported that the house alone was worth Rs. 6,500. The plaintiff thereupon applied to the Court for leave to withdraw the suit in respect of the house with liberty to bring a fresh suit therefor: the Court granted the application, notwithstanding the objection of the defendant. The latter preferred a Civil Revision Petition to the High Court against the order. Held, that, assuming that the lower Court had jurisdiction to act under O. XXIII, r. 1 (2) (b) it acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction, as it did not exercise a judicial discretion in passing the order; that the plaintiff ought not to have been permitted to withdraw his claim for the house, as the undervaluation in the plaint was so gross that he could not have acted honestly in doing so and did not deserve any indulgence from the Court; and that consequently the High Court should interfere under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code and set aside the order. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J. The words 'other sufficient grounds' O. XXIII, r. (2) (b), should not be interpreted ejusdem generis with 'formal defect' in r. 1 (2) (a). Limits of the doctrine of ejusdem generis discussed. After a Court of first instance has come to the conclusion that the suit as brought is beyond its jurisdiction, it has no power to pass any other judicial order in the suit except those which the statute expressly empowers it to pass, such as an order returning the plaint for presentation to the proper Court under O. VII, r. 10, or an order awarding costs under s. 35 of the Code. KANNUSWAMI PILLAI v. JAGATHAMBAL (1918).

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 701

——— O. XXIII, r. 1 (3)—Suit by reversioners to declare an alienation invalid during widow's lifetime, withdrawal of—Subsequent suit after widow's death, for possession—Defence, the same as in the first suit—Subsequent suit not barred by Civil Procedure Code, O. XXIII, r. 1 (3). The next presumptive reversioners of a deceased Hindu instituted a suit against his widow and her alienee for a declaration that an alienation by her was invalid, and not binding on them. Pending the suit, the widow died and the reversioners withdrew the suit but did not ask for permission to bring a fresh suit. They subsequently brought a suit against the alienee for the recovery of possession of properties from him and he set up the very same defences on the merits which he had set up in the first suit.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXIII, r. 1 (3)—concld.

Held, that the subsequent suit was not barred by the provision of O. XXIII, r. 1 (3), Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Where the cause of action and the relief claimed in the second suit are not the same as the cause of action and the relief claimed in the first suit, the second suit cannot be considered to have been brought in respect of the same subject-matter as the first suit and the plaintiff in the second suit is not debarred from contesting the allegations made by the defence in the first suit. Gopal Chandra Banerjee v. Purna Chandra Banerjee, 4 C. W. N. 110, followed. Achuta Menon v. Achutan Nair, I. L. R. 21 Mad. 35, Machana Uajhala Dikshatulu v. Gorugantulu Yaggamma, (1910), Mad. W. N. 782, and Sennava Reddiar v. Venkatachala Reddiar, 2 M. L W. 177, overruled. SINGA REDDI v. SUBBA REDDI (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 987

——— O. XXIII, r. 1 and s. 107 (2)—Whether an Appellate Court has power to allow the withdrawal of the suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. Held, by the Full Bench, that it is open to an Appellate Court in proper cases, when reversing the decree of the lower Court, to give the plaintiff leave to withdraw the suit, with liberty to file a fresh suit. Choragudi China Kotayya v. Raja Varadaraja Appa Row, 27 Mad. L. J. 244, overruled. KAMAYYA v. PAPAYYA (1916)

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 259

——— O. XXIII, r. 1, s. 115—Application by plaintiff to withdraw suit with leave to bring a fresh one made when hearing of suit was nearly concluded—Leave granted to bring a fresh suit—Exercise of discretion—Revision. A suit was instituted in the Court of the Munsif. After the evidence had concluded and either during or after the argument, the plaintiffs applied for leave to withdraw with liberty to bring a fresh suit. They based their application upon the fact that they had failed to give formal proof of a plaint which was essential to their success. The Court granted leave to bring a fresh suit. Upon an application in revision against this order. Held, that the Court had jurisdiction to grant leave to the plaintiffs to bring a fresh suit, and the fact that the Court may have exercised, and probably did exercise, a wrong discretion in granting the plaintiffs' application was not sufficient to bring the case within the purview of s. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. JHUNKU LAL v. BISHESHAR DAS (1918)

I. L. R. 40 All. 612

——— O. XXIII, r. 2—
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1059

——— O. XXIII, r. 3, (1882 Code, s. 375)—
See ARBITRATION . 25 C. W. N. 127

See COMPROMISE.
3 Pat. L. J. 43 and 255

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT, s. 15-B . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 614

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.
25 C. W. N. 990

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, s. 83 . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 377

1. ——— Compromise—Terms outside the scope of the suit, recorded in the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) contd.

—— O. XXIII, r. 3, (1882 Code, s. 375)— contd.

decree—Decree so far as it relates to the suit, effect of—Terms forming consideration for those relating to the subject matter of the suit—Decree, not ultra vires—Objection in execution, maintainability of—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 38 and 54—Reciprocal promises—Non-performance by one party wrongfully—Consequent non-performance by the other, rightfully simple money-bond executed by the first defendant and the father of the second and third defendants. The parties entered into a compromise by which the disputes between them, including the claim in the suit, were adjusted and a decree was passed in the suit in accordance with the compromise 'so far as it related to the suit' Under the compromise the defendants agreed to get a release of certain properties which had fallen to the share of the plaintiff in a partition between the plaintiff and the first defendant and some other properties purchased by the former from the latter, from the claims of a mortgagee (decree-holder) of the same, on the plaintiff depositing in Court within a certain time a sum of money for payment to the mortgagee towards his decree. The plaintiff failed to deposit the amount. The defendants gave notice to the plaintiff, by a posted letter offering to get a release of the properties if the plaintiff paid the amount in one week, but the plaintiff did not pay the compromise-decree to recover a sum of money as due to them under the compromise, alleging that they had performed or offered to perform the conditions laid on them under the compromise The plaintiff contended that the defendants could not recover the amount as the claim for it could not be deemed to have been included in the decree, and if it were included the decree was ultra vires, and further that the defendants, having failed to fulfil their part of the agreement, were not entitled to enforce the other terms of the compromise. Held, that all the terms recorded in the compromise decree which formed part of the consideration for the adjustment of the subject-matter in the suit, must be deemed to be part of the decree and can be enforced in execution proceedings. A compromise-decree, even if it includes matters beyond the scope of the suit, is not ultra vires, and no objection can be taken to the enforcement of the same in execution proceedings. When the parties to a contract fail to perform their reciprocal promises, the one wilfully and the other because he was not bound to fulfil his part unless the former had fulfilled his preliminary part, the contract itself comes to an end by the acts of both the parties except for the purpose of enabling the innocent party to claim compensation from the other. An offer of performance must be unconditional, if it is to have the same effect as performance. A mere offer by a posted letter that the party liable was ready to execute a release without having a document of release ready, is not a valid offer under s. 38 of the Contract Act. Held (on the facts of the case), that though the plaintiff failed to pay the money into Court, as the defendants failed to fulfil their part of the agreement to make a valid unconditional offer to perform the same, and as the defendants disabled themselves from performing their part by reason of the purchase of the properties by the third defendant, the defendants were not entitled to enforce the other terms included in the compromise-decree. SABAPATHY v. VANMAHALINGA (1914) . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 959

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—— O. XXIII, r. 3, (1882 Code, s. 375)— contd.

2. —————— Lawful compromise—Hindu Law—Office of archaka, alienation of—Custom, validity of—Disqualification of females to perform duties of—Right of females to inherit—Performance of duties by proxy—Public policy—Undue influence—Low price, effect of—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s 16, cl (2). Where the parties to a suit instituted in respect of a half share in the archaka miras in a Saivite temple, entered into a compromise during the pendency of a Second Appeal in the case, by which one of the parties alienated for a pecuniary benefit a portion of his right to the office in favour of the other party (who was a female), and the latter applied by a petition to the High Court to pass a decree in accordance with the compromise: Held, that the compromise was not lawful and that no decree could be passed in accordance therewith under O XXIII, r. 3, of the Civil Procedure Code. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J An alienation of a religious office by which the alienor gets a pecuniary benefit cannot be upheld, even if a custom is set up sanctioning such an alienation It is the settled custom that females by reason of their sex are permanently disqualified from performing the duties of an archaka in a Saivite temple. A person, who is permanently disqualified to do the duties of an office, cannot inherit the office while at the same time delegating the duties to others, whether the permanent disqualification is the result of conversion to any other religion or insanity or sex A trusteeship for secular purposes can be held by a female. The fact that a person is obliged to part with his property for what he considers an unduly low price owing to his pressing necessities, is not a ground for holding that the contract is vitiated by undue influence. SUNDARAMBAL AMMAL v. YOGAVANAGURUKKAL (1914).
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 850

3. —————— Compromise—Petition of compromise filed in subsequent suit—Registration—Registration Act (XVI of 1908), s. 17. In a suit for a declaration of title to certain immovable property, the plaintiff applied to the Court stating that the suit had been compromised and ... might be made under O. XXIII, ... In support of ... petition which ... by both parties ... gs for mutation of names in respect of the same property as was in the dispute in the Civil Court, and which set forth that the matter before the Revenue Court had been ... stated ... The ... by the ... was end- ... dispute ... ence in the Civil Court that the matter between the parties had been adjusted out of Court.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXIII, r. 3, (1882 Code, s. 375)—concld.

and that it did not require to be registered. SITAL PRASAD v. GOBIND PRASAD (1915)

I. L. R. 38 All. 75

4. ———— Order recording petition of compromise—Jurisdiction of Court to decide whether suit has been settled out of Court when one party denies the settlement—Absence of authority of persons negotiating compromise. There can be no doubt that when one party alleges, and the other denies that a suit has been settled by a lawful agreement out of Court, the Court has power to decide whether there has been such a settlement and if this question is decided in the affirmative to grant a decree in accordance with the agreement. The Full Bench decision in Broja Durlabh Sinha v. Romanath Ghose, I. L. R. 24 Calc. 908 : s. c. 1 C. W. N. 597, has been now given effect to by the alterations made from the language of s. 375 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 in O. XXIII, r. 3 of the Code of 1908. In this case the High Court on a consideration of the circumstances set aside the order of the lower Court recording a petition of compromise on the ground that none of the persons who took part in the negotiations were authorized to effect a compromise that was binding on the parties to the suit. ANADI KRISHNA DUTT v. PRIYA SHANKAR MAJUMDAR (1916).

21 C. W. N. 366

———— O. XXIII, r. 3, and s. 96, cl. (3)—Compromise—Power of vakil to enter into—Construction of vakalat—Recording of compromise—Duty of Court to inquire—Decree in terms of compromise—Appeal, when allowed. A vakalat containing a provision authorizing the vakil "to present if necessary petitions for razinama, for withdrawal and for referring to arbitration and to sign the razinama, etc., petitions," does not give authority to the vakil to enter into a compromise without reference to his clients. An appeal lies against a decree passed in accordance with a compromise, where the authority to enter into it, is impeached. Ayyagiri Veerasalingam v. Koopur Basivi Reddi, 27 Mad. L. J. 173, followed. Jagapati Mudaliar v. Ekambara Mudaliar, I. L. R. 21 Mad. 274, and Raghoji Rao v. Lakshman Rao Sahib, 22 Mad. L. J. 381, referred to. Duty of Courts to scrutinize compromises before recording them pointed out. THENAL AMMAL v. SOKKAMMAL (1917) . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 233

———— O. XXIII, r. 3, O. VIII, rr. 8 and 9 and second Sch. paras. 1 to 17 and paras. 20 and 21—Reference to arbitration after suit without intervention of Court—Award—An agreement to refer to arbitration combined with the award is an adjustment or compromise of the suit—Parties may plead the award and have case set down for hearing on the issue whether the award is binding or the adjustment be recorded—Parties cannot proceed by motion—Practice—Procedure. The plaintiffs filed a suit against the defendants claiming Rs. 2,925 as damages for breach of a contract. Subsequently, the parties referred the matters in dispute by an agreement of reference to the sole arbitration of R. S. without the intervention of the Court. Both the parties attended the first meeting before R. S.; but before the second meeting was held, when only the defendants were present, the plaintiffs wrote to R. S. that they revoked his authority as arbitrator and cancelled the submission. R. S., however, made his award allowing Rs. 1,750 only for damages and Rs. 56 for costs to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs then moved for an ex parte decree on the ground that the defendants had not filed their written statement but the Court gave time to the defendants to enable them to file the award. Thereafter, the defendants moved the Court that the award should be recorded as an adjustment or compromise of the suit, and for a decree being passed in terms thereof. Kajiji J. dismissed the motion holding (i) that the award could not be recorded as an adjustment under O. XXIII, R. 3 and (ii) as the agreement to refer had been made without the intervention of the Court while a suit was pending, the award was not valid and the application could not be made under the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code. The defendants appealed. Held, allowing the appeal, (1) that the award could not be regarded as invalid merely because it was made in a reference by parties to the suit without the intervention of the Court, but that the Court should have tried the issue whether the award was not binding upon the parties under the general principles of the law of contract by proceeding under O. XXIII, R. 3; (2) that the order giving the defendants time to file the award when the plaintiffs moved for an ex parte decree was wrong, and the Court should have ordered the defendants to file their written statement pleading the award. The view expressed by the English Courts in Storey v. Bloxam (1796) 2 Esp. 504 and Doleman & Sons v. Ossett Corporation (1912), 3 K. B. 257 that an award made on an agreement to refer after writ should be pleaded as a plea puis darrein continuance, referred to and followed. O. XXIII, R. 3 of the Civil Procedure Code, contains provisions corresponding to the plea of "accord and satisfaction" after writ. For the purposes of such a plea, the agreement to refer to arbitration after suit together with the award thereon is on the same footing as a direct settlement between the parties. But the award to be effective for such a plea must be a valid one according to the general rules of law governing the validity of awards in arbitration proceedings. MANILAL MOTILAL v. GOKALDAS ROWJI.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 245

———— O. XXIII, r. 3 and O. XXXIV, r. 5—Mortgage—Preliminary decree—Adjustment between date of preliminary decree and final settlement of accounts. The question of what is actually due upon a mortgage on the date of the final taking of accounts is a matter relating to the suit. Although O. XXXIV, R. 5, of the Code of Civil Procedure contemplates that all payments made upon a preliminary decree should be paid into court there is nothing to justify the view that O. XXIII, r. 3, does not apply to adjustments of accounts made between the date of the preliminary decree and the date on which the accounts between the parties are finally settled. JOGENDRA PRASAD NARAIN SINGH v. GOURI SHANKAR PRASAD SAHU.

2 Pat. L. J. 533

———— O. XXIII, XLI, r. 11—Suit to recover possession—Dismissal of suit—Appeal—Application for withdrawal of suit with leave to bring a fresh

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—concld.

——— O. XXIII, XLI, r. 11—contd.

suit—Power of the Court. Plaintiff's suit to recover possession of lands having been dismissed by the first Court, he appealed to the District Court and, before the admission of the appeal, he applied to that Court for leave to withdraw the suit and bring a fresh suit. The application was heard and granted by the District Judge without any notice to the defendant. The defendant having applied for revision, under the extraordinary jurisdiction (s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code, Act V of 1908), of the order granting the withdrawal. Held, setting aside the order, that it was beyond the power of the Court to allow a withdrawal from a suit with leave to file a fresh suit on the same cause of action after the defendant had obtained a decree in his favour. EKNATH v. RANOJI (1911).

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 261

——— O. XXIII, r. 3, Sch. II, cls. 1, 16—Suit—Reference to arbitration without leave of Court—Application to stay further progress of the suit—Application not according to law. After the institution of a suit, the plaintiff and one of the defendants entered into an agreement to submit the matter in difference between them to arbitration without the leave of the Court. Thereupon, the defendant having applied to the Court to stay the ... ted the ... at the ... of the ... XXIII, ... 1908). On appeal by the defendant the District Judge confirmed the order. The defendant having applied under the extraordinary jurisdiction. Held, confirming the order, that where the Court was seized of a cause, its jurisdiction could not be ousted by the private and secret act of parties, and if they, after having invoked the authority of the Court and placed themselves under its superintendence, desired to alter the tribunal and substitute a private arbitrator for the Court, they proceed according to the law laid down in the first sixteen clauses of the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Held, further, that parties litigating in Court had perfect liberty to compose their differences amongst themselves into any lawful agreement, compromise or satisfaction, and that when this was done, they had only to apply to the Court under O. XXIII, r. 3, of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), but that a mere agreement to refer to arbitration, even though in other respects valid, could not be such an adjustment in whole or in part of the suit as the Court could give effect to under O. XXIII, r. 3. VYANKATESH MAHADEV v. RAMCHANDRA KRISHNA (1914). . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 687

——— O. XXIV, rr. 1, 2 and 3—When ...

I. L. R. 40 All. 125

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 339

——— O. XXV, r. 1 (1882 Code, ss. 380, 382)—Addition of parties at late stage of case—Order for security for defendant's costs—Poverty of plaintiff if alone can justify such order. The plaintiff before bringing the suit made an agreement with one S

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXV, r. 1 (1882 Code, ss. 380, 382)—contd.

by which the latter undertook to advance any amount that might be necessary to prosecute the suit up to the Privy Council. The amount so advanced was to be realised from any property recovered by a final decision or on compromise and the plaintiff and S agreed to divide equally the balance of what was recovered. S was to be able to compromise the suit and if the suit was unsuccessful the plaintiff was not to be liable to S for costs. The plaintiff brought the suit on the 31st July 1911. It came on for hearing on the 1st April 1913. The plaintiff closed his case on 22nd April and just before that the defendant applied to the Court to have S made a plaintiff and to have S and the plaintiff ordered to give security for the payment of the defendant's costs. The Court refused to make S a plaintiff, but ordered the plaintiff to give security for the costs of the suit up to Rs 5,000. The High Court issued a rule to show cause why S should not be made a defendant and why the order about costs should not be set aside. Held, that S should not be made a party defendant partly because the original application to make S a party plaintiff was made at too late a stage of the case and partly because it did not appear that S had any actual present interest in the property. That the order about costs was not made and could not be supported under O XXV, but the Court has inherent power to make it. The question, however, which should determine the granting of such an order was whether the plaintiff had got a substantial interest in the suit or was he suing for another as a mere puppet. Such an order could not be made merely because the plaintiff was a poor man, and the lower ...

Chetty v. Runga Krishna, L. R. 1 I. A. 241, 264 : s c 22 W. R. 149, 152 HARI NATH SINGH v. RAM KUMAR BAGCHI (1913) . 18 C. W. N. 119

——— Woman plaintiff—Ap- ...

to pay Rs. 5,000 or such other sum as the Court should think fit as damages. D took out a summons in Chambers calling upon N to show cause why she should not give security for the payment of D's costs under O. XXV, r. 1, Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Held, that, under the circumstances of the case, it would be a wrong use of the Court's discretion if the Court practically defeated the suit at that stage when it was almost, if not quite, ripe for hearing, by ordering the plaintiff to lodge security. Held, further, that the Court was entitled, as a discretion was given it to exercise that ...

——— Female plaintiff, security for costs from—Suit to recover ornaments or their value if suit for payment of money. A suit by a lady against the adopted son of her deceased husband and others for a declaration of her title to certain ornaments and other moveable properties alleged to have been wrongfully removed from her custody by the defendants and for recovery of possession of the same and in the alternative for the value of the properties, was a suit for payment of money within the meaning of O. XXV, r. 1, cl. (3), of the Civil Procedure Code. Degumbari Debi v. Ashutosh Banerjee, I. L. R. 17 Calc. 610, Sonabai v. Tribhowandas Narotamdas Malvi, I. L. R. 32 Bom. 602, followed. ANANDAMOI CHOWDHURANI v. GOKUL CHANDRA ROY (1912). 16 C. W. N. 763

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—————— O. XXV, r. 1 (1882 Code, ss. 380, 382)—concld.

—————— O. XXV, r. 1 and O. XXXIII, r. 1—Order for security for costs—Leave granted to continue suit as a pauper—Practice. An order to give security for costs obtained in a suit filed in the ordinary course must cease to operate as regards antecedent costs if leave is given to continue the suit as a pauper, provided the leave is granted before the time limited for giving security has expired. BAI LAXMI v. HARJIVAN NATHU (1911). I. L. R. 36 Bom. 415

—————— O. XXVI, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 383)—Commission to examine witnesses. The Courts should not allow witnesses to be examined on commission without adequate reasons. PANACHAND CHHOTALAL v. MANOHARLAL NANDLAL (1917) . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 136

—————— O. XXVI, r. 9 (1882 Code 392)—

See RIGHT OF SUIT.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 501

—————— Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901), s. 164—Suit for profits—Commissioner appointed to report as to actual collections—Evidence—Admissibility of report. Held, that the report of a commissioner appointed by a Court of Revenue to ascertain the amount of actual collections in a suit for profits under s. 164 of the Agra Tenancy Act is admissible in evidence having regard to rr. 9, 16, 17, 18 of O. XXVI of the Code of Civil Procedure. BAKHTAWAR LAL v. SHEO PRASAD (1917). . I. L. R. 39 All. 694

—————— O. XXVI, r. 9, and O. XVIII, r. 18—Commission for local investigation—Personal inspection by Judge—Old Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 392—Alteration in language, effect of. Under O. XXVI, r. 9, read with O. XVIII, r. 18, of the Civil Procedure Code a Judge has power to make a local investigation in person in any case in which he sees fit to do so for he can issue a commission for local investigation if he thinks fit, irrespective of the question whether it is convenient for himself to conduct the investigation in person. The Privy Council in Kessowji Issur v. Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company (1907), I. L. R., 31 Bom. 381 (P. C.), does not lay down that Judges should under no circumstances hold an inspection of the site in dispute but only objects to opinions being formed upon an inspection made under conditions quite different from those which were material to the question at issue at the trial. SABAPATHY PATHAN v. PERUMAL PADAYACHI (1921). I. L. R. 44 Mad. 640

—————— O. XXVI, r. 10 (1882 Code 393)—Commissioner, right of parties to examine—Court's leave if may be withheld arbitarily—Report not

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—————— O. XXVI, r. 10 (1882 Code 302)—contd giving reasons for conclusion. The Legislature in making the report of the Commissioner, admissible in evidence by itself and his examination in connection therewith subject to the Court's leave intended to afford protection to him from vexatious examination at the instance of either party. The permission to examine the Commissioner cannot, however, be arbitarily withheld. When the Commissioner has not given reasons for his conclusions it is a proper case for the examination of the Commissioner as a witness. SITARAM v. RAMA PROSAD RAM (1913) . . . 18 C. W. N. 697

—————— O. XXVI, rr. 11 and 12—(1882 Code, ss. 394 and 395)

See s. 2 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 392

—————— O. XXVI, rr. 16, 17, 18—(1882 Code, ss. 398 to 400)

See O. XXVI, R. 9 .
I. L. R. 39 All. 694

—————— O. XXIX--(1882 Code, ss. 435 and 436)

See PLAINT. . . . . .
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 441

—————— O. XXX, r. 2—

See INSURANCE I. L. R. 41 Calc. 581

—————— O. XXXI, r. 1—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
2 Pat. L. J. 306

—————— O. XXX, r. 2—

See INSURANCE I. L. R. 41 Calc. 581

—————— O. XXXII, r. 1 (1882 Code 440)—Application to sue in formâ pauperis. The mere fact that the applicant's husband has property is not sufficient reason for disallowing her application for leave to sue in formâ pauperis. SHARFUNNISSA v. NAZNI KHANUM. . . 3 Pat. L. J. 178

—————— O. XXXII, r. 3—

See O. IX, R. 13 .
I. L. R. 37 All. 179

See CHOTA NAGPUR EMCUMBERED ESTATES ACTS 1876 . .
4 Pat. L. J. 580

—————— Appointment of certificated guardian as guardian ad litem R. 4, sub-r. (3), Courts' power to appoint a guardian without his consent—Decree against a minor where his guardian was appointed without his consent, if binding, upon him —Classes of guardians to whom sub-r. (3) applies—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890), s. 10, sub-s. (3)—Willingness of the guardian to act, essential—S. 99, applicability of. The generality of the language used in O. XXXII, r. 4, sub-r. (3), makes it clear that the Legislature has prescribed that no person who is competent to act as guardian of an infant, either under sub-r. (1) or under sub-r. (2), shall be appointed guardian for the suit without his consent. The willingness of the proposed guardian is essential even in cases of appointments of guardians under the Guardians and Wards Act as guardians ad litem. When a person has been appointed guardian without his consent, the infant is not represented and a decree made in a suit so constituted has no binding effect upon him. The provision as to the consent of the person proposed to be appointed guardian for the suit is mandatory and imperative. The fact that the guardian preferred an appeal cannot be

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXII, r. 3—concld.

SARKAR . . . . 26 C. W. N. 781

———— O. XXXII, r. 3 and 7, (1882 Code 443, 456, 462)—

See COMPROMISE . 3 Pat. L. J. 255

———— O. XXXII, r. 4, (1882 Code 440, 445)

See PROBATE . . . 24 C. W. N. 541

See PROBATE PROCEEDINGS 24 C. W. N. 538

———— Existence of a guardian appointed for a minor by a competent authority—Suit and decree against such minor represented by another guardian, validity of If a minor has a guardian appointed for him by a competent authority he alone can represent the minor in any litigation; hence a decree obtained against such a minor represented not by such guardian, but by another, though the Court Acted in ignorance of the existence of such appointed guardian is not binding on the minor. Rashid-un-nisa v. Muham- ... 'I. 572 (P. C.), ... Singh (1907), BHIMAJI v. HUSAIN SAHIB (1920) . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 808

———— Guardian ad litem—Consent of guardian to his appointment not necessarily express—Inference from silence of guardian—Matters for consideration when a decree against a minor is challenged. Where a decree affecting a minor is challenged upon the ground that the minor was not properly represented in the suit against him, two questions arise—(1) whether the appointment of the guardian ad litem was irregular, and (2) whether the minor was in fact prejudiced by such irregularity. The question whether or not a

Barechha Ram v. Tarak Tewari, 11 A. L. J., 589, followed CHHATTAR SINGH v. TEJ SINGH I. L. R. 43 All. 104

———— O. XXXII, r. 6 (1882 Code s. 461)—

See s 145 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 40

———— O. XXXII, r. 7, (1882 Code 462)—

See COMPROMISE . 3 Pat. L. J. 255

———— Arbitration, reference to—Minors, parties—Guardian ad litem, submission by, without leave of Court—Award-decree, validity of opened against whom. A suit can be brought on behalf of minors to set aside a decree passed on obtained by a guardian ad litem of minors for agreeing on their behalf to refer through Court the subject-matter of a suit to arbitration; where no such leave was obtained, a decree passed on an award is not binding on the minors and a suit can be instituted on behalf of the minors to obtain a declaration that the decree does not bind them. The avoidance of a decree in a partition suit will have the effect of re-opening the whole suit in respect of all the parties thereto, and on an application being made to the Court, it will proceed with the trial of the suit. A suit will lie to set aside a decree passed on an award, when the objection raised is as to the validity of the award on the ground that no leave of Court was obtained for the submission to arbitration on behalf of minors who were parties to the suit, under O. XXXII, r. 7 of the Civil Procedure Code. Ghulam Khan v Muhammad Hassan, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 167, explained. Raja Har Narain Singh v. Chaudrain Bhagwant Kuar, I. L. R. 13 All 300, Hardeo Sahai v. Gauri Shankar, I. L. R. 28 All. 35. Latawan v. Lachya, I. L. R. 36 All. 69, Lakshmana Chetti v. Chinathambi Chetti, I. L. R. 24 Mad 326, Venkatachalla Reddi v. Rangiah Reddi, 21 Mad L. J. 990, Ganesha Rao v. Tulajaram Row, I. L. R. 36 Mad. 295, Bhimaji Gobind v. Rakmabai, I. L. R. 10 Bom. 338, Tincoury Dey v. Fakir Chand Dey, I. L. R 30 Calc. 218, Khajooroonissa v. Rowshan Johan, I. L. R. 2 Calc. 184, and Manohar Lal v. Jadunath Singh, I. L. R 28 All. 585, referred to. VIJAYA RAMAYYA v. VENKATASUBBA RAO (1915). I. L. R. 39 Mad. 853

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXII, r. 7, (1882 Code 462)—contd.

———— Minor—Decree against minor's father—Minor represented in execution proceedings by his brother as guardian ad litem—Compromise application by minor's mother—Leave of the Court not obtained—Compromise ineffectual without ceedings. The mother then executed a sale-deed of the property on the same terms as had been agreed upon by the compromise. The minor plaintiffs having sued to set aside the sale-deed. Held, that the sale-deed was voidable as the mother had applied to the Court to sanction the compromise and thereby she put it out of her power to settle the creditor's claim as the minor's natural guardian without the Court's consent under O. XXXII, R. 7, Civil Procedure Code ... Per MACLEOD, C.J. "Though O. XXXII, R. 7 Civil Procedure Code, 1908, applies to ...

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXXII, r. 7, (1882 Code 462)— concld.

proceedings, there seems to be a distinction between a case where minor's liability has been determined by a decree in his father's life-time and a case where the minor's liability in the first instance is in dispute. For in the former case there is a debt which the guardian is clearly entitled to pay off in full, and the fact that the judgment-creditor has issued execution against the minor making an outsider his guardian ad litem does not alter the situation." Per HEATON, J. "O. XXXII, r. 7, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, implies that during the continuance of the proceedings in Court, the dispute between the minor and another party which the Court had to decide could not be compromised except by the guardian ad litem of the minor, and by him only with the leave of the Court." GURMALLAPPA v. MALLAPPA MARTANDAPPA (1919).

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 574

——— Held, whether or not the order applies to execution proceedings its principle applies and in this case when minors were concerned in a compromise recorded in proceedings to set aside the execution proceedings the omission to record the Court's sanction did not render the compromise void especially as the minors were not prejudiced. RAMGULAM SAHU v. SAM SAHAI DAS . . . . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 379

——— It cannot be inferred that the Court has sanctioned a compromise within the meaning of this order merely because the petition of compromise gave notice to the Court that interests of minors were going to be effected and that the Court passed a decree in accordance with the compromise. RAMGHULAM SAHU v. DURGA PERSHAD (1921). 6 Pat. L. J. 190

——— Minor—Next friend—Compromise in suits—Necessity for order of Court specially permitting next friend to enter into compromise on [illegible] minor. Where a compromise in a su[illegible] ing [illegible] on behalf of minors appear- [illegible] is entered into on behalf of minors appearing by a next friend, it is necessary to the validity of such compromise that there should be on the record a specific order of the Court giving leave to the next friend to enter into the compromise on behalf of the minors. Manohar Lal v. Jadunath Singh I. L. R. 28 All. 585, distinguished. BADRI PRASAD v. GOPAL BIHARI LAL (1919).

I. L. R. 41 All. 553

——— O. XXXII, r. 7, Sch. II (20)—Minor—Arbitration—Reference to arbitration out of Court by minor's guardian—Award—Application by the guardian to have the award filed—Application not an agreement with reference to suit—Minor not entitled to protection of O. XXXII, r. 7. A dispute to which a minor was a party was submitted to arbitration out of Court by the minor's mother. After the award was published, the mother, on behalf of her minor son, applied to the Court under cl. 20 of the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, to have the award filed in order that a decree might be passed on such award. The other party did not object to such filing and the award was accordingly filed and a decree passed thereon. Subsequently the minor through his mother sued to set aside the decree. The trial Court dismissed the suit. In appeal, as the Court was of the opinion that there was a conflict between the case of Mahadev Balkrishna

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) contd.

——— O. XXXII, r. 7, Sch. II (20)—contd.

Kelkar v. Krishnabai, (1896), P. J. 609, and the case of Vithaldas v. Dattaram, I. L. R. 26 Bom. 298, the following question was referred to a Full Bench: When a dispute to which a minor is a party has been submitted to arbitration out of Court, and the award made upon such submission has been brought into Court, under cl. 20 of the Second Schedule, Civil Procedure Code, and the Court has been asked to file it and thereafter pass a decree upon it, neither party objecting, is not the Court bound to sanction this agreement to have the award filed and a decree passed upon it, as for the benefit of the minor, and so also to certify the decree? and if the Court fails to do so is not the minor entitled to the protection of O. XXXII, r. 7, of the Civil Procedure Code? Held, the question must be answered in the negative. Held, further, that there was no conflict between the cases of Mahadev Balkrishna Kelkar v. Krishnabai, (1896) P. J. 609, and Vithaldas v. Dattaram, I. L. R. 26 Bom. 298. HANMANTRAM RADHAKISON v. SHIVNARAYAN (1918).

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 258

——— O. XXII, r. 8—Appeal—Insolvency of one appellant and death of the other—Abatement of appeal—Substitution of names—Limitation. Of two appellants in a civil appeal, one died and the other became an insolvent. Neither the representatives of the deceased appellant nor the official assignee applied within the time limited by the Court for substitution in place of the deceased appellant, nor did the insolvent himself, who was said to have compounded with his creditors, apply. The defendant, on the other hand, asked for the dismissal of the suit. Held that, there being no limitation provided for the Official Assignee to appear and apply for the restoration of his name on the record after the adjudication is annulled, until an order is obtained under O. XXI, r. 8, of the Code of Civil Procedure the proceedings cannot abate and must be deemed to continue. KHUNI LAL v. RAMESHAR.

I. L. R. 43 All. 621

——— O. XXXIII, r. 1, (1882 Code s. 401)—

See O. 1, R. 3 I. L. R. 34 Bom. 358

See O. XXV, R. 1 I. L. R. 36 Bom. 415

1. ——— Company—Official liquidator, right of, to apply for leave to sue in formâ pauperis—'Person' definition of—General Clauses Act (X of 1897), whether applicable to O. XXXIII—Explanation to r. 1 and r. 3 of O. XXXIII, construction of. An official liquidator of a company is competent to apply for leave to sue in formâ pauperis on behalf of the company under O. XXXIII of the Civil Procedure Code, if the company is a pauper within r. 1 thereof. The reference to "necessary wearing apparel" in the explanation to r. 1 and the provisions of r. 3 requiring presentation of petition by 'applicant in person' in O. XXXIII do not necessarily exclude the application of the Order to a company, and the definition of 'person' as including a company under the General Clauses Act (X of 1897) applies to O. XXXIII of the Code as there is nothing in the definition which is repugnant to the subject or context of the Order. The fact that the liquidator in his personal capacity is not a pauper does not affect the question; nor does the fact that the liquidator receives a commission on collections realized, make him a person interested in the subject-matter of the suit within cl (e), r. 5 of O. XXXIII. Cortes v. Kent Water-Works Company, 7 B. & C. 314, and Venkatanarasayya v. Achemma, I. L. R. 3 Mad 3, followed In the matter of the will of Demubai, I. L. R. 18 Bom. 237, and Manaji Rajinji v. Kandoo Baloo, I. L. R. 36 Bom. 279, distinguished. PERUMAL GOUNDAN v THIRUMALARAYAPURAM JANANUKOOLA DHANASEKHARA SANGHA NIDHI (1917).

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXIII, r. 1, (1882 Code s. 401)— concld.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 624

2. ———— Inquiry—into pauperism—Claim for redemption of mortgage—Applicant able to raise money upon security of equity of redemption. Held. that a plaintiff seeking to sue for redemption in formâ pauperis cannot claim to sue as a pauper so

KAPIL DEO SINGH v. RAM RIKHA SINGH (1910)

I. L. R. 33 All. 237

3. ———— Death of plaintiff—Right of executor who is not a pauper to continue the suit in formâ pauperis. The privilege of maintaining a pauper suit is a personal privilege granted to people who have no means of carrying on or continuing litigation, and there seems to be no authority whatever for holding that the representative of a pauper is entitled to continue the suit of his testator or testatrix, even though admittedly he is not a pauper, simply because his testator or testatrix was a pauper. MANAJI RAJUJI (RAO SAHEB) v. KAHANDOO BALOO (1911)

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 279

———— O. XXXIII, rr. 1, 2 and 5—Application to sue as pauper—Disqualification—Subject-matter of suit—Cause of action—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXXIII, rr. 1, 2 and 5. A mortgagor applied for permission to institute a disclose a cause of action. Dwarkanath v. Madhavrav, I. L. R. 10 Bom. 207, not followed. FATMABAI v. DOSSABHOY RUSTOMJEE UMRIGAR (1909).

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 638

———— O. XXXIII, rr. 2, 5 (a) and 15—Pauper suit—application for permission dismissed because not accompanied by schedule of property—whether second application is barred. The petitioners applied for permission to sue as paupers. This application was rejected because it was not accompanied by a schedule of moveable and immoveable property belonging to the applicants—vide rr. 2 and 5 of O. XXXIII of the Code of Civil Procedure. They then presented a second application for permission which was rejected as barred under r. 15 of the same order Held, that r. 15 of O. XXXIII of the Code does not bar a second application, ... under r. 5 (a ... 803 F. B.), r ... Peary Moho ... distinguished ... DAS . . . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 151

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXIII, rr. 2, 5 (a) and 15— concld.

———— O. XXXIII, rr. 4, 5, 7 (1882 Code ss. 406, 407 and 409)—

See PAUPER SUIT. I. L. R. 46 Calc. 651

———— O. XXXIII, r. 5, (1882 Code 405 and 407)—Application for leave to sue in formâ pauperis—Question to be decided by Court before granting leave—Limitation—Doubtful question—Difference of judicial opinion—Duty of Court. Upon an application for leave to sue in formâ pauperis, the Court is not justified in determining, at the stage contemplated by O. XXXIII, r. 5 of ... f limitation ... difference ... (d) applies only to cases where the allegations of the petitioner do not show a cause of action, and this should appear clearly upon the face of the petition. GOVINDASAMI PILLAY v. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, KUMBAKONAM (1917). . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 620

———— O. XXXIII, rr. 5, 6—Whether next friend of pauper minor plaintiff should prove his own pauperism. The father as next friend of a girl of about two years of age applied for leave to sue in formâ pauperis for damages for serious bodily injuries received by her. The Court rejected the application under O. XXXIII, r. 5, Civil Procedure Code, on the ground that the next friend, the father of the applicant, was not a pauper: Held, that the order should be set aside and the matter inquired into under O. XXXIII, r. 6, of the Civil Procedure Code. AMIRMON v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919)

23 C. W. N. 955

———— O. X... ...—Shebait ... of idol's ... in formâ ... in hands of co-shebaits contesting suit. A shebait applied for leave to sue in formâ pauperis to recover certain endowed properties which, he alleged, some of the defendants who were his co-shebaits had illegally alienated in favour of the other defendants. Neither in his personal capacity nor as shebait was he possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the court-fees prescribed for the plaint: Held, in revision, that the application could not be rejected merely because the shebait defendants held properties of the idol sufficient to pay the requisite court-fees. NANDA LAL CHATTERJEE v. DWARKA NATH DAS (1911).

16 C. W. N. 93

———— O. XXXIII, r. 8 (1882 Code s. 410)—Application to sue in formâ pauperis not determined—Attachment before judgment, if may issue. No order of attachment before judgment can be made at the instance of a person who has applied for leave to sue in formâ pauperis before his application has been ...

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —concld.

——— O. XXXIII, r. 8 (1882 Code, s. 410) —concld.

determined in his favour. O. XXXIII, r. 8, clearly shows that there is no suit in existence until the application to sue in formâ pauperis has been granted. PURNA CHANDRA CHABRI v. TARA PRASAD MAITY (1916) . . 21 C. W. N. 870

——— O. XXXIII, rr. 10, 11 (1882 Code, s. 411)—Stamp duty on a pauper's plaint—Decree for less than the amount claimed. In a suit brought in formâ pauperis, the plaintiff succeeded only in part and failed as to the rest of the claim; the lower Court ordered the defendant to pay the entire costs incurred by the plaintiff including the amount of court-fees which would have been payable on the plaint. Held, that the court-fees payable on the plaint should be apportioned under the provisions of rr. 10 and 11 of O. XXXIII of the Code of Civil Procedure. Chandraka v. Secretary of State for India, I. L. R. 14 Mad. 163, followed. GANGA DAHAL RAI v. MUSAMMAT GAURA (1916).

I. L. R. 38 All. 469

——— O. XXXIII, rr. 10 and 13—

See s. 47 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 166

——— O. XXXIII, r. 13—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 412—Suit in formâ pauperis—Settlement of suit out of Court—Court passing no order for payment of Court-fees—Government applying for the payment—Practice and procedure. A suit for partition brought in formâ pauperis was settled out of Court. On the 7th October 1908 the Court dismissed the suit but made no order for the payment of Court-fees under s. 412 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882. At that date Government had ninety days' time within which to apply to the High Court under its extraordinary jurisdiction. Before the expiry of the period the new Civil Procedure Code came into force. The Government, thereupon, applied to the Court under O. XXXIII, r. 12, for an order as to payment of Court-fees, but the Court declined to make the order. On appeal, Held, (i) that the order passed by the Court under O. XXXIII, r. 12, was an order within the meaning of s. 47, and it was therefore appealable; (ii) that, before the expiry of the period within which the Government could have applied to the High Court under the old Code, the new Code had come into force and by it the Government were enabled to apply to the Court for an order under r. 12 of O. XXXIII; (iii) that the suit having been dismissed there was a failure of it, and the right accrued to Government to have the Court-fee from the party defeated. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. NARAYAN (1911) . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 448

——— O. XXXIII, r. 15—Application to sue in formâ pauperis, effect of rejection under r. 5—Distinction, if any, between orders under r. 5 and r. 6. On the rejection of an application for leave to sue as pauper, the only course open to the applicant is to institute a suit in the ordinary way. There is no distinction between rejection under r. 5 and an order of refusal under r. 7. ATUL CHANDRA SEN v. RAJA PEARY MOHAN MOOKERJEE (1915).

20 C. W. N. 669

——— O. XXXIV (Transfer of Property Act, 1882, ss. 85 to 90)—

See MORTGAGE . . 37 Calc. 907

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O XXXIV (Transfer of Property Act, 1882, ss. 85 to 90)—concld.

See PALAS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 455

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 88 . . I. L. R. 34 All. 72

——— Mortgage suit, application for decree absolute in—Limitation—Scope and effect of Order. The decree nisi in a mortgage suit was made when the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 was in force. The application for making the decree absolute was made more than 12 years after the date of the decree and after the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 came into operation. Held, that prior to the Code of 1908, there was no period of limitation within which a plaintiff was bound to apply for the order absolute for sale in a suit brought for sale of the mortgaged property, and the provisions of O. XXXIV of the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, which repealed ss. 85 to 90 of the Transfer of Property Act do not apply so as to take away a vested right which the plaintiff had of applying to have the decree for sale made absolute and the application filed by him was not barred by limitation. Gopeshur Pal v. Jiban Chandra, 18 C. W. N. 804, followed. KISTA BAR v. BANAMOYI DEBIA (1914).

19 C. W. N. 470

——— Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181,—Consent decree—Instalments—Application for decree absolute for sale—Limitation. An application for a decree absolute for sale of a mortgage charge under the terms of a consent decree, which provided for satisfaction of the decretal debt by instalments is an application under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXXIV, and is governed by Article 181, Sch.I, of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Such application must be made within three years from the time the right to apply accrues. DATTO ATMARAM v. SHANKAR DATTATRAYA (1913).

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 32

——— O. XXXIV, r. 1 (Transfer of Property Act, 1882, s. 85)—

See O. 1, R. 9 . 1 Pat. L. J. 468

See O. 1, R. 10(2) I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1009

See O. XXI, R. 103 I. L. R. 43 Mad. 696

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

I. L. R. 34 All. 549, 572

2 Pat. L. J. 306

See HINDU LAW MORTGAGE.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1068

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 907

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, SS. 88 AND 89 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 321

1. ——— Mortgage suit—Al persons interested in the mortgage to be parties to the suit—Some only of the heirs of mortgagor joined as parties—Suit not bad for non-joinder of parties. The plaintiff, a mortgagee, sued to recover the mortgage debt by sale of mortgaged properties. The original mortgagor, who was a Mahomedan, having died before the suit, only his widow and daughters were made defendants. It was contended that the suit was bad for non-joinder of other heirs of the mortgagor, viz., his brother and sister's children. Held, that the non-joinder of parties was not fatal to the suit, inasmuch as the suit was properly constituted at the date of the plaint so as to enable the Court to adjudicate as between the parties impleaded. SHAHASAHEB v. SADASHIV SUTDU (1918).

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXXIV, r. 1 (Transfer of Property Act, 1882, s. 85)—contd.

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 575

2. ———— Mortgage suit—non-joinder of parties—joinder of parties after expiration of period of limitation. R. 9 of O 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is subordinate to r. 1 of O. XXXIV. A mortgage is indivisible and if all the parties entitled to a share in the money due on the mortgage are not upon the record the suit must be dismissed in its entirety. When a necessary party has not been impleaded at the time of the institution of the suit but has been brought on the record after the period of limitation has expired, the whole suit must be dismissed. When it is intended to sue in the name of a managing member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara, on account of a breach of contract made by a former managing member of the family, it must be clearly stated in the plaint that the suit is by that managing member It is not sufficient that he should be accidentally on the record as one out of many members of the family of whom several have been omitted. GIRWAR NARAIN MAHTON v. MUSSAMMAT MAKBUNESSA. . I Pat. L. J. 468

3. ———— Mortgage—Redemption

— [illegible]

m [illegible]

as [illegible]

a suit for redemption of a mortgage in favour of defendant No. 1. To this suit defendants Nos. 2 and 3 were added as parties in possession under O. XXIV, R 1, Civil Procedure Code, 1908. These defendants were not in possession through defendant No 1 and they claimed independently of the mortgage. A question being raised whether defendants Nos. 2 and 3 were necessary parties Held, that as these defendants claimed independently of the mortgage and against both the mortgagor and the mortgagee they could not be proper parties to the suit which was a redemption suit. SATAGAUDA APPANNA v. SATAPA (1919).

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 698

4. ———— Mortgage—Suit for sale—Intentional non-joinder of subsequent mortgagee—Effect of such non-joinder. Subsequently to the execution of a mortgage of a 4 biswa zamindari share in favour of A S, the mortgagor executed a further (usufructuary) mortgage of a portion of the same share in favour of A S. and his brother N.S. A S brought a suit for sale on the earlier mortgage, but without making N S a party [illegible]

[illegible]

sequent mortgage. ALAM SINGH v. GOKAL SINGH (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 424

———— O. XXXIV, r. 1; O. 1, r. 9—Parties to suit—Mortgage—Joint mortgage of separate properties—Suit barred as against one mortgagor—Remaining property liable for whole debt. The separate properties of two mortgagors were jointly mortgaged to secure one debt. The mortgagee sued for sale just within limitation, making one of the heirs of one mortgagor a party defendant, and stating that nothing had been heard of the other for twenty-five years. In the written statement it was pleaded that this heir was alive, but by that time the suit as against him was time-barred. Held, that the unimpleaded heir of the mortgagor was not a necessary party to the suit, and that the suit might be proceeded with against the other representative of the mortgagor and his separate property for the whole amount due on the mortgage. Jai Gobind v. Jas Ram, All W. N. (1898) 120, followed. Gendan Lal v. Babu Ram, 9 All. L. J. 86, distinguished. Imam Ali v. Baij Nath Ram Sahu, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 613; Hakim Lal v. Ram Lal, 6 C. L. J. 46; Krishna Ayyar v. Muthukumarasawmiya Pillai, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 217; Haro Kumari v. Eastern Mortgage Co., 7 C. L. J. 274; and Devendra Nath Sen v. Mirza Abdul Samad, 10 C. L. J. 150, referred to SANWAL SINGH v. GANESHI LAL (1913)

———— O. XXXIV, r. 1; O. 1, r. 9—contd.

I. L. R. 35 All. 441

———— A suit by the Kharta of a joint family to enforce a mortgage is valid even though the other members of the family are not impleaded and the Plaintiff has not expressly stated he is suing as Karta provided it is obvious for the pleading. JAG SAH v. RAM CHANDRA PRASAD

6 Pat. L. J. 640

———— O. XXXIV, rr. 1, 2, 3—Execution of decree—Payment of part of decretal amount into Court—Effect of payment as regards running of interest on the decree. Where money is paid into Court by the judgment-debtor in satisfaction of a decree, interest on the decree will cease from the date of payment in proportion to the amount paid although such amount may not in fact be the whole amount due under the decree. AMTUL HABIB v. MUHAMMAD YUSUF (1917) . . . .

I. L. R. 40 All. 125

———— O. XXXIV, rr. 1, 14—

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 727

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), ss. 61, 85 AND 90.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 927

———— O. XXXIV, r. 2 (Act IV of 1882, s. 86)—

See O. 2, R. 2 . I. L. R. 39 All. 669

———— Decree of first Court allowing redemption within six months of the date of the decree—Appeal by the judgment debtor against the decree and cross-objection by the decree-holder both dismissed—"Six months' time," whether to run from the date of the original decree or of the Appellate decree. A decree declared the right of the decree-holder to recover possession of certain property subject to the right of the judgment-debtor to redeem on payment of a certain sum within six months of the date of the decree. Against that decree the judgment-debtor appealed and [illegible] [illegible] and the decree of [illegible] within six months of [illegible] decree but from the [illegible] of the original decree into Court the sum necessary for the redemption. The decree-holder applied for execution of the decree: Held—That where in a suit on a mortgage the decree of the Appellate Court simply dismisses the appeal leaving the decree of the first Court untouched, the time for redemption runs from the date of the decree of the first Court. BASANTA KUMAR ADAK v. SRIMATI RADHA RANI DASI . . . . . 26 C. W. N. 440

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXXIV, r. 2, (Act IV of 1882, s. 86)—contd.

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 2, 3, 4 and 5—Lease to mortgagee—Transfer of equity of redemption—Preliminary decree on mortgage—Suit by transferee for rent due subsequently to due date, maintainability of. In a suit on a mortgage the amount due is calculated only up to the due date fixed in the preliminary decree, and a suit to recover the amount which becomes due after the due date is not barred. Where the mortgagee took a lease of the mortgaged property from the mortgagor and subsequently obtained a preliminary decree on the mortgage, held, that a suit by the transferee of the equity of redemption for rent accruing due subsequently to the due date fixed in the preliminary decree was maintainable. TARA CHAND MARWARI v BROJA GOPAL MUKHERJI. 5 Pat. L. J. 595

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 2 and 4—

See O. II, R. 2 . I. L. R. 39 All. 506

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 2 and 4, and appendix D, Forms 4, 7, 8, 9—Mortgage suit—Decree for sale—Default of payment—Subsequent interest after date fixed in decree—Right of mortgagee—Subsequent interest, whether payable on aggregate sum of principal, interest and costs—Rate of interest—Discretion of Court—Mortgage bond—Stipulation for enhanced interest after default at twelve per cent, whether penal. In a decree for sale on a mortgage, the decree-holder is, on default of payment by the mortgagor on the date fixed in the decree, entitled to subsequent interest on the aggregate amount of principal, interest and cost declared or found to be payable on that date; and such further interest should ordinarily be at the rate of six per cent. per annum, but the Court has a discretion in the matter. Sunder Koer v. Rai Sham Krishen, I. L. R. 34 Calc. 150, and Subbaraya Ravuthaminda Nainan v. Ponnusami Nadar, I. L. R. 21 Mad. 364, referred to. Where in a mortgage-bond there was a stipulation to pay enhanced interest at twelve per cent. on principal and interest on default of payment of the principal with interest at nine per cent. on a day fixed therein and where it appeared that the debts to discharge which the mortgage was executed carried interest at twelve per cent. and more: Held, that the stipulation for such enhanced interest was not penal and could be enforced. VENKATACHELAPATHY AYYAR v. THAVASI SERVAI (1918). . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 465

——— O. XXXIV, r. 3 (Act IV of 1882, s. 87)—

See MORTGAGE DECREE.
4 Pat. L. J. 347

——— Mortgagor's right to redeem by offering payment after the date fixed for the same, but before the final decree for foreclosure is passed. A preliminary decree for foreclosure was passed on 5th October 1917, and six months'

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXXIV, r. 3 (Act IV of 1882, s. 87)—contd.

time was allowed, i.e., up to 5th April 1918. On the 9th April 1918 the decree-holder applied to make the decree in the foreclosure suit final and notices were issued on the mortgagors fixing the 1st May 1918 as the date for passing the final decree. Before the final decree was passed, the mortgagors on the 15th April made an application to the Court to pay off the decretal amount. On the 1st May 1918, the Court rejected this application and passed the final decree: Held—That the mortgagors were entitled to redeem at any time before the final decree was passed. The right of the mortgagors to redeem was not extinguished until the final decree was passed. YSAF ALI v. KASIM ALI . . . 26 C. W. N. 532

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 3 and 5—

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 43 All. 469

——— Mortgage—Conditional decree for sale—Application for final decree—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. 1, Art. 181—An application is necessary for a final decree for foreclosure or sale. Plaintiff obtained a conditional decree for sale of certain property on the 6th July, 1908. In March, 1913 he applied for a final decree: Held, that the application was barred by Art. 181 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act, 1908. An application for such a final decree presented after the passing of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the Limitation Act, 1908, is governed by Art. 181 of the latter Act. BALA RAM NAIK v. KANHAI BHARAN MAHAPATRA
1 Pat. L. J. 364

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 3, 6—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 42 Calc. 294

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 3, 8—Extension of time for paying mortgage amount only upon good cause—Non-passing of a foreclosure decree, not a good cause for extension—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 115—No interference, even with an order passed without jurisdiction, if justice does not require. Extension of time for payment of the mortgage amount due under a decree in suits instituted either by the mortgagor or the mortgagee, can be given only where good cause is shown therefor and a party is not entitled to it as a matter of right, under O. XXXIV, rr. 3 and 8, of the Code of Civil Procedure. An extension of time cannot be granted on the sole ground that no order for foreclosure absolute has been passed. The High Court is not bound to interfere in revision with an order for extension of time wrongly passed. English practice referred to. MURUGESA MUDALY v. RAMASAMI CHETTY (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 882

——— O. XXXIV, r. 4 (Act IV of 1882, s. 88)—

See O. XXI, R. 2 . 5 Pat. L. J. 672

See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION.
2 Pat. L. J. 587

See MORTGAGE DECREE
4 Pat. L. J. 207

——— O. XXXIV, rr. 4, 5—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 42 Calc. 776

See O. XXI, R. 2 . 5 Pat. L. J. 672

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—— O. XXXIV. rr. 4, 5—contd.

—— Mortgage—Preliminary decree in favour of puisne mortgagee—allowing redemption of prior mortgage—Rights of puisne mortgagee on redemption to a decree absolute for sale of the property comprised in both mortgages. In a suit for sale by puisne mortgagees, the preliminary property which the mortgagees plaintiffs were entitled, in the event of non-payment, to bring to sale. Held, that the plaintiffs mortgagees, having paid the amount due on the prior mortgage, were entitled, notwithstanding this omission, to a final decree for sale of the property comprised in both mortgages. UDHISHTER SINGH v. KAUSILLA (1916) I. L. R. 38 All. 398

—— O. XXXIV, rr. 4, 5, 10—Suit for sale on a mortgage—Form of decree—Construction of decree—Costs—Appeal. A suit for sale on a mortgage was decreed by the Court of first instance, dismissed by the Court of first appeal, and again decreed by the High Court. In the judgment of the High Court it was stated. "We must allow the appeal, set aside the decree of the lower Appellate Court, and restore the decree of the Court of first instance with costs in all Courts." The decree stance restored. It went on to state. "And it is further ordered that the respondent do pay to the appellant Rs. 554-6-9, the amount of costs incurred by the latter in this Court and in the lower Appellate Court." Held, that in construing this decree it was open to the Court to consider, first, the nature of the suit, secondly, the judgment of awarding the costs incurred in the suit and up to the time of the final decree to be realized by sale of the mortgaged property. Maqbul Fatima v.

I. L. R. 40 All. 109

—— Mortgage—Decree for sale—Appeal by mortgagor—Appeal dismissed—Costs, how recoverable—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), ss. 6 and 7—Limitation—Minority—Minor plaintiffs represented by their mother. Held, that the question whether costs in a mortgagor's unsuccessful appeal against a decree in a suit for sale are recoverable from the mortgagor personally, or only, as part of the mortgage money, out of the property mortgaged, is a question in each case of the interpretation of the decree. Dambar Singh v. Kalyan Singh, I. L. R. 40 All 109, and Mohanya Ojha v. Ram Bahadur Singh, 16 C. W. N. 731, referred to. Held, also, that a Mahomedan mother cannot, as de facto guardian of her minor sons, give a valid discharge for any payment made to the minors. Imambandi v. Mutsaddi, I. L. R. 45 Calc. 818, referred to. Nor can she, as guardian ad litem, give such a discharge without the leave of the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—— O. XXXIV, rr. 4, 5, 10—contd.

Court. AMINA BIBI v. RAM SHANKAR MISRA (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 41 All. 473

—— O. XXXIV, rr. 4, 5, 14 and 15—Where a decree has been obtained to the effect that the plaintiff do get maintenance at a certain rate and that the allowance decreed will be a charge on certain properties named, the properties may be brought to sale in execution of the decree. There need not be a suit for sale. RAJA BRAJASUNDAR DEB v. SURAT KUMARI . . 2 Pat. L. J. 55

—— O. XXXIV, rr. 4, 5 ; O. XLI, r. 20—
See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 38 Calc. 913

—— O. XXXIV, r. 5 (Act IV of 1882, s. 89)—

See O XXIII, R. 3 . 2 Pat. L. J. 533

See O. XXXIV, R 4. 2 Pat. L. J. 55

I. L. R. 38 All. 398

I. L. R. 40 All. 109

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXI, R. 2. . 5 Pat. L. J. 672

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870), SCH. I, ART. 1 ; SCH. II, ART. 11. I. L. R. 35 All. 476

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 15B. I. L. R. 4[illegible]

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ARTS. 181, 182. I. L. R. 42 Bom. 309

See MORTGAGE DECREE.

See REDEMPTION . 4 Pat. L. J. 213

3 Pat. L. J. 490

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882,

ss. 85 AND 89 . I. L. R. 43 All. 204

ss. 88 AND 89 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 321

1. —— Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181, application under date fixed for payment being 28th January 1906. On 31st May 1909, he applied for the decree being made absolute and that application was granted. Against this the defendant appealed and the case was remanded on the 7th March 1910 Against the order of remand there was an appeal to the High Court, but the proceedings continued in the first Court and was disposed of on the 19th September 1910, the Court holding that the application for decree absolute was barred by limitation. On the 21st April 1911 the High Court dismissed the appeal against the order of remand and on the 16th May Appellate September

O. XXXIV
Art. 181. was barred by limitation under Art. 181 of the Limitation Act That the appeal to the lower Appellate Court against

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

————— O. XXXIV, r. 5 (Act IV of 1882, s. 89)—contd.

September 1910 was also barred by limitation. That s. 14 of the Limitation Act has no application to appeals and the present case does not come within s. 5. BENI SINGH v. BERHAMDEO SINGH (1915) . . . . 19 C. W. N. 473

2. ————— Application for decree absolute for sale on a mortgage—Limitation—Terminus a quo—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181. An application under O. XXXIV, r. 5 (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908), is an application in the suit and not an application in execution, and is governed, as regards limitation, by Art. 181 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908. Datto Atmaram Hasabnis v. Shankar Dattatraya, I. L. R. 38 Bom. 32, Amlook Chand Parrack, v. Sarat Chander Mukerjee, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 913, Ali Ahmad v. Naziran Bibi, I. L. R. 24 All. 542, and Udit Narain v. Jagan Nath, 1 All. L. J., 15, referred to. The right to make such an application accrues on the date when the time limited by the preliminary decree expires, unless such time has been extended by a Court of Appeal. The principle of the decision in Gaya Din v. Jhumman Lal, I. L. R. 37 All. 400, applied. MADHO RAM v. NIHAL SINGH (1915)

I. L. R. 38 All. 21

3. ————— Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181—Limitation—Decree for sale on mortgage—Appeal from preliminary decree—Application for decree absolute. Held, that in a suit for sale on a mortgage, if an appeal has been preferred from the preliminary decree, the decree which is to be made absolute is the decree of the final Court of Appeal. In such a case, therefore, limitation for an application for a decree absolute runs not from the expiry of the term fixed for payment by the original decree, but from the date of the decree of the final Court of Appeal. Shohrat Singh v. Bridgman, I. L. R. 4 All. 376, Muhammad Sulaiman Khan v. Muhammad Yar Khan, I. L. R. 11 All. 267, and Abdul Majid v. Jawahir Lal, I. L. R. 36 All. 350, referred to. Madho Ram v. Nihal Singh, I. L. R. 38 All. 21, overruled quoad hoc. GAJADHAR SINGH v. KISHAN JIWAN LAL (1917) . . I. L. R. 39 All. 641

4. ————— Suit for sale on a mortgage—Application for final decree—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181. An application for a final decree under O. XXXIV, r. 5, of the Code of Civil Procedure is an application in the suit, and not an application in execution: the limitation applicable is that prescribed by art. 181 of sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, and time begins to run, if there has been an appeal in the suit, from the date of the decree of the final Court of Appeal. Gajadhar Singh v. Kishan Jiwan Lal, I. L. R. 39 All. 641, referred to. NIZAM-UD-DIN SHAH v. BOHSA BHIM SEN (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 203

5. ————— Preliminary mortgage decree for sale—Non-payment into Court of decree amount within the time limited—Obligation on Court to pass a final decree for sale. O. XXXIV, r. 5, Civil Procedure Code, recognizes only one method of payment, viz., payment into Court of the amount fixed by a preliminary mortgage decree; hence, on default of payment into Court within the time fixed by the decree, the Court is bound on the application of the decree-holder to pass a final decree for sale. Jogendra Prasad Narain Singh, v. Gouri Shankar Prasad Saku, 2 Pat. L. J. 533, followed. Semble. If any payment had been made to the decree-holder in the interval and certified by Court under O. XXI, r. 2, Civil Procedure Code, credit may be given for the same at the time of passing the final decree. SINGA RAJA v. PETHU RAJA (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 61

6. ————— Act No. IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act), s. 89—Mortgage—Final decree for sale—Mortgagor's right not absolutely extinguished until sale. Under the present Code of Civil Procedure, which repeals s. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the mere passing of a final decree for sale under O. XXXIV, r. 5, does not extinguish the mortgagor's right until a sale has actually taken place in pursuance of the decree. SHAH MEHDI HASAN v. ISMAIL HASAN.

I. L. R. 42 All. 517

7. ————— Application for final decree—objection by defendants—objection not entertained and decrees made absolute—whether application in revision lies against the order. Where, in two suits on two mortgages, the plaintiff applied for a decree absolute under O. XXXIV, r. 5 (2), of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the defendants filed objections, held, that an application in revision did not lie to the High Court against an order declining to entertain the objections and making the decrees absolute. KUMAR GANGANAND SINGH v. RAI PIRTHI CHAND BAHADUR

5 Pat. L. J. 342

8. ————— Application for order absolute—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 181, such application after three years, if barred when there was an interim suspension of right to apply. A third mortgagee obtained a preliminary decree and the last date for payment was 31st July 1911. The payment not having been made, he made an application on the 2nd October 1915 to make the decree absolute. Prior to this the second mortgagee had instituted a suit to enforce his security, in which the High Court in its appellate judgment, dated the 10th March 1914, expressed the opinion that the third mortgagee could not sell the property before he had paid up the second mortgagee, and a payment was made by him to the second mortgagee on the 22nd May 1915: Held—That as the third mortgagee could not have made an application to have his decree made absolute between the 10th March 1914 and the 22nd May 1915, his right to apply for order absolute was temporarily suspended and was not revived till the 22nd May 1915. Therefore, assuming that Art. 181 of the Limitation Act applied his application, dated the 2nd October 1915, was not barred by limitation for not having been made within three years from the last date fixed for payment, i.e., from 31st July 1911. Pulteney v. Warren, 6 Ves., 73 (92) (1801) and East India Company v. Campion, 11 Bli. (N. S.) 158 (1837) referred to. Lakhan Chandra v. Madhu Sudan, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 209 (218) (1907), Nritvamoni v. Lakhan Chandra, I. L. R. 43 Calc. 660 (1916). Ranee Sarnamoyee v. Sorhi Mookhee, 12 M. I. A. 244 (1868) and Prannath v. Rookea Begum, 7

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXIV, r. 5 (Act IV of 1882, s. 89)—contd.

M. I. A. 323 (1859), followed. HEMENDRA MOHAN KHASNOBIS v. DHARANINATH CHANDA ROY
25 C. W. N. 376

———— O. XXXIV, r. 6, (Act IV of 1882 s. 90)—

See CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIII OF 1887) s. 21. . . I. L. R. 41 All. 384

See DECREE-HOLDER. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 677

See HINDU LAW (ALIENATION). I. L. R. 43 Mad. 421

See LIMITATION . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 294

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 40 Calc. 342
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 702
2 Pat. L. J. 51

See MORTGAGE DECREE 3 Pat. L. J. 649

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), SS. 16 AND 31.
I. L. R. 34 All. 106

1. ———— Application for decree over against the mortgagor—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 181. An application for a decree under the provisions of O. XXXIV, r. 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not an application for the execution of the original decree for sale, but is an application in the original suit for a new decree. Such an application is governed as to limitation by art. 181 of sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, and must be made within three years from the date when the right to apply accrued Bihari Lal v. Bisheshar Dayal, 9 A. L. J. 569, referred to MUHAMMAD ILTIFAT HUSAIN v. ALIM-UN-NISA BIBI (1918)
I. L. R. 40 All. 553

2. ———— Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 66—Mortgage—Application for personal decree against mortgagor—Limitation. A mortgage bond executed in 1902, provided that the money advanced on it was to be paid after the lapse of seven years and the interest was to be paid yearly. The mortgagee was given the option of suing either on default in the payment of interest or after the expiry of the term. He brought his suit in 1914, and obtained a decree under which he brought the mortgaged property to sale. The sale proceeds proving insufficient to satisfy the decree, he then applied under O XXXIV, r. 6, for a personal decree against the mortgagors. Held, that the application was not time-barred. Gaya Prasad v. Sher Ali, 15 A. L. J. 313, followed. MAKRAND SINGH v. KALLU SINGH (1919) . . . . I. L. R. 41 All. 581

3. ———— If a mortgage decree holder is unable to realise enough to pay off the amount due owing to some of the properties being in a Native State he is entitled to a personal decree. SAMANTA GAGARNATH MAHAPATRA v. LOKENATH SUKUL (1921) . 6 Pat. L. J. 106

4. ———— Mortgage—Decree over—Sale of mortgaged property, but not in execution of applicant's decree. A second mortgagee sued on his mortgage and obtained a final decree for sale of the mortgaged property. He did not put his decree into execution and made no attempt to get the property sold Subsequently, the first mortgagee obtained a decree for sale of the property, and the property was sold in satisfaction of that decree The second mortgagee then applied for a decree over under O XXXIV, r. 6, of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held, that he was not entitled to a decree over, as the mortgaged property had not been put to sale in execution of his decree. Kamla Prasad v Saiyed Ahmad, I. L. R. 31 All. 373, Muhammad Akbar v. Munshi Ram, Weekly Notes, 1899, p 208 and Badri Das v. Inayat Khan, I. L. R. 22 All 404, followed. Kedar Nath v Chandu Mal, I L. R. 26 All. 25, Pirbhu Narain Singh v. Amir Singh, I L R. 29 All. 369, and Jeuna Bahu v Parmeshwar Narain Mahtha, I. L. R. 47 Calc 370, distinguished. DARBARI MAL v MULA SINGH . I. L. R. 42 All. 519

5. ———— Mortgage suit—small portion of property, omitted from plaint. The omission to include in the plaint a portion of the mortgaged property does not debar the plaintiff in a mortgage suit from applying for an order under O. XXXIV, r 6, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, provided that the omission was not intended to, and has not prejudiced the Judgment-debtor. GOPAL PANDA v. BAIKUNTHA MAHAPATRA.
2 Pat. L. J. 538

———— O. XXXIV, r. 7—

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE
26 C. W. N. 123

———— O. XXXIV, r. 8 (Act IV of 1882 s. 93)—

See O. XXXIV, R. 3
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 882

See s 148 . . I. L. R. 34 All. 388

1. ———— Decree for sale on a mortgage conditioned on redemption of prior mortgages—Power of Court to extend time for payment of redemption money When a suit for sale by a subsequent mortgagee became by reason of the intervention of a prior mortgagee also a suit for redemption of the prior mortgage and a decree was passed accordingly, it was held that the Court had power under O. XXXIV, r. 8, to extend the time for payment of the sum found necessary to redeem the prior mortgage, the plaintiffs having through a bonâ fide mistake paid into Court an insufficient amount. KALIAN v. SADHO LAL (1912)
I. L. R. 35 All. 116

2. ———— Proviso—Preliminary mortgage-decree by Appellate Court—Power to extend time for payment, only for first Court—Order of extension by Appellate Court—Appeal against,
. V
No
ayment of the mortgage-amount due under a decree; such an order is not a decree within s. 2, cl. (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure. Even in cases where the preliminary mortgage-decree is passed by the Appellate Court, it is only the Court of first instance that can extend time for payment under O. XXXIV, r. 8, proviso, of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Venkatakrishna Ayyar v. Thiagaraya Chetti, I. L. R. 23 Mad. 521, Sheo-

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXXIV, r. 8 (Act IV of 1882, s. 93)—contd.

narain v. Chunni Lal, I. L. R. 23 All. 88, and Ramdhani Sahu v. Lalit Singh, I. L. R. 31 All. 328, followed. S. 148 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) does not enable a Court to extend time for doing acts allowed by a decree. Het Singh v. Tika Ram, 9 All. L. J. 381 and Suranjan Singh v. Rama Bahal Lal, 17 Ind. C. 912, followed. DHARMARAJA AYYAR v. SRINIVASA MUDALIAR (1915) . . . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 876

3. ——— Suit for redemption—Decree modified in appeal—Application to postpone day fixed for payment. Held, that the power given by the proviso to O. XXXIV, r. 8 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is a power exercisable by the Court which has to execute the decree. Hence in the case of a decree passed by an Appellate Court an application for postponement of the day fixed for payment must be made to the Court of first instance, and not to the Court which passed the decree. Ram Dhani Sahu v. Lalit Singh, I. L. R. 31 All. 328, and Dharmaraja Ayyar v. K. G. Srinivasa Mudaliar, I. L. R. 39 Mad. 876, followed. BENI PRASAD v. HARNAM DAS (1917) I. L. R. 39 All. 396

4. ——— Prior and subsequent mortgages—Suit and sale of mortgaged property by prior mortgagee—Subsequent suit for sale by puisne mortgagee not impleaded in former suit—Court not competent to extend time limited for payment of purchase money to auction purchaser. Held, that a suit by a puisne mortgagee, who had not been made a party to the prior mortgagee's suit in the course of which the mortgaged property had been sold by auction, to pay off the auction purchaser and bring the mortgaged property to sale, is not quoad the auction purchaser a suit for redemption, and the Court has no power under O. XXXIV, r. 8, to extend the time limited for payment of whatever may have been found due to the auction purchaser. Kalian v. Sadho Lal, I. L. R. 35 All., 116, distinguished. Idumba Parayan v. Pethi Reddi, I. L. R. 43 Mad. 357, dissented from. NAND KUNWAR v. SUJAN SINGH . I. L. R. 43 All. 25

5. ——— Partition suit decree for recovery of plaintiff's share on payment to alienees on a certain date—Payment on subsequent date—Jurisdiction of Court to extend time for payment—Construction of decree. A decree in a suit for partition provided inter alia that the plaintiffs could recover certain properties from the alienees on payment of a sum of money into Court by a certain date, without any provision as to effect of non-payment. Plaintiffs, however, paid the money on a subsequent date. Held, that the decree was in terms and in effect one for redemption; and that the Court had jurisdiction under O. XXXIV, r. 8, to extend the time for payment. IDUMBA PARAYAN v. PETHI REDDI (1920) I. L. R. 43 Mad. 357

——— O. XXXIV, r. 10—

See O. XXXIV, R. 4 I. L. R. 40 All. 109

——— O. XXXIV, r. 14 (Act IV of 1882, s. 100)—

See O. II, R. 2 . I. L. R. 36 All. 264

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXXIV, r. 14 (Act IV of 1882, s. 100)—contd.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE. 2 Pat. L. J. 197

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT, 1908, s. 5. . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 114

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 42 Calc. 780
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 377

See s. 145 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 327

See O. II, R. 2 . I. L. R. 36 All. 264

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, s. 99. I. L. R. 36 All. 516

1. ——— Execution of decree—Usufructuary mortgage—Suit for possession of mortgaged property—Decree for possession and costs—Execution for costs by attachment of part of the mortgaged property. Certain usufructuary mortgagees suing for possession of the mortgaged property, which had not been delivered to them, obtained a decree for possession and for costs. In execution of their decree for costs, the mortgagees applied for attachment of part of the mortgage property. Held, that this application was not barred by the provisions of O. XXXIV, r. 14, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Khiarajmal v. Daim, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 296, distinguished. Muhammad Abdul Rashid Khan v. Dilsukh Rai, I. L. R. 27 All. 517, referred to. HARIBANS RAI v. SRI NIWAS NAIK (1913) . . I. L. R. 35 All. 518

2. ——— Transfer of Property Act (Act IV of 1882), s. 68—Execution of decree—Decree against heirs of deceased debtor—Execution sought against property once subject to a mortgage which had become time-barred. Held, that a decree in a suit under s. 68 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, against the heirs of a deceased mortgagee, as such heirs, for payment of money originally due under a mortgage, which, however, had become unenforceable by lapse of time, could be executed against any property of the deceased in the hands of the heirs, including the property once the subject of the mortgage, and that the bar of O. XXXIV, r. 14 of the Code of Civil Procedure did not apply. Madho Prasad v. Debi Dial, All. W. N. 1891, page 168, Arunachalam Chetti v. Ayyavayyan, I. L. R. 21 Mad. 476, Khub Chand v. Kalian Das, I. L. R. 1 All. 240, Ponnappa Pillai v. Pappuvayyangar, I. L. R. 4 Mad. 1, Ganesh Singh v. Debi Singh, I. L. R. 32 All. 377, Madho Prasad Singh v. Baij Nath, All. W. N., 1905, page 152, Kishan Lal v. Umrao Singh, I. L. R. 30 All. 146, and Indarpal Singh v. Mewa Lal, I. L. R. 36 All. 264, referred to. CHEDI LAL v. SAADAT-UN-NISSA BIBI (1916) I. L. R. 39 All. 36

2(a). ——— Under s. 145 of the Civil Procedure Code, a party who has obtained a decree for costs in Privy Council can proceed by application to realise the amount of costs decreed against the surety (for the judgment-debtor) personally, but not against the property which he had charged under s. 602 of the old Civil Procedure Code. Even under O. 34, r. 14, of the Civil Procedure Code, which has replaced s. 99 of the Transfer of Property Act, the properties charged cannot be sold except by instituting a mortgage suit. MUSSAMMAT CHANDRABATI v. MADHO PROSAD . 19 C. W. N. 17

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XXXIV, r. 14 (Act IV of 1882, s. 100)—contd.

3. ——— Usufructuary mortgage—Possession not given to mortgagee—Suit for, possession compromised, mortgagee taking a simple money decree—Sale of mortgaged property. A usufructuary mortgagee who had not obtained possession of the mortgaged property brought a suit for possession. The suit was compromised and by consent a simple money decree was passed in favour of the mortgagee. Held, that, the decree being a decree passed on a compromise, the mortgagee was not precluded from bringing the mortgaged property to sale in execution thereof. Madho Prasad Singh v. Baij Nath, All. Weekly Notes (1905) 152, Hem Ban v. Bihari Gir, I. L. R. 28 All. 58, and Narsingh Das v. Munna, 6 A. L. J. 731, distinguished. Rai Kashi Pershad Singh v. Babu Duleep Narain Sahu, 8 C. W. N. 261, followed. GANESH SINGH v. DEBI SINGH (1910)

I. L. R. 32 All. 377

4. ——— Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 99—Repeal—Decree on mortgage—Execution sale—Proceeds insufficient to satisfy decree—Attachment of mortgagor's other property comprised in redemption decree for the recovery of the balance—Property attached to be sold. H and G mortgaged their property H to R who also held got a redemption decree against R with respect to property B. In execution of R's decree, property A was sold but the sale-proceeds were not sufficient to satisfy the decretal debt. R, thereupon, sought to recover the balance by execution against property B and the said property was attached. After Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) in so far as it repealed s. 99 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) and substituted in its place O. XXXIV, r. 14, merely effected a change of procedure in the manner in which mortgaged property has to be realized in execution of money decrees and, therefore, the statutory rule in force for the purpose of the execution of the unsatisfied portion of the decree on mortgage was the rule contained in O. XXXIV of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). R was, therefore, entitled to an order that the attached property B be sold in execution of his decree with respect to property A. BAI GANGA v. RAJARAM ATMARAM (1911)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 248

5. ——— Charge on immoveable property credited by a money-decree—Execution proceedings of the decree—Charged property can be sold in execution—No separate suit for bringing the property to sale necessary. A decree for money directed the defendant to pay a sum of money to plaintiffs, and further declared a first charge and a lien on certain immoveable property of the defendant. In execution of the decree the plaintiffs applied to sell the property charged. Held, by SHAH, J. agreeing with HEATON, J. (PRATT, J. dissenting) that the plaintiffs had the right to bring the property charged to sale in execution proceedings; and that no separate suit for the sale of the property was necessary. AMBALAL BAPUBHAI v. NARAYAN TATYABA (1919)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 631

6. ——— Usufructuary mortgage comprising (1) a fixed rate holding and (2) a right to receive offerings at a temple. Subsequent agreement between mortgagor and mortgagee for payment by former of a fixed sum instead of the offerings—Decree for arrears—Execution of decree—"Claim arising under the mortgage." The property comprised in a usufructuary mortgage consisted of (i) a fixed rate holding and (ii) of the right to receive certain offerings at a temple. Inasmuch, however, as the mortgagee was a Mahomedan, a subsequent agreement was entered into between the parties whereby the mortgagor bound herself to pay annually a fixed sum of money in lieu of the offerings and also, in case of default, to execution of this decree he attached the mort-as the claim under the subsequent agreement was one arising under the original contract of mortgage within the meaning of O. XXXIV, r. 14, of the Code of Civil Procedure. Haribans Rai v. Sri Niwas Naik, I. L. R. 35 All. 518, distinguished. KADMA PASIN v. MUHAMMAD ALI (1919)

I. L. R. 41 All. 399

7. ——— Instalment decree —Failure to pay one instalment—Darkhast to recover amount of the instalment by sale of a portion of the property mortgaged—Premature darkhast. A decree passed on a mortgage was made payable in instalments and provided that if any two instalments remained unpaid till six months after the date of the second instalment, the whole amount of the ment by sale of a part of the mortgaged property.— Held, that the application was premature, in view of the precise terms of the decree itself and of the principles underlying O. XXXIV, r. 14, of the Civil Procedure Code, which showed that where a mort-

8. ——— Mortgage—Property mortgaged with possession—Simultaneous execution of rent note by mortgagor—Decree obtained by mortgagee on the rent-note—Execution of the decree by sale of mortgaged property—Claim arising out of mortgage transaction—Mortgagee's right to bring the mortgaged property to sale otherwise than by suit.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXIV, r. 14 (Act IV of 1882, s. 100)—contd.

One H mortgaged with possession his property to F and on the same date executed a rent note in favour of F for a period of twelve months. H having failed to pay the rent under the rent note, the mortgagee F filed a suit and obtained a decree for the rent due. The mortgagee sought to execute the decree by sale of the mortgagor's equity of redemption in the mortgaged property. It was contended that the mortgagee could not be allowed to bring the mortgaged property to sale otherwise than by instituting a suit for sale in enforcement of the mortgage under O. XXXIV, r. 14 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. Held, upholding the contention, that on the facts of the case, the claim on which the mortgagee got a decree was really a decree for payment of money in satisfaction of the claim arising out of the mortgage and therefore fell under O. XXXIV, r. 14 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. IBRAHIM walad GOOLAM v. NIHALCHAND (1919) . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 366

9. ———— Mortgage—Suit on mortgage, but only simple money decree given—Execution of decree. O. XXXIV, r. 14, of the Code of the Civil Procedure does not apply when the mortgagee, having already brought a suit upon his mortgage, has obtained only a simple money decree on the finding that his mortgage was not legally enforceable. On such a decree execution can be had against any property of the judgment-debtor. Chedi Lal v. Saadat-un-nissa Bibi, I. L. R. 39 All. 36, followed. SURAJ NARAYAN SINGH v. JAGBALI SHUKUL . . I. L. R. 42 All. 566

10. ———— Suit arising out of a mortgage referred to arbitration—Award ignoring the mortgage and giving a simple money decree—Decree held to be executable against the property formerly mortgaged. The parties to a suit based on a mortgage bond referred the matters in dispute between them to arbitration. The arbitrator, apparently, with the agreement of the parties, treated the mortgage as no longer in existence, or as no longer effective as a valid security, and made an award which resulted in a simple money decree in favour of the mortgagees. Held that in the circumstances this decree was not a decree in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage within the meaning of r. 14 of O. XXXIV of the Code of Civil Procedure which would preclude the decree-holder from bringing the property once the subject of his mortgage to sale in execution thereof. Chedi Lal v. Saadat-un-nissa Bibi, I. L. R. 39 All. 36, and Suraj Narain Singh v. Jagbali Shukul, I. L. R. 42 All. 566, referred to. TANSUKH RAI v. SRI GOPAL . I. L. R. 43 All. 677

———— O. XXXIV, rr. 14, 15—

See O. XXXIV, R. 4 2 Pat. L. J. 255

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 530

———— O. XXXIV, r. 15—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT, 1887, s. 23 . . 5 Pat. L. J. 248

———— O. XXXVI (1882 Code ss. 527 to 536)—Where a special case is stated by consent it cannot be reopened unless all parties consent. MONIE v. SCOTT

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 283

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

————O. XXXVII, r. 2 (1882 Code s. 532)

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 735

———— O. XXXVIII (1882 Code ss. 477, 490)—Order to attach before judgment—Attachment effected after decree—Alienation after attachment validity of—O. XXI, r. 57, applicability of to attachment before judgment. An attachment ordered before judgment invalidates an alienation made after the property is actually attached in pursuance of the order even though the actual attachment was made after the passing of the decree. O. XXI, r. 57, Civil Procedure Code, has no application to attachments before judgment. Hence an attachment before judgment does not cease to have effect because of the dismissal of subsequent application for execution for default of prosecution. Bavuddin Sahib v. Arunachala Mudali, 26 M. L. J. 215, and Kosuri Suraparaju v. Mandapaka Narasimham, 26 I. C. 81, followed. A private purchaser from the judgment-debtor pending an attachment has no right of suit for damages on the ground that the decree was satisfied and became unexecutable until he is damnified by any execution of the decree. VENKATASUBBIAH v. VENKATA SESHAIYA (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 1

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 2 (1882 Code s. 479)—Arrest of defendant before judgment—Deposit of money in Court—Right of the plaintiff to the amount on obtaining decree—Rights of Official Receiver in insolvency and of other attaching creditors of the defendant. The defendant was arrested before judgment and was ordered to be released from custody on his depositing in Court a sum of money sufficient to meet the plaintiff's claim in the suit, under O. XXXVIII, r. 2, of the Civil Procedure Code. There was subsequently an attachment of the money by a decree-holder and an adjudication of the defendant as an insolvent. Held, that the money was paid into Court to the general credit of the action and charged with a lien in favour of the plaintiff on the latter obtaining a decree in his favour; and that the attaching creditor's and the Official Receiver's claims were subject to this lien. RAMIAH AIYAR v. GOPALIER (1918) . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1053

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 3 (1882 Code s. 480)

See s. 135

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 272

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 5 (1882 Code s. 483)—

See s. 27 . . . 26 C. W. N. 169

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 46 Calc. 245

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 73 I. L. R. 37 All. 575

O. 21. r. 63 I. L. R. 41 Mad. 849

1. ———— Attachment before judgment—Money decree—Death of judgment-debtor—Property passing by survivorship to his co-parcener—Subsequent execution of decree—Right of survivorship not defeated by execution. In 1906 the plaintiff obtained a money decree against B, having first obtained attachment before judgment of certain property which was joint-family property. In 1907 B died while joint with defendant 2. The plaintiff applied to execute the decree in 1909 and again in 1911. The lower Courts dismissed the application on the ground that the title of defendant 2 to the property by survivorship was not defeated by the attachment before judgment. The plaintiff having appealed. Held, that the attachment before judgment did not defeat the right of defendant 2 by survivorship; and that the plaintiff had taken no measure to which could be attributed the effect of defeating that right. SUBRAO MANGESH v. MAHADEVI (1913)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

———— O. XXXVII, r. 5—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 105

2. ———— Application for attachment before judgment—Summons to defendant to furnish security—Money paid into Court—Subsequent insolvency of defendant—Plaintiff's right over the deposit—No charge for the decree amount—Right of the Official Assignee. When, on an application made by the plaintiff under O. XXXVIII, r. 5 of the Code of Civil Procedure for attachment before judgment of certain properties belonging to the defendant, the Court issued summons to the defendant to furnish security for a certain amount or to show cause against it and further ordered that certain goods belonging to the defendant should be attached until further notice, and the defendant paid into Court the amount specified in the summons but subsequently became an insolvent. Held, that the plaintiff had no charge on the money paid into Court as against the Official Assignee of the insolvent. ERRIKULAPPA CHETTY v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, MADRAS (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 903

3. ———— Attachment before judgment—A mere agreement to sell property—Not sufficient to prove intent to defraud—Court must be satisfied on additional circumstances. Before an order for attachment before judgment can be made, the Court must be satisfied by an affidavit or otherwise, that the defendant with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him is about to dispose of the whole or any part of his property; but from a mere agreement to sell a portion of his property by the defendant it cannot be presumed that he actually had that intention. There must be additional circumstances before the Court can be satisfied that such an intention exists. NOWROJI (SARDAR) PUDAMJI v. THE DECCAN BANK, LIMITED (1921)
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1256

———— O. XXXVIII, rr. 5 to 11—
See ANTE . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 1

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 5; O. XXXIX, r. 1, s. 94—Injunction—Malikana dues. One M. I. mortgaged malikana dues from certain villages to one N. N. sued on his mortgage and obtained an order absolute for sale of the property. Later, he obtained an injunction restraining the judgment-debtor from receiving the malikana dues. Held, that the Court below was not justified in either attaching the malikana dues or restraining the judgment-debtor by injunction from receiving it inasmuch as all that the decree-holder was entitled to do under his decree, was to have the property sold. MUHAMMAD INAMULLAH KHAN v. NARAIN DAS (1915) . . . I. L. R. 37 All. 423

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 5, ss. 115, 145—Attachment before judgment—Surety for defendant—Death of defendant before hearing—Legal representative brought on record—Application by surety for discharge, whether premature. The petitioner plaintiff having obtained an attachment before judgment against the defendant the opponent stood surety for the defendant whereupon the attachment was raised. The defendant died before the hearing of the suit and his widow was immediately brought on record as his legal representative. The surety afterwards applied to the Court for his discharge on the ground of the death of the defendant. The lower Court ordered that the ings had not come to an end, because they had been revived by the substitution of the widow of the defendant and the stage had not been reached at which the liability of the surety could be decided. CHANDULAL DALSUKHRAM v. JESHANGBHAI CHHOTALAL (1917) . . . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 402

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 6 (1882 Code s. 485)—
See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 613

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 8 (1882 Code s. 487)—
See s. 73 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 575
See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 13.
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 23

———— O. XXXVIII, r. 9 (1882 Code s. 488)—
See ATTACHMENT
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 448

———— O. XXXVIII, rr. 9 and 11—
See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 780

———— O. XXXIX, r. 1 (1882 Code s. 492)—
See O. XXXVIII, R. 5
I. L. R. 37 All. 423
See s. 151 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 456
See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1001

1. ———— "Wrongfully sold in execution of a decree"—Temporary injunction—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 492—Act No. X of 1877, s. 492—Act No. VIII of 1859, s. 92. Held, that when the words "wrongfully sold in execution of a decree" were added by the Legislature to the Civil Procedure Code of 1877, it was clearly intended that an injunction might be granted when property which the claimant claimed to be his was in danger of being sold in execution of a decree against another person or even against himself. In the matter of the petition of Chanda Bibi, I. L. R. 26 All. 311, and Meghraj Singh v. Lala Mal, 1 All. L. J. 312 (Reporter's Diary), overruled. Brojendra Kumar Rai Chowdhuri v. Rup Lal Doss, I. L. R. 12 Calc. 515, Ganga Nand v. Balgobind Das, All. Weekly Notes (1884), 319, and Kripa Dayal v. Rani Kishori, I. L. R. 10 All. 80, followed. ABDULLA KHAN v. BANKE LAL (1910) I. L. R. 33 All. 79

2. ———— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 211—Temporary injunction—What Courts bound to consider before granting—Debutter estate—Decision against previous shebait, effect of, on succeeding shebaits—Order passed in

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XXXIX, r. 1 (1882 Code s. 492)—contd.

execution case disallowing objection, effect of, on successive shebaits—Contingent right—Suit for declaration of, if lies. The appellants obtained a decree which was ultimately affirmed by the Privy Council against P, the shebait, representing a debutter estate, for expenses incurred by their father who was the shebait before P in carrying on the worship of the idol and in the course of a litigation for establishing his title to the shebaitship which was challenged by P. An application for execution of this decree was opposed by P who suggested that the decree-holders should get Rs. 1,500 per year out of the rents and profits of the debutter estate but the Subordinate Judge disallowed the objection on 3rd December 1910. On 12th August 1911 the respondents, the brother's son and the brother's grandson, respectively, of P, instituted a suit against the appellants and other members of the family making P also a party defendant for a declaration of their future rights to the debutter property as also for a declaration that that property was not liable to sale in execution of the decree obtained by the appellants. An application made on the same day to have the execution of the said decree stayed was refused by the Subordinate Judge. On 14th August 1911 the plaintiffs applied under O. XXXIX, r. 1, for the issue of a temporary injunction to stay the sale in execution of the said decree and the Subordinate Judge granted the injunction. Held, that the order granting injunction was wrong and improper. Before granting the injunction the Court was bound to consider how far there was any possibility of plaintiffs succeeding in the suit. Preston v. Luck, L. R. 27 Ch. D. 497, 505, relied on. The decision in the previous suit which was contested by P as shebait of the debutter estate was binding on all successive shebaits. The order passed by the Subordinate Judge in the execution case on the 3rd December 1910, was an order under the provisions of s. 244, Civil Procedure Code, 1882, and would be binding on all successive shebaits. The contingent interest which the plaintiffs claimed in shebaitship was very remote and a person cannot sue for a declaration of his right unless he has an existing right and a mere contingent right which may never ripen into an acutal existing right is not sufficient to ground an action for such declaration. NAGENDRA NATH MUKERJEE v. PROBAL CHANDRA MUKERJEE (1912) . . 17 C. W. N. 964

3. ——— Execution of decree—Limitation—Temporary injunction granted by High Court on appeal "pending final decision of the suit"—Meaning of "final decision." A stay of execution granted by the High Court on appeal "pending the final decision of the suit" does not imply that execution is to be suspended until the period of limitation for an appeal has expired or until such appeal has been decided, but means no more than until the decision of the suit by the court of first instance. So held by PIGGOT, J., with whom WALSH, J., agreed with hesitation, being inclined to the view that the words "pending the final decision of the suit" meant until the disposal of the suit by a final unappealable order. Shaikh Moheeooddeen v. Shaikh Ahmed Hossein, 14 W. R., C. R., 384, Balkaran Rai v. Gobind Nath Tiwari, I. L. R. 12 All. 129, and Shri Vishwambhar Pandit v. Shri Vasudeo Pandit, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 708, referred to. MADHO PRASAD v. DRAUPADI BIBI . . . . I. L. R. 43 All. 383

4. ——— Injunction to restrain marriage of principal defendant pending the decision of an appeal in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights. In this case the High Court refused to grant to the plaintiff appellant in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights a temporary injunction against the principal defendant, or against the other defendants, her relations, in restraint of the marriage of the principal defendant pending the hearing of the plaintiff's appeal. MAHAMMAD YAMIN v. RAZIA BEGAM

I. L. R. 42 All. 134

——— O. XXXIX, rr. 1 and 7—What justifies relief under these sections. Held, that an application by the defendants for an injunction restraining the plaintiff, pending the disposal of the suit, from interfering with the defendant's right to worship in, and to free access to the temples which were the subject matter of the suit, did not fall within O. XXXIX, r. 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. KAROBI CHAND v. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH . . 1 Pat. L. J. 560.

——— O. XXXIX, r. 1 ; O. XLIII, r. 1—Temporary injunction—Order refusing injunction—Appeal. Held, that an appeal lies from an order refusing, as well as from one granting a temporary injunction. LACHMI NARAIN v. RAM CHARAN DAS (1913) . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 425

——— O. XXXIX, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 493)—

See O. XLIII, R. 1. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 907

See APPRAISEMENT. . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1086

See INJUNCTION I. L. R. 41 Mad. 208
I. L. R. 42 All. 98

——— Interlocutory injunction—Mandatory injunction—Power of Court to grant, pending trial. The defendants erected on their own land a screen for blocking up the openings which the plaintiff had made in his wall. The plaintiff filed a suit to have the screen removed; and pending the suit applied for and obtained a mandatory injunction directing the defendants to remove the screen. The defendants applied to the High Court. Held, setting aside the order, that the lower Court had acted illegally and with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction, in granting the mandatory injunction. Quære: Whether a mandatory injunction can be considered as a "temporary" injunction under O. XXXIX, r. 2, of the Code of Civil Procedure. RASUL KARIM v. PIRUBHAI AMIRBHAI (1914)

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 381

——— O. XXXIX, r. 2, s. 24—Temporary injunction by Munsif—Suit transferred to the file of District Judge after injunction by Munsif—Breach of injunction after transfer—Jurisdiction of District Judge to punish for contempt—Bengal Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887). In case of breach of disobedience of a temporary injunction, the Court which actually granted the injunction may punish the contempt under O. XXXIX, r. 2 (3). These is nothing in s. 24 of the Civil Procedure Code or in Chap. IV of the Bengal Civil Courts Act authorising, either expressly or by necessary implication, a Court to which the suit may be transferred but ... ise the ... 2 (3).

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XXXIX, r. 2, s. 24—contd.

... 18 C. W. N. 470

———— O. XXXIX, r. 7 (1882 Code, s. 499)—Inspection of property—Preparation of inventory, Court if may order—Interlocutory order—Interference on revision—Receiver, injunction, or inspection, whether proper remedy—Practice. Whenever in respect of the property of one individual a right accrues to another which cannot be measured without inspection of the subject of the property, the Court is competent to compel the proprietor to permit that inspection as indispensable for administering the justice of the case. Such inspection is no invasion of his rights but a legal consequence of the obligations affecting the property and the proprietor. The power to direct an inspection includes the power to direct the preparation of an inventory, if the Court is of opinion that the preparation of an inventory is essential for the proper decision of the case. But in directing an inspection and preparation of an inventory, the matter should be so ordered as to cause the least inconvenience to the owner. AMJAD ALI v. ALI HUSSAIN JOHAR (1910)
15 C. W. N. 353

———— O. XXIX, r. 10 (1882 Code, s. 502)—

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT. s. 12.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 20

———— O. XL, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 503)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

S. 60 (1) . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 302

S. 151 . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 433

See COMMON MANAGER.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 986

See RECEIVER I. L. R. 40 Calc. 862
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 124
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 18
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 70
3 Pat. L. J. 573
5 Pat. L. J. 513
14 C. W. N. 248

———— Injunction—Receiver—Application for temporary injunction as to property in suit—Order putting each party in possession of part pending the suit The defendants in a suit for partition made an application to the Court touching the custody of the property, the subject-matter of the suit. The Court thereupon directed that until the determination of the suit the plain- ...

legal order and a proper order in the circumstances, and not the less so because the Court had acted suo motu. The order practically amounted to one under O. XL, r. 1, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. DAN PRASAD v. GOPI KISHAN (1913)
I. L. R. 36 All. 19

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XL, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 503)—contd.

———— A creditor put into possession for the purpose of realising his debt is not protected by this order and the Court can appoint a Receiver of the property. HITENDRA SINGH v. MAHARAJA SIR RUMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR . . . . 6 Pat. L. J. 37 ———— The words "just and convenient" in O. XL, r. 1, are derived from ...

cretion and one should not be appointed supersession of a bonâ fide possessor of the property in controversy unless there is some substantial ground for interference. SRIMATI MATHURIA DEBYA v. SHIBDAYAL SINGH HAZARI . 14 C. W. N. 252 ———— Receiver—Suit for possession and mesne profits—Mere poverty of defendant not adequate ground for appointing a receiver and removing the defendant from possession. A Muhammadan lady settled a considerable amount of immoveable property on trustees for certain specified purposes and the trustees were put in possession. After the death of the settlor a suit for possession of the trust property was brought ...

trust property itself. Held, ... alleged for the appointment of a receiver were insufficient. The principles laid down in Srimati Prosonomoyi Devi v. Beni Madhab Rai, I. L. R. 5 All. 556, followed MUHAMMAD ASKARI v. NISAR HUSAIN . . . I. L. R. 43 All. 311

———— O. XL, rr. 1 and 4—

See RECEIVER . 5 Pat. L. J. 97

———— O. XL, rr. 1 and 4, O. XLII, r. 1—Receiver whether decision declaring liability of, is appealable—Remedy for recovery of dues by Receiver, after handing over of estate—appointment of Receiver by appellate court this succession by first court—whether successor is officer of first court or High Court. An order declaring a Receiver liable in ...

A Receiver who has ... estate must institute a separate suit for recovery of sums due to him in respect of salary, allowances, ...

Receiver, held, that the successor was ... the first court and not of the High Court, and, therefore, his accounts were subject to examination by the first court. The High Court declined to examine them. GANESH LALL v. KUMAR SATYA NARAYAN SINGH . . . 4 Pat L. J. 636

———— O. XL, r. 1, and O. XLIII, r. 1—

See RECEIVER . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 18

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XL. r. 1, and O. XLIII, r. 1—contd.

——— Receiver, misappropriation of income by—Property, meaning of—Wilful default, meaning of—Death of receiver—Application against legal representatives, if maintainable. Under O. XL, r. 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), an application can be made for execution being levied against the properties of a receiver in the hands of his legal representatives, in respect of his misappropriation of the income of the properties entrusted to his charge. RAMAN NAIR v. GOPALA MENON (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 584

——— O. XLI, rr. 1 and 3 ; O. XLII, r. 1—Rules of the High Court, chapter III, r. 2—Second appeal—Memorandum of appeal not accompanied by a copy of the judgment of the court of first instance—Court not competent to dispense with copy of judgment—Act No. IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act), s. 5. R. 2 of Chapter III of the rules of the High Court must be taken to have been made under the provisions of s. 122 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Both that rule and r. 1 of O. XLI of the Code of Civil Procedure, as revised by the High Court, requiring the filing of a copy of the first Court's judgment along with a memorandum of second appeal, are imperative. A memorandum of appeal from an appellate decree which is not accompanied by a copy of the judgment of the court of first instance is not a valid memorandum, and the court to which it is presented has no alternative but to reject it or to return it to the appellant to be put in order. The court to which such a memorandum of appeal is presented cannot dispense with the filing of a copy of the judgment of the court of first instance. Chunni Lal Jethabhai v. Barot Dahyabhai Amulakh, I. L. R. 32 Bom., 14, distinguished. Narsingh Sahai v. Sheo Prasad, I. L. R. 40 All. 1, referred to by SULAIMAN, J. BHAIRON GHULAM v. RAM AUTAR SINGH

I. L. R. 43 All. 660

——— O. XLI, rr. 1 and 23—Remand—Decision on preliminary point, whether finding of undue influence is. One R gave a lease to F which was to expire in 1913. In 1911 R gave a lease of the same land to G who gave notice of the lease to F. On the expiry of F's lease G endeavoured to obtain possession but failed. He found that F had obtained a renewal of the first lease in 1913. G sued for recovery of possession. It was pleaded, inter alia, first that G's lease had been obtained by deception, and secondly, that it had been obtained by undue influence. The first court found for the defendant on the second plea and dismissed the suit. The appellate court reversed the finding of the first court and remanded the case for trial of the first plea. Defendants appealed. Held, that the decision of the issue of undue influence made it unnecessary to consider the other issues in the case and that, therefore, the decision amounted to a decision on a preliminary point within the meaning of O. XLI, r. 23, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the lower appellate court had power to remand the case. MAHUNT RAIHU GIR v. MAHANT RAGHUNATH GIR . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 398

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 542)—Under s. 561, Civil Procedure Code, 1882 (O. XLI, r. 2 of the Code of 1908), the Court may receive a memorandum of cross-objections at any time and it is not prevented from receiving it by the fact that only an application to file it in formâ pauperis was filed in time while the memorandum was filed out of time. Quære: Whether s. 5 of the new Limitation Act (VIII of 1908) includes a memorandum of cross-objections. GOVIND RANI DASI v. RADHA BALLAV DAS (1910)

15 C. W. N. 205

——— O. XLI, r. 3 (1882 Code, s. 543)—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 556

——— O. XLI, r. 4 (1882 Code, s. 544)—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 846

1. ——— Appeal—Discretion of Court—Decree based on ground common to all defendants—Court not bound to set aside decree as against non-appellant defendant. Where an Appellate Court reverses a decree in favour of a plaintiff upon grounds common to all the defendants, it is not therefore bound to set aside the decree as against a defendant who has not appealed from it. Seshadari v. Krishnan, I. L. R. 8 Mad. 192, referred to. NARAIN DIKSHIT v. BINAIK BHAT (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 510

2. ——— Power of Appellate Court to reverse decree in favour of non-appealing defendant—Record-of-rights, suit to correct entry in—jurisdiction of Revenue Officer to allow commutation of rent during pendency of such suit—Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng. VI of 1908), ss. 61 (2), 61 (8), 139 (2). In the finally published record-of rights it was entered that the rent was payable in kind with small cash payments in addition and the tenants applied for commutation of the rent. The landlord sued in the Civil Court for a declaration that the rent was payable wholly in cash. The Revenue Officer during the pendency of the civil suit allowed the commutation. Held, that the institution of the suit in the Civil Court did not take away the Revenue Officer's jurisdiction. That the suit was barred by s. 139 (2) of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act. O. XLI, r. 4, Civil Procedure Code, gives the Appellate Court power to reverse the decree in favour of all the defendants even though the appeal is preferred by only some when the decree proceeds on any ground common to all of them. RAKHAL CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v. BAJI SANTHAL (1915) . . . 23 C. W. N. 372

——— O. XLI, rr. 4, 32 and 33—

See CROSS OBJECTIONS. 5 Pat. L. J. 328

——— O. XLI, rr. 4 and 33—Appeal by one of two defendants—Whether defendant who does not appeal can benefit by the appeal of his co-defendant. The object of rr. 4 and 33 of O. XLI of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, is to prevent contradictory decisions in the matter of the same suit. There is no justification for the proposition that a defendant who suffers a decree to be passed ex-parte against him can not benefit by the appeal of the contesting co-defendant. R. 33 of O. 41, read with r. 4 of the same order, gives the Court power to interfere with a decree if that decree is based upon grounds common to all the defendants, although only one

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, rr. 4, 32 and 33—contd.

of such defendants appeals against that decree. RAM TAHAL SINGH v. SUKESWAR REYAIN 1 Pat. L. J. 143

——— O. XLI, r. 5 (1882 Code, s. 545)—

See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT, s. 215 4 Pat. L. J. 371

See EXECUTION OF DECREE. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 754

See RECEIVER 4 Pat. L. J. 642

1. ——— Stay of execution by an Appellate Court—Order for execution by Court of first instance in ignorance of order of stay—Order for execution, validity of. Held, by the Full Bench. Where subsequent to an interim order for stay of execution made by an Appellate Court without notice to the decree-holder but before its communication to the Court of first instance, an order of attachment is made by the latter Court, the order of attachment is not void and ineffectual as having been made without jurisdiction, but is legally valid. The order is effective only from the time it is communicated to the first Court. Muthu-kumarasami Rowther Minda Nayinar v. Kunna- ...

... Mad. 166, overruled. VENKATACHALAPATI RAO v. KAMESWARAMMA (1917) . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 151

2. ——— Whether applicable to stay execution not of the decree appealed against, but of some other decree—Petition to stay sale of immovable properties—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court to grant. An application under O. XLI, r. 5, to stay the sale of immovable property in execution of a decree pending an appeal therefrom can be made not only to the Court ...

... Mad. L. J. 677, ... Chetty, 23 ... dissented from; Tribeni Sahu v. ... Bux, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 1037 and Rama Prasad v. Ankhel Chandra, 20 C. L. J. 512, referred to. LAKSHMANAN CHETTY v. P. P. V. PALANIAPPA CHETTY (1918) . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 813

3. ——— Stay of execution during pendency of an appeal when immovable property is concerned. Held, that under O. XLI, r. 5 of the Code of Civil Procedure no order of stay of execution during the pendency of an appeal can be made unless the Court is satisfied that substantial loss may result to the applicant and this rule applies to immovable equally with movable property. Gobind Chand v. Samuel Das (I. L. R. 1 Lahore, 319) penultimate paragraph, distinguished. PURAN MAL v. HAIDAR SHAH I. L. R. 2 Lah. 61

4. ——— Order under—Immovable property given as security for decree by judgment-debtor, whether realizable in execution—Judgment-debtor taking advantage of a favourable order in execution—Estoppel. Immovable property given by a judgment-debtor as security for the due performance of a decree, pursuant to an order made under O. XLI, r. 5 (3), Civil Procedure Code, can be realized in execution without attachment, the matter being one relating to execution within s. 47, Civil Procedure Code, and a separate suit does not lie. Sadasiva Pillai v. Ramalinga Pillai, L. R. 2 I. A. 219, applied. Shyam Sunder Lal v. Bajpai Jainarayan, I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1060, followed. Mulla Prasad v. Mahadeo Prasad, I. L. R. 38 All., 327, and Saminatha Pathan v. Sarnathi Ammal, 22 Mad. L. J. 190, referred to. Tokhan Singh v. Girwar Singh, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 431, distinguished. Where a judgment-debtor who could have been arrested for the entire amount of a decree is on his objection ordered to be arrested only for a certain amount on the ground that the balance could be realized by the sale of the lands given by him as security for the decree amount, he is estopped from afterwards disputing the right of the decree-holder to sell the lands for all the then balance of the decree even though such balance may exceed the amount for which the lands were originally tendered as security. Sadasiva Pillai v. Ramalinga Pillai, L. R. 2 I. A. 219, followed. SUBRAMANIAN CHETTIAR v. RAJA OF RAMNAD (1917) . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 327

5. ——— Applications, for stay of execution in the Original side of the High Court pending an intended appeal must ordinarily be made to the judge who tried the case and such an application must be made without unreasonable delay. CHATARBHUJ CHANDRA NEIL v. BANDHO DAS DAGA . . . . 25 C. W. N. 928

——— O. XLI, r. 6 (1882 Code, 546)—Rent decree—Order for sale of holding in execution—Refusal by Court to stay execution upon taking security—High Court's power to entertain original application under r. 5 or to revise the order under r. 6 (2)—Practice. Where an order having been made for the sale of certain holdings in execution of decrees for rent, the Court refuses the judgment-debtor's application under O. XLI, r. 6 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code to stay execution pending the hearing of appeals preferred by them against the decrees, the High Court may ...

... order of the lower Court ... may also deal ... the Code, and direct the lower Court under s. 115 of the Code, and direct the execution to be stayed on the judgment-debtor furnishing sufficient security, in terms of O. XLI, r. 6 (2). RAM NATH SINGH v. KAMLESHWAR PROSAD SINGH (1911) 15 C. W. N. 432

——— O. XLI, r. 10 (1882 Code, 549)—

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 43 Calc. 263

See LETTERS PATENT 25 C. W. N. 557

See PROCEDURE I. L. R. 48 Calc. 431

See SECURITY FOR COSTS. I. L. R. 42 Bom. 5

1. ——— Security for costs of appeal—Discretion of the Court—Inability of appellants to pay costs—Appeal by Government servant—Interest of the Government—Nature of security—Bond of the Secretary of State for India in Council. When the Plaintiff-respondent applies under O.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XL. r. 1, and O. XLIII, r. 1—contd.

——— Receiver, misappropriation of income by—Property, meaning of—Wilful default, meaning of—Death of receiver—Application against legal representatives, if maintainable. Under O. XL, r. 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), an application can be made for execution being levied against the properties of a receiver in the hands of his legal representatives, in respect of his misappropriation of the income of the properties entrusted to his charge. RAMAN NAIR v. GOPALA MENON (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 584

——— O. XLI, rr. 1 and 3 ; O. XLII, r. 1—Rules of the High Court, chapter III, r. 2—Second appeal—Memorandum of appeal not accompanied by a copy of the judgment of the court of first instance—Court not competent to dispense with copy of judgment—Act No. IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act), s. 5. R. 2 of Chapter III of the rules of the High Court must be taken to have been made under the provisions of s. 122 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Both that rule and r. 1 of O. XLI of the Code of Civil Procedure, as revised by the High Court, requiring the filing of a copy of the first Court's judgment along with a memorandum of second appeal, are imperative. A memorandum of appeal from an appellate decree which is not accompanied by a copy of the judgment of the court of first instance is not a valid memorandum, and the court to which it is presented has no alternative but to reject it or to return it to the appellant to be put in order. The court to which such a memorandum of appeal is presented cannot dispense with the filing of a copy of the judgment of the court of first instance. Chunni Lal Jethabhai v. Barot Dahyabhai Amulakh, I. L. R. 32 Bom., 14, distinguished. Narsingh Sahai v. Sheo Prasad, I. L. R. 40 All. 1, referred to by SULAIMAN, J. BHAIRON GHULAM v. RAM AUTAR SINGH

I. L. R. 43 All. 660

——— O. XLI, rr. 1 and 23—Remand—Decision on preliminary point, whether finding of undue influence is. One R gave a lease to F which was to expire in 1913. In 1911 R gave a lease of the same land to G who gave notice of his lease to F. On the expiry of F's lease G endeavoured to obtain possession but failed. He found that F had obtained a renewal of the first lease in 1913. G sued for recovery of possession. It was pleaded, inter alia, first that G's lease had been obtained by deception, and secondly, that it had been obtained by undue influence. The first court found for the defendant on the second plea and dismissed the suit. The appellate court reversed the finding of the first court and remanded the case for trial of the first plea. Defendants appealed. Held, that the decision of the issue of undue influence made it unnecessary to consider the other issues in the case and that, therefore, the decision amounted to a decision on a preliminary point within the meaning of O. XLI, r. 23. of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the lower appellate court had power to remand the case. MAHUNT RAJHU GIR v. MAHANT RAGHUNATH GIR . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 398

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 542)—Under s. 561, Civil Procedure Code, 1882 (O. XLI, r. 2 of the Code of 1908), the Court may receive a memorandum of cross-objections at any time and it is not prevented from receiving it by the fact that only an application to file it in formâ pauperis was filed in time while the memorandum was filed out of time. Quære: Whether s. 5 of the new Limitation Act (VIII of 1908) includes a memorandum of cross-objections. GOVIND RANI DASI v. RADHA BALLAV DAS (1910)

15 C. W. N. 205

——— O. XLI, r. 3 (1882 Code, s. 543)—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 556

——— O. XLI, r. 4 (1882 Code, s. 544)—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 846

1. ——— Appeal—Discretion of Court—Decree based on ground common to all defendants—Court not bound to set aside decree as against non-appellant defendant. Where an Appellate Court reverses a decree in favour of a plaintiff upon grounds common to all the defendants, it is not therefore bound to set aside the decree as against a defendant who has not appealed from it. Seshadari v. Krishnan, I. L. R. 8 Mad. 192, referred to. NARAIN DIKSHIT v. BINAIK BHAT (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 510

2. ——— Power of Appellate Court to reverse decree in favour of non-appealing defendant—Record-of-rights, suit to correct entry in—jurisdiction of Revenue Officer to allow commutation of rent during pendency of such suit—Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng. VI of 1908), ss. 61 (2), 61 (8), 139 (2). In the finally published record-of rights it was entered that the rent was payable in kind with small cash payments in addition and the tenants applied for commutation of the rent. The landlord sued in the Civil Court for a declaration that the rent was payable wholly in cash. The Revenue Officer during the pendency of the civil suit allowed the commutation. Held, that the institution of the suit in the Civil Court did not tak[e] away the Revenue Officer's jurisdiction. That t[he] suit was barred by s. 139 (2) of the Chota Nag[pur] Tenancy Act. O. XLI, r. 4, Civil Procedure C[ode] gives the Appellate Court power to revers[e a] decree in favour of all the defendants even [if] the appeal is preferred by only some w[here the] decree proceeds on any ground common [to] them. RAKHAL CHANDRA CHATTERJ[EE v.] SANTHAL (1915) . . . 23 C.

——— O. XLI, rr. 4, 32 and 33

See CROSS OBJECTIONS. 5 P[at.]

——— O. XLI, rr. 4 and 33—of two defendants—Whether defenda[nt] appeal can benefit by the appeal of The object of rr. 4 and 33 of O. Procedure Code, 1908, is to pre[vent] decisions in the matter of the no justification for the proposi[tion] who suffers a decree to be him can not benefit by the co-defendant. R. 33 of O. same order, gives the Cou[rt] a decree if that decree common to all the def[endants]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 19 (1882 Code, 558)—contd.

See TRANSFER OF APPEAL.
3 Pat. L. J. 218

——— O. XLI, r. 20 ; O. XXII, r. 10 ; O. I, r. 10—

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 38 Calc. 913

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 323

——— O. XLI, r. 21 (1882 Code, 560)—

1. ——— Jurisdiction of Court to set aside ex parte decree against a defendant when another defendant's appeal against the decree dismissed. Where a decree was passed against several defendants against some of whom it was ex parte, and a defendant who appeared unsuccessfully appealed against that decree, the Court passing the decree has jurisdiction to set aside the ex parte decree as against a defendant who had not appealed Damodar Manna v Sarat Chandra, 13 C. W. N. 846 ; Kamud Nath v. Jotindra Nath, 13 C. L. J. 221, referred to. Dhonai Sardar v. Tarak Nath, 12 C. L. J. 53, distinguished ; and in so far as it lays down the contrary disapproved. INTU MEAH v. DAR BAKSH BHUIYAN (1911)
15 C. W. N. 798

2. ——— Appeal decided ex parte—Application by respondent for rehearing—Non-appearance of counsel for respondent due to [illegible] instructing counsel and of seeing that the appeal was properly prosecuted. Nathu Ram did instruct counsel but after a time took away the papers so that counsel was unable to appear, and the consequence was that the appeal was decreed ex parte. Held, that this misconduct on the part of the agent afforded his principal no ground for applying for rehearing of the appeal. Har Prasad v. Abdul Rahman, All. W. N., 1905, page 14, referred to. BAJI LAL v. NAWAL SINGH (1917)

I. L. R. 39 All. 388

——— O. XLI, rr. 20 and 33—

See O. XXIV, R. 4 24 C. W. N. 44

——— O. XLI, r. 22 (1882 Code, 561)—

See CROSS OBJECTION. 4 Pat. L. J. 164

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT, 1907, SS. 46 AND 47 I. L. R. 41 Mad. 904

1. ——— [illegible]

Dorabji v. Nurse (1921), I. L. R. 44 Mad. 357 (F. B.), and Joriam Tiruvenkadachariar v. Sawmi Iyengar (1911), I. L. R. 34 Mad. 76, followed. After such abatement any Memorandum of Objections filed by the respondent cannot be heard. Alagappa Chettiar v. Chockalingam Chettia (1918), I. L. R. 41 Mad. 907 (F. B.), followed. MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR v. PONNUSAMI PILLAI (1921)
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 828

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 22 (1882 Code, 561)—contd.

2. ——— Cross-objections against co-respondent, when may be entertained—Registration Act III of 1877, s. 47—Mortgage, execution—Collateral agreement postponing operation till fulfilment of conditions—Fulfilment of conditions—Operation as from date of execution—Delivery, if essential. The language of O XLI, r 22, sub-r. (1) of the Civil Procedure Code, is comprehensive enough to admit of a cross-objection being preferred by one respondent against another. As a general rule, the right of any respondent to urge a cross-objection should be limited to his urging it only against the appellant, and it is only by way of exception to this general rule that one respondent may urge a cross-objection as against another respondent ; but as to this no exhaustive rule can be formulated and the entertainment of cross-objections against co-respondents cannot be limited to those cases only where the appeal opens up questions which cannot be disposed of completely without matters being allowed to be re-opened as between the co-respondents. The true test ought to be whether for the ends of justice it is necessary upon the appeal of one party that the matter should be re-opened so far only as he is concerned or whether the whole case should be reviewed and some of the respondents allowed to urge a cross-objection against their co-respondents. JADUNANDAN PROSAD SINGH v DEO NARAIN SINGH (1911) . . . . . 16 C. W. N. 612

3. ——— Procedure—Cross-objections entertainable though appeal was not so—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), ss. 39 and 42—Separate suits for cancellation of a document and for possession—Practice. A respondent may file [illegible]

4. ——— Cross-objections, who may file and against whom—Co-respondent, cross-objections not ordinarily allowed as against. The ordinary rule is that the cross-objections provided for by O. XLI, r. 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure [illegible] could have referred them by way of appeal. NURSEY VIRJI v. ALFRED H. HARRISON (1913)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 511

5. ——— Suit for dissolution of partnership—Appeal—Cross-objection—Cross-objections filed by one respondent against another. Held, that on an appeal in suit for dissolution of partnership it is competent to the Court to allow a respondent to take cross-objections against another respondent. Jadunandan Prasad Singh v. Deo Narain Singh, 16 C. W. N. 612, and Abdul Ghani v. Muhammad Fasih, I. L. R. 28 All. 95, referred to. BALGOBIND v. RAM SARUP (1914).
I. L. R. 36 All. 505

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 22 (1882 Code 561)—contd.

6. ——— Respondent, if may support decree on ground decided against him without filing cross-objections. The respondent in an appeal can urge in support of the judgment a point not decided in his favour without presenting a cross-appeal. IMAM ALI PATWARI v. ARFATUNNESSA (1913) . . . 18 C. W. N. 693

7. ——— Cross-objections memorandum of, by one respondent against another, maintainability of. Under O. XLI, r. 22, Civil Procedure Code, one respondent can file a memorandum of cross-objections against another. Jadunandan Prosad Singh v Koer Kallyan Singh, 15 C. L. J. 61, not followed. MUNISAMY MUDALY v. ABBU REDDY (1915) . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 705

8. ——— Appeal—Cross-objection—Objection taken by respondent against co-respondent. In a suit for sale on a mortgage, the deed upon which the suit was based purported to have been executed by six persons. In the Court of first instance, however, execution was held to have been proved as against four only of the alleged executants. These four appealed, making the other two alleged executants respondents along with the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs also filed cross-objections in which they sought to fix the two defendants respondents with liability for the mortgage deed. Held, that the plaintiffs were not precluded from filing objections against their co-respondents Abdul Ghani v. Muhammad Fasih, I. L. R. 28 All. 95, followed. Kallu v. Manni, I. L. R. 23 All. 93, referred to. MUSLEHA BIBI v. RAM NARAIN SAHU (1918) I. L. R. 40 All. 536

9. ——— Held that when an appeal is dismissed as filed out of time a memorandum of objections filed by a respondent cannot be heard. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR v. CHOCKALINGAM CHETTIAR (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 904

10. ——— Held that this order is not applicable to Letters Patent appeals and therefore cross-objection not maintainable in these appeals. BROJENDRO CHANDRA SARMA v. PROSANNA KUMAR DHAR . . . . . 24 C. W. N. 1016

——— O. XLI, rr. 22 (3), 33—

See SALE . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

——— Claim decreed against one of two defendants—appeal by judgment-debtor—Cross-objections by plaintiff—whether Appellate Court can decree claim against the other defendant. Plaintiffs sued the 2 defendants for recovery of the amount due on a bahi account; the last balance was struck in 1915 and was signed by defendant No. 2 alone, while a previous balance in 1911 was signed by both. Defendant No. 1 pleaded that he was not liable at all, and that the debt was incurred only by defendant No. 2, which was admitted by the latter. The first Court decreed part of the claim against defendant No. 2 only. Defendant No. 2 appealed, and plaintiffs filed cross-objections in which they impleaded defendant No. 1 as a respondent, but no notice was given to the latter. The Appellate Court hold both defendants were liable to the extent of part of the debt and decreed the claim to that extent against both defendants. Defendant No. 1, then preferred this second appeal to the High Court. Held, that the ground of defence in the present case being in no sense common the Lower Appellate Court had no power to decree the claim against defendant No. 1 on the mere cross-objection of the plaintiffs to the appeal of defendant No. 2, either under the provision of O. XLI, r. 22, or of O. XLI, r. 33 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Nga Tin v. Nga Saw (29 Indian Cases 610), Bakshi Bindeswari Prasad v. Dheninder Das (39 Indian Cases 662) and Khsum Chand Bhuturia v. Ghane Muhammad Saha (38 Indian Cases 361), followed. ILAHI BAKHSH v. JIWANDA MAL . . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 396

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, rr. 22 (3), 33—contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 22 (4)—The death of appellant who has sued for malicious prosecution and obtained a decree but preferred an appeal claiming more damages than he had been awarded caused the appeal to abate. MURUGAPPA CHETTIER v. PONNUSAMI PILLAI I. L. R. 44 Mad. 828

——— O. XLI, r. 23 (1882 Code, s. 562)—

See XLI R. 1 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 393

See O. XLIII, R. 1 (4) 23 C. W. N. 1049

See AGRA TENANCY ACT, 1901, s. 182 . I. L. R. 38 All. 181

See PENSIONS ACT, 1871, s. 6 I. L. R. 39 Bom. 352

See REMAND . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 148 and 938

——— Remand not on preliminary point—Whether an appeal lies—How can Appellate Court direct further investigation. Where the Court of first instance after considering the evidence adduced by the parties decided the suits, but the lower Appellate Court remanded them to the Court of the first instance with directions to re-admit the suits and determine them after getting a local investigation made according to the directions given in the judgment and allowing the parties to adduce additional evidence if they wished to do so, upon a preliminary objection taken in second appeal on the ground that as the Court of first instance did not decide the cases on a preliminary point no appeal under O. XLI, r. 23 lay against the order of remand. Held, that the order made by the lower Appellate Court purported to be and was in form and substance an order under O. XLI, r. 23, although the Court ought not to have remanded the case under the provisions of that rule, and that therefore an appeal lay. Held, also that the order remanding the case to the trial Court was erroneous. If the lower Appellate Court thought that the investigation was wrong and that there should be further investigation or that it was necessary to take additional evidence in order to enable it to pronounce judgment, it might direct such investigation or take such additional evidence, retaining the appeals on its file. PROSANNO CH. CHATTOPADHYA v. BAIDYA NATH MISTRY 24 C. W. N. 708

——— It is not a good ground for passing an order of remand to say that the preliminary issue has been decided by the Court of first instance on a wrong view of the burden of proof unless the appellate Court also finds that decision is wrong. WABIBULLAH KHAN v. LALTA PRASAD . . I. L. R. 34 All. 612

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 23 (1882 Code, s. 562)—contd.

1. ——— Decision of first Court not on a preliminary point—Power of Appellate Court to remand. There are cases in which an valli, 9 Mad. L. T. 373, followed. A case in which there was no regular hearing of a matter by the first Court and the evidence on which the disposal of the case was made by that Court was not placed on record, is a fit one for remand. JAMBULAYYA v. RAJAMMAL (1913) . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 492

2. ——— Suit dismissed for default of appearance, but restored by Appellate Court—Remand—Appeal. Held, that no appeal ... directing that a ... because neither ... restored to the file of pending cases and heard. WAHID-UN-NISSA v. KUNDAN LAL (1913)
I. L. R. 35 All. 427

3. ——— Remand—Preliminary point—Issues framed and evidence taken, but suit decided upon one issue only. Held, that it is decided the suit with reference to its finding upon one of the issues framed by it, leaving the other issues undecided. Mata Din v. Jamna Das, I. L. R. 27 All. 691, followed. KAMTA v. PARBHU DAYAL (1916) . . I. L. R. 39 All. 165

4. ——— Whether Appellate Court on remanding a case is empowered to direct first Court to pass another decree. A subordinate Appellate Court is not competent to remand a case for further evidence to the Court of first instance and to require that Court to pass another decree. All that the Appellate Court is empowered to do is to frame an issue and to send that issue to the Court below for the return of a finding, and it is possessed, is not debarred when the summary relief under that section has become barred by limitation, from relying, in a suit for ejectment, on s. 110 of the Evidence Act, 1872. As soon as he has proved that the defendant has dispossessed him the onus is thrown upon the latter to prove his title HARADHAN MANDAL MODAK v. ISWAR DASS MARWARI

2 Pat. L. J. 61

——— O. XLI, rr. 23, 25—Remand—Preliminary point, a point involving merits of the case if. A suit principally involved the consideration of two issues, ... lands ... to kha ... the pl refer the second issue for trial to the first Court under O. XLI, r. 25. Per CHETTY, J. The decision of the Munsif was not on a preliminary point within the meaning of O. XLI, r. 23. The law as to remands under O. XLI, r. 25, has not changed the old law. Per COXE, J. When there are two points to be decided, and it is necessary for the decision of the second point that the first point must be first decided, the decision of the first point is necessarily preliminary to the decision of the second. The question whether a point is connected with the merits of the case or only with considerations of law does not affect the question whether it is or is not a preliminary point. Salim Sheikh v. Nazir Khan, 8 C. L. J. 159, referred to. ABDUL KARIM v. FAYEZ BUX (1911) . 15 C. W. N. 575

——— There is no reason why there cannot be an order under rr. 23 and 25 at the same time. An execution sale is a nullity if held without jurisdiction. BHADAI SAHU v. SHAIKH MANOWAR ALI . . .4 Pat. L. J. 645

——— O. XLI, rr. 23, 25 and s. 115—

See REMAND . . 5 Pat L. J. 146

——— O. XLI, r. 25 (1882 Code, s. 566)—

See APPELLATE COURT 24 C. W. N. 145

1. ——— Failure by Appellate Court to frame material issue not raised and tried—Material irregularity—Revision by High Court. A suit for damages against a Steamer Company for loss due to short delivery was decreed by the Munsif who did not frame and try the issue whether notice under s. 10 of the Carriers Act had been served on the Company, that issue not having been presented to him by the parties. The Subordina ... dismis ... notice ... out. Judge to frame and try the requisite issue under r. 25, O. XLI, Civil Procedure Code, was in the circumstances a material irregularity which might have led to a failure of justice. RAMJAS AGARWALLA v. INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY COMPANY, LD. (1911) . 16 C. W. N. 424

2. ——— High Court, if bound by opinion of Bench expressed in remanding a case. Where a Bench of the High Court, in remanding an appeal for a finding under s. 566 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882, had expressed an opinion as to the way in which the case should be decided upon the finding, the Bench before

——— O. XLI, r. 27 (1882 Code, s. 568)—

See O. XVII, R. 3 I. L. R. 23 All. 610

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 675

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 119

1. ——— Evidence, admission of, by lower Court. R. 27 (b) of O. XLI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, does not ... that, in order to enable the Appellate C

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLI, r. 27 (1882 Code, s. 568)—contd.

nounce judgment in favour of a particular party, additional evidence should be admitted in appeal; it means only that where it is impossible to pronounce judgment at all on the evidence the Court may call for a document. KALIKA DUTT MANDAR v. TULSI MANDAR . . . 1. Pat. L. J. 435

2. ——— Additional evidence on appeal—Powers of the Appellate Court—Test to be applied for admitting—State of mind of the Judge, after hearing the appeal—No external standard—'Any other substantial cause,' meaning of. Where a Subordinate Judge first heard an appeal and then passed an order for the admission of some additional documents in evidence on the ground that "it was necessary to have the documents before the Court to enable it satisfactorily to pronounce its judgments." Held, that the admission of the documents as additional evidence was permissible under O. XLI, r. 27 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908). The test laid down under cl. (b) of O. XLI, r. 27, is not whether any tribunal would be unable to pronounce any judgment without production of the additional evidence in question but whether the mind of the Appellate Judge is in such a condition on the evidence on record that he requires any documents to be examined to enable him to pronounce judgment. The expression 'any other substantial clause' added in O. XLI, r. 27, confers a wide discretion on the Appellate Court to admit additional evidence when the ends of justice require it to be done. Kessowji Issur v. G. I. P. Railway Company, I. L. R 31 Bom. 381, explained and distinguished. Krishnama Chariar v. Narasimha Chariar, I. L. R. 31 Mad. 114, referred to. Andiappal Pillai v. Muthu kumara Thevan, (1912) Mad. W. N. 450, followed. Subha Naidu v. Ethirajammal, 22, Mad. L. J. 14, dissented from. AMBUJA AMMAL v. APPADURAI MUDALI (1912) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 414

3. ——— Appellate Court—Admission of fresh evidence—Practice regarding admission. Where an Appellate Court desires to admit fresh papers in evidence, under r. 27 of O. XLI of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), it must record its reasons in writing for doing so and admit them formally in evidence. DAJI BABAJI v. SAKHARAM KRISHNA (1914) I. L. R. 38 Bom. 665

4. ——— Additional evidence called for by Appellate Court—Re-summoning of witness already examined before the Court of first instance. Held, that O. XLI, r. 27, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is not intended to enable an Appellate Court to recall and re-examine before it a witness who has already been examined and cross-examined before the Court of first instance. MUHAMMAD SIDDIQ v. MAHMUD-UN-NISSA BIBI (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 191

5. ——— Additional evidence—Refusal by the lower Appellate Court to admit—Second Appeal—Power of High Court to interfere and direct admission—Jurisdiction—Exercise of discretion, whether revisable. Held (by WALLIS, C. J., and AYLING, J., SADASIVA AYYAR, J., dissenting), that, where a lower Appellate Court refuses to admit a certain material document as additional evidence in the appeal under O. XLI, r. 27, Civil Procedure Code, the High Court cannot interfere in second appeal and hold that such additional evidence ought to have been admitted by the lower Appellate Court. Per WALLIS, C.J. —It has long been the practice of all the High Courts not to entertain second appeals from refusals of the lower Appellate Court to admit fresh evidence under O. XLI, r. 27, Civil Procedure Code, and such practice should not be departed from. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J., contra.—The High Court has power in second appeal to consider the propriety of the exercise of discretion by the lower Appellate Court as regards the admission of additional evidence. VAITHINATHA PILLAI v. KUPPU THEVAR (1919) . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 737

——— O. XLI, r. 27 and s. 115—Appellate Court—Additional evidence. A mistake in law on the part of the Appellate Court in directing evidence to be tendered which it is not competent to receive in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, is not revisable by the High Court. Semble, that an Appellate Court is not competent to examine an attesting witness who by inadvertence has not been called in the first Court. GAYA SINGH v. NAME SINGH 5 Pat. L. J. 263

——— O. XLI, rr. 22, 33 (1882 Code s. 577)—

See CROSS OBJECTIONS 5 Pat. L. J. 328

——— O. XLI, r. 33—

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 46 Calc. 1059

See HINDU LAW—GIFT. I. L. R. 40 Mad. 818

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 721

See LIMITATION ACT, SCH. I, ART. 181. I. L. R. 43 All. 320

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 43 Mad. 803

See REMAND . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 738

See SALE . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

See O. XLI, R. 4 . 1 Pat. L. J. 143

1. ——— Appeal—Procedure—Power of Appellate Court to interfere with portion of decree not challenged by either party. Plaintiff sued defendant for rent and obtained a decree for a portion of his claim. Plaintiff then appealed against the disallowance of the balance of the amount claimed, but defendant submitted to the decree and neither filed a cross appeal nor took objections under O. XLI, r. 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Held, that it was not competent to the Appellate Court acting under O. XLI, r. 33, to interfere with the decree obtained by plaintiff in so far as it had not been challenged by defendant. Attorney General v. Simpson [1901], 2 Ch. 671, referred to. RANGAM LAL v. JHANDU (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 34 All. 32

2. ——— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 562, 564—Repeal of s. 564 in the new Code—Effect of repeal—Remand order by the Court of appeal. In a suit to redeem a mortgage, the first Court took accounts between the parties and decreed redemption. The lower Appellate Court having found that there were some errors in the taking of accounts and that a piece of land wrongly taken to be in the mortgagee's possession, reversed the decree and remanded the suit for trial to the first Court. On appeal from the order of remand: Held, setting aside the order of remand, that an Appellate Court could remand a case to the trial Court only when the latter had disposed of the suit upon a preliminary point and the decree was reversed in appeal. Held, further, there was no reason why the first ... versed, ... was to ... differ- ... dars of accounts which could have been met by a slight re-adjustment of the decree. Per CURIAM: The removal of s. 564 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 has apparently no other object but to withdraw those restrictive provisions of the section which in practice had been found embarrassing; such restrictions occurring, for instance, in cases where the Appellate Court has allowed an amendment of the pleadings, or has added a party to the record. NAROTTAM RAJARAM v. MOHANLAL KAHANDAS (1912) . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 280

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XLI, r. 33—contd.

3. ———— Plaintiff claiming alternative reliefs obtaining a decree—Right of appeal. A plaintiff who claims for alternative reliefs in his plaint can prefer an appeal although he obtained a decree. O. XLI, r. 33, confers on the Appellate Court the power to pass such decree as ought to have been passed. BISWANATH GOSAIN v. SURENDRA MOHAN GHOSH (1913)

19 C. W. N. 102

4. ———— Appellate Court, power of, to allow withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring fresh suit when part only of decree is appealed against. The plaintiff's suit for recovery of possession of land on declaration of title was decreed in part and the defendants appealed against the decree in so far as it was against them. The plaintiff did ... so as to enable him to evade the provisions of other statutes, e.g., the Limitation Act and the Court-Fees Act. In the circumstances of the case the High Court allowed the plaintiff on terms as to ... favour by the lower Court. AKIMUNNESSA BIBI v. BEPIN BEHARY MITTER (1915)

20 C. W. N. 544

5. ———— Scope and effect of as to powers of Appellate Courts—Dismissing entire suit on plaintiff's appeal when part of claim admitted by defendant who prefers no appeal. In a suit for arrears of rent, the plaintiff claimed rent at a particular rate. The defendants admitted a lower rate and the Court of first instance decreed the suit at this admitted rate. The plaintiff having appealed, the District Judge dismissed the entire suit although the defendants did not prefer an appeal nor file any cross-objection. Held, that r. 33 of O. XLI is very widely expressed but it should not be applied so as to enable a party litigant to ignore the other provisions of the Code or the provisions of statutes like those which relate to limitation or payment of court-fees. That ordinarily r. 33 should be limited to those cases where as a result of the Appellate Court's interference with the decree in favour of the appellant further ... substance to evade ... cedure Code, the ... Fees Act; and ove ... cable to a case o ... discretion vested in the Court of Appeal below was not properly exercised. ABJAL MAJHI v. INTOO BEHARI (1915) . . . 20 C. W. N. 512

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———— O. XLI, r. 33—contd.

6. ———— Powers of the Appellate Court to reverse a finding of the lower Court in the appellants' favour, against which no cross-objection was preferred by the respondent under O. XLI, r. 22—Construction of document. Plaintiff ... and the buildings ... n defendants by a ... for recovery of a ... that it had not passed by the kobala. The Munsif gave a partial decree, and the Subordinate Judge partially allowed the defendants' appeal, but reversed a portion of the Munsif's decree which was in favour of the defendants and against which the plaintiff had not preferred any cross-objection. Held, that in the appeal by the defendants, the lower Appellate Court, under the circumstances of the case, was not justified under O. XLI, r. 33, in interfering with the portion of the Munsif's decree which was in favour of the defendants, as the plaintiff had not filed any cross-appeal or taken cross-objection under O. XLI, r. 22. Held, further, on a construction of the kobala with reference to the pleadings and other documentary evidence, that the whole passage was sold, as there were statements in the deed which were inconsistent with the plaintiff having reserved any portion of the passage. GOPAL CHANDRA DAS v. NABIAN CHAND DAS (1917)

22 C. W. N. 520

7. ———— Decree against three defendants—Appeal by two only, the third not being made a party to the appeal—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court to modify decree in favour of the non-appealing defendant. A decree was passed for varying amounts against three defendants, of whom two only appealed, the third not being made a party to the appeal. Held, that it was competent to the Appellate Court to modify the decree in ... I. L. R. 31 All. 32, distinguished. JAWAHAR BANO v. SHUJAAT HUSAIN . . I. L. R. 43 All. 88

———— O. XLI, r. 35 (1882, Code, s. 579)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, 1885, s. 105

5 Pat. L. J. 472

———— O. XLII, r. 1—

See O. XL, rr. 1 AND 4. 4 Pat. L. J. 636

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLII, r. 1—contd.

See Res Judicata . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 83

See RESTORATION OF SUIT. 2 Pat. L. J. 720

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 588)—

See s. 47 . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 361

See s. 115, 151 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 51

See O. IX, r. 9 . 20 C. W. N. 1203

See O. X, r. 4 . I. L. R. 39 All. 450

See O. XXXIX, r. 1. I. L. R. 35 All. 425

See O. XL, r. 1. I. L. R. 40 Mad. 18

See O. XLI, r. 23 I. L. R. 35 All. 427

See SCH. II, PARA. 2 I. L. R. 38 All. 297

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873), s. 14 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 721

See RECEIVER . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 746
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 18
14 C. W. N. 183

1. ——— cl. (a)—Valuation of claim for purposes of jurisdiction—Decision, if final and bars appeal. Where a suit for the declaration of the plaintiff's right to an easement and for a permanent injunction to restrain the defendant from interfering with such right was valued at Rs. 1,100 but the Court having found the value to be Rs. 790 returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court : Held, that an appeal lay against the order under cl. (a) of r. 1 of O. XLIII of the Civil Procedure Code. S. 12 of the Court Fees Act has no application to a case where the valuation, though it may indirectly affect the amount of Court-fees payable on the plaint, is necessary for the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of the Court to entertain the suit. Brojo Kumar v. Eshan Chandra, 3 C. L. R. 79, referred to. PEARI SHA v. SURUJMAL MARWARI (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 503

2. ——— A case against the order of an Appellate Court returning a memorandum of appeal to be presented to the proper Court. NUR-UD-DIN KHAN v. PRAN KRISHAN CHAKRAVARTI (1918) . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 659

3. ——— cl. (1)—Suit by Hindu widow—Adoption pending suit—Widow allowed to prosecute suit, though divested, on strength of ante-adoption agreement—Order, if appealable. Where during the pendency of a suit brought by a Hindu widow, the defendant objected that by an adoption made since the institution of the suit, the plaintiff had divested herself of the estate of her husband and so could no longer prosecute the suit, but the Court overruled the objection in the view that plaintiff was entitled to prosecute the suit under an ante-adoption agreement with the natural father of the adopted son: Held, that the order was not one under r. 10 of O. XXII of the Civil Procedure Code and was not appealable under O. XLIII, r. 1, cl. (1). PROMOTHA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY v. DINAMONI CHOWDHARANI (1916) 20 C. W. N 552

4. ——— cl. (K) and (L)—Appeal—Order dismissing an application to be substituted in an appeal in place of the original plaintiff. Held, that an order dismissing an application to be brought upon the record as a plaintiff is not a decree and no appeal lies against such an order. DUMI CHAND v. ARJA NAND (1915) I. L. R. 37 All. 272

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 588)—contd.

5. ——— cl. (r)—Temporary injunction—Order refusing injunction if appealable. An appeal lies against an order refusing a temporary injunction. Reasut Hussain v. Hadjee Abdullah, I. L. R. 2 Calc. 131, referred to. HARI LAL v. PRAYAG RAM (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 996

6. ——— cl. (s)—Mortgage suit—Appointment of Receiver at mortgagee's instance under terms of mortgage deed—Court's order on Receiver to pay money to mortgagor to enable him to appeal, if appealable—Interest, non-payment of, ground for appointing Receiver. When a mortgage deed provided for the appointment, at the instance of the mortgagees, of a Receiver in circumstances specified in the deed and laid down the mode in which the rents and profits were to be distributed by the Receiver, and in pursuance of these provisions a Receiver was appointed with powers to dispose of the rents and profits in a certain manner in the course of a suit brought by the mortgagees to enforce the mortgage ; but after a preliminary decree for sale had been passed in the suit, the Court upon the application of the judgment-debtor passed an order directing the Receiver to pay certain sums to the judgment-debtor in order to enable him to prefer an appeal against the decree : Held, that an appeal lay against the order under O. XLIII, r. 1, cl. (s) of the Civil Procedure Code. Mohunt Anand Das v. Ram Perkash Das, 14 C. W. N. 183, relied on. That the Receiver not having had power to make the payments in question either under the mortgage deed or the terms of his appointment, the Subordinate Judge was wrong in making the order. The power given by Court to the Receiver "to institute or defend suits regarding the properties whether for collection of rents or for any other purpose, or, the provision in the mortgage deed that pecuniary grants might be allowed for law-expenses did not justify the orders of the Subordinate Judge for payment to the judgment-debtor until after sums had been deposited in Court sufficient to recover interest due on the mortgage debt as required by the mortgage deed and the terms of appointment of the Receiver. The mortgagee in this case not having had any payment as interest since the loan was made, was entitled under the provisions of the law to apply for the appointment of a Receiver pending the disposal of the suit. EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY COMPANY, LD. v. FAKURUDDIN MOHAMED CHOUDHURY (1912) . 17 C. W. N. 16 ——— Appeal from order directing submission of accounts. See Receiver. 5 Pat. L. J. 97.

7. ——— Order expressing merely an intention to appoint a Receiver—Appeal. An appeal lies only from an order actually appointing a Receiver, and not from an order by which the Court expresses an intention to appoint a receiver

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd.

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 588)—contd.

and calls upon the plaintiff to suggest names with particulars regarding security, remuneration, etc. Ramji v. Koman Das, 13 A. L. J. 79 followed. MUHAMMAD ASKARI v. NISAR HUSAIN

I. L. R. 42 All. 227

8. —
—Order
—Appea

granting leave to sue a Receiver for damages arising from his negligent discharge of duty. SHRINIWAS v. M. C. WAZ (1920) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 99

9. ——— (u)— Remand—Appeal —Suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. A mahal having been divided by perfect partition into two, thereafter the owner of one of the new mahals was made to pay a sum of Rs. 127 as Government revenue, which was in fact payable by the owner of the other mahal. He then sued the owner of the other mahal to recover the sum so paid. The suit was filed in the Court of a Munsif, who held that the suit did not lie and dismissed it. The plaintiff thereupon appealed to the Subordinate Judge, who reversed the finding of the Munsif and remanded the suit for disposal on the merits. Held, that no appeal lay from the order of remand, inasmuch as the suit was one of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. Since, however, the plaintiff had paid the money which he was seeking to recover and it had not been refunded, the High Court declined to treat the appeal as an application in revision. Nath Prasad v. Baij Nath, I. L. R. All. 66, Qutub Husain v. Abul Hasan, I. L. R. 4 All. 134, and Tulsa Kunwar v. Jageshar Prasad, I. L. R. 28 All. 563, referred to. AMBA PRASAD v. MUSHTAQ HUSAIN

I. L. R. 42 All. 200

10. ——— Execution of decree—Appeal—No appeal from order in execution proceedings if an appeal would not lie in the suit itself. Held, that a second appeal will not lie

I. L. R. 11 Calc. 169, Shyama Charan Mitter v. Debendra Nath Mukerjee, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 484, Mavula Ammal v. Mavula Maracoir, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 212, and Narayan Parmanand v. Naginda, Bhaidas, I. L. R. 30 Bom. 113, followed. SANT PRASAD v. BHAWANI PRASAD

I. L. R. 43 All. 403

11. ——— Appeal from order of remand—Whether findings of fact can be questioned. Held, that an appellant coming to the High Court in appeal under O. XLIII, r. 1 (u) of the Code of Civil Procedure from an order of remand under O. XLI, r. 23, cannot question findings of facts arrived at by the Lower Appellate Court. Sawan Singh v. Methu (85 P. R. 1914), followed. HONDA RAM v. HOTU RAM

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 25

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (a) and s. 115—Suit for rent in a Revenue Court-Service inam—Discontinuance of service—Ryoti land—Decree in Revenue [illegible] nue Court— [illegible] be returned [illegible] to the High [illegible] if competent

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)
—contd

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (a) and s. 115—contd.

—Order whether a decree—Estates Land Act (Madras Act I of 1908), s. 192, cl. (a)—Prohibition of appeals—Conversion of appeal into civil revision petition. A landholder sued for arrears of rent in a Revenue Court from the defendants who originally held the lands on service tenure but had ceased to perform the services prior to the suit. The Revenue Court passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff. On appeal, the District Judge set aside the decree holding that the Revenue Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit and ordered that the plaint should be returned to the plaintiff for presentation to a proper Court. On [illegible] cl. (a) of the Estates Land Act prohibited the applicability of O. XLIII of the Civil Procedure Code to proceedings under the Act, and the order was not a decree under the Civil Procedure Code. Held, also, that the appeal should be converted into a civil revision petition under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code, as the latter section was not excluded by s. 192 of the Act; and that the Revenue Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit, as the lands were ryoti lands and did not fall within the exception to ryoti land in s. 3 of the Act, inasmuch as the services were not performed at the date of the suit. The Secretary of State for India v. Chelekani Rama Rao, I. L. R. 39 Mad 617, distinguished. RAJAH VENKATA RAMAYYA v. VEERASWAMI (1917

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 554

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (r) and O. XXXIX, r. 2, cl. (3)—Interlocutory injunction, disobedience of—Order declining to arrest or attach property—Appealability—Petition to commit while suit pending —Order thereon after dismissal of suit, legality of—Imprisonment, order of, without first ordering attachment, illegal. An appeal lies under O. XLIII, r. 1, cl. (r) of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) from an order declining to order arrest or attachment of property for disobedience of an interlocutory injunction and the Appellate Court can on appeal pass the order which the Lower Court should have passed. Where the injunction was disobeyed and the application to commit was put in while the suit was pending, the fact that the order on the application was made after the suit was dismissed does not affect the powers of the Court to take action for the breach. The Court can in its discretion order either arrest or attachment of property and is not bound in the first instance to attach and then only order imprisonment. SUPPI v. KUNHI KOYA (1916)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 907

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (u); O. XLI, r. 23—Remand order passed otherwise than under O. XLI, r. 23, if appealable. No appeal lies against an order passed by an Appellate Court remanding a case otherwise than under O. XLI, r. 23 of the Civil Procedure Code. MOHENDRA NATH CHAKRAVARTY v. RAMTARAN BANDOPADHYA (1919)

23 C. W. N. 1049

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (w); O. XLVII, rr. 1, 4, 7, 8—
See O. XLI, R. 10 (2).

I. L. R. 42 All. 626

See REVIEW . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 60

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLIII, r. 1 (w) and O. XLVII, r. 7 ——— Review, appeal from order granting, grounds for. An order granting a review merely for sufficient ground is not appealable. An appeal under O. XLIII, r. 1 (w) against an order granting a review is subject to the provisions of O. XLVII, r. 7. SUNDAR MAL v. UPENDRA NATH SEAL . . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 193 ——— Appeal against order granting review—Scope of jurisdiction. An application for review was filed within one month of the date of the order sought to be reviewed and was allowed. An appeal was preferred against the order granting review and the Appellate Court set it aside on the ground that the order sought to be reviewed was really on earlier order. Held, that although O. XLIII, r. 1 (w), allows an appeal against an order granting a review that clause must be read with O. XLVII, r. 7, by which the grounds on which an order granting a review can be set aside on appeal are limited. The Lower Appellate Court therefore had no jurisdiction to set aside the order granting the review. SURYA NARAIN CHOWDHRY v. RANGA BEHARY MAL . 25 C. W. N. 884

——— O. XLIV, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 592)— Application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis—Application rejected—Further application for leave to pay the full court-fee also rejected—Revision. The rejection of an application made under O. XLIV, r. 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure, for leave to appeal as a pauper, is not the rejection of the appeal. It is, therefore, no ground for rejecting a subsequent application for permission to pay the full court-fee on the appeal. MUHAMMAD FARZAND ALI v. RAHAT ALI (1918) I. L. R. 40 All. 381

——— O. XLV, rr. 2, 3 and 8—

See s. 109 . 3 Pat. L. J. 179

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL. I. L. R. 42 Mad. 32

———O. XLV, rr. 4, 7 and 8—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 110, AND O. XLV . 4 Pat. L. J. 198

——— O. XLV, r. 5 (1882 Code s. 627—

See VALUATION OF SUIT. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 225

——— Where a single Judge of the High Court sitting as Vacation Judge granted a stay of execution of a decree passed by a subordinate Court before any appeal has been filed but on the vakil's assurance it would be held, the order was without jurisdiction. PURSHOTTAM SARAN v. HARGU LAL I. L. R. 43 All. 198

——— O. XLV, r. 7 (1882 Code, s. 601)

See PRIVY COUNCIL. 14 C. W. N. 420

——— O. XLV, rr, 10, 11 (1882 Code, 605 and 606).

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 15. 5 Pat. L. J. 39

——— O. XLV, r. 13 (1882 Code, s. 608)—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 335

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLV, r. 13 (1882 Code, s. 608)— contd.

——— Partition —Appeal from preliminary decree—Application for stay of further proceedings in the suit. O. XLV, r. 13, of the Code of Civil Procedure does not authorize the staying of proceedings in a suit for partition, where a preliminary decree has been passed and it remains to pass the final decree, because an appeal from the preliminary decree has been filed and is pending. Laliteswar Singh v. Bhabeswar Singh, 9 C. L. J., 561, referred to. RAM NARAIN v. HARNAM DAS . . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 170 ——— Appeal to His Majesty in Council—Special leave to appeal—Receiver, whether High Court has power to appoint. It is competent to the High Court to appoint a Receiver to an estate which is the subject- matter of an appeal for which special leave has been granted by the Privy Council. RAJA WUZIR NARAIN SINGH v. RANI JAGDAMBA KURI . 4 Pat. L. J. 482

——— O. XLV, rr. 13 and 14—

See STAY OF EXECUTION. 3 Pat. L. J. 40

——— O. XLV, r. 15 (1882 Code, s. 10)—

See LETTER PATENT (PAT.) CL. 39. 2 Pat. L. J. 684

——— Privy Council—Restoration of property pending appeal to the Privy Council—Procedure. The word 'execution' as used in O. XLV, r. 15, was intended to cover case of restitution as well as a case of enforcement of a decree for possession of the like passed for the first time in the case on an appeal to His Majesty in Council and a person who desires to obtain execution of any kind, whether by way of restitution or otherwise, must apply in the first instance to the Court indicated by r. 15. A decree was passed by the High Court against B who appealed to the Privy Council. During the pendency of the appeal D and others obtained possession of the property in suit from B. The Privy Council reversed the decree and B applied to the Subordinate Judge to restore him to possession of the property and filed a copy of the printed judgment of their Lordships of the Privy Council in proof of the fact that the judgment of the High Court had been reversed. Held, that the application should have been made to the High Court and the Subordinate Judge could not entertain it. Held, further, that the Subordinate Judge was not entitled to take any action on the printed copy of the judgment of their Lordships of the Privy Council without proof that an Order-in-Council had followed thereon. DAMODAR DAS v. BRIJ LAL (1915) I. L. R. 37 All. 567

——— Order-in-Council, execution of—Only those persons (or their representatives) who have made an application under r. 15 are entitled to apply for execution of an order in Council. Where several persons sued together to recover possession of separate specific shares of an ijmali share which had been wrongly sold for arrears of Government revenue, and the suit was eventually decided in their favour by an Order-in-Council. Held, that an application under Order

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLV, r. 15 (1882 Code, s. 10)—contd.

XLV, rule 15, made by some of the plantiffs, did not entitle all of them to apply for execution to the Court to which the Order-in Council was sent for execution. Prior to the passing of the Order-in-Council proceedings for the partition of the ijmali share were completed by the Collector. This fact was not brought to the notice of the Privy Council and the order declared the plaintiffs' right to recover the specific separate shares claimed in the plaint. Held, that the plaintiffs were nevertheless entitled to execute the order with reference to the estates or interest substituted by the partition for the shares originally claimed in the suit. MAHARAJA SIR RAMESHWAR PRASAD SINGH v. RAI BAIJNATH GOENKA . . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 496

2. ——— Order-in-Council, execution of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 183—"Reviver." After several attempts to enforce an Order-in-Council, dated the 28th November, 1899, the decree-holder applied to the High Court on the 2nd December, 1907, under s. 610 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882. The High Court ordered notices to be issued, but there was

Act, 1908, and that the application was therefore time-barred. TRIBIKRAM DEO NARAYAN SINGH v. BADRI MISSER . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 385

——— O. XLV, rr. 15 and 16; O. XXI, r. 16; ss. 37, 38 and 50—Privy Council order of, transmitted to the original Court—Execution—Application to the original Court—Application by transferee of the decree—Competency of the original Court to entertain application—Power-of-Attorney, construction of. Where an order of His Majesty in Council was transmitted under O. XLV, r. 15 of the Civil Procedure Code, by the High Court to the District Court as the Court which passed the first decree, the latter Court has jurisdiction to entertain an application made by an assignee of the decree under O. XXI, r. 16 of the Civil Procedure Code, to recognize the assignment and to allow him to execute the decree. It is established law that a Power-of-Attorney must be construed

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 832

——— O. XLVI, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 617)—
See s. 141— I. L. R. 38 Mad. 353

——— O. XLVI, r. 7—Court of Small Causes,

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd

——— O. XLVI, r. 7—contd.

diction and powers of High Court in. A suit valued moved the District Judge who made a reference to the High Court under O. XLVI, r. 7, on the ground that the Munsif had no jurisdiction to try the suit as a Small Cause Court suit. Held, that on such a reference the High Court has full power to consider the matter on the merits in each case and

——— O. XLVII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 623)—

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 675

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL I. L. R. 41 Calc. 734

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—
O. XLI, R. 27 I. L. R. 42 Calc. 675
O. IX, R. 9 . . 1 Pat. L. J. 547

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT, s. 53. 5 Pat. L. J. 253

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 28

See RECEIVER . . 14 C. W. N. 183
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 809

See RES JUDICATA . 2 Pat. L. J. 313

See REVIEW . . . 5 Pat. L. J 343
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 1011

See SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 590

1. ——— Ex parte decree, if may be reviewed on the ground that defendant had sufficient cause for not appearing—Limitation The fact that a defendant against whom an ex parte decree was passed did not apply within time under O. IX, r. 13, Civil Procedure Code, for a revival of the case is no bar to his applying for a review of the decree under O XLVII, r 1 of the Code on the ground that he was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing at the hearing. Raj Narain Purkait v. Ananga Mohan Bhandari, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 598, relied on. CHET NARAIN SAHI v RAMPAL MANJHI (1911) . . . 16 C. W. N. 643

2. ——— Order setting aside sale, alleged to be made by consent of parties—Decree-holder, alleging that order made in his absence—Review, if may be granted. Where a sale in execution of a decree was set aside upon the strength of a petition of compromise to which the decree-holder was alleged to be a consenting party, and the decree-holder subsequently applied for a review alleging that he was not present at the time when the order was made and that as a matter of fact dure Code. HAKIMGIR v. BASDEO SAHI (1911) 17 C. W. N. 631

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLVII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 623)—contd.

3. ——— Review of judgment—Suit dismissed for want of necessary notice as well as on the merits—Ground of review touching the merits only. A suit against the Court of Wards was dismissed on two grounds: (i) that the notice given by the plaintiff under the Court of Wards Act was defective; and (ii) that the plaintiff was illegitimate. An application was made for review of judgment on the ground of discovery of new and important evidence on the question of legitimacy. Held, that the application was properly dismissed, inasmuch as the decision on the question of legitimacy on the reception of new evidence would not lead to the modification or setting aside of the original decree. MAHABIR PRASAD v. THE COLLECTOR OF ALLAHABAD (1914)
I. L. R. 36 All. 277

4. ——— Review petition—Subsequent filing of appeal—Jurisdiction of Court to hear review petition is not taken away by appeal subsequently filed—Practice. An application for review of judgment was filed in a District Court and a rule nisi was granted. The party subsequently filed an appeal in the High Court. The District Court rejected the review application on the ground that it could not proceed with the application as an appeal was already filed. The applicant having applied to the High Court, Held, setting aside the order and directing the District Court to dispose of the application on the merits, that there was no express provision in the Civil Procedure Code which rendered the application for review incompetent on the mere presentation of an appeal by the same party at any subsequent time. Chenna Reddi v. Peddaobi Reddi, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 416, followed. NARAYAN PURUSHOTTAM v. LAXMIBAI (1914) . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 416

5. ——— Review of judgment—Adducing of further evidence not sufficient ground. An application was made to a District Judge for a review of his order that a certain property was not the property of an insolvent. The ground upon which the application was in substance made was that if another opportunity was given to the applicants they would satisfy the Court that its former order was wrong. Held, that this was not a 'sufficient reason' for entertaining the application within the meaning of O. XLVII, r. 1 of the Civil Procedure Code. BINDA PRASAD v. RAGHUBIR SARAN (1915) I. L. R. 37 All. 440

6. ——— Application for review—Limitation—Jurisdiction to entertain. Where the Judge having decided to modify the decision of the first Court, erroneously passed a decree dismissing the appeal, but later on on the application of the landlord modified the decree and brought it in conformity with his judgment without notice to the tenants, and on the latter's appeal, the High Court directed the Judge to restore his previous decree leaving it open to the landlord to apply by way of review; and in pursuance of the High Court's order, the successor in office of the Judge restored the previous decree of his predecessor, and later on entertained an application for review made by the landlord; and purporting to act under s. 151 of the Civil Procedure Code passed a decree disallowing the custom so far as it permitted the tenants to appropriate the timber trees. Held, that the order to be reviewed was the order passed by the Judge in pursuance of the High Court's directions, both in regard to the limitation applicable to and the jurisdiction to entertain the application for review. GURAI KAR v. RANI KUARMONI SINGHA MANDHATA (1915) . . . 19 C. W. N. 1188

7. ——— Review of decree not appealed against. On a proper construction of O. XLVII, r. 1 (1), the decree mentioned therein means a decree from which no appeal has been preferred by the applicant for review himself. That there is no implied reference to O. XLI, r. 4 in O. XLVII, r. 1 (2), the effect of which is to restrict the right which would otherwise be possessed by one defendant to apply to review of judgment, notwithstanding an appeal by a co-defendant. The law, in effect, is that a defendant who has not himself appealed may apply for a review of judgment, notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by a co-defendant except in two contingencies, namely, first, where the ground for review is identical with the ground of appeal; and secondly, when as respondent in the appeal he can present to the Appellate Court the case on which he seeks review. CHANDRA KANTO BHATTACHARJA v. LAKSHMAN CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY (1916) . . . . 21 C. W. N. 430

8. ——— Appeal and application for review filed by same party—Appeal withdrawn—Jurisdiction of Court to entertain application for review not ousted. An appeal which has been withdrawn must be treated as if it had never been "presented" within the meaning of O. XLVII, r. 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Ramappa v. Bharma, I. L. R. 30 Bom. 625, referred to. A party to a suit filed an appeal against the decree and thereafter an application for review of judgment. After the review had been filed the applicant withdrew his appeal. Held, that the fact of an appeal having been filed and withdrawn was no bar to the hearing of the application for review. Partab Singh v. Jaswant Singh, I. L. R. 42 All. 79. In the matter of the petition of Nand Kishore, I. L. R. 32 All. 71, and Pandu v. Devji, I. L. R. 7 Bom. 287, referred to. RAM PRASAD v. ASA RAM
I. L. R. 43 All. 288

9. ——— Must be read as in itself definitive of the limits within which review is permitted, and reference to practice under former and different statutes is misleading. The words "any other sufficient reason" in O. 47, r. 1, mean a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified immediately previously, that is to say, to excusable failure to bring to the notice of the Court new and important matters or error on the face of the record. Upon an application for review the Court cannot proceed to deal with the case on the merits as if on an appeal. CHHAJJU RAM v. NEKI (P. C) . . 26 C. W. N. 698

10. ——— Review of judgment—Decisions after judgment sought to be reviewed—"New and important matter." The plaintiff instituted a suit for ejectment. The defendants pleaded that they were tenants of the plaintiff. The Munsi ordered the defendants to get a declaration of their tenancy. The Assistant Collector declared them to be tenants and the Munsif thereupon dismissed the suit. On appeal, however, the Commissioner set aside the order of the Assistant Collector and this decision was upheld by the Board of Revenue. The plaintiff then applied within 90 days of the decision of the Board of Revenue for review of the Munsif's judgment. Held, that the judgments of the Commissioner and the Board were "new and important matters" within the meaning of O. XLVII, r. 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Waghela Raisangji Shivsangji v. Shaik Masludin, I. L. R. 13 Bom. 330, and Waman Hari v. Hari Vithal, I. L. R. 31 Bom. 128, referred to. RAM LAL v. KALKA PRASAD (1911)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLVII, r. 1 (1882 Code, s. 623)—contd.

I. L. R. 33 All. 566

——— O. XLVII, rr. 1, 4—Review of judgment upon fresh evidence—Sufficient reasons not shown why the evidence was not produced at trial. Where no sufficient reasons appeared on the affidavit upon which an application was made, after judgment, for a re-hearing upon additional evidence, to show why the proposed new evidence was not timeously submitted: Held, that the application was properly rejected. SHIVALINGAPPA BASAPPA SHINTRE v. REVAPPA (1915) . 19 C. W. N. 762

See REVIEW . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 568

——— O. XLVII, r. 1; O. XLI, r. 19—Consent decree obtained by fraud, setting aside of—Inherent jurisdiction of Court—Such decree if can be set aside on review—Court-fee. A decree passed by [illegible] petition of compromise filed and that the respondent came to know about the compromise decree only after process in execution of the decree was taken out. Held, that O. XLI, r. 19, had no application to the case, but the decree could be set aside on review under O. XLVII, r. 1, and the Court had also inherent jurisdiction to set aside the decree. That it is an inherent power of every Court to correct its own proceedings, when it has been misled, and the order of the lower Court should not be set aside merely because it was [illegible]

19 C. W. N. 419

——— O. XLVII, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 623)—[illegible] made to Judge who signed the decree but did not write or deliver the judgment in accordance with which the decree was drawn up. The expression "the Judge who passed the decree" in r. 2, O. XLVII, Civil Procedure Code, means the Judge [illegible] former had granted an application for review which was set aside on the ground of the order having been passed without notice to the other side did not authorise the latter to entertain the application. TAMIJUDDI SHEIKH v. SATYA SANKAR GHOSHAL (1915) . . 20 C. W. N. 391

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— O. XLVII, r. 2 (1882 Code, s. 623)—contd

——— Where an order of remand by the High Court directed the Lower Court to ascertain the rate of rent payable for the years in suit, Held, that the decision of the rate of rent by the Lower Court did not operate as Resjudicata as regards rent payable in other years. KISHEN DEYAL RAI v. MUSSAMAT KULPATI KUER . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 372

——— O. XLVII, rr. 2, 7, sub-r. 1. cl. (1) [illegible] ground other than the discovery of new or important matter or evidence or the existence of a clerical or arithmetical error was, owing to the absence of [illegible] ordinate [illegible] to the [illegible] himself [illegible] to the postponement of the hearing and analogous matters, but died before the case could be heard on the merits; and the review application was subse- [illegible]

Where an order setting aside a sale was set aside on review and the sale confirmed: Held, that an appeal against the order passed on review preferred [illegible]

——— O. XLVII, r. 4 (1882 Code 626)—

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 178
6 Pat. L. J. 625

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), ss. 5, 14 I. L. R. 42 Bom. 295

See REVIEW . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 809

——— O. XLVII, rr. 4, 7 (See 1882 Code, ss. 626 and 629)—

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 433
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 178

See REVIEW . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 8[illegible]

——— O. XLVII, r. 4; O. XLI, r. 11—Appeal summarily dismissed—Application for review if may be granted without notice to respondent—Practice—Hearing of appeal, if to be restricted to grounds on which review based—[illegible]

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—————— O. XLVII, r. 4; O. XLI, r. 11—contd.

Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 22, 85, 159, 161, 167. The practice of the Court allowing applications for review of orders dismissing appeals under O. XLI, r. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code, to be granted without the issue of any notice to the respondents is in conformity with the law and should not be departed from. Semble: The Division Bench which granted the review can alone consider the propriety of the order previously made and either maintain or vacate the original order of dismissal. Semble: An order granting a review of an order of dismissal under O. XLI, r. 11, without issue of notice to the respondent, if contrary to law, is not a nullity. At most it is one made irregularly or with material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction possessed by the Judges and cannot be ignored or vacated by the Bench hearing the appeal. When an application for review of an order of dismissal under O. XLI, r. 11, is granted the hearing of the appeal cannot be restricted to the grounds which were made the basis of the application for review. JANAKINATH HORE v. PRABHASINI DASI (1915) . 19 C. W. N. 1077

—————— O. XLVII, r. 5 (1882 Code, s. 627)—Application for review heard by one of a Bench of two Judges, the other having gone on a month's leave—Jurisdiction—Appeal under the Letters Patent. Where one of a Bench of two High Court Judges who had disposed of an appeal, having left the Court on a month's leave, an application for review of the judgment was heard and dismissed by the remaining Judge: Held, that the learned Judge had no jurisdiction to dispose of the application, by reason of r. 5 of O. XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code and an appeal lay against that order. JAGAT CHANDRA ACHARYA v. SHYAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARYA (1917) . 22 C. W. N. 550

—————— O. XLVII, r. 7 (1882 Code, s. 629)—

See O. XLI R. 10 I. L. R. 42 All. 626

See O. XLIII, r. 1. 1 Pat. L. J. 193

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 433

1 —————— Reference by District Judge of case tried by Small Cause Court S. 115, Civil Procedure Code—S. 25, Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887)—Interference by High Court on question of fact. The plaintiff brought his suit in the Court of Small Causes for recovery of damages against the defendant who was said to have held some land under a contract to take half the proceeds as remuneration for his labour and expense. The Small Cause Court found that the defendant was a servant remunerated by the receipt of half the produce and decreed the suit. On a reference by the District Judge recommending the setting aside of the decree of the Small Cause Court Judge on the ground that the defendant should have been held to be a tenant against whom the suit could not be entertained: Held, that the Court of Small Causes was a Court subordinate to the District Judge and O. XLVII, r. 7, contemplated a reference by the District Judge of cases tried by such Court. That in cases of revision under s. 115, Civil Procedure Code, or under s. 25 of the Small Cause Courts Act, the High Court does not generally interfere with findings of fact arrived at by the first Court if those proceedings are supported by evidence before the Court. No case having been made out for interference on a question of fact, the reference was discharged. RATAN BEPARI v. HIRA LAL SARKAR (1916) 20 C. W. N. 1110

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

—————— O. XLVII, r. 7 (1882 Code, s. 629)—contd.

2. —————— Review of judgment—Appeal from order granting of review—Grounds of appeal. In an appeal under O. XLVII, r. 7 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, from an order granting an application for review of judgment, the appellant is strictly limited to the grounds set forth in the rule. KHURSHED ALAM KHAN v. RAHMAT-ULLAH KHAN (1917) I. L. R. 40 All. 68

—————— O. XLVII, r. 8 (1882 Code, s. 630)—Decree of Division Bench of High Court of two Judges found erroneous giving plaintiff more than he claimed—Application for amendment before one of them—Jurisdiction of single Judge to amend decree—Court in granting application for review, if bound to rehear whole case — Rehearing of case by single Judge without authority from Chief Justice —Jurisdiction. An application for amendment of a decree made in favour of the plaintiff by a Division Bench of the High Court of two Judges was moved by some of the defendants before one of them (the other Judge having left the Court) and a Rule was issued on the plaintiff to show cause why the decree should not be set aside or amended, or why such other order should not be made as might seem fit, on the ground that the decree purported to give plaintiff a relief not claimed by him. The Judge made the Rule absolute, and then in terms of r. 8, O. XLVII, C. P. C. proceeded to rehear the case with the result that the judgment and decree of the Division Bench were amended. The plaintiff appealed against this last decision. Held (Per JENKINS C. J. and N. R. CHATTERJEA J.), that in the absence of an order by the Chief Justice authorising the learned Judge alone to sit for the hearing of the case, his decision was without jurisdiction. The case thereafter was heard before the Regular Bench, the Judges whereof refused to rehear the whole case, and confining themselves to the point of amendment only passed a decree amending the judgment and decree. Some of the defendants having applied for review of this last decree, on the ground that the learned Judges should have reheard the whole appeal, held, that the decree of the Division Bench stood amended, as soon as the Rule to amend it was made absolute, and all subsequent proceedings were superfluous. That as the last decree of the High Court only affirmed that order, it was not necessary to set it aside. Per MOOKERJEE J.-R. 8 of O. XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code clearly leaves it optional with the Court to determine whether, when a review is granted, the case should be reopened in part or in its entirety. GOUR SUNDAR BHOWMIK v. RAKHAL RAJ BHOWMIK (1916) . . . . 20 C. W. N. 1165

—————— O. XLVIII, r. 9—Review of judgment—Second application for review—Practice. Semble: That there is nothing in the Code of Civil Procedure which prevents a second application for review being made after a previous application for review has been made and rejected. Gobinda Ram Mondal v. Bhola Nath Bhatta, I. L. R. 15 Calc. 432, referred to. PALLIA v. MATHURA PRASAD (1916)

I. L. R. 38 All. 280

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———Sch. II. See ARBITRATION.

———Reference of suit to arbitration by Judge and two others as arbitrators—Award—Decree in accordance therewith—Finality of decree—Reference whether under second schedule—Proceedings, extra cursum curiæ—Adjustment of suit under O XXIII, Civil Procedure Code-Consent decree. A reference of a pending suit to arbitration by the presiding Judge along with others as arbitrators is not a reference under the second schedule to the Civil Procedure Code but is a proceeding extra cursum curiæ, and a decree passed in accordance with their decision should be regarded as a consent decree not subject to the provisions of the second schedule, and is therefore final. Nanjappa v. Nanjappa, 23 M. L. J. 290 ; and Praydas v. Girdhardas, I. L. R. 26 Bom. 76, followed. It is undesirable that a Judge before whom a case is pending should associate himself with other persons as an arbitrator. CHINNA VENKATASAMI NAICKEN v. VENKATASAMI NAICKEN (1919) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 625

———Sch. II, para. 1 (1882 Code, s. 506)—

——— Award. Reference by parties interested. Defendant who did not appear not joining. Validity of reference discussed

14 C. W. N. 420

——— Reference to arbitration by some only of the parties to the suit—Ex-parte defendant, not a party to the reference—Reference, whether valid, award—Decree, validity of—Jurisdiction of Court to make a reference—"Party interested," meaning of. Where a suit was referred to arbitration at the instance of some of the parties thereto but a defendant, against whom relief was claimed in the plaint who was ex parte in the suit, did not join in the reference though he had an interest in the subject-matter of the reference and a decree was passed in accordance with the award of the arbitrators : Held, that the Court had no jurisdiction to make the order of reference under Sch II, r. 1, of the Civil Procedure Code, that the decree was invalid and should be set aside, and that the suit should be proceeded with on the merits If a person is ex parte in a suit, he does not thereby cease to be a party interested in the reference. Ishar Das v. Keshab Deo, I. L. R. 19 All. 657, and Vaithianatha Iyer v. Vaithialinga Mudaliar, 18 M. L. T. 374, dissented from. Girija v. Karai, 27 C. L. J. 939, followed. POTITA PAVANA PANDA v. NARASINGA PANDA (1919)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 632

——— A pardanashin lady and her two sons were defendants to a suit. An agreement was said to have been made by the parties to refer the matter to arbitration and the Court made an order of reference The agreement to refer, so far as it purported to be made by the lady, was signed by her pleader, to whom a gomasta had given a vakalatnama. The vakalatnama, however, did not contain a power to refer the suit to arbitration though it contained powers to file petitions of compromise and so forth : Held, that the provisions of para. 1 of Sch II to the Civil Procedure Code were not complied with in the case of the female defendant who was undoubtedly interested in the matters in difference in the suit along with her sons. The provisions of this paragraph must be strictly complied with in order that there may be a valid reference. Ramjiwan Ram v. Kali Charan Singh

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd

——— Sch. II, para. 1 (1882 Code, s. 506)—contd.

I. L. R. 29 All. 429 (1907), Seth Dooley Chand v. Mamuji Musaji, 21 C. W. N 387 (1916) and Girija Nath v. Kanai Lal, 27 C. L. J. 339 (1917), referred to. An appeal lies in a case where the referen [illegible] of the [illegible] DWARK [illegible] 832

[illegible]

trator in the place of one who has refused to act does not arise unless and until the Court has [illegible]

——— Sch. II, rr. 8 and 15—

See ARBITRATION . 4 Pat. L. J. 265

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1071

———Sch. II, para. 10 (1882 Code, s. 516)—

See ARBITRATION . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 721

——— Sch. II, para. 11—

——— Arbitration—Reference to arbitration on condition that certain adjustments should not be taken into consideration—Adjustment difference between treating as an account stated and as a mere admission—Admissibility of documents in support of particular items though excluded as evidence of a general settlement—Arbitrator, mis- [illegible] claimed by the plaintiff under a mortgage and two deeds of further charge consented to the suit being referred to arbitration on a condition, which was embodied in the consent order referring the case to arbitration, to the following effect :—"And it is further ordered that the said arbitrators do proceed on the basis of there having been no adjustments, and the adjustments relied upon by the plaintiff in this suit shall not be taken into consideration " The arbitration proceedings were carried on before arbitrators appointed for the purpose and afterwards before an umpire and in the course of the proceedings the umpire in spite of the defendant's protests admitted one of the adjustment in evidence as proof of an admission by the defendant that a certain item of Rs 1,300 included in the adjustment was due from him to the plaintiff. Previously the other of the two adjustments had been used by the plaintiff without protest from the defendant to prove one item therein. The defendant protested and asked the umpire to submit a special case for the consideration of the Court under clause 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. The umpire doubted whether that clause would apply, but postponed further consideration of the item in question to enable the defendant to move the Court, if so advised, for leave for the umpire to state a special case. The defendant, thereupon, purported to put an end to the umpire's authority and refused to go on with the reference, which nevertheless was proceeded with before the umpire ex parte and an award made. Held, that the passage in the consent order quoted above was reasonably susceptible of two constructions, that it was either a particular and specific, following upon a general, exclusion of all adjustments qua adjustments; or, as contended by the defendant, a stipulation that certain documents containing the adjustments should not be admitted in evidence for any purpose; and that it was possible to admit a document as evidence in support of a particular item and at the same time exclude it as evidence of a general settlement. Held, further, that if the defendant's contentions were correct, the stipulation relied on was a rule of evidence introduced pro hac vice, and that the honest though mistaken admission by the umpire of a document in violation of that rule would not be a ground for setting aside the award, and that the defendant's conduct in rejecting the umpire's offer to adjourn consideration of the item under discussion in order to give the defendant an opportunity to obtain the Court's leave for a statement of the case and in deciding to withdraw from the reference without the leave of the Court was incorrect. AISHABAI v. ESSAJI (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 66

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— Sch. II, para. 11—contd.

——— Sch. II, para. 12 (1882 Code, s. 506)—Arbitration—Award—Clerical mistake in award—Commissioner appointed to examine the award—Report of the Commissioner reversed by the Court—Court passing a decree different from the award—Practice—Procedure. The matters in dispute in the suit were referred to arbitrators who made their award. Both parties filed objections to the award. On an application being made by the parties to amend the award on the ground that there were certain clerical errors the Court issued notice to the arbitrators to rectify the award under paragraph 12 of the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code. The arbitrators considered the objections and submitted their opinion regarding the alleged errors. The Court, thereupon, made an order appointing two Commissioners to examine accounts made by the arbitrators. The Commissioners made their report supporting the opinion of the arbitrators. The Court then considered the objections with regard to certain disputed items, reversed the report of the Commissioners on these items and directed them to make a second report. The said report was made and eventually the Court passed a decree in favour of the defendants which was different from the award of the arbitrators. On appeal to the High Court: Held (setting aside the decree of the lower Court and passing a decree in terms of the arbitrators' award), (1) that a wrong procedure was followed by the Court from the commencement of the proceedings inasmuch as the Court in effect directed the Commissioner to sit in appeal on the award of the arbitrators with regard to the disputed items, and when the Commissioner supported the decision of the arbitrators the Court itself sat in appeal on the decision of the Commissioner: (2) that the Court could not be said to have exercised the only powers it had under para. 12 (b) and (c) of Schedule II, Civil Procedure Code, 1908, which were either to amend an obvious error which could be amended without affecting the decision, or to rectify a clerical mistake or an error arising from an accidental slip or omission. Shiam Lal v. Parshottam Das (1920) 42 All. 277, referred to. GOPAL DINKAR v. GANESH NARAYAN (1920) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 512

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— Sch. II, para. 14 (1882 Code, s. 520)—Award 'Illegal on the face of it,' meaning of—Patent illegality—Remittance to arbitrators for reconsideration, when permissible. In a suit for partition and recovery of a share in the family properties, the defendants pleaded inter alia that the plaintiff was born blind and was therefore not entitled to any share under Hindu Law. After issues were framed the whole dispute was, by agreement of the parties, referred to arbitrators who, without deciding the question as to congenital blindness, passed an award to the effect that the plaintiff was entitled to a life-interest in one-fourth share subject to its becoming an absolute interest in case the plaintiff married. Held, on objection to the award, that the award was not so patently illegal as to come within the meaning of cl. (c) of paragraph 14 of the second schedule of the Civil Procedure Code, and that the award could not be remitted to the arbitrators for reconsideration. English and Indian cases reviewed. MADEPALLI VENKATASWAMI v. MADEPALLI SURANNA (1917) . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1022

——— Sch. II, paras. 14, 15 and 16—Arbitration—Award—Ground for remitting or setting aside an award—Arithmetical error. It is not a ground for remitting an award on a matter referred to arbitration or for setting aside an award that the arbitrator has made a mistake in arithmetic and apparently unintentionally has awarded a larger sum of money to be paid by one party to the other than he would have awarded if his attention had been directed to the mistake. Nor does the decision of an arbitrator appointed to divide family property that a certain debt is due from the family to a person not a party to the reference amount to the determination of a matter not referred to arbitration, and in any case such a decision, so far as it might be considered as an award in favour of the creditor, would be entirely separable from the rest of the award. Allarakhia Shivji v. Jehangir Hormasji, 10 Bom., H. C. Rep., 391, and Mustafa Khan v. Phulja Bibi, I. L. R., 27 All., 526, referred to. SHIAM LAL v. PARSHOTTAM DAS . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 277

——— Sch. II, paras, 14, 15, 20—

See ARBITRATION . I. L. R. 36 All. 336

——— Sch. II, Para. 15 (1882 Code, s. 521)—

See ARBITRATION . I. L. R. 36 All. 354
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 522
4 Pat. L. J. 265

——— Sch. II, paras. 15, 16—

See APPEAL . . 1 Pat. L. J. 306

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 39 Calc. 822
I. L. R. 36 All. 354

See AWARD . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 256

——— Arbitration—Agreement to refer pending suit—Agreement not made by all the parties to the suit—Award—Objection to validity of agreement to refer—Revision. Out of twenty-one defendants, sixteen joined with the plaintiff in an application to refer the matter in the suit to arbitration. Of the remaining five defendants, three had not entered an appearance, and the Court had already passed an order that the case would be proceeded with ex parte as to them and as to the remaining two the plaintiff abandoned his claim against them. A reference was made and an award was delivered for payment of a sum of money by one of the defendants alone, and a decree followed in accordance with the award. Held, that there was a valid order of reference, or ... defendant against whom ... itted to ... R. 24 ... R. 29 ... J. 333, ... Ill. 657, ...

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— Sch. II, paras. 15, 16—contd.

16 of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the question whether there had been a valid reference to arbitration was a question reserved to the decision of the trial Court and ought not to be made the subject of the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court. Lutawan v. Lachya, I. L. R. 36 All. 69, referred to. AJUDHIA PRASAD v. BADR-UL-HUSAIN (1917) . I. L. R. 39 All. 489 ——— Arbitration decree in accordance with award—Appeal, grounds for. No appeal lies from the decree of a Court as to the validity or invalidity of an award, except in cases where the decree pronounced in pursuance of the award is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the provisions of the award itself. KHUDIRAM MAHATO v. CHANDICHARAN MAHATON

1 Pat. L. J. 306

——— Sch. II, paras. 15 and 16 ; O. XXXII, r. 7—Arbitration—Agreement by guardian ad litem of minor party to refer—No objection taken to validity of award—Decree in accordance with award—Appeal. Per RICHARDS, C. J. and BANERJI and RYVES, JJ. Where an objection to the validity of an award, which might have been raised under article 15 of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, is not raised within the time limited, or, being raised, is rejected and the Court proceeds to pronounce judgment and to frame a decree, no appeal will lie except on the grounds stated in article 16 of the same schedule. Semble (per RICHARDS, C.J., and RYVES, J.): That Order XXXII, rule 7, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, does not control article 1 of the second schedule. It is not therefore necessary for the guardian of a minor party to obtain the express leave of the Court before agreeing to a reference to arbitration being made by the Court. Ghulam Khan v. Muhammad Hassan, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 167, and Hardeo Sahai v. Gouri Shankar, I. L. R. 28 All. 35, referred to. Lakshmana Chetti v. Chinnthambi, I. L. R. 24 Mad. 326, distinguished. LUTAWAN v. LACHYA (1913) . I. L. R. 36 All. 69

——— Sch. II, para. 16—

See s. 115 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 832

——— Sch. II, paras. 16, 21 ; O. XXIII r. 3—Reference to arbitration—Decree on award—Appeal. A suit was instituted against four defendants. Defendants Nos. 1 to 3 were absent, ...

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— Sch. II, para. 16—contd.

adjourned date the defendant No. 4 made an application intimating to the Court that Mr. W. S. Marris (then Collector of Aligarh) has been appointed as arbitrator, by agreement between the plaintiff and himself, and that the said arbitrator had consented to act and had begun to make inquiries, and prayed for an adjournment. The application was endorsed by the plaintiff's counsel. The adjournment was granted, and similar applications were from time to time made to the Court, and they were granted. Finally, the Court communicated with Mr. Marris himself, inquiring how soon he hoped to be able to complete the award, and fixed another date for the case. On that date the Court was informed that the inquiries had been completed and the award might be expected shortly. The absent defendants had in the meantime stated to Mr. Marris their agreement to accept his award. The award, having been submitted to the Court, the defendant No. 4 applied that the award might be filed and be made a rule of Court. The plaintiff objected on a variety of grounds. The Court below overruled all the objections and ... conformity with the award. On ... Held, that having regard to the ...

matter a reference to arbitration by the Court under the earlier paragraphs of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, and in the circumstances the appeal, which was against the decree based on the award, was not maintainable. Nidamarthi Krishnamoorthy v. Gangiparti Ganapathin- ...

I. ... R. ... All. ...

——— Sch. II, para. 17 (1882 Code, s. 523)—

See s. 9 I. L. R. 37 Bom. 442

Agreement to refer to arbitration a pending litigation, privately, not coming under—Order filing agreement—Appeal, maintainability of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXIII, r. 3—Mere agreement is not an adjustment under. An order of a Court filing an agreement to arbitrate presented by the parties to a suit is the decree and is appealable as such even under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) as well as under s. 104 (d) of the new Code. Ghulam Khan Muhammad Hassan, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 167, Narayana Rao v. Sarabaiah, 21 Mad. L. J. 263 and Tiruvengadathiengar v. Vaidinatha Ayyar, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 303, followed. Paragraph 17 of second schedule to Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) corresponding to s. 523, Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), covers only cases where parties without having recourse to litigation agree to refer their differences to arbitration. So an agreement to refer to arbitration a pending litigation made without the intervention of the Court cannot be filed under paragraph 17 of the second schedule. Ghulam Khan v. Muhammad Hassan, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 167, and Tincowry Dey v. Fakir Chand Dey, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 218, followed. A mere agreement to refer to arbitration a matter pending before a Court cannot be treated as an adjustment of the dispute under O. XXIII, r. 3, corresponding to s. 375, Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), though an award consequent on the arbitration may be so treated. MACLEAN, C. J.'s view in Tincowry Dey v. Fakir Chand Dey, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 218, followed. Pragdas v. Girdhardas, I. L. R. 26 Bom. 76, Brojodurlabh Sinha v. Ramanath Ghosh, I. L. R. 24 Calc. 908, and Lakshmana Chetti v. Chinnathambi Chetti, I. L. R. 24 Mad. 326, distinguished. VENKATACHALA v. RANGIAH (1913)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— Sch. II, para. 17 (1882 Code, s. 522)—contd.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 353

——— Agreement to refer to arbitration—Mahomedan Law, mother as "defacto" guardian if can execute the agreement on behalf of her minor children—A party to the agreement if can subsequently question the validity of the agreement and withdraw therefrom—Subsequent assent of the "de jure" guardian if can validate the agreement—Subordinate Judge if may allow mother to act for her infants in partition proceedings—Kazi, who is. A Mahomedan mother on behalf of her minor children entered into an agreement with some others to refer to arbitrators a dispute about some properties and they all made an application to Court under r. 17 of the Second Schedule to the Civil Procedure Code. The guarding of the minors' properties appointed by the District Judge subsequently gave his assent to the agreement to refer and participated in the said application under r. 17. The Court thereupon acted upon the agreement and referred the dispute to arbitration. Held, that the mother was not competent to bind the infants by the agreement to refer to arbitration. The mother has no larger powers to deal with her minor child's property than any outsider or non-relative who happens to have charge for the time being of the infant. MOHSENUDDIN AHMED v. KHABIRUDDIN AHMED

26 C. W. N. 246

——— Sch. II, paras. 17, 18—

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 46 Calc. 1041

——— Arbitration—Failure of arbitrators to make an awarud—Suit as to part of the matters referred—Direction by Court to proceed with the arbitration accepted by the parties. Certain persons agreed to refer matters in dispute between them to arbitration and two arbitrators and an umpire were appointed. But, owing to further disputes arising, the arbitration was not proceeded with, and one of the parties sent a notice to the umpire purporting to revoke his authority as umpire. Thereafter one of the parties to the submission filed a suit in a Munsif's Court as to part of the matters referred to arbitration (the whole of such matters being beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Munsif). The Munsif at first dismissed the suit; but, the case having been remanded to him on appeal, then passed an order staying the suit under paragraph 18 of the Code of Civil Procedure and further went on to issue a precept to the arbitrators and the umpire to continue the arbitration. No exception, however, being taken by any one concerned to this order, the arbitration proceeded, the parties argued their respective cases fully before the arbitrators and an award was made. An application to have this award made a rule of Court was accepted by the Subordinate Judge and an appeal against this order was dismissed by the District Judge. Held that in the circumstances there was no ground for holding that the arbitrators had no jurisdiction to proceed with the case and deliver an award Appavu Rowther v Seeni Rowther, I. L. R. 41 Mad., 115, and Sheo Babu v. Udit Narain, 12 A. L. J., 757, referred to. SUKHNATH RAI v. NIHAL CHAND . . I. L. R. 42 All. 661

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

——— Sch. II, paras. 17 and 18—contd.

——— Sch. II, cls. 17, 20—Award—Application to file an award on reference made out of Court—Proceedings in Court continued—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), ss. 5 and 14; Sch. I, Art. 178. Pending proceedings for mutation of names, the parties concerned referred to arbitration out of Court the whole question of their title to the property in dispute, and the arbitrator delivered his award. The mutation proceedings were nevertheless continued. More than six months after the date of the award, some of the parties filed an application in the Civil Court purporting to be under cl. 17 of the Second Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, and subsequently an amended application under cl. 20. Held, that the application was time-barred. Cl. 17 of the Second Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure was totally inapplicable, and neither s. 5 nor s. 14 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, could be applied in favour of the amended application under cl. 20. RAM UGRAH PANDE v. ACHRAJ NATH PANDE (1915)

I. L. R. 38 All. 85

——— Sch. II, s. 18 (1882 Code, s. 523)—

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 41 Mad. 115

——— Suit on Hundi accepted by buyer—

See ARBITRATION . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 335

——— Agreement to refer disputes arising out of a contract to arbitration—Suit instituted by one of the parties for damages for short supply of goods—Whether suit should be stayed. Plaintiff sued defendant for a large sum as damages alleging that defendant had contracted to supply 75 cases of longcloth at certain rates, but had given delivery of 38 cases only. The defendant put in pleas and at the same time made an application to the Court under Schedule II, paragraph 18, Civil Procedure Code, praying that the suit should be stayed on the ground that clause 15 of the contract between the parties contained a provision to the following effect:—"Any claim or dispute arising, in connection with this contract, unless an amicable settlement can be arrived at, must be referred to arbitration in Delhi in accordance with the Survey and Arbitration Rules of the Delhi Hindustani Mercantile Association." The Senior Sub-Judge, Delhi, declined to stay the suit on the ground that the arbitration clause did not apply to short delivery of goods, citing Chhajju Mal & Co. v. Gurmukh Singh-Bhagwan Das (72 P. R. 1917). Held, that when a Court is apprised that a suit has been instituted in contravention of an arbitration agreement the Court has a discretion to stay the suit, and that the burden lies on the plaintiff to show that some sufficient reason exists why the matter should not be so referred and not on the defendant to show that no such reason exists. The reason given by the Lower Court for declining to stay the suit was therefore

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —contd.

———Scd. II, s. 18 (1882 Code, s. 523)—contd. incorrect and the case must be remanded for a [illegible]

[illegible] 1917) and Dreyfus v. Jai Chand (51 P. W. R 1913), distinguished. GANESH DAS-ISHAR DAS v. DURGA DAT-JAGAN NATH . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 19

———Sch. II, para. 20 (1882 Code, s. 525)—F[illegible] institu-[illegible] ward or value of matter in dispute—Change of law. When an award has been made on a reference to arbitrators without the intervention of the Court, the amount of the award and not that originally in dispute between the parties determines the forum in which an application to file the award is to be made and the Court to which appeal shall lie from the order passed on the application. Narsingh Das v. Ajodhya Prosad Sukul, I. L. R. 31 Calc. 203, not followed in view of the change in the law. MOHESH CH. KOONDOO v. AMAR CHANDRA KOONDOO (1914) . . 18 C. W. N. 867

——————— Whether applicable where the award has been lost. Held, that when an award has been reduced to writing and has been lost, the special procedure provided by paragraph 20 of Schedule II of the Code of Civil Procedure cannot be resorted to and the parties should be referred to a regular suit. Gopi Reddi v. Mahanandi Redi (I. L. R. 12 Mad. 331) and Gowardhan Das v. Kesho Ram (66 P. R 1918), referred to. Hill v. Townsend (12 R. R. 595), and Banerji's Law of Arbitration, p. 370, distinguished. MUSSAMMAT KHODEJA v. GHULAM NABIO . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 45

———Sch II, paras. 20 and 21—

See s. 11 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 327

See s. 104 . I. L. R. 42 All. 185

——————— *Private arbitration award filed and judgment pronounced and decree following, if can be re-opened in subsequent suit to set aside the award and decree—*Res-judicata. Matters heard and determined in proceedings under cl. 21 of Sch. II of the Civil Procedure Code are res judicata and cannot be re-opened in a subsequent suit between the same parties and brought for the purpose of setting aside the award and the decree following upon the judgment pronounced in accordance therewith. A proceeding under cl. 21 of Sch. II, Civil Procedure Code, is a suit within the meaning of s. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. GURU CHARAN SIRKAR v. UMA CHARAN SIRKAR

26 C. W. N. 940

———Sch. II, para. 21—

See ARBITRATION . 4 Pat. L. J. 394

———Sch. II. para. 21 ; O. XLIII, r. 1—Arbitration—Application to file an award made out of Court—Application granted ex parte*—Refusal to set aside* ex parte order*—Appeal. Held,* that an appeal will lie against an order rejecting an application to set aside an ex parte decree passed under para. 21 of the Second Schedule to the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. NIHAL SINGH v. KHUSHHAL SINGH (1916) . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 297

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —concld.

———Sch. III, para. 2 (1882 Code, s, 322)—

See s. 48 . . I. L. R. 42 All. 118

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 325A . . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 183

———Sch. III, para. 7—Held, that so far as the machinery necessary to satisfy a decree was concerned the Collector is the sole authority and a Civil Court cannot interfere with that discretion but the Court decides whether the decree has been satisfied or not BHURCHAND HANSRAJ v. VIRA CHAMPA

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 32

CIVIL SUIT.

——— pendency of—

See CRIMINAL, PROCEEDINGS, STAY OF. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 106

CIVIL TRESPASS.

See PENAL CODE, s. 441. 16 C. W. N. 1007

CLAIM.

——————— Crops wrongfully attached reaped and sold—Claimant if chargeable with costs of reaping—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 69, 70. Where perishable things under attachment in respect of which a claim has been preferred are sold the claim is not extinguished but attaches to the sale-proceeds The decree-holder attached some standing crops. Before the crops were reaped the claimant preferred his claim to a portion of the crops and prayed that reaping might be stayed pending the adjudication of his claim, or that the crops on his share of the land be kept separate. This was not done and the crops were sold. The claim was ultimately allowed : [illegible] and the claimant was not liable to pay those costs either under s. 69 or s 70 of the Indian Contract Act. Dakhina Mohan v. Saroda Mohan, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 142, Tiluck Chand v. Soudamini, I. L. R. 4 Calc. 566, Abdul Wahid v. Shaduka Bibi, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 496, Goma Mahad v. Gokaldas, I. L. R. 3 Bom. 74, Peruvian Guano Co. v. Dreyfus Brothers, [1892] A. C. 166, referred to. RASIK CHANDRA GHOSE v. JITENDRA KUMAR GHOSE (1910).

15 C. W. N. 817

CLAIM CASE.

See RES JUDICATA.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 698

CLAIM PETITIONS.

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882), s. 19, CL. (s).

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 219

CLAIM PROCEEDINGS.

See LIMITATION . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 785

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882), s. 19, CL. (s).

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 219

CLAIMANT.

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ARTS. 29, 62 AND 120.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 972

CLEAR RECEIPT.

See CARRIERS . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 311

CLERICAL MISTAKE.

See DECREE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 265

CLERK.

———— relinquishment by of employment without consent of master—

See MASTER AND SERVANT.
I. L. R. 35 All. 132

CLUB.

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 844

CO-ACCUSED.

———— confession of—

See CONFESSION . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 446
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

See CONSPIRACY . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 754

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 30.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 156
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 739

———— plea of guilty by—

See CONFESSION . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 446

COAL.

See MINING LEASE I. L. R. 41 Calc. 493

———— wrongful removal of—

See JURISDICTION.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 739

COAL MINES.

See MINES . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 372

———— grant of—

See DIGWARI TENURE.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 696

COASTING-VESSELS ACT (XIX OF 1838).

———— ss. 4, 7 and 13—Registry of vessels—Certificate of registry—Certificate issued in the name of a person who trades in his own name jointly with his son—The son continuing the business in the same name after the person's death—Fresh certificate not obtained—Liability of the son for plying the craft without certificate. A person owning a craft had taken out a certificate of registry in his own name under s. 7 of the Coasting-Vessels Act (XIX of 1838). He traded in his own name jointly with his sons. On his death, his son carried on the business as before under the same name and did not take out a fresh certificate for the craft. The son was prosecuted under s. 13 of the Act for plying the craft without a certificate; but was acquitted by the Magistrate. The Government having appealed: Held, that the craft having been registered in the father's name, and the ownership of it having passed on his death to his son, the latter was bound to obtain a fresh certificate in his own name under s. 4 of the Coasting-Vessels Act (XIX of 1838); and that his failure to do so was punishable under s. 13 of the Act. EMPEROR v. HARIDAS LAKHMIDAS (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 111

COCAINE.

See BOMBAY ABKARI ACT, s. 43.
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 342

See POST OFFICE ACT VI OF 1898, ss. 19, 61, 70 . I. L. R. 37 All. 289

———— importation of—

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 545

———— Possession of illicit cocaine—Mere possession of bill of lading and invoice relating to illicit cocaine seized in the Custom House—Attempting to import such cocaine into Bengal—Alteration, on the same facts, of conviction of being in possession to one of attempting to import—Bengal Excise Act (Ben. Act V of 1909), ss. 2 (12), 46 (a), 52 and 61—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 236, 237. The doctrine of constructive possession must be very cautiously applied, especially in the domain of criminal jurisprudence. The mere possession of a bill of lading and an invoice covering goods lying undelivered in the Custom House, by a person who is not the consignee, does not amount to possession of such goods within the meaning of the Bengal Excise Act. Kashi Nath Bania v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 557, and Ashruf Ali v. Emperor, I. L. R. 36 Calc. 1016, distinguished. Where the accused was found in possession of a bill of lading and an invoice relating to six bales of old wearing apparel which contained, to his knowledge, a large quantity of contraband cocaine purporting to be consigned to R. P. by a firm in London, and he made over the documents to a firm of shipping agents for clearance from the Custom House and failed to produce the alleged consignee for whom he professed to be acting, or to give any clue about him: Held, that the conviction of being in possession of such cocaine, under ss. 46 (a) and 52 of the Bengal Excise Act, was not sustainable, but that the accused should, having regard to ss. 236 and 237 of the Criminal Procedure Code, be convicted, on the same facts, of attempting to import the cocaine into Bengal under s. 61 read with ss. 46 (a) and s. 2 (12) of the Act. KALI CHARAN MUKERJEE v. EMPEROR (1913) . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 537

CO-CLAIMANTS.

———— Litigation expenses paid by, if recoverable from others benefited by the result. Where some of several claimants take proceedings for recovery for their own benefit, the fact that the result is also to the benefit of the other claimants does not create any implied contract or give the former an equity to be paid a share of the costs of the litigation by the latter. Abdul Wahid Khan v. Shaluka Bibi, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 496, and Halima Bee v. Roshan Bee, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 526, followed. RAMDHARI SINGH v. PERMANUND SINGH (1913) . 19 C. W. N. 1183

CO-CONSPIRATORS.

———— separate trial of—

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

CO-DEFENDANTS.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 11 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 210

CODICIL.

See WILL . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 192

CODIFICATION.

See CUSTOMARY LAW . 1 Pat. L. J. 325

COERCION.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 72.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 285

See HINDU LAW ADOPTION
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 441

See LETTERS PATENT . 2 Pat. L. J. 633

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), s. 39 . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 149

See UNDUE INFLUENCE

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 598

——— evidence of—

See WILL . . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 355

CO-EXECUTANT.

See ATTESTING WITNESS.
14 C. W. N. 1046

CO-EXECUTORS.

——— compromise between—

See HINDU LAW—WILL.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 365

COGNIZANCE OF OFFENCE.

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1013

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 221

See MAGISTRATE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

——— Police report—Case made over to another Magistrate for enquiry and report—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 173, 190 (1) (b)—Practice. Where a Magistrate, upon receiving a police report under s. 173, does not take cognizance of the case under s. 190 (1) (b), which he is perfectly competent to do, but makes it over for enquiry and report to an Honorary Magistrate, he acts contrary to the provisions of the law. ABDULLAH MANDAL v. EMPEROR (1913)
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 854

CO-HEIRS.

See TENANTS-IN-COMMON.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1049

COLLECTOR.

See BHAGDARI ACT (BOM. ACT V OF 1862), s. 3 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 679

See BOMBAY ABKARI ACT (V OF 1878), ss. 32, 67 . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 101

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE, 1879.
s. 48 . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 123
s. 121 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 67

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882—
ss. 276, 295, 320, 325A.
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 516
ss. 324A, 272, 285.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 519
s. 325A . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 510

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
ss. 3, 115 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 114
s. 47, O. XXI, R. 92.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 551

COLLECTOR—contd.

s. 68, O. XXI, R. 100.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 488
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 672
s. 70, O. XXI, R. 72.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 321
s. 93 . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 243
SCH. III, s. 7 (1) (b), ss. 69, 70.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 32

See COURT OF WARDS ACT (BOM. ACT I OF 1905), s. 3 (c).
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 318

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT, BOMBAY—
ss. 10 AND 13 I. L. R. 35 Bom. 146
s. 11 . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 37
s. 67 . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 420

See INCOME TAX I. L. R. 42 Calc. 151

See INCOME TAX ACT, 1886, ss. 14 AND 50.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 234

See LAND ACQUISITION.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 230
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797

See LIMITATION ACT.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 325

See MAMLATDARS' COURTS ACT, BOMBAY, s. 23 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 123

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)—
s. 4 . . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 91
s. 6 . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 352

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (BOM. ACT X OF 1876).
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 542

——— award by—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT.
I. L. R. 36 Bom 529

——— Boundary dispute—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE, 1879, s. 121 . . . L. R. 45 Bom. 67

——— Certificate of—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM. III OF 1874), ss. 10 AND 13.
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 146

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871), s. 6.—
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 352

——— execution sale (setting aside of)—

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR, P. 106, R. 17 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1132

——— partition effected by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 54 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 689

See DECREE . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 118

——— powers of—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM. ACT V OF 1879)—
s. 56 . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 81
s. 79A . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 72

——— sale by—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 173

See CERTIFICATE OF SALE.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 167

COLLECTOR—contd.

———— suit against, without notice—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s. 424. I. L. R. 35 Bom. 42

———— Jurisdiction—Complaint to Collector of the District under s. 58 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)—Transfer of inquiry to Subdivisional Officer for disposal—Deputy Collector—Jurisdiction of Subdivisional Officer to hold such inquiry and to direct a prosecution for fabrication of false evidence—Bengal Tenancy Act, ss. 3 (16), 58 (3)—Government Notification of 19th September 1910—Reg. IX of 1833, ss. 20 and 21—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 476. Under s. 3 (16) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and Government Notification of the 19th September 1910, a Subdivisional Officer is a "Collector" and is authorized to hold an inquiry under s. 58 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. A Collector of the District has power, on complaint made to him, to transfer such inquiry for disposal to a Subdivisional Officer who is, under ss. 20 and 21 of Reg. IX of 1833, subordinate to the Collector, and is required to perform all the duties assigned to him by that functionary. Where, therefore, a complaint under s. 58 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act was made to the Collector of the District and transferred by him for disposal to the Subdivisional Officer who found that certain rent-receipt books, filed in the course of the inquiry, had been fabricated: Held, that the latter had jurisdiction, under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to direct a prosecution of the offenders for offences under ss. 193 and 196 of the Penal Code. PHANINDAR SINGH v. EMPEROR (1913)

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 465

COLLECTOR OF BOMBAY.

————, office of—

See BOMBAY CITY LAND REVENUE ACT (BOM. II OF 1876), ss. 30, 35, 39, 40. I. L. R. 39 Bom. 664

COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS.

See SEA CUSTOMS ACT (VIII OF 1878), ss. 167 (3), 182, 188, 191. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 221

COLLECTOR OF RANGOON.

———— reference by—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 21

COLLECTORATE REGISTER.

———— Collectorate Registers giving details as to the areas of the different villages and the Government Revenue chargeable thereon at the time of the settlement were admissible in evidence as public documents, although it might not be possible to specify with absolute certainty for what purpose the measurements had been made and the registers prepared. LAL MOHAR THAKUR v. SHEW GOLAM LAL (1911)

16 C. W. N. 590

COLLISION.

See APPELLATE COURT. 25 C. W. N. 519

See CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 308
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 575

COLLISION—contd.

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890), s. 101. I. L. R. 37 Bom. 685

———— at sea—

See ADMIRALTY JURISDICTION. 20 C. W. N. 1022

COLLUSION.

See ASSIGNEE OF A MONEY-DECREE. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 36

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 73 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 811

See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 1091

See EX PARTE DECREE. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 920

COLONIAL COURTS OF ADMIRALTY ACT, 1890 (53 & 54 VICT., C. 27).

———— ss. 2 (3) (a), 35—

See ARREST OF SHIP. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 85

COLONIAL PROBATES ACT (55 & 56 VICT., c. 6).

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 74

COLONISATION OF GOVERNMENT LANDS (PUNJAB) ACT, 1912.

———— s. 19—Devise of his square by a tenant who became proprietor subsequently—Whether rendered void by the Act and whether the devise passes the proprietary right. One Sham Singh held a square of land in Chak No. 157 in the Lyallpur District as a tenant. On 5th July 1909 he made a will bequeathing "my square in Chak No. 157" to his son by a second wife. After Act V of 1912 came into force he acquired proprietary rights in the said square, and in 1913 he died. The plaintiff, the son of Sham Singh by his first wife, then brought the present suit claiming ½ of the said square and contended, inter alia, that the will was rendered void and inoperative by Act V of 1912, and that a devise of occupancy rights could not pass proprietary rights. Both the Lower Courts dismissed plaintiff's suit. Plaintiff appealed to this Court. Held, that, as the testator was a proprietor at the time the succession fell in, the will was in no way rendered void or inoperative by s. 19 of Act V of 1912. Held, also, that as the occupancy rights had ripened into proprietary ownership before the will became operative the square passed to the devisee under the will. Saxton v. Saxton (13 Ch. D. 359), followed. DALIP SINGH v. BALWANT SINGH

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 590

COMMERCIAL CONTRACT.

———— Indentor who has accepted shipping documents and draft—

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 368

COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE WITH ENEMIES ORDINANCE (VI OF 1914).

———— s. 3—

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1094
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 34

COMMISSION.

See ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL'S ACT (II OF 1874), ss. 20, 52, 54.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1134

See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 771

——— Secret—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 81

——— to examine witnesses—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXVI, R. 1
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 136

See PARDANASHIN, EXAMINATION OF.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 19

COMMISSION AGENT.

——— selling adulterated food—

See ADULTERATIONS.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 682

See UNITED PROVINCES PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION ACT (VI OF 1912), ss. 4, 6 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 661

——— Commission agency—Practice and Procedure—Adjustment of accounts—Part of claim

Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XII, r. 6. Under XII, O. r. 6 of the Civil Procedure Code, the Court has jurisdiction to enter judgment for the amount admitted to be due from the defendants to the plaintiffs and it is in the Judge's discretion, having regard to the nature of the case

PREMSUK DAS ASSARAM v. UDAIRAM GUNGABUX (1917) . . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 138

COMMISSIONER.

——— Revenue Commissioner, power to review order made by, annulling sale for

Act XI of 1859, as amended by Bengal Act VII of 1868, had, under the circumstances, no power to review his order setting aside a sale held for arrears of revenue. BAIJNATH RAM GOENKA v. NAND KUMAR SINGH (1913) . . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 552

COMMISSIONER FOR LOCAL INVESTIGATION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O. XXVI. R. 9
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 640

——— Court appointing Commissioner only proper Court to settle remuneration. The Court which appoints a Commissioner for local investigation is the only Court having jurisdiction to settle all bills in respect of remuneration submitted by such Commissioner. PANCHANAN SEN v. MADHUSUDAN MULLIK (1918)
[23 C. W. N. 295

COMMISSIONER FOR TAKING ACCOUNTS.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, SCH. II, PARA. 12 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 512

——— Accounts—Power of the Commissioner to decide questions of law in the taking of accounts—High Court Rules (Original Side) Rr. 397, 399,—Rules of the Supreme Court in England, O. LV, r. 69—Redemption suit—Motion for directions to the Commissioner. The Commissioner to

It is a different matter to ask the Court to resume the hearing merely for the purpose of deciding certain questions which come within the powers of the Commissioner LAXMIBAI v. HUSSAINBHAI (1916) . . . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 719

COMMISSIONER OF PARTITION.

——— sale by—

See REVIEW . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 140

——— Commissioner's fees—How realised—If to be made part of decree—Partition suit. Where a decree in a partition suit entitled the Commissioner to realise by execution the sum awarded to him on account of his fees and expenses: Held, that the Commissioner, who was an officer of the Court, ought not to have been placed in this position. The proper course for the Court would have been to call upon the decree-holder to deposit in Court the full amount determined to be payable to the Commissioner and the decree ought not to have been drawn up till such sum had been deposited. NANDA LAL SIRKAR v. BENODE BEHARY ROY (1910). 15 C. W. N. 221

COMMISSIONER OF POLICE.

——— power of—

See PROCESSION . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 470

COMMITMENT.

See APPROVER . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 856

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—

ss. 197, 210, 215.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 172

ss. 197, 239, AND 532.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 147

s. 209 . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 163

s. 254 . . I. L. R. 41 All. 454

COMMITMENT—contd

s. 213 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 114

ss. 476 AND 478 I. L. R. 40 All. 116

s. 478 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 32

See JURY.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

———— to Sessions—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 360

———— while suit pending—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XLIII, R. 1 (r) AND O. XXXIX, R. 2, CL. (3).
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 907

———— Duty of Magistrate to examine witnesses not produced but whom the accused is prepared to produce after process—Application to summon witnesses and for time to file documents made after the commitment order—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 208—Practice. A Magistrate is bound, before passing an order of commitment, to examine all the witnesses produced by the accused but not those whom he is prepared to produce after process obtained for their appearance. Queen-Empress v. Ahmadi, I. L. R. 20 All. 264, referred to. Emperor v. Muhammad Hadi, I. L. R. 26 All. 177, dissented from. A Magistrate does not act illegally, under s. 208 of the Criminal Procedure Code, in refusing an application for summons on witnesses and for time to file documents, made after the order of commitment has been passed. EMPEROR v. SURATH (1914) . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 608 ———— Charge exclusively triable by a Court of Sessions—Magistrate's duty, when there is evidence which if believed would support the charge. Where the charge against the accused was one of rape which is exclusively triable by a Court of Sessions and other minor offences and the Magistrate holding that the story of rape was probably an exaggeration tried the accused for the other offences and convicted him: Held, that as there was evidence which if believed would support the charge of rape the Magistrate should have committed the case to the Court of Sessions. Per SHAMSUL HUDA, J. That in revision the High Court should not take the responsibility of coming to a conclusion even incidentally regarding a charge on which the accused has not been tried. MOZE ALI v. KING-EMPEROR (1919)

23 C. W. N. 1031

COMMITTEE.

See PARTIES—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 323

COMMON CARRIERS.

See CARRIERS.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), SS. 56, 65 . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 529

———— by sea—

See BILL OF LADING.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 941

———— liability of—

See CARRIERS ACT, S. 6. 15 C. W. N. 226

1. ———— Contract of carriage—Excepted risk—Construction—Negligence, indemnity against—Carriers Act (III of 1865), ss. 6, 8, 9—Insurance policy "warranted no recourse against carriers"—Subrogation—Right to recover—Misjoinder—Damages. Goods were shipped on a flat belonging to the carriers under a bill of lading endorsed to the Manufacturing Company, by clause 5 whereof "the carriers were exempt from loss of the goods, unless such loss should have arisen from the negligence or criminal acts of their servants or agents." There was an existing agreement between the Manufacturing Company and the carriers, by clause 10 whereof "the Manufacturing Company undertook and agreed to hold the carriers harmless and indemnified from and against all claims which could be insured against or covered by an ordinary F. P. A. policy." An ordinary F. P. A. policy was issued by the Insurance Company in favour of the Manufacturing Company in respect of the goods, having the clause "warranted no recourse against carriers." The goods were lost by the negligence of the carriers, and the Insurance Company paid the Manufacturing Company the amount of the policy. In an action for the loss of the goods, brought by the Insurance Company and the Manufacturing Company against the Carrying Company, as common carriers:—Held, that the action lay. The rights and liabilities of the common carrier in India are outside the Indian Contract Act, and are governed by the principles of the English Common Law as modified by the Carriers Act. A common carrier is subjected to two distinct classes of liability, (i) insurable risks from which the element of default is absent, and (ii) carrying risks, in which that element is present. English Courts in dealing with exemption clauses recognise this distinction and construe them as not extending to carrying risks in the absence of clear words to that effect. Price & Co. v. Union Lighterage Company, [1904] 1 K. B. 412 ; James Nelson & Sons, Limited v. Nelson Line (Liverpool), Limited (No. 2), [1907] 1. K. B. 769 ; Wyld v. Pickford, 8 M. & W. 443 ; D'Arc v. London and North-western Railway Company, I. L. R. 9 C. P. 325 ; Martin v. The Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company, L. R. 3 Ex. 9 ; Czech v. General Steam Navigation Company, L. R. 3 C. P. 14 ; and Crouch v The London and North-Western Railway Company, 23 L. J. C. P. 73, referred to. Baxter's Leather Company v. Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, [1908] 2 K. B. 626, distinguished. A fortiori, in India where there is statutory prohibition against exempting a carrier from loss arising from negligence and criminal acts, this canon of construction should be adopted, at any rate within the limits implied in the prohibition. Clause 10 of the Agreement must be construed as an integral part of the contract of carriage: it did not extend to loss arising from negligence or criminal acts. The stipulation in the policy "warranted no recourse against carriers" did not amount to a relinquishment by the Insurance Company in respect of risks not exempted, i.e., where the loss had arisen from the negligence of the carriers. Thomas & Co. v. Brown, 4 Com. Cas. 186, distinguished. Inasmuch as the Insurance Company claimed by way of suborgation, and not assignment, the suit should have been brought only in the name of the Manufacturing Company. Burnand v. Rodocarnachi, L. R. 7 A. C. 333, and Simpson v. Thompson, L. R. 3 A. C. 279, referred to. BRITISH AND FOREIGN MARINE INSURANCE CO., LD. v. INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO., LD. (1910) . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 28
15 C. W. N. 226

COMMON CARRIERS—contd.

2. ———— Notice of loss—Carriers Act (III of 1865), s. 10—Waiver of Notice. Under s. 10 of the Carriers Act, before suit, notice of loss must be given to the carrier by the plaintiff. Knowledge of the loss derived aliunde by the carrier is not sufficient. BRITISH AND FOREIGN MARINE INSURANCE CO., LD. v. INDIA GENERAL STEAM NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO, LD. (1910)

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 50

3. ———— Right of consignee to insist on carrier weighing goods before delivery—Refusal to re-weigh, if refusal to deliver—Right of consignee to weigh and charge for shortage. Defendant Steamer Company who were common carriers used to allow consignees of goods by their boats to inspect them before granting receipt in the delivery book and have them re-weighed (if so demanded) in case of suspicion of short weight and enter the short weight in the delivery book. The plaintiff's agent without making any such inspection paid the freight, signed the bill of lading and gave a clear receipt in the delivery book of the Company, but did not take actual delivery as he found some of the bags damaged. He then asked the Company's servant to re-weigh the goods and this being refused, did not take delivery. The plaintiff thereupon sued the Company for the price of the goods. Held, that the suit must fail refusal plainta clear ight to compensation for proved loss of any portion of the

RAMJASH AGARWALA v. INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO, LD. (1917)

22 C. W. N. 310

4 ———— Liability for injuries to goods—Through-booking of goods—Through booking by one company and injury while the goods were in the custody of another Company—Indian Carriers Act (III of 1865), ss. 5, 8, 9—Negligence—Onus of proof—Non-feasance and mis-feasance—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 106. The plaintiff delivered 343 chests of tea to the first railway, goods delivered for transport from Assam notified. Accordingly the said chests of tea were put upon one of the flats of the second defendant at Gauhati for carriage to Chandpur and while the chests were in the said flat a fire broke out and destroyed 96 of the chests. The plaintiff brought this action against both the defendants for recovery of Rs. 7,185 representing the value of the 96 chests so destroyed. The action against the first defendant was dismissed under s. 77 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, as the requisite notice was not served on them within the period of six months: Held, that there was no contract between the plaintiff and the second defendant and that under the arrangement there was a general contract between the defendants whereby one became a sub-contractor to the other. Held, further, that under the circumstances the first defendant had no authority to act as agent of the second defendant to enter into contract for carriage on the latter's behalf. Held, also, that the second defendant was a common carrier within the definition of the Indian Carriers Act, 1865, and as such, was liable to the plaintiff who was the owner of the goods. The Indian Carriers Act, 1865, makes a common carrier liable to the owner of the goods as such though not as insurer. Held, also, that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed inasmuch as he had established negligence on the part of the second defendant. THE DEKHARIA TEA CO. v THE ASSAM BENGAL RAILWAY CO. (1919) . . . . 23 C. W. N. 998

COMMON CARRIERS—contd.

COMMON GAMING HOUSE.

See COTTON-GAMBLING.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 968

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III OF 1867), ss 3 AND 4 . I. L. R. 41 All. 366

ss 4 AND 8 . I. L. R. 41 All. 272

COMMON LAND.

———— Abadi—Occupied by some of the proprietors asserting their exclusive title and denying that of the other proprietors—Whether a suit by other proprietors for joint possession is competent—Partition of abadi land. Where a plot of abadi land was taken exclusive possession of by the defendants, two of the proprietors of the village who asserted their exclusive title and denied the title of the other proprietors: Held, that a suit for joint possession by other proprietors was competent. Watson and Co v. Ramchand Dutt (I L. R. 18 Calc. 10 P C.) and Maju v. Teja Singh (29 P. R. 1918), distinguished. A Civil Court, but not a Revenue Officer or Revenue Court, has jurisdiction to partition the abadi land, but the onus of proving that there was shamilat in the abadi which could be partitioned, and that partition thereof was feasible rests upon the person claiming partition Ishwar Singh v. Atma Singh (117 P. R. 1894), followed MANJI v. GHULAM MUHAMMAD . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 73

———— Abadi—encroachment by one of the co-sharers—Suit for ejectment by some of the other co-sharers without proof of material or substantial injury and without asking for partition. The plaintiffs and some other persons are the owners of 9-16th share of Pana Opra, one of the Panas of the town Toshan, the remaining co-sharers (butchers by trade) own the rest of the Pana. The plot in dispute is a vacant site in the Pana which was alleged to have been in long occupation of defendants Nos 3 and 4 who sold it to defendants 1 and 2, two of the co-sharers in the rest of the Pana, under two deeds of sale, dated 6th August 1916. The plaintiffs alleged that the plot in dispute was part of the common land in Pana Opra, that defendants 1 and 2 under the deeds of sales had taken exclusive possession of it on 11th December 1917, and begun to make constructions upon it and the plaintiffs had taken proceedings against them in the Criminal Courts which were dismissed on 4th March 1918, owing to defendants producing the deeds of sale. They alleged that the deeds of sale were fictitious and invalid and prayed for possession of the plot and a perpetual injunction. The suit was instituted on the 9th March 1918. The defendants 1 and 2 pleaded that although the site appertained to the abadi Pana Opra, Toshan being a town, according to the Wajib-ul-arz every occupier of the abadi land was its proprietor and possessed the right of making transfers, and that they had consequently acquired a good title under the sale deeds. They also pleaded that plaintiffs had no right to institute the suit against the defendants without having a partition made. The first Court held that defendants 3 and 4 had been in occupation of the plot, and according to the Wajib-ul-arz they had a right to transfer it to defendants 1 and 2 and dismissed the suit. The plaintiffs appealed and the Lower Appellate Court agreed in the finding of the first Court that according to the Wajib-ul-arz every inhabitant of the abadi, whether a proprietor or not, was entitled to alienate the abadi land exclusively in his occupation. But it found that the vendees defendants 1 and 2 had not succeeded in proving the exclusive possession of defendants 2 and 3, their vendors, and could not therefore transfer an exclusive title to the latter. It accordingly passed a decree for joint possession in favour of the entire proprietary body of Pana Opra. The defendants thereon presented the present appeal to the High Court. It was urged that even if the land belonged to all co-sharers in the Pana the plaintiffs had no right to eject the defendants without proving special damage or injury and that the only remedy the plaintiffs had was to have a partition effected. Held, that it is a well established custom that no individual proprietor can appropriate to himself a portion of the common land and use it in such a way as to affect the rights of all the co-sharers at the time of partition. Held, also, that the plaintiffs having come into Court without any delay were not obliged to show material and substantial injury, and that the decree of the Lower Appellate Court was correct. Civil Appeal No. 2788 of 1917, per Scott-Smith J. (unpublished), followed. Chuhar Singh v. Dhaunkal Singh (77 P. R. 1885), Ghasita Mal v. Goga (121 P. R. 1885), Ghan Singh v. Sadda Singh (73 P. R. 1882) and Hidayat Ali v. Akbar Ali 76 P. R. 1873), referred to. Ghulam Muhammad Khan v. Buta (187 P. R. 1889), Hidayat Ali Khan v. Basit Ali Khan (54 P. R. 1892), Majju v. Teja Singh (29 P. R. 1918) and Nocury Lal v. Bindaban Chandar (I. L. R. 8 Cal. 708), distinguished. MANJI v. GHULAM MUHAMMAD

COMMON LAND—contd.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 249

COMMON LAW.

See CONTEMPT OF COURT.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 383

COMMON MANAGER.

See ACCOUNT . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 108

———— suit against—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 95.

24 C. W. N. 138

———— Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 95—98—Suit against a Common Manager for general accounts, after accounts passed by the District Judge, whether maintainable—Position of a Common Manager. A Common Manager appointed under s. 95 of the Bengal Tenancy Act by the District Judge, is an officer of the Court created by the statute, and in so far he holds his office and performs his duties under the provisions of the Act, is in a position analogous to that of a Receiver appointed by the Court, and is entitled to the same protection, for the period during which he exercises his duties within the powers given to him by the Act, as a Receiver appointed by the Civil Court. No suit by a co-owner to render a general account for the whole period of his management could lie against a Common Manager who has, in accordance with the provisions of the law which defines his duties, regularly submitted accounts for the period of his management to the District Judge and which accounts have been duly audited and passed by the District Judge. A suit is also not maintainable by a co-owner against a Common Manager for recovery of specific sums of money, which in the ordinary course of the management ought to have appeared in the account and which the co-owner was aware at the time, were not included in the account, or with due enquiry might have discovered were not included in the account, except with the previous sanction of the District Judge. Khitish Chandra Acharjya Chowdhury v. Osmond Beeby, I. L. R. 39 Calc. 587; 16 C. W. N. 516, and Mahomed Faiz Chowdhury v. Upendra Lal Singh Roy, 2 Ind. Cas. 597, distinguished. NABA KISHORE MANDAL v. ATUL CHANDRA CHATTERJI, (1912)

COMMON MANAGER—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 150

———— Application for the appointment of a Common Manager—Appointment of a receiver pending disposal of the application—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 93—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 141 and O. XL, r. 1. The terms of O. XL, r. 1 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 are wider than the corresponding s. 502 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 and do not provide that the appointment of a receiver should be confined to a suit. An application for the appointment of a Common Manager under s. 93 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is an original proceeding contemplated in s. 141 of the Civil Procedure Code to which the procedure under O. XL, r. 1, seems to be applicable. Thakur Prasad v. Fakirulla, I. L. R. 17 All. 106, followed. The relief of an aggrieved party to such an order is by way of an appeal and not by an application for revision. ASADALI CHOWDHURY v. MAHOMED HOSSAIN CHOWDHURY (1916) . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 986

———— Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 95—Suit for general account after release of estate. Where a common manager appointed under s. 95 of the Bengal Tenancy Act resigned and the estate was released, and where it was found that his account had not been properly rendered and passed by the District Judge: Held, that he could be sued for account with the permission of the District Judge. Naba Kishore Mandal v. Atul Chandra Chatterji, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 150, distinguished. DURGA PRASANNA ROY v. ISHAN CHANDRA SHAHA (1916)

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 860

COMMON OBJECT.

See RIOTING . I. L. R. 30 Calc. 781

———— not unlawful—

See RIOTING . I. L. R. 30 Calc. 806

COMMON OBJECT—contd

———— Rioting—charge, omission to state common object in, whether invalidates conviction The mere fact that in a charge of rioting the common object is not stated does not invalidate the conviction if the evidence clearly shows what the common object of the assembly was. If two common objects are alleged and one is proved then the fact that the other common object is not proved will not exonerate the accused from liability HARINDER SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR
2 Pat. L. J. 541

COMMUTATION OF RENT.

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, 1885, s. 69.
5 Pat. L. J. 76

See RENT . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 769

CO-MORTGAGEES.

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 342
L. R. 46 I. A. 372
5 Pat. L. J. 376

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882).

See COMPANY.

———— ss. 6, 40, 41—*Certificate of Incorporation of Company, effect of—Objection to formation of Company, the Memorandum of Association not being signed by seven persons as required—Matter in issue not made ground of attack in former suit—*Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s 13. The provisions of the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) as regards the incorporation of Companies are the same as those contained in the Imperial Act of 1862, except that it is specially provided in s. 40 of the Indian Act that it is not the duty of the Registrar to require evidence as to whether the subscribers to the Memorandum of Association are competent to contract. S 6 of the Act provides that "any seven or more persons . . . . may Memorandum
plying with of registration, form an incorporated Company, etc." And s. 41 enacts that "a certificate of the incorporation of any Company given by the Registrar shall be conclusive evidence that all the requisitions of this Act in respect of registration have been complied with." The Memorandum of Association of a proposed Company was signed before the Registrar by two adult persons, and also by a person who under the Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890), had been duly appointed by the Court guardian of five minors, the guardian making a separate signature for each minor; and the Registrar issued a certificate of the due incorporation of the Company. In a suit in which it was objected, inter alia, that the Company was not properly constituted, the Memorandum of Association not having been signed by the required number of seven subscribers: Held (reversing the decision of the Chief Court of Lower Burma on its Appellate Side), that assuming the conditions of registration were not duly complied with the certificate of incorporation was conclusive for all purposes, and the Court could not go behind it and consider any alleged defects in the formation or constitution of the Company. In re Barned's Banking Company. Peel's Case, L. R. 2 Ch. App. 674. per Lord Cairns L. J.; and Oakes v. Turquand, L. R. 2 E. & Ir. App. 325, per Lord Chelmsford L C., followed.

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—contd.

But apart from the English decisions, the use of the word "otherwise" in s 6 of Act VI of 1882 showed that the statutory condition that the Memorandum of Association must be signed by seven or more persons was as much a condition of registration as any other to be found in the Act which was preliminary to registration and apparently essential Held, also, that the issue as to the invalidity of the Company might and ought to have been made a ground of attack in a former suit brought by the same plaintiff against the same defendants in 1902 which had been dismissed. All the facts on which the present suit was based were known to the plaintiff, and were stated at length in the proceedings in the former suit. No further evidence would have been needed. Nothing was wanting but the addition of an issue on the point The present suit as regards that question was therefore barred as res judicata under s 13, Explanation 2, of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882 Kameswar Pershad v. Rajkumari Ruttan Koer, I. L. R. 20 Calc. 79; L. R. 19 I. A. 231, followed. MOOSA GOOLAM ARIFF v. EBRAHIM GOOLAM ARIFF (1912)
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 1

———— ss. 28, 45, 61—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 2 (a), (b), 3, 10—Company—Shareholder—Inducement by the agent of the Company to take shares—Winding up—Recovery of calls on shares—Agreement that shares were not to be paid unless divident was given—Agreement not registered—Payment of shares in cash—Condition precedent—Condition subsequent—"Bogus" shareholder. The question as to whether a particular person became a member of a Company is a question of fact. Where the Agent of a Company induces a person to sign an application for the shares of the Company and that person's name is accordingly entered in the register of members as a shareholder, there is a complete contract between that person and the Company's agent under ss 2 (a), (b), 3 and 10 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). No contract by which shares are to be considered as duly paid when they are not in fact paid up is valid unless it is registered and when there is no such registered contract the shares are payable in cash. Where in the event of a company not making a profit the shares were not to be paid for at all, the shareholder was a "bogus" shareholder, and this is opposed to the whole object of the Companies' Acts in England and in India applicant rendered liable as a shareholder, notice of allotment being immaterial. MOTILAL CHUNILAL v. THAKORLAL CHIMANLAL (1912)

I. L. R 36 Bom. 5[illegible]

———— ss. 40 and 41—

See s. 6 . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 1

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—contd.

———— s. 45—

See s. 28 . I. L. R. 33 Bom. 557

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 331

———— ss. 45, 58—Rectification of register of shareholders—Winding up—Contributory—Application for shares—Condition attached—Applicant unable to fulfil the condition—Applicant's liability as a contributory—Intention to become a member in præsenti or in futuro. A manager of a Banking Company represented to the petitioner that if the petitioner took 400 preference shares he would be appointed a cashier in a new branch of the company. In pursuance of this contract, the petitioner applied for 100 only of preference shares. He paid the deposit money and was entered on the register of shareholders. Subsequently he found himself unable to take up the remaining 300 shares, he was not appointed a cashier in the branch office and the contract was treated as cancelled by the Directors. The petitioner having applied to have his name removed from the list of contributories in respect of preference shares: Held, that the petitioner's application for 100 preference shares was conditional and that he had no intention to become a member of the company when he applied for the shares until he was appointed a cashier in the branch office. He was, therefore, entitled to be struck off the register of preference shareholders and could not be called upon as a contributory on that account. Roger's Case—In re Universal Banking Company, L. R. 3 Ch. 633, followed. RAMANBHAI v. GHASHIRAM (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 595

———— s. 58—

See s. 45 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 595

———— Liquidation—List of contributories—Rectification of register of shareholders—Transfers signed by transferor and transferee and lodged before winding up of the Company—Practice of the Company in approving of the transfer—Transferee's name not registered, effect of —No default, or unnecessary delay, or absence of sufficient cause in dealing with shares—Liability of transferee as contributory. The applicant, a shareholder in the Indian Specie Bank, Ltd., sold some of his shares to the respondents by various transfers which were lodged with the Company for registration. The Company, however, went into liquidation before the transfers were in due course approved of by the Board of Directors. According to the practice observed by the Company, transfers lodged up to the end of the previous week were placed before the Board of Directors at their meeting in the following week. The Company went into liquidation on the 29th of November 1913. At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the previous day, the transfers lodged in the previous week up to the 22nd of November only were considered. The transfers in dispute were lodged with the Company between the 25th and 28th of November 1913. The applicant was accordingly placed by the liquidator on the list of contributories in Schedule A for the shares which stood in his name on the 29th of November 1913. The applicant contended that the register of shareholders should be rectified by the Court under ss. 58 and 147 of the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) by substituting the names of the respondents as transferees in place of his own name. Held, that as the applicant had not proved that there was either absence of sufficient cause, or default, or unnecessary delay on the part of the Company in dealing with the transfers, the register of shareholders could not be rectified. SORABJI NUSSERWANJI v. C. A. PATWARDHAN (1915)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 134

———— s. 61—

See s. 28 . . I. L. R. 33 Bom. 557

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 284

———— ss. 61, 125, 151—Company—Winding up—Contributory—Liability of contributory for calls. Once a member of a Company is upon the list of contributories, unless he succeeds in showing as against the liquidator that he should not have been put on the list of contributories, he is liable for all those matters in respect of which he may be charged in the event of the company being wound-up, that is to say, to the extent of his original share held in the company which remains unpaid he is liable to contribute to the assests of the company, for payment of the debts due to creditors and the expenses of the winding-up under s. 61 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882. He is therefore liable in respect of unpaid calls, even though, as against the company the realization of such calls may have become barred by limitation. Sorabji Jamsetji v. Ishwardas Jugjiwandas, I. L. R. 20 Bom. 534, and Vaidiswara Ayyar v. Siva Subramania Mudaliar I. L. R. 31 Mad. 66, followed. JAGANNATH PRASAD v. U. P. FLOUR AND OIL MILLS COMPANY, LIMITED (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 347 ———— ss. 67, 96, 123—Contracts entered into by companies—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Whether seal of the Company necessary. Held, that s. 96 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882, did not require that an agreement entered into by a company with a person who held a contract for the working of a certain portion of the company's business, to refer dispute which might arise between the parties to arbitration, should be made under the seal of the company. GANGES SUGAR WORKS, LD. v. NURI MIAH (1915) . I. L. R. 37 All. 273

———— s. 68—

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 550

———— s. 74—Penalty—Criminal Procedure Code, s. 260—Summary jurisdiction—Power to try summarily offences under the Indian Companies Act. There is nothing in law to prevent a Magistrate from trying summarily offences under the Indian Companies Act, 1882. Held, also, that the penalty provided by s. 74 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882, is a fixed and not a maximum penalty. Queen-Empress v. Moore, I. L. R. 20 Calc. 696, referred to. EMPEROR v. DINA NATH (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 173

———— s. 76—Alteration of memorandum of association by articles—To what extent a company can by resolution alter articles. Under s. 76 of the Indian Companies Act anything which appears in the articles of association but is not provided for in the memorandum of association may be altered by a special resolution. Where the articles of association provide for matters which need not, under s. 8 of the Companies Act, be contained in the memorandum of association and which are not either expressly or impliedly dealt with by such memorandum, the portions of the articles dealing with such matters cannot be treated as part of the memorandum and can be altered by a special resolution of the company. Rights which have their origin in a contract outside the articles, the terms of which contract are found in or referred to in such articles, can be altered by such alteration of the articles unless it is proved that one of the terms of such contract was that such rights should not be affected by an alteration of the articles CHITHAMBARAM CHETTIER v. KRISHNA AIYANGAR (1909)

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—contd.

——— s. 76—contd.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 36

——— ss. 76, 77—Articles of association—Agent—Borrowing powers—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 237—Estoppel. The agents of a joint stock company—a joint Hindu family firm—borrowed a considerable sum of money on hundis executed by the managing member of the firm in the name of the company. These hundis were signed with the name of the managing member simply, having nothing on the face of them to indicate that the person who signed them was signing as an agent and not in his personal capacity. The company had no valid articles of association, and neither the memorandum of association nor table A of the Indian Companies Act, 1882, empowered the agents to borrow money. There were, however, what purported to be articles of association, which though legally invalid (they had never been registered), were treated by the company and submitted to the public as being the genuine and legally adopted articles of association of the company. These valid, yet the company was in the circumstances estopped from raising the plea of their invalidity against holders in due course of these hundis. KUNJ KISHORE v. THE OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, SHRI BALDEO MILLS, LD. (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 416

——— s. 77—

See s. 76 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 416

——— ss. 77, 173—Voluntary winding up—Special resolution—Notice of extraordinary meeting for passing special resolution for voluntarily winding up and its confirmation—If waiver by shareholders of defects of notice would make appointment of liquidator valid—If creditors may question legality of voluntary winding up and appointment of liquidator. Notice was given calling an extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders to consider the position of the Company, and, if necessary to pass a special resolution that the Company be voluntarily wound up and liquidators appointed and the notice stated further that in the event of the resolution being passed a special meeting would be held immediately after for confirming the resolution · Held, that the notice was bad as under ss. 77 and 173 (b) of the Indian Companies Act, at least 14 days' further notice should have been given for confirmation of a special resolution for voluntarily winding up the Company Nor could it be treated as a proper notice calling a meeting to pass an extraordinary resolution for the voluntary winding up of the Company within s 173 (c) of the Act. In re Silkstone Fall Colliery Co., 1 Ch D. 38, followed. That whether or not the subsequent meeting of the shareholders for fixing the remuneration of the liquidator cured the legal defect of the notice and validated the appointment, it was open to the creditors of a Company to question whether the liquidators were appointed in accordance with the law In the matter of INDIAN TRADING & ENGINEERING CO , LD (1911)

15 C. W. N. 1047

——— s. 96—

See s. 67 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 273

——— s. 123—

See s 67 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 273

——— s. 125—

See s 61 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 347

——— ss. 128, 129, 130 and 131—Winding up petition—Petitioner a creditor for amount not immediately payable—General financial position of company—Scheme of arrangement—Practice. The definition of "debt" in s. 130 of the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) is quite distinct from the meaning of the word "creditor." A creditor is a person to whom money is owed by the Company. Whether he can claim immediate payment of that debt or his right to demand payment is deferred by his agreement with the Company to a future time, he still remains a creditor. If the petitioners can satisfy the Court that the Company on a general perusal of its balance sheet cannot pay its debts, in other words, that its assets are not sufficient to satisfy its liabilities, that will enable the Court to order its winding up. If an arrangement can be arrived at between the Company and its creditors, it would be desirable that an attempt should be made to give effect to that arrangement . . . . . But any scheme or proposal by the Company to keep itself afloat cannot be discussed with any chance of success unless the winding up order is made. It is only after the winding up order is made that a three-fourths majority of the creditors is able to bind the minority Otherwise, any one creditor can come in and upset any arrangement which has appeared satisfactory to the rest of his co-creditors. In the matter of INDIAN COMPANIES ACT in the matter of the BOMBAY MANUFACTURING COMPANY AND in the matter of RATILAL KARSONDAS (1909)

I. L. R 34 Bom. 533

——— ss. 128, to 131—

See COMPANY I. L. R. 39 Bom. 16 and 47

See WINDING UP I. L. R. 34 Bom. 533

——— ss. 137, 141—Appointment of official liquidator, after order for winding up company—Appeal by the managing director against order appointing official liquidator, competency of. A winding up order terminates the appointment of directors, except for certain special purposes and a managing director is, therefore, not a competent person to file an appeal against subsequent order appointing an official liquidator THE SOUTH INDIAN MILLS COMPANY, LTD. v RAJA BAHADUR MOTILAL (1916) . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 706

——— s. 147—

See s. 58 . I. L. R. 40 Bom 134

——— ss. 147, 169—

See COMPANIES . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 388

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—contd.

———— ss. 150 and 169—Payment-order made ex parte—Application to have it set aside—Limitation—Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908, arts. 164 and 181—Civil Procedure Code, Act V of 1908, ss. 2 (2) proviso (a), 141 and 151 and O. IX, r. 13. The respondent was a shareholder of the Hindustan Bank. When that Bank went into liquidation the name of the respondent was duly placed on the list of contributories. Upon an application made by the Liquidator under s. 150 of the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) the District Judge after issuing notice to the respondent Mehraj Din passed, on the 20th June 1916, an ex parte order of the payment of a certain sum of money due by him to the Bank on a Pro-note. On the 5th October 1918 Mehraj Din made an application to the District Judge for setting aside the ex parte order. This application was dismissed by the District Judge as barred by time apparently under article 164 of the Limitation Act. From this order the respondent lodged an appeal in the High Court. The learned Judge held that a payment order under s. 150 of the Companies Act of 1882 was not a decree and therefore article 164 of the Limitation Act had no application; also that the application was not governed by s. 169 of the Companies Act, 1882, and referred to Paravati Shankar v. Ishvardas Jagjivandas (I. L. R. 19 Bom. 208) but held that article 181 of the Limitation Act might be applicable, and that the application of 5th October 1918 was certainly not barred by time. Against this decision the present appeal was lodged under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent. Held, that s. 169 of the Companies Act of 1882 has no application to petitions for setting aside ex parte payment orders, but that such petitions are governed by O. IX, r. 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure, mutatis mutandis. Parvati Shankar v. Ishvardas Jagjivandas (I. L. R. 19 Bom. 208) and Sudevi Devi v. Sovaram (10 Calc. W. N. 306), referred to, also Lindley on Companies, VI, Edition, pages 895 and 950. Held, also, that the ex parte payment order being appealable and therefore not a decree [vide s. 2 (2) proviso (a) of the Code], art. 164 of the Limitation Act is not applicable to an application for setting it aside. Venkatta Chandrappa v. Venkatarama Reddi (I. L. R. 22 Mad. 256, 257) and Bhopendra Narain v. Baroda Prosad (I. L. R. 18 Cal. 500, 504), referred to. Semble: That art. 181 of the Limitation Act is probably applicable to all applications for the making of which the Civil Procedure Code gives authority. HINDUSTAN BANK LTD. IN LIQUIDATION v. MEHRAJ DIN

I. L. R 1 Lah. 187

———— s. 151—

See s. 61 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 347

———— s. 169—

———— Company—Winding up—Appeal—Notice of appeal—Limitation. On the 3rd of December, 1910, the District Judge of Aligarh made an order for the winding up under the supervision of the Court of a company called the Shri Baldeo Mills Company, Limited.

COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—contd.

———— s. 169—contd.

On the 7th of February, 1911, an application by some of the shareholders to reconsider the winding up order was dismissed. On the 25th of February, 1911, the applicants appealed to the High Court, ostensibly against the order of the 7th of February, 1911, but in effect against the winding up order of the 3rd of December, 1910. No notice of this appeal was served on the respondents until at the earliest the 25th of March, 1911. Held, that the appeal was time-barred in view of s. 169 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882. Ramanappa v. The Official Liquidator, Bellary Bruceptta Stock and Loan Transacting Company, Limited, I. L. R. 22 Mad. 291 ; Lakshminarasayya Setti v. Venkanna Setti, I. L. R. 22 Mad. 576 ; Wall v. Howard, I. L. R. 18 All. 215, and In re Sarawak and Hindustan Banking and Trading Company, Limited, I. L. R. 4 Calc. 704, referred to. GHISU MAL v. THE OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, SHRI BALDEO MILLS COMPANY, LIMITED (1911)

I. L. R. 33 All. 641

———— Company—Winding up—Appeal—Limitation—Notice. The provisions of s. 169 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882, as to service of notice of appeal are imperative, and if the requisite notice has not been served within three weeks from the date of the order complained of and the time for service has not been extended by the Appellate Court, the appeal cannot be heard. G. J. BOWER v. IMPERIAL BANK, LIMITED (1913) . I. L. R. 33 All. 177 ———— Civil Procedure Code, 1908, O. XXI, r. 58 and 63—Appeal. The right of appeal under the provisions of s. 169 of the Companies Act (VI of 1882) is co-extensive with the right of appeal conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure. In the liquidation proceeding of the Indian Exchange Bank a certain person described as the proprietor of a certain firm was directed by the Additional Judge of Lahore to pay a certain sum as a contributory. This order was sent to the District Judge of Agra for execution, when another person put in an objection to the effect that he was the sole proprietor of the firm. The District Judge declined to consider this objection. Held, that no appeal lay from the Judge's order, inasmuch as it was under O. XXI, r. 36, the objection being under O. XXI, r. 58. SANTI LAL v. THE INDIAN EXCHANGE BANK (1916)

I. L. R. 38 All. 537

———— Order of liquidation-Judge reducing the remuneration of an employee of the official liquidators fixed by the predecessor of the Judge—Whether open to appeal. Held, that s. 169 of the Companies Act of 1882 is not applicable to an order of the liquidating Judge reducing the remuneration of an employee of the official Liquidators sanctioned by the predecessor of the Judge, and consequently no appeal from such an order can be entertained. GHANSHAM DAS v. HINDUSTAN BANK LTD. . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 173

———— s. 254—

See COSTS . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 383

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913.

Section of Act VI of 1882.	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1913
1	1.
2	290.
3	2 (3), (6), (8)
4	4.
5	6. 7
6	5.
7	5.
8	6.
9	7.
10	8.
11	9, 21.
12	10, 50.
13	55.
14	57.
15	56, 57, 60.
16	58.
17	59.
18	61.
19	62, 63.
20	63.
21	62, 63.
22	64
23	50.
24	50
25	50
26	26.
27	49
28	104
29	34.
30	43.
31	44.
32	45.
33	46.
34	47.
35	..
36	11 (1), (2), (4), (5), (6)
37	17.
37, Para. 2	19.
38	18.
39, Para. 1	19.
39, Paras. 2 and 3	21.
40	22, 249.
41	23
41, Para. 2	24.
42	25.
43	11 (1), (2), (4), (5), (6).
44	28.
45	30.
46	35.
47	31, 48.
48	32.
49	32.
50	32.
51	51.
52	52.
53	33.
54	29.
55	36.
56	37.
57	53
58	33.
59	39.
60	40
61	156.
62	157.
63	72.
64	[illegible]
65	[illegible]

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd

Section of Act VI of 1882.	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1913.
66	74.
67	88.
68	120, 123, 124, 125
69	136, Sub-ss. 1 to 4.
70	87
71	87.
72	89
73	147
74	76, 131, (1), (2), (4), 132 134.
75	77.
76	20, 71.
77	81.
78	79.
79	82
80	82.
81	90
82	138.
83	139.
84	140.
85	141
86	142.
87	143.
88	93, 94, 95, 96. 97.
89	148.
90	149.
91	150.
92	83, 86.
93	280.
94	..
95	151.
96	152.
97	—
98	—
99	—
100	—
101	—
102	—
103	—
104	—
105	—
106	—
107	—
108	—
109	—
110	—
111	[illegible]
112	[illegible]
113	[illegible]
114	[illegible]
115	[illegible]
116	[illegible]
117	[illegible]
118	[illegible]
119	[illegible]
120	[illegible]
121	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VI of 1882.	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1913.
133	168.
134	169, 175.
135	170.
136	171.
137	172.
138	173.
139	156.
140	174, 239.
141	175, 178.
142	176.
143	177, 178.
144	179.
145	180.
146	181.
147	184.
148	184.
149	185.
150	186.
151	187.
152	188.
153	189
154	160.
155	190.
156	191.
157	192.
158	192.
159	194.
160	194.
161	194.
162	195.
163	195.
164	197.
165	198.
166	199.
167	200.
168	201.
169	202.
170	...
171	...
172	245.
173	203.
174	204.
175	205, 227.
176	206.
177	207.
178	156, 158, 159, 207.
179	211.
180	212.
181	212.
182	215.
183	216.
184	210.
185	...
186	217.
187	217.
188	218.
189	219.
190	220.
191	221.
192	222.
193	223, 239.
194	224.
195	225.
196	226.
197	227.
198	240.
199	242.
200	41.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VI of 1882.	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1913.
201	234.
202	234.
203	153.
204	213.
205	214.
206	...
207	...
208	...
209	...
210	...
211	...
212	232.
213	231.
214	235.
215	236.
216	237.
217	238.
218	164.
219	165.
220	248.
221	20, 250.
222	251.
223	252.
224	253.
225	253.
226	254.
227	255.
228	256.
229	...
230	257.
231	258.
232	259.
233	260.
234	261.
235	262.
236	...
237	263.
238	264.
239	265.
240	266.
241	268.
242	269.
243	270, 271.
244	272.
245	273.
246	274.
247	275.
248	276.
249	55.
250	284.
251	285.
252	278.
253	...
254	246.
255	268.
256	289.
37, Para. 2	19.
39, Para. 1	19.
39, Paras. 2 and 3	21.
41, Para. 2	24.
73A	167.
73B	127.
131, Para. 2	167.
114, Para. 1	169.
233, Clause 2	...
200A	159.
420 (f)	286.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VII of 1913.	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882, etc.
1	1.
2 (3), (6), (8)	3.
2 (1), (2), (4), (5), (7), (9), (16).
3
4	4.
5	6, 7.
6	8.
7	9.
8	10.
9	11.
10	12.
11 (1), (2)	43.
11 (4), (5), (6)	36.
11 (3)	..
12	4 to 10.
13	4 to 10.
14	4 to 10.
15	4 to 10.
16	4 to 10.
17	37.
18	38.
19	39.
19B	37.
20	76, 221.
21	11, 39.
22	40.
23	41.
24	41.
25	42.
26	26.
27
28	44.
29	54.
30	45.
31	47.
32	48, 50.
33	53.
34	29.
35	46.
36	55.
37	56.
38	58.
39	59.
40	60.
41	(3 IV of 1900.)
42	(3 IV of 1900.)
43	30.
44	31.
45	32.
46	33.
47	34.
48	47.
49	27.
50	12, 23, 24, 25.
51	51.
52	52.
53	57.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VII of 1913.	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882, etc.
54	..
55	13, 249.
56	15.
57	14, 15.
58	16.
59	17.
60	15.
61	18
62	19, 21.
63	19, 20.
64	22.
65	15.
66	...
67	...
68	...
69	...
70	7.
71	76.
72	63, 64.
73	65.
74	66.
75	..
76	74.
77	75.
78	..
79	78.
80	..
81	77.
82	79, 80.
83	92.
83A	..
83B	..
84	..
85	..
86	92.
87	70, 71
88	67.
89	72.
90	81.
91	...
91A	...
91B	...
91C	...
91D	...
92	...
93	83.
94
95	...
96

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VII of 1913.	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882, etc.
97 . . .
98 . . .
99 . . .
100 . . .
101 . . .	...
102 . . .
103 . . .
104 .	...
105 . . .	...
106 . . .	...
107 . . .	73A.
108 . . .	...
109 . . .	...
110 . . .	...
111 . . .	...
112 . . .	...
113 . . .	...
114 . .	...
115 . .	...
116 . . .	...
117 . . .	...
118 . . .	...
119 . . .	...
120 . . .	...
121 . . .	...
122 . . .	...
123 . . .	68.
124 . . .	68.
125 . . .	68.
126 . . .	...
127 . . .	73B.
128 . . .	...
129 . . .	...
130 . . .	...
131 (1), (2), (4) .	74.
131 (3) . . .	...
132 . . .	74.
133 . . .	...
134 . . .	74.
135 . . .	...
136 (1)—(4) . .	69.
136 (5) . . .	...
137 . . .	...
138 . . .	82.
139 . . .	83.
140 . . .	84.
141 . . .	85.
142 . . .	86.
143 .	87.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VII of 1913.	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882, etc.
144 . . .	...
145 . . .	...
146 . . .	...
147 . . .	73.
148 . . .	89.
149 . . .	90.
150 . . .	91.
151 . . .	95.
152 . . .	96.
153 . . .	203.
154 . . .	...
155 . . .	...
156 . . .	61, 139, 178.
157 . . .	62,
158 . . .	124.
159 . . .	125, 178.
160 . . .	126, 154.
161 . . .	125, 127.
162 (1), (3), (4), (5), (6),	128.
162 (2) . . .	...
163 . . .	129.
164 . . .	218.
165 . . .	219.
166 . . .	131, 132.
167 . . .	131 para. 2.
168 . . .	133.
169 . . .	134 para. 1.
170 . . .	135.
171 . . .	136.
172 . . .	137.
173 . . .	138.
174 . . .	140.
175 . . .	92, 141, 134.
176 . . .	142.
177 . . .	143.
178 . . .	141, 143.
179 . . .	144.
180 . . .	145.
181 . . .	146.
182 . . .	...
183 . . .	...
184 . . .	147, 148.
185 . . .	149.
186 . . .	150.
187 . . .	151.
188 . . .	152.
189 . . .	153.
190 . . .	155.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd.

Section of Act VII of 1913.	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882, etc.
191	156.
192	157.
193	158.
194	159, 160, 161.
195	162, 163.
196	...
197	164.
198	165.
199	166.
200	167.
201	168.
202	169.
203	173.
204	174.
205	175.
206	176.
207	177, 178, 185.
208	...
209	...
210	184.
211	179.
212	180, 181.
213	204.
214	205.
215	182.
216	183.
217	186, 187.
218	188.
219	189.
220	190.
221	191.
222	192.
223	193.
224	194.
225	195.
226	196.
227	175, 197.
228	130.
229	...
230	200-A.
231	213.
232	212.
233	...
234	201, 202.
235	214.
236	215.
237	216.
238	217.
239	140, 193.
240	198.

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—concld.

Section of Act VII of 1913.	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1882, etc.
241	200.
242	199.
243	...
244	...
245	172.
246	254.
247	...
248	220.
249	40.
250	221.
251	222.
252	223.
253	224, 225.
254	226.
255	227.
256	228.
257	230.
258	231.
259	232.
260	233.
261	234.
262	235.
263	237.
264	238.
265	[illegible]
266	[illegible]
267	[illegible]
268	[illegible]
269	[illegible]
270	[illegible]
271	[illegible]
272	[illegible]
273	[illegible]
274	[illegible]
275	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—contd.

——— s. 207—Voluntary liquidation—Decree passed against company prior to liquidation—Stay of execution—Jurisdiction. A decree had been obtained against a company which subsequent to the passing of the decree went into voluntary liquidation. The decree-holder applied for execution of the decree which was granted by the Court of first instance. On appeal, the District Judge ordered stay of execution. Held, that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to stay execution. Under the Indian Companies Act the only Court that could stay execution was the High Court. Held, further, that s. 207 of the Indian Companies Act is no bar by itself to the progress of execution unless and until an order has been obtained from a Court having jurisdiction under the Companies Act, either for winding up or for stay of proceedings. SURAJ BHAN v. BOOT AND EQUIPMENT FACTORY, AGRA (1916) . I. L. R. 38 All. 407 ——— ss. 207 (ii), 208—Voluntary winding up—Appointment of liquidator—Liability of liquidator acting under irregular appointment. A person who accepts an appointment as liquidator of a company which is being voluntarily wound up, and who acts as such, must, whether his appointment is regular or not, carry out the duties, as well as exercise the rights, of a liquidator and must make a return of his appointment to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies as provided by s. 203 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, and obtain his retirement in a proper manner, giving notice of that also. Semble: that it is competent to a company in general meeting assembled, under s. 207 (ii) of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, to delegate to the directors of the company the appointment of a liquidator. EMPEROR v. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH (1917).

I. L. R. 39 All. 412

——— s. 215—

See LIQUIDATOR . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 586

——— Winding up—Voluntary liquidation—Examination of Directors and Managers—Discretion of Court. Under s. 215 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, a voluntary liquidator can apply to the Court for examination of persons connected with the management of the Company. NOWROJI PUDUMJI v. LAXMAN MORESHWAR (1919) . . I. L R. 44 Bom. 459

——— s. 229—

See SET-OFF . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1219

——— s. 231—Provincial Insolvency Act III of 1907, s. 37—Transfer by a Bank of a customer's pro-notes to one of its creditors within three months of going into liquidation—Whether the maker of the pro-notes can, when sued by the transferee, object to the transfer to the plaintiff as a fraudulent preference by the Bank in favour of one of its creditors. The defendant had dealings with the Industrial Bank of Ludhiana, and in 1913 executed two promissory-notes in their favour. The Bank got into financial difficulties and sold these two pro-notes to the present plaintiff, a creditor of theirs, in part payment of his claim. The Bank went into liquidation within three months of the transfer of the pro-notes. Plaintiff now sued defendant for principal and interest due on the pro-notes. It was urged for defendant that the transfer of the pro-notes to plaintiff was invalid as a fraudulent preference by the Bank in favour of one of its creditors. Held, that a disposition of a Company's property cannot be impeached on the ground of fraudulent preference except on behalf of the general body of the creditors. Willmott v London Celluloid Company (31 Ch. D. 425 and 34 Ch. D. 147) and Lindley on Companies, 6th edition, Volume II, page 90, followed; also Mohandas Thakardas v. Tikamdas Hotchand (37 Indian Cases 259). And that consequently the defendant could not invoke the aid of s. 231 of the Companies Act to impeach the transfer of his pro-notes to plaintiff; s. 37 of the Insolvency Act, referred to. RAM SARUP v. JAGAT RAM

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—concld.

——— s. 231—concld.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 102

——— s. 232—

See LIQUIDATOR . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 586

——— s. 254—

See COSTS . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 383

——— s. 269—

See s. 158 . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 237

COMPANY.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXXIII.
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 624

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—

See COSTS . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 383

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT, 1919, s. 6 . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 881

See INSURANCE . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 1

See LAND ACQUISITION.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ART. 116 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 33

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 810

See PROVIDENT INSURANCE.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 300

See SALE . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

See SET-OFF . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1004

See WINDING UP . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 533

——— borrowing powers of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882), ss. 76, 77 . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 416

——— formation of—

See COMPANIES ACT, 1882, ss. 6, 40, 41.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 1

——— contracts by—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) ss. 67, 96, 123 . I. L. R. 37 All. 273

——— Contributory—

See COMPANIES ACT, 1913, ss. 158, 269
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 237

——— Order reducing remuneration of an employee—

See COMPANIES ACT, 1882, s. 169.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 173

——— winding up of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913) ss, 153 to 232.

COMPANY—contd.

———— Registered and controlled in India but manufacturing outside—

See INCOME TAX ACT, 1918, ss. 3, 17, 51.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1286

———— Underwriting new Capital—

See INCOME TAX ACT, 1918, s. 9

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1306

1. ———— Proprietors of zemindari— Forming into a, if opposed to public policy. Where the proprietors of a zemindari having grown too numerous formed themselves into a limited liability company and the company was duly registered under the provisions of the Indian Companies Act: Held, that such a course was likely to be beneficial not merely to the proprietors themselves but to all who may be compelled to have dealings with them, and there was nothing in the constitution of the company which was opposed to public policy. LAL GOPAL DUTT CHOUDHURY v. THE KHORORIAH MAJOZILLA ZEMINDARY SYNDICATE, LTD. (1911).

16 C. W. N. 297

2. ———— Two claimants to shares standing in name of third party—Priority of title—When it prevails.* The rule laid down in Moor v. North-Western-Bank [1891] 2 Ch. 599, followed: namely, that, as between two persons claiming title to shares in a company which are registered in the name of a third person, priority of title prevails unless the claimant second in point of time can show that as between himself and the company before the company received notice of the claim of the first claimant he, the second claimant, has acquired the full status of a shareholder: or at any rate that all formalities have been complied with and that nothing more than some purely ministerial act remains to be done by the company which, as between the company and the second claimant, the company could not have refused to do forthwith. So that, as between himself and the company, he may be said to have acquired a present absolute unconditional right to have the transfer registered before the company was informed of the existence of a better title. SETHNA, R. D v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA (1911). . . I. L. R. 33 Bom. 331

3. ———— Internal defects in management of—Innocent party not affected thereby—Principal and agent—Fraud of agent in withholding information from principal—Principal not affected by notice to agent in such case—Absolute undertaking to execute a mortgage on specified property on the happening of a particular contingency—Effect of such undertaking as giving a charge over the property on the occurrence of the contingency.* By a mortgage of the 15th April 1905 the defendants mortgaged to the plaintiff certain property to secure a loan of six lacs. Under the mortgage the plaintiff had the right to appoint a nominee to be a director of the defendants and he

the property previously mortgaged to the plaintiff and a resolution to that effect was passed at a meeting of the defendants' directors at which Dani was present. No letter of undertaking was in fact given. The loan from the Bank of India was renewed at the end of the year for another year. The Bank made some attempt to obtain a higher rate of interest but in the end the loan was renewed at the same rate as before. In 1909 the defendants failed to pay the said loan to the Bank of India when due Finally, the said loan was renewed for three months on further security being given on June 30th, 1909. On August 5th, 1909, the defendants applied to the plaintiff for a further advance of five lacs, of which two lacs were required urgently on the security of the said property mortgaged to the plaintiff. The plaintiff consulted Dani who approved of the transaction. The plaintiff thereon advanced two lacs and received a receipt for the sum in which it was stated that the said two lacs formed part of a sum of five lacs intended to be advanced by the plaintiff, that the plaintiff should have time to consider whether he would advance the said sum of five lacs as a further charge and that in the event of the plaintiff deciding to advance such sum the defendants would execute a proper legal deed said receipt there were only three directors of the defendants and not four, the minimum number under the Articles of Association of the defendants. Thereafter the plaintiff decided to make the proposed advance and signified his intention to the defendants were declared insolvent and Mr R. D. Sethna was appointed liquidator. As such liquidator he was ordered to sell the mortgaged property and hold the sale-proceeds subject to the amount due to the plaintiff. The liquidator sold the mortgaged property and paid the plaintiff's claim on the mortgage of six lacs. The plaintiff sued the defendants for a declaration that he was entitled to a charge on the balance of the sale-proceeds for two lacs and interest and for payment of that sum. Held, that there was no properly constituted Board of Directors of the defendants at the date of the said receipt, but held that the resolution of the defendants' directors in favour of the Bank of India was exhausted after one year and was not renewed on the renewal of the loan by the Bank of India. Held, further, that Dani had withheld information from the plaintiff as to the said resolution in favour of the Bank of India fraudulently and that the plaintiff could not be imputed to have received notice of the resolution, that in any case the defendants would not be allowed to take advantage of their breach of resolution, and that the plaintiff's rights were in no way prejudiced by irregularities in the internal management of the defendants, such as the absence of a Board at the date of the receipt in favour of the plaintiff, of which the plaintiff had no notice. Held, further, that the receipt given by the defendants to the plaintiff [illegible] tional.

COMPANY—contd.

COMPANY—contd.

undertaking to execute a deed of further charge in favour of the plaintiff on the happening of a future event, namely, on the plaintiff tendering the sum of three lacs, the balance of the proposed loan of five lacs, on the property specified therein, for the whole amount of five lacs, of which the two lacs already advanced was a part, and that the said receipt consequently gave the plaintiff a valid charge over the defendants' property for the two lacs advanced and interest. SHIVLAL MOTILAL v. THE TRICUMDAS MILLS COMPANY, LD. (1912).

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 564

4. ———— Contract with company—Terms of, in correspondence, and company's minutes, conflict between—Right of heir to enforce terms of sale. R by letter offered to sell to the appellant company a patent for Rs. 10,000 paid in cash and Rs. 20,000 in paid-up shares of the company. The letter contained a provision that the company would be entitled to retain and cancel those shares in the event of R, who was to serve as the company's manager, by reason of death, resignation, etc., failing to complete 4 years' service. The company in their minutes recorded resolutions which did not embody this condition and in express terms spoke of the transaction as a sale of the patent for Rs. 30,000. Held, that the only contract between R and the company was that contained in the minute and that if this minute incorporated the terms of the letter, it did so in so far only as the letter was not inconsistent with the express terms of the minute. That on R's death within 4 years, R's widow was entitled to have fully paid-up shares to the amount of Rs. 20,000 allotted to her. PERFECT POTTERY COMPANY v. IDA L. ROSE (1914).

18 C. W. N. 1185

5. ———————— Sale of shares—Bond given for price—Unauthorized refusal of manager to register transfer—Suit on bond—Plea of non-registration of transfer not open to defendant. A sold to B certain shares in a company, and B, instead of paying the price in cash, executed a bond therefor in favour of A. Registration of the transfer was refused by a person describing himself as the chief manager of the company, who, however, did not appear to have any authority under the articles of association to refuse to register a transfer of shares. Held, on suit by A on the bond, that it was not competent to B to plead as a defence that the transfer of the shares purchased by him had not been registered, as there had in fact been no refusal to register by the company. BAHADUR SINGH v. SHIAM SUNDAR TUG (1914) . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 365

6. ———— Allotment of shares by an irregularly constituted board—Notice of allotment not given to applicant—Limitation—Contributory. Held, that an allotment of shares in a joint stock company made by an irregularly constituted board of directors was primâ facie invalid. British Empire Match Company, Limited, Ex-parte Ross, 49 Law Times, 291, referred to. But this defect may sometimes be cured if the articles of association of the company provide for the validation of an act done by a de facto director in a bonâ fide manner. Held, also, that if no notice of allotment of shares in a company is given to an applicant before the company goes into liquidation, such applicant is not liable to be placed on the list of contributories. In re Scottish Petroleum Company, 23 Ch. D. 413, Dawson v. African Consolidated Land and Trading Company [1898] 1 Ch. 6, and British Asbestos Company v. Boyd, [1903] 2 Ch. 439 referred to. CHANGA MAL v. THE PROVINCIAL BANK LD. (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 412

7. ———— Directors—Appointment of as officer under the company—Personal interest of a director clashing with his duty to shareholders—Meeting of directors—No right for such director to vote on his appointment—Invalidity of appointment if no quorum of directors without counting him—Duties of an editor of a newspaper—Incapacity to perform—Propriety of dismissal for incapacity. The directors of a company are agents of the company and trustees for the shareholders of the powers committed to them. A director who has an interest in the subject of discussion of a meeting of the directors in which his interests conflict with his duty to the shareholders in incompetent to vote. Hence even when the articles of association of a company may permit a director to hold any other office under the company in conjunction with his directorship and on such remuneration as the directors may fix, yet the appointment of a director to any other office at a meeting of the directors at which the quorum was made up only by counting him also as one present is not a valid appointment as the company did not have the unbiased and independent advice of at least such a number of the directors as would without him have made a quorum. A person appointed as co-editor of a newspaper should put forth or publish the paper and exercise a general supervision over the matter which is written for the paper or extracted as news. For this, certain literary and business qualifications are necessary. If he is absolutely incapable of performing these duties which the company has a right to expect of him, his dismissal on that account from co-editorship is right. RAMASWAMI IYER v. THE MADRAS TIMES PRINTING AND PUBLISHING CO., LTD. (1915)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 991

8. ———— Managing agent's authority to buy—Liability of stranger or manager or manager's partner—Express and implied authority. The manager or managing director of a Mill Company has no implied authority to purchase, on behalf of his mill, the liability of a stranger still less of their own manager or manager's partner in a private transaction of his own. MOTILAL SHIVLAL v. THE BOMBAY COTTON MANUFACTURING COMPANY, LD. (1915) . . . 19 C. W. N. 621

9. ———— Dismissing its Managing Agents—Shareholders of Co., if may be restrained from considering proposal of removal of Managing Agents—Injunction—Contract of service—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), ss. 21 and 57. Under ss. 21 and 57 of the Specific Relief Act a Limited Liability Company cannot be restrained by injunction from dispensing with the services of Managing Agents even when the contract of service provides that the Managing Agents are only to be removed in a specified manner and after a specified period. Nor can the shareholders be restrained by injunction from considering the question of such removal at an Extraordinary General Meeting. The remedy of the Managing Agents for dismissal, if wrongful, lies in a suit for damages. Isle of

COMPANY—contd.

Wight Railway Co. v. Tahourdin, 25 Ch. D. 820, relied upon. N. C. SIRCAR AND SONS v. THE BARABONI COAL CONCERN, LD. (1911)
16 C. W. N. 289

10. ———— Annual list of members—And summary—Omission of director to file same with Registrar—Liability of director under Indian Companies Act (VII of 1913), s. 32 (4)—Place where default committed—Jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate to try offence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 182, 531. The director of a company is liable, under s. 32 (4) of the Indian Companies Act (VII of 1913) for default in filing a copy of the annual list of members and the summary prescribed therein, in the office of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies at Calcutta. A Presidency Magistrate has jurisdiction to try such offence under s. 182 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and even if not, s. 531 cures the defect. DEBENDRA NATH DAS GUPTA v. REGISTRAR OF JOINT STOCK COMPANIES (1917)
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 490

11. ———— Balance sheet—Of a company—Omission of director to call annual general meeting and to place before it a properly audited balance sheet—Liability of director for default in filing copy of the same—Indian Companies Act (VII of 1913), ss. 76, 131, 134—Jurisdiction. The director of a company is liable, under s. 134(4) of the Indian Companies Act (VII of 1913), for default in filing a copy of the annual balance sheet duly prepared and audited, in the office of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies at Calcutta, and cannot plead, in answer to a charge under s. 134, his own omission to call the annual general meeting of the company required by s. 76, and to place before it such balance sheet. Park v. Lawton [1911] 1 K. B. 588, referred to. The offence under s. 134 (4) is triable in Calcutta, whether or not, if the prosecution had been laid under s. 76 or 131 of the Act, the Presidency Magistrate might have had jurisdiction to try the offences committed under the latter sections. DEBENDRA NATH DAS GUPTA v. REGISTRAR OF JOINT STOCK COMPANY (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 483

12. ———— Banking—Company—Sale of shares through Company—Shares unsold through the misconduct of the Managing Director of the Company—Misrepresentation by the Managing Director that the shares were sold —Money paid to the shareholder as the price of the shares—Company going into liquidation—Shareholder as the registered owner of shares, placed on list A of contributories—Payment of calls in liquidation by the shareholder—Suit by the shareholder to recover back the amount of calls paid—The Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882), s. 61, cl. (g). Plaintiff No. 1, through his nominees, plaintiffs Nos. 2 to 4, was the owner of 161 shares in the Indian Specie Bank, Limited. In April 1913 upon instructions from the plaintiff No. 1, the share certificates and blank transfers executed by the nominal registered holders of the shares were handed to the Managing Director of the Specie Bank who undertook to sell the shares on commission. In May 1913, the Managing Director without selling the shares paid in respect of them a sum of Rs. 10,500, being approximately the equivalent of the net sale-proceeds of the shares at Rs. 66 per share, and he falsely represented to the plaintiffs that the shares had been sold at that figure. In December 1913, the Specie Bank went into liquidation. Plaintiffs Nos. 2 to 4 were thereafter placed upon list A of contributories in respect of the shares standing in their name on behalf of plaintiff No. 1 on the ground that they remained registered shareholders. In the liquidation proceedings, plaintiff No. 1 was obliged to pay the amount of calls made agregating in all Rs 8,050 with interest up to payment amounting to Rs. 219. Plaintiff No. 1 subsequently filed this suit to recover back the sums paid by him on the ground that the Managing Director in the course of his employment was guilty of neglect and misconduct towards the plaintiffs in not selling the said shares, and that the direct consequence of such neglect and misconduct had been that plaintiffs Nos. 2 to 4 were placed upon list A instead of list B with the result that plaintiff No. 1 had to pay the calls on the shares. Held, that the plaintiffs had no cause of action, inasmuch as shareholders of a company contract to contribute a certain amount to be applied in payment of the debts and liabilities of the Company and it is inconsistent with their position as shareholders, where they remain as such, to claim back any of that money. Houldsworth v. City of Glasgow Bank, 5 App Cas. 317, and In re Addlestone Linoleum Company, 37, Ch D. 191, 198, referred to. NAROTTAM MORARJI v THE INDIAN SPECIE BANK, LIMITED, IN LIQUIDATION (1917) . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 264

13. ———— Income Tax—Fixed preference and ordinary shareholders—Preference shareholders liable to pay income-tax on their dividends unless otherwise provided—The Income-Tax Act (II of 1886), sections 4, 11, 12, 49, Schedule II, Part II —The Income-Tax Amendment Act (V of 1916) —The English Income-Tax Act of 1842, ss. 49, 51, 100. As between fixed preference and ordinary shareholders in a joint stock company the former are not entitled to have their preference dividends paid free of income-tax in a case where there are no express words to that effect in the contract regulating the rights of parties. Under the Indian Acts as well as the English Acts the income-tax is in effect paid on behalf of the shareholder by the company. In a narrow technical sense it may be said that the company being a separate legal entity the net profits belong to the company and not to the shareholders, at any rate until a dividend has been actually declared. But in effect these net profits do belong to the shareholders. If therefore any sum has to be paid out of these net profits to the Crown for tax, in effect it is the shareholders who have to pay. The provisions of the Income-Tax Act as to assessment on and payment by the company are in effect mere machinery for the collection of the tax, and the [illegible]

INDIA SPINNING, WEAVING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY, LIMITED (1917)
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 579

14. ———— Mortgages by—Second mortgage by a Company—Suit on first mortgage against Company and second mortgagee—Company compulsorily wound up pending the mortgage suit— Liquidators' obtaining sanction to create charges over assets to meet costs of litigation—Liquidators' application opposed by first and second mortgagee

COMPANY—contd.

—Charge created by the liquidators in favour of the first mortgagee—Sale of mortgaged property in the mortgage suit—Holder of charge claiming priority over the second mortgagee for moneys charged —Holder of charge postponed until the claims of second mortgagee satisfied—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 2 (d) and 52—Lis pendens —Transfer effected under another Court's order pending suit—Sanction not an order capable of execution—Estoppel. The plaintiff, the first mortgagee of a limited liability company, instituted a suit in the High Court at Bombay to enforce his mortgage against the mortgagor, defendant No. 1 and second mortgagees of the company, defendant No. 2. During the prosecution of the suit the affairs of the first defendant company were ordered to be wound up at the instance of one of its creditors and the liquidation proceedings were transferred to the District Court at Poona where the company had its registered office. The plaintiff, however, obtained leave from the High Court to proceed with his mortgage suit in Bombay against the company in liquidation. Subsequently, the liquidators of the company applied to the Poona District Court in which the liquidation proceedings were going on for sanction to raise Rs. 25,000 for costs of litigation on the security of the assets of the company except the goods pledged to the plaintiff. The plaintiff and the second mortgagees contended that the sanction should not be given so as to affect their security as the assets would not include the interests in the property held by the mortgagees. The sanction was, however, given by the District Judge to the liquidators who, thereupon, executed two documents of charge for Rs. 10,000, each in favour of the plaintiff reciting the decision of the District Judge and agreeing that upon the sale of the mortgaged premises the sums so charged and all interest due thereon should be payable out of the sale-proceeds in priority to all other payments. In the mortgage suit an order by consent was passed for sale of the mortgaged properties by the liquidators reserving the contention of all the parties. The surplus sale-proceeds in the hands of the liquidators after satisfaction of the plaintiff's mortgage claim in the suit amounted to Rs. 81,000 or thereabouts. The plaintiff claimed by virtue of the documents of charge to be paid the amount of Rs. 20,000 secured thereby in priority to the claim of the second mortgagees, contending further that as the latter failed to appeal against the decision of the District Judge they were estopped from disputing the same. Held, overruling the plaintiff's contention, (i) that the second mortgagees were as parties to the pending mortgage suit protected by s. 52 of the Transfer of Property Act against any postponement of their security by the charges created pendente lite by the liquidators, for the authority of the District Court in Poona could not affect orders in a pending suit in the Bombay High Court. (ii) that the charges created by the liquidators were not transfers in execution of an order of a Court within the scope of s. 2 (d) of the Transfer of Property Act, inasmuch as the Poona Court's sanction was not an order capable of execution but merely an authority to the liquidators to act in a certain manner if occasion should arise. MOTILAL SHIVLAL v. THE POONA COTTON AND SILK MANUFACTURING CO., LIMITED (1917) . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 215

15. ——— Pledge of partly paid up shares—In a Company—Shares transferred to the name of the pledgee in the register of the Company—Shares not fully paid up—Compulsory liquidation of the Company—Payment of calls as contributory by pledgee of shares—Pledgee not entitled to recover calls paid on the footing of an indemnity—Pledgee paying calls not a trustee for the pledgor—Contract—Agent and Principal. From March to October 1913, the plaintiff Bank advanced to B, the agent of the undisclosed principal defendant No. 1, various sums aggregating Rs. 1,74,200 on the security of 3,605 shares, of the Indian Specie Bank, B undertaking to maintain a margin of Rs. 15 per share. The shares deposited by B were transferred to the plaintiff Bank's name on the share register of the Indian Specie Bank, and the dividends when received by the plaintiff Bank were credited to the loan account of B. In September 1913, the Indian Specie Bank shares began to fall. On 7th October 1913, B provided further securities as margin which realised about Rs. 20,000, but thereafter failed to provide any further margin and eventually 181 shares were sold by the plaintiff Bank of which 161 had been transferred to the purchaser's name before December 1913, when a winding-up order was made for the compulsory liquidation of the Indian Specie Bank. In the liquidation the plaintiff Bank had been placed on the A list of contributories for 3,444 shares and on the B list for 161 shares for the shares deposited by B. On the 20th February 1914 B was adjudicated insolvent. Subsequently in pursuance of the call made by the Official Liquidator of the Indian Specie Bank, the plaintiff Bank paid Rs. 50 per share in respect of 3,444 shares standing in its name. The plaintiffs sued to recover from the 1st defendant (1) Rs. 1,57,665-13-7, and interest thereon in respect of the advances made by them, (2) Rs. 1,72,200 being the amount of calls paid by them as contributories, and interest thereon and (3) an indemnity for any claim which might be made against them in respect of 161 shares. The Official Assignee as the assignee of the estate and effects of B was made a formal party, being defendant No. 2. The trial Court decreed the entire claim of the plaintiffs. Held on appeal: (i) That the plaintiff's claim must be limited to a decree for the sums advanced by them, interest and costs. (ii) That the plaintiffs were not entitled to be indemnified for the amount of calls paid or to be paid by them as contributories inasmuch as the forced payment of calls by them as the registered holder of the shares upon a compulsory liquidation could not be regarded as an expenditure for the preservation of the security, nor were the plaintiffs as mortgagees the trustees for the mortgagor at the time of paying such calls. Phene v. Gillan, 5 Hare 1, 10, referred to. BIRDICHAND JIVRAJ v. THE STANDARD BANK, LIMITED (1916)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 159

16. ——— Unregistered charge—Charge given by resolution of Company to its Secretary on unpaid calls for special services rendered to the Company—Failure to register charge—Duty of officers to register neglected—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882), s. 68—Explanation—Mode of construction—Proceedings in Legislative Council cannot be referred to to aid construction. The question in this appeal was whether a charge given to the appellant, the Secretary of a Limited Company upon unpaid calls, could be enforced by him although not registered as required by s. 68 of Act VI of 1882 (Indian Companies Act), which section required registration of all mortgages

COMPANY—contd.

and charges specifically affecting property of the company, and imposed a penalty upon any official of the company who knowingly and wilfully authorizes of permits the omission of such entry in the register. The decision of this question depended on the proper interpretation of the explanation to the section which was as follows :—"Omission to register under this section a mortgage or charge does not render the same invalid. But the officers of the Company cannot avail themselves 'as such' of a mortgage or charge specifically affecting property of the company and not so registered." Held, that the construction of the explanation must depend upon its terms, and no theory of its purpose can be entertained unless it is to be inferred from the language used. No statement made on the introduction of the measure or its discussion in the Legislative Council can be looked at as affording any guidance as to the meaning of the words. Held, that the words 'as such' in their proper construction should not be read as denoting the capacity in which the

by the respondents. They are introduced simply as giving the reason for the inability to take advantage of the securities which is that officers entrusted with a duty as to registration could not take advantage of a security to them as to which they had neglected this duty. In the circumstances of the case, therefore, it was held that the appellant could not avail himself of the charge even though he had ceased to be an officer. KRISHNA AYYANGAR v. NALLAPERUMAL PILLAI (1920) . . . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 550

17. ———— Winding up—List of contributories—Minor—Estoppel by conduct after attaining majority—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882). F, a minor, applied for and was allotted certain shares in a limited company. He received dividends, and continued to do so after attaining majority. On the winding up of the company he was included in the list of contributories. Held, that, having intentionally permitted the company to believe him to be a shareholder and in that belief to pay him dividends since he attained majority, he was estopped by his conduct while a person sui juris from denying as between himself and the Company that he was a shareholder. View of Stirling J. in Re Yeoland Consols, Limited (No 2), 58 L. T. 922, adopted. A minor may be a member of a company under the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) FAZULBHOY JAFFER v. THE CREDIT BANK OF INDIA, LD. (1914) I. L. R. 39 Bom. 331

18. ———— Companies Act (VI of 1882), ss. 128, 129—Compulsory winding up—Creditor's petition—Company's inability to pay its debts. The petitioner who was an assignee of certain debts due by the defendant Company to its late Secretary and Manager, demanded payment from the Company. The Company refused to pay on the ground that the demand was in respect of a claim which the Company honestly believed to be a fraudulent claim and unsustainable at law. The petitioner thereupon applied to the Court to compulsorily wind up the affairs of the Company. It was not shown that the Company was rightly rejected, for the petitioner's object, in making the application, was to bring the pressure of insolvency proceedings to bear upon the Company in order to make it pay cheaply and expeditiously a heavy debt which it desired to dispute in the Civil Courts The principle upon which a Company can be wound up on a creditor's application is simply its inability to pay its just debts. The inability is indicated by its neglect to pay after proper demand made and the lapse of three weeks. Such neglect must be judged by reference to the facts of each particular case. Where the defence is that the debt is disputed all that the Court has first to see is whether that dispute is on the face of it genuine or merely a cloak of the Company's real inability to pay just debts. TULSIDAS LALLUBHAI v. THE BHARAT KHAND COTTON MILL COMPANY, LTD. (1914) . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 47

lower Court

e petitioner

19. ———— Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882), ss. 128 and 131—Winding up—Petition for compulsory winding-up of company by the Court—Grounds to be alleged in petition—Internal mismanagement of the company not such grounds—Admission of petition, discretion of Court as to—Shareholder, petition by Any ground alleged under s. 128 (e) of the Indian Companies Act in a petition for the winding-up of a company presented under s. 131 of that Act must be of a like nature to the specific grounds given under cls. (a), (b), (c) and (d) of s 128. If any other grounds are alleged they do not fulfil the requirements of the Act. Allegations as to the internal management or mismanagement of a company are matters for the shareholders to deal with and do not call for the interference of the Court. A petition by a shareholder stands in a different footing to a petition by a creditor and should be more closely scrutinized on presentation. There is no obligation on the Court to admit a petition merely because it is presented. Not only must a petition allege facts which, if proved, would justify an order for winding up a company but even if it alleges such facts the Judge has a discretion to consider whether it is really bonâ fide. The Court may, if it thinks fit, refuse to admit a petition, or, as an alternative course, give the company [illegible] presented, [illegible] restrain t[illegible] petition. [illegible] of the (191[illegible]

20. ———— Winding up—Shares applied for subject to a condition, and partly paid for—Condition not fulfilled—Resolution of company to refund part payment—Position of applicant as regards winding up proceedings. A company started in Meerut in 1904, with objects of a very general nature, proposed in 1906 to erect a mill at Fyzabad, and accordingly issued a prospectus and invited the public to subscribe the necessary capital. On the faith of this prospectus one M applied for shares, but added to his application a condition to the following effect :—"These shares are only subscribed on the condition that any mill is started in the suburbs of Fyzabad." The company, however, found that they could not raise the necessary funds to start a mill at Fyzabad, and therefore passed a resolution that the money already subscribed for that purpose should be refunded. But before this was done the company went into liquidation. Held, that M was in the circumstances not a member of the company, but a creditor and entitled to get back what he had already paid. MAHENDRA GOPAL MUKERJI v. LACHMAN PRASAD (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 538

COMPANY—contd.

21. ——————— Contributory—Applications for allotment of shares made by alleged contributory under conditions which were not carried out by the Company. A, who was the holder of fifty shares in a limited liability Company, entered into an agreement with the Company through its managing director to take 150 more shares, on the conditions (a) that he was to be appointed a "terminal director" of the Company and (b) that the business of the company was to be transferred from Meerut, where it had been formed, to Saharanpur. The 150 shares were allotted to A, but he never paid the allotment money, and, though the business of the Company was, nominally at least, transferred to Saharanpur, A was never appointed a director. Shortly after this allotment the Company went into liquidation. Held, that A could not be made a contributory in respect of the 150 shares which he had offered conditionally to take. The London and Provincial Provident Association, Ld., In re Mogridge, 57 L. J. Ch. 932, referred to. POWELL v. SEN (1917).
I. L. R. 40 All. 45

22. ——————— When there has been a suspension of business of a Company the power of the Court to wind up the Company will be exercised when there is a fair indication that there is no intention to carry on business. MURALIDHAR ROY v. THE BENGAL STEAMSHIP CO., LD.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 654

23. ——————— Form of order under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 for the dissolution of a Company in compulsory liquidation undistributed assets remaining in the hands of the Liquidator. IN re SHRAGERS LD. (IN LIQUIDATION) . . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 620

24. ——————— A shareholder applied to have his name removed from the Register of the Company under s. 38 of the Companies Act, 1913—R a mortgagee of the uncalled capital of the shares came to Court and opposed. Held, that R was entitled to intervene and oppose being vitally interested in the proceedings and might be seriously prejudiced by and order of Rectification made behind his back. Held, also that the jurisdiction under s. 39 of the Act is unlimited. RAMESH CHANDRA MITTER v. JOGIN MOHAN CHATTERJI . . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 901

25. ——————— Whether interest is payable to creditors, entitled thereto, after commencement of winding up, if Company turns out to be solvent—where interest is not mentioned in the order adjudicating upon the claim—"Solvency" explained—Indian Companies Act, VII of 1913. Held, that if a Company is, or ultimately turns out to be, solvent, interest is payable upon any debts, which carry interest or upon which a right to interest has been acquired, out of the surplus assets remaining after payment of principal and interest up to the date of the winding-up order. Buckley on Companies, 9th edition, page 474, referred to. Held also, that the solvency of a company is established if after payment of the principal and interest up to date of winding up there are some assets which may be realized and will be available to meet the liability on account of interest which accrued due after the commencement of the liquidation. Held further, that the creditor is not debarred from claiming the interest merely because he did not ask for it when proving his claim originally. In re Duncan and Co. (1 Ch. D. 307) per Buckley, J., referred to—also Stiebel's Company Law, page 1222. GHANSHAM DAS v. PUBLIC BANKING AND INSURANCE COMPANY IN LIQUIDATION . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 154

COMPANY—concld.

26. ——————— Solvent Company—surplus funds after paying creditors in full whether payable to creditors in payment of interest due subsequent to date of winding-up order—Indian Companies Act, VI of 1882, ss. 147 and 169—Joint appeal from order dealing with two separate cases—notice of appeal not served within three weeks. The Official Liquidators of the Peoples and Amritsar Banks in liquidation paid up 16 annas in the rupee to the creditors, and there remained still a substantial surplus in their hands. The creditors claimed that they were entitled to the surplus in payment of interest accured due since the dates of the winding up orders while the contributories claimed that the surplus funds should go to them. Held, that the Banks under liquidation having turned out to be solvent the creditors whose debts carried interest were entitled to claim out of surplus assets interest subsequent to the date of the winidng-up order. In re Humber Ironworks and Shipbuilding Co. (Warrant Finance Co.'s Case) (L. R. 4 Ch. Ap. 643), In re Duncan and Co. (1 Ch. D. 307), In re Whitaker (1 Ch. D. 299), Ram Saran Das v. Basheshar Nath (55 P. W. R. 1907), In re Pereira (1 Mad. H. C. R. 217), In re Muhammad Mahmud Shah (I. L. R. 13 Calc. 66) and In re General Rolling Stock Co. (L. R. 7 Ch. Ap. 646, 649), Halsbury's Laws of England, Volume 5, page 512, Lindley on Companies, page 1009, Buckley's Company Law, page 474 (9th Edition), and Stiebel's Company Law, page 1222, followed. Held also, that, although a joint appeal against an order dealing with two separate cases is not sufficient, as in this case all the parties concerned in both cases were served with notice and the mistake was merely one of form it could be rectified by putting in a properly-stamped appeal with the second case. Held further, that though the respondents did not receive notice of the appeal within three weeks, as provided for by s. 169, as the present case did not show any marked want of diligence on the appellants' part, the appeal was properly instituted. Daulat Ram v. The Woollen Mills Co., Limited, Delhi (95 P. R. 1908), Tara Chand Jeramdas v. Official Liquidators, Peoples Bank of India, Limited (46 P. R. 1915), Hira Lal v. Himalaya Glass Works Co. (176 P. L. R. 1911) and Bishen Das v. Liquidator, Doaba Bank, Limited, Amritsar (42 P. L. R. 1916), distinguished. DEVI DITTA MAL v. OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, AMRITSAR BANK, ETC. . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 368

COMPENSATION.

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT ACT, 1898.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 203

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

ss. 96, 100 . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 360

s. 250 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 79
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 463

O. XXIII, R. 3 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 959

COMPENSATION—contd.

See Compensation to Accused.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 302

See Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 65.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 249

See Criminal Procedure Code, s. 250.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 376
I. L. R. 36 All. 132
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 463
I. L. R. 40 All. 610

See District Municipal Act (Bombay), s. 160 . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 47

See Ejectment Suit, in.
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 641

See Electricity Act (IX of 1910), ss. 14, 19 . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 124

See Information . 14 C. W. N. 326

See Interest . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 255

See Land Acquisition.

See Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)

See Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908), s. 6 and Sub-ss (6) and (8).
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 944

See Malabar Compensation for Tenant's Improvements Act (Mad. I of 1900), ss. 5, 19 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 589

See Municipal Law L. R. 43 I. A. 243

See Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 494 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 615

See Railways Act (IX of 1890), ss. 75, 80. . . I. L. R. 34 All. 422

See Shebait . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 33

See Specific Moveable Property.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1

See Transfer of Property (Act IV of 1882), s. 83 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 579

———— apportionment of—

See Bombay Improvement Act, 1898.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 203

See Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 395

———— for breach of contract—

See Contract . I. L. R. 34 All. 429

———— for improvements—

See Hindu Widow.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 555

———— for loss of crops by theft or cattle—

See Estates Land Act (Mad. I of 1908), ss. 4, 27, 73, 143.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 640

———— for vexatious accusations—

See Criminal Procedure Code, s. 250.
I. L. R. 34 All. 354

———— for wrong to land—

See Jurisdiction.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 942

COMPENSATION—contd.

———— order for—

See Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 250, 423.
I. L. R. 33 Mad. 1091

———— principles of apportionment of—

See Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894).
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 395

———— right to—

See Malabar Tenants' Improvements Act (Mad. Act I of 1900)
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 416

———— withdrawal of—

See Shebait . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 895

———— Appellate Court, powers—Criminal Procedure Code (V of 1898), s. 250—Consequential or incidental order. An Appellate Court has no power to order compensation under s. 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code Mehi Singh v. Mangal Khandu (1911) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 157

———— Fixtures, removal of—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899), ss 341, 617—Fixtures erected on buildings before 1st June, 1863—Assessment of compensation not a condition precedent to demolition of fixtures—Small Causes Court as Special Tribunal for determination of compensation—Amount of claim exceeding ordinary jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Suit not cognizable by Subordinate Judge—Decree correct in substance, but not in form—Costs. In s. 341 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. III of 1899 which in respect to fixtures erected on buildings "before 1st June, 1863," enacts that "the Corporation shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by the removal or alteration of the fixtures," there is nothing that renders the assessment of compensation a condition precedent to the demolition of the fixtures. Until the removal is effected no damage at all is, in fact, suffered. S. 617, "where . . . . any municipal authority . . is required by . . . this Act to pay . . . . compensation, the amount to be so paid, and, if necessary, the apportionment of the same shall in case of dispute be determined. . . by the Court of Small Causes," includes a claim for compensation by a person against the Corporation for removal of fixtures, although the amount exceeds the ordinary jurisdi[illegible] In a suit in the C[illegible] the appellants ag[illegible]pensation for re[illegible] (a) a declaration that the fixtures in dispute had been erected before 1st June, 1863; (b) that they were entitled to compensation for the loss they would suffer by their compulsory removal; (c) that the Corporation could not remove the fixtures until reasonable compensation had been paid; (d) asked the Court to fix the amount of compensation; and (e) for an injunction restraining the Corporation from interfering with the fixtures until compensation was paid The Subordinate Judge decreed the suit, giving compensation. It was dismissed, [illegible] before 1st June, 1863. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that the decree of the High Court though correct in substance was incorrect in form and their Lordships amended it by adding to it declarations that the appellants were entitled to relief in terms of (a) and (b) of the prayer of their plaint, the rest of the suit remaining dismissed. JOSEPH v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1916).

COMPENSATION—concld.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 87

———— To accused—Order of compensation made in a separate proceeding after and not in the order of discharge—Legality of the proceeding—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 250, prov. (b). S. 450 of the Criminal Procedure Code requires that before a Magistrate makes it a ground for discharging an accused that the complaint was frivolous and vexatious he shall hear the complainant on that aspect of the case, and unless he does so the order of compensation is without jurisdiction. The order awarding compensation must be contained in the order of discharge or acquittal and not passed in a separate proceeding after the accused has been discharged or acquitted. In the matter of the complaint of Safdar Hussain, I. L. R. 25 All. 315, followed. HARU TANTI v. SATISH ROY (1910).
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 302

COMPETENCY.

See WITNESS . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 700

COMPLAINT.

See COLLECTOR I. L. R. 40 Calc. 465

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898—

s. 4 . I. L. R. 40 All. 641
ss. 4 AND 190 . 1 Pat. L. J. 592
ss. 4 AND 195 . I. L. R. 35 All. 8
ss. 145, 522 . I. L. R. 37 All. 654
s. 190 . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 34
ss. 200, 203 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 346
ss. 203, 437 . I. L. R. 35 All. 78
ss. 248, 258, 345. I. L. R. 37 Bom. 369
ss. 303, 437 . I. L. R. 36 All. 74

See FALSE AND VEXATIOUS COMPLAINT.

See FALSE INFORMATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 360

See MAGISTRATE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

See PENAL CODE—

s. 120B . . I. L. R. 40 All. 41
ss. 182, 193 . I. L. R. 35 All. 102
s. 498 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 276

———— absence of—

See ACQUITTAL I. L. R. 46 Calc. 867

———— compensation for frivolous and vexatious—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898, s. 250 . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 463

———— non-examination of—

See FALSE INFORMATION.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

COMPLAINT—contd.

———— resiling before hearing effect of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s. 345 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 946

———— dismissal of—

See CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 41

———— dismissal of, without issue of process—

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.
15 C. W. N. 917
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 880

———— frivolous or vexatious—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss. 250, 537 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 132

———— petition asking police warning, if—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 4 (m).
15 C. W. N. 1051

———— Statement in—whether priveleged—

See PENAL CODE, s. 498
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 110

———— to Magistrate—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 650

———— without any process being issued—

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 358

1. ———— Jurisdiction to direct a prosecution in the absence of any judicial proceeding—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 211—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 202 and 476—Practice. Where the petitioner's case was disposed of by the acquittal of the accused, on the 1st August, by a Magistrate who did not then take action under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code, but proceedings thereunder were taken, on the 9th August, and an order made, on the 23rd, by another Magistrate, who had then no seisin of the case, and the District Magistrate having expressed a doubt as to the jurisdiction of the latter and having considered that such order should be passed by the Magistrate who tried the original case, such Magistrate thereupon, purporting to act under s. 476, directed the prosecution of the petitioner, under s. 211 of the Penal Code, on the 16th September: Held, (i) that the order of the 23rd August was without jurisdiction, as there was no judicial proceeding of any kind before the Magistrate who passed it; (ii) that the order of the 16th September was bad in law, as the trying Magistrate had not considered it necessary to take action under s. 476, when he acquitted the accused in the original case, and did not exercise an independent judicial opinion in passing it a month-and-a-half later at the instance of the District Magistrate. There may be cases in which a Court does not think it necessary in the public interest to take action under s. 476 of the Code, and allows the injured person to seek redress by granting sanction, and in such a case it is not necessary that the order should be passed at or near the time of the disposal of the original case. When a complainant prefers a complaint a Magistrate has no right to act under s. 220. The person complained against should ordinarily be brought to trial. The accused should not be made party under s. 202 nor allowed to cross-examine. BHIM LAL v. EMPEROR
I. L. R. Calc. 444

COMPLAINT—contd.

2. ——————— Complaint by husband of minor wife against certain persons of offences against her—Preliminary inquiry by Magistrate—Withdrawal of complaint by husband—Refusal by Magistrate to dismiss complaint—Examination of wife and other prosecution witnesses at inquiry—Cognizance against persons not named in the complaint on evidence taken at such inquiry—Cognizance on complaint or information—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 190 (1) (a), (c), 202, 203—Practice. A Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence upon a complaint against certain specified persons, is competent to proceed against others not named therein but who are disclosed by the prosecution evidence, taken on a preliminary inquiry under s 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to have been concerned in the offence. Charu Chandra Das v. Narendra Krishna Chakravarti, 4 C. W. N. 367, Raghab Acharjee v. Empress, 3 C. W. N. cclxxxiv, followed. Khudiram Mookerjee v. Empress, 1 C. W. N. 105, not followed. Jagat Chandra Mozumdar v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 786, distinguished. Where a complaint was made under ss. 342 and 363 of the Penal Code, against four persons, by the husband of a girl aged 11, whereupon the Magistrate, after examining him on oath, ordered him to prove his case, and two days later he presented a petition for the withdrawal of the complaint and its dismissal as untrue, but the Magistrate proceeded, on the date fixed for the preliminary inquiry, to summon the witnesses, and thereafter examined the girl and some other prosecution witnesses and found that, though there was no satisfactory evidence against the original accused, there was sufficient evidence against other persons, and, treating the girl as the real complainant, issued processes against them for offences under ss. 342, 352 and 363 of the Penal Code: Held, that the Magistrate was right in ordering the examination of the witnesses to ascertain if there was any substance in the petition of withdrawal and in the complaint Held, further, that he took cognizance against the persons not named in the complaint under cl. (a) and not cl. (c) of s. 190 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code. DEDAR BUKSH v. SYAMAPADA DAS MALAKAR (1914).

I. L R. 41 Calc. 1013

3. ——————— Personal presentation of complaint—Complaint of defamation presented by alleged agent of pardanashin but not signed by her—Power of attorney not filed in Court— be presented in person, otherwise a Magistrate should be very loath to take cognisance, and should not accept a complaint, not signed by the alleged complainant and not preferred by a person duly authorized to institute the specific complaint. No process can be issued against the accused, either by the Magistrate first taking cognisance, or by the Magistrate to whom the case is transferred, unless and until the Magistrate issuing it has first examined the complainant, and this course is the more necessary in the case of a pardanashin to enable the Magistrate to satisfy himself that the complaint is really her action. When a pardanashin makes a complaint, the Magistrate may take cognisance, if satisfied that it is really her complaint, by whatever means it reaches him. When it is presented on her behalf the Magistrate may, under s. 503 of the Code, issue a commission for the examination required by s. 200. S. 503 is very wide in its terms, and refers not only to an inquiry or trial but to any other proceeding, and authorises the examination of any "witness," which includes a complainant. Where a written complaint of defamation was presented by an alleged agent on behalf of a pardanashin, but it was not signed by her, nor was any power of attorney filed before the Magistrate, and he issued process without examining the complaint: Held, that he had no power to issue process in such a case. ABHAYESWARI DEBI v. KISHORI MOHAN BANERJEE (1914).

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 19

4. ——————— Absence of complainant—Cause called on by mistake on date not fixed for hearing—Order of acquittal—Effect of such order—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to proceed with trial thereafter—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 247. An order of acquittal under s 247 of the Criminal Procedure Code passed by mistake on a date not fixed for the hearing of the case, for absence of the complainant, is a mere nullity, and does not debar the Magistrate from proceeding with the trial on the discovery of the error. H. C. Proceedings, 17 Aug. 1875, 2 Weir 307, followed. Suresh Chandra Sinha v. Banku Sadhukhan, 2 C. L. J. 622, distinguished. ACHAMBIT MANDAL v. MAHATAB SINGH (1914).

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 365

5. ——————— Reference of complaint to subordinate Magistrate for local inquiry and report—Legality of the procedure—Withdrawal of case by District Magistrate to inform himself of the nature of the dispute between the parties—Sufficiency of ground—Disqualification of such Magistrate, as Collector and representative of Court of Wards, when not connected with the initiation of the prosecution—Quashing pending proceedings—Civil dispute—Practice of taking disputed claims to Criminal Courts—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 202, 528, 556, Explanation. There has been a long practice to refer complaints to subordinate Magistrates for local inquiry and report, and the language of s. 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code is capable of an interpretation consistent with the practice. The words "direct a previous local investigation by any officer subordinate" include a local investigation by a subordinate Magistrate. The definitions of "inquiry" and "investigation" in s. 4 are not exhaustive, and are expressed to be subject to the context. Hari Charan [illegible] v. Girish Chandra Sadhukhan, I. L. R. [illegible] Calc. [illegible], Gangadhar Pradhan v. King-Emperor, I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173, discussed. A desire to inform himself as to the nature of the dispute between a landlord and his tenants in a particular estate is not a sufficient reason for the withdrawal of a case, under s. 528 of the Code, by the District Magistrate to his own file for trial. The District Magistrate is not, merely as Collector and representative of the Court of Wards disqualified under s. 556 of the Code, from trying a case in which the Court of Wards is interested when he has had nothing to do with the [illegible] of the prosecution. Pending [illegible] quashed where there was little [illegible] that the offence complained of [illegible] stantiated, and the dispute [illegible] for determination by the Civil Courts. The practice of taking to the Criminal Courts disputed claims involving questions of right and title about which parties may intelligibly and with perfect good faith differ in view, deprecated. AMRIT MAJHI v. EMPEROR (1919) I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

COMPLAINT—concld.

COMPOSITION-DEED.

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), SCH. 1, ART. 22 . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 576

COMPOSITION OF OFFENCE.

See COMPOUNDING OF OFFENCE.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 345. I. L. R. 37 All. 127

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1143

——— in revision—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s. 439 I. L. R. 39 Mad. 604

COMPOSITOR.

See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT, 1859 . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 53

COMPOUNDABLE OFFENCE.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss. 345, 438 and 439 (d). I. L. R. 42 All. 474

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1871, s. 24. I. L. R. 42 All. 202

COMPOUND INTEREST.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 83 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 579

COMPOUNDING OFFENCE.

See AGREEMENT AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY. 20 C. W. N. 946

See COMPOSITION OF OFFENCE.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 345 . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 346
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 946
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 169
I. L. R. 43 All. 483

ss. 345 AND 439 I. L. R. 32 All. 153

s. 439 . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 604

See MADRAS FORESTS ACT (V OF 1882), ss. 26, 53, 55 I. L. R. 37 Mad. 280

——— grievous hurt—

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 385

COMPROMISE.

See AGREEMENT I. L. R. 37 Mad. 408

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 33 All. 743

See CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT, 1876 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 580

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882—

s. 462 . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 322
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 52
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 295

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

s. 47 . . I. L. R. 41 All. 443

COMPROMISE—contd.

s. 48 . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 256

O. XXXII, R. 7 I. L. R. 41 All. 553

O. XXIII, R. 3.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 850, 959
I. L. R. 38 All. 75
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 245

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 All. 237

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 145 . . 15 C. W. N. 568

s. 345 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 419

See DEKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879).

s. 12 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 502

s. 15 (B) . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 199
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 614

s. 70 . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1128

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 44. I. L. R. 34 All. 143

See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION. I. L. R. 33 All. 356

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE I. L. R. 34 All. 64

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY I. L. R. 35 All. 428

See HINDU LAW—LIMITED OWNER 3 Pat. L. J. 83

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER. 2 Pat. L. J. 370

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW. I. L. R. 35 All. 240
2 Pat. L. J. 578

See HINDU WIDOW. I. L. R. 38 All. 679

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION. 3 Pat. L. J. 415

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER. I. L. R. 33 All. 457

See MISTAKE . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 217

See MORTGAGE DECREE 4 Pat. L. J. 306

See PARDANASHIN LADY. L. R. 46 I. A. 272

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 408

See PROBATE . . 2 Pat. L. J. 535

See RECEIVER . . 6 Pat. L. J. 208

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1877, s. 17. I. L. R. 32 All. 206

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)— I. L. R. 38 All. 366

ss. 17 AND 49 . I. L. R. 43 All. 1

s. 49. . . I. L. R. 33 All. 728

See SALE . . I. L. R. 35 All. 168

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), s. 62, SCH. I, ART. 5 . I. L. R. 40 All. 19

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 6 . I. L. R. 33 All. 414
I. L. R. 38 All. 107
I. L. R. 41 All. 611

s. 54 . . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 139

COMPROMISE—contd.

———— arbitration award amounts to—

See Civil Procedure Code, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 3, O. VIII, r. 8.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 245

———— between co-executors, validity of—

See Hindu Law—Will.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 365

———— by female owner—

See Hindu Law—Reversioner.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 590

———— by pardanashin guardian—

See Hindu Law—Partition.
L. R. 44 I. A. 229

———— by reversioners—

See Hindu Law—(Widow).
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 100

———— decree on—

See Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXXII, r. 7
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 853

———— forbidden by law—

See Agreement against Public Policy.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 113

———— joint bond, as part of—

See Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 462 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 409

———— on behalf of minor, without leave of Court—

See Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 462.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 409

ss. 375 and 462 . 25 C. W. N. 797

See Civil Procedure Code, 1908, O. XXXII, r. 7 . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 164

See Dekkhan Agricultural Relief Act, 1879, s. 71
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1128

———— power of vakil to enter into—

See Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXIII, r. 3, s. 96, cl. (5)
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 233

———— recording of—

See Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXIII, r. 3; s. 96, cl. (5).
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 233

1. ———— Compromise of suit relating to mortgages—Agreement of compromise not registered and not incorporated in decree—Suit for redemption of mortgages—Agreement for extinction of equity of redemption and for division of properties amongst the parties to mortgage deeds—Agreement of compromise given effect and carried out by acts and conduct of parties though document is ineffective to prove contract—Principle that Court will uphold a contract carried into effect by acts and conduct of parties. In this case the Judicial Committee (affirming the decision of the High Court) held, in a suit for the redemption of two mortgages executed in 1848 and 1871 respectively between the predecessors in title of the parties, that the equity of redemption had under the circumstances been extinguished. In 1870 an agreement was come to by the then representatives of the mortgagor and mortgagee in reference to the mortgage of 1848. Sums were fixed as being the principal and the interest due and arrangements were made for payment by yearly instalments, and for the management of the property. In 1873 differences arose between the parties to that agreement, and the mortgagee brought a suit to enforce it which was compromised, the terms of the agreement being in effect to pay off the mortgage debts and to divide the properties into specific shares which were to be legally conveyed by the mortgagor to the parties respectively entitled to them, and a decree was made by the Court that "the suit be decided in pursuance of the terms of the compromise, and the suit be struck off from the list of cases." No conveyances were executed by the mortgagor in completion of the contract to that effect in the compromise, nor was the agreement of compromise registered nor its terms incorporated into the decree: but it was acted upon and carried out by all the parties to it, and by their successors in title, and for a period of 30 or 40 years prior to the present suit the rights of all the parties had been dealt with upon the same footing as if the mortgagor had made an express conveyance parting with the equity of redemption, and transferring allotted shares of the property itself to the mortgagees and reserving one share for herse[illegible] was had that their promise. And even though the compromise and the decree taken together were considered to be defective or inchoate as elements making up a final and validly concluded agreement for the extinction of the equity of redemption, the acts of the parties had been such as to supply all defects. When the acting and conduct of the parties are founded upon, as in the performance or part-performance of an agreement, the locus penteintiæ which exists in a situation where the parties stand upon nothing but an engagement which is not final or complete, is excluded. For equity will support a transaction clothed imperfectly in those legal forms to which finality attaches after the bargain has been acted upon. The principles laid down in Maddison v. Alderson, L. R. 8 A. C. 467, Bell's Commentaries, 10th Ed., s. 26, and Potter v. Potter, 1 Ves. Sen. 437, followed. There was nothing in the laws of India inconsistent with these principles; on the contrary those laws followed the same rule. Mahomed Musa v. Aghore Kumar Ganguli (1914)
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 801

2. ———— Compromise, if not recorded, effect of—Consent decree—Appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 96, cl. (3); O. XXIII, r. 3; O. XLIII, r. 1, cl. (m). A (consent) decree under r. 3 of O. XXIII of the Civil Procedure Code can be passed only after there has been an order that the compromise be recorded. This is not a mere matter of form, as the aggrieved party has a right of appeal against this order, and s. 96, cl. (3) of the Code is not otherwise a bar to an appeal from such a decree. Padan Sardar v. Bhupendra Nath Nag (1915)
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 85

3. ———— Minor—Court of Wards, compromise by, on behalf of minor ward, whether subject to sanction of Civil Court—Court of Wards Act (Beng. IX of 1879), ss. 18, 51—C[illegible]

COMPROMISE—contd.

Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 462, 464. The sanction of the Civil Court (required by s. 462 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882) is not necessary for a compromise entered into under the authority and by the direction of the Court of Wards on behalf of a minor under their charge. NAKIMO DEWANI v. PEMBA DITCHEN (1917)

I. L R. 44 Calc. 829

4. ———————— Petition of compromise reciting a verbal mortgage in a proceeding prior to Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Destruction of record, suit to redeem mortgage after—Certified copy of petition, if admissible and if constitutes mortgage document—Petition, if should be stamped—Copy bearing one rupee stamp—Original petition, it must have been stamped with one-rupee stamp—Court fees Act (VII of 1870). On April 1st, 1857, the parties to a suit filed a petition of compromise reciting the terms on which the dispute was settled, among them being an agreement by one party who was recognized as owner to grant a usufructurary mortgage to the other. The Judge ordered the compromise to be placed on the record and the case to be put for final disposal on the following day. The record of the proceedings having been destroyed, in the present suit for redemption of the mortgage a certified copy of the petition bearing a stamp of Re. 1 only was produced as evidence of the agreement: Held, that the certified copy was rightly admitted in evidence relative to the facts recited therein. That the suit was not brought on the petition, but on an antecedent verbal mortgage, valid according to the law in force before the Transfer of Property Act; and did not depend upon whether the petition was fully stamped or not. That if the Judge did pass his formal order as he proposed to do, no objection could be taken on the ground of the stamp on the petition being insufficient. That no inference could be drawn from the copy bearing a one-rupee stamp (which was the proper stamp for issuing a copy under the Court-fees Act of 1870) that the original petition (if it be treated as the document creating the mortgage) was not properly stamped. AHMAD RAZA v. SAIYAD ABID HUSAIN (1916)

21 C. W. N. 265

3. ———————— Petition of compromise presented to the Magistrate while writing judgment—Duty of Magistrate to accept, and give effect to, the petition—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 345. Under s. 345 of the Criminal Procedure Code, a case may be compounded at any time before sentence is pronounced. A Magistrate, therefore, cannot refuse to accept a petition of compromise presented to him whilst he is writing the judgment. ASLAM MEAH v. EMPEROR (1917)

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 816

4. ———————— Compromise of a claim—Consideration—Claim must be bonâ fide—Mimanshapatra obtained from guardian of infant by setting up a false will. A died in 1902 leaving an adopted son B and a daughter P who was married to one G. B died in 1906, leaving as his heir P's son K then an infant, only two or three months old. About this time certain agnates of A set up a will by A under which they claimed A's estate as from the death of B, and G and they purported to settle the dispute by mimanshapatra whereby G, on his son's behalf, gave up certain portions of the estate left by D to the other party. On the validity of the mimanshapatra being challenged by B on behalf of her son K in a suit for partition, brought by her against the other party to the deed. Held, that though the latter could be expected and were not obliged to prove the will in solemn form in the present litigation, it was necessary for them to show that there was a will and that upon that will they had a claim which was made honestly and in good faith. Held, on the evidence that there was no will, and the claim put forward on its basis was not honest or bonâ fide but merely a sham claim with a view to inducing G to give up some of the infant's property in their favour. That upon the question of the validity of the mimanshapatra, the position of the infant was different from what would have been G's position had he executed the deed for himself. KRISHNA CHANDRA DATTA ROY v. HEMAJA SANKAR NANDI MAZUMDAR (1917) . . 22 C. W. N. 463

5. ———————— Construction of—Whether benefit of annuity under it was confined to lineal heirs of grantee—No illegal perpetuity where annuity was a charge on the zamindari as long as heirs of grantee existed—Right to arrears of annuity by assignee of a reversioner—Objection not taken in early stage of case and no issue on it settled, not allowed to be raised in appeal to Privy Council. In a suit between an ancestor of the appellant (third defendant) and an ancestor of the respondent (third plaintiff) for an impartible zamindari, a compromise was come to in 1861 by the parties, by which the ancestor of the appellant retained the zamindari subject to his giving up one village and paying an annual sum of Rs. 700 a month in perpetuity to the ancestor of the respondent. The terms of the compromise were contained in two petitions, dated 8th January 1861, one being in Tamil and the other in English, the only difference between them being that in the former the annuity was to be paid to the grantee "and his descendants from generation to generation," and in the latter to the grantee, "and his heirs." In a suit for the annuity by a collateral defendant of the respondent's ancestor. Held, on the construction of the compromise, that the right to it was not confined to lineal heirs. Held, also, that the agreement lay not in covenant, but in charge, and that the annuity being a charge on the estate, it was not illegal as there was no difficulty in making it perpetual as long as there were lineal or collateral heirs of the grantee. Where an objection which might and ought to have been but was not, taken by the appellant at a stage of the case when an issue could have been raised on it, and the matter was subsequently decided by the High Court against the appellant the objection by him was not allowed to be raised on an appeal to the Privy Council. RAJAH OF RAMNAD v. SUNDARA PANDIYASAMI TEVAR (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 581

6. ———————— Compromise forbidden by law—Agreement to compromise non-compoundable offence, in suit for cancellation of or declaration of nullity of the agreement. Defendant instituted criminal proceedings against the plaintiff under the Indian Penal Code, ss. 408 and 477, both of which are non-compoundable offences. In consideration of his withdrawing both criminal proceedings and a civil suit pending between the parties, plaintiff executed a deed conveying to the defendant his share of a certain village. There was a proviso in the deed that the conveyance should only come into operation if, and when all the above mentioned proceedings were withdrawn.

COMPROMISE—contd.

The criminal proceedings were withdrawn and the plaintiff was acquitted, the order of the Magistrate being made with the consent of the parties. When the defendant took steps to fulfil the rest of his agreement, namely, to withdraw his civil suit against the plaintiff, the latter declined to give his consent to the withdrawal. Plaintiff for the agreement being illegal, the agreement was void. But that the plaintiff being in pari delicto with the defendant, the Court, acting on principles of equity, would refuse the prayer for relief by way of a declaration that the deed was null and void. The Court will not exercise its discretionary power under the Specific Relief Act, 1877, s. 39, in favour of a party who is in pari delicto with his opponent BINDESHARI PRASAD v. LEKHRAJ SAHU . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 48

6(a). ——————— So far as it relates to properties within the scope of the suit a compromise decree operates as res judicata but so far as it relates to properties outside the scope of the suit such a decree if the terms of the compromise are embodied within the decree is evidence of an agreement to transfer an interest in the property. It is not necessary in such a case to register the compromise petition. BISSESWAR RAM v. MUHADEO PAHAN

1 Pat. L. J. 208

6(b). ——————— This appeal related to the Taluka of Taringa in the Central Provinces which originated in a grant by Government early in the 19th Century of a large tract of waste land to the ancestor from whom both the contending parties derived their descent. In 1860 the subject of the grant had been reclaimed and covered with villages. The family of the grantee were then the Taluqdar (Badrinath), his to a half share of the rents of the Taluka on the ground that it was joint family property subject to the ordinary incidents of Hindu Law and that he was entitled to a moiety of the estate. He obtained a decree which was put into execution. In the course of the subsequent proceedings a compromise was come to and the dispute was referred to arbitration. An award was given the plaintiff (claimant) was to possess "and enjoy them. The defendant (Taluqdar) has no power over these villages. The plaintiff is at liberty to possess, occupy, and manage them just as he pleases. But the defendant is to pay out of his own pocket the Government revenue in respect of these villages. The plaintiff has no concern with the payment of the revenue, and will not have to pay it. The defendant shall have power over the rest of the villages in the Taluq. The plaintiff shall have no power over them......The defendant shall be responsible to pay (revenue) to Government. Plaintiffs shall have no concern.

COMPROMISE—contd.

given by the judgment of the Settlement officer dated 31st October, 1867, which was affirmed on appeal, by the Wazib-ul-arz of 24th May, 1867; by a letter from the Government of India to the Chief Commissioner in 1890, regarding the liability of the claimant (Lokenath) to re-imburse the taluqdar in respect of the enhanced revenue: by the decision of the Board in 1899 [Lokenath v. Bisseswarnath (1899) I. L. R 27 Calc. 103; L. R. 26 I. A. 268] and by other documentary evidence in the case. In the present suit brought on 16th July, 1916, against the then taluqdar by the grandson of the claimant (Lokenath) the main question was whether the revenue assessed on the villages in possession of the plaintiffs was a charge, as they claimed on the rest of villages of the taluqua, and the plaintiffs prayed for a declaration that it was. Held (reversing the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner), that the liability to pay the revenue on the 11 villages granted to the claimant, without the right to reimbursement was not a charge on the estate. There was nothing to support the charge; and it could not be inferred "from the surrounding circumstances." Raja of Ramnad v. Sundarapandiyasami Tevar [(1918), I L. R. 42 Mad. 581; L.R.46 I. A. 64] distinguished. SUNDERLAL v. RAMJILAL (P.C. 1920)

I. L. R. 47 Cal. 932

7. ——————— Certain properties not included in suit—Registration—Compromise incorporated in decree—Registration Act (16 of 1908), s. 17 (1)—Code of Civil Procedure (Act 5 of 1908), O. XXIII, r. 3. Where a suit for partition is compromised on the understanding that each defendant admits the plaintiff's right to certain portions of the claim made by him, in consideration of the plaintiffs admitting the claim of each of the defendants for certain property which each such defendant desires to retain, and the compromise is incorporated in the decree, then such compromise does not require to be registered even though it deals with property not included in the suit such a decree, although not registered, is evidence of an agreement between the parties under which certain lands have been allotted to each. Per Jwala Prasad, J.—The words "so far as it relates to the suit" in O. XXIII, r. 3, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, show that all the terms which form the consideration for the adjustment of the matters in dispute, whether they form the subject-matter of the suit or not, become related to the suit and can be embodied in the decree. KARU MIAN v. TEJO MIAN . . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 43

8. ——————— Adjustment of matters outside scope of suit—Alteration of terms of registered lease—whether registration compulsory—Registration Act (XVI of 1908), s. 17 (1) (b) (c), (2) (VI)—Transfer of Property (IV of 1882), ss. 105 and 107—Duty of Court in filing compromise—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O. XXXII, rr 3 and 7—Parties to compromise, whether minors are bound—Construction of Compromise. Documents in the nature of affidavits, petitions, and pleadings which are filed in the course of a proper judicial proceeding are admissible in evidence without the necessity of registration. A compromise which is referred to and incorporated in an order of the Court, or is filed by way of petition in the proceedings is within the protection of sub-s. (2) (vi) of s. 17 of the Registration Act, 1908, and does not require registration even where it effects an alteration in a registered document. A lease of certain coal land, executed in 1895, provided for the payment of a commission of 6 annas per ton over and above a certain quantity taken from the mine each year, and that in default the minimum royalty was to be measured at Rs. 1,750 per annum. It was stipulated that the commission and royalty should be payable to each of the co-sharer lessors according to their respective shares, and that in respect of the share of each co-sharer he should be entitled to recover the same by suit from the lessee. In 1901 a suit was brought on behalf of all the lessors or the successors of the original lessors for the recovery of commission and royalty on the basis of the agreement of 1895. At the time of the institution of the suit four of the plaintiffs G,N,H, and K, were minors. The suit was compromised in 1902. The Court did not expressly sanction the compromise on behalf of the minors, but nevertheless the recompromise was recorded. By the compromise the rate of commission and the royalty were reduced and a certain sum was accepted in lieu of the arrears claimed. In his judgment embodying the compromise the Subordinate Judge remarked,—"The terms of the lease have also been changed, but this is no part of the subject-matter of the suit." In 1906 there was another suit between the lessors and the lessee. In that suit G who had attained his majority challenged the compromise of 1902 on the ground that he was a minor at that time. K had also attained his majority before the institution of the suit but did not challenge the compromise of 1902. Before the institution of the suit H had disposed of his entire interest in the leasehold property as follows: one-third was purchased by S, one-third was purchased by J, and the remaining one-third by K, S and J were co-sharer landlords. In 1906 N was still a minor. The suit was compromised. Held, in a suit by the lessors for recovery of arrears of commission and royalty at the rates provided in the lease of 1895. (1) That under the terms of the lease the amount payable to the co-sharers by way of commission and royalty was divisible, and therefore, although the compromise of 1902 was not binding on all the minor plaintiffs, it was not void in its entirety, and accordingly those of the lessors who were bound by the compromise were entitled to recover commission and royalty at the compromise rate only.

COMPROMISE—contd.

(2) That N was not bound by the compromise of 1902. (3) That G was not bound by the compromise of 1902, although he was an adult at the time when the suit of 1906 was compromised, as he had in that suit challenged the compromise of 1902. (4) That K was bound by the compromise of 1902, as he did not impeach it in the suit of 1906. (5) S and J were bound by the compromise of 1902, as they were adults and being themselves bound in respect of their own individual shares, they were also bound in respect of the shares purchased from the minor H. (6) The compromise did not per se constitute lease and, therefore, did not require to be registered under the provisions of sub-s. 1 (d) of s. 17 of the Registration Act, 1908, but that it fell within the terms of sub-s. 1 (b) and as it was embodied in the decree of the Court it was exempted from the necessity of registration by sub-s. 2 (vi). CHARU CHANDRA MITRA v. SAMBHU NATH PANDEY

3 Pat. L. J. 255

9. ———— Compromise incorporated in decree—interest not claimed in plaint inserted in compromise decree, whether recoverable. Where the plaintiff sued for the recovery of a certain sum of money with interest at 9 per cent. per annum and the suit was compromised on the terms that if a specified amount were paid on a particular day interest should be calculated at 12 per cent.; while if it was paid after that date interest should run at 24 per cent.—held, in a suit on the compromise decree, that interest was recoverable at the rate of 9 per cent. only. The agreement to pay, after a specified date, a rate of interest not claimed in the suit was outside the scope of the suit, and that portion of the compromise was therefore invalid. GAURI DUTT v. DOHAN THAKUR

2 Pat. L. J. 673

10. ———— Construction of document—Compromise settling all matters in dispute except one—Agreement therein that on that matter the parties would be bound by the finding of the Court—Finding of the Court not appealable. The parties to a suit for the recovery of property of various kinds by right of succession agreed in respect of the various classes of property except one. As to this, however, they agreed that they would be bound by the finding of the court in respect of it. Held, that the effect of this last term of the compromise was that the finding of the court was final and binding upon the parties and that no appeal would lie against it. Bahir Das Chakravarti v. Nobin Chunder Pal, I. L. R. 29 Calc., 306, followed. SHAHZADI BEGAM v. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM I. L. R. 43 All. 266

11. ———— Procedure—Minor—Guardian appointed by Court of Wards—Assent of Civil Court—Court of Wards Act (IX of 1879), ss. 14, 18, 51—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, ss. 375, 464. A guardian appointed under the Court of Wards Act, 1879, on behalf of minors has power to compromise proceedings in a Civil Court, to which these minors are defendants; upon the guardian assenting to an agreement of compromise it is necessarily recorded by the Civil Court under s. 375 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, and its validity does not depend upon its terms having been examined and approved by the Civil Court. NAKIMO DEWANI AND OTHERS v. PEMBA DICHEN AND OTHERS (1910)

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 469

12. ———— Not notified to Court—Claim decreed subsequently—Whether decree-holder can bring a fresh suit for recovery of sum on the compromise which he might have got by execution of the decree. The plaintiffs-appellants brought a suit against the defendant-respondent for the recovery of money due to them by the latter. The evidence in the case had been closed on 25th January 1910 and the Court ordered certain files to be sent for, so the case was adjourned to 10th February, and on that day to the 28th February for the same reason. On the 19th February the defendant by way of compromise, executed a lease in favour of plaintiffs of certain land under which the latter's claim was to be adjusted. The planitiffs, however, did not withdraw their suit, and on the 28th February the Court passed a decree in their favour. The plaintiffs having failed to recover their claim now sued for the amount due to them under the lease; admittedly their decree had become barred by limitation Held, that the decree superseded the compromise, and the plaintiffs could not now sue on the lease to recover the sum which they ... Moturi ... ad. L. J ... Kashi- ... r. Anant-bhat (I. L. R. 25 Bom. 252) and Kashab Panda v. Bholani Panda (21 Indian Cases 538), distinguished. HEM RAJ v. DOST MUHAMMAD

COMPROMISE—concld.

I. L. R. 1. Lah. 445

13. ———— Whether relates to subject-matter of suit—Suit by tenant against co-tenant for share of rent paid in respect of tenancy —Compromise by which Defendant tenant gives up land and Plaintiff gives up claim. One of two joint tenants having paid up the entire rent sued the other for contribution. By a compromise which was embodied in the decree, the Defendant in consideration of the Plaintiff abandoning his claim gave up his share of the land to Plaintiff: Held—That the terms of the compromise related to the suit or at all events were covered by its subject-matter. JACHIM MONDAL v. CHENINESSA BIBI . . . . . . 24 C. W. N. 328

14. ———— Suit by a female heir of a joint owner compromised by a solenama —The compromise, if binding upon her sons— "Bonâ fide" compromise in settlement of family disputes, effect of. After the death of one of the members of a joint Hindu family, his daughter brought a suit for establishment of her title of her father's share in the ancestral estate. The suit was brought against an alleged adopted son of her father and the heirs of her father's brothers. The suit was terminated by a solenama entered into by the daughter and the alleged adopted son, who alone was contesting the suit. Under the solenama they mutually gave up claims to certain properties in favour of each other and the disputes were settled. Two subsequent suits by the daughter based upon the solenama also ended in compromise. On the ... for ... heir ... uld ... of disputes and of the rights of each party and the settlement being also bonâ fide was binding upon the reversioners. Lala Khunni Lal v. Kunwar Gobind, L. R. 38 I. A. 87 (102) : s. c. 15 C. W. N. 547 (1911), Lala Oudh Beharee v. Ranee Meua Kunwar, 3 Agra H. C. R. 84 (1867), Hiran Bibi v. Sohan Bibi 18 C. W. N. 929 (P. C.) (1914), Mahendra Nath v. Shamsunnessa, 21 C. L. J. 157 (162, 163), (1914) and Shyam Lal v. Rameswari 28 C. L. J. 82 (89) (1915) referred to. RAJENDRA NATH MITRA v. NIBARAN CHANDRA ROY

25 C. W. N. 859

COMPROMISE AFTER DECREE.

———— Execution of—Adjustment of mesne profits after decree enforceable by execution—When decree becomes incapable of execution. Where, in a suit for land and mesne profits, the decree leaves the amount of mesne profits undetermined, the suit to that extent remains undisposed of and it is open to the parties to adjust that portion of the suit by a lawful compromise; and a decree made in accordance with the terms of such compromise can be enforced by execution. Where such compromise provides that the amount of mesne profits must be ... not be removed. VYTHINADA AIYAR v. VYTHINADA AIYAR (1909) . . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 78

COMPROMISE DECREE.

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

6 Pat. L. J. 171

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXXII, R. 7 . 6 Pat. L. J. 190

See COMPROMISE.

See CONSENT DECREE.

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I.L.R. 38 All. 679

See MISTAKE.

I.L.R. 43 Cal. 217

See PRACTICE.

I.L.R. 36 Bom. 77

See REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS.

L. R. 46 I. A. 240

See RES JUDICATA I. L. R. 35 Mad. 75

See REVIEW, APPLICATION FOR.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 541

———— against widow—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW.

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 249

———— by guardian without Court's leave—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V, 1908), O. XXII, R. 7.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 164

———— effect of—

See MUTT . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 177

———— A decree obtained by consent or compromise can be attached in a separate Suit not only on the ground of fraud but also any reason sufficient to avoid an agreement SHAM NATH CHOWDHURY v. RAMJAS.

I. L .R. 34 All. 144

———— Suit to set aside, on the ground that agreement was unlawful—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 375—Administrator agreeing to execute lease for which sanction afterwards refused by Court—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881), s. 90, cls. (3) and (4)—Test, whether agreement, specifically enforcible—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), ss. 3, 21 (e)—Administrator if "trustee"—Compromise based on agreement which is unlawful in part—Decree if to be wholly set aside or in part—No universal rule. Where a person acting for himself and also as administrator of the estate of a deceased person compromised a suit agreeing thereby to execute within a month a dur-putni lease of property jointly belonging to himself and

COMPROMISE DECREE—contd.

the estate of the deceased and undertook previously to doing that to obtain the permission of the Court which had granted the letters of administration, but such permission was refused on the ground of the proposed lease not being beneficial to the estate: Held, that the administrator had acted in excess of his powers under s. 90 of the Probate and Administration Act in entering into the compromise which was therefore not a lawful compromise within the meaning of s. 375 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882). Where a compromise decree has been made on the basis of an unlawful agreement a suit lies to set it aside. Golab Koer v. Badshah Bahadur, 13 C. W. N. 1197; s.c. 10 C. L. J. 420, followed. A compromise decree can be set aside on any ground on which the agreement itself could be set aside. Huddersfield v. Leister [1895] 2 Ch. 273, followed. If the agreement could not be specifically enforced nor should the decree. The agreement by the administrator in this case could not be specifically enforced being one made by a trustee in excess of his powers, within the meaning of s. 21, cl. (c) of the Specific Relief Act. Held, that in the circumstances of the case the whole decree should be set aside and not merely the portion affecting the estate of the deceased. Whether in such a case the decree should be set aside in the entirety or only to the extent directly effected by the illegality would depend upon the circumstances of the case, and no universal rule can be laid down with regard to it. SARBESH CHANDRA BASU v. HARI DOYAL SINGH (1910) . . . . 14 C. W. N. 451

——— Date of payment fixed by agreement of parties—Court's jurisdiction to extend time—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXXIV, r. 3. In a suit upon a mortgage, a compromise decree was made directing that on payment by the defendant into Court of a certain sum on or before the 4th April 1917 the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant all documents relating to the mortgaged property and put the defendant into possession of the same. On the 31st March 1917 the defendant paid into Court a portion of the sum and applied for enlargement of time to pay up the balance. The application was refused: the defendant, however, paid into Court the balance on the 12th May, 1917: Held, that it would be equitable to extend the time for the payment of the balance up to the 12th May 1917, on which date the money was paid into Court, and the High Court extended the time up till that date and directed the lower Court to make a final decree in terms of O. XXXIV, r. 3 of the Civil Procedure Code. ABKAOH MONDAL v. AMINUDDI MULLICK (1918) 23 C. W. N. 439

——— Defendant to be ejected from land in suit, unless he executed agreement of lease in favour of Plaintiff within two months—Lease not executed in two months—Time if essence of contract—Executing Court if may relieve against forfeiture—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXIII, r. 3. Government sued the defendant for recovery of possession of a plot of land in the Barrackpore Cantonment. The suit was compromised on terms under which the Defendant admitted the right of the Plaintiff and agreed to hold the land as a separate holding under the Plaintiff but without the payment of any additional tax, and the Defendant and his son undertook within two months to execute an agreement in favour of the Plaintiff in a certain form embodying therein the terms of the compromise, in default whereof, it was provided that the Plaintiff would take khas possession of the land in suit by executing the decree that would be passed on the basis of the compromise. A decree was passed in terms of the compromise. The Defendant and his son not having executed the agreement within two months as stipulated, the Plaintiff applied for execution and prayed for recovery of possession. On receipt of notice of the application, the Defendant expressed his willingness to execute the agreement, and before the executing Court urged that there was not the essence of the contract, and the Court had power to relieve him against the forfeiture: Held, that it is open to the execution Court to consider what the rights of the parties, equitable or otherwise, are which follow from the contract embodied in a compromise decree. That the relation of landlord and tenant having been created in the case by the compromise decree, the principle of the case of Krishna Bai v. Hari Govind, I. L. R. 31 Bom. 15 (F. B.); 8 Bom. L. R. 813 (1906), was applicable to the case, and the executing Court had erred in refusing relief to the Defendant on the ground that the contract had "crystallised into a decree." Lachiram v. Jana Yesu, 16 Bom. L. R. 668 (1914), referred to. In the circumstances of the case, the High Court held that the defendant should not be ejected for failure to execute the agreement within two months from the date of the compromise decree and should be given some time within which to exercise it. SURENDRA NATH BANERJEE v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

24 C. W. N. 545

——— Compromise of a suit by a female heir of a joint owner held binding. RAJENDRA NATH MITRA v. NIBARAN CHANDRA ROY.

25 C. W. N. 859

——— Compromise decree dealing with properties other than those in suit, effect of—Res judicata—whether registration of compromise is necessary. So far as it relates to properties within the scope of the suit a compromise decree operates as res judicata, but so far as it relates to properties outside the scope of the suit, such a decree, if the terms of the compromise are embodied within the decree, is evidence of an agreement to transfer an interest in the property. It is not necessary in such a case to register the compromise petition. BISSESSWAR RAM v. MAHADEO PARAN . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 208

——— Respondents brought a suit for a declaration that certain property attached by the appellant in execution for money decree against a third party belonged to them. A compromise was arrived at to the effect that the Respondents would execute a mortgage bond for the amount in favour of the appellant. A decree embodying this was passed and the mortgage bond not being executed within the terms of the decree appellant applied for execution of the mortgage bond. Held, that the question as to what was the subject matter of the suit must depend upon the facts of each case and that in the present case the mortgage bond was capable of being enforced in execution of the decree under Civil Procedure Code, O. XXXI, r. 34. In the matter of Anshu Prokash Ghose . . 24 C. W N. 68

COMPROMISE DECREE—contd.

——————— Suit to set it aside—On ground of fraud and of being ex parte quo the minor plaintiffs—where compromise was sanctioned [illegible] who remained in the enjoyment of the property for many years, and upon her death Jiwan's collaterals took possession. On 8th February 1914, Jiwan's daughter and sister of B. S. brought a suit against the collaterals for recovery of the property as Jiwan's daughter, and on 29th May 1914, a compromise was arrived at between the parties upon which a decree followed. The present plaintiffs, (two of whom being minors) who were among the defendants in that suit, brought the present action for setting aside the decree based on the compromise They alleged fraud inasmuch as Mst. L. claimed as Jiwan's daughter and not as sister of B S, the last male owner, but failed to show that they did not know of this or at any rate had not the means of knowing it. They also pleaded that the decree was ex parte as far as they were concerned, and that at all events the minor plaintiffs were not bound by the decree. Held, that, as the decree was not tainted with fraud, no suit lay to set it aside as regards parties who were majors at the time SADHO MISSER v. Golab Singh (3 Calc W. N. 375), followed. Held also, that the objection that the decree was ex parte could only be taken by an appropriate proceeding in the suit itself, e.g., by an application under O. IX, rule 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or an application for review, or an appeal to a superior Court. Held, [illegible] a misapprehension of a material fact, viz, the status of Mst. L. qua the estate, she being represented as the daughter of the last male owner while as a matter of fact she could come in only as a sister. Bibee Solomon v. Abdool Aziz (I. L. R. 6 Calc. 687), followed. JHANDA SINGH v. Mst. LACHMI . . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 344

COMPROMISE PETITION.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1059

COMPULSION OF LAW.

——— payment under—

See DEPOSIT IN COURT. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 269

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 598

COMPULSORY ACQUISITION.

See LAND ACQUISITION.

COMPULSORY SALE.

See Pre-emption. I. L. R. 42 All. 402

COMPUTATION OF TIME.

See CONTRACT FOR SALE. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 481

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 35

CONCILIATION.

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT, ss. 39, 48. I. L. R. 36 Bom. 183

See LIMITATION. I. L. R. 38 Bom. 653

——— certificate of conciliator—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 48. I. L. R. 42 Bom. 367

——— effect of award—

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT (XI OF 1898), s. 45. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 73

CONCLUSIVE PROOF.

See AGRA TENANCY ACT, 1901, s. 9 I. L. R. 43 All. 615

CONCURRENT FINDINGS.

See LIMITATION . L. R. 46 I. A. 197

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY I. L. R. 48 Calc. 853

See REGISTRATION. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 972

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL. I. L. R. 37 Mad. 443

See WILL . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 355

CONCURRENT JURISDICTION.

See PROBATE . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 224

See RESTORATION OF SUIT. 14 C. W. N. 558

CONCURRENT SENTENCES.

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 631

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 413 15 C. W. N. 734

See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 453

CONDEMNATION OF VESSEL.

See SALE OF GOODS. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 23

CONDITION PRECEDENT.

See CHARITABLE TRUST. I. L. R. 48 Calc. 124

CONDITIONAL ADOPTION.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION. I. L. R. 37 Bom. 251
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 542

CONDITIONAL BEQUEST.

See WILL . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1109

CONDITIONAL CONSENT.

——— by Collector—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 92. I. L. R. 39 [illegible]

CONDITIONAL OFFER.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXIII, [illegible]

CONDITIONAL ORDER.

See PUBLIC NUISANCE.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 702

See PUBLIC PATHWAY.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 61

CONDITIONAL SALE.

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 53

———— foreclosure proceedings—

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 292

CONDONATION.

See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 395
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 1091

CONDUCT.

———— causing injury to health—

See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 395

CONDUCT OF PARTIES.

See ZAMINDARI SALE.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 22

CONFESSION.

See ADMISSIONS.

See ADMISSIONS AND CONFESSIONS TO POLICE OFFICERS.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 601

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, SS. 14, 15, 154.
3 Pat. L. J. 291

s. 164 I. L. R. 2 Lah. 325, 129

ss. 255 AND 342. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 202

EVIDENCE ACT 1872—

s. 24. . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1086

s. 26. . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 1

s. 30. . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 156
I. L. R. 37 All. 247
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 739

s. 91. . . I. L. R. 35 All. 260
I. L. R. 36 All. 222

See EXCISE OFFICERS.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 411

See MISDIRECTION.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 557

———— admissibility of—

See JURY, RIGHT OF TRIAL BY.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

———— admissibility of, against a co-conspirator—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 169

———— by co-accused—

See BAIL . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 25

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 30.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 156
I. L. R. 37 All. 247
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 739

See JURY TRIALS I. L. R. 42 Calc. 789

———— effect of retracted—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 342.
5 Pat. L. J. 430

CONFESSION—contd.

———— to Magistrate after arrest—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 169

———— recorded by Magistrate without enquiring whether voluntary—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, SS. 164 AND 533 . . .
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 325

———— recorded memo. of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898, ss. 164, 342 . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 129

———— relevancy of—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

———— Unrecorded.

See MISDIRECTION.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 557

1. ———— Purporting to be unvoluntary—Evidence Act, 1872, s. 24. A statement in writing by the accused, which contains an allegation from which it is to be inferred that the statement of which it forms a part was not made voluntarily, is inadmissible. EMPEROR v. TARANATH ROY CHOWDHURY (1910) . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 735

2. ———— Under Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, ss. 164, 342, 364—Evidence Act, 1872, s. 29. A confession under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be made either in the course of an investigation under Chapter XIV, or after it has ceased and before the commencement of the inquiry or trial. The condition requiring the confession to be prior to the commencement of the inquiry or trial is only imposed when the investigation has ceased, and not when it is made in the course of the police investigation. Where a number of persons were arrested on the 1st May, and the confessions of some of them were recorded on the 4th and 5th, while others were brought in subsequently and their confessions taken while the police investigation was then actually going on, and on the 17th an order under s. 196 was obtained and the police report sent in, and on the next day the examination of the prosecution witnesses begun :—Held, that the Magistrate did not take cognizance under s. 190 of the Code, nor did the inquiry commence on the 4th, and that the confessions were taken in the course of an investigation under Chapter XIV. The fact that the Magistrate who has taken the confessions, afterwards holds the inquiry, does not, under s. 164, constitute the recording of the confessions an examination of the accused in the course of it and at its commencement. Empress v. Anuntram Singh, I. L. R. 5 Calc. 954, and Empress v. Yakub Khan, I. L. R. 5 All. 253, declared obsolete. Sat Narain Tewari v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 1085, distinguished. S. 164 includes confessions taken by a Magistrate who afterwards holds such inquiry or trial. Empress v. Anuntram Singh, I. L. R. 5 Calc. 954, and Reg. v. Bai Ratan, 10 Bom. H. C. 166, declared obsolete on the point. Ss. 164, 342 and 364 of the Code are not exhaustive, and do not limit the generality of s. 21 of the Evidence Act as to the relevancy of admissions. Queen-Empress v. Narayen, (1893) Ratan Lal Unrep. Cr. C. 679, referred to. The mere fact that a statement was elicited by a question does not make it irrelevant as a confession under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code or s. 29 of the

CONFESSION—contd.

Evidence Act, though such fact may be material on the question of its voluntariness BARINDRA KUMAR GHOSE v. EMPEROR (1909)
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

3. ———————— Retracted—Admissibility of—Recorder of confession, whether examination of, is necessary. Where the only evidence given during the trial to connect the accused with the act of murder with which they were charged, were their own confessions contained in statements voluntarily made by them under section 164 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898, which confessions were retracted before the trial commenced, held, that the confessions were admissible in evidence against the accused. It is not necessary that the recorder of a confession should be always examined. GUJA MAJHI v. THE KING-EMPEROR
2 Pat. L. J. 80

4. ———— By co-accused—Acceptances of plea by the Court and removal of co-accused from the dock—Trial of remaining prisoner alone—Admissibility of confession of co accused against prisoner on trial—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 30. Where a co-accused pleads guilty, and the Court has accepted the plea and directed his removal from dock, and the trial proceeds against the remaining prisoner alone, confession by the former is not admissible under s. 30 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, against the latter. Queen-Empress v. Pahuji, I. L. R. 19 Bom. 195, approved EMPEROR v. KERAMAT SIRDAR (1911). I. L. R. 38 Calc. 446

5. ———— Verification by Magistrate. Where a confession was verified by a Magistrate, the proper course for the prosecution was to examine the Magistrate himself and not the other verification witnesses whose evidence would be inferior to his. KADER SUNDAR v. EMPEROR (1911) . . . 16 C. W. N. 69

6. ———— Retracted—Confession made after long police custody, admissions in, not retracted, if admissible. N who was charged with an offence under the Arms Act made a confession in the course of which he stated he was a member of a Samity, but subsequently retracted the confession by a statement in which he repeated that he was a member of the Samity: Held, that the statement [illegible]

[illegible]

457 Barindra Kumar Ghose v. Emperor, 14 C. W. N. 1114, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467, King-Emperor v. Annya, 3 Bom. L. R. 438, and Emperor v. Abani, 15 C. W. N. 25, referred to. PULIN BEHARI DAS v. KING-EMPEROR (1911)
16 C. W. N. 1105

7. ———— Recording of—Questioning the accused regarding its voluntariness at the end of the statement—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s 164—Confession partly false, evidentiary value of. Where an enquiry as to the voluntary character of the confession is made by the Magistrate not at the commencement, but at the end of the statement by the accused, the defect is merely one of form If a confession is found to be false in part, viz., as to the justifying motives for an offence, it does not follow that the rest of it, relating to the commission of the offence, must be rejected. Where the entire statement of a prisoner has been given in evidence any part of it may be contradicted by the prosecution, and if sufficient grounds exist, the Court may accept the incriminatory, and reject the exculpatory, portions. Rex v. Higgins, 3 C. & P. 603 ; Rex v. Clewes, 4 C. & P. 221 ; Rex v. Steptoe, 4 C. & P. 397, referred to. PULIN TANTI v. EMPEROR (1913) I. L. R. 40 Calc. 873

8. ———— By force—Allegation of ill-treatment and inducement to extort confession—Onus of proof. Where an accused when retracting a confession alleged ill-treatment and inducement by the Police to extort the confession, the onus is on him to prove such ill-treatment and inducement. KING-EMPEROR v. KABILI KATONI (1918)
22 C. W. N. 809

9 ———————— Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 24—Circumstances making confession inadmissible. When a confession was made after police custody for several days and protracted consultation between the accused and the investigating and other police officers and was subsequently retracted: Held, that the confession was made under circumstances which excluded its admissibility. MOBARAK ALI v. KING-EMPEROR (1919) . . . . . 23 C. W. N. 886

CONFESSION AND STATEMENT.

———— difference between—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s. 164.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 977

CONFIDENTIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

———— test of—

See EASEMENTS ACT (V OF 1882), s. 15.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 304

CONFIRMATION OF SALE.

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 590

CONFISCATION.

———— of boat—

See OPIUM ACT, s. 11.
15 C. W. N. 296

———————— Cargo—Enemy ship—Cargo shipped by British subjects before declaration of war—War declared whilst cargo at sea—Cargoes consigned to German merchants (in one instance to British merchant)—Destination (Enemy Port)—Contracts C. I. F—Moneys advanced by British Banks against documents of title—Property in goods at the time of capture. On August 4th, 1914, war was declared between Great Britain and Germany. Before the declaration of war H. S. N. C. & Co., British subjects, had shipped some bales of jute by a German ship, the S.S. Rappenfels, of the Hansa Line, and had consigned the goods to D C. & Co, British merchants. G. & Co. and G. W. & Co. had also shipped goods by the same ship but had consigned the goods to German merchants. The Rappenfels was captured at sea after the declaration of war and condemned as good and lawful prize at Colombo. The Rappenfels was sent to Calcutta to have the liability of the cargo to condemnation determined by the High Court at Fort William in Bengal. Messrs. H. S. N. C. & Co, G. & Co. and G. W. & Co. submitted claims for the release of their goods. These claims were disputed by the Crown:—Held, (i)

CONFISCATION—contd.

that in determining the question of liability of the goods to confiscation, regard must be had to the property in the goods and not to the risk except so far as it may assist the Court in determining the answer to the question—"To whom did the goods belong at the time of capture?" (ii) that the sellers did not pass the property in the goods to the buyers at the time of appropriating the goods to the contract; and (iii) that in the circumstances the property in the goods was in the sellers, and they were not liable to be confiscated. RE CARGO ex S.S. "RAPPENFELS" (1914)
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 334

CONGENITAL BLINDNESS.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 17

CONSCIOUS POSSESSION.

See COUNTERFEIT COIN.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 477

CONSENT.

See ACQUIESCENCE.
I. L. R. 37 All. 412

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 92 . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 580

See CONSENT OF COURT.

See CONSENT OF PARTIES.

See EVIDENCE I. L. R. 38 Mad. 160

See LESSOR AND LESSEE.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 176

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), ss. 366, 360, 90.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 391

——— of landlord—

See TRANSFERABILITY
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 172

——— of father-in-law, but not senior widow, to adoption by Junior widow.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 508

CONSENT DECREE.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, ss. 13, 462 .. . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 53

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O. XXXIV. . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 32

See COMPROMISE AND COMPROMISE DECREE.

See INSTALMENTS. I. L. R. 38 Bom. 32

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 639

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 35 Bom. 371

See PROCEDURE I. L. R. 36 Bom. 77

See WRONGFUL DISMISSAL.
L. R. 46 I. A. 314

——— effect of—

See MUTT . . I. L. R. 40 177

1. ——— Parties—Hindu Widow—Reversionary heirs—Confession of judgment. When in a suit between a Hindu widow, and a claimant to the estate of her husband, a stranger who was not a party to the suit in the Original Court was made a party to the appeal without leave of the Court and a consent-decree made, the decree was not binding upon the reversionary heirs. A Hindu widow, who is a limited or qualified owner, cannot confess Judgment and be party to a consent-decree so as to bind the inheritance in the hands of the reversionary heirs. Katama Natchier v. The Rajah of Shivagunga, 9 Moo. I. A. 539, Stapilton v. Stapilton, 1 White & Tud. 8th Ed. 234 ; 1 Atk. 2, distinguished. Imrit Konwar v. Roop Narain Singh, 6 C. L. R. 76, explained. Sheo Narain Singh v. Khurgo Koerry, 10 C. L. R. 337 ; Sant Kumar v. Deo Saran, I. L. R. 8 All. 365 ; Jaram Laljee v. Veerbai, 5 Bom. L. R. 885 ; Gobind Krishna Narain v. Khunni Lal, I. L. R. 29 All. 487 ; Mahadei v. Baldeo, I. L. R. 30 All. 75 ; Roy Radha Kissen v. Nauratan Lall, 6 C. L. J. 490 ; Asharam Sadhani v. Chandi Churn Mukerjee, 13 C. W. N. 147, referred to. A consent-decree does not operate to the prejudice of persons not parties thereto. Nicholas v. Asphar, I. L. R. 24 Calc. 218 ; In re South American and Mexican Company, [1895] 1 Ch. 37, and The Bellcarin, 10 P. D. 161, distinguished. Huddersfield Banking Company, Limited v. Lister, [1895] 2 Ch. 273, followed. RAJLAKSHMI DASSEE v. KATYAYANI DASEE (1910) . . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 639

2. ——— Res judicata—Consent-decree between predecessors-in-title of parties in suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 11. A consent-decree has to all intents and purposes the same effect as res judicata as a decree passed per invitum and this notwithstanding the words in s. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code "has been heard and finally decided." In re South American and Mexican Company, [1895] 1 Ch. 37, followed. A consent-decree come to between the predecessors in-interest of the present parties touching matters now substantially and directly in issue between them is res judicata. BHAISHANKAR NANABHAI v. MORARJI KESHAVJI & Co. (1911) . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 283

3. ——— Default—Variation—Court's power to vary the terms of consent-decree. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that an ostensible sale-deed was merely a mortgage deed and that he was entitled to redeem the property. The parties arrived at a compromise and a consent-decree was passed in terms that the plaintiff do pay defendant within one month from the 4th September 1917, a sum of Rs.1,100 and the survey No. 529 at Jamner should be given in plaintiff's possession as owner by defendant in February 1918 after removing that year's crop ; if the above sum was not paid by plaintiff to defendant within one month, defendant should retain possession of the survey number as owner. The plaintiff made default and the defendant claimed that he was entitled to retain the property under the terms of the consent-decree. The plaintiff, thereupon, paid the sum into Court on the 26th November 1917 and presented an application for extension of time mentioned in the consent-decree. The lower appellate Court dismissed the application on the ground that it had no power to vary the terms of the consent-decree. On appeal to the High Court, held, that it would be open to the Court to relieve against a default of the plaintiff on proper terms, inasmuch as the plaintiff paid the money still three months before he would get possession under the consent-decree. Per Macleod, C. J.:—"In each case the terms of the consent-decree must be considered. The Court cannot lay down a general principle that in no case can the terms of the consent-decree be varied." SUPDU DHODU v. MADHAVRAO JIVRAM (1919)

CONSENT DECREE—contd.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 544

4 ———————— Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879), s. 15 B—Instalments—Entire alteration of terms of consent-decree cannot be allowed. In a suit for possession of land which the plaintiff alleged had been sold to him but which the defendant contended had been mortgaged, a consent-decree was passed directing the defendant to pay to the plaintiff a certain sum for his right as mortgagee within six months from the date of the decree, failing which his right to redeem the mortgage was to cease. The defendant instead of complying with the terms of the decree made an application that he was an agriculturist and that he should be allowed to pay the sum by annual instalments. The lower Courts allowed the instalments on the ground that the terms of the consent-decree could be altered under s. 15B of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879. Held, reversing the order, that the defendant by his application had asked the Court to alter the terms of the consent-decree entirely and this could not be done even under s. 15B of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, 1879. Shivayagappa v. Govindappa, (1913) 37 Bom. 614, relied on. Supdu Dhodu v. Madhavrao Jivram (1919) 44 Bom. 544, explained. MADHAV BALKRISHNA v. APPAJI VENKATESH (1921)
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1123

CONSENT OF COURT.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 351

CONSENT OF GOVERNMENT.

See MAGISTRATE. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

CONSENT OF PARTIES.

See JURISDICTION.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 116

CONSENT ORDER.

———— Effect of—

See RECEIVER . 6 Pat. L. J. 208

CONSEQUENTIAL ORDER.

See COMPENSATION .
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 157

CONSEQUENTIAL RELIEF.

See COURT-FEE.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 245, 615
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 352
3 Pat. L. J. 194

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, ss. 9, 42.
I. L. R. 33 Mad. 452

———— prayer for—

See COURT-FEES ACT, s 7.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 704

CONSIDERATION.

See CONSTRUCTIONS OF DOCUMENT.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 5

See C. I. F. CONTRACTS.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 473

CONSIDERATION—contd.

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 33 All. 483

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s 92.
I. L. R. 35 All. 558
I. L. R. 36 All. 537

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890), ss. 7, (2), 29, 30.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 38

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 36 All. 478
I. L. R. 41 All. 250

See PROMISSORY NOTE
I. L. R. 37 All. 99
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 680

See STAMP-DUTY I. L. R. 37 Calc. 634

———— effect of non-payment of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 39.
I. L. R. 34 All. 273

———— failure of—

See BILL OF EXCHANGE.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 566

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 18, CL. (3) . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 29

ss. 20, 65 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 638

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ARTS. 97, 62 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 538

s. 97 . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 31

See MORTGAGE . I L. R 35 Bom. 395

———— for Hundi—

See HUNDI SUIT ON.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 473

———— Interest in advance added to bond—

See INTEREST . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 775

———— minor representing as major—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 41.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 175

———— unlawful—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 24.
I. L. R 42 Bom. 339

———————— Mortgage—Legal consideration—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 2, cl. (d). [illegible] favour of X, and on X suing to enforce the later mortgage the Court of first instance dismissed the suit on the ground that there was no legal consideration: Held, that the mortgage of 1893, which replaced that of 1884, was for legal consideration. Held, further, that it was not necessary that the promisor should benefit by the consideration, it was sufficient if the promisee did some act from which a third person was benefited, and which he would not have done but for the promise. Hurkissen Dass Serowgee v. [illegible]

CONSIGNEE.

———— duty of—

See CARRIERS . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 703

CONSIGNEE—contd.

———— possession of—

See OPIUM . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 820

CONSIGNMENT.

———— loss of—

See RAILWAY COMPANY. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 576

CONSOLIDATED RATE.

See RATES AND TAXES. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 625

CONSOLIDATING STATUTE.

———— construction of—

See EXECUTION I. L. R. 38 Mad. 199

CONSOLIDATION OF APPEALS.

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 95

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL. 3 Pat. L. J. 446

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 110 O. XLV, R. 4 I. L R. 43 All. 223

CONSOLIDATION OF MORTGAGES.

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 32 All. 651
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 105

CONSPIRACY.

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

See CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY.

See DAMAGES I. L. R. 41 Bom. 137

See MARRAIAGE, CONTRACT OF. I. L. R. 39 Bom. 682

See PENAL CODE, ss. 34, 109, 467. I. L. R. 36 Bom. 524

s. 120B . . I. L. R. 40 All. 41

———— as a cause of action—

See LIMITATION . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898

———— charge of— .

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

See PENAL CODE, s. 121A.

———— to cheat—

See WITNESS . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 709

1. ———— Suit for damages for—Conspiracy provision relating to, in the Indian Penal Code, if excludes civil action for other conspiracies—Common unlawful object—Arrest of father by Magistrate and Police officers to induce son to confess to a crime—Motive, difference in, amongst persons so conspiring not material—Special damages, to what extent to be proved, in suit for damages for conspiracy—Malicious prosecution by joint tortfeasors and conspiracy, different causes of action for—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Arts. 23, 36, 120—Standard of proof for actionable conspiracy, if same as for criminal offence—Assessment of damages. The law does not permit of a man being arrested in order to put pressure on his son to confess even if the person causing the arrest believed that by so doing he will get evidence that will lead to the conviction of persons engaged in a huge conspiracy. Where three persons were found to have acted in concert in having a man arrested with that object, the fact that two of them did not believe the story upon which the charge against the son was based to be true whilst the third believed in its truth was no ground for the exemption of the latter from liability for damages resulting to the father from the conspiracy, for the motive of one conspirator may be different from that of the others. The standard of proof of a conspiracy in a suit for damages resulting therefrom is not in India the same as if the defendants were being tried on a criminal charge. In the Goods of Gopessur Dutt (unreported) relied on. A suit for damages resulting from a conspiracy which would be indictable at Common Law lies in British Indian Courts according to the principles of justice, equity and good conscience and the Indian Penal Code by providing for only one form of criminal conspiracy, viz., to wage war against the King, cannot be considered to have taken away this civil remedy either expressly or by necessary implication. Quinn v. Leathem, [1901] A. C. 495, followed. A suit brought on a conspiracy must be kept strictly to the cause of action that has been set out in the plaint. If a conspiracy is, as in this case, indictable at Common Law it gives rise to civil liability if damage has been occasioned by it to the plaintiff. The present suit being based on two causes of action, viz., (i) to recover the damage occasioned to the plaintiff as the result of an actionable conspiracy; and, (ii) to recover damages for malicious prosecution against the defendants as joint tortfeasors: Held, that the suit, though instituted beyond the period of limitation provided for suits for compensation for malicious prosecution, was, in regard to the first mentioned cause of action, not barred by limitation, as it was brought within the period provided by Art. 36 or Art. 120 of the Limitation Act, the former article being applicable to the matter, and if it did not apply the latter being applicable. Damage to a substantial amount should be proved by the plaintiff in order to establish a cause of action for conspiracy, though if substantial damage is proved the damages awarded need not be limited to the precise amount proved. Held, that the plaintiff should recover the amount he had to spend owing to his arrest, such damage not being too remote. PEARY MOHAN DAS v. D. WESTON (1911)

CONSPIRACY—contd.

16 C. W. N. 145

2. ———— Constructive offence in furtherance of an intention common to the accused on trial and another—Abetment by conspiracy—Conspiracy between two persons on trial, three other so named and others unknown—Acquittal by jury, of conspirators on trial, effect of—Verdict not conclusive as to persons not on trial—Distinct evidence against latter—Character of verdicts in England and India—Evidentiary value of the same witness as to the identity of different persons—Opinion of the Judge as to the weakness of evidence of identity of persons under trial—Stay of trial against others—Warrant against one, withdrawn on acquittal of other alleged co-offenders—Re-institution of proceedings by the District Magistrate on the advice of law-officers of the Crown—Legality of proceedings. Where two persons were charged under ss. 302/34 and 326/34 of the Penal Code, for offences committed in pursuance of an intention common to them and to the petitioner, and also under ss. [illegible] and [illegible] of the Penal Code, for abetment by conspiracy between themselves, the petitioner, two others named and others unknown, and were acquitted by jury: Held, that the acquittal on the conspiracy charges did not conclude the liability of the petitioner for conviction of the same offence, as there were two others named and others unknown who were also alleged to have been members of the conspiracy. Held, also, that the acquittal did not affect the question of the petitioner's criminality, as the jury had not, and could not have, formed or expressed an opinion as regards him, as he was not then on trial, and that there was, besides, distinct evidence alleged against him in the case. Technicalities of the English law based on the sacred character of jury-verdicts cannot be imported so as to give such a character to verdicts in India where by the express provisions of the law it does not attach to them. Ramesh Chandra Banerjee v. Emperor, I. L. R. 41 Calc. 350, per BEACHCROFT, J., approved The evidence of the same witness as to the identification of one person may be quite different to that as regards the identification of others Where the Judge clearly stated that the identification of the two persons under trial was weak, and on that ground he accepted the verdict of acquittal it would be unwarrantable for the High Court to stay the ordinary course of justice in the case of the petitioner. Where, after the acquittal of the two persons on tr [illegible] was withdra [illegible] against him [illegible] station withi [illegible] committed, under the direction of the District Superintendent of Police who could not appear himself but had been instructed by the District Magistrate on the advice of the law officers of the Crown that the case could go on against the petitioner on the evidence: Held, that the District Magistrate was competent to take cognizance of the case if on taking legal advice he thought that the evidence brought the accused within the purview of the law. MANINDRA CHANDRA GHOSE v EMPEROR (1914) . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 754

CONSPIRACY—contd.

3. ———— Procedure—Criminal conspiracy—Separate trial. A person may be guilty of criminal conspiracy even though the illegal act, which he has agreed to do, has not been done, for "the crime of conspiracy consists only in the agreement or confederacy to do an illegal act by legal means or a legal act by illegal means." Reg. v Hibbert, 13 Cox 82, Quinn v. Leathem, [1901] A. C. 495, The Queen v. Most, 7 Q. B D. 244 : 14 Cox. 583, and O'Connell v. The Queen, 11 Cl. & F. 155 ; 1 Cox. 413 ; 5 St. Tr. N. S. 1, referred to The indictment in all cases of conspiracy must in the first place charge the conspiracy, but in stating the object of the conspiracy the same degree of certainty is not required as in an indictment for the offence conspired to be committed, The King v. Gill, 2 B. & Ald 204, The Queen v. Kenrick, 5 Q. B. 49, The Queen v. Blake, 6 Q. B 126, Sydserff v. The Queen, 11 Q. B. 245, The Queen v. Gompertz, 9 Q. B 824 ; 2 Cox. 145, Aspinall v. The Queen, 2 Q B D. 48, Taylor v. The Queen, [1895] 1. Q. B. 25, Reg. v. Parker, 3 Q. B. 292, referred to. If all the known co-conspirators named in the charge are not placed on their trial, the trial of some (separately) without the others is not vitiated. Emperor v. Lalit Mohan Chuckerbutty, I L. R. 38 Calc. 559 ; 15 C. W. N. 593, explained. AMRITA LAL HAZRA v. EMPEROR (1915) . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR.

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY.
I. L. R. 27 Calc. 167

CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR—contd.

1. ———— Admissibility of confession against a co-conspirator jointly tried—Confession of conspirator made to a Magistrate after arrest—Evidentiary value of such confession—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 10, 30—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 121A. A confession by a conspirator made to a Magistrate after arrest disclosing the existence of a conspiracy, its objects and the names of its members, is not admissible, under s. 10 of the Evidence Act, against the co-conspirators jointly tried with him, but only under s. 30 of the Act. S. 10 is intended to make as evidence communications between different conspirators while the conspiracy is going on with reference to the carrying out of the conspiracy. The confession of a co-accused was not intended to be put on the same footing as a communication passing between conspirators or between conspirators and other persons with reference to the conspiracy. The evidentiary value of such a confession, under s. 30, is not higher than that of the statement of an accomplice, and it cannot be acted upon unless corroborated by independent testimony implicating the accused in the design with which they are charged. EMPEROR v ABANI BHUSHAN CHUCKERBUTTY (1910) . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 169

2 ———— Acquittal, effect of—Acquittal on charge of conspiracy under s. 121A, Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860)—Subsequent trial of others on identical charge—Evidence in latter trial of what acquitted prisoner had said or done, if admissible. It would be a dangerous principle to adopt to regard a verdict of not guilty as not fully establishing the innocence of the person to whom it relates. R v. Plummer, [1902] 2 K. B. 339, relied on. One I was charged with conspiracy to wage war against the King under s 121A, Indian Penal Code, and acquitted In a subsequent trial of others on an identical charge, it was held that what he said or did cannot be admitted in evidence at such trial in view of his acquittal EMPEROR v. NONI GOPAL GUPTA (1910) . 15 C. W. N. 593 & 646

3. ———— Charge of conspiracy—Acquittal effect of—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 121A—Whether persons charged with one conspiracy, can be found guilty of different conspiracies—Whether person acquitted can be charged with same offence as part of a conspiracy—Discharge, effect of —Accomplice—Corroboration—Verification proceedings, whether corroboration of accomplice or confession—Confession, relevancy of, against co-accused —Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 30—Retracted confession, unreliability of. Where the accused were charged with conspiracy with persons "known and unknown".—Held, that if the persons were "known," they should be named in the charge. Where a person has been tried for a specific offence and acquitted, and he is subsequently charged with conspiracy of which that offence is alleged to form a part :—Held, that an acquittal is conclusive ; and it would be a very dangerous principle to regard a judgment of not guilty as not fully establishing the innocence of the person to whom it relates Rex. v. Plummer, [1902] 2 K. B. 339, referred to. The course of not making completed offences the subject of a separate trial, but of throwing them into a case of conspiracy, though lawful, is not to be commended. Before the testimony of an accomplice can be acted on, it must be corroborated in material particulars. There must be corroboration not only as to the crime, but also as to the identity of each one of the accused. This is no technical rule, but one founded on long judicial experience. For a conspiracy to wage war, no act or illegal omission is necessary; the agreement of two or more will suffice. While admissions, which include confessions, are by s. 21 of the Evidence Act, 1872, declared relevant and may be proved as against the persons making them, all that s. 30 of the Evidence Act provides is that the Court may take them into consideration as against other persons. This distinction of language is significant, and shows that the Court can only treat a confession as lending assurance to other evidence against a co-accused, and a conviction on the confession of a co-accused alone would be bad in law. Moreover, under s. 30, that only can be taken into consideration which is a confession in the true sense of the term, so that to place any reliance on a retracted confession against a co-accused would be most unsafe. Yasin v. Emperor, I. L. R. 28 Calc. 689, referred to. Verification proceedings do not add any value to an approver's evidence or to confessions, and cannot be regarded as corroboration. A discharge is not binding on the Court for it is not equivalent to an acquittal. Still a discharge means that the Magistrate, after taking the evidence found that there were not sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial. A retracted confession cannot ordinarily take the place of legal proof. Where several persons are charged with the same conspiracy, it is a legal impossibility that some should be found guilty of one conspiracy and some of another, and any accused not shown to be a member of that conspiracy is entitled to demand an acquittal. EMPEROR v. LALIT MOHAN CHUCKERBUTTY AND OTHERS (1911)

CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR—concld.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

CONSTRUCTION.

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.

See CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES.

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 334

See CONTRACT FOR SALE.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 481

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT, S. 2, EXPL. (b).
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 151

See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOMBAY), s. 160 . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 47

See HINDU LAW—WILL.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 642
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 561
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 432

See JAGHIR . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 683

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 38 Mad. 101

See MORTGAGE . 15 C. W. N. 722

See POWER-OF-ATTORNEY.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 40

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882 s. 108 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 144

See WILL . . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 327
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 181
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 711

———— of deed of sale executed by Hindu widow—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION.
I. L. R. 37 All. 369

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

———— of deeds executed by natives of India—

See HINDU LAW . I. L. R. 37 All. 369

CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACTS.

See CARRIER, LIABILITY OF.
I. L. R. 33 Mad. 120

See CONSTRUCTION.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 56.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 301

See MAHA-BRAHMAN.
I. L. R. 35 All. 412

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 292

CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS.

See CHARITABLE TRUST.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 124

See CONSTRUCTION . .

See ESTOPPEL . 2 Pat. L. J. 600

See HINDU LAW . 1 Pat. L. J. 581

See MORTGAGE . . 1 Pat. L. J. 563
2 Pat. L. J. 355

1. ———————— Simultaneous execution of sale-deed and agreement to reconvey—Transaction amounts to mortgage by conditional sale. The land in dispute was sold by the defendants to the plaintiff's father on the 7th November 1892 for Rs. 300. On the same day, the latter agreed with the defendants that if they repaid Rs. 300 in five years, he would re-sell the land to them. From 1895 the defendants were in possession of the land as tenants of the plaintiffs and paid Rs. 18 as rent every year. In 1910 the plaintiffs sued to recover possession of the land. The defendants claimed to redeem the lands alleging that the transaction of 1892 amounted to mortgage. The first Court held that the transaction was a mortgage and allowed redemption; but the lower appellate Court held that it was a sale and decreed plaintiff's claim. The defendant having appealed:—Held, reversing the decree, that in view of the facts and the contemporaneous nature of the two documents the proper construction would be that they constituted conditional sale, and that the real intention of the parties was to effect a mortgage by conditional sale by the contemporaneous execution of the two documents of sale and re-sale. MADHAVRAO KESHAVRAO v. SAHEBRAO GANPATRAO (1914)

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 119

2. ———————— Deed of sale—Contemporaneous agreement to reconvey on payment of consideration—Lease for a term of years—Sale-deed amounts in effect to a deed of mortgage—Debt treated as continuing—Property treated as security for repayment of debt. The plaintiffs executed in favour of the defendants a sale-deed of lands for Rs. 2,500, a large part of which consisted of old bond-debts. Contemporaneously with it, two more documents were executed between the parties. One of them was an agreement of reconveyance executed by the defendants to the plaintiffs, agreeing to reconvey the lands, (i) if the sum of Rs. 2,500 was repaid at a certain specified date; and (ii) on repayment with interest of sums, if any, spent by the defendants upon the lands or of any further sums borrowed from them The other document was a lease executed by the plaintiffs under which they took the lands on lease from the defendants for a period of ten years at an annual rental of Rs. 287, which seemed to have been made up of Rs. 62, the Government assessment on the lands, and Rs. 225 reserved as rent representing nine per cent. on the principal sum of Rs. 2,500. The plaintiffs filed the present suit for a declaration that the sale-deed passed by them was in reality a mortgage and for an order allowing the plaintiffs to redeem the lands on payment to the defendants of any sum that might be found due to them on accounts taken under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act. The trial Judge was of opinion that the transaction was a [illegible] appeal held it [illegible] The defendants [illegible] transaction wa[illegible] tional sale ma[illegible] Rs. 2,500, was not the real price of the sale but was treated and regarded as a continuing debt between the parties, the property being made security for the repayment of that debt Maruti v Balaji, 2 Bom. L. R. 1058, followed. KASTURCHAND LAKHMAJI v. JAKHIA PADIA (1915)

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 74

3. ———————— In the case of Watan property the distinction between grants of the Royal share of Revenue and grants of soil which is admissible in the case of Inams and Saranjams cannot be conveniently made without detriment to the statutory restriction on the Vatandar's power of alienation and should not be made unless it is clearly justified by the terms of the settlement. AMRIT VAMAN v. HARI GOVIND

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 237

4. ———————— Intention of parties—Position of the parties and position of affairs at the time of the agreement to be considered—Predeceased son's widow, ekrarnama with, of legal heir—Property given, whether absolute or limited estate—Absolute right or given for maintenance—Hindu Widows' Re- [illegible] governed by the Mitakshara law, died leaving a daughter B, and two predeceased sons' widows, C and D. After A's death, the daughter B, and the two widows, C and D, to settle family differences, executed an ekrarnama and divided the property left by A into three equal shares, the property in C's share being a house, which she let out to a tenant. Subsequently, the widow C remarried. The present suit was brought by the widow C for declaration of title to, and for possession of, the house and for arrears of rent. Plaintiff alleged that by the family arrangement (viz., the ekrarnama) she got an absolute estate, whereas defendants pleaded that she had got only a life interest by way of maintenance, which interest, too, was forfeited on her remarriage. Held, per SANDERSON, C. J.—In construing the deed the Court has to take into consideration the position of the parties who executed the document and the position of affairs at the time the agreement was entered into, as also the real intention of the parties, in ascertaining which the Court has to consider the whole of the document and to consider all its terms one with the other. The intention was that plaintiff should have some property for maintenance and the agreement was entered into upon the basis of the plaintiff's right to maintenance. The word "heir" in the agreement, having regard to the other provisions of it, was not used in the strict legal sense, but rather as a word implying persons interested in the estate The widow by her remarriage forfeited all her interest in the estate. Though the plaintiff belonged to a caste which by custom allowed the remarriage of a widow that in itself would not prevent her from forfeiting her right to maintenance out of the deceased husband's property The deceased husband having had an interest in the ancestral property out of which she would be maintained during his life the obligation to maintain her out of that property continued after his death, when the property passed by survivorship, and the property passed to the defendant No 3 (the daughter), subject to the plaintiff's right to maintenance. It does not much matter whether s. 2 of the Widow Remarriage Act applies or not, because this section is practically a statement of the Hindu Law as it existed apart from the Act, so far as it related to the forfeiture of a widow's interest on her remarriage Per CHATTERJEA, J.—In construing the document we should bear in mind the position of the party making the grant and of the person taking it. The daughter herself had no absolute right, and she could not confer an absolute right. If expressions used in the deed are capable of both constructions contended for by both the parties then that construction should be adopted which is consistent with the law to which the parties are subject The husband had an interest in the property (which was ancestral property) out of which plaintiff was entitled to be maintained during his life, and the obligation to maintain her out of that property continued after his death, whether it passed by inheritance or by survivorship This being so, there is no doubt that the property that the plaintiff obtained under the document was by way of maintenance out of the property of her deceased husband in the hands of the daughter The question whether s. 2 of the Act is applicable to the case, because the plaintiff, according to the custom of the caste to which she belongs, could have remarried independently of the Act, is of no practical importance, as on the general principles of Hindu law a widow whose remarriage may be legal according to the custom of the caste to which she belongs would forfeit any interest which she had in the husband's estate on her remarriage. The plaintiff, therefore, forfeited her interest in the property to the extent she obtained it by way of maintenance MAHAMMAD UMAR v. MAN KUAR (1917) . . . . 21 C. W. N. 906

CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882—

ss 584, 585 . I. L. R. 34 All. 579

O. II R. 2; O. XXXIV, RR. 2, 4.
I. L. R. 39 All. 508

See COMPROMISE . . I. L. R. 43 All. 265

See CONSTRUCTION —

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 344

See CONTRACT ACT . . 1[illegible] 74.
[illegible] 12

CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS—contd.

———— Lease and Sanad—

1. ———— Deed of sale followed after an interval by an agreement for repurchase——Sale—Mortgage by conditional sale. A document purporting to be an out and out sale-deed was executed on a certain date and seven days later a second document was executed by the vendee whereby he covenanted to reconvey the property, sold if the vendors paid back the purchase-money after the lapse of nine or ten years from the date of that sale-deed. The two deeds were separately stamped and were registered on different dates. Held, in view of the delay intervening between the two deeds and other circumstances attending their execution, that the two deeds were not intended to be parts of one and the same transaction so as together to constitute a mortgage by conditional sale, but must be construed separately, and were merely what they purported to be. Bhagwan Sahai v. Bhagwan Din, I.L. R. 12 All. 387, followed. Balkishen Das v. Legge, I. L. R. 22 All. 149, distinguished. JHANDA SINGH v. WAHID-UD-DIN (1911)
I. L. R. 33 All. 585

2. ———— Mortgage—Sale subject to agreement executed on the same day reserving right of vendor to repurchase—Documents to be read together. Two documents were executed by the same parties on the same day. The first purported to be an out and out sale of certain property, but was expressed to be "subject to the terms of the deed of agreement executed by the vendee." The agreement referred to was an agreement under certain conditions to reconvey the property purchased. Held, that in the circumstances the two documents must be read together as constituting a mortgage by conditional sale. Bhagwan Sahai v. Bhagwan Din, I. L. R. 12 All. 387, distinguished. WAJID ALI KHAN v. SHAFAKAT HUSAIN (1910)
I. L. R. 33 All. 122

3. ———— Sale—Agreement to repurchase executed on same day—Mortgage by conditional sale. When what purported to be an out and out sale was accompanied by a contemporaneous agreement given to the vendor a right of repurchase within five years at the same price, it was held that the transaction was what it purported to be, and could not be construed as a mortgage by conditional sale. Bhagwan Sahai v. Bhagwan Din, I. L. R. 12 All. 387, followed. Vasudeo v. Bhau, I. L. R. 31 Bom. 528, referred to. GHULAM NABI KHAN v. NIAZ-UN-NISSA (1910)
I. L. R. 33 All. 337

4. ———— Will—Devise of one kind of property accurately described exclusive of other somewhat similar property not mentioned in the will. By his will a testator devised to his wife shares in certain pattis, of which the numbers were given, in the village of Hariah, describing the property as in his separate possession. Held, that this description would not pass shares in shamilat pattis in the village which were not mentioned or referred to in the will. TULSHA v. MATHURA PURI (1910)
I. L. R. 33 All. 66

5. ———— Will—Gift—Property given to two brothers who were joint—Nature of taken by brothers—Hindu law. Where property is given or devised, without specification of the individual interests of the recipients, to persons who are members of a joint Hindu family, it does not follow that they take such property as joint property, the principle of joint tenancy being unknown to Hindu law save in connection with the joint Hindu family. Jageswar Narain Deo v. Ram Chandra Dutt, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 670, Bai Diwali v. Patel Bechardas, I. L. R. 26 Bom. 445, and Gopi v. Jaldhara, I. L. R. 33 All. 41, referred to. Mankamna Kunwar v. Balkishan Das, I. L. R. 28 All. 38, doubted. KISHORI DUBAIN v. MUNDRA DUBAIN (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 665

6. ———— No will when there is no power to revoke. One of the invariable tests in coming to a conclusion as to the testamentary character of a paper is whether the paper is revocable. If it is not revocable, the document is not a will. The fact that the paper is drawn in the form of an agreement and that it is registered an ambulatory character, the presumption will be against the testamentary nature of the document and the fact that such provisions are expressed to operate in the future will not affect the nature of the document. The intention of the party will be given effect to, priate language does not of its testamentary. In the matter of Reference by the Collector and Superintendent of Stamps, Bombay" I. L. R. 20 Bom. 210, 214, referred to In the goods of Robinson, L R. 1 P. & D. 384, referred to. RAJAMMAL v. AUTHIAMMAL (1909)

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 304

7. ———————— Will—Dedication of property for religious purposes—Expenditure on religious objects amounting to only a small portion ... the mainten- l of a Hindu idols should be maintained out of the property dealt with thereby, but the rest of the property was assigned to monies amounted to only some Rs 500 per annum. Held, on a construction of the will, that it created a charge on the estate for the expenses of the idols, and that, subject to that charge, the property was to go to the testator's legal heirs, who were fully entitled to appropriate all the income of the property. Sonatun Bysack v. Sreemutty Juggutsoondre Dosee, 8 Moo I. A. 66, and Ashutosh Dutt v. Doorga Churn Chatterjee, I L. R 5 Calc. 438, referred to SURJA KUMARI v. HAR NARAIN RAM (1917) . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 311

8. ———————— Will—Bequest to person described as the adopted son of the testator—Adoption not proved—Intention of testator. One whom he described as his adopted son, the residue of his property. After N's death his reversionary heirs sued K to recover the property left to him by N's will, alleging that no adoption had taken place, or, if it had, that it was invalid. The suit was at first contested upon the ground that there was a valid adoption, and a deed of adoption was produced, but at a later stage of the suit that defence was given up. Held, that K's right to take under N's will did not in the circumstances rest on the fact of his being the legally adopted son of N, but upon N's intention to leave his property to K, irrespective altogether of the validity of the adoption. Lali v. Murlidhar I. L. R. 28 All. 488, and Fanindra Deb Raikat v. Rajeswar Das, I. L. R. 11 Calc. 463, referred to. KHUB SINGH v. RAMJI LAL (1919)

I. L. R. 41 All. 666

9. ———————— Sale—Sale of houses in

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

ment in consideration of her Mehr. (dowry). One of the houses sold remained in the occupation of the plaintiff's husband from 1898 till his death in 1911. Soon after his death the defendants took possession of the houses. The plaintiff, having sued to recover possession, the lower Courts dismissed the suit on the grounds that the sale of 1898 was a sham and supported by no consideration and that the claim was barred by limitation. On appeal: Held, that the deed of 1898 was on the face of it a document of advancement and needed no consideration Held, also, that the possession of the house by the plaintiff's husband up to 1911 being permissive, the plaintiff was in constructive possession of it, and her claim was, therefore, not barred by limitation. IBRAHIM BHURA v. ISA RASUL (1916) I. L. R. 41 Bom. 5

10 ———————— Sale or agreement to sell—Intention is the test—Want of registration—Registration Act (III of 1877), s. 17—Admissibility—Evidence. Whether a document operates by way of a present conveyance of property or only as an agreement to create a future right depends upon the intention of the parties as expressed in the instrument. Even if a present right is created the instrument, though unregistered is admissible in evidence, in a suit for specific performance. Nagappa v. Deva, I. L. R. 14 Mad. 55, and Upendra Nath Banerjee v Umesh Chandra Banerjee, 15 C. W. N 375, followed. The instrument in this case was construed as an agreement to sell notwithstanding that it contains certain words showing a present transfer MANGAMMA v RAMAMMA (1914)
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 480

11. ———————— Covenant in sale deed that vendee would pay revenue on other land of the vendor—Land subsequently transferred—Regulation No XXXI of 1803, s. 6. In 1884 one Altaf Husain sold certain land to the predecessor of the defendants and reserved some land for himself. The sale deed contained a covenant to the effect that the vendee would pay the Government revenue not only for the land purchased by him but also for the land reserved by the vendor for himself The vendor subsequently sold the reserved land to the plaintiff, who, when the representatives of the original vendee refused to pay the Government revenue, paid it himself and sued to recover from them the amount so paid which the plaintiff had to pay owing to the defendant's refusal to pay. Held, (i) that the agreement was void under Regulation XXXI of 1803, which was in force in 1884; and (ii) raj, 11 All. L. J. 231, referred to. ALI HUSAIN v. HAKIM-ULLAH (1916) . I. L. R. 38 All. 230

12. ———————— Mortgage—Deed of sale followed after an interval by an agreement for repurchase the appellant's predecessors in title ... to be a deed of absolute sale of certain ...

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

and an agreement, dated the 5th of September, 1852, executed by the predecessors in title of the respondents reserving to the vendors a right to repurchase the property sold, on repayment of the original purchase money within nine or ten years, constituted, when taken together, a mortgage by way of conditional sale of the property or an absolute sale of it with an agreement for repurchase. The deeds were separately stamped, and registered on different dates. The vendors never availed themselves of the conditions of repurchase, and the appellant sued in 1907 for redemption. The parties to the suit were Mahomedans. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee were of opinion that the intention of the parties, which was the test in such a case, must be gathered from the language of the documents themselves viewed in the light of the surrounding circumstances, and came to the conclusion that on this principle the decree of the High Court appealed from, that the transaction was an out-and-out sale, and not mortgage by conditional sale, should be affirmed. Bhagwan Sahai v. Bhagwan Din, I. L. R. 12 All. 387; L. R. 17 I. A. 98, followed. Balkishen Das v. Legge, I. L. R. 22 All. 149; L. R. 27 I. A. 58, distinguished. Alderson v. White, 2 DeGex & J. 97, referred to. The provisions of a bond executed by the parties of even date with the sale-deed refuted the suggestion that any of the parties to the sale-deed held any religious scruples against the payment or receipt of interest on money lent, or that when intending to create a mortgage they would have adopted special methods of conveyancing to conceal the fact that interest for the loan was in fact to be given and received. With reference to a remark of Lord CRANWORTH, L. C., in Alderson v. White, that "I think a Court after the lapse of 30 years ought to require cogent evidence to induce it to hold that an instrument is not what it purports to be," their Lordships commenting on the facts that the period of 10 years fixed in the present case for repurchase terminated in 1853: that the suit was instituted on the 5th of October, 1907, 44 years after the lapse of that period; that the judgment appealed from was delivered on the 11th of March, 1911; that the record was not received at the Privy Council office till the 25th of February 1915, and the appeal not set down for hearing until June, 1916, said "litigation so prolonged becomes an instrument of oppression, is discreditable to any judicial system, and every effort should be made to correct the abuse." JHANDA SINGH v. WAHID-UD-DIN (1916) . . . . I. L R. 38 All. 570

13. ——————————Sale or mortgage—Sale with option of re-purchase—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). s. 58, cl. (c). The plaintiffs mortgaged in 1899 with the defendants 92 fields for Rs. 8,000, the rate of interest agreed upon being 8 per cent. per annum. In 1904, the parties made up accounts under the mortgage and of other transactions, and the plaintiffs were found indebted to the defendants for Rs. 13,000. To pay the amount the plaintiffs sold to the defendants 20 out of 92 fields mortgaged. The sale-deed contained the provision that if within the period of 20 years the plaintiffs repaid Rs. 13,000 in one lump sum or in instalments the defendants should reconvey the lands to the plantiffs. On the same day the plaintiffs executed to the defendants a permanent lease of the lands sold at a fixed annual rental of Rs. 412-8-0. The plaintiffs alleged that the transaction of 1904 was a mortgage, and sued to redeem the same in 1911, on accounts being taken under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act. Held, that the transaction in dispute was not a mortgage, but a sale with an option to the plaintiffs to repurchase. NARAYAN RAMKRISHNA v. VIGHNESHWAR (1915) . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 378

14. ——————————of stock-in-trade of business—Schedule of stock-in-trade forming part of mortgage. Where the stock-in-trade of a business was mortgaged as security for a loan and a list of the specific articles of which it consisted was attached to the mortgage-deed: Held, that the mortgage did not include stock acquired after the date of the mortgage to replace that which had been sold. Tapfield v. Hillman, 6 Man. & Gr. 245, and Coltman v. Chamberlain, 25 Q. B. D. 328, referred to. ROBERT WILLIAM ANDERSON v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LIMITED (1915) . I. L. R. 37 All. 390

15. —————————— Sale or bai-bil-wafa—Ostensible sale with collateral agreement for repurchase—Agreement containing terms as to payment of interest and accounting for the profits of the property sold. Of two documents executed on the same day and between the same parties the first purported to be an absolute sale of a certain village. The second was an agreement on behalf of the vendees, the material terms of which were as follows. After a description of the property purchased, the agreement continued with a recital that the property had been purchased by the executants for Rs. 6,125 "on this condition that whenever within five years the vendors shall pay to us the amount of the consideration mentioned in this document we or our heirs shall have no objection in re-conveying the aforesaid share. If we set up any plea, the same shall be invalid and the vendors shall be at liberty to take legal steps and to have the property reconveyed by us. They shall also have to pay interest on the whole consideration at the rate of 10 annas per cent., per month, out of which the actual produce of the village sold shall be deducted, and they shall have to pay the balance along with the consideration money." Held, that the terms of the agreement that interest should be paid on the purchase money and that profits of the village should be taken into account in order to ascertain the actual sum which the vendors would have to pay in order to recover the property indicated that the transaction was not merely a sale with a condition for repurchase but a bai-bil-wafa or mortgage by conditional sale. Alderson v. White, 2 De Gex and J., 97, Bhagwan Sahai v. Bhagwan Din, I. L. R. 12 All. 387, Ghulam Nabi Khan v. Niaz-un-nissa, I. L. R. 33 All. 337, and Jhanda Singh v. Wahid-ud-din, I. L. R. 38 All. 570, referred to. MUHAMMAD HAMID-UD-DIN v. FAKIR CHAND I. L. R. 42 All. 437

16. —————— Guarantee—letter of, construction of—Conditional or unconditional guarantee—Undertaking by broker to find money on mortgage of debtor's property and pay off sum advanced by creditor—Debtor declining to make the mortgage through broker, if discharges broker's liability to pay off advance. D being in financial difficulties approached V for an advance of 1½ lac of rupees, representing that he was about to raise a loan of 11 lacs on a first mortgage of certain Mills through broker B and would pay off V's advance out of that loan. V advanced the money to D upon B signing a guarantee to this effect: "In consideration of your having at my request acceded to the proposal of D to advance to him a sum of Rs. 1½ lacs, I hereby bind myself to you to procure a loan within two weeks of Rs.11 lacs as the first mortgage of the Mills, and to pay you thereout the sum of Rs. 1½ lacs agreed to be advanced by you to the Mills:" Held, that by this document, B gave a substantial undertaking that a loan should be procured and out of the loan the sum of Rs. 1½ lacs was to be paid to V, and not merely a conditional undertaking that B would procure the lending of 11 lacs if a first mortgage of the Mills was given and pay thereout Rs. 1½ lacs to V VISSANJI, SONS & COMPANY v. SHAPURJI BURJORJI (1912)

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 387
16 C. W. N. 769

18. ———— Bond—Construction of—Rate of interest—Stipulation to pay interest at Re 1-9 per month and compound interest with six monthly rests—"Per cent." if to be read into the stipulation. Where the executants of a bond which secured an advance of Rs 2,000 stipulated therein "we shall pay interest on this sum at the rate of Re. 1-9 per month" and "we shall pay the interest every six months from this date. If we fail to do so interest and compound interest shall at the end of every six months be added to the principal and we shall go on paying interest therein at the aforesaid rate until the time of repayment": Held, that, upon a true construction of this bond, the stipulation was that interest should be paid at the rate of Re. 1-9 per cent. per month INDRO DEB DAS v AZIZUR RAHAMAN SARKAR (1912)
16 C. W. N. 957

19. ———— Agreement—Broker's commission—Authority "to raise loans" on security of immoveable property—Broker, if entitled to commission on finding capitalist, when latter insists on a margin of security not proposed or agreed to by borrower—Construction of contract—Broker if must find funds or only capitalist—English rules of construction, artificial if to be applied here—Time, when essence of contract—Quantum meruit, for services if may be claimed when no case established under contract as expressed.

of money

the follow

plaintiffs. "We authorise you to raise a loan of 11 lakhs (or less, if so required) to clear all our present debts on mortgage of our entire estate at an interest of 7 per cent. per annum within the period of one month. We agree to pay you a commission of 5 per cent. on such amount as may be advanced by the capitalist to us . . . ."

. . . the capitalist insisted upon satisfactory proof that there was that margin of security before he would agree to make the advance. The negotiation with the capitalist having for this reason fallen through, the plaintiffs sued for recovery of the stipulated commission: Held, that upon a construction of the contract that the stipulation was not merely to find a capitalist ready and willing to advance the money but also to procure funds for the satisfaction of the debts of the defendants. That even assuming that the plaintiffs undertook only to find a person ready and willing to advance the money, they had not done so, as the capitalist whom they found imposed a condition as to the margin of security never proposed or accepted by the borrowers, and at no stage of the negotiations was he ready to accept the estate as it stood as security for the loan, i.e., to advance the funds on the terms prescribed by the principal Held, also, that time was, in the circumstances, of the essence of the contract, and no case had been made out of an extension of time by continuation of bonâ fide negotiations for completion. Quære: Whether an implied contract, to pay the agent a quantum meruit for his services could be presumed, when there was an express contract upon which the plaintiff's case failed Held, that no such case having been made by the plaintiffs, and no evidence given to show upon what scale remuneration could be calculated quantum meruit no relief could be granted on that basis, Quære: Whether the technical meaning ascribed to the expression "to raise a loan" in English cases, implying that the agent who is engaged "to raise a loan" discharges his duty within

the

Held, that where the remuneration of an agent is he undertook to do, even if the principal acquires no benefit from his services, and, except where there is an express agreement or special custom to the contrary even if the transaction in respect of which the remuneration is claimed falls through, provided it does not fall through in consequence of any act or default of the agent. KISHAN PROSAD SINGHA v. PURNENDU NARAIN SINGHA (1911) . . . 16 C. W. N. 753

20. ———— Lease—Unilateral mistake, not induced by fraud—More land included in lease than intended by lessor—Rectification, mistake when ground for—Contract, if may be repudiated—Second appeal Where as a matter of construction a certain plot of land was found to be included in a lease having regard to its terms and the character of the property, but the Court of Appeal below refused to give effect to this construction on the ground that the lessor did not intend to include this plot in the area leased Held, on second appeal that in the absence of fraud making the document inoperative as a title to the land in suit, or of failure through a common mistake to give correct expression to the common intention of the parties, such as would be a ground for its rectification, the

21. ———— Misconstruction of a document does not always confer a right of second appeal KULDIP NARAYAN RAI v BANWARI RAI . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 251

CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES.

See ASSAM LABOUR AND EMIGRATION ACT, (VI OF 1901.) 2 Pat. L. J. [illegible]

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, 1885 [illegible]
5 Pat. L. [illegible]

See CHOTA NAG. [illegible]

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898—
ss. 14, 15. . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291
ss. 408, 413. . 4 Pat. L. J. 435
s. 524 . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 321

See DEFAMATION . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 433

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT.
3 Pat. L. J. 537 & 581.

See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES

See MUSSALMAN WAKF VALIDATION ACT.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 563

See NON-OCCUPANCY RIGHT.
3 Pat. L. J. 1

See PENAL CODE, ss. 361, 366.
4 Pat. L. J. 74

See STATUTES, CONSTRUCTION OF.

———— Consolidating Statutes—
See EXECUTION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 199

1. ———— Rights if may be conferred by implication from language of statutes. Rights cannot be conferred by mere implication from the language used in a statute. There must be clear and unequivocal enactment. Arnold v. Mayor of Gravesend, 2 K. & J. 574, 591 : s. c. 110, R. R. 327, followed. AMULYA RATAN SIRCAR v. TARINI NATH DEY (1914) . 18 C. W. N. 1290
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 254

2. ———— Where a later Act of Legislature does not purport or affect to supersede an earlier Act, the Court will endeavour to read the two enactments together and to avoid conflict, if possible. RANGACHARYA v. DASACHARYA (1912)
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 231

3. ———— Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879), s. 48. The Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879) is a taxing enactment and must be construed strictly in favour of the subject. SECRETARY OF STATE v. LALDAS (1909) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 239

4. ———— City of Bombay Municipal Act (Bom. Act III of 1888), s. 251A, cl. (a)—Building—"Directly over or directly under"—Construction. Where it is not suggested that a word bears any technical sense in the context in which it occurs, the construction must proceed upon the general rule that statutes are presumed to use words in their popular sense. CURRIMBHOY EBRAHIM v. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS (1909)
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 496

5. ———— Interpretation—Preamble. Though the preamble of an Act does not control any plain enactment which follows it, it may be a most useful guide when a question of doubt arises upon the construction of a particular provision and considerations relating to the scope of the Act are involved. SITAL CHANDRA CHOWDHURY v. DELANNEY (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 1158

6. ———— Per MOOKERJEE, J. In construing a section of an Indian Act which is professedly based on an English Act and which, in fact, reproduces almost word for word the language of the English enactment, we are in practice, if not in theory, bound by the decision of the English Court of Appeal. RAMENDRA NATH RAY v. BROJENDRA NATH DASS (1917)
21 C. W. N. 794
I. L. R 45 Calc. 111

CONSTRUCTION—contd.

7. ———— The Court should not interpret the statutory law when it provides for a specific procedure, by reference to decisions pronounced under a different system of procedure. RADHAKISSEN KHETTRY v. LUKHMICHAND JHAWAR
24 C. W. N. 454

8. ———— The rule that enactments in a statute are generally to be construed to be prospective and intended to regulate the future conduct of persons is deeply founded in good sense and strict justice and in the absence of clear word to that effect a statute will not be construed so as to take away a vested right of action accrued before it was passed. PROMOTHA NATH PAL CHOUDHURI v. SAURAV DASI CHAUDHURANI
24 C. W. N. 1011

CONSTRUCTION OF WILL.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 197

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW'S ESTATE.
L. R. 46 I. A. 259

See NAIKINS. . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 116

See SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865).
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 644

See WILL. . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 697
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 88
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 70

CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY . . 2 Pat. L. J. 513

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1052
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
L. R. 46 I. A. 250

See RATES AND TAXES.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 625

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 41 . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 521

CONSTRUCTIVE OFFENCE.

See CONSPIRACY I. L. R 41 Calc. 754

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION.

See MINES AND MINERALS
5 Pat. L. J. 273

CONTEMPORANEOUS AGREEMENT.

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 92, PROV. I . . I. L R. 35 Bom. 93

CONTEMPORANEA EXPOSITIO.

See SANAD, CONSTRUCTION OF.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 639

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

See ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 685

See CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CONTEMPT.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 169

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 170.
I. L. R. 33 All. 68

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s. 115.
I. L. R. 42 All. 26

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1879), s. 14.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1045

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 639

1. ———————— Its quasi-criminal character—Comments reflecting on witness and party under cross-examination, if contempt—Contempt [illegible]

[illegible]

them on application of private party, if to be discharged—Person charged, waiving objection subject to question of costs—When apology accepted by Court, if would allow costs when rule omitted name. An article in a newspaper reflecting on the party to a suit more especially when he is a witness under cross-examination is a contempt of Court. Proceedings in contempt are of a quasi-criminal character and all the rules of Court must be observed strictly in respect thereof. Where a private party applied for a rule against the editor, printer and publisher of a newspaper alleging contempt of Court and omitted to name them respectively:—Held, that the rule was liable to be discharged. If the persons concerned waive the objection and offer apology which is accepted by Court, the Court would not order any costs against them when the rule omitted to name them. WESTON v. EDITOR, PRINTER AND PUBLISHER OF THE "BENGALEE" (1911) . . 15 C. W. N. 771

2. ———————— High Courts in India made Courts of Record by Charter, jurisdiction of, to commit for criminal contempt of inferior Magistrate's Court in Mofussil—Common law and inherited powers of Calcutta High Court—Powers inherited by Calcutta High Court from the Supreme Court, the Suddar Dewani and Suddar Nizamat Adawlats—Original Side and its jurisdiction—Calcutta High Court, if possessed power of English King's Bench, as custos morum or guardian and protector of justice throughout the Kingdom—Power as Court of Record and one having superintendence over other Courts, limits of their power—Contempts not in the face of the Court, how punishable—Appellate jurisdiction, contempt of, deterring witnesses from deposing before Magistrate, if contempt of High Court—Pleadings—Criminal contempt, motion for, must proceed on legal evidence—Statement on information and belief, if may be relied on in contempt proceedings—In Civil interlocutary motion, source of information to be stated—Denial when not given by person charged with criminal contempt, if admission.—Admission in affidavit, if may be considered—Supplementary affidavit or evidence in course of contempt proceedings—Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, status of, to move for or instruct Advocate-General for commitment for contempt on Original Side—Governor in Council as party to motion for contempt of lower Criminal Court—Right of person charged with contempt to know who is moving—Costs—Civil and Criminal contempt—Summary proceeding in contempt, drawback of to be sparingly resorted to—Contempt proceedings, to be taken with the greatest caution—Taken only when interferes with course of justice, and not contingent or too remote—Where no real prejudice prima facie tendency of language or reprehensible or objectionable writing, if enough—Commenting on the conduct or method of investigation by Police, if contempt of Court—Criminal Investigation Department, making imputations against, pending trial, if contempt —"Positive evidence," meaning of—Leave to move upon conditions, not fulfilled—Motion, petition of, and party moving, amendment of, when allowable—Indian High Courts Act, 24 & 25 Vict., c. 104, ss. 1, 3, 9, 15—Letters Patent, 1862, cls. 1, 26 and 27, Letters Patent, 1865, cls. 27 and 28—Supreme Court Charter of 1774, cls. 2. 5, and 21—53 Geo. III, c. 155—Sudder Dewani Adawlat, 21 Geo. III, c. 70, s. 21—Sudder Nizamat Adawlat—Reg. IX (Bengal) of 1793—Reg. II (Beng.) of 1901, s. 2—Act XXX of 1841—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) if repeals all penal laws pre-existing. Neither the Supreme Court nor the Sudder Dewani Adawlat nor the Sudder Nizamat Adawlat had jurisdiction to commit a person for contempt of a Criminal Court in the mofussil. The Calcutta High Court, which has inherited all jurisdictions and every power and authority in any manner vested in the Supreme Court, the Sudder Dewani Adawlat [illegible]

[illegible]

summary proceeding which the King's Bench Division of the High Court in England assumed in that case has been inherited by it from the old King's Bench and not from the other Courts of Record which became amalgamated in the English High Court. That jurisdiction rested on the special power of that Court to correct and protect against extra-judicial error and to punish every kind of misdemeanour, on a summary proceeding as well as an indictment or information, as the custos morum or the guardian and protector of public justice throughout the Kingdom, a dignity that reverted to it or was revived on the abolition of the Star-Chamber. The Common Law powers as custos morum never belonged to the Supreme Court of Calcutta, at least in regard to contempts of inferior Courts outside the Presidency Town, and the Calcutta High Court cannot lay claim to this power by inheritance or by reason of its having been constituted by Charter a Court of Record or by reason of its power of superintendence over the Courts of mofussil Magistrates. Under 13 Geo. III, c. 63, and the Charter of the Supreme Court of 1774 thereunder, and subsequent legislation, the criminal jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Calcutta (apart from crimes maritime), was limited to the local limits of that Court except as to British subjects, and that Court had no general power over mofussil Criminal Courts. The Common Law was similarly limited in its application to the Presidency Town and to British subjects outside its local limits. The Supreme Court possessed no statutory jurisdiction over the mofussil Magistrates or other Courts of the East India Company except as provided in 53, Geo. III, c. 155, s. 111, and as regards contempts except in relation to such as were committed on the face of such Magistrates or Courts as provided in Act XXX of 1841 and not [illegible] against in such [illegible]. The Sudder Nizamat Adawlat was [illegible] a Court of Record nor a King's Court. The High Court, however, has [illegible], as a Court of Record, power to [illegible] for any [illegible] itself in relation to any of those jurisdictions [illegible]

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd.

the Court on its Original Crown Side would have power so to punish any interference with the due administration of justice by a Division Bench in relation to a criminal appeal pending before it amounting to an offence under the Common Law and might possibly have such power even before any appeal was pending, as for instance, where it was shown that witnesses were being deterred from giving evidence or the jury were likely be prejudiced. Surendra Nath Banerjce v. The Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court of Bengal, I. L. R. 10 Calc. 109, considered. In re Abdool, 8 W. R. 32. What may be a contempt of an inferior Court is not necessarily a contempt of the High Court. No person can be punished for criminal contempt unless the offence be proved by legal evidence. A statement made on information and belief is not legal evidence upon which a person may be committed for criminal contempt. A party charged with criminal contempt need not deny that which is not legally proved against him. The Queen v. Stranger, L. R. 6 Q. B. 352; 40 L. J. Q. B. 91. The absence of denial by such person cannot be taken to amount to an admission. But an admission in his affidavit in answer to a motion for committal for contempt can be taken into consideration by the Court. The power to commit for contempt by summary proceeding being an arbitrary, unlimited and uncontrolled power, should be restored to sparingly and with the greatest caution. It is not enough for its exercise that there should be a technical contempt of Court. It must be shown that it was probable that the publication would substantially interfere with the administration of justice. Notwithstanding the primâ facie tendency of the language where it appears that there was in fact no prejudice to any trial or the prejudice was contingent or too remote, the Court would not take summary proceedings in contempt. The fact that any writing is reprehensible or otherwise objectionable does not necessarily make it cognizable for contempt of Court: Held, that the articles in question in the present case did not constitute contempt of any Court. The "Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and ex officio Public Prosecutor, Bengal," cannot move or instruct counsel to move the High Court in the exercise of it Common Law jurisdiction, on its Original or Crown Side. The proper person to move the Court for contempt in the present case was the Governor-in-Council. The condition on which leave to serve a notice of motion is given must be complied with; otherwise the application would be liable to dismissal. Per JENKINS, C. J. Quære: Whether contempt of inferior Courts committed out of Court should not be left to be punished by the general law by indictment or otherwise and not by summary procedure, JENKINS, C. J. "Positive evidence" means evidence which goes expressly to the very point in question; and that which, if believed, proves the point without aid from inference or reasoning, as the testimony of an eye-witness to an occurrence as distinguished from indirect or circumstantial evidence. MOOKERJEE, J.—"Positive evidence" means direct evidence as distinguished from circumstantial evidence. JENKINS, C. J.—Where the articles impugned expressed distrust of the police and deprecated its mode of searches, arrests and treatment of prisoners but said nothing which would deter witnesses from giving evidence, they cannot be said to have constituted contempt of any Court. MOOKERJEE, J. The C. I. D. by reason of having investigated an offence under inquiry or trial, does not become the prosecutor thereof, and an imputation that the investigation has been carried on in an objectionable manner does not constitute a contempt of Court. MOOKERJEE J. It is a matter of vital importance for the party, against whom an order for commitment for contempt is sought, to know the person or persons at whose instance the application is made. If the application is refused, he is entitled to know who is responsible for his costs. If the application is successful he is entitled to know who is the respondent in a possible appeal by him. The motion for commitment for contempt having failed, costs were awarded to the respondent to be assessed as between party and party as on a hearing on the Original Side. In the matter of the AMRITA BAZAR PATRIKA (1913)

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173
17 C. W. N. 1253

3. ———— Receiver appointed by the Court, interference with, while discharging his duty—Interference by one not a party to the suit if contempt—Strangers to the suit, duty of, when affected by order appointing Receiver—Practice in contempt matter—Affidavit. The right of a stranger in possession to continue in possession is not affected by the order appointing a Receiver, but the fact of his possession does not give him the privilege to interfere with the Receiver directed to take possession of the property. His proper course is to apply to the Court for the redress of his grievance. If he interferes with the Receiver he does so at his peril. The Court will not permit a Receiver appointed by its authority to be interfered with or dispossessed of the property he is directed to receive by any one, although the order appointing him may be perfectly erroneous. The Court requires and insists that application should be made to the Court for permission to take possession of any property of which the Receiver either has taken possession or is directed to take possession. Ames v. The Trustees of the Birkenhead Docks, 20 Beav. 353, followed. RAI CHAUDHURI v. NOLINI PROKAS SEN (1913) . . 18 C. W. N 289

4. ———— Practice—Appeal—Assisting in contempt—Procedure. Where the prohibitory injunction on the defendant firm made no mention of M, an assistant, or of servants and agents, but the notice of motion for committal for breach thereof was upon M who did nothing after service on him of the injunction. Held, that the notice of motion was erroneous, and the procedure which had been adopted was misconceived: the proceedings against M, if any, should have been for assisting in a contempt of Court. Held, also, (on the merits) that there had been no contempt or participation in contempt on M's part, as all that he did, had been done prior to the injunction. MARSHALL v. GRANDHI VENCATA RATNAM (1915)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1169

5. ———— What constitutes contempt—Actual impediment of justice, if necessary to complete offence—Jurisdiction of High Court to punish summarily contempt out of Court—Liability of printer and publisher of newspaper, irrespective of knowledge of contents of offending publication—Summary jurisdiction in respect of contempt, when should be exercised—Civil and criminal contempt, distinction between—Contempt by attack on Court, criminal, nature of—Rule of interpretation appli- cable to writing constituting contempt—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 74—Returns filed with Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, if public document and secondary evidence thereof is admissible—Onus on party producing certified copy to prove execution of document—Liability for contempt of director of limited company owning newspaper—Proceeding in contempt, if lies against Corporations—Necessity of legislation for the registration of editors of newspapers. In a suit decided in the Original Side of the High Court the trial Judge (GREAVES, J.) held that the Calcutta Improvement Trust had power to acquire land compulsorily for the purpose of recoupment. In an appeal against a decision of the Subordinate Judge of 24-Parganahs two Judges of the Court (MOOKERJEE and CUMING, JJ.) sitting as a Division Bench on the Appellate Side held that the Trust had no such power. When

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd.

(i) "There is a mischievous rumour afloat which should be contradicted. It is stated that a vigorous attempt is being made to get up a Bench to consider the appeal on the judgment of Mr. Justice Greaves in connection with the acquisition of surplus land by the Calcutta Improvement Trust according to somebody's choice We do not believe that it is possible for anyone, far less the Chairman of the Trust, to secure a Bench after his own heart as a counterpoise to the Mookerjee and Cuming Bench. We are sure the interest of every constitution of the Apellate Bench of the Calcutta High Court before which appeals against the awards of the Improvement Trust are to be heard. It is known to the reader how this Bench was originally composed of Sir Asutosh Mookerjee and the Hon'ble Justice Cuming, and how, latterly, it has come to be presided over by the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Woodroffe. Rumour has it that for purposes of hearing Improvement Trust appeals the Bench is going to be strengthened by the appointment of Mr. Justice Chitty. Now what neither the public n arranger contend Court in appeal cases in which the Improvement Trust is concerned, a contention, however, which we do not believe the Chief Justice will care to advance, why should there be a Special Bench of three, and not a Full Bench of five, on which at least two Indian Judges could find seats. As a matter of fact, as landowners in Calcutta are mostly Indians ciate Indian Judges with their European colleagues. The withdrawal of Sir Asutosh has given rise to unsavoury impressions in the public mind since this proposed arrangement is to follow close upon the heels of his judgment in the case of The Improvement Trust v. Chandra Kanta Ghosh, 21 C. W. N. 8. Be that as it may, we have perfect faith in the present Chief Justice and believe that as soon as Sir Lancelot Sanderson understands the public feeling in the matter his Lordship will rather form a Full Bench, or at least associate an experienced Indian Judge with himself, for the hearing of Improvement Trust appeals." Proceedings in contempt were taken against the printer and publisher of the newspaper and the directors and manager and secretary of the company called "The Amrita Bazar Patrika Co., Ltd.," to which the newspaper belonged in respect of the said two articles: Held, that the articles constituted a contempt of Court not only on the ground that they scandalized the Court, but also on the ground that they were calculated to prejudice a litigant and interfere with the due course of justice. That the High Court in the Indian Presidencies are Superior Courts of record. The offence of contempt of Court and the power of the High Court to punish it are the same in such Courts as in the Superior Courts in England. It has the power of summarily punishing for contempt out of Court in relation to any of its jurisdictions That the jurisdiction to punish for contempt is not obsolete. That the printer and publisher of a newspaper is liable for contempt even though he was not aware of the has in respect of a contempt of Court should be exercised with great care, and should only be exercised when the case is beyond all reasonable doubt, and this should especially be the case when the proceedings are at the instance of the Court itself. That the question was not whether the article, in fact, obstructed or interfered with the due course of justice, but whether it was calculated to obstruct and interfere with the due course of justice. Per WOODROFFE, J.—That all proceedings, whether in respect of civil or criminal contempts, are of a criminal nature when their object is to punish by fine or imprisonment, but the procedure in such cases is not in all respects the same as in an ordinary criminal case. Both the offence, as also the jurisdiction and procedure under which it is tried, are sui generis. As regards the terms of that section. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—That a criminal contempt is conduct that is directed against the dignity and authority of the Court. A civil contempt, on the other hand, is failure to do something ordered to be done by a Court in a civil at least, when the purpose is merely to secure compliance with a judicial order made for the benefit of a litigant, may be deemed instituted at the instance of the party interested and thus to possess a civil character. But here also refusal to obey the order of the Court may render it necessary for the Court to adopt punitive measures against the person who has defied its authority stage, at least, the proceedings may assume a criminal character. Where the contempt consists in an attack upon the Court the proceedings instituted to vindicate its dignity are of a criminal nature, even though the attack has been made in connection with civil suits or appeals either actually decided or pending or about to be taken up for disposal. That in deciding whether there has been a contempt the obvious course to pursue is to read the offending words as they stand and to attach to the words used their natural meaning without the assistance of a laborious commentary. It is incumbent on the Court in all cases to consider the general tone of the writing. The meaning and intent are to be determined by a fair interpretation of the language used and are matters of law for the Court as to whether or not they constitute contempt. Disclaimer on the part of the publisher as to any intentional disrespect to the Court is, consequently, not a sufficient defence when the purpose and meaning of the writing is obviously of a contrary import. If the language is fairly capable of an innocent interpretation the Court will not be astute to read into it a sinister import. But if the intent is fairly clear liability to punish for contempt of Court cannot be successfully evaded by the use of a transparent artifice. That the two articles relating to the same topic and published in the editorial columns of the same newspaper at a brief interval of time between them might legitimately be read together to determine their scope and purpose, even though they were proved not to have been written by the same person. Per WOODROFFE and MOOKERJEE, JJ.—That the returns in the custody of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies constitute public records of private documents within the meaning of s. 74 sub-s. (2) of the Evidence Act, and secondary evidence thereof is admissible under s. 65, cl. (e). Per MOOKERJEE, J.—That although secondary evidence may be admissible, the party who produces the evidence is not relieved of his obligation to prove the execution of the document just as if the original had been produced unless the case is covered by s. 90 of the Evidence Act or the legislature has expressly provided that the document or endorsement thereon is receivable in evidence without proof of execution. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—That the statement in the affidavits of two of the defendants could not be used to the detriment of the other defendants as the proceeding was in the nature of a criminal trial and supplementary evidence could not be given so as to prejudice the defendants. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—That it cannot be held as a matter of law that the directors of a limited company which owns a newspaper are liable to be committed for contempt of Court on account of a libel published in the paper. Per WOODROFFE, J.—That the question whether persons in the position of directors are responsible must depend on the facts of each case. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—That proceedings by way of contempt would lie against Corporations, as well as individuals; in the case of individuals the process is by attachment of the person, followed by fine or imprisonment or both; in the case of Corporations the process is by fine, followed by sequestration or distraint. The Court sentenced the printer and publisher to pay a fine of Rs. 300 and discharged the other defendants in the absence of proof of their complicity with the publication of the offending articles. In the Matter of the AMRITA BAZAR PATRIKA (1917) . 21 C. W. N. 1161

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd.

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd.

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd.

6. ——————— Civil and Criminal Contempt—Court of Record—Prosecution by Judges—Trial by the same Judges—Jurisdiction—Standard of proof—Fair comment—Publication—Printer, liability of—Manager and Directors of Newspaper Company, liability of—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss. 3, 74 (2)—Editor, registration of. Where a newspaper unlawfully published articles scandalising the High Court and the Chief Justice in his administration thereof, by allegations implying that the Chief Justice had constituted a packed Bench, the articles having a tendency to prejudice the parties and interfere with the administration of justice. Held per CURIAM (MOOKERJEE, J., discussing whether contempt proceedings were civil or criminal), that the Judges had jurisdiction to hear the Rule though issued of their own motion that the articles constituted a contempt of Court that the printer of the newspaper was liable therefor: that there was no sufficient evidence of the existence of an editor, that the primâ facie case of responsibility for the publication against two of the directors and the managers of the company owning the newspaper had been met, and that in the case of the third director, although the facts raised a case of strong suspicion against him it was just possible he might not be responsible for the publication and that he should be given the benefit of the doubt. The Rule was therefore made absolute against the printer, who was fined, and discharged as regards the other respondents. The Legislature should provide for the registration of the editor or the person really responsible for the contents of a newspaper. Per WOODROFFE, J. There is only one Standard of Proof applicable alike to civil and criminal trials, vide definition of "proved" and "disproved" in s. 3 of the Evidence Act. The word record includes a collection of private documents. The Queen v. Gray, [1900] 2 Q. B. 36, Surendra Nath Banerjee v. The Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court at Fort William in Bengal, I. L. R. 10 Calc. 109 : L. R. 10 I. A. 171, Legal Remembrancer v. Mati Lal Ghose and Others, I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173, McLeod v. St. Aubyn, [1899] A. C. 549, The American Exchange in Europe Case, 58 L. J. Ch. 706, St. James Evening Post Case, 2 Atk. 469, Daw v. Eley, L. R. 7 Eq. 49, In re Banks and Fenwick, 26 C. L. J. 401, Cheshire v. Strauss, 12 T. L. R. 291, Reg. v. Judd, 37 W. R. (Eng.) 143, Ex parte Green 7 T. L. R. 411, Weston v. Peary Mohan Dass, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898, referred to. MOTI LAL GHOSE AND OTHERS, In re (1917). I. L. R. 45 Calc. 169

7. ——————— The petitioner was the plaintiff in a suit in the Court of Small Causes which was decreed. Later, the Munsif on the Defendant's application for retrial or review issued a notice on the petitioner directing him to appear in Court with certain account books on a specified date and give his deposition, failing which the suit was to be decided against him. The petitioner did not appear as directed and the Munsif called upon him to show cause why he should not be fined for disobedience. Cause was shown by a petition but there was no appearance and the petitioner was fined for contempt of Court: Held, that the order was without jurisdiction and not covered by s. 151 C. P. C., or 480, Cr. P. C., or 175, I. P. C. S. 151, C. P. C., does not give the Court an absolute discretion to make any order it pleases. It does not certainly confer upon any Court a summary jurisdiction which it does not otherwise possess to punish contempts by fine or imprisonment. In the case there was no contempt committed in the view and presence of the Court. In re Rasik Lal Nag, 20 C. W. N. 1284, referred to. CHAGMAL SERAOGI v. KING-EMPEROR (1919) . 23 C. W. N. 389

CONTEMPT OF COURT—concld.

8. ———— Publication of proceedings in pending cases—Publication not permissible until the case comes on for hearing—Pleaders, duty of—Practice and procedure. All proceedings in cases pending before a Court of Justice are privileged: they must not be published until the case comes on for hearing before the Court. In re KALIDAS J. JAHAVERI (1919)

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 443

CONTENTIOUS MATTER.

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 42 Calc. 109

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 862

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
See s. 52 . I. L. R. 42 All. 319

CONTENTS OF DECREE.

See DECREE . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 125

CONTINGENT RIGHT.

See HINDU LAW—WILL.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 274
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 432
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 642

See WILL . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 88

CONTINUING BREACH.

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900), s. 147.
I. L. R. 36 All. 430

CONTINUING OFFENCE.

See ENCROACHMENT.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 671

See PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 545

CONTINUOUS ACCOUNT.

See CHEQUE, PAYMENT BY.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1043

CONTRACT.

See ABWAB. . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 806

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901), ss. 10, 20, 83 I. L. R. 33 All. 695

See ARBITRATION.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1140

See BURDEN OF PROOF. 4 Pat. L. J. 517

See CAUSE OF ACTION.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 825

See COMPROMISE I. L. R. 42 Calc. 801
1 Pat. L. J. 48

See CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 301

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT.
16 C. W. N. 753

See CONTRACT ACT.

See CONTRACT FOR SALE.

See CONTRACT OF GUARANTEE.

CONTRACT—contd.

See CONTRACT OF SERVICE.

See CONTRACT TO LEND OR BORROW.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 39.
I. L. R. 34 All. 273

See EMBANKMENT.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 130

See FORWARD CONTRACT.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 517

See GUARDIAN AND MINOR.
I. L. R. 38 All. 433

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 528

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 340

See HINDU LAW (MITAKSHARA).
3 Pat. L. J. 396

See IJARADAR . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1078

See ILLEGAL CONSIDERATION.
2 Pat. L. J. 630

See INSTALMENTS.
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 511

See MARKET FRANCHISE.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 1079

See MASTER AND SERVANT.
I. L. R. 35 All. 132

See MINOR . I. L. R. 34 All. 296
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 389

See PESHKOSH I. L. R. 45 Calc. 866

See PRINCIPAL CONTRACT.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 892

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887) s 411, ACT 3.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 533

See REGISTRATION ACT. 1908, ss. 17, 49.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 8

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

See UNDER INFLUENCE.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 286

See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), ss. 2 AND 3.
I. L. R. 41 All. 390

———— breach of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), ARTS. 97 AND 116. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 955

See LOSS OF GOODS.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 16

———— breach of, by labourer or maistry—

See MADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (I OF 1903), ss. 24, 35.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 889

———— breach of promise of marriage—

See HINDU LAW I. L. R. 44 Bom. 446

———— breach of, to deliver goods at a particular time—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), ss. 39, 55, 63, 73. . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 412

———— by bought and sold notes—

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 41 Calc. 35

CONTRACT—contd.

——— by members of Hindu joint family—

See Hindu Law—Joint Family.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 715

——— C. I. F. terms—

See Contract C. I. F.

——— construction of—

See Sale of Goods.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 305

See Mortgage . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 542

——— Counter proposals do not constitute—

See Registration Act, 1908, ss. 17 and 49 . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 8

——— for monthly deliveries—

See Sale of Goods.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 305

——— implied contract to pay compound interest—

See Bankers . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 474

——— illegality of—

See Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 56 (2) and 65. I. L. R. 40 Bom. 570

——— incapacity to make—

See Hindu Law—Minor.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 166

——— induced by threat to commit suicide—

See Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 15, 16 . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 33

——— made before 1886—

See Malabar Tenants' Improvements Act (Mad. Act I of 1900).
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 410

——— made by telegram—

See Civil Procedure Code 1908, O. 7 r. 10 . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 203

——— of pre-emption—

See Pre-emption I. L. R. 38 Mad. 114

——— public policy—

See Contract Act 1872, s. 23.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 6

——— recision of—

See Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 95 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 158

See Sale . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

——— suit for specific performance of—

See Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 113 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 18

——— to contribute to costs of litigation—

See Contribution . 1 Pat. L. J. 201

——— to pay money—

See Marriage . 15 C. W. N. 447

——— to sell—

See Contract for Sale.

See Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 39, 55, 64, 65, 73, 74 and 75.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 178

CONTRACT—contd.

——— to sell—contd.

See Hindu Law—Alienation.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1187

See Registration Act, 1877, ss. 3, 17, 40.
I. L. R. 35 Mad. 63

——— to sell goods without authority—

See Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Arts. 36, 115, 120.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 275

——— Risk Note 'B'—

See Railway Coy.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1201

——— Signed by party personally—whether oral evidence can show he contracted as agent—

See Evidence Act, 1872, ss. 91 and 92.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1242

——— variation of—

See Sale for arrears of revenue.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 981

——— void—

See North-Western Provinces Rent Act (XII of 1881).
I. L. R. 39 All. 645

——— Unconscionable bargain—

See Landlord and Tenant. (Misc.)
1 Pat. L. J. 604

1. ——— Construction of—"Or 700-800 say seven to eight hundred tons" Words of description and not of estimation—Warranty—Equitable set-off. The plaintiff, owner of a stock of coal at Shalimar Depôt, agreed to sell to the defendant "the entire stock at Shalimar Depôt or 700-800 say seven to eight hundred tons of steam coal" for immediate delivery. The entire stock at Shalimar Depôt in fact amounted to 469 tons only, which the plaintiff duly delivered. On a suit by the plaintiff for the price of the coal sold and delivered :—Held, that the words "or 700-800, say seven to eight hundred tons," must be construed to be descriptive of the words "entire stock" and not merely words of estimation; that the delivery of only 469 tons was a breach of the contract by the plaintiff and that the defendants were entitled to set-off against the plaintiff's claim the damages caused by such breach. Kallyanjee Shamjee v. Shorrock (1910)
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 334

2. ——— Sale—Deposit—Failure of purchaser to complete contract—Vendor entitled to retain deposit. Plaintiff agreed to purchase 500 bales of cotton yarn from defendants and to deposit 5 rupees per bale as earnest money. He deposited somewhat more than half of the earnest money and thereafter repudiated the contract. Held, that plaintiff was not entitled to recover that portion of the earnest money which he had paid. Collins v. Stimson, 11 Q. B. D. 142, Howe v. Smith, L. R. 27 Ch. D. 89, Ex parte Barrell ; In re Parnell, I. L. R. 10 Ch. App. 512, and Bishan Chand v. Radha Kishen Das, I. L. R. 19 All. 489, referred to. Roshan Lal v. The Delhi Cloth and General Mills Company (1910) . I. L. R. 33 All. 166

3. ——— Suit for damages for breach of contract is not supplying railway sleepers according to contract—Specification of Railway Company as to dimensions and quality of sleepers—Implied warranty where agents had knowledg

CONTRACT—contd.

of purpose for which the sleepers were required—Stipulation that "passing" of sleepers was to be by manufacturer, a party to contract—Requirements in such a case—Insufficiency of means taken to make sleepers conform with the contract—"Passing" of sleepers not reliable. In this case the respondent was the transferee of contracts entered into by one Iyer (i) with the Madras Railway Company to supply them with 1,500 sleepers, and (ii) with the appellants through their agents at Madras to purchase from them 1,500 sleepers to enable him, as he stated to the appellants' agents, to carry out his contract with the Madras Railway Company the basis of which was a specification of the Railway Company's requirements in the matters of dimensions and quality. The contract with the appellants through their agents was contained in letters which passed between the parties, and was never embodied in a formal instrument. In one of the letters written by the agents to Iyer it was stipulated that "the passing of our Moulmein or Rangoon friends the Bombay-Burmah Trading Corporation" (the appellants) "is as usual final as regards both measurement and quality." On the transfer of the contracts to the respondent a formal agreement was drawn up between him and the Madras Railway Company and duly executed by both, and in it the description of the sleepers to be supplied was practically identical with that in the specification respondent for damages in consequence of the rejection by the Railway Company of a quantity of the sleepers as not being in accordance with the contract nor fit for the purpose for which they were required, one of the questions raised was whether Iyer had ever given a copy of the specification of the Railway Company to the appellants' agents and so made it the basis of his contract with the appellants. As to this the first Court found that he did so, and the Appellate Court came to a contrary conclusion: Held, that it was unnecessary to decide the question, first, because their Lordships concurred with the opinion of the Court of Appeal that "the evidence showed that the specification merely contained an enumeration of the qualities of a good sleeper usually insisted on by railway authorities;" secondly, because the appellants having through their agents been fully informed of the purpose for which Iyer purchased the Company: and the point was therefore irrelevant.

the stipulation as to the "passing" of the sleepers in the contract between themselves and Iyer which was confirmed by them on the transfer of the contract to the respondent, was maintainable. On this point the Courts below also differed, the first Court deciding in favour of the appellants, and the Court of appeal in favour of the respondent. Held, that on the true construction of the stipulation as to "passing" it must have been contemplated that there was some standard with which those sleepers should be compared, which at the lowest must have been the standard set up expressly or impliedly by the contract between the parties, which was the specification or at least the requirement that the sleepers were reasonably fit, as sleepers of the dimensions described, for use by the Madras Railway Company so that the right conferred upon the appellants by the stipulation amounted merely to the right to determine by and through the skilled and experienced persons whom they should necessarily employ for the purpose, acting honestly and impartially according to the best of their judgment whether the goods supplied were in conformity with the requirements of the contract under which they were so supplied. The real defence therefore rested upon the alleged fact that the sleepers were "passed" by the two expert persons employed for the purpose in the impartial sent out as the manufacture of their employers; and there was not therefore any "passing" of the sleepers within the meaning of the contract. BOMBAY-BURMAH TRADING COROORATION, LIMITED, v. AGA MAHOMED KHALEEL SHIRAZI (1911)

CONTRACT—contd.

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 453

4. ———— Sale of goods—Goods not appropriated—Re-sale, power of, in contract—Measure of damages. The plaintiffs contracted to sell 750 tons of sugar at an agreed price for delivery in equal instalments from August to December, 1910 under an agreement which contained the following term: "The goods to be at option of re-selling the same in the open market by private sale or by public auction and hold the buyers responsible for all consequences." The defendants failed to take delivery of 125 tons under the August shipment The goods remained in bulk and were never ascertained or even appropriated for the purposes of the agreement. After notice to the defendants the plaintiffs purported to dispose of the goods under the power of re-sale provided in the agreement and brought an action for the recovery of damages estimated on the basis of such re-sale: Held, that as the goods had not been ascertained or even appropriated for purposes of the agreement, they did not come within the power of re-sale as framed, and the "re-sale" was inoperative as a method of measuring damages: Moll Schutte & Co. v. Luchmi Chand, I. L. R. 25 Calc. 505, distinguished Semble: A power of re-sale in a contract can be so framed as to operate on goods even before appropriation. Inasmuch as the claim for damages was based on re-sale in the circumstances of the case, no decree could be made for damages on the basis of the difference between the contract and market rates. ANGULLIA & CO. v. SASSON & CO (1912)

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 768

CONTRACT—contd.

5. ———————— Covenant in sale-deed to discharge a debt due to a third party—Suit for compensation for breach—Actual damage not necessary to support suit—Cause of action—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Art. 116. On a sale of immoveable property the vendees covenanted with the vendors to pay a certain sum of money on account of a mortgage debt due by the vendors. They did not pay in accordance with the covenant, and the mortgagee thereupon brought a suit upon his mortgage and obtained a decree. Held, on suit by the vendors for compensation for breach of the covenant, that it was not necessary that the vendors should have suffered any loss before they could bring their suit, and that, as no time was specified in the sale-deed for the payment of the mortgage money, limitation began to run from the date of the execution of the deed. Lethbridge v. Mytton, 2 B. & Ad. 772; Carr v. Roberts, 5 B. & Ad. 78, Loosemore v. Radford, 9 M. & W. 657; Ashdown v. Ingamells, I. R. 5 Exch. D. 280; Dorasinga Tevar v. Arunachalan Chetti, I. L. R. 23 Mad. 441; Raghunath Rai v. Brijmohan Singh, All. Weekly Notes, 1901, 14; Kumar Nath Bhattacharjee v. Nobo Bhuttacharjee, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 241, and Battley v. Faulkner, 3 Barn. & Ald. 228; 22 R. R. 390, referred to. RAGHUBAR RAI v. JAIJ RAJ (1912)

I. L. R. 34 All. 429

6. ———— Return of goods not up to sample—Purchaser not bound to return goods to vendor. When goods sent to a purchaser, professedly in execution of a contract of sale, are not of the kind which the vendor had agreed to supply, it is not the duty of the purchaser to see that such goods are returned to the vendor: it is enough if he gives notice to the vendor that the goods are lying at the place to which they were sent at the vendor's risk. Grimoldby v. Wells, L. R. 10 C. P. 391, followed. PHAGGU MAL v. BABU LAL, (1913)

I. L. R. 35 All. 325

6(a). ———— Goods supplied for special purpose—Appellants agreed to supply 'C' sleepers for the Railway and therefore implied by warrants that their supplies would be good for that purpose—They were rejected as unfit for the purpose—Appellants relied on a stipulation in the contract to the effect that the "passing" of the sleepers by themselves would be final both as regards measurement and quality. Held, that this did not mean that they were entitled to deliver sleepers not up to warranty—They had to employ skilled and impartial people to say whether these supplies conformed with their warranty. THE BOMBAY-BURMAH TRADING CORPORATION, LTD., v. AGA MAHOMED KHALEEL SHIRAZEE

15 C. W. N. 981

7. ———— Carriage of goods on inlands waters—of Lower Burma—Receipt for goods shipped on cargo boats plying on river Irrawaddy—So-called mate's receipts not negotiable documents, nor documents of title—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 137—Rate Circular issued by shipowners—Delivery by them of cargo without production of mate's receipt—Liability of Shipping Company. The plaintiffs (appellants) advanced money to the first defendant under an agreement by which the money was to be employed in purchasing paddy to be stored in the plaintiffs' godown at Dounggyi and thence to be taken to Rangoon for sale. The agent of the first defendant at Dounggyi induced the plaintiffs' agent to allow the paddy to be shipped to Rangoon in boats belonging to the second defendant Company in the name of the first defendant as shipper. Eleven boat-loads in all were sent in respect of eight of which the first defendant paid the money to the plaintiffs' nominee at Rangoon. In respect of the cargoes of the last three boats the agent of the first defendant endorsed and delivered to the plaintiffs what purported to be mate's receipts for the cargoes loaded. The first defendant sold the cargoes, obtained delivery of the paddy from the defendant Company without producing the mate's receipts which the Company's agents had given for the paddy and delivered the paddy to the purchasers, paying nothing to the plaintiffs. In a suit against the first defendant for the amount due for advances, and against the defendant Company for damages for that amount on the ground that the Company's agents had delivered the paddy to the first defendant without production by him of the mate's receipts, and that their doing so was in breach of a representation which the Company made to the public by a printed Rate Circular or Notice, and by their usual course of business, that delivery of cargo carried by the Company's boats would only be made to persons holding mate's receipts for the cargo. Held (affirming the decision of the Chief Court of Lower Burma), that the receipt was not bill of lading, nor a mate's receipt, and not a negotiable instrument; nor was it a document falling within s. 137 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), and therefore not a negotiable document in the sense of that section. It was merely a simple ordinary receipt for goods, and not a document of title upon the transfer of which the goods passed. Held, also, that the clause in the defendant Company's circular that "mate's receipts must be given up before discharge is allowed to commence, or in the event of the mate's receipt not having come to hand, the Company's usual guarantee must be signed," merely set forth a mode in which in conducting their own business, the Company would protect themselves in the course of their trade, but did not constitute an obligation upon which the plaintiffs were entitled to found any liability on the part of the Company if the clause was not strictly complied with. There was therefore no document constituting a contract, and no course of business from which a contract could be inferred between the plaintiffs and the defendant Company. Nor was there any failure of duty on the part of the Company in delivering the goods without production of the mate's receipt by reason of the knowledge that the plaintiffs had rights against the shipper, because the evidence in the case showed that these rights had been the subject of negotiation and settlement, which resulted in the plaintiffs consenting to the goods being forwarded in the name of the first defendant, to whom they were therefore rightly delivered. NATCHEAPPA CHETTY v. IRRAWADDY FLOTILLA COMPANY (1913) . . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 670

8. ———— Illegality—Promissory note executed for compounding a charge of grievous hurt if valid—Practice—Revision—Grounds of interference—Moral as opposed to legal justice—Mere errors of procedure, or technical defects. Where a promissory note was executed as consideration for compounding a charge of grievous hurt against a person who had died previous to the complaint, Held, that, as the offence could not be compounded except with the consent of the person to whom the grievous hurt was caused, the agreement to pay money, evidenced by the promissory-note was illegal and the promissory-note was consequently unenforceable. The fact that the complainant may have a right to claim damages for the injury caused to the deceased would make no difference, unless such right had been set up and proved. The High Court as a Court of Revision has no power to consider justice apart from such justice as the law recognises. Sheikh Nubbee Buksh v. Bebee Hingon, 8 W. R. 412, referred to MOTTAI v. THANAPPA (1914) . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 385

CONTRACT—contd.

9. ———— Minor's rights over property purchased for his benefit—by maternal uncle—Sale of such property by father, invalid. Where certain immoveable property was purchased for the benefit of a minor by his maternal uncle, and was subsequently sold by the minor's father, as if it belonged to the joint family of which himself and the minor were members: Held, in a suit by the minor after attaining majority to recover the property from the alienee, that the sale for the benefit of the minor was valid, and he was entitled to recover. Kulla Pandithan v. Ramayi, Second Appeal No. 881 of 1909, followed. Kamta Prasad v. Sheo Gopal, I. L. R. 26 All. 342, Ulfat Rai v. Gauri Shankar, 8 All. L. J. 670, and Meghan Dube v. Pran Singh, I. L. R. 30 All. 63, referred to. The essential fact which renders void a transaction by a minor is that some agreement by the minor is necessarily an essential part of the transaction. But when a contract by the minor is not a necessary condition for upholding his right in property, his right should be maintained. Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodas Ghose, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 539 Navakotti Narayana Chetty v. Logalinga Chetty, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 312, referred to. MUNIA v. PERUMAL (1914) . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 390

10. ———— Earnest money forfeited—damages for breach of contract—ascertainment of—deposit of, forfeiture of—Credit for forfeited amount. Where a person deposits a certain amount as earnest-money for the due performance by him of his part of the contract under which he agrees to pay the other party a certain sum but breaks the contract thereafter, the other party who becomes entitled to retain the deposit as forfeited under the terms of the contract must, in a suit by him for damages for the breach of contract, give credit for the amount retained as forfeited and can only recover the difference between the actual loss sustained and the amount of the forfeited deposit. Ockenden v. Henly, 1 E. B. & E. 485; s. c. 27 L. J. Q. B. 361, followed. VELLORE TALUK BOARD v. GOPALASWAMI NAIDU (1914)
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 801

11. ———— Breach of contract—Attachment of plaintiff's property in consequence—Right of suit without actual damage. The defendant having agreed with the plaintiff as one of the terms of a compromise of a suit in forma pauperis, to pay part of the Court fee, if subsequently levied and having failed to do so in consequence of which the plaintiff's properties were attached, Held, that on the defendant's failure to pay the plaintiff according to his contract, the plaintiff was entitled to sue at once and recover substantial damages. RAMALINGATHUDAYAR v. UNNAMALAI ACHI (1914) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 791

12. ———— Privity of—No right of suit, on the contract, generally. A mortgaged his lands to B, part of the consideration therefor, being B's promise to discharge a debt of A to C. Held, that C who was a stranger to the contract cannot sue B for the payment of his debt without joining A as a party. Per curiam. The following are some of the circumstances under which a stranger to a contract can sue the promisor:—(a) the creation of a trust in favour of the plaintiff in respect of the amount sued for; but a direction to pay as in the present case, does not of itself create an express or constructive trust, owing to the absence of the elements necessary to constitute a trust; (b) the creation of a charge on immoveable property by the promisor or allocation by the promisor of the specific money in suit in favour of the plaintiff; (c) the creation of a settlement on marriage, in which the plaintiff may be beneficially entitled, as provided by s. 23 of the Specific Relief Act: and (d) estoppel as against the promisor, owing to transactions between the plaintiff and the promisor. Khwaja Muhammad Khan v. Husaini Begam, I. L. R. 32 All. 410, and Debnarain v. Ramasadhan, 17 C. W. N. 1143, distinguished. ISWARAM PILLAI v SONNIVAVERU TARAGAN (1913) . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 753

13. ———— Privity of contract—Right of third parties to sue on covenant in lease. Where on a lease of certain muafi land the lessees undertook, as between themselves and their lessor, to be responsible for the payment to the zamindars of certain sums which the muafidar was primarily bound to pay: Held, that the zamindars could not enforce this covenant by suit against the lessees. Khwaja Muhammad Khan v. Husaini Begam, I. L. R. 32 All. 410, Touche v. The Metropolitan Railway Warehousing Company, L. R. 6 Ch. App. 671, and Debnarayan Dutt v. Chunilal Ghose, I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137, distinguished. MANGAL SEN v. MUHAMMAD HUSAIN (1914)
I. L. R. 37 All. 115

14. ———— Stranger's right of suit on—Family settlement—Trust—Provision for nuptials of plaintiff, a daughter of the family—Her right of suit though not a party to the contract. A person though not a party to a contract can sue to enforce the terms thereof if it be a family settlement by which some provision is made for him or her as a member of the family (e.g.) for maintenance or marriage, though the same is not made a charge upon the family properties. Iswaram Pillai v. Taregan, 26 Mad. L. J. 127, distinguished. If the contract constitutes by its terms a trust in favour of the plaintiff, a stranger to the contract a suit to enforce such trust is beyond the cognisance of a Court of Small Causes. SUNDARARAJA AIYANGAR v. LAKSHMIAMMAL (1914)
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 788

15. ———— Interpretation of—Contracts should be interpreted by themselves and it is improper to interpret one contract by reference to another because they may seem to differ very little, as it may result in identifying contracts which are wholly different. Gobbey v. Aratoon, I. L. R. 17 Calc. 449, distinguished. Southwell v. Bowditch, L. R. 1 C. P. D. 374, followed. PATIRAM BANERJEE v. KANKINARRA CO., LD. (1915)
19 C. W. N. 623
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1050

16. ———— Specific performance and damages—Contract alleged not proved, but another found by Court—Decree for specific performance or damage, if lies. The principle upon which the Court refuses specific performance of a contract, not the subject-matter of the suit, is equally applicable to the claim for damages for breach of that contract. The principle on which damages are decreed in a suit for specific performance considered. NILKANTA RAI CHAUDHURI v. LALIT MOHAN BANERJEE (1915) . . . . . 19 C. W. N. 933

CONTRACT—contd.

17. ———— Arbitration—Calcutta Baled Jute Association's contract—Effect of clause containing home guarantee—Arbitration in London between Calcutta purchaser and London purchaser, whether binding on Calcutta seller. R. D. & Co., a firm carrying on business in Calcutta as balers of jute, sold 500 bales of jute to E. D. S. & Co. for shipment to London. The contract contained a clause in writing, known in the export trade as "a Home Guarantee," that is, a clause by which the Calcutta seller guaranteed the weight, condition and quality at the port of destination. E. D. S. & Co. sold the jute to a London buyer, who claimed an allowance for inferiority of quality; and upon an arbitration in London an award was given against E. D. S & Co. R. D. & Co. brought this suit in Calcutta against E. D. S. & Co. to recover the price of the 500 bales of jute. E. D. S. & Co. contended that they were not liable on the ground that under the terms of the contract R. D. & Co. had guaranteed the condition and quality of the goods at the port of destination; that by the award the goods had been invoiced back to the sellers; and that in terms of the contract R. D. & Co. were bound by the award. Held, that the clause in writing, that is to say the 'home guarantee,' does not mean that a London award in a submission by the Calcutta purchaser and the London purchaser in accordance with the rules and conditions of the London Association contract of 1913, would be binding in a dispute between the Calcutta seller and the Calcutta buyer. To make such an award binding upon a total stranger to the London submission there should be a clear and unambiguous agreement to that effect. Held, also, that although it may be correctly contended that any dispute about quality, between the Calcutta seller and the Calcutta buyer may be validly referred to arbitration in London in accordance to that clause, the meaning of the clause cannot be extended so as to make an award between the Calcutta purchaser and the London purchaser binding upon the Calcutta seller. RAM DUTT RAMKISSEN DASS v. E. D. SASSOON & Co. (1915) I. L. R. 43 Calc. 77

18. ———— Trafficking in offices—Official corruption—Contract for return of money paid to Nazir to secure appointment as peon—Suit to enforce such contract, maintainability of—Public policy—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 23, 65. The sale of a recommendation, nomination or influence in procuring a public office is illegal and void, for trafficking in offices would inevitably tend to official corruption: and the Court will not assist a party who has entered into a contract tainted by moral turpitude, both sides being particeps criminis, in pari delicto. Tappenden v. Randall, 2 Bos. & P. 467 ; 5 R. R. 662, followed. A suit to enforce a contract for the return of money paid to a Nazir to secure an appointment as a District Court peon for the plaintiff's son is not maintainable. Bai Vijli v. Nansa Nagar, I. L. R. 10 Bom. 152 referred to. Pichakutty v. Narayanappa, 2 Mad. H. C. R. 243, discussed and distingushed. Such an agreement is void ab initio, its object being opposed to public policy within the meaning of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act : while s. 65 thereof applies to an agreement subsequently (i) found to be void, (ii) or made void by supervening circumstances. Bakshi Das v. Nadu Das, 1 C. L. J. 261, and Gulabchand v. Ful Bai, I. L. R. 33 Bom. 411, considered inapplicable. LEDU COACHMAN v. HIRALAL BOSE (1915) . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 115

19. ———— Part performance—equitable doctrine of, if may be invoked by stranger to—Relinquishment of share in tenure without registered deed but for consideration by purchaser out of possession to person in possession—Remand order, scope of. Where a permanent tenure having been sold in execution of a decree for rent obtained against G, the question was whether C at the date of the sale had a subsisting interest in the tenure, so that (if he had) certain under-tenures held by G were not touched by the sale, and it appeared that C having acquired a share in the tenure at an execution sale, had subsequently for consideration relinquished the share to G who was and continued in possession but no conveyance was executed to give effect to this transaction : Held, (in a suit by the purchaser at the rent sale to eject G). that though a mere admission or disclaimer cannot operate to pass title to property where a conveyance is required under the law to transfer title, here G could have sued C for specific performance of the contract and G could have successfully resisted a suit to recover possession by C. That by the application of the equitable doctrine of part performance, C. was precluded from setting up any title against G and had no subsisting right to the share at the date of the rent suit. Walsh v. Lonsdale, L. R. 21 Ch. D. 9, Puchha Lal v. Kunj Behari Lal, 18 C. W. N. 445, and Mohammed Musa v. Aghore Kumar Ganguli, L. R. 42 I. A. 1 : I. L. R. 42 Calc. 801, relied on. Jadunath Poddar v. Rup Lal Poddar, 4 C. L. J. 23 : s. c. 10 C. W. N. 650, Oodey Koowur v. Ladoo, 13 Moo. I. A. 585, and Dharam Chand Baid v. Mauji Sahu, 16 C. L. J. 436, distinguished. Held, further, that the purchaser though no party to the contract was entitled to invoke the aid of this doctrine in the same way as a creditor could in respect of contract of purchase made by his debtor with a stranger. That a remand order by the High Court directing a trial upon the issue whether C had a subsisting interest in the property covered an enquiry as to whether C. had lost his interest in the property by the operation of the equitable doctrine of part performance. KHAGENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. SONATON GUHA (1915) . . 20 C. W. N. 149

20 ———— Bond signed by defendant only, and registered—suit upon A contract in writing in this country does not necessarily imply that the document must be signed by both the parties thereto. Apaji Bapuji v. Nil Kanta, 3 Bom. L. R. 667, Ramasami Chetti v. Sekhanoda Chetti, 1 Mad. L. J. 737, Girish Chandra v. Kunjo Behary, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 683 : s. c. 12 C. W. N. 628, Ambalayani Pandrama v. Vaguram, I. L. R. 19 Mad. 52, Kotappa v. Vallur Zemindar, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 50, Zemindar of Vizianagram v. Behara Suryanarayana, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 587, and Sanney Kotappa v. Venkata Narasimham Naidu, 11 Mad. L. J. 125, referred to. CHELLAPHROO CHOWDHURI v. BANGA BEHARI SEN (1915) . 20 C. W. N. 408

5. ———— What constitutes—Conditional proposal to make provision for the plaintiff by purchase

CONTRACT—contd.

of immoveable property on condition of her living with the promisor until her death—Acceptance by plaintiff and performance of condition—Suit against heirs of promisor to recover village purchased for plaintiff by relative, a wealthy and childless Rani—Limitation—Representation—Practice of Privy Council—Grant of special leave to cross-appeal. This appeal arose out of a suit brought by the appellant for possession of a village called Repudi which had belonged to her great-aunt, a wealthy, childless and widowed Rani, and to which on her death in 1899, the three defendants had in litigation between themselves been declared to be entitled in equal shares as her heirs. The appellant had been brought up by the Rani from an early age, and had lived with her until 1886, when she [illegible]

[illegible] ation that she and her husband would continue to reside with her. This they did until 1893, during which time the Rani purchased two small properties in her own name and transferred them after a time to the appellant. In 1893 the Rani purchased Repudi also in her own name though, making no concealment of her intention that the appellant was eventually to have it: but the Rani's delay in transferring it to her caused unpleasantness, and the appellant's husband left and went to his own home. Negotiation took place, and eventually the Rani on 12th October 1893 wrote to the appellant a letter in which she said, "Repudi was purchased for you alone. I shall retain it under me so long as I am alive and afterwards convey it to you yourself." Thenceforth the appellant and her husband lived with the Rani until her death. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court), that the letter was not merely an expression of intention but a conditional promise by the Rani, and the promise was accepted and the condition performed by the appellant and her husband, and there was accordingly a complete contract between the parties. Maunsell v. Hedges, 4 H. L. C. 1039, Maddison v. Alderson, L. R. 8 A. C. 467, and Jordan v. Money, 5 H. L. C. 185, referred to and discussed. Held, also, that the Rani's dying declaration constituted a re-affirmation and confirmation of the contract; the true effect of the language being to declare that Repudi was already the appellant's and that the Rani knew an oral bequest to be unnecessary. From such a contract it was not open for those representing the Rani or her estate to resile from or fail to perform the obligation to deliver possession of the village to the appellant, such possession to take effect from the Rani's death. The cause of action in the suit was on a ground common to all the defendants. The third defendant did not appeal from either of the decree against him in the District Court and in the High Court. He was, however, in each case made a respondent by another defendant who appealed. On the present appeal by the plaintiff to the Privy Council, the Judicial Committee granted the application of [illegible]

RAO v. AIPA RAO (1916) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 509

21. ———— Carriage of goods by rail—Risk note—Liability of company for goods consigned on a risk note—Burden of proof. Where goods are booked for carriage by railway under a "risk note" and are lost in transit it lies upon the consignor claiming damages against the railway company to show that the loss was occasioned by the theft or wilful neglect of the company's servants. Sheobarat Ram v. The Bengal and North-Western Railway Company, 16 C. W. N. 766, referred to. Bengal and North-Western Railway Company v. Haji Mutsaddi 7 All. L. J. 833, distinguished. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY v. NATHMAL BEHARI LAL (1917)

I. L. R. 39 All. 418

22. ———— Damages of a breach—Custom of the Bombay Silver Market—Shroffs, ostensible buyers and sellers—Shroffs acting for outside principals work either for kacchi of for pakki adat—kacchi adat distinguished from pakki adat—Principal of kacchi adatia may sue in his own name for damage or breach of contract without impleading the kaccha adatia. On the 13th of July 1914, the plaintiff, a merchant, in the name of his kachha adatia and agent H and acting by his broker B entered into a contract whereby H agreed to buy and the defendants to sell 50 bars of silver at Rs. 75-5-0 per 100 tolas for the ensuing Shravan, i.e., August vaida. The contract was entered into subject to the rules of the Panch Shroff Association whereby it was the duty of the defendants to tender a delivery order by the 12th of August 1914 On the 10th of August, the plaintiff tendered to H the price of bars and on the 11th H asked for a delivery order. The defendants failed to give a delivery order by the 12th August. The plaintiff thereupon sued the defendants without making H a party for damages for breach of contract at the rate of Rs. 3-3-0 per 100 tolas which was the difference in price between the contract rate and the rate prevailing in the market on the 13th of August. The defendants pleaded a custom of the silver market whereby the selling Shroffs were not personally liable to the principal of the buying adatia. The defendants without prejudice further stated that the rate of Rs. 76-12-0 must be taken to be the highest buying and selling rate with reference to which damages could be assessed, as the Shroffs at a special meeting held on the 16th August 1914 resolved that where a party was not able to give delivery, silver bars could be bought and sold at Rs. 76-12-0. Held, (i) that the evidence called by the defendants fell far short of proving the custom alleged; (ii) [illegible] were recover- [illegible] asure, it did [illegible] he principal [illegible] rincipal and agent applied, and the plaintiff was entitled under the contract to claim the difference in price between the contract rate and the market rate at the time of breach. It was not disputed at the trial that a custom of the Bombay Silver Market for forward contracts was that only Shroffs were the ostensible buyers and sellers though Shroffs might have and often did have outside principals for whom they were acting. The Shroffs, when acting for principals, worked sometimes for kacchi adat and sometimes for pakki adat. In the case of kacchi adat the adatia Shroff guaranteed the performance of the contract to the other Shroff, but did not guarantee its performance to his own principal. In the case of pakki adat the adatia Shroff who then acted for a higher commission was liable as a principal both to his own employer and to the other Shroff. ABRAHAM E. J. ABRAHAM v. SARUPCHAND (1917) . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 224

CONTRACT—contd.

23. ———— Damages for Breach after outbreak of war—to supply enemy goods out of stock in a particular ship—Royal Proclamation porhibiting contract as illegal, effect of—Capture and condemnation of steamer and goods by Prize Court, effect of, on contract—Purchase of goods from Prize Court by defendant and bringing goods to place of performance by other steamers, effect of—Contract to supply goods of a certain description and quality—Supply of inferior goods, effect of. A contract made on the 25th August 1914, after the outbreak of war with Germany on the 4th August 1914, to supply German dyes expected to arrive by certain steamers believed to have started on their voyage from Germany before the war, is unenforceable, if under the contract the defendant was not to be liable in case of non-arrival of the steamers at certain ports on account of the state of war and the ship and the dyes therein were as a fact seized during the voyage and condemned as prize by a Prize Court. Held further, (a) that the effect of the Royal Proclamation of 9th September 1914, prohibiting trading with the enemy and in enemy goods as illegal was to render the further performance of the contract illegal and to put an end to the contract; (b) that the condemnation of the goods by the Prize Court related back to the date of seizure and divested the owners of the goods as from the date of seizure; (c) that the fact that the defendants for their own convenience bought the goods from the Prize Court and brought them to the place of performance is immaterial as the goods ceased to be goods consigned to the defendants; and (d) that a contract to supply dyes of 40 per cent. strength on arrival of certain steamers is not enforceable when the steamers arrive with dyes of inferior description and quality, viz., 16 per cent. strength. Hale v. Rawson, 27 L. J. C. P. 189, distinguished. Arnhold Karberg Co. v. Blythe Green Jourdain & Co., [1916] 1 K. B. 495 The Odessa, [1916] A. C. 153, and The Zamora [1916] 2 A. C. 77, followed. ABDUL RAZACK v. KHANDI ROW (1917) . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 225

24. ———— Damages for Breach of promise to marry—parties being Konkani Mahomedan—suit for damages for breach of promise to marry as under English law not maintainable under Mahomedan law. Under Mahomedan law in a suit for breach of promise to marry the plaintiff cannot recover the damages peculiar to an action for breach of promise under the English law. The action under the English law though based upon the hypothesis of a broken contract is attended with some of the special consequences of a personal wrong and damages may be given of a vindictive and uncertain kind not merely to repay the plaintiff for temporal loss, but to punish the defendant in an exemplary manner. This anomaly should not be introduced in the case of Mahomedans whose views of the relationship of the married parties to one another are so different to those of persons governed by the English law. ABDUL RAZAK v. MAHOMED HUSSEIN (1916) . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 499

25. ———— By certificated guardian on behalf of minor with Courts leave—Specific performance. Where a guardian of minors appointed by Court, with the Court's sanction, agreed to sell the minor's property to A at a price which was above that fixed by the Court. Held, that a suit by A for specific performance of the contract was maintainable INNATUNNESSA BIBI v. JANAKI NATH SARKAR (1917) 22 C. W. N. 477

26. ———— Privity of—Agreement between vendor and purchaser that the latter will pay the former's debt to a third person out of consideration money retained with him, if may be enforced by vendor's creditor. The first two defendants borrowed on a promissory note a sum of money from the plaintiff; they thereafter transferred their properties to the third defendant who executed an agreement in favour of his vendors expressly undertaking to pay to the plaintiff his dues out of the consideration money retained in his hands. The plaintiff sued his debtors as also the third defendant for his money. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to enforce the agreement made between the third defendant and his vendors. The principle underlying the decision in Debnarain Dutta v. Ramsadhan Mandal, I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137; s. c. 17 C. W. N. 1143 applied to the case and the distinction that the arrangement between the first two defendants and third defendant was never brought to the notice of the plaintiff was not material. DWARKA NATH ASH v. PRIYA NATH MALKI (1916) . . 22 C. W. N. 279

27. ———— Third party's right to sue on—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 18, arts. 62, 115 and 116—Suit for rent by the third party to contract—Date from which limitation begins. Contrary to his undertaking to redeem a prior kanam and to collect and pay the jenmi, arrears of rent due by the kanamdar a melkanamdar assigned his rights and liabilities under the melkanam to the kanamdar by the registered deed in 1909 without the knowledge of the jenmi and thus enabled the kanamdar to continue in possession for a further period. The jenmi who came to know of the assignment in 1912 at once recognized it, demanded arrears of rent from the kanamdar and brought the suit in 1913 against the kanamdar and the melkanamdar for all the rent due during the periods of the kanam and the melkanam. Held, by WALLIS, C.J., and KUMARASWAMI SASTRIYAR, J. (BAKEWELL, J., dissenting) that (a) the jenmi was entitled to recover from the kanamdar the arrears of rent as moneys had and received to the plaintiff's use and that the suit was not barred by limitation by reason of Art. 62, and s. 18 of the Limitation Act. Per WALLIS, C.J., and BAKEWELL, J. The jenmi was not entitled to sue on the assignment to which he was not a party. Per KUMARSWAMI SASTRIYAR, J. The jenmi was entitled to sue on it. Jamna Das v. Ram Autar Pande, I. L. R. 34 All. 63, and Tweddle v. Atkinson, 30 Ch. D. 57, and other cases considered. ITTI PANKU MENON v. DHARMAN ACHAN (1917) I. L. R. 41 Mad. 488

28. ———— Stranger to a contract, when can sue—Privity of contract—The relation of trustee and cestui que trust when established—Covenant between assignor and assignee, whether a stranger can enforce it—Part payment, effect of. H demised on the 8th October 1910 a certain zemindary to N for a term of three years at a yearly rent of Rs. 10,000. (Rs. 6,000 out of which was to be appropriated by N in reduction of the debts due to him from H.) It was also agreed that in certain events N would pay H 75 per cent. of the actual realisable arrears of rent. On the 16th December 1910 H mortgaged to K (in consideration of a sum of Rs. 10,000 due to K from H) the sums payable to him under the demise of the 8th October 1910. N was put into possession of the demised premises on the 26th January 1910. By an Indenture, dated 23rd January 1911, H assigned to N all arrears of rent payable to him by N for three years and (also all other moneys payable to him) under the said demises of 8th October 1910. By the said indenture N covenanted with H that he would pay the said sum of Rs. 10,000 with all interests and costs due to K from H under the void mortgage, dated 16th December 1910, and would keep H indemnified against the same. On the 23rd March 1911, N, in pursuance of this covenant, paid to K a sum of Rs. 5,000. K (plaintiff-appellant) brought this suit to recover the balance due under his mortgage from N (1st defendant-respondent by virtue of his covenant contained in the indenture of the 23rd January 1911 and also against H (the second defendant). H did not contest the suit: Held, that the suit must be dismissed as there was no privity of contract between K and N; neither was N a trustee for K in respect of the sums payable by H to K. A contract can create no right or liability in a person who is not a party to it, unless he can claim or be charged through a party as in the case of a cestui que trust claiming through a trustee. There is however no doubt that a contract may be in form with a named person and yet intended to secure a benefit to another as a cestui que trust, in such a way that the latter may sue in his own right to enforce the contract. KHERODE BEHARI GOSWAMI v. RAJA NORENDRA LAL KHAN (1918)

CONTRACT—contd.

23 C. W. N. 453

29 ———————— Where the appellants contracted with Government to maintain the rights of all tenure-holders entered in the Record-of-Rights ... [illegible] kabulyat

[illegible] ppel-

[illegible] nure holders covered by the Record-of-Rights had obtained a fraudulent entry therein and had no such rights as these recorded was not maintainable MAHARAJA KUMAR MANMATH NATH ROY v. SHEIKH AMEER KHAN . 2 Pat. L. J. 39

[illegible]

1, article 75. A contract whereby a labourer engages to work without any payment whatsoever, under conditions that make it practically impossible for him to discharge the debt until some other capitalist redeems him is wholly void. Where two labourers executed a bond for a consideration of Rs. 10 repayable at the end of two years with interest and the second of the two executants undertook to labour for the promisee for the period of two years without remuneration and agreed that in the event of his absenting himself from work at any time during that period the promisee should be entitled to recover the principal with interest: held (i) that the bond was a slavery bond and was therefore illegal and void; and [illegible] provision for the payment of interest

[illegible] contract

[illegible] general

[illegible] earliest date applicable to [illegible] bonds

under article 75 of the Limitation Act, 1908, is also applicable to cases of contracts which are subject to a condition and therefore time began to run against the promisee from the date the second executant of the bond absented himself from work. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH v. KASHI SAHU
3 Pat. L. J. 412

31. ———————— Interpretation—Implied terms—Compensation, assessment of. Plaintiffs contracted to suppy labour for reclamation work undertaken by the defendant Trust. The agreement inter alia provided that the plaintiffs were to find the necessary labour for filling and emptying waggons of sand and were to be paid by measurement of the area reclaimed, having, before commencing work, satisfied themselves as to the correctness

[illegible]

enclose the area to be reclaimed and this would be in progress probably when the works would be commenced and it was stipulated that the plaintiffs were not to make any claim for alleged or actual loss of material being washed away during the progress of the work and when quoting their rate for the labour in filling and emptying, it must include all and every such contingency as loss in bulk through washing or spreading by the sea,

[illegible] ground at the completion of the work and no allowance whatever as stated in the previous clause would be entertained for sinking, washing away, etc. The trial Judge held that the plans and sections added an implied term to this con-

[illegible]

protection, the inadequacy being proved by the mere fact of the discrepancy between what they considered the proved waggon-loads deposited and the proved amount measured Held, by the Judicial Committee, that assuming without deciding that the contract had an implied condition, that condition was only to execute the protection as shown on the plans. KARACHI PORT TRUST v. J. MACKENZIE DAVIDSON (1918)
22 C. W. N. 961

32. ———————— Sale on condition that the vendor or his descendants should have the right to repurchase—Nature of the right reserved, whether personal or assignable—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s 23—Construction of document—Second Appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 100. One V obtained a decree against G. G being unable to satisfy the decretal debt sold his land to V in 1903 on condition that after the lapse of ten years G or his descendants should have the right to repurchase it within two years for the same price for which the land was sold. After the death

[illegible]

A suit having been brought to recover possession of the land sold by G, the question was raised whether on the terms of the sale deed of 1903 the intention of the parties was that the right reserved was to be a right personal to G and his descendants or a right which he could assign to any other person. Held, on the construction of the sale deed, that the intention of the parties was that the assignees outside the family would not enforce the contract specifically. It was a case of personal quality mentioned in s. 23 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, as the personal quality need not necessarily be restricted to particular skill or learning but might include anything peculiar to a man or his descendants which would entitle them to special favour at the hands of the other contracting parties. In second appeal the High Court will have as good a right as the lower appellate Court to put its own construction upon a document as a whole in order to arrive at the intention of the parties thereto. VITHOBA MADHAV v. MADHAV DAMODAR (1918). I. L. R. 42 Bom. 344

CONTRACT—contd.

33. ———— Wagering Contract—Pakka Adatia business in Bombay, if necessarily wagering transaction—Speculation and wagering distinguished. Pakka Adatia dealings are well established as a legitimate mode of conducting commercial business in the Bombay market. Speculation does not necessarily involve a contract by way of wager and to constitute such a contract a common intention to wager is essential. BHAGWANDAS PARASRAM v. BURJORJI RUTTONJI BOMANJ (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 373
22 C. W. N. 625

34. ———— Suretyship—Interpretation—Sale of principal debtor's interest in subject of contract if discharges him or surety—Forbearance of creditor, to sue principal debtor, if ground of discharge. Anything done or any promise made for the benefit of the principal may be a sufficient consideration to a surety for giving a guarantee. Where the sureties undertook liability for the performance by a lessee of the conditions of the lease, the fact that the lessee's interest was sold in execution and purchased by a stranger did not have the effect of releasing the debtor or his sureties from liability to perform the covenants and conditions of the lease as agreed upon by them. Mere forbearance on the part of a creditor to sue the principal debtor or to enforce any other remedy against him, does not in the absence of any provision in the guarantee to the contrary discharge the surety, KALI CHARAN v. ABDUL RAHMAN (1918) . . . 23 C. W. N. 545

35. ———— To supply goods indented from England—Terms of indent if incorporated in the contract. Upon the interpretation of a contract by appellants to deliver to respondents certain articles which both parties knew were to be shipped from England, the question was whether a stipulation in the following words, viz., "Terms cash, less three months discount equal to 1¾ per cent. Per Indent Nos. 906, 907, 908, 909" (the number referring to indents which under these numbers were the contracts made by the appellants with English manufacturers for the supply of the goods), was meant to incorporate the forms of the indents as terms of the contract: Held, that the indents were not made parts of the contract in suit, and the date of shipment in the indent was not incorporated in the contract as the date of shipment under the contract. ALEXANDER v. GOCUL DASS (1918) . 21 C. W. N. 1091

36. ———— Broker—"Principal contract"—Appropriation and assent—Stoppage in transitu—

CONTRACT—contd.

Assignment—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 99, 108 193, Exceptions (1), (2)—Bill of lading, assignment of. Where the plaintiff, a broker, liable on a principal contract appropriated the goods to the contract and the defendant assented to the appropriation by accepting the documents representing goods in qustion and dealing with and handing the same to a third party: Held, that the property in the goods passed and the provisions of Exception (1) of s. 108 of the Contract Act were not applicable. Held, also, that the plaintiff must prove that for the purposes of Exception (3) of s. 108 of the Contract Act the circumstances under which the defendant obtained possession of the documents amounted to an offence on his part. Held, also, that the plaintiff had the right of stoppage conferred by s. 99 of the Contract Act. Held, also, that the delivery of the bills of lading to a third party amounted to an assignment of the bills of lading within the meaning of s. 102 of the Contract Act RAMENDRA NATH ROY v. BRAJENDRA NATH DAS (1919) . . . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 831

37. ———— Specific performance of Agreement to lease certain share in property—at fixed rent and premium—No express provision made for payment of kists and interest on arrears or for security—Draft approved of by pleader to be prepared—Receipt of earnest money—Agreement whether completed or not—Intention of parties. There may be a completed agreement though a document has to be executed embodying its terms. It depends on the question whether the parties intended that there should be no binding contract till the execution of a document or whether they intended the document to be merely commemorative of the terms of a bargain already completed, even though its execution is in a manner required by law. Hyam v. Gubbay 20 C.W.N. 66, referred to and distinguished. Winn v. Bull 7 Ch. D. 29 and Hampshire v. Wickens 7 Ch. D, 555, distinguished. Where the defendant entered into an oral agreement to grant the plaintiff a putnit lease of his specified share in certain mouzas at a fixed annual rent and a stipulated premium, and a draft pottah was to be prepared and approved of by his pleader, and part of the premium was paid at once and accepted by the defendant as earnest money, but no such draft was prepared and approved of, and there was no express provision made by the parties as to the payments of kists, interest on arrears of rent and as to security for due payment of the rent: Held, that the agreement was complete and enforceable in a suit for specific performance, notwithstanding the omission of the approved draft and of express provisions as to kist, interest, and security, it having been found by the lower Appellate Court that the draft was intended by the parties to be merely commemorative of the terms already agreed upon and not a condition of the completion of the agreement; and further, that the matters relating to the kists and interests were presumably intended to be regulated by the Tenancy Law of the country, and that no provision for security was necessary. BIJOYA KANTA LAHIRI CHOWDHURY v. KAILASH CHANDRA BHOUMIK (1919) . . . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 771

37(a). ———— X and Y who were carrying on business at Cawnpore and Calcutta agreed to accept for accommodation of Z's firm in Cawnpore a hundi for Rs. 2,500 drawn on X and Y in Calcutta by one A in Delhi in favour of one B in Delhi and in the case of payment by the acceptors of the amount of the Hundi to debit the same to the accommodation party Z's firm—In a suit by the acceptors against the accommodation party to recover the amount of the Hundi which was duly accepted and the amount which was paid to B in Calcutta. Held, that the Plaintiffs cause of action would not be complete unless they proved the fact that they had accepted the hundi in Calcutta in accordance with their undertaking to the drawers of the hundi and paid the bill in Calcutta on due date in accordance with their acceptance. Held, also that part of the cause of action arose within the Local limits of the ordinary jurisdiction of the High Court. RAMCHANDER GAURISHANKAR, v. GANAPATRAM BISWANATH . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 583

CONTRACT—contd.

38. ———— Railway Risk Note——Liability of Company for goods consigned on a risk note—Burden of proof—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 103. The plaintiff consigned certain bales of piecegoods by the defendants' Railway under a risk note. By the terms of the risk note in consideration of a special reduced rate being charged the consignor agreed to hold the Railway Administration harmless for any loss except for event. The goods were properly carried in a closed waggon, but one of the bales was lost in transit. The plaintiff having sued the defendant Railway Company for the value of the missing there was any theft from the train. The defendant Company having applied to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction. Held, reversing the decree and dismissing the suit, that the burden lay on the plaintiff under s. 103 of the Indian Evidence Act to give proof of the fact that there was wilful neglect or theft by railway servants and, he not having done so, no question was reached of robbery from a running train. East Indian Railway Company v. Nathmal Behari Lal I. L. R. 39 All. 418, approved. B. B. & C. I. RAILWAY COMPANY v. RANCHHODLAL CHHOTALAL & Co. (1919) . . . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 769

39. ———— Forfeiture of deposit—Failure of purchaser to carry out his part of the contract—Vendor entitled to retain deposit. Where a plaintiff has advanced money to the defendant by way of earnest money and as a guarantee for the fulfilment of the contract in respect of which he is suing, he cannot recover the earnest money where it is found that the breach of the contract is due to his own default. Bishan Chand v. Radha Kishan Das, I. L. R. 19 All. 489, Roshan Lal v. The Delhi Cloth and General Mills Company, Limited I. L. R. 33 All. 166, and The Vellore Taluk Board v. Gopalasami Naidu, I. L. R. 38 Mad. 801, referred to. MUHAMMAD HABIBULLAH v. MUHAMMAD SHAFI (1919) I. L. R. 41 All. 324

40. ———— Offer and acceptance when acceptance may be inferred—Receipt of money sent by would-be purchaser. The plaintiffs, on the 7th of February, 1918, wrote to the defendants inquiring the price of cocaine. The defendants replied on the 13th of February that it was Rs. 20 per ounce "without engagement," meaning thereby that, as the rate was varying from day to day, they could not give any definite quotation On the 14th of February the plaintiffs sent to the defendants a money order for Rs 17-8-0 and asked the defendants to set aside for them an amount of cocaine epresented by this sum. The money was received on the 16th of February. On the 23rd of February the plaintiffs sent to the defendants the permit which they had received for the import of the cocaine.

defendants had sent. The plaintiffs thereafter sued the defendants for damages for non-delivery. Held that it was a legitimate inference from the conduct of the defendants in receiving the money sent by the plaintiffs and crediting it to their account that they had accepted the plaintiff's proposal. BISHAN PADO HALDAR v CHANDI PRASAD & Co. . . I. L. R. 42 All. 187

40(a). ———— B entered into a contract with C for sale of 30 bales of dhoties with the condition "we sold the goods as were bought by us to L J batta chafage, all other terms according to "Bahar (importing) Firms." The contract between B and L J had a clause for arbitration embodied in it—B filed a suit in respect of 27 bales out of 30 for no delivery and referred the matter to arbitration in

41. ———— Uncertainty—Agreement to convey land by way of gift—An egrarnamah contained free of cost, and if I and my heirs refuse to give, in that case the Sitambari Jain Society shall take the same of its own power." Held, that, if this provision was an attempt to create an interest in favour of future generations of Sitambaris it was void for remoteness. Held, further that the provision was not intended to create an interest in favour of the Sitambaris and that such a provision could not in India, be regarded as creating an interest in favour of the other party to the transaction. A contract to convey immovable property by way of gift does not create any interest in the property. DAHYA BHAI v. MAHRAH BAHADUR SINGH . . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 238

42. ———— Uncertainty—Public Policy—agreement by Gayawal to pay part of his earning from certain ceremonies to an Acharjya —maintainability of suit on the agreement. Where the defendant, a Gayawal undertook, for a consideration, that if he performed any ceremonies without calling in the plaintiff, an Acharjya, to assist him, he would pay to the latter in one set of circumstar... the whole of the performar

CONTRACT—contd.

agreement not being void as being against public policy, or for uncertainty, a suit lay at the instance of the plaintiff for recovery of the amounts due to him under the terms of the agreement. BABULAL BARIK GAYAWAL v. HARIHAR PANDIT

1 Pat. L. J. 539

43.———— Forfeiture of deposit—A deposit, if nothing more is said about it, according to the ordinary interpretation of businessmen, a security for the completion of the purchase, so that in the event of the contract being performed it is brought into account, but if the contract is not performed by the payer, it is forfeited to the payee. But every payment made by the purchaser to the vendor is not in the nature of a deposit liable to be forfeited if the purchaser violates his contract. It is incumbent upon the Court in each case to ascertain the real intention of the parties from all the terms of the contract. NAWAB KHAJA HABIBULLAH v. ARMAN DEWAN

24 C. W. N. 40

44. ———— Broker appointing under-broker—D. & Co., on 31st May 1911, appointed the Respondents to be their brokers for the sale and purchase of sugar for a period of five years. The Respondents being by the agreement authorised to appoint under-brokers, on the 8th January 1911, entered into an agreement with the Appellants constituting them under-brokers "in respect of all contracts to be entered into by them (the Respondents) for and on behalf of the D. & Co., under the Respondents' agreement" with D. & Co., "and during the subsistence of the said agreement." On the 2nd December 1912 a new agreement was entered into between D. & Co., and the Respondents, differing in many material respects from the contract of 31st May 1911 and appointing the Respondents brokers in the same business for a new period of five years on different terms. On the 12th August 1912, the Appellants' contract was summarily ended by the Respondents without any justifying reasons. In a suit by the Appellants for damages for wrongful dismissal: Held (no case being made that the previous agreement between D. & Co. and the Respondents was ended simply as a means of defeating the Appellants rights)—That the appointment of the Appellants' as under-brokers terminated on 2nd December 1912 with the termination of the original contract of D & Co. with the Respondents. LACHMANDAS KHANDELWAL v. RAGHUMULL 24 C. W. N. 577

44(a). ———— C. I. F.—To purchase and ship—E. and Co. Commission Agents entered into a contract with defendants under which they undertook to purchase and ship certain goods "on account and risk" of defendants and did ship them C. I. F. on a Germanship—Owing to outbreak of war during transit the goods were delayed—On defendants refusal to accept they were sold by the Plaintiff the liquidator of E and Co., who sued defendants for damages. Held, that E and Co. as Commission Agents were under the special contract, the general law and s. 222 of the contract Act to recover damages for breach of contract. HARRY MEREDITH v. ABDULLA SAHIB

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1060

44(b). ———— Fidelity guarantee —Contract Act ss. 129 and 131—Upon the appointment of a Khazanchee to a Bank in 1903 he, his father and the Bank entered into an agreement whereby the father deposited security and the Bank agreed to employ the son subject to 3 months' notice and the son agreed to act as Khazanchee and to inquire and if required report to the Bank upon the solvency of Asiatics having dealings with the Bank and any loss arising for the carelessness or default in so doing. The Khazanchee was also a customer and in 1907 and 1908 deposited promissory notes for which in 1908-1909 he without informing the Bank, received payment from the makers—The money went to reduce his debit but the Bank relying on the notices made further advances. In 1910 the Khazanchee became insolvent—In 1913 his father's executors sued for return of the securities deposited by the father. Held, that the agreement of 1903 did not constitute a continuing guarantee under the Contract Act s. 129 so as to be ipso facto revoked on death of father under s. 131 and that the Bank was entitled to hold the securities against the son's default. SEN v. BANK OF BENGAL

L. R. 47 I. A. 164

45. ———— Impossibility of performance—Where the parties were fully aware of the restriction imposed by Government on the supply of railway waggons on account of the war and a contract was entered into for the sale of goods and delivery thereof in the manner stipulated in the contract on the assumption that by the time the goods would become deliverable under the contract the said restriction would be removed: Held—That the contract was void being impossible of performance and the buyer was not entitled to recover any compensation from the seller who was excused from the performance of the contract. KUNJILAL MONOHAR DASS v. DURGAPROSAD DEBIPROSAD . . . . 24 C. W. N. 703

46. ———— Anticipating breach—Measure of damages—Damages for breach of contract by renunciation thereof before performance is due are measured by what the individual would have suffered by the continued breach due to the time of complete performance less any abatement by reason of circumstances of which he ought reasonably have availed himself. MANINDRA CHANDRA NUNDY AND OTHERS v. ASWINI KUMAR ACHARJYA . . . 25 C. W. N. 297

47. ———— Failure of condition—Where a contract provided that it should be void if there was a fluctuation in price announced by a certain syndicate—Held that the contract could not be avoided because that syndicate continued to exist on out-break of war. TOOLSIDAS TEJPAL v. M. F. VANKATA . . 25 C. W. N. 26

48. ———— Public policy—agreement to bring about adoption—suit for recovery of consideration money. Although it is now established that where money is paid for a purpose which is contrary to public policy it may be recovered at any time before the consideration for the payment has been performed, yet if the contract involves anything of criminality or moral turpitude such as the courts on that ground would refuse to enforce then not only will the court refuse to enforce the contract, but it will not assist either party to recover back anything paid under the contract even though the contract has not been performed. Where the plaintiff had paid the guru of a Hindu widow Rs. 5,000 as a consideration for him to induce the widow to adopt one of the plaintiff's sons on the understanding that if the adoption

CONTRACT—contd.

did not take place the money would be refunded, and the adoption did not take place with the result that the plaintiff claimed Rs. 5,000 as damages for the breach of contract: Held, that the Court would not assist the plaintiff to enforce the terms of the contract or to recover the money paid by him. RAGHUBAR DAS MAHANT v. RAJA NATABAR SINGH . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 542

49. ———— Minor—Void contract—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 65. Plaintiff sued to recover value of the goods sold to the defendant. The defendant contended that he was a minor at the date of the transaction. The Subordinate Judge held that the defendant was a minor and dismissed the plaintiff's suit. On an application being made to the High Court, it was contended that under s. 65 of the Contract Act the defendant was either bound to restore the goods or to give its price. Held, discharging the rule, that s. 65 of the Contract Act started from the basis of there being an agreement or contract between competent parties, and had no application to a case in which there never was and never could have been any contract. Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodas Ghose (1903) 30 Cal. 539, relied on. MOTILAL MANSUKHRAM v. MANEKLAL DAYABHAI (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 225

50. ———— Sale for purchase of goods of particular quality and description—Breach of contract—Date of breach is the date on which goods are to be supplied according to contract—Date of breach not postponed until it is ascertained whether goods supplied are not according to contract—Measure of damages. On 9th May 1918, the defendants agreed to sell to the plaintiffs 50 tons of Yellow Katha wheat at Rs. 8-2-0 per cwt. The delivery was to be in May-June 1918, at the seller's option. The last day for such delivery accordingly fell on 30th June 1918. The Railway receipts relating to the contract goods were handed over to the plaintiffs within the contract time. The plaintiffs took delivery and warehoused the goods about the 13th July 1918. On examining the goods the plaintiffs became dissatisfied with their quality and contended that there was not a proper and fair tender of the goods against the contract. Subsequently, a [illegible]
August 1 [illegible]
wheat ter [illegible]
On 20th [illegible]
goods. C [illegible]
49 tons of wheat of the quality and descripton mentioned in the contract, and sued to recover Rs 2,230-15-0, the difference between the price paid by them for 49 tons and the contract price. The trial Court held that as there was an attempted performance of the contract, the date of the breach must be taken to be the date when the parties actually found that the goods tendered were not of the contract quality and that as there was no delay on plaintiffs' part to buy against the sellers, the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the sum claimed with interest. The defendants appealed: Held, reversing the decision of the trial Court: (1) that inasmuch as the breach of contract was in respect of goods to be delivered at a future date, the ordinary rule applied that the measure of damages was the difference between the contract rate and the market rate at the date of the breach; (2) that the date of breach must be considered to be the date when the seller ought to have tendered goods according to the contract and failed to do so; (3) that in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the date of the breach was not postponed until it was ascertained whether the goods were of the contract quality or not; (4) that as the plaintiffs had failed to prove that the due date must not be taken to be the date of the breach or that there was any difference between the contract rate and the market rate at the due date they were not entitled to claim damages against the defendants. RAMCHANDRA RAMVALLABH v. VASANJI SONS & Co. (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 129

51. ———— Illegal consideration—Past co-habitation whether good consideration. A past co-habitation will not be good consideration for the transfer of property. KISONDAS v. DHONDU (1919) . . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 542

51(a). [illegible]
A seller u [illegible] sued the [illegible] delivery [illegible]
the seller had not the goods in his possession at the date of the contract and the buyer was not therefore bound to take delivery. Held, that if at the time of entering into the contract and the period intervening between that date and the date the seller was in a position to deliver when called on he had sufficiently complied with the terms of the contract. MULCHAND CHANDOLIA v. KUNDAN MULL . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 458

52. ———— Sale and purchase of goods to be manufactured by a mill—Vendor agreeing to give delivery as and when the goods are received from the Mill—Contract conditional and not absolute—Vendor not bound to deliver goods on failure of the Mill to supply goods—No implied warranty that the Mill would manufacture and supply goods—Implied condition that the Mill would supply goods—Condition failing, both parties released from contract—Buyer not entitled to damages. On the 26th November 1917, the plaintiffs entered into a contract with the defendants for the purchase of 864 bales of Dhoties manufactured by a particular Mill. The contract which was in Gujarati provided: "Delivery by the 31st December 1918. Goods to be manufactured (bunto) are sold The same are to be taken delivery of as and when the same may be received from the Mill." The plaintiffs obtained delivery of 360 bales only from the defendants who failed to deliver the balance of 504 bales. The plaintiffs accordingly sued to recover Rs. 70,216-12-0 as damages, contending that the contract was absolute and that the defendants had committed a breach in not supplying the full number of bales contracted for. The defendants pleaded that the contract was conditional, the condition being that the goods were to be delivered to the plaintiffs if they were supplied by the Mill and not otherwise. The defendants also submitted that they had done everything in their power to get delivery of the remaining bales from the Mill, but the Mill failed to supply the same to the defendants. The trial Court held that the contract was not absolute but conditional only and that the plaintiffs were not entitled to claim damages except with regard to 23 bales which the defendants in the circumstances of the case were bound to deliver to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs were accordingly awarded Rs. 2,875 as damages, but the rest of their claim was disallowed. The plaintiffs appealed:— Held, by Heaton J., confirming the decision of the trial Court, that the basis or the foundation of the contract was the anticipation common to both the parties to the contract that the Mill would supply the goods to be manufactured to the vendor and that if that anticipation was disappointed the foundation of the contract disappeared and neither party had any claim against the other for damages. Held, by Marten J., concurring, that on the true construction of the contract the vendor did not warrant the manufacture and supply by the Mill of the goods in question but that there was an implied condition that the goods were to be manufactured and supplied by the Mill; and that if that condition was not fulfilled both parties were released quoad those unmanufactured goods. Taylor v. Caldawell (1863) 3 B. & S. 826; F. A. Tamplin Steamship Company, Limited v. Anglo-Mexican Petroleum Products Company (1916) 2 A. C. 397 and Tribhovandas v. Nagindas (1919) 21 Bom. L. R. 1137, referred to. HURNANDRAI FULCHAND v. PRAGDAS BUDHSEN (1919)

CONTRACT—contd.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 907

53. ———— Anticipatory breach—Damages—Costs—High Court Original Side Rules, Ch. XXXVI, r. 93. On the defendants' repudiation of a contract to pay the plaintiff certain share in the profits on contracts, secured by him for the defendants, to supply goods, the plaintiff brought a suit for damages, before time for performance of the supply contracts had arrived: Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to sue at once but his damages were to be assessed according to the cost of performance not at the time and place of the breach, but at the time and place set for performance. Bradley v. Newson Son & Co., [1909] A. C. 16, Bilasiram v. Gubbay, I. L. R. 43 Calc. 305 referred to. "Anticipatory breach" takes effect as a premature destruction of the contract rather than a failure to perform it in its terms. Costs are allowed as incidental damages to indemnify a party against expense of successfully vindicating his rights in a Court. Only in very special or exceptional cases costs on special Scale (Scale No. 3) should be allowed. MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDI v. ASWINI KUMAR ACHARJYA

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 427

54. ———— Death of vendor before completion—Vendee put in possession of property by vendor's widow—Suit to recover possession—Vendee can plead his contract of sale and possession delivered under it. In January 1904, N, the owner of property in suit, entered into an agreement with the defendant for sale of the property and received a part of the consideration as earnest money. Before the sale deed could be executed N died, and his widow who was then a minor executed the deed in September 1904 in pursuance of the agreement of sale, and put the defendant in possession of the property on receipt of the balance of the consideration amount. Thereafter the widow adopted plaintiff who in 1915 sued to recover possession of the property, contending that the sale was invalid on account of the minority of the widow. The Court of First Instance passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff for possession on his paying within six months Rs. 1,600 to the defendant as compensation for cancellation of the sale deed. On appeal, held, reversing the decision of the lower Court and dismissing the plaintiff's suit, (1) that there was no objection to the widow putting the purchaser in possession and receiving the purchase price and thus carrying out the fiduciary obligation arising under the contract entered into by her husband; (2) that the defendant by reason of his obtaining possession under a contract of sale could successfully resist the plaintiff's suit to eject him. Bapu Apaji v. Kashinath Sadoba (1916) 41 Bom. 438, followed. LAXMANRAO v. BHAGWANSINGH (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 434

55. ———— Right to enchance rent—Expression "putni taluk" whether imports fixity of rent—Hereditary tenure whether implies fixity of rent. See Landlord and Tenant. BHUPENDRO CHANDRA SINGHA v. HARIHAR CHACKRAVARTI

24 C. W. N. 874

56. ———— Restraint of Trade—Goodwill, sale of Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 27. By a written agreement the respondent purported to buy from the appellant the goodwill of his business of plying ferry boats between certain places on a river, together with the interest which he had acquired by agreement for the use of landing-places and settlements for the collection of tolls at landing-places; and the appellant agreed that for three years he would not ply boats between the places in question. The appellant sued to recover the consideration agreed: Held, that the agreement was for the sale of the goodwill of a business within Exception 1 to s. 27 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, and therefore was not void under that section as being in restraint of trade. Judgment of the High Court reversed. CHANDRA KANTA DAS v. PARASULLAH MULLICK, (1921) . . . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1030

57. ———— Wagering contract—Criteria for determining whether a speculative contract is also a wagering contract. When persons who are in a position to carry out a contract at the time of making the contract or can reasonably be expected to be in that position when the time of performance falls due, contract to receive or deliver goods at a future date, such contracts are not necessarily wagering contracts because an element of speculation enters into them, even if the contract provides for the alternative of receiving or paying as differences instead of for actual delivery. The determination whether the parties intend to take delivery is important in arriving at a decision as to whether such contracts are or are not by way of wager, and another important essential is whether the parties are dealing with actual commodities that they are handling or expecting to handle or agreeing to settle an account according to fluctuation in prices of commodities in which they do not have and cannot expect to have any real title. SRI NEWAS v. RAM DEO

I. L. R. 43 All. 585

58. ———— Specific performance of—Contract—Agreement of sale executed on an unstamped paper—Part performance by delivery of possession of part of the property and execution of stamped but unregistered sale deed of the rest of the property—Secondary evidence of the agreement of sale not permissible—Suit for specific performance competent. The defendant agreed in writing (unstamped) to sell two of his lands and a house to the plaintiff in consideration of an adjustment of accounts between the parties. In pursuance of the agreement, the defendant handed over to the plaintiff possession of the lands, and executed a stamped but unregistered sale-deed of the house. On the plaintiff subsequently suing for specific performance, the written agreement of sale abovementioned was not forthcoming: Held, that secondary evidence of the unstamped agreement of sale was not admissible, even on payment of penalty. Raja of Bobbili v. Inuganti China Sitaramasami Garu (1899) 23 Mad. 49, followed. Held, further on the facts that the agreement of sale having been confessed and in part carried into execution, the matter had advanced beyond the stage of Contract and the equities which had arisen could not be administered unless the Contract was regarded—Specific performance was therefore decreed. HIRALAL RAMNARAYAN v. SHANKAR HIRACHAND

CONTRACT—concld.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1170

59. ——— Sale of goods—Delivery of goods to be given on arrival of a steamer—Steamer arriving without goods—Warranty that the goods were on board the steamer—Vendor liable for breach of contract. The defendant contracted to sell goods to the plaintiff under the following terms: "We have duly made a contract to give you the delivery of two tons of sodium sulphide packed in two cwt. drums of United Alkali's make shipped per S. S. City of Delhi at the rate of Rs. 50 per cwt. deliver at Bombay. In case of the steamers meeting with any accident on the way we are not bound to give you the goods, but on arrival of the aforesaid steamer we are bound to give you the delivery of the goods." The City of Delhi arrived in Bombay harbour but it did not carry the contract goods on board. The plaintiff having sued to recover damages for breach of contract. Held, allowing the suit, that the defendant by contracting that he would be bound to deliver the goods on arrival of the steamer gave a warranty that the goods which he had sold were on board the steamer but as the steamer arrived without the goods he was liable. Hale v. Rawson (1858) 4 C. B. N. S. 85, relied on. BHAILAL CHATURBHAI v. KALYANRAI VRAJRAI (1921)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1222

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872).

See EXECUTION . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 919

——— Common Carriers (including carriers by Sea) not governed by—

See BILL OF LADING.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 941

——— A Bailee for hire—Is ordinarily bound to return the article hired at the end of the period of hire but when the article is hired out for use for a certain purpose there is an implied warranty it is fit for that purpose and if there is breach of warranty the bailee is not liable to pay the hire and need take no steps to return the article to the bailor. ISUFFALLI HASSANALLY v. JEBRAHIM DAJIBHAI

I. L. R 45 Bom. 1017

——— ss. 1, 118—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s. 92—Contract for sale and purchase of piece-goods to be manufactured according to sample—Purchasers to clear goods within twenty-four hours arbitration—Power of arbitrators to award an allow-

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

unreasonable—Custom cannot vary written contract. In September and October, 1913, the defendants entered into seven contracts with the plaintiffs, referred to under the letters A to G, for the sale and delivery of piece-goods of certain specified descriptions. The contracts provided for delivery of the goods by instalments within a fixed period. As soon as the goods were ready for delivery the defendants sent a delivery order to the plaintiffs, whereupon the plaintiffs would either remove the goods from the defendants' premises or sign the delivery order acknowledging that the goods had been taken delivery of and the price debited to them, in which case the goods remained with the defendants at the risk of the plaintiffs. The goods were subsequently cleared by the plaintiffs at their convenience on payment of the price, interest thereon at 9 per cent., warehouse rent, and all other charges. A common feature of all the contracts was that the defendants had agreed not to give delivery of similar goods to other customers during the period fixed for delivery under the plaintiffs' contracts. Contract A was for the 251 bales, of which the plaintiffs took delivery of some while the contract was cancelled as regards others and 84 bales remained the subject of dispute as the plaintiffs contended that the bales were inferior in quality and were not otherwise in accordance with the contract. The dispute was referred to the arbitration of two experts in the trade nominated by the parties. During the survey of the goods both parties being represented by their respective salesmen the arbitrators were asked by the plaintiffs to award an allowance in price in the event of their holding that the goods are different in quality from the sample. The arbitrators found that there was a difference in finish, quality, width, and, in some cases, of design and colour, and they decided that the plaintiffs were entitled to an allowance of 4 annas per piece but must take delivery of the 84 bales with the allowance. The plaintiffs, however, refused to take delivery of the bales with any allowance on the ground that they were not bound to do so under their contract and that the arbitrators had, in fact, acted beyond the scope of the reference under the contract. Contracts B, C, and D covered 658 bales, of which 159 were taken delivery of by the plaintiffs who refused to take delivery of the rest on the ground that the defendants had committed a breach of delivery of, while as to 42 the contract was cancelled and the plaintiffs demanded the balance of 113 bales on payment of Rs. 7,236 being the amount due by them on an account, being taken in respect of all the seven contracts. The defendants refused to deliver the 113 bales on receipt of Rs. 7,236 but claimed Rs. 34,734-7-6, the contract price thereof. The plaintiffs thereupon filed a suit asking for delivery of 113 bales on payment of Rs. 7,236. The defendants pleaded that, with respect to 84 bales under the contrtac A, the plaintiffs were bound by the award of the arbitrators and that with respect to 499 bales under the contracts B, C, and D, the plaintiffs wrongly rejected to take delivery thereof, as the defendants had given delivery of goods to other customers by sending them delivery orders and obtaining their signatures before the period of plaintiffs' contracts begun to run. The defendants counterclaimed Rs. 2,00,230-12-0 in respect of 722 bales of which the plaintiffs failed to take delivery. The defendants subsequently amended the written statement by pleading a custom of the trade that the buyer could not reject for difference in quality provided the same was not excessive or unreasonable and could be met by an allowance in the price. Held, (i) that the custom alleged by the defendants was inconsistent with the stipulation in the contract that a certain quality of goods should be delivered in return for payment of a certain fixed price. In re North-Western Rubber Company, Limited, and Huttenbach & Co. [1908] 2 K. B. 907, followed. In re Walkers, Winser, & Hamm and Shaw, Son & Co. [1904], 2 K. B. 152, not followed; (ii) that the plaintiffs were bound by the award of the arbitrators made in pursuance of their request, and not objected to by their opponents. Re an arbitration between Green & Co. and Balfour, Williamson & Co., 63 L. T. 525, referred to; (iii) that the defendants had not committed a breach of the contracts B, C, and D as the debiting of the goods to the buyers and their signing a delivery order marked the period of delivery rendering them liable for not clearing the goods from the premises of the defendants who held as warehousemen and bailees for the buyers; and (iv) that the plaintiffs' suit should be dismissed and the defendants' counter-claim be allowed. RUTTONSI ROWJI v. THE BOMBAY UNITED SPINNING AND WEAVING CO. (1916) . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 518

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

———— s. 2

See LAND ACQUISITION.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797

———— s. 2 (a), (b)—

See COMPANIES ACT, ss. 28, 45, 61.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 557

———— s. 2, (d)—

See CONSIDERATION.

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 774

———— s. 2, (i)—There is nothing in the Contract Act (IX of 1872) to show an intention that a person not a party to the contract can sue on it. SHANKAR VISHVANATH v. UMABAI (1913) I. L. R. 37 Bom. 471

———— ss. 2 (d), 16, 25—Consideration—Loan of money, not advanced until the borrowers made themselves responsible for a previous loan to their brother—Undue influence—Inadequacy of consideration. Defendant No. 1 being under arrest on a charge of embezzlement his brothers defendants Nos. 2 and 3 approached the plaintiff for a loan in order therewith to obtain the release of defendant No. 1 on bail and to arrange for his defence. Plaintiff with whom defendant No. 1 had previous dealings refused to advance any money unless defendants Nos. 2 and 3 made a "mobalaqbundi" including a previous debt of defendant No. 1 amounting to Rs. 3,062-1, defendants Nos. 1 and 2 failing to obtain money elsewhere accepted these terms, took a loan of Rs. 1,200 and made the mobalaqbundi in the way desired: Held, that the acknowledgment of liability by the defendants Nos. 2 and 3 was a part of the consideration which they gave for the money borrowed from plaintiff; that the Rs. 1,200 advanced was good and valuable consideration for the promise or promises made by defendants Nos. 2 and 3 and there was no inadequacy of consideration within the meaning of Explanation (2) of s. 25 of the Contract Act. Urgent need of money on the part of the borrower does not of itself place the lender in a "position to dominate the will" within the meaning of s. 16 of the Contract Act. BIJOY SINGH DUDHURIA v. KUMUDI KANTA TALUKDAR (1918) . . . . 23 C. W. N. 690

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

———— ss. 2 (d) 16, 25—contd.

———— ss. 2 (d), 62—

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137

———— s. 3—

See COMPANIES ACT.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 557

———— ss. 4, 61 and 103—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 137—Stoppage in transit—Instruments of title—Railway receipts, effect of assignment of. A, from Bagalkote, consigned to B at Bombay certain consignments of bales of cotton. These consignments A entrusted to the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway at Bagalkote for conveyance to Bombay, which was effected by rail as far as Murmagoa on the lines of that Company and afterwards from Murmagoa to Bombay by sea by ships of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company. The Railway Company issued in respect of these consignments receipts which A handed over to B as the consignee of the goods in exchange for hundies for the amount of the value of the goods drawn by B in favour of A. These railway receipts contained, inter alia, the following condition:—"That the railway receipt given by the Railway Company for the articles delivered for conveyance must be delivered up at destination by the consignee to the Railway Company or the Railway may refuse to deliver and that the signature of the consignee or his agent in the delivery book at destination shall be evidence of complete delivery. If the consignee does not himself attend to take delivery he must endorse on the receipt a request for delivery to the person to whom he wishes it made and if the receipt is not produced the delivery of the goods may at the discretion of the Railway Company be withheld until the person entitled in its opinion to receive them has given an indemnity to the satisfaction of the Railway Company." While the goods were in transit and in the possession of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company, B became insolvent and some of the hundies given by him to A in respect of the goods in transit were dishonoured. A thereon purported to stop the goods and gave the Steamship Company instructions not to deliver them to B but to C. In the meantime B had borrowed monies from D and E and had transferred to D and E respectively the railway receipts for certain of these consignments as security. On the arrival of the bales at Bombay, they were claimed by D and E respectively and also by C. The Bombay Steam Navigation Company filed two suits, one against A, B and D and the other against A and E, claiming that the defendants in each suit might be restrained from taking proceedings against the plaintiff Company in relation to the bales, and that the defendants in each suit might be required to interplead together concerning their claim to the goods in question in given delivery of goods to other customers by sending them delivery orders and obtaining their signatures before the period of plaintiffs' contracts begun to run. The defendants counterclaimed Rs. 2,00,230-12-0 in respect of 722 bales of which the plaintiffs failed to take delivery. The defendants subsequently amended the written statement by pleading a custom of the trade that the buyer could not reject for difference in quality provided the same was not excessive or unreasonable and could be met by an allowance in the price. Held, (i) that the custom alleged by the defendants was inconsistent with the stipulation in the contract that a certain quality of goods should be delivered in return for payment of a certain fixed price. In re North-Western Rubber Company, Limited, and Huttenbach & Co. [1908] 2 K. B. 907, followed. In re Walkers, Winser, & Hamm and Shaw, Son & Co. [1904], 2 K. B. 152, not followed; (ii) that the plaintiffs were bound by the award of the arbitrators made in pursuance of their request, and not objected to by their opponents. Re an arbitration between Green & Co. and Balfour, Williamson & Co., 63 L. T. 525, referred to; (iii) that the defendants had not committed a breach of the contracts B, C, and D as the debiting of the goods to the buyers and their signing a delivery order marked the period of delivery rendering them liable for not clearing the goods from the premises of the defendants who held as warehousemen and bailees for the buyers; and (iv) that the plaintiffs' suit should be dismissed and the defendants' counter-claim be allowed. RUTTONSI ROWJI v. THE BOMBAY UNITED SPINNING AND WEAVING CO. (1916) . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 518

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 2

See LAND ACQUISITION.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797

——— s. 2 (a), (b)—

See COMPANIES ACT, ss. 28, 45, 61.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 557

——— s. 2, (d)—

See CONSIDERATION.

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 774

——— s. 2, (i)—There is nothing in the Contract Act (IX of 1872) to show an intention that a person not a party to the contract can sue on it. SHANKAR VISHVANATH v. UMABAI (1913) I. L. R. 37 Bom. 471

——— ss. 2 (d), 16, 25—Consideration—Loan of money, not advanced until the borrowers made themselves responsible for a previous loan to their brother—Undue influence—Inadequacy of consideration. Defendant No. 1 being under arrest on a charge of embezzlement his brothers defendants Nos. 2 and 3 approached the plaintiff for a loan in order therewith to obtain the release of defendant No. 1 on bail and to arrange for his defence. Plaintiff with whom defendant No. 1 had previous dealings refused to advance any money unless defendants Nos. 2 and 3 made a "mobalaqbundi" including a previous debt of defendant No. 1 amounting to Rs. 3,062-1, defendants Nos. 1 and 2 failing to obtain money elsewhere accepted these terms, took a loan of Rs. 1,200 and made the mobalaqbundi in the way desired: Held, that the acknowledgment of liability by the defendants Nos. 2 and 3 was a part of the consideration which they gave for the money borrowed from plaintiff; that the Rs. 1,200 advanced was good and valuable consideration for the promise or promises made by defendants Nos. 2 and 3 and there was no inadequacy of consideration within the meaning of Explanation (2) of s. 25 of the Contract Act. Urgent need of money on the part of the borrower does not of itself place the lender in a "position to dominate the will" within the meaning of s. 16 of the Contract Act. BIJOY SINGH DUDHURIA v. KUMUDI KANTA TALUKDAR (1918) . . . . . 23 C. W. N. 690

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— ss. 2 (d) 16, 25—contd.

——— ss. 2 (d), 62—

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137

——— s. 3—

See COMPANIES ACT.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 557

——— ss. 4, 61 and 103—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 137—Stoppage in transit —Instruments of title—Railway receipts, effect of assignment of. A, from Bagalkote, consigned to B at Bombay certain consignments of bales of cotton. These consignments A entrusted to the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway at Bagalkote for conveyance to Bombay, which was effected by rail as far as Murmagoa on the lines of that Company and afterwards from Murmagoa to Bombay by sea by ships of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company. The Railway Company issued in respect of these consignments receipts which A handed over to B as the consignee of the goods in exchange for hundies for the amount of the value of the goods drawn by B in favour of A. These railway receipts contained, inter alia, the following condition:—"That the railway receipt given by the Railway Company for the articles delivered for conveyance must be delivered up at destination by the consignee to the Railway Company or the Railway may refuse to deliver and that the signature of the consignee or his agent in the delivery book at destination shall be evidence of complete delivery. If the consignee does not himself attend to take delivery he must endorse on the receipt a request for delivery to the person to whom he wishes it made and if the receipt is not produced the delivery of the goods may at the discretion of the Railway Company be withheld until the person entitled in its opinion to receive them has given an indemnity to the satisfaction of the Railway Company." While the goods were in transit and in the possession of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company, B became insolvent and some of the hundies given by him to A in respect of the goods in transit were dishonoured. A thereon purported to stop the goods and gave the Steamship Company instructions not to deliver them to B but to C. In the meantime B had borrowed monies from D and E and had transferred to D and E respectively the railway receipts for certain of these consignments as security. On the arrival of the bales at Bombay, they were claimed by D and E respectively and also by C. The Bombay Steam Navigation Company filed two suits, one against A, B and D and the other against A and E, claiming that the defendants in each suit might be restrained from taking proceedings against the plaintiff Company in relation to the bales, and that the defendants in each suit might be required to interplead together concerning their claim to the goods in question in such suit. Held, that reading s. 103 of the Contract Act in conjunction with s. 137 of the Transfer of Property Act (as provided for by s. 4 of the Transfer of Property Act) railway receipts must be taken to be mercantile documents of title fulfilling one or other of the conditions specified in the explanation to s. 137 of the Transfer of Property Act, viz, proving in the ordinary course of business the possession or control of goods, or authorising or purporting to authorise either by endorsement or delivery the possessor of the document to transfer or receive the goods thereby represented, and that under the third condition of the railway receipts in question it was clear that those documents fell under the latter class. Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company v. Hanmandas Ramkison and Virji Hansraj, I. L. R. 14 Bom. 57, not followed. Simultaneously with these suits D had filed a suit against A and B to recover the monies advanced by him against the railway receipts transferred to him. Subsequently the entries in the general account of B in D's books showed that various sums were credited to B which, if the rule laid down in s. 61 of the Contract Act were applied, would extinguish that debt. Held, that the intention of D as indicated by his suit to enforce his claim against the proceeds of the bales of cotton covered by the railway receipts in question negatived the application of the rule. Held, accordingly, that D and E were respectively entitled to the benefit of s. 103 of the Contract Act as against A and, the bales having been sold, that the persons in whose hands the sale-proceeds were should hand over the net sale-proceeds to D and E, deducting any charges justly due. AMERCHAND & Co. v. RAMDAS VITHALDALS (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 255

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— ss. 4, 61 and 103—contd.

——— s. 6—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 47, 115
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 776

——— ss. 7, 8, 9—

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 42 All. 187

——— s. 9—

See s. 56—
26 C. W. N. 573

——— s. 10—

See COMPANIES ACT, ss. 28, 45, 61.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 557

See LAND ACQUISITION.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797

to himself to his minor wards in satisfaction of money which he owed to them. After the guardian's death the minors sued his heirs for possession of the property. Held, on the finding, that the transaction was bonâ fide and for the benefit of the

——— s. 11—

See MINOR . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 308

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 11—contd.

——— Minor—Sale—Minor vendee subsequently dispossessed by third party—Right of vendee to recover purchase-money from vendor. Where certain zamindari property was sold to persons who were minors at the time of sale, and the purchasers were subsequently ousted on suit by third parties, it was held that the purchasers were at any rate entitled to recover from the vendors the sum which they had paid as purchase-money. Mir Sarwarjan v. Fakhr-ud-din Mahomed Chowdhuri, L. R. 39 I. A. 1; I. L. R. 39 Calc. 232, and Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodas Ghose, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 539, distinguished. WALIDAD KHAN v. JANAK SINGH (1913)
I. L. R. 35 All. 370

——— ss. 11, 64, 65, 70— Sale by a minor—Discharge of mortgage by vendees—Sale not completed—Suit by vendees to recover consideration paid. H and R, two Hindu widows of whom R was a minor, sold a shop to the plaintiffs. Registration of the sale-deed was refused, and the vendees thereupon sued to recover Rs. 231 alleged to have been paid to certain mortgagees in discharge of a mortgage on the shop, and Rs 100 as paid in cash to the vendors, and they asked for sale of the shop. Held, that the sale being by a minor, the plaintiffs acquired no interest to support their discharge of the mortgage, and that the remaining sum of Rs 100 not having been paid for necessaries was also not recoverable. SHIAM LAL v. RAM PIARI (1909) . . . I. L. R. 32 All. 25 ——— ss. 15, 16—Threat by a stranger to a contract, to commit suicide, held out to his wife and son and inducing them to enter into contract on that account—Validity of contract—Coercion and undue influence—Suicide whether 'an act forbidden by Indian Penal Code'—'Prejudice' in s. 15, meaning of. By a threat of suicide, a Hindu induced his wife and son to execute a release deed in favour of his brother in respect of certain properties which they claimed as their own. Held by WALLIS, C.J., and SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J. (OLDFIELD, J., dissenting), that the threat of suicide amounted to coercion within s. 15 of the Indian Contract Act, and that the release deed was therefore voidable. Per WALLIS, C. J., and SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J.—Suicide is an 'act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code' and suicide by a Hindu if, actually committed, will be an act not only to his own prejudice but also 'to the prejudice' of his wife and son with s. 15. Per OLDFIELD, J.—Suicide is not 'an act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code, directly or inferentially; and hence the threat did not amount to coercion and the release was not voidable on that account. As the person who held out the threat was not a party to the release deed, it was not voidable on account of "undue influence" within s. 16 of the Indian Contract Act. AMMIRAJU v. SESHAMMA (1917) . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 33

——— ss. 15 to 18—

See HINDU LAW ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 441

——— ss. 15, 69, 70, 72, illus. (b)—

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 598

——— s. 16—(as amended by Act VI of 1899)—

See s. 2 . . 23 C. W. N. 690

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 16—(as amended by Act VI of 1899)—contd.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXIII, R. 3.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 850

See LETTERS, PATENT, Cl. 29.

2 Pat. L. J. 663

——— Interest, grounds for reduction of—Undue influence. It is not open to a Court to reduce the rate of interest in a promissory note unless the stipulation as to interest was obtained by the exercise of undue influence as defined in s. 16, Indian Contract Act (Act IX of 1872). Balkishan Das v. Madan Lal, I. L. R. 29 All. 303, dissented from. Dhanipal Das v. Raja Maneshar Bakhsh Shing, 33 I. A. 118, followed. Per THE CHIEF JUSTICE.—It was not open to the District Judge on general equitable grounds to interfere with the contract between the parties unless he was satisfied that the contract was brought about by the exercise of undue influence. Per SANKARAN NAIR, J.—Excessive interest in itself may be evidence of the fact that the debtor must have been in a very helpless condition to accept the terms imposed by the creditors. KESAVULU NAIDU v. ARITHULAI AMMAL (1913)

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 533

——— Undue influence—Onus of proving undue influence—Suit to cancel contract on ground of undue influence —Domination of will must be put in action. To treat undue influence as having been established by proof of the relations of the parties having been such that the one naturally relied upon the other for advice and the other was in a position to dominate the will of the first in giving it, is erroneous. That merely proves influence. But both by the Law of India and the Law of England more than mere influence must be established so as to render it, in the language of the law, 'undue.' It must be established that the person in a position of domination has used that domination to obtain unfair advantage for himself and so as to cause injury to the person relying upon his authority or aid. When the relation of influence as above set forth has been established, and it is also made clear that the bargain is with the person who influences the other and is in itself unconscionable then the person in a position to use the influence has a heavy burden thrown on him of proving affirmatively that no domination was practised. POOSATHURAI v. KANNAPPA CHETTIAR

I. L. R. 43 Mad. (P. C.) 546

——— ss. 16. 19—

See UNDUE INFLUENCE.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 286

——— ss. 16, 19A—Undue influence—Contract—Facts necessary to justify interference of Court on the ground of undue influence. The power of a Court to interfere with contracts alleged to be unconscionable is limited by the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, ss. 16 and 19A. The fact that an excessive rate of interest is charged in a contract is not alone sufficient to establish that the making thereof has been induced by undue influence, but the Court must also find that the lender was in a position to dominate the will of the borrower when the contract was entered into before any presumption arises that the contract was induced by undue influence. Balkishan Das

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— ss. 16, 19A—contd.

v. Madan Lal, All. Weekly Notes (1907) 55. Kirpa Ram v. Sami-ud-din Ahmad Khan, I. L. R. 25 All. 284, and Dhanipal Das v. Maneshar Baksh Singh, I. L. R. 28 All. 570, referred to. DEBI SAHAI v. GANGA SAHAI (1910)

I. L. R. 32 All. 589

——— ss. 16, 74—

See HINDU LAW (MINOR).

2 Pat. L. J. 212

See INTEREST.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 652, 690
24 C. W. N. 444

——— Interest—Stipulation for compound interest on default—Hard and unconscionable bargain—Limit of Court's powers to interfere—onus probandi —Mortgage suit—Part of property sold to third party—Purchaser not impleaded, effect of—Practice—Subordinate Courts bound to follow decisions of Patna High Court. A contract cannot be avoided by a Court merely because it considers that the rate of interest is hard and unconscionable or unusual, or that it will be ruinous to the debtor, and a debtor cannot be relieved from his obligations except by showing that he comes within s. 16 or 74 of the Contract Act, 1872. A vague suggestion without a definite finding that the lender was in a position to take advantage of the pressing needs of the borrower does not entitle the Court to reduce the rate of interest unless the Court finds that the lender used his position to take an unfair advantage over the borrower. An agreement to pay interest on a mortgage bond at 2 per cent. per mensem, with yearly rests, is not necessarily a hard and unconscionable bargain. Per MULLICK, J.—The subordinate Courts within the jurisdiction of the Patna High Court are bound to follow the decisions of that Court whether they are in conflict with the decisions of other High Courts or not. KAMLA PRASAD v. PANDEY RAM CHANDRA PRASAD NARAIN SINGH

4 Pat. L. J. 565

——— s. 18, cl. (3)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, r. 91—Stamp Act (II of 1899), s. 35—Court-sale—Discovery that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest—Failure of consideration—Suit by auction-purchaser for possession or return of purchase-money—Relations of the judgment-creditor and the auction-purchaser—Suit not cognizable by Small Causes Court—Unstamped document regarded as non-existent. A Court-sale purchaser having discovered that the judgment-debtors had no saleable interest in the property sold brought a suit against the judgment-creditor for recovery of possession of the property, or in the alternative, return of the purchase-money on the footing of total failure of consideration. A question having arisen as to whether the suit was maintainable: Held, that the suit was maintainable, inasmuch as under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) there was an implied warranty of some saleable interest when the right, title and interest of a judgment-debtor was put up for sale, and the purchaser's right based on such implied warranty to a return under certain conditions of the purchase-money which had been received by the judgment-creditor was recognized. The relations of the parties, namely, the judgment-creditor and the Court-sale purchaser were in the nature of contract. Held, further, that such a suit, though the subject-matter was less than Small ion of ument ken as VINA-

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

———— s. 18, cl. (3)—contd.

YAK GANGADHAR BHAT (1910)
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 29

———— ss. 18 and 19—

See CHUKANI RIGHT.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 28

———— s. 19—Registered deed of gift—Right of revocation not reserved by the donor—Title of the donee—Challenge by a third party having no title. Though it might be open to a donor, within the time allowed by the Law of Limitation, to attack

SHAMRAV (1911) . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 37

———— ss. 19, 19A—

See S 16 . I. L. R. 32 All. 589
See TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), s. 88.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 173

See UNDUE INFLUENCE.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 286

———— s. 20—Contract made under a mutual mistake as to the nature and extent of vendor's title—Contract to grant mining lease by Mogoli Brahmattardar at a time when Brahmattardars generally were believed to own subsoil rights—Refusal to complete contract on decisions of Court throwing doubts on the law—Suit for refund of advances—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 36. In October, 1908, the defendants, who owned a share in some Mogoli Brahmattar land, contracted to give the plaintiffs a lease the object of which was to enable the plaintiffs to work coal underground. The contract expressly provided that there should be a good title. At this time it was generally believed that the rights of the tenure-holders included mineral rights. The plaintiffs advanced some unless defendants satisfied them as to their title to the property, which, the defendants not having done, the plaintiffs sued for refund of the advances: Held, that the contract was void under s. 20 of the Indian Contract Act as having been entered into under a mutual mistake. That the contract had also been broken by the defendants by their failure to show a good title and to cure the defect therein, and the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the money advanced by them. RAM CHANDRA MISRA v. GANESH CHANDRA GANGOPADHYAY (1916)

21 C. W. N. 404

———— ss. 20 and 56—

See s. 56 . . . 26 C. W. N. 573

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

———— ss. 20 and 65—Fraudulent representation and impersonation by one of the executants of a deed—Mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement—A person fraudulently mortgaging property not his own—Mortgagee believing in good faith the mortgagor to be owner of property—Transfer of mortgage by mortgagee in favour of a third party—Deed of transfer signed by the mortgagor as a concurring party, the mortgagor again fraudulently representing to be owner—Transferor and transferee acting under the belief that the real owner concurred in the transfer—Failure of consideration—Avoidance of contract Under the will of their father, J. F. and L M. became entitled as tenants-in-common to equal moieties of a house at Mazagaon in Bombay . The third son C was given a right of residence in the house so long as he lived in harmony with his brothers and sisters. C, however, fraudulently representing himself to be his brother, L. M., purported to create a mortgag of a moiety of the said house in favour of the defendant. Subsequently the defendant in consideration of a sum of Rs. 1,770 paid to him by the plaintiff, transferred the said mortgage in favour of the plaintiff. The plaintiff having insisted that the said L. M. should be a party to the deed of transfer C fraudulently representing himself to be L. M. joined in executing the said deed as a concurring party. The plaintiff having discovered that the mortgage and the transfer deeds were not executed by L. M but by a forger in his name, sued the defendant as transferor for return of the purchase-money, as on a total failure of consideration. The trial Judge applied the maxim "caveat emptor" and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff thereupon appealed: Held, that the defendant was bound under s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act to repay the purchase-money to the plaintiff inasmuch as both parties being in the belief that the real owner had joined in the transfer were under a mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement which was, therefore, avoided under s. 20 of the Indian Contract Act. ISMAIL ALLARAKHIA v. DATTATRAYA (1916) . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 638

———— s. 21, 65 and 72—

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 631

———— s. 23—

See AGREEMENT AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY.
See BILL OF LADING.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 941
See EXPECTANCIES.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 554
See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 538
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), s. 19.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 701
See MARRIAGE . 15 C. W. N. 447
See PUTNI . . 14 C. W. N. 1031

———— Agreement to remunerate third party for using his influence to bring about settlement of civil dispute, if opposed to morality or public policy. Where A promises to remunerate C in consideration of the latter undertaking to use his influence over B so as to effect a compromise of a civil dispute between A and B' the consideration or object of the agreement is not illegal and it is enforceable. SYED MAHOMED ZAHURUL HUQ v. SHAH WAZIRUL HUQ (1911) 16 C. W. N. 480

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 23—contd.

2. ——— Criminal breach of trust, prosecution against gomastha dropped at the instance of Magistrate on accused executing mortgage bond for the amount embezzled—Compounding non-compoundable offence, if contrary to public policy. Where at the trial of a gomastha for criminal breach of trust under s. 408, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate having suggested that the matter should be settled out of Court the accused executed out of Court a mortgage bond in favour of his master for the amount embezzled, and the prosecution was dropped and the accused was acquitted or discharged, though the withdrawal of the prosecution was not mentioned in the mortgage bond as forming part of the consideration: Held, that the mortgage bond was illegal and a suit on its basis was not maintainable. Per CARNDUFF, J.—It is against public policy to compound a criminal case which is declared to be non-compoundable by the Criminal Procedure Code and an agreement to that end is wholly void in law. Williams v. Bayley, L. R., 1 H. L. 200, referred to. The circumstance that the Magistrate wrongfully suggested or sanctioned the compromise makes no difference. Collins v. Ballantern, 1 Sm. L. C., Ed. 11 at p. 369, relied on. Sheikh Nubbee Buksh v. Bibee Hingon, 8 W. R. 412, not followed. SHEIKH MAJEBAR RAHMAN v. SYED MUKTASHEB HOSSEIN (1912)

I. L. R. 49 Calc. 113
16 C. W. N. 854

3. ——— Agreement between several firms to fix rates for ginning and baling cotton and to share profits—Agreement neither in restraint of trade nor against public policy. Held, that an agreement whereby certain firms fixed the rates to be charged for ginning and baling cotton and further as to the manner in which the profit should be shared by the parties thereto, was an agreement neither in restraint of trade nor opposed to public policy. Haribhai Manek Lal v. Sharafali Isabji, I. L. R., 22 Bom. 61, and Fraser & Co. v. The Bombay Ice Manufacturing Co., I. L. R. 29 Bom. 107, followed. KUBER NATH v MAHALI RAM (1912) . . . I. L. R. 34 All. 587

4. ——— Contract between third parties for the payment of money on the failure of a marriage void as opposed to public policy. An arrangement between A and B, that B's daughter shall marry A's son and that, if she fails to do so, B shall pay a sum of money to A, is opposed to public policy and void under s. 23, Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). Venkata Kristnayya v. Lakshmi Narayana, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 184, applied. Hermann v. Charlesworth, [1905] 2 K B. 123, referred to. Purtamdas Tribhovandas v. Purshotamdas Mangaldas, I. L. R. 21 Bom. 23 explained. DEVARAYAN v. MUTTURAMAN (1914) . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 393

5. ——— Forest Act (VII of 1878)—License—Agreement to enter into partnership contravening the terms of the license—Agreement not unlawful. An agreement to share profits which would contravene the terms of the license as between the Forest Officer and the licensee is not forbidden by law, nor would it defeat the provisions of any law. Raghunath Lalman, v. Nathu Hirji Bhate, I. L. R. 19 Bom. 626, distinguished. NAZARALLI SAYAD IMAM v. BABAMIYA DUREYATIMSHA (1915)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 64

6. ——— Contract — Agreement opposed to public policy—Assignment of mortgage taken by a patwari. Held, that the taking of an assignment of a mortgage by a patwari is not a transaction opposed to public policy within the meaning of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Shiam Lal v. Chhaki Lal, I. L. R. 22 All. 220, and Sheo Narain v. Mata Prasad, I. L. R. 27 All. 73, overruled. BHAGWAN DEI v. MURARI LAL (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 51

7. ——— Contract—Agreement opposed to public policy—Purchase by a kanungo of mortgaged property. Held, that there exists no legal prohibition against a kanungo purchasing mortgaged property and suing to redeem the mortgage existing on it, nor is such a transaction opposed to public policy within the meaning of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. KAMALA DEVI v. GUR DAYAL (1916) . I. L. R. 39 All. 58

8. ——— Agreement to pay money to the vakil's clerk for giving special attention to a case, whether opposed to public policy. An agreement by which a litigant binds himself to pay his vakil's clerk a certain amount for giving special attention to his legal business which his vakil was bound to see to in consideration of his fee, is opposed to public policy and is void and unenforceable. Ex parte, Cotton 9 Beav. 107, referred to. SURYANARAYANA v. SUBBAYYA (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 471

9. ——— Public policy interpreted according to the dicta of English Judges—Contracts for the sale and purchase of gold sovereigns at bullion rates for forward deliveries—Notifications under the Defence of India Act (IV of 1915). The plaintiff, a commission agent, entered into contracts on behalf of the defendant his up-country constituent to purchase sovereigns for Vaishakh and Jeth vaidas of Samvat year 1974, i.e., May and June 1918, settlements. The defendant failing to make payment on the vaida days the plaintiff sued for damages occasioned by breach of the contracts. The defendant contended inter alia that the contracts were opposed to public policy within the meaning of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act and in support of his contention relied upon two Notifications issued under the Defence of India Act (IV of 1915). The first Notification dated 29th June 1917 and published on 9th July 1917, provided that "no person shall melt, break up or use otherwise than as currency, any current gold or silver coin." The second Notification which was subsequent to the date of breach of the contracts and issued on the 22nd August 1918 provided that "no person shall sell or purchase, or offer to sell or purchase, any coin for an amount exceeding the face value of such coin, or shall accept or offer to accept any such coin in payment of a debt or otherwise for an amount exceeding its face value." The trial Judge dismissed the plaintiff's suit holding that the trafficking in the gold currency of the country while the Great War was in progress tended to defeat and embarrass the whole scheme of the Government finance and was in its very essence opposed to public policy which in India at any rate was defined by and coincided with therefore been contrary to public policy. ...

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 23—contd.

s. 23 of the Indian Contract ... clear general head of public policy could be evolved which would justify the Court in holding them unlawful on the ground; (2) that if the case was to be decided on the Notifications the contracts must be shown to be forbidden by law and would then fall under the first head of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act and any reference to public policy would be irrelevant; (3) that the contracts were not obnoxious to the Notification of June 1917 and were untouched by the Notification of August 1918. Per HAYWARD, J.—"There was, in my opinion, no substantial justification for holding that those dicta (i.e., the English Judges on public policy) should be disregarded by Judges in India and that public policy should be interpreted under s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act as comprehending all the political policies from time to time of the Government of India" SHRINIVASDAS LAKSHMINARAYAN v. RAMCHANDRA RAMRATTANDAS (1919) . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 6

10. ——— Contract for supply of copies of a specimen picture—Copyright in the picture obtained by a firm in England—Publication of picture in India not fraudulent—Copyright at ... Copyright Act of 1862 (25 & ... 1912, the ... plaintiff ... him three ... twenty thousand copies of picture of the Coronation of Their Majesties ... was originally ... Mansell & Co., ... in the said picture. The defendant having committed a breach of contract, the plaintiff sued for damages. The defendant contended that the ... English ...

... to sue for damages for breach. The Fine Arts Copyright Act of 1862 (25 & 26, Vict. c. 68) does not extend to any part of the British Dominions outside the United Kingdom. As soon as an author, a publisher or a painter gave to the world what he had written or created, it became public property, and there was no right at Common Law before the Statute of Anne (8 Anne c. 19) which ...

Shamsul Ulama M. Zaka (1895) ... referred to. VASUDEO GANESH v. ANUPRAM HARIBHAI (1919) . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 720

... recover from agent money realized. The illegality of a contract between the principal and a stranger, under which an agent recovers money due to the principal is no bar to the principal recovering the money so realized from the agent. PALANIYAPPA CHETTIAR v. CHOCKALINGAM CHETTIAR (1921) I. L. R. 44 Mad. 334

12. ——— Contract in restraint of trade. Held, on a construction of the kabuliyat that an agreement whereby the plaintiff, in consideration of an annual rental, granted to the defendant the right to carry on a trade in hides in a particular district, but which did not contain any undertaking that the plaintiff would not grant a similar right to any one else, was not void under the Contract Act 1872, s. 23, as being against public policy. A suit for the rent reserved in a kabuliyat is governed by Article 116 of the Limitation Act 1908, and not by Article 110. K. L. Mackenzie v. Maharaja Sir Rameshuar Singh BAHADUR. . . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 37

13. ——— "Public Policy" —Anti-nuptial agreement to provide for wife's maintenance in event of dissensions between the parties. Held, that an ante-nuptial agreement entered into between the prospective wife on the one side and the prospective husband and his father on the other (the parties being Muhammadans) with the object of securing the wife against ill-treatment and of ensuring her a suitable amount ... maintenance in case such treatment was meted ... against public ... d Ayeb, I. L. R. ... MUHAMMAD MUIN- ... L. R. 43 All. 650

——— ss. 23, 65—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901), ss. 10, 20, 83. I. L. R. 39 All. 173

——— Agreement for consideration to procure appointment to a public office—Failure to fulfil promise—Suit to recover amount paid, if lies—Pari delicto, parties—Refund. Any contract to appoint one to a public office or involving the sale of a public office or securing an office for the promisor or recommending him for such office is opposed to public policy. Such contracts are void without reference to the question whether improper means are contemplated or used in their execution. Pichakutty v. Narayannappa, 2 Mad. H. C. R. 243, distinguished and doubted. Where the contract alleged was that ... Judge's Court ...

by plaintiff as aforesaid on the ... defendant had failed to perform his promise within the time stipulated: Held, that the parties in this case being clearly in pari delicto, the Court would not assist the plaintiff to recover the money. Although where money has been paid under an unlawful agreement but nothing else done in performance of it, the money may be recovered back, this exception will not be allowed if the agreement is actually criminal or immoral s. 65 of the Contract Act aptly applies only in cases of agreements which are subsequently found to be void on account of some latent defect or of circumstances unknown at the date of the agreemenor of an agreement which is afterwards made void by circumstances which supervene. LEDU COACHMAN v. HIRALAL BOSE (1915)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 23, 65—contd.

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 115
19 C. W. N. 919

———Marriage brocage agreement—Money paid under, when recoverable—Principle of English Law, applicability of—Transfer, ostensible or real, whether a proper test. A marriage brocage agreement is unlawful and void ab initio and brokerage paid thereunder is recoverable if the agreement or substantial part of it is not performed. Such an agreement does not fall within s. 65 of the Contract Act and the rule to be applied is the rule of English Law. Taylor v. Bowers, 1 Q. B. D. 291, Kearley v. Thomson, 24 Q. B. D. 742 ; Barclay v. Pearson, [1893] 2 Ch. 154, and Petherperumal Chetty v. Muniandy Servai, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 551, referred to. Ledu Coachman v. Hiralal Bose, I. L. R. 43 Calc. 115, dissented from. The rule applies whether the transfer of the property under the agreement was merely ostensible or real. In re Great Berlin Steamboat Company, 26 Ch. D. 616, followed. SRINIVASA v. SESHA (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 197

——— s. 24—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 11 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 614
See CONTRACT . 3 Pat. L. J. 412

——— Contract void—Consideration unlawful—Agreement to stifle criminal prosecution—Agreement against public policy. The plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract whereby the defendant's husband had agreed to convey certain land to her (plaintiff) for Rs. 150 subject to the condition that in the event of a criminal prosecution for criminal breach of trust instituted by the plaintiff against the said intending vendor not being withdrawn, the contract was not to be enforced. The defendants contended that the contract was void as being opposed to public policy. Held, dismissing the suit, that the contract could not be enforced as part of the consideration was void on the ground of being opposed to public policy. BANI RAMCHANDRA v. JAYAWANTI GOVIND (1918) . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 339

——— s. 25—

See HATCHITTA. I. L. R. 46 Calc. 746

See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY).
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 263

——— to pay time barred debt—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 19.
6 Pat. L. J. 121

——— Public policy—Agreement for future separation between husband and wife—Mahomedan law—Agreements void. An agreement for future separation arrived at between husband and wife (who are Mahomedans) is void as being against public policy under s. 25 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). Meherally v. Sakerkhanoobai, I. L. R. 7 Bom. L. R. 602, followed. BAI FATMA v. ALIMAHOMED AIYEB (1912)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 280

———"Debt," meaning of. A promise to pay the amount which may be found due by an arbitrator on taking accounts between the parties is not a promise to pay a "debt" within the meaning of s. 25 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), the amount not being a liquidated sum. The decision of SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR, J., in Sabju Sahib v. Noordin Sahib, I. L. R 22 Mad. 139, 143, followed. DORAISAMI PADAYACHI v. VAITHILINGA PADAYACHI (1916)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 25—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 31

——— Agreement partly void—partly enforceable, but indivisible. The defendant executed an agreement in favour of the plaintiff (who was his brother and for some time had managed his properties) to this effect: "I have been very much benefited by the works done by you and there is possibility of more good being done by you in future. In consideration of these benefits I actuated by my sense of duty, promise to grant you for your enjoyment a life-long annuity of Rs. 150": Held, that the agreement so far as it related to past services was enforceable and void as regards future services but the agreement being one and indivisible and it being impossible to apportion the promised reward between the past and the future the whole agreement was void. BASANTO KUMAR CHOUDHURY v. MADAN MOHAN CHOUDHURY (1918) . 23 C. W. N. 639

———Time Barred debt—Not necessary that the agreement should in terms refer to the barred debt. A promissory note purported to be executed for cash received, but the real consideration was proved to be a debt, the recovery of which was barred by Statute of Limitations: Held, that the promissory note was a contract enforceable under s. 25, cl. (3) of the Indian Contract Act. A party to a contract may prove that the actual consideration was something different from that recited in the document and effect must be given to the real consideration. A contract falling within s. 25, cl. (3) of the Indian Contract Act is no exception to this rule. The agreement will be enforced if the real consideration is shown to be a barred debt, though no reference is made in the document to such debt. Appa Rao v. Suryaprakasa Rao, I. L. R. 23 Mad. 94, considered. Vasudeva v. Narasimma, I. L. R. 5 Mad. 6, 8, referred to. Kumara v. Srinivasa, I. L. R. MOODELLY v. MUNISAWMI MOODELLY (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 159

———Debt barred, promise to pay—Conditional promise—Suit to recover debt if lies. Acknowledgment of a barred debt cannot give a fresh start to limitation in favour of the creditor. Under cl. (3) of s. 25 of the Contract Act a barred debt is considered a good consideration for a promise to pay, the new promise furnishing the measure of the creditor's right; the whole of the promise whether free or clogged with a condition gives the cause of action. Where A and B entered into an agreement of partnership wherein it was, inter alia, provided that 6 annas out of the profits of the business in the share of A would go toward liquidating a previous debt of Rs. 600 due by A to B, which had become time-barred at the date of the agreement: Held, that B could not recover the debt except in the manner provided in the agreement. BINDAE DASYA CHUTIANI v. CHOTA (1912) . . . 16 C. W. N. 636

——— s. 26—

See CUSTOM (MARRIAGE).
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 574

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 26—contd.

——— Kabinnamah—Autho-

him in the event of his marrying a second wife is not void under s. 26 of the Contract Act. It is lawful for a Mahomedan husband to delegate to his wife power to divorce on certain conditions and the husband marrying a second wife is such a condition. Badarannissa v. Mafiatala, 7 B. L. R. 442, and Ayatunnessa v. Karam Ali, 12 C. W. N. 907, referred to MAHARAM ALI v. AYESA KHATUM (1915) . . . . 19 C. W. N. 1622

——— s. 27—

See s. 23 . I. L. R. 34 All. 587
I. L. R. 34 All. 587
1 Pat. L. J. 37

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1030

——— Agreement in restraint of trade—Mutual agreement between two neighbouring landowners not to hold cattle markets on the same day. Held, that an agreement entered into by an owner of land with the owner of adjoining land, to the effect that a market for the sale of cattle should not be held on the same day on the lands of both of them, is not an agreement to which the principle of s. 27 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, applies. POTHI RAM v. ISLAM FATIMA (1915)
I. L. R. 37 All. 212

——— Agreement in restraint of trade—Sale of goodwill with undertaking to abstain from business for a term—Goodwill, what is—Buying off a newly-started rival business, if purchase of goodwill—Agreement not divisible, wholly void—Compensation. Defendant had been carrying on business as a carrier of passenger by boats between certain terminal stations calling en route at certain intermediate stations. Plaintiff started a rival business and having secured the terminal ghats could embark and re-embark passengers at more central points. After running it for a few months during which he did not acquire a name for punctuality, safety, or convenience, he was bought off by defendant by an agreement by which for a consideration to be paid by defendant he purported to transfer his leases of ghats and his "goodwill" and bound himself not to exercise the business for a period of three years Held, that plaintiff had no "goodwill" to transfer and the word "goodwill" was introduced into the agreement only to circumvent the provision of s. 27 of the Contract Act, which the undertaking to abstain from carrying on boat business for three years contravened. The provision of s. 27 making agreements in restraint of trade not permitted by the exceptions to that section "to that extent" void implies that, if the agreement can be broken up into parts, it will be valid in respect of those parts

Act, defendant should be made to compensate the plaintiff for the advantages he had received under it. PARASULLAH MULLIK v. CHANDRA KANTO DAS (1917) . 21 C. W. N. 979

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 27—contd.

——— Rival businesses in plying ferry boats—Sale of goodwill of one to the owner of the other—Agreement not to start similar business by vendor, if in restraint of trade. The res[illegible]
The
an bett
for purported to sell to the respondent the goodwill of his trade in plying the ferry boats and every description of interest and ownership which the appellant had acquired in the several landing places as well as settlements obtained for the collection of tolls By a separate document the appellant undertook to close the business of plying the particular ferry boats and that if he ever carried on the business again he would return the whole amount of consideration. Held, that and INLAND REVENUE COMMISSIONER v. MULLER (3) and as used in the same sense in s. 27 of the Contract Act. CHANDRA KANTA DASS v. PARASULLAH MULLICK . . L. R. 48 I. A. 508

26 C. W. N. 345

——— s. 28—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 3—Insurance—Agreement in restraint of legal proceedings—Modification of the law of limitation by agreement of the parties—Rights and remedies, distinction between—Conditional release or forfeiture not invalid The S Insurance Co. granted a policy of insurance against fire to the B Co. on certain property of the latter, the policy containing a clause to the effect that if a claim were made and rejected and an action or suit were not commenced within three months after such rejection, all benefit under the policy should be forfeited. Damage was caused to the property of the B. Co. thus insured and a claim was made by that company of the S. Insurance Co which was rejected by the latter. More than three months after such rejection the B. Co. filed a suit against the S. Insurance Co. to recover the amount of their claim. Held, that there is a distinction between the extinction of a right and the loss of a remedy, that s. 28 of the Contract Act was aimed only at of action a covenant not to sue had sometimes been held equivalent in effect to a conditional release, and that the condition of forfeiture in the policy in question in the suit was not within the scope of s. 28 of the Contract Act. The correctness of the decision in Hirabhai v. Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., 14 Bom. L. R. 741, doubted. Per BATCHELOR, J.—As I understand the matter, what the plaintiff was forbidden to do was to limit the time within which he was to enforce his rights; what he has done is to limit the time within which he is to have any rights to enforce; and that

——— s. 30—

See PAKKA ADATIA.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 242

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 30—contd.

See WAGERING . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 264

See WAGERING CONTRACTS.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 373

———Contract collateral to a wagering contract not unenforceable. Where an agent has incurred losses on behalf of his principal he is not disentitled to recover as against the principal by reason of the contract in respect of which such losses were incurred being a wagering contract. Shibbo Mal v. Lachman Das, I. L. R. 23 All. 165, followed. Thacker v. Hardy, I. L. R. 4 Q. B. D. 685, referred to. JAGAT NARAIN v. SRI KISHAN DAS (1910) I. L. R. 33 All. 219

———Wagering contract—Purchase of grain pit through agent—Intention of parties. The plaintiffs, who were commission agents, purchased for the defendants at their request a grain pit. The defendants, however, did not pay the price agreed upon and the plaintiffs resold the pit at a loss. They then sued the defendants to recover the loss on the resale of the pit and their commission. Held, that whether or not it might have been the intention of the parties that the grain pit should be resold as it was, the defendants making a profit or bearing a loss on the transaction, the transaction between the parties was not a wagering contract within the meaning of s. 30 of the Contract Act. Forget v. Ostigny, [1895] A. C. 318, and Jagat Narayan v. Sri Kishan Das, I. L. R. 33 All. 219, followed. BISHESHAR DAYAL v. JWALA PRASAD (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 426

———Bombay Act III of 1865, s. 1—Lottery—Sanction of Government of India—Effect of sanction to save criminal prosecution—Sanction cannot override Imperial Acts or Acts of Indian Legislature defining civil law—Contract to purchase a ticket in a lottery though sanctioned by Government is void—Injunction cannot be granted in support of a void contract—Motion—Costs. In April 1917, the Western India Turf Club organised a War Loan Lottery having previously obtained the sanction of the Government of India for such undertaking as a special case. The tickets in the said lottery from No. 1 onwards were offered to the public at Rs. 10 each. The plaintiff being desirous of securing a particular ticket bearing the number 15315 purchased the same through one of the agents of the Club, who had the disposal of such ticket. A receipt for Rs. 10 was passed to the plaintiff in which the number of the ticket was entered. As the book containing the ticket had not been sold to that number the agent of the Club agreed actually to hand over the ticket itself when he got to the particular number in the book. Through some mistake the book containing the particular ticket was sent to Calcutta where it was issued and delivered to defendant No. 3. The plaintiff insisting on having the ticket purchased by him applied to the Club for its delivery to him. The club thereupon, decided to withdraw the ticket 15315 altogether, to return the plaintiff's money paid in respect of that ticket and to issue a new ticket 15315 A to the 3rd defendant. The 3rd defendant altered the number of the ticket to 15315 A but the plaintiff declined to abide by this arrangement. The plaintiff then sued the Club and 3rd defendant for an injunction and order restraining the 1st defendant, the Secretary of the Club, and 2nd defendant, a member of the Club, on behalf of himself and all other members of the Club from withdrawing ticket No. 15315 from the lottery and from paying the amount of any prize drawn by that ticket or any other ticket substituted in place thereof to the 3rd defendant. Held, (i) that the effect of the sanction of the Government of India being merely to save any prosecution under the criminal law, so far as the civil law was concerned, the Government had no power to overrule the Imperial Acts or the Acts of the Indian Legislature which determined the rights of parties; (ii) that having regard to the first portion of s. 30 of the Indian Contract Act which provided "that agreements by way of wager are void" the contract in question was an agreement by way of wager and was consequently void; (iii) that the contract sued on was also one of the character mentioned in the first portion of s. 1 of Bombay Act III of 1865 and was, therefore, null and void; (iv) that no injunction could be granted in support of a void contract. DORABJI JAMSETJI TATA v. EDWARD F. LANCE (1917)

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 676

——— ss. 30 and 57—Intention of the parties—Payment of differences—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 57. There is no authority for the proposition that, because under the terms of a contract an obligation to pay or receive differences may arise on the happening of a particular event, the contract is void as a wager if that event does not happen. Such a result would be inconsistent with the principle underlying s. 57 of the Contract Act. JOSHI NARBADASHANKAR v. MATHURADAS (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 519

——— ss. 30 and 65—Money advanced on account of satta transactions not recoverable. Held, that no suit will lie for the recovery of money deposited with another on account of satta transactions. Dayabha Tribhovandas v. Lakhmichand Panachand, I. L. R., 9 Bom. 358, followed. CHHANGA MAL v. SHEO PRASAD

I. L. R. 42 All. 449

——— ss. 32, 34, 56 and 65—Guarantee—Contract, construction of—Whether contingent or unconditional agreement—Inadmissibility of evidence of what took place after the execution of the contract on question of its construction. The question for determination in this appeal was the construction of the following letter dated 7th August 1909, which was signed by the defendant, and given to the plaintiffs as security for the repayment of the loan of Rs. 1½ lakhs mentioned therein. "In consideration of your having at my request acceded to the proposal of the Secretaries, Treasurers and Agents of the Tricumdas Mills Company, Limited, to advance to the Mills Rs. 1½ lakhs, I hereby bind myself to procure a loan within two weeks of Rs. 11 lakhs on the first mortgage of the Mills' block property, and to pay you thereout the said sum of Rs. 1½ lakhs agreed to be advanced by you to the Mills." In a suit for damages for breach of the contract contained in the letter the Courts in India held in favour of the defendant that "all he had undertaken to do was to procure the lending of Rs. 11 lakhs if a first mortgage of the Mills was given, and to pay thereout Rs. 1½ lakhs to the plaintiffs." Held (reversing that decision), that on its true construction the document amounted to a substantial undertaking by the defendant

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 32, 34, 56 and 65—contd.

that a loan of Rs. 11 lakhs should be procured, and that out of that loan the sum of Rs. 1¼ lakhs should be repaid to the plaintiffs. Semble: Evidence of what took place after the execution of the document was not admissible on the question of its construction. VISSANJI SONS & CO. v. SHAPURJI BURJORJI (1912) . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 387

——— s. 37—

See DAMDUPAT, RULE OF.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 826

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 54 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 462

——— ss. 38, 54—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XXIII, R 3
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 959

——— s. 38—

See MORTGAGE . 5 Pat. L. J. 376

——— s. 39—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE.
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 203

See MORTGAGE . . 2 Pat. L J. 168

——— Contract—Mortgage—Part of consideration unpaid —Effect of such non- mortgage has not been paid, neither renders the mortgage invalid nor entitles the mortgagor to rescind it at his option. Gokal Chand v. Rahman, Punj. Rec. 1907, 274, dissented from. Tatia v. Babaji, I. L. R. 22 Bom. 176, Subba Rau v. Devu Shetti, I. L. R. 18 Mad. 126, Bajrangi Sahai v. Udit Narain Singh, 10 C. W. N. 932, and Baij Nath Singh v Paltu, All. Weekly Notes, 1908, 38, referred to. RASHIK LAL v. RAM NARAIN (1912)

I. L. R. 34 All. 273

——— ss 39, 55, 63 and 73—Breach of con-

expiry, in the absence of an agreement between the parties to extend the time for performance. The measure of damages in such a case is the difference between the contract rate and the market rate at the expiry of the period agreed upon as the time for delivery in the contract. Per WHITE, C.J.—S. 63 of the Contract Act does not entitle a promisee for his own purposes and without the consent of the promisor to extend the time for performance which had been agreed to by the parties to the contract. Nor does s 55 enable him to keep alive a broken contract in the hope of being able to recover heavier damages for its breach. Ogle v. Earl Vane, L. R. 2 Q. B. 275, 284, and Ashmore & Co. v. Cox & Co., [1899] sions on the part of the promisee advantageous to the promisor, and cannot be invoked to support an extension of time by the promisee for his own benefit. S. 55 read with s 2 (i) means nothing more than this: on the promissor's failure to perform within the contract time, the promissor loses the power to enforce the contract, that is, to claim any advantage due to himself thereunder. The promisee has the option of enforcing it or not as it may suit him, and if he elects to enforce the contract he can, under s. 73, obtain only such damages as naturally arose in the usual course of things from the breach or the parties knew, when they made the contract, to be likely to result, which cannot include any aggravation of damages caused by the promisee's action or inaction subsequent to the breach. MUTTHAYA MANIAGARAN v. LEKKU REDDIAR (1914)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

——— s. 39, 55, 63 and 73—contd.

I. L. R. 37 Mad. 412

——— ss. 39, 55, 64, 65, 73, 74 and 75—Vendor and Purchaser—Right to recover deposit 'forfeited' by terms of a contract to sell A entered into a contract on 24th February 1903 with B for the purchase of lands belonging to the latter for Rs. 41,000 Of this amount Rs 4,000 was paid in advance, Rs. 20,000 was agreed to be paid by means of a mortgage and the balance before the 24th May 1903, when the conveyance was to be executed. The contract provided that the Rs. 4,000 was to be forfeited if there was any delay on the part of the purchaser. It was also stipulated that the vendor was to execute the conveyance either in favour of the purchaser or those nominated by him. In part performance of this contract a sale of a portion of the lands was effected in favour of M on the 28th March 1903 Just before the day for payment, B gave notice to A that if the sale was not completed on or before the agreed date, the contract would be avoided. A failed to perform the contract before that date. Subsequently B sold the lands to third parties and realised Rs 1,500 in excess of the price stipulated by A. A brought a suit for the specific performance of the contract, or, in the alternative to recover the Rs 4,000 paid by him. The Subordinate Judge disallowed the claim for specific performance but decreed the return of the deposit of Rs 4,000 to A B appealed. Held, by the Court (SADASIVA AYYAR, J., dissenting), that A, the plaintiff, was not entitled to a return of the deposit. Neither s. 64 nor s 74 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) is applicable to such a deposit, and a stipulation for its forfeiture in case of breach is not one by way of penalty. The law of India on this subject does not differ from the English law. A stipulation to forfeit 10 per cent. of the consideration in case of breach is neither unreasonable nor extraordinary. A vendor can be given relief by way of rescission of contract and at the same time, in the absence of express stipulation to the contrary, may be allowed to retain the deposit. Howe v. Smith, L. R. 27 Ch D. 89, applied Per WHITE, C. J —(i) The last rule would apply a fortiori, when, as in this case, there is an express agreement to forfeit the deposit. (ii) Since the Judicature Acts, the question whether time is of the essence of the contract, must be governed by rules of equity, and purchaser is entitled in such cases, as here, to fulfil his contract within a reasonable time after the agreed date. Per MILLER, J.—(i) Time was of the essence of the contract in this case. (ii) The agreement to forfeit is not wanting in consideration as the deposit is not made as part payment but as security for the purpose of binding the bargain. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J.—A was entitled to recover the deposit under the Indian Contract Act which is exhaustive as regards the law of Vendor and Purchaser and the English law is not applicable. A stipulation to forfeit a deposit is a stipulation to pay a penalty. Time was of the essence of the contract in this case. NATESA AIYAR v. APPAVU PADAYACHI (1913)

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

———— ss. 39, 55, 64, 65, 73, 74 and 75—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 178

———— ss. 39, 73, 120—Suit for price of goods bargained and sold—Cause of action—Indian Contract Act has not altered the law relating to recovery of debts and liquidated demands—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 128. Before the passing of the Indian Contract Act wherever a consideration was executed for which a debt payable at the time of action had accrued due either under an express promise or under one implied by law the debt might be sued for in an indebitatus count; thus the count lay where the consideration moving from the seller of goods was executed by his providing goods and only the money debt due by the buyer remained. The form of count in such a case both in England and in Bombay would have been for money payable by the defendant to the plaintiffs for goods bargained and sold by the plaintiffs to the defendant. The cause of action was said to sound in debt and not in damages. In s. 128 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 there is legislative recognition that such suits as were maintainable in respect of debts at the time of the Common Law Procedure Act, 1852, are still maintainable in British India. The Indian Contract Act has not altered the law relating to the recovery of debts and liquidated demands. The fact that a party to a contract may under s. 39 of the Indian Contract Act, when the other side has refused to perform it, put an end to it and sue for compensation for the breach, does not oblige him to take that course at his peril; he may if he prefers to sue to recover any debt due to him which has arisen from his execution of his part of the contract. Per BATCHELOR, J.—S. 73 of the Indian Contract Act prescribes the method of assessing the compensation due to a plaintiff suing upon a breach of contract, but it does not affect to extinguish or to limit a plaintiff's right to recover a determined sum due to him upon a contract which he for his part keeps on foot. If that is so, the mere absence from the Act of a specific provision giving the remedy of a suit to recover the price cannot be construed as the distinct legislative withdrawal of that remedy. P. R. & Co. v. BHAGWANDAS (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 192

———— s. 41—

See MORTGAGE. . I. L. R. 39 All. 178

———— ss. 41 and 47—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 ss. 41 & 34 . . . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 682

———— s. 43—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 43. I. L. R. 33 Mad. 317

See CO-SHARER . 15 C. W. N. 332

See LANDLORD AND TENANT. I. L. R. 34 All. 604

———— ss. 43, 68, 69, 70, 72, 146, 222—

See CONTRIBUTION . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

———— s. 44—

See JOINT JUDGMENT-DEBTORS. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 548

———— ss. 44. 74—

See PENALTY . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 162

———— s. 45—Partnership—Suit by surviving members to recover debt due to firm—Representatives of deceased members not necessary parties to suit. Held, that the representatives of a deceased partner are not necessary parties to a suit for recovery of a debt which accrued due during the lifetime of the deceased partner. Held, also, that s. 45 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to a suit to recover a debt due to a partnership firm. Gobind Prasad v. Chandra Sekhar, All. Weekly Notes (1887) 133. Motilal Bechardass v. Ghellabhai Hariram, I. L. R. 17 Bom. 6 and Debi Das v. Narpat, I. L. R. 20 All. 365, followed. UGAR SEN v. LAKHMI CHAND (1910) . . . I. L. R. 32 All. 638

———— s. 47—Sale and purchase of cotton goods —Forward contract, March delivery—Contract not to be cancelled on any account—Contract governed by the Rules of the Bombay Trade Association—Rule 17 of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association—Vendor bound to tender goods without demand from the purchaser—Railway receipt not a delivery order—Vendor committing a breach cannot sue for damages—Vendor not mulcted in costs, breach being technical. By a contract, dated the 25th January 1914, the defendant agreed to purchase from the plaintiff 200 bales of cotton—March delivery, between the 15th and 25th. The contract was expressed to be, in all details, governed by the Rules of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association, subject to the exception that it was not to be cancelled on any account. Under Rule 17 of the Rules of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association, the vendor was bound to tender a delivery order backed by the goods before 1 P.M., of due date. In the event of his failure to do so, the buyer had three courses open to him: (i) to cancel the contract; (ii) to buy at seller's risk; (iii) to close at the room-rate of the day. On the 19th March 1914, the plaintiff handed over to the defendant a railway receipt for 100 bales. On the 25th March 1914, the defendant applied to the railway authorities for delivery of the goods, and failing to get the same returned the railway receipt the next day to the plaintiff informing him that by reason of non-performance on the plaintiff's part, the contract had been cancelled by the defendant. The plaintiff, relying upon the clause of the contract precluding either party from cancelling the same in any event, claimed the sum of Rs. 2,279-13-0, the difference between the contract price and the market price in respect of 100 bales. The plaintiff further contended that giving a railway receipt was tantamount to giving possession of the goods, and that inasmuch as the defendant had accepted the railway receipt and did not notify the plaintiff that the goods had not come to hand before due date, he was estopped from pleading that the plaintiff had not made a sufficient tender under Rule 17 of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association. Held, (i) that it was the plaintiff's duty to satisfy himself that the goods covered by the receipt had actually arrived before due date, and that, if he failed to do so, he would not be absolved from the obligation of tendering the delivery order backed by the goods according to the contract; (ii) the plaintiff having shown himself to be in the breach could not approach the

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 56—contd.

GURMUKHRAI (1915) . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 517

——— s. 54—

See O. XXIII, R. 3.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 959

——— s. 55—

See s. 39 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 412

See SALE OF LAND.

———When time may be considered of the essence of a contract—Where intention to make time of essence of contract is not specifically expressed in unmistakable terms—Rule of equity to disregard letter of contract, and take contract substantially as meaning completion of it within reasonable time—What takes place prior to signing of contract but nothing that takes place afterwards, to be looked at in judging of intention. By an agree-agreement, and it was agreed that the title was have been registered; and there was a clause to the effect that if the purchaser did not pay the amount of the purchase-money within the fixed period he should forfeit his right to the earnest-monies and the vendor should be at liberty to resell the property. On 3rd October 1911 requisitions as to title were made by the appellant. The respondent did not comply with the requisitions, but on 6th October he asserted a right to put an end to the contract on the ground that time was of its essence, and claimed to be entitled to the deposit of Rs. 4,000 as the appellant had failed to complete his purchase within the time fixed In a suit for specific performance: Held (reversing the appellate judgment of the High Court), that time was not of the essence of the contract. S. 55 of the Contract Act (IX of 1871) did not lay down any principle which differed from those that obtained as regards contracts for the sale of land by which equity in such a case looks, not at the letter, but at the substance of the agreement in order to ascertain whether the parties notwithstanding that they named a specific time within which completion was to take place, really intended no more than that it should take place within a reasonable time Lennon v. Napper, 2 Sch. & Lef. 682 Roberts v. Berry, 3 DeG. M. & G. 284, 289, Tilley v. Thomas, L. R. 3 Ch. 61, and Stickney v. Keeble, [1915] A. C. 386, referred to as laying down the doctrine adopted by, and embodied in s. 55 in reference to sales of land. The special jurisdiction of equity to expressed stipulation that time is intended to be of the essence of the contract. Equity will also infer an intention that time should be of the plation of equity be affected by what takes place after it has once been entered into. Held, therefore, that there was nothing in the language of the agreement or the subject-matter to displace the presumption that for the purpose of specific performance time was not of the essence of the bargain. The subject-matter or the character of the leasehold were not such as to take the case out of the class to which the principle of equity applies. The appellant did not bind himself, by his correspondence subsequent to the agreement, to a new agreement that time, if it was not originally of the essence, should be made so. As to the language of the agreement itself their Lordships agreed with the view of the Trial Judge that there was nothing said in it sufficient to exclude the equitable canon of interpretation; and with his conclusion that the defendant had no justification in claiming in the circumstances to treat time as of the essence JAMSHED KHODARAM v. BURJORJI DHUNJIBHAI (1915) . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 289 ———Contract, when time of the essence of—Contract for the assignment of leasehold property, effect of the insertion of a definite date for completion and payment of the purchase-money with conditions as to forfeiture of the earnest-money and liberty for the vendor to re-sell—Certificate of lessor that conditions of lease have been complied with not necessary C agreed to sell to I his interest in a property, held on lease from the Secretary of State for India, on certain conditions as to improvement for cultivation, etc., and as to not assigning or underletting the lands until these conditions had been carried out without the consent in writing of the Collector of Thana, for Rs. 85,000, of which Rs. 4,000 was paid on the execution of the agreement and it was agreed that Rs 80,500 should be paid on the signing of the conveyance, which was to be prepared and received within 2 months from the date of the agreement, and Rs. 500 on the transfer of the land after the conveyance should have been registered. It was further provided that the agreement time was of the essence of the contract. Held, further, that I could not insist on C

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

——— s. 55—contd.

(1913) . . . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 77

———Contract for sale of land and machineries—Test as to time being of the essence of the contract—Unnecessary delay of purchaser causing forfeiture of right to specific performance. The Defendant entered into an agreement withthe Plaintiff for the sale of certain land and machineries, wherein it was stipulated that the purchase was to be completed within the time and in the manner stated in the agreement and on failure thereof the vendor would be at liberty to cancel the agreement, forfeit the earnest-money and claim damages or specific performance of the contract: Held, that it is well-settled that the mere fact that a date has been mentioned for the performance of the agreement does not conclusively prove that time was intended to be of the essence of the contract. The Court has to determine whether from an express promise to that effect or because such a promise is implied from a consideration of the real intention of the parties inferred from the nature of the contract, time was to be deemed of the essence of the contract. That an intention to treat time as essential in the case could not be inferred from the provision in the agreement regarding the vendor's liberty to cancel the agreement and forfeit the earnest-money in case of default on the part of the purchaser, nor from the nature of the contract which was for the sale of land directly for the purpose of trade and commerce. It is well-settled that although in a contract for the sale of land the time fixed for completion is not initially of the essence of the contract either party may be guilty of such unnecessary delay as entitled the other to serve upon him a notice limiting a time at the expiration of which he will treat the contract as at an end. The reasonableness of the time so limited is determined by the Court with reference to not merely what remains to be done at the date of the notice but all the circumstances of the case including the previous delay of the party in default and the attitude of the other side in relation to it. That in the circumstances of the case there was no unnecessary delay on the part of the purchaser and at the date of the institution of the suit the contract was specifically enforceable. MAHADEO PROSAD AGARWALA v. NARAIN CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI . . . 24 C. W. N. 330 —————— Sale of goods—Failure to deliver at agreed time—Extension of time—Failure to deliver within extended time—Damages—Loss of profit. When after the seller of goods has failed to deliver them at the agreed time the buyer has agreed to an extension of time for delivery, the effect of section 55 of the Indian Contract Act is that the buyer is entitled to damages computed in the ordinary way if the seller fails to deliver within the extended time. The promise for the non-performance of which the third paragraph of s. 55 provides that compensation cannot be claimed is the promise to deliver at the time originally agreed. Where the measure of damages for a failure to deliver is the loss of the profit which the buyer would have made from delivering the goods under a contract of sale which he has made, it is not material that the buyer by delivering under that contract other goods which he has in stock has made as much profit as he would have made if there had been no failure to deliver to him. Judgment of the High Court affirmed. MUHAMMAD HABIB-ULLAH v. BIRD AND COMPANY

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd.

—————— s. 55—contd.

I. L. R. 43 All. 257

—————— Joint creditors, discharge by one, effect of—Waiver of time clause in compromise. One joint creditor can give a valid receipt to a debtor in full discharge of the claims of himself and of the other joint creditors. Where the plaintiffs, in a suit on a mortgage bond on which Rs. 997-11-0 was due, agreed to accept Rs. 400 in full discharge of the debt if paid within 8 days, and the defendants failed to comply with this condition, but paid Rs. 360 on the 15th day after the compromise, and one of the plaintiffs accepted this sum and gave the defendants a receipt therefor : Held (in a suit to recover the full amount due on the mortgage), that the plaintiffs, by acceptance of the Rs. 360 tendered by the defendants, must be taken to have waived the condition in the compromise, and that they were entitled to recover only the unpaid amount due under the compromise, namely, Rs. 40. PARBHU RAM PANDEY v. MUSSAMMAT JHALO KUER . . 2 Pat. L. J. 520

—————— ss. 55, 64, 73, 74—Right of party to recover deposit, forfeited by terms of contract—A entered into a contract with B for the purchase of lands belonging to the latter for Rs. 41,000. Of this amount Rs. 4,000 was paid in advance, Rs. 20,000 was agreed to be paid by means of a mortgage and the balance before the 24th May when the conveyance was to be executed. The contract provided that the Rs. 4,000 was to be forfeited if there was any delay on the part of the vendee. It was also stipulated that the vendor was to execute the conveyance either in favour of the purchaser or those nominated by him. In part performance of this contract a sale of a portion of the lands was effected in favour of M on the 28th March. Just before the day of payment B gave notice to A that if the sale was not completed on or before the agreed date, the contract would be avoided. A failed to perform the contract before that date. Subsequently B sold the lands to third parties and realised Rs. 1,500 in excess of the price stipulated by A. A brought a suit for specific performance of the contract or, in the alternative, to recover the Rs. 4,000 paid by him. The Subordinate Judge disallowed the claim for specific performance but decreed the return of the deposit of Rs. 4,000 to A. On appeal by B against this decree: Held, per WALLIS J., that A was not entitled to a return of the deposit. Time was of the essence of the contract and B was justified in avoiding it under s. 55 of the Indian Contract Act. A was not therefore entitled to specific performance or to damages. A deposit is primarily a security or guarantee for the performance of the contract. The provisions of s. 64 of the Contract Act requiring a party who avoids a contract to restore any benefit derived thereunder do not extend to such deposits. Ss. 73 and 74 of the Act do not apply to such cases. The distinction drawn by Courts of Equity between stipulation for liquidated damages and those for penalty have no bearing on such cases. A stipulation for forfeiture of deposit is not a stipulation for a penalty and it is not agreed upon as liquidated damages, though it goes in reduction of damages. Manian Patter v. The Madras Railway Co., I. L. R. 29 Mad. 118, referred to. Srinivasa v. Rathnasabapaty, I. L. R. 16 Mad. 474, referred to. Per SANKARAN NAIR, J.—A was entitled to a return of the deposit. To entitle a vendor to retain the deposit, there must be acts by the purchaser which not only amount to delay sufficient to deprive him of the remedy by specific performance but which would make his conduct amount to a repudiation of the contract. A purchaser may recover damages if he shows his readiness and willingness to complete the contract within a reasonable time after the stipulated date; and that vendor rescinding the contract before the lapse of such reasonable time, cannot retain the deposit, though his rescission may be lawful. A contract does not go off merely by non-payment before the stipulated time. The vendor becomes entitled to damages under ss. 73 and 74 of the Contract Act, but the contract itself is not at an end. The stipulation as to forfeiture in this case must be treated as a penalty. The rule that the distinction between penalty and liquidated damages do not apply to pecuniary deposits, holds good only when there is no means of accurately ascertaining the damages. Where they can be ascertained and are below the deposit amount, the presumption will be that the parties intended it as a penalty and the deposit will not be forfeited. Ss. 73 and 74 of the Contract Act apply to pecuniary deposits and "penalty" includes deposits. Where a person at whose option a contract is voidable rescinds it under s. 55 of the Contract Act, before the contract is determined by the default of the other party, he will be entitled to recover damages under ss. 73 and 74 of the Act. He must however return the deposit as a "benefit" within the meaning of s. 64 of the Act. NATESA IYER v. APPAVU PADAYACHI (1909)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— ss. 55, 64, 73, 74—contd.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 375

——— s. 56—

See S. 32. . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 387

See CONTRACT. . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 225

24 C. W. N. 703

See CONTRACTS C. I. F.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 473

See SALE OF GOODS.

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 28

———Performance of contract [illegible]

Customs Act (VIII of 1878)—Construction of contract—Charter-party—Bill of lading. The plaintiffs, a firm of naturalised Germans doing business in London made a contract on the 24th July 1914 with the defendant firm through their London agent, by which the defendants agreed to supply the plaintiff-firm with 1,000 tons freight at 11 s. 6*d.* per ton, the material to be carried being manganese from the Port of Bombay for Antwerp, shipment in September On the 4th of August 1914 war broke out between Great Britain and Germany. On the 7th of August 1914, the Government of India, by a Proclamation duly published in Bombay under the Sea Customs Act prohibited the export from India of ammunition and explosives and all materials used in the manufacture thereof. Under the Sea Customs Act, the Government of India is only empowered to prohibit the export of specified articles or things, and the specification must be exact and nominatim. Manganese not being expressly specified in the last mentioned notification the Government of India issued on the 17th of October 1914 a further notification in supersession of the notification of the 5th of August, by which manganese was amongst other articles specifically prohibited. On the 7th of September 1914, the defendants relying on the earlier notification telegraphed to the plaintiffs that owing to force majeure the contract was cancelled. The plaintiffs refused to accept the cancellation and insisted upon the performance of the contract. They subsequently sued the defendants in damages in the sum of £525 or Rs. 7,937. The defendants pleaded: (i) that the export of manganese from India was prohibited by the Government of India notification of the 5th of August 1914 published in Bombay on the 7th of August 1914;

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 56—contd.

(ii) that the performance of the contract became impossible as no freight was procurable during the month of September from Bombay to Antwerp; (iii) that it was an implied condition, and of the essence of the contract, understood by both parties to be so, that there should be freight available from Bombay to Antwerp. Held, (i) that having regard to the form of the earlier notification dated 5th of August 1914, the plaintiffs were right in contending that the defendants might have performed their part of the contract on the 7th of August 1914 without contravening any law, or being able to avoid it under s. 56 of the Indian Contract Act as having been made unlawful after they had entered upon it. (ii) The performance of the contract did not become impossible within the meaning of s. 56 of the Indian Contract Act, merely because freights from Bombay to Antwerp were not procurable from a commercial point of view, when the defendants repudiated the contract. (iii) That no implied condition could be read into the contract that it was agreed by the parties that normal freight conditions should continue. (iv) That the defendants had committed a technical breach of contract, as the plaintiffs had not proved that they had any intention of shipping 1,000 tons of manganese to Antwerp in September, nor had they suffered any loss on account of non-shipment. Before a contract can be broken on the ground that the acts to be done have become impossible the Courts must be very sure that they are physically impossible. Physical impossibility must go much further than mere difficulty or the need to pay exorbitant prices. The latter part of s. 56 deals with cases where the acts to be done were at the time the contract was made lawful but a legal prohibition has supervened after the [illegible]

s. 23. KARL ETTLINGER v. CHAGANDAS & CO. (1915) . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 301

[illegible]

formance of contract A contract contained in a letter provided for the sale by the defendants-appellants to the plaintiffs-respondents of 150 tons of basic steel bars "at £5 7*s* 6*d*, per ton c. i. f., i.e., free Hooghly. Shipment in three monthly lots . . . . Terms 45 days' credit from the date of the delivery of the goods." The appellants caused the goods to be shipped from Antwerp on the 2nd July, 1914, on a German steamer, the S.S. "Steinturm." That steamer was on the high seas on the outbreak of war between England and Germany on August 4th, 1914. Then she was captured by the British Government and taken to Colombo as prize. After condemnation of the ship by the Prize Court the goods were sent on to Calcutta in charge of the Crown and the latter wanted certain extra charges to be paid before the goods could be delivered to the consignees in Calcutta. The buyers, respondents, refused to pay these charges, and the sellers, appellants, thereupon sold the goods to third parties. On the buyers, respondents instituting a suit to recover a certain sum for damages for breach of contract the sellers contended that they were not liable to pay any damages for breach of contract because the contract had come to an end on the outbreak of war. Held, reversing the decision of Chaudhuri, J., that the contract of affreightment which was an integral part of the contract with the buyers became unlawful on the outbreak of war inasmuch as it was a contract with an alien enemy, and under the provisions of s. 56 of the Indian Contract Act the contract with the buyers became impossible of performance. MADHORAM HURDEO DASS v. G. C. SETT (1917)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 56—contd.

21 C. W. N. 670

——— ss. 56, 9, 20—

——— A contract for "sale of certain goods on arrival," if enforceable when goods shipped from Germany were captured after the outbreak of war by a belligerent but after proceedings in a Prize Court arrived in a different ship two years after—Such arrival if comes within the meaning of "arrival" contemplated by the contracting parties—Doctrines of frustration, applicability of. Defendant contracted to supply Plaintiffs with five cases of white shawl cloth. The contract was made on 21st January 1914, and it was headed "contract shipment and arrival." The goods were to be shipped in July and August 1914. The Defendant had previously ordered 50 cases of white shawl cloth from sellers in London. In part fulfilment of the Defendant's order 20 cases were shipped in July 1914 by his sellers in a Germany ship S. S. "Spitzfels," Hamburg to Calcutta. The German ship was captured by the British in the Mediterranean shortly after the outbreak of the war and was condemned as prize. Under Government orders the cargo was transhipped at Alexandria into a different ship, which arrived in Calcutta in June 1916, delivery to the consignees being made conditional upon payment of extra charges in the nature of transhipping and forwarding expenses. There was a provision in the contract that in case of loss of the ship the contract should stand cancelled. There was a further provision in the contract that if the goods did not arrive within the specified time, the sellers should notify their buyers and the latter should declare whether they are prepared to grant an extension of time otherwise the contract should be considered as cancelled. The Defendant did not inform the Plaintiff of the arrival of the cases in June 1916 and he similarly ignored his other buyers of 1914, and sold them to other dealers at a profit to himself, the market having risen. The Plaintiff in July 1917 in consequence of information which he had received tendered the contract price to the Defendant and brought the present suit for non-delivery of the goods. Held—That having regard to the capture of the ship and the transhipment, the Plaintiff was not entitled to the delivery of the goods on thier arrival in June 1916 in the same way as if there had been no interruption. GOURI SANKAR AGARWALLA v. H. P. MOITRA
26 C. W. N. 573

——— ss. 56, 65—

——— Contract of charter-party—Contract impossible of performance—Freight paid in advance—Export of goods shipped on board prohibited by Government—Claim for refund of freight—Bills of lading—Shipping orders—Common carriers—Carriers by sea—Private carriers—Carriers Act (III of 1865)—Carriers by sea excluded by the Carriers Act—Loss by way of demurrage. On the 1st April 1915, the defendant Steamer Company entered into an agreement with C. & Co., a firm of freight contractors, whereby the latter chartered the steamer Hejaz for a voyage, Bombay to Naples, Genoa and—or Marseilles, any two discharging ports at charter's option. Subsequently, the Jeddah was substituted for the Hejaz. The plaintiffs procured from C. & Co., freight for 2,500 bales of cotton on the said steamer and were given the shipping orders which they presented to the defendants. The plaintiffs put 2,500 bales of cotton on board the Jeddah and the defendants issued twenty-five bills of lading relating to them, having received in advance Rs. 32,610-6-2 for freight. The import of cotton into Genoa being prohibited by orders of Government, the Jeddah did not leave the harbour and the voyage had to be abandoned. Eventually the steamer unloaded her cargo, and the plaintiff before getting delivery of their goods were required to deposit Rs. 12,500 to cover the expenses and loss incurred by the ship. The said sum was deposited by the plaintiffs under protest. The plaintiffs subsequently demanded the return of Rs. 32,610-6-2 paid by them for freight, and on the defendants' disputing their liability to return the amount filed the suit for the recovery of the freight paid and for an account of Rs. 12,500 deposited to defray the costs of unloading. The defendants pleaded, (i) that money paid in advance for freight was irrecoverable at law; (ii) that they were common carriers and that the rights and liabilities of common carriers were governed by the principles of English law as modified by the Common Carriers Act of 1865; (iii) that in any event they were not liable to return the freight-money, as they were ready and willing to perform their part of the contract; and (iv) that they were entitled to retain Rs. 5,038-3-7 out of the sum deposited with them for expenses and loss incurred by the ship. Held, (i) that the contract became impossible of performance under s. 56 of the Indian Contract Act and that the defendants were bound under s. 65 of that Act to restore the sum of Rs. 32,610-6-2, being the advantage they had received under the contract; (ii) that on the evidence before the Court, the defendants could not be treated as common carriers, they having let out and chartered the whole ship to C. & Co., for a private gain; (iii) that carriers by sea in India are not entitled to the benefits of Act III of 1865; (iv) that the defendants were entitled to claim demurrage and expenses incurred for unloading the cargo. Nugent v. Smith, 1 C. P. D. 423, referred to. The Irrawaddy Flotilla Company v. Bagwandas, I. L. R. 18 Calc. 620, considered. BOGGIANO & CO. v. THE ARAB STEAMERS CO., LTD. (1915) . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 529

——— Contract with hostile firm—Hostile firm incorporated in alien territories, and having a branch in Bombay—Contracts with enemy become illegal on the outbreak of war—Trading with enemy—Impossibility of performance owing to the outbreak of war—proclamations and Ordinances on the outbreak of war between Great Britain and Germany—Hostile Foreigners Trading Order—Extension of time of performance, after breach—Waiver of breach. The defendants were a German Joint-stock Company incorporated under the laws of

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— ss. 56, 65—contd.

Hanover, having a branch in Bombay, under the chase from the plaintiffs the total quantity of waste of the several descriptions specified in the contract produced in the plaintiffs' mills during the year ending the 31st December 1914 at the respective prices specified in the contract, and to take delivery of whatever waste might be ready at least once monthly. The defendants deposited with the plaintiffs 3½ per cent. Government Promissory Notes of the face value of Rs. 2,200 to be retained by the plaintiffs against the fulfilment of the contract. On the 4th August 1914, war was declared between Great Britain and Germany. On the 18th August the plaintiffs wrote to the defendants calling upon them to take delivery of waste under the contract. On the 22nd August, the manager of the defendant company replied that on account of the existing political position the defendants were not allowed to do business in India and requested the plaintiffs to keep the delivery of waste standing over until business was allowed to be resumed. On the 5th September, the defendants' manager was interned as an alien enemy, the defendants' local business ceasing for all practical purposes. On the 11th November, the plaintiffs again called upon the defendants to take delivery of the waste, the defendants replying that they were unable to arrange for further delivery until the declaration of peace. On the 14th November, an order called the Hostile Foreigners Trading Order was issued by which an hostile foreigner or firm was prohibited from carrying on or engaging in any trade or business in British India except under a license issued by or under the authority of the Governor-General in Council subject to such conditions, restrictions and supervision as the Governor-General in council may direct. On the 3rd December, the plaintiffs again called upon the defendants to comply with their notice of the 11th November on or before the 8th December and subsequently extended the time for taking delivery until the 16th December The defendants replied on the 18th December referring to the internment of their manager and claimed that under s. 56 (2) of the Indian Contract Act, the defendants were relieved from the performance of their part of the contract. On the 8th February 1915, the defendants obtained a license limited to the winding up and liquidation of their local business under Government supervision. On the 16th February the plaintiffs informed the defendants that they had sold the waste of which the defendants had been under contract to take delivery at a loss of Rs. 4,270-13-0 and after deducting the value of the deposit demanded payment of Rs. 2,074-13-2. On the 11th March, the plaintiffs filed the suit to recover the sum of Rs 4,270-13-0 from the defendants and for a declaration that the plaintiffs were entitled to retain the 3½ per cent. Government Promissory Notes and to set off their value in part satisfaction of the decretal amount. The defendants pleaded (i) illegality of contract on the outbreak of war, (ii) im on the time of

Held, ( on the outbreak of war and was dissolved on the 4th August 1914, (ii) that it had become impossible for the defendants to perform their part of the contract, owing to subsequent events arising from a state of war, (iii) that assuming that it only became so after the 14th November 1914, the plaintiffs gave the defendants further time for taking delivery until the 16th December and so waived any breach committed before that date, (iv) that the defendants were entitled to a return of their deposit under s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act. Janson v. Driefontein Consolidated Mines, Limited, [1902] A. C. 484, 509, W. Wolf & Sons v. Carr. Parker & Co, Limited, 31 T. L. R 407, and Kreglinger & Co. v Cohen, 31 T. L R. 592, referred to. TEXTILE MANUFACTURING CO, LTD. v SALOMON BROTHERS (1915)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 570

———— s. 57—

See s. 30 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 519

———— ss. 59, 60—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 537
15 C. W. N. 443

59 to 61 of the Indian Contract Act enacted the rule of the Civil Law as laid down in Clayton's Case, 1 Mer. 572, 604, with certain modification. KUNDAN LAL v. JAGANNATH (1913)

I. L. R. 37 All. 649

————

principal stalment interest.

with interest at a certain rate and the defendant was directed to pay in regularly yearly instalments of a certain amount and he did pay the instalments as they fell due but did not say how the payment was to be appropriated, and the decree-holder claimed that he was at liberty to appropriate out of each payment as it was paid sufficient to satisfy the interest due at the date of payment and to credit the balance only to principal. Held, that he was entitled to do so. Per RICHARDSON, J. (WALMSLEY, J. dubitante)—Where both principal and interest are payable under a contract or a decree, in the absence of provision in the contract or decree and of appropriation by the debtor, the creditor has the right to pay himself the interest first. BISWANATH BHATTACHARYA v. SOMESHWAR SARMA (1917) . . 21 C. W. N. 1055 account If he omits to make an express appropriation the right to do so devolves on the creditor. Where neither party has exercised the right s. 61 of the Contract Act 1872, which is an enabling section entitles the Court to apply the payments to discharge the debts in the order in which they were contracted. Ss. 60 and 61 of the Contract Act 1872, provide a procedure analogous in all particulars to the English Law of appropriation. In order to create a fresh period of limitation under the proviso to s. 20 of the Limitation Act 1908, the fact of part-payment of a debt must appear in the handwriting of the person making the part-payment. BISHUN PERKASH NARAYAN SINGH v. MD. SIDDIQUE

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— ss. 60 and 61—contd.

1 Pat. L. J. 474

——— s. 62—Sale deed, registered—Stipulation by vendee for benefit of vendor's creditor, if enforcible by latter—Creditor informed of arrangement by purchaser and purchaser acknowledged as debtor—Purchaser if trustee—Novation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Art. 116—Consideration, definition of, in Contract Act and in English law—Justice, equity and good conscience, rule of, Courts in India to be guided by. Where a sum is payable by A B. for the benefit of C. D., C. D. can claim under the contract as if it had been made with himself. Defendants Nos. 1 to 4 had executed a bond in favour of the plaintiff-defendants Nos. 1 to 4 on 18th August 1903, sold all their properties to defendant No. 5 by a registered deed which provided that a part of the consideration money was to remain with defendant No. 5 for payment of the debt of the plaintiff. The same day this arrangement was communicated to plaintiff by defendant No. 5 whom plaintiff accepted as his debtor. On the 25th of January 1908, plaintiff brought a suit against the defendants for recovery of the money; Held, that there was no novation of contract within the meaning of s. 62 of the Contract Act. That plaintiff was entitled to sue and recover from defendant No. 5 on the registered deed of sale although he was not a party to the contract, and the suit was not barred by limitation. Tweedle v. Atkinson, I. B. & S. 393, commented on and held to be no authority in India. Muhammad Khan v. Husaini Begum, I. L. R. 32 All. 410, 14 C. W. N. 865; Gregory v. Williams, 3 Merivale 582, Touche v. Metropolitan Railway Warehousing Co., L. R. 6 Ch. App. 677, Gandy v. Gandy, 30 Ch. D. 57, referred to and followed. Consideration as defined in the Indian Contract Act is wider than the requirements of the English law. In India the Courts are to be guided in matters of procedure by the rule of justice, equity and good conscience. DEBNARAIN DUTT v. RAMSADHAN MONDAL (1913) I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137

17 C. W. N. 1143

——— Novation—where debtor has disabled himself from performing his promise under the new contract—Rescission—right to revert to old consideration. Plaintiff sued to recover from defendant N S the money due to him on a bond executed in 1914. In 1916 N S executed a lease of land for 14 years in favour of one A C and on the same day sold to plaintiff and other creditors the right to recover the lease money from Amir Chand in payment of their debts. N S however, refused to perform his contract with A C and to deliver possession of the land. The whole scheme therefore for payment of the debts fell through. Notwithstanding this, defendant contended that there had been a novation of contract, and that plaintiff could no longer sue on the bond. Held, that under the circumstances of the case the plaintiff was entitled to rescind his sale contract and to revert to his previous consideration; s. 62 of the Contract Act being no bar to the suit. Raja Ram v. Mehr Khan (66 P. R. 1888), followed. Bhagat Ram Ganpat Rai v. Chajju Ram (15 P. W. R. 1918), Mussammat Bhag Bhari v. Gujar Mal (63 P. R. 1917), Allah Ditta v. Nazar Din (53 P. R. 1916, F. B.), Dwarka Nath v. Priya Nath (22 Calc. W. N. 279), and Debnarayan Dutt v. Chuni Lal Ghose (I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137, 146), distinguished. NAJAT SHAH v. RANGU RAM

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 323

——— ss. 62, 63—

See ARBITRATION. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 35

——— s. 63—

See s. 4. . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 355

See s. 39. . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 412

See s. 55 . I. L. R. 43 All. 257

——— Release conditional on a future event valid—Evidence Act, s. 95—Evidence aliunde admissible to prove claim released. It was not the intention of the Legislature in enacting s. 63 of the Contract Act to depart from the English law, under which releases contingent on the happening of a future event are valid. Such releases are valid under the Contract Act. Unlike the English law requires consideration in the case of releases not under seal, the Contract Act requires no consideration in the case of releases. When a deed of release is silent as to the claim released, evidence aliunde is admissible under s. 95 of the Evidence Act to show what claim was intended to be released. MATHEW HENRY ABRAHAM v. THE LODGE "GOOD WILL" No. 465, BELLARY (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 156

——— Time extension of, if creates new contract—Delivery after expiry of extended time, acceptance of, if amounts to new contract—Contract varied by introduction of fresh terms, effect of—Plaint, statements in, when merely descriptive. By mere extension of time for delivery of goods a contract is not wiped out and no new contract arises; only the promisee gets certain rights under s. 63 of the Contract Act. But in a case where subsequent to the contract a new term was introduced for the inspection of goods by the defendants in the plaintiff's godowns before delivery and after the time for delivery had long expired the defendants took delivery of 375 bales of jute, the original contract being for much more and there being nothing to show what was the new agreement or arrangement under which such delivery was taken: Held, that the old contract had been superseded and the defendant could rely on the arbitration clause in the old contract and compel the plaintiff to submit the matter to arbitration in terms of such contract, and a suit would lie for the recovery of the price of the goods so delivered. LUCHMI NARAIN BHAIRADAH v. HOARE MILLER & Co. (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 1098

——— s. 64—

See s. 39 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 178

See s. 55 . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 675

——— Benefit, meaning of—Sale by guardian of wards' lands—Sale, not for binding purposes—Purchase of other lands for wards out of sale-proceeds—Suit by vendee for possession of portion of lands—Right of wards to avoid sale—Duty of wards to convey purchased lands or their value—

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 64—contd.

Suit by wards to set aside sale held barred by limitation—Competency of wards to set up plea of invalidity of sale in defence in vendee's suit—Limitation Act, Art. 44—Form of decree. Where a guardian sold lands belonging to her wards for purposes not binding on them and, with the sale-proceeds, purchased subsequently other lands for them but the purchase of the specific lands was not in the contemplation of the parties at the time of sale and did not form part of the same transaction as the sale, the lands so purchased did not constitute a benefit arising out of the sale under s. 64 of the Indian Contract Act and the wards were not bound to convey them to the vendee before they avoided the sale. Where the vendee from the guardian under a voidable sale, having obtained possession of a portion of the lands, sued to recover the remainder, after a suit by one of the wards who had attained majority to set aside the sale had been dismissed as barred by limitation under art. 44 of the Limitation Act, it is open to the wards to set up the plea of invalidity of the sale in defence in the vendee's suit in respect of the portion of the lands in their possession. The vendee will be entitled in such suit to a decree for the value of the lands and in default of payment to a decree for possession. CHINNASWAMI REDDI v. KRISHNASWAMI REDDI (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 36

——— ss. 64. 66—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877, SCH. II ART. 91 . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 321

——— ss. 64, and 65—

See s. 11 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 25

——— Written contract—Material alteration by one party, effect of—Breach of contract—Damages—Repayment of advance.] If a written contract is materially altered by one party without the knowledge and consent of the other, the former is not entitled to damages for breach of contract, but is entitled to a repayment of the advance made by him. ANANTHA RAO v. SURAYYA (1920) . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 703

——— s. 65—

See s. 23 . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 115

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 197

See s. 27 . . 21 C. W. N. 979

See s. 56 . . .

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 529, 570

See s. 32 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 387

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901), ss. 19 AND 20. I. L. R. 32 All. 383

See BHAGDARI AND NARWADARI TENURES ACT (BOM. V OF 1862), s. 3.

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 358

See BROACH AND KAIRA INCUMBERED ESTATES ACT (XXI OF 1881), s. 28.

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 546

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 225

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY.

5 Pat. L. J. 622

——— Void agreement, party [illegible] it— [illegible] evi- [illegible] by

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 65—contd.

document, if admissible. Where the plaintiff claimed the consideration money mentioned in a kobala and the defendant pleaded that the real consideration for the kobala was the service rendered to the plaintiff in inducing a third person to sell a certain property to the plaintiff and that there was no contract for payment of money: Held, that oral evidence to show the real nature of the transaction was rightly admitted. S. 65 of the Contract Act does not apply when the object of the agreement is illegal to the knowledge of both parties at the time when it was made. Where a kobala was executed mainly in consideration of the services rendered by the defendant in inducing his employer to sell a property to the plaintiff and was thus void, the contract could not be regarded as having been " discovered to be void," or " become void " within the meaning of s. 65 of the Contract Act. Held, further, that in the circumstances of the case both the parties being in pari delicto, no relief should be granted NATHU KHAN v. SEWAK KOERI (1911) . . . 15 C. W. N. 408 ——— Agreement discovered to be void—Compensation, payment of—Bhagdari Act (Bom. Act V of 1862)—Alienation of unrecognised subdivision of a bhag—Valatdana patta. In 1902 the plaintiff executed a valatdana patta of lands forming an unrecognised sub-division of a bhag, in favour of defendants who were put in possession. The deed contained a personal covenant whereby the plaintiff bound himself to give compensation to the defendants in case their possession was obstructed. In 1910, the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the property by redeeming the valatdana patta which he alleged was a mortgage. The lower Courts held that the alienation was void under the provisions of the Bhagdari Act (Bom. Act V of 1862); and following the decision of Jijibhai v. Nagji, 11 Bom. L. R. 693, ordered that the plaintiff could recover possession on payment of moneys he had received from the [illegible] ant in the agreement. Per SHAH, J.—Neither under s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act nor under the ruling in Jijibhai v. Nagji, 11 Bom L. R. 693, is the Court bound to award compensation in all cases as a matter of course where a document is found to be void in consequence of the provisions of the Bhagdari Act. It has to be considered in each case whether the agreement is discovered to be void and whether any person has received any advantage under such agreement as required by s. 65 or whether the covenant in each particular case justifies the order of compensation. The amount of compensation also has to be determined [illegible]

——— Minor—Minority suc- [illegible]

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 65—contd.

satisfied that the Judge's discretion has not been judicially exercised, interfere with it and make the order which the court below ought to have made. It is no ground for giving costs against a successful defendant that the defendant pleaded that he was a minor at the time when the transaction upon which the suit was based was entered into, there being nothing to suggest that the plaintiff had been misled as to the real age of the defendant by any action or statement on the part of the latter. RADHE SHIAM v. BEHARI LAL (1918)

I. L. R. 40 All. 558

——— Vendor and purchaser—Failure of purchaser to obtain possession of the subject-matter of his contract—Suit for recovery of consideration paid—Execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908), O. XXI, r. 89. The judgment-debtors' interest in certain immovable property was attached in execution of a decree and sold. Before confirmation of the sale the judgment-debtors sold the same property, privately, with the condition, inter alia, that if the purchaser failed to get possession of the property sold owing to any act or omission on the part of the vendors, the purchaser should have the right to recover the sale consideration with interest. An application to have the execution sale set aside was made by the purchaser and failed, and the sale was confirmed. The purchaser under the private sale then sued his vendors to recover the consideration paid by him. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover by virtue of the provisions of s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, notwithstanding that the case was not provided for by the terms of his contract. Isardas v. Asaf Ali Khan, I. L. R. 34 All. 186, and Pandurang Laxman Uphade v. Govind Dada Uphade, I. L. R. 40 Bom. 557, referred to. MAHABIR PRASAD PANDE v. GANGA DIHAL RAI

I. L. R. 42 All. 7

——— ss. 65, 73—

See CONTRACT.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 499

——— s. 68—

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 378

——— Debt by minor—Necessaries—Hindu Law—Joint Hindu Family—Money borrowed to defray expenses of sister's marriage. One of the brothers in a joint Hindu family, consisting of two brothers and a sister, all minors, the sister being about 13 years of age, borrowed a sum of money to provide for the expenses of the sister's marriage. After the death of the borrower the lender sued the surviving brother to recover the sum so advanced from the property of the joint family in his hands. Held, that the suit was maintainable notwithstanding that the deceased brother was a minor at the time that the money was advanced. Tulsha v. Gopal Rai, I. L. R. 6 All. 632, Vaikuntam Ammangar v. Kallapiran Ayyangar, I. L. R. 23 Mad. 512, Sham Charan Mal v. Chowdhry Debya Singh, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 872, and Chapple v. Cooper, 13 M. & W. 252, referred to. NADAN PRASAD v. AJUDHIA PRASAD (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 32 All. 325

——— Agreement by minor to sell immovable property, validity of—Suit for recovery of money—liability of property for money

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 68—contd.

advanced. Where a minor, in order to secure funds to meet his marriage expenses, entered into an agreement for the sale of certain immovable property, held that the minor was bound to repay the amount received and that the minor's property was liable for such amount. The plaintiff's claim being for Rs. 134-10-0 only, held that no second appeal lay from the decision of the lower appellate court dismissing the plaintiff's suit. PATHAK KALI CHARAN RAM v. RAM DENI RAM . . . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 627

——— ss. 68 to 72—

See CONTRIBUTION

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1

——— s. 69—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 638

See CONTRIBUTION . 14 C. W. N. 361
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 691.

See PATNI REGULATION, s. 13.

15 C. W. N. 404

See REVENUE RECOVERY ACT, SS. 3, 35.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 41

——— 'Interested in paying,' meaning of—When payment not voluntary. A person is interested in making a payment within the meaning of s. 69 of the Contract Act, when there is an apprehension of any loss or inconvenience or of any detriment capable of being assessed in money. A person whose immoveable property is attached for a debt due by another is 'interested' in paying the debt to save the property and can recover from the person by whom it is due. Payment under such circumstances is not a voluntary payment. SUBRAMANIA IYER v. RUNGAPPA REDDI (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 232

——— "Interest in the payment," meaning of—Decree against Hindu widow and sale of husband's estate—Sale set aside by reversionary heir by deposit under s. 310A, Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882)—Suit to recover deposit from widow—Payment, if voluntary, if decree in law appears to bind widow personally. Where by a deposit duly made under s. 310A of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 the reversionary heir expectant upon the death of a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate as his heiress, had a sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent of properties other than the defaulting tenure set aside, and then sued the widow for recovery of the amount deposited: Held, that as the decree-holder professed to sell the entire interest in the properties sold and the auction-purchaser also claimed to have acquired the entire interest, the reversionary heir was "interested in the payment" of the decretal amount which the widow "was bound by law to pay"—within the meaning of s. 69 of the Contract Act. Until the sale is confirmed, the judgment-debt remains unsatisfied, and it is in satisfaction of the judgment-debt that the payment under s. 310A, (excluding the portion which represents damages payable to the execution purchaser) is made. The question whether in point of law the reversionary interest was or was not touched by the sale, being a matter for serious controversy, the payment could not be viewed as a voluntary payment. The words "interested in the payment of money which another is bound by law, to pay" may include the apprehension of any kind of loss or inconvenience and not merely the actual detriment capable of assessment in money. S. 69 thus lays down a more comprehensive rule than is supported by English authority. PANKHADATI CHAUDHURANI v. NANI LAL SINGH (1913)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 69—contd.

18 C. W. N. 778

———— Payment by a person interested which another is bound by law to pay—Gift of land by donor who undertakes to pay judi on the land—Another donee taking gift of the rest of the donor's property with full notice of the obligation, but the gift deed containing no stipulation to that effect—Obligation of the second donee to pay the judi. K, who owned considerable property, gave a portion of it to his daughter's husband (plaintiff) in 1878, the deed of gift expressly providing that K undertook to pay the judi in respect of the portion. In 1902, K made a gift of the residue of his property to B, the gift-deed containing special reference to the previous gift of 1878 and enjoining the donee to act according to that gift. The judi was regularly paid by K first and B afterwards. In 1905, B in his turn made a gift of the property to the defendant, the deed of gift in this case contained a reference to the gift of 1878, but it contained no words requiring the donee defendant to abide by the terms of that gift. The defendant having failed to pay the judi to Government, the plaintiff was required to pay it. He sued to recover the amount from the defendant. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the amount from the defendant under s. 69 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), because the defendant was bound in law to pay the money in the payment of which the plaintiff was interested and which the plaintiff had paid. SOMASHASTRI v. SWAMIRAO KASHINATH (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 93

———— Decree for rent against recorded tenant who had sold his share before the whole of the amount sued for fell due—Sale in execution set aside by deposit by a co-sharer—Latter's right to recover from recorded tenant—Contribution suit for—Suit brought after recorded tenant ceased to own any interest in the tenure if suit of Small Cause Court nature—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act the beginning of 1308, B. S., the latter transferred his share to a stranger. Thereafter the landlord sued defendant No. 1, who was the sole recorded tenant, for arrears of rent for the years 1307 and 1308 and had the tenure sold. The sale was set aside under s. 310A, Civil Procedure Code, 1882, upon the application of the plaintiff who deposited the whole amount within the statutory compensation to the purchaser. Subsequently he sued for recovery of two-sevenths of the sum deposited from the defendant No. 1 without making the latter's vendee a party or asking any relief from him: Held, that the defendant as the recorded tenant was "bound by law" to pay the amount of the decree passed against him, within the meaning of s. 69, Contract Act, and the plaintiff as a person interested in the payment of the debt within that section was entitled to be reimbursed by the defendant No. 1; and the fact that he had transferred his share before the arrears for 1308 accrued due was no defence against the portion of the claim which related to that year. Held, further, that the fact that at the date of the institution of the suit the defendant No. 1 had no interest in the tenure did not put the case outside the scope of Art. 41 of the Second Schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, and the provisions of s. 102 of the rig

Cit

XX

def

Krishn

and di

tiff was in law entitled to recover more than ⅐th from the defendant No. 1. BATUK NATH MANDAL v. BIPIN BEHARI CHAUDHURI (1912)

16 C. W. N. 975

———— ss. 69 and 70—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, O. XXI, R. 89 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 676

See CO SHARER . 15 C. W. N. 332

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 691

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, 1881, s. 30 . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 965

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 598

———— Contribution, suit for—Co-sharer under-raiyats—Sale by one to the other not recognised by landlord—Decree for rent against both discharged by vendor—Right to recover. A and B were under-raiyats in respect of a non-transferable holding. B transferred his share to A in 1904. The transfer was not recognised by their landlord. The landlord obtained a decree in a suit for arrears of rent against A and B in respect of the years 1902 05, whereupon A satisfied the decree and brought a suit for contribution against B. Held, that s. 69 of the Contract Act is applicable to the present case, and B is bound to make compensation to A. Held, further, even assuming that s. 69 has no application, s. 70 undoubtedly covers the case PROSUNNO KUMAR BOSE v. JAMALUDDIN MAHOMED (1912) . . . . 18 C. W. N. 327 ———— Suit for contribution—Co-owners—Purchasers of different portions of zamindari—Attachment for arrears of revenue—Payment by a purchaser of the whole amount of arrears—Suit by him for the entire amount against the zamindar and the other purchaser—Personal liability of registered holder only—Liability of share of the other purchaser—Zamindar liable, only for proportionate share—Sale-proceeds of zamindari, liability of—Property partly in Agency Tract—Defendant-purchaser, resident therein—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Court. The plaintiff was a purchaser in an auction sale held in execution of a decree, of some villages in a zamindari of which the first defendant was the registered holder. The sixth defendant was a similar purchaser of some other villages therein within the jurisdiction of the Agency Court. For default in payment of revenue accruing due subsequent to the plaintiff's purchase, one of the villages purchased by him was attached by the Government; the plaintiff paid the full amount due on the entire zamindari to save his village from revenue sale. The plaintiff brought the suit in the Subordinate Judge's Court against the first defendant, defendants Nos. 2 to 5 (who were his undivided brother, sons and nephew, respectively) and the sixth defendant, to recover the full amount paid by him from all the defendants personally and from the sale-proceeds of the rest of the zamindari kept in deposit in the Government treasury. The defendants pleaded non-liability in law for the full amount, while the sixth defendant raised the further plea that the Subordinate Judge's Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit as against him. Held, (a) that the only person who is personally bound to pay the revenue to the Government is the registered holder; (b) that a co-owner who pays to the Government the whole revenue due on an estate is not entitled to a personal decree against the other co-owners who, not being registered holders, are not under a personal obligation to pay the revenue, though it may be a charge on the lands in their holding; (c) that s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to such a case; (d) that the Subordinate Judge's Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit as against the sixth defendant to enforce the charge on the villages purchased by him, as the lands did not lie within its jurisdiction; (e) that s. 69 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to a suit for contribution, as "the person interested in the payment of money" must be a person who is not himself bound to pay the whole or any portion of the amount; (f) that the plaintiff was entitled to sue the first defendant only for contribution and to recover from him and from the sale-proceeds in deposit only the share of revenue payable on account of the property in the hands of the first defendant. Subramania Chetti v. Mahalingasami Sivan, I. L. R. [illegible] Mad. 41, Prauykyi v. Pakaram Haji, 15 I. C. [illegible], Narain Pai v. Appu, 28 I. C. 456, and Futteh [illegible]li v. Gunganath Roy, I. L. R. 8 Calc. 113, followed. Raja of Vizianagaram v. Raja Setrucherla Somasekharaz, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 713, distinguished. Gajapathi Kistna Chendra Deo v. Srinivasa Charlu, 25 Mad. L. J. 433, Raja of Pittapuram v. Secretary of State, 16 Mad. L. T. 375, Yogambal Boyee Ammani Ammal v. Naina Pillai Markayar, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 15, Mangalathammal v Narayanaswami Ayyar, 17 Mad. L. J. 250, Manindra Chandra Nandy v. Jamahir Kumari, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 643, and Moule v. Garrett, 7 Ex. 101, 104, referred to. JAGAPATI RAJU v. SADRUSANNAMMA ARAD (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 795

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— ss. 69 and 70—contd.

———— Darputnidar of a co-sharer putnidar, depositing decretal amount to prevent sale of the putni in execution of a decree obtained against only some of the putnidars, if a person legally "interested in the payment"—Suit by putnidar not party to the decree for declaration and injunction to restrain darputnidar taking possession under s. 171 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)—Power of Court to grant conditional injunction—Condition that plaintiff should pay his share of rent paid by defendant. The payment made by the darputnidar of a share of a putni of the whole rent due on the putni to save it from being sold in execution of a decree obtained by the landlord in a suit for arrears of rent brought against some only of the putnidars comes within ss. 69 and 70 of the Contract Act. Where, after an order under s. 171 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was made in favour of such a darputnidar, one of the putnidars who was not a party to the landlord's suit for rent sued for a declaration and injunction that his right in the property was not affected thereby and the Court below decreed the suit and granted the injunction but made it conditional on the putnidar paying to the darputnidar the amount of rent proportionate to his share of the putni. Held, that the order making the injunction conditional was proper. RAJANI KANTO MONDAL v. HAJI LAL MAHOMED (1917) . . . . . 21 C. W. N. 628 ———— "Lawful payment," what is—"Interested in paying," who are—Deposit of decretal amount to prevent rent-sale by person claiming under a forged mortgage-bond—Sale set aside—Tenant, if liable to repay by reason of "benefit" received—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 171 (3)—"Interest voidable on sale." Plaintiff, alleging to be mortgagee of a tenancy which was about to be sold in execution of a rent decree, proceeded to deposit the decretal amount under s. 170, cl. (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, whereupon the tenant challenged his right to do so on the ground that the alleged mortgage was a forged document. The executing Court accepted the deposit, but without deciding the question of the genuineness of the mortgage. In a suit by the plaintiff to recover the amount paid it was found that the mortgage was not genuine. Held, that the plaintiff was not a person having an interest in the tenancy which was voidable on the sale within s. 170, cl. (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, nor was he interested in the payment of the money within the meaning of s. 69 of the Contract Act, nor was the payment lawful within the meaning of s. 70 of that Act. That the plaintiff was also not entitled to recover on the ground of defendant having benefited by the payment since it is not in every case in which a man has benefited by the money of another that an obligation to repay that money arises; there must be an obligation, express or implied, to repay. PANCHKORE GHOSE v. HARIDAS JATI (1916)

21 C. W. N. 394

———— Putnidar's suit for rent against some darputnidars—Sale thereunder set aside by deposit of decretal money and statutory compensation to auction-purchaser by co-sharer not made party—Suit for contribution, if lies. The Plaintiff who was part owner of a darputni which had been sold by the putnidar in execution of a decree for rent obtained by him in a suit in which the Plaintiff had not been made a party had the sale set aside by depositing the decretal money and the statutory compensation of five per cent. of the purchase money due to the auction purchaser and then sued the other co-sharers for contribution: Held, That though the decree was not binding on the Plaintiff, as the entire darputni had been put up to sale, Plaintiff had the right to sue under s. 70 of the Contract Act though not under s. 69 and that not merely in respect of the decretal amount but also of the statutory compensation money intended for the auction purchaser. Suchand v. Balaram, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1 (1910), Jognarain v. Badri Das, 16 C. L. J. 156 (1911), and Batuk

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 69—contd.

Nath v. Bepin Behary, 16 C. W. N. 975 (1912), referred to. KANGAL CH. PAL v. GOPI NATH PAL. 24 C. W. N. 1068

———— s. 70—

See s. 11 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 25

See s. 69.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, O. XXI, r. 89 . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 676

See RENT DECREE . 14 C. W. N. 699

———— of the Contract Act does not apply where, the party sought to be made liable, though benefited, had no option but to enjoy the benefit. In order to enable a party to recover money paid by him from another under s 70 of the Indian Contract Act, it is necessary that the party sought to be made liable must not only have benefited by the payment but must also have had the opportunity of accepting or rejecting such benefit. Where no such option is left to him and the circumstances do not show that he intended to take such benefit, he cannot be said to have "enjoyed such benefit" within the meaning of the section. When the person paying is interested in making the payment, he cannot be presumed, in the absence of evidence to show that he intended to act for the other party also, to have acted for such other party S. 70 of the Contract Act reproduces the English Law as laid down in Lampleigh v. Brathwait, 1 Sm. L C 163, Abdul Wahid Khan v. Shaluka Bibi, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 496, 504, followed. Damodara Mudaliar v. Secretary of State for India, I. L. R. 18 Mad. 88, considered. A person paying money into Court under s. 310A of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 to set aside a sale in execution, cannot recover such money from the defendant who has obtained possession of the property when he has made the payment to protect his own interest and the circumstances do not show that he would not have made the application if the defendant had not consented. YOGAMABAL BOYEE AMMANI AMMA v. NAINA PILLAI MARKAYAR (1909) I. L. R. 33 Mad. 15

-sion." Held, that the defendant was bound to pay his portion of the peshkash only from the time of the sub-division when alone the exact amount due by the defendant was ascertained; and that plaintiff who had paid the whole peshkash was entitled to recover from the defendant under s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act whatever the defendant was liable to pay after the sub-division. S. 70 of the Indian Contract Act should be applied in all cases where the requirements of the section are fulfilled, whatever might be the English Law on the subject. A person must be said to have enjoyed the benefit of an act within the meaning of s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act, when he in fact enjoyed the benefit by accepting or adopting it, without objecting to it. S. 70 does not require that the defendant must have an option of declining the benefit if that means that before the benefit is conferred he must be given the choice of accepting or declining it Per MILLER, J.—The fact that plaintiff's interest also might have suffered if the act was not done will not make the act any the less one done for the defendant. Narayanaswami Naidu v. Sri Rajah Vellanki Sreenivasa Jagannatha Rao, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 189, and Yogambal Boyee Ammani Ammal v. Naina Pillai Markayar, I. L. R. 33 Mad 15, referred to. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J. Obiter : If the benefit conferred is inseparably accompanied by onerous obligations that a reasonable man would refuse to accept, s. 70 will not apply. Damodara Mudaliar v. Secretary of State for India, I. L R. 18 Mad. 88, and Jognarain v. Badri Das, 16 C. L. J. 156, followed. Yogambal Boyee Ammani Ammal v. Naina Pillai Markayar, I. L. R 33 Mad. 15, dissented from Abdul Wahid Khan v. Shaluka Bibi, I L. R. 21 Calc. 496, and Ram Tuhul Singh v. Bisseswar Lall Sahoo, 2 I A. 131, distinguished. Rajah of Vizianagaram v. Rajah Setucherlaraz Somasakara, I. L. R. 26 Mad 686, referred to. SRI SRI SRI CHANDRA DEO v. SRINIVASA CHARLU (1913) . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 235 ———— Payment made for another—Non-gratuitous payment—Obligation of person enjoying the benefit—Mortgage—Stranger paying off a

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 70—contd.

The defendant

In 1904, the

and obtained a decree for the mortgage amount or in default, the sale of the property. The mortgagee applied in 1905 for sale of the mortgaged property. About that time, the plaintiff went into possession of the lands on a ten years' lease from defendant No. 1. Shortly afterwards defendant No 2, who held a money-decree against defendant No. 1, brought the property to sale and purchased it himself. In 1907, the property was put up to sale in execution of the mortgagee's decree. But defendant No. 1 borrowed a sum of Rs. 2,463 from the plaintiff and paid off the mortgagee. Subsequently, defendant No. 1 sold a portion of the property mortgaged to plaintiff for Rs. 4,000, the consideration being made up of Rs. 2,463 with other sums lent to defendant No. 1, personally. In 1908, defendant No. 2 sued plaintiff to recover possession of the land; and obtained possession. The plaintiff filed the present suit to recover the amount of Rs. 4,000 from the defendants personally or by sale of the property. Held, that defendant No. 2 was not personally liable to re-pay Rs. 2,463 to the plaintiff under s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) for, it could not be said that the payment was made for defendant No. 2, the plaintiff having without reference to the second defendant, intruded himself in order to make the payment without the second defendant's knowledge. Held, further, that the land in possession of defendant No. 2 was chargeable with the sum of Rs. 2,463, because the plaintiff being a stranger who paid off a subsisting mortgage was entitled to be subrogated to the position of the mortgagee. Held, also, that defendant No. 1 was personally liable to make good the deficiency. Per BATCHELOR J.—"S. 70 of the Indian Contract Act makes provision for compensation to be paid by a person enjoying the benefit of a non-gratuitous act, but for the operation of the section certain conditions are prescribed. They are that the thing done shall be lawfully done, that the intention shall not have been to do it gratuitously, and that the other person shall enjoy the benefit.' TANGYA FALA v. TRIMBAK DAGA (1916)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 70—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 646

——— The Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. I, r. 8, O. XXI, r. 89 and s. 35—Suit by a member of a caste on behalf of himself and all other members—Suit dismissed with costs, the plaintiff being ordered to pay costs—Caste property attached in execution of decree—Attachment resisted by the caste—Caste property sold under order of Court—sale set aside on payment of all money under various attachments by two members of caste—Members paying money entitled to compensation out of caste property—Construction of decree in a representative suit—Observations in giving leave and drawing up order for costs in representative actions. One S, a member of the Dakshani Fulmali caste, on behalf of himself and all other members of the caste sued two other members, the headmen of the caste for an account of the caste moneys received by them and for further relief. Prior to its institution the suit had neen authorised by a resolution of the caste at a general meeting. The suit was dismissed and the Court ordered that the plaintiff should pay the defendants their costs of the suit. S appealed, and the Appellate Court dismissed the appeal with costs. In execution proceedings for the recovery of a portion of the costs the only immoveable property of the caste consisting of a sabhagraha or Caste Meeting House was attached and after an unsuccessful attempt on behalf of the caste to have the attachment raised, the right, title and interest of S and all members of the caste in the property were sold. Subsequently two members of the caste B and H to save the property for the caste got the sale set aside under O. XXI, r. 89, by paying to the purchaser the compensation required under the Rule and to the judgment-creditors the moneys due under their attachment. B and H further paid off the moneys due under all other attachments, the total amount expended by them on behalf of the caste being Rs. 7,234. B and H claiming to be reimbursed for the amount paid by them sued the members of the caste praying that the defendants in their individual capacity and as representatives of the caste might be ordered to contribute towards the payment of the total amount paid by the plaintiffs and that in the alternative it may be declared that the plaintiffs had a charge on the sabhagraha for the said amount. The defendants contended that no personal decree could be passed against all the members of the caste, that the judicial sale and the warrants for attachment in the prior suit were made per incurium without jurisdiction and were not binding on the caste, and that by the form of the decree in the prior suit S alone was liable for all costs incurred. Held, (i) that under s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act the plaintiffs were entitled to compensation in respect of the moneys paid by them including the five per cent. amount paid to the purchaser under O. XXI, r. 89 (ii) that on the plaintiffs undertaknig not to levy execution except against the immoveable property or the shares of the members of the Fulmali caste therein, the defendants and all other members of the Fulmali caste should pay to the plaintiffs the sum of Rs. 7,234; (iii) that costs as between party and party of all parties be taxed and paid out of the immoveable property, the plaintiffs' costs having priority over those of the contesting defendants. Suchan Ghosal v. Balaram Mardana, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1, 7; Taff Vale Railway v. Amalgamated Society of Railway servants, (1901) A. C. 426, and Markt & Co. Limited, v. Knight Steamship Company Limited, (1910) 2 K. B. 1021, referred to. In giving leave under O. I, r. 8, in a representative action, the Court should exercise caution before it makes persons liable for large sums who are not actually parties to a suit, nor have personally authorised it. On the other hand the representative should not be an impecunious person as otherwise a caste or similar body might carry on litigation with little fear of adverse consequences supposing the liability for costs fell only on their impecunious representative and not on themselves. Similarly in drawing up order for costs in a representative action it should be stated whether the representative party alone or the representative and all other members of the body he represents are to bear the costs, assuming there in jurisdiction in the particular case to make such an order. BHICOOBAI v. HARIBA RAGHUJI (1917) . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 556

——— Sale—Specified sum left with vendors for payment to mortgagees of property other than the subject of the sale—Interest paid by purchasers in addition to specified sum—Gratuitous payment. On the sale of certain immoveable property of large value it was agreed between the parties that a specified portion of the purchase money should, instead of being paid to the vendors directly, be paid on their behalf to a certain mortgagee who held a mortgage over property of the vendors other than the subject of the sale. Owing to a delay in the registration of the sale-deed, which was caused by the action of the vendors, the purchasers did not immediately pay the stipulated sum to the mortgagee, and when they did come to tender it, the mortgagee refused to accept it upon the ground that by that time a further sum had fallen due as interest. The purchasers thereupon paid the further amount claimed. Subsequently the vendors sued the purchasers for the balance of the purchase money remaining unpaid, and the purchasers claimed to set off against the unpaid purchase money the sum which they had paid as interest, as above described. Held, that the purchasers were not entitled to the set-off claimed, as the payment of interest was in excess of the sum stipulated to be paid to the mortgagee and was in the circumstances a purely gratuitous payment. SURAJ BHAN v. HASHMI BEGAM (1918)

I. L. R. 40 All. 555

——— Contribution against person enjoying benefit of non-gratuitous act—P. & D were owners of an insanitary tank and for ignoring an order of the Municipal Corporation for filling up same were sued criminally whereupon P filled up the tank and brought a suit for contribution against D who also was in receipt of rent from tenants who were settled on the filled up tank. Held, that case was within s. 70 of the Contract Act, because the tank was filled up lawfully without intending to do it gratuitously and the person for whom it was done was enjoying

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 70—concld.

——— The word "Lawfully" in this section cannot be regarded as mere surplusage and the meaning is that the person must have a lawful interest in making the payment and it must be considered in each individual case whether the person making the pay-

25 C. W. N. 1029

——— ss. 70, 222—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, SCH. II, ARTS 61, 63, 118, 120 I. L. R. 34 Mad.

——— s. 72—

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1

See INCOME TAX I. L. R. 42 Calc. 151

See SALE OF GOODS I. L. R. 42 Bom. 16

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 598

——— Money paid under compulsion of legal proceedings cannot be recovered. Marriot v. Hampton, 7 T. R. 269, followed. BISWANATH GORAIN v. SURENDRA MOHAN GHOSE (1913) . . 19 C. W. N. 102

——— Coercion—Money paid ... pro- ... Money ... ndant ... non- ... money ... ng of s. 72 of the Indian Contract Act, and can be recovered back. The maxim in pari delicto potior est conditio defendentis does not apply to such a case. Willimams v. Hedley, 8 East, 738 Unwin v. Leaper, 1 M. & G. 747, and Atkinson v. Denby, 6 H. & N. 778, followed. Kanhaya Lal v. National Bank of India, Limited, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 598, referred to. The fact that the money was actually paid as the result of an arbitration is immaterial if the plaintiff's consent to the arbitration was obtained by means of the prosecution. MUTHUVEERAPPA CHETTY v. RAMASWAMI CHETTY (1915) . . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 285 ——— Civil Procedure Code (1908), O. XXI, rr. 46, 58 and 63—Suit to recover money paid into court under order for attachment of a debt—Payment made under compulsion, but money admitted to be due to creditor. D owed money to a contractor. The amount was uncertain, but, whatever it was, the debt due by D was attached by a creditor of the contractor. D under pressure from the Court, paid into Court a sum of Rs. 975, admitting at the time that this amount, if not more, was due to the contractor, and the amount so paid was withdrawn by the tractor, that the suit must fail. S. 72 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, implies that money paid by mistake or coercion was not really due to the person to whom it was paid, and cl. (3) of O. XXI, r. 46, of the Code of Civil Procedure operates quite independently of any question as to the circumstances under which the payment was made or the motives which may have influenced the making of it. MAHADEO PRASAD v. DIGBIJAI SINGH . . I. L. R. 43 All. 272

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 72—contd.

——— s. 73—

See s. 39 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 412

See BENGAL TENANCY, ACT ss. 67 & 68 4 Pat. L. J. 282

See SALE OF GOODS. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 305

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 380

——— Meaning of "Compensation" in Art. 115 of Limitation Act—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, SCH. I, ARTS. 52, 56, 115. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 376

——— Lessee of zamindari property undertaking to pay Government revenue payable by lessor—Default—Sale for arrears of revenue—Measure of damages. Where a lessee of zamindari property undertook to deposit the Government revenue payable by the lessor and the property was sold for arrears of revenue upon the lessee's fail ... the lessor was ... default but th ... the estate to ... danger to the ... room for the application of the doctrine that a plaintiff is not entitled to damages for breach of contract when by use of reasonable precautions he might have avoided loss. In the lease which covered only a portion of the zamindari there was a clause that a separate account of the portion leased, was to be opened at the lessee's instance and the loss on account of sale for arrears of revenue was to be assessed at Rs. 500. But no separate account was opened, and on default of payment of revenue by the lessee, the whole estate was sold. Held, that the measure of the loss sustained by the lessor was the market value of the estate sold. ROHIM BUKSH MANDAL v. SHAJAD AHMAD CHAUDHURY (1914) 19 C. W. N. 1311 ——— Contract to sell immovable property belonging to himself and minor members by manager of a joint Hindu family—Breach of contract—Damages against manager, recoverable—English rule on the subject not applicable—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 55 (2), applicability of, to executory contracts. Held by the Full Bench :—A manager of a joint Hindu family who has agreed to sell immovable property belonging to himself and the minor members of the family is personally liable under s. 73 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) for damages for failure to perform the contract when it is found that it is not binding on the minors. Gas Light and Coke Company v. Towse, 35 Ch. D. 519, not followed. The law in India as laid down by the Indian Contract Act as to the right to damages for breach of contract to sell immovable property is different from that in England. Knowledge of the purchaser of the defect of title in his vendor does not affect his right to recover damages, Per ABDUR RAHIM, J. (SADASIVA AYYAR, J., contra)—S. 55 (2) of the Transfer of Property Act is applicable also to cases of executory contracts. ADIKESAVAN NAIDU v. GURUNATHA CHETTI (1916)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— Meaning of "Compensation" in Art. 115 of Limitation Act—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 338

——— Breach of contract to sell goods—Measures of damages—No actual loss by breach—No market for the goods at place of delivery—Liability for damages—Rule of Indian and English Law, comparison of. The defendants agreed to sell a certain quantity of molasses to the plaintiffs by monthly instalments, and failed to deliver one of the instalments assigning as a reason the difficulty of obtaining freight. The plaintiffs did not purchase other molasses against the contract and there was no market for the goods at the place of delivery. The plaintiffs, who were not found to have incurred any actual loss from the non-delivery, sued to recover damages from the defendants for breach of the contract. Held, that the plaintiffs were entitled to damages as the case fell within illustration (a) of s. 73 of the Indian Contract Act which lays down that the measure of damage in a case like this is the sum by which the contract price falls short of the price for which the purchaser might have obtained goods of like quality at the time when they ought to have been delivered. English and Indian cases discussed. HAJEE ISMAIL AND SONS, v. WILSON & Co. (1918)
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 709

——— ss. 73, 74—

See s. 55 . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 375

——— ss. 73, 107—

See DAMAGES . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 493

——— s. 74—as amended by Act VI of 1899—

See s. 39 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 178

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1036

See HINDU JOINT FAMILY
2 Pat. L. J. 212

See INTEREST
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 652, 690

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 652

See MORTGAGE CONSTRUCTION (S)
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 162

See PENALTY . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 162

——— Interest—No interest originally, but exorbitant interest on default—Court's power to curtail exorbitant interest even then and award reasonable compensation. Held, by the Full Bench: Even when no interest is payable until default but interest at an exorbitant rate is payable as from the date of default, the Court has power under s. 74 of the Contract Act to treat the latter stipulation as a penalty and award reasonable compensation in lieu of such excessive interest. The English and Indian decisions as well as the statutory law including the Usury Laws Repeal Act (XXVIII of 1855) prior to the amendment of s. 74 reviewed. Per SUNDARA

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 74 as amended by Act VI of 1899—contd.

AYYAR, J.—The principle underlying the Court's interference with the contract between the parties as to a payment to be made by way of damages is this:—The doctrine that the Court will carry out all contracts between parties is confined to the carrying out of the primary contract and does not extend to a secondary or subsidiary contract to come into operation if the primary contract is broken. In bonds securing payment of money, the contract regarded as primary is the promise to pay the amount due to the creditor with interest, if any, agreed upon. Any further contract, to be binding on the promiser if he breaks this contract is regarded as a secondary one intended to secure the fulfilment of the primary contract, and the Courts both in England and in India do not feel bound to carry out such a secondary contract apart from its justice and reasonableness. MUTHUKRISHNA IYER v. SANKARALINGAM PILLAI (1913) . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 229 ——— Interest, excessive rate of—Court's power to declare rate a penalty and award reasonable interest. The Court is competent to grant relief whenever the rate of interest appears to it to be penal. The fact that the rate of interest is excessive may be sufficient by itself to justify the inference that the rate was penal and unenforcible. Once the stipulated rate of interest is found to be unenforcible, the plaintiff is in the hands of the Court which will decree such rate of interest as may appear to it to be reasonable. Abdul Majid v. Kherode, Chandra Pal, I.L.R.42 Calc. 690 s. c. 19 C. W. N. 809, and Khagaram Das v. Ram Sankar Das, I. L. R. 42 Calc. 652, s. c. 21 C. L. J. 79; 19 C. W. N. 775, referred to. CHELLAPHROO CHOWDHURI v. BANGA BEHARI SEN (1915)

20 C. W. N. 408

——— Penalty, whether change from simple to compound interest is. S. 74 of the Contract Act, 1872, does not prescribe that an increase of interest after the due date must, in every case, be treated as a penalty. In a case where the rate of interest was only 12 per cent. per annum, held, that a change from simple to compound interest after the due date was not a penalty within the meaning of the section. LAKHI CHAND SAHU v. PEAR CHAND SAHU . 2 Pat. L. J. 283

——— Provision for lower rate of interest in case of punctual payment—Penalty. If a mortgagee stipulate for a higher rate of interest in default of punctual payment he must reserve the higher rate as payable under the mortgage and provide for its reduction in case of punctual payment, and if he do so he will be entitled to recover the higher rate. But he cannot effect his object by reserving the lower rate and then fixing a higher rate in case of non-payment of the lower rate at the appointed time, such an agreement being considered in the nature of a penalty. Wallis v. Smith, L. R. 21 Ch. D. 261, referred to. KUTUB-UD-DIN AHMAD v. BASHIR-UD-DIN (1910) . I. L. R. 32 All. 448 ——— Loan—Default in payment—Enhanced interest—Interest calculated in anticipation added to principal—Penalty—Relief against penalty. The defendant received Rs. 2,440 on a bond which he executed for Rs. 5,500 in the plaintiff's favour. The balance of the amount of the bond was made up of interest calculated upon the sum of Rs. 6,000 for 39 months at the rate of 1½ per cent. per mensem added in advance. The amount was made re-payable in monthly instalments of Rs 50 for the first 12 months and after that of Rs 100 for another 26 months and the balance at the end of the 39th month. In case of default in payment of any instalment, the whole amount of the bond became due at once; but if the plaintiff waited longer the defendant agreed to pay interest at 5 per cent. per month till payment. There was default in payment; and the plaintiff sued to recover the amount of the bond together with interest at 5 per cent. per month. The Subordinate Judge held that the stipulation for addition of interest in anticipation in the amount of the bond as also the stipulation for enhanced interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per month on default, were unenforceable at law and awarded the plaintiff's claim for Rs 2,440 with interest at the rate of 1½ per cent. per month. Held, that both the stipulations were penal and therefore not enforceable in full by reason of the provisions of s 74 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. VELCHAND v. PLAGG (1911)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 74 as amended by Act VI of 1899—contd.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 164

———— Stipulation to take less than specified rate of interest, if payment punctually made, whether penalty—Manager of mortgaged property nominated by mortgagee and not dismissible by mortgagor at will, if agent of mortgagee—Title paramount, if to be enquired into in mortgage suit. The mortgage deed provided that interest at 9½ per cent. was to be paid by equal half-yearly payments, but that if the interest at the rate of 7½ per cent. was paid before the half-yearly day appoined for payments of interest the mortgagees shall accept the same in lieu of and in satisfaction for interest at 9½ per cent. Held, that if the stipulation was to pay interest at 7½ per cent., and on default of payment on a certain date interest was to be paid at 9½ per cent., there was no doubt that it could be treated as a penalty, though in the converse case it would not be a penalty according to English law. Indian cases appear to have followed the English law. But in the present case the schedule for liquidation of mortgage debt showed that the intention of the parties was that interest should be paid at 7½ per cent. and on default at 9½ per cent. S. 74 of the Indian Contract Act does away with the distinction between penalty and liquidated damages and, under the section as amended by Act VI of 1899 the Court has the power to grant to resort to their equitable jurisdiction in order to grant relief. Where in an English mortgage it was agreed only between the mortgagor and the mortgagees that certain nominees of the mortgagees should be appointed managers and be liable to furnish accounts to the mortgagees to satisfy themselves that their security was not endangered by mismanagement, and a separate deed of management was contemporaneously executed by the mortgagor in favour of the nominees to which the mortgagees were not parties and by which such nominees were appointed managers. Held, that the managers were agents of the mortgagor. In a suit upon the mortgage, no question of title paramount should be gone into. SHYAMPEARY DASYA v. EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY CO, LD. (1917)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 74 as amended by Act VI of 1899—contd

22 C. W. N. 226

———— An agreement to pay interest at a reduced rate in lieu of the reserve interest at a higher scale as an inducement for punctual payment is not a penal clause within the section. KULADA PRASAD CHAUDHURY v. RAMANAND PATNAIK . . . 25 C. W. N. 776 ———— Deposit on Sale—Construction of document—Condition of sale—Penalty—Vendor not entitled to recover more than provided for by conditions of sale. A Town Improvement Trust, having acquired land for the purpose of making a new road, thereafter proceeded to sell sites along the road. Amongst the conditions of sale were that the purchaser was to deposit 10 per cent. of the purchase money immediately on the sale and the balance within nine months. There was a further condition that "if any, purchaser fail to comply with any of these conditions, his deposit shall be forfeited, and the vendors shall be at liberty to re-sell the lot or lots sold to him either by public auction or by contract." Held, on suit by the Trust against a purchaser who had paid only Re. 1 at the time of his purchase and no more, that the plaintiff was only entitled to recover from the purchaser the 10 per cent. deposit which was one of the conditions of sale, and not the difference in price resultant on a re-sale of the property. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF ALLAHABAD v. TIKANDAR JANG (1915)

I. L. R. 38 All. 52

———— Security Bond—Breach of condition—Court not bound to exact full amount—Nature of bond and terms broken should be considered. Although the Exception to s. 74 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, says that a person entering into a bond shall be liable, upon the breach of the bond, to pay the whole sum mentioned therein, it does not mean that the Court is bound to exact the whole amount. The Court has discretion to consider the nature of the bond and the terms broken. The defendants, being desirous of exporting 50 bales of peice-goods from Aden to Djibouti, entered into a bond for Rs. 45,600 with the Government the condition of the bond being that if the defendants should produce a certificate from a responsible officer at the port of destination as to the arrival of the goods, or in default of such certificate, should produce good and sufficient reason for the non-production thereof then the bond should be void. The defendants produced a certificate for 40 bales

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 74 as amended by Act VI of 1899)—concld.

stances, to exact one-fifth of the penalty. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. FRERES

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1213

———— s. 81—

See JUTE . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 98

———— ss. 81, 82, 83—Usage of jute trade at Chandpur—Jute brought by fariahs and stored in Companies' godowns, burnt before weighment—Jute insured by Company—Incidence of loss—Title, passing of—Unascertained goods—Intention—English law. Plaintiffs who were fariahs used to purchase loose jute from dealers (beparis) and sell them to, amongst others, defendants firm at Chandpur. The jute brought by the fariahs used to be stored in a godown called the "fariahs' godown," and according to the usage of trade at Chandpur, sale was not complete until the jute had been examined, selected and weighed by the purchasing firm. The goods were, however, kept, subject to the firm's lien for advances to the fariah, and it appeared that, once the goods were stored in the godown, the fariahs were not allowed to remove or sell them to other persons. Some jute which was stored by plaintiffs in defendants' godown, and was insured by the latter as belonging to the firm, caught fire before it had been tested, selected and weighed and was burnt. Held, that title in the jute had not passed to the defendants, and the loss fell on the plaintiffs. That the contract being one for the sale of unascertained goods, what remained to be done by the buyer to the goods appropriated to the contract by the seller was not merely for the purpose of ascertaining the price but was also for the purpose of placing the buyers in a position to say whether and to what extent they would for their part accept the goods offered to them. That the fact that the seller could not remove or sell the goods from the godown did not show that the property in the jute had passed to the firm. That the defendants who had an interest in the goods, were justified in insuring them to protect that interest, and were entitled to receive the whole amount of the policies of insurance to indemnify themselves against their loss and were not bound to apply any portion of it to the plaintiff's benefit. When nothing remains to be done to the goods by the seller for the purpose of ascertaining the price, then primâ facie the property in them passes although they have not been weighed by the buyer. It would be otherwise in England if the parties intended that property in the goods should not pass until the goods had been weighed. The Indian law is the same and the provisions of s. 81 do not exclude the question of intention which is laid down in the English cases as the determining factor. ABDUI AZIZ BEPARI v. JOGENDRA KRISHNA RAY (1916) . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 98
20 C. W. N. 1224

———— s. 88—

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 458

———— s. 93—

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 34 Bom. 13

———— ss. 99, 102—

See CONTRACT (36) I. L. R. 46 Calc. 831

———— s. 103—

See s. 4 . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 255

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 103—contd.

———— Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882 as amended by Act II of 1900), s. 4 and 137—"Instrument of title" to goods—Railway receipt—Stoppage in transit—Assignment of railway receipt, effect of. On this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee (upholding the decision of the High Court in Amerchand & Co. v. Ramdas Vithaldas Durbar, I. L. R. 38 Bom. 255), held that the "railway receipt" in question in the case was an "instrument of title" within the meaning of s. 103 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872). RAMDAS VITHALDAS v. AMERCHAND & Co. (1916) . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 630

———— s. 107—

See DAMAGES . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 493

———— s. 108—

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 831

See HYPOTHECATION—

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 59

See RAILWAY RECEIPT.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 664

See SHARES I. L. R. 46 Calc. 331, 342

See VENDOR AND SUB-VENDOR

I. L R. 38 Calc. 127

———— The expression "goods," in s. 108 of the Contract Act includes all moveable property. HAZARIMULL SHOHANLAL v. SATIS CHANDRA GHOSH (1918)

22 C. W. N. 1036

———— s. 108, 178—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1872).
ARTS. 48, 49 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 678
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 783

———— Possession—Hire purchase agreement—Pledge by the hirer, how far valid—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 108, 178. Under a hire-purchase agreement, dated 9th August 1913, the plaintiffs, the owners, let on hire a machine at Rs. 150 per month, the hirer first defendant having the option of purchasing it at any time during the hiring by paying Rs. 2,100. Cl. 9 of the agreement provided that if the hirer made default in punctually paying any hire or instalment, it should be lawful for the owners to immediately put an end to the hiring and to seize and take away the same. On 2nd December 1914 the first defendant pledged the machine to the second defendant who was a bonâ fide pledgee for value. On 17th May 1916 the plaintiffs by letter determined the agreement of hiring under cl. 9, a sum of Rs. 50 being due from the first defendant on account of hire on that date. The plaintiffs brought this action to recover the machine or in default Rs. 2,100 being the value of the machine. The first defendant did not contest the suit: Held, that the possession of the first defendant was not possession under s. 178 of the Indian Contract Act and so the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the machinery from the second defendant or its value. There is no distinction between possession under s. 108. Except (1) and s. 178 of the Contract Act. SAUBOLLE v. K. V. SEYNE (1918) . . 23 C. W. N. 352

———— s. 114—

See CONTRACT . 15 C. W. N. 981

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 118—

See s. 1 . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 518

——— s. 120—

See s. 39 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 192

——— ss. 124, 126 and 132—

See HINDU LAW . 3 Pat. L. J. 396

——— ss. 126, 128—

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 978

———Contract of guarantee—Time-barred debt guaranteed—Liability on principal return of the money and a refusal thereof by M's father. In 1897, on another demand being made, one B by an oral contract of guarantee undertook to repay the temple trustees in case N failed to pay. In 1900, the temple trustees brought a suit against M and B to recover the deposit. The Subordinate Judge decreed the claim against both Against this decree M alone appealed and in appeal it was held that the deposit with M's father was proved but that the suit was time-barred in 1895. The suit was, therefore, dismissed as against the appellant M but the trial Court's decree as against B was confirmed. In 1912, the plaintiffs, temple trustees, executed their decree against B. In 1915, B having died his sons brought a suit to recover from M the sum which had been paid by them in execution. Both the lower Courts decreed the claim. On appeal to the High Court. Held, that it being ascertained that the debt due to the trustees of the temple was barred by time in 1895 and the contract of guarantee was not made until 1897, there was not in law any valid contract of guarantee. The foundation of the contract of guarantee was wanting inasmuch as there was not any enforceable liability in the third person. Hajarimal v. Krishnarav, I. L. R. 5 Bom 647, distinguished. Per BATCHELOR, Ag. C. J. By the word 'liability' used in ss. 126 and 127 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, is intended a liability which is enforceable at law, and if that liability does not exist, there cannot be a contract of guarantee. MANJU MAHADEV v SHIVAPPA MANJU (1918) . . I. L R. 42 Bom. 444 ——— ss. 126 and 140—Mortgage—Payment of mortgage-debt by surety, and subsequent suit for sale brought by the surety upon the mortgages redeemed—Limitation—Act No. IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act) Sch. I, Art 135. B, at the request of her sister L, agreed to guarantee payment of the amount due under two mortgages executed by L's deceased husband. B paid up the mortgage money and thereafter sued the representatives of L, who had since died, to recover the amount due under the mortgages by sale of the mortgaged property. Held, that B was entitled to the benefit of the securities held by the mortgagees; but she was in no better position than they had been, and as to one of the mortgages it was found that the suit would have been barred by limitation had the plaintiff been the original mortgagee, and was therefore barred as regards the surety. BARKAT-UN-NISSA BEGAM v. MAHBUB ALI MIAN I. L. R. 42 All. 70

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— ss. 126, 140, 141 145, 69, 70—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI OF 1881), ss. 30, 47, 59, 74, 94.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 965

———, ss. 127, 128—

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 680

——— s. 128—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898, s. 514 . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 204

——— ss. 129 and 131—

See CONTRACT . L. R. 47 I. A. 164

——— s. 131—Surety—Liability of heirs of surety for default occurring after surety's death—Construction of document. Two persons engaged themselves as sureties in behalf of a peon in the Postal department. The bond which they executed was in a prescribed form of general application. It bound both the sureties personally and their representatives after their death; but the bond further provided that a surety could terminate his liability in respect of the future by giving six months' notice to the prescribed postal authority. The bond in the present case was executed in 1902. In 1910 one of the sureties died. In 1916 the person on whose behalf the bond was given embezzled a sum of money which was recovered by the Postal department from the surviving surety. The surviving surety then sued the heirs of the deceased surety for contribution. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover. MUHAMMAD UBED-ULLAH v. MUHAMMAD INSHA ALLAH KHAN I. L. R. 43 All. 132

——— s. 133—Surety—Written agreement by surety that he would not claim his legal rights in suretyship—Variation in terms of contract without consent of knowledge of surety—Discharge of surety. Defendant No. 1 was appointed by the plaintiffs as their sub-agent to sell their goods for which he was to be paid commission at the rate of 7½ per cent. on the sale proceeds and to get at office expenses. At the same time, defendant No. 2 agreed to be surety for defendant No. 1 and wrote a letter of indemnity whereby he "expressly waived all or any of the rights as surety (legal equitable, statutory or otherwise) which may at any time be inconsistent herewith and which he might be otherwise entitled to claim and enforce" and that "the guarantee shall not be revocable by him at any time but shall continue during the employment of the sub-agent" At a later date, the plaintiffs and defendant No. 1 varied the contract, without the knowledge of defendant No. 2, by providing that defendant No. 1 was to be paid commission at the rate of 22 per cent. inclusive of all office expenses. The contract of sub-agency having come to an end the plaintiffs sued both defendants to recover money due from defendant No. 1 under the sub-agency. Defendant No. 2 pleaded that the contract having been varied by the plaintiff and defendant No. 1 without his knowledge he was absolved from liability as a surety under the provisions of s. 133 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872:—Held, that the variation of the contract involved the result that the surety (defendant No. 2) was discharged as to transactions subsequent to the variation under s. 133 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Held, further, that the general clause in the letter of indemnity whereby defendant No. 2 waived all rights under the statutes could not be read as implying any consent to the variation within the meaning of s. 133 or as entitling the plaintiffs to enforce the liability against the surety even though. according to law, he was discharged from such liability. CHITGUPPI & CO. v. VINAYAK KASHINATH (1920) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 157 —————— ss. 134, 137—Suit against principal and surety—Removal of principal's name as summons could not be served on him—Suit can proceed against surety alone if suit against principal be still in time—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. IX, R. 5, O. XXIII, R. 1. A suit was brought in 1913 on a promissory note passed in 1912 by defendant No. 1 as principal and defendant No. 2 as surety. No summons could be served on defendant No. 1: his name was therefore struck out and the suit proceeded against defendant No. 2 alone. The lower Court dismissed the suit on the ground that as the principal was discharged by an act of the creditor (plaintiff) in having his (defendant No. 1's) name struck out, the surety also was thereby discharged. On plaintiff's application under extraordinary jurisdiction, Held, reversing the decree and remanding the suit, that the mere omission of the plaintiff to pursue his suit against one of the defendants with the result that that defendant's name was struck off and the suit dismissed against him under O. IX, R. 5, of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) did not discharge the surety, provided the suit was still in time against the principal. NATHABHAI TRICAMLAL v. RANCHHODLAL RAMJI (1914)

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

—————— s. 133—contd.

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 52

—————— ss. 134, 151—

See HINDU LAW I. L. R. 33 Mad. 308

—————— s. 135—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908.
s. 135 AND O. XXXVII, R. 3.
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 272

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT 1909, s. 30 . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 381

—————— ss. 135, 139—Surety when is discharged. Mere forbearance on the part of the creditor in the absence of his doing or omitting to do any thing whereby the surety's eventual remedy against the principal debtor is impaired, would not discharge a surety. The surety was not discharged when the creditor merely gave the debtor time to pay up without entering into a binding contract with that object. BAHADUR SING v. BASUNTA KUMAR ROY (1913)
17 C. W. N. 695

—————— s. 137—

See s. 134 . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 52

—————— s. 139—Discharge of surety by act of creditor detrimental to surety—Banker, deposit with—Banker must allow specific direction of depositor even if he be indebted—Debtor, specific appropriation by, to be observed by creditor. The defendant's brother had an account at the plaintiff Bank which being considerably over-drawn the Bank called for additional security and the defendant gave a guarantee to the Bank agreeing to pay to them on a specified date to the extent of a specified amount all money then due to the Bank from his brother on current account or otherwise howsoever including all interest, charges and other expenses which the Bank might charge. After the date of payment mentioned in the agreement of guarantee and when there remained due to the Bank a large sum so guaranteed the defendant's brother opened a separate account with the Bank by depositing a certain amount on condition that the Bank would allow him to draw this sum by cheques and not take it in payment of the amount due to them on the guaranteed over-draft account but that any profits of the business carried on by him with the money deposited on the second account would be paid to credit of the over-drawn account. The Bank did not inform the defendant of the opening of this new account and certain sums were transferred from this account to the previous over-drawn account purporting to be profits as aforesaid. After this second account came to an end the Bank claimed from the defendant payment of the balance on the over-drawn account and a copy of the account of the defendant's brother was supplied to the defendant showing the amount due to the Bank on account of principal and interest as also the second account opened by the defendant's brother. The defendant without disputing his liability assured payments of the money due from his brother. Held, that on the facts of the case the defendant was not discharged from his liability to the Bank in consequence of the arrangement made by the Bank with his brother in opening the second account. That the defendant was not entitled to have the account re-opened and the Bank entitled to interest after the date mentioned in the agreement of guarantee for payment, at the rate usual on the account but not at any higher rate. Per SANDERSON C. J.—That in opening the second account the Bank did not act inconsistently with the right of the defendant as surety within the meaning of s. 139 of the Contract Act under which in order to discharge the surety it must be shown that not only has the creditor omitted to do some act which his duty to the surety required him to do but also that the eventual remedy of the surety himself has thereby been impaired, which was not shown to be the case here. That it was not within the power of the Bank to appropriate the amount in the second account to the previous over-drawn account inasmuch as the depositor deposited that amount on condition that he was allowed to draw against it. That the rule in Clayton's Case, 1 Mer. 572, applies only to the items in one current account and when there is no specific appropriation by the debtor; but in the present case there was a specific appropriation by the depositor when he opened the new account and there were in fact two accounts and not one and the rule in Clayton's Case, 1 Mer. 572, did not apply. That it was no duty of the Bank to communicate with the defendant with reference to the opening of the new account which was not contrary to the nature of the defendant's engagement but in accordance with the arrangement made by the defendant with the Bank. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—That in the absence of special agreement a guarantor has no right to control the appropriation by Customer or Banker of moneys paid in subject to the qualification that the Banker is bound to deal with the accounts in the ordinary way of business. Any specific direction regarding the appropriation of a deposit must be observed by the Bank. In the present case the agreement between the Bank and the depositor made it impossible for the Bank to apply the deposit in reduction of the over-draft on the first account; consequently the fact that the deposit was not so applied did not justify the contention that the Bank were at fault and the surety must be deemed discharged; there was thus no room for the application of the rule in Clayton's Case, 1 Mer. 572. That the Bank did not fail in their duty to the defendant when they carried on transactions with his brother under the second account without any intimation to him. The true rule is that if there is any agreement between the principal with reference to the contract guaranteed, the surety ought to be consulted and that if there is any alteration which is not obviously either unsubstantial or for the benefit of the surety he is to be the sole judge whether he remains liable. This is substantially in accord with s. 139 of the Indian Contract Act. GHUZNAVI v. THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA LTD. (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 562

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

—————— s. 139—contd.

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 139—concld.

——— ss. 140, 141 and 145—

See s. 126 . . I. L. R. 42 All. 70

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT 1881 s 30 . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 965

——— s. 146—

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1

——— ss. 150, 152—Bailment—Machine useless for purpose for which hired—Liability of bailee. A bailee for hire is ordinarily bound to return the article hired at the end of the period for which to return the article to the bailor. Chew v. Jones (1847) 10 L. T. 231, followed. ISUFALLI HASSANALLI v. IBRAHIM DAJIBHAI (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1017

——— ss. 151, 152—

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 191

——— ss. 151, 152 and 161—

See RAILWAY . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 1

——— s. 162—Son's liability for jewellery deposited with father—The son as an involuntary

Wrongful or unlawful possession of the son, if attracts operation of Art. 49—Statement in a Will, how far evidence. All actions for the recovery of a deposit of moveable property are, by the express words of Art. 145 comprised within it and no exception is made as regards deposits where demand and refusal make the continuance of possession unlawful. The fact of the possession by the depository after demand becoming wrongful does not make Art. 49 applicable. Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 162 of the Indian Contract Act (which is not an exhaustive Code), the relation of depositor and depository does not cease on the latter's death. The relation of the depositor and depository is that of a voluntary bailor and voluntary bailee and when the latter dies his successor becomes and remains an involuntary. PROMOTHO NATH MULLICK v. PRODYMNO KUMAR MULLICK

26 C. W. N. 772

——— ss. 172, 173, 176—Pawn, nature of security—Conditions necessary to fulfil contract of pawn—Right of pawnee to sue independently of the pawn—Government securities, pledge of—Mere delivery without endorsement, effect of. The guardian of the plaintiffs who were minors, with the leave of the District Judge, lent a sum of money to the major brother, the defendant, on his undertaking to pledge his share in Government securities which stood in the names of himself and the plaintiffs and also his share in the ejmali ornaments as security for the advance. The securities were in not an equitable mortgage but a security intermediate between a simple loan and a mortgage which wholly passes property in the thing conveyed. It is essential to the contract of pawn that the property should be actually or constructively delivered to the pawnee, neither of which was done in this case. That the plaintiffs were entitled to have their remedy on the pronote independently of the alleged pledge under s. 176 of the Contract Act which gives a clear right to the pawnee to institute a suit independently of the pawn. That s. 172 of the Contract Act which defines a pledge deals with "goods," and certain classes of documents are specifically referred to in s. 173 which do not include Government securities. That Government securities are by statute not negotiable or transferable without endorsement on the back by the transferor and mere delivery of Government securities without endorsement gives no property in them for purposes of negotiation or sale. JYOTI PRAKASH NANDI v. MUKTI PRAKASH NANDI (1916)

22 C. W. N. 297

——— s. 176—Pledge—Sale by pawnee of property pledged—Notice of sale. The words—"He may sell the things pledged on giving the pawnor reasonable notice of the sale"—as used in s. 176 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, mean that the pawnee must give reasonable notice of his intention to sell; it does not necessarily mean that a sale should be arranged beforehand and that due notice of all details should be given to the pawnor. KUNJ BEHARI LAL v. THE BHARGAVA COMMERCIAL BANK, JUBBULPUR (1918)

I. L. R. 40 All. 522

——— s. 178—

See s. 108 . . .

See BAILMENT . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 122

——— Person authorised to take delivery of goods on behalf of consignee pledging receipt—Pledgee if acquires title in the goods—Fraud of third party—Upon which of two innocent persons loss should fall. Defendant No. 1 who has despatched by railway goods consigned to himself made over the railway receipt without endorsement to the defendant No. 2 for the purpose of obtaining delivery. The defendant No. 2 thus having implied authority to do all that was necessary for the purpose, including authority to endorse the receipt in the name of defendant No. 1 fraudulently and without defendant No. 1's authority offered the receipt to plaintiff as a pledge for an advance which he asked plaintiff to make to him, but plaintiff having insisted on the receipt being endorsed by defendant No. 1, defendant No. 2 later on presented the receipt again to plaintiff, having an endorsement written by himself and purporting to be signed by defendant No. 1 authorising the delivery of the goods to a servant of the plaintiff. Plaintiff thereupon made the advance which defendant No. 2 fraudulently appropriated, and took delivery of the goods from the Railway Company: Held, that defendant No. 2 had "possession" within the meaning of s. 178 of the Contract Act of the railway receipt and of the goods it represented and that the plaintiff had acted in "good faith" within the meaning of the first proviso to the section; and that the defendant No. 2 had not obtained the goods by means of an "offence of fraud" within the meaning of the second proviso so that plaintiff had good title in the property. It is unsafe to employ as a separate and independent ground of decision the principle that where one of two innocent persons must suffer through the fraud of a third, the loss should fall on him who enabled the third party to commit the fraud. PROFULLA KUMAR BOSE v. NABO KISHORE RAI (1919) . . . . 23 C. W. N. 907 ———— ss. 178, 179—Goods consigned by up-country merchant to muccadum and agent for sale in Bombay—Pledge of goods by the Agent—Principal knowing of the pledge and receiving money raised by pledge from agent—Pledgee entitled to entire moneys due on pledge—Pledgee's claim not limited to the interest of the pawner in the goods pledged—Custom of up-country cotton merchants. The plaintiffs, up-country cotton merchants, consigned cotton until the 29th of September 1913 to their usual consignees and agents for sale in Bombay, D. H. and Co. In the course of their dealings the plaintiffs frequently called upon D. H. and Co. to remit money to them in large sums on the security of the cotton in their hands and D. H. and Co. used to raise money by pledge of the plaintiffs' cotton to the 3rd defendants' firm. The plaintiffs' representatives in Bombay knew of this course of dealing. On the 30th September 1913, D. H. and Co. were adjudicated insolvents. The accounts at that date showed that the 3rd defendants had advanced Rs. 83,000 to D. H. and Co. against which they held 757 bales of the plaintiffs' cotton and that D. H. and Co. had remitted to the plaintiffs Rs. 50,000. The plaintiffs sued to recover their cotton from the 3rd defendants unencumbered by the loans raised on the security thereof, alleging that D. H. and Co. were merely their warehousemen and muccadums and as such had no right to create any charges on their cotton. At the trial the plaintiffs contended that in any event D. H. and Co. had no authority to charge the plaintiffs' cotton beyond Rs. 50,000 which was the sum remitted by them to the plaintiffs. Held, that the plaintiffs having urged D. H. and Co. to pledge their cotton when necessary and having known through their representatives of the manner in which their cotton was being dealt with, the 3rd defendants were entitled to claim the entire moneys advanced by them on the pledge of the plaintiffs' cotton. S. 179 of the Indian Contract Act does not limit the scope of s. 178 but saves a pledge to the extent of the pledgor's own interest notwithstanding the presence of invalidating conditions falling under one of the provisions to s. 178. In other words whenever he has an interest the person in possession of the goods or documents has unconditional authority to charge at least that interest. LAKHAMSEY LADHA & CO. v. LAKHMICHAND PADAMSEY (1916) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 205

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— s. 178—concld.

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

———— ss. 178, 179—concld.

———— s. 180—

See PARTNERSHIP I. L. R. 43 Calc. 733

———— s. 194—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT. I. L. R. 44 Bom. 139

———— ss. 196 to 200—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865), s. 1. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 997

———— s. 201 —Termination of agency—S. 209—After the principal's death, if agent is to be treated as a trustee—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 89 or 120, applicability of, where an agent is sued for accounts after the principal's death. C acted as gomastha under J until the latter's death in July 1912, and then he acted as agent under J's widow. The widow, more than three years after her husband's death, brought a suit against the agent for accounts from 1894 to 1915: Held—That Art. 89 of the Limitation Act applied to the case and the claim for accounts for the period up to the death of J was barred by limitation as under s. 201 of the Contract Act the agency was terminated on J's death and as the suit was brought more than three years after J's death. Madhu Sudan Sen v. Rakhal Chandra, I. L. R. 43 Calc. 248, followed. That as C was not sued for any act done by him after the death of his late Principal which he might have done as trustee s. 209 of the Contract Act or Art. 120 of the Limitation Act did not apply. SREEMATI SARASHIBALA DASI v. CHUNI LAL GHOSH 26 C. W. N. 321

———— ss. 207, 253 cl. (10)—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 248

———— ss. 208, 209—Suit to recover money—Acknowledgment by defendant's gumasta (agent after his death—Death of the defendant not known to plaintiff—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 19. Plaintiffs' firm had dealings with one Haji Usman from the 5th January 1901 till the 25th October 1903 Haji Usman's business managed by a gumasta (agent). Haji Usman died in or about March 1903, and the plaintiffs had no knowledge of his death. On the 2nd June 1903 the gumasta wrote to the plaintiffs a postcard stating, "you mention that there are moneys due; as to that I admit whatever may be found on proper accounts to be owing by me; you need not entertain any anxiety." On the 30th May 1906 the plaintiffs brought a suit against the managers of Haji Usman's estate to recover a certain sum of money on an account stated. The defendants pleaded the bar of limitation on the ground that there was no acknowledgment of the debt by a competent person. Held, that the suit was not time-barred. The gumasta's letter of the 2nd June 1903 was an acknowledgment within the meaning of s. 19 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). The ... of ss. 208 and 209

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— ss. 208, 209—concld.

[illegible]

all reason- ervation of AHIM HAJI

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 302

——— s. 212—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 20 (c) . . I. L. R. 34 All. 49

——— ss. 215, 216—Principal and Agent—Construction of Contract—Agent appointed to sell goods buying them on his own account. S. 216 of the Indian Contract Act is merely enabling and confers upon the principal the right to claim from his agent the benefit of the transaction to which the agency business related, where the agent, without the knowledge of the principal, has dealt with the business on his own account, instead of on account of the latter. The principal is free to exercise that right or not. The law is that where a party elects to adopt a transaction, he must take its benefit with his burden. He cannot, as is said, " both approbate and reprobate." But both the benefit and the burden must, for that purpose, be attached to and incidents of the transaction which the principal has affirmed by election. Where an agent appointed to sell his principal's goods for a fixed price buys them on his own account without the previous ... the principal ... under the ... Contract ... affirm, the principal will be liable to pay to the agent such charges o[illegible] of purcha[illegible] contract [illegible] purchaser, because what is affirmed is the relation of vendor and purchaser. But if those charges are annexed by the terms of the contract to the agency, so as to regulate the relation of principal and agent as distinguished from the relation of vendor and purchaser, the agent is not entitled to recover them. Salomons v. Pender, 3 H. & C. 639 and Andrews v. Ramsay & Co., (1903) 2 K. B. 635, referred to. JOACHINSON v. MEGHJEE VALLABHDAS (1909) . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 292

——— s. 222—

See CONTRACT (44) .
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1060

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 38 Calc. 1

See LIMITATION ACT 1877, ARTS. 61, 63, 116 . . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 167

——— s. 226—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI OF 1881), s. 27.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1171

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— ss. 227 and 237—Principal and agent ...

[illegible]

for consignment to himself at Allahabad by passenger train, four boxes of Chinese crackers. There was some discussion at the parcels office amongst the employés of the Company as to whether the consignment could be sent by passenger train, but in the end it was accepted; the sender paid the freight at parcels rates and was given a receipt, which he took away. After...

[illegible]

and letter with ... Company, which, however, only ended in his being told that the goods could not be sent by passenger train, and they continued to remain at Cawnpore. Ultimately the goods were despatched by goods train on the 23rd of June and reached Allahabad on the 28th. The plaintiff was asked to pay Rs. 19-9 as freight and take delivery of the goods. He refused to do either, and the goods were in consequence sold by the Railway Company on the 28th September, 1917, for Rs. 31. The plaintiff then sued the Railway Company to recover Rs. 905-5 0, this sum consisting of damages, value of the goods and various ex... Held that ...

[illegible]

... ment could only be sent by goods train to despatch it by this means with all reasonable speed. But the Company was not liable for special damages for not delivering the goods before the 5th June, as the plaintiff had not given notice that they were particularly required for that date Held also that, as the Company's agents had rightly or ... on a freight ...

[illegible]

goods in default of payment ... EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY

I. L. R. 43 All. 623

——— s. 230 (2)—

See SALE OF GOODS .
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1050

——— ss. 230 (2), 236—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 802

——— ss. 231, 232—

See IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.
I. L. R. 34 Mad. 143

——— s. 233—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872, ss. 91 AND 92.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1242

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
14 C. W. N. 414

CONTRACT ACT—contd.

——— s. 235—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), SCH. II, ARTS. 36, 115 AND 120.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 275

——— Principal and Agent —Untrue representation by agent as to extent of his authority—Liability of agent. Held, that s. 235 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, applies as much to the case of a person who untruly represents the extent of the authority given to him by another as to that of a person who represents himself to be the agent of another when in fact he had no authority from him whatever. Collen v. Wright, 27 L. J. Q. B. 215; 7 E. & B. 301, referred to. GANPAT PRASAD v. SARJU (1911)
I. L. R. 34 All. 168

——— s. 236—Contract of sale—Person purporting to contract for undisclosed principal where no such principal exists, if entitled to enforce performance. A person who purports to contract for an undisclosed principal where no such principal exists, is not entitled to enforce the performance of it. RAMJI v. JANKI DAS (1912)
18 C. W. N. 263

——— s. 237—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882), SS. 76, 77 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 416

——— ss. 239, 266—

See PARTNERSHIP.

——— ss. 239, 247, 248—Hindu Law—Joint Hindu family—Family business, started during minority of undivided son—Business continued after son became major—Debts incurred in business—Son, whether partner and personally liable and for what debts—Adjudication as insolvent—Son, whether liable to adjudication—Partner, whether son becomes by helping during minority or taking part in business after majority—Admission of minor to benefits of partnership, meaning of. A Hindu father, of the Nattukottai Chetti caste, started a business during the minority of his undivided son; it was continued after the son became a major; no public notice of repudiation of partnership (if the son were a partner) was given by the son on his becoming a major; it was found that the son was helping in the business during his minority and was taking an active part in the business after attaining majority. In respect of the debts incurred in the business, both the father and the son were adjudicated insolvents; the son applied to set aside the order of adjudication passed against him, contending that he was not liable to adjudication. Held (by the Court), that the business should be held to be joint family business of the father and the son; Held (by WALLIS, C. J. and SPENCER, J., SADASIVA AYYAR, J. dissenting), that the members of a joint Hindu family on attaining majority do not necessarily by virtue of ss. 247 and 248 of the Contract Act or otherwise become personally liable for, and liable to adjudication in respect of, debts contracted in the joint family business during their minority. Meaning of "admitted to the benefits of the partnership" in s. 247 considered. The fact that the minor helped in the joint family business is not enough to show admission: within the meaning of the section. Samalbai Nathubhai v. Someshwar, I. L. R. 5 Bom. 38, In the matter of Haroon Mahommad, I. L. R. 14 Bom. 189 and other cases considered. Lutchmanan Chetty v. Sivaprokasa Modeliyar, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 349, followed. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J. Both by the rules of Hindu Law and by s. 48 of the Contract Act (which also applies to this case), the son was personally liable for all the debts in respect of non-payment of which he was adjudicated an insolvent. Partnership in a family business does not depend upon the consent of the partners in many cases but upon the family being a trading family and the business being conducted for the benefit of the family, persons born into the family from time to time becoming partners as a matter of course. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. PALANIPPA CHETTY (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 82

——— ss. 239, illus. (a) 249, 251, 252—

See PARTNERSHIP I. L. R. 39 Bom. 261

——— s. 247—

See SALE OF GOODS
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 523

——— Insolvency—Position of minor partner in a firm. A minor partner of a firm cannot as such be adjudged an insolvent. The creditors of the firm are not entitled to proceed against him personally, but are restricted to his interest in the property of the firm. Sanyasi Charan Mandal v. Asutosh Ghosh, I. L. R. 42 Calc. 225, followed. JAGMOHAN NARAIN v. GRISH BABU . . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 515

——— ss. 247, 248—

See HINDU LAW . 23 C. W. N. 500

——— ss. 247, 253, 254—

See MINOR .
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 225

——— s. 251—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SS. 19, 20 . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 146

——— ss. 252, 254, sub-s. (6)—

See PARTNERSHIP
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 380

——— s. 253—The stoppage of business or refusal of a partner to supply Capital, whenever demand is made, cannot be treated as desolution of a partnership. The question whether there has been an abandonment by a partner is a matter of inference to be drawn of the facts of each case. HARAMOHAN PODDAR v. SUDARSON PODDAR 25 C. W. N. 847

——— Dissolution of partnership by death of a partner—Execution of a trust deed by a partner, the other partner, affixing his signature as an attesting witness, if can be treated as a "contract to the contrary"—Representatives of deceased partner, if entitled to profits of the business continued by the surviving partner. A partnership business was carried on by two persons, one of whom died in August 1915. On the day previous to his death he executed a trust deed for continuance of the business after his death and the other partner affixed his signature thereto only as an attesting witness, but after the execution of the deed said that he would not carry on the business unless his remuneration was fixed The trustees too subsequently refused to carry on the business. The surviving partner continued the CONTRACT ACT—concld.

——— s. 253—concld

business alone. Held—That by the execution of the trust deed and the signature of the other partner as an attesting witness thereto, there was no concluded "contract to the contrary" within the meaning of s. 253 of the Contract Act, and the partnership was dissolved by the death of one of the partners in August 1915 by virtue of the operation of cl. (10) of the section. Held further —That as to the profits made out of the business by the surviving partner subsequently the latter was bound to share them with the representatives of the deceased partner, after making all just allowances including fair remuneration for his management, in accordance with the maxim accessorium sequitur suum principale. MAHAMED KAMAL v. HAJI HEDAYETULLA

26 C. W. N. 463

——— s. 254 (5)—Suit for dissolution of partnership by a partner who has himself been guilty of misconduct Plaintiff sued defendant for dissolution of partnership on the ground of disputes between the partners and also misconduct and dishonesty on the part of the defendant. It was found that the plaintiff himself had been guilty of gross misconduct, that he had destroyed the old account books, had falsely prepared a balance sheet, had made false entries in the books and had tried to deprive the firm of a valuable account. Held, that a partner who is himself guilty of misconduct is not entitled to sue for dissolution of partnership, vide s. 254 of the Contract Act, and that this suit must accordingly be dismissed. Civil Appeal No. 8 of 1902 decided by a Division Bench of the Chief Court (unpublished), referred to—Also Lindley on Partnership, VII edition, pages 615-617. Atwood v. Maude, 3 Ch. 373, dictum of Lord Cairns, not followed. RAM SINGH v. RAM CHAND

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 6

——— ss. 254, 252———

See PARTNERSHIP I. L. R. 42 Bom. 380

——— ss. 261, 263—Partners—Death of one of the partners—Debt incurred after his death by surviving partner to pay off price of goods ordered by both—Liability of estate of deceased partner. The estate of a deceased partner is not liable to a creditor for a debt incurred by the surviving partner subsequent to the death of the former, although the debt was incurred to take up bills of lading for, and obtain delivery of, goods which had been ordered by the partners during the lifetime of the deceased partner but did not come forward until after his death. S. 263 of the Indian Contract Act cannot override the express provisions of s. 261 of the same Act. The creditor will be entitled in respect of such a debt to a decree against the surviving partner personally and against the assets of the partnership in his hands. Bagel v. Miller, (1903) 2 K. B. 212, referred to. SESHI AMMAL v. VAIRAVAN CHETTIAR (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 15

CONTRACT C. I. F.

See CONFISCATION I. L. R. 42 Calc. 334

See C. I. F. CONTRACTS.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 473

See CONTRACT . . .

CONTRACT C. I. F.—contd.

See CONTRACT TO PURCHASE AND SHIP GOODS . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1060

See SALE OF GOODS

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 11
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 16
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 28
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 22

——— To purchase and ship goods—C. I. F. contracts, nature of—C. I. F. contract with ordinary vendor and with commission agent, difference between—Outbreak of war, effect of—Liability of vendor and vendee—Special terms as to risk in contract, effect of—Indian Contract Act, s. 222. E. & Co., who were commission agents, entered into a contract with the defendants under which they undertook to purchase and ship certain goods 'on account and risk' of the defendants, and did ship them under a C. I. F contract on board a German ship. Owing to the outbreak of war during their transit, the goods did not arrive at their destination until long after due time. On defendants' refusal to accept the goods, they were sold by the plaintiff, the liquidator of E. & Co., who sued the defendants for damages for breach of contract; the defendants denied the liability. Held, that E. & Co. being commission agents of the defendants, were entitled, both under the special terms of the contract and under the general law of agency embodied in s 222 of the Indian Contract Act, to recover damages for breach of contract In an ordinary C I. F. contract between vendors and vendees, the tender of a bill of lading after the contract of affreightment has been dissolved by the outbreak of war is not such a tender as the vendees are bound to accept and they are not bound to pay for the goods Arnhold Karberg & Co. v. Blythe Green Jourdain & Co., (1916) 1 K. B. 495, followed. Where, however, goods are purchased from a and agent still subsists for all other purposes; the true principal is that the assimilation is only to be carried so far as is necessary to give necessary efficacy to the transaction. Ireland v. Livingston, L. R. 5 H. L. 395 Cassaboglou v. Gibb 11 Q B. D. 797, Willamson v. Barbour, 9 Ch. D. 529, referred to HARRY MEREDITH v V. K ABDULA SAHIB (1918) . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1060 ——— Addition of C. I. to C. I. F. in indent form—Bill of Exchange presented along with shipping documents and accepted by the merchant in India—Goods shipped on an alien ship —War between the Governments of the shipper and the shipmaster—The alien ship seized as a prize—Bill not paid at maturity, the acceptor not receiving goods—Release of the alien ship and delivery of the goods to the acceptor—Acceptor refusing to pay interest and notarial charges held liable to pay the same—Bill of Exchange presented without shipping documents after the outbreak of war—Shipping documents becoming void after the outbreak of war—Consequent failure of consideration for the acceptance of the bill—Acceptance conditional—Non-liability of the acceptor to pay the principal amount of the bill interest and notarial charges—The Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s. 66—The Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881), s. 43. The plaintiffs were merchants doing business at Glasgow. The defendants, merchants in Bombay, ordered through the plaintiff's agent in Bombay, fifty cases of aluminium circles to be delivered at Madras on C. I. F. C. I. terms. The first shipment was to be of fourteen cases and the remaining ones of twelve cases each. The first consignment of fourteen cases was in due course received and paid for by the defendants. The second and third consignments of twelve cases each were shipped from a German port on the 16th and 25th July 1914, respectively, on two German vessels S.S. "Barenfels," and S.S. "Kybfels" Hansa Line. The shipping documents in respect of the "Barenfels" goods were duly delivered to the defendants along with the bill of exchange which the defendants accepted on 31st July 1914. On the 9th October 1914, the plaintiffs drew another bill of exchange in respect of the "Kybfels" goods which the defendants accepted on the 10th November 1914. The shipping documents for the said goods were not however received by the defendants at the time of the acceptance of the bill, but were tendered by the plaintiffs sometime after the filing of the suit. The two bills became payable on the 2nd October 1914 and 12th January 1915, respectively, but were not met by the defendants by payment. War being declared between Great Britain and Germany, S.S. "Barenfels" was in August 1914 seized on the voyage as a prize and on her release by the Prize Court allowed to proceed to Madras where she unloaded her cargo on 8th June 1915, when the defendants obtained possession of their goods on payment of the principal amount due under the first bill but not the interest from the date of maturity to the date of payment. The plaintiffs sued on 2nd February 1915 to recover from the defendants (i) the interest due on the first bill from the date of maturity to the date of payment together with notarial charges, and (ii) the amount due on the second bill with interest. Held, (i) that under the first bill inasmuch as the defendants obtained all that they were entitled to obtain under the C. I. F. contract when the bill was presented to them for acceptance, that is to say, good shipping documents, the risk after the acceptance was entirely their own and that having refused payment on maturity they were liable to pay over-due interest after that date and the notarial charges incurred by the plaintiffs; (ii) that under the second bill inasmuch as the bill of lading had become a void contract before it was tendered to the defendants, on the 10th November 1914, there was at that time a failure of consideration for the acceptance of the bill and they were not bound to pay at maturity. Arnhold Kerberg & Co. v. Blythe, Green, Jourdian & Co.; Theodor Schneider & Co. v. Burgett & Newsam, (1915) 2 K. B. 379, followed. It is an accepted principle of the maritime law that all contracts of affreightment are put an end to by the outbreak of hostilities between the Governments of the shipper and the shipmaster. Esposito v. Bowden, 7 El. & Bl. 763, followed. MARSHAL & Co. v. NAGIN CHAND FULCHAND (1916)

CONTRACT C. I. F.—contd.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 473

——————— Breach—Suit for difference—Plaintiff's failure to prove freight, insurance, etc.—Award of nominal damages, if justified. Where under a c.i.f. contract it was agreed between S and J that if S failed to take delivery of certain timber in time, J was to dispose of the same locally and S was to pay him the difference in price; and S having failed to take delivery, J sold the timber by auction in a regular manner and sued for the difference, but did not give clear evidence of the freight, the insurance, the loading charges and certain Port or Customs duties, which had to be deducted: Held that as S called no evidence on those points at all and there was no suggestion on his side, that these expenses would have wiped out the difference, the Appellate Court in India was not justified in awarding to J nominal damages of Re. 1 only. A. V. JOSEPH v. R. SHEW BUX (1918)

23 C. W. N. 601

——————— Defendants accepted shipping documents and drafts for the amount due but refused to take delivery on the ground that the goods were not in accordance with the description on the indents, which however shewed the Contract C. I. F. and that the indentors were bound to pay the drafts at maturity and if they had any claim in regard to the nature of the goods they would bring it in manner laid down in the indent. Held, that the defendants could not in answer to the claim upon the draft plead failure of consideration because what they contracted for were shipping documents not the goods. STIRLING MASON AND COY. v. JAWALA NATH BHAGWAN DAS I. L. R. 1 Lah. 22

CONTRACT FOR SALE.

See CONTRACT

See SALE OF GOODS

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 92 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 514

See SALE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 148

——————— By Co-partence of his interest—

See HINDU LAW I. L. R. 44 Bom. 967

——————— of cotton under Bombay Cotton Trade Association Rules—

See AWARD . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 780

——————— Vendor's interest in the property sold ceasing to exist by Government Resolution—Vendor becoming entitled to other interest—Vendee cannot sue to recover the other right—Pre-emption—Personal right—Transfer—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 6. The defendant, who was occupant of certain Survey Numbers, had, under a Government Resolution a right of pre-emption in stumps of trees standing on the lands, sold the stumps to the plaintiff. After the date of the sale, Government issued another Resolution by which the right of pre-emption was abolished, and the occupant was awarded only 20 per cent. of the net proceeds of the sale of the stumps by the Forest Department. This percentage was stated to be "a gift from Government and subject to no tribunal". The plaintiff sued to recover the percentage from the defendant, which the latter received from Government in respect of the stumps sold by him. Held, that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover anything from the defendant, for what the plaintiff was claiming was a gift or bonus from Government to the defendant under a Government Resolution, which gift or bonus was not and could not have been in the contemplation of the parties when the contract was entered into and which by itself was not transferable. The right of pre-emption is a purely personal right which cannot be transferred to any one except the owner of the property affected thereby. JASUDIN v. SAKHARAM GANESH (1911) I. L. R. 36 Bom. 139 ——— Construction—Computation of time—"Up to" Wednesday—"Until"—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 91—Oral evidence. On 12th May 1917, the defendant offered to sell his motor-car to the plaintiff company in these words "Nevertheless, I am willing to hand over the car to you against a cheque for Rs. 3,120 . . . . As I intend advertising the car unless you wish to have it, please understand that my offer only holds good up to Wednesday next, as the time I have is limited." The plaintiff company sometime on Wednesday, the 16th May, tendered Rs 3,120 to the defendant and asked for delivery of the car, in accordance with the offer of the 12th May. The defendant, however, refused the tender contending that his offer expired on Tuesday, the 15th May Held, that upon the true construction of the letter of the 12th May and the words "up to Wednesday," the offer remained open until midnight on Wednesday, and did not expire at midnight on Tuesday. The King v. Stevens, 5 East 244, Bellhouse v. Mellor, 4 H. & N. 116, Isaacs v. Royal Insurance Co., L. R. 5 Ex. 296, and Rogers v. Davis, 8 Ir. L. R. 399, considered. METROPOLITAN ENGINEERING WORKS v. DEBRUNNER (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 481

CONTRACT FOR SALE—concld.

——— of cotton under Bombay Cotton Trade Association Rules—concld.

CONTRACT OF CARRIAGE.

See COMMON CARRIER, LIABILITIES OF. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 28

CONTRACT OF EMPLOYMENT.

See BROKER . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1050

CONTRACT OF MARRIAGE.

See MARRIAGE, CONTRACT OF. I. L. R. 39 Bom. 682

See CONTRACT (24) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 499

——— breach of—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887), SCH. II, ART. 35 (g). I. L. R. 38 Mad. 274

CONTRACT OF GUARANTEE.

See CONTRACT ACT 1872, ss. 124 TO 147.

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

CONTRACT OF SERVICE.

See SCHOOLMASTER I. L. R. 44 Calc. 917

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 378

See TRUST . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 19

See WORKMEN'S BREACHES OF CONTRACT ACT, ss. 1, 2, 4 . 15 C. W. N. 15

CONTRACT TO ASSIGN DOCUMENT.

——— Damages awardable though no loss is proved—Measure of damages. A as the agent of B, took from D, a debtor of B, for the debt due, a bill in favour of C. A undertook to get the bill endorsed in favour of B by C. A having failed to do so, for more than a year, B sued A claiming as damages the amount of the bill with interest. At the settlement of issues A produced the promissory-note endorsed in favour of B: Held, that B's suit was maintainable and that the endorsement after the suit was filed could not defeat B's claim. The contract to obtain the assignment not having been performed within a reasonable time the contract was broken and the right to sue accrued before the suit was brought. It could not be said that B had sustained no damage which he was entitled to recover as the bill standing in the name of a third party prevented him from suing on the original obligation. A promissory-note in consideration of a pre-existing debt is only a conditional payment; and if the promissory-note remains in the hands of the original payee when it is dishonoured, the original debt revives. If, however, the promissory note had been endorsed to a third party a suit on the original debt would not be maintainable. A debtor, In re, (1908) 1 K. B 344, referred to It is not necessary that B should prove that D had become insolvent or that the money could not be recovered if a suit had been brought against D. The amount recoverable will be the amount for which the promissory-note was executed. SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY v. MUTHIA CHETTY (1912) I. L. R. 35 Mad. 639

CONTRACT TO LEND OR BORROW.

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 59

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY.

——— Status of hostile firms—Common law doctrine—Trading licenses granted to hostile firms, their effect—Licenses granted to manager of a firm, not ultra vires—The Hostile Foreigners' Trading Order of 1914—The Indian Councils Act of 1861, s. 23—Act I of 1915—Interest made payable under contracts entered into before war—Suspension of interest after war—American cases, though not authoritative, noted on a novel point. The existence of a state of war between the respective countries of the debtor and the creditor suspends the accrual of interest when it would ordinarily be recoverable as damages, and not as a substantive part of the debt, the reason being that a party should not be called upon to pay damages for retaining money which it was his duty to withhold. The accrual of interest is equally suspended, even when the alien enemy creditor remains in the country of the debtor, until the debtor has actual notice that the principal can safely be paid without the possibility of its enuring for the benefit of the enemy during the continuance of hostilities. PADGETT v. JAMSHETJI HORMUSJI (1916) I. L. R. 41 Bom. 390

——— Forward cotton contracts—Manager of an Indian branch of enemy firm entering into contracts prior to war—Pledge of goods as security by manager before and after war—Settlement by manager of pre-war contracts by cross-contracts—Agreement by Liquidator of an Indian branch of enemy firm, valid—Liquidator acting under instruction of Controller of Hostile Trading Concerns—Effect of war—Contract of agency, whether terminated by war—Payment made by Liquidator in settlement of a claim cannot be recovered—Mistake of law—Pleadings—The Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 21, 65 and 72—The Royal Proclamations of August 1914, Nos. 1 and 2—Treasury Announcements—Hostile Foreigners (Trading) Order of November 1914—The Enemy Trading Act (X of 1916), ss. 4, 5 and 13—Controller can exercise all powers conferred on Official Liquidators by s. 179 of the Indian Companies Act without sanction of Government—Counter-claim. The plaintiffs W. and Sons were a German firm with its head office in Germany and a branch office at Bombay managed by a German named Zoller. Prior to the outbreak of war between Great Britain and Germany on 4th August 1914, the plaintiffs had employed the defendants, an Indian firm in Bombay, as their guaranteed brokers and muccadums on the latter depositing with them Rs. 50,000 by way of guarantee. In July 1914, certain cotton contracts were entered into between the plaintiffs and the defendants for January to March 1915 delivery. On 3rd August 1914, the plaintiffs returned to the defendants Rs. 40,000 out of their deposit amount. On the 5th August 1914, the plaintiffs and the defendants entered into a written agreement (in pursuance of an arrangement arrived at between them the previous day) by which the plaintiffs pledged 799 bales of blankets belonging to them to defendants as security for the balance of the deposit amount and the differences on the forward contracts. On the 27th August 1914, Zoller further pledged certain cotton bales to the defendants by way of additional security. On 3rd September 1914, the forward contracts were closed by Zoller by cross-contracts with the defendants at the prevailing market rates. On 5th September 1914, Zoller was interned and one Tombroff was appointed Liquidator by Government, who in the course of his duties took directions from the Controller of Hostile Trading Concerns. In July 1915, the Liquidator with the assent of the Controller agreed with the defendants that they should sell the blankets and apply the sale proceeds towards the payment of their debt for the cotton differences. In or about September 1915, the Liquidator after communicating with the Controller entered into a further agreement with the defendants which in effect was that the Liquidator was to sell the cotton and the defendants were to give delivery to the purchasers and to allow the Liquidator to receive the purchase money on the express condition that the balance of the defendants' claim remaining after the realisation of the blankets was to be paid out of the proceeds of the cotton. The sales of the blankets and the cotton were duly effected. The sale proceeds of the blankets sold by the defendants being insufficient to pay off the whole amount of the debt due to them, the defendants sent to the Liaquidator on 10th March 1916 a final statement of account showing a balance of Rs. 47,194 due to them and asked to be paid out of the sale proceeds of cotton in the hands of the Liquidator. On 12th April 1916, the Liquidator repudiated his liability to pay that amount or any, alleging that the original pledge of the blankets on the 5th August 1914 was illegal and void, and that he, on the other hand, was entitled to the sale proceeds in the hands of the defendants as pledgee after deducting therefrom Rs. 10,000 being the balance of the deposit due to them and certain expenses incurred by them. On 6th August 1917, the plaintiffs by their Liquidator sued the defendants for the amount of the sale proceeds of the blankets contending, inter alia, that the pre-war contracts of July 1914 and the pre-war pledge (if any) of the 4th August 1914 became ipso facto void on the outbreak of war, that the further pledges given on the 5th August and the 27th August 1914 were similarly void; that the cross-contracts of the 3rd September 1914 being tainted with the illegality of the pre-war contracts were also void or amounted to the settlement of a nullity; that Zoller's agency terminated ipso facto on the outbreak of war and that therefore he had no power to enter into any of the subsequent transactions; and that under s. 65 or s. 72 of the Indian Contract Act they were entitled to recover payments made towards the satisfaction of the defendants' debt, the illegality of the transactions not being discovered by them till November 1915. The defendants resisted the plaintiffs' claim for refunding the money paid and counterclaimed a large amount due at the foot of the account between the parties. On the figures agreed at the trial the plaintiffs' claim was for Rs. 69,467-9-0 and the defendants' counterclaim for Rs. 58,440-9-0 (the plaintiffs admitting their liability for Rs. 10,000, being the balance of the guarantee amount deposited by the defendants). The trial Judge, MACLEOD J. dismissed the plaintiffs' suit and decreed the defandants' counterclaim holding (i) that although the pre-war contracts and the two pledges became void on the outbreak of war the settlement of the contracts by cross contract was a legitimate transaction as merely fixing the damages for the breach of contracts of purchase which both parties mistakenly believed could still be legally enforced, (ii) that Zoller's agency did not terminate on the outbreak of war and (iii) that the Liquidator having agreed that the amount realised by the sale of the blankets and the cotton bales be set off against the satisfaction of the debt due to the defendants, that amounted to a payment which the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover either under s. 65 or s. 72 of the Indian Contract Act, the latter section not applying to a mistake of law. The plaintiffs appealed:—Held, confirming the decision of the trial Judge, (1) that assuming but without deciding that the plaintiffs' contentions as to the effect of the war on the transactions in question were correct, the legal position of the Indian branch of an enemy firm up to November 1915 was in view of the Proclamations and orders then in force sufficiently doubtful as to afford some justification for the view that the transactions were valid; (2) that the Liquidator in the course of the winding up was entitled to enter into binding agreements with the defendants for the sale of the blankets and cotton and the application of the sale proceeds in discharge of the defendants' debt irrespective of any disability attaching to Zoller; (3) that the acts of the Liquidator done with the approval of the Controller were validated under s. 13 of the Enemy Trading Act, X of 1916; (4) that assuming that there was a mistake of law which was neither pleaded nor proved, the agreements entered into by the Liquidator with the defendants were "contracts" within the meaning of the Indian Contract Act and could not be avoided under s. 21 of the Act as being made under any mistake of law, and that accordingly

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY—contd.

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY—concld

the payments made to the defendants were made under the binding contract and could not be recovered under s. 72 of the Act; (5) that s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act did not apply as the payments were made under valid agreements, but assuming that the payments were made under the pre-war contracts and pledges ending 3rd September 1914, the word "agreement," as used in the section did not apply to the pre-war contracts, for, they were "contracts" and not "agreements," and that the words "discovered to be void" were not applicable to the subsequent agreements as the parties knew all the material facts; (6) that no "advantage" within the meaning of s 65 was received by the defendants under the pre-war contracts when ex hypothesi they became void on the outbreak of war and payments were made to the defendants in 1915 under subsequent agreements with the Liquidator; (7) that the defendants were entitled to succeed on their counterclaim inasmuch as they changed their position with regard to the cotton in their possession on the faith of a promise made to them by the Liquidator, and that promise was binding in law W. L. Ingle, Limited v. Mannheim Insurance Company (1915) 1 K. B. 227; Halsey v. Lowenfeld (1916) 2 K. B. 707; Schaffenius v. Goldberg (1916) 1 K. B. 284, Holsworthy Urban Council v. Holsworthy Rural Council (1907) 2 Ch 62, referred to. WOLF & SONS v. DADYBA KHIMJI & Co. (1919) .

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 631

CONTRACT WITH GOVERNMENT.

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887), SCH. II, ART. 3.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 533

CONTRADICTORY STATEMENT.

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 618

CONTRIBUTION.

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 40 All. 45

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), ss. 69 AND 70 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 795

See CO-SHARER . 15 C. W. N. 332

See COSTS . I. L. R. 40 All. 672

See HINDU LAW—(DEBT).
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 458

See LIMITATION . .
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 288

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 968
I. L. R. 38 All. 92
I. L. R. 43 All. 42

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 573

See TORT . . 4 Pat. L. J. 486

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 82.
I. L. R. 33 All. 387, 708
I. L. R. 36 All. 272
I. L R. 37 All. 101
I. L. R. 43 All. 589

———— cause of action for—

See LIMITATION . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 288

———— suit for—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 39 Mad. 288

CONTRIBUTION—contd.

———— suit for—concld.

See RENT DECREE . 14 C. W. N. 699

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887), s. 25; SCH. II, ART. 41 . I. L. R. 41 All. 51

———— suit for in respect of repairs to a jointly owned well—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, SCH. ARTS. 61 AND 116 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 591

1. ———— Attachment—Purchase of part of attached property by a third party who satisfies the whole claim—No right of contribution against the remainder acquired by the purchaser. An attaching creditor does not obtain by his attachment any charge or lien upon the attached property. Where therefore a third party purchased a portion of certain property under attachment and satisfied the whole of the creditor's claim: Held, that the purchaser acquired no right of contribution as against the remainder of the attached property. Moti Lal v Karrabuldin, I. L. R. 25 Calc. 179, Peacock v. Madan Gopal, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 428, and Miller v. Lukhmani Debi, I. L. R. 28 Calc. 419, referred to. LALTA PRASAD v. ZAHUR-UD-DIN (1910) . . . I. L. R. 32 All. 479

2. ———— Mortgage-sale—Sale set aside by consent on one of co-mortgagors paying off decree—Liability of other co-mortgagors to contribute—Equity—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s 69—Charge. Where a mortgage-decree having been passed against several persons, a sale of the mortgaged property took place, and then one of the mortgagors paid off the decree-holder and by consent the sale was set aside: Held, in a suit by him against the other mortgagors for contribution, that although the defendants were not liable under s. 69 of the Contract Act, the plaintiff not having paid the money to prevent the sale, the defendants who kept the property were bound in equity to pay their share of the money which the plaintiff had paid to release the property. The amount was declared to be a charge on the shares of the defendants. PARBHU NARAIN SINGH BAHADUR v. BABU BENI SINGH (1909)

14 C. W. N. 361

3. ———— Purchasers of mortgaged property—Mode of calculating amount as between purchasers of different items of mortgaged property. M mortgaged 3 items of property to one S for Rs. 1,300. Two of these items were sold to two persons for Rs. 1,200, and the deeds of sale provided that the amounts for which the profits were sold should be paid to the mortgagee. The sale of the third item was for cash, but the property was not sold free of encumbrance and there was no contract between M and the third purchaser that the lands sold to the other purchasers should be liable for the Rs. 1,200 of the mortgaged money. S assigned his mortgage and the assignee obtained a decree for the full amount due on the mortgage and in execution the properties sold to the third purchaser were brought to sale and the third purchaser paid up the amount to avoid the sale. In a suit by the third purchaser for contribution, it was contended by [illegible] of Rs. 1,200 [illegible] purchasers an[illegible] the properties [illegible] balance left after deducting such amount:—

CONTRIBUTION—contd.

——— suit for in respect of repairs to a jointly owned well—contd.

Held, that the contribution must be calculated on the footing that all the properties were liable for the full amount. The benefit of the covenants in the sale-deeds to the other two purchasers could claim the benefit of such covenants only on a contract with the mortgagor giving him such benefit. SESHAGIRI AYYAR v. VYTHILINGA PILLAI (1909) . . . . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 211

4. ——— Degree for costs—Some defendants not contesting suit—Liability for contribution not a necessary consequence of a joint decree. The mere fact that a decree for costs has been made against several persons jointly will not of itself render the co-defendants liable in a suit for contribution; but if one of the defendants pays the full amount of costs and then sues his co-defendants for contribution, he should show some equity existing between himself and his co-judgment-debtors making the latter liable for contribution. Dearsly v. Middleweek, L. R. 18 Ch. D. 236, referred to. MULLA SINGH v. JAGANNATH SINGH (1910). I. L. R. 32 All. 585

5. ——— Deposit under s. 310A, Civil Procedure Code by co-tenant, not a party—to decree for sale for arrears of rent—Decree, satisfaction of, how becomes complete—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 70, 43, 68, 69, 72, 146, 222—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), s. 310A. Where an entire tenure was sold in execution of rent-decrees obtained against only some of the tenants, and a tenant, who was not a party to the rent suit, deposited, with the approval of the Court and lawfully, the prescribed amounts under s. 310A of the Code of Civil Procedure to have the sales set aside, with the object of protecting his own interest in the holding, and the sales were set aside, with the result that the liability of the defendants in respect of rent was discharged: Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to sue the several defendants for contribution, each according to the share in the decretal debt only, but not in respect of the deposit of 5 per cent. of the purchase-money that the applicant is bound to make under s. 310A, Civil Procedure Code. Per JENKINS, C. J.—The terms of s. 70 of the Contract Act apply to such a case, and, though they are rather wide, they enable the Courts to do substantial justice in cases where it would be difficult to impute to the persons concerned relations actually created by contract. But it is incumbent on final Courts of fact to be guarded and circumspect in their conclusions, and not to countenance acts or payments that are really officious. Venkata Gopalaraju v. Timmayya Pantulu, I. L. R. 22 Mad. 314, referred to. Per DOSS, J. Such a case does not come within the purview of s. 70 of the Contract Act, for the plaintiff must in law be held to have deposited the rent in Court in discharge of his own liability, and not in satisfaction of a debt due by another, co-sharer tenants being liable for the rent, not only jointly, but also severally. It was not the intention of the Legislature that s. 70 should be invoked where relief might be obtained under any other section of the Act, e.g., ss. 43, 68, 69, 72, 146 or 222. S. 69 is applicable in cases like this. Smith v. Dinonath Moorkerjee, I. L. R. 12 Calc. 213, discussed. Damodara Mudaliar v. Secretary of State for India, I. L. R. 18 Mad. 88, approved of. Though the plaintiff had no right to make the deposits under s. 310A, Civil Procedure Code, as his interest in the holding was not affected by the sales, he being no party to the decrees, the deposits being in fact made without protest from any party or Court, and the joint obligation of all tenants discharged thereby, the mere fact that the money was deposited under s. 310A did not place him in a position worse than if he had satisfied the entire decree before sale, nor did it alter the equitable right of the plaintiff to be reimbursed proportionately for the deposit, the benefit of which was enjoyed by others. Fatima Khatoon Chowdrain v. Mahomed Jan Chowdry, 12 Moo. I. A. 65 : 10 W. R. P. C. 29, Dulichand v. Ramkishen Singh, I. L. R. 7 Calc. 648 : L. R. 8. I. A. 93, Johnson v. Royal 7 Calc. Mail Steam Packet Co., L. R. 3 C. P. 38, Edmunds v. Wallingford, L. R. 14, Q. B. D. 11, The Orchis, L. R. 15 P. D. 38, Judeo Narain Singh v. Raja Singh, I. L. R. 15 Calc. 356, referred to. In apportioning liability between co-obligees in a suit for contribution, which is eminently an equitable suit, regard must be had more to the real nature of the debt than to the decree founded on it. Ram Tuhul Singh v. Biseswar Lall Sahoo, L. R. 2, I.A. 191 : 23 W. R. 305, Ruabon Steamship Co. v. The London Assurance (1900), A. C. 6, referred to. A decree is not satisfied and the obligation in respect of it is not discharged until the decree-holder receives the money out of Court and satisfaction of the decree is entered; nor does the compulsion of law initiated by the attachment of the property terminate until such satisfaction. SUCHAND GHOSAL v. BALARAM MARDANA (1910). . . . . I. L. R. 38 Calc.

6. ——— Owner of suit of Revenue-paying estate——paying entire revenue—Proportion in which other owners should contribute—Assets as basis of calculation, if those at revenue settlement or those at the date of default to be considered—Collectorate Registers, admissibility—Public document. Where Government revenue payable in respect of an estate was fixed in perpetuity on the basis of assets as they stood at the time of the settlement, and the assets were at that time determined village by village and revenue proportionate to the assets of each village was also calculated, although the proprietor of the entire estate was made liable for the aggregate amount of revenue. Held, that, as between persons in whom in course of time different villages in the mehal became vested, the liability to contribute towards the revenue was to be fixed on the basis of the assets of the villages as determined at the settlement and not as found on valuation at the date of default. LAL MOHAR THAKUR v. SHEW GOLAM LAL (1911)
16 C. W. N. 590

7. ——— Joint tort-feasors—Decree against plaintiffs and defendants for mesne profits, Tort not wilful—Plea that plaintiffs' sole wrongdoers to be specially pleaded and made a special issue. Held, that, on the facts of the case, the plaintiffs and defendants against whom as zemindars of estate A, a decree for possession and mesne profits had been passed in favour of zamindars of estate N, were not wilful tort-feasors—even if the strict law of Merryweather v. Nixam,

CONTRIBUTION—contd.

———— suit for in respect of repairs to a jointly owned well—contd.

8 T. R. 186, were applicable in India—and primâ facie the plaintiffs who paid the whole of the decretal amount in a proceeding under s. 310A, Civil Procedure Code, were entitled to contribution as against the defendants. In such a suit for contribution, a plea that the plaintiffs were the only wrong-doers in the sense that they alone were in possession of the land in respect of which mesne profits were awarded, is of such a special nature and requires such special consideration that it should be distinctly pleaded and made the subject of a distinct issue. Dering v. Winchelsea, 1 Cox 318, referred to. BISHNU CHARAN ROY CHAUDHURY v. BEPIN CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURI (1913). 18 C. W. N. 622

8. ———— Compromise—Claim by party to a compromise alleging payment by himself of money for payment of which he and others were jointly liable—Joint tort-feasors. A Hindu widow, the owner of considerable property, brought a suit against her four brothers as managers of her estate for the profits of the estate to a considerable amount. One of the brothers had previously brought a suit against her for a declaration that she had adopted his son. These suits were compromised, and the compromise was made a decree of Court. Amongst the conditions of the compromise was one to the effect that the brothers shou'd pay back a certain sum of money belonging to misappropriated by them. Held, on suit by one of the brothers who alleged that he had paid on whole sum and asked for contribution, that the rule laid down in Merryweather v. Nixon, 8 T. R. 186, that there was no right of contribution amongst joint tort-feasors did not apply to this case when the claim was based on the terms of a compromise, and quære whether the rule should be applied in India at all. Palmer v. Wick and Pulteneytown Steam Shipping Company, Limited, (1894) A. C. 318, referred to. NIHAL SINGH v. THE COLLECTOR OF BULANDSHAHR (1916) I. L. R. 38 All. 237

9. ———— Cost of Litigation—Suit by co-plaintiff for expenses of litigation. Where two plaintiffs join in the institution of a suit and the suit is conducted by one plaintiff alone and the entire expenses of the suit are borne in the first instance by that plaintiff, a suit for contribution by him against the other plaintiff can only succeed upon one or other of the following grounds, namely, (i) that there was an agreement between the two plaintiffs that the expenses should be borne proportionately, or (ii) that the plaintiffs joined in engaging Counsel or Vakil and that after the joint engagement of Counsel or Vakil, the one plaintiff had paid the Counsel or Vakil on behalf of both, or (iii) under the provisions of the Contract Act, 1872, s. 70. UMATUL SOGHRA v. MUSSUMMAT BIBI ZOHRA . 1 Pat. L. J. 201

10. ———— Joint suit—Decree for costs against plaintiff jointly executed against one—Suit pay, he will have a suit for contribution against the others. Mulla Singh v. Jagannath Singh, I. L. R. 32 All. 585, Suput Singh v. Imrit Tewari, I. L. R. 5 Calc. 720, Dearsly v. Middleweel, L. R. 18 Ch. D. 236, Sita Panda v. Jujusti Panda, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 599, distinguished. RAM SARUP v. BAIJ NATH . . I. L. R. 43 All. 77

11. ———— Mortgage—Contract Act, 1872, ss. 69, 70. X, a mortgagee obtained a decree against A, B and C as representatives in interest of his mortgagor. A satisfied the decree-holder mortgaged property, and urged that his payment was voluntary. The Court of first instance found, on the evidence, that A had an interest in the property, but the lower Appellate Court dismissed the suit holding that A had none Held, that a payment in satisfaction of a decree, by a person who is a party to the decree and was bound thereby, was a payment made lawfully within the meaning, of s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act Bindubashini Dasi v. Harendralal Roy, I L R. 25 Calc. 305, Radha Madhub Samonta v Sasti Ram Sen, I L R. 26 Calc. 826, discussed Desai Himat Singji v. Bhavabhai Khayabhai, I L R 4 Bom. 643, Jivant Ali v. Fatch Ali Maibar, 13 C L J. 646 ; 15 C W. N 332, distinguished SERAFAT ALI v. ISSAN ALI (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 691

———————— That so far as the right of contribution against co sharers is concerned it does not matter whether the money is actually handed over by the party seeking contribution or is realised from him by coercive process by the creditor In either case the right to contribution arises from the facts that one of the co-sharers has paid excess of his share and the joint liability of all the co-sharers has been discharged. GOPENDRANATH MONSHI v. GHUNDRANNATH MONSHI 26 C. W. N. 340

CONTRIBUTORY

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 36 All. 412
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 264
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 331

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—

ss. 45, 58 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 595

ss 58, 147 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 134

ss. 61, 125, 151 . I. L. R. 38 All. 247

CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE.

See NEGLIGENCE I. L. R. 35 Bom. 478

See PENAL CODE, s. 280.
15 C. W N. 835

———————— Position of passengers in railway trains who allow a part of their person to project outside the railway carriage. The plaintiff, while a passenger on a train of the defendants, was travelling with his arm projecting from the railway carriage-window. While the train, in which the plaintiff was travelling, was passing through a station of the defendants, it passed another train of the defendants which was stationary on the parallel set of rails. A door of one of the carriages forming the stationary train, being the eighth carriage to be passed by the train in motion, having been left insecurely fastened owing to the negligence of the defendants' servants, swung open and, striking the arm of the plaintiff which was projecting from the carriage-window, CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE—concld.

fractured it: Held, that under the circumstances the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence and was not entitled to recover damages from the defendants. Held, however, that the dicta in the case of Dullabhji Sakhidas v. G. I. P. Railway Co., I. L. R. 34 Bom. 427, that (i) a passenger must travel inside and not outside his compartment and, therefore, if he travels outside, he does so entirely at his own risk and the company cannot be held liable for any injury he suffers in consequence; (ii) that a passenger who gets injured owing to putting any part of his person outside his carriage is guilty of contributory negligence cannot be followed as rigid and inflexible rules of law. JEHANGIR MUNCHERJI v. B. B. & C. I. RAILWAY CO. (1912) . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 575 ——————— Railway Company—Collision—Damages. The plaintiff's carriage was damaged by a train of the defendant Company running into it at a level-crossing where the gate had been left open. Held, that, on the findings of fact by the lower Appellate Court, negligence on the part of the defendant Company had been established, and that contributory negligence had not been proved. BENGAL PROVINCIAL RAILWAY CO. v. GOPI MOHAN SINGH (1913)

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 308

——————— Breach of statutory duty—Injury to passenger with arm outside carriage window—Contractual obligations. The fact that a door on a moving train is open is evidence but not conclusive proof, of negligence on the part of the Railway Company. Where there is a statutory obligation, any breach of it which causes an accident is conclusive against the defendant apart from special proof of negligence. But the breach must in itself be the cause of the accident, and the rule does not extend so far as to exclude the defence of contributory negligence. In view of the contractual relations between the parties, a Railway Company is not liable for injuries caused to any part of a passenger which is outside the carriage in which he is travelling, provided that such injuries could not have been received had the passenger remained inside the carriage. The application of the rule that, where there is negligence on both sides, the negligence of the person who had the last chance of averting the accident is the efficient cause thereof, must be restricted to cases where the danger was apparent to both or at least one of the parties before the accident actually happened. DULLABHJI SAKHIDAS v. THE G. I. P. RAILWAY CO. (1909)
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 427

CONTROLLER.

——— jurisdiction of—
See DESIGNS . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 606

CONVENIENCE.

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 41 Calc. 305

——— balance of—
See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 1001

——— questions of—
See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 595

CONVERSATION.

——— Between pleaders—
See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 130

CONVERSION.

See BAILMENT I. L. R. 37 Bom. 122
See CARRIERS . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 703

——— outside British India—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), ss. 179 TO 188.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 779

——— Rate of Exchange—
See FOREIGN CURRENCY.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 886

——— of appeal into Civil Revision Petition—
See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s. 46, CL. (3).
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 593

CONVERT.

See JURISDICTION.
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 264
See MALABAR LAW .
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 891

——— to Christiainity—
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 407
See MARRIAGE . I. L. R. 33 All. 90

See SUCCESSION ACT, s. 2.
15 C. W. N. 158

——— to Mahomedanism—
See SUCCESSION . L. R. 43 I. A. 35

——— to Roman Catholic religion—
See CHURCH . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1056

CONVEYANCE.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O II, R. 2.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 698
See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 320
See OFFICIAL RECEIVER.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 887
See RECEIVER I. L. R. 43 Calc. 124
See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 69
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 362

——— by executor—
See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 56

——— of family lands—
See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1187

——— Recitals as to title—
See LEASE.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 103

CONVICTION.

See MADRAS ABKARI ACT (MADRAS ACT I OF 1886), ss. 56, 64.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 895

CONVICTION—concld.

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 764

See SENTENCE . 3 Pat. L. J. 641

See SEPARATE CONVICTIONS.
I. L. R. 39 All. 623

See THEFT . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 433

———— alteration of—

See APPELLATE COURT.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 293

———— Power of High Court to alter section under which conviction obtained. Where the lower courts have convicted an accused under a wrong section in a case in which no charge was framed it is open to the High Court, if necessary to revise the section under which the conviction has been recorded without any further proceedings. Where a carter removed from the godown of a railway company a bag filled with pilferings from a number of bags consigned to others: held, that the bag being in the possession of the railway as bailees the taking it out of the godown amounted to theft. SOUKHI CHAND SAO v. KING EMPEROR . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 354

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES ACT (II OF 1912)

———— ss. 19, 20—Charge—Priority—Co-operative Societies Act (II of 1912), ss. 19, 20—Attachment—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 73. Under s. 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure the claim of a co-operative society cannot be enforced unless they have a decree or charge under s. 20 of the Co-operative Societies Act (II of 1912), though under s 19 of that Act the society might have raised an objection to the attachment by reason of other sections of the Code of Civil Procedure. ABDUL QUADIR v. SHAHBAZPUR CO-OPERATIVE BANK (1914) . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 377
18 C. W. N. 1140

———— s. 42—Order of liquidator declaring each member to be jointly and severally liable—

gages from the various persons who were members of the society and had received advances, proceeded to make an order, purporting to be passed under s. 42 (b) of the Act determining that each of the debtors should be jointly and severally liable, for the full amount of the several debts This order was then taken to the Civil Court having local jurisdiction to be enforced under vas probdid, but the Act, nforce it,

and that no appeal lay to the District Judge nor a second appeal to the High Court. MATHURA PRASAD v. SHEOBALAK RAM (1917).
I. L. R. 40 All. 89

———— s. 42, sub-cls. (2) (e), (4) and (6)—Winding up—Order passed in the course of winding up—Order in connection with dissolution—Suit to set aside order—Civil Court—Jurisdiction. A Liquidator of a course of the certain orders were responsibl

These persons having filed suits for a declaration that the orders were null and void. Held, that the orders by the Liquidator were matters in connection with the dissolution of a registered Society, and therefore the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suits, under cl. (6) of s. 42, Co-operative Societies Act, 1912. Mathura Prasad v. Sheobalak Ram (1917) 40 All. 89, referred to. GANPAT RAMRAO v. KRISHNADAS PADMANABH (1919) . . . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 582

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES ACT (II OF 1912)—concld.

———— s. 42, sub-cls. (2) (e), (4) and (6)—concld.

CO-OWNERS.

See ADVERSE POSSESSION.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 879

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), ss. 69 AND 70 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 795

See CO-SHARERS.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1118

See JOINT OWNERS.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 182

See JOINT PROPERTY
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 54

See JURISDICTION . I. L. R. 42 All. 64

See RIGHT OF SUIT.
I. L. R. 34 Mad. 501

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 573

See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 436

———— contract by—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), ss. 15, 17 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 403

———— rights of inter se—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
I. L. R. 33 All. 308

———— Sole occupation by, of joint land—Ouster—Suit for joint possession—Justice, equity and good conscience—Statu quo when maintained. Where it is found that a portion of the joint land was marshy and was jointly possessed by all the co-owners although they had other lands in separate possession and that when the marsh silted up one of the co-owners occupied the silted up land to the exclusion of others. Held, in a suit by one of the co-owners for joint possession, that there was ouster, and plaintiff was entitled to recover joint possession without bringing a suit for partition. Where parties are contented with joint possession of a portion of the joint land and separate possession of the rest, from the point of view of justice, equity and good conscience, the statu quo ought to be restored and the party dissatisfied relegated to a suit for partition. KUMUD LAL RAY v. JOGENDRA MOHAN RAY (1914) . . 18 C. W. N. 609 ———— Right of suit—Held, that one of several co-owners can maintain an action in ejectment against a trespasser without joining the others. A judgment should not be passed solely on personal inspection. SHUTARI v. THE MAGNESITE SYNDICATE, LD.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 501

———— Suit by, for joint possession of land and injunction—Injury or lik...

CO-OWNERS—contd.

thereof not alleged in plaint—Hostile title not set up by defence—Decree for joint possession if should be given—Ouster, meaning of—Common law action for ejectment and equity suit for injunction, distinction between, if should be introduced in this country—Principle of equity, justice and good conscience. The plaintiffs and the defendant were co-sharers in a mehal. Each co-sharer was in sole occupation of some lands appertaining to the mehal as khamar lands and the defendant was in such possession of some lands. On the defendant commencing some building on portions of the land the plaintiffs brought a suit for recovery of joint possession of the land in dispute on declaration of their proprietary right to their share in it, for demolition of the building raised, for an injunction restraining the defendant from building on the land. The defendant did not claim any exclusive title to the land and the plaintiffs did not allege that they had sustained, or were likely to sustain, any substantial injury by reason of the sole occupation of the land or building thereon by the defendant. Held, that the mere fact of sole occupation by one co-sharer does not necessarily constitute an ouster of other co-sharers nor does it entitle the latter to a decree for joint possession. Ouster means 'dispossession of one co-sharer by another where a hostile title is set up by the latter and when the occupation of the latter is not consistent with joint ownership. Held, that there being no assertion of hostile title in the present case, there was no ouster of the plaintiffs by the defendant. That the distinction between a common law action for ejectment and an equity suit for an injunction should not be introduced in this country and questions of joint possession and injunction should be decided on the principles of justice, equity and good conscience. That in the present case the mere fact that the land in suit adjoined the dwelling house of the plaintiffs irrespective of any injury would not be a sufficient ground, consistent with the principles of justice, equity and good conscience, to give joint possession or order the demolition of the buildings already erected, or restrain the defendant from building on it. BASANTA KUMARI DASSYA v. MOHESH CHANDRA SHAHA (1913) . . . . 18 C. W. N. 328 ———————— Fiduciary relation between co-tenants, conditions giving rise to—Revenue sale—Default by one co-owner—Purchase by that co-owner—Effect on other co-owners—Suit for recovery of possession by other co-owners—Public policy in India, rule of English law, if a safe guide to. The plaintiff sued to recover possession of her share in certain properties which had been sold away for arrears of revenue or rent, alleging that the defendant No. 1 who was her brother managed the whole estate on behalf of all the co-sharers and that she was in possession jointly with him by receiving her share of the rents and profits, that after she had fallen out with defendant No. 1 the latter did not pay her share of the rents and profits nor give up her share of the properties and in order to deprive her of her share caused the properties to be sold for arrears of revenue and himself purchased the same with his own money in the names of the other defendants: Held, that where a revenue sale is caused by the default of a co-owner and the property is afterwards purchased at that revenue sale by that co-owner, there may be such relations between the defaulter and his co-owner as would make it right for the Court to treat such a sale as made for the benefit of both. The relations which exist between co-tenants in England and the consequences of those relations are very different from those which obtain in this country, and English cases like Biss v. Biss, (1903) 2 Ch. 40, 57 ; Kennedy v. De Trafford, (1897) A. C. 180, would hardly be safe guides to follow here. Doorga Singh v. Sheo Pershad Singh, I. L. R. 16 Calc. 194, commented on. FAIZAR RAHMAN v. MAIMUNA KHATUN (1913) . . . . 17 C. W. N. 1233 ———————— Adverse possession—Possession by one co-owner if and when may be adverse against another co-owner—Evidence necessary to constitute adverse, possession—Co-owner, residence of, in different village, leaving ancestral home, and out of possession for 50 years—Possession of the property by the other co-owner—Payment of rent by him to the landlord, and dealing with the entire property by him as his own—Execution of conveyances of the entire property by one co-owner treating it as his own, effect of—Ouster—Principles to be applied to a case of adverse possession as between co-owners—Adverse possession, if mixed question of law and fact—Second appeal. The entry and possession of land under the common title of one co-owner will not be presumed to be adverse to the others, but will ordinarily be held to be for the benefit of all. The obvious reason for this rule is that the possession of one co-owner is, in itself, rightful and does not imply hostility, as would the possession of a mere stranger. The law will never construe a possession tortious, unless from necessity; on the other hand it will consider every possession lawful, the commencement and continuance of which is not proved to be wrongful; and this, upon the plain principle that every man shall be presumed to act in obedience to his duty, until the contrary appears. In other words, the only difference between the possession of a co-owner and other cases is, that acts, which, if done by a stranger, would per se be a disseisin, are, in the case of tenancies in common, susceptible of explanation consistently with the real title, acts of ownership are not, in tenancies in common, acts of disseisin : it depends upon the intent with which they are done and their notoriety; the law will not presume that one tenant in common intends to oust another; the facts must be notorious and the intent must be established in proof. Jogendra Nath Rai v. Baladeo Das, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 961 : s. c. 12 C. W. N. 127 (1907), Ayenenussa Bibi v. Sheikh Isuf, 16 C. W. N. 849 (1912), Loke Nath Singh v. Dhakeswar Prasad Narain Singh, 20 C. W. N. 51 (1914), Narendra Bhusan Roy v. Jogendra Nath Roy, 20 C. W. N. 1258 (1916), Corea v. Appuhamy, (1912) A. C. 230, Mutlu Nayagam v. Brito, (1918) A. C. 895, Hardit Singh v. Gurmukh, 28 C. L. J. 437 (P. C.) (1918), Thomas v. Thomas, 2 K. & J. 79 (83) (1855), Culley v. Doe Dem Taylerson, 11 A. & E. 1008 (1014) (1840), Doe Dem Fisher v. Prosser, 1 Cowper 217 (1774), Doe Dem Hillings v. Bird, 11 East 49 (1809) and Doe Dem White v. Cuff, 1 Campbell 173 (1808), referred to. The question of adverse possession is a mixed question of fact and law. The soundness of the conclusions from the facts found is a matter of law and can be questioned by the High Court in second appeal.

CO-OWNERS—concld.

Lachmeswar v. Manowar, L R 19 I A. 48 : s. c. I. L. R. 19 Calc. 253, (1891), Ramgopal v. Shamskhaton, L. R. 19 I. A 228 ; s. c. I. L. R. 20 Calc. 93 (1892), Satgur Prasad v. Raj Kishore, I. L. R. 42 All. 152 : s. c. 24 C. W. N. 394 (P. C) (1919), Ishan v. Bishu, I. L. R 24 Calc. 825 : s. c. 1 C. W. N. 665 (1897), Raiaram v. Ganesh, I. L. R. 21 Bom. 91 (1895), Makund v. Gopi, 21 C. L. J. 45 (1914), Maruti v Banubai, 4 Bom. L. R. 801 (1902), Venkatesh v. Bhavani, 5 Bom. L. R. 174 (1903), Rajaram v. Nanchand, 5 Bom. L. R. 225 (1903) and Ganapati v. Ragunath, 11 Bom. L. R. co-1087 (1909), referred to. Where B J and L were owners, of whom B and J left their ancestral home and removed to another village and were not in possession for 50 years, and during this period, L, the other co-owner, possessed the property, paid rent to the landlord and dealt with the entire property as his own since 1878 when he transferred the same to his infant nephew who, on attainment of age, on the 23rd December 1902, transferred it to the second Defendant who, on the 23rd March 1908, transferred it to the first Defendant ; and the Plaintiffs claiming title, by purchase, of two-thirds share of the property in 1909 from the representatives of B and J, sued the Defendants in 1915 for recovery of possession of the same on declaration of their title ; and the Court of first instance found that adverse possession had not been proved and decreed the suit, and on appeal, the lower Appellate Court held that adverse possession had been established and dismissed the suit : Held—That on the facts found, the title of the predecessors of the Plaintiffs was not extinguished by adverse possession. The decree of the Subordinate Judge was set aside and that of the Court of first instance restored. Held also—That the mere execution of the conveyance in 1878 was not an act of such notoriety as to impress on the predecessors of the Plaintiffs that their co-sharer who lived in the village and occupied the joint property intended to set up a hostile title against them. BALARAM GURIA v. SHAMA CHARAN MANDAL

24 C. W. N. 1057

———————— One of several Co-owners can maintain an action in ejectment against a trespasser. SHUTARI v. THE MAGNESITE SYNDICATE, LD. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 501

CO-PARCENER.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1105

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1187

See HINDU LAW—COPARCENERS
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 637

See HINDU LAW—GIFT.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1029

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 685
I. L R. 40 Calc. 407

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 396

See HINDU LAW—MINOR.
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 72

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 424

CO-PARCENER—concld.

———— adverse possession by—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), SCH. II, ART. 127 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 64

———— alienation by—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), SCH II, ARTS. 127, 142.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 84

See HINDU LAW
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 341, 621, 967

———— decree against a—

See HINDU LAW—COPARCENER.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 329

———— marriage of—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 587

CO-PARTNERS.

———— liability of—

See PARTNERSHIP . 14 C. W. N. 1108

COPIES.

———— of decree or judgment—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s. 12
I. L. R. 34 All. 41
I. L. R. 42 All. 260

See PRIVY COUNCIL—
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 510

———— of Document proved in foreign court—

See HABEAS CORPUS.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 164

———— of forged document—

See FORGERY . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 783

———— of Judges notes—Specific Relief Act (I of 1887), s. 45—Jurisdiction of High Court to direct copy of Presidency Magistrate's notes of deposition to be furnished to a party to a criminal case. A party to a criminal proceedings is entitled to copies of the Presidency Magistrate's notes of depositions BENI MADHUB BANERJEE v. SAILENDRA NATH MUKERJEE (1911)
15 C. W. N. 770

COPYRIGHT.

See CONTRACT ACT 1872, s 23.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 720

See COPYRIGHT ACT (XX OF 1847), ss. 7, 12 . . I. L. R 33 All. 24

———————— Law Reports—Indian Copyright Act (III of 1914)—Copyright Act (1 & 2 Geo. V, c. 46)—Reports of judgment, copyright in—Selection of judgments, copyright in—Judgments obtained by expenditure of time, labour, or money by one, if may be reproduced by another—Extracts from judgments and facts taken from record, copyright in—Common source of information, reference to—Injunction, perpetual—Pirated matter, direction for delivery and destruction—Damages, assessment of. It is generally true that in the reports of judgment, the reporter has no copyright but, it cannot be said that in the selection of cases and in the arrangements of the reporting, the reporter has not the protection of law. One is entitled to report such judgments as he obtains by expenditure of his time, labour, money, but when he fails to exert his own energies, he cannot be allowed to avail himself of other peoples' industry. Nor will he be allowed to take quotations from judgments or facts obtained by another from the records of a case. The principle is that whilst all are entitled to resort to common sources of information, none are entitled to save themselves trouble and expense by availing themselves for their own profit of other men's works, subject to copyright and entitled to protection. Lewis v. Fullerton, 2 Beav. 6, 8, followed. JOGESH CHANDRA CHAUDHURI v. MOHIM CHANDRA RAI (1914) . . . . . 18 C. W. N. 1078

COPYRIGHT—concld.

——— Preparation by a member of the Board of Studies, Allahabad University, of a list of graduated selection from different authors for certain examinations—Publication by the Syndicate of a syllabus containing, amongst other items, the selection already referred—Publication of same in book form by a book-seller—Infringement of copyright. A, a member of the Board of Studies of the Allahabad University, prepared at the request of the convener a list of graduated selections from standard Persian authors for the use of candidates for certain examination of the University. In preparing these lists he spent considerable labour, learning and skill. The Board of Studies, after due consideration, adopted with slight modifications the selections shown in the list as the subject for those examinations in Persian and published the lists for the information of the public generally and of the candidates concerned specially. Subsequently to this, B, a firm of publishers, compiled books from the original authors according to these lists. Held, that A had no copyright in the lists as by laying the result of his labours before the Board of Studies he placed the lists unreservedly at the disposal of the University authorities. MUHAMMAD ABDUL JALIL v. RAM DAYAL (1916) I. L. R. 38 All. 484

——— Reasons for acquisition of copy-right in a compilation like a grammar—Novel mode of arrangement—Joint Hindu family—Inheritance of copy-right in a work compiled by the father. There is no reason why a copy-right may not be acquired by the compiler of a book like a grammar, if the arrangement of the subject-matter is novel and has not been employed in previous books of the same nature. Plaintiff compiled a book of this nature; whereupon defendant produced a similar work. He adopted special arrangement of the plaintiff's book, copied a large number of pages verbatim from it, added a small amount of matter of his own and slightly altered the title. Held, that the infringement of plaintiff's copy-right extended to the whole of the book and could not be limited to the pages actually copied from plaintiff's compilation. Held also that, whether or not a copy-right would in a joint Hindu family pass by survivorship, the sons of a Hindu father who had acquired the copyright were entitled to sue respecting its infringement. GHAFUR BAKHSH AND SONS v. JWALA PRASAD SINGHAL . . I. L. R. 43 All. 412

COPYRIGHT ACT (XX OF 1847).

——— ss. 7 and 12—Copyright—Suit for damages for infringement of copyright—Jurisdiction. A suit to recover damages for infringement of copyright does not lie in the Court within the jurisdiction of which the plaintiff, but not the defendant, resides. Neither is the possessor of a pirated copy of a copyright work bound to deliver it to the owner of the copyright whenever he (the owner) may happen to reside. RAM KISHAN v. PIARI LAL (1910) . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 24

COPYRIGHT ACT (XX OF 1847)—concld.

——— ss. 7 and 12—concld.

COPYRIGHT ACT (III OF 1914).

See COPYRIGHT . 18 C. W. N. 1078

CO-RESPONDENT.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XL, R. 22.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 511

——— absence of—

See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 525

CORPORATION.

See GURNISHEE . . 4 Pat. L. J. 141

See SALE . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

——— Senate of a University—

See UNIVERSITY LECTURESHIP.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 518

——— suit against—

See PLAINT . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 441

CORPORATION-SOLE.

See MUTT, HEAD OF.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 356

CORROBORATION.

See ACCOMPLICE I. L. R. 38 Calc. 559

See CONFESSIONS OF CO-ACCUSED.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 789

——— necessity of—

See ACCOMPLICE I. L. R. 38 Calc. 96

CORRUPTION.

See OFFICIAL CORRUPTION.

CO-SHARER.

See ACQUIESCENCE I. L. R. 37 All. 412

See AGRA TENANCY ACT, 1901, s. 159.
I. L. R. 42 All. 311

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 171.
15 C. W. N. 512; 782

188 . . . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 270

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 982

See EXPROPRIETARY TENANT.
I. L. R. 35 All. 27

See HINDU LAW (PARTITION).
L. R. 41 I. A. 247

See IJARDAR.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1078

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 915

See CO-OWNER.

See CO-PARCENER.

See PARTITION . 15 C. W. N. 375

See PARTITION ACT (IV OF 1893).
15 C. W. N. 552; 555 (foot note)

CO-SHARER—contd.

See PENAL CODE s. 447.
I. L. R. 36 All. 474

See PRE-EMPTION I. L. R. 38 All. 260

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 573

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), s. 118.
I. L. R. 39 All. 707

——— liability of—

See PENAL CODE, s. 225B.
I. L. R. 32 All. 116

——— payment by—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1092

——— suit by—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 188
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 270

1. ——— Injunction—Co-sharer, exclusive enjoyment of portion of property by—Injunction, if may be granted where no injury to other co-sharers found. Where a co-sharer had taken possession of a small plot of unoccupied land and had erected a tinshed thereon and it was found that by such exclusive possession his other co-sharers had not suffered any substantial injury: Held, that no mandatory injunction should be issued requiring him to restore the land to its original condition. Watson & Co. v. Ram Chand Dutt, L. R. 17 I. A. 110 : s. c. I. L. R. 18 Calc. 10, Dilbar Sardar v. Hosein Ali Bepari, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 553, Atarjan Bibee v. Sheikh Ashak, 4 C. W. N. 788, Lachmyswar Singh v. Manowar Hosein, I. L. R. 19 Calc. 253, referred to. BRAHMOMOYI CHOWDHURANI v. GOPI MOHAN ROY CHOWDHURI (1910) . . . . . 15 C. W. N. 188

2. ——— Right to contribution—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 43, 69, 70—Rent paid by co-sharer in wrongful possession of entire jote—Payment in good faith—Deduction on account of mesne profits—Payment, whether gratuitous Defen- ... having ... against ... for a ... by the landlord when he was in exclusive possession of the jote: Held, that in such cases the principle in Dakhina Mohan v. Sarada Mohan, I. L. R. 4 Bom. 643, applies, and the plaintiff would be entitled to recover if the payment was made by him in good faith, subject however to a deduction on account of mesne profits realised by him in respect of the defendant's share. If the payment was made with a view to creating title in the entire jote, it could not have been made in good faith It would be a voluntary payment and one not made "lawfully" within s. 70 of the Contract Act. Desai Himat Singhji v. Bhavabhai, I. L. R. 4 Bom. 643; Bamasundari v. Adhar Chandra, I. L. R. 22 Calc. 28, Tiluck Chand v. Saudamini, I. L. R. 4 Calc. 666, referred to. JINNAT ALI v. FATEH ALI MATBAR (1911)
15 C. W. N. 332

Cf. CONTRIBUTION.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 691

3. ——— Co-sharer landlord, if may sue for his share of rent when no separate collection—Suit for apportionment, if lies—prayer for apportionment in rent suit, if entertainable—Parties—Decree for entire rent in favour of all co-sharers when may be made. A co-sharer landlord can maintain a suit for his share of the rent separately if there is an arrangement for separate collection without a division of the lands amongst the co-sharers. The case of Raj Narain Mitter v. Ekadasi Bag, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 479, does not lay down that there must be a division of the lands before a co-sharer can maintain a separate suit for his share of the rent. A sale of a share in an estate which has been let out in its entirety to a tenant does not of itself necessarily effect of a severance of the tenure or an apportionment of rent, but if the purchaser desires such severance or apportionment, he must give the tenant due notice to that effect and then if an amicable apportionment cannot be made by arrangement between all the parties concerned, the purchaser may bring a suit against the tenant for the purpose of having the rent apportioned making all the co-sharers parties to the suit. Such an apportionment can be asked and effected in the rent suit itself But where in such a suit the plaintiff did not ask for an apportionment though he made all his co-sharers parties, the plaintiff was entitled to ask for a decree for the entire rent in favour of all the co-sharers. SHYAMA CHURN DAS v. JOGES CHANDRA RAY (1912)
16 C. W. N. 774

4. ——— Suit to recover joint possession Exclusive possession by a co-sharer—Where possession wrongful at its inception, co-sharers if may recover joint possession. The defendant was in wrongful occupation as a tenant of a plot of land belonging to the plaintiffs and other co-sharers. Subsequently the defendant purchased the share of one of these co-sharers and thus became interested in the land as a proprietor. In a suit by his co-sharers for joint possession of of the land in suit: Held, that the plaintiff's occupation being originally wrongful the subsequent acquisition of joint title did not entitle the defendant to resist the plaintiff's claim for joint possession. Watson & Co. v. Ram Chand Dutt, I. L. R. 18 Calc. 10, distinguished. SHAIKH SAMARADDI v. SHYAMA CHURN SEN (1911)
16 C. W. N. 251

5. ——— Ouster by other co-sharer, what amounts to—Claim and exercise of exclusive title under a lease from a stranger—When co-sharer in possession may keep exclusive possession—Change of case in second appeal—Remand, prayer for. The five-sixths owners of an estate A sued the remaining one-sixth owners for recovery of joint possession with the latter of certain lands within the estate. The latter in defence stated the lands in suit were part of estate B, which the owners of that estate had given them in lease. This having been found against in the Court of first appeal, the defendants in second appeal prayed to be allowed to set up the defence that they had been in occupation of the lands as co-sharers and were cultivating the same as such with the consent of the plaintiffs. The prayer was disallowed, and held, that this was a case of exclusion of co-sharers by other co-sharers and the plaintiffs were entitled to a decree for joint possession. Watson & Co. v. Ram Chand Dutt, L. R. 17 I. A. 110 : s. c. I. L. R. 18 Calc. 10, Lachmeswar Singh v. Manowar Hosein,

CO-SHARER—contd.

L. R. 19 I. A. 48 ; s. c. I. L. R. 19 Calc. 253 and Mohesh Narain v. Nawbut Pathak, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 837 : s. c. 1 C. L. J. 437, distinguished. MOOKERJEE J. The rule laid down in Watson & Co. v. Ram Chand Dutt, L. R. 17 I. A. 110 : s. c. I. L. R. 18 Calc. 10, is a rule of justice, equity and good conscience and must be applied with reference to the circumstances of the individual case before the Court. Primâ facie co-owners are entitled to hold joint possession of joint property, and consequently, if one co-sharer seeks to defeat the claim of another co-sharer to joint possession, special circumstances must be alleged and established to justify exclusive occupation by one of them. The principle deducible from the cases is that a co-sharer who has been ousted from joint property is entitled to recover joint possession. To constitue ouster a physical eviction is not essential ; if a co-owner is in possession on behalf of or under an adverse claimant under such circumstances as to evidence a claim of exclusive right and title and a denial of the rights of the other co-sharers, there is an ouster in law. When one co-owner accepts a deed of the whole property from one who has no title and claims and exercises the rights of sole ownership under a denial of any other person's right in the premises, he is in adverse possession to the exclusion of his co-sharers. NARENDRA BHUSAN ROY v. JOGENRDA NATH ROY (1916) . . 20 C. W. N. 1258

6. ———— Lease by majority of common land—Validity of lease—Lease, whether binding on minority—Suit by minority in ejectment—Remedy, whether limited to partition only—Form of decree. A majority of co-sharers in samudayam or common land cannot grant a perpetual lease of the common property. Where a lease by some of the co-sharers is found to be invalid, the lessee is not entitled to be maintained in his possession, leaving it to those co-shares objecting to his lease to sue for partition as their only remedy. Where the lease is by some of the co-sharers to a person who is also a co-sharer, and the suit is by other co-sharers to eject the lessee, the proper decree to be passed is one declaring that the lease is not binding on the plaintiffs and directing recovery of possession by the latter on their own behalf and that of the other co-sharers. Palaniappa Chetty v Sreemath Debasikamony Pandara Sannadhi, I. L. R. 40 Mad. 709 applied. Watson and Company v. Ramchund Dutt, I. L. R. 18 Calc. 10, explained. RAGHAVACHARYULU v. GOVINDASARI (1918) . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 1068

CO-SHEBAITS.

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 877

COSTS.

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 857

See ARBITRATION I. L. R. 40 Calc. 219

See ATTORNEY I. L. R. 43 Calc. 932

See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 386

See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM. ACT III, 1888), ss. 297, 301.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 181

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s. 206
14 C. W. N. 556

COSTS—contd.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
s. 35 . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 61, 284
O. XXV, R. 1 I. L. R. 35 Bom. 421
O. XXXIV, RR. 4, 5 AND 10.
I. L. R. 40 All. 109
I. L. R. 41 All. 473
R. 14 . . I. L. R. 35 All. 518
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173

See CONTEMPT OF COURT—15 C. W. N. 791

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—
s. 47 . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 517
s. 65 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 558
s. 70 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 556

See CONTRIBUTION I. L. R. 32 All. 585
1 Pat. L. J. 201
I. L. R. 43 All. 77

See COURT FEE . 3 Pat. L. J. 443

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—
s. 148 . . 15 C. W. N. 811
s. 344 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 254

See DECREE . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 125

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869), ss. 2, 4, 7, AND 45 . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 125

See EASEMENT I. L. R. 39 Calc. 59

See EXAMINATION ON COMMISSION.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 492

See EXECUTION OF DECREE (48).
4 Pat. L. J. 330

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869).
I. L. R. 33 All. 344

See PAKKI ADAT SYSTEM.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 1

See PLEADER'S FEE
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 637

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 339

See PRE-EMPTION
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 294

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
I. L. R. 41 All. 254

See PRIVY COUNCIL
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 501

See REMAND . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1104

See SECURITY FOR COSTS.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 5

See "SHAWLS," MEANING OF.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1029

See SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS.
I. L R. 34 Bom. 484
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 352

See SUMMONS, SERVICE OF.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 447

———— Against Secretary of State—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 524.
5 Pat. L. J. 321

———— appeal courts powers regarding—

See DAMAGES . 29 C. W. N. 352

———— apportionment of—

See PUNITIVE POLICE.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 452

COSTS—contd.

———— decree against wife—

See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS. I. L. R. 44 Bom. 454

———— due to mistake—

See LETTERS PATENT 1865 CL. 36. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 718

———— In pre-emption suit—

See PRE-EMPTION. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 294

———— of reaping crops—

See CLAIM . . 15 C. W. N. 817

———— of wife—

See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 35

———— of restitution of suit dismissed for plaintiff's non-appearance—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 O. IX R. 8. I L. R. 44 Bom. 82

———— successful litigants deprived of—

See DAMAGES. 24 C. W. N. 352

———— security for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXV, R 1 AND O. XXXIII, R. 1. I. L. R. 36 Bom. 415

Os. XLI, R. 10, XXV, R. 2, AND XLIII, R. I. I. L. R. 42 All. 626

———— wife's claim for matrimonial suit—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT 1852 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 318

———— When not to be disallowed—

See CUSTOM—SUCCESSION. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 366

———— Where ejectment proceedings could have been taken in Small Cause Court—

See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTION) ACT, 1918 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1236

———— Liability of Guardian ad litem of a lunatic—Personal liability of guardian to pay costs incurred by unnecessary appeal. The guardian ad litem appointed by the Court usually gets his costs out of the estate of the defendant whom he represents if he does not recover them from the plaintiff, but when a guardian ad litem takes it upon himself to appeal against a decree, he puts himself in the position of a next friend initiating proceedings, and no longer is in the position of a passive guardian ad litem. SHAPURJI HORMASJI v. MONOSSEH JACOB (1909) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 374

———— Partition—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 107, O. XLI, r. 4, application of—Appellate Court, power of. It is not necessary for the application of O. XLI, r. 4, of the Code of Civil Procedure that the decree should proceed on every ground common to all the plaintiffs or defendants It is quite sufficient if it proceeds on any ground common to the party to which the appellant belongs. Under s. 107 of the Code, the Appellate Court has the same power as the Court of first instance. Shama Soonduree Debia v. Jardine Skinner & Co., 12 W. R. 160; Dildar Ali Khan v. Bhauani Sahai Singh, I. L. R. 34 Calc. 878, and Ram Kamal Saha v. Ahmad Ali, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 429, referred to. AMBIKA PRASAD SINGH v. PERDIP SINGH (1914) I. L. R. 42 Calc. 451 ———— Application for Registration as share-holder in a Company—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882), s. 254—High Court Rules, R. 704—High Court Manual of Circular, Ch. VIII. To regulate costs incurred in obtaining an order [illegible]

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 383

———— Security for costs. The fact that the appellant has no money of her own is not in itself a sufficient ground for demanding security for costs. When it appeared that the appeal was not merely vexatious (the appellant's suit having been decreed by one Court), the fact that the appellant had relations who had money to pay was not a sufficient ground for demanding security. MATHURA NATH SINGH v. PRIYASHASHI DEBI (1914) . 19 C. W. N. 446

———— Discretion of court as to costs—Accounts, suit for, against manager—Costs against manager for default or dishonest conduct in accounting—S. 22, Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882). A person who takes up the management of another's estate and collects and disburses moneys has to be ready with his account. His failure to perform the obvious duty necessitates a suit and he must pay the plaintiff's cost. Collyer v. Dudlley, 2 L. J. Ch. 15, followed. This is all the more so when he makes a dishonest defence, submits a false account and keeps back books of account or documents. Hurrinath v. Krishna Kumar, I. L. R. 14 Calc. 147, 159, referred to Where the manager sued the principal for arrears of salary in the Presidency Court of Small Causes and the principal sued the manager in the High Court for accounts and the two suits were heard together in the High Court and an amount less than Rs. 1,000 was found due from the manager to the principal, costs were awarded against the manager on High Court scale No. 11 having regard to the circumstances above stated. SUKUMARI GHOSH v. GOPI MOHAN GOSWAMI (1915) 19 C. W. N. 880

———— Appellate Court when should interfere with order of primary Court as [illegible] the [illegible] he [illegible] fied [illegible] late Court will not interfere with an exercise of the discretion of the lower Court unless it has proceeded on a manifestly wrong ground. SARADINDU MUKERJI v. CHARU CHANDRA DUTT (1917) 22 C. W. N. 372

———— Between Principal and Agent in a suit for account—Manager, liability of, for costs—Presidency Small Cause courts Act (XV of 1882), s. 22—Practice. In the matter of costs, the C[illegible] discretion is to be exercised with special reference to all the circumstances of the case including the conduct of parties. Sheo Dayl Tewari Chowdhury v. Bishunath Tiwari Chowdhury, 9 W. R. 61, referred to. If a person takes up the management of another's estate and collects and disburses moneys, he must be ready with his account; and if his failure to perform this obvious duty necessitates a suit, then he must pay the costs. Collyer v. Dudley, 2 L. J. Ch. 15, referred to. So, where a manager has deliberately set up a false defence, and on being ordered to render an account, submits a false account and suppresses important documents thereby hampering and prejudicing the inquiry, it is only right that he should pay the full costs of, and incidental to, the suit. Ramgopaul Chatterjee v. Bhoban Mohan Banerjee, Coryton's Rep. 126, and Hurrinath Rai v. Krishna Kumar Bakhshi, I. L. R. 14 Calc. 147, referred to. Because in a suit for an account, a sum of money less than Rs. 1,000 was found due by the defendant, it does not follow that such a suit should have been instituted in the Presidency Small Cause Court, and that the provisions of s. 22 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act apply. SUKUMARI GHOSH v. GOPI MOHAN GOSWAM (1915) . . . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 190

COSTS—contd.

———— Solicitor's lien for costs—Minor—Next friend—Attorney's costs for proceedings undertaken on the next friend's instructions—Whether attorney is entitled to a charge on the minor's property for his costs so incurred—Practice. Where a suit has been brought by a minor through his next friend for declaration of the infant's title to and possession of property, the attorney is entitled to have a charge declared on the properties for the amount of costs incurred by him and he is entitled to recover the same in a suit. Shaw v. Neale, 6 H. L. C. 581, Baile v. Baile, L. R. 13 Eq. 497, Pritchard v. Roberts, L. R. 17 Eq. 222, In re Howarth, 8 Ch. App. 415, Helps v. Clayton, 17 C. B. (N. S.) 553, Ex parte Tweed, (1899) 2 Q. B. 167, Narendra Nath Sircar v. Kamalbasini Dasi, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 563, Devkabai v. Jefferson Bhaishankar and Dinsha, I. L. R. 10 Bom. 248, Khetter Kristo Mitter v. Kally Prosunno Ghose, I. L. R. 25 Calc. 887, In re Wright's Trust, (1901) 1 Ch. 317, Watkins v. Dhunnoo Baboo, I. L. R. 7 Calc. 140, Sham Charan Mal v. Chowdhry Debya Singh Pahraj, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 872, Ispahani v. Chundi Charan Pal, 9 C. W. N. cxcvii, and Branson v. Appasami, I. L. R. 17 Mad. 257, referred to. KUMAR KRISHNA DUTT v. HARI NARAIN GANGULY (1915) . . . . I. L R. 43 Calc. 676 ———— Costs of the Secretary of State for India, to be taxed in the ordinary way—Profit costs of the Government Solicitor and brief fees to the Advocate-General, to be allowed on taxation—Application to review the certificate of the Taxing Master. Where the Secretary of State for India is a party to a suit filed in the High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction and costs are awarded to him, he is entitled to have his bill of costs taxed in the ordinary way, although the Government Solicitor and the Advocate General employed on his behalf are paid fixed salaries for the conduct of all Crown cases. Hence, all profits costs of the Government Solicitor and brief fees to the Advocate-General should be allowed on taxation. NUSSERWANJI & CO. v. S. S. WARTENFELS (1916)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 588

COSTS—contd.

———— Costs to abide the result", meaning of—Discretion of lower Court, if fettered—Costs to abide and follow the result and costs to follow the event, distinction between. Where the High Court, in remanding a case to the lower Court, ordered that the costs should abide the result: Held, that the words "abide the result" only connote that the order as to costs is to await the passing of the final decision in the case, and have not the effect of fettering the discretion of the trying Judge. Distinction between "abide the result" and "abide and follow the result" or "follow the event" pointed out. PERIAH v. LAKSHMIDEVAMMA (1915) I. L. R. 39 Mad. 476

———— Trustees—Discretion as to costs of—Appeal against order for costs—Trustees, when entitled to costs of legal proceedings out of estate. Although costs of a suit are discretionary with the Judge the Court of Appeal will interfere with the discretion of the Court of first instance where it is found that that discretion was not exercised on correct principles. Persons who are in the position of trustees ought to have their costs out of the trust estate when a question of legal proceedings is concerned unless they have unreasonably carried on or resisted such proceedings. The Court of first instance having come to the conclusion that the mutwallis were really trustees ought to have applied this principle in making order as to costs. Where disputes had arisen between the mutwallis of a wakf estate and the trustees supervising their management and by mutual consent the matter was referred by Court to the Assistant Referee of the Court for report and upon the report being made the mutwallis took exceptions to the report which were rejected by Court and the report was confirmed and the Court allowed only one set of costs to the trustees out of the estate and none to the mutwallis. Held, on appeal, that the mutwallis were entitled to get the costs of the reference out of the estate, but not the costs of the proceedings resulting from their taking exceptions as the exceptions were rightly rejected by the Court of first instance as unreasonable. As the mutwallis succeeded in their appeal to a material extent, they, as well as the respondent trustees, were allowed costs out of the estate. AGA MD. SHERAZI v. SYED ALI MD. SHOOSTRY (1916) . 21 C. W. N. 339

———— On appeal for orders—General rules of the High Court (Civil), rr. 21, 25—Pleader's fee—Order on objection as to jurisdiction raised by defendant returning plaint for presentation to proper Court. Held, that r. 21 of the General Rules (Civil), and not r. 25, applied to a case where a question as to the jurisdiction of the Court, having been raised by the defendant, was decided against the plaintiff, and the plaint returned for presentation to the proper Court. GAURI SAHAI v. BAHREE (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 515

———— Joint decree for costs against defendants claiming under separate titles defendants being also wrong-doers—Suit for contribution—Suit not maintainable. Two persons each holding by a separate title a half share in certain property were arrayed as co-defendants to a suit for recovery of a share in the said property. The plaintiffs obtained a decree with costs, the order for costs being as against the defendants jointly. The plaintiffs decree-holders executed the decree for costs against one of the judgment-debtors, and he then sued the other judgment-debtor for contribution. Held, that the suit would not lie. Fakire v. Tasadduq Husian, I. L. R. 19 All. 462, followed. NAND LAL SINGH v. BENI MADHO SINGH (1918) . . I. L. R. 40 All. 672

COSTS—contd.

———— Successful party not to be deprived of costs unless guilty of misconduct, omission or neglect—Discretion of lower Court interfered with, when facts were misapprehended and the established principle violated—Costs occasioned by unnecessary printing at the instance of attorneys, payable by attorneys personally. A Hindu, Maratha by caste, died possessed of property worth about Rs. 3,000. His widow, the plaintiff, sued the defendant claiming to be another widow of the deceased for a declaration that the latter though living with the deceased was not entitled to the rights of a Hindu wife, but was according to the custom of the community entitled to maintenance out of the estate of the deceased. The trial Judge decided against the defendant and referred the suit to the Commissioner to take an account of the estate of the deceased and for an inquiry as to the proper amount to be allowed to the defendant for maintenance. Before the Commissioner the quantum of maintenance was agreed by consent of parties, but the defendant put in a claim for ornaments which was disallowed. The Commissioner made his report and the suit then came up for further directions and costs before a Judge who was not the trial Judge. It was represented to him on behalf of the defendant that the suit was necessary and that costs should come out of the estate. The plaintiff submitted that the estate was small, that the defendant never had any case and had lost all along the line and that although the plaintiff would be justified in asking for costs against the defendant she would not do so as nothing could be got from the defendant. The learned Judge thought that the plaintiff was more in fault than the defendant and ordered the costs to come out of the estate. The plaintiff appealed. Held, (i) that there had been a misapprehension of facts on the part of the learned [illegible] olation [illegible] upon [illegible] lefend- [illegible] of no misconduct. (ii) That the order as to costs out of the estate must be deleted, and the defendant be made to bear her own costs: Cooper v. Whittingham, 15 Ch D 501, Kuppuswami Chetty v. Zamindar of Kalahasti, I. L. R. 27 Mad 341, and Ranchordas Vithaldas v. Bai Kasi, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 676, referred to. Costs occasioned by the unnecessary printing of certain matter at the instance of parties' attorneys were made payable by the attorneys personally, and not allowed to fall upon the clients. LAXMIBAI v. RADHABAI (1917) . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 327

———— When part only of claim allowed. The Subordinate Judge having decreed the plaintiff's claim for less than half the amount should have allowed the plaintiffs' costs to the extent of their success. KHAGARAM DAS v. RAM SANKAR DAS PRAMANIK (1914) . . 19 C. W. N. 775
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 652

———— Costs of Record—Inclusion of unnecessary matter—Disallowance of costs. Their Lordships directed that the Registrar of the High Court should disallow to the successful appellants the actual costs of printing 331 pages of unnecessary matter wastefully included in the record, and such consequential costs as he might think right in proportion, and that the costs to be taxed in England should also be reduced by such amount as the Registrar of the Privy Council might consider attributable to the insertion of the superfluous matter. GOPAL CHANDRA CHAUDHURI v. RAJANI KANTA GHOSH (1919)
L. R. 46 I. A. 299

———— Security for costs—Insolvent plaintiff —Cause of action arising after insolvency—Practice. In a suit by an undischarged insolvent for a sum of money larger than his liabilities in the insolvency and due in respect of a transaction subsequent to the insolvency, the defendant applied for security for costs.—Held, that the plaintiff ought not to be ordered to give security for costs. Rhodes v. Dawson, 16 Q. B D. 548, Cook v. Whellock, 24 Q. B. D. 658, and Cowell v. Taylor, 31 Ch. D. 34, referred to. E. D. MURRAY v. EAST BENGAL MAHAJAN FLOTILLA CO , LD. (1918)
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 156

———— Solicitor's lien, enforcement of—Direct order for payment to solicitor—Jurisdiction of Court—Proper case. On an application by a solicitor made in a suit in which certain costs had been awarded to his client against the opposite party, the Court has jurisdiction to enforce, in a proper case, the solicitor's lien by making a direct order for payment to the solicitor by the opposite party of such costs. Khetter Kristo, Mitter v. Kally Prosonno Ghose, 2 C. W. N. 508 followed. Where the original client was dead and it appeared that his legal representatives were not people of substance and that they were unable to pay—Held, that this was a proper case in which the Court in the exercise of its discretion would make a direct order for payment of such costs to the solicitor by the opposite party. Harrison v. Harrison, L. R. 13 P. W. D. 180, and Jackson, v. Smith, 53 L J. Ch. 972, explained. HARNANDROY FOOLCHAND v GOOTIRAM BHUTTAR (1919) . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 1070

———— Witness examined under Presidency Towns Insolvency Act—(III of 1909), s. 36—Practice In Insolvency proceedings mortgagee was examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, for the purpose of challenging the mortgage. At the time of such examination attorney and counsel appeared on his behalf. Subsequently when the mortgagee was not challenged he applied to Court for an order for costs against the creditor: Held, that a witness examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), was not entitled to the costs of employing attorney or counsel. In re Waddel, 6 Ch D. 328, referred to. In re Appleton, French and Scrafton, Ld., (1905), 1 Ch. 749, distinguished. ANSHU PROKASH GHOSE In the matter of (1919) I. L R. 46 Calc. 795

———— Magistrate's power to order—Under s. 148 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Magsitrate who makes the order without any direction as to costs has the power to make same later and it does not amount on review or alteration of his first order. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURY v. SIDDHARTHA KRISNA MAJUMDAR ———— Record Containing Superfluous matter—In this case the Privy Council ordered that the costs of printing certain matter they considered superfluous should be disallowed.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 974

COSTS—contd.

GOPAL CHANDRA CHOWDHURI v. RAJANIKANTO GHOSH . . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 415

———— Appearance of a third party in Administration actions—Creditor of heir. In an administration action a creditor of the heirs of the deceased was allowed to intervene: Held, that the unsuccessful claimant should not be made liable for the costs of such intervener. Williams v Buchanan, 7 T. L. R. 226, Hanbury v. Upper Inny Drainage Board, L. R. 12 Ir. 217, In re Salmon, Priest v. Uppleby, 42 Ch. D. 351, In re Watts, Smith v Watts, 22 Ch D. 5, In re Schwabacher, Stern v. Schwabacher, (1907) 1 Ch. 719, referred to. SOURENDRA MOHAN SINHA v. MURARILAL SINHA, (1920)

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 352

———— On vendors—Covenant to indemnify against defective title—Attack on title—Liability of vendor to pay not merely taxed costs but all reasonable costs as between vakil and client. Upon a covenant by a vendor of lands to indemnify the purchaser against all losses that the latter might be put to in defending his title or enjoyment of the lands, from adverse claims, the vendor is bound to pay the purchaser not merely taxed costs as between party and party, of a suit in which he had to defend his title, but the actual costs which he had to pay to his legal advisers and which are reasonable in the circumstances of the case. Smith v. Compton (1832) 3 B. & Ad. 407, followed. VENKATARANGAYYA APPA RAO v. VARAPRASADA RAO (1920)

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 898

———— Reference—The costs of a reference under s. 51 of the Income-Tax Act, 1918, made at the instance of the Chief Revenue Authority of Bombay within the local limits of the Original Jurisdiction should be taxed as on the Original Side. AURANGABAD MILLS, LIMITED IN RE (1921)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1286

———— Taxation —R. 517, High Court Rules —Counsel's fees—Opinion of Taxing Master on quantum of fees paramount—Principle regulating Court's interference—Practice. Where the Taxing Master had exercised his discretion in accordance with the principles laid down in r. 517 of High Court Rules. Held, that the Court ought not to interfere in taxation unless the master was wrong in principle or very clearly wrong in detail. On a question of the quantum of fees the Court always allows the opinion of the Taxing Master to be paramount. Observations of Bovill C. J. in Hill v. Peel (1870) L. R. 5 C. P. 172 at page 180, referred to and followed. SADASUKH GAMBHIRCHAND v. BAIJNATH HARNANDRAI (1921)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1234

COSTS OF REAPING CROPS.

———— wrongfully attached—

See CLAIM.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE. 1908, SS. 69, 70, O. 21, RR. 58 AND 60.

15 C. W. N. 817

CO-TENANTS.

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, S. 171.

15 C. W. N. 782

CO-TRUSTEE.

See PUBLIC TRUST.

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 335

COTTON GAMBLING.

See WAGERING CONTRACT

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 968

COTTON TRADES ASSOCIATION RULES (BOMBAY).

See AWARD . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 780

COUNCILLOR.

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (BOM. ACT III OF 1901), S. 42

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 166

COUNSEL.

See BARRISTER . .

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.

14 C. W. N. 86

———— Bar Council, Resolutions of—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898

———— duties of—

See BARRISTER I. L. R. 44 Calc. 741

See EX-PARTE CASE.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 573

———— professional conduct of—

See COUNSEL AS WITNESS.

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898

———— telegram from—

See BAIL I. L. R. 38 Calc. 293

———— Mr. X, a Counsel, on direct instructions from client inserted a ground in the memo. of appeal which constituted a libel on the Judge in the Court below. Held, that the conduct of X was highly improper. It is no disqualification for a Judge trying a case that before his appointment he was Counsel in other matters for one of the parties. JACOB AND COMPANY v. RASH BEHARI GHOSE

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 828

COUNTER-CLAIMS.

———— Counter-claims by defendant against plaintiffs individually—Original Side Rule No. 47—English Supreme Court Rules, O. XIX, r. 3, construction of. Where two or more plaintiffs sue for a joint claim, a defendant may set up counter-claims against the plaintiffs individually. The Court has a discretion under r. 47 of the Original Side rules in such a case to decline to allow the counter-claims to be set up on the ground of inconvenience. RAMANADAN CHETTY v. ABDUL KARIM SAHIB (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 226

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

See PENAL CODE SS. 235, 243.

4 Pat. L. J. 525

———— Possession—Custody —"To become possessed," whether "conscious possession"—Possession with knowledge—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 7 27, 243—Misdirection—Review—Powers of High Court—Letters Patent, 1865, cl. 26—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s 537. PER CURIAM. To constitute an offence under s. 243 of the Penal Code it is essential to prove that at the time the accused became possessed of the coin he knew it to be counterfeit, whether he was in possession of the coin himself, or his wife, clerk, or servant was in possession of the coin on his account. As there was a misdirection to the Jury in a part of the Judge's summing up which related to a material and essential element of the charge the conviction should be set aside in review under cl. 26 of the Letters Patent. Per MOOKERJEE, J. The term "possession" has to be interpreted in the light of s. 27, Indian Penal Code, which by virtue of s. 7 is applicable wherever the term is used in the Code. S. 27 abolishes the distinction recognized in English law between possession and custody. S. 537 of the Criminal Procedure Code has no application to a case reviewed under cl. 26 of the Letters Patent. Mere non-direction is not necessarily misdirection. Rex v. Stoddart, 2 Cr. App. Rep. 217, followed. The Judge's note of his charge to Jury is conclusive. King-Emperor v. Upendra Nath Das, 21 C. L. J. 377, 19 C. W. N. 653 referred to. Per FLETCHER, J. The point of time to be considered was the time when the accused had actual or conscious possession of the counterfeit coins for determining whether he had knowledge at the time that the coins were spurious. Per CHAUDHURI, J. There is a clear distinction in law between "custody" and "possession." Custody means possession on account of another. S. 27, Indian Penal Code, does not express the complete thought of the legislature on the question of possession, and it is competent to the Court to interpret the words "to b tl

COUNTERFEIT COIN—contd.

F

A

A

COUNTERFEITING TRADE-MARK.

See TRADE-MARK I. L. R. 40 Calc. 281

"COURT."

See PRACTICE I. L. R. 34 Bom. 408

See WORDS AND PHRASES

——— duty of—

See INTEREST . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 690

——— inherent powers of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE. I. L. R. 34 All. 518

——— not closed, if the officer on tour—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), s. 192 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 295

——— power of—

See INTEREST . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 632

See PENALTY . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 162

——— Offence brought under the notice of the Court in the course of a judicial proceeding—Proceeding instituted by one Munsif for resistance to attachment of moveables in execution—Preliminary inquiry and final order by successor—Legality of order—"Judicial proceeding"—Execution proceedings—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 4 (m), 476. The word "Court" in s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code includes the successor of the Judge

"COURT"—contd.

notice of the Munsif, on the 23rd December 1908 the fact of resistance to the attachment of moveables in execution of his decree, and the Munsif called upon the opposite party to show cause but his successor, after holding a preliminary inquiry under s. 476 of the Code, ordered their prosecution on 6th October 1909, for offences under ss. 183, 186 and 353 of the Penal Code. Held, that the order was not without jurisdiction. Action under s 476 should, as far as possible be prompt and expeditious, and not unduly protracted. The definition of a "judicial proceeding" in s. 4 (m) of the Criminal Procedure Code is not exhaustive It includes an execution proceeding; and the resistance to the attachment of moveables is, when reported or complained of to the Court, an offence brought under its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s. 476 of the Code. BAHADUR v. ERADATULLAH MALLICK (1910) . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642 ——— Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s 14—Interpretation—Court in British India—Court in a Native State in India not included. The word "Court" as used in s. 14 of the Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877) means a Court in British India, and not a Court in a Native State of India. CHANMALAPA CHENBASAPA v ABDUL VAHAB (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 139

COURT-FEE.

See AD VALOREM COURT-FEE.

See APPEAL IN FORMA PAUPERIS. I. L. R. 40 Mad. 687

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 411. I. L. R. 34 All. 223

ss. 268, 278, 283. I. L. R. 38 Bom. 631

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 115 . . I. L. R. 39 All. 723

s. 47, O. XXX . 4 Pat. L. J. 166

O. XXXIII, R. 13. I. L. R. 35 Bom. 448

O. XXXIV, R. 6 I. L. R. 40 All. 553

See COURT-FEES AMENDMENT ACT, 1899 I. L. R. 41 Calc. 556

See COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—

ss. 5 AND 12 . I. L. R. 32 All. 59

s. 7 . . I. L. R. 35 All. 92, 94

s. 7 (ii) SCH. II, ART. 17. I. L. R. 42 All. 353
I. L. R. 36 All. 500

s. 7 (IX), SCH. I, ART. 1. I. L. R. 36 All. 40

SCH. I, ART. 1 I. L. R. 40 All. 93
I. L. R. 36 All. 322

See DECLARATIONS, AND INJUNCTIONS I. L. R. 38 Mad. 922

See GHATWALI TENURES. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 812

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873), ss. 12, 13. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 447

See MESNE PROFITS . 3 Pat. L. J. 116

COURT-FEE—contd.

See SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), s. 187
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 988

——— acceptance of, by Deputy Registrar—

See APPEAL, VALUATION OF.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 914

——— Appeal from order disallowing interest—

See DECREE.
6 Pat. L. J. 676

——— deficit—

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 41 Calc. 520

——— non-payment of—

See RES JUDICATA I. L. R. 35 Bom. 38

——— Whether High Court will revise interlocutory order—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908
5 Pat. L. J. 400

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
5 Pat. L. J. 235

——— deficit, not due to mistake—Extension of time if proper—Limitation. When an order allowing a plaintiff to deposit deficit court-fees has been made and complied with no question of limitation can be raised. But it is not proper for a Court to extend the period of limitation allowed by law to the prejudice of defendants, by giving the plaintiff time to deposit deficit court-fees when there is no question of any mistake merely to suit the convenience of the plaintiff. SAMBHO KUOR v HARIHAR PERSHAD (1914) . . 18 C. W. N. 1071 ——— Court-fee on memorandum of appeal—Appeal from Order under s. 144 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)—Order, if comes under s. 47 (i) of the Code—Government Notification prescribing Court-fee of Rs. 2. An order under s. 144 of the Civil Procedure Code comes under s. 47 (1) of the Code. Cl. (6) of the notification of the Government of India, No. 4650, dated 10th September, 1889, applies to appeals from such orders, and a Court-fee of Rs. 2 is chargeable on such appeals. MADAN MOHAN DE v. NOGENDRA NATH DE (1917)

21 C. W. N. 544

——— Declaratory suit—Consequential Relief. S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not sanction every form of declaration but only a declaration that the Plaintiff is "entitled to any legal character or to any right as to property"—Court fee of Rs. 10 is not sufficient for declaratory suits in strict sense—An injunction is consequential relief. DEOKALI KOER v. KEDAR NATH . . . . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 704

——— Appeal for appellate order—Court-fee payable. Where a suit for possession was dismissed by the first Court and the appellate Court holding that the Plaintiff was entitled to possession sent the case back to the first Court for ascertainment of the mesne profits. Held, that the appellate Courts order amounted to a reversal of the decision of the first Court and the Plaintiff should have been given a decree for possession. Held, further that an appeal presented by the defendants against the order of the appellate Court was an appeal from an appellate decree and should have been made on an ad valorem Court-fee. RAGHUNATH DAS v. JHARI SINGH 3 Pat. L. J. 99

——— Mesne Profits—Appeal as to. A memorandum of appeal from an order dismissing an application for ascertainment of mesne profits must be stamped with an ad valorem stamp on the amount claimed. NARAIN PRASAD v. SHEO KAMESWAR PRASAD SINGH
3 Pat. L. J. 101

——— Suit for redemption of mortgage—Preliminary decree passed in two parts—Appeal. The Court of first instance in a suit for redemption of a mortgage passed in effect two preliminary decrees. It first passed a decree declaring the plaintiffs' right to redeem, which was denied by the defendants, against which the defendants filed an appeal, and then, whilst the appeal was pending, a second preliminary decree deciding the amount for which redemption might take place. Against that decree also the defendants appealed. Held, that the two appeals were not to be regarded as separate appeals for the purpose of assessing the Court-fee, but should be counted as one. LALTA PRASAD v. SHEORAJ SINGH (1917) . . I. L. R. 39 All. 452

——— Appeal—"Decree"—Civil Procedure Code (1908), O. XXXIV, r. 6—Order rejecting application for a decree over against the mortgagor. An order on an application for a decree under O. XXXIV, r. 6, of the Code of Civil Procedure is a "decree" as that term is defined in the Code. An appeal, therefore, from such an order must bear an ad valorem court fee stamp, and not merely a stamp of Rs. 2. MUHAMMAD ILTIFAT HUSAIN v. ALIM-UN-NISSA BIBI (1918) . I. L. R. 40 All. 553 ——— Appeal—Memorandum of Appeal insufficiently stamped—Conditional admission by Division Bench, effect of—Whether deficit can be paid after expiration of limitation—Negligence of Vakil, effect of—Court-fees Act VII of 1870), s. 4—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), ss. 2 (7) and 5. Where the mortgagee of property which had been sold for arrears of revenue instituted a suit on the mortgage against the mortgagor the transferees from him and the revenue sale purchasers, and obtained a decree, the lower Court holding that the revenue-sale purchasers were benamidars for the transferees from the mortgagor: held, that an appeal, the valuation of which was fixed at Rs. 20,000, by the revenue-sale purchasers and which was declared to relate to "a declaration that the revenue-sale is not a farzi transaction and that properties purchased by the appellants (the revenue-sale purchasers) are not liable for the mortgage,' should have been stamped with an ad valorem Court-fee, as the real object of the appeal was to release the properties purchased by the appellants at the revenue-sale from liability under the mortgage. It appeared that on the 20th August the deficit in Court-fee had been brought to the notice of the appellants' Vakil, and that in November he expressed his willingness to pay the deficit. The matter then went before a Divisional Bench. In the meanwhile the period of limitation had expired. The Divisional Bench passed the following order: "Subject to any objection that may be taken at the hearing, let the deficit Court-fee be received if paid by Monday next." Held, (i) that the order of the Divisional Bench was not a definite order condoning the delay in filing the deficit; (ii) that under s 4 of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the Court could not receive an appeal which was not properly stamped; and (iii) that the filing of the appeal on a Court-fee of Rs. 10, with an explanation that this sum was paid "as it is not possible to estimate at a money-value the subject-matter in dispute," was not done in good faith within the meaning of s. 2 (7) of the Limitation Act, 1908, and that the conduct of the Vakil when the deficit in Court-fees was brought to his notice was want only negligent, and that, therefore, the appellants were not entitled to the benefit of the Court's clemency under s. 5 of that Act. JODHAN PRASAD SINGH v. NANHKU PRASAD SINGH 3 Pat. L. J. 484

COURT-FEE—contd.

——— Suit for avoidance of a registered deed of gift. In a suit for the avoidance of a registered deed of gift the Court is bound if the Plaintiff proves his case to send a copy of the Court's order to the officer in whose office the instrument has been registered. This is consequential relief for which the Plaintiff must pay ad valorem Court-fee. MUSSAMMAT NOOWOOAYAR OJAIN v. SHIDAR JHA . . 3 Pat. L. J. 194

——— dismissal of suit for possession—decision reversed by appellate Court and suit remanded for ascertainment of mesne profits—appeal from appellate order, Court-fee payable on. Where a suit for possession was dismissed by the first Court, and the appellate Court, holding that the plaintiff was entitled to possession, sent the case back to the first Court: held, that the Court for ascertainment of Where an appeal against costs is distinct and separate from other parts of the appeal court-fees must be paid ad valorem on the costs decreed. Where an appellant has failed to pay sufficient fees in the courts below his appeal will not be heard till the deficiency is made good. Where it is the respondent who was in default no decree shall be executed in his favour until the deficiency has been made good· T. K. ROWLINS v. LACHMI NARAIN JHA . . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 443

——— Suit for declaration and possession—Court-fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7 (4) (c). Where the holder of an eight-anna mukarrari interest in an estate which was sold for arrears of Government revenue sued for a declaration that the sale was invalid by reason of fraud and irregularity in its conduct, and prayed for confirmation or restoration of possession: held, that the plaintiff must pay an ad valorem court-fee on the value of the whole estate sold, and was not entitled to calculate an ad valorem fee on ten times the amount of the Government revenue. RAJA DHAKESWAR PRASAD SINGH v. JIVO CHOUDHRY . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 448

——— Power of High Court to order refund of excess—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), s 151. In the exercise of its inherent powers the High Court has power to make an order directing the Taxing Officer to issue the necessary certificate to enable an appellant to apply to the Revenue authorities to obtain a refund of excess court-fee paid on a memorandum of appeal. CHANDRADHAR SINGH v. TIPPAN PRASAD SINGH . . 3 Pat. L. J. 452

COURT-FEE—contd.

——— Declaratory suit—Consequential relief—Injunction, prayer for—Endowments—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42—Court-fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7 (iv) (c)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1877), s. 8. The plaintiff brought a suit for declaration that he was the sole shebait of the family deity and was entitled as such to exclusive possession of the disputed properties on behalf of the deity, and also for a declaration that the registration of the name of the principal defendant as joint owner of the endowed properties with the plaintiff in the books of the collector, was improperly made. He valued the suit for purposes of jurisdiction, at Rs. 11,005, and paid Rs. 10 as court-fee under Sch. II, Art. 17 (iii) of the Court-fees Act, subsequently on an objection taken under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act by the principal defendant at the hearing of the suit, a prayer was added in the plaint for an injunction prohibiting the principal defendant from interfering with the plaintiff performing his duties as shebait and managing the debutter properties and a further ad valorem fee was paid by the plaintiff under Sch. I, read with s 7 (iv) (d) of the Court-fees Act, for the injunction. The Court of first instance having heard the suit and dismissed it on the merits, the plaintiff appealed to the High Court, and upon the memorandum of appeal he paid Court-fees in the same manner as in the Court of first instance: Held, that the prayer for injunction was arbitrarily undervalued, that its value was the value of the relief claimed, and that the plaintiff was bound to pay ad valorem Court-fees upon the plaint and memorandum of appeal on the basis that the value of the relief claimed was Rs. 11,005. Umatul Batul v. Nanji Koer, 11 C. W N. 705, 6 C. L. J. 427, Dayaram Sagjivan v. Gordhandas Dayaram, I. L. R. 31 Bom. 72 and Boida Nath Adya v. Makhanlal Adya, I. L. R. 47 Calc 680, referred to. RAJ KRISHNA DEY v. BIPIN BIHARY DEY (1912) I. L. R. 40 Calc. 245

——— Declaratory decree, suit for—consequential relief—Plaint, rejection of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. VII, r. 11—Valuation of suit—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, paras. iv, cl. (c), v. cl. (a)—Valuation for purpose of jurisdiction—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s. 8. In a suit for declaration that a decree amounting to Rs. 2,794 and odd should be declared forged, illusory and unfit for execution and also for a declaration that a family property valued at Rs. 7,000 was not liable to be sold in execution of that decree, the plaintiff paid Court-fee ten times the Government Revenue payable on the land worth Rs. 7,000. The court below rejected the plaint:—Held, that the real value of the reliefs claimed was Rs. 2,794 and odd, the value of the decree and that, the plaintiff not having paid court-fee on that amount, the plaint was rightly rejected. A plaintiff cannot value his case for the purpose of Court Fee and for the purpose of jurisdiction at different amounts. HARIHAR PERSAD SINGH v. SHYAM LAL SINGH (1913) . . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 61F

——— Administration Suit—

COURT-FEE—contd.

been made other creditors invited establish their claims may be required to pay ad valorem fees. SHASHI BHUSAN BOSE v. MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDY . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890.

———————— Suit for declaration that entry in Record-of-Rights a nullity. Where a Court Fee of Rs. 10 was paid in a suit under s. 111A of the Bengal Tenancy Act but the plaintiff prayed for a declaration (a) that they were Occupancy Ryots and (b) that the entry in the Record-of-Rights showing them as tenure holders was a nullity and plaintiffs on being applied to for the deficit of Court fee on the second head of relief failed. Held, (1) that the second prayer being for consequential relief was not such a declaration as was contemplated by the proviso to s. 111A (2) that the judge had no alternative but to reject the plaint, (3) that the plaintiff could not be allowed to strike out the second prayer. MIDNAPUR ZEMINDARY CO., LD., v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA I. L. R. 44 Calc. 352

———————— In a suit for a declaration that a decree for over Rs. 22,000 was bad and might be set aside the plaintiffs who were interested in only three annas share of the property which was valued at Rs. 9,000 were required to pay a court-fee for the whole of the decretal amount. Held, that the plaintiffs must value their suit according to the extent of their claim and the court-fee was payable on that amount. GANESH BHAGAT v. SARADA PRASAD MUKERJEE I. L. R. 42 Calc. 371.

———————— Suit for administration or account. In an administration suit valued at Rs. 30,000 for purpose of jurisdiction and Rs. 100 for adjustment of accounts and wherein court-fees were paid on the latter sum only together with Rs. 10 for the approximate value of the claim for account. Held that such a suit was in essence a suit for account within s. 7 (iv) of the Court-Fees Act and that adequate court-fees had been paid. SARAJU BALA DASI v. JOGEMAYA DASI I. L. R. 45 Calc. 634.

———————— Suit to set aside mortgage decree, court-fees payable on—Practice—power of High Court to interfere with interlocutory orders. Where the plaintiffs sued to set aside a mortgage decree for Rs. 12,200 and it was shown that their share in the property affected by the decree was Rs 1,300, held, that they were liable to pay court-fees on the latter sum only. Where the record of a case is before the High Court and there appears on the record an obvious error the Court will dispose of the matter at whatever stage it may happen to be. BANKEY BEHARI v. RAM BAHADUR 4 Pat. L. J. 191

———————— Suit by several raiyats for declaration of rent payable. Where 78 raiyats instituted a suit in respect of 78 holdings (1) for a declaration that the rents entered in the khatian were higher than the rents actually payable; and (2) for a declaration that 59 rent decrees which the landlord had obtained at the higher rates were contrary to law: held, that a court-fee of Rs. 10 should have been paid in respect of each of the 137 causes of action, namely, 78 declarations that the rents entered in the khatian were wrong and 59 declarations that the decrees obtained were contrary to law. CHETHRU MAHTO v. KHAJA MUHAMMAD KARIM NAWAB 4 Pat. L. J. 297

———————— Suit for possession—decree on condition that plaintiff pays off encumbrances—appeal against condition, court-fees, payable on. Where a suit for possession was decreed conditionally on the plaintiff paying off all encumbrances on the property and the plaintiff appealed against that part of the decree which required him to pay off the encumbrances, held, that court-fees on the memorandum of appeal were payable ad valorem on the value of the encumbrances. KISHUN DUT MISIR v. KASI PANDEY . 5 Pat. L. J. 455

———————— Deficiency due from respondent on account of fees paid in lower court——appeal summarily dismissed, whether deficiency recoverable—Procedure—Court-Fees Act (VII of 1870), ss. 10 and 12. When an appeal has been dismissed by the High Court under O. XLI, r. 11, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the court has no power to recover from the respondent, who was appellant in the court below, a deficiency in court-fee due on the memorandum of appeal filed by him in that court. Semble.—That if in such a case the second appeal resulted in a decree in the respondent's favour the High Court would be competent under its inherent powers to refrain from signing the decree until payment of the deficit. Whenever it is intended to recover a deficit from a respondent before the High Court in respect of something due in the lower court the proper procedure is to admit the appeal for hearing and to take action under s. 12 read with s.10 of the Court-Fees Act, 1870. RAJDEO NARAIN SINGH v. RAMDIL SINGH 5 Pat. L. J. 508 ———————— Where in a suit for partition the plaintiff prays for a declaration of his title and confirmation of possession in order to disperse a cloud cast on his title by reason of an entry in the Record-of-Rights stating that defendant was in exclusive possession of part of the land which formed the subject matter of the suit an ad valorem court-fee is payable on the value of the plaintiff's share in the land in respect of which his name has not been entered in the Record-of-Rights in addition to the fixed fee for partition. RACHHYA RAUT v. MUSAMMAT CHANDO 6 Pat. L. J. 662

———————— Two appeals from one decree—Subsequently two second appeals filed by the same party, the subject matter being the same—Consolidation of appeals. The Court Fees Act, 1870, does not provide for consolidation of appeals. If, therefore, there are two appeals in the same suit, and then one party files two second appeals—one against each decree in first appeal—the appellant will have to pay the full court-fee on each of his appeals. SHIB DAYAL v. MEHARBAN I. L. R. 43 All. 56

———————— Appeal from a decree for redemption of a mortgage on payment of Rs. 62,293, the principal amount of which was Rs. 6,400—Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, s. 7, cl. IX and Sch. I, Art. I—whether Court should allow appellant time to make up deficiecy in Court-fee—Civil Procedure Code, Act V of 1908, s 149. The plaintiff sued for redemption of 3 mortgages, of which the principal amount totalled to Rs. 6,400. He alleged that nothing remained due by him under the mortgages The Court decreed redemption on payment of Rs. 62,293. Plaintiff appealed to this Court so far as the payment of money was concerned and valued his appeal for purpose of Court-fees at Rs. 6,400 and paid Court-fee accordingly. At the hearing of the appeal it was objected that the appeal was not properly stamped. Held, that Art. I, Sch. I of the Court Fees Act, applied to the appeal and not cl. IX of s 7, and that the proper Court-fee was therefore ad valorem on the amount of the subject matter in dispute in the appeal. Banwari Das v. Nathu Shah (5 P R. 1911), Chuni Lal v. Beli Ram (58 P. R. 1915), Mansa Ram v. Umra (11 Indian Cases 198), Reference under Court Fees Act, 1870) (I. L. R. 29 Mad. 367) and Nepal Rai v. Debi Prasad (I L. R. 27 All. 447), followed. Pirbhu Narain v. Sita Ram (I. L. R. 13 All. 94) and Bombay Unreported Printed Judgments, 1891, page 218, disapproved. Held, also, that as the omission to pay the proper Court-fee was not due to a bonâ fide mistake but was deliberate the Court must decline to allow the appellant time under s 149 of the Code of Civil Procedure to enable him to make up the deficiency. Ram Sahay Ram Pandey v. Lakshmi Narain (42 Indian Cases 672), Saidunnessa v. Tajendra Chandradhar (44 Indian Cases 398) and Civil appeal No 285 of 1915 (unpublished), referred to LEKH RAM v. RAMJI DAS . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 234

COURT-FEE—concld.

———————— To bring a case within [illegible]

KRISNNA LAL DE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 906.

COURT-FEE STAMP.

———————— s. 477A of the Penal Code refers to acts relating to Book-keeping. The removal of new Court-fee stamps for documents and substitution of used ones is not within the section. EMPEROR v. BIBUDHANANDA CHAKRAVARTI . . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 71.

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870).

———————— s. 4—

See COURT-FEES . 3 Pat. L. J. 484

———————— ss. 4, 6 and 28—Appeal filed on insufficient stamp, jurisdiction of Court to entertain —Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 54, 582 and 582 A—(Act XIV of 1882), s. 169 and O. VII, r. 11—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), s. 5—"sufficient cause" whether difficulty in obtaining stamps is. Where an appellant has deliberately, and to suit his own convenience, paid on his appeal an insufficient court-fee the court is not bound to receive the appeal and give the appellant time to make good the deficiency. Even if the court has power to receive such an appeal, and allow time for the deficiency to be made good, it would be an unreasonable exercise of its jurisdiction to do so. Semble—that an appellant who is prevented from filing an appeal within time by difficulties encountered procuring the necessary court-fee stamps may possibly rely upon those difficulties as constituting "sufficient cause" within the meaning of s. 5 of the

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———————— s. 4—contd.

Limitation Act, 1908. RAM SAHAY RAM PANDE v. KUMAR LACHMI NARAYAN SINGH 3 Pat. L. J. 74

———————— s. 5—Taxing officer—finality of order. [illegible]

by the lower court was correct and ordered the plaintiff appellant to pay such fee on his memorandum of appeal, held, that the Taxing Officer's order was final and not open to question before the appeal was admitted. MUSAMMAT CHANDERBATI KUER v. GOREY LALL SINGH 4 Pat. L. J. 700

———————— ss. 5 and 7—Court-fee—Objections by mortgagee asking for sale of a portion of the mortgaged property exempted by the Court from sale—Reference by Taxing Judge to a Division Bench—Jurisdiction. Held, that where a party objects by way of appeal or under the provisions of O. XLI, r. 22, of the Code of Civil Procedure to a decree of a subordinate court excluding from liability a portion of certain property, the whole of which he claims to be liable for a mortgage debt, and while accepting the correctness of the amount found due asks that the excluded portion of the property may be also declared liable, court-fees should be paid with reference to the value of the property sought to be rendered liable. Kesavarapu v. Kotta Reddi, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 96, followed. Where the Taxing Judge referred to a Division Bench a question relating to court-fees referred to him by the Taxing Officer: Held, that the Bench had no authority to entertain such reference. KACHERA v. KHARAG SINGH (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 20

———————— ss. 5, 12—

———————— Court-fee—Decision of Taxing Officer final as to category. The decision of the Taxing Officer as the proper amount of court-fees payable on a memorandum of appeal, as also incidentally his decision as to the category within which the suit falls, is final and binding upon the Court under s. 5 of the Court-Fees Act, 1870. KUNWAR KARAN SINGH v GOPAL RAI (1909) I. L. R. 32 All. 59

———————— Whether appeal lies [illegible]

tion that a document or decree is void or inoperative the court-fee to be paid must be calculated on the actual value of the property. LAGAN BAST KUER v. KHAKAN SINGH . 3 Pat. L. J. 92

———————— s. 5, Sch. I, Art. 1, Sch. II, Art. 17, cl. (6)—

See APPEAL, VALUATION OF. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 914

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 6—

See s. 4 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 74

——— s. 7—

See s. 5 . . I. L. R. 33 All. 20

——— s. 7 (II) and (IV) (c)—"other sums payable periodically," whether rent is. A sum of money payable as rent does not come within the meaning of the words "other sums payable periodically" in s. 7 (IV) (c) of the Court-Fees Act, 1870. The landlord sued for assessment of rent and recovery of a certain specific sum of money as damages for use and occupation of the land, and the first court fixed Rs. 10-2 per bigha as the rent and awarded damages calculated at that rate for six years. The tenants appealed and paid a court-fee on the memorandum of appeal calculated in accordance with s. 7 (IV) (c). The appellate court rejected the appeals on the ground that the court-fee should have been calculated in accordance with s. 7 (II). Held, that the suits were suits to obtain "declaratory decrees or orders where consequential relief was prayed for," and came within 7 (IV) (c). KALI CHARAN ROY v. MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PRASAD SINGH . . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 561

——— s. 7 (ii), Sch. II, 17 (ii)—Court-fee—Suit for a sum payable periodically, the reliefs claimed being, first, a declaration of plaintiff's title and, secondly, a specified amount of arrears. Plaintiff sued for a declaration of her right and that of her descendants to receive a certain annuity, as also for arrears of the same. The reliefs prayed for were thus stated in the plaint :—(a) "It may be declared as against the defendants that the plaintiff and her descendants, generation after generation, are entitled to receive from the defendants and their representatives Rs. 100 per mensem, which is a charge on the property mentioned in Schedule A" ; (b) "A decree awarding Rs. 1,800 on account of the monthly allowance at the rate of Rs. 100 per mensem for 18 months . . . may be passed." A court-fee of Rs. 10 was paid in respect of relief (a), and an ad valorem fee in respect of relief (b). Held, that the suit was one to which s. 7, cl. (ii), of the Court-Fees Act, 1878, applied and the court-fee payable in respect to relief (a) was consequently to be assessed on a valuation of ten times the amount claimed to be payable for one year. SHAHZADI BEGAM v. MAHBUB ALI SHAH . . . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 353

——— s. 7 IV (a)—

See COURT-FEE . . 3 Pat. L. J. 448

——— Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s. 8—Suit for injunction—Valuation of claim. The plaintiff, in a suit for injunction, valued his claim for Court-fee purposes at Rs. 10 and for purposes of jurisdiction at Rs. 500. The lower appellate Court accepted the valuation for both purposes at Rs. 500 and asked the plaintiff to pay Court-fees for that amount. On appeal to the High Court Held, reversing the order, that, under s. 7, cl. 4 (a) of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the plaintiff was entitled to value his claim at Rs. 10 for Court-fee purposes, and that it was wholly unnecessary for him to fix any value for the purposes of jurisdiction as by s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act the value determinable for the computation of Court-fees and the value for the purposes jurisdiction shall be the same. GOVINDA v. HANMAYA (1920) . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 567

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 7 (IV) B—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 2. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 114

——— s. 7 (IV) C—

See s. 7 (V & VI).
See s. 10.
See SCH. III.

See COURT-FEE.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 245, 615
3 Pat. L. J. 194, 448
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 370
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 352

See DECLARATION. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 922

See JURISDICTION. 15 C. W. N. 823

See LIMITATION ACT, 1905, SCH. I ACT 152. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 376

——— ——— In a suit for an injunction by way of consequential relief the plaintiff has the right to value his claim for the purpose of Court Fees, and the value for the purpose of jurisdiction is the same. BALKRISHNA NARAYAN v. JANKIBAL . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 331

——— Declaratory suit—Consequential relief, prayer for—Injunction, if consequential relief—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42. S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not sanction every form of declaration, but only a declaration that the plaintiff is "entitled to any legal character or to any right as to any property." A court-fee of Rs. 10 is not sufficient for suits that are not "declaratory suits" in the proper sense of the expression. An injunction is a consequential relief. Marsh v. Keith, 1 Dr. & Sm. 342; 62 E. R. 410, followed. The law as to declaratory decrees discussed. DEOKALI KOER v. KEDAR NATH (1912) . . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 704

——— Court-fee—Suit for declaration and consequential relief—Valuation for purposes of court-fee. A prior mortgagee brought a suit upon his mortgage and obtained a final decree for sale to realize Rs. 6,818-12-5. A puisne mortgagee of part of the property covered by this decree, who had not been made a party to the prior mortgagee's suit, subsequently brought a suit against the prior mortgagee asking, first, for a declaration that the defendant was not entitled to bring to sale in execution of his decree the property comprised in the plaintiff's mortgage ; and, secondly, for an injunction restraining the defendant from bringing the said property to sale. The first relief was valued at the amount of the defendant's decree, namely, Rs. 6,818-12-5, and a court-fee of Rs. 10 was paid in respect of it. The second relief was valued at Rs. 100 only and a court-fee of Rs. 7-8-0 was paid. Held, that the plaintiff was bound to pay an ad valorem fee on the amount at which the suit was valued, namely, on Rs. 6,818-12-5. JAGESHAR v. DURGA PRASAD SINGH (1914) . . . I. L. R 36 All. 500

——— Declaratory suit—Consequential relief—Injunction, prayer for—Endowment—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42—Court-fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7 (iv) (c)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1877), s. 8. The plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that he was the sole shebait of the family-deity, and was entitled as such to exclusive possession of the disputed properties on behalf of the deity, and also for a declaration that the registration of the name of the principal defendant as joint owner of the endowed properties with the plaintiff in the books of the Collector was improperly made. He valued the suit, for purposes of jurisdiction, at Rs. 11,005, and paid Rs. 10 as court-fee under Schedule II, Art. 17 (iii) of the Court-fees Act. Subsequently, on an objection taken under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act by the principal defendant at the hearing of the suit, a prayer was added in the plaint for an injunction prohibiting the principal defendant from interfering with the plaintiff performing his duties as shebait and managing the debutter properties, and a further ad valorem fee was paid by the plaintiff under Schedule I, read with s 7 (iv) (d) of the Court-fees Act, for the injunction. The Court of first instance having heard the suit and dismissed it on the merits, the plaintiff appealed to the High Court, and upon the memorandum of appeal he paid Court-fees in the same manner as in the Court of first instance: Held, that the prayer for injunction was arbitrarily undervalued, that its value was the value of the relief claimed, and that the plaintiff was bound to pay ad valorem court-fees upon the plaint and memorandum of appeal on the basis that the value of the relief claimed was Rs. 11,005. Umatul Batul v. Nanji Koer, 11 C. W. N. 705 ; 6 C. L. J. 427 ; Dayaram Jagjivan v. Gordhandas Dayaram, I. L. R. 31 Bom. 73 ; and Boidya Nath Adya v. Makhan Lal Adya, I. L. R. 17 Calc. 680, referred to. RAJ KRISHNA DEY v. BIPIN BIHARI DEY (1912)

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 7 (IV) C—contd.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 245

——— Declaratory decree, suit for—Consequential relief—Plaint, rejection of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. VII, r. 11—Valuation of suit—Court-fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, paras. iv, cl. (c), v, cl. (a)—Valuation for purpose of jurisdiction—Suits Valuation Act (VI of 1887), s. 8. In a suit for declaration that a decree amounting to Rs. 2,794 and odd should be declared forged, illusory and unfit for execution and also for a declaration that the family property valued at Rs. 7,000 was not liable to be sold in execution of that decree, the plaintiff paid Court-fee ten times the Government revenue payable on the land worth Rs. 7,000. The Court below rejected the plaint: Held, that the real value of the reliefs claimed was Rs. 2,794 and odd, the value of the decree, and that, the plaintiff not having paid Court-fee on that amount, the plaint was rightly rejected. A plaintiff cannot value his case for the purpose of Court-fee and for the purpose of jurisdiction at different amounts. HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. SHYAM LAL SINGH, (1913) . . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 615

——— Plaint —Valuation of Suit—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, sub-s. (4), cl. (c). In a suit for a declaration that a decree for over Rs. 22,000 was bad and might be set aside, the plaintiffs, who were interested only in three-annas share of the property which was valued at Rs. 9,000 were required to pay Court-fee for the whole of the decretal amount:—Held, that the plaintiffs must value their suit according to the extent of their claim and the Court-fee need therefore be paid only upon the amount. Phul Kumari v. Ghanshyam Misra, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 202, and Harihar Prasad Singh v. Shyam Lal Singh, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 615, referred to. GANESH BHAGAT v. SARADA PRASAD MUKERJEE (1914)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 370

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd

——— s. 7 (IV) C—contd.

——— In a suit for a declaration of title the value of the property stated in the plaint determines the Court fee payable. KHETRA MOHAN MOHOPATRA v GANESH LAL PANDIT (1921) . . . 6 Pat. L. J. 101

——— Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s. 8—Suit for declaration and injunction—Valuation of claim —Valuation for purpose of Court-fees—Valuation for purpose of jurisdiction. In a suit for a declaration and for an injunction by way of consequential relief, the plaintiff has the right to value his claim for the purpose of Court-fees; and value for the purpose of jurisdiction is the same. The plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration and injunction in the Court of the First Class Subordinate Judge under his special jurisdiction, and valued his claim for the purpose of Court-fees at Rs. 135 and for the purpose of jurisdiction at Rs. 16,000 The trial Court having dismissed the suit, the plaintiff preferred an appeal to the High Court At the hearing he raised a preliminary point that the appeal lay to the District Court and prayed for the return of memorandum of appeal so that it could be presented to that Court: Held, overruling the preliminary point, that on the special facts of the case the plaintiff should be taken to have filed the suit properly in the Court below under its special jurisdiction, and to have filed the appeal properly in the High Court. BALKRISHNA NARAYAN v. JANKIBAI (1919) . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 331

——— "consequential relief" —mortgage—suit for sale—sale ordered subjects to incumbrance—appeal. In a suit by a mortgagee for sale of the mortgaged property defendant No 3 was impleaded on the ground that he held a deed of conditional sale in which there was a recital of a mortgage prior to the plaintiff's mortgage in respect of the same properties. The first Court decreed the suit but the lower appellate Court held that the property could only be sold subject to defendant No. 3's deed which was for Rs. 14,000 The plaintiff appealed and valued his appeal at Rs 14,000 but paid a court-fee of Rs. 10 only. He prayed that the decree should be modified "by removing the condition as to priority of the defendant No. 3 and its redemption by the appellant." Held, that an ad valorem court fee on Rs. 14,000 should have been paid. PREMSUKH DAS v. SHAH GOPI SARAN

4 Pat. L. J. 323

——— Declaratory suit with consequential relief, basis of valuation in—suit to set aside mortgage decree and sale and to obtain possession, fees payable in. When consequential relief is sought in addition to a declaration the plaintiff is bound to fix a reasonable valuation upon the consequential relief, and if he puts a ridiculous value upon it the court must fix a reasonable value for him, dealing with each case on its own merits. Two Mitakshara sons filed two suits to set aside decrees made upon mortgages executed by their father and sales held under such decrees, and to obtain possession of their individual shares in the joint family property. Held, that in effect the suits [illegible] not for recovery of [illegible] ons

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———— s. 7 (IV) C—concld.

with consequential relief and that, therefore, the court-fee payable in each case was not a sum equal to ten times the Government revenue but an ad valorem fee calculated on the value of the plaintiff's share in the joint family property. SHAMA PRASAD SAHI v. SHEOPERSAN SINGH
5 Pat. L. J. 394

———— s. 7 (IV) (C) and (V)—Suit for possession as adopted son—validity of adoption contested—court-fees payable. In a suit for possession of an estate on the ground that he had been validly adopted by the widow of the last male owner under the authority of the latter the plaintiff valued the suit for purposes of court-fees at ten times the Government revenue as if it were a suit for possession only. The validity of the adoption was contested by the defendants. Held, that the suit was in effect a suit for declaration that the plaintiff was the adopted son of the last male owner and for consequential relief, namely, possession, and that therefore ad valorem court-fees were payable under s. 7 (iv) (c) of the Court-Fees Act, 1870. UGRAMOHAN CHAUDHRY v. LACHMI PRASAD CHOUDHRY . 5 Pat. L. J. 339

———— s. 7, cls. (iv) (c) and (v)—Suit for declaration of the invalidity of a decree as against the plaintiff or his properties and for possession of some of those properties sold under the decree—Relief for possession only consequential on grant of declaration—No liability to value the declaration as on the amount of the decree—Plaintiff's right to give a combined valuation for both reliefs. In a suit for (i) a declaration that a certain decree was of no legal effect against the plaintiffs or the properties in their hands and (ii) possession of part of those properties, which had been sold in execution of the decree, Held, (a) that the two reliefs were connected and were to be taken together, the relief for possession being consequential on the grant of declaration, (b) that the plaintiff was entitled to put in respect of both the reliefs a combined valuation for the purpose of court-fees, (iii) that the whole suit was not governed by s. 7, cl. 4 (c) of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), as there was a prayer for possession also which was to be valued as per s. 7, cl. 5, notwithstanding that the declaration was asked for, and (iv) that the prayer for declaration was not liable to be valued for purposes of court-fees as upon the amount of the decree sought to be set aside as invalid. RAJAGOPALA v. VIJAYARAGHAVALU (1914)
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1184

———— s. 7 (IV) (c) and Sch. II, Art. 17—

See COURT-FEE. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 352
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 245, 615

———— s. 7, (IV) (f)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890

See COURT-FEE. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 634

———— Suit for accounts—Preliminary decree—Appeal by the defendant against the whole decree—Valuation. In a suit coming under cl. (iv), s. 7 of the Court Fees Act, when the plaintiff has valued the relief prayed for and obtained a decree, in this instance; a preliminary decree for an account, and the defendant appeals against the whole decree, he is bound by the valuation in the plaint. Samiya Mavali v. Minammal, I. L. R. 23 Mad. 490, approved and followed. Delroos Banoo Begum v. Nawab Syud Ashgur Ally Khan, 15 B. L. R. 173 and Bunwari Lal v. Daya Sunker Misser, 13 C. W. N. 815, referred to. SRINIVASACHARLU v. PERINDEVAMMA (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 725

———— Suit for administration or account—Valuation for purposes of Court-fees—Jurisdiction—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, cl. IV (f). In an administration suit valued at Rs. 30,000 for purposes of jurisdiction, and at Rs. 100 for adjustment of account, and wherein court-fees were paid on the latter sum only, together with Rs. 10 for the approximate value of the claim for account. Held, that such a suit was in essence a suit for account within the meaning of s. 7, cl. IV (f) of the Court-fees Act, and that adequate court-fees had been paid on the plaint which could not be rejected. Khatija v. Shekh Adam Husanally Vasi, I. L. R. 39 Bom. 545, Sasi Bhushan Bose v. Maharaja Sir Manindra Chandra Nandy, 24 C. L. J. 448, Satya Kumar Banerjee v. Satya Kripal Banerjee, 10 C. L. J. 503, followed. SARAJU BALA DASI v. JOGEMAYA DASI (1917)
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 634

———— s. 7, (IV) (f) and s. 11—Suit for accounts and administration—Valuation of the suit for purposes of court-fees. In a suit for accounts and administration of the estate by the Court, the claim was valued at Rs. 130 for purposes of Court-fees and at Rs. 30,00,000 for purposes of jurisdiction and pleader's fees. It was contended on behalf of the defendants that the suit had not been properly valued for purposes of court-fees inasmuch as the suit was not an administration suit but was in effect a claim by the plaintiff for her share in the estate. This contention found favour with the lower Courts which held that the suit was not for administration and the stamp duty was payable on the value of plaintiff's share in the property which amounted to Rs. 67,968-12-0. On appeal to the High Court: Held, that having regard to the statements in the plaint, an administration suit was maintainable and that it could be treated as a suit for account. The plaintiff would, therefore, be at liberty to value it at Rs. 130 or any other sum under s. 7, cl. IV (f) of the Court Fees Act. In the event of a decree being passed for a larger amount than that covered by the fees already paid, the plaintiff would be precluded by the provisions of s. 11 of the said Act from executing such decree until fees liable on the whole amount of the decree had been paid. KHATIJA v. SHEKH ADAM HUSENALLY (1915) . . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 545

———— s. 7, (IV) (f), 11; Sch. II, Art. 17 (vi)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890

———— s. 7 (V) (a)—

See COURT-FEE—
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 615

———— s. 7, V, (a), c), (d)—

See GHATWALI TENURES.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 812

———— s. 7, V, (b) Appeal—Court-fee—Suit for possession—Decree for qualified possession—Appeal seeking to remove the qualification con- tained in the decree. Plaintiff brought a claim for possession of certain property as transferee from a Mussammat Gomi, to whom the property had been bec by her ..

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 7 (V) (b)—contd.

Kunwar,

granted him a decree for possession, but limited to the life-time of Musammat Gomi. The defendant appealed, and the plaintiff also appealed, seeking to have this condition removed from the decree, and paid a court-fee of Rs. 10 on his memorandum of appeal. Held, that the court-fee was sufficient, the plaintiff appellant being in the position of a person in possession of property who sought to clear his title and to obtain a declaration that he had the full right of ownership to the property. RUP CHAND v. FATEH CHAND (1911) I. L. R. 33 All. 705

——— s. 7, cl. V (b) and (e)—Assessed land—Cocoanut trees thereon—Suit for land and trees—Valuation of suit —Garden, meaning of. In a suit to recover possession of assessed land on which cocoanut trees stand the valuation should be under s. 7, cl. (v) (b), and not under cl (v) (e) of the Court-fees Act (VII of 1870). The word 'garden' in s. 7, cl. (v) (e) of the Court-fees Act (VII of 1870) should be taken as referring primarily to garden in the English sense, that is, an ornamental or pleasure or vegetable garden attached to a house. Andothodan Moidin v. Pullambath Mamally, I. L. R. 12 Mad. 301, referred to. The conversion of an assessed arable field into a cocoanut tope does not affect the application of

Venkayya

Murugesa

24 Mad.

v. ABDUL

Mad. 824

——— s. 7, cl. V. (d)—Suit to recover a two-third share in certain specific plots sold— Court fee—Court-fee payable on market value. Where a Hindu widow possessed of certain zamindari property of the total area of 17 bighas 6 biswas, assessed to a revenue of Rs. 19-7-0, sold 11 bighas and 11 biswas out of the same, which was practically two-thirds of what she possessed, and specified the actual plots sold: Held, in a suit by two out of three reversioners to recover two-thirds of the property thus alienated, that, the claim being for specified plots and not a definite share of the whole estate paying revenue, the court-fee should be paid on the market value of the property in suit and not on five times the Government revenue. CHANDHAN v. BISHAN SINGH. (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 630

——— s. 7, cl. V, sub-cl. XI (cc)—Court-Fees Amendment Act (VI of 1905)—Suit to recover immovable property from tenant—Value for jurisdiction and for court-fee, same—Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1873), s. 14—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), s. 8. Although suits for recovery of immovable property from tenants have not been expressly withdrawn from the operation of s. 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act (VII of 1887), the effect of the amendment of s. 7, of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) by adding to it cl. (xi) (cc) is to bring such suits also under the operation of s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) and not under s. 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act; so that in the case of such suits the valuation for purposes of jurisdiction is the same as for court-fees. NARAYANASWAMI NAIDU v. SESHAGIRI ROW (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 873

——— s. 7, (V) & (VI)—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873), s. 14 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 721

——— Court fee—Suit for pre-emption of sale of mortgaged property —Property in possession of usufructuary mortgagee —Possession not claimed. Held, that in a suit for pre-emption of a sale of land the fact that the land is subject to a usufructuary mortgage and immediate possession cannot be obtained, or is not in fact sought, does not prevent the application of s 7 (vi) of the Court-Fees Act to the suit; but the plaintiff must pay court-fees upon the value of the land computed in accordance with s. 7 (v) of the Act. Ram Raj Tewari v Girnandan Bhagat, I. L. R. 15 All. 63, distinguished. DARYAO SINGH v. BHARAT SINGH (1909) I. L. R. 32 All. 19

——— s. 7, (V), (X)—Court-fee—Suit for specific performance of contract to sell and for possession. The plaintiffs alleged that the defendants Nos. 2 and 3 having contracted to sell certain property to them and received part of the price, thereafter sold the same property to defendant No. 1, who had notice of the agreement with the plaintiffs, and they asked (i) that the defendants 2 and 3 might be compelled to complete the sale to the plaintiffs and (ii) for possession of the property. Held, that the suit was really one for specific performance of a contract and the court-fee thereon was assessable under s. 7, cl. X, of the Court Fees Act, 1870 Mohi-un-din Ahmad Khan v Majlis Rai, I. L. R. 6 All. 231, referred to. NIHAL SINGH v. SEWA RAM (1916) . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 292

——— s. 7 (VI)—Suit for pre-emption—Suit partly decreed and partly dismissed—Appeal raising questions both as to true price and as to right to pre-empt—Court-fee. Five villages were transferred by means of one sale deed, the consideration set forth in the deed being Rs. 44,000 In respect of ad valorem fee on the difference between 21-44 of Rs. 2,500 and Rs. 21,000, while in respect of (b) the appellant should pay a Court-fee calculated according to s. 7, (vi), of the Court Fees Act, 1870, on five times the Government Revenue of the three villages claimed. ABINASH CHANDRA v. SHEKHAR CHAND (1918) . I. L. R. 40 All. 353

——— Suit for declaration that the plaintiffs are not tenure-holders and that survey entries are not binding on them. The Court-fee payable in a suit in which the plaintiffs pray for a declaration that they are occupancy-tenants and not tenure-holders, and that an entry in the Record-of-Rights describing them as tenure-holders is wrong and is not binding on them is Rs. 10. TEWARI KORA v. BHUPAT MANDAR

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 7 (VI)—contd.

4 Pat. L. J. 362

——— s. 7, (IX)—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873), ss. 12, 13.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 447

See JURISDICTION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 795

——— Decree on mortgage—Separate liabilities of distinct properties. Appeal in respect of distinct properties. In a suit for sale on a mortgage a decree was passed declaring the separate liabilities of the different properties mortgaged. One of the defendants whose property was held liable for specific sums of money appealed: Held, that the proper Court-fee payable on the memorandum of appeal was a fee calculated on the sums of money for which the defendant's property was held liable and not one calculated on the full amount of the decree. CHHABRAJI KUNWAR v. THE COURT OF WARDS (1912)
I. L. R. 35 All. 92

——— Suit for sale on mortgage—Court-fee payable in appeal—Value of the subject matter—Amount declared due on date fixed for payment. A decree for sale on a mortgage declared that on the date fixed for payment a specified sum would be due from the mortgagor which included interest pendente lite. Held, that the Court-fee payable in appeal from such decree was to be assessed, not on the amount claimed in the suit but upon the amount with interest pendente lite found due by the Court of first instance at the date fixed for payment. BALDEO SINGH v. KALKA PRASAD (1912) . I. L. R. 35 All. 94

——— s. 7, (IX), Sch. I, Art. 1—

——— Suit for redemption or foreclosure of mortgage—Appeal—Court-fee. The criterion laid down in s. 7 (ix) of the Court-fees Act, 1870, for determining the court-fee payable in respect of a suit for redemption or foreclosure of a mortgage does not apply to the appeal in such a suit. In the case of appeals or cross-objections in suits for redemption or foreclosure, in all cases in which the amount declared by the Court to be due at the date of the decree can be ascertained by reference to the judgment and the decree, it is that amount at which the appeal or cross-objections should be valued, and future interest should not be taken into account. The rule in Baldeo Singh v. Kalka Prasad, I. L. R. 35 All. 94, modified. RAGHUBIR PRASAD v. SHANKAR BAKHSH SINGH (1913)
I. L. R. 36 All. 40

——— s. 7 (X)—

See DECREE . . 3 Pat. L. J. 67

——— s. 7 (XI)—

See SCH. II, ART. 5.
I. L. R. 40 All. 358

See JURISDICTION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 795

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 7 (XI)—contd.

——— Suit for possession against tenant holding on after expiry of lease and others who had not been inducted on land as tenants—Court-fee. In a suit for khas possession against three Defendants, Defendant No. 1 admitted that he had been holding the land as a tenant under the Plaintiff under a lease which had expired. The other two tenants established their plea that there was no relationship of landlord and tenant between the Plaintiff and them: Held, that the suit could not proceed as against Defendants other than Defendant No. 1 on a plaint stamped with Court-fee under s. 7, cl. 11 of the Court Fees Act. PRAMATHA NATH GANGULY v. AMIRADDI SHEIKH . . . . 24 C. W. N. 151

——— ss. 7, 11—

See SECOND APPEAL. 15 C. W. N. 454

See COURT-FEE . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890

——— ss. 7. 11 ; Sch. II, Art. 17 (6)—Suit for partition of immoveables, moveables and funds of joint family business—In a suit for partition, the plaintiff has to include the whole of his claim, that is to say, the whole of the properties which are alleged by him to be properties of the joint family, immoveable properties, moveable properties and funds which according to him have resulted from joint business carried on by members of the family on behalf of all, and such a suit cannot be treated as one for recovery of possession of both immoveable and moveable property requiring for their joinder Court's leave under O. II, r. 4 of the Civil Procedure Code. An order passed in such a suit requiring the plaintiff to elect to proceed either with his claim for recovery of immoveable properties or with that for recovery of the moveables and funds is erroneous. Held, that the plaint in the suit was properly stamped as required by s. 7 and Sch. II, Art. 17, cl. (6) of the Court-Fees Act. Should the amount due upon taking accounts prove on investigation to exceed the approximate value given in the plaint, the course to be pursued was that under s. 11 of the Court-Fees Act. BENI MADHAB SARKAR v. GOBIND CHANDRA SARKAR (1916) . 22 C. W. N. 669

——— ss. 7, 12, 17—Suits Valuation Act—Suit for declaratory decree in respect of property worth over Rs. 60,000, valued erroneously at Rs. 130—Court which should entertain suit—Objection on the ground of jurisdiction when to be taken—Court-fee, objection as to, to whom open and how corrected. Plaintiff brought this suit in respect of property all of which, excepting a house in Plaintiff's possession, was in the possession of the Collector. The house was worth about Rs. 250, the value of the rest of the property being over Rs. 60,000. He prayed for declaration of Plaintiff's title to the properties in suit and for an injunction to restrain obstruction to Plaintiff's possession of the house. The Court-fee payable in respect of the former relief being fixed by law at Rs. 10 irrespective of the value of the property, the Plaintiff according to an erroneous practice commonly followed in Bombay valued the prayer for a declaratory decree at Rs. 130 as being the value on which the fee nearest to Rs. 10 would be leviable, and he valued the prayer for an injunction at Rs. 5, the fee paid on his plaint being thus Rs. 10-6-0. The suit was instituted in the First Subordinate Judge's Court which in the circumstances would have jurisdiction to entertain the suit only if the value involved was over Rs. 5,000, and though Plaintiff had in fact, though erroneously, valued the suit at Rs. 135, the Defendant raised no objection on the ground of jurisdiction. A decree having been passed in Plaintiff's favour, the Defendant appealed to the District Judge, but acting under s 21 of the Civil Procedure Code heard the appeal on the merits and reversed the decree of the First Court. On second appeal to the High Court, it was held that the suit was instituted in the proper Court and appeal lay to the High Court and not to the District Court. The High Court in consequence heard the appeal as a first appeal and confirmed the decree of the original Court: Held, by the Judicial Committee that the objection as to jurisdiction which was opponent, but to secure revenue for the benefit of the State, and under s. 12 of the Court Fees Act, the detriment shown only to the revenue is to be corrected by the Appellate Court, and a judgment not shown to have wrongly decided to the detriment of revenue cannot be set aside at the instance of a party on the ground of jurisdiction. RACHAPPA SUBRAO JADHAV DESAI v. SHIDAPPA VENKATRAO JADHAV DESAI

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———— ss. 7, 12, 17—contd.

24 C. W. N. 33

———— ss. 7 and 17—"subject," meaning of —claim for possession of land, mesne-profits and malikana, whether plaintiff entitled to add the three claims together for the purpose of assessing court-fee—interlocutory orders, interference by High Court with. The word "subject" in s. 7 of the Court-Fees Act, 1870, means "cause of action." In a suit for recovery of possession of land and for malikana and mesne-profits, the plaintiff is entitled to add together the value of the three claims for the purpose of assessing the court-fees payable. He is not bound to assess the court-fee separately on each item of his claim. It has been the established practice in the Calcutta High Court to interfere with interlocutory orders and that practice has been adopted by the Patna High Court. NAURATAN LAL v. WILLFORD JOSEPH STEPHENSON . . 4 Pat. L. J. 195

———— s. 7, Sch. II, cls. 3, 4—Suits for dissolution of partnership—Preliminary decree—Appeal —Court-fee. In a suit for dissolution of partnership the defendants appealed against the preliminary

in the declara

lants ought to pay an ad valorem fee according to the amount at which the relief sought was valued in the memorandum of appeal. BHOLA NATH v. PARSOTAM DAS (1910) . I. L. R. 32 All. 517

———— s. 8—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT, 1874, s. 3.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 277

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———— s. 8, Sch II Art. 17 (VI)— ———— Court-fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 8 and Sch. II, Art. 17, cl. vi—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894), s. 32—Land Acquisition Judge, order of—Appeal—Debutter property—Memorandum of appeal—Ad valorem fee—Award. A certain debutter property having been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, the compensation money in Court.

on the gro

cutrix to t

tion by on be invested in Government securities and only the interest should be paid over to the shebait, the Land Acquisition Judge passed an order under s. 32 of the Act directing the payment of interest only to the applicant. Against this order T preferred an appeal to the High Court on a Court-fee stamp of ten rupees only: Held, that the case came under the provisions of s. 8 of the

to. Held, also, that to bring a case under the provisions of cl. (vi) of Art. 17 of Sch. II of the Court-fees Act, it must be established that it was not possible even to state approximately a money value for the subject-matter in dispute; but where the claim to receive the full amount of compensation money was disallowed, and the only relief allowed by the Court was to withdraw the interest on the said money, there it was possible to state approximately the money value of the relief claimed, and therefore in such a case the provisions of Sch. II, Art. 17, cl. (vi) of the Court-fees

v. Daya

TRINA-

I. L. R. [illegible] Calc. 906
17 C. W. N. 933

———— ss. 10 and 12—

See COURT-FEES. . 5 Pat. L. J. 508

———— deficiency in court-fee paid on plaint—appeal by defendant—respondent called upon to pay deficiency—failure to comply—suit dismissed effect of—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O. VII, r. 11—Res judicata—suit to set aside ex parte decree and sale thereunder, whether court-fee payable on amount of decree or value of property sold. If a plaintiff respondent fails to make good a deficiency in the court-fee paid on the plaint it is competent to the appellate Court to call upon him to pay the deficit, rejection of the plaint is an inappropriate remedy and the law enjoins a dismissal without option, valuation. Where a plaintiff asks for a declaration and consequential relief he is bound to pay ad valorem fees in proportion to the loss from which he seeks to be relieved. In a suit in which the plaintiff asks for a declaration that a decree obtained against him and a sale held thereunder are void on the ground of fraud he is bound to pay an ad valorem court-fee on the value of his share in the property sold and not merely an ad valorem fee on the amount of the decree. PANDIT BRIJ KRISHNA DAS v. CHOWDHURY MURALI RAI. 4 Pat. L. J. 703

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— ss. 7 and 12—contd.

See s. 7 (IV) (F) . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 545

——— s. 11—

See BENGAL, N.-W.-P. AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT (XII OF 1887), s. 21, I. L. R. 32 All. 222

——— s. 12—

See s. 5 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 59
3 Pat. L. J. 92

See APPEAL. . 14 C. W. N. 343

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, ss. 2 115, AND 151. . 4 Pat. L. J. 57

See COURT FEES. . 3 Pat. L. J. 443

See COURT FEES ACT, ss. 10, 12 AND 17. 4 Pat. L. J. 703

——— Court-fees paid in Lower Appellate Court insufficient—Appeal to High Court dismissed—whether High Court has power to restrain execution of decree until realisation of deficiency. Where an appeal to the High Court has been dismissed, owing to the appellants' failure to pay the deficit due in respect of the court-fee payable by him on a memorandum of appeal or for other good and sufficient reasons, the High Court has no power, after dismissal of such appeal, to call on the respondent to make good any deficiency in the court-fee due in respect of the court-fee payable by him in the Lower Appellate Court, and consequently the High Court has no power in such circumstances to restrain the respondent from executing the decree obtained by him. KUMAR RADHIKA RAMAN PRASAD SINGH v. MUSAMMAT JANKI KUER. . 4 Pat. L. J. 472

——— s. 13—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 115, 151, O. XLI, R. 23. I. L. R. 42 Bom. 363

——— s. 17—

See s. 7. . . 4 Pat. L. J. 195

See COURT FEE. . 3 Pat. L. J. 443

——— Suit to obtain a declaration as adopted son and to establish title to property—Injunction with respect to a house—Declaration with respect to other property—Valuation of the plaint—Valuation for pleader's fees—Special jurisdiction of the first Class Subordinate Judge—Appeal to the District Court—Second Appeal—Return of the memorandum of appeal for presentation to the High Court—Jurisdiction. In a suit for a declaration that the plaintiff was the adopted son of V and as such was entitled to his property, the plaint was valued at Rs. 130 for a declaration of the rights and at Rs. 69,016-9-0 for pleader's fees. The plaintiff prayed for an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with plaintiff's rights in respect of a house which was already in his possession and the injunction was valued at Rs. 5. With respect to the other property which was attached by the Collector after V's death, the plaintiff sought for a bare declaration of his rights as V's adopted son. The suit was tried by the First Class Subordinate Judge of Belgaum in his special jurisdiction and he allowed the claim. The defendant appealed to the District Judge and he, notwithstanding the plaintiff's preliminary objection that the appeal lay to the High Court and not to his Court, held that the First Class Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to try the suit under his special jurisdiction because the suit was for a declaration and consequential relief which was valued at Rs. 5 of the purposes of Court-fees, and the valuation for the purposes of jurisdiction being the same as for the purposes of Court-Fees, that valuation was less than Rs. 5,000. The District Judge, therefore, entertained the appeal and having found that the plaintiff's adoption was not proved, disallowed the claim. On second appeal by the plaintiff: Held, reversing the decree, that the First Class Subordinate Judge was entitled to try the suit under his special jurisdiction and his decree was appealable to the High Court. The plaint distinctly laid claim to two subjects, namely, two kinds of properties. First, there was property in the possession of the Collector and its value exceeded Rs. 5,000 and that property having been in the possession of the Collector, it was not necessary for and allowable to the plaintiff to ask for an injunction. He was only entitled to a declaration of his title. The other subject-matter of the suit was the house as to which the plaintiff was entitled to ask for a declaration and consequential relief and to put his own valuation on the plaint. SHIDAPPA VENKATRAO v. RACHAPPA SUBRAO (1912) . . . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 628

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

——— s. 17—contd.

——— "Subject" — suits against several tenants for correction of Record-of-Right—Court-fees payable on. In a suit by a landlord against 25 sets of tenants in respect of 25 holdings for a declaration that their several lands were held under the batai system, and that they were wrongly recorded as paying cash rent: held, that a court-fee of Rs. 10 should have been paid in respect of each of the 25 sets of tenants. LACHMAN SAHU v. SHEIKH ABDUL KARIM. 4 Pat. L. J. 299

——— s. 19 —"Property held in trust not beneficially"—Undivided share of deceased co-parcener and "property held in trust not beneficially"—Surviving co-parcener applying for Letters of Administration liable to pay court-fees on the value of share of deceased co-parcener. Under the Mitakshara Law as administered in this part of India, an undivided co-parcener has power to mortgage or alienate his undivided share and he can at any time enforce partition of his own share. He can not therefore be said to hold his own share of the undivided property "as trust-property," not beneficially or with general power to confer a beneficial interest in it, within the meaning of these words as used in Annexure B of the form for valuation in Sch. III of the Court-Fees Act, although, as regards the shares of others, he may be said to so hold them. Where a surviving co-parcener governed by the Mitakshara Law, applies for Letters of Administration in respect of property standing in the name of a deceased co-parcener, the death, and he cannot, under s. 19-I (1) of the Court-Fees Act, obtain Letters of Administration to the joint family property, unless he includes such share in the valuation and prays the proper ad valorem court-fees upon it. In the goods of Pokermul Augurwallah, I. L. R. 23 Calc 28, referred to but not followed. In the goods of Brindabun Ghose, 11 B. L. R. App. 39, followed. In the matter of DESU MANAVALA CHETTY (1908)

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

—— s. 19—contd.

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 93

—— Court-fee Computation of duty payable on probate or letters of administration. Held, on a construction of the Court Fees Act, 1870, that no duty is payable in respect of a grant of probate or letters of administration where the value of the estate, after making the deductions specified in annexure B of the third schedule, is less than Rs 1,000. In the goods of MRS. E. E. W. MEIK (1916)

I. L. R. 40 All. 279

—— s. 19C—

See PROBATE . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 625

—— Probate of Will—full court-fees paid—beneficiary dies—whether fullcourt-fees payable on her Will. The estate referred to in s. 19 (C) of the Court-Fees Act, 1870, means the property of a deceased person. S. 19 (C) merely means that when fees have already been paid in respect to the whole or part of the property comprised in the estate of a deceased person the fees so paid shall not be payable over again on the grant of a fresh probate of a Will or Letters of Administration of the estate of the same person, e g., when probate is revoked or a portion of an estate remains unadministered. A person who applies for probate of his wife's Will is bound to pay the full court-fees due even though the bulk of the property dealt with in the Will was included in the wife's father's Will of which probate had been granted on full payment of court-fees. BHAGWATI SARAN SINGH v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 5 Pat. L. J. 36

—— s. 19 (D)—Hindu Will—deduction of property which passes by survivorship, validity of. Where a Hindu by a Will left the residue of his property to his son and the executors when applying for probate claimed exemption from the payment of court-fees on the residue on the ground that the son was entitled to the property by survivorship, held, that they were not entitled to the exemption. In re ESTATE OF RAM KUMAR PRASAD . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 510

—— s. 19E—

See PENALTY . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 230

—— s. 28—

See s. 4 . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 74

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882 s. 54

14 C. W. N. 682

Sch. I, Art.—

See APPEAL, VALUATION OF.

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 507

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

—— s. 28—contd.

See 7 (IX) . . I. L. R. 36 All. 40

—— Court-fee—Cross objection filed in appeal. Under art. 1 of sch. I to the Court-Fees Act, 1870, a party filing cross-objections must pay an ad valorem fee according to the value or amount of the subject matter in dispute. LAKHAN SINGH v. RAM KISHAN DAS (1917) . . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 93

—— Sch. I, Art. I, Sch. II, Arts. I and II —A memo. of cross objection filed in the High Court relating to costs only does not fall within Sch. II, Art. II, or under Sch. II, Art. I, and a Court-fee of Rs. 2 is leviable thereon. KAMAL KUMARI DEBI v. RUNGPUR NORTH BENGAL BANK, LIMITED . . . . 25 C. W. N. 934

—— Sch. I, Art. 1; Sch. II, Art 11.

—— Civil Procedure Code, 1908, O. XXXIV, r. 5—Court-fee—Appeal from final decree in a mortgage suit. Held, that an appeal from the final decree passed under O. XXXIV, r. 5, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, requires an ad valorem court-fee, and cannot be stamped as an appeal from an order. BAJRANGI LAL v. MAHABIR KUNWAR (1913)

I. L. R. 35 All. 476

—— Court-fee—Subject-matter in dispute in appeal—Suit for possession—Defence of lien for dower—Appeal by defendant. In a suit for recovery of property in the posses-

Court of first instance decreed the suit for possession holding that payment of the defendant's dower, whatever it might amount to, was not a condition precedent to the plaintiff's obtaining ying court-a reference was liable ell : Held,

the appeal was the property of which possession was sought and that the court-fee paid was sufficient. HAIDARI BEGAM v. GULZAR BANO (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 322

—— Sch. I, Art. 11 ; Sch. III—

See s 19 (I). . I. L. R. 40. 279

See PROBATE DUTY.

6 Pat. L. J. 411

Probate and Letters of Administration, court-fees payable on—Gross or net value—Court-fee, error as to valuation, revision by High Court. Where the gross value of the property in respect of which application has been made for probate or letters of administration exceeds Rs. 1,000, but the net value after deducting the liabilities against the estate is below that amount, Court-fee is payable under Sch. I, Art. 11 of the Court Fees Act, though it is payable on the said net value under the provisions of Art. 11 of Sch. I read with Sch. III of the Act. The exemption from liability to pay Court-fees provided by s 19, cl. (viii) and Art. 11 of Sch. I of the Act applies only in cases where the gross value does not exceed one thousand rupees. Where the Court below decided that no Court-fee was payable, on an erroneous view of law, the High Court could interfere in revision under s. 15 of the Indian High Courts Act. THE COLLECTOR OF MALDAH v. NERODE KAMINI DASSY 1912) . . . . 17 C. W. N. 21

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———— Sch. I, Art. 11 ; Sch. III—contd.

———— Probate duty, assessment —"Value of property," meaning of—Construction of Statute. Sch. III, Annexures A and B, of the Court-Fees Act make it clear that the duty payable at an application for probate or letters of administration under Sch. I, Art. 11, of the Act is to be calculated upon the net value of the estate obtained by the deduction of the amount of debts from the gross value of the estate. Collector of Maldah v. Nirode Kamini Dassy, 17 C. W. N. 21, may require re-examination and further consideration. The interpretation of the expression "value of property" in Sch. I, Art. 11, as the "market value" of property or the value of the entire pro perty less the amount of encumbrance, is the reasonable construction of the expression. The true mode of interpreting a Statute like the Court-Fees Act which has been repeatedly amended, is not to consider individual sections, but to take them as a whole and to give effect to the legislative intent upon a particular matter. In the goods of KERR (1913) . . 18 C. W. N. 121

———— Estate of which gross value over Rs. 1,000, but deducting debts, net value less than that if chargeable with death-duty. The expression "amount or value of the property" in Art. 11 of Sch. I of the Court Fees Act signifies what is described as the "net total" in Annexure A in Sch. III, obtained by the deduction of the amount shown in Annexure B as not subject to duty from the gross valuation of the movable and immovable property left by the deceased. Held, therefore, that no fee was leviable under the article upon the estate of the deceased the gross value of which was shown to be Rs. 1,244-11-0, and the amount of the debts Rs. 522 leaving a net balance of Rs. 722-11-0. Collector of Maldah v. Nerode Kamini, 17 C. W. N. 21 not followed. In the goods of Harriett Teviot Kerr, 18 C. W. N. 121 : s. c. 18 C. L. J. 308, referred to. In the goods of QUININGBOROUGH (1915)

20 C. W. N. 591

———— Sch. I, Arts. 11, 12—Succession certificate—Grant to widow—Death of widow—Fresh certificate, application by daughter for—Court-fee if must be paid again—Analogy of administration de bonis non, if applies—Fiscal statute, interpretation of —Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), s. 14. Whenever a fresh succession certificate is taken, even though it is to collect debts for which a succession certificate has already been taken out and the duty paid, the duty prescribed by the Court-Fees Act must be paid. R, the widow of a deceased Hindu, took out a succession certificate in respect of certain debts due to the deceased. After her death, S, the daughter of the deceased, applied for a succession certificate in respect of the same debt and urged that stamp duty upon the debts having once been already paid by R, she was not bound to pay duty again : Held, that it was an application for a certificate within the meaning of s. 14 of the Succession Certificate Act, and Court-fee was payable on it as such.

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———— Sch. I, Arts. 11, 12—contd.

One fiscal Act cannot be construed by another fiscal Act. In re SAROJEBAHSHINI DEBI (1916)

20 C. W. N. 1125

———— Sch. II, Art. 5—Suit for declaration that plaintiff is an occupancy tenant—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901), s. 95—Court-fee. In a suit under s. 95 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, to declare the plaintiffs' status as an occupancy tenant the plaint or memorandum of appeal should bear a court-fee of eight annas as provided in art. 5 of sch. II to the Court Fees Act ; s. 7, cl. xi, of the Act does not apply to such a suit. RATAN SINGH v. KHEM KARAN (1918) . I. L. R. 40 All. 358

———— Sch. II, Art. 6—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s. 269 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 17

See STAMP ACT, 1899, s. 2, ARTS. 15 AND 40 . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 363

———— Stay of execution security bond for, how stamped—Court-fee or non-judicial stamp—Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899), Sch. I, Art. 15. Bonds given as security in pursuance of the order of the Court for stay of execution must be written on paper properly stamped under the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899). Such bonds cannot be written on plain paper bearing a Court-fee stamp of annas 8 only, as they are not made by order of the Court within the meaning of Art. 6 of Sch. II of the Court-fees Act. DWARKA NATH DEY v. SAILAJA KANTA MULLICK (1916)

21 C. W. N. 1150

———— Sch. II, Art. 11—

See COURT-FEES . 3 Pat. L. J. 99, 101

———— Sch. II, Art. 12—Caveat, what is a—Probate proceeding—Persons upon whom citations issued, preferring objections—Objections if must be stamped as caveat. A petition by which a party upon whom citation has been issued opposes the grant of probate is not a caveat and need not be stamped as such. A caveat, which is in the nature of a precautionary measures intended to assure that there shall be no proceeding in the matter of the estate of the deceased without notice to the person who files a caveat, is not necessary where persons interested in the estate of the deceased appear upon citation. BHABATARINI DEBI v. HARI CHARAN BANERJEE (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 787

———— Sch. II, Art. 17—Value of suit under judgment-debtor's title disputed—Cancelling of attachment—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s. 4, valuation under. Where the prayer in a plaint is not only to cancel an attachment but also for a declaration that the judgment-debtor has no interest in the property, the value of the suit is the value of the entire property claimed by the plaintiff. NARAYANAN SINGH v. AIYASAMI REDDI (1915) . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 602

———— Court-fee payable in suit by person whose claim in respect of property attached in execution of decree has been rejected for default. Under Art. 17, Sch. II of the Court-Fees Act, a court-fee of Rs. 10 is payable upon the plaint in a suit by a person, whose claim to properties attached in execution of a decree has been dismissed for default, to set aside the decision. An order dismissing a claim for default is an order within the meaning of Or. XXI, r. 63 of the Civil

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contd.

———— Sch. II, Art. 17—contd.

Procedure Code, and, subject to the result of a regular suit, is conclusive. SATINDRA NATH BANERJEE v. SHIVA PROSAD BHAKAT.

26 C. W. N. 126

———— Sch. II, 17 (3)—

See s. 7 (11) . . I. L. R. 42 All. 353

See s. 7 (IVc) . .

See COURT-FEE. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 352

See APPEAL, VALUATION OF. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 914

See VALUATION OF SUIT. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 507

———— Declaratory decree —Suit to have declared declaratory decree not binding on ground of fraud—Consequential relief—Court-fee, amount of. A suit by the plaintiff to have it declared that a decree passed in a previous suit declaring that certain alienations were not valid was not binding on her is properly instituted on a Court-fee stamp of Rs. 10 only because no consequential relief is needed or sought for in it. BAGALA SUNDARI DEBI v. PROSANNA NATH MUKHERJI (1916) . . . 21 C. W. N. 375

———— Suit for declaration that entry in record-of-rights a nullity, whether one for consequential relief—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), Ch VI, s. 42, Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s 111A—Amendment or rejection of plaint —Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O VII, r. 11—Court-fees Act (VII of 1870), Sch. II, Art. 17, cl. (iii), s. 7 (iv), cl. (c). Where a court-fee of rupees ten was paid in a suit purporting to be under s. 111A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, but the plaintiffs prayed for a declaration (a) that they were occupancy ryots, and (b) also that the entry in the record-of-rights showing them as tenure-holders was a nullity; and the plaintiffs on being required to supply the deficit court-fee on the second relief claimed failed to do so within the time fixed by the Court. Held, (i) that the second prayer being for a consequential relief was not such a declaration as was comtemplated by the proviso to s. 111A; (ii) that the learned Judge had no alternative but to reject the plaint; and (iii) that the plaintiffs could not be allowed to amend the plaint by striking out the second prayer for relief as the provision of O. VII, r. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code was mandatory. MIDNAPUR ZEMINDARY COMPANY, LTD., v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) I. L. R. 44 Calc. 352

———— Sch. II, Art. 17 (6)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 89

See APPEAL . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 914

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 2. 4 Pat. L. J. 57

See VALUATION OF SUIT. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 507

See s. 7 . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 890

See s. 8 . . I. L. R. 39 calc. 906

————Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Court-fee. Held, that the court-fee payable in respect of a suit for restitution of conjugal rights is a fee of ten rupees under art. 17, cl. VI, of the second schedule to the Court Fees Act, 1870. Zair Hussain Khan v. Khurshed Jan, I. L. R. 28 All. 545, referred to. AISHA v. FAIYAZ HUSAIN (1911) I. L. R. 33 All. 767

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—concld.

———— Sch. II, Art. 17 (6)—contd.

———— Court-fee payable on plaint—Suit by plaintiff in joint possession to have share partitioned—Fixed fee ten rupees. In a suit for partition, where the plaintiff alleges that he is in possession and merely claims partition of the property and separate possession of his share, a court-fee stamp of 10 rupees is sufficient. Reoti v. Lachhman, All. Weekly Notes, 1900, 90, Wali-ullah v. Durga Prasad, I. L. R 28 All. 340, and Bidhata Rai v. Ram Charitar Rai, 12 C. W N 37, followed. TARA CHAND MUKERJI v. AFZAL BEG (1911) . I. L. R. 34 All. 184

———— Suit for partition by a tenant-in-common in possession. A suit for partition of immoveable property by a person who alleges he is in possession of it as co-tenant on behalf of himself and others is governed by Sch. II, art 17 (6) of the Court-Fees Act (VII of 1870) Referred Case No. 5 of 1894 (1894) 4 M. L. J., 110, not followed. Tara Chand Mukerji v. Afzal Beg, (1912), I L. R. 34 All. 184 and Ahamuddin Tamijuddin v. Amiruddin (1918), 44 I. C., 216 (Calc.), followed. GILL v. VARADARAGHAVAYYA (1920) . . . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 396

———— Sch. III—

See s. 19(1) . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 93
I. L. R. 40 All. 279

———— Trusts created by testator's Will, liability of, to probate duty. The trusts referred to in item (4) of Annexure B of Sch III to the Court-fees Act, 1870, are trusts held beneficially by the testator during his life-time and not trusts created by the testator's Will. CHANDRABATI KUER v. THE COLLECTOR OF DARBHANGA. 2 Pat. L. J. 611

COURT-FEES AMENDMENT ACT (XI OF 1899).

———— Limitation for proceedings of Collector where he thinks the value of an estate has been under-estimated —Form of inventory of estate to be exhibited and filed in Court—"Full and true estimate of property" —Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881). S. 98—Inventory accepted as sufficient by former Judges of Court. In the matter of an application for letters of administration with the Will annexed the period of limitation in the proviso to sub-s. 4 of s. 19H of Act XI of 1899 (amending the Court-Fees Act, 1870) for the proceedings of a Collector who has reason to believe that the valuation of an estate has been under-estimated, does not begin to run until an inventory under s. 98 of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) has been exhibited and filed in the proper Court; and according to the last-named section the inventory required is declared to be a "full and true estimate of the property" in possession of the person applying for letters of administration. Held, that such an estimate was not furnished by the exhibition and filing of a document (in this case a list of the immoveable property of the deceased) which required to be supplemented by a reference to various other documents in order to ascertain the valuation of the property notwithstanding it had been accepted as such an inventory as the law required by previous holders of the office of Judge of the Court in which it was filed. BHUBANESWARI KUMAR v. COLLECTOR OF GAYA (1913)

COURT-FEES AMENDMEMT ACT (XI OF 1899)—contd.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 556

COURT-FEES AMENDMENT ACT (VI OF 1905).

See COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870), s. 7, CL. (V), SUB-CL. XI (CC).
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 873

COURT MARTIAL.

——————— Trial by under Ordinance I (Government of India) of 1919, if competent to try persons under s. 124A Indian Penal Code—Privy Council, appeal to—Conviction under s. 124A, Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860)—Conclusion of local tribunal in the nature of findings of fact—Privy Council, if should interfere—Free pardon by Crown, if bar to appeal—Conviction by Court Martial Commissioners—Jurisdiction—Ordinance I of 1919. The Appellant was convicted, by a Court of Commissioners sitting at Lahore under Ord. 1of 1919 and having the powers of a summary Court-martial, of an offence under s. 124A of the Penal Code, in respect of certain articles which were published in the issues of the 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th April 1919 of the Newspaper Tribune of Lahore during disturbances which occurred at Lahore on the 6th, 10th 11th and 12th April 1919: Held—That the Commissioners had jurisdiction to try him. Bugga v. King-Emperor L. R. 47 I. A. 128: s. c. 24 C. W. N. 650, followed. That the question whether, on a reasonable construction of the articles complained of, the Appellant was or was not guilty of the offence was one which partook so much of the nature of a question of fact, being necessarily dependent not only on the construction of the written matter, but also on the local conditions obtaining at the time of publication and a just appreciation of the effect which the publication under those conditions of the articles in question would be calculated to produce, that the Board could not revise the conclusions of the local tribunal without putting themselves into a position which they have repeatedly declined to assume, viz., that of a Court of Appeal in criminal proceedings. A free pardon by the Crown granted to the Appellant subsequently to his obtaining special leave, if proved, would itself have been a sufficient reason for not entertaining the appeal. Levien v. The Queen, L. R. 1 P. C. 536 (1887), referred to. KALI NATH ROY v. THE KING-EMPEROR (P. C.).
25 C. W. N. 701

COURT OF RECORD.

See CONTEMPT OF COURT.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 169

COURT OF SESSION.

——————— committal to—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 213.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 114

COURT OF WARDS.

See ADVERSE POSSESSION.
14 C. W. N. 317

See BOMBAY COURT OF WARDS ACT (I OF 1905). I. L. R. 37 Bom. 313

See CENTRAL PROVINCES GOVERNMENT WARDS ACT, s. 18.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 784

See CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV OF 1869), s. 32 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 662

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

See COMPROMISE I. L. R. 44 Calc. 829

See COURT OF WARDS ACT.

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 2.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 97

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 662

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 43 Calc. 211
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 694

See OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT (XVII OF 1876), ss. 173, 174.
I. L. R. 38 All. 271

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, ss. 45, 46.
15 C. W. N. 503

See UNITED PROVINCES, COURT OF WARDS ACT . . .

——————— alienation by—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 846

——————— management of widow's estate by—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 846

——————— sanction of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 915

——————— Suit in respect of property taken by—

See COURT-OF-WARDS (PUNJAB) ACT, 1903, SS. 8 AND 19. . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 151

——————— whether manager entitled to grant of probate—

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, s. 41 . 5 Pat. L. J. 347

COURT-OF-WARDS ACT.

See UNDER THE VARIOUS PROVINCES.

COURTS (COLONIAL) JURISDICTION ACT (37 & 38 VICT. C. 27).

——————— s. 3—

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 487

COURT SALE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, ss. 263 264, 318 AND 319.
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 373

s. 317 . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 342

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 47 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 411

s. 47, O. XXI, R. 2.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 240

COURT SALE—contd.

S 70 O. XXI, R. 72
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 621

O. XXI, R. 91 I. L. R. 35 Bom. 29

O. XXI, R. 5 . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 37

O. XXI RR. 95, 96
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 559

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), s. 38.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 76

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 923

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 357

See PREEMPTION I. L. R. 34 Bom. 567

See SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY AND SECURITY . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 283

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 53 I. L. R. 39 Bom. 507

See VATAN . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 81 ———— appeal for application to recover deficiency—

See SECOND APPEAL.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 223

———— validity of—

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1031

———— when leave of Court to bid not obtained—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT, 1908, ss. 47, AND 66, O. 11, R. 2.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 352

————————Stranger purchaser, bona fide effecting improvements—Subsequent eviction, right to value of—Improvements. A purchase, in a Court auction, who was not a party to the decree, is entitled to the value of the improvements bonâ fide effected by him, on being evicted from the property owing to some defect or irregularity in the proceedings leading up to the sale. The time of his making the improvements is immaterial, provided he had then an honest belief in the validity of his title. Bonâ fides in this connection mean only honest belief in the validity of his title and does not extend to the necessity of making proper enquiries as to the title and regularity of the prior proceedings. S. 51 of the Transfer of Property Act is inapplicable to a purchaser at a Court-sale. Per CURIAM: There is a great distinction between stranger purchasers and decree-holder purchasers. The principle of caveat emptor has no application to a Court purchase. There is no covenant for title implied in a Court-sale and the purchaser takes only the right, title and interest of the judgment-debtor. Quære: Whether Zain-ul-Abdin Khan v. Muhammad Ashgar Ali Khan, I. L. R. 10 All. 166, lays down that stranger purchasers in order to be entitled to protection, should make their purchases bonâ fide? Nanjappa Gounden v. Peruma Gounden, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 530, Kundarpa Nath Ghose v. Jogendra Nath Bose, 12 C. L. J. 391, Stock v. Starr, 1 Sawyer, 15; 22 (India) Fed. Cases, 1084, and Bright v. Boyd, 1 Story 478, and Dharma Das Kundu v. Amulyadhan Kundu, I L. R. 33 Calc. 1119, followed. 24 American Cyclopædia of Law and Procedure, page 70, referred to. MOITHEENSA ROWTHAN v. APSA BIVI (1913)
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 194

COTTON GOODS.

———— sale and purchase of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s. 47
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 517

COVENANT.

See MORTGAGE.
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 327; 371
I. L R.39 Calc. 828

See REGISTRATION.
. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 170

———— breach of—

See EJECTMENT I. L. R. 45 Calc. 469

———— Binding on Purchaser of Land—

See AGREEMENT . I. L. R. 41 All. 417

———— For Renewal or Pre-emption—Difference between—

See LEASE FOR A YEAR.
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 230

———— in a mining lease—

See TENANTS-IN-COMMON.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1049

———— not to sue—

See CONTRACT ACT, s. 28
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 344

———— personal covenant by mortgagor—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 20. SCH. I, ART. 116 . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 500 ———— to give mortgagee possession in lieu of interest—

See MORTGAGE. . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 448

———— Covenant to re-purchase purely personal—Sale with an option of re-purchase—Suit by vendor's grandson against the vendee's daughter-in-law. A deed of sale with an option of re-purchase contained the following clause:—"I have given the land into your possession; if perhaps at any time I require back the land I will pay you the aforesaid Rs. 600 and any money you may have spent on bringing the land into good condition and purchase back the land." In a suit brought 35 years after execution of the deed by the grandson of the vendor against the daughter-in-law of the vendee to exercise the option of re-purchase:—Held, that the convenant to re-purchase was purely personal and the suit was not maintainable. GURUNATH BALAJI v. YAMANAVA (1911) . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 258

————————Covenant in Kabuliyat for payment of Salami on transfer—Involuntary sale and voluntary sale, difference in cases of. A kabuliyat stipulated that at every transfer a certain salami should be paid. The tenure in respect of which this kabuliyat was given was sold in execution of a money decree. The landlord subsequently sued for recovery of the stipulated salami: Held—That the covenant did not cover an involuntary sale. A condition in a lease restraining transfer is not applicable to a case of involuntary transfer unless there are words in the covenant which clearly make it applicable to such a transfer. The transfer in execution of a money decree cannot be treated as on the same footing as a voluntary sale. KUMAR MANMOTHA NATH MITRA v. CHUNI LAL GHOSE . . 26 C. W. N. 173 ———————— Property and its sale-proceeds—Charge relating to property, but conviction of misappropriation of the sale-proceeds—Legality of conviction—Absence of dishonest intention at the date of the sale—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 405, 409. S. 405 of the Penal Code does not cover misappropriation by a person of the sale-proceeds of the property entrusted to him. A person charged with criminal breach of trust of certain property entrusted to him cannot be convicted of embezzling, not the property, but the amount obtained by dealing with it. Bipra Das Giri v. Niradamoni Bewa, 12 C. W. N. 577, followed. But assuming that "property" in s. 405 of the Penal Code, includes the value thereof, viz., its sale-proceeds, a person cannot be said to have disposed of the property or the sale-proceeds, in violation of his contract, dishonestly, unless it is shown that he had the intention of dishonestly appropriating the sale-proceeds on the date of the sale, of which there was no evidence in the case. An auctioneer is not liable for criminal breach of trust merely because he does not punctually carry out every term in the agreement, e.g., as to the date of the sale and the time of payment of the proceeds. BALTHASAR v. EMPEROR (1914)

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 844

———————— Misappropriated money, suit for—Jurisdiction—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) Sch. II, Art. 35 (ii). A suit for recovery of money with regard to which defendant has committed criminal breach of trust is not triable by a Court of Small Causes. CHERAKUDDIN v. RAM SIRAMAN (1920).
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 879

CRIMINAL CASE—contd.

———— appeal in—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 568
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 739

CRIMINAL CONTEMPT.

See CONTEMPT OF COURT.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173

CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY.

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

———— proof of—

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1153

CRIMINAL COURT.—

———— verdict of principle governing interference by Privy Council—

See PRIVY COUNCIL.
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 501

———— Duty of Criminal Court in respect of a case before it distinguished from the duty of a Civil Court trying a civil case—Relevant documents in existence, but on file of a connected case—Refusal of Court to send for record Whatever attitude may be taken up by a Civil Court trying a civil suit, where it is the duty of the parties to place their case as they think best before the Court, it is the duty of every Criminal Court to get to the bottom of a case and to bring all relevant evidence upon the record and to see that justice is done. EMPEROR v. JANKI PRASAD
I. L. R. 43 All. 283

CRIMINAL HOUSE TRESPASS.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, SS. 145 AND 146 . , 3 Pat. L. J. 147

CRIMINAL INTENT.

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1143

CRIMINAL INTERCOURSE.

See MAINTENANCE I. L. R. 34 Mad. 86

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DEPARTMENT.

See CONTEMPT OF COURT.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173

CRIMINAL JURISDICTION.

———— Criminal Procedure Code, s. 195—Revision of order of Civil Court under—Civil Procedure Code, s. 115. A Civil Court in making an order under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not exercise criminal jurisdiction. The Criminal Revisional Bench [illegible] jurisdiction to [illegible] Ram v. Ramji [illegible] tter of a petition [illegible] Ram Prosad [illegible] ru Churn [illegible] '12 ; Kali [illegible] 8 C. W. [illegible] I. L. R. [illegible] interfere with such order under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. The jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere under s. 115 is not ousted by s. 195, sub-s. (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code inasmuch as an application under the latter is not an appeal but a substantive application. Hardeo Singh. v. Hanuman Dat Narain, I. L. R. 26 All. 244, 247 referred to. RAMDHIN BANIA v. SEWBALAK SINGH (1910) . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 714
14 C. W. N. 806

CRIMINAL LAW.

———— Trial under Ordinance I of 1919—Accused not named in Order for trial—Construction of Ordinance IV of 1919—Exciting Disaffection—Indian Penal Code, s. 124-A—Effect of Pardon. The appellant, who was the Editor of a newspaper called the Tribune published at Lahore, was convicted by a Court of Commissioners sitting at Lahore, under the Martial Law Ordinance, I of 1919, of an offence under s. 124-A of the Indian Penal Code, namely, of having by written words excited or attempted to excite disaffection towards His Majesty or the Government established by law in British India. The order of the Lieutenant-Governor made under Ordinance IV of 1919 did not name the accused who were to be so tried, but referred to "all persons charged with offences connected with the recent disturbances." Held (1) that the validity of the Ordinance being established by the decision of the Board in Bugga v. The King-Emperor (I. L. R. 1 Lahore 326 : L. R 47 I. A. 128), the Commissioners' Court had jurisdiction, although the order of the Lieutenant-Governor did not name the accused persons ; (2) that the Court having applied the right principles of law in considering whether an offence under s. 124-A had been committed, their Lordships would not advise an interference with the conclusion arrived at. It being stated by counsel for the Crown that since leave to appeal had been given a free pardon had been granted, their Lordships observed that that would be a sufficient ground (as held in Lenen v. The Queen [illegible]

I. L. R. 2 Lah. [illegible]4
25 C. W. N. 701

———— Sentence exceeding legal maximum—Transportation for term of years—Practice of Judicial Committee—Remitted to High Court to revise sentence—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 59, 304. S 59 of the Indian Penal Code authorizes a sentence of transportation for life, but not one of transportation for a term of years exceeding the maximum term of imprisonment which can be awarded for the offence. The appellants were convicted by a Sessions Judge under the Indian Penal Code, s. 304, of culpable homicide not amounting to murder and were liable under that section to a sentence of imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years. They were sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment. Upon appeal to the High Court the conviction was affirmed, and upon a petition for revision the sentences were enhanced to fourteen years' transportation. Held, that ten years was the maximum term of years to which the appellants could be sentenced to transportation, and that the [illegible] sh[illegible] be remitted to the High Court pass sentences according to law. SAYYAPUREDDI CHINNAYYA v. KING-EMPEROR (1921)

CRIMINAL LAW—contd.

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 297

CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT ACT (XIV OF 1908).

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 25, 114, 133, 157 . I. L. R. 35 Mad. 397

——— ss. 12, 14 (1)—

See BAIL I. L. R. 37 Calc. 412 & 439

CRIMINAL MISAPPROPRIATION.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 179. I. L. R. 34 All. 487

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 44 Calc. 912

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), ss. 403 AND 22. I. L. R. 40 All. 119

s. 409. I. L. R. 33 All. 249

CRIMINAL OFFENCE.

——— whether a mere personal matter—

See PENAL CODE, 1860, ss. 304 and 323 . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 27

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898).

——— s. 4 (h)—

See COMPLAINT .

See s. 526 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 656

——— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss .193, 210—Sanction to prosecute—Complaint—Letter from trying Magistrate to his official superior asking merely for direction as to procedure. The holder of a decree for rent, passed by an Assistant Collector of the second class, took out execution for a larger sum than was in fact due and also gave in his application a wrong date as the date of the decree. The judgment-debtor paid the amount, claimed under compulsion, and thereafter applied for sanction to prosecute the decree-holder. Upon receipt of this application the Assistant Collector wrote a letter to the District Magistrate, forwarding it through his immediate superior the Sub-divisional Magistrate, in which he stated all the facts of the case and concluded by soliciting orders in the case. The Sub-divisional Magistrate, instead of forwarding this letter to the District Magistrate, himself passed orders for the prosecution of the decree-holder. He tried the case himself and convicted the decree-holder of offences under ss. 193 and 210 of the Indian Penal Code. On appeal the conviction and sentence were upheld by the Sessions Judge. Held, that the letter written by the Assistant Collector to the District Magistrate, in which the former did not ask that any action should be taken by the Magistrate, but merely for directions as to how he should proceed, did not amount to a "complaint" within the meaning of s. 4 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and, there being no complaint, the trial was illegal. EMPEROR v. SHEO SAMPAT PANDE (1918)
I. L. R. 40 All. 641

——— Complaint Allegation made in writing to a Magistrate—with a view to his taking action—Examination of complainant before issue of process—Quashing of proceedings.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 4 (h)—contd.

Where one N. M. wrote a letter to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate in which he stated that the petitioner had used insulting language towards him and asked the Magistrate to take action, and the Magistrate on receipt of that letter issued process against the petitioner without examining the said N. M.: Held, that the letter in question certainly comes within the definition of "complaint" given in s. 4, Cr. P. C., and the Magistrate should have examined the complainant and then proceeded in accordance with law. KHETRO MOHAN MITRA v. EMPEROR (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 448 ——— Obstruction of public servant—Complaint—Sanction, want of—Quashing of proceedings. The Petitioner was summoned under s. 186, Penal Code, for obstructing a peon in the execution of a warrant under the Cess Act. The report of the peon on which the proceedings were started was merely a report of what took place and contained no express or implied request to the Magistrate to take any action; Held, that the report did not come within the meaning of a complaint under s. 4, cl. (h), Cr. P. C. Held, further. The report not being a complaint and there being no sanction by the public officer concerned, viz., the peon, the prosecution under s. 186, Penal Code, was bad. AHMED HUSAIN v. EMPEROR (1913) . 17 C. W. N. 980 ——— ss. 4 (h), 173, 200, 190—Charge, presented to Magistrate by Police officer in a non-cognizable case, if "complaint" or "police-report"—Complaint, if must have personal knowledge of the facts—Complaint—Reproduction of the language of section without a statement of facts, if proper complaint—Complaint before Presidency Magistrate—Written record of facts constituting offence, if required—"Police-report" in s. 190 (1) (b), if has wider significance in the Town of Calcutta. The definition of "complaint" does not require any statement of facts beyond an allegation that some person has committed an offence, but if that definition is read into s. 190 (1) (a) of the Criminal Procedure Code, it is clear that before a Magistrate takes cognizance he must have before him an allegation of facts constituting the offence; a mere repetition of the words of a section of the Penal Code is not a proper compliance with the provisions of the sub-section. The object of s. 200 of the Criminal Procedure Code, requiring a Magistrate to examine the complainant possibly is that the facts constituting the offence may be ascertained, when, in a written complaint, they are not given. When a written complaint presented to a Presidency Magistrate does not contain an allegation of facts constituting the offence, if the Magistrate examining the complainant does not reduce the examination to writing there may be no written record of the facts constituting the offence. But he is not bound by law to do so. And where a Presidency Magistrate merely noted the fact that he had examined the complainant, the High Court in revision must presume that before he issued process he had before him an allegation of facts constituting the offence. Quære:—Whether the term "Police report" in s. 190 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code has a wider significance in the town of Calcutta, in view of the fact that s. 173 of the Code does not apply to the Police in Calcutta. The definition of "complaint" in s. 4 (h) does not contain any limitation such as that the person lodging the complaint must have personal knowledge of the facts; nor does s. 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. If a complainant is not speaking from personal knowledge a Magistrate taking cognizance would exercise a wise discretion in making the enquiry which he is authorised to do by s. 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code, but he is not compelled to do so. SUKUMAR CHATTERJEE v. MOFIZUDDIN AHMED. 25 C. W. N. 257

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 4 (h), 173, 200, 190—contd.

——— ss. 4 (h), 190, 200 and 537—Complaint whether "Committal Sheet" issued by Superintendent of Salt Revenue Department is. A "Committal Sheet" sent to a magistrate in accordance with paragraph 12 of the "Instructions issued by the Commissioner of Salt Revenue for the guidance of officers of the Salt Revenue Department," containing a definite request to the Magistrate to try the accused for the offences set out in the sheet, is a complaint within the meaning of s. 4 (h) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. Where a Magistrate, on receipt of a complaint, issued process before examining the complainant on oath as required by s. 200 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898, but it was not shown that the accused had been in any way prejudiced by the irregularity, held, that the conviction of the accused should not be set aside on account of the irregularity, which was covered by s 537 of the Code PHAGU SAHU v. KING-EMPEROR 1 Pat. L. J. 592

——— ss. 4 (h), 190, 200, 202, 528—

See FALSE INFORMATION TO POLICE I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

——— ss. 4 (h), 195 (1)—"Complaint"—Information of the supposed commission of an offence communicated by the District Judge to the District Magistrate with a view to the latter taking action as a Magistrate. A Munsif, being of opinion that a document filed in a case before him had been tampered with, communicated his suspicions to the District Judge, who thereupon wrote to the District Magistrate, requesting him to take action in the matter. Held, that the letter of the District Judge to the District Magistrate amounted to a complaint within the meaning of s. 195 (c), of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Emperor v. Sundar Sarup, I. L. R. 26 All. 514, followed. EMPEROR v. DEBI PRASAD (1912) . I. L. R. 35 All. 8

——— ss. 4 (h), 195 (1) (b), 476—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1152

——— ss. 4 (h), 199, 238 (3)—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), s. 498 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 276

——— ss. 4 (h), 476—"Complaint"—Statement made to Magistrate in his executive capacity—(Indian Penal Code), Act XLV of 1860, s. 211. Held, that it was not competent to a Magistrate to treat as a complaint, and found thereon such procedure as would naturally follow on a complaint including a prosecution under s. 211 of the Indian Penal Code, a statement which was made to him extra-judicially and without any intention or desire that it should be taken as a complaint, but merely

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 4 (h), 476—contd.

in reply to a question asked by the Magistrate. EMPEROR v. BHOLE SINGH (1915) I. L. R. 38 All. 32

——— s. 4 (k)—

See SS. 202 AND 203 . 5 Pat. L. J. 47

——— s. 4 (m)—Complaint—Petition asking for Police warning if complaint—Petition before Magistrate making charges against accused and asking for an order on Police to warn accused, if complaint. A petition in which the petitioner made certain allegations against a person and asked for an order on the Police to warn him is not a complaint in a criminal case and no sanction to prosecute the petitioner under s. 211, Indian Penal Code, for those allegations can be granted. PURNO CHANDRA GHOSE v. HURISH CHANDRA GHOSH (1911) . . . . 15 C. W. N. 1051

——— ss. 4 (m), 125, 476—

See MAGISTRATE, POWERS OF. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 72

——— ss. 4 (m), 476—

See "COURT," MEANING OF. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642

See "JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS." I. L. R. 37 Calc. 52

——— ss. 4 (1) (o), 236, 237, 403 (1)—

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 727

——— s. 4 (p)—Officer in charge of a police station, meaning of—Search of a house by an authorized officer—Assistance by an unauthorized person, whether unlawful. Where an officer in charge of a police station has gone on duty to a place outside his local jurisdiction the police officer next in rank deputed to act for him even though he is absent from the station, so long as he is within the jurisdiction, is an officer in charge of a police station. If a police officer entitled to conduct a search enters a building for such a purpose, the association with him of another having no local jurisdiction does not make the other's entry an unlawful trespass Morris v. Wise, 2 F. & F. 51, and Sadagopa Charlu v. Satrughna Behara, 23 M. L. J. 445, followed. ASSAN ALLIAR MARAIKAYAR v. MASILAMANI NADAR (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 446

——— s. 4 (r) 340—

See MUKHTEAR. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 488

——— ss. 4 (t), 195, 476 and 492—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 446

——— ss. 4 (t), 417 and 492—

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 425

——— s. 5—

See CALCUTTA RENT ACT, 1920, s. 24. 25 C. W. N. 661

——— Several concurrent sentences each by itself non-appealable, if appealable taken collectively. An accused, who has been sentenced to concurrent terms of imprisonment, no one of which is individually appealable, has no right of appeal against them collectively

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 5—contd.

Abdul Khalek v. The King-Emperor, 17 C. W. N. 72, not followed. Suknandan Singh v. King-Emperor, 16 C. W. N. cclxxxiv, referred to. SHABIJAN SHEIKH v. EMPEROR (1913)

17 C. W. N. 825

——— ss. 6, 435, 439—

See HIGH COURT.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 287

——— ss. 10 and 406

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 874

——— ss. 12, 202, 203, 476, 529 (f)—

See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1041

——— ss. 14, 15, 154 161, 164, 241, 285, 2, 295, 364, 465, and 533 and Sch. III (4), (5) and (13)—Trial of a lunatic-investigation into unsoundness of mind—Subsequent trial by different Judge and assessors, validity of—Confession, power of Honorary Magistrate to record—Construction of Statutes. The subsequent trial of an accused person whose trial has been postponed by reason of unsoundness of mind is not illegal merely on account of the fact that the Judge and assessors at the subsequent trial are not the same as at the time of the preliminary investigation under s. 465 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. The word "postponed" in s. 465 is not fortuitous, but has been deliberately chosen to indicate something different from an "adjournment" as used in other sections of the Code. Sub-s. (2) of s. 465 is merely an enabling enactment giving the Court, if any, which subsequently tries the accused persons power to take into consideration the earlier proceedings as if they were a part of the record in the trial without the necessity of formal proof. An Honorary Magistrate recording a confession under s. 164 is not performing a judicial act as such. A confession recorded by an Honorary Magistrate of the third class is legal even though such Magistrate has not been empowered to sit singly. The power granted to a Magistrate of the third class in sch. III (13) is not confined to cases judicially before him. The fact that the Magistrate had no authority to carry on a preliminary enquiry or to act in a judicial capacity in the case in which the confession was recorded does not affect the validity of the confession. If there is any ambiguity as to the meaning of a statutory provision the Court is entitled to consider what consequences would result from such an interpretation with a view to ascertain what the real intention of the Legislature was. GHINUA ORAON v. KING-EMPEROR

3 Pat. L. J. 291

——— s. 15—Bench of Magistrates—Judgment and conviction by only some, legality of. The hearing of a case of assault was commenced by six members of a Bench of Magistrates whose legal quorum was only two. On adjourned hearings of the case, sometimes four and sometimes only two took part. These two who took part in the proceedings of the case throughout, concluded the trial and delivered judgment convicting the accused: Held, that the conviction was legal. Kuruppana Nadan v. Chairman, Madura Municipality, I. L. R. 21 Mad. 246, followed. There is no analogy between trial by a Bench of Magistrates and trials by arbitrators or jurors. VENKATARAMA v. SAMINATHA (1914)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 797

——— ss. 15, 16, 350—Honorary Magistrates—Effect of variations in the composition of Bench during the course of a trial—Local Governments power to make rules. By rules framed by the Local Government under s. 16 of the Code of Criminal Procedure it was provided (i) that when a Bench of Honorary Magistrates consisted of three members, any two of them should "form a quorum," and (ii) that if the Bench held an adjourned sitting for disposal of a part heard case, and the members of the adjourned session were not the same as sat at the first hearing of the case, the provisions of s. 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure would be held to apply to the case. A Bench of Honorary Magistrates consisted of three members, J, N and P. A case under the Gambling Act came before the Bench and was partly heard by J and N. The case was then adjourned and at the next hearing came before J and P. The accused waived their right under s. 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The prosecution witnesses were cross-examined; the defence witnesses were heard; the accused were examined, and arguments were heard. The case was then again adjourned, and on the next occasion the Bench consisted of J and N, who proceeded to deliver judgment. Held, that the rules framed by Local Government were not ultra vires; but, inasmuch as the course followed by the trial had probably been prejudicial to the accused, the trial, so far as the last day's proceedings were concerned, was set aside and the case remitted for disposal to J and P. Hardwar Sing v. Khega Ojha, I. L. R. 20 Calc. 870, discussed. EMPEROR v. MATHURA (1918)

I. L. R. 41 All. 116

——— s. 16—Difference of opinion between Magistrates forming Bench, settlement of, by casting vote of Chairman—Act VII of 1912, s. 3, effect of, on notifications in force in Eastern Bengal and Assam—Act VII of 1905, s. 3, effect of—Notification of Local Government issued prior to 1905, application of, to Districts formerly in Eastern Bengal and Assam. The notification issued by the then Government of Bengal under s. 16, Criminal Procedure Code, prior to 1905, that a difference of opinion between two Honorary Magistrates forming a Bench is to be settled by the casting vote of the Chairman, which was one of the notifications which were kept in force in the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam by s. 3 of Act VII of 1905, still applies to the District of Faridpur under s. 3 of Act VII of 1912. ULFAT SHEIKH v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1913) . 18 C. W. N. 394

——— s. 16—Rules 1, 2, 4 of—the rules framed for the guidance of special Magistrates' Bench in the Municipal District of Satara—Bench of three Magistrates commencing a trial—Absence of one Magistrate—The remaining two Magistrates hearing the rest of the case—Trial illegal. A Bench of three Special Magistrates heard the prosecution evidence; but owing to the absence of one of the Magistrates the remaining two went on with the trial, heard the defence evidence, and convicted and sentenced the accused. A question having arisen whether the trial was void in view of r. 4 of the rules for the guidance of the Special Magistrates' Bench: Held, that the trial was void, inasmuch as it contravened the provisions of r. 4. EMPEROR v. MOHIDIN (1919)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 16—Rules 1, 2, 4 of—contd.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 400

———— s. 17—District Magistrate—Powers of Magistrate of the district as regards distribution of criminal work—Delegation. Held, that s. 17 of the Code of Criminal Prodecure does not empower a District Magistrate to delegate to the senior honorary Magistrate of the district the duty of distributing cases for disposal amongst the other honorary Magistrates and Benches. BAL KISHAN v. SIPAHI LAL (1914) . I. L. R. 36 All. 468

———— s. 20—A Presidency Magistrate has jurisdiction in respect of offence committed outside Calcutta but within the limits of the Port. GUNPAT RAI KHEMKA v. W J. WOOD

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 147
24 C. W. N. 79

———— ss. 21, cl. (2) and 526, cl. (ii)—

See PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATES.
I. L. R. 35 Mad. 739

———— s 35

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 631

———— Scope of—Section, it covers cases when different kinds of sentences are passed. S. 35 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not restricted to cases where the several punishments are all of the same kind, that is, are all sentences of imprisonment or all sentences of transportation, but covers cases where both kinds of punishment are inflicted. KHOHUA MORAN v. KING-EMPEROR (1916)

21 C. W. N. 608

———— Sentences when may be ordered to run concurrently. S. 35 (1), Criminal Procedure Code, authorises a Court to direct that several punishments passed on an accused for two or more distinct offences do run concurrently only when such sentences have been passed on him at one trial. It is not competent to a Court to give such a direction when the sentences have been passed in different trials. BEJOY GOPAL GHOSE v. KAMAL MANDAL (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 1300

———— When a conviction is had before a Magistrate of the first class of several offences and the concurrent sentence is passed for each offence which in itself is not appealable an appeal does not lie to the Sessions Judge. ABDUL JABBAR v. THE KING-EMPEROR

25 C. W. N. 614

———— ss. 35 and 408—

See SEDITION. . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 214

———— Appeal—"Aggregate sentences"—whether concurrent sentences are aggregate. The term "aggregate sentences" in s. 35 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, applies only to consecutive and not to concurrent sentences. Therefore no appeal lies to the High Court where the whole sentence to be served does not exceed four years. GUR SAHAY RAM v. KING-EMPEROR . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 138

———— Appeal—"Aggregate sentences"—Concurrent sentences not aggregate. the term "aggregate sentences" as used in sub-s. (3) of s. 35 of the Code of Criminal Procedure applies only to consecutive and not to concurrent sentences. Where therefore an Assistant Sessions Judge passes concurrent sentences and the whole term to be served by the convict does not exceed four years, the appeal under s. 408 of the Code does not lie to the High Court but to the Sessions Judge. Sher Mohammad v. Emperor of India, Punj. Rec., 1901, Case 85, Emperor v. Tulshidas Lakshman, 11 Bom. L. R. 544, and Regina v. Gulam Abas, 12 Bom. H. C. R. 147, approved and followed. Abdul Khalek v. King-Emperor, 17 C. W. N. 72, dissented from. EMPEROR v. TULSI RAM (1913)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 35 and 408—contd.

I. L. R. 35 All. 154

———— ss. 35, 235—

See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV OF 1860) ss. 71, 147, 323 I. L. R. 39 All. 623

———— ss. 35 (3), 413—

See APPEAL. . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 631

———— ss. 36, 94, 96, 105 ; Sch. III (8)—

See TRESPASS. . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 953

———— s. 42—Penal Code, s. 187—Omission to give assistance to the police—Extent of powers of police to require assistance. A sub-inspector of police having received information that persons [illegible]

ing to the zamindar, who was absent, and on two villagers to join him in a search for the dacoits. The agent refused to lend the gun, and the two villagers refused to join the expedition in search of the dacoits. Held, that the circumstances of the case were not covered by the provisions of s. 42 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and the persons in question could not, therefore, rightly be convicted under s. 187 of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v. JOTI PRASAD

I. L. R. 42 All. 314

———— s. 49—

See HABEAS CORPUS.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 459

[illegible]

for the purpose had not been entrusted to him; and a [illegible] while l [illegible] guilty [illegible]
Penal [illegible]
dar, 2[illegible]
MUDAL [illegible]

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1028

———— "Credible information." A police constable having knowledge that a warrant of arrest in respect of a cognizable offence was outstanding against a certain person attempted to arrest such person and in so doing was assaulted and prevented from effecting the arrest. Held, that the existence of the warrant was equivalent to "credible information" that the person in question had been concerned in a cognizable offence, within the meaning of s. 54 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and that the persons preventing the arrest were properly convicted under s. 353 of the Indian Penal Code. Queen Empress v. Dalip, I. L. R, 18 All. 246, distinguished. EMPEROR v. GOPAL SINGH (1913) . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 6

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 54—contd.

——— ss. 54, 190, 491, 498—

See HABEAS CORPUS.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 76

——— ss. 55, 58, 110—Arrest of suspected person—Warrant—Procedure. S. 55 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is independent of Chapter VIII of the Code, although proceedings under that chapter may follow an arrest under s. 55 as a natural sequence. An officer in charge of a police station can, therefore, arrest or cause to be arrested, without a warrant or an order of a Magistrate any person who is by repute an habitual robber, house-breaker or thief, or otherwise comes within the scope of s. 110. EMPEROR v. NEPAL (1913) I. L. R. 35 All. 407 ——— ss. 55, 57—Acquittal of accused by Sessions Judge—Re-arrest by police. S. 55 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot legally be made use of for the purpose of retaining under arrest a person whom a Court, having acquitted him of the offence with which he was charged, has ordered to be set at liberty. Empress v. Madar All. Weekly Notes, 1885, 59, referred to. EMPEROR v. MAIKU (1919) . . I. L. R. 41 All. 483

——— s. 59—

See ARREST BY PRIVATE PERSON.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 17

See PENAL CODE. s. 107.

5 Pat. L. J. 129

——— s. 75 (1)—

See WARRANT, VALIDITY OF.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 708

——— "Presiding officer"—Warrant of arrest signed by other than presiding officer—resistance to arrest. Where a warrant for the arrest of an accused person who failed to surrender on the day named in his personal recognizance was signed not by the Magistrate who had cognizance of the case but by an Honorary Magistrate of the same town, held, that the warrant was signed by an unauthorized person and was, therefore, invalid, and that resistance to a constable endeavouring to effect an arrest on the warrant did not amount to an offence under s. 353 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860. Held, also, that the accused having surrendered before the warrant was executed and having been again released on his personal recognizance should not have been re-arrested. JAGAPAT KOERI v. KING-EMPEROR

2 Pat. L. J. 487

——— ss. 75, 77, 79, 80, 537 and 555—

See WARRANT OF ARREST. 3 Pat. L. J. 493

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 88—Absconding person, a member of an undivided Hindu family—Undivided interest of his in the family property, or any portion thereof whether liable to attachment under s. 88. The undivided interest of an absconding person who is member of an undivided Hindu family in the family property or any portion thereof can be attached under s. 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). Mussamat Golab Koonwar v. The Collector of Benares and Raja Odit Narain Sing, 4 Moo. I. A. 246 and Juggomohon Bukshee v. Roy Mothooranath Chowdry, 11 Moo. I. A. 223, followed. Re Umayan, 2 Weir's Cr. R. 43 approved. Re Chinniyan, 2 Weir's Cr. R. 43 overruled. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. RANGASAMY AYYANGAR (1916)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 831

——— ss. 88, 89—

See s. 524 . . 5 Pat. L. J. 321

——— ss. 90, 501 and 537—Arrest under s. 90—Bond for appearance—S. 501, applicability of. A warrant purporting to be issued under s. 90 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) for the arrest of an accused person who has been let out on his own bond is illegal unless the Court records its reasons as required by the section. The omission to do so is an irregularity not cured by s. 537 of the Code. S. 501 of the Code applies only to cases where there are sureties and where through mistake, fraud or otherwise insufficient sureties have been accepted, it does not apply to a case where there are no such grounds. Re KARUTHAN AMBALAM (1914)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1088

——— s. 90, Sch. V, Form VII—

See WARRANT. . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 789

——— s. 94—

See SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS.

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 647

See TRESPASS . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 953

——— Summons may be issued under, to accused to produce document or thing. Under s. 94, Criminal Procedure Code, a Magistrate has power to issue a summons to an accused person to produce a document or other thing even when its production might tend to incriminate him. Mahomed Jackariah and Co. v. Ahmed Mahomed, I. L. R. 15 Calc. 109, followed. Ishwar Chandra Ghosal v. The Emperor, 12 C. W. N. 1016, dissented from. KONDAREDDI, Re (1914)

I. L. R. 37 Mad. 112

——— The Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta issued a search warrant in execution of which the books of the Petitioner's firm were taken possession of by the police. The Magistrate's order was set aside by the High Court in revision and thereupon the Magistrate issued a notice on the Petitioner calling upon him to be present in his Court to take delivery of books personally or by agent. The books were made over to the Petitioner's agent and simultaneously a notice was served on the Petitioner's agent under s. 94, Cr. P. C., and the books were taken possession of : Held, on a consideration of the circumstances of the case, that the order under s. 94, Cr. P. C., was properly made. T. R. PRATT v. KING-EMPEROR . 24 C. W. N. 410

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 94, 96, 192, 202—

See MAGISTRATE, POWER OF.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 68

——— ss. 94, 165—

See SEARCH . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 261

See SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 304

——— ss. 94, 165—Scope of—Search for specified article only—Article in possession of accused if can be searched for—General search for stolen property, if authorised. Where a Sub-Inspector of Police searched the house of one S who had been charged with criminal breach of trust in respect of a sum of money, and the object of the search was to discover the money and a bag in which it was contained and in the course of the search one of the petitioners cut the Sub-Inspector with a sickle on the hand and the other knocked him down and they were convicted under ss. 332, 353, Penal Code: Held, that the search was covered by s. 165, Cr. P. C., and the convictions under ss. 332, 353 were right. That under ss. 94, 165, Cr. P. C., a search can be made for a stolen article or incriminating document or thing in the possession of an accused person but one of the safeguards which the Legislature provides against abuse is that the search must be for a specified article or thing and not a search for stolen property generally. BISSAR MISSER v. EMPEROR (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 1209

——— s. 96—

See s. 36. . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 953

——— General search warrant, issue of, when justifiable. Under orders of the Government, the officer appointed for the purpose was holding an investigation into the dealings with the Munitions Board with a view to find out what offence if any was committed and by whom in connection with the said dealings. On the application of this officer to the effect that the books and accounts of the Petitioner's firm among others mentioned in the petition were necessary for the purpose of the said investigation the Magistrate issued a general search warrant in respect of the books and documents of the Petitioner's firm specified in the petition: Held—That there was no enquiry or trial or other proceeding under the Code and there were no materials of a Magistrate before the issue of a search warrant that means that the Magistrate should apply his mind to the facts and he ought not to issue a search warrant simply because the police officer asks him to do so. T. R. PRATT v. KING-EMPEROR . . . . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 597

24 C. W. N. 403

——— General search warrant, issue of, when justifiable. Per CHAUDHURI, J.—An order under s. 96, Cr. P. C., cannot be made to further a police investigation which may or not result in an enquiry. The Magistrate has

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 96—contd.

of which the books were wanted had formed a correct opinion. The form of the search warrant in the Code refers "to an enquiry now being made or about to be made." There are separate provisions in the Code for investigation and large powers are given to the police in cognizable cases for seizing of documents. The word "investigation" is defined in the Code and is differentiated from an enquiry. There is no express provision

NEWBOULD, J.—S. 96, Cr. P. C., empowers a Magistrate to issue a search warrant before any proceedings of any kind are initiated and in view of an enquiry about to be made. JAGANNATH AGARWALLA v. KING-EMPEROR 24 C. W. N. 405 ——— ss. 96, 98—Search warrant, issue of long after application. Where in a case of criminal trespass and theft the complaint at the time of applying for process prayed for the issue of a search warrant but the Magistrate after repeated applications made an order for the issue of the warrant more than three weeks after: Held, that although the procedure was not contrary to the actual letter of ss. 96 and 98, Criminal Procedure Code, it was so dilatory that it could only tend to defeat the object for which such a warrant is issued. BILAS ROY CHOWDHURY v. RAM GOPAL KHEMKOR (1917) . . 22 C. W. N. 719

——— s. 100—

See SEARCH WARRANT.

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 905

——— Warrant under, legality of, when drawn up on a printed form under s. 98—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 147 and 332—Resistance to the execution of warrant. There being no printed form for search warrants under s. 100, Criminal Procedure Code, printed form is issued under s. 98, are always used with the necessary modifications for that purpose. When a warrant under s. 100, Criminal Procedure Code, was drawn up on a printed form for use under s. 98, Criminal Procedure Code, and the warrant was snatched away and destroyed by the persons accused of resisting the execution of the warrant: Held, that as the accused destroyed the warrant, it must be presumed that the warrant under s. 100 was properly drawn up on a form under s. 98, Criminal Procedure Code, with the necessary modifications. That the error, if any, in the warrant, supposing that the necessary modifications had not been made, would be one of form only. Bisu Haldar v. Probhat Chandra, 6 C. L. J. 127, distinguished. GURAMIAH v. KING-EMPEROR (1911) . . 16 C. W. N. 336 ——— Custody of child by natural father—Court's power to make over child to adoptive father. A complaint was filed before the Magistrate alleging that the Petitioner had removed his son whom he had given in adoption to the complainant's son's widow from the complainant's custody without her consent. As soon as the complaint was filed and before the issue of any search warrant which was ordered the boy was produced in Court and the Magistrate adjourned the case directing the Petitioner to move the High Court on failure of which the boy was to be made over to the complainant: Held—That it was very doubtful if s. 100, Cr. P. C., applied to the case. That under the circumstances the order of the Magistrate was not a proper order and should be set aside. CHAGAN RAI v. HERA LAL DOOSAJ . 24 C. W. N. 104

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 100—contd.

——— ss. 100, 552—

See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 403

——— s. 103—Right of investigating officer to search a house—Search made without witnesses—Resistance on the part of householder—Act No. XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code), ss. 332 and 503. A sub-inspector of police investigating a charge of theft requires no warrant to enable him to search a house which he suspects to contain stolen property. But in making such a search he is bound to comply with the provisions of s. 103 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and if he attempts to make a search without any search-witnesses being present, the owner or occupier of the house is justified in resisting the attempt so far as to exclude him from the house. The owner or occupier is not, however, justified in using any more force than is necessary for such purpose. EMPEROR v. NIRMAL SINGH
I. L. R. 42 All. 67

——— Evidence of search apart from search list—Evidence Act, I of 1872, s. 91—"Matter required by law to be reduced to the form of a document." When a search has been conducted under s. 103, Criminal Procedure Code, evidence can be given regarding the things seized in the course of the search and regarding the places in which they were found in addition to the evidence of the list which the law directs to be drawn up relating to the particulars of the property found. The words in s. 91, Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, "any matter required by law to be reduced to the form of a document" could not have been intended by the legislature to mean observations of physical facts which under the ordinary law has to be proved by the testimony in Court. SOLAI NAIK v. EMPEROR (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 349

——— ss. 103, 309, 423—

See DACOITY . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 350

——— s. 105—

See TRESSPASS I. L. R. 39 Calc. 953

——— s. 106—

See SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 671

——— "Offences involving breach of the peace"—Offence punishable under s. 504 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), is such an offence—Security for keeping the peace on conviction. On a conviction for an offence punishable under s. 504 of the Indian Penal Code, the accused was ordered to furnish security to keep the peace for a period of one year under s. 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The accused having applied to the High Court to have the order set aside. Held, that the order was properly made, for the expression "other offences involving a breach of the peace" in s. 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code included offences which were offences because a breach of the peace had occurred or because a breach of the peace was likely to occur. EMPEROR v. SAYAD YACOOB (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 554 ——— Security to keep the peace—"Offence involving a breach of the peace"—Mischief by removing land-mark—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 434. Held, that an offence "involving a breach of the peace," mentioned in s. 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, does not mean only an offence which necessarily involves a breach of the peace or of which a breach of the peace forms an ingredient, but includes such an offence as in common knowledge is ordinarily or very probably the occasion of a breach of the peace, as, for example, the removal of a land-mark, Baidya Nath Majumdar v. Nibaran Chunder Gope, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 93, Arun Samanta v. Emperor, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 366, Raj Narain Roy v. Bhagabat Chunder Nandi, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 315, and Muthiah Chetti v. Emperor, I. L. R. 28 Mad. 190, dissented from. EMPEROR v. MANIK RAI (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 771

——— Security for keeping the peace—Criminal trespass with intent to commit a breach of the peace. Upon a conviction for criminal trespass, where the intention of the trespass is to commit a breach of the peace an order under s. 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure may lawfully be passed in the discretion of the Magistrate. Empress v Manik Rai, I. L. R., 33 All., 771, Emperor v. Kundan Singh, Weekly Notes, 1885, p. 303, and Queen v. Jhapoo, 20 W. R., Cr. r. 37. referred to. EMPEROR v. DHARAM RAJ . . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 345

——— Accused convicted of offences under ss. 297 and 143,—Indian Penal Code, and ordered to furnish security to keep the peace—legality of such order. Petitioner was found to have been one of a crowd of people who intimidated a burial party, abused them and threatened them with violence unless the body was taken to the Jama Masjid for a decision of the question whether the deceased was a Mussalman or Kaffir. He was convicted of offences under s. 297 and 143 of the Penal Code, and was also ordered to furnish security to keep the peace for one year. Held, that the order to furnish security under s. 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was illegal as the accused had not been convicted of the offence of criminal intimidation or of an offence involving a breach of the peace. An offence involving a breach of the peace is one in which a breach of the peace is an ingredient, and not merely an offence provoking or likely to lead to a breach of the peace. Arun Samanta v. Emperor (I. L. R. 30 Calc. 366), followed. An order under s. 106 of the Code cannot be passed on conviction for an offence under s. 143 or s. 297 of the Penal Code as these offences do not necessarily involve the use of force. Raj Narain v. Bhagabat Chunder (I. L. R. 35 Calc. 315), and Kannookaran v. Emperor (I. L. R. 26 Mad. 469), followed. ABDULLA v. CROWN . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 278.

——— s. 106 (3)—Security to keep the peace—Powers of appellate court not limited by juris- diction of original court—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 71, 147, 149, 325—Separate sentences. The power conferred upon an appellate court by cl. (3) of s. 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not limited in any way by the powers exercisable by the original court which tried the case. Emperor v. Bhausing Dhumalsingh, I. L. R. 33 Bom 33, followed Muthiah Chetti v. Emperor, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 190; Paramasiva Pillai v. Emperor, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 48; Dorasami Naidu v. Emperor, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 182, and Emperor v. Momin Mallita, I. L. R 35 Calc. 434, dissented from. Held, also, that where in the course of a riot grievous hurt was committed the accused might be lawfully convicted of separate offences under ss. 147 and 325 read with 149 of the Indian Penal Code and sentenced separately for each offence. Queen-Empress v. Bisheshar, I. L. R. 9 All. 645, followed. EMPEROR v. DHARAM DAS (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 48 an appellate court is competent to pass an order binding down an accused person to give security even though the court of first instance was not competent to do so. BACHAN SINGH v EMPEROR.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s 106 (3)—contd.

2 Pat. L. J. 21

——— Security for keeping the peace—Powers of appellate court to order security not limited by jurisdiction of trial court. The power conferred on an appellate court by cl. (3) of s. 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not limited by the fact that the court whose decision is under appeal had no power to direct security to be taken. Emperor v. Dharam Das, I. L R. 33 All., 48, followed EMPEROR v. TILAK RAI . . . . I. L. R. 43 All. 372 ——— On conviction for an offence punishable under s. 504 of the Indian Penal Code the accused was ordered to furnish security to keep the peace for a period of one year under s. 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The accused having applied to the High Court to have the order set aside. Held, that the order was properly made as the expression "other offences involving a breach of the peace" in s. 106 of the Code included offences which were offences because a breach of the peace had occurred or was likely to occur. EMPEROR v. SAYAD YACOOB.

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 554

——— Appellate Court, jurisdiction of, defined The jurisdiction of an Appellate Court to order a person who has been convicted of one of the offences mentioned in sub-s. (1) of s. 106, Criminal Procedure Code, is not restricted to cases where the conviction was by one of the Courts specified in the sub-section. The words "an Appellate Court" are quite general and the word "also" indicates that the powers given by that section may be exercised by the Courts mentioned in sub-s. (1) and by an Appellate Court. The words "under this section" in sub-s. (3) have reference to the powers given by that section and not to the Courts by which these powers are in the first instance exercisable. Muthiah Chetty v. Emperor, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 190, overruled. SOLAI GOUNDEN Re (1914)
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 113

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 106, and 32—Security to keep the peace—Powers of Sub-divisional Magistrate. A Sub-divisional Magistrate is, as such, competent to pass an order under s. 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure binding over a person to keep the peace for period exceeding six months, notwithstanding that, but for his being a Sub-divisional Magistrate, he would have only second class powers. EMPEROR v. RAJA SINGH (1915)
I. L. R. 37 All. 230

——— s. 107—

See SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE.
I. L. R. 38 All. 468

See TRANSFER I. L. R. 41 Calc. 719

——— Security to keep the peace—Security demanded in respect of an act which was legal, although others might thereby have been led to break the peace. To justify an order under s. 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate must believe that the person against whom he makes the order is about to commit a breach of the peace or to disturb the public tranquillity or to do some wrongful act that may occasion a breach of the peace. The fact that a Mahomedan in the exercise of his legal right to kill cows may perhaps give offence to his Hindu neighbours and induce them to commit a breach of the peace is no ground for binding over the Mahomedan. Shahbaz Khan v. Umrao Puri, I. L. R 30 All. 181, referred to EMPEROR v. MUHAMMAD YAKUB (1910) . I. L. R. 32 All. 571 ——— Security to keep the peace—Circumstances in which the performance of religious ceremonies may amount to a wrongful act likely to occasion a breach of the peace. Held, that persons who performed religious ceremonies in a place not set apart for the purpose and where no such ceremonies had been performed before, and who did so with the deliberate intention of triumphing over, insulting, and wounding the religious feeling of their neighbours, committed a wrongful act and one which might probably occasion a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity within the meaning of s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure EMPEROR v. MURLI SINGH (1911) . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 775 ——— Security to keep the peace—S. 403—Autrefois acquit—S. 495, withdrawal from prosecution, section inapplicable to security proceedings—No conviction or acquittal under s. 107—Ss. 112, 117, 118, 119, 253—S 145, order under, no bar to order under s. 107 on same facts. A preliminary charge-sheet under s 107, Criminal Procedure Code, was withdrawn by the police before the parties mentioned therein were ordered to appear. The Magistrate endorsed the charge-sheet to the effect that the accused were acquitted A fresh charge under the same section was subsequently put by the police against certain of the same persons who had been previously charge-sheeted. Held, that the withdrawal of the first charge-sheet was no bar to proceedings under the second. "Neither an order of discharge nor of acquittal can properly be made in a case where the accused has not been directed to appear at all." S. 495, Criminal Procedure Code, is not applicable to security proceedings. An order passed by a Magistrate under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, is no bar to the same Magistrate binding over the same parties on the same facts

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 107—contd.

under s. 107, Criminal Procedure Code. In re MUTHIA MOOPAN (1913) . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 315

——— Security for keeping the peace—Action for damages for malicious prosecution. Held, that an action for damages for malicious prosecution, may be founded upon the initiation against the plaintiff maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause of proceedings under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, just as much as upon the institution of a criminal prosecution in the ordinary acceptation of that term. MUHAMMAD NIAZ KHAN v. JAI RAM (1919) I. L. R. 41 All. 503

——— Security for keeping the peace—Whether person who does not go to the place where breach of peace is apprehended, can be bound down. The petitioner and another both claimed the right to take offerings from pilgrims alighting at Gaya Railway Station. They both sent servants armed with lathis to the station to accost pilgrims, with the result that there were disturbances. The petitioner never went to the station himself. Held, that as he was in fact asserting a claim likely to cause a breach of the peace and making preparation for the enforcement of that claim through an armed servant, he was liable to be bound down to keep the peace. BALALAL MAHTON v. KING-EMPEROR . 1 Pat. L. J. 361

——— Security for keeping the peace—Action for damages for malicious prosecution. An action for damages for malicious prosecution may be founded upon the initiation against the plaintiff maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause of proceedings under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, just as much as upon the institution of a criminal prosecution in the ordinary acceptation of that term. Muhammad Niaz Khan v. Jai Ram, I. L. R. 41, All. 503, and Crowdy v. Reilly, 17 C. W. N. 554, followed. CHIRANJI SINGH v. DHARAM SINGH . . I. L. R. 43 All. 402

——— Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 74—Notice under s. 107, Criminal Procedure Code, if a public document—Proof necessary for admission of such document in evidence. A notice under s. 107, Criminal Procedure Code, is a public document within the meaning of s. 74 of the Evidence Act, but it cannot come in without proof that the parties mentioned in it are the parties concerned in the question at issue about which it is produced as evidence. AMJAD v. LACHMI KANTA JHA (1914) 18 C. W. N. 644

——— Security to keep the peace—Evidence—Nature of findings required to justify a Magistrate in passing an order under s. 107. In proceedings under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure it is not enough for the Magistrate to find that unless the persons before him are bound over to keep the peace, there is likely to be a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public tranquillity. He has to find in respect of each and all of such persons that they are likely to commit a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity, or that they are likely to do some wrongful act which may occasion such a disturbance. Queen Empress v. Abdul Qadir, I. L. R 9 All. 452, and Jagat Narain v. Emperor, 7 All. L. J. 161, referred to. EMPEROR v. BRIJNANDAN PRASAD (1914) I. L. R. 37 All. 33

——— ss. 107 and 117—Security to keep the peace—Evidence—Record of previous trial—Inquiry. It is not competent to a Magistrate in proceedings under s. 107, et seq. of the Code of Criminal Procedure to dispense with the inquiry provided for by s. 117 of the Code and to base his order merely on the results of a riot case recently tried by him. EMPEROR v. MUL CHAND (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 37 All. 30

——— ss. 107, 117, 118, 526—S[illegible] for keeping the peace—Transfe[illegible] s. 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure enables the High Court to transfer criminal proceedings initiated under s. 107 of the Code, once they have been properly instituted, to any other criminal court of equal or superior jurisdiction (and which otherise would have no jurisdiction) and the order of the High Court will give jurisdiction to the Court to which the case has been so transferred to make an inquiry under s. 117 and to pass an order under s. 118. In the matter of the petition of Amar Singh, I. L. R. 16 All. 9, not followed. EMPEROR v. WAHID ALI KHAN (1910) I. L. R. 32 All. 642

——— ss. 107, 125—District Magistrate if means the Magistrate of the district to which proceedings transferred from another district. Where a proceeding under s. 107, Cr. P. C., started in one district was transferred to another, the District Magistrate of the latter district has alone jurisdiction under s. 125 in respect of the said proceedings. GURUPRASAONNA ROY v. HARI KINKAR MUKHERJI (1919) . . 23 C. W. N. 958

——— ss. 107, 125, 438—Security to keep the peace—Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court and Sessions Judge. A Magistrate of the first class ordered certain persons to give security for keeping the peace. The persons to be bound over applied to the Sessions Judge to revise the order. The Sessions Judge was of opinion that the applicants should not have been bound over and accordingly referred the case to the High Court with a recommendation that the order should be set aside. Held, the order having been passed by a Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, the record should, under s. 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, have been laid before the District Magistrate to deal with the matter. Where a Code gives a particular Court jurisdiction to act in certain matters, it is that Court which should be applied to and not the High Court. Banarsi Das v. Partab Singh, I. L. R. 35 All. 130, referred to. EMPEROR v. LALJI (1917) I. L. R. 40 All. 143

——— ss. 107 and 144—Renewal of expired order, validity of. Where an order restraining the petitioners from entering certain land expired on the 28th April, 1917, and a similar order was passed against the same parties on the 6th June, 1917 : held, that the Magistrate should not have made the second order but should have proceeded under s. 107 if there was a likelihood of a breach of the peace by one clearly in the wrong. S. 144 should not be used for anything in the nature of a permanent expedient without the sanction of the Local Government. RASHBEHARI SINGH v. JAGNARAIN ROY . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 130

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

———— ss. 107, 144, 145 and 146—Dispute regarding possession of immovable property—Duty of Magistrate—Court's powers of superintendence The use of s. 144 is a suitable method of avoiding a breach of the peace only if it is clear upon a reading of the police report that the claim of the party creating the disturbance is not a claim made in good faith. The practice of issuing notices purporting to be notices under s. 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code calling upon both parties to attend on a fixed date and submit statements is a mere evasion of the law. The notices are in effect notices under s 145 (1) and (4) of the Criminal Procedure Code, and, where such notices have been issued, the High Court will direct that the procedure prescribed in Chapter XII of the Code be followed KANIZ AMINA v. THE KING-EMPEROR 3 Pat. L. J. 243

———— ss. 107, 145, 146—

See JALKAR. . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 469

———— ss. 107, 145—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND I. L. R. 39 Calc. 150

———— Security to keep the peace—Dispute concerning land likely to lead to a breach of the peace—Procedure. Where there exists a dispute relating to immovable property which is likely to lead to a breach of the peace, the magistrate concerned is not necessarily bound to proceed under s. 145, but can take action—and this may sometimes be the better course—equally under s 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Sheoraj Roy v. Chatter Roy, I L. R 32 Calc. 966, and Emperor v. Ram Baran Singh. I L. R 28 All. 406, followed Mahadeo Kunwar v Bisu, I. L. R. 25 All. 537, distinguished. Balant Singh v Bhoju, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 117, not followed EMPEROR v. THAKUR PANDE (1912) I. L. R. 34 All. 449 ———— Procedure — Appointment of chaudhri by traders using a market—Dispute as to chaudhri's dues between him and the servants of the zamindar. The traders who frepay him for his services by means of a small contribution for each beast of burden which brought goods to the market. The servants of the owner, on the other hand, wished to obtain these payments for themselves, and it was found that they were ready to commit a breach of the peace in order to make good their alleged right thereto · Held, that the circumstances were not such as would warrant the taking of action under s 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, but that s. 107 of the Code was the more appropriate section under which to proceed. EMPEROR v. RAM LOCHAN (1913) . . I. L. R. 36 All. 143

———— Dispute over possession of fishery—likelihood of breach of the peace—Proceeding under s. 107 against one party—Application by that party for changing 107 proceedings into proceedings under s. 145, refusal of, by Magistrate—Discretion of Magistrate, High Court if competent to interfere with discretion of Magistrate and direct proceedings to be instituted under s. 145 instead of s. 107—Jurisdiction. Where a dispute likely to lead to a breach of the peace was over the possession of a fishery, and the Magistrate drew up a proceeding under s 107, Cr P. C.: Held—That the Magistrate had jurisdiction to proceed under s 107, Cr. P C and he having exercised his discretion it was not open to the High Court to direct that the Magistrate must proceed under s 145 and not under s 107, Cr. P C AMULYA CHARAN SIRKAR v AMRITALAL MUKERJI . . . 24 C. W. N. 1075 ———— ss. 107, 192, 528—Previous proceedings under s 107 and prosecution under the Penal Code—Discharge—Subsequent proceedings under s. 107 on the same facts, if maintainable—Jurisdiction of Magistrates—Transfer by District Magistrate, to a Magistrate without local jurisdiction before issue of notice to accused—Order of such Magistrate, validity of—Notice to accused, vague—Effect of notice. A Magistrate is not entitled to institute proceedings under s. 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code upon facts and information which have already been the subject of enquiry under that section or in connexion with charges under the Penal Code brought against persons who have been discharged in those proceedings. A District Magistrate cannot be said to have taken cognizance of a case under s 107, in which he has not issued notice to the accused to show cause why they should not be proceeded against, and has no power under s 192 of the Criminal Procedure Code to transfer such a case to another Magistrate A District Magistrate has no power under s. 528 of the Criminal Procedure Code to make over the initiation of proceedings in a case under s. 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code to a Magistrate who has no local jurisdiction in the matter. A Magistrate who has no local jurisdiction to initiate proceedings in a matter under s 107, Criminal Procedure Code, acquires none by the transfer of a case to him from a Magistrate who [illegible] proceedings, an should be quasl

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 107, 145—contd

the Criminal Pr
if the notice issued to the accused under that ———— ss. 107 and 250—Frivolous or vexatious complaint—Compensation—Application to Magistrate to bind over certain persons to keep the peace. A person in respect of whom information has been laid before a Magistrate to the effect that he is likely to commit a breach of the peace or is otherwise liable to the provisions of s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, is not a person accused of any "offence." An order for payment of compensation cannot, therefore, be made against a man who has petitioned a Magistrate to take action under s 107 of the Code. BINDHACHAL PRASAD RAI v. LAL BIHARI RAI (1914) I. L. R. 36 All. 382

———— ss. 107, 350—Transfer of Magistrate—Trial de novo—Right of accused. S. 350 (1), proviso (a), Criminal Procedure Code, applies to proceedings under s 107, Criminal Procedure Code and the accused is entitled in a security case to a trial de novo on the Magistrate being transferred. VENKATACHINNAYYA v. KING-EMPEROR (1920)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 107, 350—contd.

I. L. R. 43 Mad. (F. B.) 511

———— ss. 107 and 514—Forfeiture of bond to keep peace—Person bound over having brought a Civil suit to enforce his right. The Hindus and Muhammadans of Gharuanda were disputing about the location of the latter's slaughter-house. The District Magistrate selected a new site, but on appeal by the Hindus the Commissioner changed this for another place. Some of the Hindus had meanwhile been bound down to keep the peace in this connection. They were dissatisfied with the place chosen by the Commissioner and brought a civil suit claiming that the site was in the shamilat deh, and that it was chosen without the consent of all the proprietors and prayed for an injunction restraining the Muhammadans from building the slaughter-house. The District Magistrate then passed an order of forfeiture of their bonds holding that the institution of the civil suit was likely to cause a breach of the peace : Held, that it was not the intention of the Legislature to prevent persons, even though bound over under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, from seeking to enforce their rights in the Civil Court and that the order of forfeiture was consequently illegal. SITAL v. THE CROWN . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 310

———— ss. 107, 445 and 435—

See REVISION. . . 3 Pat. L. J. 302

———— ss. 107, 496—Bail—ss. 344 and 167, s. 107, cl. (4) Criminal Procedure Code, makes an exception to the general rule laid down in s. 496 which enacts that bail shall be given in all cases in which a person is not charged with a non-bailable offence. S. 107, cl. (4), compared with s. 344 and 167, Criminal Procedure Code. Re NARAYANASAMI NAICKEN (1913)
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 474

———— ss. 107, 526 (8)—

See TRANSFER . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 719

———— s. 108 (b)—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 591

———— ss. 108, 110, 114—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 215

———— s. 109—

See OSTENSIBLE MEANS OF SUBSISTENCE.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 702

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 456

———— Security for good behaviour from vagrant and suspected person. Petitioner, a kaviraj by profession and a dealer in cocoons, was found at midnight in association with two others who had in their possession house-breaking implements. On being discovered he fled and when arrested remained silent and the explanation he subsequently gave to the Magistrate of his presence at the time and place in question was false : Held, that the facts found did not bring the petitioner within either clause of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 109—contd.

s. 109 of the Code. Per SHAMS-UL-HUDA, J. That cl. (a) of s. 109 Criminal Procedure Code, refers to a continuous act and does not therefore apply to a case where there is a momentary effort at concealment to avoid detection or arrest nor can it apply to the case of a person brought under arrest for it cannot be said of such a person that he is taking precautions to conceal his presence. RESHU KAVIRAJ v. KING-EMPEROR (1917)
22 C. W. N. 163

———— ss. 109 and 110—Binding over under both sections illegal. A person cannot be bound over under both the ss. 109 and 110, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). Re RANGASAMI PILLAI (1913) . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 555 ———— ss. 109, 123, 397—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 329—Concurrent sentences—Consecutive sentences. The accused was proceeded against under s. 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code, and sentenced on the 6th July 1909, under s. 123 of the Code, to rigorous imprisonment for nine months, in default of security for good behaviour. He was then tried for an offence of theft committed by him in November 1908, and was, on the 17th August 1909, sentenced to suffer rigorous imprisonment for three months : the second sentence was directed to take effect on the expiry of the first sentence : Held, that the two sentences ought not to run consecutively ; but must run concurrently. EMPEROR v. ARJUN (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 326

———— s. 110—

See s. 55 . I. L. R. 35 All. 407

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 153, 1128
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 215

———— Order for security passed upon failure of charge of a substantive offence—Against the persons bound over. Eight persons were sent up for trial on a charge of dacoity and were acquitted, and an attempt to prove a case against them under s. 400 of the Indian Penal Code was also unsuccessful : Held, that these circumstances were not in themselves a bar to proceedings being shortly afterwards initiated against the person acquitted under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Alep Pramanik v. King-Emperor, 11 C. W. N. 413, distinguished. EMPEROR v. RAJ KARAN (1909) . . . . I. L. R. 32 All. 55

———— Evidence of general repute—Inadmissible to prove charge under s. 117. Where a person is solely charged under s. 110, cl. (f), Criminal Procedure Code, Act V of 1898, evidence of general repute is inadmissible to prove that he is a desperate and dangerous character. A provision of law which is an exception to the general rules of evidence must be only applied to the cases to which it is confined by the legislature. No argument can therefore be deduced from the admissibility of evidence of general repute under s. 117, Criminal Procedure Code. MUTHU PILLAI v. EMPEROR (1920) . . . . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 255

———— Fresh proceedings after expiration of an order under section—if can be based on materials antecedent to the expiration of the previous order. When after the expiration of the period of a bond for good behaviour taken under s. 110, Criminal

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 110—contd.

P [illegible] aken against be confined against him RAM DEO PANDE v. THE EMPEROR (1912) 19 C. W. N. 223 ———— Appeal—Judgment A Court of Appeal dismissing an appeal summarily is not bound to write a judgment; but an appeal from an order requiring a person to furnish security to be of good behaviour is distinguishable from an appeal against a conviction in respect of an offence specifically charged. And in such cases a District Magistrate should not dispose of an appeal otherwise than by judgment showing on the face of it that he has applied his mind to a consideration of the evidence on the record, and of the pleas raised by an appellant, both in the Court below and in his memorandum of appeal. EMPEROR v. LAL BEHARI (1916)

I. L. R. 38 All. 393

———— Bad livelihood case—Revision by High Court on merits. The petitioners were bound over by a Sub-Divisional Magistrate under s. 110, Cr. P. C., to be of good behaviour for one year. In appeal the District Magistrate affirmed the order of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate. The High Court in revision set aside the order on a consideration of the evidence on the ground that as to some important evidence the lower Courts in their judgments failed to consider it at all, while as to others they were accepted and relied on without any critical examination. NIZAMUDDI v. KING-EMPEROR (1918) . 23 C. W. N. 488

———— "Within local limits" meaning of "Residence" of person proceeded against not material. In order to give jurisdiction to a Magistrate to proceed under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure it is not necessary that the person proceeded against should be "residing" within the local limits of his jurisdiction. The meaning of the expression 'any person within the local limits' in s. 110 is 'any person who is within the local limits at the time the Magistrate takes action under the section.' In re K. Rangan, I. L. R. 36 Mad. 96, followed. Ketabdi v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 993, dissented from. EMPEROR v. MUNNA (1916) I. L. R. 39 All. 139

———— The words "within the local limits of his jurisdiction" are not equivalent to "residing within the local limits." It is sufficient to give the Magistrate jurisdiction, if the evil habits of the accused were practised and evil reputation acquired within the local limits of his jurisdiction. KING-EMPEROR v. DURGA HALWA (1915) . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 153
19 C. W. N. 1022

———— Residence within local limits of Magistrate's jurisdiction if necessary. S. 110, Cr. P. C., does not require that the person proceeded against should reside within the local limits of the Magistrate empowered to take action under the section It is sufficient that the person should be within those limits at the time when proceedings are taken. LAKHI NARAIN DAS v. KING-EMPEROR (1918) . . 23 C. W. N. 100

———— Jurisdiction of Magistrate over outsiders found within local limits—Object of the section. In order to give jurisdiction to a Magistrate to proceed under s 110, Criminal Procedure Code, it is not necessary that the person proceeded against should be 'residing' within the local limits of his jurisdiction. The meaning of the expression 'any person within the local limits' in s. 110 is 'any person who is within the local limits at the time the Magistrate takes action under the section.' Ketabdi v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R 27 Calc. 993, not followed A contrary view would defeat the object of the section, viz., prevention of crime, as then it would be impossible to deal under the section, with wandering gangs of criminals having no fixed residence or with habitual thieves or desperate characters belonging to foreign territories, who infest British India. In re RANGAN (1913) . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 96

———— Proceeding, if may be quashed by High Court at initial stage—Mala fidi, allegations that proceeding, police-report, if complete answer to —High Court, duty of to prevent abuse of provision of Statute—Scope and object of proceeding under s 110—Zemindar, mismanagement and bad relations with tenants, if justifies proceeding—Revival of proceeding once dropped if proper—proof of bad-character—Criminal proceedings, terminated by compromise or ending in acquittal, if admissible—District Gazetteer, extract from, admissibility of, to prove reporting officer's attitude towards accused. MOOKERJEE, J.—The object of s. 110 Cr. P. C., is preventive and not punitive, and the purpose the Legislature had in view was to afford protection to the public against the repetition of crimes in which the safety of property is menaced and not the security of persons alone is jeopardised. Nawab v. Queen, I. L. R. 2 All. 835, referred to. Held by MOOKERJEE, J. (agreeing with IMAM, J.), that extracts from the Magistrate's Administration Report appearing in the District Gazetteer and which contained reflections on the petitioner's conduct as landlord and upon which he relied to show that his treatment by the Magistrate leading up to the institution against him of proceedings under s. 110, Cr. P. C., was in harmony with the views expressed in the Administration Report were relevant and admissible in evidence. Fanindra Deb v. Rajeswar Das, I. L. R. 11 Calc. 463, L. R. 12 I. A. 72, referred to. A judgment of acquittal fully establishes the innocence of the accused, and a criminal proceeding which ended in the acquittal of the accused cannot be relied upon the Crown as evidence of bad character in a subsequent proceeding under s. 110, Cr P. C, against him. King v. Plummer (1902), 2 K. B 339, Emperor v. Nani Gopal, 15 C. W. N. 593, Pulin Behari Dass v. King-Emperor, 15 C. L. J. 577 : 16 C. W. N. 1105, referred to. No inference adverse to an accused ought to be drawn from criminal proceedings which terminated in compromise. RAJENDRA NARAIN SINGH v. EMPEROR (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 238

———— Court limiting the number of defence witnesses—to that of witnesses on the other side —Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 30—Applicability of, to bad livelihood proceedings—Admissibility of con [illegible] co-accused. [illegible] Procedure C [illegible] to examine [illegible] the same number of witnesses as were examined for the prosecution and relied on the confession of one of the petitioners implicating himself and two other petitioners in a case of dacoity: Held, that it is not open to the trying Magistrate to put such an arbitrary limit on the witnesses whose evidence the defence desires to adduce. That the confession was inadmissible against the two co-accused, the provisions of s. 30 of the Evidence Act not being applicable to a case like the present. AMIRULLA PRAMANIK v. KING-EMPEROR (1917) 22 C. W. N. 408

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 110—contd.

——— Joint trial, Legality of. The legality of a joint trial depends on what is alleged for the prosecution not on the facts actually found to be true. JOGENDRA KUMAR NAG AND ORS. v. KING-EMPEROR . 25 C. W. N. 334

——— ss. 110 and 112—Security for good behaviour—Procedure. Two persons who had been arrested under s. 55 of the Code of Criminal Procedure were brought before a Magistrate on the 9th of September. On that date they were remanded in custody until the 19th of September, for the production of evidence, presumably with the object of issuing a notice under s. 112. On the 19th of September, the Magistrate, treating the evidence given by the Sub-Inspector as evidence at a hearing under s. 110, fixed a further date for the accused to produce their evidence: Held, that this procedure was erroneous. It is only after an order under s. 112 has been made that proceedings under s. 110 can take place. Nor should a magistrate detain a person in custody under s. 110 unless he has the information upon which he can make an order under s. 112. King-Emperor v. Paimal Nai, 10 A. L. J. 351, followed. EMPEROR v. RAJBANSI . I. L. R. 42 All. 646

——— ss. 110, 112 and 117—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 806

——— Necessity of setting out substance of information received, in order under s. 112—Trial of accused on charges under cl. (a) and (f) of s. 110—Evidence of general repute—Inadmissibility to prove charge under cl. (f)—Evidence to prove charge under cl. (a). Where an order under s. 112, Criminal Procedure Code, which does not clearly disclose the substance of the information received by the Magistrate, the proceedings cannot be regarded as legal. Kripasindhu Naiko v. Emperor (1918), 47 I. C., 277, followed. To prove a charge under cl. (a) to (e) of s. 110, Criminal Procedure Code, evidence of repute is admissible. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J.—Such evidence must relate to particular instances which have come to the knowledge of the deponent and must be specific. Mere belief and opinions without reference to acts and instances which have induced the witnesses to form the opinion can hardly be regarded as evidence of repute within the meaning of s. 117, cl. 3. Per MOORE, J.—The evidence that is required is that of respectable persons who are acquainted with the accused and live in the neighbourhood and are aware of the accused's reputation. It must be the general opinion and not merely the repetition of what certain persons have said to the witnesses. To prove a charge under cl. (f) of s. 110, Criminal Procedure Code, evidence of repute is inadmissible. The evidence must be of definite acts and instances. Where a person is tried jointly under cl. (f) and any of the other clauses of s. 110, evidence of repute admitted with regard to the latter cannot be taken into consideration in deciding the charge under cl. (f). RANGA REDDI v. KING-EMPEROR (1920) I. L. R. 43 Mad. 450

——— ss. 110 (b), 117—Security for good behaviour—Evidence for general repute not admissible when the case for the prosecution rests on s. 110 (f). In a proceeding under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, where the basis of the Court's order is cl. (f) of that section, the fact that the person against whom the proceeding is taken is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community is not a fact which under s. 47 of the Code can be proved by evidence of general repute. EMPEROR v. INDAR (1918) . . I. L. R. 40 All. 372

——— ss. 110, 117—Security for good behaviour—Joint inquiry—Statements made by parties concerned amounting to confessions and implicating other parties to the inquiry—Use of such statements as against the others—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 30. On an inquiry which was being conducted against six persons jointly under ss. 110 and 117 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the case for the prosecution being that all six were habitually thieves and house-breakers and also were associated together in the matter under inquiry, two of such persons made statements to the magistrate amounting to confessions of the actual commission of a particular offence and containing incriminating matter as to the relations of two others out of the six persons before the Court with the other persons associated with them in the inquiry: Held, that these statements might be taken into consideration along with the other evidence in the case as against the other persons mentioned in them whose cases were being jointly inquired into, if not under s. 30 of the Evidence Act, at any rate under s. 117 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. SARJU (1918) I. L. R. 41 All. 231

——— ss. 110, 118, 367, 424—

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 376

——— ss. 110, 118 and 406—An appeal lies to the District Magistrate against an order under s. 118 made in proceedings under s. 110 by an additional District Magistrate. MAHENDRA BHUMIJ & ORS. v. KING-EMPEROR 25 C. W. N. 383

——— ss. 110 and 120—Person once convicted—If fit for surety. Where a Magistrate rejected a surety because he had once been convicted under 323 of the Penal Code: Held, that although the Magistrate had a discretion he had acted unreasonably. BUDHU AHIR v. KING-EMPEROR 25 C. W. N. 141

——— ss. 110 and 122—Security for good behaviour—Sureties to be solvent and respectable——Such sureties, when offered, rejected on the grounds that they could not exercise control and that certain outlaws were at large—Order rejecting sureties should be judicial order. On a charge of habitually harbouring outlaws, certa[illegible] [illegible]ons were ordered to execute a[illegible] [illegible] and to furnish

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 110 and 122—contd

two solvent and respectable sureties for good behaviour for one year. When such sureties were offered they were summarily rejected on the strength of the Police report that the sureties were not living near enough to exercise control over the accused and that the outlaws were still at large : Held, that the sureties offered having been shown to be solvent and respectable, the reasons given were not sufficient to disqualify them to be sureties. In re JESA BATHA (1919) I. L. R. 44 Bom. 385

——— ss. 110, 123—

——— Security for good behaviour—Security furnished—Record not required to be sent to the Sessions Judge for orders. Under s. 123, cl. (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure it is only necessary to lay the proceedings before the Sessions Judge or the High Court when security has not been given, not when it has been given. Rai Isri Pershad v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 23 Calc 621, referred to. EMPEROR v. RAM KISHAN (1917) . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 39

——— Security for good behaviour—Nature of imprisonment to be awarded in default of finding security. In cases under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the imprisonment awarded in default of finding security should as a rule be simple rather than rigorous. It is in each case for the court concerned to exercise its discretion in deciding which class of imprisonment is called for. EMPEROR v. GANDARP SINGH . . I. L. R. 42 All. 563 ——— ss. 110 and 167—Proceedings under s. 110—Power to remand under s. 167. In proceedings under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898), the Magistrate has no power to remand an accused person to custody. S. 167 of the Code applies to proceedings under Ch. XIV and not to those under s. 110 Emperor v. Basya, 5 Bom. L. R. 27, referred to. Re SUBBARAYA CHETTI (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 928

[illegible]

were not, however, released, but the Magistrate passed an order directing them to be detained in jail pending the result of a police inquiry with reference to their liability to be proceeded against under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Twelve days after the passing of this order information was laid before a Magistrate having jurisdiction under s. 110 and an order was duly framed under s. 112 and communicated to the persons concerned : Held, that the order for detention of such persons after the police had reported that there was no evidence against them on the specific charge of dacoity was illegal unless and until they were re-arrested by the police under s. 55.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 110, 167, 169 55—contd

Emperor v. Maiku, I. L. R. 41 All. 483, referred to. EMPEROR v. RAHU . I. L. R. 43 All. 186

——— ss. 110 (c) and 190 (c)—Security for good behaviour—Magistrate proceeding on his own knowledge, effect of—Joint trial—station diaries of police reports, entries in. Although s. 190 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, applies only to offences, the principle of that clause is also applicable to cases of miscellaneous character. Where, therefore, on the complaint of one J, the Magistrate instituted proceedings under s. 110 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, but in the course of his judgment observed that it was impossible to remove from his mind the impression which had been produced upon seeing large tracts of land completely devastated by the ravages of cattle, and that in addition to the witnesses examined in the case a large number of persons had made complaints to him regarding the ravages of cattle, held, that the Magistrate should not have tried the case personally : Held (ordering a re-trial,) (1) that the accused were not liable to be tried jointly in a proceeding under s. 110 (c) unless there was evidence of something in the nature of conspiracy or of concert in respect of the various acts of habitual mischief deposed to by the witnesses ; (2) that there must be an investigation as to whether each of the accused had taken part in the various acts or otherwise acted in concert : Held, further, that entries in station diaries or police reports cannot be used without legal evidence of the acts alleged. GODHAN AHIR v. KING-EMPEROR . . 4 Pat. L. J. 7

——— ss. 110, 528—Security for good behaviour—Transfer—Jurisdiction—Powers of District Magistrate. When proceedings under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure initiated before a Magistrate of the first class were transferred [illegible] power to transfer such proceedings to a Magistrate of the second class. King-Emperor v. Munna, I. L. R. 24 All. 151, distinguished. EMPEROR v. GOVIND SAHAI (1914) . I. L. R. 37 All. 20

——— s. 112—

See s. 110 . I. L. R. 42 All. 646

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 806

——— ss. 112, 118—Order to show cause, terms of, if restricts scope of enquiry—Prejudice. The enquiry provided by ss. 117 and 118 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not strictly limited by the terms of the order drawn up under s. 112 calling upon the accused to show cause why he should not execute a security bond to keep the peace or for his good behaviour, though if the person eventually bound down can show that he was misled or prejudiced by the terms of the order, he would be entitled to relief. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. KADIR MIRZA (1912) 17 C. W. N. 331

——— ss. 112 and 167—Security—Remand—Jurisdiction of Magistrate. Where a Magistrate, in a case sent up by the police or action to be taken by the Magistrate under Chapter VIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, passed an order remanding the persons concerned to police custody under s. 167, it was held that his action was ultra vires. Even if s. 167 applied at all to proceedings under Chapter VIII of the Code, no order could be passed under that section until the Magistrate had recorded an order under s. 112. Empress v. Babua, I. L. R. 6 All. 132, In the matter of petition of Daulat Singh, I. L. R. 14 All. 45, and King-Emperor v. Paimal Nai, 10 All. L. J. 351, referred to. EMPEROR v. RAMESHWAR (1914).

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 112 and 167—contd.

I. L. R. 36 All. 262

——— s. 114—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 215

——— s. 117—

See s. 107 . I. L.R. 37 All. 30
I. L. R. 32 All.642

See s. 110. . I. L. R. 40 All. 372
I. L. R. 41 All. 231

See s. 526 . I. L. R. 32 All. 642

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1879), s. 36. I. L. R. 40 All. 153

——— ss. 117 (4), 122, 123 (3), 367, 424

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 91
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 806

——— ss. 117, 242—Bond to keep the Peace—Enquiry, sufficiency of. A Magistrate proceeding under s. 117, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), as nearly as practicable in the same way as under s. 242, Criminal Procedure Code, must state to the accused the particular of the matter against them and ask them if they can show cause why they should not be required to execute bonds: Held, that the question "are you willing to execute the bonds required or do you wish for further inquiry" answered by a statement that the accused would execute bonds is not a sufficient compliance with s. 117. PALANIAPPA ASARY v. EMPEROR (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 139

——— s. 118—

See s. 107 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 642
See s. 110 . . 25 C. W. N. 383
See s. 112 . 17 C. W. N. 331
See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 376

——— ss. 118 and 123—Security for good behaviour—Imprisonment in default not to include solitary confinement. The imprisonment which a person may be ordered to undergo in default of furnishing security for good behaviour, cannot be made to include solitary confinement. EMPEROR v. KUNDAN (1914) . . I. L. R. 36 All. 495

——— s. 119—

See s. 437 . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 85

——— ss. 119, 200, 437—Security for good behaviour—Discharge by Magistrate—District Magistrate ordering fresh inquiry—Accused—Discharge—Interpretation. A District Magistrate can, under s. 437 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, order fresh inquiry into the case of a person "discharged" by a Subordinate Magistrate under s. 119 of the Code. The phrase "any accused person" as used in s. 437 is not confined in its application to a person against whom a complaint has been made under s. 200 of the Code. It includes a person proceeded against under Chapter VIII of the Code. The term "discharged" is not defined in the Code, and there is no valid ground for departing in respect of it from the rule of construction that where in a Statute the same word is used in different sections it ought to be interpreted in the same sense throughout unless the context in any particular section plainly requires that it should be understood in a different sense. Queen-Empress v. Mutasaddi Lal, I. L. R. 21 All. 107; King-Emperor v. Fyaz-ud-din, I. L. R. 24 All. 148; and Queen-Empress v. Mona Puna, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 661, followed. Queen-Empress v. Iman Mondal, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 662; and Velue Tayi Ammal v. Chidambaravelu Pillai, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 85, not followed. In re BABA YESHWANT DESAI (1911)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 401

——— ss. 119 and 437—Security for good behaviour—"Release" or "discharge"—Competence of District Magistrate to order further inquiry under s. 437 against a person in whose favour an order under s. 119 has been passed. Held, that a person who has been "released" or "discharged" under s. 119 of the Code of Criminal Pocedure is so far in the position of "an accused person who has been discharged" within the meaning of s. 437 of the Code that it is competent to the District Magistrate to take further action against such a person under the last named section. Where, however, proceedings had twice been taken under s. 110 without result, and the District Magistrate had not given the person concerned any opportunity of showing cause against the order which might be passed, the proceedings were set aside. Queen-Empress v. Ahmad Khan, All. Weekly Notes (1900), 206, Sheo Din v. King-Emperor, 6 O. C. 262, Muhammad Khan v. King-Emperor, P. R., Cr. 102, Velu Tayi Ammal, v. Chidambaravelu Pillai, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 85, Queen-Empress v. Imam Mondal, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 662, Dayanath Taluqdar v. Emperor, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 8, Hopcroft v. Emperor, I. L. R. 36 Calc. 163, King-Emperor v. Fyaz-ud-din, I. L. R. 24 All. 148, and Queen-Empress v. Mutasaddi Lal, I. L. R. 21 All. 107, Queen-Empress v. Ratti, All. Weekly Notes (1899), 203, referred to. EMPEROR v. KHARGA (1913)

I. L. R. 36 All. 147

——— s. 120—

See s. 110 . . 24 C. W. N. 141
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 385

——— s. 122—

See s. 110 . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 385

See SURETY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 446

See SURETY . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 764
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 706
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 737
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1021

——— Sureties in bad livelihood cases, refusal of—Reasons for the refusal—Testing reasons. The Magistrate in rejecting sureties under s. 122, Criminal Procedure Code, has to record his reasons for doing so. Before recording the reasons he should carefully con-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 122—contd.

nder and test them. This could be best done by bringing them to the notice of the persons offered as sureties and allowing them an opportunity of controverting them. ELA BUKSH v. EMPEROR (1910) . . 14 C. W. N. 709

———— s. 123—

See s. 109 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 326

See s. 110 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 39
I. L. R. 42 All. 562

See s. 118 . I. L. R. 36 All. 495

See s. 397 . . 1 Pat. L. J. 212
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 178

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 446

———— not applicable to proceedings under Punjab Act V of 1918—

See RESTRICTION OF HABITUAL OFFENDERS (PUNJAB) ACT 1918.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 614

———— Order to furnish security—Reference by Magistrate to Sessions Judge—Sessions Judge to go into merits of the case. In a proceeding under ss. 110 and 118 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, the Magistrate ordered the accused to be bound over for a period of three years and referred the case to the Sessions Judge under cl. (3) of s. 123 of the Code. The latter confirmed the order without going into the merits of the case: Held, that the words of cl. (3) of s. 123 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, were wide enough to give discretionary power to the Sessions Judge to deal with the case on the merits and pass such orders as the circumstances of the case might require. EMPEROR v. AMIR BALA (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 271

———— s. 125—

See s. 107. . 23 C. W. N. 958
I. L. R. 40 All. 143

See MAGISTRATE, POWER OF
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 72

———— Security to keep the peace—Cancellation of bond—Power of Magistrate to send accused to jail. Under s. 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure a District Magistrate may cancel a bond for good behaviour, but he is not competent to send the person whose bond is so cancelled to jail. EMPEROR v. FAKIR-UD-DIN KHAN (1911) . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 624

———— Power of the District Magistrate to cancel a security bond The District Magistrate has jurisdiction under s 125, Criminal Procedure Code, to cancel a bond to keep the peace on the ground that on the facts its execution should not have been ordered. Nabu Sardar v Emperor, I L. R 34 Calc 1, followed. MARF GOWD, Re . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 125

———— Application to cancel order for security—Appeal—Revision. An application made to the District Magistrate to cancel an order for security to keep the peace under s 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot be regarded in the same light as an appeal and the Magistrate's order thereon would not be vitiated by the fact alone that the applicant had not been heard. Semble: that on an application for revision of an order for security to keep the peace the High Court should not refuse to interfere solely on the ground that the applicant has not first applied to the District Magistrate under s. 125 EMPEROR v. SITA RAM (1917)
I. L. R. 39 All. 466

———— Appeal—Jurisdiction. A District Magistrate taking action under s. 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot treat an application made under that section as an appeal and reverse the order of a first class Magistrate on the facts If he considers the order to be wrong on the merits, he can exercise his revisional powers and submit the record to the High Court; but the cancellation of bonds contemplated by s. 125 can only be on the ground that the bonds are no longer necessary. BANARSI DAS v. PARTAB SINGH (1912) . I. L. R. 35 All. 103

———— Revision—Jurisdiction. A District Magistrate taking action on an application made ostensibly under s 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot treat such application as an appeal and reverse the order of a magistrate of the first class on the facts. If he considers the order to be wrong on the merits, he can, in the exercise of his revisional powers, submit the record to the High Court; but the cancellation of bonds contemplated by s. 125 can only be on the ground that the bonds are no longer necessary. Banarsi Das v. Partab Singh, I. L. R. 35 All. 103, followed. EMPEROR v. SHANKAR LAL (1919) . I. L. R. 41 All. 651

———— s. 133—

———— Public nuisance—Construction of dam causing injury to village lands A, B and C being contiguous villages, of which C lay at a lower level than A and B, the surplus water falling on A and B used to run off through certain natural channels over the lands of village C. The inhabitants of C erected a dam to keep the water from their lands and by so doing caused flooding of and damage to the lands of A and B. Held, that the area and number of persons affected by the action of the inhabitants of C were sufficient to justify a magistrate in treating their action as a public nuisance and taking steps to abate it under s 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. BHAROSA PATHAK (1912)
I. L. R. 34 All. 345

———— Jurisdiction—Channel which may be lawfully used by the public—Field over which water from other fields at a higher level flows. Held, that a field, which is on a lower level than the adjoining fields and over which the surplus water of those adjoining fields used to flow into a tank, even if it could be described as a channel, was not such a channel as had been or could lawfully be used by the public, and action could not be taken under s. 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, for the removal of any obstruction from it. [illegible]
All.
Shri
988,
I. L.
I. L.
SAHU v. PARMESHWAR NARAIN (1914)
I. L. R. 36 All. 209

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd.

———— s. 133—contd.

———— Claim of right, Magistrate's duty to decide bonâ fides of—Magistrate bound to refer parties to Civil Court if such claim is not mere pretence—Steps which Magistrate may take, if suit not instituted in Civil Court within reasonable time. Per SHARFUDDIN, J. (TEUNON, J., dubitant). Sub-s. (3) of s. 133, Criminal Procedure Code, provides that no order duly made by a Magistrate under the section shall be called in question in any Civil Court. From this latter provision it is clear that the provision of s. 133 Criminal Procedure Code, should be sparingly used. Any order passed under the section cannot be questioned in any Civil Court. It is therefore necessary that if the party against whom the order is contemplated to be passed raises a question that the pathway is not a public property in the sense of the provision of this section, the Magistrate trying the case should be careful not only to decide as to whether the pathway in question is situated on a private land or if it is for public use, but he should, even when the claim of the objection is not substantiated, find whether the claim is bonâ fide or it is set up only to oust the jurisdiction of the Court. If the Magistrate finds that the claim which is set up is a mere pretence, he should then proceed to pass a final order and make the rule issued by him absolute. If, however, he finds that the claim, although not substantiated, is not a mere pretence and is not raised to oust the jurisdiction of the Court, but that it is raised bonâ fide, he should stay his hand and refer the party to Civil Court. And if the party within a reasonable time does not have recourse to Civil Court, the Magistrate may then proceed to make the rule absolute. MANIPUR DEY v. BIDHU BHUSAN SARKAR (1914) . . . 18 C. W. N. 1086

———— s. 133, scope of—Claim of right, Magistrate bound to determine bonâ fides of, before appointing jury—Case in which bonâ fide claim of right raised as also appointment of jury asked for—Duty of jury to hear parties and evidence. S. 133, Criminal Procedure Code, contemplates only an enquiry as to the existence or non-existence of the obstruction complained of and not an enquiry into a disputed question of title, and where a bonâ fide claim of private right is raised, the Magistrate cannot make an order under the section, but should leave the determination of the question to the Civil Court. When once a party who raised a private right has asked for a jury and has had the case referred to the jury, the jury are bound to hear the parties and such witnesses as they may desire to be heard. When a second party to a proceeding under s. 133, Criminal Procedure Code, raises a question of private right and insists on having it decided, the Magistrate should look into the bonâ fides of that claim before submitting the case to a jury. Where, however, the second party raised the question of private right and also stated that if it was thought proper a jury might be appointed, and a jury was appointed who on evidence held that inasmuch as a question of title was involved, the proceeding could not be proceeded with and the Magistrate on perusing the materials placed before the jury decided that the matter was one for the Civil Court and dropped the proceedings: Held, that the Magistrate was justified in making the order passed by him. ASHRAFUDDIN v. KARIM BUKSH (1914) . . . 18 C. W. N. 1148

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (CODE ACT V OF 1893)—contd.

———— s. 133—contd.

———— Jury—Applicant consulted by Magistrate as to appointment of jury. In proceedings instituted under s. 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure at the instance of H against F, F applied for the appointment of a jury, which was granted. He nominated two jurors. The Magistrate called upon H, to nominate two jurors. H nominated two jurors, and the Magistrate appointed a foreman. The jury by a majority made an order against F: Held, that it is not illegal on the part of a Magistrate to address any inquiry to the applicant with a view to ascertaining the names of respectable and independent residents of the neighbourhood, who would be willing to serve on the jury: but the Magistrate should see that he does not appoint friends or partisans of the applicant. The criterion in such cases is whether the person at whose instance the proceedings were instituted was allowed to exercise rights not conferred upon him by law as if he were a party to the litigation. Upendra Nath Bhuttacharjee v. Khitish Chandra Bhuttacharjee, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 499, Kailash Chandra Sen v. Ram Lall Mittra, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 869, and Mir Imam Abdul Aziz v. Queen-Empress, Punj. Rec., 1897, Cr. J. No. 4, referred to. FARZAND ALI v. HAKIM ALI (1914)

I. L. R. 37 All. 26

———— Reasonable opportunity to show cause—Order, if can be made on result of local inspection—Vague and indefinite order. A proceeding under s. 133, Cr. P. C., is in the first instance entirely ex parte and the report or the other information whereon the Magistrate has taken action before making the conditional order is no evidence against the opposite party. It is consequently desirable that reasonable opportunity should be given to the opposite party to show cause as contemplated by s. 135, cl. (b), and to adduce evidence as prescribed by s. 137 (1). An order under s. 133 cannot even by consent of parties be based upon information gathered at a local enquiry. When in a proceeding under s. 133, instituted against a number of persons it is alleged that various unlawful obstructions have been caused upon a public way, it is essential that the order should state accurately, with regard to each person, the specific obstruction made by him, which he is required to remove, unless it is alleged that all the persons are jointly responsible for all the obstructions mentioned. Kalimohan v. Nakari Chandra, 11 C. L. J. 114, followed. RAI MOHAN KARMAKAR v. KING-EMPEROR (1916) . . . 20 C. W. N. 1171 ———— Public nuisance—illegality of order proceeding on grounds different from those set out in the notice—and relating to the manner of carrying on a trade and not to the trade itself, also referring to possible future results and not to existing facts. On the complaint of the Principal of the Khalsa College situate in the suburbs of Amritsar a notice under s. 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was issued against the petitioners in the following terms "you have dug pits by excavating land around the Khalsa College The water stagnates in them and causes a bad smell This is a nuisance to the residents of the College-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 133—contd.

In future you should not dig pits around the Khalsa College. If you do not refrain from doing so, you will be dealt with according to law." The only evidence produced for complainant was to the effect that the health of the residents of the College was likely to suffer from the smoke from the kilns, and that the stagnant water in pits within half a mile of the College was likely to breed mosquitoes and cause malaria. But the Magistrate, disregarding the only issue raised by his notice, i e, the nuisance of bad smell, directed the present petitioners not to excavate in future any fresh pits within a radius of a mile of the College on the grounds given by the witness for the complainant. Held, that the order proceeding on grounds not covered by the notice issued was illegal, and that moreover it was not proved on the present record that the water in the pits dug by the petitioners have caused or can cause malaria or any injury to health Held also, that at most the objection was to be made in which petitioners carried on their occupation of manufacturing bricks, not against the occupation itself, and that this was not sufficient to bring the case within the purview of s. 133 of the Code. Moti Shah v. The Crown (39 P R. (Cr.) 1889). Mrs. Bareiro v. The Empress (47 P. R. (Cr.) 1888) and Shadi v. The Empress (17 P. R. (Cr.) 1888), referred to. Held further, that s. 133 relates to an existing state of affairs and not to the possibility of future results. GOKAL CHAND v. THE CROWN I. L. R. 1 Lah. 163

——— Where a Magistrate finds that a claim of right set up in answer to a conditional order under s. 133, Criminal Procedure Code, is based on substantial grounds, the proper course for him to follow is to drop the proceedings; he has no jurisdiction to direct the party setting up the claim to go to the Civil Court within a specified time. PEARY LAL MULLICK v. SURENDRO KRISHNA MITTER . 24 C. W. N. 247

——— Where four only of fixed jurors appointed in a proceeding under s. 133 of the Criminal Procedure Code inspected the locality and made their report in the absence of the other juror and the Magistrate acted thereon: Held—That the Magistrate should have appointed a fresh jury and allowed the proceedings to go on with the fresh jury. SRIMATI DASYA v. NIBARAN CHANDRA GHOSH 24 C. W. N. 928

——— Criminal Procedure Code, s. 133—Obstruction of way, used by Public—Claim of—right made in good faith in answer to conditional order does not oust Magistrate's jurisdiction—Magistrate if can allow objector time to establish claim by civil suit when such claim not well-founded though made in good faith—Proceedings if can be continued when objector does not go to Civil Court within time allowed or fails there. Per CURIAM:—When in proceedings under s. 133, Criminal Procedure Code, arising out of an alleged obstruction of a way used by the public, the [illegible] which is found [illegible] good faith, the [illegible] thereby ousted. [illegible] strate finds that there is a real or substantial question to be tried out between the parties he ought, in the exercise of his discretion, to stay his hands and not proceed any further after making the conditional order under s. 133 Per SANDERSON, C. J.—The Magistrate, if he does not think the claim well-founded though he considers it made in good faith, may in his discretion allow the Defendant a reasonable time to assert the claim by a civil suit and if he does not go to the Civil Court within such time or fails there the Magistrate has jurisdiction to continue the proceedings under s. 133, Criminal Procedure Code. Per TEUNON, J.—In the exercise of his discretion the Magistrate may take the course indicated above Sub-s (2) of s. 133 does not however appear to favour any reference of parties to Civil Court. Per RICHARDSON and NEWBOLD, JJ.—The Magistrate may, if he does not think the claim well-founded though he considers it made in good faith, allow the Defendant a reasonable time to assert the claim by a civil suit. Per GHOSE, J.—The Magistrate is entitled to continue the proceedings where the objector shows nothing more than a mere belief in the claim of right put forward RAM SAYAR MONDALL v. ALEX NASKAR . . 26 C. W. N. 442

——— ss. 133, 135, 138 and 139—Issue of notice by Sub-divisional Magistrate—Option to appear and show cause before a Second-class Magistrate—Appointment of a jury—Verdict submitted to Sub-divisional Magistrate—Jurisdiction in Sub-divisional Magistrate to deal with verdict and dispose of case [illegible] or to appear before another Magistrate to have the order set aside, is not deprived of his jurisdiction but has power to deal with the matter under s. 139, Criminal Procedure Code, on receiving the verdict of the jury appointed by him under s 138 The word 'Magistrate' in s. 139 (1) refers to the Magistrate who issued notice. ANGAPPA MUDALI v. PERUMAL CHETTY (1920) I. L. R. 43 Mad. 316

——— ss. 133, 136, 137—

See PUBLIC PATHWAY I. L. R. 44 Calc. 61

——— ss. 133, 137—

See PUBLIC NUISANCE. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 158, 702

——— Order without any evidence—Determination of bonâ fides of claim absolutely necessary. Where cause is shown against a conditional order under s 133, Criminal Procedure Code, an order absolute made without any evidence and without a determination of the bonâ fides of the claim set up is illegal. RAM MONDAL v. CHANDRA MONDAL (1916) . . . 21 C. W. N. 926

——— Bonâ fide claim of right—Order staying proceedings with direction to establish right in Civil Court within limited time, if should be made without evidence. Where a claim of right raised in answer to a conditional order under s. 133 was found to be bonâ fide and it was ordered that unless the party sought to establish his right in the Civil Court within a limited time, his bonâ fides was again to be questioned by the Criminal Court: Held, that the Magistrate should not have made the order without taking evidence adduced by one side or the other. PEARY LAL MULLICK v. SURENDRO KRISHNO MITTER (1919) . . . . . 23 C. W. N. 774

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 133, 137—contd.

——— Decision of case on local enquiry in the absence of parties. Where in a proceeding under s. 133, Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate after recording evidence under s. 137 went to the spot and held a local inspection and decided the case on the result thereof making the conditional order absolute: Held, that the Magistrate acted illegally and the order made was liable to be set aside. The Magistrate was not entitled to substitute the evidence recorded in the case by his own evidence. KALI SADAY GHOSH v. SIDDHESSUR BANNERJEE (1919) 23 C. W. N. 1054

——— s. 133, 138, 139—Obstruction of a pathway—Magistrate's power to refer the matter to a jury—Bonâ fide claim to the pathway as private —Magistrate's duty to decide. In a proceeding under Chap. X, Criminal Procedure Code, relating to the obstruction of a way, it is the duty of the Magistrate before referring the matter to the jury to decide himself whether or not the claim of right to the land in question is made in good faith and whether the pathway is a public one or not, and it is only on deciding that there is no such claim that any matter can be referred to the jury. Dulalram Deb v. Baishnab Charan Deb, 10 C. W. N. 845, followed. DHARAM MANDAL v. GOSSAIN DAS MANDAL (1910) . . . 14 C. W. N. 544

——— In proceedings under s. 133 before any reference can be made to the Jury it is incumbent on the Magistrate himself to investigate any claim for right that may be set up and not to leave that question to a Jury appointed under s. 138. SHEIKH IMRAT ALI v. SHEIKH AMJAD ALI . . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 67

——— ss. 133, 435, 438 and 439—

See PRACTICE. . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 534

——— ss. 135 to 137—

See s. 133 . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 316

——— s. 138—

See s. 133. . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 316

——— s. 144—

See s. 107 . 3 Pat. L. J. 130, 243

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), ss. 332, 323 . I. L. R. 40 All. 28

See PROHIBITORY ORDER. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 876

——— Proceedings under. Advisability of taking proceedings under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, to prevent disturbance of peace considered. MANIK CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v. PREO NATH KUAR (1912) 17 C. W. N. 205

——— Renewed orders under —Jurisdiction of Magistrate—High Court's power of interference under Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict., c. 104), Art. 15. Where a renewed order passed under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, did not state that there was again a temporary emergency and a continuing or existing insufficiency of the police force to protect the petitioners in their rights. Held, that the Magistrate gave himself a more extended jurisdiction than is covered by s. 144 and the order was revisable by the High Court under art. 15, Charter Act, 24 & 25 Vict., c. 104. Their Lordships declined to set aside the order as the two months during which the order would remain in force was almost expiring on the date of hearing. GOVINDA CHETTI v. PERUMAL CHETTI (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 489

——— Scope of section—Hât, order restraining the holding of—Doing of a lawful act on one's own property if can be restrained under the section. Where the only ground mentioned for the issue of an order under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, restraining the holding of a rival hât was that the Magistrate was satisfied from the report of the police that by opening a new hât at only half a mile from the old and long established hât, the petitioners were about to disturb the public tranquillity. Held, that an injunction cannot be issued not to do a lawful act upon a man's own property, and the order in the form in which it was issued was without jurisdiction. That the holding of a hât on a man's own property is not in itself a wrongful act, and therefore any ulterior consequence which may arise from it cannot give rise to any proceeding against the owner of the land for committing an act likely to cause a breach of the peace, unless those ulterior consequences are made the basis of the proceedings. The law as regards preservation of public peace is based upon an apprehension that either certain person or persons are likely to commit breach of the peace by their own acts or that they are likely to do wrongful acts which may occasion other people to commit breach of the peace. RAKHAL DAS SINHA v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1912) 19 C. W. N. 248

——— Successive orders, propriety of—Revision by High Court of order under section after expiration of two months. A Magistrate should not by successive orders under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code extend the period of two months prescribed by cl. (5) of the section. Satish Chandra Ray v. Emperor, 11 C. W. N. 79, referred to. Case in which the High Court set aside an order under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, after the expiration of two months from the date of the order. BISHESHUR CHAKRAVARTY v. EMPEROR (1916) . . . 20 C. W. N. 758 ——— Circumstances justifying the exercise of jurisdiction by Magistrate, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 144—Circumstances justifying Magistrate exercising jurisdiction—Revision by High Court after expiration of two months from date of order. Jurisdiction under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, primarily depends on the urgency of the case and the mere statement of the Magistrate that he conisdered the danger to be imminent is not sufficient to give him jurisdiction if the facts set out by him show that really there was no urgent necessity for action being taken. In this case the High Court set aside the order although two months had expired from the date thereof. CHANDRA NATH MUKHERJEE v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY (1918) 23 C. W. N. 145

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

———— s. 144—contd.

———————— Holding of rival hât on same days as old hât, if can be prohibited under section. A Magistrate is empowered to pass an order under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, prohibiting the holding of a rival hât on the same days with the old hât. Where for the disobedience of such an order the Magistrate granted sanction for prosecution for an offence under s. 188, Indian Penal Code, and the Sessions Judge revoked it on the ground that the order under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, was illegal: Held, that the order under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, was illegal and the order of the Sessions Judge revoking the sanction should be set aside and the sanction restored. NAGENDRA NATH BISWAS v. RAKHAL DAS SINHA (1918)

23 C. W. N. 141

———————— Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 144, if empowers a Magistrate to stop prayers in a mosque to avoid a breach of the peace—Magistrate's jurisdiction to interfere with a mutwali's administration of wakf property—Proper course for Magistrate, when there is likelihood of breach of peace. A certain mutwali of a mosque appointed as peshiman, or the leader of prayers a certain person, with whom the congregation got dissatisfied. The people therefore refused to read their prayers with him and the matter went so far as to necessitate police interference Ultimately proceedings under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code, were drawn up and the Magistrate passed orders forbidding people of either party to read prayers in the said mosque: Held that the order was a misconceived one. Unless the mutwali was displaced in due course of law, no one had a right to interfere with the management of the trust property. If the effect of the order of the Magistrate was that no Mahomedan would be allowed to say his prayer in the mosque, the order was not justified under s. 144, Criminal Procedure Code. Such an order is not proper and justified by the law. The proper course for the Magistrate is to find out which party is wrong

MUNSHI BARKATALI . . 26 C. W. N. 904

———————— Scope of—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to prohibit holding of hât on one's own land and on day other than the day on which old hât was held —Ex parte order, propriety of passing—Speedy disposal of objection to order necessary. The petitioners started a new hât on their own property within a certain locality where

Petitioners shifted their hât to another place and the Magistrate again made a similar order: Held, that every person is ordinarily entitled to exercise all rights of ownership on his own property and the holding of a hât on one's property is not in itself a wrongful act. The Criminal Court assumes jurisdiction to interfere with the lawful exercise of a person's right to ownership when such exercise in its ulterior consequences and being directed primarily against the lawful exercise of another person's right of ownership is likely to cause a breach of the peace. That inasmuch as the Petitioners claimed exclusive possession of the land on which they wanted to hold the hât and intended to hold it on a day other than the day on which the hât of the Opposite Party assembled the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to make an order in the form in which it was made prohibiting the petitioners from holding their hat any day of the week and on every place within a large area. BANWARI LAL RAM v. PRONAB KRISHNA . . . 26 C. W. N. 663

———— ss. 144 and 145—Dispute regarding possession of immovable property—extent of District Magistrate's power to interfere with order of Subordinate Magistrate. Cl. (4) of s. 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code contemplates only a change in the nature of the order made, not a change in the party against whom it is made. Where, therefore, in a proceeding under s. 144 the first court made an order absolute against the second party, and the District Magistrate, acting under cl. (4) of that section, cancelled the first Court's order and substituted an order of his own, forbidding the first party from cutting the crop in dispute held, that the District Magistrate's order was without jurisdiction. Where it is clear from a perusal of the police report that the claim of the disturber of the peace is a mere pretence a Magistrate is justified in acting under s. 144. In such circumstances the party entitled to possession, should not be harassed by proceedings under s. 145. GANPAT SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 287

———— s. 145—

See s. 107 . I. L. R. 34 All. 449
I. L. R. 36 All. 143

See s. 195 . . 5 Pat. L. J. 135

See s. 522 . . 18 C. W. N. 1068

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 285
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 24, 889
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 982
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 1056
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 150

See GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT, 1915.
s. 107 1 Pat. L. J. 336

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 522

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), s. 28
ART. 47 . I. L. R. 28 Mad. 432

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

———— Compromise of a proceeding under—Effect of. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, the parties compromised and filed a petition of compromise and the trying Magistrate made an cl. (6) of s. 145, but it fell under cl. (5) of s. 145.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 145—contd.

That as both parties came to Court and showed that no dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace existed inasmuch as they had compromised the Magistrate was precluded from passing an order under cl. (6). That the existence of this order did not bar a subsequent proceeding under s. 145 on a fresh dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace arising between the parties. SADHU BISWAS v. MAHAMAD ALI BISWAS (1910)
15 C. W. N. 568

———— Adjournment—Property of—Witnesses, processes to enforce attendance of, when may be refused. A Magistrate, acting under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, should take all the evidence that is produced before him on the day originally fixed by him for the disposal of the proceeding, and unless he considers it necessary for good reason to require further evidence, should decide then and there, if he can, which of the parties was in actual possession. Where the Magistrate, on the application of one of the parties, on the date originally fixed for the disposal of the proceeding under s. 145, granted an adjournment and issued summons on witnesses named by the party, some of whom did not appear on the adjourned date and some of those present were not examined by the party calling them, and the Magistrate on the application of the party issued fresh summons and warrants for the arrest of the absent witnesses, again adjourning the hearing, and none of these witnesses appeared on the date so fixed, and the party applied for fresh adjournment and the issue of fresh processes: Held, that having regard to the previous conduct of the party concerned and also to the circumstance that the witnesses mentioned could not be found, the Magistrate acted rightly in refusing to issue fresh process. Held, further, that the Magistrate should not have granted any adjournment after the date originally fixed for the disposal of the proceeding, as in the present case, no adequate reason appears to exist for granting such adjournment. HARIPADA MANDAL v. SANYASI CHARAN BISWAS (1912)
17 C. W. N. 144

———— Failure to file written statements in time—Omission to adduce evidence on date fixed—Magistrate if may pass final order without granting time. Where the parties to a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, did not file their written statement or adduce evidence, though more than two months had expired from the date, the proceeding was drawn up, but applied for time to file the written statements: Held, that the Magistrate did not act without jurisdiction in refusing to grant time and in attaching the disputed land under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, on the failure of the parties to adduce evidence. Sheikh Mansar Ali v. Matiullah, 12 C. W. N. 896, distinguished. BEJOY MADHUB CHOWDHURY v. CHANDRA NATH CHUCKERBUTTY (1909) . . . . . 14 C. W. N. 80

———— Proceedings after final order—Magistrate if may take proceedings by way of execution of the final orders in proceeding under—Ultra vires—Police putting party in possession—Legality. After passing final order declaring a party to a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, to be in possession, the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to take any proceedings in the nature of execution of that order. Where after the Magistrate in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, had declared the first and third parties to be in possession of the property in dispute, the police gave formal possession to those parties by planting bamboos but disputes still not ceasing, the Magistrate held a local enquiry and again declared the possession of the first and third parties and a further inquiry was held to determine whether the property of which possession had been declared was identical with the subject of the proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code: Held, that all the proceedings after the final order passed by the Magistrate in the proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, were ultra vires. There is no specific provision in the Code authorising a Magistrate to take proceedings in the nature of execution after passing orders under s. 145. KUMAR RONENDRA NARAIN ROY v. KISHORI LAL ROY CHOWDHURY (1909) . . . . . 14 C. W. N. 73

———— Title proof of—Evidence. Evidence of title is admissible in an inquiry under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) to enable the Court to decide the question of actual possession, but proof of title is not proof of actual possession. PANAGANTI PARTHASARATHY NAYANIM v. PALLIKAPPU VENKATASAMI REDDY (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 138

———— Public claming easement if may be party—to a proceeding under the section—Declaring the public to be in possession, effect of —Joint possession—Ousting of Jurisdiction of the Magistrate—Right of the public to be in possession for one day in the year to perform puja, nature of—Easement—Constructive conditional possession—Proceeding not directed to the decision of the absolute continuing possession of either party ultra vires. If the public are declared under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, to be in possession of any piece of land then both parties to the dispute are included in that term and the possession therefore is joint possession and the jurisdiction of the Court under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code is ousted. Where one of the parties to a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, representing the public claimed only the right to worship on the disputed land on one day in the year and the right to make due and proper preparations for the holding of that worship by erecting huts for the purpose of holding puja: Held, the right of such party to be in possession for one day in the year or to take such steps as are necessary to prepare for the puja is in the nature of an easement and not in the nature of possession. Proceedings under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, are entirely without juri diction unless they are directed to the decision of the absolute continuing possession of either party until they are ousted by the order of the Civil Court. MANIK CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v. PREO NATH KUAR (1912) . 17 C. W N. 205

————Disputed land—Pathways thereon—Possession of disputed land found with one party—Order directing pathways to remain intact and remainder of disputed land to remain in possession of successful party—Jurisdiction to make such order. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate found that the disputed land was in possession of the second party but directed that two pathways on the disputed land should remain intact and only the remainder of the disputed land should remain in possession of the second party: Held, that there is nothing in s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, which gives a Magistrate power to pass an order of this kind ASIT MOHAN GHOSH v. SARAT CHANDRA GHOSH (1913) 17 C. W. N. 793

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

——— s. 145—contd.

——— Jurisdiction of High Court to deal in revision with orders passed under s. 145—S. 139, meaning of words "otherwise comes to its knowledge"—Ss 438, 439, compared—S 145, Criminal Procedure Code—Defective preliminary order, effect of. Ss. 143, 144, 145 and 146, Criminal Procedure Code, deal with proceedings which are not criminal or punitive but prohibitive and where cause is shown, the local magistracy has unfettered discretion to act under them. Therefore from the use of the word "otherwise" in s 438 a power in the Sessions Judge and the District Magistrate to interfere with such orders cannot be inferred when they are expressly forbidden by s 435 to call for records Sequitter · The words in s 439 "the record of which has called for by itself" are not limited to cases where the High Court acts suo motu. The history of the law relating to superintendence and revision by the High Court reviewed An omission to set forth in a preliminary order under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the grounds of a Magistrate's opinion do not affect the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. Khosh Mahomed Sirkar v. Nazir Mahomed, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 352, discussed, and Subrahmania Ayyar v. King-Emperor, I L. R 25 Mad 61, distinguished The essential requisite to give a Magistrate jurisdiction under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, is that he must be satisfied from information of some sort that a dispute exists likely to cause a breach of the peace concerning land or water or the boundaries thereof in his jurisdiction. Once he is so satisfied his jurisdiction is complete and his subsequent action must be considered in relation to procedure not jurisdiction. KAMAL KUTTY v UDAYAVARMA RAJA VALI RAJA OF CHIRAKKAL (1913)
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 275

——— Omission of Magistrate to give effect to presumption arising from recently published record-of-rights, if a question of jurisdiction. The omission of the Magistrate in making an order under s. 145, Criminal Procedure [illegible]

Magistrate, and the High Court cannot interfere on that ground. CHINTAMONI JINA v. JAGANNATH RAMANUJA DAS (1914) . . 19 C. W. N. 123

——— Rent, collection of dispute regarding, between lakherajdar and putnidar —Decision in the absence of tenants—Produce rent, applicability of section to. The disputed land in respect of which proceedings under s 145, Criminal Procedure Code, were instituted consisted of several plots all held by tenants on a yearly rent of half the produce. The parties to the proceedings were the lakherajdar and the putnidar, the dispute between whom was as to the right to collect rent It appeared that as regards some of the plots there was a dispute as to what tenants were in possession. Held, that as regards the plots about which there was a dispute as to the tenants in possession, the Magistrate should not have made any order in the absence of tenants who might be very seriously prejudiced by an order in favour of one or other of the parties to the proceedings. Held (as to the argument that s 145, Criminal Procedure Code, could not refer to a half-share of the produce), that it was true that if it was a question of dividing a hitherto-undivided share the section might not apply, but in the present case the section applied, as it was a question of rent and it so happened that the rent was half the share of the produce; but there was no question of shares as between the two parties to the proceeding. HARI DAS SAMANTA v ABDUL MOTLEB MULLICK (1915) . . 19 C. W. N. 959

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 145—contd.

——— Refusal of process against witness—Final order without jurisdiction. Where in a proceeding under s 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the petitioner applied for summons against a witness, a Sub-Inspector of Police, and the Magistrate made an order that the Sub-Inspector was to appear with his diaries, but on the date on which the case was to be heard the witness did not appear, and on the petitioner again applying for summons against him the Magistrate rejected the application remarking that the application was vexatious and ultimately passed the final order under s 145, Criminal Procedure Code: Held, that the order under s 145, Criminal Procedure Code, was made without jurisdiction. GAIJUDDI HOWLADAR v AINUDDI HOWLADAR (1913) . . . 18 C. W. N. 94

——— Non-examination of witness on either side—Final order on documentary evidence dating back to ten years previous to date of proceeding—Magistrate's duty under cl (4)—Jurisdiction. In a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, no witness was examined on either side, but the Magistrate decided the case on the documents filed before him, the latest of those documents dating back to about ten years before the date of the proceeding. It appeared that one of the parties was present in Court but was not examined. Held, that the Magistrate was bound to take such further evidence as became necessary after a consideration of the documents, and the final order was without jurisdiction. Cl. (4) of s 145 clearly provides that the [illegible] ——— Order under section contrary to decree of Civil Court The petitioners, the second party to the proceeding under s 145, Criminal Procedure Code, obtained a decree against one of the first party and another person who were entitled to an undivided one-fourth share in the property in dispute. This share was sold in execution of the decree and purchase by the decree-holders, the petitioners, who obtained delivery of possession through the Court. The Magistrate finding that the petitioners were never in actual possession of the property and the crop was grown by the first party made an order in favour of the latter. Held, that the order was liable to be set aside. ATUL HAZRAH v. UMA CHARAN CHONGDAR (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 796

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 145—contd.

——— Addition of parties —Sub-s. 4 (1)—Wrongful and forcible dispossession —Digging tank with sanction of Municipality—Party if must have had notice of the proceeding to be concerned in the dispute. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, it appeared that one of the parties within two months from the commencement of the proceeding obtained sanction from the Municipality and proceeded to dig a tank on the land in dispute to the exclusion of another party who was then found to be in possession: Held, that it was forcible and wrongful dispossession within the meaning of sub-s. 4, cl. (1), of s. 145. Held, further, that under the Full Bench Ruling in Krishna Kamini v. Abdul Jubbar, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 155: s. c. 6 C. W. N. 737, a party may be added provided he was concerned originally in the dispute which was the foundation of the proceeding and there is no necessity for a fresh proceeding. Further, if a party is added before the inquiry begins, there is no irregularity. That whether or not there was then an apprehension of a breach of the peace is a matter eminently for the exercise of the Magistrate's discretion. For a person to be concerned in a dispute relating to land, it is not necessary to be actually present near the land or to have had notice of the proceeding when started. MANMOTHA NATH CHATTERJI v. GANGA GIR GOSSAIN (1916) . . 20 C. W. N. 978 ——— Joint title to land, effect of, on the applicability of the section. The mere fact that there may be a joint title to the land would not prevent the application of s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code. Basanta Kumari Dassi v. Mohesh Chandra Saha, 17 C. W. N. 944, followed. BAIJNATH MARWARI v. W. S. STREET (1916) . . . . 20 C. W. N. 518 ——— Order without recording oral evidence on either side. Where a Magistrate made an order under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, without giving either party an opportunity of adducing oral evidence as to possession. Held, that the order was liable to be set aside. SAKHAYUR ALI v. ALHADI HAZI (1917)

21 C. W. N. 928

——— Proceedings, if can be had after order under s. 107, Criminal Procedure Code—Jurisdiction. There would be no want of jurisdiction on the part of a Magistrate to continue proceedings under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, after having made an order under s. 107, Criminal Procedure Code. NASIRUDDIN SARKAR v. GOFURUDDIN MAHAMED (1916)

21 C. W. N. 160

——— Government of India Act, 1915, s. 107—Order under s. 145 by a Magistrate duly empowered to act under Chapter XII—Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court. Where proceedings are in intention, in form, and in fact proceedings under Chapter XII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and are taken by a Magistrate duly empowered to act under that chapter, the High Court has no power to send for the record of those proceedings either under the Code of Criminal Procedure or under the Government of India Act, 1915. There is no practical difference between s. 107 of the Government of India Act, 1915, and s. 15 of the Charter Act. Jhingai Singh v. Ram Partab, I. L. R. 31 All. 150, Maharaj Tewari v. Har Charan Rai, I. L. R. 26 All. 144, Sayeda Khatun v. Dal Singh, I. L. R. 36 All. 233, Babban Singh v. Baldeo Singh, 4 All. L. J. 91, Har Prasad v. Pandurang, All. W. N., 1905, p. 260, Baldeo Baksh Singh v. Raj Ballan Singh, 2 All. L. J. 274, and Muhammad Suleman Khan v. Fatima, I. L. R. 9 All. 104, referred to. Nathu Ram v. Emperor through Puran Mal, 15 All. L. J. 270, and in re Mathu Mal, I. L. R. 24 All. 315, distinguished. Parmeshwar Singh v. Kailaspati, 1 Patna, L. J. 336, dissented from. MATUKDHARI SINGH v. JAISRI (1917)

I. L. R. 39 All. 612

——— Magistrate's refusal to take documentary evidence when mineral rights claimed on leases and settlements, if material irregularity in procedure—Error of law and judgment—Interference of High Court. Where the dispute was regarding the mineral rights in a certain area between the lessees under the putnidars and the dar-putnidars and the Magistrate declined to accept or consider documentary evidence on either side: Held, per CHITTY AND RICHARDSON, J.J. (TEUNON, J., contra), that whether or not it is possible to decide the question of actual possession on the materials before him, it is for the Magistrate to decide, and where he was found it possible to decide that question there is no material irregularity in procedure in rejecting evidence as to title and the High Court will not interfere if the Magistrate committed an error of law or of judgment. SUJAHDI MONDAL v. F. L. CORK (1917)

22 C. W. N. 499

——— Supplementary order at the instance of one party without notice to the other. Proceedings under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, were drawn up in respect of certain premises consisting of a dalan, a hotel and a privy and the Magistrate made his final order with regard to the first two. Subsequently the omission in respect of the privy being brought to his notice by one of the parties the Magistrate declared that party's possession of it without any notice to the other party. Held, that the order should not have been made without hearing the other party. NATABAR DUTT v. BIRESWAR RAKHIT (1917)

22 C. W. N. 552

——— Whether applicable to a joint holding, separate portion of which is held by each co-owner—necessity for enquiry into possession—Revision by High Court. Mussammat M., complainant-petitioner, filed an application under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, alleging that she had been in possession of her husband's land since his death, and that certain reversioners of her husband's property had forcibly taken possession of it, and that she feared for her life. The Magistrate after a summary enquiry, issued notice to the opposite party calling upon them to file their written statements with regard to the actual possession of the land. In the statements filed they claimed to be entitled to the land in question alleging that Mst. M. had re-married and further alleging that the khata was joint. Mst. M. was examined and stated that she had been in possession of the land for many years; that she did not know whether there had been any partition, but that the various joint owners had held separate portions of the joint holding for themselves, each one b[illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 145—contd.

The [illegible]
enqui[illegible]
s. 14[illegible]
cable to disputes for possession of joint land. Held, that s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, was applicable to a case where the dispute is betwen co-sharers, each claiming to be in possession of the disputed land to the exclusion of the others, and that the Magistrate should have inquired and decided whether or not the applicant had been recently in actual possession. Musammat MALAN v. MAKHAN SINGH . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 372 ——— Government of India Act, 1915, s. 107—Order under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure made by a Magistrate duly empowered to act under Chapter XII of the Code—Revision—Jurisdiction. When proceedings are in intention, in form and in fact proceedings under chap. XII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and are tal[illegible] under [illegible]

to sen[illegible]
under [illegible]
Government of India Act, 1915. Matukdhari Singh v. Jaisri, I. L. R. 39 All. 612, followed. It is, however open to a party in such a case to satisfy the High Court that property of which he is entitled to possession has been dealt with by an order which has no legal authority at all, and he may do so by an affidavit or in any other reliable manner, and thereby invoke the superintending power of the Court. SUNDAR NATH v. BARANA NATH (1918) . . . I. L. R. 40 All. 364

——— Symbolical possession, value of, and how far a determining factor—Magistrate's duty to decide actual possession where considerable time has elapsed since delivery of symbolical possession. The second party's case was that they purchased the disputed property at a sale in execution of a money-decree against one N and his sons while the first party alleged that the property belonged to the whole body of villagers [illegible]

dence must vary inversely with the time that has elapsed since the date of the decree and the delivery of possession thereunder and it was incumbent on the Magistrate to consider the question of actual possession at the date of the proceedings on the evidence adduce on that point before he could make a final order. HAZARI KHAN v. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHAUDHURY (1917)
22 C. W. N. 479

——— Civil Court decree against third parties when and how far binding on [illegible] first party previously brought a suit for rent against some persons not parties to the proceeding and purchased the disputed property at the sale in execution of an ex parte decree obtained therein and was put into possession without the knowledge of the second party and the Magistrate found that the rent suit was not a bonâ fide one brought by the landlord against tenants in possession and declared the second party to be in possession of the disputed land: Held, that in the circumstances of the case the order of the Magistrate was not erroneous and was not liable to be set aside. Per WALMSLEY, J.—That a previous order of the Civil Court relating to the property in dispute may throw light upon the matter but the evidentiary value to be attached to such a piece of evidence must depend upon the particular circumstances of the individual case. Per SHAMSUL HUDA, J.—That decrees of Court so far as third parties are concerned may have different values in different cases. Where for instance there has been a real contest between the parties to a suit and upon an adjudication regarding title or possession a party has been awarded a decree and has been put in possession in execution of such a decree it may not be enough for a party claiming adversely to such a decree to show that he was not a party to it. Cases of money decrees followed by sale of properties would stand on a different footing. In those cases the sale in execution only passes the right title and interest [illegible] and there is an adjudication on such claim or where the delivery of possession leads to an investigation under O. XXI, rr. 97 to 100, Criminal Procedure Code In estimating the value of delivery of possession against third parties it is also material to see what is the true nature of the possession said to have been delivered. ATUL CHANDRA MANDAL v. SRINATH LAIK (1919)

23 C. W. N. 982

——— Order declaring one party to be in possession of property in the joint possession of both parties. Where it was found that the second party was in possession of the disputed land on behalf of the first party as also on behalf of himself, both parties being members of the same family, and the Magistrate declared the second party to be in possession of the disputed land: Held, that the order was without jurisdiction. Tarujan Bibi v. Asamuddi Bepari, 4 C. W. N. 426, followed. KINU MONDAL v. HAJI BAUL MONDAL (1919) . 21 C. W. N. 1051 ——— Omission to add proper parties—Jurisdiction of High Court—Government of India Act, 1915, s. 107—Difference of opinion in a Divisional Bench—Opinion of Senior Judge, when prevails—Letters Patent, s. 36—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 429, 439. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Cr. P. C., the Petitioner applied to the Magistrate to be made a party on the ground that she was in pos[illegible] which [illegible] ch she [illegible] appli-

[illegible] omission to join a party in a proceeding under s. 145, Cr. P. C., is not an error of jurisdiction and there was no irregularity in the case resulting in such prejudice as would justify the interference of the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— s. 145—contd.

High Court : Per SHAMSUL HUDA, J.—That there were reasonable grounds in the case for the apprehension that the action taken by the Magistrate resulted in a serious failure of justice which justified the interference of the High Court which was not confined to questions of jurisdiction alone. There being this difference the opinion of the senior Judge prevailed. MOIRAM BEWAH v. MRIJAN SARDAR . . . . 24 C. W. N. 97 —— Likelihood of breach of the peace, basis of jurisdiction under the section—Correct specification of subject-matter of dispute in proceeding necessary. Where in his order directing the issue of a proceeding under s. 145, Cr. P. C., the Magistrate was of opinion that there was no likelihood of a breach of the peace but as the dispute was one relating to possession, s. 145, Cr. P. C., was applicable : Held—That the Magistrate acted without jurisdiction inasmuch as the basis of jurisdiction in cases of this character is the likelihood of a breach of the peace. Absence of a clear specification of the subject-matter of dispute in the proceeding drawn up is a serious defect. SIR NARAIN MUKHERJEE v. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSAL . . . 24 C. W. N. 621

—— Ex parte order—Written return of service by the peon—Affidavit proving service, if necessary—Allegation of non-service of notice of order under cl. (1) of s. 145—Application for rehearing, refusal of, by Magistrate—Magistrate's duty—High Court, power of, to order rehearing. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Cr. P. C., the first party having been absent though there was a written return of service on them, by the peon, the Magistrate passed an order in favour of the second party upon taking evidence of that party, and subsequently on the first party having filed an application to the Magistrate for rehearing of the case on the allegation of non-service of the notice of the order under cl. (1), s. 145, the Magistrate refused the said application on the ground that the case could not be revived, and thereupon the first party moved the High Court : Held—That the Magistrate should not have rejected the application for reopening of the case without satisfying himself about the truth or otherwise of the allegation of the first party as to the notice not having been served, and in these circumstances the High Court directed that the matter be reheared by the Magistrate. KALI CH. KAPALI v. ABDUL LASKAR . . 24 C. W. N. 902 —— Proceeding under s. 145, relating to dispute concerning lac on trees standing on the lands of a part whether without jurisdiction—Lac whether comes within definition of land under s. 145. Trees may come within the definition of land in s. 145, Cr. P. C., as being "produce of land," but lac which is not a part of the tree itself but is a parasitic growth on the tree is not "crop" or a "produce of land." Proceedings held under s. 145, Cr. P. C., in respect of lac are therefore without jurisdiction. The definition of "land" as including "crops" or the "produce" is for the purpose of s. 145 only and there is no such definition in connection with s. 147. ALI MOHAMMAD MONDAL v. FAKIRUDDI MUNSHI 24 C. W. N. 1039.

—— Wrongful and forcible possession, meaning of. Under sub-s. 4 of s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, dispossession may be wrongful and yet not forcible. A dispossession otherwise than in due course of law is wrongful. It is not necessary that actual force or violence should have been used to some person or persons before a dispossession can be said to be forcible. When the dispossession is effected by a show of criminal force sufficient to intimidate those in possession and to deter them from resistance it is forcible within the meaning of the section. SITANATH SHAHA BHOUMIC v. A. HARVEY 25 C. W. N. 601 —— Effect of sub-s. (5)—Duty of party to satisfy Magistrate as to non-existence of likelihood of breach of peace. The effect of sub-s. (5), to s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, is that unless a party is in a position to show to the Magistrate that there is no likelihood of a breach of the peace the Magistrate's order under sub-s. (1) stands. The mere absence of a finding of the Magistrate that there is likelihood of a breach of the peace where there are mere allegations by the parties to the contrary does not go to the root of the Magistrate's jurisdiction. RANADA-RANJAN BHATTACHARJEE v. BHARAT CHANDRA SHAHA . . . . 25 C. W. N. 215 —— Reference to arbitration—acquiescence essence in award. Where a dispute concerning the possession of land is referred to arbitration by consent of the parties, and the award of the arbitrators is acquiesced in by the parties, the Magistrate is entitled to proceed under cl. (4) of s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and he is not bound to insist upon the production of evidence. HALDHAR SINGH v. BULAKI SINGH 3 Pat. L. J. 248

—— Where in a proceeding under s. 145 the Magistrate without taking any evidence made the final order on the basis of a local enquiry of which no note or memorandum was seconded and on the basis further of a judgment in a Criminal Case under s. 448 of the Penal Code between a relation and some members. Held, that the final order was based upon no evidence and must be set aside. GAGAN HOWLADA v. KARIMUDDI CHOWKIDAR . 25 C. W. N. 1007 —— Dispute regarding immovable property—Right to tap a tree. The right to tap a tree is a question which may be the subject of proceeding under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. Where, in a proceeding under s. 145, the Magistrate directed the second party to leave an opening in a wall which he was building for the purpose of allowing the first party to tap a tree : Held, that the order was without jurisdiction. JIB LAL MAHTO v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . 3 Pat. L. J. 316

—— Dispute concerning possession of mica mines—order with regard to possession of mines and of mica stored in a godown validity of—whether order separable. When the produce of land has been removed from and is wholly unconnected with and dissociated from the land in dispute a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to deal with it under s. 145 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. In a dispute concerning the possession of a mica mine the Magistrate made an order with regard not only to the possession of the mines, but also with regard to the possession of certain mica which had been taken out of the mines and stored in a godown belonging to a person unconnected with the parties and their dispute, in a village other than that in which the mine in dispute was situate. Held, that the order with regard to the possession of the mica in the godown was bad and must be set aside, but that the order being divisible the porton regarding possession of the mines would be maintained. SUNDER LALL v. JHARI LALL 2 Pat. L. J. 637 ——— Delegation of duties to arbitrators by Magistrate validity of—jurisdiction, wrongful delegation of duties is. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction, even with the consent of the parties, to make over an enquiry under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, to any other person. Sub-s. (4) of s. 145 makes it clear that the section contemplates only an enquiry by the person directed by the Act to hold it and by no one else. S. 145 read as a whole does not give the person charged with holding the enquiry under that section, the right or power to delegate the duties which have been vested in him to any other person to hold an enquiry or to ascertain the facts which the law requires the Magistrate to do himself. It is a question of jurisdiction whether a person has power to delegate his duties or not. A person who has no power to delegate his duties to another acts in excess of jurisdiction by delegating his powers to another. HAMIDUL HAQUE v. JHEISH ATAIT HUSSAIN . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 86

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 145—contd.

——— Cancellation by District Magistrate of an order of his predecessor passed under sub-s. (1) of s. 145—Whether intra vires—Revision. Held, that a Magistrate has jurisdiction to cancel an order passed under sub-s. (1) of s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, and to stay proceedings, if he becomes satisfied, whatever the source of information may be, that the state of things does not exist, which alone would give him jurisdiction to proceed with the enquiry. The High Court cannot interfere in such cases as the Magistrate has not acted without jurisdiction. Manindra Chandra Nandi v. Barada Kanta Chowdry (I. L. R 30 Calc. 112), followed. SANTOKH SINGH v. RAM SINGH . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 364

——— The absence of a likelihood of a breach of the peace deprives a Magistrate of Jurisdiction. RASICK LAL HORE v. JAGABANDHU ROY (1920) . . 25 C. W. N. 214

——— Where in a proceeding under s. 145 it appeared that a proper appreciation of the oral evidence was impossible in the absence of an important document. Held, that the Magistrate was wrong to refuse to grant an adjournment for the production thereof. BISWAMBHAR ROY BASHIA v. AMINUDDIN TALUKDAR 25 C. W. N. 602

——— Where is a case under the section the parties amicably made a reference of their dispute to 5 arbitrators and the Magistrate made his final order on an award given by 4 although both parties contested the validity. Held, that a reference is not contemplated in a proceeding under this section which directs the Magistrate himself to decide the question of actual possession thought if both parties had accepted the award he could have proceeded under sub-s. 5. JAMUNADAS KIJRIWALA v. HANUMAN BAKSH MARWARI . . . . . 25 C. W. N. 719

——— Heirs of judgment-debtors remaining in possession notwithstanding delivery of possession to auction-purchaser by Civil Court—Such [illegible] and [illegible]
Disp [illegible]
actua [illegible]
decree against the predecessor of the first party possession was given to the auction-purchaser the second party, of a tank on the 17th November 1918 during the lifetime of the judgment-debtor and of a residential house on the 16th May 1920 after his death. On the 22nd January 1921 proceedings under s. 145 were taken in respect of the tank and the house. It was found that notwithstanding the delivery of possession by the Court, the first party who were the heirs and representatives of the original judgment-debtor continued all along to be in possession up to the date of the proceedings: Held, that the possession of the first party from the date of the death of the judgment-debtor to the date of the proceeding was adverse to the second party and in that view the order in favour of the second party in respect of the tank should be set aside. That having regard to the fact that the case of the second party was that actual possession was given to them of the house on the 16th May 1920 and having regard to the finding that the first party was in possession up to the date of the proceeding, it was clear that between the delivery of possession and the institution of the proceedings there was dispossession of the second party and the order in their favour in respect of the house was also liable to be set aside. SHAHABAJ MANDAL v. BHAJOHARI NATH . . 25 C. W. N. 743

——— Collection of offerings at a Karbala, whether proceedings with regard to, are incompetent—Counsel, right of, to be heard. A dispute with respect to the collection of offerings at a Karbala cannot be the subject-matter of a proceedings under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. The words "hear the parties" in s. 145 (4) mean "hear the evidence of the parties and arguments of Counsel or Pleaders appearing on their behalf or arguments addressed by themselves," and if the Magistrate refuses to hear arguments he is not complying with the provisions of the law, which are imperative. GHULAM SIBTAIN v. MUSSAMMAT KANIZ KHATTON 5 Pat. L. J. 246

——— Possession given under decree of Civil Court, whether bars proceedings—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, rr. 35 and 36. Where possession of immovable property has been delivered to an auction purchaser under O. XXI, r. 35 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, a Magistrate acts without jurisdiction in proceeding under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and in making an order against the auction-purchaser under that section. The possession which is delivered to an auction-purchaser under O. XXI, r. 35, is actual possession and not symbolical formal possession as under r. 36 of that Order. BEHARI GIR v. RANI BHUBANESWARI KOER . . 5 Pat. L. J. 104

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 145—concld.

——— A Magistrate should in the final order made by him under s. 145 sufficiently state the reasons therefore so that the High Court in revision may determine whether or not the Magistrate has complied with the provisions of sub-s. 4 of s. 145 and directed his mind to the consideration of the effect of the evidence adduced before him. BHUBAN CHANDRA HAZRA v. NIBARAN CHANDRA SANTRA . 25 C. W. N. 887

——— ss. 145, 146—

See s. 107 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 243

See JALKAR . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 469

See RECEIVER . . 14 C. W. N. 681

——— Disputed land under water rendering act of possession by either party impossible—Order in favour of one party on the ground of his possession in the previous year—Substitution by High Court of order undre s. 146 for order under s. 145. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate made the final order in favour of one party, finding that as there could not be any act of peaceful possession within two months of the date of the proceeding owing to the land being under water, the possession of the current year was to be presumed in favour of the man who was in possession during the previous years: Held, that the order was in direct contravention of s. 145, cl. (4), and the Magistrate should have passed an order under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court substituted an order under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, for the order under s. 145 made by the Magistrate. SATYENDRA NATH BANERJI v. KRISHNADHAN ADHECARY (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 1014 ——— Inherent power of Magistrate to release property from attachment. Khushi Ram, Petitioner, presented an application to the Magistrate praying for the release of a house which had been attached in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, on the ground that Shadi Ram, the other claimant, had died, and that he, Petitioner, was his heir. The Magistrate refused this application as no judgment of a competent Court was produced as required by s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code. Held, that s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, is not exclusive, and that an attaching Magistrate has inherent power to release from attachment. When all likelihood of a breach of the peace has disappeared all necessity ceases for maintaining any orders passed on account of the dispute. Sreeputty Churn v. The Empress, (24 W. R. 14 (Cr.). The Queen v. Kaly Kishore Roy (25 W. R. 68 (Cr.), referred to. KHUSHI RAM v. THE CROWN . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 451

——— Dispute as to immovable property—attachment of immovable property and movables found therein. In a proceeding under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate, under clause (4), attached the subject-matter in dispute, viz., a certain village and a math situate therein, and directed the Sub-Inspector of Police to take charge of them. The Sub-Inspector accordingly attached the property including some cattle that were found by him in the math at the time of attachment. Eventually the Magistrate directed the attachment of the village and math under s. 146 of the Code until the rights of the parties should be determined by a competent court. Held, that the attachment of the cattle was not illegal. The Sub-Inspector was bound to take charge of everything that was within the math including the cattle. After attachment no party had a right to enter the math or to take possession of the property moveable or immovable appertaining to and found within the math. MAHANT BHARAT DAS v. RAM CHAR TAR DAS

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 145, 146—concld.

1 Pat. L. J. 356

——— ss. 145 and 146—Dispute regarding immoveable property—ouster of party in possession by appointment of Receiver—validity of appointment. A Magistrate cannot legally appoint a Receiver in proceedings under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. It is only when the Magistrate finds that there is no one in possession of the disputed property, or the evidence is so conflicting that it is impossible to find who is in possession, that he is empowered under s. 146 to attach the property and appoint a Receiver. In proceedings under s. 145 the Magistrate must confirm the party who is in actual possession and he is not competent to dispossess such a party by appointing a Receiver. Persons who continue to remain on the property after the appointment of a Receiver appointed in such circumstances cannot legally be convicted under s. 448 of the Indian Penal Code. An order of attachment under the second proviso to sub-s. (4) of s. 145 has no greater effect than a Civil Court attachment. MIWA LALL v. KING-EMPEROR . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 147

——— ss. 145, 147—

See JURISDICTION . 4 Pat. L. J. 154

——— Offerings made to a deity whether could be the subject-matter of proceeding under s. 145—Profits arising out of land, whether offerings—Ss. 145 and 147, analogy between. In a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to make a declaration that a certain party is entitled to the possession of the offerings made to a deity in a temple. The offerings given by worshippers for the worship of any deity are not profits arising out of land, e.g., the place of worship. These offerings arise out of the deity irrespective of the building or the land upon which he may happen to dwell. A case under s. 147, Criminal Procedure Code, is to be decided by the same procedure and on the same principles as a case under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code. A dispute as to the possession of the offerings is a dispute about moveable property; and it is now settled law that s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, has no concern with moveable property. RAM SARAN PATHUK v. RAGHUNANDAN GIR (1910)

16 C. W. N. 574

——— ss. 145, 350—

See MAGISTRATE, TRANSFER OF

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 812

——— ss. 145, 356(1), (3)—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 381

——— ss. 145, 435 and 439—Government of India, Act, 1915, s. 107—Revision—Powers of High Court. S. 107 of the Government of India Act, 1915, does not give to a High Court the ——— ss. 145, 435 and 439—concld.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

power to interfere in revision, despite the provisions of s. 435 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, with orders passed under Chapter XII of the Code. Ananda Chandra Bhuttacharjee v. Carr Stephen, I. L. R. 19 Calc. 127, not followed. Jhingai Singh v. Ram Pratap, I. L. R. 31 All. 150, Sunder Nath v. Barana Nath, I. L. R. 40 All. 364, and Syeda Khatun v. Lal Singh, I. L. R. 30 All. 333, referred to. Girdhari Singh v. Hurdeo Naruin Singh, L. R. 3 I. A. 230, distinguished. EMPEROR v. SAKHAWAT ALI (1918)

I. L. R. 41 All. 302

——— ss. 145 and 435—Revision—Jurisdiction—Powers of High Court. Held, that the High Court has no power to interfere in revision with an order passed by a Magistrate under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Jhingai Singh v. Ram Partab, I. L. R. 31 All. 150, and Maharaj Tewari v. Har Charan Rai, I. L. R. 26 All. 144, followed. SAYEDA KHATUN v. LAL SINGH (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 233

——— Revision—Powers of High Court—Order giving possession of immoveable property modified in effect by independent order as part of such property. There being a dispute between two parties concerning the possession of a house, a magistrate of a first class took proceedings under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and ordered that possession of the house should be made over to one of the parties. Inasmuch, however, as certain movable property concerning which the parties were disputing had been locked up in two rooms of the house in question by the orders of the police, the Magistrate passed a second and independent order that the two rooms in question were to remain locked until the rights of the parties to the movable property therein were determined by a Civil Court. Held that, whatever might be the case with the order as to [illegible]

I. L. [illegible]

——— ss. 145 and 522—Possession—Ouster [illegible] power to oust one person and to place another in possession of a disputed property. Therefore the order of the District Magistrate in his capacity as the head of the police, declining to carry out such an order is not open to revision by the High Court. The only provision in the Code of Criminal [illegible] ——— ss. 145, 439——Where in proceedings under Ch. XII of the Code the initial order was defective in that it did not set forth the grounds for the Magistrate being satisfied of the existence of a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace but on the other hand both parties were fully cognizant of the matter in dispute and there was in fact danger of a breach of the peace the High Court declined in revision to interfere with the Magistrate's Order. GANGA SARAN SINGH v. BHAGWAT PRASAD . . I. L. R. 32 All. 132

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 145, 439—concld.

——— ss. 145, 526—Transfer "Criminal case"—"Accused person." Held, that the expression 'criminal case' as used in s. 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure includes a proceeding initiated under s. 145 of the Code, and that the High Court under s. 526 has power to transfer such a proceeding under one Court to another Court subject to all the conditions under which a transfer can be made. Arumuga Tegundan, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 188, Lolit Mohan Moitra v. Surja Kanta Acharjee, I. L. R. 28 Calc. 709, and Gurudas Nag v. Gaganandra Nath Tagore, 2 C. L. J. 614, referred to. In re Pandurang Govind Pujari, I. L. R. 25 Bom. 179, dissented from. An 'accused person' is one over whom a criminal Court exercises jurisdiction. Queen-Empress v. Mutasuddi Lal, I. L. R. 21 All. 107, followed. JAGGU AHIR v. MURLI SHUKUL (1912)

I. L. R. 34 All. 533

——— ss. 145, 435, 526—Proceeding under s. 145, 526 if applies to A party to a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, is not entitled to an adjournment of the case under sub-s. (8) of s. 526, Criminal Procedure Code. LAKHAN CHANDRA ROY v. FAKUR MANDAL (1913)

18 C. W. N. 393

——— s. 146—

See s. 107 3 Pat. L. J. 243

See s. 145 3 Pat. L. J. 147

See RECEIVER . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 862

——— Dispute concerning land—Attachment of subject of dispute—Order of Settlement-Court in a proceeding between the same parties and relating to the attached lands—Effect of such order—Release of attachment by Magistrate—Bengal Survey Act (Beng. Act V of 1875), s. 41. An order of the Survey and Settlement Court under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875, s. 41, is a determination by a competent Court of the rights of the parties entitled to possession of the land within the meaning of s. 146 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Where the Magistrate attached certain lands under s. 146 of the Code, and in a proceeding under s. 41 of the Bengal Survey Act, 1875, between the same parties, the same lands were found to be in the possession of the petitioner:—Held, that the Magistrate was bound to follow such order and to release the lands from attachment. AMBLER v. SAMI AHMED (1910)

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 33

——— Possession during attachment, if possession for owner—Recovery of possession, suit for, if may be maintained on the mere fact of possession for 11 years where no title proved by defendant—Title of third party if may be set up in defence. Although an attachment under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, interferes with physical possession, it does not affect the legal rights of the parties concerned and the property under attachment is held for the person ultimately shown to be entitled to possession. Where in a suit for recovery of possession of a jallar attached by a Criminal Court under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, the plaintiff was found to have held exclusive and undisturbed possession of the jalkar for eleven years prior to attachment: Held, that in the circumstances of the case such possession was evidence of a right to possess and unless a better title or antecedent possession was proved by the defendants, the plaintiff would be entitled to be maintained in possession against all but the true owner. Nisa Chand Gaita v. Kanchiram, I. L. R. 26 Calc. 579: s. c. 3 C. W. N. 568, doubted and distinguished. Wise v. Amirunissa Khatun, L. R. 7 I. A. 73, and Sundar v. Parbati, L. R. 16 I. A. 186, referred to. The rule laid down in the former case presupposes facts to which the provisions of s. 9, Specific Relief Act, apply. SHYAMA CHARAN RAY v. SURYA KANTA ACHARYA (1910)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 146—contd.

15 C. W. N. 163

———— Order under, effect on possession—Suit by one party against the other for declaration, if lies—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877), s. 42. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, between the plaintiff and the defendants, the Magistrate being unable to decide which party was in possession passed an order under s. 146 of the Code, and appointed the Collector as Receiver to take possession of the land:—Held, that the plaintiff was justified in instituting a suit for declaration of title against the defendants and was not bound to ask for recovery of possession of the land. The suit was therefore not bad under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. BHAGWAN CHANDRA RAY CHAUDRY (1911)
15 C. W. N. 758

———— Attachment order under s. 146, without jurisdiction—Evidence, omission to take, when amounts to want of jurisdiction—Jurisdiction. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate without taking any evidence or making any local enquiry, made an order attaching the land in dispute under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code: Held, that the order of the Magistrate was incompetent and without jurisdiction, as the Magistrate did not make the slightest effort to satisfy himself as to the factum of possession. Sheikh Mansar Ali v. Matiullah, 12 C. W. N. 896, relied upon. Bejoy Madhab Chawdhury v. Chandra Nath Chuckerbutty, 14 C. W. N. 80, referred to. SHEO BALAK RAI v. BHAGWAT PANDAY (1912) 16 C. W. N. 1052

———— Limitation—Attachment under s. 146 of the Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898)—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Art. 142 or 144—Arts. 47 and 120, applicability of. Where a property was attached under s. 146 of the Criminal Procedure Code on the 7th March 1899, and it remained under attachment till the 26th February 1903 when, on the application of the purchaser of the holding of the opponent of the plaintiff in the proceedings under s. 145, who had been put in symbolical possession by the Civil Court, the Magistrate put him in possession of the same, and the plaintiff on the 28th February 1906 instituted a suit to recover possession: Held, that the limitation applicable would be that provided by Art. 142 or Art. 144 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act and the suit was not time-barred. Goswami Ranchor v. Sri Gridhariji, I. L. R. 20 All. 120, followed. Rajah of Venkatagiri v. Isakapalli Subbiah, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 410, dissented from. NISARALLI SHEIKH v. ADEBUDDI SHANA (1912) . . . . . 16 C. W. N. 1073

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 146—concld.

———— Suit to determine rights of parties to order under, period of limitation for. —Suit, if lies against Magistrate. BROJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHRY v. SAROJINI RAY (1915) . . . . . 20 C. W. N. 481

———— Section when to be applied—Order made in disregard of decision under s. 41 of Survey Act (V of 1875) B. S. and entry in record-of-rights—Rejection of material evidence on erroneous grounds—Order made without jurisdiction or after gross and material irregularities prejudicing party. Where in a proceeding under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, the trying Magistrate, without giving effect to an order made under s. 41 of the Survey Act and the entry in the record-of-rights in accordance with the order regarding the disputed land which remained fallow up to the time when the present dispute arose, attached it under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code: Held, that an order under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, can be made only when the Magistrate is unable to satisfy himself as to which of the contending parties is in possession and the trying Magistrate when he proceeded to determine the question of possession which arose between the parties should in the first instance have presumed that the possession of this fallow land was with the owners who had title as determined by the decision under s. 41 of the Survey Act which had the force of an order of the Civil Court and which title was further to be presumed from the entry in the record-of-rights. That the Magistrate not having done that, and discarded and rejected on erroneous grounds practically every piece of evidence that might have led him to a correct conclusion, made his final order either without jurisdiction or after such gross and material irregularities as seriously to prejudice the second party. PRAFULLA NATH TAGORE v. J. HUDDING (1917) . . . . . 21 C. W. N. 1059

———— Attachment when to be made—Imperative duty of Magistrate to consider evidence on record. Under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, a Magistrate is entitled to make an order of attachment only when he is unable to satisfy himself as to which of the parties was in possession at the date of the proceeding. The section contemplates that the Magistrate should consider the evidence fairly and judicially for the purpose of arriving at a decision. The High Court set aside the order under s. 146, Criminal Procedure Code, on the ground that the Magistrate did not give to the case that judicial consideration which the law requires. AMBIKA NATH ROY v. MOULVI WAZIDALI KHAN (1919)
23 C. W. N. 910

———— ss. 146, 148—

See ATTACHMENT I. L. R. 40 Calc. 105

———— ss. 146, 196, 235, 239, 342, 364, 447, 454, 532—

See JURY, RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 146, 439—Defect in form of written order—Jurisdiction—Revision. Where in proceedings under Chapter XII of the Code of the other hand, both parties were fully cognizant of the matter in dispute and there was in fact danger of a breach of the peace, the High Court declined in revision to interfere with the Magistrate's order. GANGA SARAN SINGH v. BHAGWAT PRASAD (1909) . . . I. L. R. 32 All. 132

——— s. 147—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING EASEMENT.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 560

——— Order of Police to remove a bundh thrown across a pyre—Conflict between orders of Civil and Criminal Courts. A Magistrate

5 C. W. N. 67; Lalit Chandra Neogi v. Tarini Persad Gupta, 5 C. W. N. 335, distinguished. MOHUNT DALMIR PURI v. KHODADAD KHAN (1909) . . . I. L. R. 36 Calc. 923
14 C. W. N. 179

——— Dispute concerning the right to act as pujari, and not the right of use of land—Easements. S. 147 of the Criminal Procedure

Batcha v. Kader Batcha Routhan, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 237, not followed. GUIRAM GHOSAL v. LAL BEHARI DAS (1910) . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 578

——— Jurisdiction—Jurisdiction to pass order under s. 147 on a proceeding under s. 133. No order can be passed under s. 147, Criminal Procedure Code, on a proceeding taken under s. 133. ABDUL RAHMAN MIA v. SAFAR ALI (1910) . . . . 15 C. W. N. 667

——— Ferry, dispute as to started in respect of a disputed ferry in September 1908 were stayed owing to the dispute having been

'ed, the revive ties to
—Held,
tion in that the causes which existed in 1908 or 1909 still continue to exist. When the dispute was referred to arbitration, the trying Magistrate recorded an order "further proceedings are unnecessary and they are therefore stayed." Held, that the order of attachment previously passed by him. KALANANDA SINGH v. RAMESHWAR SINGH (1910)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 147—concld.

15 C. W. N. 271

——— Dispute about right to collect tolas from hât, if comes within the section. A dispute relating to a right to collect tolas from a hât is a dispute concerning the right of use of land within the meaning of s. 147, Criminal Procedure Code. The words "concerning the right of use of any land or water" in s. 147, Criminal Procedure Code, which have been substituted in the present Code in thing"
in the 1882 ar than th
s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code. SARAT CHANDRA MADAK v. MABARAK MULLICK (1916)
21 C. W. N. 439

——— Right of use of any land

When a dispute exists concerning the right of use of any land or water each side claims some positive right, the existence of which the other side denies and the positive right claimed on either side involves the negative right of preventing the other party from exercising the right which he claims. The Magistrate has to deal with the opposing rights which cannot both exist at the same time. But the Legislature cannot have intended that the section should be one-sided in its operation or that the party which comes on the record as the 'first party' should have any advantage over the 'second party.' The Magistrate must have power to make an order whichever party establishes its right. In the clause 'if it appears to him that such right exists' the words 'such right' must be understood as meaning such right as is claimed by either party. When the Magistrate had found that one of the parties has the right which he claims the enabling clause which follows, 'may make an order permitting such thing to be done or directing that such thing should not be done as the case may be' is clearly intended to give him the power to protect the right so found to exist. The relative words 'such thing' have no true antecedent but the sense is not difficult. The protection is to be afforded by some appropriate order of permission or prohibition. PYARI MOHAN SHAHA v. HARISH CHANDRA SHAHA (1918)
23 C. W. N. 956

——— s. 148—

See s. 146 I. L. R. 40 Calc. 105

——— Costs under, if may be assessed after order—High Court's power of revision as to the amount of costs awarded. An order for assessment of costs under s. 148, Criminal Procedure Code, does not become illegal simply because it was not made at the time of pronouncing judgment in the proceeding under ss. 145, 146 or 147, Criminal Procedure Code. The order will be good if it is made within a reasonable time while the same Magistrate who decided the proceeding is sitting and the parties are able to appear before him. Benoda Sundari Chowdhurani v. Kali Kristo Paul Chowdhury, I. L. R. 22 Calc. 387, Queen-Empress v. Tomijuddi, I. L. R. 24 Calc. 757, referred to and explained. When costs allowed by the Magistrate fall within the scope of s. 148, the High Court will not interfere on the ground that they are either excessive or deficient. BANSI SINGH v. SAYAD MOHAMED AKBAR ALI KHAN (1911)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 148—concld.

15 C. W. N. 811

——— In a case under s. 145 an order for costs may be made subsequent to the passing of the judgment. All that the law requires is that the order should be made by the same Magistrate. An application for costs if not made at the time the judgment is delivered should be filed within a reasonable time. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOUDHURY v. SIDHARTHA KRISHNA MAZUMDAR . . . . . . 24 C. W. N. 672

——— ss. 148, 202, 293, 294, 556 Expln.—

See LOCAL INSPECTION

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 340

——— s. 154—

See s. 14. 3 Pat. L. J. 291

——— First information, if evidence. First information is not evidence in the case. It is tendered by the Crown for such use as the defence may be able to make of it and to test the consistency of the prosecution evidence. ASFAR SHEIKH v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1910)

15 C. W. N. 198

——— First information, proper recording of, by Police. A careful and accurate record of the first information has always been considered as a matter of the highest importance by the Courts in India, the object of the first information being to show what was the manner in which the occurrence was related when the case was first started. Emperor v. Kampu Kuki, 11 C. W. N. 554, referred to. As the first informaton can be used in evidence under ss. 157 and 158 of the Evidence Act to corroborate or impeach the testimony of the person lodging the first information, such a document becomes valueless if drawn up by some person other than the proper informant. As the first information in this case which related to a charge of criminal conspiracy at Midnapore was drawn up by a police-officer employed in the Criminal Investigation Department in Calcutta and settled by an attorney: Held, that it was of no value. PEARY MOHAN DAS v. D. WESTON (1911) I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898

16 C. W. N. 145

——— First information if substantive evidence. Six persons were convicted of murder and sentenced to death. The Sessions Judge treated the first information in the case as a piece of substantive evidence. The accused appealed to the High Court. There was a difference of opinion between the Judges who first heard the appeal necessitating a reference to a third Judge and nearly six months elapsed before the appeal was finally disposed of. Held, per STEPHEN AND CARNDUFF, JJ.—The first information, although a document of great importance which is in practice always and very rightly produced and proved in criminal trials, is not a piece of substantive evidence, and it can be used only as a previous statement admissible to corroborate or contradict the author of it. AUTOR SINGH v. EMPEROR (1913) . . . . 17 C. W. N. 1213

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 154—concld.

——— ss. 154 and 155—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), s. 499 . . I. L. R. 41 All. 311

——— ss. 154, 155, 157, 162, and 551—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) ss. 25 AND 114 . . I. L. R. 35 Mad. 247

——— ss. 154, 173, 190 (1) (b)—

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS, INSTITUTION OF . . . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 49

——— ss. 157, 159, 476—Police report by Sub-inspector—Further investigation by Superintendent—Subsequent inquiry by Magistrate—Order for prosecution of witnesses examined in the Magistrate's inquiry—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 193. On the strength of a police report, the District Magistrate ordered the Superintendent of Police to investigate a certain case. The Superintendent made an investigation and came to the conclusion that the case was not a true one: but at the same time suggested that a Magistrate might be sent to inquire into it. The District Magistrate accordingly deputed a Magistrate of the first class to inquire. He made an inquiry, which resulted in an order for the prosecution of certain witnesses who had given evidence before him. Held, that there was no legal authority for the inquiry held by the Magistrate, and his order for the prosecution of the witnesses was therefore invalid. In the matter of the petition of Kandhaiya Lal, All. Weekly Notes (1899) 87, and Mouli Darzi v. Nauranji Lal, 4 C. W. N. 351, referred to. EMPEROR v. ABDUL RAHMAN (1909)

I. L. R. 32 All. 30

——— s. 161—

See s. 14. 3 Pat. L. J. 291

——— Statement recorded by the police, consideration of, by Court—Criminal trial—Duty of Judge to record independent finding as to truth or otherwise of evidence. Where the Sessions Judge in his judgment gave no finding as to the truth or falsity of each witness's statement, but relied entirely on the difference, in what they said in Court and what they said or were alleged not to have said before the police: Held, that it is exceedingly dangerous to appeal from evidence judicially recorded under the sanction of cross-examination to alleged statements made to the police which are not judicially recorded. It is the Judge's duty to make up his mind, while the witness is before him, whether he is a witness of truth or falsehood, and it is only when the Judge sees any reason to distrust his evidence that omission in a police record can become of any importance. JUNG RAI v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1912) . . . . 19 C. W. N. 217

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

———— s. 162—

See s. 154 I. L. R. 35 Mad. 247

See POLICE DIARIES 3 Pat. L. J. 568

———— Statements made to police during investigation—Proof of the statement by oral deposition of the police officer to whom it is made—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 157. During an investigation a witness stated to the police that she had seen a boy at the scene of murder soon after the offence was committed. When examined before the committing Magistrate, she denied the presence of the boy at the scene of the offence. At the trial before the Court of Sessions, she admitted the presence of the boy. The statement that the witness had made in the ... was sought to be proved at the trial ...

tion on the provisions of s. 162 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The Sessions Judge overruled the objection and let in the evidence. The accused having appealed. Held, that the police officer could be allowed to depose to what the witness had stated to him in the investigation, for the purpose of corroborating what she had said at the trial EMPEROR v. HANMARADDI (1914) . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 58

———— ss. 162, 154, 155, 157 and 551—

See EVIDENCE ACT, ss. 25, 114, 133, 157 I. L. R. 35 Mad. 397

———— ss. 162, 288—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 21, 157—Evidence—Admissibility of evidence—Statements made by witness to Police and Panch—Statements made by the witness as accused before Committing Magistrate—Witness deposing to different story before Sessions Court—Corroboration of the deposition before the Committing Magistrate by statements made before the Police and the Panch—Investigating Police Officer—De- ...

ments made by a witness to the Police implicating the accused, (2) the same witness' statement to the Panch, (3) and his statement as an accused person made before a Magistrate, and (4) statements made by the co-accused to the Police. The witness, when he was examined before the Committing Magistrate, gave a consistent story, but he deposed to quite a different version when he was examined in the Sessions Court. The learned Judge disbelieved the changed story, and he used the witness' statements to the Police and his statements as an accused person and his statements to the Panch, by way of corroboration of what the witness had stated to the Committing Magistrate. The accused was convicted and sentenced. On appeal:—Held, (i) that it was an error to admit statements Nos. 1 and 2 for the purpose of corroborating statement No. 3, for only the statements of witnesses made to the trying ... recorded in the manner contem- ... dence Act, 1872. ... d to corroborate ... t the trial; not ... rior to the trial.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 162, 288—contd.

(ii) That statements No. 2 were altogether inadmissible as evidence of the accused's guilt, or they could at most be regarded as admissons by the co-accused which could possibly be used against himself, but could not be proved and used against the accused. The Investigating Police Officer ought not to be allowed to depose in examination-in-chief to what the witnesses stated to him. It opens up an undesirably wide field for cross-examination and leads to the attention of the Court being diverted and distracted from the true issues. Moreover, it is contrary to the plain intention of s. 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, which is that such statement should be used, if at all on behalf of and not against the person under trial. EMPEROR v. AKBAR BADOO (1910) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 599

———— s. 164—

See s. 14 3 Pat. L. J. 291

See CONFESSION I. L. R. 40 Calc. 873
2 Pat. L. J. 80

... between state- ...

but not re... cordance ... is no bar ... the complainant on a charge of perjury. Semble. Whether a statement is to be regarded as a confession or not depend on the connection in which and the prupose for which it was made. A statement recorded as such cannot be used as a confession; nor a confession, as a statement. Re RAMANUJAMMA (1916) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 977 ———— Warrant for search of house—Resistance to police—Legality of warrant. In the course of an investigation into a dacoity which had occurred in the Agra district a circle inspector of the Mainpuri district sent a sub-inspector to the circle inspector concerned with a suggestion that the house in which one Nihal Singh lived, in the Mainpuri district, might be searched. The Agra circle inspector thereupon gave, as he said, ... to the sub-inspector who had ... the effect that, ... searched it ... connection with the dacoity at ... Murh, that ... Nihal Singh ... the dacoity ... lice in pur... ch the house ... belonged to Brikhbhan Singh his father-in-law, they were assaulted by Brikhbhan Singh and his relations and friends and prevented from conducting the search or arresting Nihal Singh. Held, that the authority under which the police had attempted to make the search was invalid and the persons

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—————— s. 164—concld.

resisting them could not be convicted under s. 332 of the Indian Penal Code. Whether or not these persons might have been found guilty under other sections of the Indian Penal Code, as, e.g., ss. 107, 395 or 142, was discussed as a matter arising on the evidence in the case. EMPEROR v. BRIKHBHAN SINGH (1915) . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 14 —————— Portion of a statement admitted—When the first information was given by the accused himself in which he admitted committing the offence but when he made a statement subsequently before the Deputy Commissioner he did not make a confussion and this statement was not recorded. Held, that the first information was only admissible as far as it gave a narrative of events before the occurrence but accused could demand that it be considered in its entirety. SUPERINTENDENT AND LEGAL REMEMBRANCER, BENGAL v. LALIT MOHAN SINGHA ROY 25 C. W. N. 788

—————— ss. 164, 298—

See MISDIRECTION I. L. R. 45 Calc. 557

—————— ss. 164 (3) and 342—Confessions recorded by Magistrate—Without making a memorandum of the enquiry made to satisfy himself that the confession is made voluntarily—Examination of accused by the Court—improper questions. Held, that although it is most advisable that a Magistrate recording a confession under s. 164 of the Code of Criminal Procedure should make a memorandum of enquiry showing what steps he has taken to fully satisfy himself that the accused person is confessing voluntarily, a confession otherwise duly recorded is not inadmissible in evidence merely because no such memorandum has been made. Nga Shwe Sin v. Emperor (4 Cr. L. J. 385), and Queen-Empress v. Narayan, (I. L. R. 25 Bom. 543), distinguished. Held also, that although a Court may under section 342 of the Code at any stage of any enquiry or trial put such questions to the accused as the Court considers necessary, it is not competent to the Court to cross-examine the accused or to ask him question with the object of trapping him into some sort of admission. UMAR DIN v. CROWN . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 129

—————— ss. 164 (1) and 533—Held, that it is imperative for the Magistrate before recording a confession made to him in the course of a police investigation to question the person making it as to whether it was made voluntarily and that the defect being one of substance was not cured by s. 533, and the confession was not admissible in evidence. FARID v. THE CROWN

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 325

—————— s. 165—

See s. 4 (p). . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 446

See s. 94 . . 17 C. W. N. 1209

See SEARCH BY POLICE OFFICER.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 261

—————— General search without warrant—Private defence, right of, against police search. S. 165, Criminal Procedure Code, does not authorise a general search by the police for stolen property in the house of an absconding offender. It speaks of a specific document or thing which may be the subject of summons or order under s. 94. Ishwar

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—————— s. 165—concld.

Chandra Ghosal v. The Emperor, 12 C. W. N. 1016, referred to. Where the police without a search warrant under s. 98, Criminal Procedure Code, entered the house of the accused and searched for stolen articles :—Held, that the search was illegal and the occupiers of the house who were also part-owners had the right of private defence against the searching officers. BAJRANGI GOPE v. EMPEROR (1910) I. L. R. 38 Calc. 304
15 C. W. N. 343

—————— A search made by a Sub-Inspector of Police under following directions From a circle inspector "House of Nihal Singh be searched in connection with the dacoity at Naglu Muli and that he might be assisted for sake of identification and that houses of those persons should be searched who were suspected by Sub-inspector of receiving stolen property" held invalid. EMPEROR v. BRIKHBHAN SINGH

I. L. R. 38 All. 14

—————— s. 167—

See s. 110 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 928

See s. 112 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 262

—————— s. 167, 169—

See s. 110 . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 928
I. L. R. 43 All. 186

—————— s. 170—Whether the discretion vested in the investigating police officer by s. 170 can be controlled by the Superintendent of Police. UMESH CHANDRA ROY v. SATISH CHANDRA ROY (1917)
22 C. W. N. 69

—————— s. 172—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 876

—————— "Case Diaries," proper recording of by investigating officer. The object of recording "case diaries" under s. 172, Criminal Procedure Code, is to enable Courts to check the method of investigation by the Police, and this object was defeated in this case as the provisions of the law for recording "case diaries" from day to day had been deliberately disobeyed by the Police during the most important period of the investigation. Queen-Empress v. Mannu, referred to. PEARY MOHAN DASS v. D. WESTON (1911)
16 C. W. N. 145

—————— ss. 173, 190 (1) (b)—

See s. 4 . . 25 C. W. N. 357

See COGNIZANCE OF OFFENCE
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 854

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 49

—————— s. 177—

See s. 476 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 298

See EMIGRATION I. L. R. 37 Calc. 27

—————— Jurisdiction—Effect of place where offence was committed ceasing to be British territory. An offence was committed in March 1910, at a place which was then part of the Mirzapur District. Subsequently one of the persons alleged to have taken part in the commission of such offence was arrested in Bengal and sent to Mirzapur, when he was committed by the Joint Magistrate to take his trial before the Court of Session. In the meanwhile the place where the offence was committed had ceased to be British territory. Held, that this fact did not oust the jurisdiction of either the Magistrate or the District Judge of Mirzapur. EMPEROR v. GANGA (1912)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 177—concld.

I. L. R. 34 All. 451

——— ss. 177 to 187, 526, 531—Murder committed outside Madras—Inquiry by Chief Presidency Magistrate and commitment to High Court Sessions—Jurisdiction of Magistrate, Original Criminal Jurisdiction of High Court—Letters Patent, cl. 24—Jurisdiction, whether conferrable under s. 526, Criminal Procedure Code. The petitioners were charged before the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Madras with having kidnapped a child from his guardian in Madras, [illegible] on the abovesaid charges. On an application to the High Court on its appellate side to set aside the commitment so far as the charge of murder was concerned on the grounds that (a) the Magistrate had no local jurisdiction to inquire into the case, and (b) the High Court had no local jurisdiction to try the charge of murder : Held, (i) that the irregularity or illegality, if any, in the Magistrate's proceedings was cured by s. 531, Criminal Procedure Code; (ii) that even if the High Court had no jurisdiction on its Original Side to try the case, an order could be made under s. 526, Criminal Procedure Code, directing the trial at the High Court Sessions. Ordered accordingly. Semble: The High Court has power under cl. 24 of the Letters Patent in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction to try persons for offences committed outside the City of Madras. Queen-Empress v. James Ingle, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 200, and Queen-Empress v. Ram Dei, I. L. R. 18 All. 387, referr[illegible] North Arcot v. [illegible] listinguished.

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 791

——— ss. 177, 531—

See PENAL CODE, ss. 463, 471.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 387

——— s. 179—Criminal misappropriation—Jurisdiction—"Place where consequences of act ensued." The word 'consequence' in s. 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code means a conse- [illegible]

[illegible] ... been sent to the head office at Cawn- [illegible]

v. Ghansham Das, [illegible] referred to. GANESHI LAL v. NAND KISHORE (1912)

I. L. R. 34 All. 487

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 179—concld.

——— Jurisdiction—Place where consequence of act ensued—Act No. XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code), s. 406—Criminal breach of trust. Held, that the loss caused to the person beneficially entitled to property through a criminal breach of trust, is a consequence which completes the offence and a prosecution will therefore lie at the place where such loss occurred. Queen-Empress v. O'Brien, I. L. R. 19 All. 111. Emperor [illegible] followed. Babu La[illegible] 115, Gane[illegible] 487, and [illegible] Bom. L. R. 513, distinguished. Nirbhe Ram v. Kallu Ram, 4 O. C. 376, dissented from. LANGRIDGE v. ATKINS (1912) I. L. R. 35 All. 29

——— ss. 179, 181 (2)—

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 44 Calc. 912

——— Complainant in Madras town, doing business in mofassil by agent—Agent's duty to remit principal's money to Madras—Misappropriation by agent in mofassil—Jurisdiction to try offences under Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 406 or 409. A firm in the town of Madras dealing in kerosine oil authorized an agent in a mofassil station to sell their oil and remit to them at Madras the sale proceeds less his commission. The agent sold the oil in the mofassil and without sending the proceeds misappropriated the same: Held, (a) that the proceeds were the property of the Madras firm, (b) that the case was governed by s. 181 and not s. 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code; and (c) that as the misappropriation and consequent loss occurred to the Madras firm primarily only in the mofassil station, the Magistrate at that station and not the one in Madras had jurisdiction to try the offences under s. 406 or 409, Indian Penal Code. Cases on the subject reviewed. KRISHNAMACHIRI v. SHAW WALLACE & Co. (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 576

——— ss. 179 and 182—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s. 405 . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 639

——— ss. 179 to 188—Entrustment to native Indian subject in India—Conversion outside British India—Loss in India—Jurisdiction of Indian Courts to charge and try without certificate under s. 188. A entrusted some jewels at Vellore, to the accused, a native Indian subject, for sale. The accused pledged them in Bangalore and misappropriated the proceeds at Madras. Held, that the British Court at Vellore had jurisdiction to try the accused for breach of trust or dishonest misappropriation without a certificate under s. 188, Criminal Procedure Code. Sessions Judge, Tanjore v. Sundara Singh (1910), Mad. W. N. 143, Imperator v. Tribhun, 13 Cr. L. J. 630, dissented from. ASSISTANT SESSIONS JUDGE, NORTH ARCOT v. RAMASWAMI ASARI (1914)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 779

——— s. 180—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 411—Theft within British territory—Retention of stolen articles outside British territory—British Courts, if have jurisdiction to try accused for such retention of stolen articles. The accused was found in possession of stolen articles at a place outside British territory. The theft of the articles took place within British territory. The accused was placed on his trial before the Court in British territory having jurisdiction over the place where the theft took place. Held, that the British Courts had no jurisdiction to try the accused for an offence under s. 411, Indian Penal Code, committed at a place beyond British territory with regard to the stolen properties. MOHESHWARI PROSAD SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1914) . . . . . 18 C. W. N. 1178

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 180—concld.

——— s. 181—

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 44 Calc. 912

——— Kidnapping committed outside British India—Jurisdiction of British Courts "when person kidnapped" detained within British India—Moyurbhunj not in British India. A person charged with having committed the offence of kidnapping in Moyurbhunj which is outside British India, cannot be tried by a Court in British India within the local limits of which the person kidnapped may be conveyed or concealed or detained. BHUTA SANTAL v. DAMA SANTAL (1915) . . . . . 20 C. W. N. 62

——— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 406—Criminal breach of trust, in respect of monies received at Singapore for which the accused was liable to account in Calcutta—Court in Calcutta, if has jurisdiction to take cognisance of the complaint —Jurisdiction. Where a firm carrying on business in Calcutta employed A as agent at Singapore and prosecuted him in Calcutta for criminal breach of trust in respect of monies received at Singapore for which he was to render accounts in Calcutta: Held—That the Court in Calcutta had jurisdiction to take cognisance of the complaint. ABDUL LATIFF YUSUFF v. ABU MUHAMED KASSIM 26 C. W. N 175

——— s. 182—

See PENAL CODE, s. 405. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 639

——— ss. 182, 531—

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 490

——— Jurisdiction—Place at which consequence of act ensued—Criminal breach of trust—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 408. One M was employed as an agent by a firm in Mirzapur. Goods were entrusted to him for sale in various districts in Lower Bengal, and from time to time, as he sold goods, he remitted money to his employers at Mirzapur. When called upon to furnish accounts, he offered to furnish Rs. 500 as a deposit, but did not submit any account. Held, that the Courts of Mirzapur had jurisdiction to try M for whatever offence he had committed arising out of the above transactions. Queen-Empress v. O'Brien, I. L. R. 19 All. 411, followed. EMPEROR v. MAHADEO (1910) I. L. R. 32 All. 397

——— s. 185—

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 41 Calc. 305

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 595

——— Power of the High Court under the section to transfer case pending in Court not subject to its jurisdiction—Stay of further proceeding to enable accused to bring Civil action—

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 185—contd.

Proceeding which discloses no offence, if to be quashed. Where the nominee of a policy-holder claiming payment in respect of a life policy effected at Chittagong, and resident within the District of Chittagong, brought a charge of cheating in the Court of the District Magistrate of Chittagong against the Secretary and other officers of an Insurance Company having its head office at Gujranwalla in the Punjab and a branch office at Chittagong, and the Insurance Company brought a charge of cheating against the nominee and others in the Court of the District Magistrate of Gujranwalla, both charges relating to the payment of the amount secured on the policy: Held (on an application by the nominee under s. 185, Cr. P. C.), that the High Court could properly make an order under s. 185, Cr. P. C., to the effect that the offence should be enquired into and tried at Chittagong and transfer the case from the Court of the District Magistrate of Gujranwalla to that of the District Magistrate of Chittagong. Proceedings in the case were, however, stayed for two months to enable the accused to institute a Civil suit. Held (on the application of the officers of the Insurance Company), that as, on the face of the record, no offence had been disclosed against them, the proceeding against them should be quashed. HIRAN KUMAR CHOWDHURY, v. MANGAL SEN (1912) 17 C. W. N. 761

——— High Court if can interfere merely on the ground of convenience. Where the petitioners were prosecuted in the Court of the Additional District Magistrate of Lahore under ss. 409, 420, 467, 447, Penal Code, and on the allegations of the prosecution the Courts at Chittagong and Lahore were equally competent to exercise jurisdiction in the case: Held, that s. 185, Cr. P. C., does not warrant interference by the High Court merely upon the ground of convenience. The decision of the High Court within the local limits of whose appellate jurisdiction the offender actually is, can only be sought where a doubt arises as to the Court by which an offence should be enquired into or tried. RAJANI BINODE CHAKERBURTTY v. THE ALL INDIA BANKING AND INSURANCE CO., LD., LAHORE (1913) 17 C. W. N. 1297
I. L. R. 41 Cal 305

——— Doubt as to Court having jurisdiction to try a case, decision of High Court in case of. In a case under s. 408, Indian Penal Code, instituted in the Court of one of the Presidency Magistrates of Calcutta, it being doubtful whether the Courts in Calcutta or in the District of 24-Parganas had jurisdiction, the High Court in exercise of its jurisdiction under s. 185 of the Code of Criminal Procedure decided that the case should be inquired into and tried by the Court within the District of 24-Parganas. BENODE BEHARY MAL v. GANESH CHANDRA MISTRI (1916) 21 C. W. N. 434

——— Transfer of case—Case pending in a Court outside the jurisdiction of High Court—Power of High Court to transfer to a Court within its jurisdiction or to decide by which Court such case shall be tried. S. 185 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) does not empower a High Court to transfer to a Court subordinate to its own jurisdiction a case pending in a Court subordinate to the jurisdiction of another High

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 185—concld.

Court, nor does it empower a High Court to decide by which Court such a case shall be tried. RAHMAN SAHIB v. VELLABJI (1916) I. L. R. 40 Mad. 835

——— ss. 188, 122—

See SURETY . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 706

——— Effect of illegal arrest on trial of accused—Extradition. Where a man is in the country and is charged before a Magistrate with an offence under the Penal Code, it will not avail him to say that he was brought there illegally from a foreign country. The principle upon which English cases to this effect are based underlies also s. 188 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). EMPEROR v. VINAYAK DAMODAR SAVARKAR (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 225

——— Offence committed on high seas—Native Indian subject of His Majesty— beyond the low-water mark. They were convicted by a Magistrate for offences punishable under ss. 426, 143 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860). On appeal, it was contended that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to try the case without the sanction of the Local Government under s. 188 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) for the offences, if any, were committed on the high seas. Held, overruling the contention, that the Magistrate had jurisdiction to try the case, inasmuch as the first proviso to s. 188 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898 was limited to territorial jurisdiction and had no bearing upon the question of jurisdiction to try an offence committed on the high seas. EMPEROR v. MANUEL PHILIP (1917) . . . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 667 ——— Penal Code, s. 363—Kidnapping from lawful guardianship—Offence committed outside British territory—Jurisdiction—Certificate of Political Agent. The absence of the certificate of the Political Agent required by s. 188 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is an absolute bar to the trial of a case to which the provisions of that section apply. Queen Empress v. Ram Sundar, I. L. R. 19 All. 109, followed. EMPEROR v. NARAIN (1919) . . I. L. R. 41 All. 452

——— Certificate of Political Agent not obtained—Agreement between Darbar of Native State and the neighbourhood authorities in British India not a substitute therefor. The existence of an agreement between the Darbar of a Native State and the authorities of the neighbouring required by section 188 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. NANDU

I. L. R. 42 All. 89

——— ss. 188, 227—Offence committed in Nepal territory—Certificate granted by Political Officer specifying a particular section of the Indian Penal Code—Trying Magistrate not debarred from convicting under another section if within the facts stated. A certificate granted by a Political Officer under s. 188 of the Code of Criminal Procedure in respect of a certain set of facts will cover every charge which the facts disclosed in the proceedings will suffice to sustain. The certificate is granted on the allegation of certain facts which constitute the charge against the accused, and the trying Magistrate is not restricted to the section which is mentioned in the certificate, but at the utmost to the facts. EMPEROR v. KRISHNA NATH TIWARI (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 514

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 188, 227—concld.

——— s. 190—

See s. 4. 1 Pat. L. J. 592

See s. 54. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 76

See s. 110. 4 Pat. L. J. 7

See s. 154. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 49

See COGNIZANCE I. L. R. 40 Calc. 854

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1013

See FALSE INFORMATION.

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 71

See JURISDICICTON OF MAGISTRATE

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 221

——— Complaint not disclosing facts—Validity when may be questioned. The complaint in this case did not set out the facts which constituted the alleged offence but stated that the persons named had committed offences punishable under certain sections of the Penal Code: Held, (per MOOKERJEE, J.) That a complaint of this description constituted a merely colourable compliance with the provisions of s. 190, Criminal Procedure Code. Per HARINGTON, J.—There was a complaint which the Magistrate had jurisdiction to entertain. Where a trial has been concluded the proceedings cannot be attacked on the ground that the materials the Magistrate had before him at the time he issued process, were meagre or even insufficient if the Magistrate had jurisdiction to issue process. To make the whole proceeding void it is necessary to show that there was no complaint before the Magistrate and the Magistrate had no other course but to refuse to issue process on the ground that he had no jurisdiction under the law to issue process. When the accused took no steps at the initial stage to set aside the Magistrate's order issuing process on the ground that on the face of it the materials on which it was made were insufficient, and proceeded to trial: Held (per HARINGTON, J.) that no objection could be allowed to be taken to the issue of the process upon an appeal from the conviction had at the trial, the point not being one affecting the fairness of the trial in any way. Per MOOKERJEE, J. The case was covered by cl. (a) of s. 537 of the Criminal Procedure Code. PULIN BEHARI DAS v. KING-EMPEROR (1911)

16 C. W. N. 1105

——— Information before police reported to be false—Judicial enquiry ordered by Deputy Magistrate disposing of police-report—Case made over to another Magistrate—Issue of process by latter after enquiry—Competency of such Magistrate to try accused. Where the police reported an information of theft lodged against the petitioners by one S to be false and recommended the prosecution of S, and the Deputy Magistrate in charge on receipt of the police-report ordered a judicial enquiry although there was no complaint by S and subsequently recalled that order and made over the case for disposal to another Deputy Magistrate, who after taking evidence issued summons against the petitioners: Held, that the Deputy Magistrate, who issued process against the petitioners, did not act either upon a police-report or upon a complaint, and although s. 190, cl. (c), may not strictly apply, the petitioners ought to be allowed to have the case tried by another Magistrate. ANANTA RAM TEWARY v. SHEIKH ALTAB SARKAR (1913) . . . 17 C. W. N. 795

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 190—contd.

——— Trial by second class Magistrate as case under s. 408, Indian Penal Code of complaint disclosing offences under s. 409, 477A, Indian Penal Code, and acquittal by him—District Magistrate's jurisdiction to take cognizance of further complaint. A complaint was filed against the petitioner disclosing offences under ss. 409 and 477A, Indian Penal Code. The case was by mistake made over to and tried by a Magistrate exercising second class powers and not invested with the power of making commitment to the Court of Sessions who treated the case as one under s. 408, Indian Penal Code, and acquitted the accused. The complainant subsequently presented a further complaint under ss. 409 and 477A, Indian Penal Code, to the District Magistrate, who took cognizance of the same: Held, that the District Magistrate was competent to take cognizance of the second complaint. KRISHNA DHON GHOSH v. MOHENDRA NATH DUTT (1918) 23 C. W. N. 518

——— Omission of one Magistrate to take cognizance on suspicion, effect of, on subsequent proceedings. WOODROFFE, J. (BEACHCROFT, J., concurring). Where the Police searched a hut on suspicion and incriminating evidence was found and after the search was over the Additional District Magistrate came to the spot and saw what had been found and a search list was prepared which the Additional District Magistrate signed and the accused were subsequently placed before another Magistrate who held an enquiry and committed the accused to the Court of Sessions for trial: Held, that the fact that the Additional District Magistrate did not take cognizance of the case at once did not render the subsequent proceedings before another Magistrate bad, nor could such subsequent proceedings be held to be prejudicial to the accused. That it was not the duty of the Additional District Magistrate to take cognizance of the case on the basis of what he found at the spot. RAMESH CHANDRA BANERJEE v. EMPEROR (1913) . . . . . 18 C. W. N. 498
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 350

——— District Magistrate receiving information of offence, as President of District Board—Right to take cognizance under s. 190 (c). The fact that a District Magistrate, who happens to be also the President of a District Board, receives in the latter capacity information as to the commission of an offence by a servant of the Board, does not debar him from taking cognizance of the offence under s. 190 (c) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Thakur Pershad Singh v. The Emperor (1906) 10 C. W. N. 775, dissented from. SUNDARASAN v. KING-EMPEROR (1920) I. L. R. 43 Mad. 709

——— Cattle Trespass Act (I of 1871), s. 20—Magistrate—Cognizance of offences—Special authority to try cases under the Cattle Trespass Act. A Magistrate, who is authorized under s. 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, to take cognizance of offences upon receiving complaints, can take cognizance of complaints under s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, although he is not specially authorised in that behalf. EMPEROR v. VISHVANATH VISHNU (1919) I. L. R. 44 Bom. 42

——— ss. 190 and 200—Complaint, failure to examine complainant. M, the defendant in a civil suit, filed a petition before the District Magistrate stating that he had no certain knowledge of the fact, but he had heard that the plaintiff had taken steps to abstract from another court, where a number of papers had been filed in a previous suit, papers in connection with the present suit, and had employed K, J, and B to introduce, by forgeries, entries therein which would support the plaintiff's case. He did not ask the Magistrate to issue summonses or warrants against the accused but desired that a confidential enquiry should be made by the Criminal Investigation Department. The Magistrate ordered the inquiry to be made and, on receipt of the report of the inquiry, issued warrants against the three accused. The High Court stayed further proceedings pending the disposal of the civil suit. When that suit had been decided the Magistrate, without making any further enquiry, ordered the proceedings against K to be continued. Held, that the petition filed by M was a complaint within the meaning of s. 190 (1) (a) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and that the Magistrate should have examined M on oath under s. 200. Held further, that on receipt of the report of the enquiry by the Criminal Investigation Department the Magistrate should either have called upon M to lodge a further complaint and examined him on oath, or should have directed the officer of the Criminal Investigation Department to file a complaint. The power of a Magistrate to proceed upon information is intended to be used in cases in which the Magistrate has good reason to believe that there has been a serious infringement of the law, but is unable to take action in the ordinary way for the reason that the party aggrieved is unwilling or unable to prosecute. It is not open to a Magistrate, under s. 190 (1) (c), to take cognizance upon complaint, without examining the complainant, or upon the report of a police officer. JHUNA LAL SAHU v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 657

——— ss. 190, 200 and 403—There is nothing in the code to prevent a Magistrate from entertaining a second complaint after an order of discharge by another Magistrate. BIJOO SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR . . . . . 2 Pat. L. J. 34

——— ss. 190, 295 (e), 309, 530 (k), 531—
See MAGISTRATE I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

——— ss. 190, 497, 498—
See BAIL . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 412

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— ss. 190 (1), 202, 203—

See Complaint . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1013

—— s. 191—

See Defence of India Act (IV of 1915) s. 2 . . I. L. R. 41 All. 164

—— s. 192—

See s. 107 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 246

See Magistrate, Power of I. L. R. 38 Calc. 68

—— Transfer—Case transferred by District Magistrate to the Court of a Sub-divisional Magistrate—Further transfer by Sub-divisional Magistrate ultra vires. Held, that when a District Magistrate has referred a case for trial to a Sub-divisional Magistrate the latter has no power to transfer it to any other Magistrate subordinate to him. Bashir Husain v. Ali Husain (1913) . . I. L. R. 36 All. 166

—— ss. 192, 200 to 203, 476, 537—

See False Information. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173

—— s. 193—Transfer—Appeal—" Case "—Powers of Sessions Judge. Held, that the word ' cases ' as used in s. 193 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not include appeals. In re the petition of Mansa Asmal, I. L. R. 9 Bom. 165 and Chatter Pal Singh v. Raja Ram, I. L. R. 7 All. 621, followed. Allah Dei Begam v. Kesri Mall I. L. R. 28 All. 93, referred to. Emperor v. Abdur Razzak (1915) . I. L. R. 37 All. 286

—— s. 195—

See s. 4 . . I. L. R. 35 All. 8
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1152

See s. 197 . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 305

See s. 236 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 834

See Appeal to Privy Council I. L. R. 41 Calc. 734

See Appeal, right of I. L. R. 44 Calc. 804

See Appraisement I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1086

See Calcutta Rent Act, 1920, s. 24, 25 C. W. N. 661

See Civil Procedure Code, 1908, s. 115 I. L. R. 33 All. 512

See Criminal Jurisdiction I. L. R. 37 Calc. 714
14 C. W. N. 896

See Criminal Procedure Code, s. 476. 1 Pat. L. J. 293, 583, and 607

See Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss. 182, 211 . I. L. R. 34 All. 522
ss. 192 and 193. I. L. R. 45 Bom. 668

See Perjury . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 471

See Sanction for Prosecution.

See Using a forged document I. L. R. 39 Calc. 463

—— Further evidence—Superior Court has no jurisdiction to order further inquiry by Subordinate Court. A superior Criminal Court

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— s. 195—contd.

[illegible] ...d to appeals ... v. Emperor ... 33 Mad. 90

—— Sanction by Presidency Small Cause Court—Order granted by single Judge—Powers of Full Court to revoke the sanction—Full Court not an Appellate Court—Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882), ss. 37, 38. Where a sanction to prosecute has been granted by a Judge of the Presidency Small Causes Court at Bombay, the Full Court of that Court has no power to revoke the sanction. Per Chandavar- [illegible]

[illegible] ferred by s 38 of the Act is not appellate, but revisional only. Shivlal Padma, In re (1909) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 316

—— False information to police, prosecution for—Sanction to prosecute—Cognizance of offence without the complaint of the public [illegible]

[illegible] 182, Indian Penal Code, and the Magistrate took cognizance of the offence. Semble: That without the complaint of the public servant to whom the alleged false information was given, the Magistrate was not right in taking cognizance of the offence. Isser v. King-Emperor (1910) 14 C. W. N. 765 —— Appeal—Held, that when sanction to prosecute has been granted or refused by a Court under the provisions of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, only one appeal from such order will lie under that section. Kanhai Lal v. Chhadammi Lal, I. L. R. 31 All. 48, followed. Muthusuami Mudali v. Veeni Chetti, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 382, referred to. Mata Prasad v. Baran Barhai (1914) I. L. R. 36 All. 469

—— Perjury—Not desirable in public interest. In granting sanction to prosecute for perjury, Courts should not merely see whether there is a good prospect of conviction, but should also consider whether the circumstances are such as to render prosecution desirable in the public interests. Where the petitioner, a girl of fifteen in a statement before a Magistrate under s. 164, Criminal Procedure Code, said that her mother and one Bushayya used to talk and fight with each other and as a witness before another Magistrate stated that they never quarrelled with each other: Held, that a prosecution for perjury was not desirable. Nattava Parankusam, Re (1914) I. L. R. 37 Mad. 584

—— Omission to record deposition as on solemn oath—Or affirmation—Presidency Court of Small Causes, enquiry by Registrar, as to proper service of summons, if judicial proceedings—Sanction to prosecute, for false personation in service of summons. Before the Registrar of the Presidency Court of Small Causes at Calcutta whose duty it is to enquire into the proper service of summons and to take evidence in this behalf, it transpired that the petitioner in this case by false representation had returned the summons as properly served and the Public Prosecutor at the instance of the Chief Judge made an application for sanction to prosecute the petitioner under s. 205 of the Indian Penal Code, which was granted by the said Registrar under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code and upon a rule being obtained to question the propriety of the sanction: Held, that the proceedings before the Registrar were judicial proceedings and he was a judicial officer, that the sanction given by him to prosecute was properly given and the fact that it was not stated in the depositions recorded by the Registrar that they were taken on solemn oath or affirmation was a matter covered by s. 13 of the Oaths Act. Queen v. Sewa Bhogta, 14 B. L. R. 294, and Queen-Empress v. Shava, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 359, referred to. BALCHAND v. TARAK NATH SADHU (1914) . . . . 18 C. W. N. 1323

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 195—contd.

—cl. 1 (b)—False endorsement on a promissory note—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV 1860), s. 193, complaint under—Sanction—Necessity. Where a complaint of false endorsement on a promissory note to prove a payment of Rs. 1,500 was preferred to a Second Class Magistrate but was transferred to a First Class Magistrate and where between the date of filing of the complaint and its transfer, a civil suit on the promissory note was filed: Held, that the sanction of the Civil Court under s. 195 (1) (b) was necessary before the Court could take action on the complaint. Held, also, that the date of the presentation of the complaint before a Magistrate having no jurisdiction to entertain it was not the date of the institution of the Criminal Proceedings. Re PARAMESWARAN NAMBUDRI (1915) . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 677

———— Sanction, to be granted on legal evidence—S. 195 (b), High Court hearing an appeal under—Judges divided equally in opinion—Whether an appeal lies under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent. A Magistrate received a complaint of criminal breach of trust, examined the complainant on oath under s. 200, Criminal Procedure Code, but suspecting the complaint to be false referred it under s. 202, Criminal Procedure Code, to a Police Inspector for investigation and on receiving the report of the Inspector to the effect that the case was entirely false, dismissed the complaint under s. 203, Criminal Procedure Code. On an application being made for sanction to prosecute the complainant for preferring a false complaint, the Magistrate asked the complainant to show cause why sanction should not be given but as no witnesses were examined by him to show the truth of his complaint, the Magistrate granted sanction. Held, affirming the decision of SUNDARA AYYAR J., that the above materials did not constitute legal evidence for the Magistrate to grant the sanction and that hence the sanction given should be set aside. Quære: Whether an appeal under c. 15 of the Letters Patent lies against an order of a Division Bench of the High Court when one of the Judges differs from his colleague, on hearing an application under s. 195 (b), Criminal Procedure Code, to revoke a sanction granted by a lower Court. BAPU v. BAPU (1913) I. L. R. 39 Mad. 768

———— Scope of section—Proceedings in relation to which sanction of Court necessary—Information to police followed by complaint in Court. Where the information to the Police was followed by a complaint to the Court based on the same allegations and on the same charge as that contained in the information to the police and the complaint was investigated by the Court, sanction or a complaint of the Court itself under s. 195 (b), Criminal Procedure Code, would be necessary before the Court could take cognizance of an offence punishable under s. 211, Indian Penal Code, alleged to have been committed by making a false charge to the police, on the ground that it was an offence committed in relation to a proceeding in Court. BROWN v. ANANDA LAL MULLICK (1916) . . . . 20 C. W. N. 1347 ———— Sanction against witness for forgery, if must be taken—No sanction is necessary for the prosecution of any person who is not a party to the suit or proceeding for offences under s. 467 or abetment thereof. Giridhari Marwari v. Emperor, 12 C. W. N. 822, distinguished. DEBI LAL v. DHAJADHARI GASHAI (1911). 15 C. W. N. 565

cl. 1 (b & c)—Jurisdiction—Sanction to prosecute Subordination of Courts—Transfer of case out of local jurisdiction, power to. A petition asking for sanction to prosecute for certain offences under s. 195 (b) and (c), Criminal Procedure Code, Act V of 1898, should not be transferred to a Court to which the Court before which the petition for sanction was pending is not subordinate, as the sanction of such a Court would be ineffective. The High Court cannot transfer a case under s. 110, Criminal Procedure Code, to any Magistrate other than one within whose local jurisdiction the person is found against whom proceedings are instituted. In the matter of the petition of Amar Singh, I. L. R. 16 All. 9. Held, that the same principle applies to s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code. EKAMBARASWARA IYER v. VEERAVADRA THEVAN (1910) I. L. R. 34 Mad. 186

—— cl. 6— False evidence—Prosecution stayed at the instance of the party to be proceeded against, pending the disposal of the appeal by the Appellate Court—Expiry of six months' time—Power of the High Court to extend time nunc protunc. Under s. 195, cl. (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code of 1898, the High Court has the power to extend the time of a sanction to prosecute, even after the expiry of the original period of six months from its date. Karuppana Servagaram v. Sinna Gounden, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 480, followed. Kali Kinkar Sett v. Dinobandhu Nandy, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 379, dissented from. KRISHNA KERRING & Co. v. MILLER (1916) . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 631.

———— Appeal—Letters Patent, s. 10. Held, that an order made by a single Judge of the High Court granting sanction for a prosecution under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not a "judgment" within the purview of s. 10 of the Letters Patent and is not appealable under that section. Neither can such an order be called in question under sub-s. (6) of s. 195 of the Code of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 195—contd.

Criminal Procedure, inasmuch as a Judge of the High Court sitting singly is not subordinate to a Division Bench of the Court. Hurrish Chunder Chowdhury v. Kalisunderi Debi, I. L. R. 9 Calc. 482, referred to. RAMJAS v. MAHADEO PRASAD (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 147

———— Sanction granted by a Court of Small Causes—Application to revoke sanction Jurisdiction—District Judge. When an order granting or refusing sanction to prosecute is made by a Court of Small Causes under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the Court to which an application for the reversal of such order lies is the Court of the District Judge. Sundar Lal v. King-Emperor, 6 All. L. J., 796, Wazir Muhammad v. Hub Lal, I. L. R. 31 All. 313, In re Ram Prasad Malla, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 13, and Budhu Lal v. Chhatu Gope, I. L. R. 43 Calc. 597, referred to. Ajudhia Prasad v. Ram Lal, I. L. R. 34 All. 197, distinguished. Ambika Tewari v. King-Emperor, 1 Patna L. J. 206, and Sukhdeo Singh v. The District Magistrate of Muzaffarpur, 2 Patna L. J. 1, dissented from. CHIDDA LAL v. BHAJAN LAL (1917). I. L. R. 39 All. 657

———— On the hearing an application to the High Court against the order of the Presidency Small Cause Court refusing sanction to prosecute, a vakil has right of audience before Bench appointed by the Chief Justice to dispose of it. BUDHU LAL v. CHATTU GOPE (1917). 21 C. W. N. 654 ———— cl. 7—Prosecution of witness pending disposal of suit in which he deposed—Propriety of sanctioning—Cl. (7)—Revocation of sanction granted by Subordinate Judge if to be applied ... District Judge or High Court. In a suit

... is
... er
... id
... ... entrusted with the conduct of the

... petitioner moved the High Court. Held, that generally speaking it is not desirable that witnesses should be prosecuted while the case in which they have deposed or are about to depose, is still pending and in the circumstances of the present case (the plaintiff being dependent on the petitioner for the prosecution of her case) the order ...

High Court set aside the order ...
RAJ KUMAR DEOTY v. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH (1917) . . . . 21 C. W. N. 753

———— Abetment of perjury——Before a Committing Magistrate—Application for sanction made to the Committing Magistrate—Transfer of the Magistrate pending inquiry—The Magistrate succeeded by another Magistrate who had no power to commit—Sanction proceedings sent to District Magistrate—Grant of sanction by District Magistrate. It was alleged that the applicant, who was a pleader, had during the course of an inquiry before a Committing Magistrate, abetted perjury. An application for sanction to prosecute the applicant was, ... another Magistrate who had only second class powers and had no power to commit. The outgoing Magistrate accordingly submitted the sanction proceedings to the District Magistrate, who conducted the inquiry and granted the sanction. ...

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 195

———— Appeal—Against order refusing sanction—Munsif of Jaunpur—Additional Sessions and Subordinate Judge of Jaunpur—Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1877), s. 21(4). Held, that an application to revoke or grant a ... for a prosecution granted or refused by the ...
... tional
... Held,
... ion is
... ... evidence for
... tion
... llah
... wed.

EMPEROR v. JAGRUP SHUKUL (1917)
I. L. R. 40 All. 21

——cl. 6— Period for which sanction remains in force—Terminus a quo. Under cl. (6) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the date on which sanction is given is the date of the order of the Court which originally granted sanction and not the date of any subsequent order refusing to set it aside. In re Muthukudam Pillai, I. L. R. 6 Mad. 190, followed. TILAK RAM v. DALIP SINGH (1916) I. L. R. 40 All. 338

... Confirmation of SANCTION BY APPEL- ...
... grant
... urt—
... ction.
... secute was given by the ... ... rmed on appeal by the District Court on the 23rd October 1916. An application to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction against the grant of sanction was summarily rejected on the 1st February 1917. A complaint under the sanction was filed on the 10th July 1917. Upon an objection being raised that the complaint was time-barred under s. 195, cl. (6), of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, as more than six months had elapsed since the grant of sanction. Held, upholding the objection, that the complaint was time-barred for the summary rejection of the application by the High Court did not constitute a date from which the period of six months began to run. PARVATRAO MHASKOJIRAO, In re (1917) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 281

———— Of Receiver appointed by Court—Without sanction—Agent of firm ...

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 195—contd.

and acting for it, position of. The accused was a partner and sole representative in Calcutta of a firm to which some moneys were due from a firm of which the complainant was a partner. The firm of the accused brought a suit in the High Court and by virtue of an order for attachment before judgment, took delivery of some bales of jute belonging to the firm of the complainant in respect of which the firm of the accused was appointed Receiver. Subsequently an order was made by the High Court with the consent of the parties that on the complainant's firm furnishing security the firm of the accused would give delivery of the jute to the complainant's firm which however on taking delivery of some bales alleged that the jute had been tampered with. A charge was then laid under s. 406, Indian Penal Code, against the accused. Held, that although, strictly speaking, the firm of the accused was appointed Receiver, the accused as representing the firm must be deemed to be the Receiver appointed by the High Court and the prosecution did not lie without the sanction of the Court. SANTOKE CHAND v. SUGAN CHAND MUNAWAT (1918) . 22 C. W. N. 910

——— Appellate Court to which appeals do not ordinarily lie, hearing appeal by transfer—Jurisdiction of, to grant sanction for perjury, whether as original or as Appellate Court. The offence of perjury is complete when the false statement is made in the Court of first instance and it is not re-committed in the Appellate Court by the production of the record or otherwise in appeal, so as to entitle the Appellate Court to grant sanction as an Original Court. And a Joint Magistrate to whose Court appeals from convictions by a Third-class Magistrate do not ordinarily lie but who hears an appeal from such Court by transfer from the District Magistrate cannot grant sanction for perjury committed before the Third-class Magistrate either as a Court of first instance or as an Appellate Court. Eroma Variar v. Emperor, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 656, referred to. Bhadesar Tiwari v. Kamta Prasad, I. L. R. 35 All. 90, not followed. ANANTHARAMAYA v. TUKKADU (1918)
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 787

——— Disobedience to an order of a public servant—Under s. 144. Criminal Procedure Code—Public servant, whether a Court—Sanction for disobedience, whether a judicial or administrative order—Appeal. An order under s. 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code is a judicial and not an administrative order and an order of a Sub-Magistrate refusing to sanction the prosecution of a person for an offence under s. 188 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of an order made by him under s. 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code is the order of a Court to which the appeal provisions in s. 195 (7) of the Criminal Procedure Code are applicable. Sankaram Aiyar v. Sakkarappa Mudaliar, 2 Weir 155, considered. ARUNACHALM PILLAI v. PONNUSAMI PILLAI (1918)
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 64

— cl. 6 — Arms Act—(XI of 1878), ss. 25 and 28—False information to District Magistrate—Sanction by District Magistrate—Application to Sessions Court to revoke sanction, whether competent —District Magistrate granting sanction, whether a Court. Where a District Magistrate receives information of illicit possession of arms and issues a search warrant in conseqeuence of the information, he acts as a Court, though the information may have been given under s. 28 and the search warrant issued under s. 25 of the Indian Arms Act, and an application lies to the Sessions Court under s. 195 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code to revoke a sanction given by him for the prosecution of the informant for an offence under s. 182 of the Indian Penal Code. Sankaram Aiyar v. Sakkarappa Mudaliar, 2 Weir, 155, dissented from. Clarke v. Brajendra Kishore Chowdhury, I. L. R. 39 Calc. 953, referred to. PANCHALU REDDI v. CHINNA VENKATA REDDI (1918). . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 96

——— Probability of proceedings being abortive—abortive. Where it appeared to the High Court that in the peculiar circumstances of the case if proceedings for the prosecution of the Petitioners were taken, there was a strong probability of their being abortive: Held—That the sanction granted by the lower Court should be revoked. Observations of Jenkins, C. J., In re Attorney, I. L. R. 41 Calc. 446 s. c. 19 C. W. N. 593, approved of. CHAUDHURI MIA v. ABDUL RAHAMAN . . . . 24 C. W. N. 102

——— Appellate Court—An application under s. 195, cl. (6), of the Code of Criminal Procedure stands on a different footing from an application in revision and is analogous to an appeal. The intention of the Legislature is that a Court of superior jurisdiction whose jurisdiction is invoked under the above section should consider the entire matter on the merits upon a complete review of all the facts. RAM RAJA DAT v. SHEO DAYAL (1915) . . I. L. R. 37 All. 439

—cl. 1 (b & c)— Income-Tax Collector—Revenue Court—Sanction to prosecute—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 193, 196, 199, 471—Offences committed before the Income-Tax Collector. An Income-Tax Collector is a Revenue Court within the meaning of that term as used in clauses (b) and (c) of s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898. PUNAMCHAND MANEKLAL, In re (1914)
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 642

——— Insolvency Proceedings—Where alleged forged documents were filed in the Insolvency Court: Held, that the sanction of the Insolvency Court to prosecute for offences relating to the making and using of the said documents is necessary although the offence of forgery was complete before the commencement of the Insolvency Proceedings. Where the documents were produced before the Official Assignee: Held, that the sanction of the Court and not of the Official Assignee was necessary. The Official Assignee does not become a civil Court merely because he has a wide discretion in deciding on claims of persons alleging themselves to be creditors of the insolvent, or because persons aggrieved by decisions of his can appeal to the Court from those decisions. BEARDSELL AND CO. v. ABDUL GUNNI SAHIB (1914) . . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 107

—cl. 1 (c)— In respect of a document produced in a Civil Court—By a party, but before the person producing it had become a party to any suit. The words used in s. 195 (1) (c) "when such offence has been committed by a party to any proceeding in any Court," refer not to the date of the commission of the alleged offence, but to the date on which the cognizance of the Criminal Court is invited. Hence when once a document has been produced or given in evidence before a Court the sanction of that Court or of some other Court to which that Court is subordinate, is necessary before a party to the proceedings in which the document was produced or given in evidence can be prosecuted, notwithstanding that the offence alleged was committed before the document came into Court, at a time when the person complained against was not a party to any proceedings in Court. Girdhari Merwari v. King- [illegible] Raja [illegible] ror [illegible] to. Noor Mahommad Cassum v. [illegible] jee, 4 Bom. L. R. 268, not followed EMPEROR v. BHAWANI DASS (1915) . I. L. R. 38 All. 169

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 195—contd.

—cl. 1 (c)— Mamlatdar's Court—Enquiry into Record-of-Rights—Mamlatdar's Court is Revenue Court—Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V of 1879), Chapter XII. A Mamlatdar holding an enquiry relating to Record-of-Rights, under Chapter XII of the Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V of 1879), is a Revenue Court within the meaning of s 195 (1) (c) of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). EMPEROR v. NARAYAN GANPAYA (1914) . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 310

cl 1 (b)—Election petition—Penal Code (Act) [illegible] s. 22 of the Bombay [illegible] t (Bombay Act III of 1901), is a "Court" within the meaning of s. 195, clause (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898. No prosecution for attempting to fabricate false evidence (ss. 193 and 511 of the Indian Penal Code) before the District Judge can be instituted without having obtained sanction as required by s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898. Raghoobuns Sahoy v. Kokil Singh, I. L. R. 17 Calc. 872, followed. In re NANCHAND SHIVCHAND (1912) . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 365 —cl. 1 (a)— Disobedience of the order of a public servant—Application for sanction if necessary—Police-report. Where sanction for a prosecution under s. 188, Penal Code, for disobedience of an order under s 144, Cr. P. C., was granted by the Magistrate on a police-report setting forth the facts of the disobedience of the order and also containing a request that the petitioner should be prosecuted under s. 188, Penal Code: Held, that the order was clearly made under s. 195 (1) (a), Cr. P. C Per CHAPMAN, J. So far as the provisions of s. 195 (1) (a) are concerned, there is no necessity of any application for sanction. PANCHU MONDAL v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1913) . . . 17 C. W. N. 976

—cl. 1 (b)— Falsicating False evidence—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 193—Fabricated document—Certified copy filed with plaints as proof—Charge of fabricating false evidence, sanction if necessary. The petitioner was said to have fabricated a kabinnama which was registered and he subsequently brought a suit in the Munsif's Court for restitution of conjugal rights and filed a certified copy of the kabinnama along with the plaint as proof of marriage and asked the Court to cause the original to be produced: Held, under s. 195, cl. (b), Cr. P. C, no Court could take cognizance of an offence under s. 193, Penal Code, imputed to the petitioner except with the previous sanction or on a complaint of the Munsif's Court or of some other Court to which the Munsif's Court was subordinate, such offence being committed in relation to a judicial proceeding in the Munsif's Court. ABDUL MAJID KHAN v. MUNSHI NARUL HUQ (1913). 17 C. W. N. 937

——cl. 6— Appeal—Revision. Held that the Appellate Court, equally with the Court of first instance, has power to grant sanction for a prosecution in respect of a document filed or evidence recorded in the suit. Held, also, that a petition under s. 195 (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure seeking the cancelment of an order under s, 195 (1), should be classed as a criminal appeal. BHADESWAR TIWARI v. KAMTA PRASAD, (1912).
I. L. R. 35 All. 90

—cl. 1 (c)— Forgery—Offence alleged not in connection with any proceeding before any Court—Sanction unnecessary. By s 195, cl. (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure Courts are prohibited from taking cognizance of an offence described in s. 463 of the Indian Penal Code when such offence has been committed by a party to any proceeding in any Court in respect to a document produced or given in evidence in any such proceeding. The section does not remove from the cognizance of Criminal Courts an offence described in s. 463 when such an offence has been committed by an ordinary individual. So long as the prosecution is confined to offences connected with a document committed prior to its production in Court, such prosecution is within the law and requires no sanction. EMPEROR v. LALTA PRASAD (1912)
I. L. R. 34 All. 654

— cl. 6— Application to District Judge to revoke sanction—To prosecute granted by Munsif—Transfer to Subordinate Judge, if valid —Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887), s. 22, cls. (1) and (4). An application under sub-s. 6 of s. 195, Criminal [illegible] for the revocation of a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif cannot therefore be transferred by him for disposal to a Subordinate Judge, HARI MANDAL v. KESHAB CHANDRA MANNA (1912).
16 C. W. N. 903

— cl. 7 — Sanction refused—Further application—"Case"—"Principal Court of original jurisdiction." In a suit for arrears of rent exceeding Rs. 100, a decree was passed in favour of the appellant. In course of execution proceedings the respondents made certain statement which, according to the appellant were false. The appellant applied for sanction to prosecute them under s. 195, cl. (7) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The sanction was refused by the Assistant Collector. Held, on application made to the District Judge to grant sanction, that no such application lay. The "case" in connection with which an offence was alleged to have been committed was the proceedings in execution, from which no appeal lay, and the District Judge was not in relation to such proceedings the "principal Court of original jurisdiction." AJUDHIA PRASAD v. RAM LAL (1911) . . I. L. R. 34 All. 197 ——— Appeal—Order granting sanction by Presidency Small Cause Court—Appeal to High Court—Jurisdiction to Appellate and not Original Side—'Principal Court of Original Jurisdiction,' meaning of. From an order of the Presidency Small Causes Court giving or refusing sanction, an appeal lies to the High Court generally and not to any particular branch of it. But the jurisdiction it exercises being Appellate and not Original, it is the Appellate side alone that can dispose of s ch matters. The effect of clause (7) (c) of s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, is merely to designate the Court to which an appeal lies under that clause and not to describe the nature of the jurisdiction which it exercises in dealing with orders of the Small Cause Court. Its effect is only to make the High Court the appellate tribunal. Sew Bollock Singh v. Ramdhan Bania, 14 C. W. N. 806, followed. Per CURIAM: When one Court deals with a judgment of another Court having power to confirm or to set it aside, the jurisdiction it exercises is appellate jurisdiction. Original jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in original proceedings instituted in the Court, whether suits, petitions or other proceedings. The Original Side of the High Court is not a different Court from the Appellate Side: the Court is one; but it exercises both original and appellate jurisdiction. JAMNA DOSS v. SABAPATHY CHETTY (1913).

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 195—contd.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 138

——— Provincial Small Cause Court, sanction to prosecute granted by—appeal to District Judge, if lies. A Provincial Small Cause Court is under sub-cl. (c) of cl. (7) of s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, to be deemed to be subordinate for the purposes of that section to the Court of the District Judge. NIBARAN CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v. AKSHOY KUMAR BANERJI (1917)

21 C. W. N. 948

——— Police report based on a judgment of Court—Sufficient legal basis for grant of sanction. Though a Court should not accord a sanction to prosecute under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), for bringing a false complaint, merely on the strength of a police report, yet if the report is based upon a judgment of the Court in a counter-case brought against the complainant, in connection with the same matter wherein his defence which was exactly the same as his complaint was found to be false, such report is sufficient legal material for the Court to accord its sanction for false complaint. Queen-Empress v. Sheikh Beari, I. L. R. 10 Mad. 232, referred to. S. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, does not prescribe any rule as to upon what materials a Court should accord its sanction nor does it say that a fresh or preliminary enquiry should be held before granting sanction. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J. The complainant's sworn statement, which was disbelieved by the Magistrate, was another legal material to form the basis for the grant of sanction against him. A sanction given by the lower Court ought not to be lightly revoked by a Court of Appeal. A third appeal to the High Court to revoke a sanction, though legally made in the form of a petition under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, ought not to be encouraged in practice. Re NARAYANA NADAN (1914).

I L. R. 38 Mad. 1044

——— Undue delay in passing order thereon—Upon an application by the decree-holder for sanction to prosecute the judgment-debtors and certain other persons for wrongful resistance to execution, the trying Court after adjourning the case from time to time for the examination of witnesses, ultimately disposed of the matter after examining the peon only. Sanction to prosecute was given, but nearly six months from the date of the application. In the circumstances of the case, the High Court strongly condemned the delay which had taken place in disposing of the application. MAKHAN LAL SAHA v. SAROJENDRO NATH SAHA CHOWDHURI.

24 C. W. N. 743

——— Court hearing an appeal application for sanction to taking additional evidence— An appellate Court, hearing an application to revoke or grant a sanction granted or refused by a Lower Court under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, has power itself to take additional evidence before disposing of the application. Rama Aiyar v. Venkatachella Padayachi, (1907) I. L. R. 30 Mad., 311 and Krishna Reddy v. Emperor, (1910) I. L. R., 33 Mad., 90, distinguished. SUBBASARI v. EMPEROR (1921) . . I. L. R. 44 Mad. 47

——cls. 1 & 13—Abetment of offences of forgery and personation—Committed not in the course of judicial proceedings. The offence or offences in which s. 195, cl. (1), sub-cl. (c), read with cl. (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure requires that sanction should be given by a court with respect of documents produced in Court must be offences committed by parties to the proceeding, whether the offence be one of the substantive offences described in s. 463 or punishable under ss. 471, 475 or 476 of the Indian Penal Code, or only amounts to abetment of any such offences. EMPEROR v. GHANSHAM SINGH (1909) . I. L. R. 32 All. 74

——cl. 6— Refusal of sanction by First Class Magistrate—Additional Sessions Judge can grant it on appeal—Jurisdiction. Under s. 195, cl. 6 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, an Additional Sessions Judge has jurisdiction to hear an application or an appeal from an order passed by a First Class Magistrate refusing or granting sanction. In re SIKANDARKHAN (1920).

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 877

——cl. 7— Appellate Court—What is—Sanction to prosecute made to District Court after refusal in Small Cause Court. A District Judge has no power to sanction a prosecution under s. 209 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of a case instituted in Small Cause Court and with regard to which sanction has already been refused by the Small Cause Court Judge. The words "that is to say" in cl. (7) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure do not indicate that a supplementary provision is to be found in cl. (c) but they are merely an explanation of the word "to which appeals ordinarily lie." The words "original jurisdiction" in sub-cl. (c) of cl. (7) of s. 195 mean "original jurisdiction over the class to which the case in question belongs." A Small Cause Court is itself

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 195—contd.

a principal court of original jurisdiction with regard to suits cognizable only by a Small Cause Court. SUKHDEO SINGH v. THE DISTRICT MAGISTRATE OF MUZAFFARPUR. 2 Pat. L. J. 1

——— Duty of Court granting—Claim before Official Assignee, whether a 'proceeding in Court' and claimant whether a 'party'—Insolvency Court, sanction by for offences under ss. 193 and 465, Indian Penal Code, committed before Official Assignee. A Court granting sanction under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, ought to abstain from analysing the evidence or expressing any opinion as to the probability or otherwise of a conviction.

files a false affidavit and a forged document, in support of a claim before the Official Assignee, and thereby commits offences under ss. 193 and 465, Indian Penal Code. Held, that the offences are committed in a 'proceeding in Court' and the claimant is a 'party' within the meaning of s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code; and that the

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 1

granted to the original decree-holder and not to

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 538

——— Alteration in a document filed before an Assistant Collector—In his administrative capacity—Certificate of age produced by candidate for post of patwari. Applicant, who was a candidate for the post of patwari, produced before an Assistant Collector a certificate of the "upper primary class," dated the 16th May, 1917, with the apparent object of showing (though it did not do so) that at the date of his application he was of full age. One of the zamindars filed a complaint with regard to the certificate in question alleging it to be a forgery and the applicant was committed to the Court of Session. Held that the order of committal was not bad for want of the sanction required by s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The document upon which the charge was based was not produced before the Assistant Collector in a judicial capacity, but in his administrative capacity under Chapter III of the Land Revenue Act. EMPEROR v. SANTI LAL I. L. R. 42 All. 130

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 195—contd.

—cls. 6 & 7— Small Cause Court Judge, appeal from order of—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1887), ss. 4, 24, 27 and 33—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), s. 115—Government of India Act 1915, s. 107. Held, by the Full Bench (Jwala Prasad, J., dissentiente), that an application for revocation or grant of a sanction given or refused by a Small Cause Court, or by a Munsif or Subordinate Judge, exercising the powers of a Small Cause Court, under s 195, of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, lies only to the District Court, and not to the High Court. Per Atkinson, J.—Sanction granted or refused by a Small Cause Court may come before the High Court in its revisional jurisdiction under s. 115 of Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or possibly under s. 107 of the Government of India Act, 1915, but not under the provisions of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. S. 195 is self-contained and provides its own procedure. Sub-s. (6) does not give an unqualified right of appeal to the person against whom an application for sanction has been decided. It is an enabling clause authorising a superior anthority to review an order of a subordinate authority granting or refusing sanction. The word "authority" in sub-s (6) applies both to "public servants" in sub-s. 1 (a) and to "Court" in sub-s. 1 (b) and (c). When the authority granting or refusing sanction lute and unqualified right of appeal, and, although it enables the High Court in the exercise of its discretion and power of superintendence, to review the proceedings of a Small Cause Court with a view to seeing that justice is done, and that the law is properly applied and administered, it does not constitute the High Court a Court to which appeals from Small Cause Courts ordinarily lie in the sense contemplated by s. 195 (7) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. There is no Court to which an appeal ordinarily lies from a Small Cause Court, and therefore an appeal against an order of a Small Cause Court granting or refusing sanction is governed by cl. (c) of sub s (7) and not by cl. (a) or (b). Obiter dictum.—The District Magistrate is the principal Court of original jurisdiction in Criminal cases and the Collector is the principal Court of original jurisdiction in Revenue cases. A Small Cause Court is a Court of civil jurisdiction. Per Jwala Prasad, J. An application against an order passed by a Small Cause Court Judge granting or refusing sanction may be made either to the District Court or to the High Court, but as a matter of procedure an application should first be made to the District Court. Neither sub-s. (7) nor any of its sub-clauses applies to Courts of Small Causes. The High Court at Patna has no ordinary original civil jurisdiction. LALJI TEWARI v. THE KING-EMPEROR

4 Pat. L. J. 609

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 195—contd.

———— After a considerable lapse of time—Points for consideration (e.g.) subsequent conduct as regards granting sanction for prosecution discussed. In the circumstances of this case it was held that after so long a lapse of time since the offence alleged the ends of Justice did not require that there should be a prosecution. TRAILOKYA NATH BANERJEE v. RADHARANJAN ALIAS BONOMALI BHATTACHARJI . . . . 25 C. W. N. 886

——cl. 6— "Sanction given or refused"—Order by Munsif refusing sanction to prosecute—Order affirmed by District Judge—whether High Court has power to grant the sanction—Perjury, when sanction to prosecute for, should be given—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 193. It is only when a sanction to prosecute given by the first court is revoked by the appellate authority referred to in cl. (6) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, or when a sanction refused by the first court is granted by such appellate authority, that the order of the appellate authority can be said to be an order refusing or giving sanction, as the case may be. And, therefore, it is only when the appellate authority gives or refuses a sanction which has been refused or given by the first court that the appellate order is appealable under cl. (6). But the Patna High Court following the practice in the Calcutta High Court will interfere in proper cases with an order of a District Judge confirming a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif. No person should be convicted under s. 193 of the Penal Code unless it be proved that it is impossible that the statements of the party accused, made on oath, can be true. Sanction to prosecute for perjury should not be lightly given in cases where the court would have to determine the question by merely weighing the evidence on both sides. PADARATH SINGH v. RATAN SINGH

5 Pat. L. J. 23

——cl. 7(a)— Munsif Court to what subordinate—An application was made for sanction to prosecute a witness for a false statement alleged to have been made by him in a civil suit before a Munsif. The Munsif had been transferred from the district and sanction could therefore be given only by the Court to which the Court of the Munsif was subordinate and the question was referred to the High Court whether the application was cognizable by the Subordinate Judge or the District Judge. Held, that having regard to cl. (a) of sub-s. (7) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the Munsif must, for the purposes of the section, be deemed to be subordinate only to the Court of the Subordinate Judge of the 1st class. Bure Khan v. Queen-Empress (16 P. R. (Cr.) 1898), Labhu Ram v. Nand Ram (29 P. R. (Cr.) 1918) and Boddu Ramayya v. Chitturi Surayya (29 Indian Cases 71), followed. Sunder Singh v. Phuman Singh (56 Indian Cases 591), disapproved. DINA NATH v. MUHAMMAD ABDULLA

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 57

———— Sanction to prosecute—Jurisdiction of Additional District Judge to revoke Sanction granted by Munsif— Sanction where an appeal in the suit has been assigned to him by the District Judge. An Additional District Judge having all the powers of the District Judge in respect of cases assigned to him by the District Judge, is competent to revoke a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif in a case which is before him in appeal. Mutsaddi Lal v. Mulu Mal, 9 A. L. J., 95, referred to. RAM CHARAN v. MEWA RAM . . . . . I. L. R. 43 All. 409

————cl. 6— Application under not An appeal—No revision intended after order passed under s. 195 (6)—Jurisdiction to grant sanction not ousted by transfer of magistrate from one sub-division to another in the same district. Held, that an application under 195, cl. (6), of the Code of Criminal Procedure to revoke or grant a sanction given or refused by a Subordinate authority is not an appeal. Bhadesar Tiwari v. Kamta Prasad, I. L. R. 35 All., 90, not followed. Held also that it was not the intention of the Legislature that when a question of granting or refusing sanction to prosecute has already been before two courts it should be brought by way of revision before a third. Mata Prosad v. Baran Barhai, I. L. R., 36 All., 469, followed. Held, further that, where an application for sanction is properly before a Magistrate of the first class in charge of sub-division of a district, his jurisdiction to pass orders on such application is not taken away by the fact of his being transferred to another sub-division of the same district. Mithani v. King-Emperor, 9 A. L. J., 448, referred to. It is objectionable for a court dealing with a sanction case under s. 195, cl. (6), of the Code of Criminal Procedure to confine itself to merely writing the word "Rejected" on the application without giving any reasons for the rejection thereof. CHHOTE v. KHACHERU

I. L. R. 42 All. 64

———— Appeal what is—Application to higher Court for grant of sanction to prosecute, refused by Lower Court—whether an "appeal" for purposes of limitation. The petitioner applied under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for sanction to prosecute. The first Court refused to grant sanction. An application was made to the Lower Appellate Court under sub-s. (6) of the same section. The application being put in on the 2nd day was dismissed as time-barred under art. 154 of the Limitation Act. Against this decision the petitioner preferred the present application for revision to the High Court. Held, that, although applications under s. 195 (6), Criminal Procedure Code, are a kin to appeals and may be treated as appeals, yet they are not appeals for the purposes of the Limitation Act and the application to the Lower Appellate Court was therefore not time-barred. Hardeo Singh v. Hanuman Dat (I. L. R. 26 All. 214 F. B.) and Bapu v. Bapu (I. L. R. 39 Mad. 750 F. B.), followed. PUNNA LAL v. JAMITA MAL. . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 602

———— Appeal from an order of a Judge of the late Chief Court granting sanction for the prosecution of the appellant in respect of allegations made by him in an affidavit presented to that Judge. Held, that no appeal is competent from an order of a Judge of the late Chief Court of the Punjab under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure granting sanction for the prosecution of the appellant in respect of allegations made by him in an affidavit presented to that Judge. RAMJI DAS v. THE CROWN. . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 259

———— Sanction to prosecute—Costs, if may be ordered by civil Court in proceedings

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 195—contd.

CHANDRA BANERJEE . . 25 C. W. N. 661

———cl. 1 c)——— In a dispute as to the possession of immovable properties between an auction-purchaser and another claimant to the land the latter produced a certain document before the police officer who was inquiring into the dispute. The officer filed it with his report and subsequently referred to it in his deposition. The party who had produced the document withdrew from the proceedings and the Magistrate, without referring to the document, recorded a finding that possession was with the auction-purchaser. The latter moved the Magistrate to impound the document and to sanction the prosecution of his opponent. The latter resisted the application on the ground that sanction was not necessary. The auction-purchaser thereupon filed a complaint against him under ss. 463, 471 and 476 of the Penal Code. The accused pleaded that sanction was necessary, but process was issued. The accused moved the High Court without having moved the Sessions Court. Held, (1) that although the conduct of the accused was open to criticism the High Court was bound to decide whether the prosecution was such as the law admitted; (2) that it would be a strain of ordinary language to say that the document which came into court merely because it was attached to the Police Report prior to the proceedings was "produced" in the proceeding; (3) assuming, however, that it was "produced" the prosecution of the accused, who had no hand in its production, was not barred by reason of the absence of sanction; (4) that the accused had not in any way abused the authority of the court and therefore the sanction of the court was not necessary. The words "has been committed by a party" in s. 195 (1) (c) can only mean "is alleged to have been committed by a party." JANARDHAN THAKUR v. BALDEO PRASAD SINGH

5 Pat. L. J. 135

——— ss. 195 (6) and 439—Sanction to prosecute—Revision—Powers of High Court. S. 195 of dure can always be exercised in order to prevent a gross and palpable failure of justice, it should not be exercised in such a way as to practically give a right of appeal in cases where such right is definitely excluded by the Code. AHSAN-ULLAH KHAN v. MANSUKH RAM (1914) . I. L. R. 36 All. 403

——— Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 115—24 & 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15—Order by Civil Court refusing sanction—Jurisdiction of High Court to revise such order—Delay in applying for sanction. The opposite party brought a suit for the recovery of money in the Court of the Munsif which was dismissed, the claim being found to be false and malicious. An application for sanction to prosecute the opposite party was however rejected by the Munsif as also by the District Judge in appeal on the ground of delay in making the application. Held (on an application by the Local Government against the order refusing sanction), that it was clear from the decision of the Full Bench in Emperor v. Har Prasad, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 477, s. c. 17 C. W. N. 647: that the orders of the Munsif and the Judge are not orders of a Criminal Court and cannot therefore be revised under s. 439, Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court however in the exercise of its powers under s. 115, Criminal Procedure Code, and s. 15 of the Charter Act granted sanction for the prosecution of the opposite party holding that the case being in substance a prosecution undertaken by Government, mere delay could not be taken as suggesting mala fides. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. RAM UDAR SINGH (1914) . . . . . 19 C. W. N. 447 ——— ss. 195 (6) and 476—Sanction to prosecute—Lapse of sanction—substitution of proceedings under s. 476, legality of. The period of six months provided by s. 195 (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, can only be extended by the High Court, and it is not competent to any other court, when that period has expired without any action having been taken, to draw up proceedings under s. 476. LALJI TEWARI v. KING-EMPEROR

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 195 (6) and 439—contd.

5 Pat. L. J. 58

——— Indian Penal Code, ss. 471, 474—Using as genuine a forged document—Filing a forged document as coming from the custody of the person by whom it purported to be held, if constitutes 'user'—Offence committed by such act, sanction if necessary for prosecution for—Possession of forged document, knowing it to be forged and cution story was that the accused who was the plaintiff in a rent suit himself filed a kobuliyat and an amalnama which were forged and which purported to be filed by the complainant, the defendant in the rent suit: Held, that the act constituted user within the meaning of s. 471, Indian Penal Code, and the offence committed was one under that section and in respect of that offence sanction under s. 195 or an order under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, was necessary. That no sanction is necessary for a prosecution under s. 474, Indian Penal Code. That the decision of the issues in the rent suit being largely dependent on the question whether the documents in question that pend-

DDIN

[illegible] 125

——— ss. 195 (6) and 509—

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE.

4 Pat. L. J. 374

——— ss. 195 (6), (7) (c), 435, 439—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 816

——— ss. 195, 476—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 250

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 195—contd.

———— After a considerable lapse of time—Points for consideration (e.g.) subsequent conduct as regards granting sanction for prosecution discussed. In the circumstances of this case it was held that after so long a lapse of time since the offence alleged the ends of Justice did not require that there should be a prosecution. TRAILOKYA NATH BANERJEE v. RADHARANJAN ALIAS BONOMALI BHATTACHARJI . . . 25 C. W. N. 886

——cl. 6— "Sanction given or refused"—Order by Munsif refusing sanction to prosecute—Order affirmed by District Judge—whether High Court has power to grant the sanction—Perjury, when sanction to prosecute for, should be given—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 193. It is only when a sanction to prosecute given by the first court is revoked by the appellate authority referred to in cl. (6) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, or when a sanction refused by the first court is granted by such appellate authority, that the order of the appellate authority can be said to be an order refusing or giving sanction, as the case may be. And, therefore, it is only when the appellate authority gives or refuses a sanction which has been refused or given by the first court that the appellate order is appealable under cl. (6). But the Patna High Court following the practice in the Calcutta High Court will interfere in proper cases with an order of a District Judge confirming a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif. No person should be convicted under s. 193 of the Penal Code unless it be proved that it is impossible that the statements of the party accused, made on oath, can be true. Sanction to prosecute for perjury should not be lightly given in cases where the court would have to determine the question by merely weighing the evidence on both sides. PADARATH SINGH v. RATAN SINGH 5 Pat. L. J. 23

——cl. 7(a)— Munsif Court to what subordinate—An application was made for sanction to prosecute a witness for a false statement alleged to have been made by him in a civil suit before a Munsif. The Munsif had been transferred from the district and sanction could therefore be given only by the Court to which the Court of the Munsif was subordinate and the question was referred to the High Court whether the application was cognizable by the Subordinate Judge or the District Judge. Held, that having regard to cl. (a) of sub-s. (7) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the Munsif must, for the purposes of the section, be deemed to be subordinate only to the Court of the Subordinate Judge of the 1st class. Bure Khan v. Queen-Empress (16 P. R. (Cr.) 1898), Labhu Ram v. Nand Ram (29 P. R. (Cr.) 1918) and Boddu Ramayya v. Chitturi Surayya (29 Indian Cases 71), followed. Sunder Singh v. Phuman Singh (56 Indian Cases 591), disapproved. DINA NATH v. MUHAMMAD ABDULLA I. L. R. 2 Lah. 57

———— Sanction to prosecute—Jurisdiction of Additional District Judge to revoke Sanction granted by Munsif— Sanction where an appeal in the suit has been assigned to him by the District Judge. An Additional District Judge having all the powers of the District Judge in respect of cases assigned to him by the District Judge, is competent to revoke a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif in a case which is before him in appeal. Mutsaddi Lal v. Mulu Mal, 9 A. L. J., 95, referred to. RAM CHARAN v. MEWA RAM . . . . I. L. R. 43 All. 409

————cl. 6— Application under not An appeal—No revision intended after order passed under s. 195 (6)—Jurisdiction to grant sanction not ousted by transfer of magistrate from one sub-division to another in the same district. Held, that an application under 195, cl. (6), of the Code of Criminal Procedure to revoke or grant a sanction given or refused by a Subordinate authority is not an appeal. Bhadesar Tiwari v. Kamta Prasad, I. L. R. 35 All., 90, not followed. Held also that it was not the intention of the Legislature that when a question of granting or refusing sanction to prosecute has already been before two courts it should be brought by way of revision before a third. Mata Prosad v. Baran Barhai, I. L. R., 36 All., 469, followed. Held, further that, where an application for sanction is properly before a Magistrate of the first class in charge of sub-division of a district, his jurisdiction to pass orders on such application is not taken away by the fact of his being transferred to another sub-division of the same district. Mithani v. King-Emperor, 9 A. L. J., 448, referred to. It is objectionable for a court dealing with a sanction case under s. 195, cl. (6), of the Code of Criminal Procedure to confine itself to merely writing the word "Rejected" on the application without giving any reasons for the rejection thereof. CHHOTE v. KHACHERU I. L. R. 42 All. 64

———— Appeal what is—Application to higher Court for grant of sanction to prosecute, refused by Lower Court—whether an "appeal" for purposes of limitation. The petitioner applied under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for sanction to prosecute. The first Court refused to grant sanction. An application was made to the Lower Appellate Court under sub-s. (6) of the same section. The application being put in on the 2nd day was dismissed as time-barred under art. 154 of the Limitation Act. Against this decision the petitioner preferred the present application for revision to the High Court. Held, that, although applications under s. 195 (6), Criminal Procedure Code, are a kin to appeals and may be treated as appeals, yet they are not appeals for the purposes of the Limitation Act and the application to the Lower Appellate Court was therefore not time-barred. Hardeo Singh v. Hanuman Dat (I. L. R. 26 All. 214 F. B.) and Bapu v. Bapu (I. L. R. 39 Mad. 750 F. B.), followed. PUNNA LAL v. JAMITA MAL. . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 602

———— Appeal from an order of a Judge of the late Chief Court granting sanction for the prosecution of the appellant in respect of allegations made by him in an affidavit presented to that Judge. Held, that no appeal is competent from an order of a Judge of the late Chief Court of the Punjab under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure granting sanction for the prosecution of the appellant in respect of allegations made by him in an affidavit presented to that Judge. RAMJI DAS v. THE CROWN. . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 259

———— Sanction to prosecute—Costs, if may be ordered by civil Court in proceedings

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—————— s. 195—contd.

under the section. Proceedings for sanction under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, though taken in a civil Court relate to a criminal matter and the Court has no power to direct payment of costs in such cases. BHOLANATH KHANRA v. PURNA CHANDRA BANERJEE . . 25 C. W. N. 661 ——————cl. 1 c)—————— In a dispute as to the possession of immovable properties between an auction-purchaser and another [illegible]

deposition. The party who had produced the document withdrew from the proceedings and the Magistrate, without referring to the document, recorded a finding that possession was with the auction-purchaser. The latter moved the Magistrate to impound the document and to sanction the prosecution of his opponent. The latter resisted the application on the ground that sanction was not necessary. The auction-purchaser thereupon filed a complaint against him under ss. 463, 471 and 476 of the Penal Code. The accused pleaded that sanction was necessary, but process was issued. The accused moved the High Court without having moved the Sessions Court. Held, (1) that although the conduct of the accused was open to criticism the High Court was bou[illegible] such as [illegible] strain of [illegible] ment which came into court merely because it was attached to the Police Report prior to the proceedings was "produced" in the proceeding; (3) assuming, however, that it was "produced" the prosecution of the accused, who had no hand in its production, was not barred by reason of the absence of sanction; (4) that the accused had not in any way abused the authority of the court and therefore the sanction of the court was not necessary. The words "has been committed by a party" in s. 195 (1) (c) can only mean "is alleged to have been committed by a party." JANARDHAN THAKUR v. BALDEO PRASAD SINGH 5 Pat. L. J. 135

Judge, refusing under cl. (6) to grant a sanction to prosecute which was refused by the Magistrate, [illegible] the revisional jurisdiction of the High [illegible] Criminal Proce- [illegible] excluded by the Code. AHSAN-ULLAH KHAN v. MANSUKH RAM (1914) . I. L. R. 36 All. 403

—————— Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 115—24 & 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15—Order by Civil Court refusing sanction—Jurisdiction of High Court to revise such order—Delay in applying for sanction. The opposite party brought a suit for the recovery of money in the Court of the Munsif which was dismissed, the claim being found to be false and malicious. An application for sanction to prosecute the opposite party was however rejected by the Munsif as also by the District Judge in appeal on the ground of delay in making the application. Held (on an application by the Local Government against the order refusing sanction), that it was clear from the decision of the Full Bench in Emperor v. Har Prasad, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 477, s. c. 17 C. W. N. 647: that the orders of the Munsif and the Judge are not orders of a Criminal Court and cannot therefore be revised under s. 439, Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court however in the exercise of its powers under s. 115, Criminal Procedure Code, and s. 15 of the Charter Act granted sanction for the prosecution of the opposite party holding that the case being in substance a prosecution undertaken by Government, mere delay could not be taken as suggesting mala fides. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. RAM UDAR SINGH (1914) . . . . . 19 C. W. N. 447

—————— ss. 195 (6) and 476—Sanction to prosecute—Lapse of sanction—substitution of proceedings under s. 476, legality of. The period of six months provided by s. 195 (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, can only be extended by the High Court, and it is not competent to any other court, when that period has expired without any action having been taken, to draw up proceedings under s. 476. LALJI TEWARI v. KING-EMPEROR 5 Pat. L. J. 58

—————— Indian Penal Code, ss. 471, 474—Using as genuine a forged document—Filing a forged document as coming from the custody of the person by whom it purported to be held, if constitutes 'user'—Offence committed by such act, [illegible]

cution story was that the accused who was the [illegible] tuted user within the meaning of s. 471, Indian Penal Code, and the offence committed was one under that section and in respect of that offence sanction under s. 195 or an order under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, was necessary. That no sanction is necessary for a prosecution under s. 474, Indian Penal Code. That the decision of the issues in the rent suit being largely dependent on the question whether the documents in question were or were not genuine, it was expendient that [illegible] should be deferred pend- [illegible] ASRABUDDIN [illegible] [illegible] C. W. N. 125

—— ss. 195 (6) and 509—
See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE.
4 Pat. L. J. 374

—————— ss. 195 (6), (7) (c), 435, 439—
See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 816

—————— ss. 195, 476—
See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT.
I. L. [illegible] Calc.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 195, 476—contd.

——— Sanction to prosecute—Sanction set aside by superior Court and order for prosecution under s. 476 substituted—Jurisdiction. Held, that a Court hearing an application under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to revoke sanction for a prosecution granted by a subordinate Court, has jurisdiction to set aside the order of the subordinate Court and direct a prosecution under s, 476 of the Code. In the matter of the petition of Mathura Das, I. L. R. 26 All. 80, overruled. CHADAMMI v. LALTA PRASAD (1912)

I. L. R. 34 All. 602

——— ss. 195, 476, 532, 537—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 360

——— ss. 195, (1) 478—Sanction to prosecute—Subsequent order to prosecute passed under s. 478. The grant of a sanction to prosecute to a private individual under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, is no bar to the subsequent institution of proceedings by the Civil Court itself under s. 478 of the Code. Queen-Empress v. Shankar, I. L. R. 13 Bom. 384, followed. EMPEROR v. NAGJI GHELABHAI (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 88

——— ss. 195, (6) 537—Sanction to prosecute—Irregularity of illegality—Complaint filed after expiry of the time allowed by s, 195 (6). Held, that the taking cognizance of a complaint in respect of which sanction had been obtained under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure after the expiry of the six months' period allowed by clause (6) of the section and when objection was taken at the earliest opportunity by the accused was more than an irregularity and was not covered by the provisions of s. 537 of the Code. EMPEROR v. ZAHIR SINGH (1915) . I. L. R. 37 All. 283

——— s. 196—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173

See JURY, RIGHT OF TRIAL BY.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.

——— Sanction vagueness—Objection that Local Government illegally constituted if may be taken. Where a conviction under s. 121A of the Penal Code at a trial which was sanctioned under s. 196, Criminal Procedure Code, by the Local Government was challenged on appeal to the High Court on the ground that the Local Government was not legally constituted and had no authority to sanction the prosecution: Held (per HARRINGTON, J.) That it was not open to persons who had been convicted to question the right of the de facto Government of the Province to exercise any of those powers which a Government may lawfully exercise, no such point having been taken as an early stage of the trial by motion to the High Court, and the fairness of the trial and the merits of the case being in no way affected. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—The acts of one who although not the de jure holder of a legal office was actually in possession of it under some colour of title or under such conditions as indicated the acquiescence of the public in his actions cannot be collaterally impeached in any proceeding in which such person is not a party. Parker v. Kett, 1

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 196—contd.

Lord Raymond, 658 ; 12 Mad. 467 : R. v. Redford Level Corporation, 6 East, 659, followed. When the persons sought to be prosecuted were all named in the sanction and the sections of the Code under which they were alleged to have committed offences as also the period of their activity were specified, the mere fact that those persons were not described as members of a revolutionary society (the existence of which was sought to be established at the trial) did not affect the validity of the sanction. The sanction was neither vague nor did it amount to a delegation of authority vested in the Local Government. Barindra Kumar Ghose v. Emperor, 14 C. W. N. 1114 : I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467, distinguished. PULIN BEHARI DAS v. KING-EMPEROR (1911)

16 C. W. N. 1105

——— Authority by Government for filing complaint—Telegram by Government to District Magistrate—Authority to Public Prosecutor—Discretion given to District Magistrate as to filing complaint immediately—Complaint to be submitted to Government for supplemental sanction—Authority, whether valid. Where the Government sent a telegram to a District Magistrate expressly authorizing the Public Prosecutor to file a complaint against a person for an offence under s. 124-A, Indian Penal Code, but the telegram added that the Public Prosecutor might act on this authority immediately if the District Magistrate on consultation should think it desirable and that the complaint prepared should be submitted at once to the Government for issue of supplemental sanction : Held, that the authority given by the Government was valid under s. 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Per NAPIER, J.—S. 196, Criminal Procedure Code, is a disenabling section, and should not therefore be construed with the strictness applicable to an enabling section. Chidambaram Pillai v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 3, followed. Queen Empress v. Samavier, I. L. R. 16 Mad. 468, distinguished. Barindra Kumar Ghose v. Emperor, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467, dissented from. VARADARAJULU NAIDU, P. v. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR, MADURA (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 180

——— Held that the sanction of the Local Government required by s. 196 must be conveyed by the Chief Secretary. Any order signed by a Deputy Secretary is not in proper form. MD. OZULLAH v. BENI MADHAB CHOWDHERY.

26 C. W. N. 878

——— Held that although the allegation of the prosecution supports a case of conspiracy to forge documents for which sanction to prosecute is required under s. 196 there is no reason why the accused should not be tried for offences in respect of which no sanction is required (e.g.) conspiracy to cheat and cause delivery of property. ABDUL SALEM v. KING EMPEROR . . . . . 26 C. W. N. 660

——— ss. 196, 235, 342, 360 (1), 417—

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

——— ss. 196, 428—Prosecution for offence under s. 124-A, Indian Penal Code—Sanction by whom to be given—Local Government—Sanction by one Member of Government alone, whether sufficient

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 196, 428—contd.

—Sanction after complaint, whether valid—Sanction by telegram—Proof of sanction—Telegram purporting to be sent by Government—Presumption as to sender—Evidence Act, s. 88—Objection overruled by Magistrate—Conviction—Appeal—Additional evidence on appeal as to proof of sanction, if can be permitted—Policy in granting sanction under s. 196, Criminal Procedure Code. Sanction, given after the filing of the complaint, does not fulfil the requirements of s. 196, Criminal Procedure Code. Barindra Kumar Ghose v. King-Emperor, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467, followed. Sanction granted under s. 196 of the Code must, in order to satisfy the section, have been the act of the Local Government and not of a single member of such Government. S 88 of the Evidence Act forbids the raising of any presumption as to the person by whom a telegram is sent, and the Act does not contain any special provision as to telegrams purporting to emanate from Government. Where therefore a telegram containing a sanction to prosecute a person under s. 124-A, Indian Penal Code, purported to be despatched from Ootacamund and to be signed 'Madras,' which is the telegraphic name of the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, there was no presumption as to the person by whom it was sent, and, in the absence of proof, it could not be held that the telegram was sent by the authority of the Madras Government. The powers given by s. 428, Criminal Procedure Code, to an appellate Court to take additional evidence are perfectly general and are subject only to the condition that the Court should record its reasons. Where a conviction on a serious charge such as sedition, if otherwise sustainable, would have to be upset for want of formal proof of sanction, owing to a misconception as to the proper mode of proving it on the part of the prosecution, a misconception which was shared by the trial magistrate, Held (by WALLIS, C. J., and AYLING, J., SADASIVA AYYAR, J., dissenting) that it was a fit case for the appellate Court to admit additional evidence to supply the defect in formal proof of the sanction; but on its being elicited in Court that the sanction sought to be proved was not the act of all the members of the Local Government, the Court declined to order fresh evidence to be taken, and set aside the conviction and sentence. Per SADASIVA AYYAR, J.,—Under s. 428, Criminal Procedure Code, an Appellate Court should permit additional evidence to be taken only where it feels a reasonable doubt whether on the evidence as it stands the conviction is justified, and not where being convinced that the prosecution fails on the evidence on record it considers that the negligence of the prosecutor might be excused; the discretion to be exercised under the section is not an arbitrary one and should not be exercised, especially against the accused in a criminal sanction under s. 196, Criminal Procedure Code, in the first instance or after failure of a prosecution on technical grounds, pointed out, by SADASIVA AYYAR, J. VARADARAJULU NAIDU v. KING EMPEROR (1919) . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 885 ———— ss. 196, 532—Penal Code, ss. 121 to 124— plicable to the case," and the examination of the complainant also referred to the same sections:—Held, that no complaint under s 121 of the Penal Code was thereby authorized by the Local Government or in fact preferred, that the Magistrate had no power to commit thereunder, and that the defect was not cured by a subsequent order obtained while the case was before the Sessions Court, authorizing a complaint under the section which was not in fact made thereafter; nor did s 532 of the Criminal Procedure Code apply in such a case Sham Khan's case, (1890) Punj. R. Cr. J. No. 16, approved of Queen-Empress v. Morton, I. L. R. 9 Bom. 288, distinguished; and Queen-Empress v. Bal Gangadhar Tilak, I. L. R. 22 Bom. 112, dissented from. The Local Govern-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

Procedure Code, and its judgment must be specifically directed to the particular section, and no other, under which the prosecution is to be carried on, and the order or authority should be proceeded by a deliberate determination in this respect. An order authorizing a complaint under certain specified sections "or under any other sections found applicable," if it means found by any one other than Government, involves a delegation which cannot be sustained. BARINDRA KUMAR GHOSE v. EMPEROR (1909) I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

———— s. 196A—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), s. 120B . . I. L. R. 40 All. 41

———— s. 197—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.

————

who is in a j witnes order the ti and if in doing such an act he commits any offence sanction under this section is necessary before a complaint can be lodged against him. RAISNAB CHARAN TARAN v. SUKHOMOY CHOWDHURY
25 C. W. N. 956

———————— Order passed by a District Judge under s. 197—whether open to revi-

Penal Code in connection with an incident which occurred while the petitioner was hearing a case in his Court. The District Judge ordered a notice to issue to the petitioner to show cause why sanction should not be granted, and petitioner then filed an application to the High Court for the revision of that order. Held, that t for revision was not maintainable as the order complained of was an executive and not a judicial order. The distinction between the provisions of s. 197 and those of s. 195 of the Code explained. Nando Lal Basak v. Mitter (I. L. R. 26 Calc. 852), followed. Grey v. North-Western Railway Administration (13 P. R. (Cr.). 1891), referred to. ALI HUSSAIN KHAN v. HARCHARAN DASS.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

————— s. 197—contd.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 305

————— ss. 197, 210, 215—Committal proceeding—Evidence taken in absence of sanction to prosecute—Sanction produced before Magistrate on the day he passed an order committing the case—Committal order passed in view of the wishes of the parties and a Government Resolution—Order of committal not valid. The accused, a Vatandar Patil, was charged with the offences of harbouring an offender and taking a bribe from him. Enquiry into the case was instituted and the whole of the evidence was taken in absence of a sanction to prosecute. The Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Session, relying on a Government Resolution and yielding to the wishes of the parties. The sanction was produced before the Magistrate on the day he committed the case. The Sessions Judge referred the case to the High Court as he was of opinion that the commitment was illegal. Held, quashing the order of commitment, that owing to the absence of sanction the whole of the proceedings before the Magistrate were without jurisdiction and totally invalid. Held, further, that the Magistrate was not competent to commit the case to the Court of Session solely by the wish of the parties and the terms of a Government Resolution. EMPEROR v. BHIMAJI ENKAJI (1917) . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 172

————— ss. 197, 239 and 532—Sanction to prosecute public servants—Form of sanction—Public servants conspiring to cheat three persons—Joint trial—Commitment, quashing of, after the trial has once commenced—Practice and procedure. The two accused, the Kulkarni and the Patil of a village, conspired to cheat certain ryots of their money. Sanction to prosecute them was given by the Collector "for cheating or for such other offence with which it may be necessary to prosecute them in connection with obtaining money from ryots." They were tried at one trial by the Additional Sessions Judge, who heard the whole case and recorded the opinions of the assessors. The case then stood over for judgment. But the learned Judge being of opinion that the sanction was invalid and that the joint trial of the two persons for distinct offences of the same kind was not permissible, quashed the commitment and directed a fresh inquiry under s. 532 of the Criminal Procedure Code, On review. Held, that the sanction was not invalid, inasmuch as the sanctioning authority had applied its mind to the facts of the case and sanctioned the prosecution of the accused, and had also sufficiently designated the offence or offences which might be established in connection with obtaining money from ryots. Held, also, that the joint trial of the accused was regular, because the offences charged against them were committed in the same transaction within the meaning of s. 239 of the Criminal Procedure Code, there having been clear proximity of time and space, clear continuity of action and sufficiently specific community of purpose. Held, further, that under the circumstances the lower Court had no power to quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry under s, 532, the proper procedure being to move the High Court for a quashing of the commitment under s. 215 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898. EMPEROR v. MADHAV LAXMAN (1918) . . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 147

————— s. 198—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), s. 494 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 78

————— ss. 198, 200, 503—

See COMPLAINT . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 19

————— s. 199—

See PENAL CODE, s. 498. I. L. R. 38 All. 276

————— s. 200—

See s. 4 . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 592
25 C. W. N. 357

See s. 119 . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 401

See s. 190 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 34, 657

See s. 439 . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 48

See COMPLAINT . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 19

See FALSE INFORMATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

—————Complaint by a purdanashin lady signed and presented by agent holding general power to present complaints—Absence of special power—Duty of Magistrate to satisfy himself if complaint really by person by whom it purports to be—Magistrate bound to examine complainant before issuing process—Complaint not presented in person proper course for Magistrate on receipt of—Words "at once," effect of, in s. 200—S. 198, compliance with the requirements of—S. 503, scope of—Examination of complainant on commission—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 500—Defamation. A complaint was filed before the Chief Presidency Magistrate under s. 500, Indian Penal Code, purporting to be made by a purdanashin lady and signed by a person in whose favour there was a general power of attorney authorising the presentation of criminal complaints, but no power-of-attorney authorising the presentation of the specific complaint. The Chief Presidency Magistrate issued process against the accused and transferred the case to another Magistrate. Held (on a reference under s. 432, Criminal Procedure Code), that the Chief Presidency Magistrate was wrong in issuing process against the accused. It is perfectly well-settled that a process cannot be issued against an accused person either by the Magistrate first taking cognizance of an offence or by the Magistrate to whom the case is transferred under the proviso to s. 200, Criminal Procedure Code, unless and until the Magistrate issuing process has first examined the complainant. And this is more necessary in the case of a purdanashin lady than in other cases to enable the Magistrate to satisfy himself that the complaint is really her own action. That the Magistrate should be very loth to take cognizance of any complaint which is not presented in person. The words "at once" in s. 200 of the Code clearly indicate that ordinarily a complaint must be presented in person and a complaint should not be accepted which is not signed by the complainant and is not preferred by a person duly authorised to prefer that specific complaint. That whether the requirements of s. 198, Criminal Procedure Code, were satisfied in the present case depended upon whether or not the complaint was the complaint of the lady. [The High Court quashed the proceedings, giving liberty to the lady to file a fresh complaint and directed her examination, if fresh complaint was made, by a commission issued to a Magistrate.] Held, that the terms of s. 503, Criminal Procedure Code, are very wide. They refer not only to an enquiry and a trial, but to any other proceedings The section authorises the examination of any witness, and the complainant is a witness. ABHOYESWARI DEVI v. KISHORI MOHAN BANERJEE (1914)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 200—contd.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 19
18 C. W. N. 1020

———— ss. 200, 203, 435, 437 and 528—Complaint, petition of objection to dismissal of counter-case, whether amounts to—Dismissal of counter-case without examining complainant, whether the District Magistrate has power to review order of—Penal Code (Act XVL of 1860), ss. 379 and 457. A instituted a criminal case against B under s. 457 of the Penal Code and B lodged an information against A, alleging that he had committed an offence under s. 379, B was acquitted of the charge under s. 157 and in the counter-case the Magistrate recorded the order "Enter false under s. 379, Indian Penal Code." B thereupon filed a petition of objection before the Sub-Divisional Officer asking that an investigation might be made and A summoned He also moved the District Magistrate who set aside the order dismissing the counter-case and sent the case to the Sub-Divisional Magistrate for orders. A applied in revision to the High Court to set aside the District Magistrate's order: Held—(1) that the petition of objection was a complaint within the meaning of the Code of Criminal Procedure, [illegible] order directing [illegible] was in [illegible] s. 203; [illegible] order of [illegible] jurisdic- [illegible] xercised even though the complainant has not been examined on oath; (4) that s. 437 contemplates that where a complaint has been dismissed under s. 203 the revisional jurisdiction of the District Magistrate can be invoked irrespective of the consideration whether the dismissal is legal or illegal. SADHU CHARAN RAY v. BALEI SWAIN 3 Pat. L. J. 346

———— ss. 200, 254—Procedure—Accused [illegible] plainant being examined [illegible]

Magistrate, who sent for the police [illegible] summoned the accused without examining the complainants. On the date fixed the complainants were absent and the accused were discharged.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 200, 254—contd.

Later in the day the complainants appeared and explained their delay, and the Magistrate again gave them time to produce evidence. He summoned the accused, found them guilty and sentenced them to imprisonment. Held, that the course the Magistrate adopted was irregular but did not vitiate the entire proceedings. Held, further, that where different persons are injured, grievous hurt being caused in one case and simple hurt in others, it is competent to the Court to impose separate and accumulated sentences. EMPEROR v. BATESHAR (1915) . I. L. R. 37 All. 628

———— s 201—

See FALSE INFORMATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173

———— s. 202—

See s. 437 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 456

See COMPLAINT . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

See FALSE INFORMATION TO POLICE.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

See LOCAL INSPECTION.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 340

See MAGISTRATE, POWER OF.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 68

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 181

———— Local enquiry by pleader—Consideration of new ground at hearing of rule. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to order a local enquiry by a pleader in the nature of a commission in a civil case Case in which the High Court considered a ground other than those on which the rule was issued. MOHAR KHAN v. GAYZUDDIN SHEIKH (1913) 18 C. W. N. 399

———— Magistrate's duty to record reasons before directing local investigation—Accused, if should be allowed to be represented when Magistrate considers the report of the local investigation. It is most desirable that Magistrates should follow the procedure which is quite clearly laid down in Chap. XVI dealing with complaints to Magistrates. Under s. 202, if the Magistrate on examining the complainant, distrusts the statement of the complainant, he must record his reasons before directing a local investigation. It is irregular and quite inconsistent with the scheme of the Code of Criminal Procedure to allow the accused to be represented by a lawyer to argue the case for the defence when the Magistrate is [illegible]

———— ss. 202, 203—

See COMPLAINT . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1013
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

See FALSE INFORMATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173

See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1041

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 880

———— Complaint, dismissal of, without giving opportunity to the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 202, 203—contd.

to prove his case. After the examination of the complainant the Magistrate should dismiss the complaint at once or elect to hold inquiry under s. 202, Criminal Procedure Code, before issuing process. Where the Magistrate examined the complainant on the 28th April and without dismissing the complaint then and there adjourned the case to the 26th May, and then on that date after making certain enquiries from the solicitor of the accused and looking into papers which had been filed by the defence before the police, dismissed the complaint: Held, that the procedure adopted by the Magistrate was irregular and that having virtually elected to hold an enquiry under s. 202, Criminal Procedure Code, he should not have dismissed the complaint without giving an opportunity to the complainant to adduce evidence in support of his case, and if upon such opportunity being given, he still failed to produce his witness, then his case might have been dismissed upon that ground. SANDYAL v. KUNJESWAR MISRA (1911) . . 16 C. W. N. 143

——— ss. 202, 203, 204, 437, 192—Complaint was dismissed by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to whom it was made and on the motion of the complainant the Sessions Judge ordered "Further inquiry to be made into the complaint." The record of the case and the order were forwarded to the District Magistrate "for information and compliance." The latter ordered "that the Judicial enquiry directed by the Sessions Judges will be held at Arrah by Mr. S. K. Kaviraj" a Magistrate with 1st class powers. Held that Mr. Kaviraj had jurisdiction to hold an enquiry as to whether a prima facie case had been made out against the accused and if so to try him. RAM BARAI SINGH v. RAM PRATAP RAI . 5 Pat. L. J. 47

——— ss. 202, 203, 476—Order of Magistrate taking cognizance making over case to another Magistrate for disposal after a local enquiry, if legal—Dismissal of complaint—Order for prosecution. Where the petitioner laid a complaint before the Magistrate against a police-officer charging him with various offences of wrongful confinement, extortion, mischief, etc., and the Magistrate who took cognizance of the case made it over to another Magistrate with a direction that the latter would make a local enquiry and then dispose of the case, and the Magistrate to whom the case was so made over made a local enquiry and after examining witnesses dismissed the complaint under s. 203, Criminal Procedure Code, and made an order under s. 476 for the prosecution of the petitioner under s. 211, Indian Penal Code: Held, that the order of the Magistrate before whom the complaint was laid was bad in directing the latter Magistrate to hold a local enquiry inasmuch as the Code of Criminal Procedure does not make any provision for such a course by a Magistrate to whom a case is made over for disposal. On a consideration of the circumstances of the case the High Court set aside the orders under ss. 203, 476, Criminal Procedure Code, and directed a further enquiry into the case. IMAMUDDIN v. DEBENDRA NATH (1913) . . . . 18 C. W. N. 95

——— ss. 202, 528, 556—

See COMPLAINT . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 202, 476—

See COMPLAINT, DISMISSAL OF. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 444

——— s. 203—

See s. 200 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 346

See s. 437 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 456

——— Held, that when a further enquiry is ordered into a complaint dismissed under s. 203 the Magistrate can again dismiss the complaint under that section. NIBARAN CHANDRA MUKHERJI v. SITAL CHANDRA BAG 25 C. W. N. 312

See CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION. I. L. R. 40 Calc. 41

——— Dismissal of complaint under s. 203 without taking sworn statement of complainant. A Presidency Magistrate may dismiss a complaint under s, 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code on a police report without examining the complainant. The verification on oath of a complaint before a Magistrate is a sufficient compliance with the provisions of s. 203. The omission to examine will, at the most, amount to an irregularity of the description covered by s. 537, Criminal Procedure Code. Re VELU NATTAN (1912) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Mad. 606

——— Complaint—Dismissal of complaint—Second complaint in pari materiâ—"Same Court"—Jurisdiction. Where the question is as to the competence of a Magistrate to entertain a second complaint in pari materiâ with a former complaint which has been dismissed under s. 203 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, it is not necessary that both complaints should be before the same person, but before the presiding officer of the same Court. King-Emperor v. Adam Khan, I. L. R. 22 All. 106, distinguished. King-Emperor v. Umedan, All. Weekly Notes (1905), 86, and Emperor v. Keymer, I. L. R. 36 All. 53, referred to. RAM BHAROS v. BABAN (1914) I. L. R. 36 All. 129

——— What are "no sufficient grounds"—Jurisdiction of High Court under Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict., c. 104), Art. 15. Where a Magistrate without summoning the accused dismissed a complaint under s. 203, Criminal Procedure Code, for the reasons that there was gross delay in filing it and that the charges seemed to be made for ulterior and improper motives: Held, that such considerations were not relevant to the decision of the question as to whether there were not sufficient grounds for proceeding. In the absence of a finding that the complaint was false or unsustainable on the evidence likely to be available, the order of dismissal is irregular and liable to be set aside by the High Court under article 15 of the Charter Act, 24 & 25 Vict., c. 104. GANGA REDDY v. SAMARAPATTY MUDALY (1913) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 512

——— ss. 203, 437—Complaint summarily rejected—Further inquiry—Notice to person complained against not necessary. A notice to a person against whom a complaint is made is quite unnecessary where it is sought to set aside the summary order rejecting the complaint in a proceeding to which he was actually no party. ANGAN v. RAM PIRBHAN (1912) . I. L. R. 35 All. 78

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 215 and 478—Letters Patent, cl. (15)—Order of commitment by a Judge of the High Court on the Original Side—Appeal on questions of fact only whether permissible. A witness in a Civil suit before the High Court was committed to the High Court Sessions for trial on charges of perjury. On appeal against the order of commitment, held, that assuming such an appeal could be preferred under the general words of cl. (15) of the Letters Patent, s. 215, Criminal Procedure Code, which enacts that an order of commitment made by any Civil Court can be quashed only on a point of law, modifies to that extent the general provisions of cl. (15) of the Letters Patent, and that as no point of law is involved in the appeal the order of commitment cannot be quashed. Quære, whether an appeal lies under cl. (15) of the Letters Patent from an order of commitment by a High Court Judge trying a Civil suit. VENKATAGIRI AYYAR v. N. M. FIRM (1920) . . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 361

——— ss. 221, 223, 350—

See RIOTING . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 781

——— ss. 221, 222, 223—Forgery charge of —Omission to set out intention. Where the charge under s. 467, Penal Code, did not set out the intention of the accused: Held, that this vitiated the charge. HAIDAR ALI PRADHANIA v. EMPEROR (1912) . . . . 17 C. W. N. 354

——— s. 222 (2)—

See PENAL CODE, s. 409.

I. L. R. 33 All. 36

———Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 406—Criminal breach of trust —Gross sum specified in charge—Particulars as to time—Defect in charge amounting to illegality— Applicability of s. 537, Cr. P. C., to cure such defect—Retrial if may be ordered where charge fails for want of evidence. Where the appellant, who was an executor to the estate of one D. M. R. under his will and who was finally called upon on the 15th August 1910 to deliver over to the complainant all money, valuables and papers belonging to the testator's estate, was placed on his trial on two charges under s. 406, Penal Code, and was charged in the first charge with having committed criminal breach of trust in respect of or having dishonestly misappropriated the gross amount specified in the charge between 17th August 1909 and 15th August 1910, and in the second charge with having committed the same offence in respect of the account books of the estate between 11th July 1910 and 15th August 1910, and it appeared that most of the sums making up the gross amount charged were received before the period specified in the charge, and the evidence did not disclose any completed act of breach of trust between the dates mentioned in the charge and there was no evidence of any dishonest dealing with the account books before the 15th August 1910: Held, as to the first charge, that the error in the charge and the discrepancy between the dates specified therein and the actual dates on which the offence appeared to have been committed, were not a mere irregularity which might be cured by the provisions of s. 537, Cr. P. C. It vitiated the whole trial and the appellant was entitled to an acquittal, Subramanya Ayyar v. King-Emperor, 5 C. W. N. 866: I. L. R. 25 Mad. 61, followed. It was not enough to know that there was embezzlement at some time, before during, or after the period charged, because the charge was framed under the special provisions contained in cl. (2) of s. 222, Cr. P. C., and the provision thereto, and it was at any rate necessary to show an act or acts of embezzlement in respect of the gross sum named in the charge or some part of it committed within the space of one year. Held, as to the second charge, that the same objection applied to the second charge which however was not bad on the ground that there was a separate offence as regards each account book and the appellant could not be tried for more than three of such offences, the books forming one set of account books of the estate and having been found together in two locked boxes, the keys of which were with the accused. No retrial was ordered in this case as the charges failed not because they were not deficient in point of form, but because they were not supported by the evidence adduced. PROMOTHA NATH RAY v. KING-EMPEROR (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 479

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 222 (2)—contd.

——— Act No. XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code), s. 408—Criminal breach of trust—Charge of general deficit in accounts, where agent had not only to receive, but also to expend, moneys of his principal. S. 222, sub-s. (2), of the Code of Criminal Procedure was meant to provide for the case of an agent or subordinate whose duty it might be merely to receive sums of money from time to time and to account for them. It is not suitable to the case of an agent whose employment involves the expenditure of money belonging to the principal as well as its receipt. Emperor v. Ibrahim Khan, I. L. R., 33 All., 36, referred to. Although transactions which involve civil liabilities may amount to criminal offences, and often do, so that the dividing line between the two in a discussion of the case is almost indistinguishable, the use of the criminal law, not for the purpose of punishing an offender or in the public interest, but as a means of exerting pressure to extract money from an agent, is to be discouraged. EMPEROR v. MOHAN SINGH. I. L. R. 42 All. 522

——— ss. 222 (2) and 233—Penal Code, ss. 409 and 477A—Misjoinder of charges—Criminal breach of trust and falsification of accounts—Illegality. An accused person was charged with and tried at the same trial for offences under s. 409 and s. 477A of the Indian Penal Code. In respect of the former offence he was charged with criminal breach of trust respecting a lump sum of money composed of numerous items. In respect of the latter offence he was charged with suppressing a large number of documents showing the tender to him of sums of money by the persons liable to pay the same, and with putting false numbers on three of such documents. These documents (called arzirsals) related as well to other sums of money as to the sums which the accused was alleged to have embezzled. Held, that the principle of s. 222 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure could not apply to s. 477A of the Indian Penal Code, and that the framing of the charges against the accused in the manner described was an illegality which vitiated the trial. EMPEROR v. KALKA PRASAD (1915)

I. L. R. 38 All. 42

——— ss. 222 (2), 233, 234—

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 722

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— ss. 203, 437—contd.

—— Complaint—Summary dismissal of complaint—Order for further inquiry made without notice to show cause being given to accused. Held, that it is not necessary to the setting aside of an order under s. 203 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, where the person against whom the complaint was made has never been called on to appear, that notice to show cause should be given to such person. Angan v. Ram Pirbhan, I. L. R. 35 All. 78, and Hari Dass Sanyal v. Saritulla, I. L. R. 15 Calc. 608, followed. EMPEROR v. LIAQUAT HUSAIN (1917) I. L. R. 40 All. 138

—— Further enquiry—Complaint dismissed under s. 203, if can be again dismissed under the said section, when further enquiry ordered under s. 437. Where a further enquiry having been ordered into a complaint dismissed under s. 203, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate, after taking some evidence, again dismissed the complaint under s. 203, Criminal Procedure Code, and the Sessions Judge, being again moved.

25 C. W. N. 312

—— s. 204—

See s. 437 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 456

—— s. 205—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 326—Purdanashin lady, dispensing with personal attendance in Court—Transfer. The peti-

High Court in revision made an order allowing the petitioners to appear by pleader before the Magistrate as also in the Court of Session in case

17 C. W. N. 1248

—— ss. 206—et seq.—Practice—Power and duties of Magistrate inquiring into case triable by Court of Sessions. When a Magistrate has heard the evidence of the prosecution with entire disbelief, when he considers himself in a position to show that the prosecution witnesses are totally unworthy of credit, and a fortiori when, after examining certain witnesses named on behalf of the accused, he has come to the conclusion that evidence given by them is reliable and disproves that given by the prosecution he is well within his discretion in discharging the accused. Fattu v. Fattu, I. L. R. 26 All. 564, Sheo Bux v. King-Emperor, 9 C. W. N. 829, and In re Bai Parvati, I. L. R. 35 Bom. 163, referred to. DHARAM SINGH v. JOTI PRASAD (1915) . I. L. R. 37 All. 355

—— s. 208—

See COMMITMENT I. L. R. 42 Calc. 608

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— s. 208—contd.

—— Witnesses, refusal of Magistrate to summon before commitment—Magistrate's discretion. A Magistrate has a discretion for reasons to be recorded by him to refuse to summon witnesses under s. 208, Criminal Procedure Code (Act XLV of 1898), prior to his making a commitment. Sub-s. (1), s. 208, Criminal Procedure Code, contemplates the production of evidence by the prosecution or by the accused without the aid of the Magistrate. Sub-s. (3) contemplates the intervention of the Magistrate to secure the attendance of witnesses and in regard to the evidence the Magistrate has a discretion for reason to be recorded by him to refuse to issue process. When therefore s. 210 requires the evidence referred to in s. 208, sub-ss. (1) and (3), to be recorded before a charge is drawn up, it does not require the Magistrate to record the evidence of witnesses whom in the exercise of the discretion given by sub-s. (3), he has deemed it unnecessary to summon. SESSIONS JUDGE OF COIMBATORE v. KANGAYA MANTRADIYAR (1913) I. L. R. 38 Mad. 321

—— s. 209—Magistrate—inquiry—The case not committed to the Court of Session for want of sufficient grounds—Appeal against the order—Order reversed by the Sessions Judge—Commitment when to be made—Discharge of accused. When a Com under s. 209 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) to discharge the accused. Where the Magistrate entertains any real doubt as to the weight or quality of the evidence, the task of resolving that doubt and assessing the evidence should be left to the Court of Session Emperor v. 225, follow- I. L. R. 11 ...n v. Juala, I. L. R. 5 All. 161, approved. In re BAI PARVATI (1910) . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 163

—— s. 210—

See s. 197 . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 172

—— s. 213—

See s. 206 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 355

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 885

—— Committal of a case to the Court of Session—Reasons for committal to be given where the case can be tried by the Magistrate—Indian Registration Act (XVI of 1908), s. 83, cl. (2)—Irregularity—Illegality. Where a Magistrate, who could have tried the case himself under cl. (2) of s. 83 of the Indian Registration Act (XVI of 1908), committed it to the Court of Session without giving any reasons for committal: Held, that the reasons for committal must include not merely reasons for not discharging the accused, but reasons for sending him to the Court of Session as the trial could be had either by the Magistrate himself or by the Court of Session; and that the omission to give the reasons was an illegality. EMPEROR v. NANJI SAMAL (1913) I. L. R. 38 Bom. 114

—— s. 215—

See s. 197 . I. L. R. 42 172

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 215 and 478—Letters Patent, cl. (15)—Order of commitment by a Judge of the High Court on the Original Side—Appeal on questions of fact only whether permissible. A witness in a Civil suit before the High Court was committed to the High Court Sessions for trial on charges of perjury. On appeal against the order of commitment, held, that assuming such an appeal could be preferred under the general words of cl. (15) of the Letters Patent, s. 215, Criminal Procedure Code, which enacts that an order of commitment made by any Civil Court can be quashed only on a point of law, modifies to that extent the general provisions of cl. (15) of the Letters Patent, and that as no point of law is involved in the appeal the order of commitment cannot be quashed. Quære, whether an appeal lies under cl. (15) of the Letters Patent from an order of commitment by a High Court Judge trying a Civil suit. VENKATAGIRI AYYAR v. N. M. FIRM (1920) . . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 361

——— ss. 221, 223, 350—

See RIOTING . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 781

——— ss. 221, 222, 223—Forgery charge of —Omission to set out intention. Where the charge under s. 467, Penal Code, did not set out the intention of the accused: Held, that this vitiated the charge. HAIDAR ALI PRADHANIA v. EMPEROR (1912) . . . . . 17 C. W. N. 354

——— s. 222 (2)—

See PENAL CODE, s. 409.

I. L. R. 33 All. 36

———Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 406—Criminal breach of trust —Gross sum specified in charge—Particulars as to time—Defect in charge amounting to illegality—Applicability of s. 537, Cr. P. C., to cure such defect—Retrial if may be ordered where charge fails for want of evidence. Where the appellant, who was an executor to the estate of one D. M. R. under his will and who was finally called upon on the 15th August 1910 to deliver over to the complainant all money, valuables and papers belonging to the testator's estate, was placed on his trial on two charges under s. 406, Penal Code, and was charged in the first charge with having committed criminal breach of trust in respect of or having dishonestly misappropriated the gross amount specified in the charge between 17th August 1909 and 15th August 1910, and in the second charge with having committed the same offence in respect of the account books of the estate between 11th July 1910 and 15th August 1910, and it appeared that most of the sums making up the gross amount charged were received before the period specified in the charge, and the evidence did not disclose any completed act of breach of trust between the dates mentioned in the charge and there was no evidence of any dishonest dealing with the account books before the 15th August 1910: Held, as to the first charge, that the error in the charge and the discrepancy between the dates specified therein and the actual dates on which the offence appeared to have been committed, were not a mere irregularity which might be cured by the provisions of s. 537, Cr. P. C. It vitiated the whole trial and the appellant was entitled to an acquittal, Subramanya Ayyar v. King-Emperor, 5 C. W. N. 866: I. L. R. 25 Mad. 61, followed. It was not enough to know that there was embezzlement at some time, before during, or after the period charged, because the charge was framed under the special provisions contained in cl. (2) of s. 222, Cr. P. C., and the provision thereto, and it was at any rate necessary to show an act or acts of embezzlement in respect of the gross sum named in the charge or some part of it committed within the space of one year. Held, as to the second charge, that the same objection applied to the second charge which however was not bad on the ground that there was a separate offence as regards each account book and the appellant could not be tried for more than three of such offences, the books forming one set of account books of the estate and having been found together in two locked boxes, the keys of which were with the accused. No retrial was ordered in this case as the charges failed not because they were not deficient in point of form, but because they were not supported by the evidence adduced. PROMOTHA NATH RAY v. KING-EMPEROR (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 479

——— Act No. XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code), s. 408—Criminal breach of trust—Charge of general deficit in accounts, where agent had not only to receive, but also to expend, moneys of his principal. S. 222, sub-s. (2), of the Code of Criminal Procedure was meant to provide for the case of an agent or subordinate whose duty it might be merely to receive sums of money from time to time and to account for them. It is not suitable to the case of an agent whose employment involves the expenditure of money belonging to the principal as well as its receipt. Emperor v. Ibrahim Khan, I. L. R., 33 All., 36, referred to. Although transactions which involve civil liabilities may amount to criminal offences, and often do, so that the dividing line between the two in a discussion of the case is almost indistinguishable, the use of the criminal law, not for the purpose of punishing an offender or in the public interest, but as a means of exerting pressure to extract money from an agent, is to be discouraged. EMPEROR v. MOHAN SINGH. I. L. R. 42 All. 522

——— ss. 222 (2) and 233—Penal Code, ss. 409 and 477A—Misjoinder of charges—Criminal breach of trust and falsification of accounts—Illegality. An accused person was charged with and tried at the same trial for offences under s. 409 and s. 477A of the Indian Penal Code. In respect of the former offence he was charged with criminal breach of trust respecting a lump sum of money composed of numerous items. In respect of the latter offence he was charged with suppressing a large number of documents showing the tender to him of sums of money by the persons liable to pay the same, and with putting false numbers on three of such documents. These documents (called arzirsals) related as well to other sums of money as to the sums which the accused was alleged to have embezzled. Held, that the principle of s. 222 (2) of the Code [illegible] Criminal Procedure could not apply to s. 47[illegible] the Indian Penal Code, and that the framin[illegible] charges against the accused in the m[illegible] cribed was an illegality which viti[illegible] EMPEROR v. KALKA PRASAD (1915) [illegible]

——— ss. 222 (2), [illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 235—contd.

original design accomplished so far as that act is concerned. Where a company is formed with the object of defrauding the public, it cannot be said that distinct acts of embezzlement committed in the course of several years form part of the same transaction by reason of such general object CHORAGUDI VENKATADRI v. EMPEROR (1910)
I. L. R. 33 Mad. 502

———— Charges—Misjoinder—Same transaction. The accused by means of personating a Police Officer obtained from A several sums of money on different occasions and on one occasion attempted to obtain another sum: Held, that the trial of the accused on a charge under s. 170, Indian Penal Code, and on three charges of extortion in respect of three sums and in the alternative on three charges of cheating in respect of those three sums and on a charge of an attempt at extortion in respect of another sum was not illegal by reason of misjoinder of charges as the offences charged were committed in the same transaction. Queen-Empress v. Wazir Jan, I. L. R. 10 All. 58, referred to and followed. JAGDISH KUMAR SINHA v ATMA RAM (1911)
15 C. W. N. 732

———— Whether charges under Bihar and Orissa Excise Act, 1915 (B. and O. Act II of 1915), s. 47 (a) and the Opium Act (I of 1878), s. 9 (c) can be tried together—Separate sentences, legality of—General Clauses Act (X of 1897), s. 26. Where the accused was charged and convicted of having sold opium to a certain person on two occasions, and of being in possession of opium, and was separately sentenced for each conviction: held, that neither the joint trial for the two offences nor the separate sentences imposed was illegal. BALI SAHU v. KING-EMPEROR
3 Pat. L. J. 433

———— ss. 235 (1) and 537—Misjoinder of charges at one trial—vitiates whole trial and is not a mere irregularity—meaning of "same transaction" explained. Accused (appellant) was anxious to marry the daughter of one Jagan Nath, but her father objected and arranged to marry her to another man in February 1920 and on 31st January the ceremony of lagan, which precedes the actual marriage by a few days, was celebrated. On 2nd February, between noon and 1-30 P.M., accused gave some sweetmeat poisoned with arsenic to Amir Singh, aged 9 years, and on the same day about 5 P.M. he gave a similar sweetmeat to Dalip Singh, aged 12 years, both being sons of Jagan Nath. After eating the sweetmeats the 2 boys were taken ill. Dalip Singh recovered but Amir Singh died the next day. The Sessions Judge vitiates the whole trial, and the mere fact that the accused has not been prejudiced by the procedure is not a valid ground for condoning the defect. Subramania Ayyar v. King-Emperor, (I. L. R. 25 Mad. 611 P. C.), followed. Held further, that no hard and fast rule can be laid down for determining the question whether the charges in a particular case constitute one "transaction." The answer to the question depends, to a large extent, upon the peculiar circumstances of each of action and purpose. It is not necessary that the acts constituting the crimes should have been committed on the same occasion; but it is sufficient that, though separated by a distinct interval of time, they are closely connected by continuity of purpose and progressive action towards a single object. Emperor v. Sherufali Allibhoy (I. L. R. 27 Bom. 135) and Emperor v Datto Hanmant (I. L. R. 30 Bom. 49), referred to: Held also, that upon the facts of the present case the trial did not transgress the rules as to the joinder of charges because the charges in this particular case did constitute one transaction. PAHLAD v. THE CROWN . . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 562

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 235 (1) and 537—contd.

———— ss. 236, 195, 537 (b)—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 193—Perjury arising from contradictory statements—Alternative charge—Series of acts consisting of contradictory statements—Judicial proceeding—Statement taken under s. 164—Contradictory statements made before different Courts—Sanction of each Court essential—No interference in revision unless want of sanction occasions failure of justice. A statement recorded by a Magistrate in the course of a police investigation under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not evidence in a stage of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of Explanation 2 to s. 193 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860. Held, by MACLEOD, C. J., and in any other case" used in s. 193 of the Indian Penal Code, it can be linked with a statement which is evidence in a stage of the judicial proceeding following on the investigation, so that the two can be said to be a series of acts on which an alternative charge can be framed under s. 236 of the Criminal Procedure Code of intentionally under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, before the Court can take cognizance of the charge. If, however, want of sanction has not occasioned a failure of justice it cannot be made the basis of interference in revision. Sundar Dasadl v. Sital Mahto (1900) 28 Cal. 217, referred to. EMPEROR v. PURSHOTTAM ISHWAR (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 834

———— ss. 236, 237—

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT I. L. R. 45 Calc. 727

See COCAINE I. L. R. 41 Calc. 537

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 236, 237—contd.

———————— Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 147, 323—s. 237, Criminal Procedure Code, when applies—Conviction of rioting without any charge under s. 423, Indian Penal Code—Conviction under s. 323, Indian Penal Code, by Appellate Court after setting aside conviction of rioting, legality of. The petitioners were convicted by the Magistrate, under s. 147, Indian Penal Code. On appeal, the Sessions Judge set aside the conviction and sentence under s. 147, Indian Penal Code, and convicted the petitioners under s. 323, Indian Penal Code. No charge had been framed against the petitioners under s. 323, Indian Penal Code : Held, that s. 237 has to be read with s. 236. If the facts of the case do not fall under s. 236, s. 237 has got no application. There was no charge framed against the petitioners for an offence of causing hurt, and they had therefore no opportunity to defend themselves on this charge and the conviction and sentence must be set aside. GENU MANJHI v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1914)

18 C. W. N. 1276

———— s. 237—

See PENAL CODE, SS. 417, 420 AND 511.

1 Pat. L. J. 391

———————— Conviction of rioting with common object of assault—Acquittal by Appellate Court on charge of rioting and conviction of assault, if proper—Necessity of finding against individual accused on charge of assault. The petitioners were charged under s. 147, Indian Penal Code, the common object of the alleged unlawful assembly as stated in the charge being to assault the police. No charge under s. 353 or s. 323 was framed. The Magistrate convicted the petitioners under s. 147, Indian Penal Code. The Sessions Judge in appeal acquitted the petitioners of the offence of rioting and convicted them under s. 353, Indian Penal Code, in respect of the assault committed upon the several police officers. The Sessions Judge did not find which police officer was assaulted by which petitioner: Held, that the Sessions Judge was wrong in convicting the petitioners of an offence under s. 353, Indian Penal Code, the petitioners not having been called upon to answer any such charge. That in the view taken by the Sessions Judge of the case, a finding as to which police officer was assaulted by which petitioner was essential. HAR NARAN SARDAR v. THE EMPEROR (1914) . . . 18 C. W. N. 1274

———————— Charge under s. 457, Indian Penal Code, of house-breaking by night with the object of committing theft, conviction under s. 456, for house-breaking by night with the object of carrying on intrigue with the complainant's wife —Propriety of conviction, without amendment of charge—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 456, 457. The accused was tried on a charge under s. 457 of the Penal Code of breaking open at night the door of the complainant's house with the object of committing theft and was convicted under s. 456 for having committed the offence of house-breaking by night with the object of carrying on an intrigue with the complainant's wife : Held, that though it cannot be laid down as a general rule that in all cases a prosecution for house-trespass with the alleged object of theft must fail if that object is not proved, when a charge has been definitely framed in which theft is alleged as the object the accused cannot be convicted of house-trespass with some other object without an amendment of the original charge unless the Court is satisfied that he has not been in any way prejudiced. HAJARI SONAR v. KING-EMPEROR.

26 C. W. N. 344

———— ss. 237, 238, 423—Person convicted of an offence cannot on appeal be convicted of abetment of such offence. The power of an Appellate Court under s. 423 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to alter a finding must be used in accordance with the provisions of ss. 237 and 238 of the Code. Where a person who has been convicted of an offence has appealed, the Appellate Court cannot, after acquitting him of such offence, convict him of the abetment of such offence. PADMANABHA PANJIKANNAYA v. EMPEROR (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 264

———— s. 238—

See LURKING HOUSE-TRESPASS.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 358

See PENAL CODE, s. 498.

I. L. R. 38 All. 276

———————— Trial with the aid of assessors—Conviction of the accused for a minor offence which is triable only by a jury—Trial regular —Practice and procedure. The accused was tried for an offence punishable under s. 302 of the Indian Penal Code by the Sessions Judge of Belgaum with the aid of assessors. At the close of the trial and after the opinions of the assessors were recorded, the learned Judge was of opinion that though the accused was not guilty of the offence charged, he was still guilty of the minor offence punishable under s. 326 of the Code. Accordingly, in the same trial he convicted the accused of the minor offence, though it was triable in that District only by a jury. On appeal :— Held, that the Sessions Judge was competent to convict the accused of an offence punishable under s. 326 of the Indian Penal Code, even though it was triable by a jury. PER CRUMP J. :—S. 238 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, invests the Court trying the offence (however constituted) with authority to find as an incident to such trial that certain facts only are proved in the trial which facts constitute a minor offence though such minor offence is not triable by the Court as constituted. PER SHAH, J. :—The necessary implication of s. 238 appears to be that there need be no separate trial with reference to the minor offence. According to the section even the charge is not required to be made. Pattikadan Ummaru v. Emperor (1902) 26 Mad. 243, referred to. EMPEROR v. CHANGOUDA (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 619

———— s. 239—

See s. 197 . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 147

See s. 222 . . 16 C. W. N. 600

See JOINT TRIAL . 1 Pat. L. J. 65

See JURY . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

See MISJOINDER. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 453

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 760, 1153

I. L. R. 46 Calc. 741

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 239—contd.

——— Joint trial of principal and abettor—Prejudice—Re-trial by another Judge. Where there were three charges under ss. 408 and 408—109, Indian Penal Code, against two accused persons in respect of three sums said to have been defalcated on three different dates, and the Sessions Judge tried the two accused cipal offender and the abettor either iointly or separately and the manner in which this discretion should be exercised must depend on the facts of each case. The High Court, on a consideration of the circumstances of the case, held that the accused should not have been tried on the charges jointly, and set aside the convictions and sentences, and directed that the re-trial, if any, should take place before another Sessions Judge. DWARKA SING v. KING-EMPEROR (1913) 19 C. W. N. 121

[illegible]

——— "Same transaction," determining factor as to. In deciding whether offences are so connected as to form one and the same transaction the determining factor is not so much proximity in time as continuity and community of purpose and object. S. 239, Criminal Procedure Code is only an enabling section and does not in any way trammel the discretion of the Court. LEGAL REMEMBRANCER, BENGAL v. MON MOHAN ROY (1914) . 19 C. W. N. 672

——— Procedure—Joint trial —Thief and receiver triable together. Held, that, in the absence of evidence clearly disassociating the act of receiving the stolen property from the theft thereof, the theft and the receipt of the stolen property may be considered as parts of the same transaction. It would not, therefore, be illegal to try thief and the receiver jointly. Emperor v. Balabhai Hargovind, 6 Bom. L. R. 517, followed. EMPEROR v. BHIMA (1916)

I. L. R. 38 All. 311

——— ss. 239, 233 and 235—"In the same transaction"—joint trial. Where the first accused seized a woman with the intention of forcibly having sexual intercourse with her and was attacked by her husband, and the second and third accused thereupon appeared and assaulted the husband, held, that in the absence of proof that the three accused were acting for a common purpose in execution of a common design a joint trial in which the first accused was charged under s. 354 of the Penal Code and the second and third accused under s. 323, was illegal. TEPANIDHI GOBINDRA CHANDRA BHARATI v. THE KING-EMPEROR

5 Pat. L. J. 11

Ac [illegible]
V [illegible] per [illegible] interpreted to him before his signing it—Record whether admissible in proof—Irregularity or illegality—P[illegible] liminary [illegible] accused [illegible] Judge to [illegible] and 193, [illegible] of a witness is not read over and interpreted to him before it is signed by him, he cannot be prosecuted for perjury on such deposition under s. 193 of the Indian Penal Code. Omission to interpret and read over the deposition to the witness is not a mere irregularity but renders the record inadmissible in proof of the deposition under s. 91 of the Evidence Act, as the guarantee provided by the law for its accuracy has been substantially ignored and it is dangerous and against public policy to make a witness liable on such a wholly unsafe record. Bogra v. Emperor, I. L. R. 34 Mad. 141, distinguished. Meango v. Baiah, 45 I. C. 507, dissented from. A Sessions Judge, acting under ss. 435 and 436 of the Criminal Procedure Code, cannot direct committal to the Sessions Court of an accused who has been discharged by a Sub-Magistrate in a preliminary enquiry into offences under ss. 193 and 471 of the Indian Penal Code for forgery of a promissory-note not being a Government of India Promissory-note, as such offences are not exclusively triable by a Court of Sessions. S. 239 of the Criminal Procedure Code prohibits only a joint trial and not a joint preliminary inquiry into a case against several persons for the purpose of committal to the sessions. CHENCHIAH v. KING-EMPEROR (1919)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 561

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 239, 435, 436, 439—contd.

——— s. 241—

See s. 14 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291

——— s. 242—

See s. 117 . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 139

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

——— ss. 246, 247—Examination of complainant if absolutely necessary—Examination of witnesses on date of hearing in the absence of complainant, if vitiates trial. S. 244 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not make the examination of the complainant himself in a summons case absolutely necessary. S. 247, Cr. P. C, gives the Magistrate a discretion to adjourn the hearing on any day when the complainant is absent and the examination of witnesses on any such day in the absence of anything to show that the accused was in any way prejudiced does not vitiate the trial. SARAFDI HAZI v. KING-EMPEROR

24 C. W. N. 199

——— ss. 244 and 540—Right of accused to summon witnesses—Second application by accused to Magistrate not seised of the case—Procedure—Affidavit. When an accused person has been called upon to make his defence and has applied

[illegible]

dure. The accused has no right to put in a second application simpliciter for the summoning of more witnesses, nor has the Court any power

[illegible]

——— s. 247—

See s. 244 . . [illegible]

See ACQUITTAL . I. [illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 250—contd.

of discharge or acquittal—Proviso, meaning of—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine, when to be ordered. Where in discharging the accused under s. 253, Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate in his order of discharge declared the case to be vexatious and directed the complainant under s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code, to pay compensation to the accused subject to any cause being shown by him, and no cause being shown by the complainant the Magistrate the day after made his previous order absolute and further directed the complainant to suffer simple imprisonment for 30 days in default of payment of the compensation: Held, that the Magistrate's order directing the payment of compensation was in strict compliance with s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code. It is sufficient that the Magistrate fixed the compensation in his order of discharge. The proviso to s. 250 clearly contemplates that the direction in the first paragraph of the section shall be considered as in the nature of a rule and that that rule shall not be made absolute until the complainant has shown cause. Haru Tanti v. Satish Roy, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 302, distinguished. So far as the sentence of imprisonment in default of payment was concerned, the High Court held that there was an obvious error and ordered it to be amended in terms that the compensation shall be recovered as if it were a fine and in the event of its not being so recovered there shall be simple imprisonment. LALIT MOHAN SINGHA v. KUNJA BEHARY GHOSH (1913) 18 C. W. N. 702

———— Compensation order for payment of, by complainant—Opportunity to show cause. The Magistrate after acquitting the accused made the following order:—"Accused acquitted, complainant to pay compensation to each of the accused under s. 250, Criminal Procedure Code, and show cause why he should not pay. Complainant is absent. His brother verbally shows cause which is insufficient; order made absolute." Held, that the complainant was in fact given no opportunity of showing cause and the order should be set aside. SUBANS SINGH v. MOHABIR PROSAD SINGH (1914)

18 C. W. N. 1277

———— Compensation—Accused tried on two charges and acquitted on one, but convicted on the other. S. 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is only applicable where the trying court discharges or acquits the accused altogether. It cannot be made use of where the accused, being tried on two charges is acquitted on one, but convicted on the other. Mukti Bewa v. Jhotu Santra, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 53, followed. MUHAMMAD ALI KHAN v. RAJA RAM SINGH (1918)

I. L. R. 40 All. 610

———— Frivolous or vexatious accusation—Compensation—Against whom order for compensation can be made. It is not necessary that the person against whom an order for compensation under s. 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is made should be the person who himself gives information to a Magistrate in consequence of which another is accused of an offence, provided that he is the person upon whose information an accusation is made. EMPEROR v. BAHAWAL SINGH (1917) I. L. R. 40 All. 79

———— Complaint or information given to police officer. Where a criminal proceeding was started, not upon the petitioner's complaint or upon information given by him to a police officer or to a Magistrate, as required by the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, s. 250, but upon evidence obtained by the police upon enquiry instituted by them: Held, the petitioner could not be said to have instituted the proceedings, even though his statement was taken, with that of others during the enquiry by the police. SARJU PRASAD SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR

1 Pat. L. J. 106

———— Compensation for frivolous or vexatious complaint—Bombay Public Conveyances Act (Bom. Act VI of 1863), s. 28—Proceeding to recover legal fare, not complaint for an offence. A proceeding to recover legal fare, under s. 28 of the Bombay Public Conveyances Act, 1863, is not a complaint for an offence; and even if frivolous or vexatious, no order for compensation can be passed under s. 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898. In re VALLI MITHA (1919)

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 463

———— Order for compensation without examining all the witnesses of complainant, legality of. In a case of rioting and intimidation, the Magistrate, after examining only some of the witnesses of the complainant, discharged the accused and, after asking the complainant to show cause why he should not be ordered to pay compensation to the accused, passed an order for compensation without examining the remaining witnesses in spite of his request to do so: Held, that the order was not illegal but one that should only be made in very exceptional circumstances. APPALANARASAYYA BHUKTA v. EMPEROR

I. L. R. 44 Mad. 51

———— ss. 250, 423—Compensation, order for—Appeal—Notice to the accused, order without improper but not illegal—Complaints, false as well as frivolous or vexatious. In appeals under s. 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notice should ordinarily be given to the accused even though failure to give notice may not render the proceedings of the Court illegal. Emperor v. Palaniappavelan, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 187 approved. Ambakkagari Nagi Reddy v. Basappa of Medimakulapalli, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 89, followed. Guruswami Naicken v. Tirumurthi Chetty, 27 Mad. L. J. 629 explained. Alagirisami Nayudu v. Balakrishnasami Mudaliar, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 41, Imperatrix v. Sadashiv, I. L. R. 22 Bom. 549, In the matter of the petition of Umrao Singh v. Fakir Chand, I. L. R. 3 All. 749, and In the matter of Teacotta Shekdar, I. L. R. 8 Calc. 393, referred to. S. 250 not only refers to false complaints but to frivolous and vexatious complaints as well. Emperor v. Bindesri-Prasad, I. L. R. 26 All. 512, and Beni Madhab Karim v. Kumud Kumar Biswas, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 123, referred to. Ram Singh v. Mathura, I. L. R. 34 All. 354, doubted. Per SPENCER, J. S. 250 does not declare what the powers of an Appellate Court are in disposing of appeals under clause (3) of the section. It is therefore unnecessary to invoke the aid of s. 423 for the purpose. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR, J. The powers of the Appellate Court to grant redress have to be gathered from s. 423. S. 250 is not self-contained as are sections relating to grant of sanction and to convictions for contempt (ss. 195 and 486).

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 250, 423—contd.

Chapter XXXI of the Criminal Procedure Code applies to appeals against orders under s. 250 of the Code. VENKATARAMA v. KRISHNA (1915)

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1091

———— ss. 250, 537—Frivolous or vexatious complaint—Compensation—Procedure—Irregularity. A Magistrate, after recording the evidence for the prosecution and the statement of the accused, came to the conclusion that the complaint was unfounded and discharged the accused, and in the same order called upon the complainant to show cause, under s. 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, why he should not pay compensation to the accused. Four days later, after hearing the 537. Jugal Kishore v. Abdul Karim, All. Weekly Notes, (1905) 214, and Emperor v. Punamchand Hirachand, 8 Bom. L. R. 47, followed. In re Safdar Husain, I. L. R. 25 All. 315, not followed. GHURBIN KOERI v. KHALIL KHAN (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 132

———— ss. 253, 369—

See REVIEW.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 828

———— ss. 253 (2), 350 and 437—

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 585

———— ss. 253, 259—Warrant case—Discharge of accused for absence of complainant. In a warrant case an order discharging an accused person on account of the absence of the complainant cannot be made under s. 253, Criminal Procedure Code. Such an order can only be made under s. 259 and in a case where the offence may be lawfully compounded. ALEXANDER v. CONNORS (1916)

20 C. W. N. 698

———— s. 254—

See s. 200 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 628

———— Commitment of case which Magistrate was competent to try—Commitment quashed—Indian Penal Code, s. 222. It is not competent to a Magistrate to commit a case which it is within his jurisdiction to try, unless he is of opinion that the accused, if guilty, cannot be adequately punished by him. EMPEROR v. BINDESHRI GOSHAIN (1919)

I. L. R. 41 All. 454

———— ss. 254, 347—Commitment to Sessions by Magistrate competent to try and adequately punish, legality of. The terms of s 347 of the Criminal Procedure Code are general and give a Magistrate who is empowered to commit a discretion in committing cases for trial which is not limited by s. 254 so as to make it obligatory on him to try every case which he can adequately punish. Queen-Empress v. Kayemullah Mandal, I. L. R. 24 Calc. 429, King-Emperor v. Dharam Singh, 1 M. L. T. 61, and Emperor v. Jaymohan, 11 Cri. L. J. 54, not followed. In the matter of Chinnamariyadu, I. L. R. 1 Mad. 289, applied. CROWN PROSECUTOR, THE v. BHAGAVATHI (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 83

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

———— ss. 255, 256, 271, 272 and 428—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s. 21.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 457

———— ss. 255, 342—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 30—Confession of co-accused, admissible under—Separate trials not necessary where confession made during trial. When before a Magistrate in a statement under s. 347, Criminal Procedure Code, certain accused confessed the crime and implicated their co-accused and further under s. 255 (1), pleaded guilty to the charges: Held, that it was not necessary to try the co-accused separately to enable the confessions to be used against them under s. 30, Indian Evidence Act. Queen-Empress v. Lakshmayya Pandaram, I L. R. 22 Mad, 491, dissented from. Queen-Empress v. Pirbu, I. L. R. 17 All. 524, and Queen-Empress v. Pahuji, I. L. R. 19 Bom. 195, distinguished. Re BATI REDDI (1913) . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 302

See CROSS EXAMINATION.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 236

———— Compensation for making a frivolous or vexatious complaint—Consequential order—S. 423, sub-s, 1, cl. (d)—Power of Appellate Court under. An Appellate Court can pass an order against the complainant awarding compensation to the accused under s. 250, Criminal

v. Chittan, I L. R. 28 All. 625, dissented from. KARI SINGH v. TUFANI DHANUK (1909)

14 C. W. N. 212

———— s 256—

examine prosecution witnesses—Magistrate, refusal of, illegal—Prejudice—Onus on prosecution. When a summons-case and warrant-case are tried together, the procedure to be followed is that pre-a warrant-case is not proceeded with, but a charge be framed only in respect of the offence triable as a summons-case, the accused is entitled to recall and cross-examine the prosecution witnesses under s. 256 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as he thereby. Re SOBHANADRI (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 503

———— ss. 256 and 257—

———— Right of accused after charge to recall prosecution witness for further cross examination—Absolute or qualified right—Applicability of s. 256 to witnesses not present before Court—Waiver by counsel, whether binding on accused—Entering upon defence, meaning of—Evidence Act (I of 1872), sec. 33—Deposition of prosecution witness cross-examined before charge—No opportunity for further ...

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 256 and 257—contd.

—Deposition whether admissible at the trial. S. 256, Criminal Procedure Code, confers an absolute and unqualified right on the accused to recall for further cross-examination only such of the witnesses as are still before the Court and have not been discharged from further attendance. After the charge had been framed the accused pleaded not guilty and mentioned to the Court that he had witnesses to examine: Held, that he had entered upon his defence and an application for further cross-examination of a witness discharged from attendance must be deemed to have been made under s. 257. Waiver by counsel of further cross-examination in case a charge is framed cannot prejudice the right of the accused under ss. 256 and 257, Criminal Procedure Code. A deposition of a prosecution witness is admissible in evidence if the accused had an opportunity of cross-examining him before the charge and there was no opportunity for further cross-examination after charge. LOCKLEY v. KING-EMPEROR (1920)
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 411

———— witness, right of accused to cross-examine—duty of court to secure attendance. After a charge had been framed against the accused he applied for four of the prosecution witnesses to be re-summoned for cross-examination. The Magistrate ordered him to pay Rs. 20 as process fees to secure the attendance of the four witnesses and this was done. One of them did not obey the summons and the accused applied to the court to re-summon him. The Magistrate ordered this to be done on condition that a further sum of Rs. 20 was deposited. The accused did not comply with this condition and the witness was not re-summoned: Held, that in the absence of a recorded finding that the application to re-summon the witness was frivolous and vexatious and would defeat the ends of justice, the Magistrate was bound to secure the attendance of the witness. RAMYAD SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR
5 Pat. L. J. 94

———— ss. 256, 258, 417—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 406—Appeal by Local Government against acquittal—Powers and duties of the High Court—Order of acquittal passed after cross-examination of prosecution witnesses subsequent to framing of charge. The accused was placed on his trial for having committed criminal breach of trust in respect of some bales of jute. The accused admitted his liability. The trying Magistrate framed a charge under s. 406, Indian Penal Code, and after cross-examination of the witnesses for the prosecution acquitted the accused under s. 258, Criminal Procedure Code, holding that the case was one of civil dispute: Held (on an appeal by the Local Government under s. 417, Criminal Procedure Code), that in an appeal from an acquittal the High Court could not interfere unless the judgment of the Court below was wrong and perverse or without jurisdiction and based upon obvious errors in procedure, and there being nothing of the kind in the case, the High Court should uphold the decision of the Magistrate, even though wrong, because it would be based at the most on a doubtful weighing of facts and not on any irregularity or negligence or other matter owing to the jurisdiction or the regularity of the trial. That the order of acquittal having been passed subsequent to the framing of the charge and after the cross-examination of the witnesses for the prosecution, was not irregular or without jurisdiction. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER OF BENGAL v. AMULYA DWAN (1913)
18 C. W. N. 666

———— s. 258—

See s. 248 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 369

See s. 439 . . 18 C. W. N. 1244

———— s. 259—

See s. 247 . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 727

See s. 253 . . 20 C. W. N. 698

———— s. 260—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882), s. 74.
I. L. R. 35 All. 173

See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT 1859 . I. L. R. 43 All. 281

———— cl. (1)—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 71—Paddy cut and carried away by landlord from tenant's land, value of, for summary trial for theft. Since a tenant is entitled to the exclusive possession of the whole produce until it is divided under s. 71 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, his complaint against landlord for theft for having cut and carried away paddy worth Rs. 88 of which the latter was only entitled to one half, cannot be summarily tried by a Magistrate as the value of the property in this case must be regarded as Rs. 88 and not Rs. 44 only. HABOO v. SHEIKH KARIMAN (1916)
20 C. W. N. 1212

———— Summary procedure adopted in the middle of a trial, if legal—Such change of procedure causing prejudice to accused—Illegality of conviction—Trial before new Magistrate. The petitioners were summoned under ss. 186 and 206, Indian Penal Code. After the examination in chief of the witnesses for the prosecution in the regular manner the Magistrate being of opinion that no offence under s. 206 was made out changed the procedure to that applicable to summary trials and ultimately convicted the petitioners under s. 186, Indian Penal Code: Held, that the procedure adopted by the Magistrate was not authorised by law and caused prejudice to the accused and the conviction was therefore liable to be set aside. GOSTA BEHARY BASU v. BAISTUM DAS DEURA . . . . 26 C. W. N. 831

———— s. 263—Hearing and recording of evidence—Complainant and his witnesses, examination of—Procedure—Practice. S. 263 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not excuse the Magistrate from hearing the evidence of all witnesses. In all criminal cases the complainant and such witnesses as he may produce must be examined, whether their evidence is required to be recorded or not, and the case must be decided upon the effect of their evidence. JABBAR SHAIK v. TAMIZ SHAIK (1912) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 931

———— ss. 263, 342—

See SUMMARY TRIAL.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 743

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 263 and 355—

See SUMMARY TRIAL.

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 280

———— ss. 268 and 537—Trial by Sessions Judge with the aid of assessors—Evidence recorded by the Judge alone after the assessors had been discharged—Illegality. Where a Sessions Judge is trying a case with the aid of assessors, it is the Judge plus the assessors who constitute the Court, not the Judge alone. Where, therefore, a Sessions Judge recorded evidence after the assessors had been discharged, it was held that this was a material irregularity which vitiated the trial. Queen-Empress v. Ram Lal, I. L. R. 15 All. 136, followed. EMPEROR v. JAISUKH

I. L. R. 43 All. 125

———— ss. 271, 272—

See EVIDENCE ACT, s. 21.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 457

———— ss. 271, 272, 308, 403—

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1072

———— s. 282—Jury—Juror discharged during trial and fresh juror substituted—Trial not recommenced—Invalidity of proceedings. On trial by a jury, after two witnesses had been examined, one of the jurors was discovered to be deaf and was discharged and another juror sworn in his place. The trial, however, was not commenced afresh, but the evidence given by the two witnesses was read over to and admitted by them: Held, that this procedure was inadmissible and the trial so held invalid. EMPEROR v. NARAIN (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 481

———— s. 284—Assessors—Trial with only one duly appointed assessor—Trial illegal. Of two assessors assisting the Sessions Judge in the trial of a sessions case, one only had been duly sum-

[illegible]

Magistrate: Held, that in these circumstances there was no lawful trial before a lawfully constituted tribunal, and that a new trial must be ordered. Queen-Empress v. Badri, All. W. N. (1894), 201, followed. EMPEROR v. MAN SINGH (1913) . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 570 ———— ss. 284 and 285—Trial with assessors—one assessor absent—person not on official list of assessors acting as assessor—validity of trial. Where one of two assessors who had been summoned to assist the Sessions Judge in a trial for forgery was absent on the day when the trial opened, and the Judge ordered another person who was not on the official list of assessors to act as assessor: held, that the trial was illegal. BALAK SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR

3 Pat. L. J. 141

———— s. 285—

See s. 14 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291

———— s. 287—

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 220

———— ss. 287 and 310—previous conviction, when evidence of, may be tendered—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 14 and 54. S. 287 of the Code of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 287 and 310—contd.

Criminal Procedure, 1898, permits a previous statement of the accused to be read as a part of the case for the prosecution only so far as such statement refers to the offence for which the accused is being tried and not so far as it relates to a previous conviction. The latter portion cannot be read out to the jury or assessors under s 310 until they have given their verdict. Evidence of the previous conviction of an accused person amounts to evidence of bad character and is not admissible under s. 54 of the Evidence Act, 1872, unless and until the accused produces evidence of good character. TEKA AHIR v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 706

———— ss. 289, 292—

See RIGHT OF REPLY.

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 426

———— s. 291—

See WITNESS . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 758

———— ss. 293, 294—

See LOCAL INSPECTION

I. L. R. 37 All. 340

———— s. 295—

See s. 14 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291

See MAGISTRATE I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

———— s. 297—Charge to jury—Misdirection—Omission to tell the jury that they could draw inference against the prosecution, when material

[illegible]

cies in the prosecution evidence—Retrial—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 304. Where certain material witnesses named in the first

[illegible]

Nath Banerjee
s. c. 13 C. W.
. RAM MONDAL v.
C. W. N. 142

———— ss. 297, 298—Duty of Judge in charging jury—Judge in charging jury if bound to explain law on exceptions reducing murder to culpable homicide when no exception pleaded and when there is no evidence of that—Withdrawal of case under s. 304, Indian Penal Code, if necessarily follows from

[illegible]

meaning [illegible] tion—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 105—Letters Patent, 1865, s. 26—Review of Criminal case decided by High Court in Original Criminal Jurisdiction on certificate of Advocate-General—Statement by presiding Judge as to what was [illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— ss. 297, 298—contd.

trial—Jurisdiction of High Court to consider case when errors alleged in certificate not established. The accused was tried and convicted in the Criminal Sessions of the High Court. He was placed on his trial on charges under ss. 302, 304 and 326, Indian Penal Code, to which he pleaded not guilty. He was defended by counsel who argued that the case against the accused was one of murder or nothing and the jury could not convict him of murder on the meagre and unsatisfactory testimony before the Court. Grave and sudden provocation was no part of the defence case. The Judge in charging the jury laid down the law under s. 302, Indian Penal Code, but not that under s. 304 or the exceptions contained in s. 300. He observed that he did not see that there was any evidence of any of the exceptions provided for in s. 300. He did not explain to the jury the application of the exception of provocation to the facts of the case. The jury found the accused guilty under s. 302 by a majority of 8 to 1 and the Judge agreeing with the verdict gave judgment in accordance therewith. No verdict was taken on the charges under ss. 304 and 326, Indian Penal Code. The case came up before a Full Bench on a certificate granted by the Advocate-General under s. 26 of the Letters Patent. Held, that a statement by the Trial Judge as to what took place at the trial is conclusive. That there was no illegality in not taking the verdict of the jury on the charge under s. 304, Indian Penal Code. That where there is no misdirection or other error as certified by the Advocate-General under s. 26 of the Letters Patent his certificate is misconceived and the High Court has no power to interfere. It is not within its power to reopen the case and express any opinion on the merits. That in the present case in the absence of any direct evidence of grave and sudden provocation or of facts from which this exception could be legitimately inferred the Judge was correct in excluding enquiry into the exception. That under s. 105 of the Evidence Act the Court has to regard the absence of grave and sudden provocation as proved until the contrary is proved by the accused on whom the onus lies. Per JENKINS, C. J. That it is not impossible under the law to leave the case to the jury under s. 304, Indian Penal Code, after holding that the exceptions enumerated in s. 300 do not apply to the circumstances of the case. That under ss. 297 and 298, Criminal Procedure Code it comes within the duty of the Judge to determine whether any evidence has been given on which the jury can properly find the question for the party on whom the onus of proof lies. It is not enough to say that there was some evidence. There must be evidence on which the jury might reasonably and properly conclude the fact to be established. That the duty of the Judge in charging the jury is to lay down the law in reference to the case presented to the Court and the facts of the case and not to perplex the minds of the jury with considerations that are outside the legitimate scope of the enquiry. That the conduct of a case by counsel is not a negligible factor even in a criminal suit though it may not conclude the accused and in approaching the question whether the Judge rightly decided as a matter of law that there was no evidence of any of the exceptions it is relevant to consider how the accused's case was placed before the Court. Per STEPHEN, J. That the propriety and not the possibility of an inference is the test by which a Judge should decide whether or not he should suggest a case for the consideration of the jury on his own initiative. It is the duty of a Judge to make a case for the accused on which he thinks that a verdict of not guilty may be properly returned though the case has not been suggested by or on behalf of the accused. It is the duty of defending counsel to make the Judge aware of any case that he considers may be made on behalf of the accused though he has not made it himself. Per WOODROFFE, J. It cannot be laid down as a general proposition of universal applicability that a Court cannot and should not consider a case in favour of the accused which he has not raised. If such a case arises on the prosecution evidence, it should be put to the jury for their consideration whatever line might have been taken by the accused or his counsel. But on the question whether an inference does arise in favour of the accused the fact that a particular defence has or has not been taken, may affect the significance of the evidence given. Per MOOKERJEE, J. The expression "lay down the law" in s. 297, Criminal Procedure Code, does not signify "lay down the whole law on the subject irrespective of the facts of the particular case before the Court." The reasonable construction of s. 297, Criminal Procedure Code is that the Judge should lay down the law only in so far as it bears upon the evidence adduced in the particular case. The mere fact that counsel for the accused has failed to present to the Court a particular aspect of the case cannot justify an omission on the part of the Judge to draw the attention of the jury to what appears to be a possible answer to the charge against the accused even on the prosecution evidence: Mere non-direction is not necessarily misdirection: those who allege misdirection must show that something wrong was said or that something was said which would make wrong that which was left to be understood. Every summing up must be regarded in the light of the conduct of the trial and the questions which have been raised by the counsel for the prosecution and for the defence respectively. Per HOLMWOOD, J. No error of law is committed by a Judge who refrains from directing the jury as to exceptions which have neither been raised nor relied upon by the accused and have no basis in evidence on the record. Where there is no evidence bringing the case directly within any such exception, it would be misdirection to ask the jury to come to a finding of fact on a hypothetical state of circumstances which do not bring the case within the exception as a matter of fact. KING-EMPEROR v. UPENDRA NATH DAS (1914) . . 19 C. W. N. 653

—— ss. 297, 303—

See JURY, TRIAL BY.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 367

—— ss. 297, 303, 304—Trial by Court of Sessions—Verdict, how to be taken, where many accused and both jury and assessors charged. S. 297, Criminal Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1898) specifically enacts that the Judge shall only charge

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 297, 303, 304—contd.

the jury "when the case for the defence and the prosecution reply are concluded." Where therefore the Judge heard arguments and took verdicts as regards certain accused and subsequently went on to hear arguments and take verdicts as regards other accused: Held, that the procedure adopted was irregular. The verdict of a jury must be taken collectively upon charges triable by jury even where the jury may be sitting as assessors to try other charges triable by assessors. A jury having delivered a verdict may not be again asked to consider that verdict. It may only be questioned to find out what in fact the verdict is. Criminal Procedure Code, ss. 303 and 304, discussed and explained. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. ABDUL HAMED (1913) . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 585

———— s. 298—

See s. 297 . . 19 C. W. N. 653

See MISDIRECTION

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 557

———— ss. 298 (1) (c), 337—

See PARDON . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 856

———— s. 300—

See VERDICT . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 207

———————— Person other than a juror holding communication with a juror after charge without Court's leave. Where it was proved that after the charge had been delivered, a person other than a juror spoke to or held communication with a member of the jury without the leave of the Court, Held, that that was sufficient to upset the verdict, and it was not relevant to consider whether the irregularity had in fact prejudiced the accused. It is a matter of great importance that s. 300 of the Criminal Procedure Code which is explicit in its terms should be observed. R. v. Ketteridge, (1915) 1 K. B. 467, referred to. BENI MADHAB KUNDU v KING-EMPEROR (1913) . . 22 C. W. N. 740

———— s. 301—Trial by jury—Verdict settled by casting lots—Enquiry thereabout—Evidence of individual jurors if admissible. Where it was alleged that the verdict of the jury was arrived at by casting lots and the Sessions Judge held an enquiry into the matter in the course of which he examined besides other persons, all the jurors: Held, that the statement of a juror as to what happened in the jury room is inadmissible. KING-EMPEROR v. HIRXOMAR BURMAN ROY (1913)

17 C. W. N. 737

———— ss. 303, 304—

See s. 29 . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 535

———— ss. 303 and 307—Verdict of jury—Reasons for their verdict—Power of Sessions Judge to question jury as to their reasons for their verdict—Question, if permissible, for determining whether reference to High Court necessary. A Sessions Judge is not entitled under s. 303 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to question the jury as to the reasons for their verdict, even if he intended to make a reference to the High Court under s. 307 of the Code. Reference No. 30 of 1913, dissented from: Emperor v. Sirasuli (1907) I. L. R. 30 Mad. 43, and Public Prosecutor v. Abdul Hamed (1913) I. L. R. 37 Mad. 58?, followed.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 303 and 307—contd.

Though a Sessions Judge is neither bound nor entitled to put such questions to the jury, still his having done so for the purpose of determining whether he should make a reference is not improper or a sufficient ground for not accepting the reference. SUBBIAH THEVAN v. THE ASSISTANT SESSIONS JUDGE OF TINNEVELLY (1920)

I. L. R. 43 Mad. 711

———— s. 307—

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS.

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 662

See REFERENCE I. L. R. 42 Calc. 786

1. ———————— Disagreement between Judge and jury—Reference to High Court—Sub-s. (3)—Opinion of the jury if equivalent to verdict—Verdict, grounds of, when desirable to ascertain. The expression "opinion of the Sessions Judge and the jury" in sub-s. (3) of s. 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code, is equivalent to "opinion of the Sessions Judge and verdict of the jury" and it is not necessary for a Sessions Judge before making a reference to the High Court to ascertain the opinion of the jurors apart from their verdict. Emperor v. Chellan, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 91, not followed. After the jury have returned their verdict and after the Judge has stated that he will not accept the verdict, it may be desirable to ascertain the grounds of their verdict, but there is no express provision in the Code for ascertaining the opinion of the jury. EMPEROR v. TARAPADA NASKAR (1913) 18 C. W. N. 615

2 ———————— Jurisdiction of High Court to convict of offence under s. 326, Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860). The High Court is empowered on a reference under s. 307, Criminal Procedure Code, to convict the accused of an offence under s. 326 of the Penal Code. Sir V. Bhashyam Ayyangar, J., in Pattikadan Ummaru v. Emperor, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 243, followed. BENSON, J., in Pattikadan Ummaru v Emperor, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 243, dissented from. MUTYALU, Re (1914) . . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 233

3. ———————— Reference to High Court on disagreement between Judge and Jury—Acceptance by Judge of verdict on some charges, reference to High Court on others—High Court if can consider evidence on charges in relation to which verdict accepted by trial Judge—Course to be followed by High Court on such reference in testing verdict referred. Where the accused was tried on several charges and the Sessions Judge accepted the verdict of the jury as to some and disagreed as to others and referred the verdict to the High Court as to the latter. Held, that by this limited form of reference the High Court was precluded from considering the entire evidence on the record and on such reference all that the High Court had to decide was whether the verdict of the jury on the charges as to which there was dis-

[illegible]

referred the whole case leaving it to the High Court to consider the whole of the evidence that was placed before the jury. KING-EMPEROR v. ANNADA CHARAN ROY (1913) . . 21 C. W. N. 435

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 307—contd.

4. ———— Jury, verdict of—Interference of High Court on reference when verdict not perverse. Where the accused were tried on several charges, and the jury unanimously found them not guilty on all the charges but the Sessions Judge not accepting the verdict as to some of the charges referred the case to the High Court: Held, that in the circumstances of the case the verdict could not be said to be perverse or erroneous and the accused should be acquitted. ASGAR MONDAL v. KING-EMPEROR (1918) 22 C. W. N. 811

5. ———— Reference to High Court by Sessions Judge on disagreement with jury—Scope of High Court's interference. The accused was tried on charges under ss. 395, 411, 412, Indian Penal Code, and found not guilty by a majority of the jury. The Sessions Judge disagreeing with the jury referred the case to the High Court under s. 307, Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court on a consideration of the evidence held that the guilt of the accused was not proved beyond reasonable doubt and acquitted the accused. EMPEROR v. CHANOO LAL BANIA (1918) . . . 22 C. W. N. 1028

6. ———— Reference to High Court when can be made. The accused were found guilty under s. 366 and s. 376, Indian Penal Code, by the verdict of a majority of the jury. The Sessions Judge though not agreeing with it accepted it on the ground that he could not call it perverse: Held, that it is no longer the law that before making a reference the Judge must be satisfied that the verdict is perverse. It is sufficient that he should be clearly of opinion that it is necessary for the ends of justice. The High Court set aside the verdict on the ground of misdirection and acquitted the accused. ISMAIL SARKAR v. KING-EMPEROR (1918) . . . . . 23 C. W. N. 747

7. ———— Judge and jury, disagreement between—Duties of High Court on reference. In the case of a reference to the High Court on a disagreement between the Sessions Judge and the jury, under s. 307, cl. (3), Cr. P. C. the High Court is to give due weight not to the opinion of the jury alone but to that of the Sessions Judge as well. EMPEROR v. SHEIKH NIAMATULLA (1913) . . . . . 17 C. W. N. 1077

8. ———— Reference to High Court on disagreement with jury—Matters which must be stated by Sessions Judge in making reference—Incompetent reference, effect of—Misdirection to jury—Duty of Sessions Judge to present case to jury dispassionately and impartially—Statement in charge to jury not borne out by record. The accused were placed on their trial all on charges under ss. 302, 147 and 326/149, Indian Penal Code, and one of them under s. 148, Indian Penal Code, in addition thereto. The jury returned a verdict of guilty under ss. 147 and 326/149, Indian Penal Code, against some and found the others not guilty on all the charges. The Sessions Judge disagreeing with the verdict of the jury made a reference to the High Court under s. 307, Criminal Procedure Code, stating that the verdict was erroneous and inconsistent and could not be accepted, that a murder had been committed and if the evidence was believed all the accused should have been found guilty under s. 302: Held—That the reference was not a proper reference as there was not a sufficient compliance with the provisions of s. 307, Criminal Procedure Code. It is only if the Judge has made a proper reference that the High Court can deal with the matter. In dealing with the matter the High Court has to give due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and the Jury and in making a reference the Judge is bound to state the grounds of his opinion and in the case of an acquittal the offences which he considers to have been committed. The record was sent back to the Sessions Judge for a proper reference which having been made the case was heard. The Sessions Judge in charging the Jury said that those of the accused who pleaded alibi were bound to prove the plea and if the Jury were of opinion that they had failed to establish the plea there would arise a presumption against them as to their complicity in the crime. Held—That the Judge was clearly wrong and there was no authority for the statement that such a presumption would arise. Matters which must be stated by a Sessions Judge in making a reference and a Judge in his summing up under this section discussed. KING-EMPEROR v. TARIBULLAH SHEIKH 25 C. W. N. 682

———— s. 308—

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1072

———— s. 309—

See DACOITY . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 350

See MAGISTRATE I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

———— ss. 309, 403, 423, 439—

See ASSESSORS I. L. R. 40 Calc. 163

———— s. 310—

See s. 287 . . 5 Pat. L. J. 706

———— s. 337—

See PARDON. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 756, 856

———— Tender of pardon—Approver—Breach of the conditions of pardon—Discharge of accused—Forfeiture of pardon—Trial of approver—Approver committed to Sessions Court—Re-trial of the discharged accused—Accused to be committed, if primâ facie case made out to Sessions Court for joint trial with the approver—Joint trial—Practice and procedure. In an inquiry into a charge of dacoity against five accused persons, the Magistrate granted a conditional pardon to one of them. The approver was examined as a witness in the inquiry against the four remaining accused persons; but he denied all knowledge of the alleged dacoity and the accused persons were discharged by the Magistrate under s. 209 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). The pardon granted to the approver was next withdrawn and the case as against him with regard to dacoity was proceeded with under s. 339 of the Criminal Procedure Code. It ended in his being committed for trial to the Court of Sessions. The material piece of evidence to be adduced against the approver was his confessional statement which implicated both himself and the four accused persons. The Sessions Judge referred the case to the High Court for an order quashing the commitment and directing the re-trial of the approver along with the discharged accused persons. Held, that the High Court had the power to direct that the accused persons, who had been discharged, should be subjected to a re-trial jointly with the approver, for, under s. 437 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the High Court had the power in the case of those accused persons to direct that there should be a fresh inquiry, and if that inquiry ended in the framing of a charge that they should be committed to a particular Court of Sessions. Held, further, that inasmuch as the provisions of sub-s (3) of s. 337 of the Criminal Procedure Code were fully carried out at the time when they were applicable, namely, during the pendency of the Magisterial proceedings, they would not constitute any bar against the High Court's ordering that if the inquiry against the discharged persons ended in a commitment, they should be committed to trial jointly with the approver. Per CURIAM: Sub-s. 3 of s. 337 of the Criminal Procedure Code contemplates only a case where there has been a commitment made by the Magistrate to the Court shall not be set at large until the judicial proceedings pending against the accused are finished. For the purposes of the section it is immaterial whether the proceedings are finished by a Magisterial order of discharge before trial, or by a Judge's order of acquittal after trial. In the case of the Magisterial discharge, the sub-section would be satisfied if the approver were detained in custody or on bail until the order of discharge was made. EMPEROR v. INTYA SALABAT KHAN (1912)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 337—contd.

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 146

——— Accomplice—statement on oath by an accused person who has accepted a pardon, but has not been discharged—whether evidence against the other accused—case not exclusively triable by Sessions Court. M., one of the accused persons, was offered a pardon on 6th June 1918. On the 11th June the case was challaned by the Police and M. was entered as one of the accused persons in the chalan as well as in the opening sheet of the Magistrate's proceedings. M's evidence was recorded by the Magistrate on the 4th July. The case was not one exclusively triable by the Court of Session or High Court. Held, that as the case was one not exclusively triable by a Court of Session, s. 337 of the Code was inapplicable. Held, also, that as there had been accused. Bannu Singh v. Emperor (I. L. R. 33 Calc. 1353), referred to. Sardar Khan v. Emperor (21 P. R. (Cr.) 1904, distinguished. MAHANDU v. THE CROWN . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 102

——— Under the present Code of Criminal Procedure no formal withdrawal of a pardon and no formal declaration that a pardon has been forfeited are required before proceeding against a person who accepted a conditional pardon but violated the condition thereof. THE EMPEROR v. SABER AKUNJI.

10 C. W. N. 179

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 337—contd.

——— No true and full disclosure where witness subsequently recants his previous statement—On trial after withdrawal of pardon, if pardon pleaded in bar, jury to determine whether pardon forfeited. A person who has accepted a tender of pardon under s. 337 of the Criminal Procedure Code and made a true and full disclosure before the inquiring Magistrate may be recalled and examined by such Magistrate; and his pardon will be forfeited if he resiles from such former statement. It is not necessary in order to forfeit the pardon that he should be examined as a witness in the Court of Sessions. He is examined in the case when he is examined by the Magistrate and the prosecution is not bound to examine before the sessions an untrustworthy witness. When such person is tried after withdrawal of pardon for the original offence and pleads the pardon as a bar, the jury must determine whether the pardon was forfeited or not. In default of such determination, a conviction will be bad. Kullan v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 173, referred to. Emperor v. Kothea, I. L. R. 30 Bom. 611, referred to. ALAGIRISAMI NAICKEN v. EMPEROR (1910) . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 514

——— ss. 337, 339—

See PARDON . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 845
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 756

——— s. 339—

——— Pardon—Forfeiture of pardon—Procedure—Witness giving evidence at a sessions trial on a conditional pardon disbelieved by Judge. A conditional pardon was given to G and he was tendered as a witness in a Sessions trial. The Judge before whom he was examined was of opinion that G had not spoken the truth, and, acquitting the accused, directed the prosecution of G. G did not plead his pardon before the committing Magistrate, but did plead it before the Sessions Judge, who set aside the commitment and discharged the accused. Held, that G was entitled to raise the plea before the Sessions Judge though he had not raised it before the committing Magistrate. Held, also, that the Sessions Judge in the former trial had no authority to direct the prosecution of G on any specific charge, but if he thought that G had wilfully concealed anything essential or given evidence on any point which was positively false, he was entitled to record an opinion to that effect and to invite the attention of the District Magistrate to his opinion or possibly to suggest the propriety of G's prosecution. Emperor v. Kothia, I. L. R. 30 Bom. 611, Kullan v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 173, Alagirisami v. Emperor, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 514, Emperor v. Abani Bhusan, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 845, referred to. EMPEROR v. GANGUA (1915)

I. L. R. 37 All. 881

——— Withdrawal of pardon—Procedure. Where an accomplice who has accepted a tender of pardon made under s. [illegible] of the Code of Criminal Procedure fails to make a full and true disclosure of the whole [illegible] circumstances within his knowledge [illegible] offence under inquiry, there is [illegible] record any formal order [illegible] if the accomplice has forfeit[illegible] put on his trial for the [illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 339—contd.

the pardon was tendered, it is open to him to plead his pardon in bar of trial, and it will then be for the prosecution to show in what manner the pardon has been forfeited. Kullan v. Emperor I. L. R. 32 Mad. 173, followed. EMPEROR v. KHIALI (1917) . . I. L. R. 39 All. 305

——— Pardon tendered by District Magistrate—Sessions Judge ordering commitment of approver—legality of commitment—Jurisdiction. The case in connection with which the pardons were tendered by the District Magistrate was heard by the Sessions Judge, who at the conclusion of the trial directed the commitment of both the approvers to the Sessions for trial on the original charge. Held, following Crown v. Kadu (176 P. L. R. 1905) that the Sessions Judge had jurisdiction to pass the order and at their trial the petitioners could plead their pardon and it would be for the trial Court to decide whether or not the pardon had been forfeited. CHANAN SINGH v THE CROWN .

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 218

——— s. 340—

See MUKHTEAR I. L. R. 38 Calc. 488

——— s. 341—

——— Deaf and dumb accused—Procedure and practice. Though great caution and diligence are necessary in the trial of a deaf and dumb person, yet if it be shown that such person had sufficient intelligence to understand the character of his criminal act, he is liable to punishment. EMPEROR v. A DEAF AND DUMB ACCUSED (1916) .

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 598

——— Accused who does not understand proceedings—case reported to High Court—proper action. Held, that the usual practice in cases reported to the High Court under s. 341 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, is to refer the matter to the Local Government, but where the offence is a minor one the Court may sentence the accused to a term of imprisonment or discharge him. Empress v. Gahna (37 P. R. (Cr.) 1889), Crown v. Dost Muhammad (13 P. R. (Cr.) 1911), Queen v. Bowka Hari (22 W. R. 35 (Cr.), Atu Ram v. Empress (34 P. R (Cr.) 1885) and Criminal Revision No. 1501 of 1915 (unpublished), referred to. CROWN v. RAHMAN

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 260

——— s. 342—

See s. 146	. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467
See s. 255	. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 302
See s. 263	. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 742
See s. 164	. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 129
See s. 435	. 25 C. W. N. 609
See CHARGE	. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957
See WITNESS	. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 720

1. ——— Cross-examination of accused, propriety of. Cross-examination of the accused by putting questions with a view to induce him to incriminate himself condemned. HAIDAR ALI PRADHANIA v. EMPEROR (1912)

17 C. W. N. 354

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 342—contd.

2. ——— Necessity for examination by the Court in certain cases discussed. GANGADHAR GOALIA v. REGINAL WILLIS LEOMON REED . . . . . 25 C. W. N. 609

3. ——— Criminal Law Amendment Act (XIV of 1908), case under, Court if may examine accused in. It is within the competence of the Court in a case under Act XIV of 1908 to examine the accused in order to give him an opportunity of explaining the circumstances appearing on the evidence against him. EMPEROR OF INDIA v. NAGENDRA NATH GUPTA (1915) . . . . . 19 C. W. N. 923

4. ——— Right of the Magistrate or Sessions Judge to put questions or take statements from accused when no evidence given by prosecution to implicate them—Answers taken from accused in contravention of s. 342, not admissible in evidence. If in a criminal case the prosecution had not let in any evidence implicating the accused or some of the accused in the crime charged, the Magistrate is not entitled under s. 342 of Criminal Procedure Code to put questions to such accused or to invite them to make a statement; and this rule equally applies to trials before the Sessions Court. Answers to questions received by the committing Magistrate in contravention of s. 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code are not admissible in evidence against the accused in the subsequent trial before the Sessions Court. Mohideen Abdul Kader v. Emperor, I. L. R. 27 Mad. 238 and Reg. v. Berriman, 6 Cox. Cr. C. 388, followed. Re ABIBULLA RAVUTHAN (1915) . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 770

5. ——— Power to examine accused—Summons case—Practice and procedure. Under s. 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, a Magistrate is bound in a summons case to examine the accused before convicting him. EMPEROR v. FERNANDEZ (1920) .

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 672

6. ——— Under s. 342 the Court must examine the accused after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined. Therefore an examination of the accused after the prosecution witnesses have been examined in chief but before they have been cross-examined is not in compliance with the section. MITARJIT SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR. 6 Pat. L. J. 645

——— ss. 342, 244, 245, 253 and 283—s. 342 of the Code applies to summons warrant and sessions trials and an omission to examine accused in accordance with it, vitiates such a trial. A prosecution under s. 218 of the Bengal Municipal Act 1884 of s. 202 and 203 is within time if instituted within 6 months from the expiry of the time allowed for compliance with the order under the latter section. GULAM RASUL v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . . 6 Pat. L. J. 175

——— ss. 342, 289, 364 and 533—Sessions trial—omission to examine accused, effect of—Statement by accused person, effect of omission to record—Confession, effect of, retracted. Per JWALA PRASAD AND SULTAN AHMAD, JJ. (MULLICK, J., dissenting): The provisions of s. 342 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, are mandatory and the omission to examine the accused after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before the accused is called on for his defence vitiates the trial. Per JWALA PRASAD, J.—The filing of a written statement by the accused does not take the place of an examination under s. 342. It is doubtful whether the omission to prepare a record of the examination of an accused person under s. 364 can be cured by s. 533. A confession which is not supported applying the proper tests, the Judge is convicted of its truth. While the High Court is dealing the conviction. Per SULTAN AHMED, J.—It is unsafe to convict an accused person on a retracted conviction alone. RAGHU BHUMJI v THE KING-EMPEROR . . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 430

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 342, 289, 364 and 533—contd.

———— ss. 342, 362—

See EXCISE OFFICERS.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 411

———— s. 344—

———— Case taken upon police ... ted by vakil— by informant for of costs by a case was charge-sheet person who the trial and ment made by the police officer on the ground of the vakil's absence: Held, that it was competent to the Magistrate under s. 344 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to grant an adjournment conditional on the payments of costs by such

SUNNASI KUDUMBAN v. SIVASUBRAMANIA KONE (1917) . . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1130

———— Order of adjournment

at the of the d instance to pay under s 1898, or
and where for some reason ... method of conducting criminal cases must be departed from. In re ABDUL RAHIMAN (1917)
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 254

———— s. 345—

See s. 248 . I. L. R. 37 Bom. 369
20 C. W. N. 1209

See COMPROMISE I. L. R. 45 Calc. 816

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 345—contd.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s. 439.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 604

———— Compromise effected out of Court by parties, pending hearing of rule issued by High Court, if can be given effect to under s. 345, Criminal Procedure Code. The petitioner was the complainant in a case and the accused in the counter-case. The petitioner's complaint was dismissed by the Magistrate and in the other case he was convicted under s. 352 of the Penal one coming under s. 345, Criminal Procedure Code ADHAR CHANDRA DEY v. SUBODH CHANDRA GHOSH (1914) . . . 18 C. W. N. 1212 of its revisional jurisdiction. EMPEROR v. RAM CHANDRA (1914) . . I. L. R. 37 All. 127

———— Compounding an offence—Complainant resiling before hearing, effect of Per ABDUR RAHIM J (AYLING J, dubitante).—A composition arrived at between the parties of a compoundable offence is complete as soon as it is made; a accused respect later on,
ment or petition recording the compromise is filed in Court by the parties. Murray v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 103, referred to. KANNI ROWTHER v. INAYATHALLA SAHIB (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 916

———— Compounding of an

is filed in respect thereof in a Court and once a composition has been arrived at, it has the effect of an acquittal under the section so as to bar the trial of the offence. KUMARASAWMI CHETTI v. KUPPUSWAMI CHETTY (1918)
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 685

———— Composition of an offence with one of several accused persons, effect of. The composition of an offence under s. 345 of the Criminal Procedure Code with one of several accused persons does not effect an acquittal of the others. Chandra Kumar Das v. The Emperor, 7 C. W. N. 176, dissented from. MUTHIA NAICK v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1917)
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 323

———— Compounding of offences—Composition with one accused does not mean acquittal of others. The comp offence with one out of many ac

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 345—contd.

the effect of acquittal of the remaining accused persons between whom and the complainant no satisfactory settlement has been arrived at. Chandra Kumar Das v. The Emperor (1902) 7 C. W. N. 176, dissented from. Muthia Naick v. The King-Emperor (1917) 41 Mad. 323, followed. EMPEROR v. ALIBHAI ABDUL (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 346

——— Compounding offence with some of several accused—whether case can proceed against the other accused. The complainant in a hurt case compounded the offence with two of the accused before the Court who were therefore acquitted, while the other accused was convicted and sentenced. Held, that the compounding of the offence against two of the accused did not in law have the effect of an acquittal of the remaining accused, and that the conviction was not therefore illegal. Muthia Naick v. King-Emperor (I. L. R. 41 Mad. 323), followed. Chandra Kumar Das v. Emperor (7 Calc. W. N. 176), discussed, and Imperator v. Mulo (14 Cr. L. J. 292), distinguished. RAM KISHEN v. THE CROWN . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 169

——— Compounding with one of several accused—Effect as regards the others. The complainant charged four persons with having combined in committing the offence of grievous hurt against him. Subsequently, on its appearing that the offence was not grievous but simple hurt, he compounded the case as regards one of the four accused. Held, that this did not necessitate the case being compounded as regards the other three. Muthia Naick v. The King-Emperor, I. L. R. 41 Mad. 323, followed. EMPEROR v. CHANDAN . . . I. L. R. 43 All. 483 ——— ss. 345, 403 (2)—Several offences alleged in complaint—Accused summoned for one of such offences—Compromise of such offence with leave of Court—Further prosecution for the other offences if lies—Case if revivable on the ground of non-payment of compensation for compromise. The petitioner was accused of committing house trespass, causing grevious hurt and being member of an unlawful assembly but was summoned only under s. 325, Penal Code, and the offence under that section was compromised with the leave of the Court. The complainant subsequently filed another complaint and sought to revive the case alleging that the terms of the compromise had not been carried out: Held, that the petitioner could not be again prosecuted either for grievous hurt or house trespass or for being member of an unlawful assembly, the common object being to commit offences which had been compromised. BASIRUDDI v. KHAIRAT ALI (1913).

17 C. W. N. 948

——— ss. 345 (5), 423 (1) (d), 439—

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS.

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1143

——— ss. 345, 438 and 439—Compounding of offences—Revision—Court exercising revisional jurisdiction not empowered to allow an offence to be compounded. It is not competent to a court exercising revisional jurisdiction to allow an offence to be compounded. Emperor v. Ram Piari, I. L. R. 32 All. 153, not followed. Emperor v. Ram Chandra, I. L. R. 27 All., 127, referred to. EMPEROR v. RAM BARAN SINGH.

I. L. R. 42 All. 474

——— ss. 345 (2), 439—Revision—Power of High Court in revision to give leave to compound. Held, that the High Court can, in the exercise of its powers of revision under s. 439 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, give leave for the composition of an offence under s. 325 of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v. RAM PIYARI (1909)

I. L. R. 32 All. 153

——— ss. 345, 439—Compromise—Assault in the course of which the person assaulted received fatal injury—High Court's revisional jurisdiction. Four persons assaulted one P with the result that P died. Held, that it was not competent to the widow of P to compound the case with P's assailants in respect of the injuries caused to P. Held, further, that when several persons were acquitted by the Sessions Judge and on being moved by the Government, the High Court issued warrants for their arrest, only one was arrested but the others were absconding, the High Court in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction is competent to set aside the order of their acquittal. EMPEROR v. RAHMAT (1915)

I. L. R. 37 All. 419

——— s. 347—

See s. 254 . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 83

——— s. 348—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), Chaps. XII and XVII—Procedure of Magistrate who cannot adequately punish. In this case the accused who had been previously convicted of an offence under s. 394, Indian Penal Code, was charged before the Sub-Magistrate of Salem with an offence under s. 411, Indian Penal Code. The Sub-Magistrate tried and convicted him of the offence and ordered his commitment to the Court of Sessions for the purpose of awarding him enhanced punishment. Held, that the conviction and commitment were illegal. The correct procedure to be followed in such a case is for the Magistrate either as a preliminary matter or before framing a charge to determine whether he has power to pass a sufficient sentence. If he thinks he has not such power he should frame a charge and commit the accused. Re SELLANDI (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 552

——— s. 349—

——— 'Shall pass such order as he thinks fit,' meaning of. The words 'such order as he thinks fit' in s. 349, Criminal Procedure Code, do not empower the Superior Magistrate to send the case back to the Sub-Magistrate for disposal but only empower him to pass such final order disposing of the case as he may think fit. Re PONNUSAMY NADAN (1913)

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 470

——— Trying Magistrate sending up a case to the Sub-divisional Magistrate on the ground that he cannot pass adequate sentence—Sub-divisional Magistrate sending up the case to another Magistrate—Committal of the case by such Magistrate to Court of Session—Commitment not valid—Practice and Procedure. A Magistrate of the Second Class trying a case sent up the case to the Sub-divisional Magistrate on the ground that he could not pass an adequate sentence. The latter transferred the case to a Magistrate of the First Class who committed it to the Court of Session. A question having arisen if the commitment was legal: Held, quashing the commitment, that under s. 349 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) it was the Sub-divisional Magistrate alone who was competent to deal with the case. EMPEROR v. VINAYAK NARAYAN (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 719

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 349—contd.

———— s. 350

See s. 15 . I. L. R. 41 All. 116

See s. 107 . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 511

See s. 145 . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 812

See s. 253 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 585

See s. 367 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 108

See MAGISTRATE, TRANSFER OF.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 812

See RIOTING . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 781

———— Procedure—Jurisdiction—Magistrate ceasing to have jurisdiction by reason of the transfer of a case pending before him to another Court—Evidence not necessarily to be reheard. S. 350 of the Criminal Procedure Code applies as much to cases in which a Magistrate ceases to exercise juisdiction so far as the particular case in question is concerned by reason of its transfer to another Court as to cases in which the Magistrate ceases to exercise jurisdiction by reason of his own death or transfer to another post. Mohesh Chandra Saha v. Emperor, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 457, Kudrutulla v. Emperor, I. L. R. 39 Calc. 781, and Palaniandy Goundan v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 218, followed. EMPEROR v. RAM DAS (1918) . . I. L. R. 40 All. 307 ———— Transfer—Jurisdiction—Power of Court to which a case is transferred to act on evidence taken by the Court from which it came. S. 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not limited to cases in which Magistrates succeed each other in offices but applies also to all cases transferred from the file of one Magistrate to that of another under s. 528 of the Code. An order of commitment to the Court of Session passed by a Magistrate on evidence recorded by a bench of Magistrates from whose Court it was transferred, is not an illegal order. Queen-Empress v. Bashir Khan, I. L. R. 14 All. 346, distinguished. Emperor v. Angnu, All. Weekly Notes, (1889) 136, not followed. Mohesh Chandra Saha v. Emperor, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 457, and Palaniandy Goundan v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 218, followed. EMPEROR v. NANHUA (1914)

I. L. R. 36 All. 315

———— Trial by Bench of Honorary Magistrates who have not heard the whole of the evidence, whether legal. The petitioner was tried and convicted for an offence under s. 323, Penal Code, by a Bench of Honorary Magistrates, only one of whom had heard the entire evidence. Held, that all criminal cases should be decided by Magistrates who have heard the whole of the evidence, and that s. 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not apply to cases tried by Benches of Magistrates; consequently the conviction of the petitioner must be set aside. Sufferuddin v. Ibrahim (I. L. R. 3 Calc. 754), Ram Sunder De v. Rajab Ali (I. L. R. 12 Calc. 558), Shumbu Nath v. Ram Kamal (13 Calc. L. R. 212), Hardwar Singh v. Khega Ojha (I. L. R. 20 Calc. 870), Damri Thakar v. Bhowani Sahoo (I. L. R. 23 Calc. 194), Queen-Empress v. Bassappa (I. L. R. 18 Mad. 394), Re Subramania Ayyer (I. L. R. 31 Mad. 304), Nga Paik v. Nga Saw (50 Indian Cases 672), Emperor v. Mathura (I. L. R. 41 All. 116), Abdul Aziz v. Emperor (15 All. L. J. 237), followed. GIRDHARI v. THE CROWN . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 237

———— s. 355—

See SUMMARY TRIAL.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 280

———— s. 356—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 381

———— s. 360—

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

See DEPOSITION . 14 C. W. N. 83

———— ss. 360 (1), 476—

———— Handing over record of deposition to witness for being read by him if sufficient compliance with law—Such deposition if admissible and assignment of perjury if can be made thereon—Examination of witnesses in enquiry under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code—Duty of Magistrate to make a record of statements. An order under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, was made against the petitioner directing his prosecution under s. 193 of the Penal Code, with reference to a deposition given by him as a witness at a criminal trial. It appeared that after the deposition had been recorded, the record was handed over to the petitioner who proceeded to read it over himself. The Magistrate held a preliminary enquiry under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, tion, and ex.
that enquiry,
ments: Held, [illegible]
(1), Criminal Procedure Code, were not sufficiently complied with inasmuch as that sub-section requires that the evidence should be read over in the presence, that is, in the hearing, of the accused, in order that the accused should have an opportunity of correcting any mistake in it. That the deposition was inadmissible and the order for prosecution must be set aside. That
[illegible]
a summary of the statements of the witnesses examined. KING-EMPEROR v. JOGENDRO NATH GHOSH (1914) . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 240
18 C. W. N. 1242

———— s. 362—

See s. 342 . . 5 Pat. L. J. 430

See EXCISE OFFICER.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 411

———— Record of evidence recorded by Presidency Magistrate. It is the duty of the Magistrate in a case which comes within

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 362—contd.

s. 362, Criminal Procedure Code, to take a note of all the material facts whether they appear in the course of the examination-in-chief or in the course of cross-examination. AH FOONG CHINAMAN v. KING-EMPEROR (1918) 22 C. W. N. 834

——— s. 364—

See s. 14 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291

See s. 146 . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

See s. 342 . . 5 Pat. L. J. 430

——— Statement made by accused person—Refusal of accused to sign record—Indian Penal Code, s. 180. When the statement of an accused person has been recorded under the provisions of s. 364 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and admitted by the accused to be correct, the accused is bound to sign the record of such statement, and his refusal to sign it amounts to an offence within the meaning of s. 180 of the Indian Penal Code. Imperatrix v. Sirsapa, I. L. R 4 Bom. 15, distinguished. EMPEROR v. UMAR KHAN (1917) . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 399

——— ss. 364, 533—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 91. I. L. R. 35 All. 260

——— ss. 366 and 367—

See s. 195 . . 25 C. W. N. 887

——— s. 367—

See CHARGE TO JURY. 1 Pat. L. J. 317

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 376

——— Transfer of a Magistrate who has written but not delivered judgment—Demand for a new trial before successor under s. 350 of Criminal Procedure Code—Legality of order granting new trial—Successor not bound to pronounce his predecessor's judgment. A Magistrate who had tried a case wrote a judgment, dated and signed it on the day fixed for judgment. Owing to the absence of one of the accused he did not pronounce it on that day, but adjourned the case to a later date. In the meanwhile the Magistrate was transferred to another station and succeeded by another Magistrate, before whom all the accused demanded on the adjourned date a de novo trial. On a reference under s. 438, Criminal Procedure Code: Held, that the action of the new Magistrate in according a de novo trial under s. 350, Criminal Procedure Code, was not illegal and that he was not bound to deliver his predecessor's written judgment. Obiter: In the absence of a demand for a new trial it would be in the discretion of the successor to date, sign and pronounce his predecessor's judgment. Quære: Whether it is legal for him to pronounce his predecessor's judgment in the face of a demand for a new trial. In re Sankara Pillai, 18 Mad. L. J. 197, considered. Re SAVARIMUTHU PILLAI (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 103

——— ss. 367 and 421—Appeal—Appeal summarily dismissed—How far Court bound to record reasons for dismissal. A Court of criminal appeal is not bound, when dismissing an appeal summarily under s. 421 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, to write a judgment as defined in s. 367 of the Code. It is, however, advisable that it should give reasons for rejecting the appeal in view of the possibility of its order being challenged by an application for revision. Queen-Empress v. Warubai, I. L. R. 20 Bom. 540, followed. Rash Behari Das v. Balgopal Singh, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 92, Queen-Empress v. Narain, I. L. R. 8 All. 514, Queen-Empress Nannhu, I. L. R. 17 All. 241, and Queen-Empress v. Pandeh Bhat, I. L. R. 19 All. 506, referred to. EMPEROR v. KUNDAN (1914) . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 496 ——— ss. 367, 418, 423—Trial by Jury—Charge to Jury—Record of heads of charge—Misdirection—Appeal—Powers of Appellate Court. Nine persons were tried by a jury on a charge of dacoity, the case for the prosecution being that the dacoity charged was committed by these nine persons together with the approver. The jury, however, found a verdict of not guilty in favour of seven out of the nine accused. Held, that no conviction for dacoity, which implies the participation of five or more persons, could be had against the remaining accused. The King v. Plummer, (1902) 2 K. B. 339, referred to. In a trial by jury before a Session Court the record of the Judge's charge to the jury ought to show in what manner the law applicable to the case has been explained to the jury; the mere statement that the law was explained is not sufficient. It ought also to show that the evidence relied upon by the defence was properly put before the jury. Emperor v. Baij Nath, All. W. N., 1903, p. 232, followed. In appeal from the verdict of a jury it is not open to the Appellate Court to substitute its own finding for that of the jury, and to convict the accused of the offence of which the jury have acquitted them or of some cognate offence substantiated by the evidence which was before the jury, and in this respect an appeal under s. 418 of the Code of Criminal Procedure must be distinguished from a reference under s. 307. Wafadar Khan v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 955, referred to. EMPEROR v. IKRAM-UD-DIN (1917) . . . I. L. R. 39 All. 348

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 367 and 421—contd.

——— ss. 367, 424—

See JUDGMENT . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 194

——— ss. 367, 424—Judgment in appeal. Where the reason for upholding a conviction in a judgment in appeal was that the evidence for the prosecution was slightly stronger and the story as regards probability was far more likely Held, that this was not sufficient for a conviction in a criminal case. KABBAT ALI v. KING-EMPEROR (1916) . . . . 21 C. W. N. 550

——— s. 368 and 369—

See REVIEW (CRIMINAL).
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 60
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 828

——— Review of judgment—Power of High Court to review its own order on the criminal side—Rules of Court, Ch. VII, r. 8—Finality of order. Held, that the High Court has no power to review an order dismissing an application for revision made by an accused person. In the matter of the petition of F. W. Gibbons, I. L. R. 14 Calc. 42, and Queen-Empress v. Durga Charan, I. L. R. 7 All. 672, followed. But so long as an order is not sealed as required by the Ch. VII,

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 368 and 369—contd.

r. 8 of the Rules of Court, it is not final, and it is open to the Judge who passed it to alter it. Queen-Empress v Lalit Tiwari, I. L. R. 21 All. 177, and Emperor v. Kallu, I. L. R 27 All. 92 followed. EMPEROR v. GOBIND SAHAI (1915)
I. L. R. 38 All. 134

——— s. 369—

See REVIEW IN CRIMINAL CASES.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 828

final order in any such proceeding is in effect a in s. 369, judgments minal Procedure Code, and a Magistrate has no power to review a final order passed in such a proceeding. NANDA NARAIN NEWAR v. MANMAYA KAMINI (1916) . . . . 21 C. W. N. 341

——— Trial completed and sentence passed for offence under s. 379 of the Indian Penal Code—Trial continued on another charge under ss. 75 and 379 of the Indian Penal Code in the same case—Further trial is bad. The accused was committed to a Court of Session on two charges, one under s. 379, and another under ss. 75 and 379 of the Indian Penal Code. The trial went on the first charge and ended in conviction and sentence. The second charge was next taken up in the same trial and a sentence was passed on the accused again. The accused having appealed: Held, that the subsequent proceedings on the second charge were not valid and should be set aside for when the judgment including the sentence was pronounced in the trial on the first charge, there was no power under s. 369 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to alter or review the same. EMPEROR v. MARI PARSU (1917)
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 202

——— s. 374—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 876

——— Capital sentence—Circumstances to be considered by the High Court in confirming sentence of death—Delay between passing of sentence in the Sessions Court and final orders in the High Court, if sufficient ground for not confirming sentence of death. Per CARNDUFF, J.—As the law stands in India where the alternative sentences of death and transportation are prescribed for murder, the fact that the accused had the capital sentences suspended over their heads for considerati who finally not to con
have been rightly passed by the Sessions Judge in the first instance, unless he personally thinks that such sentence should be carried out at the time final orders are passed by him, and delay such as in the present case, is a sufficient reason for refraining from imposing the extreme penalty. AUTOR SINGH v. EMPEROR (1913)
17 C. W. N. 1213

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 386—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 69 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 767

——— s. 397—

See s. 109 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 326

——— "Sentence of imprisonment" whether imprisonment for failure to give security is—Sentence of imprisonment on person already . . t under s. ,
1898, on r
good behaviour is not a "sentence of imprisonment" within the meaning of s. 397 of the Code. When a person is convicted of an offence and sentenced to a term of imprisonment, such term cannot, under s. 397, be made to commence on the expiry of the period for which he has been committed to prison under s. 123. MARKANDAR GENDA v. THE KING-EMPEROR 1 Pat. L. J. 212 ——— ss. 397, 123—Sentence—Postponement of sentence—Person undergoing imprisonment for failing to give security—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 379—Theft—Practice and procedure. The accused was convicted of an offence of theft and sentenced to suffer rigorous imprisonment for six months. At that date he was undergoing imprisonment for failing to give security for good behaviour. The Magistrate directed that the sentence passed in the theft case should take effect after the expiry of imprisonment inflicted in the security proceedings: Held, that the sentence passed in the theft case could not be postponed to the expiry of imprisonment in the security proceedings inasmuch as the latter was not a "sentence of imprisonment" as used in s. 397 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898. Emperor v. Kanji, 5 Bom. L. R. 26, Emperor v. Durga, 6 Bom. L. R. 1098, and Emperor v. Arjun I. L. R. 34 Bom. 326, followed. EMPEROR v. VISHNU BALKRISHNA (1912)

I. L. R. 37 Bom. 178

——— s. 403—

See s. 190 . . 2 Pat. L. J. 34
See s. 247 . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 253
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 976
See s. 271 . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1072
See s. 345 . . 17 C. W. N. 948
See s. 413 . I. L. R. 39 All. 293
See ACQUITTAL I. L. R. 37 Calc. 604
See ASSESSOR, EXAMINATION OF.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 163
See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT.
See DEFAMATION I. L. R. 48 Calc. 383
See RIOTING . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 78

——— Previous acquittal, plea of—Acquittal of some accused charged with rioting, grievous hurt and murder—Liability of others to be tried for the same offences—Prosecution story found to be false as to the grievous hurt and murder. An acquittal of some of the accused on charges of rioting armed with deadly weapons, grievous hurt and murder, is no bar, under s. 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to the trial of others concerned in the same offences. Where the Sessions Judge was of opinion, at the original trial, that the prosecution story as to the manner in which the deceased met his death, did not represent the truth and acquitted the accused, though he did not disbelieve the fact of a rioting having occurred, while one of the Assessors, believed the whole story: Held, that the High Court would not interfere with a pending prosecution against others for the same offences. Bishun Das Ghose v. King-Emperor, 7 C. W. N. 493, distinguished. KOKAI SARDAR v. MEHER KHAN (1910) . . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 680

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 403—contd.

——— (1) Autrefois acquit—s. 403 (4), scope of—Sanction to prosecute, s. 195—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 182 and 211. Sanction was obtained by the complainant to prosecute the accused for an offence under s. 211, Indian Penal Code. Accused was tried and convicted; but the conviction was quashed by the High Court in revision on the ground that the accused had not committed an offence under that section but under s. 182, Indian Penal Code, for which no sanction had been granted. Complainant thereupon obtained sanction to prosecute the accused under s. 182, Indian Penal Code. On accused pleading in bar of prosecution s. 403 (1), Criminal Procedure Code, the Magistrate overruled the objection and his order was confirmed by the Court of Session. Accused petitioned the High Court. Held, that the prosecution was barred by s. 403 (1), Criminal Procedure Code. Held, further, that s. 403 (4) refers to the character and status of the tribunal when it refers to competency to try an offence and that a sanction under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, is not a condition of the competency of the tribunal but only a condition precedent for the institution of proceedings. In re GANAPATHI BHATTA (1913) . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 308 ——— Previous acquittal—"Court of competent jurisdiction"—Sanction. Where the law requires a previous sanction to be given before a charge can be entertained by a Court, that Court is not a Court of competent jurisdiction until the sanction has been obtained. In re Samsudin, I. L. R. 22 Bom. 711, followed. The fact, therefore, that a person has been tried for and acquitted of offences under the Indian Penal Code in respect of certain transactions in connection with the registration of a document is no bar to his trial for an offence under s. 82 of the Registration Act arising out of the same transactions. EMPEROR v. JIWAN (1914)

I. L. R. 37 All. 107

——— Previous acquittal—Subsequent trial how far barred—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 467, 109, 471. The accused was tried before a Court of Session for abetment of forgery in relation to a document under ss. 467 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code; and was acquitted. He was again tried before the Court of Session for using as genuine the same forged document, under s. 471 of the Indian Penal Code. It was objected that the previous acquittal was a bar to the second trial under s. 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Held, overruling the contention, that sub-s. 1 of s. 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code did not apply to the case, inasmuch as the case was not one contemplated by s. 236, that is to say, a case where, upon the facts proved, it was doubtful what should be the true view of the offence constituted. Held, further, that the case fell under sub-cl. (2) of s. 403, for the series of acts beginning with the forgery and ending with the user of the forged document in the Civil Court to support the civil claim must be regarded as so connected together as to form the same transaction, or carrying through of a single predetermined plan, so that under s. 235 (1) it would have been competent to try the accused for both offences at the same trial. Held, also, that the case fell under sub-s. 4 of s. 403, because the Court which acquitted the prisoner on the charge of abetment of forgery was not competent to try the offence under s. 471 of the Indian Penal Code, inasmuch as at the time of the earlier trial no sanction for the prosecution under s. 471 had been given under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code. EMPEROR v. JIVRAM DANKARJI (1915)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 97

——— Autrefois acquit—Duty of Court before which plea in bar is taken to decide on evidence. The petitioner charged the opposite party before the Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta with cheating and criminal breach of trust. The preliminary objection was taken that the accused had been tried on the same facts in the Court at Burdwan and acquitted. The Magistrate on hearing both parties and looking into the papers of the previous trial discharged the accused holding that no further trial could go on: Held, that whether the facts in the present case were the same as those in the previous case has to be determined after hearing the evidence and ascertaining what the facts are in this case and what were the facts found in the previous case. The case was sent back to the Magistrate for due enquiry. M. N. MUKHERJI v. MATANGI CHARAN PALIT (1918) . . 23 C. W. N. 599

——— Autrefois acquit—as to bar must be based on investigation of facts. A Court ought not to decide that a charge pending trial before him is barred under s. 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code without an investigation of the facts put forward on behalf of the complainant. RADHA KISHEN GOENKA v. FATEH CHAND BORAH (1918) . . 23 C. W. N. 543 ——— Discharge of complaint by one Magistrate, whether fresh complaint can be entertained by another Magistrate. There is nothing in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, to prevent a Magistrate from entertaining a second complaint after an order of discharge by another Magistrate. BIJOO KING v. KING-EMPEROR 2 Pat. L. J. 34

——— Autrefois acquit—Legality of trial person previously acquitted, for offence for which a separate charge might have been framed in the former trial—Indian Penal Code (Act XIV of 1860), ss. 52, 79 and 147. The petitioners who were police constables were convicted of rioting in the course of which they took several persons in custody. Two of the petitioners were previously tried on a charge under s. 342, I. P. C., in respect of the arrests made by them and were acquitted: Held, that the present trial of these two petitioners for rioting was not vitiated by contravention of the rule embodied in section ? sub-s. (1), Cr. P. C. The case was covered by sub-s. (2) which provides that a person acquitted or convicted of any offence may be afterwards tried for any distinct offence for which a separate charge might have been made against him on the former trial under s. 235 (1), Cr P. C. Held, on a consideration of the circumstances of the case, that the petitioners were not entitled to the benefit of s. 79. J. P. C. RAM SAHAY RAM v. KING-EMPEROR . 24 C. W. N. 763 ——— Autrefois acquit. The petitioners were tried on charges of kidnapping a minor girl and rioting with the common object of kidnapping the girl. The trying Magistrate acquitted them of the said charges but convicted them of being members of an unlawful assembly with the common object of causing assault and wrongful restraint. In appeal the Sessions Judge set aside the conviction and ordered a retrial on charges of abducting the girl in order to confine her secretly and of rioting with that common object: Held, that retrial on the charges mentioned was barred by s 403, Cr. P C KALANATH BARMAN v. KING-EMPEROR 24 C. W. N. 856

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 403—concld.

——— ss. 403, 423, 439—Previous acquittal on a charge of causing simple hurt—Subsequent death of person injured—Commitment of the persons acquitted of the minor offence under s. 304 of the Penal Code—Revision. S and R were charged with causing simple hurt to K. The case was compounded and both the accused were acquitted. K later on, died of the injury caused by S and R.

s. 304 of the Indian Penal, and to his conviction under that section if the evidence enabled the Court to apply either s. 34 or 114 of the Penal Code to the case. A commitment can only be set aside on a point of law and as no such point arose in this case, High Court did not interfere. EMPEROR v. SAILANI (1913) . I. L. R. 36 All. 4

——— s. 406—

See s. 110 . . 25 C. W. N. 383

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 874

——— s. 407—Sanction to prosecute—Application to Magistrate of the first class—Appeal to District Magistrate—Transfer—Jurisdiction. S. 407 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not entitle

——— s. 408—

See s. 35 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 138

See s. 413 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 591

See SEDITION . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 214

——— Assistant Sessions Judge—One accused sentenced to imprisonment for more than four years—Others to a lesser period—Appeal. When an Assistant Sessions Judge sentences one of several accused to more than four years' rigorous imprisonment and others to lesser terms the appeals of all lie to the High Court even though the accused who is sentenced to more than four years does not appeal. EMPEROR v. HAR DAYAL (1915)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 408—contd.

I. L. R. 37 All. 471

——— ss. 408, 413—One of several co-accused in the same trial sentenced to one month's imprisonment, others to a longer period—Appeal. Held, convicted at the same trial, even though that particular person may have received a sentence which, if it stood alone, would not have been appealable. EMPEROR v. LAL SINGH (1916)

I. L. R. 38 All. 395

——— ss. 408, 413 and 439—Joint trial of several accused—one only awarded appealable sentence—whether Appellate Court may deal with case of all accused—Revision, power of High Court—Construction of Statutes. K and 14 others were jointly tried for theft and were all convicted.

In revision the High Court went into the merits of the case of all the accused and affirmed the finding of the Sessions Judge. Per ATKINSON, J. (JWALA PRASAD, J., dissentiente) —If two or more persons are tried jointly and some are convicted and awarded non-appealable sentences, and others are convicted and awarded appealable sentences, and the latter alone appeal, the Appellate Court is not entitled in that appeal to deal with the cases of those who have been awarded a non-

PRASAD, J.—S. 413 controls s. 408 only in cases in which there is no sentence upon any convicted person above the limit prescribed by s 413, so that if any of the persons convicted in the same case has received a punishment above that limit the right of appeal given in s. 408 enables a person to appeal whose sentence is otherwise unappealable. Per ATKINSON, J.—The word "cases" in s. 413 applies to all cases whether they be summons cases, warrant cases, or trial cases. The word is used in its widest and most extensive sense to cover the trial of all cases in respect of which an accused person may be convicted. Per JWALA PRASAD, J.—The High Court has power in a proper case to set aside the conviction and sentence passed on an accused person who has not appealed while considering the case of the co-accused who did appeal, and the High Court has [illegible]
the [illegible]
Cour [illegible] add [illegible] has [illegible]
words would curtail an undoubted and substantial right given by the statute in clear and unambiguous terms, such as the right of appeal given by s. 408 of the Code. It is consonant with the rules of construction of a statute that the i[illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 408, 413 and 439—contd.

pretation favourable to the right expressly conferred upon a subject should be accepted and acted upon as being the true intention and meaning of the Legislature. PHEKU JHA v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 435

———— ss. 408, 415—Appeal—Sentence. Where certain persons were tried by a Magistrate of the first class, convicted of an offence under s. 325, Indian Penal Code, and sentenced to a day's imprisonment and a fine of fifty rupees: Held, that the circumstances that the accused were in fact neither sent to jail nor actually imprisoned would not prevent their being entitled to appeal to the Sessions Judge. EMPEROR v. ALAM (1911) . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 510

———— s. 409—

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE. 4 Pat. L. J. 374

———— s. 410—

See EXCISE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 694

———— s. 413—

See s. 408 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 435

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 631

———— Concurrent sentences—Two sentences of one month running concurrently—Appeal. Where the accused were convicted on two separate charges and sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment on each of the charges by a first class Magistrate, the sentences to run concurrently: Held, that an appeal lay to the Sessions Court. BEPIN BEHARY DEY v. THE EMPEROR (1911) . . . 15 C. W. N. 734 ———— Practice—Sentence—Magistrate passing non-appealable sentence—Adding to sentence to make it appealable—Appeal to Sessions Judge—The Sessions Judge to entertain the appeal and to decide it on merits. The Magistrate trying a case passed at first a non-appealable sentence on the accused, but at the request of the accused, made an addition to the sentence passed so as to make it appealable. When the accused appealed to the Sessions Judge his appeal was dismissed on the ground that no appeal lay inasmuch as the sentence first passed by the Magistrate was not appealable and the addition to the sentence could not be made legally. In revision: Held, that the Sessions Judge had committed an error in holding that he had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal; for though the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to alter the sentence once passed by him, yet for the purposes of the Sessions Judge's jurisdiction, so far as the appeal was concerned, that was the very mistake which he was called upon to correct by way of appeal. When the appeal was heard again by the Sessions Judge he struck out the addition made by the Magistrate in the sentence, and having done that, dismissed the appeal on the ground that the sentence appealed from was not appealable. In revision: Held, that when the Magistrate had passed a sentence beyond one month, an appeal lay to the Sessions Judge, under s. 413 of the Criminal Procedure Code whether that sentence was passed legally or illegally. Held, also, that the Sessions Judge being once seized of the appeal, the whole appeal became open to his Court, even on merits. EMPEROR v. KESHAVLAL VIRCHAND (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 418 ———— Appeal—Concurrent sentences aggregating to more than one month, by a Magistrate of the first class—Whether appeal lies. For the purpose of appeal, concurrent sentences passed by the trying Magistrate on an accused must be taken in the aggregate. The petitioner and others were found guilty by a Magistrate of the first class, under ss. 143 and 365, read with s. 114, Penal Code, and each of them was sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment under each of the sections, the sentences to run concurrently: Held, that an appeal lay to the Court of Sessions. ABDUL KHALEK v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1912) . . 17 C. W. N. 72 ———— Appeal—One of two co-accused given a non-appealable, the other an appealable, sentence—Indian Registration Act (XVI of 1908), s. 83—"Permission"—Criminal Procedure Code, s. 403—Previous convictions. Held, that a person who has received a non-appealable sentence does not derive any right of appeal from the fact that a co-accused tried jointly with him has received a sentence which is appealable. Emperor v. Lal Singh, I. L. R. 38 All. 395, and Sheopal v. King-Emperor, 15 Oudh Cases 386, dissented from. Reg. v. Kalubhai Meghabhai, 7 Bom. H. C Rep. (Crown Cases) 35, and Aiyar v. Venkatakrishnayya, 31 Mad. L. J. 837, followed. Held, also, that according to s. 83 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, all that is required for the initiation of a prosecution under the Act is the "permission," of the Registration officer. This is not the same as a "sanction," which word has received a technical meaning owing to its use in Chap. XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Held, further, that where a conviction and sentence are set aside merely for want of jurisdiction this does not bar a fresh trial on the same facts. EMPEROR v. HUSAIN KHAN (1916)

I. L. R. 39 All. 293

———— ss. 413, 408—Joint trial of several accused—Appealable sentence on some and non-appealable sentence on others—No right of appeal for the latter—S. 408 of Criminal Procedure Code, no guide to the interpretation of s. 413 of Criminal Procedure Code. S. 413 of Criminal Procedure Code prohibit an appeal by a person against whom a non-appealable sentence has been passed even though appealable sentences have been passed against others jointly tried with him. Though for convenience a joint trial of several accused persons under certain circumstances is allowed, on conviction each accused must be deemed to have been convicted in a separate case of his own for the purposes of s. 413 of Criminal Procedure Code. The analogy of s. 408, Criminal Procedure Code, cannot be extended to s. 413 of Criminal Procedure Code. PIGGOT, J.'s view in Emperor v. Lal Singh, I. L. R. 38 All. 395, not followed. Palani Koravan v. Emperor, 17 Mad. L. J. 248, distinguished. Reg. v. Muliya Nana, 5 Bom. H. C. R. 24 (Cr. C.), and Reg. v. Kalubhai Meghabhai, 7 Bom. H. C. R. 35 (Cr. C.), referred to. It does not follow as a matter of course that because some of the accused tried along with others are acquitted on the merits on appeal by them, others should necessarily have th[illegible] Court. of Burm[illegible] (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 591

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—————— ss. 413, 408—contd.

—————— s. 417—

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 425
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 544

See STATUTE 24 & 25 VICT., C. 104, ss. 1 AND 2 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 168 cases—Appellate Court's duty to give due weight to decision of lower Court. An appeal from an acquittal does not stand on a different footing with regard to the consideration of evidence to an appeal from a conviction. No distinction is drawn in the Code of Criminal Procedure between an appeal from an acquittal and an appeal from a conviction. There are no special rules for dealing with the evidence in an appeal from an acquittal which, it is expressly provided in the Code, may lie on a question of fact. Due weight must of course be given to the decision of the Court below and the reasons advanced for that decision. Only one broad rule can be laid down with regard to the consideration of evidence in all criminal cases and that is that the innocence of the accused person must be presumed and the burden lies upon the prosecution of completely rebutting that presumption. If after the consideration of the whole evidence any doubt is felt by the Court as to the guilt of any accused person he is entitled to the benefit of that doubt and the verdict must be in his favour. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER, BIHAR AND ORISSA v. MATUKDHARI SINGH (1915) . . 20 C. W. N. 128

—————— ss. 417, 435, 438—

See ACQUITTAL . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 703

—————— ss. 418 to 423—

See s. 367 . I. L. R. 39 All. 348

—————— s. 421—

See s. 367 . I. L. R. 36 All. 496

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 307
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 406

—————— Appeal—summary dismissal. In dealing with an appeal under s. 421 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the Appellate Court should give some reason for dismissing the appeal summarily although not required by law to write a judgment. GURUBHAI BEHARA v THE KING-EMPEROR 2 Pat. L. J. 695

—————— ss. 421, 423—

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 406

—————— ss. 421, 233, 537—Criminal appeal—presentation of, to an officer of the Court, or to one of the Judges—Appellate Side Rules, R. 1 (1) (f)—Divisional Court for the disposal of criminal business, powers of, to admit criminal appeals, when Admission Court is sitting—Notes to the Weekly Sitting List—Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict., Cap. 104), issued to the Public Prosecutor to appear at the further hearing of the revision and also to inform the Court whether Government intended to appeal against the acquittal. He appeared and handed in the appeals by the Government to the learned Judges who perused them and ordered notice forthwith. On that date an Admission Court constituted by a single Judge was sitting: Held, that there was a valid presentation of the appeals. The fact that a single Judge sitting in the Admission Court is entrusted with the duty of admitting criminal appeals does not deprive the Divisional Court constituted for the disposal of criminal business of the right to exercise its power of admitting criminal appeals. It is by reference to the rules made by the High Court that the respective powers of Judges sitting alone and of Divisional Courts must be ascertained and not by reference to the notes to the "Sittings List" sit alone and which in Divisional Courts. Per OLDFIELD, J.—As regards presentation, no special method is enjoined in the Code of Criminal Procedure; and therefore the question is one of administrative convenience alone. So long as there is an actual presentation to an officer of the Court such as a Bench Clerk or to one of the Judges. its members, the presentation is not invalid, Where, on the presentation of a single complaint against the accused containing all the allegations necessary for the establishment of two cases, those allegations being shortly that accused had cheated the Bank of Madras in connection with certain bills of exchange and also by a false representation contained in a document as to the amount of his assets, the Magistrate after recording the prosecution evidence continuously without discriminating between that which was relevant on each of these two charges, framed separate charges and also numbered them as different calendar cases, but when the witnesses came to be cross-examined, he lost sight of the necessity for keeping the two trials separate and allowed the witnesses to be cross-examined promiscuously in respect of both the charges. Held, that the joint trial of the two cases was illegal inasmuch as it contravened the provisions of s. 233, Criminal Procedure Code, and that the legality could not be cured by s. 537, Criminal Procedure Code. Subramania Ayyar v. King-Emperor, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 61, followed. Where, in an appeal preferred by the High Court against the acquittal of an accused after an illegal trial, the Court is of opinion that the acquittal is wrong on the merits, the accused cannot be convicted and sentenced by the High Court; the only course open is to order that the accused be tried a second time. Per NAPIER, J.—The decision of the Privy

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—————— ss. 421, 233, 537—contd.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 421, 233, 537—concld.

Council in Subramania Ayyar v. King-Emperor, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 61, does not compel the Court to hold that in no case can a misjoinder of charges or a failure to try charges separately be an irregularity within the meaning of s. 537, Criminal Procedure Code. THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. KADIRI KOYA (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 527

——— s. 422—

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 406

——— ss. 422, 423—

See s. 439 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 505

——— s. 423—

See s. 237 . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 264

See s. 250 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1094

See s. 403 . I. L. R. 36 All. 4

See s. 421 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 527

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 374
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 406

See APPELLATE COURT.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 293

See ASSESSORS . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 163

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1143

See DACOITY . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 350

See DEPOSITION . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 895

See EVIDENCE ACT, s. 167.
14 C. W. N. 493

See JURY, TRIAL BY.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 635

See RIOTING . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 896

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 1094

——— Appeal—Power of Appellate Court to alter finding of acquittal into one of conviction. An Appellate Court can, under s. 423 of the Criminal Procedure Code in an appeal from a conviction, alter the finding of the lower Court, and find the appellant guilty of an offence of which the lower Court has declined to convict him. Queen-Empress v. Jabanulla, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 975, followed. EMPEROR v. SARDAR (1911)
I. L. R. 34 All. 115

——— Sentence—Alteration of sentence whether amounting to an enhancement or not. A Magistrate on a conviction under s. 379 of the Indian Penal Code sentenced the accused to one month's rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 5 each and in case of a default in payment of the fine, to one week's further imprisonment. The District Magistrate on appeal by the accused altered the sentence to one of three days' imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 100, and in default of payment of fine, to a further imprisonment of one month. Held, that in the absence of any evidence that the accused were unable to pay the fine or regarded the sentence passed on appeal as more severe than the original sentence, it could not be said that the sentence had been enhanced. Queen-Empress v. Chagan Jagannath, I. L. R. 23 Bom. 439, and Bakthavatsalu Naidu v. Emperor, I. L. R. 30 Mad. 103, doubted. Rakhal Raja v. Khirode Pershad Dutt, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 175, approved. EMPEROR v. MEHAR CHAND (1914)
I. L. R. 36 All. 485

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 423—contd.

——— Honorary Magistrates—Judgment of Bench signed by one member only—Appeal—Order returning judgment to be signed by the other member of the Bench which had heard the case. A District Magistrate, on an appeal from the decision of a Bench of Honorary Magistrates, found that, although the case had apparently been heard by a Bench of two Magistrates, the judgment was signed by only one member of the Bench, and accordingly returned the judgment to be signed by the other Magistrate who had heard the case. Held, that this procedure was in no way opposed to s. 423 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. GOPAL DAS (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 41 All. 217

——— Alteration of finding under—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 325—Conviction under, may be altered to conviction under s. 144—Appellate Court, power of. Under s. 423 (b) (2), Criminal Procedure Code, the Appellate Court may alter the finding maintaining the sentence and there is nothing to restrict the finding which may be altered to a finding of conviction. A conviction under s. 325, Indian Penal Code, may be altered by the Appellate Court into a conviction under s. 147, Indian Penal Code, the sentence under s. 325 being maintained. Abhi Misser v. Lakhmi Narain, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 566, distinguished. APPANNA v. PITHANI MAHALAKSHMI (1910) . . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 545

——— Power of Appellate Court to alter finding of acquittal to a finding of conviction—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 147, 353 and 358. Under s. 433 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, an Appellate Court has power to alter a finding of acquittal to a conviction either on a point of law or on a point of fact. Where the accused were charged with the offence of being members of an unlawful assembly with the common object of resisting arrest, and the trial Court acquitted them on this charge and convicted them under s. 323 of the Penal Code: Held, that the Appellate Court, having found that one of the common objects of the assembly was to resist arrest, was entitled to alter the conviction to one of rioting with the said common object. MAHANGU SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR
3 Pat. L. J. 565

——— ss. 423 and 428—Order setting aside conviction and ordering trying Magistrate to retry the case, take additional evidence and decide the case on both original and additional evidence, legality of. Sub-Divisional Magistrate convicted the petitioners of offences under the Indian Penal Code, ss. 147 and 148. The Sessions Judge, on appeal, sent the case back for further evidence to be recorded with a direction to the Magistrate to record a fresh decision on the evidence already recorded and on the additional evidence. By his order the Sessions Judge set aside the conviction and sentence and ordered a retrial from the point at which the additional evidence should have been taken. After taking the additional evidence the Magistrate again convicted the petitioners who again appealed. By this time the Sessions Judge who heard the first appeal had been succeeded by another. At the request of both parties the Appellate Court disregarded the additional evidence and decided the case on the original evidence. He upheld the convictions. Held, a new trial by the Magistrate. Ordinarily the proper cou proceeding order and a fresh ju corded or for that purpose. But as both sides had asked the Sessions Judge to disregard the additional evidence, and as the Sessions Judge had already recorded his finding on the original evidence, it was unnecessary to return the case to him in order that he might record a fresh judgment. Held, per JWALA PRASAD, J., that the Sessions Judge's order setting aside the convictions and sentences, ordering a retrial of the accused, and directing the Magistrate to take additional evidence was wholly illegal. Held, further, however, that under the circumstances of the case the accused had not been prejudiced. GAJANAND THAKUR v. KING-EMPEROR . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 99

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— ss. 423 and 428—contd.

—— ss. 423, 439—

See s. 403 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 4

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 786

—— High Court, power of, to alter finding of acquittal into conviction and enhance sentences in Revision—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 300, explained. S. 423, cl. (b), Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, gives power to the High Court when hearing an appeal against a conviction to alter the finding and s. 439 gives power to enhance the sentence so as to make it appropriate to the altered finding. S. 439, sub-s. (4), which enacts that "nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise a High Court to convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction" must be construed as referring to cases where the trial has ended in a complete acquittal; any other constructi— would be inconsistent with the power to "a Court as a Court to exercise the Appeal by s. 42

Court, having rioting into one from five years' rigorous imprisonment to transportation for life. In the course of a riot the accused attacked and killed a man with dangerous weapons: Held, that the acts of the accused having caused the death of the man and there being nothing to suggest that they were not sufficient to cause death as their ordinary and natural result in the absence of proof of circumstances sufficient to give the accused the benefit of any of the exceptions to s. 300 of the Penal Code, they must be taken to have intended to kill the man and are guilty of murder. BALI REDDI, Re . . . I. L. R 37 Mad. 119

—— ss. 424—

See s. 367 . 21 C. W. N. 550

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— s. 424—contd.

See JUDGMENT OF APPELLATE COURT. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 194

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 376

in appeal by the Sessions Judge. Held, that there ought to be sufficient materials in the appellate judgment itself to enable the High Court to form a conclusion as to the propriety of the conviction of each of the accused having regard to the various offences with which he was charged, and to enable it to come to a conclusion as to the correctness of the sentence which has been passed upon each of the accused having regard to the nature of the offence with which each of the accused was charged. The High Court directed a re-hearing of the appeal by the same Sessions Judge. ABINDRA RAJBUNSHI v. KING-EMPEROR (1916) . . . . 20 C. W. N. 1296

—— s 428—

See s. 196 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 885

See s. 423 . . 1 Pat. L. J. 99

See EVIDENCE ACT, s. 21. I. L. R. 36 Mad. 457

—— Re-trial, power of High Court to order, after obtaining additional evidence—Government of India Act (5 and 6 Geo. V. c. 61), s. 107—Witnesses, duty of Court to secure attendance of—Petitions filed by parties, duty of ... High Court has power ... ppeal ... the ... been ... haust

all the power

attendance, u can be shown

tion and delay. Where the accused repeatedly requested that certain persons should be summ... witnesses and the Court twice issued the travelling ...

did not excuse the Court from its duty to secure their attendance as the accused had never been requested to deposit the sum necessary for the expenses. MAHOMED ZAMIRUDDIN v. KING-EMPEROR . . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 632

—— s. 429—

See PRINTING PRESS. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 202

—— ss. 429, 439—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION (19). I. L. R. 39 Mad. 750

—— s. 432—Reference under—Indian Electricity Act (IX of 1910), s. 33, scope of—"Every person," meaning of. The words "every person" in s. 33 of the Indian Electricity Act is not con- ... III ... to ... in ... ces

—— s. 432—contd.

;o have resulted in loss of life or personal
Re HAWKINS (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 686

—— s. 435—

See s. 107 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 302

See s. 133 . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 538

See s. 145 . I. L. R. 41 All. 302
I. L. R. 36 All. 233

See BENGAL REGULATION VI OF 1825, s. 2.
I. L. R. 33 All. 84

See HIGH COURT (JURISDICTION).
I L. R. 34 Bom. 378
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 287

See PRESS ACT (I OF 1910), s. 3 (1), PROVISO . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1164

———— Order by Deputy rate amounting to a dismissal of complaint—complaint, disposed of by District Magis- Further enquiry ordered by Sessions Judge— ction to make such order. Where the te party filed a complaint against the ner before the Deputy Magistrate of Sing- who called for a police-report and subse- 7 on a consideration of that report passed lowing order on the 28th November 1911 : r mistake of law, s. 406, I. P. C." and the te party thereupon filed another complaint the Deputy Commissioner who ordered ial enquiry by the Deputy Magistrate and considering his report directed that the hould be entered as false as the outcome ivil dispute and then the opposite party the Sessions Judge who ordered a further y under s. 437, Cr. P. C. Held, that having to the provisions of s. 435, sub-s. (4), Cr. P. e Sessions Judge should not have ordered r enquiry into the complaint. The order Deputy Magistrate, dated the 28th Novem- 11, must be regarded as an order dismissing mplaint. Girish Chandra v. The Emperor, V. N. 638, Nagendra Nath Sen v. Mr. Korb, N. 456, followed. That the case having disposed of by a competent authority it not thereafter have been withdrawn by eputy Commissioner to his own file under , Cr. P. C. That when the Deputy Commis- proceeded to revise the Deputy Magis- s order and have a further enquiry made, st be taken that he was acting under s. 435, C. SIDDIK v. CHAKAURI KHANSAMA (1913)
17 C. W. N. 451

———— High Court—Revi- Jurisdiction—Magistrate's order as to com- tion—District Municipalities Act (Bombay II of 1901), s. 161 (2). An order passed by a strate under s. 161 (2) of the Bombay Dis- Municipalities Act, 1901, can be revised by High Court. DINABAI JIJIBHAI. In re (1919)
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 864

—— ss. 435, 436—

See s. 239 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 561

———— Commitment to the rt of Sessions by the High Court in revision— ian Arms Act, ss. 19F, 20. Where in a case eeded with under s. 19F, the evidence recorded by the Magistrate disclosed an offence under s. 20 of the Arms Act, the High Court directed the commitment of the case to the Court of Sessions. NISHI KANTA LAHIRI v. THE CROWN (1916) . . . . 20 C. W. N. 732 ———— Refusal of District Magistrate to interfere and commit to Sessions before completion of inquiry before Sub-Magistrate —Power of Sessions Judge to commit suo motu after discharge by Sub-Magistrate. An order of a District Magistrate refusing to call for the records and commit to the Sessions an accused person while the charge against him is still under inquiry before an inferior Magistrate is not an order refusing to revise an order of discharge and a Sessions Judge may order commital of the accused to the Sessions Court after his dis- charge by the inferior Magistrate. Kalimuthu v. Emperor (1903) I. L. R. 26 Mad., 477, dis- tinguished. GANDI APPA RAZU v. KING-EMPEROR (1920) . . . . I. L R. 43 Mad. 330

—— ss. 435, 436—contd.

—— ss. 435, 437—

See s. 200 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 346

—— ss. 435 to 439—Revision—Practice— Application to be made first to Sessions Judge or District Magistrate—Act No. XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code), ss. 499, 95—Defamation—Act causing slight harm. So far as the practice of the High Court in the matter of applications for revision on the Criminal side is concerned, an application to the lower Court should be considered an essential step in the procedure, and that should be so whether the District Magistrate or the Sessions Judge has power to grant the relief or not. In future, therefore, failure on the part of the appli- cant to submit his application to the lower Court will operate as a bar to the application being entertained by the High Court. Emperor v. Mansur Husain, I. L. R. 41 All. 687, referred to. Observation on the application of s. 95 of the Indian Penal Code. SHARIF AHMAD v. QABUL SINGH . . . . I. L. R. 43 All 497

—— s. s. 435, 438—

See ACQUITTAL . I L. R. 44 Calc. 703

See REVISION . 3 Pat. L. J. 302

———— District Magistrate— Reference to High Court—Power to refer a case heard by Sessions Judge. A District Magistrate is not empowered to make a reference to the High Court questioning the propriety of judg- ment by a Sessions Judge. Queen-Empress v. Karamdi, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 250, followed. EMPEROR v. LOBO (1916) . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 47

—— ss. 435, 439—

See s. 133 . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 534

See s. 145 . I. L. R. 41 All. 302

See HIGH COURT . I. L. R. 41 All. 587

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 816

———— Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict., cap. 104), s. 15—High Court, powers of, to revise—Complaint of offences under Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 189 and 504—Charges framed—Prosecution evidence unreliable—Offences not made out—Prosecution not bonâ fide—Interlocu

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 435, 439—contd.

tory order—Process-server's right to enter any house to effect service. A complaint was preferred against the accused in respect of offences under ss. 189 and 504, Indian Penal Code, and charges were framed under the said sections by a second class Sub-Magistrate. A criminal revision petition was filed by the accused in the High Court to quash the proceedings on the ground that the evidence on record was insufficient to substantiate either of the charges and that the proceedings to interfere in revision. Held, that though the power of revision has to be exercised with great care the High Court has jurisdiction to interfere at any stage of the proceedings, if it considers that in the interest of justice it should do so. Held (on the facts of the case), that the case was a fit one for interference in revision, as a careful consideration of evidence of the prosecution led to the conclusion (i) that the ingredients necessary to constitute an offence under ss. 189 and 504, Indian Penal Code, had not been made out and that it was not a case ... but that the complainant was a tool in the hands of others. For an offence under s. 504 of the Indian Penal Code, mere abuse will not do without an kno

The
a su in a ... right of entry into any house without the permission of the owner or person in charge. Re KUPPUSWAMI AYAR (1915) . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 561 ———— High Court—Criminal revisional jurisdiction—Power to interfere with order passed under para. 1 of s. 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act (XIII of 1859)—Contract or specific performance of the contract, under para. 1 of s. 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act, 1859. The accused entered into an agreement with the complainant engaging to remove 100 logs of timber from a forest to a forest depôt, a distance of 22 miles, and received an advance of Rs. 440. The accused having failed to carry out the contract, was tried under s. 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, and was ordered to repay the advance. On application under criminal revisional jurisdiction: Held, that the contract in question was not a contract of an artificer, workman or labourer and did not fall within the purview of the Act. EMPEROR v. DEVAPOA RAMAPOA (1918) I. L. R. 43 Bom. 607

———— Revision by High Court of order of acquittal—Irregularities in procedure and absence of proper charge to jury—Defence witnesses examined as Court witnesses and cross-examined by both sides—S. 342—Examination of accused by Court, necessity of—S. 451—Trial of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 435, 439—concld.

European British subject. The accused, a European British subject, was charged with the commission of an offence under s. 326, Indian Penal Code, and he was tried by the District Magistrate with the aid of a jury under s. 451, Criminal Procedure Code. It appeared that the evidence given by three police witnesses in the preliminary enquiry was read over to them and treated as their examination-in-chief. The Magistrate declined to admit in evidence a map prepared by the investigating them. There was no examination of the accused under s. 342, Criminal Procedure Code. The was explained to the jury. On the acquittal of the accused the High Court was moved by the complainant in revision: Held, that the trial that the trial was conducted in an atmosphere of prejudice and the order of acquittal should be set aside. That the examination of the two witnesses who had been summoned as Court witnesses but were essentially defence witnesses in the manner aforesaid was highly improper. That this was pre-eminently a case in which an opportunity of making a statement should have been given to the accused. GANGADHAR GOALA v. REGINALD WILLIAM LEMON REED .

25 C. W. N. 609

———— ss. 435, 439, 133—Revision petition to the High Court against an order under s. 133—Order of a single Judge of the High Court—Appeal against order, if maintainable—Letters Patent (24 & 25 Vict., cap. 104, cl. 15) No appeal lies, under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent, against an order of a single Judge of the High Court in a Criminal Revision Petition preferred against an order of a Magistrate acting under s. 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. SUBBAYYA v. RAMAYYA (1915) . . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 537

———— Revision—Practice—
Applica...
District
Penal C... slight h...
Court i on the
to the l
tial step ...
whether the District Magistrate or the Sessions Judge has power to grant the relief or not. In future, therefore, failure on the part of the applicant to submit his application to the lower Court will operate as a bar to the application being entertained by the High Court. Emp... Mansur Husain, I. L. R. 41 All. 657, ... Observations on the application of s. ... Indian Penal Code. SHARIF AHMAD ... SINGH . . . I. L. ...

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 435, 439, 491—

See EXTRADITION WARRANT. I. L. R. 42 Calc. 793

——— s. 436—

See s. 435 . . 20 C. W. N. 732
I. L. R. 43 Mad. 330

See s. 439 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 561

——— Scope of section—Discharge, meaning of—Commitment to Sessions Court under the section—Accused tried and acquitted by competent Magistrate on charge framed—Competency of Sessions Court to direct commitment on another charge which in his opinion should have been framed. The petitioner was tried and acquitted by a competent Magistrate on a charge of simple forgery under s. 465, Indian Penal Code. The Sessions Judge by an order under s. 436, Criminal Procedure Code, directed the commitment of the petitioner on a charge of forgery of a valuable security under s. 467, Indian Penal Code, with which he held the petitioner should have been charged. Held, per RICHARDSON, J., that s. 436, Criminal Procedure Code, contemplated a case of discharge and the petitioner not having been properly or improperly discharged in respect of an offence under s. 467, Indian Penal Code, the Sessions Judge had no power to direct his commitment or to order a further inquiry under proviso (b) in respect of that offence. The acquittal of an accused on a charge framed does not necessarily imply that the Magistrate discharged him in respect of any other charge which might have been framed. The Magistrate must consciously do something or make some order which shows that in his opinion on the materials before him the accused should not be charged for that offence. The meaning of "discharge," and the general rule of the Code that a discharge should precede the framing of a charge were considered. Per TEUNON, J.—The Magistrate's order acquitting the accused of an offence under s. 465, Indian Penal Code, was tantamount to an order discharging the accused of the graver offence under s. 467, Indian Penal Code. The fact that no charge was framed and the Magistrate was not asked to frame a charge under the graver section was immaterial. ABDUL HAKIM v. HASAN ALI (1917) . . 22 C. W. N. 117

——— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 323, 324, 376, 511—Subordinate Magistrate taking cognizance on police charge-sheet—No mention of offence under ss. 376, 511, Indian Penal Code—Prosecution not pressing for [illegible] before Magistrate—Order by District Magistrate directing commitment—Validity of order—Reference by Sessions Judge—Quashing of commitment by High Court—Jurisdiction of District Magistrate. Where a Subordinate Magistrate took cognizance of a case on a police charge-sheet charging the accused with offences of assault and hurt under ss. 323 and 324, Indian Penal Code, but no charge was made [illegible] under ss. 376 and 511, [illegible] offence under ss. 376 and 511, Indian Penal Code, and the accused was so committed: Held (on a reference by the Sessions Judge), that the proceedings of the Subordinate Magistrate did not amount to an order of discharge on the major offence and the District Magistrate had no jurisdiction to pass an order under s. 436 of the Criminal Procedure Code directing the Subordinate Magistrate to commit the accused to the Sessions for the offence under ss. 386 and 511, Indian Penal Code. Commitment quashed and the Subordinate Magistrate directed to proceed with the trial of the minor offences. Krishna Reddi v. Subbamma, I. L. R. 24 Mad. 136, distinguished. SESSIONS JUDGE OF COIMBATORE v. MUTHAPPA GOUNDAN (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 982 ——— Discharge—Commitment to Court of Session by District Magistrate, grounds for. Before a District Magistrate orders the committal to the Court of Session of an accused who has been discharged by an inferior Court, he should come to a finding, with reference to the evidence that the accused has been improperly discharged. It is not enough that, in his opinion, the charge is of such a character that it should be considered by a Court of Session. SRIKISHEN LAL v. THE KING-EMPEROR 1 Pat. L. J. 97

——— s. 437—

See s. 119 . I. L. R. 38 All. 147
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 491

See s. 202 . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 47

See s. 203 . . I. L. R. 35 All. 73
I. L. R. 40 All. 133

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 66

See FURTHER INQUIRY.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 228

——— Discharge, order of, by High Court Sessions, if any bar to fresh proceedings—Nolle prosequi. An order of discharge by the High Court in the exercise of its Original Criminal Jurisdiction is no bar to fresh proceedings being taken before a competent Magistrate upon complaint or upon a police report or under s. 190 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Mir Ahmed Hossein v. Mahomed Askari, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 726, F. B.: 6 C. W. N. 641, referred to. Where an accused person was put upon his trial before the High Court Sessions on charges punishable under ss. 363 and 366 of the Indian Penal Code and an order of discharge was passed upon the Advocate-General entering a nolle prosequi, and subsequently the accused being again sent up to take his trial upon the same charges, the Deputy Magistrate held that he could not do so [illegible]: Held, that the Magistrate was wrong in declining [illegible] and he was bound to adjudicate on the charges properly laid before him against the accused. Held, also, that the order of discharge by the High Court [illegible] 15 C. W. N. 932

——— [illegible]
[illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 437—contd.

second complaint—Jurisdiction. Held, that it is complaint. Queen-Empress v. Umedan, All. Weekly Notes, (1895) 86, followed. EMPEROR v. KEYMER (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 53

———— Accused discharged by Magistrate—Order for further inquiry—Notice—Judicial, discretion—Practice. Nothing in s. 437 of the Code of Criminal Procedure requires previous notice to be given to any accused person who has been discharged, before further inquiry into his case is ordered by a competent authority, that is, by the High Court, or the Sessions Judge or the District Magistrate. Nevertheless as a matter of judicial discretion it is advisable that previous notice should issue when the matter for consideration is the setting aside of an order of discharge in favour of the accused person who has been actually before the Court to answer the facts alleged against him. Queen-Empress v. Ajudhia, I. L. R. 20 All. 339, referred to. EMPEROR v. ABDUL LATIF (1918) . I. L. R. 40 All. 416

———— Further enquiry—Dismissal of complaint merely on report of President Panchayet. Where the Magistrate dismissed a complaint of assault and theft merely on the report of the President Punchayet without giving the petitioner any opportunity to substantiate his case and the order of dismissal referred to one of the charges only of the complaints: Held, that there should be a further enquiry into the complaint. PURNA CHANDRA DEY v. AMBICA CHARAN ADHIKARY (1919) . 23 C. W. N. 575 ———— "Discharge"—Subordinate Magistrate omitting to frame a charge. Two persons were placed on trial before a Magistrate of the second class for offences under ss. 307 and 323 of the Indian Penal Code. One of these persons was discharged; but, as regards the other, the Magistrate, whilst framing a charge against him under s. 323 omitted to say anything about the other section. Held, that the effect of this was equivalent to a discharge so far as the offence under s. 307 was concerned and it was open to the District Magistrate to direct a further inquiry under s. 437 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Krishna Reddi v. Subbamma, I. L. R. 24 Mad. 106, referred to. SHEO NARAIN SINGH v. RADHA MOHAN SINGH . I. L. R. 42 All. 128 ———— Order for further inquiry after discharge without notice to the accused—when further inquiry should not be ordered. Held, that an order for further inquiry after discharge should not be passed without notice to the accused, the order being one which is prejudicial to him. Dulla v. Empress (2 P. R. (Cr.) 1901, referred to. Held, also that further inquiry should not be ordered unless the order of discharge was manifestly perverse or foolish or was based upon a record of evidence which was obviously incomplete. Emperor v. Kiru (10 P. R. (Cr.) 1911 F. B.), page 34, per KENSINGTON, J., cited. NABI BAKHSH v. THE CROWN

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 216

———— ss. 437, 119—Power to order further inquiry under s. 437 does not extend to order of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 437, 119—contd.

discharge under s. 119. The power conferred by s 437 of the Criminal Procedure Code to order further inquiry cannot be exercised in the case of orders of discharge under s 119 of the Code, where the Magistrate before making the order of discharge, has called upon the person, into whose conduct the inquiry is made, to establish his defence. The word 'discharged' in s. 437 must be read as equivalent to 'discharged' within the meaning of ss. 209, 253 and 259 of the Code. VELU TAYI AMMA v. CHIDAMBARAVELU PILLAI (1909) . . . . I L. R. 33 Mad. 85 ———— ss. 437, 202, 203 and 204 (3)—Dismissal of complaint—Further inquiry ordered by Sessions Judge—Whether notice should be issued dismissed under s. 203 is not bad on the ground that notice was not given to the accused. SHEO NARAIN SINGH v. RAM PERTAP RAI

4 Pat. L. J. 456

———— s. 438—

See s. 107 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 143

See ACQUITTAL . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 703

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), s. 266 . . I. L. R. 40 All. 84

———— Enhancement of sentence—Reference made by District Magistrate after Sessions Judge has declined to interfere—High Court—Practice. Quære: Whether a District Magistrate is as a matter of law entitled to make a reference to the High Court under s. 438 of the Code of Criminal Procedure in a matter in which the Sessions Judge has been asked to send a case up to the High Court for enhancement of sentence and has refused to do so. But if he is so entitled, it is extremely inconvenient that a District Magistrate should do so, and the High Court would not take action upon such reference without special reason. Queen-Empress v. Zor Singh, I. L. R. 10 All. 146, Emperor v. Jamna Bai, I. L. R. 28 All. 91, and Emperor v. Krisnaji Shamrao, 6 Bom. L. R. 1090, referred to. EMPEROR v. GANGA (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 378 ———— High Court will not interfere with an acquittal in revision where an appeal might have been preferred by Government. In a case in which the complainant being absent, the Magistrate acquitted the accused under s. 247, Criminal Procedure Code, it subsequently transpired that the absence of the complainant had been procured by the fraud of the accused who had had him arrested and kept in custody on a false charge. No appeal against the acquittal was preferred by Government but the District an order of acquittal where an appeal [illegible] Government against such an order. Re [illegible] GOUNDAN (1914) . . I. L. R. 38 [illegible] ———— Interference [illegible] Court on reference by Sessions Judge [illegible] of fact. Where, under s. 438, C[illegible] Judge made a reference to [illegible]

[illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

—— s. 438—contd.

mending that a conviction under s. 323, I. P. C., should be set aside on the merits, the High Court accepted the reference and set aside the conviction. EMPEROR v. NASIRAM MISTRI 24 C. W. N. 549 —— Enhancement of sentence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 438. Where the accused pleaded guilty to the charge framed against him and was convicted and the District Magistrate made a reference to the High Court recommending the enhancement of the sentence: Held, that having regard to the circumstances of the case and the fact that the prosecution did not ask for further examination of witnesses after the framing of the charge to which the accused pleaded guilty, the sentence should not be enhanced. KING-EMPEROR v. SATYA KINKAR GHOSE. . 25 C. W. N. 212

—— ss. 438, 439—

See s. 345 . I. L. R. 42 All. 474

—— s. 439—

See s. 6 . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 287

See s. 146 . I. L. R. 32 All. 132

See s. 195 . I. L. R. 36 All. 403
19 C. W. N. 447

See s. 239 . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 561

See s. 408 . . 4 Pat. L. J. 435

See s. 423 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 119

See s. 435 . . 25 C. W. N. 609

See ACQUITTAL . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 612
19 C. W. N. 184

See ASSESSORS . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 163

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1143

See HIGH COURT . I. L. R. 41 All. 587

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 786

See PERJURY . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 542

See REVISION . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 438

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 750

1. —— Revision—Powers of High Court—District Registrar. A District Registrar is not a Court subordinate to the High Court either on the civil, criminal or revenue side, and the High Court has no power to interfere with the order of the Registrar impounding a document and calling upon the applicants to show cause why they should not be prosecuted for forgery. EMPEROR v. UDIT NARAIN DUBE (1912) . . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 109

2. —— Revision on facts—Practice of the High Court and its powers under the law—When High Court should consider evidence in revision—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 100—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 211—Nature of proof necessary. Per MOOKERJEE J.—Applications for revision in criminal case stand on a fundamentally different footing from appeals against appellate decrees in civil suits. In cases of the latter description the Court is bound by the rigid provisions of s. 100, C. P. C., to act on findings of fact embodied in the judgment of the lower Appellate Court. In criminal cases there is no such statutory restriction to the exercise of the jurisdiction of the High Court. As a matter of practice the High Court in revision does not ordinarily interfere with the conclusions of the lower Appellate Court on questions of fact but there can be no question as to the competency of the High Court to interfere with a finding of fact when the occasion requires it and the Court will not hesitate to do so when satisfied that the finding is manifestly erroneous and a miscarriage of justice would result from it if left uncorrected. Belilios v. Queen, 12 B. L. R. 249; Buran Saheb v. King-Emperor, 6 Bom. L. R. 1069, referred to. Observations of JENKINS, C. J., in Bankatram v. King-Emperor, I. L. R 28. Bom. 533, 566, quoted with approval. The application of the observations of the Judicial Committee in Mirza Sajjad Hussain v. Nawab Wazir Ali Khan, 16 C. W. N. 889, that Judges in India must not have "impliedly the duty laid upon them of making their narrative of the circumstances minutely and completely exhaustive under the penalty that if they failed to do so the absence from their minds of elementary considerations might be presumed," is not to be extended to criminal cases. A critical examination of the judgments of the subordinate Courts is not of much assistance when the High Court proceeds to revise the findings of fact of the lower Courts. A much safer course is to obtain a broad and comprehensive view of the facts of the case and then to ascertain whether there has been a failure of justice. Rama Nath Katapahar v. King-Emperor, 2 C. L. J. 524, referred to. In a case under s. 211, Penal Code, failure on the part of the complainant to establish the truth of his allegation does not by any means justify the inference that the complaint was false; and to secure a conviction in this class of cases it must further be established beyond reasonable doubt that the circumstances are not merely consistent with the guilt of the accused but entirely inconsistent with his innocence. Per CARNDUFF, J.—The observations of the Judicial Committee in Mirza Sajjad Husain v. Nawab Wazir Ali Khan, 16 C. W. N. 889, may well be given a wider application and are especially relevant in respect of judgments of affirmance even in criminal cases. Per IMAM, J.—It is not usual for the High Court in revision to discuss a case on its facts though it is open to it to do so. RAM PROSAD v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1912)
17 C. W. N. 370

3. —— Revision of sentence on consideration of fresh facts—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 147—Rioting over disputed possession of chur—Finding of Settlement Officer pronounced after issue of Rule considered by High Court in revising sentence. In a case of rioting arising out of a dispute relating to the possession of a chur between the zamindar and the talukdar in which both the lower Courts found in favour of the complainant on the question of possesion, but the Assistant Settlement Officer, after the judgment of the Sessions Judge in appeal was pronounced and after a Rule was issued by the High Court, found in connection with the preparation of record-of-rights that the culturable area in the chur was in the possession of the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 439—contd.

zamindar whose men the petitioners were, the High Court for the purpose of revising the sentence considered the judgment of the Assistant Settlement Officer and reduced the sentence. ARAJ SARKAR v. EMPEROR (1913) . 18 C. W. N. 646

4. ——— Criminal Revision under—Compounding of offences—Incompetency of High Court to sanction composition, in Revision—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of [illegible] ; sitting [illegible] sanction [illegible] s. 345, Criminal Procedure Code, which is exhaustive of the Courts which can sanction the composition of offences and the stages at which the composition can be effected. Emperor v. Ram Piyari, I. L. R. 32 All. 153, dissented from. Re RANGAYYA (1915). . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 604

5. ——— Presidency Magistrate, order of discharge by—Revision by High Court The High Court has power under s. 439 read with s. 423 of the Criminal Procedure Code to revise an order of discharge passed by a Presidency Magistrate and to direct a further enquiry if there are good reasons for doing so although no question of jurisdiction arises in the case. Where N, one of several accused persons, was discharged by the Magistrate under s. 253, Criminal Procedure Code, and the High Court at the hearing of the appeal of the other accused persons who were convicted by the Magistrate directed that the evidence of N should be recorded and in disposing of the appeal took into consideration the evidence so recorded and being of opinion that that evidence could not in some respects be accepted, issued a rule to show cause why the order of dis- [illegible] the High Court of its revisional jurisdiction. [illegible] the High [illegible] discharge [illegible] is recorded under orders of the High Court and which was used by that Court for the purpose of coming to the conclusion as to the guilt of the other accused might afford material to the prosecution to support or frame the charge against N and to allow this would be contrary to the tradition of justice in criminal cases. KING-EMPEROR v. NANDA GOPAL ROY (1916) . 20 C. W. N. 1128

6. ——— Appealable and non-appealable sentences given on a joint trial—Appeal by some of the accused—Reference made by Appellate Courts as to the others. Of several persons tried jointly by a Magistrate, some received appealable sentences others non-appealable. The former appealed to the Sessions Judge, who acquitted them, but on grounds that were applicable to all. Held, that it was the duty of the Judge to bring the cases of the remaining accused to the notice of the High Court under s. 439 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. BHOLA (1917) . I. L. R. 39 All. 549

7. ——— High Court—Revisional jurisdiction—Order of acquittal. The High Court of Bombay has power, under s. 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, to interfere in revision with an order of acquittal; but by a long established practice of the Court, revisional applications against orders of acquittal are not entertained from private petitioners except it be on some very broad ground of the exceptional requirements of public justice. FARDOON CAWASJI, In re (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Bom. 560

8. ——— Acquittal—Reference to High Court by Sessions Judge—Interference by High Court, principle governing—Jurisdiction of High Court. The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with acquittals, in revision under s. 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code, but it will not exercise that jurisdiction on a Reference by a Sessions Judge except where serious injustice has been caused by error of law. MOGAL BEG, In re (1918) I. L. R. 42 Mad. 109

9. ——— Enhancement of punishment by High Court in case tried by a Magistrate, second class—after expiry of the sentence. The three accused had committed a very serious assault upon the complainants. They were tried for offences under s. 325 of the Penal Code by a Magistrate of the second class, who convicted them and sentenced them to three months' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 25 each. The case was reported by the District Magistrate to the High Court for enhancement of punishment. The sentences of imprisonment had expired when the case came up for hearing by the High Court. Held, that the practice of the Court is not to enhance the sentence when the accused has completed his sentence of imprisonment except in exceptional circumstances as in the present case. Held, also that under s. 439 (3) of the Criminal Procedure Code the High Court has power to inflict any punishment which might have been inflicted for the offence by a Magistrate of the first class and is not limited to the powers of the trying Magistrate. Emperor v. Kamal (16 Cr. L. J. R. 712), followed. CROWN v. JAGAT SINGH . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 453

——— ss. 439, 476—

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF.

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 477

——— When action is taken by a Revenue Court under s. 476 the order is not open to revision under s. 439 but might be under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. RUKTA SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1921)

6 Pat. L. J. 178

——— ss. 439, 476, 200—Power of High Court to interfere under s. 439 with proceedings [illegible] want of jurisdiction, when a Criminal Court has taken action under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The words "as if upon complaint made and recorded under s. 200" introduced in the Code of 1898 were not intended to effect any change in the revisional power of the High Court. Eranholi Athan v. King-Emperor, I. L. R. 25 Mad. 98, overruled. O[illegible] NARAYANAN SOMAYAJIPAD v. EMPEROR [illegible]

I. L. R. [illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 439, 258—Order of acquittal set aside by High Court in revision on merits, on the application of the complainant. Where the trying Magistrate in his judgment by which he acquitted the accused while laying great stress on all considerations that might affect the credibility of the witnesses for the prosecution, omitted to consider what might be advanced in their favour and also failed to appreciate the corroborative value of an important witness for the prosecution, the High Court, on the application of the complainant, set aside the order of acquittal on the merits and directed a re-trial by a new Magistrate. SHAIKH BAGU v. RAIKA SINGH (1914)

18 C. W. N. 1244

———— ss. 439, 422, 423—Order of acquittal. Revision petition to the High Court by private parties—Power of High Court to interfere—Interference, in what cases—Service of notice of appeal on District Magistrate—Omission of service, effect of—Irregularity. The High Court has power to interfere in revision against an order of acquittal on the application of private parties, but will do so only when it considers that interference is urgently demanded in the interest of public justice. The High Court will not interfere with an order of acquittal where the question is one as to the appreciation of evidence or where there is no patent error or defect in the order which has resulted in grave injustice. Mere omission to serve notice of appeal on the District Magistrate, under ss. 422 and 423 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, is only an irregularity and will not render the proceedings ab initio void. VELLAYANAMBALAM v. SOLAI SERVAI (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 505

———— ss. 439, 476—Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court—Order for prosecution passed by a District Magistrate instead by a Collector acting as a Court of Revenue. The Collector of a district in deciding a Revenue appeal came to the conclusion that a receipt filed in the case was not genuine. He took no action at the time as a Court of Revenue, but subsequently acting as District Magistrate he held an inquiry into the matter of the receipt and sent the person whom he thought to be concerned with the making of the receipt to a subordinate Magistrate for trial. Held, that the High Court had jurisdiction to interfere in revision and that the order passed by District Magistrate was ultra vires. EMPEROR v. RAM SAHAI (1917) . I. L. R. 40 All. 144

———— ss. 439, 517, 520—Restoration of movable property—Charge of theft—Malkhana register order passed in, making over property to complainant—Acquittal by High Court—Subsequent order of Magistrate refusing to revise order in Malkhana register—Revision by High Court. Certain properties alleged to be stolen properties, were found in the house of the petitioner who was tried and convicted of theft. These properties were in the custody of the Court and after the judgment of the Sessions Judge affirming the conviction of the petitioner, the trying Magistrate passed an order in the Malkhana register to the effect that the properties should be made over to the complainant. No order was passed on the record of the case. The petitioner moved the High Court against the conviction and sentence and was acquitted. After his acquittal by the High Court, the petitioner applied to the trying Magistrate for the restoration of the properties to him, but the Magistrate held that he could not revise his previous order in the Malkhana register. The petitioner then moved the High Court and obtained a Rule: Held, that the Malkhana register forms no part of any criminal case, unless it is brought on the record in a legal way and the order in complainant's favour recorded in it was not one under s. 517, Criminal Procedure Code, but the order refusing to revise that order was an order under s. 517, Criminal Procedure Code, and the High Court had jurisdiction to revise it under s. 520, as also under s. 439, Criminal Procedure Code. The intention of the Legislature in cl. (3) of s. 517 is that an order under s. 517 should not be carried into effect until it really becomes final either by there being no appeal within the prescribed period or by any final order by a Court of final jurisdiction. That after the accused is acquitted of theft or burglary, the proper order to make is to direct that the property found in the possession of the accused should be restored to him. The complainant in that case could go to the Civil Court, file a suit and secure an injunction. That, in the circumstances of the case, the absence of a prayer by the petitioner as to the restoration of the properties in his previous application to the High Court was no bar to his getting relief in this Rule. KEDAR BISWAS v. MATHURA NATH MITRA (1913) . . . . 18 C. W. N. 959

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898).

———— ss. 439, 517, 520—contd.

———— ss. 439, 562—Revision—Powers of High Court. Inasmuch as action taken under s. 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure takes the place of a sentence on an accused person, the High Court cannot in revision substitute for an order under that section a definite sentence of whipping or imprisonment. EMPEROR v. GHASITE (1914) . . I. L. R. 37 All. 31

———— ss. 447, 454, 532—

See JURY, TRIAL BY

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

———— s. 451—

See s. 435 . . 25 C. W. N. 609

———— ss. 462 (3), 537—European British subject—Jury—Jury not chosen by lot—Illegality. Held, that the provisions of s. 462 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure are imperative and if there is no choosing of the jury by lot, as provided for by the section, the result is that the whole trial is vitiated. Brojendro Lal v. King-Emperor, 7 C. W. N. 188, referred to. EMPEROR v. BRADSHAW (1911) . . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 385

———— ss. 464, 465—Insanity—Inquiry into present unsoundness of mind of accused person to precede his trial on the substantive charge. Where there is any reason for supposing that an accused person may be of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, it is imperatively necessary that this question should be inquired into or tried under the provisions of s. 464 or s. 465 of the Code of Criminal Procedure before the Court proceeds to inquire into or try the substantive charge against the accused. Muhammad Husain v. King-Emperor, 15 Oudh Cases, 321, referred to. EMPEROR v. JHABBU

I. L. R. 42 All. 137

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 465—

See s. 14 . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291

——— s. 471—Acquittal of criminal lunatic—Court can order his detention in jail—Further orders to be passed by Government. When a criminal lunatic is acquitted under the provisions of s. 470 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Court can order under s. 471 of the Code that the accused be detained in custody in the jail where he then is until the further orders of Government and that the case be reported to Government for further orders. EMPEROR v. SOMYA HIRYA (1918) I. L. R. 43 Bom. 134

——— s. 476—

See s. 4 . I. L. R. 38 All. 32

See s. 12 . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1041

See s. 157 . I. L. R. 32 All. 30

See s. 195 . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 360

See s 202 . 18 C. W. N. 95

See s. 439 . I. L. R. 40 All. 144

See APPRAISEMENTS. I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1086

See "CERTIORARI." I. L. R. 36 Mad. 72

See COLLECTOR I. L. R. 40 Calc. 465

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 40 Calc. 444

See COURT . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 195 5 Pat. L. J. 58

See FALSE INFORMATION. I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING. 14 C. W. N. 799

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT, s. 14. 15 C. W. N. 269

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT I OF 1908), ss. 164—167.

See PERJURY . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 542
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 240
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 414

See MAGISTRATE, POWER OF. . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 72

See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1041

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 446
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1152

——— "Court" meaning of—Offence brought under the notice of the Court in the course of a judicial proceeding—Proceeding instituted by one Munsif for resistance to attachment of moveables in execution—Preliminary inquiry and final order by successor—Legality of order—"Judicial proceeding"—Execution proceedings. The word "Court" in s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code includes the successor of the Judge before whom the alleged offence was committed, or to whose notice the commission of it was brought in the course of a judicial proceeding. Where, therefore, the judgment-creditor brought to the notice of the Munsif on the 23rd December 1908, the fact of resistance to the attachment of moveables in execution of his decree, and the Munsif called upon the opposite party to show cause, but his successor, after holding a preliminary inquiry under s. 476 of the Code, ordered their prosecution on 6th October 1909, for offences under ss. 183, 186 and 353 of the Penal Code: Held, that the order was not without jurisdiction. Action under s. 476 should, as far as possible, be prompt and expeditious and not unduly protracted. The definition of a "judicial proceeding" in s 4 (m) of the Criminal Procedure Code is not exhaustive. It includes an execution proceeding; and the resistance to the attachment of movables is, when reported or complained of to the Court, an offence brought under its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s 476 of the Code. BAHADUR v. ERADATULLAH MALLIK (1910)
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642
14 C. W. N. 799

in s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure includes the successor of the Judge before whom the alleged offence was committed. Bahadur v. Eradatullah Mallick, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642, followed. Whether a particular order is expedient or not is not a ground on which the High Court can interfere in revision under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. In the matter of the petition of NAWAL SINGH (1912) . . I. R. R. 34 All. 393 —"Brought on an award ... ds "brought ... Criminal Pro- ... er an offence which may have been committed in another forum and on some previous occasion. Held, also, that a proceeding in which a Court is asked to pass a decree in accordance with an award made with reference to a pending suit cannot be said to be other than a "judicial proceeding" within the meaning of the same section Giruar Prasad v. King-Emperor, 6 A. L. J 392, Umrao Singh v. Hardeo, I. L. R. 29 All. 418, and Banke Bihari Lal v. Pokhe Ram, I. L. R. 23 All. 48, referred to EMPEROR v. KAMTA PRASAD, (1911) I. L. R. 33 All. 396

——— Witness producing forged receipt—Prosecution ordered by successor of trying Judge without preliminary enquiry—Legality. The power to direct prosecution under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, is conferred on the Court and not on the individual judicial officer who fills the judicial office at the time of the original trial. A successor of the officer before whom the original trial took place is not bound to hold an independent investigation before making an order under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code. The holding of a preliminary inquiry in a proceeding under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, is discretionary and a person against whom an order for prosecution has been passed without such an enquiry cannot complain unless he has been prejudiced by the omission. Shaikh Bahadur v. Eradutulla, 14 C. W. N 799, explained and followed. DEEPA NARAYAN BERA v. BEPIN BEHARY MITTER (1911) 15 C. W. N. 691

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 476—contd.

———— Preliminary inquiry—Revision. When a Magistrate takes action under s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, it is not necessary to the validity of his order that he should hold a preliminary inquiry, nor, if he does hold preliminary inquiry, is it necessary that he should give the person against whom such inquiry is being held an opportunity of cross-examining the witnesses. Queen-Empress v. Matabadal, I. L. R. 15 All. 392, followed. ABDUL GHAFUR v. RAZA HUSAIN (1912) I. L. R. 34 All. 267

———— Order under, by Civil or Revenue Court if may be revised by High Court under s. 439—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 115—High Courts Act 24 & 25 Vict., C. 104, s. 14. In the case of an order passed under s. 476, Cr. P. C., by a Civil or a Revenue Court, s. 439, Cr. P. C., has no application, but such an order can be revised by the High Court under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code or under s. 15 of the High Courts Act 24 & 25 Vict., C. 104. An order made by a Criminal Court under s. 476, Cr. P. C., is liable to revision by the High Court under s. 439, Cr. P. C., S. 439, Cr. P. C., is to be read along with and subject to the provision of s. 435, Cr. P. C. Where an order under s. 476 made by a Civil or a Revenue Court is sought to be revised by the High Court, the Bench exercising Criminal Jurisdiction cannot as such deal with the matter but the Judges composing that Bench may do so if authorised by the Chief Justice under s. 14 of the High Courts Act. HAR PRASAD DAS v. THE EMPEROR (1913) . 17 C. W. N. 647

———— Belated order—Acquittal of the accused by one Magistrate, order for prosecution of the complainant by another, without jurisdiction. Where the persons complained against by the petitioner were tried and acquitted by a Deputy Magistrate on the 1st August and a week later another Deputy Magistrate called on the petitioner to show cause why he should not be prosecuted under s. 211, Penal Code, and finally on the 23rd August directed his prosecution under s. 476, Cr. P. C., but subsequently on the District Magistrate observing that the order for prosecution ought to be made by the Magistrate who tried the accused persons, the trying Magistrate on the 16th September passed the following order —" Petition purporting to show cause against prosecution under s. 211 filed. The cause shown is not good; draw up proceedings under s. 211, I. P. C."—This order purporting to be made under s. 476, Cr. P. C., although the accused persons had applied for the prosecution of the petitioner: Held, that there was no judicial proceeding of any sort or kind before the Magistrate who made the order of the 23rd August, and his order for the prosecution of the petitioner was altogether beyond his jurisdiction. That the belated order of the 10th September did not represent the independent judicial opinion of the Magistrate, who made it. If he had thought that action ought to be taken under s. 476, Cr. P. C., he ought to have passed the order one and a half months before and the fact that he did not do so indicated very clearly that he did not at the time think it necessary. There may be cases, in which a Court may not think it necessary in the public interest to take action under s. 476, Cr. P. C., but may be willing to allow the person injured to seek redress. In such a case, it is not necessary that the order should be passed at or near the time of the disposal of the original case, Held, however, in the present case, that even treating the order of the 16th September, as one made under s. 195, Cr. P. C., the further prosecution of the petitioner should not be sanctioned, considering how illegally and unnecessarily he has been harassed in these proceedings. BHIM LAL SHAH v. EMPEROR (1912) 17 C. W. N. 290

———— Information before Police reported false—Informant called upon by Magistrate to prove his case—Order for prosecution under s. 211, Penal Code—Jurisdiction to make such order. The petitioner lodged an information with the Police, who reported it to be false. The petitioner made no complaint in Court, but the Sub-Divisional Magistrate on receipt of the police-report passed the order " complainant to prove his case " and made over the case for disposal to another Magistrate who ultimately made an order under s. 476, Cr. P. C., against the petitioner: Held, that the order of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate and the proceedings held thereunder do not come within any of the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the order for prosecution was without jurisdiction. SARBA MAHTON v. THE EMPEROR (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 824

———— Sanction for Prosecution but no order sending to Magistrate—S. 537 (b)—Illegality or Irregularity. Where a sanction to prosecute given under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), did not order the accused to be sent before the nearest First Class Magistrate but merely ordered his prosecution: Held, that though the sanction was irregular it was not illegal and that the irregularity was cured by s. 537 (b), Criminal Procedure Code. In re Bhup Kunwar, I. L. R. 26 All. 249, 256, dissented from. Re SUPPAYYA THARAGAN (1914) I. L. R. 37 Mad. 317

———— Limitation—There is nothing in s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure which requires a Court to take action, if at all, immediately after the conclusion of the case in which the offences are said to have been committed or within any fixed time thereafter. In the matter of the petition of Nawal Singh, I. L. R. 34 All. 393, Girwar Prasad v. King-Emperor, 6 All. L. J. 392, followed. Aiya Kannu v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 49, Rainadulla v. Emperor, I. L. R. 31 Mad. 140, not followed. In re Lakshmi Das, I. L. R. 32 Bom. 184, Emperor v. Rustamji Hurmusji Tarwala, 4 Bom. L. R. 778, referred to. EMPEROR v. TILAK PANDAY (1915) I. L. R. 37 All. 344

———— Insufficient inquiry—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 182—Calling for a report from interested party as to truth of complaint, propriety of—Order for prosecution, without sufficient enquiry into truth of complaint. The petitioners filed an application before the Sub-Divisional Magistrate praying for proceedings under ss. 144 and 107, Criminal Procedure Code, against several servants of a certain factory, whereupon the Magistrate called for a report from the Manager of the factory, and on receipt thereof required the petitioners to show cause against prosecution under s. 182, Indian Penal Code, and then after examining some witness on each side, but without examining the petitioners themselves, made an order under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, directing their prosecution for an offence under s. 182, Indian Penal Code. Held, that the order of the Magistrate in calling for a report from the Manager of the factory was open to great objection. That the accused being the servants of the factory, the Manager was an interested party and he ought not to have been asked to make a report in these judicial proceedings. Held (in setting aside the order for prosecution), that further enquiry should be made into the truth of the petitioners' complaint, and they themselves should be examined if they chose to give evidence. EMPEROR v. RAFFI RAUT (1914)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 476—contd.

19 C. W. N. 127

——— Held, that a gazetted subordinate to whom the Collector had delegated his powers, and who had before him proceedings for sale of immovable property (ancestral) was a Revenue Court acting in pursuance of s 70 of the Civil Procedure Code and that the High Court had no jurisdiction to revise an order, passed by such officer under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code. EMPEROR v. ASHARFI LAL

I. L. R. 39 All. 91

——— Perjury—Court bound to set out assignments of perjury alleged—Civil Procedure Code, 1908, s 115—Revision—Material irregularity. Held, that when a Civil Court makes an order under s. 476 directing that a person should be prosecuted for perjury such Court is bound to set forth in its order the specific assignments of perjury alleged against the accused. Failure to do so is a material irregularity within the meaning of s. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. EMPEROR v. KASHI SHUKUL (1916) . . . . I. L. R. 38 All. 695

——— Stay of previous proceeding, pending appeal in matter out of which they arise. DEBI MAHTO v. KING-EMPEROR (1916)

20 C. W. N. 1116

——— "Brought under the notice of the Court in the course of a judicial proceeding"—Circumstance fulfilling this requirement of the section. In a case under s. 147, Indian Penal Code, a certain document was exhibited and used in evidence on behalf of the petitioner who was the accused. The trying Magistrate after having heard the evidence proceeded on leave and while on leave wrote a judgment which he forwarded to the District Magistrate who treated it as nullity and transferred the case to his own file under s. 350, Criminal Procedure Code. Before him the Public Prosecutor applied under s. 494, Criminal Procedure Code, to withdraw from the prosecution. After examining the evidence the District Magistrate allowed this application. Subsequently, after making a preliminary enquiry, he made an order directing the prosecution of the petitioner under ss. 467, 471, 474, Indian Penal Code, in respect of the aforesaid document. Held, that the offences as to which the prosecution of the petitioner was directed were brought to the notice of the District Magistrate in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, and the order made was not without jurisdiction. CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. KING-EMPEROR (1916)

21 C. W. N. 755

——— Person not named in order—Magistrate taking cognizance of case on order under section, if can proceed against persons not named in the order. The District Judge made an order under s 476 against one R who had applied before him for the probate of a will which in his opinion was primâ facie a forgery and in respect of which R was guilty of forgery or using or attempting to use a document knowing it to be forged. Before the Magistrate on the application of the public prosecutor the petitioner who was not a party to the probate proceedings before the District Judge was also summoned under ss 120B and 467, Indian Penal Code, in the same proceeding which was pending against R Held, that the petitioner was not a party to the proceedings in the Civil Court and as the offence which appeared to have been committed was one of those described in cl. (1) (c) of s 195, Criminal Procedure Code, neither sanction under that section nor a complaint of the Court under s. 476 was a necessary precedent to proceedings against him. That the Criminal Procedure Code provides for the taking cognizance of offences and not of offenders and a Magistrate who has legally taken cognizance of an offence on an order under s. 476 has jurisdiction to proceed against any one who may be proved by the evidence to be concerned in that offence, whether he was mentioned in the order under s. 476 or not. GIRIDHARI LAL SEROWGEE v. KING-EMPEROR (1916)

21 C. W. N. 950

——— Offence not mentioned in s. 195—Preliminary enquiry, necessity of—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 225B Where it was reported to a Munsi that the accused persons had endeavoured to rescue the judgment-debtor in a certain case tried by the Munsi from the custody of the executing peon and the Munsi purporting to act under s 476, Criminal Procedure Code, made an order sending up the accused to the Magistrate for trial under s. 225B, Indian Penal Code: Held, that the order made was bad for two reasons, viz., that the offence under s. 225B is not one of the offences mentioned in s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, and that the order was made without making any preliminary enquiry. That there may be cases where no preliminary enquiry is necessary, for example, in a case where the Judge is trying the case and all the facts which are material to the charge have

[illegible]

all the [illegible]

[illegible] form the judgment. But in a case like

[illegible]

preliminary [illegible]

him to determine whether or not there is any case fit to be sent to the Magistrate, it has no jurisdiction to send the accused under s. 476 Crimina

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 476—contd.

Procedure Code. TARAK DAS MOITRA v. KING-EMPEROR (1916) . . . 21 C. W. N. 125

——— Perjury—Court not bound to set out assignments of perjury alleged—Civil Procedure Code, 1908, s. 115—Revision—Material irregularity. In every case, whether under s. 195 or s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the particular statement, when the offence refers to a statement, should be set out, so that the accused person should not be taken by surprise, but should clearly know what is the statement which he is required to meet. It does not, however, follow that non-specification of the statement is a material irregularity justifying interference in revision by the High Court. EMPEROR v. CHHOTEY LAL (1917)

I. L. R. 39 All. 367

———Offence not committed by a party to the proceeding. S. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) does not apply to cases where the offence was not committed by a party to a proceeding in respect of a document produced or given in evidence in such proceeding. Abdul Khadar v. Meera Saheb, I. L. R. 15 Mad. 224, followed. RAMALINGAM, Re

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 100

——— Jurisdiction—Order for prosecution of persons not parties to a proceeding before the Court. A Court in taking action under s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not restricted, as regards the person against whom an order may be made, to the parties to a proceeding pending before it. Jadunandan Singh v. Emperor. I. L. R. 37 Calc. 250, dissented from. EMPEROR v. GANGA RAM (1917) . . I. L. R. 40 All. 24 ——— Knowledge of commission of offence after close of proceedings—Order under s. 476 of Criminal Procedure Code, validity of. Held, by the FULL BENCH—Even where the facts of judicial proceeding are fresh in the mind of a Judge, he cannot take action under s. 476 of Criminal Procedure Code if the commission of an offence during the course of that proceeding is discovered by him only after the close of the proceeding. Per KUMARASWAMI SASTRI, J.—In such cases it is open to the Court to act under s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code, and direct an officer to file a complaint. Aiyakannu Pillai v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 49, applied. In re PADMANABHA HEBBARA (1918)

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 422

——— Revenue appeal—heard by Assistant Collector—Direction to prosecute a party to the appeal as well as a third person implicated in the offence though not a party to the appeal—Preliminary inquiry conducted in part by the Assistant Collector and completed by the Criminal Investigation Department—Direction to prosecute need not be a part of the revenue appeal or its continuation. Accused No. 1, a Mamlatdar, having decided a revenue case brought by accused No. 2, an Inamdar, against his tenants to recover rents appeals were preferred from the decision to the Assistant Collector. The appeals were decided on the 18th July 1916 by the Assistant Collector, who having suspected the genuineness of a Kabulayat produced in the case proceeded, on the 28th July 1916, to call for an explanation of the Inamdar and on the 10th October 1916 obtained a report from the Mamlatdar. The Assistant Collector perused the explanation and the report but as he considered the matter serious and demanding further inquiry, he applied on the 7th March 1917, for assistance of the Criminal Investigation Department from the District Magistrate. The assistance was given and inquiry made by the Police. On receipt of the report from the Police, the Assistant Collector passed, on the 2nd July 1917, an order referring the matter for inquiry to the nearest First Class Magistrate under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The Magistrate committed the accused to the Sessions Court, where on trial held they were convicted and sentenced. On appeal to the High Court, it was contended, (i) that even if the offence was brought under the notice in the judicial proceedings of the Assistant Collector as regards the Inamdar, it was not brought to his notice as regards the Mamlatdar; (ii) that the whole of the preliminary inquiry ought to have been made by the Assistant Collector and that he was functus officio as soon as he made his reference to the District Magistrate; and (iii) that the delay in proceeding under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code was fatal to the jurisdiction of the Assistant Collector to act under the section: Held, (i) that what was provided for in s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code was that after making preliminary inquiry into any offence brought to notice the case might be sent for inquiry to the nearest Magistrate of the First Class, that is to say, it was the case which was to be sent and not necessarily all the offenders who might be concerned in the commission of the offence; (ii) that some inquiry at least having been made by the Assistant Collector, he was not deprived of jurisdiction to act under the section by the mere fact that he took the precaution of making a more careful and deliberate inquiry with the assistance of the Criminal Investigation Department, or by the fact that he applied to the District Magistrate for assistance; (iii) that there was nothing in the wording of the section to require that officers acting under it were bound to make their inquiry either in the actual course of the judicial proceedings or so shortly thereafter as to make it really a continuation of those proceedings. In re Lakshmidas Lalji, I. L. R. 32 Bom. 184, followed. Rahimadulla Sahib v. Emperor, I. L. R. 31 Mad. 140, Aiyakannu Pillai v. Emperor, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 49, Begu Singh v. Emperor, I. L. R. 34 Calc. 551, and Bahadur v. Eradatullah Mallick, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 642, 649, dissented from. EMPEROR v. WAMAN DINKAR (1918) . . . I. L. R. 43 Bom 300 ——— "Offence referred to in s. 195," meaning of—Jurisdiction of Court to take action under s. 476 whether restricted to limitations imposed by s. 195, Criminal Procedure Code. Held by the FULL BENCH.—The words in s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, "any offence referred to in s. 195" incorporate the conditions laid down by s. 195, and a Court can take action under s. 476 only under such conditions. Hence proceedings under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code cannot be taken against a person who is neither a party to nor a witness in a suit in respect of abetment of forgery of a document exhibited in the suit. GOVINDA IYER v. REX (1919) I. L. R. 42 Mad. 540

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— s. 476—contd.

———— Bengal Tenancy Act.—It is competent for a Collector in cases of disobedience to orders under ss. 69 and 70 of Bengal Tenancy Act to act under s. 195 or 476 of the Code and direct a prosecution under s. 188 of I. P. C. in respect thereof. LAKSHAN BOR AND OTHERS v. NARANARAIN HAZRA . . . 25 C. W. N. 617

———— False complaint—Order passed by successor to Magistrate who dismissed complaint, legality of. A Sub-Divisional Magistrate, on a complaint being preferred to him, recorded a finding that the complaint was false and called upon the complainant to show cause why he should not be prosecuted under s. 182 of the Penal Code. The Magistrate was then transferred and his successor, on the matter coming up before him, referred it to a Subordinate Magistrate "for hearing complainant and witnesses and report." On receipt of the report the Sub-Divisional Magistrate dismissed the complaint, and two months later, passed an order under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, directing the prosecution of the complainant under s. 211 of the Penal Code Held, that the Sub-Divisional Magistrate had jurisdiction to direct the prosecution of the complainant. Held, also, that the procedure adopted by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate in referring the enquiry to a Subordinate Magistrate for the purpose of hearing the complainant's witnesses and for report was irregular and that this irregularity was cured by s. 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Per ATKINSON, J.—If an irregularity takes place and is allowed to pass unheeded and unnoticed, and a fresh prosecution follows founded upon the irregularity, and conviction follows, then after conviction the accused party cannot [illegible] in an anteceden[illegible] [illegible]enging the valid[illegible] BAIJNATH SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR. 1 Pat. L. J. 553 ———— Power of Appellate Court—after setting aside grant of sanction. The District Judge has power to convert proceedings to obtain or to revoke sanction refused or granted in a lower Court under s. 195 of the Criminal Code into proceedings under s. 476. AMBICA PROSAD v. KING-EMPEROR 1 Pat. L. J. 607 ———— An applicant obtained an ex-parte decree in a Small Cause Court in the Darbhanga District. The decree was transferred to the Chapra District for execution. The defendant in that suit then sued in the Munsiff's Court at Chapra to have the decree set aside on the ground that it had been obtained by fraud, and, having obtained a decree, he applied to the Munsiff for sanction to prosecute the applicant and others who had assisted him in the false suit. The Munsiff refused to grant sanction, but on appeal against that order, the District Judge directed the applicant to be prosecuted for various offences specified in his order. Held, that under s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the District Judge was authorised to send the case for enquiry and trial to the nearest Magistrate of the first class at Chapra. LAKHMI SINGH v. BIRJMOHAN LAL 1 Pat. L. J. 586 ———— Offence committed in another Province—"In the course of a judicial proceeding." The first petitioner instituted a suit in the Small Cause Court at Bilaspur in the Central Provinces against a resident of Arrah, and obtained an ex-parte decree. At the petitioner's instance the decree was transferred to the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Arrah for execution The judgment-debtor then brought a suit in the Court of the Munsiff at Arrah to have the decree of the Bilaspur Court set aside on the ground of fraud, and obtained a decree. The petitioner appealed to the District Judge of Arrah, who confirmed the Munsiff's decision and directed the prosecution of the three petitioners under ss. 209 and 210 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, as he found that they had combined to bring a false suit in the Bilaspur Court and had obtained a decree in that suit, by concealing from the defendant the institution of the proceedings and by tampering with the service of summonses. Held, that the District Judge had jurisdiction under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, to order the prosecution of the petitioners. The hearing of the appeal by him was a judicial proceeding and the offences alleged to have been committed by the petitioners were brought to his notice in the course of that proceeding Per SHARFUDDIN, J.—S. 476 is a self-contained section and the reference in it to s 195 is only for the purpose of avoiding enumeration of the sections mentioned in s. 195. RAJKUMAR SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR 1 Pat. L. J. 298

———— "In the course of a judicial proceeding"—Application to Small Cause Court for sanction to prosecute, refusal of—Appeal to District Judge—Appeal dismissed but prosecution ordered. A sued B in a Court exercising the powers of a Small Cause Court and obtained an ex-parte decree. B then sued to have the ex-parte decree set aside on the ground of fraud, and succeeded. He then applied to the Court which tried the first suit for sanction to prosecute A. The Court rejected the application. B appealed, under s. 195 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, to the District Judge who refused to revoke the sanction but passed an order under s. 476 for the prosecution of A Held, that as the District Judge had no jurisdiction to entertain the appeal or application under s. 195 (6), the matter did not come to his notice in the "course of a judicial proceeding" within the meaning of s. 476. Per CHAMIER, C J.—With reference to Small Cause Court suits the District Judge is not "the Principal Court of original jurisdiction" within the meaning of s. 195 (7) (c). AMBICA TEWARY v. KING-EMPEROR . . 1 Pat. L. J. 293 ———— Revenue Court—whether Certificate Officer under the Public Demands Recovery Act (B. and O. IV of 1914) is——"in the course of a judicial proceeding." A Certificate Officer, while proceeding under the powers conferred upon him by the B. and O. Public Demands Recovery Act, 1914, for the recovery of a public demand or adjudicating upon a petition filed in respect thereof by a person upon whom a demand is made is a Revenue Court and has power to direct a prosecution under s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. A Certificate Officer issued a demand for road-cess on two co-sharers, and one of them, K, filed a petition, which purported to be on behalf of both of them but was signed by K only, pleading payment, and he produced a challan in support of his plea. The Certificate Officer directed an inquiry to be made in his office as to the fact of payment, and, having come to the conclusion that the challan was forged, he called upon K to show cause why he should not be prosecuted. Eventually he directed the prosecution of both the co-sharers although only K had been called upon and had alone appeared to show cause. Held, (i) that the offence committed had been brought to the notice of the Certificate Officer in the course of a judicial proceeding, and (ii) that, although neither of the accused was entitled to notice, yet in the circumstances of this case K's co-sharer should also be called upon to show cause why he should not be prosecuted. MATHURA PRASAD v. THE KING-EMPEROR . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 475 ——— Procedure—Application for stay of proceedings thereunder initiated by a Civil Court —Question at issue in the criminal proceedings also sub judice in a civil case—Procedure—Jurisdiction. Proceedings initiated by a Civil Court subordinate to the High Court under s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure may be stayed by the High Court in the exercise of its general powers of superintendence, though not under the provisions of either the Code of Civil Procedure or the Code of Criminal Procedure. As regards the general question of the stay of criminal proceedings when these, on the face of them, raise a question of fact which is still under adjudication by a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction, the better procedure is to move the Civil Court for the expediting of the hearing of the case before it and then to move that the Criminal proceedings be stayed until the determination by the Civil Court of the question at issue before it. Muthura Kunwar v. Durga Kunwar, Weekly Notes, 1905, p. 254, referred to. RAJ KUNWAR SINGH v. EMPEROR . I. L. R. 43 All. 180

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 476—contd.

——— Civil Court must come to a finding as to which of the parties committed offence. Held, that a Civil Court ought not to take action under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code without coming to a finding as to which of the parties sent for trial had committed the offence. Crown v. Pirbhu Diyal (163 P. L. R. 1905), followed. AMAR NATH v. MAM RAJ

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 68

——— Criminal Procedure Code—" In the course of" judicial proceeding, meaning of—Petition for return of documents filed before Clerk of Court, if can be made the subject-matter of enquiry and order under the section. After the disposal of two rent suits in the Court of the Munsif, the petitioner, it was alleged, filed two petitions before the clerk in charge of rent suits in the Munsif's Court asking for the return of the documents filed by one B, whose interest had since been acquired by the petitioner in the said rent suits. These petitions purported to bear the signature of the pleader of B who acted for him in the said rent suits, but it was alleged that this signature was forged. The Munsif after holding a preliminary enquiry made an order under s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code, directing the prosecution of the petitioner for offences under ss. 463, 471, Indian Penal Code: Held, that the petitions in question were not filed in the course of a judicial proceeding and the Munsif had no jurisdiction to make the order. The words " committed before it " in s. 476, Criminal Procedure Code are qualified by the words " in the course of a judicial proceeding." GIRIJANDA KALI MITRA v. THE EMPEROR

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—concld.

——— s. 476—concld.

26 C. W. N. 660

——— ss. 476 and 478—Commitment made by a Munsif in the United Provinces to the Court of a Sessions Judge in the United Provinces, in respect of offences alleged to have been committed in Bengal. Where, in the course of a judicial proceeding before the Munsif of Fatehabad in the district of Agra, certain offences under ss. 193, 209, 216, 467 and 471 of the Indian Penal Code, which appeared to have been committed in Bengal were brought under the notice of the Court, and the Munsif committed the persons suspected of such offences for trial to the Court of Session at Agra: Held, that the Court had jurisdiction under s. 478 read with s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to make the commitment. EMPEROR v. KHUSHALI RAM (1917). I. L. R. 40 All. 116

——— s. 477—Scope of section—Accused not allowed an opportunity of defending himself—Irregular exercise of jurisdiction—Procedure. S. 477 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gives to the Court of Session power to charge a person for any offence referred to in s. 195 and committed before it. It further gives the Court of Session the power to commit for trial and to try the person for the charge it has framed; but the section nowhere lays down that the trial is to be a summary trial, nor does the section anywhere demand a decision which is to be more prompt and speedy than that of any ordinary trial. The section was not intended so to be used as to give the accused no opportunity of defending himself against the charge framed. EMPEROR v. HADIYAR KHAN (1918)

I. L. R. 41 All. 197

——— s. 477A—

See COURT-FEE STAMP.

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 71

——— s. 478—

See s. 195 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 88

L. R. 43 Mad. 361

See s. 476 . I. L. R. 40 All. 116

——— Procedure—Commitment made by Munsif without following procedure laid down in the section—Commitment quashed, A Munsif holding an inquiry under the latter portion of s. 478 of the Code of Criminal Procedure with a view to making a commitment to the Court of Session is bound to follow substantially the provisions of Ch. XVIII of the Code. Where in such circumstances the Munsif neither examined the witnesses in the presence of the accused nor explained the charge to them, the commitment was quashed as being bad in law. EMPEROR v. BABU PRASAD (1917) . I. L. R. 40 All. 32

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 478—contd.

——— s. 488 (1), (3), (6)—

See s. 369 . . 21 C. W. N. 344

See MAINTENANCE I. L. R. 41 Calc. 88

——— Maintenance order if can be enforced against estate of deceased husband. After the death of the person against whom an order for maintenance was made there is no claim enforceable under s. 488, Cr. P. C., against the estate of the deceased and the order for maintenance cannot be enforced in respect of arrears accrued due during the lifetime of the person who was ordered to pay maintenance. EAD ALI v. LAL BIBEE (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 1130 ——— Maintenance—"Child," meaning of—Prostitution not a profession which the law will recognize. The word "child" in s. 488 (1), Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), means a person who has not attained the age of majority. The attainment of puberty cannot be taken as the age when childhood ceases. The law will not treat prostitution as a profession by which a girl might earn her livelihood and maintain herself under s. 488, Criminal Procedure Code. It is against public policy to do so. KRISHNASWAMI AYYAR v. CHANDRAVADANA (1914) . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 565

——— Maintenance—Criminal revision petition to the High Court—Order of a single Judge—Appeal against, if maintainable—Letters Patent, cl. 15—Criminal trial, [illegible] filed against an order of a Joint Magistrate passed under s. 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898). APPADU v. APPAMA (1915) I. L. R. 39 Mad. 472 ——— "Unable to maintain itself," meaning of—Child entitled to maintenance from its mother's tavazi not entitled to order for maintenance from father. A child that possesses a right to maintenance from its mother's tavazi is not entitled under s. 488, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), to an order for maintenance against its father. Kariyadan Pokkar v. Kayat Beeran Kutti, I. L. R. 19 Mad. 461, followed. In re Parathy Valappal Moideen (1913), Mad. W. N. 997, not followed. The words "unable to maintain" in s. 488 are not confined to physical inability but include also pecuniary inability. CHANTAN v. MATHU (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 957

——— Jurisdiction of Court within whose local limits the husband temporarily resided on the date of the institution of the case and some days previously. Where in a case under s. 488, Criminal Procedure Code, instituted before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, it appeared that the husband ordinarily resided outside Calcutta but was temporarily there on the date the application was filed and for some days previously: Held, that this temporary residence was sufficient to give the Calcutta Court jurisdiction under sub-s. (9) of s. 488, Criminal Procedure Code. JOLLY v. JOLLY (1917). . 21 C. W. N. 872

——— "Mutual Consent"—Wife's maintenance fixed by panchayet*—Claim by wife for payment, whether Magistrate has power to entertain.* Where the differences between husband and wife are referred to the arbitrament of a panchayet and the panches award the wife a certain stipend as maintenance, a Magistrate has power under s. 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, to entertain a claim by the wife for the maintenance awarded to her, even though the reference to the panchayet was by consent of the parties. NATHUN SONAR v. MUSAMMAT MATURWA KUER . . 4 Pat. L. J. 109

——— Fresh application under sect[illegible] cati[illegible] tio[illegible] of [illegible] anc[illegible] tio[illegible] trate entertaining the fresh application inasmuch as there was no adjudication of the first application. MONMOHAN DE v. SURABALA DASI

24 C. W. N. 32

——— ss. 488, 489—Magistrate—Order for maintenance to wife—Subsequent decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Decree puts an end to order for maintenance—Subsequent application by wife for increase in rate of maintenance not competent. In 1910, a [illegible] under the [illegible] Procedure [illegible] obtained a [illegible] of conjugal rights. The decree was never executed: and the husband continued to pay without objection the allowance directed by the Magistrate's order of 1910. In 1918, the wife applied for and obtained from the Magistrate an order under s. 489 of the Code for an increase in the amount of maintenance. The husband having applied to the High Court: Held, that the decree of 1912 having as a matter of law determined or put an end to the Magistrate's order under s. 488, an application under s. 489 of the Code was not competent to the wife. CHANDULAL RANCHHOD, In re (1919)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 885

——— s. 491—

See EXTRADITION WARRANT.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 793

See HABEAS CORPUS.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 164
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 76
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 52

See JURY, TRIAL BY.

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 723

——— Grounds on which it may be issued—Habeas Corpus, right to, if may [illegible]

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 491—contd.

ment if bar to High Court's entertaining application, Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 2, 78, 86—Foreign records, authentication of—Hearsay evidence admitted by foreign Court if admissible—Copy of document proved in foreign Court if admissible. The jurisdiction of the High Court to give directions in the nature of Habeas Corpus under s. 491 of the Criminal Procedure Code, is not excluded by the issue by the Government of India of a warrant under s. 3, sub-s. 8 of the Extradition Act. The Government can only issue a warrant by virtue of the provisions of the Legislature authorising it, and if those provisions have not been carried out, the warrant and the custody thereunder may be found to be illegal under s. 491, Criminal Procedure Code, though with the extradition proceedings themselves the High Court cannot, except as allowed by the Act, directly interfere. Quære: Whether a supreme right like that to a Habeas Corpus can be taken away or limited by the Indian Legislature. Held, that if it can be so taken away it must be clearly shown that it has been expressly taken away. Per MOOKERJEE, J.—The burden lies heavily on those who assert it to show that it has been taken away by such implication as is absolutely necessary for the interpretation of the Statute. Levinger v. The Queen, I. R. 3 P. C. 282, 289, referred to. But the High Court in such a proceeding would not weigh the evidence before the Magistrate. Where the Magistrate has jurisdiction it is sufficient that there is some evidence on which the Magistrate may reasonably act. In re Siletti, 87 L. T. 332, 334; 71 L. J. K. B. 935, followed. Per CURIAM: The Evidence Act does not contain the whole law of evidence applicable to British India. Where therefore the records of a German Court were not authenticated in accordance with the Indian Evidence Act but in the manner prescribed by the English Extradition Act which is applicable in this country, the records were admissible under it. Quære: Whether hearsay evidence admitted in evidence in the proceedings in Germany is admissible in extradition proceedings in India. When the original Bill which the prisoner was alleged to have obtained by cheating was put in and proved by witnesses at the enquiry in the German Court: Held, that a copy of the document sent as part of the authenticated depositions and papers was admissible in evidence. There may be cases where the production of the original may be necessary for an enquiry in India. In re STALLMAN (1911) . . . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 164
15 C. W. N. 1053

——— Directions of the nature of a habeas corpus—Application to be made to Judge on the Original Side of the High Court—S. 54, scope of —Circumstances justifying arrest—"Credible information" and "reasonable suspicion," meaning of. An application under s. 491, Criminal Procedure Code, is to be made to the High Court in its Ordinary Original Criminal Jurisdiction. The petitioner who was the managing agent of a certain Provident Company of Calcutta was arrested by the Calcutta Police under s. 54, Criminal Procedure Code, on receipt of a letter written by an Inspector of Police in a certain district in the Bombay Presidency to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, in which it was stated that on enquiries into complaints against the Company and their local agent in Bombay it appeared, there being primâ facie evidence to that effect, that the managing agent and the local agent committed offences under ss. 409, 420, Indian Penal Code. The letter contained a request to cause the arrest of the petitioner and was forwarded by the District Magistrate with a note that the petitioner might be arrested under s. 54, Criminal Procedure Code, and sent to the Magistrate, 1st class, of the District, to be tried by him. It was admitted that the officer effecting the arrest in Calcutta relied solely on the aforesaid letter and had no personal knowledge of the facts of the case: Held, that the arrest of the petitioner under s. 54, Criminal Procedure Code, was not proper. That s. 54, Criminal Procedure Code, gives wide powers to a police-officer to make an arrest without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant only in certain circumstances limited by the provisions contained in the section, and it is necessary in exercising such large powers to be cautious and circumspect. The section gives a police-officer personal authority and involves personal responsibility, and the "reasonable suspicion" and "credible information" must be based upon definite facts which the police-officer must consider for himself before he acts under the section. He cannot delegate his discretion or take shelter under the belief or judgment of another police-officer. In the circumstances of the case the High Court under s. 491, Criminal Procedure Code, directed the release of the petitioner. In the matter of CHARU CHANDRA MAJUMDAR (1916)
20 C. W. N. 1233

——— s. 492—

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 425

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION. I. L. R. 41 Calc. 446

——— s. 494—

See s. 247 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 976

See WITNESS . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 700

See WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION. I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1105

——— Prosecution against one of two accused withdrawn—Such accused, if competent witness—Confession and prior statements of such accused if should be produced for cross-examination and contradiction. The petitioner along with one M was placed on his trial under s. 411 of the Penal Code, but the prosecution against M was withdrawn, under s 494, Criminal Procedure Code, although no formal order of discharge was recorded. M was thereupon examined as a witness for the prosecution. It appeared that M had made a confession to a Magistrate and this confession was subsequently verified by the same or another Magistrate to whom M made further statements. The confession and these further statements were not placed on the record and copies of these were refused to the petitioner. Held, that notwithstanding the omission to record a formal order of discharge M ceased to be on trial with the petitioner as soon as the prosecution against him was withdrawn, and that being so he became a competent witness; but for the purpose of cross-examination and, if necessary, for contradiction the prior statements of the witness should have been made accessible to the accused. SHERATI SHEIKH v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1904)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 494—contd.

18 C. W. N. 1213

——— Withdrawal of prosecution by public prosecutor with leave of Court—Court must record reasons for granting leave—S. 170—Power of Superintendent of Police to control discretion of investigating police officer. In according or withholding consent to an application by the public prosecutor for withdrawal under s. 494 (a), the Court acts in a judicial capacity and for its order, as for every order judicially made, the Court must give and record its reason so that the High Court may be in a position to say whether [illegible] has been pro-
[illegible] the discre-[illegible] ice officer by [illegible] be controlled
[illegible] ESH CHANDRA
ROY v. SATISH CHANDRA ROY (1917)

22 C. W. N. 69

——— An order under this section allowing withdrawal of prosecution is a judicial order and reasons should be given. UMESH CHANDRA RAY v. SATIS CHANDRA ROY

25 C. W. N. 615

——— s. 496—

See s. 107 . I. L. R. 36 Mad. 474

See EXTRADITION ACT (XV OF 1903) ss. 7, 8 AND 8A.

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 310

——— ss. 497, 498—

See BAIL.

——— s. 498—

See HABEAS CORPUS

I. L. R. 44 Calc. 76

——— s. 501—

See s. 90 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1088

——— s. 503—

See COMPLAINT . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 19

——— s. 512—

——— Evidence taken against an accused person who has absconded—Condition precedent to the use of such evidence against accused when arrested. Evidence purporting to have been recorded under the provisions of s. 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot be used against the person concerning whom it was taken, unless it can be shown that before such evidence was recorded it was proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the accused had absconded and that there was no immediate prospect of arresting him. EMPEROR v. RUSTAM (1915)

I. L. R. 38 All. 29

——— Evidence taken against accused persons who have absconded—Conditions precedent to the use of such evidence against accused when arrested. A Magistrate recording evidence under the provisions of s. 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure put on record a finding that the accused had absconded, but did not further state that there was no immediate prospect of their arrest. There was, however, evidence on the record from which he might have reasonably inferred that there was no immediate prospect of their arrest. Held, that the evidence so recorded was admissible against the accused when subsequently arrested. Emperor v. Rustam, I. L. R. 38 All. 29, distinguished. EMPEROR v. BHAGWATI (1918) . . . I. L. R. 41 All. 60

——— s. 514—

See s. 107 . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 310

——— Surety-[illegible] nd to produce accused before Sessions Court—Proceeding for forfeiture of may be taken by a Magistrate. Where a surety bond has been executed [illegible] r the appearance of an accused person before [illegible] particular Court, under s. 514 of the Criminal Procedure Code, proceedings to have the bond forfeited can be initiated only by that Court. HIRA LAL SHAHU v. EMPEROR (1909) . 14 C. W. N. 259

——— Forfeiture of bond—Bond for appearance taken under the City of Bombay Police Act (Bom. IV of 1902), ss. 106, 107—Jurisdiction of Chief Presidency Magistrate to order forfeiture. The Presidency Magistrate of Bombay has no jurisdiction under s. 514 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to order forfeiture of bonds taken under ss. 106 and 107 of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902. CRAWFORD, In re (1918) . . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 400

——— Forfeiture of bond against surety where principal is not bound—Indian Contract Act, IX of 1872, s. 128. One R. K. was arrested in Gwalior under a warrant issued at Montgomery. He was released on bail on [illegible] app[illegible] that [illegible]
of I.. [illegible]
to have been illegal and C. S. then applied for revision of the order of forfeiture. Held, that although R. K., the principal, was under the cir-
[illegible] contract do not limit it, and has no reference to [illegible]

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 204

——— Bail bond—Bail, prisoner on, committing suicide—Discharge of sureties. When a person who has been let out on bail commits suicide, the sureties are discharged from their obligation to produce him. VIJIARAGHAVALU NAIDU, Re (1914) . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 156

——— s. 516—

See s. 514 . . 14 C. W. N. 259

——— s. 517—

See s. 439 . . . 18 C. W. N. 959

See s. 524 . . . 5 Pat. L. J. 321

——— If applies to immovable property. S. 517, Criminal Procedure Code

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 517—contd.

has no application to immovable property. BISESUR SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR (1913)

18 C. W. N. 1146

——— Setting aside of order by High Court—Re-delivery of possession. The petitioners were convicted under s. 426 of the Penal Code. The Magistrate directed the Police under s. 517 to deliver possession of a garden over which the petitioners were alleged to have obtained possession by means of trespass. The order under s. 517 was set aside by the High Court in revision on the application of the petitioners but the Magistrate refused to re-deliver possession of the garden to them. Held, that the order of the High Court setting aside the order under s. 517, Criminal Procedure Code, carried with it the incident of restoration of the garden in question to the petitioners. The High Court directed the Magistrate to restore possession of the garden in question to the petitioners through the Police. SHEONANDAN SINGH v. BHOLANATH PATTAK (1913) . . . . . 18 C. W. N. 1147 ——— Order as regards disposal of property—Discretion in making orders to be judicially exercised—Currency note—Property passes by delivery. The accused stole a currency note, which he offered to a goldsmith as price for gold ornaments purchased by him. The goldsmith not having had sufficient cash, got the note cashed by a neighbouring shop-keeper (applicant), who cashed it in good faith. At the trial of the accused, the note was attached from the applicant. The accused was convicted of criminal breach of trust of the currency note which belonged to Government; and the note was ordered to be delivered to the Crown. The applicant having appealed: Held, that as property in a currency note passed by mere delivery, the applicant had obtained a good title to the note notwithstanding that the accused had no title. The Collector of Salem, 7 Mad. H. C. R. 233, and Empress v. Joggessur Mochi, I. L. R. 3 Calc. 379, followed. Orders under s. 517 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) are discretionary, but the discretion is open to correction where it has been exercised in violation of accepted judicial principles. In re PANDHARINATH PUNDLIK 1915) . . . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom 186

——— Delivery of property under—Order of delivery of property on joint receipt—Validity of such order. On the discharge of an accused person on a charge of theft of articles admittedly found in possession of that person, on the ground that the accused had a bonâ fide belief in a claim of right to their possession, that person cannot claim return of the articles under s. 517, Criminal Procedure Code, as a matter of course. Under s. 517, Criminal Procedure Code, even where a party is charged with theft and that charge is dismissed or the party is discharged, an order can be made for the delivery of the subject-matter of the alleged theft to some party other than the party in whose possession the property was found at the date of the alleged theft. Kuppammal v. Ramaswamy Udayan, Crl. Rn. C. No. 477 of 1905, (unreported) followed. Property, part of which is joint family property, and part the self-acquisition of an undivided member of the family, may rightly be handed by the Court to the manager of the undivided family and the undivided member on their joint receipt. Chalakonda Alasani v. Chalakonda Ratnachalam, 2 Mad. H. C. 56, distinguished. KANAGA SABAI v. EMPEROR . . . I. L. R. 34 Mad. 94

——— ss. 517 and 520—

——— Appeal—Jurisdiction—Power of Appellate Court to pass orders regarding property in respect of which an offence has been committed. S. 520 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gives to an Appellate Court the same power as the Court which originally tried a case to pass orders under s. 517 of the Code. Baloram Gogai v. Chintaram Kohta, 9 C. W. N. 549, followed. In re Devidin Durgaprasad, I. L. R. 22 Bom. 844, distinguished. EMPEROR v. AZMAT SHAH KHAN (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 35 All. 374 ——— Power under, to confiscate property produced before Court—Conviction for gambling under ss. 6 and 7 of Madras Towns' Nuisances Act (III of 1889), ss. 6 and 7—Confiscation of money not actually used for gambling but found on gambler's person, validity of. On a conviction for gambling under ss. 6 and 7 of the Madras Towns' Nuisances Act (III of 1889), an order to confiscate money found with the gamblers can only be passed under s. 517 of the Criminal Procedure Code; and only in respect of such money as has been actually employed in gambling and not in respect of other money found on the person of the gambler. Per AYLING, J.—Although s. 517 is in its terms wide, confiscation of property 'produced' before a Criminal Court is not justifiable unless it has been used for an offence, or an offence has been committed regarding it. Per PHILLIPS, J.—The powers under s. 517 are very large and the Magistrate's discretion is wide and the section empowers him to make such order as he thinks fit for the disposal of property 'produced' before him; but the discretion must be exercised judicially and not arbitrarily. Re APPAJI AYYAR (1918)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 644

——— Confiscation of property found with a vagrant ordered to give security under s. 109 (b) and 118—Validity of order of confiscation—"Enquiry" in s. 517, whether includes 'inquiry' under s. 117. Under s. 517, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), a Court can order confiscation not only of property which has been used for the commission of an offence or regarding which an offence has been committed but also of any other property which has been produced before it. A proceeding under s. 117, Criminal Procedure Code, is an 'inquiry' within s. 517. In re Govindaraja Padayachi, 31 I. C. 827, and Jagannathan v. Varadaraja Mudaliar (Criminal Revision Case No. 570 of 1915—unreported) dissented from. Rassul Bibee v. Ahmed Moosajee, I. L. R. 34 Calc. 347, followed. PYDI RAMANNA, In re (1918) . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 9

——— s. 520—

See s. 439 . . 18 C. W. N. 959

——— Magistrate—Order as to disposal of property—On appeal to the Sessions Court the order left untouched—Application to the District Magistrate to revise the order—Jurisdiction—Notice to the other side—Practice. In trying a case of theft, a Magistrate of the First Class convicted the accused and passed an order disposing of the property produced before him. The Sessions Court, on appeal, confirmed the conviction, but left untouched the order as to the disposal of property. An application was then made to the District Magistrate to raise the order; and he varied it without issuing notice to the other side: Held, reversing the order, that the terms of s. 520 of the Criminal Procedure Code did not give any jurisdiction to the District Magistrate to interfere; and that he could only interfere as a Court of Revision where there had been no appeal to the Sessions Court. Held, also, that the District Magistrate ought not to have disposed of the matter without giving notice to the other side. In re LAXMAN RANGU RANGARI (1911) . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 253

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 520—contd.

——— Order as to disposal of property—Order can be varied only by a Court of Appeal or Court of Revision entitled to act in the case. In acquitting an accused person of the charge of theft of cattle, the trying Magistrate ordered the cattle to be returned to him. This order was modified by the Sessions Judge, who ordered the cattle to be given up to the complainant. The accused having applied to the High Court: Held, that the Sessions Judge had no jurisdiction, under s. 520 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to make the order he had made, since he was neither a Court of Appeal nor a Court of Revision in the case. In re Laxman Rangu Rangari, I. L. R. 35 Bom. 253, followed. Queen-Empress v. Ahmed, I. L. R. 9 Mad. 448, dissented from. In re KHEMA RUKHAD (1918) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 664

——— s. 522—

See s. 145 . I. L. R. 37 All. 654

——— Restoration of im- which convicts of an offence attended with criminal force. An Appellate Court has no power to make such an order restoring possession of immovable property. Narayan Govind v. Visaji, I. L. R. 23 Bom. 494, referred to. BHAGBAT SHAHA v. SADIQUE OSTAGAR (1912) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1050

——— Propriety of order in the absence of finding as to dispossession of immovable property. An order under s. 522, Criminal Procedure Code, is not sustainable where there is no finding that the complainant has been dispossessed of any immovable property. MOHAR KHAN v. GAYZUDDIN SHEIKH (1913) 18 C. W. N. 399

——— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 107, 349—Restoration of possession ... aning ... using ... s. 522.

When the accused was convicted of rioting for causing violence in the prosecution of a common object, viz., by destroying the complainant's fencing and raising a new fencing on the complainant's land: Held, that violence having been caused in this case to the fencing only and not to any person, there was no criminal "force" as defined in s. 349 of the Penal Code, and no order directing delivery of possession could be made under s. 522, Criminal Procedure Code. SADASIB MANDAL v. EMPEROR (1913) . 18 C. W. N. 1150

——— Appellate Court, if can set aside order while maintaining conviction—S. 423, cl. (d)—Incidental order. An Appellate Court has power under s. 423, cl. (d), which authorises the Appellate Court in appeal to make an incidental order to set aside an order under s. 522 while affirming the conviction. UJIR SHEIKH v. SYED ALI SHEIKH (1915) 19 C. W. N. 990 on a conviction of rioting and hurt and the Sessions Judge in appeal set aside the conviction of rioting finding that the complainant who claimed to be the auction-purchaser of the property did not get possession and directed the order to be in abeyance pending a reference to the High Court but subsequently in the absence of the complainant declared it to be void: Held, that the Sessions Judge's order should not have been made behind the back of the party affected by it. MAJIDALI SARDAR v. ALI ASRAB (1919) 23 C. W. N. 862

——— ss. 522, 145—Infructuous order directing restoration of immovable property, if bar to proceeding under s. 145. An infructuous order under s. 522, Criminal Procedure Code, which was never carried out, is no bar to the jurisdiction of the Magistrate taking proceedings under s. 145, Criminal Procedure Code, in respect of the same property. PROBHAT CHANDRA CHATTERJI v. PROSANNO KUMAR SEN (1914) 18 C. W. N. 1088

——— ss. 523, 524—

See RIGHT OF SUIT. I. L. R. 40 Bom. 200

——— ss. 524, 517, 88 and 89—Disposal of property produced in Court or seized by police—Suit to contest order of disposal—Limitation—Forfeiture, validity of—Construction of Statutes—Secretary of State, liability of, for costs. The power of a Criminal Court with regard to property dealt with in s. 517 or 524 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, is limited to making arrangements for the custody and protection of the property while in the custody of Government and to making a transfer of possession to such person as it thinks proper. These sections do not empower the Government to confiscate the property or conclude the right of the person from whose possession the property has been taken, or of any other person, to contest the decision of the Criminal Court by civil suit. Such an order of confiscation being illegal and without jurisdiction the plaintiff's suit for recovery of possession is not barred by reason of their omission to institute a suit within one year of the order for the purpose of having it set aside. The words "at the disposal of Government" in s. 524 may reasonably be interpreted as meaning that Government shall be free to sell the property or to hold it as a trustee for the true owner. When an Act of the Legislature gives power to any person for a public purpose from which an individual may receive an injury, if the mode of redressing the injury is pointed out by the Statute, the jurisdiction of the ordinary Court is sometimes ousted, and in case of injury the party cannot proceed by action. But it must be ascertained from the Statute itself whether it is intended to be conclusive and to bar all other remedies. Obiter dictum, ss. 88 and 89 debar an absconder from suing for the recovery of his property. In an unsuccessful litigation the Secretary of State is liable to pay costs like any other unsuccessful party. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. LOWN KARAN MARWARI 5 Pat. L. J. 321

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

———— ss. 524, 517, 88 and 89—contd.

———— s. 526—

See s. 21 . . I. L. R. 35 Mad. 739
See s. 107 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 642
See s. 110 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 20
See s. 145 . . I. L. R. 34 All. 533
See s. 177 . . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 791
See EXTRADITION . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 31
See TRANSFER . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 719

———— Stay of proceedings pending Rule issued by the High Court—Refusal of Magistrate to act on reliable information thereof—Bias. Where after a Rule was issued by the High Court and further proceedings were stayed a telegram from the petitioner's Vakil in the High Court intimating the orders of the High Court was filed before the trying Magistrate who refused to stay proceedings: Held, that the Magistrate acted injudiciously, and this would justify the Court in transferring the case. Held, further, that if the Magistrate had really any suspicion or doubt in the matter he might have asked the muktear who made the application to verify the telegram and to satisfy him as to whether the Vakil in the High Court was acting under instructions in the case. HEM CHANDRA KAR v. MATHUR SANTHAL (1909) . . . 16 C. W. N. 1031 ———— Security for keeping the peace—Transfer. S. 526 enables the High Court to transfer proceedings initiated under s. 107 to another Court of equal jurisdiction but which would otherwise have no jurisdiction and the High Court's Order will give jurisdiction for an enquiry under s. 117 and orders under s. 118. EMPEROR v. WAHIB ALI KHAN I. L. R. 32 All. 642 ———— Transfer—Nature of grounds warranting a transfer outside the district. Where the Magistrate of a district refused to grant an interview to, and cancelled the arms license of a person who was under trial for various offences before the Joint Magistrate, it was held that these were sufficient reason for transferring the cases against him out of the district there being also grounds for granting a transfer from the Court of the Joint Magistrate. Farzand Ali v. Hanuman Prasad, I. L. R. 19 All. 64, followed. EMPEROR v. RAM KISHAN DAS (1913) I. L. R. 35 All. 5

———— Transfer—Rule from High Court staying further proceedings—Telegram by the party, effect of—Issue of warrant pending rule. Whereupon the High Court having issued a Rule staying further proceedings the petitioner sent a telegram which was laid before the trying Magistrate, but the petitioner having failed to appear on the date previously fixed, the Magistrate issued a warrant upon the petitioner: Held, that the sending of the telegram did not in any way absolve the obligation of the petitioner to appear before the Court on the date fixed and the issue of the warrant upon the petitioner was no ground for transfer of the case. The inconvenience of transferring a preventive proceeding for trial from one district to another adverted to. CHANDI PROSAD SINGH v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1912) . . . 17 C. W. N. 536 ———— Application for transfer of criminal case on the ground of executive order hampering defence. The Superintendent of Police in a letter to the Deputy Commissioner made certain charges of extortion against the petitioner who was a police officer under suspension and on this letter being placed before the Magistrate taking cognizance of cases a warrant was issued against the petitioner: Held, that if the letter of the Superintendent of Police was not a police report within the meaning of s. 190 (1) (b), it was a complaint. In the latter view the non-examination of the Superintendent on oath on the complaint was an irregularity which did not vitiate the proceedings taken. The High Court transferred the case, having regard to the fact that on account of the order of the Superintendent of Police (that the petitioner was to be allowed facilities for instructing legal advisers only on application to him) there might be a reasonable apprehension in the mind of the petitioner that his movements were unduly restricted. HARIHAR ROY v. KING-EMPEROR (1918) 23 C. W. N. 481

———— Held, that the expression 'Criminal case' as used in s. 526 includes a proceeding initiated under s. 145 of the Code and that the High Court has power under s. 526 to transfer such proceeding from one Court to another subject to all conditions under which a transfer can be made. Also that an accused person is one over whom a Criminal Court exercises jurisdiction. JAGGWAHIR v. MURLI SHUKUL I. L. R. 34 All. 533

———— Transfer—Riot—Cross cases before same Court—Opinion expressed by Court on evidence in one case no ground for considering it incompetent to try the other. The fact that a Court before which there are pending two cross cases of riot has, on the trial of the first case, expressed opinions to some extent unfavourable to the accused in the second case, is no good ground for holding that the Court is incompetent to try the second case. Asimmaddi v. Gobinda Baidya, 1 C. W. N. 426, referred to. EMPEROR v. HARGOBIND (1911) . . I. L. R. 33 All. 583

———— Transfer of a case, application by first informant, whether sustainable. MULLICK, J.—A private person who sets the law in motion by giving information to the police is not entitled to apply for a transfer of the case under s. 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. Although s. 526 (8) provides an exception to the rule in that it contemplates that a complainant is a party interested in the trial for the purposes of cl. (3) this exception does not extend to a person who sets the law in motion by giving information to the police, or to a person who has suffered by the offence for which the accused is being tried. Cl. (3) of s. 526 is intended for the persons who have a right to be heard. Per JWALA PRASAD, J.—A complainant is entitled to apply for a transfer under s. 526, but his rights are subordinate to those of the Crown. Where there is a conflict between the private prosecutor and the Public Prosecutor in the matter of a transfer of a case the right of the latter must prevail. KAMUNA KANTHA JHA v. RUDRA KUMAR JHA 4 Pat. L. J. 656

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 526—contd.

——— Application for adjournment to apply for transfer, when to be made—Hearing, commencement of, in Sessions Court. The first step in the hearing at a Sessions trial is the reading and explaining of the charge to the accused. An application for adjournment under s. 526, cl (8), Criminal Procedure Code, must therefore be made before the charge is read to the accused. Quære: Whether a contravention of s. 526, cl. (8), will render the trial illegal? In re KALI MUDALY (1912) . I. L. R. 35 Mad. 701

——— Transfer— Grounds upon which an order for transfer should be made. Held, on a construction of s. 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, that the law does not intend that a transfer of a case should be ordered simply because an accused person thinks that he would not get an impartial trial; but the real question to be considered is whether on the facts disclosed in the application for transfer there arises a reasonable inference that the Magistrate who is seized of the case may be prejudiced wittingly or unwittingly against the accused. Sumeshwar v. King-Emperor, 12 All. L. J. 33, Empress v. Nobo Gopal Bose, I. L. R. 6 Calc 491, Furzand Ali v. Education and Registration, (1894) 1 Q. B. 750. The Queen v. Allan, 4 B. & S. 915, and Girish Chunder Ghose v. The Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 20 Calc. 357, referred to EMPEROR v. JAGGAN (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 239

Procedure Code and the trial was not vitiated by the Sessions Judge refusing time ABDUL SALAN v. KING-EMPEROR . 26 C. W. N. 660

——— s. 527—

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 595

——— s. 528—

See s. 200 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 346

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

See FALSE INFORMATION TO THE POLICE I. L. R. 46 Calc. 807

——— Transfer—Effect of appointment of a Magistrate to be Chairman of a municipal board. Held, that when a Magistrate is appointed to the post of Chairman of a municipal board and has taken over charge, he thereby becomes divested of his ordinary functions as a Magistrate, or if he retains any, he is no longer a "Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate," within the purview of s. 528 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. NATH MAL (1914) . . . . I. L. R. 36 All. 513 ——— Transfer of case—Power of District Magistrate, where Subdivisional Magistrate has previously refused to transfer on application by same party. A District Magistrate is not precluded from exercising his power of transfer of a case under s 528 of the Criminal Procedure Code, on the application of a party, by reason of the fact that the Subdivisional Magistrate had previously refused to transfer the case at the request of the same party. Thaman Chetty v. Alagiri Chetty, I. L. R. 14 Mad. 399, followed. Raghunatha Panduram v. King-Emperor, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 140, dissented from. SANTHAPPA SETHURAN v. GOVINDASWAMY KANDIYAR (1916) I. L. R. 40 Mad. 791

——— s. 529—

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1041

——— s. 530—

See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 942

See MAGISTRATES, BENCH OF. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 304

——— ss. 530, 531—

See MAGISTRATE. I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

——— s. 531—

See s. 177 I. L. R. 42 Mad. 791

See s 182

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 66

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 32 All. 397

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 490

See PENAL CODE, s. 463. I. L. R. 36 Mad. 387

——— s. 532—

See s. 196 . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 467

See s. 197 . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 147

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT. I. L. R. 40 Calc 360

——— s. 533—

See s. 14 . . 3 Pat. L. J. 291

See s. 164 . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 325

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 342 5 Pat. L. J. 430

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872, s. 91. I. L. R. 35 All. 260

——— s. 535—

See s. 233 . . 21 C. W. N. 756

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— ss. 535, 537 (a)—

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 168

——— s. 537—

See s. 4 . . 1 Pat. L. J. 392

See s. 90 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1084

See s. 195 . I. L. R. 37 All. 283

See s. 233 . . 19 C. W. N. 972
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 66

See s. 234 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 57

See s. 235 . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 562

See s. 236 . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 834

See s. 250 . I. L. R. 36 All. 132

See s. 268 . I. L. R. 43 All. 125

See s. 421 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 527

See s. 462 . I. L. R. 33 All. 385

See s. 476 . . 1 Pat. L. J. 553

See COUNTERFEIT COIN.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 477

See FALSE INFORMATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 173

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL CODE.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 360

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 867

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV OF 1910), s. 63. I. L. R. 35 All. 358

See WARRANT . . 3 Pat. L. J. 493

——— Penal Code (XLV of 1860) ss. 182 and 211—Acquittal upon ground of absence of sanction—Practice—Revision—Application by private prosecutor against order of acquittal. Held, that a Court of criminal appeal was not justified in setting aside a conviction under s. 182 of the Indian Penal Code on the sole ground that the offence, if any, which the appellants had committed was one under s. 211 of the Code and that no sanction for a prosecution under that section had been obtained. In this case under special circumstances the High Court entertained an application in revision presented by a private prosecutor against an order of acquittal. GUR BAKSH SINGH v. KASHI RAM (1914)
I. L. R. 37 All. 110

——— Complaint referred to accused for report—complaint dismissed—validity of order. It is not merely irregular but illegal for a Magistrate to whom a complaint is made to call upon the person accused for a report as to the truth or falsity of the charge preferred against him. Such an illegality ipso facto renders void an order made as a consequence of it. S. 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, deals merely with irregularities in procedure so far as such irregularities involve breaches of the rules of procedure provided by the Code itself. HARNARAIN HALWAI v. KARIMAN AHIR
5 Pat. L. J. 61

——— Two false suits filed by same plaintiff—Order directing prosecution ambiguous as to whether it referred to both suits or only one, but construed by trying magistrate as referring to both—Convictions upheld. Two suits were filed on the same day by the same plaintiff, (1) against one B. P. in the Court of the City Munsif of Bareilly, (2) against G. D. a relative of B. P., in the Court of the Subordinate Judge. It was alleged and found that both suits were instituted with the same object of harassing B. P. Both suits were dismissed as false. In relation to the suit in his Court the Subordinate Judge took proceedings against the plaintiff under s. 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and in the course of these proceedings sent for and examined the record of the case in the city Munsif's Court. The Subordinate Judge then recorded an order under s. 476 of the Code directing the prosecution of the plaintiff under s. 209 of the Indian Penal Code. This order was ambiguously worded, and did not leave it beyond doubt whether the Subordinate Judge intended to direct the prosecution of the plaintiff in respect of both suits or only in respect of the suit in his own Court. The Magistrate, however, before whom the case came tried the plaintiff for offences in relation to both, and convicted him in respect of both. Held on application in revision—it not being made to appear that the accused had suffered any prejudice,—that the case was covered by s. 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and the conviction of the plaintiff of offences in relation to both suits was not illegal. Emperor v. Zahir Singh, I. L. R. 37 All. 283, referred to. EMPEROR v. BABU RAM . . . I. L. R. 42 All. 12

——— s. 540—

See s. 244 . . I. L. R. 36 All. 13

——— s. 552—

See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 403

——— s. 555—

See WARRANT . . 3 Pat. L. J. 493

——— s. 556—

See COMPLAINT I. L. R. 46 Calc. 854

See LOCAL INSPECTION.
I. L. R. 37 All. 340

——— Personally interested—Magistrate ordering prosecution as president of octroi subcommittee—Jurisdiction. A Magistrate as the president of the octroi sub-committee of a Municipal Board, ordered the prosecution of the accused and with the consent of the accused tried the case himself. Held, that the Magistrate must be deemed to have been personally interested within the meaning of s. 556 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and was not qualified to try the case of the applicant whose consent could not confer jurisdiction upon him. Emperor v. Mohan Lal, I. L. R. 27 All. 25, distinguished. In the matter of the petition of Inayat Husain, All. Weekly Notes (1899) 74, referred to. EMPEROR v. BISHESHAR BHATTACHARYA (1910) . I. L. R. 32 All. 635

——— Whether District Magistrate can try a case under the Indian Factories Act, XII of 1911, where he himself, as Inspector of Factories, ordered inquiries and sanctioned the prosecution. Held, that a District Magistrate, who as Inspector of Factories ordered an enquiry to be made and in the same capacity sanctioned the prosecution, is disqualified by s. 556 of the Code of Criminal Procedure from trying the case. Mangal v. Emperor (5 P. W. R. 1912), referred to. Queen-Empress v. Chenchi Reddi (I. L. R. 24 Mad. 238), distinguished. LORINDA RAM v. THE CROWN . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 35

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd.

——— s. 556—contd.

——— s. 562—

See s. 439 . . I. L. R. 37 All. 31

——— not applicable to aggravated forms of cheating.

See PENAL CODE, s. 420

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 612

——— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s. 420—S. 562, whether applicable to a conviction under s. 420. The word "cheating" in s. 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not cover the form of cheating punishable under s. 420 of the Indian Penal Code. Emperor v. Ramjan Dadubhai, 16 C. L. J. 781, approved and followed. Harnarain v. Ramji Das, 12 All. L. J. 465, dissented from. SUNDARAM AYYAR v. THE KING-EMPEROR (1917)

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 533

——— s. 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, describes the offences to which it applies by the short marginal descriptions given in the Penal Code in the sections dealing with those offences and the section does not warrant the construction that dishonest misappropriation and cheating include every offence under the headings of "Criminal Misappropriation" and "Cheating" in the Penal Code. EMPEROR v. DEVA KANTA JHA . . 5 Pat. L. J. 267

——— The accused, a young man of 20, was convicted of theft for having picked the pocket of complainant of Rs. 10 and sentenced to 2 months rigorous imprisonment. The High Court in revision directed the accused to be released on furnishing a bond with sureties under the section. ABDUL KADER v. MONOMOHAN GOPE

25 C. W. N. 720

——— s. 565—

——— Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 75—Whipping (Act IV of 1909), s. 3—Sentence of whipping only passed on accused—Order to accused to notify his residence—Validity of the order. S. 565 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) must be strictly construed. The order contemplated by the section can only be made at the time of passing sentence of transportation or imprisonment upon a convict. It cannot be made where the Court, instead of passing that sentence, passes a sentence of whipping. EMPEROR v. FULJI DITYA (1910)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 137

——— Notification as to residence or change of residence—Temporary absence for a night not notified—Whether an offence under Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 176. Where all that was proved was that the accused who had been ordered to notify his residence and change of residence under s. 565, Criminal Procedure Code (Act VI of 1898), was absent from his house for a single night without notifying his absence: Held, that such temporary absence did not amount to a change of residence and that the accused was not guilty of an offence under s. 176, Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860). Re CHENGADU (1917)

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 789

——— Sch. III, (8)—

See TRESPASS . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 953

——— Sch V, form M. VII—

See WARRANT . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 789

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

See PRACTICE.

See PRIVY COUNCIL—PRACTICE OF.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 739

Information given by police officer to himself—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1889), ss. 154, 173, 190, (1) (b). A prosecution is not legally instituted under s. 190 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code when the police report under s. 173 does not set forth the nature of the information, and the first information report under s. 154 is equally defective in this respect. LEE v. ADHIKARY (1909) . . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 49

——— Pendency of civil suit—Letter alleged to be forged set up as a defence—Genuineness of letter a principal issue in the case—Subsequent institution of criminal proceedings for forgery in respect of the same. Where after the institution of a civil alleged to bear a forged signature and in respect of which criminal proceedings under ss. 465 and 467 of the Penal Code were taken by one of the plaintiffs · Held, that inasmuch as the letter was a necessary part of the defendant's case and the question of its genuineness a principal issue in the suit, the criminal proceedings ought to be stayed pending the decision in the civil suit. SHASHI BHUSHAN SEAL v. EMPEROR (1910)

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 106

CRIMINAL PROSECUTION.

——— agreement to stifle—

See CONTRACT ACT. (IX OF 1872), s. 2.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 33

——— limitation of time for—

See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT (BENG. III OF 1899), ss. 341 (1), ETC.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 384

CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s. 439

See HIGH COURT.

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF

——— Practice—Jurisdiction of High Court—Rule issued on one or more of several grounds in a petition, and ultimately discharged—Fresh Rule on the grounds of the same petition. When a Rule has been granted on one or more of several grounds contained in a petition and is ultimately discharged, the High Court has no jurisdiction to issue a fresh Rule, in the same case, on the other or some of the other grounds of the petition, which were considered on the first occasion unless permission was given to the party, at the time of the discharge of the first Rule, to renew the application on the other grounds or some of them. Rai Radha Gobind v. Gossain Mohendra Gir, 6 C. W. N. 340, and Bibhuty Mohan Roy v. Dasimoni Dassi, 10 C. L. J. 80, referred to. JOYMANGAL PERSHAD NARAIN SINGH v. JHAGROO SAHU (1911)

CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 933

——————— Dismissal of complaint, reasons for—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 203—Grounds not taken in the first Court of Revision might be taken in the High Court—Government Circular, its effect—Statute law—Practice. Grounds, which were not urged in the first Court of Revision, might be taken in the High Court. Under s. 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) reason for dismissing the complaint must be recorded. No circular of the Government can authorize Magistrates to infringe, or in any way alter, the Statute law. MANIRUDDIN SIRCAR v. ABDUL RAUF (1912)

I. L. R. 40 Calc. 41

——————— Practice—Time-limit of applications to High Court in criminal revision—Application made after the expiry of 60 days from the date of the order. As a matter of practice the High Court will not, save in exceptional circumstances, entertain an application in criminal revision unless it is made within sixty days, excluding the time necessary to obtain copies, from the date of the order complained of. In the matter of KHETRA MOHAN GIRI (1916) I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1029

CRIMINAL SESSIONS, HIGH COURT.

——— power to direct enquiry—

See PERJURY . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 542

CRIMINAL TRESPASS.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898, S. 106 . . I. L. R. 42 All. 345

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), SS. 441, 442 AND 447.

See THEFT . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 66

See TRESPASS.

——————— Mischief—Entry by a servant upon land in the possession of the Court of Wards and cutting bamboos thereon under the order of the owner—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 426, 747. A servant of a proprietor who has voluntarily surrendered his estate to the Court of Wards does not commit criminal trespass of mischief by cutting or removing bamboos, etc., growing thereon, for the benefit of his master, under the circumstances of this case. PARMESWAR SINGH v. EMPEROR (1910) . . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 180

——————— Unanimous verdict of Jury—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 307—Reference to High Court whether permissible in such a case—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 148, 304, 326, 149—Absence of charge—Acquittal. Criminal trespass depends on the intention of the offender and not upon the nature of the act, and when the man's intention is to save his family and property from imminent destruction it cannot be said that because he commits civil trespass on his neighbour's land and cuts a portion of the bund belonging to his neighbour which he ordinarily would not be justified in doing, he is guilty of any criminal offence. Where the verdict of the Jury is unanimous and the Judge has agreed with it, he can make no reference under s. 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Where the accused were charged under ss. 148, $\frac{304}{149}$ and $\frac{326}{149}$ and the Jury found them guilty under s. 326 only : Held, that the verdict of the Jury under s. 326 was a judgment of acquittal inasmuch as there being no charge under that section independently, there could be no verdict given upon it. Riazzudi v. King-Emperor 16 C. W. N. 1077, Panchu Das v. Emperor, I. L. R. 34 Calc. 698, referred to. EMPEROR v. MADAN MANDAL AND OTHERS (1913)

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 662

——————— High Court, power of, to allow composition of an offence on revision—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 345 (5), 23 (1) (d), 439—Necessity of Criminal intent—Entry on land under bonâ fide claim of right—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 441, 447. The High Court has no power, as a Court of Revision, under s. 439 read with s. 423 (1) (d), to sanction the composition of an offence when entered into after the conviction of the accused. Adhar Chandra Dey v. Subodh Chandra Ghosh, 18 C. W. N. 1212, Sankar Rangayya v. Sankar Ramayya, 16 Cr. L. J. 750 ; 29 Mad. L. J. 521, and Emperor v. Ram Chandra, I. L. R. 37 All. 127, followed. Emperor v. Ram Piyari, I. L. R., 32 All. 153, Nagi Ahmad v. King-Emperor, 11 All. L. J. 13, Nidhan Singh v. King-Emperor, 1 Cr. L. J. 509 ; 5 Punj. L. R. 252, Ram Sarup v. Emperor, 11 Cr. L. J. 496 ; 13 O. C. 161, and Lall v. Emperor, 15 Cr. L. J. 567 ; 17 O. C. 92, dissented from. Abadi Begum v. Ali Husen, (1897) All. W. N. 26, distinguished. To sustain a conviction under s. 447 of the Penal Code it is necessary to prove not only entry on land in the possession of the complainant but also one of the intents specified in s. 441. Where a person was charged under ss. 447 and 504 of the Penal Code and convicted only under the former : Held, that the intent to commit an offence or to intimidate, insult or annoy not having been established, the conviction was bad. If a person enters upon land in the possession of another, in the exercise of a bonâ fide claim of right without any such intent, he cannot be convicted under s. 447, though he may have no right to the land. Empress v. Budh Singh, I. L. R. 2 All. 101, Re Shistidhur Parui, 9 B. L. R. App. 19, and Jurakhan Singh v. King-Emperor, 7 C. L. J. 238, followed. AKSHOY SINGH v. RAMESHWAR BAGDI (1916) . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1143

CRIMINAL TRIAL.

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 784

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 41 Calc. 305

——— prosecution of accomplice—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, S. 339.

I. L. R. 37 All. 331

——— rectification of defective charge—

See CHARGE . . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

CRIMINAL TRIBES ACT (III OF 1911).

———— s. 5—The District Magistrate in granting or refusing an application to take the name of a person out of the register kept under s. 5 of the Criminal Tribes Act does not perform any judicial functions ; his functions are administrative and the High Court is not entitled to interfere with any order made by the Magistrate in this respect. HASAN ALI BEPARI v. KING-EMPEROR

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 843
24 C. W. N. 624

———— ss. 8 and 28—

See CRIMINAL TRIBES. ACT

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 843

———— s. 23—

1. ———— First conviction for scheduled offence after the Act—Conviction for such offences, prior to the Act—Punishment. An accused person who belongs to a tribe notified to come under the Criminal Tribes Act (III of 1911) and who is for the first time after the enactment of that Act convicted of an offence specified in the schedule to that Act, is liable to be punished under cl. (a) and not cl. (b) of s. 23 (1) of the Act, though he may have been convicted once or several times of such offence before the passing of the Act. SELLAMANI, Re (1916) . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 923

2. ———— Member of criminal tribe—Second conviction for scheduled offence—Enhanced punishment. The " second conviction " contemplated by cl. (a) of s. 23 of the Criminal Tribes Act, 1911, need not be the second conviction after the Act, nor is it necessary that it should be second in fact. Taking the conviction or convictions prior to the Act as one group constituting one conviction, the first one after the Act would be the second conviction for the purpose of the section though in point of fact it may be one more in a series of convictions prior to the Act. A third conviction within the meaning of cl. (b) of the section must be at least the second after the Act. In re, Sellamani (1916) 40 Mad. 923, followed. EMPEROR v. TUKA NANA (1920)

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1082

CRITICISM OF GOVERNMENT.

See SEDITION . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 253

CROSS-APPEAL.

See CONTRACT . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 509

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF.

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 623

CROSS-CLAIMS.

———— under same decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXI, R. 19.

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 60

CROSS-DECREES.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

O. XXI, R. 18 I. L. R. 38 All. 669

O. XXI, RR. 18, 19, 20.

I. L. R. 33 All. 240

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

———— exhibiting documents during—

See RIGHT OF REPLY.

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 426

CROSS-EXAMINATION—contd.

———— of prosecution witnesses—

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 885

———— paper put to witness—Right of opposite Counsel to see—

See PROBATE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 245

———— question put in—

See DEFAMATION I. L. R. 41 Calc. 514

———— Prosecution-witnesses, cross-examination of, after charge—Failure to name, on date of the charge, the witnesses required for cross-examination—Subsequent application before close of the case—Right of cross-examination, continuance of—Waiver—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 256. S. 256 of the Criminal Procedure Code merely lays down that after the plea of the accused is taken he shall be required to state whether he wishes to cross-examine any, and if so which, of the prosecution witnesses whose evidence has been taken, but it does not state at what particular time he is to be asked this question, nor up to what time he has this right. Where, therefore, the accused were asked, on the day the charges were framed, whether they would call any of the prosecution witnesses for cross-examination and did not name any, but made an application to recall some of them for that purpose on the next court day and before the case had closed. Held, that they were entitled to have the prosecution witnesses recalled for the purpose of cross-examination, and that there was no waiver of their right under the section. INDER RAI v. C. R. BROWN (1909) . . . . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 236

———— If a cross examining counsel after putting a paper in the hands of witness merely asks him some questions as to its

(1911) . . . . . 16 C. W. N. 265

———— Postponement Sessions trial—Application by defence counsel to postpone cross-examination till next day—Trial for murder—Refusal by Judge, effect of—Prejudice to accused—Re-trial—Practice. Where, at a Sessions trial, the defence counsel applied, after the examination-in-chief of the first prosecution witness, for postponement of the cross-examination of the witnesses till the next day, on the ground of his unpreparedness, but did not ask for an adjournment was that the witnesses examined on its date, four of whom were important, were not cross-examined by counsel or pleader, and the witnesses subsequently examined were inefficiently cross-examined and the cross-examination of the former witnesses might have elicited matters as to which the subsequent witnesses might have been cross-examined. Held, that the accused were prejudiced, and that there should be a re-trial by another Judge. SADASIV SINGH v. EMPEROR (1913)

CROSS-EXAMINATION—contd.

I. L. R. 41 Calc 299

——————— Practice—Accused right of—Leading questions—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 143, 151. In India, as in England, the accused are entitled in cross-examination to elicit facts in support of their defence from the prosecution witnesses wholly unconnected with the examination-in-chief. In the course of cross-examination of this character the defence are entitled, in view of the generality of s. 143 of the Indian Evidence Act, to ask leading questions. Under s. 154, the Court has the discretion to permit the prosecution to test by way of cross-examination, the veracity of their own witnesses with regard to the (unconnected) matters elicited by the defence in cross-examination. AMRITA LAL HAZRA v. EMPEROR (1915).
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

——————— The usual practice where some dependants support plaintiff's case is to order that they shall be at liberty to cross-examine the plaintiff's witnesses first, if they desire to do so, and to call their evidence and address the court before the defendants who oppose the plaintiff's case do so. In the special circumstances of this case the High Court, in the exercise of its powers of superintendence, interfered with the order of the lower court refusing to allow the defendants who opposed the plaintiff's claim, to cross-examine the latter's witnesses after the other defendants had cross-examined them. MOTIRAM MARWARI v. LALIT MOHAN GHOSH . . 5 Pat. L. J. 545

CROSS-OBJECTION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 92. . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 541
O. XLI, r. 22.

See COURT-FEES . . 3 Pat. L. J. 443

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870), SCH. I. ART. 1 . I. L. R. 40 All. 93

See OBJECTION.

See SALE . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 790

——— memorandum of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XLI, R. 22.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 705

——————— Dismissal of substantive appeal for failure to give security—whether such dismissal is a dismissal for default—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1901), O. XLI, r. 22 (4). Where the respondent has filed a cross-objection, and where the parties have entered into contest before the Court on several occasions, and the appeal is dismissed upon the appellant's failure to furnish security, such a dismissal is a dismissal for default, and the respondent is, therefore, entitled to have his cross-objection heard and determined. MOWAR SHEOBAKSH SINGH v. MOWAR THAKUR DEYAL SINGH . . . . . 4 Pat. L. J. 164 ——————— Appeal by one defendant as against plaintiff—Co-defendants impleaded as formal respondents cross-appeal by defendant-respondent when appeal by him is barred—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), O. XLI, rr. 4, 32 and 33—Covenant of title—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), ss. 45 and 55 (2). Where one of several defendants against whom a decree is passed has allowed the period for appealing to elapse O. XLI, r. 22, of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, was not intended to revive his right merely because a co-defendant has instituted an appeal against the plaintiff on entirely different grounds. An appeal was filed by one of several defendants in which the plaintiff was the real respondent and the other defendants were merely formal respondents. The appeal was directed against the decree in so far as it affected the appellant's liability towards the plaintiff only. Of the defendant-respondents the only one who appeared in the appeal was defendant No. 1. He was affected by the decree in so far as it declared that a mortgage of the plaintiff-respondent's property which had been made to him had been satisfied and that the plaintiff was entitled to possession of the mortgaged property. The time to appeal from the decree having elapsed defendant No. 1 preferred a cross-appeal as against the plaintiff-respondent. Held, that the defendant No. 1 was not entitled to prefer the cross-appeal. O. XLI, r. 22 (1), in so far as it relates to a cross-objection, was provided to meet the case where a respondent, although the decree is not entirely in his favour, is content to let matters rest provided his opponent does not appeal, but who may not be willing to run the risk of having the findings in his favour varied or reversed without an opportunity of appealing against the findings which are adverse to him. The rule should ordinarily be confined to cases of cross-objections urged against the appellant, but O. XLI, r. 33, gives the court a wide discretion, where justice requires it, that cross-objections against a co-respondent should be heard. The rule should not be invoked to enable a litigant to avoid the provisions of other statutes such as the Limitation Act or the Court-Fees Act. In 1895 C transferred half of his mining rights in a certain mauza to S. In 1904, C having died in the meanwhile, S released to C's estate for consideration the right, title and interest which he had acquired by the transfer of 1895. Held, that it was not competent to the administrators of C's estate to complain that there was a defect in the title which C himself represented to S as subsisting. THE OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL v. CHARLES JOSEPH SMITH . 5 Pat. L. J. 328 ——————— Held, that r. 22 of O. XLI of the Civil Procedure Code is not applicable to an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent and a memorandum of cross-objection cannot be entertained in these appeals. BROJENDRO CHANDRA SARMA v. PROSANNA KUMAR DHAR.

CROSS-OBJECTION—contd.

24 C. W. N. 1010

CROSS-SUITS.

See ACCOUNT . . 15 C. W. N. 930

CROWN.

See SECRETARY OF STATE.

——— applicability of Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) to—

See LEASE . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 910

——— delegation of authority to Secretary of State.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 754

——— escheat to—

See MULGENI LEASE
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 327

CROWN—contd.

———— right of, to prosecute—

See CONSPIRACY I. L. R. 42 Calc. 957

———— right of in Rivers—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION ACT, 1865 s. 4 I. L. R. 37 Mad. 322

CROWN DEBT.

———— priority of—

See ADMINISTRATION. I. L. R. 45 Calc. 653

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 411. I. L. R. 34 All. 223

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 69 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 767

CROWN-GRANTS.

———— rule of construction of—

See INAM . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 268

CROWN GRANTS ACT (XV OF 1895).

———— s. 2—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE. I. L. R. 40 All. 470

———— ss. 2, 3—

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908),

Ss. 17, 90 . I. L. R. 36 All. 176

S. 90 . . I. L. R. 43 Mad. 65

———— s. 3—Government's power to prescribe by sanad rule of descent for grants by it contrary to the law—Subject's power to do same—Other property treated by grantee as part of sanad property, if governed by sanad—Property given by Government in exchange for property granted, if devolves according to sanad—Property given for the use of grantee as such, if governed as to descent by sanad—Moveable property, if so governed. The Crown has in British lands or other property any limitation of descent which is at variance with the ordinary law of descent of property applicable to the case. B died possessed of properties descendible under a Government sanad according to the rule of primogeniture and others not governed by the sanad: Held, that Government had power to give to B in exchange for any land covered by the sanad other lands and the lands so acquired by B in exchange would be subject to the rule of descent prescribed in the sanad. Held, also, that the rule of descent shown to have existed. That the moveable property left by B not being covered by the sanad was not governed by the rule of descent prescribed therein. RAJENDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. RANI RAGHUBANS KUMAR (1918) . 23 C. W. N. 101

CRUELTY.

See DIVORCE . I. L. R. 38 Calc. 907
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 395

CRUELTY—contd.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS. I. L. R. 40 All. 332

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

See DISTRICT POLICE ACT (BOMBAY). I. L. R. 45 Bom. 203

See PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS ACT (XI OF 1890), s. 3, CL. (b).

CULPABLE HOMICIDE.

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), Ss. 37, 302, 304. I. L. R. 35 All. 506, 560

S. 304 . . I. L. R. 42 All. 272

Ss. 304 AND 325 . I. L. R. 40 All. 103
I. L. R 42 All. 302

Ss. 325, 300 EXCEPTION 4. I. L. R. 40 All. 686

———— sentence of transportation for 14 years—If Legal—

See PENAL CODE, s. 59 25 C. W. N. 514

CUMULATIVE SENTENCES.

———— Rioting—Separate sentences for rioting and causing hurt—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss. 147, 323. Separate sentences for the offences of rioting and hurt are legal where it is found that each person took an individual part in the assault. Nilmony Poddar v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 16 Calc. 442, Mohur Mir v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 16 Calc. 725, Ferasat v. Queen-Empress, I. L. R. 19 Calc. 105, referred to. RAM ANGUTHA SINGH v. EMPEROR (1913). I. L. R. 40 Calc. 511

CURATORS' ACT (XIX OF 1841).

See SUCCESSION (PROPERTY PROTECTION) ACT (XIX OF 1841).

———— ss. 3, 4 and 14—Oath's Act (V of 1840)—Death of representative Vatandar—Deceased's widow, representative Vatandar—Death of the widow—Application by the nearest heir of the deceased male Vatandar for possession—Six months, calculation of—Property claimed by right "in succession"

six med for Act

of the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841) the provisions of the Act could not be put in force because Kotrappa died more than six months before the

the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841), that is, there was no inquiry upon solemn declaration of the complainant (applicant). Held, confirming the order, that (i) the decease of the proprietor whose property was claimed by right "in succession" referred to in s. 14 of the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841) included the decease of Basawa because she was, between the death of her husband and her own decease, the proprietor of the property claimed. All that was to be decided was who should be put into possession of the property in succession to the last deceased holder. (ii) The Judge having acted upon the application of the claimant in addition to his affidavit on solemn affirmation the statements in the affidavit furnished sufficient grounds for action under s. 4 of the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841) having regard to the provisions of the Oaths Act (V of 1840). BHIMAPPA v. KHANAPPA (1909).

CURATORS' ACT (XIX OF 1841)—contd.

——— ss. 3, 3 and 14—contd.

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 115

CURRENCY NOTE.

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898), s. 517. I. L. R. 40 Bom. 186

——— Delivery of halves of—Such delivery does not pass the property in the notes—Creditor receiving halves of notes from debtor not entitled to insist on delivery of the other halves. The delivery by a debtor of halves of currency notes to his creditor with the intention of paying off the debt by remitting the other halves, does not pass the property in the notes to the creditor so as to enable him to claim delivery of the other halves. Smith v. Mundy, 29 L. J. Q. B. 172, followed. The debtor does not by simply sending the first halves, without anything more, become a trustee or bailee in respect of the other halves of the notes. Per ABDUR RAHIM, J.—S. 92 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to money or currency notes, although the definition of goods in s. 76 of the Contract Act is wide enough to cover coins and currency notes. Per BAKEWELL, J.—The delivery of the half notes to the creditor was only one step towards or preparatory to the actual delivery of the notes, and indicates only an intention to transfer and does not constitute a delivery of the notes. KOTI VENKATA RAMIAH v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1909) . . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 196

CURRENT ACCOUNT.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, SCH. I ART. 85.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 12

CUSTODY.

See COUNTERFEIT COIN.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 477

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 26.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 1

See JURY . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 98

CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

See GUARDIAN . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 807

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII 1890), s. 25. I. L. R. 39 Bom. 438

See [illegible] I. L. R. 41 Calc. 714

See MINOR . . L. R. 41 I. A. 314

CUSTOM.

See ADOPTION . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 879

See [illegible], ESTATE OF ZIRA.
I. L. R. 49 Calc. 879

See [illegible] GRANT.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 352

CUSTOM—contd.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), s. 100.
I. L. R. 36 All. 256

See COMMON LAND I. L. R. 1 Lah. 249

See CUSTOM OF CASTE.

See CUSTOM OF THE TRADE.

See CUSTOM OF USAGE.
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 2853

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION.
I. L. R. 32 All. 247

See HINDU LAW ALIENATION.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 417

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM.
I. L. R. 32 All. 363
42 Calc. 582

See HINDU LAW IMPARTIBLE ESTATE.
2 P. L. J. 339

See HINDU LAW PARTITION.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 740

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION.
14 C. W. N. 770
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 997

See INSURANCE I. L. R. 36 Bom. 484

See JAIGIR . I. L. R. 42 Calc. 305

See JEWISH LAW.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 708

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 35 Bom. 264

See KHOD-KAST JOTES.
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 359

See KUNJPURA, STATE OF, SUCCESSION TO.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 711

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
I. L. R. 32 All. 125
I. L. R. 34 All. 545

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION.
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 183

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—SUCCESSION.
14 C. W. N. 59

See MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1052

See MEMONS. . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 647

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING.
15 C. W. N. 752

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 43

See PALAS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 455

See PRE-EMPTION.

See PRIMOGENITURE. . 18 C. W. N. 55

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT, 1887, SCH II, cl. 13.
I. L. R. 43 All. 631

See RAILWAY RECEIPT.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 664

See REMARRIAGE

See SCHOOLMASTER.
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 917

See SOHAG GRANT.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 352

——— Adoption by Jains in Idar State—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 754

CUSTOM—contd.

——— adoption of daughter's son—
See PUNJAB COURT ACT, 1918
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 167

——— adoption by widow without authority by Mahesris of Delhi—
See DECLARATORY SUIT.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 92

——— adoption of daughter's son by Brahmins of Amritsar—
See PUNJAB COURT ACT, 1918, s. 41.
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 167

——— adoption of an orphan boy among Jains in the Idar State—
See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION (74)
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 754

——— Bombay Silver Market—
See CONTRACT (22) I. L. R. 42 Bom. 224

——— enabling tenant to build—
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908), ss. 9, 11, 151, 157, 187 (g).
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 432

——— evidence, etc., in relation to written contract—
See DOWL KABALIYAT 25 C. W. N. 13

——— expert evidence in proof of—
See CUTCHI MEMONS.
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 181

——— finding as to existence of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 s. 100.
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 374

——— khanadamadi—
See PUNJAB COURTS ACT, 1914.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 245

——— modifying ordinary Law—
See ILLEGITIMATE SON 25 C. W. N. 433
See CUSTOM . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 450

——— of caste—
See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 538

——— of Impartibility—
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
I. L. R. 41 Mad. 778

——— of Succession (Mohomedan)—
See OUDH ESTATE ACT II, 1869 . . I. L. R. 38 All. 552

——— of inalienability—
See IMPARTIBLE ESTATE.
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 325

——— of Mohesirs of Delhi—
See DECLARATORY SUIT.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 92

——— of Marwari merchants—
See HUNDI SHAH JOG.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 513

——— of Nattukottai Chetties in Madura
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I. L. R. 44 Mad. 740

——— privacy in Gujarat—
See EASEMENT . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 496

——— plea of—
See THEFT . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 433

CUSTOM—contd.

——— primogeniture—
See CUSTOM . . 1 Pat. L. J. 109
See HINDU LAW. . 24 C. W. N. 60

——— recorded in Wajib-ul-arz—
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES ACT 1887, SCH. II CL. 13.
I. L. R. 43 All. 681

——— transferability of agricultural tenancies—
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 43 . . . 25 C. W. N. 420

——— up-country cotton merchants—
See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), ss. 178, 179 . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 205

——— temple—disqualification of females to perform duties in—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O. XXIII, R. 3.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 850

——— Adoption—

——— Of brother's daughter's son—Jats—Jullundur Tahsil—onus probandi—Riwaj-i-Am. Held, that the plaintiff, the adopted son, on whom the onus lay, had failed to prove that by custom among Jats of Mauza Manko, tahsil and district Jullundur, the adoption of a brother's daughter's son is valid. Ralla v. Budha (50 P. R. 1893 F. B.), Surain Singh v Jawahir Singh (20 Indian Cases 839), Ralia v. Waryam Singh (94 P. R. 1913) and Natha Singh v. Mangal (90 P. R. 1914), referred to; also Sant Singh v. Megha, Civil Appeal No. 1232 of 1907 (unpublished), and the Riwaj-i-Am. Uttam Singh v. Kesra Singh (159 P. R., 1890), dissented from. JAMIAT SINGH v. UJAGAR SINGH.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 15

——— Of a stranger—Jats of tahsil Fatehabad, district Hissar—onus probandi—estoppel—where adoption was the result of a compromise to which the challenger's grandfather was a party.

been discharged in the present case. Rattigan's Digest of Customary Law, page 54 and paragraph 37 (b), referred to. Malagir v. Jagir (93 P. R. 1893), distinguished. Held, however, that as the a material benefit and who was present and consenting when the ceremonies were performed, the defendant was stopped from disputing the adoption and was bound by his grandfather's action. Labhu v. Mussamma Nihali (7 P. R. 1905), Devi Dial v. Utam Devi (37 P. R. 1907), Habib Khan v. Muhammad (68 P. R. 1912), Bhagat Ram v. Gokal Chand (150 P. R. 1908, p. 692) and Chuhar v. Mussammat Jas Kuar (69 P. R. 1917), referred to MOHAN v. Mussammat DHANNI.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 31

——— By an adopted son of his brother—Hindu Jats—Ludhiana District—Riwaj-i-Am. Held, that it had not been shown that among Hindu Jats of the Ludhiana District a sonless proprietor who happens himself to have been an adopted son, is debarred from exercising the general power possessed by a proprietor in the central and eastern parts of the Punjab of appointing one of his kinsmen to succeed him as his heir. Rattigan's Digest of Customary Law, paragraph 35 and the judgment of the District Court of Ludhiana, dated 9th October 1914 (Civil Appeal No. 124 of 1914, Hira v. Dewa Singh), referred to Mehra v. Mangal Singh (90 P. R. 1914) and Ralla v. Budha (50 P. R. 1893 (F. B)., distinguished. Held also, that the plaintiffs collaterals, on whom the onus lay, had failed to prove that the adoption of a brother is invalid among these Jats. Sant Singh v. Mula (44 P. R. 1913) and Waryam Singh v. Jiwan Singh (205 P. L. R. 1913), referred to—also Rattigan's Digest, paragraph 36, and introduction to Chapter III and the Ludhiana Customary Law of 1911, page 98. Semble, that the suggested rule that no adoption can be valid in which the mother of the person adopted is debarred from marrying the adoptive father, does not apply amongst agriculturists of Ludhiana. Gordon Walker's Customary Law, page 93, referred to. JIWA SINGH v. Mussammat CHANDI. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 39

CUSTOM—contd.

——— Adoption—contd.

——— Adoption of daughter's son—Manj Rajputs, tahsil Nakodar, district Jullundur—Riwaj-i-am. Held, that by custom a Manj Rajput of tahsil Nakodar, district Jullundur, is authorised to adopt his daughter's son who is also an agnatic relation. SAMAND KHAN v. KHAWAJE KHAN . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 193

——— Of daughter's son—Dhanoi Jats—Tahsil Kharar, District Ambala—Wajib-ul-arz—value of. Held, that by custom among Dhanoi Jats of Tahsil Kharar the adoption of a daughter's son is valid. Sunder Singh v. Mst. Mano (68 P. R. 1888), followed. Ralla v. Budha (50 P. R. 1893, F. B.), referred to and distinguished. Held also, that a Wajib-ul-arz being part of a Revenue Record is of greater authority than a Riwaj-i-am which is of general application and is not drawn up in respect of individual villages. GURBAKHSH SINGH v. Mst. PARTAPO I. L. R. 2 Lah. 346

——— Hindu Law—Will by adoptive father of entire estate in favour of natural son, born after the adoption—whether valid. The plaintiff-appellant was adopted by his adoptive father in 1905; about five years later the adoptive father got a natural son, the defendant-respondent. The plaintiff sued the defendant for a share in the estate of his adoptive father. The defendant resisted the suit on the grounds (1) that the plaintiff, being the daughter's son of his adoptive father could not be validly adopted, (2) that the adoptive father (deceased) left a will by which he devised his entire estate to the defendant. Held, that under Hindu Law the adoption of a daughter's son is invalid, but that the plaintiff had succeeded in establishing a custom recognizing the validity of the adoption of a daughter's son among the Khatris of the town of Amritsar, and that he must therefore be treated as the validly adopted son of his deceased adoptive father. Sardar Diwan Singh v. Mussammat Subhan (72 P. R. 1878), Atma Singh v. Jatta Singh (64 P. R. 1883), Taba v. Shib Charn (162 P. R. 1883) Ganda Mal v. Mussammat Radhi (67 P. R. 1886), and Harnaman v. Atma Ram (24 P. R. 1900), referred to. Held also, that as soon as the plaintiff was adopted he became a co-parcener with his adoptive father, and that the latter could not dispose of any property which belonged to the joint family. His will therefore could operate only upon his separate property, and was invalid qua the joint property. All the property in the hands of the members of a joint family should be treated as joint property unless the contrary is proved. Held further, that the adopted son takes one-fourth of the entire estate in those provinces which follow the Mitakshara School of law. Mayne's Hindu Law, paragraph 163, referred to. PARMA NAND v. SHIV CHARN DAS I. L. R. 2 Lah. 69

——— Alienation—

——— Ancestral property—"just antecedent debt"—nature of enquiry to be made by the alienee—rule laid down in Devi Ditta v. Saudagar Singh (65 P. R. 1900), explained. The main question for determination in this case was whether an alienee of ancestral immoveable property from a person governed by custom is bound to prove necessity or enquiry as to necessity with respect to a debt which was due by the alienor to an antecedent creditor and which had been discharged by the alienee. In other words, is it the duty of the alienee to enquire, not only into the existence of the antecedent debt, but also into the nature and necessity thereof? Held, per SHADI LAL, J., that an alienee discharging an antecedent debt is not required to make an enquiry into the nature thereof, and that this is in accord with the rule laid down in Devi Ditta v. Saudagar Singh (65 P. R. 1900 F. B.) Muhammad Hayat Khan v. Sandhe Khan (55 P. R. 1908) and Muhammad Islam v. Hari Lal (7 P. W. R. 1914), approved. Maharaj Singh v. Balwant Singh, (I. L. R. 28 All. 508, 541) and Trevelyan's Hindu Law, page 310, referred to. But the law enunciated above only helps an honest alienee who acts in perfect good faith. An alienee paying off an antecedent creditor gets no advantage, if he has knowledge of the true nature of the debt or acts in bad faith, or where he and the antecedent creditor are in effect one and the same person. Held, per LEROSSIGNOL, J., that the principle laid down in Devi Ditta v. Saudagar Singh is that the initial onus lies on the outsider alienee to show that the debts were due, and when he has discharged that onus, the turn of the opposite party then comes to show that the alienee made no proper enquiry or that if he made one, he must have learnt of the real nature of the debts. The words "made no enquiry whatever" in Devi Ditta v. Saudagar Singh refer to an enquiry as to the existence of the debts but include also an enquiry as to their nature if the party challenging the alienation can show that the result of the first enquiry should have raised doubts in the minds of an ordianary prudent man as to the morality or reasonableness if the debts. Held, per CURIAM, that in this case all the circumstances including the fact that the alienor was a neighbour of the alienee, showed that the alienee must have known that the debts were contracted as an act of reckless extravagance and could not be regarded as just debts. JHANDU v. NIAMAT KHAN . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 472 ——— Ancestral property—will in favour of daughter in presence of a half-brother —Kahuts—Mauza Adharwal, tahsil Chakwal, district Jhelum—Riwaj-i-Am. Held, that it has been proved that by custom among Kahuts of tahsil Chakwal, district Jhelum, a sonless proprietor has the power to make a free disposition of ——————— Alienation—contd.

CUSTOM—contd.

his ancestral land to a daughter in the presence of brothers or other collaterals Khuda Bakhsh v. Wa (10
Fa
v.
ma referred to. Mussammat Nur Bhari v. Dulla (56 P. R. 1899), not followed. MUHAMMAD KHAN v. Mussammat KESRAN . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 170

——————— Necessity—Sale price enhanced by a fictitious item—whether the actual transaction can be upheld The plaintiffs, the nephews, sued in 1914 to challenge a sale of 18 tention of scaring away pre-emptors and decreed plaintiffs' claim on payment of their share in the balance of the purchase money. The defendants appealed to this Court. Held, that in cases like the present the real issue is what was the contract

Singh (27 P. R. 1909), not followed. Held, also, that as in this case the actual sale price of Rs. 1,212 for 18 kanals of land, paying a revenue of Rs. 5 only, was apparently the full market value and the vendors were in a necessitous condition, and considering the delay in taking action, the sale should be upheld and the plaintiffs' suit dismissed. PUNJAB SINGH v. ARJAN . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 22

——————— Family Primogeniture in Chota Nagpur—One branch of a family is evidence of its applicability to another branch. There is a custom in Chota Nagpur that an estate granted by the Maharaja of Chota Nagpur is impartible and is governed by the rule of primogeniture. This is not merely a family custom prevailing in the Maharaja's family but it is also the lex loci of Chota Nagpur. Where a custom prevails in one branch of a family, it is strong evidence to be relied on that it applies with equal force to another branch of the same family. Per CHAPMAN, J. The Privy Council decision to the effect that the words putra putradi, occurring in a modern Hindu Will would convey an estate unconditional and unlimited are based upon the

ATKINSON, J. A grant of land containing the words putra putradi conveys an absolute perpetual estate in the lands descendible from generation to generation coupled with full powers of alienation. Query: Whether in Chota Nagpur this rule is subject to a proviso, viz., "so long as there are lineal male descendants entitled to inherit." LAL GAJENDRA NATH SAHI DEO v. LAL MATHURLAL NATH SAHI DEO . . . 1 Pat. L. J. 109

———————, Evidence of presumption—Inference of existence of a custom from continued use of land

CUSTOM—contd.

for a particular purpose. It is open to a Court to inf mu
If
to the conclusion that an alleged custom is unreasonable or that the privilege is enjoyed as a result of permission given or that it is exercised by stealth or force, the Court is entitled to find against the custom. Kuar Sen v. Mamman, I. L. R. 17 All. 87, referred to. SHADI LAL v. MUHAMMAD ISHAQ KHAN (1910) . . . I. L. R. 33 All. 257

——————— Maintenance claim—The Plaintiffs were two Mahomedan concubines and their illegitimate sons by a deceased Hindu claiming against the Legitimate son for maintenance on the ground of family custom. Held, custom not proved. CHARANJIT SINGH v. AMIR ALI KHAN.
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 243

——————— Inheritance—Customary Law of Punjab—Sheikh Ansaris, Tribe of—Gift by father to daughter—Estate taken by donee—Evidence and proof of custom—Acquiescence and consequent estoppel—Partition by agreement of parties as acquiescence in title of allottees—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Art. 118—Ineffective adoption—Mahomedan Law. The appellants claimed possession of the property in suit on the allegation that it was ancestral property to which they were entitled as reversioners. The defence was that the respondent was in possession under a gift from the last owner, a Mahomedan lady who had adopted him as her heir, and who had herself received the property in dispute as a gift from her father in lieu of her mother's dower; and that the suit was barred by limitation. The parties were Sheikh Ansaris of a Pathan tribe of Punjab Mahomedans; and the appellant's case was that according to a ation, and that the gift to the respondent was therefore void. In dismissing the appeal from the Chief Court of the Punjab. Held, by the Judicial Committee, on the documentary evidence as to the course of litigation concerning the property, an tio cas

ap
dence relating to the devolution of the property was inconsistent with the existence of such a custom, and in fact disproved it: nor was it supported by evidence as to the limited rights by custom of a widow in her deceased husband's property, nor by evidence of a custom preventing a Mahomedan father from giving his property to one son to the exclusion of another. Held, also, that there was strong evidence of the appellant's acquiescence in the respondent's title, in the fact that in 1895-96 the principal lands which had been held in undivided shares by the parties were by agreement partitioned, each having allotted to him lands which represented his share; and that the respondent's share on the partition represented lands which had come to him from the gift which the appellants now disputed as being void. Semble: that the omission to bring within the period prescribed by Art. 118 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) a suit to obtain a declaration that an adoption was invalid or never in fact took place, was no bar to a suit like the present for possession of property Tirbhuwan Bahadur ...

CUSTOM—contd.

eshur Bakhsh Singh, I. L. R. 28 All. 727 ; L. R. 33 I. A. 156, followed. Under the general Mahomedan law an adoption cannot be made: and even if it be made, can carry with it no right of inheritance. MUHAMMAD UMAR KHAN v. MUHAMMAD NIAZ-UD-DIN KHAN (1911) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 418 ———— Timber—Tenants if may cut and appropriate timber trees—Reasonableness or unreasonableness of custom if question of law or fact—Custom not unreasonable. The reasonableness or unreasonableness of a custom is a question of law. Bradburn v. Foley, 3 C. P. 129, 135, followed. Where a customary right claimed by tenants to cut and appropriate trees upon the holding was upheld in the First Court, but the Judge on appeal declared the custom to be unreasonable in so far as it permitted the appropriation of timber trees. Held, that there was nothing unfair or dishonest or contrary to the public good in the custom and it was not unreasonable GURAI KAR v. RANI KUARMONI SINGHA MANDHATA (1915)

19 C. W. N. 1188

———— Succession—Among tribal communities in the Punjab—Agnates—General custom excluding daughters, exceptions to—Succession of daughter when married to near collateral who is in her father's house as khana-damad (resident son-in-law)—Riwaj-i-am or official record of customs, value of, as evidence. A Mahomedan Jat belonging to the sub-community of Dabs settled in the Jhang District of the Punjab, died without male issue, and leaving a widow and a daughter who was married to a near collateral of the deceased who was also his khana-damad or resident son-in-law. In a suit by the respondents who as collaterals based their claim to a share of the property of the deceased on a general custom of agnatic succession in the community or tribe to the exclusion of the daughter and her descendents, the appellant, the son of the daughter of the deceased who was the devisee of his will, alleged that a daughter married to a near collateral who takes up his residence in the father-in-law's house as a khana-damad, succeeded to her father's inheritance in preference to the agnatics, and produced in support of this special custom the Riwaj-i-am or official records of custom in addition to a considerable amount of oral testimony. Held (reversing the decision of the Chief Court), that on the death of the widow who had inherited the entire estate, the daughter and her son were entitled to succeed in preference to the respondents. Assuming that such a general custom as that relied on by the respondents existed, as to which the decisions of the Punjab Chief Court were by no means uniform, specially in the case of Mahomedan tribes who were endogamous, it was clear that the rule was admittedly subject to many exceptions: see Rattigan's "Digest of Customary Law for the Punjab," Chap. II, para. 23, where they are enumerated ; and Roe's "Tribal Law in the Punjab" where particular stress is laid on the value of the Riwaj-i-am as a record of tribal customs and it is said that "son-in-law of the house is a regular institution." Held, also, that the Riwaj-i-am was a public record prepared by a public officer in discharge of his duties and under Government rules, and was clearly admissible in evidence to prove the facts therein entered subject to rebuttal. And their Lordships were of opinion that the statements in the Riwaj-i-am for the Jhang District formed a strong piece of evidence in support of the custom set up by the appellant, which it lay upon the respondents to rebut, and they had failed to do so. BEG v. ALLAH DITTA (1916) . . . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 749

———— Inheritance—Evidence admissible to prove custom at variance with the Mahomedan law—Exclusion of daughters from inheritance—"Riwaj-i-am"—Value of the riwaj-i-am as evidence. One Saiyid Asghar Ali, a native of Qasba Palwal in the Gurgaon district of the Punjab and the owner of a small amount of land in Palwal, though not a "Biswadar" nor a member of an agricultural family, entered the service of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and became a tahsildar. He rendered distinguished service during the mutiny, and was rewarded by Government with the grant of a village called Wair Badshahpur in the Bulandshahr district. After his retirement Asghar Ali retired to his native town. He died in 1876, leaving him surviving two widows, two daughters and a minor son. On the petition of the widows the Bulandshahr estate was taken over by the Court of Wards. When the son came of age, the Court of Wards released half the estate in his favour; but retained half for the benefit of the widows and the daughters and their heirs. After the death of the widows and one of the daughters the son, Ali Asghar sued to recover possession of the remaining half of the Bulandshahr property on the ground that, according to the custom of the Punjab, and the local custom of the biswadars of Palwal in particular, daughters were not entitled to any share in the paternal inheritance in the presence of a son. Held, that evidence was admissible to prove the custom alleged by the plaintiff, notwithstanding that such custom was contrary to the Mahomedan law; but that the plaintiff had failed to prove that any such custom as that set up by him applied to his family. The value as evidence of the document known as "Riwzaj-i-am" discussed. ALI ASGHAR v. THE COLLECTOR OF BULANDSHAHR (1917)

I. L. R. 39 All. 574

———— There is a custom in Chota Nagpur that on estate granted by the Maharaja is impartible and governed by the rule of primogeniture. LAL GAJENDRA NATH SAHI DEO v. LAL MUTHURALAL NATH SAHI DEO.

1 Pat. L. J. 109

———— Proof of custom modifying Mahomedan Law—Custom excluding women from share of inheritance of paternal relation—Bombay Regulation IV of 1827, s. 26—Punjab Laws Act, 1872, s. 5—Essentials in proving custom—Family custom—Position and relationship of members of family—Denial by prominent member of family of existence of custom—Failure to produce Revenue Records as evidence. On the death of a wealthy Shia Mahomedan in Sind, intestate and leaving no widow or child, the nearest surviving relations were a nephew (the plaintiff-appellant) and a sister and her son, the first and second defendants-respondents. The appellant's case was that the question as to the rights of inheritance was governed, not by Mahomedan Law, but by a custom which excluded women from any share in the inheritance of a paternal relation. Held, that under s. 26 of Bombay Regulation IV of 1827, which had been extended to Sind, no presumption can be made in favour of the existence of a usage or custom where it is known that such usage or custom is prevalent, but it was incumbent on the appellant to allege and prove the custom on which be relied. Daya Ram v. Sohel Singh, 41, Punj.

CUSTOM—contd.

12 Moo. I. A. 81; and the principles applicable to the proof of customs in England were not to be applied in considering such a custom as that claimed in the present suit. Nor was it necessary to reject the insta judgment

An examp

down ought certainly to be established by some witness, but it was not necessary that all should be proved in every case, as that might greatly weaken the evidence by tradition to which in a custom of the character under consideration great an-

70, oof of om

by ent of intestacy daughters of the deceased were excluded in favour of their brothers, and sisters in favour of male paternal relations, that such a custom had not on the evidence been sufficiently proved. The position and relationship of the different members of the family must always be considered in determining whether claims were not met because the rights to which they related did not exist, or whether they were put on one side because in the circumstances there was no need for asserting them. Mirabivi v. Villayanna, I. L. R. 8 Mad. 464, referred to. The fact that prominent members of the families concerned denied that such a custom as alleged existed; and the non-production of the Revenue Records, one of which showed a division according to Mahomedan Law, of property according to Mahomedan Law, to a devolution determined by a family custom. ABDUL HUSSEIN KHAN v. SONA DERO (1917)

I. L. R. 45 Calc. 450

to his

Ali

be

Contract

claimed to recover a sum of Rs. 400 from the his uncle. The allegation in the plaint was that A

The first Court decreed the claim holding that there was a universal custom amongst these Pathans that if a woman, whether virgin, married or widow, is abducted without the consent of her nearest relative or guardian the abductor is liable to pay a sum of money to that relative or guardian. In appeal the District Judge upheld the decision relying on Shah Rahman v. Ismail Khan (82 P. R. 1904). The defendants preferred a second appeal to the High Court. Held, that the existence of the custom of rogha is established, but it is not enforceable as it is immoral and opposed to public policy, Mussammat B. J., being 19 years of age and competent to enter into a contract of marriage with any man of her own religion, the claim for compensation in the present case is in the nature of a claim for loss of a chattel or for the plaintiff's abstaining from committing an illegal act, that is to say, abstaining from any attempt to murder or otherwise injure the defendant. Venkata Kristnayya v. Lakhmi Narayana (I. L. R. 32 Mad. 185 F. B.), referred to. Shah Rahman v. Ismail Khan (82 P. R. 1904), distinguished. Gazetteer of the Attock District, page 56, and Settlement Report of the Kohat District, pages 76 to 79, and paragraph 159, referred to. Per DUNDAS, J. The Courts in this country are not bound to enforce a payment by a person who has performed an act which he was legally entitled to perform and which principle of s. 26 of the Contract Act. ABBA KHAN v. NUR KHAN . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 4

CUSTOM—contd.

——— Tribal Custom—Marriage-custom, requiring husband to live in wife's parent's household, the children being additions to wife's clan—C

public policy—

by husband ag

parent's house

immoral or opposed to public policy in a tribal custom which requires a son-in-law to reside in the family of his father-in-law in order to have access to his wife. Quære: Whether Lalungs are governed by Hindu Law. Assuming that they are Hindus. Held, that their marriage relations must be governed by customs which prevail amongst the tribe provided that the customs are neither immoral nor opposed to public policy. Their marriage custom, according to which the parents of the by removal of the wife from her father's house. It was not injurious to the public interests, that is, to the interests of the tribe to which the parties belonged, nor was it in conflict with any express law of the ruling power. Tekait Monmohini v. Basanta Kumar Singh, I. L. R. 28 Calc. 751 : s.c. 5 C. W. N. 673, referred to. LENGAHALUNG v. PENGURI LALUNGUI (1915) . 20 C. W. N. 406 was found

Madura why a arried another

he appropriated out of his property a portion, called

CUSTOM—contd.

moopu, for the first wife's maintenance, that portion descending to her son if she had one, and the rest of the property was nationally divided, one moiety going to the son or sons by the first wife, and the other moiety to the son or sons by the second wife. In a suit for partition brought by the only son of a first wife against his father and the sons by the second wife the Judicial Committee applied the custom, without, however, determining what the father's share would be in the circumstances, as the question did not arise before their Lordships. The authorities as to the custom of patnibhaga, or the division according to wives, considered. [Judgment of the High Court reversed.] PALANIAPOA CHETTIAR v. ALAGAN CHETTI (1921).

I. L. R. 44 Mad. (P. C.) 740

———— Pre-emption—Urban immoveable property—Delhi—Pahar Ganj—proof of custom—value of previous judgment based upon a compromise. Held, that the plaintiff on whom the law had failed to prove that the custom of pre-emption prevails in Pahar Ganj, a suburb of Delhi. The custom of pre-emption has been held onus to prevail generally throughout the city of Delhi, but that applies only to the city proper as circumscribed by the city walls constructed during the Moghal period and has no application to a suburb which has grown up since the British Rule. Held also, that a judgment based upon a compromise or confession, although of some probative force, cannot be placed on the same footing as one in which after contest a custom was held to be proved or negatived. IMPERIAL OIL SOAP AND GENERAL MILLS CO. v. M. MUSBAH-UD-DIN . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 83

———— Religious institutions—Darbar Sahib (Golden Temple), Amritsar—Succession to office of granthi—Son or chela—whether an infant can become a chela. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that he, as son of Harnam Singh, deceased, the late granthi of the Darbar Sahib, Amritsar, was entitled to succeed his father in the office of granthi in preference to the defendant, a brother of Harnam Singh, who claimed to have been duly appointed as chela and nominated by deceased as his successor and duly elected and installed. Held, that the office of granthi to the Darbar Sahib, Amritsar, is of a religious character and not secular. Held also, that the question of succession to the office must be decided by the custom and practice of the institution as proved by the evidence, and a son, merely as such, had no right to succeed. Held further, that it had been established that one of the qualifications for the office of the granthi is that the candidate must be a good Sikh and a properly initiated Singh, and next he must become a chela and be nominated by his predecessor and this must be followed by an election and installation. Nowrung Singh v. Bhugut Singh (No. 4 P. R. 1878) and Bhai Bhagat Singh v. Harnam Singh (No. 49 P. R. 1892), followed. Macauliffe's History of the Sikh Religion, Chapter VII, pages 55, 59, 60 and 65, and Encyclopædia Britannica, Cambridge Edition, 1911, Volume XXV, pages 84-87, referred to. Held also, that there is no clear rule laid down as to the initiation of a chela or as to the nomination of a successor or election of a granthi, but a person is created a Singh by the ceremony called Khandaka Pahul or Baptism by the sword, and the candidate must have reached an age of discrimination and capacity to remember obligations, so that plaintiff, as an infant less than a year old, could not have been created a Singh. Encyclopædia Britinnica, Volume XXV, page 86, referred to. INDER SINGH v. FATEH SINGH.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 511

———— Darbar Sahib—(Golden Temple), Amritsar—Succession to properties in the hand of a granthi—Son or successor to the office—Relevancy of previous decision on points at issue—Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, ss. 11, 13 and 43. The plaintiff, as duly appointed successor to Harnam Singh, the late granthi of the Sikh religious institution known as Darbar Sahib or Golden Temple at Amritsar, sued the son of Harnam Singh for possession of certain properties, and the question was which of the properties in possession of Harnam Singh were dedicated to the office of granthi and which were his self-acquired property and not dedicated to the religious uses. A previous judgment, which was given in a suit contesting the right of the then granthi Jawahar Singh (the predecessor of Harnam Singh) to alienate certain shops, was referred to by plaintiff as proving that these shops were waqf and attached to the gaddi as found by the Court. Defendant objected to the relevancy of this judgment. Held, that in regard to properties dedicated to the office of granthi of the Darbar Sahib, Amritsar, succession goes to the person succeeding to the office, while properties acquired by the granthi himself out of his income, and not proved to have been dedicated to the office, descend to his natural heirs. There is a pre-emption that property which has descended from one granthi to another to the exclusion of natural heirs has been dedicated to religious uses, even if there is no positive evidence of actual dedication. Ram Singh v. Nehal Singh (No. 136 P. R. 1889, page 470) and Har Parshad v. Shadu (No. 31 P. W. R. 1916, page 96,) approved. Held, also, that a previous judgment in a suit contesting the right of the then granthi to alienate certain shops, wherein it was held that these properties were waqf and attached to the gaddi and could not be alienated by the granthi, could only be treated as admissible in evidence for the purpose of showing that at that time also the right of the granthi to alienate certain property was called in question. The finding of the Court that the property was waqf and was attached to the gaddi is not relevant in the present case. Gujja Lal v. Fatteh Lall (I. L. R. 6 Calc. 171, F. B.), Rawasami v. Appavu (I. L. R. 12 Mad. 9) and Muhammad Amin v. Hassan (I. L. R. 31 Bom. 143, 157), followed. Ameer Ali and Woodroffe's Law of Evidence, 5th Edition, page 170 et seq., referred to. INDAR SINGH v. FATTEH SINGH . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 540

———— Dohli tenure—Explained—sale for mortgage by Dohlidar—is absolutely void and can be impeached by the Dohlidar's successor. Held, that the Dohli tenure is a rent-free grant of a small plot of land by the village community for the benefit of a temple, mosque or shrine, or to a person for a religious purpose. So long as the purpose for which the grant is made is carried out it cannot be resumed, but should the holder fail to carry out the duties of the office the proprietors can eject him. A tenure of this kind cannot be alienated by sale or mortgage, and any such alienation by the Dholidar is absolutely void and can be impeached by the Dholidar's successor. SEWA RAM v. UDEGIR.

I. L. R. 2 Lah. 313

———— Succession—Existence from time immemorial—Grant purporting to create family-

CUSTOM—contd.

custom—Proof of long line of succession. Whereby a confirmatory grant, dated the 4th February 1797, down in the sanad of grant that she and the future Ranis were not entitled to sell or make a gift of the Britti but to enjoy the profits only for life, and prescribed a rule of succession to the effect that only Ranis of the family were to succeed to the properties for life, and no Rajas could claim or alter the course of succession as aforesaid. Held, that the grant in so far as it laid down a rule of succession was absolutely void, as it prescribed a right of succession unknown to Hindu Law. It was also void as it purported to create successive life estates in favour of unborn persons, the estate itself being undisposed of. Even if the rule of succession laid down in the sanad of 1797, had actually been followed, it could not be treated as binding upon the family unless it had ripened into a family custom. Held, also, that in order to establish a custom it must be shown that the custom had existed from time immemorial and where the custom set up was peculiar only to a single family the rule was more strictly enforced than ever. A family custom of proved antiquity was entitled to be recognised by the Courts, irrespective of the position and rank of the family but where the

Deb Raikut, 2 S. D. A. Sel. Rep. 249. Ramalakshmi Ammal v. Sivanantha Perumal, Sethurayar, 12 B. L. R. 396 ; 14 Moo. I. A. 570, Garuradhwaja Prasad Singh, v. Superundhuaja Prasad Singh, I. L. R. 23 All. 37 ; L. R. 27 I. A. 238, Prince Mahomed Buktyar Shah v. Rani Dhojamani, 2 C. L. J. 20, referred to. AMBALIKA DASI v. APARNA DASI (1918) . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 835

———— Primogeniture—Hindu Law. A Cus-

does not apply to it save so far as it was not inconsistent with the Custom. RAO KISHORE SINGH v. MUSAMMAT GAHENABAI. 24 C. W. N. 601

———— Succession—Acquired property—Sisters or collaterals in 9th degree—Jats—Jhelum District—Riwaj-i-am—Where custom is not established, whether Courts can fall back on the personal law of the parties—Punjab Laws Act, IV of male-holder, while the defendants were collaterals in the ninth degree. Plaintiffs relied upon custom but neither they nor defendants succeeded in proving a custom. The entry in the Riwaj-i-am was against succession of sisters. The property was non-ancestral. The Lower Courts dismissed the suit holding that plaintiffs had failed to prove their right to succession by custom. Held, that for the decision of the case and that the suit must consequently be decreed in favour of the sisters. Mussammat Sardar Bibi v. Sayad Ali Shah, (4 P. R. 1888) ; Khanan v. Mussammat Jatti (116

CUSTOM—contd.

P. R. 1892), and Khuda Bakhsh v. Mussammat Fateh Khatun, (13 P. R. 1919), followed. Mussammat Harnamon v. Santa Singh, (198 P. W. R.) 1912 ; Mussammat Uttar Kour v. Atma Singh, (47 P. R. 1870), and Ali Muhammad v. Suraj-ud-Din, (13 P. R. 1912), distinguished, also Rattigan's Digest of Customary Law, paragraph 24. Held also, that, unless there is a provision to the contrary, the rules laid down in a Riwaj-i-am refer to ancestral and not acquired property. Mussammat Raj Kour v. Talok Singh, (38 P. R. 1916), and Budhi Parkash v. Chander Bhan, (123 P. R. 1918), followed. Mussammat FATIMA BIBI v. SHAH NAWAZ . . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 98

———— Self-acquired property—sisters or collaterals in 8th degree—onus probandi—Muhammadan Rajputs—tahsil Nakodar, district Jullundur—Riwaj-i-am. Held, that in questions of succession to self-acquired property between collaterals of the 8th degree and sisters referential

Hamira

Mussammat Harnaman v. Santa Singh (98 P. W. R. 1912), referred to; also Rattigan's Customary Law, Art. 34. Bholi v. Kahna (35 P. R. 1909), distinguished. Held also, that in regard to Muhammadan Rajputs of the Jullundur District the onus was also clearly on the sisters in view of the entries in the Riwaj-i-am of the district and that they had failed to discharge that onus. Beg v. Allah Ditta (45 P. R. 1917, P. C.), referred to. Mussammat HUSSAIN BIBI v. NIGHIA. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 1

———— Daughter or near collaterals—Sipras of Miana Hazara, Tahsil Bhera District Shahpur—entries in Wajib-ul-arz and Riwaj-i-am—value of—whether applicable to both self-acquired and ancestral property Mussammat G. B., the widow of plaintiffs' uncle G. R., on 19th April 1919, made a gift of her husband's landed property in 3 villages in tahsil Bhera, in favour of her daughter, and her deceased daughter's son. The plaintiffs sue for a declaration that the gift shall not affect their reversionary right after the death or re-marriage of the widow. It was found by the High Court on appeal that some of the property was ancestral, and some was not. The perty. Held, that the portions of a Wajib-ul-arz which refer to custom are not provisions intended to enure for the duration of the Settlement only but are statements that a certain custom exists. Rahiman v. Bala (8 P. R. 1892) and Masta v. Pohlo (52 P. R. 1896), followed. Also that there is a certain presumption as to the correctness of such entries. Dilsukh Ram v. Nathu Singh (98

. Ghulam Kasim

. Digambar Singh

All. 129 P. C.),

Aulia v. Alu (49 P. R. 1898), Ahmad Shah v. Khuda Baksh (33 P. R. 1903), Maha Ram v. Ram Mohar (65 P. R. 1903) and Muhammad Faiyaz Ali v. Bihari (I. L. R. 40 All. 56), followed. But that though such entries are evidence the presumption as to their correctness is a rebuttable one. Held also, that entries in the Riwaj-i-am also carry with them certain presumptions of correctness. Sham Ram v. Mussammat Hemi Bai (73 P. R. 1896), Ali Muhammad v. Dulla (26 P. R. 1901), Sheran v. Mussammat Sharman (117 P. R. 1901), Mehr Khan.

CUSTOM—contd

v. Karam Ilahi (13 P. R. 1902), Sher v. Alam Sher (94 P. R. 1905), Beg. v. Allah Ditta (45 P. R. 1917 P. C.) and Saide Khan v. Mussammat Amir-un Nisa (94 P. R. 1918), followed. These presumptions are also rebuttable and when positive instances are given the Riwaj-i-am cannot be regarded as over-riding them. Nidhu v. Ram Singh (2 P. R. 1909), Mussammat Ziainab Bibi v. Badar-ud-Din (43 P. R. 1913), Lelu v. Ram Chand (23 P. R 1916), Mussammat Raj Kour v. Talok Singh (38 P. R. 1916) and Budhi Parkash v. Chander Bhan (123 P. R. 1918), followed. Held further, that in the case of self-acquired property the general custom is that daughters are preferred to collaterals. Rattigan's Customary Law, Article 23 (2) referred to. And as the entries in the Wajib-ul-arz of the villages concerned do not distinctly state that they relate to self-acquired property as well as ancestral property they should be read as referring merely to the latter. Samand v. Mussammat Jindwand, (C. A. No. 665 of 1905, unpublished), followed. Held consequently, that in this case in the absence of proof to the contrary the daughter is heir to the self-acquired property of her father and her mother's gift stands good to that extent, but will not bind the rights of the plaintiffs in respect of the ancestral property. GHULAM MUHAMMAD v. Mussammat GAUHAR BIBI.

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 284

——————— Self-acquired property—daughters or collaterals—Arains of Ludhiana—meaning of "acquired property." Held, that by custom a daughter is generally preferred to collaterals in the succession to "acquired" property of her father, and by "acquired" property is meant property not necessarily acquired by the father himself but property acquired by him of any of his ascendants short of the common ancestor. Lokha v. Hari (64 P. R. 1893), Mussammat Ichhri v. Jowahira (18 P. R. 1896), Sham Ram v. Mussammat Hemi Bai (73 P. R. 1896), Khuda Yar v. Sultan (103 P. R. 1900), Nidhu v. Ram Singh (2 P. R. 1909) and Partab Singh v. Mussammat Panjabu (25 P. R. 1912), followed—also Rattigan's Digest of Customary Law, s. 23 (2). Mussammat JAINAN v. NUR MUHAMMAD I. L. R. 1 Lah. 365
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 336

——————— Self-acquired property—sister or collaterals in 6th degree—Mussalman Rajputs—Jullundur District—Riwaj-i-am. Held, that among Mussalman Rajput agriculturists of the Jullundur District the onus probandi was on the plaintiff, the sister of the deceased, to prove that she is entitled to succeed to her brother's land in preference to the defendants, collaterals in the 6th degree, the entry in the Riwaj-i-am being against her, although the land was non-ancestral qua the defendants. Ranjha v. Mussammat Jindwaddi (104 P. R. 1914) and Bholi v. Kahna (35 P. R. 1909), distinguished. Mussammat JEWI v. SANDHI

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 433

——————— Ancestral property—daughter or collateral in 7th degree—Birk Jats of Mauza Birkahsil Phillaur—district Jullundur—estoppel. The plaintiffs, collaterals in the 7th degree of Suchet Singh, a Birk Jat of Mauza. Birk and the heirs of the latter's pichhlag sons and others after his death for possession of his land and house property. They had previously sued for declarations in respect of one exchange of land in favour of the pichhlags and other in respect of a will in their favour and obtained decrees. In those cases the daughter of Suchet Singh had not been mentioned. In the present case it was however urged that plaintiffs had no locus standi in the presence of the daughter who was a preferential heir. Held, that the plaintiffs, on whom the onus lay, had failed to prove that by custom thus collaterals in the 7th degree, exclude the daughter. Also that the old law to the effect that in the Jullundur District generally and particularly in the Phillour Tahsil agnates of any degree exclude daughters (vide Roe's Tribes Customs, 1895, p. 135) is no longer correct. The customary Law of the Jullundur District, 1918, by Rai Bahadur Bhai Hotu Singh, referred to, also Beg. v. Allah Ditta (45 P. R. 1917 P. C.), Bholi v. M. Singh (86 P. R. 1908), Khaire Khan v. Ghulam Ghaus (32 P. R. 1911), Mussammat Partapo v. Asa Ram (96 P. R. 1913), Jiwan Singh v. Mussammat H. Kaur (41 P. R. 1914), Saide Khan v. Mussammat Amir-un-Nissa (94 P. R. 1918), and Mussammat Ishri v. Bhola Singh (52 Indian Cases 152). Held, also, that the plaintiffs could not be allowed to rely on Suchet Singh's will to exclude the daughter from succession seeing that they had already obtained a declaration that it is invalid in a suit against the same defendants. BHOLA SINGH v. BABU . . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 464

CUSTOM—contd.

——————— Held, that a Custom of Rogha (Bundi price) exists amongst Pathans but is not enforceable as being immoral and against public policy. ABBAS KHAN v. MIR KHAN

I. L. R. 1 Lah. 574

——————— Sayads of Kharkhauda, Rohtak District—Family custom allowing special concessions to females—Daughter of predeceased brother or son of predeceased sister—Whether females possess the right of representation—mesne profits. B. A., a Sayad of Kharkhauda in the Rohtak District, died in 1872. The whole of his property ultimately passed into the hands of his last widow, Mussammat B. B., and her donees. After her death three suits for possession were instituted, viz.,(1) by Mussammat N. N., the daughter of S. A., a predeceased brother of B. A. (2) by A. A., the son of a sister who survived B. A., but died before his widow, Mussammat B. B., and (3) by Mussammat A. N., a collateral in the fourth degree. Held, that the Sayads of Kharkhauda have for a very long period followed custom. Kadar Ali v. Sikandar Ali (60 P. R. 1878), Civil Appeal No. 2295 of 1916 (unpublished) Mir Mumtaz Ali v. Jawad Ali (82 P. R. 1887), Bunyad Ali v. Faiz Muhammad (173 P. R. 1889), Aman Ali v. Mussammat Amina Begam (46 P. R. 1890), Mussammat Umat-ul-Ala v. Mussammat Said-ul-Nissa (143 P. R. 1893), Mussammat Nasib-ul-Nissa v. Mansur Ali (120 P. W. R. 1909) and Faiz-ud-Din v. Aman Ali (143 P. W. R. 1910), followed. Held, however, that in matters of succession they have been somewhat influenced by their personal law and have widely recognised the right of succession of females. Mir Mumtaz Ali v. Jawad Ali (82 P. R. 1887), Faiz-ud-Din v. Aman Ali (143 P. W. R. 1910), Mussammat Nasib-ul-Nissa v. Mansur Ali (120 P. W. R. 1909) and Civil Appeal No. 2295 of 1916 (unpublished), followed. Held, also, that on the death of a male holder the whole of his estate vests in the widow, and as the husband's life is assumed to continue in her person succession does not open out until the date of the death of the widow. Both Mussammat N. N. and A. A. were therefore respectively the daughter and son of a predeceased brother and sister. The brother having admittedly a priority over a sister, the rights of Mussammat N. N. a brother's daughter, were superior to those of A. A., a sister's son. It was also proved that the same would have been the result if A. A. had been the son of a surviving sister. Moni Ram v. Keri Kolitani (I. L. R. 5 Calc. 776, P.C.), Janki Ammal v. Narayanasami (I. L. R. 39 Mad. 634, P. C.), and Mussammat Bhagi v. Muhammad (15 Indian Cases 734), followed. Held further, that the right of representation exists in favour of females among the Sayads of Kharkhauda at least in the absence of near male heirs. Mir Mumtaz Ali v. Jawad Ali (82 P. R. 1887), Faiz-ud-Din v. Aman Ali (143 P. W. R 1910), Mussammat Nasib-ul-Nissa ... and Civil

CUSTOM—contd.

...

P. R. 1908) per Robertson J., Mir Mumtaz Ali v. Jawad Ali (82 P. R 1887) and Faiz-ud-Din v. Aman Ali (143 P. W. R 1910), followed. Held further, that under O. XX, r. 12, Civil Procedure Code, a decree should have been passed in favour of Mussammat N. N. directing an enquiry as to the rent or mesne profits from the institution of the suit until the delivery of possession to the decree-holder. Must. NASIB-UN-NISA v. Mst. AHAMDI-UN-NISA . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 383

——————— Self-acquired property—collaterals in 9th degree or daughters—Gaur Brahmans of Thanesar Tahsil district Karnal—Village deserted and after 25 years re-acquired by some of the descendants of the common ancestor—whether land remains ancestral—Riwaj-i-am—costs. The plaintiffs, collaterals in the 9th decree of one M., brought the present suit for a declaration that two gifts made by the widow of M. of land inherited partly from husband and partly from one Mst. S., in favour of her two daughters and the son of a brother-in-law of Mst. S., should not affect their reversionery rights. It appeared that the village in which the land was situate was deserted about the year A. D. 1800 and the village had then passed out of cultivation, and that 25 years later some of the original proprietors or th... founded the v... t... were to the effect that daughters ... their father's property. Held, that the land became the self-acquired property of the persons who returned to the village 25 years after its desertion and re-acquired it and could no longer be considered to be ancestral property of the descendants (such as plaintiffs) of the common ancestor who may have originally possessed the whole village. Held also, that the burden of proof that by custom among Gaur Brahmans of Mauza Chhapri in the Thanesar Tahsil of the Kernal District, collaterals in the 9th degree exclude daughters in succession to non-ancestral property rested on the plaintiffs and was not shifted on to the defendants by entries in the Riwaj-i-am which were quite opposed to all principles of customary law and unsupported by instances. Abdul Karim v. Sahib Jan (5 P. R. 1908), Bholi v. Man Singh (86 P. R. 1908), Wazira v. Mst. Maryan (84 P. R. 1917) and Khuda. Bakhsh v. Fateh Khatun (13 P. R. 1919), followed; also Rattigan's Digest of Customary Law, article 23 Beg v. Allah Ditta (45 P. R. 1917 P. C.) distinguished. Held further, that the mere entries in the Riwaj-i-am in favour of the plaintiffs' case were not a sufficient reason for holding that the defendants should not be allowed their costs MANOHAR v. Mst. NAUHI I. L. R 2 Lah. 366

——————— Whether land gifted to a stranger reverts to the line of the donor on death of donee without lineal heirs. The plaintiff, a Jat, sued for redemption of land which was mortgaged ...

... that the rule of reversion to the donor's line on death of the donee without lineal heirs under Customary ... is a stranger ... (133 P. R. ... Hussain v. ... followed. ... F. B.) and ... distinguished. MULA SINGH v. AMIN CHAND. I. L. R. 2 Lah. 283

——————— Ancestral property—Ferozpore District—Lessee not carrying out conditions of lease—Government afterwards granting proprietary rights to the sons of the lessee. One C. was one of the lessees under Government whose position is described in paragraph 258 et seq. of Wilson's Settlement Report of the Ferozepore District, 1879-83. He had to fulfil certain conditions in order to preserve even his lease. He died in 1875 without fulfilling these conditions and the Government was legally entitled to evict him. Later in 1883 Government decided to grant proprietary rights to such lessees and these rights were actually granted to C.'s sons. Held, that the land was not ancestral property in the hands of the sons of C. Bhuman v. Aziz (85 P W. R. 1909), followed. Raj Kishore Das v. Jaint Singh (I. L. R. 36 All. 387), referred to. HARJI v CHANAN MAL . . . . . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 195

——————— Unreasonable or Uncertain—Inundated lands—Remission of rent. Where in a suit for rent, the tenants set up a custom of total remission of rent on the ground that a certain portion of the land was subject to innundation resulting in the destruction of crops, the extent of such destruction not being specific, and that crops were so destroyed during one of the years ...

... I. L. R. 45 Calc. 475

CUSTOM OF TRADE.

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), ss. 1, 118. . . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 518

——————— proof of—

See SCHOOL MASTER. I. L. R. 44 Calc. 917

CUSTOM OR USAGE.

——————— Facts proving existence of custom or usage whether questions of law—Actual proof thereof, question of fact—Second Appeal. The question whether the facts found in any given instance prove the existence of the essential attributes of a custom or usage is a question of law which may be discussed in second appeal; the question whether such a state of facts has been proved by the evidence is merely a question of fact. Kakarla Abbayya v. Raja Venkata Papayya Rao, I. L. R. 29 Mad. 24, dissented from. KAILASH CHANDRA DATTA v. PADMAKISORE ROY (1917)
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 285

CUSTOMARY LAW.

——————— After customary law has been stereotyped in the form of a statute in which there is no provision saving the custom it is not open to the Court to give effect to custom. TANI ORAON v. LEDA ORAON. 1 Pat. L. J. 225

——————— In Kuzhikanam lease —Compensation for improvements—Right of tenant to possession until payment—Possession by tenant after period of lease, nature of—Possession, if adverse Notice to quit, if necessary—Customary law of Malabar—Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900), principles of, if applicable. Under the customary law of South Kanara, a kuzhikanam lessee is, as in Malabar, entitled to remain in possession of the holding after the expiry of the period fixed in the lease until he is paid the value of the improvements; consequently he does not acquire title by adverse possession by remaining in possession of the lands for more than twelve years after the expiry of the lease, Srinivasa Pillai v. Venkatammal, 24 Mad. L. J. 296, and Kummatha Vittil Kunhi Kuthalai Haji v. Reverend Antoni Goveas, (1913), Mad. W. N. 339, referred to. Subbraveti Ramiah v. Gundala Ramanna, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 260, distinguished. A kuzhikanam lessee who remains on the land after the period fixed in the lease, awaiting the payment of compensation for improvements, is not holding over as a tenant, and in the absence of evidence of assent by the landlord to the continuance of the tenancy, is not entitled to a notice to quit. S. 5 of the Malabar Tenants Improvements Act (I of 1900) only embodies the customary law of Malabar and South Kanara. THEMA v. KUNHI PATHNOMMA (1917) . . I. L. R. 41 Mad. 118

CUSTOMARY LAW OF THE PUNJAB.

See CUSTOM . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 413

CUSTOMARY RIGHT.

See GROVE LAW. I. L. R. 42 All. 634

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 915

——————— to cut and appropriate trees—

See INCUMBRANCE I. L. R. 37 Calc. 322

CUTCHI MEMONS.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MAINTENANCE.
I. L. R. 37 Bom. 71

See WILL . I. L. R. 43 Bom. 641

——————— Custom—Onus of proof —Expert evidence in proof of custom—Opinions of practising lawyers, not relevant—Opinion and belief of leading members of community influence by judicial and professional prepossessions, not relevant—Custom must be established by deliberate acts of volition—The Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 32, cl. (3), and 48—Extent to which Cutchi Memons are governed by Hindu law—Cutchi Memons governed by the Hindu law of succession and inheritance as applying to an intestate separated Hindu possessed of self-acquired property—The Hindu law of joint family not applicable to Cutchi Memons—No distinction between ancestral property, joint family property and self-acquired property—Cutchi Memons may will away entire property—Cutchi Memons' wills to be interpreted according to Mahomedan and not Hindu law—Bequests in connection with 'Khairat,' i.e., charity work not void for vagueness—Alternative bequests in favour of charity not void as gifts conditioned in futuro—The Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 127—Costs. A Cutchi Memon disposed of the whole of his property by will, part in favour of the next-of-kin and part in favour of charity. The provisions in favour of charity were as under. "I direct my executors and trustees as follows. They shall out of my 'punji' set apart Rs. 3,00,000 (namely, three lacs) and shall therewith purchase Government Promissory Loan Notes or Port Trust Bonds, or they shall invest the said moneys for a short time in any of the other securities written (mentioned) in the twentieth section of the Indian Trusts Act.........My executors and trustees shall spend according to law the said sum or certain portions thereof in connection with some good works or charity in such manner as they may think just and proper, such as Hospital, Sanitarium, Suvavadkhana (lying-in hospital), Musafarkhana (resting house for travellers), Madrassas (schools), Scholarships, Dharamshalas, Medical Dispensaries, &c., (i.e.) in connection with any such 'Khairati' that is, 'charity' work, that is, in connection with such different works of charity. But the said sum shall not be expended in any other way or my heirs or the residuary legatee whom I have appointed in this my will shall not have any right to the same. I give full authority to my executors and trustees in that behalf." .... "Should no son be born to me agreeably to what is written above, or should (one) be born and should he die without leaving a son or heirs (daughters are not included amongst heirs), then as regards my whatever 'punji' that there may be left, I give the whole thereof to my executors and trustees and direct them as follows. They shall utilize the whole of the said 'punji' or portions thereof in such manner as they in their discretion think proper in connection with the above mentioned or any other good works of Khairat (charity) and I give full authority to my executors and trustees in that behalf." It was contended, inter alia, that the testator could not validly dispose of more than one-third of his property by will and that the above dispositions in favour of charity were void on two grounds (a) that they were bad for uncertainty, (b) that they were bad because they were conditional. Held, (i) that Cutchi Memons had acquired by custom the power of disposing of the whole of their property by will; (ii) that it was not proved in this case and never had been proved affirmatively that the Cutchi Memons had ever adopted as part of their customary law the Hindu law of the joint family, as a whole, or the distinction existing in that law between ancestral family, and joint family and self-acquired property, (iii) that Cutchi Memons were subject by custom to the Hindu law of succession and inheritance as it would apply to the case of an intestate separated Hindu possessed of ... re, (iv) that the ... a good and val ... , bequests to ...

CUTCHI MEMONS—contd.

... 10 Bom. 1 dissented from. Jan Mahomed v. Datu Jaffer, I. L. R. 38 Bom. 449, followed and the judgment therein incorporated. Abraham v. Abraham, 9 Moo. I. A. 195 ; Ahmedbhoy Hubibhoy v. Cassumbhoy Ahmedbhoy, I. L. R. 13 Bom. 534, Shivji Hasam v. Datu Mavj Khoja, 12 Bom. H. C. R. 281, Herba v. Gorbai, 12 Bom. H. C. R. 294, and Gangabai v. Thavar Mulla, 1 Bom. H. C. R. 71, ... a, I. L. R. 34 ... ankar v. Bai ... ferred to and ... OF BOMBAY ... 41 Bom. 181

CYPRES DOCTRINE.

See CHARITABLE TRUST
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 124

See LIMITATION ACT, 1877, SCH. II, ART. 123 . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 111

See TRUSTEES AND MORTGAGEES' POWERS ACT, (XXVIII OF 1866), s. 43.
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 380

D

DACOITY.

See PENAL CODE SS. 390 AND 396.
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 275

See SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 304

———— organization to commit—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 215

———— preparation to commit—

See MAGISTRATE I. L. R. 39 Calc. 119

———— Conviction for, if proper when less than five of the accused charged actually convicted—Charge of dacoity if sufficient notice of complicity with others not specified—Verdict of jury—Weight of evidence, High Court, if should discuss—Misdirection. Where 8 persons were each of them separately charged with dacoity, but the jury acquitted four of them but found the other one guilty, the evidence before them being that there were more than five persons concerned in the offence even if the four who were acquitted were not there: Held, that the charge as against each of dacoity was sufficient notice to each of the accused that they were with each dacoit. The mere fact that the evidence was not sufficient to convict four of the accused actually charged would not in any way affect the question of the number of persons engaged. It is not necessary that the charge should in such cases specify that other persons besides those ...

DACOITY—contd.

———— preparation to commit—contd.

... such as would commend itself to minds professionally trained to weigh testimony, for the High Court to express any opinion on its weight would be to usurp the functions of the jury. It had only to see that there had been no error of law in the proceedings and no misdirection to the jury. RASHIDAZZAMAN v. EMPEROR (1911)
15 C. W. N. 434

———— Assessors — Questioning Assessors before delivery of their opinion—Charge alleging preparation to commit dacoity by assembling with masks, arms and implements—Acquittal of preparation, and conviction of assembling—Repugnancy in the findings, effect of—Appellate Court, power to alter finding of acquittal into one of conviction—Search—Irregularities in search, effect of—Right of accused to urge technical points—Necessity of cross-examination by accused on point when allegations of fraud and dishonesty are made—Presumption of knowledge from possession of incriminating articles—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 103, 309, 423—Distinction between offences of preparation and assembling—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), ss.

...

and then record their answers to them. He should allow them in the first instance to give their opinions in their own language and way, and he may then put to them such questions as are necessary to elucidate or supplement their opinions. Where the accused were charged, under s. 399 of the Penal Code, with making preparations to commit dacoity by assembling together with masks, arms and implements which might be used for that purpose, and the Judge found that there had been such assembly with such articles, but that there was not sufficient evidence of preparation and acquitted them under s. 399 but convicted them under s. 402 of the Penal Code: Held, that there was no repugnancy in his findings as, though he was of opinion that the accused did not commit an offence under s. 399 by assembling with masks, arms and implements, he had found that they did assemble, within the meaning of s. 402, and that the discovery of these articles with the other circumstances of the case, showed that the purpose of the assembly was to commit dacoity. In a popular sense assembling to commit dacoity may be an act of preparation for it, but a mere assembling ... ot "prepara- ... Section 402 ... proof of other ... be guilty of dacoity, yet guilty of preparation, and not guilty of preparation yet guilty of assembling. Evidence of the findings of masks, arms and implements at the place of the assembling is not necessary to constitute the offence under s. 402, but only to indicate the purpose of the assembling.

DAMAGES—contd.

(a) BREACH OF CONTRACT—contd.

use of the names of the defendant's estates and should express his intention of purchasing the whole or any part of the crops, and that "if the defendant should fail or neglect or refuse to sell the whole or any part of the crops of the defendant's estates as above provided, defendant should pay to the plaintiff the sum of £500 as liquidated damages and not as a penalty." The defendant having in the first half of the year 1906 sold to other persons five parcels of tea amounting in the aggregate to 53,315 lbs. without offering the plaintiff the option of buying the same, the plaintiff sued the defendant for £500 as liquidated damages in respect of this breach. The defendant having contended that the stipulation was by way of penalty: Held, that whatever the expression used in the contract in describing such a payment, the question must always be whether the construction contended for renders the agreement unconscionable and extravagant when made and one which no Court ought to allow to be enforced. That, in this case, it was impossible for the parties when making the contract to foresee the extent of the injury which might be sustained by the plaintiff on breach, that it was obvious that sales in breach of the contract would seriously affect his business, and that having regard to the very uncertainty of the loss likely to arise and to the fact that damages of this kind, though very real, might be difficult of proof and that the proof might entail considerable expense, it was most reasonable for the parties to agree beforehand as to what the damages should be. The Clydebank Engineering Company, Limited v. Don Jose Castaneda, [1905] A. C. 6, followed. That the payment stipulated was by way of liquidated damages fixing once for all the sum to be paid and not merely a penalty covering the damages though not assessing the same; and the plaintiff, under the circumstances, could not be called upon to adduce evidence of damage actually sustained by him. That the parties to the agreement were merchants using language in the sense in which it is used in their trade, and the expression "part of the crop" did not mean parcels which might be sold over a grocer's counter but parcels such as were in fact sold in the present case. Nor was it intended that if successive parcels forming parts of the same crop were sold a right to claim £500 in respect of each sale would accrue. ROWLAND VALENTINE WEBSTER v. WILLIAM DAVID BOSANQUET (1912)

16 C. W. N. 697

2. ———— Wrongful termination of agreement—Agreement allowing Company's broker to appoint and dismiss under-brokers—Agreement terminated by new agreement—Measure of damages. By an agreement, dated 31st May 1911, a Company of sugar dealers appointed the respondent and his partner their brokers for the sale and purchase of sugar for the period of 5 years, unless the agreement became sooner ended under its terms which allowed it to be terminated on 3 months' notice by either party. The respondent's firm were under the agreement to employ such under-brokers as might be required for the purpose of the sugar business; the under-brokers to be under the control of the Company, but liable to be dismissed by the respondent firm. On 8th June 1911 the respondent firm entered into an agreement with the appellants to employ them as under-brokers "for the sale and purchase of sugar in respect of all contracts to be entered into by the respondent firm on behalf of the Company under the agreement of 31st May 1911 and during its subsistence." The respondent's partner died on 27th April 1912, and on 12th August 1912 the contract with the appellants was wrongfully ended by the respondent. On 2nd December a new agreement was entered into between the Company and the respondent, which differed in many material respects from that of 31st May 1911, and appointed the respondent as their broker for a new period of 5 years on different terms. In a suit by the appellants on 28th July 1913 claiming from the respondent damages for the wrongful termination of their agency: Held, that damages were only recoverable up to 2nd December 1912. That agreement necessarily ended the original appointment of the respondent firm as brokers to the Company under the agreement of 31st May 1911, and with its termination the appellant's contract with the respondent firm also came to an end. LACHMANDAS KHANDELWAL v. RAGHUMULL (1919)

DAMAGES—contd.

(a) BREACH OF CONTRACT—contd.

I. L. R. 47 Calc. 290
L. R. 46 I. A. 314

3. ———— Measure of Breach by Buyer of contract for sale of shares—Sale by vendor at various dates after breach at higher prices than those prevailing at date of breach—Sale not in mitigation of damages—Buyer not entitled to benefit of higher rates of sale—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 73 and 107. Under contracts made at various dates between April and August 1911, the appellant agreed to sell to the respondents certain shares to be delivered on 30th December 1911. On that date the shares had fallen largely in value, and on the appellant tendering the shares the respondents declined to take them. Negotiations up to 26th February between the parties not resulting in a settlement, the appellant, after demanding a sum representing the difference between the agreed price of the shares and their value at 4·3 per share, the market price at the date of the breach of the contract, sold the shares at various dates from 28th February to October, in every case except one at a higher price than 4·3. In a suit brought on 22nd March 1912 by the appellant for the amount demanded, the Chief Court allowed the respondents the benefit of the increased prices received by sale of the shares by giving them, in mitigation of damages, credit for the prices realised over and above the market price on 30th December, on the date of the breach. Held, by the Judicial Committee (reversing that decision), that on the breach by the respondents their contractual right to the shares fell to the ground; and the appellant thereafter sold shares belonging to himself in order to ascertain the loss arising by reason of the respondents not completing at the contract price. If after the breach the seller holds on to the shares, the speculation as to the way the market will subsequently go is the speculation of the seller, not of the buyer; the seller cannot recover from the buyer the loss below the market price at the date of the breach, if the market falls, nor is he liable to the buyer if the market rises. A plaintiff who sues for damages is bound to take all reasonable steps to mitigate the loss consequent on the breach, and cannot claim any sum due-to his own neglect. But the loss to be ascertained is the loss at the date of the breach. Staniforth v. Lyall, 7 Bing. 169, followed. The fact that by reason of the loss of the contract which the defendant has failed to perform, the plaintiff obtains the benefit of another contract which is of value to him, does not entitle the defendant to the benefit of the latter contract. Yates v. Whyte, 4 Bing. N. C. 272, Bradburn v. Great Western Railway Co., L. R. 10 Exch. 1, and Jebson v. East and West India Dock, L. R. 10 C. P. 300, followed. The market rate of the breach is the decisive element. Rodocanachi v. Milburn, L. R. 18 Q. B. D. 67, and Williams v. Agius, [1914] A. C. 10, followed. This principle applies to a breach by either seller or buyer Neither s 73 nor 107 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872) could be referred to as in favour of the respondents: the former was only declaratory of the right to damages, and the latter was inapplicable to the present case. JAMAL v. MOOLLA DAWOOD SONS & Co. (1915) . . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 493

DAMAGES—contd.

(a) BREACH OF CONTRACT—concld.

4. ———— Breach of contract of marriage —Procuring a breach of the contract—Liability for the breach—Conspiracy to break the contract. Defendant No. 1 agreed to give his daughter in marriage to the plaintiff; but subsequently he broke the contract and married her to the son of defendant No. 2. The plaintiff having sued to recover damages for the breach of contract from defendants, the lower Courts decreed the claim was no sufficient

de'endant No. 2,

to show that defendant No. 2 directly and personally attempted to influence defendant No. 1 to break his contract with the plaintiff, nor was there anything like conspiracy between defendant No. 2 and his son to bring about the result. JEKISON. AS HARKISONDAS v. RANCHODDAS BHAGVANDAS (1916) . I. L. R. 41 Bom. 137

(b) IN TORT.

1. ———— Conspiracy—Conspiracy, suit for damages for—Conspiracy provision relating to, in the Indian Penal Code, if excludes civil action for other conspiracies—Common unlawful object—Arrest of father by Magistrate and Police officers to induce son to confess to a crime—Motive, difference in, amongst persons so conspiring not material—Special damage, to what extent to be proved, in suit for damages from con- joint tort-feasors of action for— of 1877), Sch. II, Arts. 23, 36, 120—Standard of proof for actionable conspiracy, if same as for criminal offence—Assessment of damages—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s 80—Notice of suit to Government officer acting in bad faith if necessary—Professional ethics—Counsel, retained by party, if may be examined as witness—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss 154, 172—First information, proper recording of, by Police—"Case diaries," proper recording of, by investigating officer—Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 157, 158—First information report, use of, to corroborate or impeach informant—Explosive Substances Act (VI of 1908), s. 5—Bomb found in joint family residence, who may be held responsible for, possession whose—

DAMAGES—contd.

(b) IN TORT—contd.

Jail Code, rules in operation of. The law does not permit of a man being arrested in order to put pressure on his son to confess even if the person causing the arrest believed that by so doing he will get evidence that will lead to the conviction of persons engaged in a huge conspiracy. Where three persons were found to have acted in concert in having a man arrested with that object, the fact that two of them did not believe the story upon which the charge against the son was based to be true whilst the third believed in its truth was no ground for the exemption of the latter from liability for damages resulting to the father from the conspiracy, for the motive of one conspirator may be different from that of the others. The standard of proof of a conspiracy in a suit for damages resulting therefrom is not in India the same as if the defendants were being tried on a criminal charge. In the goods of Gopessur Dutt (Unreported), relied on. A suit for damages resulting from a conspiracy which would be indictable at Common Law lies in British India according to the principles of justice, equity and good conscience, and the Indian Penal Code, by providing for only one form of criminal conspiracy, viz., to wage war against the King, cannot be considered to have taken away this civil remedy either expressly or by necessary implication. Quinn v. Leathem, [1901] A. C. 495, followed. A suit brought on a conspiracy must be kept strictly to the cause of action that has been set out in the plaint. If a conspiracy is, as in this case, indictable at Common Law, it gives rise to civil liability if damage has been occasioned by it to the plaintiff. The present suit being based on two causes of action, viz., (i) to recover the damage occasioned to the plaintiff as the result of an actionable conspiracy; and (ii) to recover damages for malicious prosecution against the defendants as joint tort-feasors: Held, that the suit though instituted beyond the period of limitation provided for suits for compensation for malicious prosecution was, in regard to the first mentioned cause of action, not barred by limitation, as it was brought within the period provided by Art. 36 or Art. 120 of the Limitation Act, the former article being applicable to the matter, and if it did not apply the latter being applicable Damage to a substantial amount should be proved by the plaintiff in order to establish a cause of action for conspiracy, though if substantial damage is proved the damages awarded need not be limited to the precise amount proved. Held, that the plaintiff should recover the amount he had to spend owing to his arrest, such damage not being too remote. A public officer sued in respect of an act done in bad faith is not entitled to notice under s 80, Civil Procedure Code. Shahunshah Begum v. Fergusson, I. L. R 7 Calc. 499, Raghubans v Phool Kumari, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 1130, Muhammad v Panna, I. L. R. 26 All. 220, relied on It is not the law that every person in a joint Hindu family should, merely on the ground that a bomb is found in the joint family residence, be liable to be imprisoned and tried for an offence under the Explosive Substances Act, s. 5. If the article is found in a portion of the house of which one member of the family has the exclusive use, such member must primâ facie be held responsible for anything that is found there. But if the article is found in a portion of the house of which all the members of t[illegible]

DAMAGES—contd.

(b) IN TORT—contd.

have use then primâ facie the karta of the family is responsible. But in either case it is only a presumption which may be rebutted and if the Police act on the information, which they believe, showing that the article found in a house is in the exclusive possession of one member of the family and the article is found in a portion of the joint family residence of which all the members of the family have the use, then the head of the family is not liable to arrest merely on the ground that the article is found in a portion of the house to which all the family can resort. Queen-Empress v. Sangam Lal, I. L. R. 15 All. 129, relied on. The rules contained in what is known as the Jail Code are rules framed by the Local Government under the powers contained in the Prisons Act and subsequently sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council. Rules when so framed and approved have the same force as the Statute, and it is not open to any person to set aside the provisions of such rules. A careful and accurate record of the first information has always been considered as a matter of the highest importance by the Courts in India, the object of the first information being to show what was the manner in which the occurrence was related when the case was first started. Emperor v. Kampu K ki, 11 C. W. N. 554, referred to. As the first information can be used in evidence under ss. 157 and 158 of the Evidence Act to corroborate or impeach the testimony of the person lodging the first information such a document becomes valueless if drawn up by some person other than the proper informant. As the first information in this case which related to a charge of criminal conspiracy at Midnapore was drawn up by a police officer employed in the Criminal Investigation Department in Calcutta and settled by an attorney: Held, that it was of no value. The object of recording "case diaries" under s. 172, Criminal Procedure Code, is to enable Courts to check the method of investigation by the Police, and this object was defeated in this case as the provisions of the law for recording "case diaries" from day to day had been deliberately disobeyed by the Police during the most important period of the investigation. Queen-Empress v. Mannu, I. L. R. 19 All. 390, referred to. PEARY MOHAN DAS v. D. WESTON (1911) . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 898
16 C. W N. 145

2. ——————— Malicious abuse of civil process—If and when actionable—Decree, invalid execution under erroneous belief in its validity—Trespass, actionable without proof of malice and want of reasonable cause—Want of reasonable and probable cause, if question of law—Second appeal—Damages for trespass—Principle of assessment—Exemplary and nominal damages—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), if creates rights to sue. Where there has been arrest of person or seizure of property in consequence of a civil action which is unfounded, vexatious and malicious, an action for damages may lie against the plaintiff. Whether there was reasonable or probable cause is a mixed question of fact and law and the High Court in second appeal though bound to accept the facts found is entitled to examine whether the inference drawn from those facts is legitimate. If a litigant executes any form of legal process which is invalid for want of jurisdiction, irregularity or any other reason, and in so doing he commits any act in the nature of trespass to person or property, he is liable therefor in an action of trespass; it is not necessary to prove any malice or want of reasonable or probable cause. Where therefore the defendant had obtained an attachment of the property of the plaintiff under an erroneous impression that he had a decree capable of execution, the defendant was liable to be sued by the plaintiff for damages for trespass. Clissold v. Cratchley, [1910] 2 K. B. 244, followed. Where land with standing crop on it was attached by the defendant in execution of a decree which he erroneously believed he held against the defendant, but the plaintiff did not ask the direction of the Court or make any the slightest effort for the protection of the crop, which in consequence deteriorated and ultimately became valueless. Held, that the attachment was not the proximate cause of the loss of the crop, and the defendant could not be made liable for the value of the crop. The plaintiff was also not entitled to recover the amount she had to pay to the pleader whom she employed to search the records and ascertain whether there was a valid decree against her in favour of the defendant. For an act of trespass for which no blame attached to the defendant he could not be held liable to pay exemplary damages. Only nominal damages (which is not necessarily small damages) should be allowed in recognition of the fact that there has been an infraction of a legal right which is actionable without proof of actual damage or harm. BISHUN SINGH v. A. W. N. WYATT (1911)

DAMAGES—contd.

(b) IN TORT—contd.

16 C. W. N. 540

3. ——————— Wrongful attachment—Suit for damages for—Want of reasonable and probable cause and malice must be proved—Malice, what amounts to—Special damage, proof of, amount of. In a suit for damages for attachment before judgment, the plaintiff is bound to prove want of reasonable and probable cause for applying for attachment and malice in fact. The provisions of s. 95 of the new Code of Civil Procedure and s. 491 of the old Code which empowered Courts to award compensation when the attachment was applied for on insufficient grounds, were not intended to affect the applicability of the aforesaid rule of law, in regular suits brought for compensation. Malice means any improper or indirect motive, i.e., some motive other than the one which should actuate the party. No hatred or enmity is required. Where the motive for the attachment is not to defeat any intended fraud on the part of the debtor, but to enforce speedy payment, it will amount to malice. The plaintiff in such a suit must prove special damage. It is not necessary however to show pecuniary loss, or that the plaintiff was affected in a specific manner. It will be sufficient if it is shown that the allegations made against him must damage his reputation and credit. It will be sufficient if the plaintiff must have sustained some damage such as the law takes notice of. Quartz Hill Gold Mining Company v. Eyre, 11 Q. B. D. 674, referred to. Kumarasami Pillai v. Udayar Nadan, I. L. R. 32 Mad. 170, followed. The fact that the defendant is a man of slender means ought not to be taken into consideration as a ground for reducing the amount

DAMAGES—contd.

(b) IN TORT—contd.

awardable as damages to the plaintiff. NANJAPPA CHETTIAR v. GANAPATHI GOUNDEN (1912)
I. L. R. 35 Mad. 598

——— for attachment before judgment—

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGEMENT.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 952

4. ——— Malicious prosecution—Onus of proof—State of mind of prosecutor at institution material—Review, setting up new case in—Counsel of prosecutor if competent witness of his good faith P laid a charge of criminal trespass against C who was discharged. C thereupon sued P for malicious prosecution. P's defence was that he instituted the charge on information of his servants whom he believed and in good faith. Held, that an animus injuriæ, i.e., malice, cannot be inferred from the mere fact that prosecution has failed and the accused has been acquitted In an action for malicious prosecution the burden of proving malice and the absence of reasonable cause for the prosecution lies on the plaintiff The crucial point in almost all such actions is the state of mind of the prosecutor at the time he institutes the charge. After the decision of the case in defendant's favour by the Appeal Court, it was urged on behalf of the plaintiff, upon review, that the defendant should be held liable for the acts of his servants. Held, that the Court had properly refused to permit a new case to be set up at that stage. A counsel who had advised the prosecutor to institute the charge was a competent witness. C. E. VICTOR S COREA v. HENRY JOSEPH PEIRI (1909)
14 C. W. N. 86

5. ——— Principle of assessing—Damages, too remote, cannot be recovered—Principle of assessing damages in actions on, contract compared—Duty of plaintiff to take means to reduce the damages—Easements Act (V of 1882), s. 33. In a suit for damages sustained by the plaintiff in consequence of the defendant's obstruction of the plaintiff's right to way of his field, owing to which the plaintiff did not cultivate his lands, their Lordships held, (i) that non-cultivation of the lands was too remote a consequence of the defendant's wrongful act of obstruction as the plaintiff had not shown that there were no other means of cultivating and that it was in consequence of the wrong it was not reasonably possible for him to cultivate; (ii) that damages for the loss of crops could not be given, but that all that he was really entitled to was the extra cost which he would be put to for the cultivation of his land in consequence of the right of way being obstructed; and (iii) that the plaintiff was entitled to substantial damages for interference with the evidence of his right. Sedgwick on Damages, paragraphs 202 and 215, referred to. S. 33 of the Easements Act (V of 1882) and Brijnath Singh v. Tetai Chowdry, 6 C. W. N. 197, applied. Per CURIAM: Though the rule is the same in actions on contract and in tort, viz., that the damages which the plaintiff is entitled to must result directly from the wrongful act of the defendant and that no claim can be made to damages which are only too remotely connected with it, there may be differences in the application to actions on tort of this basic principle which is common to both kinds of actions; in a contract it is the duty of the plaintiff as a prudent man to take measures to reduce the damages as far as possible, for a breach of contract consists in the defendant's failure to do a certain act that he is bound to do and it would be quite open to the plaintiff to take other measures to obtain the result he expected from the defendant's performance; a tort, on the other hand, may consist in the defendant's failing to do an act which he is bound to do or in doing one which he ought not to do or in preventing the plaintiff from doing an act which he is entitled to do. KARIBASVANA GOWD v VEERABHADRAPPA (1913)

DAMAGES—contd.

(b) IN TORT—contd.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 580

6. ——— Grounds of interference by the Court of Appeal—Costs order for, if can be interfered with by the Court of Appeal—Cases where a successful litigant can be deprived of his costs—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 98, if applicable to Letters Patent Appeals Per SANDERSON, C. J.—The Court of Appeal should not interfere unless the decision of the trial Judge on a question of damages appears to be clearly erroneous. The Englishman v Lala Lajpat Rai, I. L. R 37 Calc. 760, s c. 14 C. W. N. 713 (1910), approved The costs were in the discretion of the Judge. Such discretion must of course be a judicial discretion to be exercised on legal principles, not by chance medley, nor by caprice nor in temper. Dictum of Lord Coleridge, C J, in Huxley v. West London Ex. Ry. Company, 17 Q. B. D. 373 at p. 376 (1886), approved The trial Judge should not have taken into consideration matters which must involve speculation on his part, as to the attitude of the respective parties. Principles on which a successful litigant should be deprived of his costs discussed Jones v. Curling, 13 Q. B. D. 262 at p 268 (1884), approved "Everything which increases the litigation and the costs and which places on the defendant a burden which he ought not to bear in the litigation is a perfectly good cause for depriving the plaintiff of costs." Huxley v. West London Extension Railway Company, 14 A. C. 26 at p 32 (1889), approved. Per WOODROFFE, J.—The English cases which deal with the question of revision of damages by the Court of Appeal have no application in this country where the jury system does not prevail Here the question of damages is to be dealt with by the Court of Appeal as any other portion of the case. Englishman Limited v. Lajpat Rai, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 760. s. c. 14 C. W. N. 713 (1910), followed. The conduct of the plaintiff's next friend can, in no way, affect the damages to be paid to his infant son for actual injury and suffering. There is nothing wrong in itself in claiming exemplary damages for the Courts themselves award such damages. The ordinary rule is that costs do follow the events. The Court may however direct otherwise, but under the Code (s. 35) if it does so it must state its reasons in writing. This provision was enacted both to secure a proper exercise of discretion and in order that the Court of Appeal may be in a position to control the order and see whether there is good cause for departing from the general rule. It is not sufficient answer to say in such case, in an appeal from the judgment, that the costs are in the discretion of the Court. The Appellate Court must itself decide whether the order should be sustained, that is, whether the reasons required to be stated are good reasons founded on the facts of the DAMAGES—concld.

(b) IN TORT—concld.

case. There are certain well-known principles on which a successful party may be deprived of his general costs. But where the Court purports to act on these principles it is open to the Appellate Court to enquire whether on the facts these principles have been rightly applied. The Court can get no nearer to a perfect test than the enquiry whether it would be more fair as between the parties that some exception should be made in the special instance to the rule that costs should follow upon success. Dictum of Bowen, C. J., in Forster v. Farquhar, [1893] 1 Q. B. 564. The mere fact that the plaintiff claims more than he gets is no ground of depriving him of costs unless it is shown that the cost of the action has been increased by his claim. As regards the judgment about the costs of the appeal, the Judges having differed, it was held that s. 98, C. P. C., was not applicable but s. 36 of the Letters Patent applied and the opinion of the Chief Justice prevailed. JUSTAIN HULL v. ARTHUR FRANCIS PAULI . . . . . 24 C. W. N. 352

———— for trespass on land—Question of title raised in such a suit, if may be tried. Although a decision on a question of title to land in a suit for damages for trespass thereto may not be conclusive, the Court is not for that reason precluded from trying and deciding that question in such a suit. SAHARALLI MOLLAH v. BHOLA MOLLA (1919) . 23 C. W. N. 647

DAMDUPAT (RULE OF).

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 37 Bom. 326

———— Decree in mortgage-suit between Hindus—Interest accruing after date fixed for redemption, whether rule applicable to. The rule of damdupat applies to Hindus only so long as the relation between the parties is contractual, and ceases to apply when the matter has passed from the realm of contract into that of judgment. Where a decree has been passed on a mortgage, the rule does not apply to the interest accruing after the date fixed for redemption. In the matter of Hari Lall Mullick, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 1269, followed. Ram Kanye Audhicary v. Cally Churn Dey, I. L. R. 21 Calc. 840, not followed. Sundar Koer v. Sham Krishen, I. L. R. 34 Calc. 150 L. R. 34 I. A. 9, referred to. NANDA LAL ROY v. DHIRENDRA NATH CHAKRAVARTI (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 710

———— Damdupat, application of the rule of—Mortgage—Assignment of mortgage—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 2 (d). The fact that the person entitled to sue on a mortgage happens by assignment to be a Parsee cannot affect the (Hindu) mortgagor's right to claim the advantage of the rule of damdupat, if it existed when the mortgage was entered into. It is not proper to infer that, because it has been expressly enacted that nothing in Chapter II of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) shall be deemed to affect any rule of Hindu Law, the Legislature has deprived a Hindu mortgagor of the protection afforded him by the rule of damdupat. The right of a mortgagee to sue for his principal and interest arising from a contract must be taken to be made subject to the usages and customs of the contracting parties. JEEWANBAI v. MANORDAS (1910)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 199

DAMDUPAT (RULE OF)—contd.

———— Mortgage between Hindus, whether the rule of Damdupat applies to—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 4—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 37. There is nothing in the Transfer of Property Act (read with the Contract Act) to preclude the rule of damdupat from applying to mortgages between Hindus. Madhwa Sidhanta Onahini Nidhi v. Venkataramanjulu Naidu, I. R. L. 26 Mad. 662, not followed. In the matter of Hari Lall Mullick, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 1269, Nanda Lal Roy v. Dhirendra Nath Chakravarti, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 710, Jeewanba v. Manordas Lachmondas, I. L. R. 35 Bom. 199, and Sundarabai v. Jayavant, I. L. R. 24 Bom. 114, referred to. KUNJA LAL BANERJI v. NARSAMBA DEBI (1915)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 826

DANABANDI AND BATAI SYSTEMS OF TENANCY.

———— Presumption as to contract of tenancy from contract of tenancy in respect of adjoining lands—Record-of-rights published after institution of suit, if can be relied on—Non-attendance of landlord at apportionment—Liability of tenant if he appropriates whole of crops—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 69. The plaintiff claimed that certain lands were held by the tenants under the danabandi system, but the Courts below found that they were held under the batai system. In two other suits against the tenants of the same village the Court found that the tenants held under the danabandi system. There was no proof that there was an invariable custom prevalent in the village. The lower Appellate Court in deciding the case relied upon the record-of-rights which was finally published long after the institution of the suit. Held, that the mere circumstance that the contract of tenancy in respect of some land was of one description does not necessarily indicate that the contract was of the same description in respect of different lands in the same village held by other tenants, and the Court was free to conclude upon the evidence that the lands were held under the batai system. That the lower Appellate Court did not act improperly in relying on the record-of-rights. KAMALESHWARI PERSHAD SINGH v. KANHARI SINGH (1913)

17 C. W. N. 1159

DANCING WOMAN.

———— illegitimate son of Sudra by—

See HINDU LAW I. L. R. 39 Mad. 136

DANDA.

See HINDU LAW—DEBT.

14 C. W. N. 659

DANDIDARI RIGHT.

———— Dandidari right, if a monopoly or a legal right to be recognised by Courts of Justice—Such right if personal or if can be transferred—Transfer, if must be by registered instrument—Estoppel, application of rule of, to employés and contracting parties—Assignee of right having enjoyed profits, if can deny assignor's title. At a public auction held at the instance of Government the plaintiff as the highest bidder purchased the road-side lands on the bank of a river together with the dandidari right for one year. It appeared from the lease granted to him by Government that he became entitled to occupy the lands for one year and to exercise the calling of a broker in the market held thereon during that period. The defendants took an assignment from the plaintiff of the dandidari right and they commenced at once to exercise the calling of a broker in the market-place by virtue of the Government license which was made over to them, but they withheld payment of the money they had agreed to pay. The plaintiff sued for recovery of the consideration with damages for unlawful detention of his money. Held, that the term dandidar literally means a measurer and is applied to signify a broker who negotiates the sale of paddy and other produce in a market-place and receives as remuneration for his service a commission from the seller and the buyer who may choose to employ a restriction upon a man's right to exercise his trade or calling tends to create a monopoly and is void as against public policy has no application to the present case. There is nothing illegal or contrary to public policy in Government allowing a market to be held on its land and taking measures to restrict the admission of brokers. That the dandidari right was not a right personal to the grantor from Government and could be transferred. The very fact that the right was granted by Government to the highest bidder affords some indication that the personal element does not enter into consideration when the grant is made That the dandidari right was transferable only by a registered instrument. That the defendants were at least licensees under the plaintiff, and as they had exercised their calling without interruption or interference they at any rate were not entitled to contend that the plaintiff had no title or that they themselves had acquired none from him. LAKHAN JENA v. ARJUN NAIK (1914) . 18 C. W. N. 1194

DANDIDARI RIGHT—contd.

DANGEROUS ARTICLE.

See GAS COMPANY . 14 C. W. N. 158

DARBAR SAHIB—

See GOLDEN TEMPLE, AMRITSAR.
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 511, 540

DARBHANGA RAJ.

See BABUANA GRANT.

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 582

DARPATNI (TENURE).

See LEASE . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 940

DASTURAT.

See MALIKANA . 15 C. W. N. 1029

———— Nature of the right of—Immoveable property, interest in—Circumstances justifying inference as to the existence and lawful origin of—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II, Art. 131—"Refusal," meaning of. The plaintiffs sued for a declaration of their right to recover certain sums of money as dasturat specified annual rates and for recovery of the sums as a charge on properties in the possession of the defendants. It appeared that the plaintiffs' claim for dasturat was asserted and allowed in Courts of law since 1795, sometimes in spite of opposition, on other occasions without opposition. Held, that the inference drawn by the lower Courts that the right alleged by the plaintiffs did exist and had a lawful origin was legitimate and the plaintiffs had an enforceable right to realise the sums claimed as dasturat from the defendants. That Art. 131 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act of 1877 was applicable to the case. That "refusal" in Art. 131 plainly implies a previous demand and as the plaintiffs asserted that there had been no demand and refusal within twelve years of the commencement of the present suit, the burden was cast upon the defendants to establish that the plaintiffs did make a demand and that the defendants did refuse, and as there was no evidence of this demand and refusal the suit was primâ facie not barred under Art. 131 That the right claimed was clearly in the nature of an interest in immoveable property being a right vested in the proprietors of a specified estate to receive certain sums of money periodically from proprietors of other estates in their character as such. Under the Limitation Act of 1859, a suit to recover such an interest would have to be brought within twelve years from the date when the cause of action arose upon the denial or refusal of the right and as it was not shown that there was any refusal while the Act of 1859 was in force, it must be held that the right was not extinguished before the Limitation Act of 1871 came into force HEM CHANDRA CHAUDHURI v. ATUL CHANDRA CHAKRABARTTY (1913) . . . . 19 C. W. N. 389

DASTURAT—contd.

DASTUR DEHI.

See PRE-EMPTION I. L. R. 35 All. 478

DATE OF BIRTH.

See EVIDENCE . L. R. 43 I. A. 256

DATE OF SALE.

See SALE . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 151

DATTAKA CHANDRIKA

See ADOPTION . . 26 C. W. N. 1

———— s. 5, paras. 24 & 25—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 270

DAUGHTER.

See HINDU LAW—DAUGHTERS' ESTATE.
I. L. R. 35 All. 481
38 All. 111

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1144
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 30

———— bequest to—

See HINDU LAW—WILL.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1007

See WILL . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 181

———— marriage of—

See WILL . L. R. 38 [illegible] 327

DAUGHTER—contd.

——— succession of—

See Custom . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 749
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 284, 365, 464
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 366

——— suit by, for possession of father's estate—

See Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 2, cl. (11), O. XXII, r. 1.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 382

——— Hindu Law—Mitakshara—Daughters inheriting property from their father—Shares separate and absolute—Tenants-in-common. In the Bombay Presidency a daughter taking property from her father inherits it as stridhan and daughters take their shares separately and absolutely. When the property so inherited is not physically divided, it is held by the daughters as tenants-in-common and not as joint tenants and there is no survivorship between them. In cases affecting inheritance the rule is to adhere to the decisions of the Court to which the district from which the case arose is subject. Vithappa v. Savitri (1910)
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 510

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW.

——— adoption by—

See Hindu Law . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 508

——— right to maintenance—

See Hindu Law—Maintenance.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 396

DAUGHTER'S SONS.

See Custom (Adoption).
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 193

See Will . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 697

——— Adoption of, Khatris of Amritsar—

See Custom (Adoption).
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 69

——— of the great-grandson of the great-great-grandfather—

See Hindu Law—Stridhan.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 82

DAYABHAGA.

See Hindu Law—Ayantuka Stridhan.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 86

See Hindu Law—Inheritance.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 603
I. L. R. 48 Calc. 643

See Hindu Law—Succession.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1

See Hindu Law—Minor.
26 C. W. N. 954

——— It governs Koches of Assam—

See Hindu Law . 24 C. W. N. 173

DEAD-LOCK.

See Company . I. L. R. 47 Calc. 654

DEAF AND DUMB ACCUSED.

See Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 341.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 598

DEATH.

——— of pleader in personal action—

See Personal Action.
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 189

——— presumption of—

See Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Arts. 140, 141 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 239

——— sentence of—

See Privy Council, Practice of.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 739

——— Presumption of—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 108—Person not heard of for seven years—Time as to when presumption arises—Onus of proof. When a person is not heard of for seven years, the presumption that arises under s. 108 of the Evidence Act is that he is dead at the time when the question is raised and not at some antecedent date. Fani Bhushan Banerjee v. Surjya Kanta Ray Chowdhry, I. L. R. 35 Calc. 25, followed. Moolla Kassim v. Moolla Abdul Rahim, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 173, referred to. Narki v. Lal Sahu (1909)
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 103

See also Evidence Act, ss. 107 and 108.
37 Mad. 440

DEBIT.

See Mortgage I. L. R. 39 Mad. 419

DEBT.

See Civil Procedure Code (1908), O. XXI, rr. 46, 546.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 51

See Hindu Law—Debt.
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 113
I. L. R. 36 Bom. 68

See Hindu Law—Joint Family.
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 72
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 17

See Payment towards Debt.

See Succession Certificate.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 182

See Time-barred Debt.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 444

——— attachment of—

See Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Sch. I, Arts. 29, 62 and 120.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 972

——— contracted in Singapore—

See Bankruptcy.
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 581

——— extinguishment of—

See Mortgage I. L. R. 38 Calc. 342

——— part of—

See Succession Certificate.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 10

——— payable in kind—

See Interest Act (XXXII of 1839).
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 464

DEBT—contd.

———— son's obligation to pay—

See HINDU LAW—DEBT.

I. L. R. 41 Mad. 136

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 341

———— Charge — Assignment —Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 55, sub-s. (4). There is no authority for the contention that a charge such as the one mentioned in s. 55, sub-s (4) of the Transfer of Property Act, is merely a personal right which cannot be transferred to an assignee. The debt could undoubtedly be transferred and there is no reason why the security for the debt should not also be transferred with it. Hari Ram v. Devapat Singh, I. L. R. 9 Calc 167, and Moti La' v. Bhagwan Das, I. L. R. 31 All. 443, distinguished. SHEONANDAN LAL v. ZAINAL ABDIN (1914)

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 849

———— Hypothecatee of debt has the right to sue for the debt hypothecated—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s 134. The holder of a charge on a debt due to his debtor is a transferee of an actionable claim and entitled to recover the debt from the transferor's debtor S. 134 of the Transfer of Property Act shows that the mortgagee is a transferee and entitled to sue in his own name for the recovery of the original debt. Where the original creditor is added as a party, the chargeholder, though not entitled to the whole amount, may recover the amount RAMASAMI PILLAI v MUTHU CHETTI (1910)

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 53

———— carrying interest—Payment without specific appropriation—Creditor's right to apply payment in discharge of interest first. Where a debt is due which carries interest, ppro-

, rule

that the money is first applied in payment of interest and then when that is satisfied in payment of the capital. MEKA VENKATADRI APPU ROW v. RAJA P. A. ROW . . . 26 C. W. N. 33

———— Due with interest— to appropriate any indefinite payment which he gets from

A debtor that it w

he did so, on these terms, but then he must give back the money or cheque by which the money was proffered. R. B. SETT NEMICHAND v. SETT RADHA KISHEN

26 C. W. N. 153

DEBTOR.

See EMBARRASSMENT.

I. L. R. 42 Calc. 652

See MORTGAGE . 23 C. W. N. 817

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s. 31 . I. L. R. 37 All. 383

DEBTOR—contd.

———— part payment by literate—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882), s. 69.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 438

———— rights of surety against—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI OF 1881), ss. 30, 47, 59, 74 AND 94 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 965

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 44 Calc. 535

DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 44 Calc. 899

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 53 . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 521

———— Acknowledgment of debtor's liability by another and acceptance of same by creditor—Rights of creditor—Novation—"Consideration"—Administration of justice in Courts in India on general principles of equity and justice —Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 2 (d) and 62. Where the transferee of a debtor's liability has acknowledged his obligation to the creditor for the debt to be paid by him, under the provisions of the registered instrument conveying to him all the moveable and immoveable properties of the original debtor, and the acknowledgment was communicated to the creditor and accepted by him: Held, first, that the arrangement between the creditor and the transferee did not amount to a novation within the meaning of s. 62 of the Contract Act; secondly, that the obligation undertaken by the transferee was for, and intended to be for, the benefit of the creditor; and, lastly, that the creditor is entitled to sue the transferee on the registered instrument. Tweddle v Atkinson, 1 B & S. 393, 121 E. R. 762, is inapplicable in British Courts in India. Khwaja Muhammad Khan v. Husaini Begam, I. L. R 32 All. 410; L R. 37 I. A. 152, Gregory and Parker v Williams, 3 Mer. 582; 36 E. R 224, Touche v Metropolitan Railway Warehousing Company, L. R 6 Ch App. 671, and Gandy v Gandy, 30 Ch. D 57, referred to. The definition of "consideration" in the Indian Contract Act is wider than the requirement of the English law The aim of the mofussil Courts of justice in British India is to do complete justice in one suit according to the general principles of justice, equity and good conscience. Rambux v. Chittangeo Modoosoodh in Paul Chowdhry, B. L. R. Sup. Vol. 675; 7 W. R. 377, referred to. DEBNARAYAN DUTT v. CHUNILAL GHOSE (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 137

———— Creditor, an alien enemy firm—Interest on debt—Debtor not entitled to claim suspension of interest from the date of outbreak of war to the date when the enemy firm obtains a license to trade. Where a person indebted to an alien enemy had paid interest in respect of a transaction entered into before the outbreak of hostilities and sought a refund of the amount paid for the period between the outbreak of hostilities and the date of a license to trade obtained by the enemy firm: Held, following the opinion expressed in High Stevenson and Sons v. Aktienge-sellschaft Fur Cartonnagen-Industrie, [1918] A. C. 239, that he was not entitled to such refund, as there was no suspension of interest in respect of such transactions during that period. VALLI MAHOMED v. BERTHOLD REIF (1919) . . I. L. R 44 Bom. 1

DEBUTTAR.

See Court-fee I. L. R. 39 Calc. 906

See Hindu Law—Endowment.

15 C. W. N. 126
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 33
L. R. 47 I. A. 140

See Land Acquisition.

I. L. R. 39 Calc. 33

See Religious Endowment.

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 1019

—————— suit against—

See Parties . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 229

—————— Order of successions of shebait as laid down in deed of endowment, if may be altered by donor. It is clear law that the donor of a debutter property can make no change in the order of succession of shebaits as laid down in the deed of endowment in the absence of a reservation to that effect in the deed. Gouri Kumari Dasi v. Indra Kumar Mukhopadhya

26 C. W. N. 920

—————— Suit against Debuttar estate—Expenses necessary for Debuttar estate—Indemnity to estate of former sebait by successor—Liability of Debuttar estate. The parties to this litigation were the descendants of a testator, who by his will dedicated immoveable property to the performance of the worship of certain idols and other pious acts, and provided for the order of succession to the office of sebait among his descendants. The suit was instituted on 25th January 1897 by the respondents as executors of a deceased sebait against the appellant, who had been appointed receiver of the debuttar estate, for money which, owing to interference and obstruction by the appellant in the collection of the rents, had not been received by the deceased sebait during his sebaitship, and for expenses he had consequently been obliged to pay out of his private funds to protect the estate, and enable him to perform his obligations as sebait. All the other surviving descendants of the testator were made parties, and the appellant was sued both in his capacity as receiver and in his personal capacity. After the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed for the suit, an amendment of the plaint was made by the Court, adding to it a prayer that it might be determined who was the sebait, and that the debuttar estate should be represented by the person declared to be entitled to the sebaitship. The appellant was found to be so entitled and was impleaded as sebait. Held, affirming the decision of the High Court, that the object of the amendment was merely to determine judicially which of the living descendants of the original testator, all of whom were already parties to the suit, was to be considered sebait. It did not alter the character of the suit, nor amount to the addition of a new defendant within the meaning of s. 22 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), and the suit was therefore not barred. Held, also, that the estate of the deceased sebait was entitled to be reimbursed all sums properly expended by him in the preservation of the debuttar estate (as payment of Government revenue and the like), and in defending his position as sebait which was challenged unsuccessfully by the appellant. Walters v. Woodbridge, L. R. 7 Ch. D. 504, followed. The respondents were also entitled to recover all moneys properly expended by the deceased sebait in performing the obligations imposed upon him by the original testator's will. The right of indemnity was incident to the position of a trustee, and the liability in respect of that indemnity was the first charge on the trust estate. Peary Mohun Mukerjee v. Narendra Nath Mukerjee (1909)

I. L. R. 37 Calc. 229

—————— Presumption, conditions of—If may be made in favour of an illegal transaction—Debutter lands, intention to create permanent tenancy of, if may be presumed. A presumption in favour of a transaction assumes of its regularity: it cannot be made in favour of that which offends legal principle. Where lands are debutter, to create a permanent tenancy at a fixed rent under it would be a breach of duty in the shebait and an intention in the shebait to create such tenancy is not therefore presumable. Satya Sri Ghoshal v. Kartik Chandra Das (1912)

16 C. W. N. 418

——————Grounds for removal of trustee—Sale of debutter property and purchase by shebait discussed. Monohar Mookerjee v. Raja Peary Mohan Mookerjee

24 C. W. N. 478

DECEPTION.

See Fabricating False Document.

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 911

DECISION BASED ON OATH.

See Res Judicata.

I. L. R. 36 Mad. 287

DECLARATIONS AND INJUNCTIONS.

See Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act (1876), s. 4 (a) I. L. R. 34 Bom. 232
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 277
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 261

See Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 15 I. L. R. 34 Bom. 676

See Civil Procedure Code, 1908—
s. 9 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 527
s. 110 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 477

See Court Fees Act, s. 17.

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 628

See Declaratory Decree and Suit.

See Hindu Law—Coparcener.

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 329

See Injunction.

See Jurisdiction.

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 267

See Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905), ss. 5, 6, 7 and 14.

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 727

See Municipal Council.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 6

See Municipal Law.

L. R. 43 I. A. 243

See Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42 . . I. L. R. 32 All. 316
14 C. W. N. 576
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 438

DECLARATIONS AND INJUNCTIONS—contd.

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), s. 57.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 349

See VALUATION OF SUIT.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 507

———— form of—

See LAND ACQUISITION.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 797

———— suit for—

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT, SS. 25 AND 26 I. L. R. 40 Bom. 55

———— Public road—Right of marching in procession with a car—Suit for declaration of right—Injunction restraining interference with the right. Plaintiffs sued on behalf of themselves and of other members of a religious community to have a declaration of their right of marching in procession with a car along a particular public road to certain temples and for an injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with the plaintiffs. The defendants contended that the plaintiffs had no right to march along the road. The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that the road being public the plaintiffs could not sue unless special damage were shown and proved. On second appeal by the plaintiffs. Held, reversing the decree and allowing the claim, that the suit was not for removal of a public nuisance but for a declaration of the right of an individual community to use the public road Every member of the public and every sect has a right to use the public streets in a lawful manner and it lies on those who would restrain him or it to show some law or custom having the force of law abrogating the privilege Sadgopachariar v. A. Rama Rao, I. L. R. 26 Mad. 376, followed. BASLINGAPPA PARAPPA v. DHARMAPPA BASAPPA (1910) . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 571

———— A suit for a declaration that a mortgage-decree is not binding on the plaintiff and for an injunction restraining the defendant from executing the same is a suit for a declaratory decree with consequential relief within the meaning of s. 7, cl. (4) (c) of the Court Fees Act and an ad valorem fee is payable on the valuation fixed in the plaint.—ARUNACHALAM CHETTY v. RANGASAWMY PILLAI (1914)
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 922

———— Valuation of claim. In a suit for a declaration and for an injunction by way of consequential relief, the plaintiff has the right to value his claim for the purpose of Court-fees; and the value for the purpose of jurisdiction is the same. BALKRISHNA NARAYAN v. JANKIBAI . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 331

DECLARATION OF LONDON.

See CONFISCATION.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 334

See PRIZE COURT I. L. R. 44 Bom. 61

DECLARATION OF OWNERSHIP.

See LESSOR AND LESSEE.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1042

DECLARATION OF PARIS.

See CONFISCATION.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 334

DECLARATION OF VALUE.

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890), s. 75.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 1029

DECLARATORY DECREE.

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901), ss. 79, 95 . . I. L. R. 35 All. 299

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 11 I. L. R. 37 Bom. 307

See COURT-FEE I. L. R. 40 Calc. 615

See HINDU LAW—GIFT
I. L. R. 40 Mad. 818

———— effect of—

See DIGWARI TENURE.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 743

———— Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42—Suit by alleged reversioner for declaration of title—Legal interest or character ... revoke probate ... robate Court— ... Hindu widow, not analogous—Rule of res judicata, origin and application of—Rule existing in Hindu as well as English law . On an application to the District Court, by the first respondent, for probate of the will of B, a Hindu who died leaving two widows but no male issue, the appellants entered a caveat denying the genuineness of the will, and asserting that they were the reversioners of B and had therefore a locus standi to oppose the grant of probate. The District Court held that the caveators had failed to prove their interest, and granted probate of the will to the first respondent as executor by implication The High Court on appeal affirmed that decision, and the appellants without any further appeal instituted a suit in the Subordinate Judge's Court against the first respondent and the two widows for a declaration that they were the next reversioners to the estate of B according to Hindu Law in the case of an intestacy, and as such were entitled to obtain revocation of probate. The first Court gave them a decree, but on appeal the High Court held that the suit was barred by s 13 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, as being res judicata by the decision of the District Court in the probate proceedings. Held, by the Judicial Committee (without deciding the question of res judicata, that the suit was not maintainable with reference to s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877): the will had been affirmed by a Court of appropriate jurisdiction, and its decision could not be impugned by a Court exercising a different jurisdiction: for the purposes of the suit the will must stand, and there was no intestacy. The appellants had therefore shown no legal character or title which would justify them in asking for the declaration sought, and the suit must be dismissed as misconceived and incompetent. The right of a reversioner to sue where a widow in possession for her life estate was committing acts of waste to the prejudice of those who might succeed to the property on her death, was not analogous: such a position necessarily assumed the absence of an immediate and absolute testamentary disposition Suits of that kind formed a very special class and the question in them was one solely between the reversioner and the widow, the former being unable by such a suit to get as between himself and a third party an adjudication of title which he could not obtain without DECLARATORY DECREE—contd.

it. Kathama Natchair v. Dorasinga Tever, I. R. 2 I. A. 169, referred to. Semble: The rule of res judicata while founded on ancient precedent is dictated by a wisdom which is for all time: see 6 Coke's Institutes 9A. Though the rule may be traced to an English source, it embodies a doctrine in no way opposed to the spirit of the law as expounded by the Hindu Commentators. Vijnanesvara and Nilakantha include the plea of a former judgment among those allowed by law, citing for this purpose a text of Kalyayana: see Mitakshara (Vyavahara) Book II, Ch. I (edited by J. R. Gharpure), p. 14; and Mayukha, Ch I., s. 1, p. 11, of Mandlik's edition. The application of the rule by the Courts in India should therefore be influenced by no technical considerations of form but by matter of substance within the limits allowed by law. SHEOPARSAN SINGH v. RAMANANDAN PRASAD SINGH (1916)
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 694

———— Execution by Hindu widow, in possession of her husband's estate, of deed purporting to confer absolute interest in property to one reversioner to the exclusion of others—Right of excluded reversioners to declaration that the deed is not binding on them—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42, ill. (e). Where a Hindu widow (defendant 1) in possession of her husband's estate had executed a deed purporting to confer the absolute interest in the property on one of the reversioners (defendant 3) to the exclusion of others who claimed to be also reversionary heirs (plaintiffs): Held, that under s. 42, illustration (e) of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) the plaintiffs who as heirs ranked equally with defendant 3 were entitled to a declaration that the deed was not binding on them, notwithstanding that they may never get any title because events may preclude them from doing so, and though such a declaration involves a finding that the plaintiffs are reversionary heirs. Janaki Ammal v. Narayanasami Aiyer, I. L. R. 39 Mad. 634; L. R. 43 I. A. 207 distinguished. SAUDAGAR SINGH v. PARDIP NARAYAN SINGH (1917)
I. L. R. 45 Calc. 510

———— Power of Courts in Santal Parganas to grant. A Court in Santal Parganas had power to decree a suit for a declaration coupled with a claim for consequential relief. LALA SHAHA v. KADO MAHTO . 6 Pat. L. J. 87

DECLARATORY SUIT.

See ARREARS OF REVENUE.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 331

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT.
1 Pat. L. J. 67
s. 106 . . 15 C. W. N. 110

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), s. 9.
I. L. R. 37 All. 313

See COURT-FEE I. L. R. 39 Calc. 704
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 245

See DECLARATION AND INJUNCTION AND DECLARATORY DECREE.

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM. III OF 1874), ss. 25, 36.
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 101
s. 67 . . I. L. R. 33 Bom. 420

DECLARATORY SUIT—contd.

See INJUNCTION I. L. R. 47 Calc. 733

See JURISDICTION I. L. R. 35 Bom. 264
I. L. R. 34 All. 358

See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD. III OF 1905).
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 674

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871), ss. 4, 5, 6 . I. L. R. 37 All. 338

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), s. 42 . . . 14 C. W. N. 576
I. L. R. 36 All. 312

See VALUATION OF SUITS.
5 Pat. L. J. 397

See WAKF . I. L. R. 33 All. 660

———— By a worshipper of a Khankah—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1903, ARTS. 120, 134, 144 . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 66

———— By a reversioner to a Hindu widow—

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ARTS. 120, 125 . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 69

———— In respect of property partly in possession of the Court and partly of tenants—Custom—Adoption—Mahesris of Delhi—Power of widow to adopt without husband's authority or collateral's consent—Hindu Law. One Mussammat D., the widow of J. K., a Mahesri of Delhi, adopted her minor brother M. D. After her death the present plaintiff-respondent, cousin of J. K., brought the present suit for a declaration against the minor and his father that he is the owner of a certain house and for an injunction. It appeared that 3 rooms in the house were in the possession of the Court and the remaining portions were occupied by tenants who had not attorned to either party. Held, that under the circumstances the suit for a declaration without consequential relief was maintainable. Chinnamal v. Varadaraju (I. L. R. 15 Mad. 307) and Mussammat Lachhmi Bai v. Mussammat Hondi Bai (100 P. R. 1913), referred to. Held, also, that in the matter of adoption Mahesris follow custom and not strict Mitakshara Law and that defendants-appellants on whom the onus rested had proved that among them a widow can adopt to her deceased husband in cases, as in the present one, where her husband had separate property and was not a member of a joint family and that neither the authority of her husband nor the consent of collaterals was necessary to validate the adoption. Mathura Das Karnani v. Sri Kissen Karnani (44 Indian Cases 5), referred to. Cases No. 1524 of 1913 (unpublished), distinguished. KALU RAM v. PIARAI LAL . . . . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 92

DECREE.

See AMENDMENT OF DECREE.

See CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV OF 1869), s. 32 . . I. L. R. 38 Bom. 662

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882—

ss. 235, 320 . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 142

ss. 268, 278, 283.
I. L. R. 33 Bom. 631

DECREE—contd.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT—
s. 85 . . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 354
ss. 88, 89 . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 321

——— after adverse possession—
See LIMITATION I. L. R. 44 Bom. 934

——— against a deceased person—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O. XXI, R. 7 I. L. R. 40 All. 423

——— against a company, before liquidation—
See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913), s. 207 . I. L. R. 38 All. 407

——— against a father—
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 17

——— against recorded tenant, effect of—
See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 75

——— against Talukdar—
See GUJARAT TALUKDARS' ACT (BOM. ACT VI OF 1888), s. 29E.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 44

——— against widow for husband's debt—
See HINDU LAW—WIDOW.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 565

——— against wife—
See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 454

——— alteration of—
See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 623, 649

——— assignment of—
See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.
I. L. R. 43 Calc. 990

——— based on perjured evidence—
See FRAUD . I. L. R. 37 All. 535

——— by Instalments—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXXIV, R. 14 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 981

——— by mutual consent—
See HUSBAND AND WIFE.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 629

——— conditional, on money being paid into Court—
See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 39 All. 193

——— construction of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O. XXXIV, RR. 4, 5 AND 10.
I. L. R. 40 All. 109
See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 37 All. 97

——— execution—Claim to property—
See ATTACHMENT.
I. L. R. 45 Bom. 1020

——— ex-parte—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, SS. 47 AND 144 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 702

DECREE—contd.

——— ex-parte—contd.
s. 148, O. IX, R. 3.
I. L. R. 36 All. 77
See EX-PARTE DECREE.
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES ACT, 1887, s. 17 . . I. L. R. 43 All. 438

——— extension of time for payment limited by—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, 148, 151, O. XXXIV, R. 8.
I. L. R. 42 All. 639
I. L. R. 43 All. 2

——— for balance—
See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 47 Calc. 370

——— for costs—
See CONTRIBUTION.
I. L. R. 32 All. 585

——— for joint possession—
See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1036

——— for less than amount claimed—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), O. XXXIII, RR. 10 AND 11.
I. L. R. 38 All. 469

——— for money—
See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 298
See EASEMENT . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 59
See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 75

——— for order of abatement of suit—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXII, RR. 3, 5, 9 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 493

——— for redemption—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), SS. 11, 47.
I. L. R. 42 Bom. 246

——— for restitution of conjugal rights—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXI, R. 33 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 972

——— for sale—
See ESTOPPEL . I. L. R. 48 Calc. 591
See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 37 All. 309
47 Calc. 370, 662

——— in preemption case—
See PRE-EMPTION DECREE.
I. L. R. 2 Lah. 281

——— form of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—
O. XIII, R. 7 . I. L. R. 43 All. 318
O. XXI, R. 35 I. L. R. 34 All. 150
See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 966
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.
I. L. R. 37 Mad. 435
See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 36 All. 36 & 123
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 378
I. L. R. 38 Bom. 24

DECREE—contd.

——— in terms of award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 443. I. L. R. 44 Bom. 202

——— knowledge of—

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 394

——— mistake whether a ground for altering—

See RES JUDICATA . 1 Pat. L. J. 313

——— modifying decree of Lower Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, s. 110. I. L. R. 43 All. 220

——— modification of, after appeal—

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 548

——— mortgage suit—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 47, O. XXII, R 10. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 488

——— mortgage of—

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 33 Mad. 429

——— nature of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SS. 132 AND 75 . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 981

——— of Appellate Court—

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 925

——— of Revenue Court—

See PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT, 1887, s. 117 . . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 223

——— of Small Cause Court—

See AMENDMENT OF DECREE. . I. L. R. 1 Lah. 342

——— on compromise—

See COMPROMISE DECREE. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 344 ——— part assignment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXI, R. 16 . I. L. R. 35 All. 204

——— passed in ignorance of the death of one of the respondents—

See APPEAL, PARTIES TO AN. I. L. R. 39 Mad. 386

——— payable by instalments—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ART. 182 (7) I. L. R. 39 All. 230

——— payment or adjustment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXI, R. 2 . I. L. R. 46 Bom. 91

——— power to alter—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 44 Calc. 759

——— reversed in appeal—

See ASSIGNEE OF A MONEY-DECREE. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 36

——— revivor of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882, s. 244. 14 C. W. N. 357

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), SCH. I, ART. 183 . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1127

DECREE—contd.

——— satisfaction of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s. 257A. I. L. R. 38 Bom. 219

——— security for performance of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908), s. 145 . . I. L. R. 39 All. 225

——— setting aside of—

See JURISDICTION L. R. 46 I. A. 140

See MISTAKE . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 217

——— suit on—

See EXECUTOR DE SON TORT, LIABILITY AS . . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 423

——— transfer of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), SS 47 AND 50. I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1076

s. 48, O. XXI, I. L. R. 35 Bom. 103

s. 144 . . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 299

See POLITICAL AGENT AT SIKKIM. I. L. R. 38 Calc. 859

——— upon compromise—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 48 I. L. R. 39 Bom. 256

——— whether creates a mortgage—

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 2 Lah. 53

——— without evidence—

See EX-PARTE DECREE I. L. R. 43 Calc. 1001

1. ALTERATION, AMENDMENT AND SETTING ASIDE OF DECREE.

See LIMITATION . 2 Pat. L. J. 206

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 649

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE. I. L. R. 27 Calc. 623

———by Court which granted it—

See AMENDMENT OF DECREE. I. L. R. 1 Lah. 342

1. ——— By Subordinate Judge of his decree after it had been affirmed by the High Court on appeal—Future interest struck out of decree not being in accordance with judgment—Amendment limited to one decree-holder of joint decree on appeal to High Court—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, ss. 206—209. A joint and several mortgage decree passed by the court of a Subordinate Judge under s. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), which gave future interest on the amount decreed, was affirmed on appeal by the High Court. Subsequently, on the application of the judgment-debtor (the respondent, who had deposited in the court the whole amount due under the decree, including future interest) the Subordinate Judge, notwithstanding objections by the decree-holders, amended his decree by striking out the future interest on the ground that such interest was not [illegible] judgment on which the decree was based. The decree-holders (the appellant and another who was a transferee of the original decree-holders) made separate applications to the High Court for revision of the Subordinate Judge's order. On the application of the transferee decree-holder, a Bench of the High Court held that the Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to amend a decree which had been affirmed by the High Court, and set aside his order, but only so far as it affected the transferee decree-holder. On the appellant's application the same Bench held that under the circumstances it was not a case in which they ought to exercise their discretionary power of revision. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that if the order of amendment was without jurisdiction as altering a decree after it had been amended on appeal, the alteration was equally ineffectual in the appellant's case as in the case of the other decree-holder, and should not have been allowed to stand; and the appeal was therefore decreed. BRIJ NARAIN v. TEJBAL BIKRAM BAHADUR (1910) . . I. L. R. 32 All. 295

DECREE—contd.

1. ALTERATION, AMENDMENT AND SETTING ASIDE OF DECREE—contd.

2. ———— Decree of competent Court, if may be challenged in a fresh suit—Fraud practised on the Court, to be proved—Ex-parte mortgage decree set aside against one defendant—Re-hearing, fresh decree against all—Application for order absolute in respect of later decree, opposed by defendants against whom previous decree not set aside—Objection overruled and decree made absolute—Suit to set aside decree on same grounds, if competent—Merger of first decree in second, whether there is—First decree, whether impliedly set aside. Upon an application to set aside an ex-parte mortgage decree passed against P, R and B, it was found that there was no proper service of summons upon B, and upon a re-hearing, a new and comprehensive decree against all three defendants was passed. The decree-holder's application for an order absolute in respect of this decree was opposed by R on the ground that he was no party at the re-hearing and that the previous decree against him, never having been set aside, a second decree in respect of the same matter could not be legally made against him. The objections were overruled and a decree absolute was made against all the defendants. R then brought the present suit for a declaration upon the same grounds that the second decree was ineffectual and void as against him. Held, that the suit was equivalent to a suit for the rescission and destruction of a former decree of a competent Court—a relief which could not be obtained except on the ground of fraud practised upon the Court which made the decree. A challenge of the method of the exercise of the jurisdiction of a Court—a challenge which has reference to the merits of the case—can never in law justify a denial of the existence of such jurisdiction. RAJWANT PRASAD PANDE v. MAHANT RAM RATAN GIR (1915) . . . . 20 C. W. N. 35

3. ———— Conditional decree—Ordering a plaintiff to make a payment within a specified time—Court not competent to extend time limited—Civil Procedure Code (1908), s. 114—Review of judgment—Jurisdiction. Except in the case of mortgage decrees, where a Court by its decree orders a party to make a payment, or take certain action within a specified time and provides that certain detrimental consequences shall follow in the event of non-compliance with its order, the Court itself has no jurisdiction to extend the time limited by the decree, save on an application for review under s. 114 read with O. XLVII, r. 1, of the Code of Civil Procedure. Naik Ram v. Bhagwan Chand, 15 A. L. J. 511, overruled. SAJJADI BEGAM v. DILAWAR HUSAIN (1918) I. L. R. 40 All. 579

4. ———— Clerical or arithmetical mistake—Whether successive applications for amendment of decree maintainable—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), ss. 13, 206—Inherent power of Court. A Court is competent to entertain successive applications for amendment of clerical or arithmetical mistake in a decree, or of error arising therein from any accidental slip or omission. Such applications for amendment of a decree are not barred by the rule of res judicata. But if an application for amendment has been heard and disposed of on the merits, a subsequent application may not be maintained in the same matter, and it may be barred upon general principles of law. The power to amend a decree so as to correct a clerical or arithmetical mistake therein, or an error arising from an accidental slip or omission, is inherent in every Court and may be exercised at any time the error is discovered, although the Court cannot exercise such power unless the error is of the description mentioned in s. 206 of the Code of 1882. LANGAT SINGH v. JANKI KOER (1911) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 265

5. ———— Rectification of—Suit if lies to rectify a decree in a previous suit. Where a decree was passed by a Court which had jurisdiction and authority to make it and the judgment-debtors failed to adopt the remedies for correcting the decree which were open to them by law, by reason of their omission to ascertain the terms of the decree in time, a suit to rectify the decree is not maintainable. Chand Mea v. Asima Banu, 10 C. W. N. 1024, Jogeswar Atha v. Ganga Bishnu Ghattack, 8 C. W. N. 473, Sri Gopal v. Pirthi Singh, 6 C. W. N. 889, referred to. BHANDI SINGH v. DOWLAT RAY (1912) 17 C. W. N. 82

6. ———— Decree incapable of execution—Amendment of decree—Limitation—Time if runs from date of amendment. A decree which does not specify the reliefs granted, is incapable of execution and cannot be considered as time-barred and legally dead even though three years have elapsed from the date of the decree. An application for execution of a decree for rent which was originally incapable of execution, is not barred by limitation, although presented more than three years after the date of decree but within three years from the date of amendment of the decree making it capable of execution. MOHAMAYA PROSAD SINGH v. ABDUL HAMID (1913) 18 C. W. N. 266

7. ———— Not in accordance with judgment—A decree must be self-contained and must be executed as it stands. If it is not in accordance with the judgment, application should be made for its amendment. BHIKARI SUKUL v. GADADHAR RAMANUJ DAS (1912) 17 C. W. N. 87

DECREE—contd.

1. ALTERATION, AMENDMENT AND SETTING ASIDE OF DECREE—contd.

8. ———— Mistake—To justify rectification there must be very strong grounds, such as, that the decree was obtained by some grave mistake vitiating the whole character of the decree so that its execution would amount to an abuse. Jogeswar Atta v. Ganga Bishnu Ghattack, 8 C. W. N. 473 and Chand Mea v. Srimati Asima Banu, 10 C. W. N. 1024, referred to, SREENATH DASS v. GHANESHYAM NAIK (1917) . 3 Pat. L. J. 465

9. ———— Mortgage decree—Application for decree absolute after expiry of limitation and without notice to mortgagor—Suit to set aside. A suit will not lie to set aside a decree absolute merely on the ground that the application was barred by limitation and no notice given to the mortgagor. BHAIJA PARWA v. JANNA KHAN 3 Pat. L. J. 478

10. ———— Compromise—If a decree expiry of a compromise is inaccurate the only cause is a separate suit to set it aside for grave mistake, etc. RAM LAYAN SAHU v RAM BIRICH KOER 5 Pat. L. J. 205

11. ———— Fraud— Decree-power of court set aside for fraud—The mere fact that a decree is obtained by fraud is not per se sufficient for the Court to set it aside—If obtained in respect of a non-existant subject matter a court can set aside even its own decree. Nanda Kumar Halder v. Ramjiban Halder I. L. R. 4 Calc. 990, approved CHATTU SINGH v. RAI RADHA KISHEN 4 Pat. L. J. 187

2. CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE.

1. ———— Decree in suit— Suit by mortgagor for account—Application for redemption decree in appeal—Redemption decree passed by Court in appeal—Decree in the suit—Interpretation—Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879), s. 15D, cl. (3). Held, dismissing the second appeal, that when the decree of the lower Court is reversed or varied in appeal, the decree of the Appellate Court becomes the decree in the suit which is to be executed in execution proceedings. NAVLAJI SARDARMAL v. RAMA DHONDI (1909) . . . . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 158

2. ———— Decree for rent— Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), ss. 65, 159, 160, 167—Suit for entire rent by person for the time being found to be sole landlord, subsequently held to be a co-sharer —Decree, if rent-decree or money-decree—Purchaser at rent sale, if may annul subordinate interest without annulling superior interest immediately under him—Remand—Transfer of analogous case for trial by one Court. Where certain persons who were alleged to be only co-sharers, being found by the Court of first instance to be the 16 annas proprietors of certain zamindari properties, took possession of the whole of the properties in execution of their decree pending an appeal to the High Court and were maintained in possession even after the High Court had set aside the decree and until it was decided by the Privy Council agreeing with the High Court that they had only a two-thirds share in the properties: Held, that a decree for the entire rent obtained by them during this period in a suit instituted after they had got themselves registered as 16 annas

DECREE—contd.

2. CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE—contd.

proprietors under the Land Registration Act was a decree for rent within the meaning of s. 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. That they were then the only persons competent to maintain a rent suit, and for the purposes of that suit they completely represented the estate of the landlords. The purchaser of a tenure at a rent sale cannot annul a subordinate interest leaving untouched a superior interest immediately subordinate to the interest purchase by him. MAFIJUDDIN SARDAR v. ASHUTOSH CHAKERBUTTY (1910) 14 C. W. N. 352

3. ———— Order dismissing an appeal for default—Appeal from such an order—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 2, sub-s. (2); O. XLI, r. 17. An order dismissing, for default, an appeal under O. XLI, r. 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is not a "decree" within the meaning of s 2 of the Code, and as such is not appealable. Radha Nath Singh v. Chandi Charan Singh, I. L. R. 30 Calc. 660, Ramchandra Pandurang Naik v. Madaw Purushottam Naik, I. L. R. 16 Bom. 23. Pohlar Singh v. Gopal Singh, I. L. R. 14 All. 361, referred to. RUKMINIMAYI DASI v. PARAN CHANDRA BHERA (1910) I. L. R. 39 Calc. 341

[illegible]

orders in [illegible] ocedure Code (Act [illegible] which does not [illegible] t lands to be given to plaintiff who sued for possession of all the lands in suit but merely declared the right of the defendant to remain in possession of a portion of the lands of the whole of which she was in possession, is one that is not capable of execution by the plaintiff, by way of possession of the rest being given to him, especially when there was not even a declaration of plaintiff's right to the rest of the lands. A question whether a decree is executable or not is certainly one that comes within ss. 2 and 47 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), the former of which enacts that the determination of any questions within s. 47 is a decree; an appeal lies from such determination under s. 2. The determination of a mere issue by the executing Court, made prior to the passing of the final order, would not be regarded as an adjudication between the parties against which an appeal would lie. Venkatagiri Iyer v. Sadagopachariar, 14 Mad. L. J. 359, referred to. Orders in execution which declare (i) that execution shall issue and that a Commissioner be appointed for carrying out execution, (ii) that interest is payable, and (iii) that a party is entitled to mesne profits are appealable, though the final orders determining the extent of amount will have to be passed only thereafter. Narayana Pattar v. Gopalakrishna Pattar, I. L. R. 28 Mad. 355, Ram Kirpal v. Rup Kuari, I. L. R. 6 All. 269, Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v. Bijai Bahadur Singh, I. L. R. 23 All. 152, Maharaja of Burduan v. Tara Sundari Debi, I. L. R. 9 Calc. 619, and Deoki Nandan Singh v. Bansi Singh, 14 C. L. J 35, referred to. Held, that an appeal against a preliminary order in execution can be filed even after the date of the final order, which merely carries out and is consequential on the preliminary order, though no appeal has been filed against

DECREE—contd.

2. CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE—contd.

the final order. Uman Kunwari v. Jarbhandan, I. L. R. 30 All. 479, followed. Mackenzie v. Narsingh Sahai, I. L. R. 36 Calc. 762, Kuriya Mal v. Bishambhar Das, I. L. R. 32 All. 225, Madhu Sudan v. Kamini Kanta Sen, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 1023, Baikuntha Nath Dey v. Nawab Salimulla Bahadur, 12 C. W. N. 590, and Narain Das v. Balgobind, 8 All. L. J. 604, not followed. Similarly an appeal against an order of remand can be filed even after the date of the final decree consequential on remand. Subba Sastri v. Balachandra Sastri, I. L. R. 18 Mad. 421, and Mullikarjuna v. Pathaneni, I. L. R. 19 Mad. 479, followed. Where a right and jurisdiction are conferred expressly by statute they cannot be taken away or cut down except by express words or by necessary implication. When the law gives a person two remedies, he is entitled to avail himself of either of them unless they are inconsistent. There is no question of election in such cases, Gulab Koer v. Badshah Bahadur, 13 C. W. N. 1197, followed. With the reversal of the earlier order the later order which depends for its validity upon the earlier one, ipso facto ceases to have any force. LAKSHMI v. MARU DEVI (1914) . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 29

5. ———— Garnishee order—Revenue payable on estate ordered to be paid into Court—Revenue in future can be ordered to be paid—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXI, r. 52—Darkhast kept alive as long as the decree remains unsatisfied—Practice and procedure. Under a consent decree the sum found due was made payable in instalments; and the plaintiff was to be put in possession of the defendants' lands and also to receive the defendants' share of the revenues of three Inam villages. In the execution proceedings under the decree in 1894, a consent order was taken whereby defendant No. 1 was constituted the plaintiff's tenant of the lands and the revenues of the villages were to be paid to the plaintiff through the Court. The Court then passed an order to the effect that the Revenues of the villages should be paid by the village officers into Court. The payments so made were made over to the plaintiff till 1892, when the Court struck off the application for execution on the ground that the Court was functus officio for all purposes of execution as soon as it had put the plaintiff in possession of the lands in 1895 and issued one garnishee order of the same year. The plaintiff having appealed: Held, that the order passed upon the darkhast of 1894 continued alive and effective up to 1912, and would remain in force till the plaintiff's debt was satisfied. PER CURIAM: Property attached yielding a revenue or producing interest or dividends is within the meaning and contemplation of all garnishee orders issued under O. XXI, r. 52 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908); and that such interest or dividend becoming due, and therefore in the future, is expressly provided for in that rule, and it would follow upon the same principle that if an estate yielding a revenue were properly attachable under the same rule, then revenue in futuro would be for all the purposes of such attachment on the same footing as interest or dividend. UMABAI v. AMRITRAO ANANT (1914) I. L. R. 39 Bom. 80

DECREE—contd.

2. CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE—contd.

6. ———— Baroda Court Decree— Defendant's objection to jurisdiction and other pleas—Defendant's contentions overruled—Decree against defendant—Transfer of decree to a British Court for execution—Refusal to execute the decree on the ground of nullity—Voluntary submission to the jurisdiction of the Baroda Court—Execution by British Court. In a suit brought in a Baroda Court, the defendant objected to the jurisdiction of the Court to try the suit and also raised other pleas. The Court overruled the defendant's contentions and passed a decree against him. The decree having been subsequently transferred to a British Court for execution that Court refused to execute it on the ground of its being a nullity as the defendant had not voluntarily submitted to the jurisdiction of the Baroda Court he having protested against the right of that Court to entertain the suit at the earliest opportunity. Held, that, having regard to circumstances, the case was one of voluntary submission to the jurisdiction of the Baroda Court as the defendant had raised other pleas along with his objection to the jurisdiction of the Court to entertain the suit and that the decree passed by that Court could be executed by a British Court. Parry & Co. v. Appasami Pillai, I. L. R. 2 Mad. 407, distinguished. HARCHAND PANAJI v. GULABCHAND KANJI (1914) . . I. L. R. 39 Bom. 34

7. ———— Difference between consent decree and decree made on consent—Fraud. Per JENKINS, C. J.—It is well settled that a contract of parties is none the less a contract because there is superadded to it the command of a Judge. It still is a contract of the parties and as the contract is capable of being rectified for an appropriate mistake, so, as a necessary consequence, is the decree which is merely a more formal expression given to that contract. There is no analogy between such a decree and a decree obtained upon contest and giving accurate expression to the Court's intention, and a fresh suit does not lie to set it aside on the ground that the Judge was mistaken. Per HOLMWOOD, J. (concurring). It does not matter whether the decree accurately expresses the intention of the judgment as that is a matter for amendment and not a separate suit. Per JENKINS, C. J. A decree can be set aside on the ground of fraud if of the required character. KUSODHAJ BHAKTA v. BROJO MOHAN BHAKTA (1915) . . . . 19 C. W. N. 1228

8. ———— Divisibility—Decision in the absence of defendant—Summons against one of two defendants residing outside British India returned unserved—Compromise of suit by the other defendant both for himself and the absent defendant acting on power of attorney empowering management of business and institution, conduct and defence of suit—Compromise decree if binding on absent defendant—Decree set aside even as against defendant present on the ground of decree being indivisible. The plaintiff and the four defendants were partners. The first three defendants brought a suit against the plaintiff and the fourth defendant for dissolution of partnership and other incidental reliefs. The plaintiff was at the time admittedly residing outside British India in Rajputana and the summons which was issued against him was returned by the Political Agent at Rajputana with the remark that it was impossible to serve it upon the defendant in time as the date fixed for the hearing of the case was too close at hand. Before the summons so returned had reached the Court the suit was compromised by the fourth defendant both for himself and the plaintiff. The fourth defendant professed to represent the plaintiff on the basis of a power of attorney in his favour which authorised him to manage the partnership business, to continue, institute, prosecute, defend or oppose all suits that were or might be brought by or against the executant in respect of his business and property. The plaintiff sued to have the compromise decree set aside: Held, that the Code contemplates service of summons upon the party sought to be made liable and the position in the present case being in substance the same as if no summons had ever been issued for service on the defendant, the decree made against the plaintiff could not bind him. A judgment made under such circumstances as happened in the present case when the summons issued against the defendant was returned unserved may be set aside on the ground that the defendant must in essence be a party to the suit before the plaintiff can have judgment against him. That the decree was also liable to be set aside on the ground that the power of attorney did not authorise the fourth defendant to bind the plaintiff by the compromise That the decree was liable to be set aside not only in so far as the plaintiff was concerned but also with regard to the fourth defendant because the decree on the face of it was indivisible and could not be set aside in part. That the effect of the order of the High Court was to discharge the entire decree in the suit and to revive it for retrial CHATTERJEE BRAHMIN v DURGADUTT AGARWALLA (1915) . . 20 C. W. N. 943

DECREE—contd.

2. CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE—contd.

9. ——— For mesne profits is appealable and in suit praying for same ad valorem Court fee can be claimed, Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v. Bijai Bahadur Singh, I L. R. 33 All. 152, followed. NAND KUMAR SINGH v BILAS RAM MARWARI (1917) . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 67

10. ——— Merger of appeal—Dismissal for default—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 2 (2); O. XXI, r. 22—Omission to give notice under O. XXI, r. 22, effect of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), s. 155 (3)—Extension of time under s. 155 (3). The original decree is merged in the appellate decree whether the latter confirms, decree, and it i can be execut
Saiba, I. L. 1
Lakshman, 24 C. L. J. 517, referred to. But this doctrine cannot be applied where the appeal is dismissed for default. In such a case the appeal fails for non-prosecution, and it cannot be said that the Court of Appeal adopts the decree of the Primary Court. The judgment of the Lower Court therefore, is the judgment to be enforced. Bipro Das v. Chundra Seekur, 7 W. R. 521, referred to. S. 2 (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, expressly provides that any order of dismissal for default is not a decree. The notice prescribed by s. 248 of the Code of Civil Procedure now replaced by O. XXI, r. 12, is necessary in order that the Court may obtain jurisdiction to proceed against the property of the judgment-debtor by way of execution. The omission to give notice, as required by the rule, is not a mere irregularity which makes the proceedings voidable but is a defect which goes to the very root of the proceedings and renders it void for want of jurisdiction Gopal Chunder v. Gunamani Dasi, I. L. R. 20 Calc. 370, Sahdeo Pandey v. Ghasiram, I. L R. 21 Calc. 19, Parashram v. Balmukund, I. L. R 32 Bom 572, referred to. S. 155 of the Bengal Tenancy Act enables the Court to give the tenant relief on the footing that there shall be no forfeiture at all when relief is granted; the forfeiture is stopped in limnie, so that there is no question of any destruction of an interest which has to be called into existence again. It is competent to the Court to entertain an application for extension of the period fixed by the decree for the performance thereof under s 155 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act Whether an order for extension of time should be made or not depends upon the circumstances of the litigation, i.e., upon the circumstances disclosed at the original trial and the events subsequent. Sinnaman v. Sham Charan, 16 C. W. N. 1090, 16 C. L. J. 520, referred to. SHYAM MANDAL v. SATINATH BANERJEE (1916) . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 954

11. Validity questioned in execution proceedings—Remedies of the aggrieved party—Practice. The Court, executing the decree, must take the decree as it stands and has no power to go behind the decree or entertain an objection to the legality or correctness of the decree. The validity of a decree cannot be questioned in execution proceedings on the ground that as the lunatic plaintiff was not properly represented by a competent next friend in the suit, no decree for costs could have been made against him. A proceeding to enforce a judgment is collateral to the judgment, and, therefore, no enquiry into its regularity, or validity can be permitted in such a proceeding. On this principle it can properly be held that a judgment against a person who was non compos mentis at the time of the trial and yet was not represented by a legal guardian, is not to be impeached in execution, but should be reversed or annulled in some direct proceeding taken for that purpose. Such a judgment can be attacked, for instance, by way of an application for review to the Court which made it, by way of an appeal or application for revision to a superior tribunal or by way of a regular suit in a Court of competent jurisdiction, but the Court which made the decree cannot, when called upon to execute it, be invited to hold that the decree was erroneously or improperly made. Authorities reviewed KALIPADA SARKAR v. HARI MOHAN DALAL (1916) I. L. R. 44 Calc. 627

3. EXECUTION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

s. 47 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 97 and 977

ss. 47 AND 66, O. II, R. 2, O. 21, R. 69 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 352

s. 47, O. XXI, R. 92. I. L. R. 44 Bom. 551

s. 145 . . I. L. R. 44 Bom. 34

O. XXI, RR. 72 AND 73. I. L. R. 44 Bom. 346

DECREE—contd.

3. EXECUTION—contd.

——— Order for stay of execution not appealable—

See Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), s. 47.

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 241

1. ——— Decree for rent— Suit for redemption—Taking of accounts under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879)—Result of account showing that mortgagee overpaid himself from rents and profits—Mortgagee's right to execute decree for rent. In virtue of a decree for four years' rent, passed at a time when the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act did not apply the plaintiff (mortgagee) became entitled to recover a certain sum from the defendant (mortgagor). After the introduction of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, the latter sued the former for redemption of the mortgage of the land in respect of which the rent-note sued on had been passed; on taking accounts in the way directed by the Act, it was found that the plaintiff as mortgagee had overpaid himself from the rents and profits of the land. The plaintiff thereafter applied to execute his decree for rent. Both the lower Courts dismissed the application on the ground that the plaintiff had already recovered more than was due to him as mortgagee from the rents and profits of the land. On appeal:—Held, that the rent decree must be executed as it stood, having regard to the fact that the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act did not apply when it was passed, and that the accounts which were taken for the purposes of the subsequent decree were taken for a special purpose—that is, for enabling the defendant to redeem on favourable terms, and did not entitle him to recover anything from the plaintiff by way of set-off. Mugappa v. Mahamadsaheb (1909)

I. L. R. 34 Bom. 260

2. ——— Legal representative —Who ought to be made representative—Person with the best primâ facie title sufficiently represents estate. A decree-holder who has to apply for execution against the legal representative of the deceased judgment-debtor, may select, from among several rival claimants, as legal representative, the one whom he believes honestly to have best primâ facie title and the representation, in the absence of fraud or collusion, will be sufficient, even though it is subsequently found out some other person is the true legal representative. Khiarajmal v. Daim, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 296 explained. Ramaswami Chettiar v. Oppila mani Chetti (1909) . . . . I. L. R. 33 Mad. 6

2(a). ——— Until a decree nisi is made absolute (which must be by proper application in Court) there is no decree capable of execution. Sir Jehanjir Cowasji v. The Hope Mills Ltd.

I. L. R. 33 Bom. 273

3. ——— Preliminary, in suit for accounts, appeal against—Final decree made pending appeal—Preliminary decree set side on appeal—Application to execute final decree—Executing Court, if can treat the final decree as superseded, though not formally set aside. On 21st March 1908, a preliminary decree was passed directing the defendant to render accounts to the plaintiff. On 21st May, the defendant preferred an appeal and did not thereafter appear in the proceedings for taking accounts which went on in the first Court and did not take any part in those proceedings which ended in a decree in favour of the plaintiff for a definite sum on the 28th May 1908. On 11th August 1908, the Appellate Court set aside the preliminary decree holding that the defendant was not bound to render any account and that decree was affirmed by the High Court in second appeal on 30th August 1910. On 22nd February 1911, the plaintiff having applied for execution of the final decree of 28th May 1908: Held, that the passing of the final decree did not take away the jurisdiction of the Appellate Court to hear the appeal against the preliminary decree. Mackenzie v. Narsinga Sahai, 10 C. L. J. 113, Baikuntha Nath v. Salimulla, 6 C. L. J. 547, and Madhusudan v. Kumini Kanta, I. L. R. 32 Calc. 1123, distinguished. That the final decree, which was dependent on and subordinate to the preliminary decree, was superseded by the decision of the Appellate Court setting aside the preliminary decree, and it was not necessary for the defendant to have the final decree formally set aside. That it was competent to the executing Court to refuse to execute the final decree on the ground that it had been superseded and ceased to be operative. Ram Nath Singh, v. Basanta Narain Singh (1913) . . 17 C. W. N. 868

4. ——— Mahomedan family—Decree for debts of a deceased Mahomedan against the heir in possession—Other heir not a party to the suit, whether bound by the decree —Representation. A Mahomedan died leaving as his heirs a son M, two widows S and B and three daughters. He bequeathed all his property to M. On M's death the property was inherited by his heirs, a daughter A and his widow R, who remained in possession of the property. A money decree was obtained against the estate of M in a suit by a creditor in which the defendants were R, S and an illegitimate son of M. A was not made a party to the suit. In execution of the decree, M's right, title and interest in house No. 371 was sold, and purchased by defendant No. 4. Subsequently, A having died, her interest in the property was conveyed by her heir to the plaintiff who sued to recover by partition A's share in house No. 371. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed as A's share in the house was not bound by the creditors' decree as she was not made a defendant in the suit and her interest could not be represented by R. Davalava v. Bhimaji Dhondo, I. L. R. 20 Bom. 338, discussed. Bhagirthibai v. Roshanbi (1918)

I. L. R. 43 Bom. 412

5. ——— Instalment decree— Decree directing interest to be paid annually and principal after twenty-five years and in default of payment of interest, interest and principal to be recovered at once—Defaults made in payment of interest—Proceedings taken from time to time for recovery of interest—Defaults mutually condoned—Subsequent application for execution for arrears of interest and principal amount —Execution not barred. A decree was passed in favour of the plaintiff on the 12th February 1894. It provided for the payment of a certain sum by way of interest every year, and for the payment of the principal

DECREE—contd.

3. EXECUTION—contd.

on the expiration of twenty-five years; but if the interest was not paid in any year then the principal and interest in one sum was to be recovered at once. The judgment-debtor made default in payment of annual instalments of interest. Execution proceedings were, therefore, taken from time to time for a series of years till 1914 in order to get payment of the instalments of interest due under the decree. In 1916, the judgment-creditor issued a Darkhast praying for execution for the whole amount, principal and interest. The judgment-debtors contended that the execution was entirely barred, because, the judgment-creditor had not taken advantage of the default clause. The trial Court dismissed the Darkhast on the ground that the principal had not become due, that only three years' interest ment-creditor after 1914 when continued default in payment of interest was made to take advantage of the decree and apply in execution further instalment which was in arrear and for the principal amount. Raichand Motichand v Dhondo Laxaman, 1918, 42 Bom. 728, referred to AMBIT KHANDERAO v. GOVIND RAMCHANDRA, 1920

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 840

6. ———— Mistake—In partition effected by Collector—Partition not in accordance with the direction of the decree—Wrongful distribution of shares—Collector's power to re-open partition—Court's duty to rectify mistake of its agent. One Atmaram Bhagwant, a member of a Mirasi family, brought a suit for partition of his 1-36th share in three villages. In November 1888 a decree was passed directing that the half share of the Desai family in each of the three villages should first be separated and the remaining share divided between the members of the Mirasi family in accordance with the decree. Atmaram applied for execution of the decree in Darkhast No. 127 of 1893, but before partition was made on this application, defendant No. 8 filed Darkhast No. 404 of 1894 for his share. These Darkhasts were disposed of in 1898 when defendant No. 8's share was separated and given into his possession. The appellants (defendants Nos. 10—12) then applied for separate possession of their share in 1900 but when the surveyor prepared a list of lands remaining over after the first partition as the share of the appellants, the latter found that the Khasgi land in one of the villages remaining for their share was less than what they were entitled to and that the plots below and adjoining their houses had been allotted to the share of defendant No. 8. They then applied to the Collector to re-open partition. The Collector declined to do this and referred the matter to the Court on the ground that the appellants refused to take possession of their shares. The appellants, therefore, applied to the Court for fresh partition and determination of their legitimate share. The lower Courts dismissed their application as being barred by res judicata. On appeal to the High Court: Held, granting the application, that the Court would not allow a mistake of one of its agents in carrying out its directions to work permanent injustice.

DECREE—contd.

3. EXECUTION—contd.

RAMCHANDRA DINKAR v. KRISHNAJI SAKHARAM. (1915) . . . I. L. R. 40 Bom. 118

7. ———— Baroda Court—Application for execution presented to Baroda Court though within time according to Baroda law, still out of time according to British Indian law—Transfer of decree to British Indian Court—Execution barred by limitation. A decree was passed by the Baroda Court in 1909. The first application to execute the decree was made in 1913, it being within the time prescribed by the law in Baroda. The decree was transferred to the Ahmedabad Court (British) for execution in 1915, where the judgment-debtor contended that no application to execute the decree having been made within three years of its date, the execution of the decree was barred. Held, that the decree was incapable of execution in the Ahmedabad Court having been barred according to the British Law of Limitation which governed the case NABIBHAI VAZIRBHAI v. DAYABHAI AMULAKH (1916)

I. L. R. 40 Bom. 504

8. ———— Instalment decree— Entire decretal debt to become payable on failure to pay any one instalment—Application to execute the decree three years after default. An instalment decree was made on June 28, 1909. It provided that the debt be paid in eight annual instalments and that on failure to pay any one of the instalments before the next had become due, the creditor could call in the whole amount of debt with interest at the agreed rate It was found that no instalment was ever paid In September 1915 the creditor presented the Darkhast but the lower Courts held it time-barred On appeal to the High Court it was contended that it was optional with arrears then due. Held, that on the terms of the decree a complete legally enforceable right had accrued to the judgment-creditor on failure to pay the first annual instalment in June 1910, and the period of limitation allowed to him within which to enforce it was three years and no longer. The darkhast was, therefore, barred by limitation. RAICHAND MOTICHAND v. DHONDO LAXUMAN (1918) . . . I. L. R. 42 Bom. 728

for to not in sed on 18th February 1899. The first Darkhast was presented on 20th March 1907; second on 31st March 1910 and a third on 12th September 1910, when the defendant appeared and contended that the Darkhast of 31st March 1910 was barred. The Court decided that the Darkhast of 12th September 1910 was in time and directed that the money due should be paid by instalments. On 26th March 1913, Rs. 220 were paid to plaintiff. The last Darkhast was filed on 19th November 1915 to recover the balance due. The lower appellate Court dismissed the Darkhast as time-barred on the ground that the decree was dead on 31st March 1910 and even though the further Darkhast was admitted thereafter that would not have the effect of reviving the On a to the High Court, Held, that the Darkhast was within time as the order made on the Darkhast of 12th September 1910, not having been reversed on appeal, was valid. Mungal Pershad Dichit v. Girja Kant Lahiri Chowdhry (1881) L. R. 8 I. A. 123, relied on. DESAIPPA v. DUNDAPPA

DECREE—contd.

3. EXECUTION—contd.

I. L. R. 44 Bom. 227

10. ———— Surety-bond for restitution—Suit. Where a bond is passed as security for restitution in the event of the decree being reversed in appeal, a suit based upon such bond can be maintained. MOTILAL VIRCHAND v. THAKORE CHANDRASANGJI (1911)

I. L. R. 36 Bom. 42

4. FORM.

———— Irregularity — Decree not drawn up—Contents of decree—Costs—Practice. It is the duty of a Court to draw up a decree after a case has been decided, and the decree should show the costs incurred by the parties. SAGAR CHANDRA MANDAL v. DIGAMBAR MANDAL (1910)

I. L. R. 38 Calc. 125

5. TRANSFER AND ASSIGNMENT.

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

I. L. R. 43 Calc. 890

1. ———— Transfer takes effect from date of transfer and not from date of its recognition by Court. Where a decree is transferred by an instrument in writing, such transfer takes effect from the date of such instrument and not from the date of its recognition by the Court. Puthiandi Mammed v. Avalil Moidin, I. L. R. 20 Mad. 157, considered. The transfer of a decree may, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, be regarded as conditional upon the Court granting the transferee permission to execute. The transferee, before repudiating the transfer, is bound to do all that is reasonably necessary to obtain such permission. SADAGOPA CHARIAR v. RAGHUNATHA CHARIAR (1909)

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 62

2. ———— Assignment to defeat creditors —Transfer made for valuable consideration, but not bond fide—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 53—Statute 13 Eliz., c. 5—Validity of transfer of moveable property—Practice of Privy Council—Point not before Courts below. In this case the Judicial Committee upheld the decision of the High Court as to the invalidity of certain assignments which though for good consideration were made to defeat creditors; and held that the question whether any of the parties could establish right based not on the assignments but on other grounds such as the actual payment of debts, was a point not before the Courts below, and therefore their Lordships would not decide it. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR v. SRINIVASA SASTRIAL (1914) . . . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 227

3. ———— It may be questioned as benami in execution proceeding—Decree assigned to judgment-debtor's pleaders —Effect—Pleader trustee bound to reconvey on terms—Proper procedure, institution of suit. The assignment of a decree to the pleader of the judgment-debtor does not extinguish the judgment-debt and release the judgment-debtor from liability. The pleader

DECREE—contd.

5. TRANSFER AND ASSIGNMENT—contd.

holds the decree on trust for his client and is bound, if called upon by the latter, to assign the decree to him, but no Court will decree such an assignment except, upon equitable terms. A question that the assignee of a decree is benamidar for some body else cannot be gone into in execution proceeding. When the judgment-debtors alleged that the assignee was a benamidar for their pleader. Held, that it was not practicable in execution proceedings to go behind the decree and alter the liability of the parties, after investigation of the sum which would be equitably payable by the judgment-debtor to the assignee of the decree to entitle him to obtain a reconveyance thereof. This should be the subject of investigation in a suit, the execution proceedings being stayed to enable the judgment-debtor to institute such a suit. NAGENDRABALA DASSI v. DEBENDRA NATH MAHISH (1917)

22 C. W. N. 491

DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR.

———— Court-sale in execution of decree, validity of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art. 12, applicability of. A decree obtained against a person treating him as a minor while in reality he was a major on its date is not a nullity; consequently a sale in execution of such a decree cannot be set aside on the ground that the Court had no jurisdiction to pass the decree. The period of limitation to apply to set aside the court-sale is one year as provided by Article 12 of the Limitation Act. SESHAGIRI RAO v. HANUMANATHA RAO (1915)

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 1031

DECREE FOR DIVORCE.

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869), s. 37.

I. L. R. 39 Bom. 182

DECREE FOR INJUNCTION.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 2 (11) 53.

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 504

DECREE FOR MONEY.

———— payment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 O. XXI, R. 1 . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 35

DECREE FOR PARTITION.

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908), ART. 182. . . I. L. R. 45 Bom. 952

———— Decree made absolute unnecessarily—Application to execute the decree if made within three years of the final decree is in order.

DECREE FOR POSSESSION.

———— Decree-holder obtaining possession of the property without executing the decree—Subsequent dispossession—Maintainability of a fresh suit—Doctrine of merger where applicable. The doctrine of merger does not apply to a decree for ejectment. If a party obtains a decree for a debt or for damages for tort, the original cause of action merges in the decree, but a decree in ejectment differs very much from other decrees. Plaintiff obtained a decree for possession of certain immoveable property which she did not put into execution for over three years, but had obtained actual physical possession over the property. She was subsequently dispossessed and brought a suit for possession. Held, that as she had been in actual possession of the property, a fresh cause of action had accrued and her suit was maintainable being within twelve years of such dispossession. Quære: Whether a suit is maintainable upon a decree when the execution of it has become time-barred. DHANRAJ SINGH v. LAKHRANI KUNWAR (1916)

DECREE FOR POSSESSION—contd.

I. L. R. 38 All. 509

DECREE FOR RENT.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 926

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 38 Calc. 923

———— Right of Landlord to choose manner of execution. Held, that it was not competent for a Court to direct in what manner the landlord shall execute a decree for rent and he cannot be compelled to proceed first against the holding and then against the person of the tenant. MAHARAJAH KESHO PRASAD SINHA v. LALGI RAY
1 Pat. L. J. 138

DECREE-HOLDER.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882), s. 258 I. L. R. 34 Bom. 575
39 Mad. 1026

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 41 All. 274

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), s. 8, SCH. II, ART. 179, EXPL. I.
I. L. R. 34 Bom. 672

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—
s. 22 . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 837
SCH. I, ARTS. 29, 62 AND 120.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 972

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907, ss 16 AND 34 . 1 Pat. L. J. 235

———— fraud of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 47 AND 50.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 1076

———— Rival—

See RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION.
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 221

———— status of—

See SALE . . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 294

———— Petition for execution —Sale of properties not mentioned in the decree—Personal decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), O. XXXIV, r. 6—Application, if necessary—Court's power to amend—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), s. 153. A decree-holder cannot ignore the terms of a decree directing him to bring the properties mentioned in it to sale before proceeding against other properties of the judgment-debtor. Manti Kamoji v. Chodimalla Ramamurthy, 3 Mad. L. T. 325. Varadiah v. Raja Perumal Raja Bahadur, Appeal Against O. 257 of 1909, followed. But when the judgment-debtor has no saleable interest in the properties directed to be sold, the decree-holder need not go through the farce of putting them up to sale. A decree directing the defendant to pay a certain sum, and in default directing the hypothecated property to be sold is a personal decree, Raja of Kalahasti v. Varadachariar, 21 Mad. L. J. 1036, followed. When there is a personal decree, no application for another personal decree under O. XXXIV, r. 6, can be granted. Dinabandhu v. Mashuda, 16 C. L. J. 318, referred to. S. 153 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) enables the Court under the above circumstances to order, if necessary, an amendment of the execution petition. PERIYASAMI KONE v. MUTHIA CHETTIAR (1913)

DECREE-HOLDER—contd.

I. L. R. 38 Mad. 677

DECREE IN FORECLOSURE.

See MORTGAGE . I. L. R. 39 Calc. 925

DECREE NISI.

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879), s 15B.
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 477

See MORTGAGE
I. L. R. 43 Bom. 334

———— Decree for possession on payment of a certain sum within six months, in default, forfeiture of the right to recover possession—Appeal—Confirmation of decree—The term of six months to run from the date of the final decree. The plaintiff brought a suit to recover possession of property as purchaser from defendants 1—6 and to redeem the mortgage of defendant 7. The first Court having dismissed the suit, the appellate Court, on plaintiff's appeal, passed a decree directing the plaintiff to recover possession on payment to defendants 1—6 of a certain sum within six months from the date of its decree and then to redeem defendant 7, and on plaintiff's failure to pay within six months from the date of the decree he should forfeit his right to recover possession. All parties being dissatisfied with the decree, the plaintiff preferred a second appeal to the High Court and the two sets of defendants filed separate sets of cross objections. The High Court confirmed the decree and the plaintiff's second appeal and the defendants' cross objections were dismissed. Within six months of the date of the High Court's decree the plaintiff deposited in Court the amount payable by him [illegible] ndant 7 con- [illegible] ving complied [illegible] first appellate Court, his right to recover possession in execution was forfeited. The lower Courts upheld the defendant's contention and dismissed the darkhast. On second appeal by the plaintiff, Held, reversing the decree, that the time for executing a decree nisi for possession ran from the date of the High Court's decree confirming the decree of the lower Court, for what was [illegible] looked at and interpreted was the [illegible]

[illegible]

DECREE ON MORTGAGE.

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877), SCH. II, ART. 179
I. L. R. 39 Bom. 20

DECREE OVER.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. XXXIV, R. 6
I. L. R. 42 All. 519

DEDICATION.

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT.
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 951

———————— These can be dedicated by a joint family and no deed is necessary. TADI BULLI TAMMIREDDI v. TADI BULLI GANGIREDDI.
I. L. R. 45 Mad. 281

DEDICATED PROPERTY.

———— acquisition of—

See SHEBAIT . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 895

DEED.

See EVIDENCE, ADMISSIBILITY OF.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 892

———— construction of—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED.

See PROMISSORY NOTE.
I. L. R. 36 Mad. 370

———— execution of—

See PARDANASHIN LADY.
I. L. R. 47 Calc. 175

———— form of proof of—

See EVIDENCE . I. L. R. 44 Calc. 345

———————— Interpretation of deed —Reference to conduct where language unambiguous, if permissible. Where the language of a written instrument is clear, no reference is permissible for its interpretation to the conduct of the parties. ROHIM BAKSH MANDAL v. SHAJAD AHMAD (1914)
19 C. W. N. 1311

———————— Material alteration of —Destruction of right of suit—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881), s. 87. An alteration in a document which has the effect of enabling the payee to sue on the document in a Court where he could not have sued on it in its original form is a material alteration and as such destroys the right of action on the document. Altering a negotiable instrument by causing the words "or order" to disappear and making it non-negotiable is a material alteration, under ordinary law and also under s. 87 of the Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881). The facts that the payee eventually filed the suit in another Court different from the one intended at the time of the alteration and that it was not necessary for him to rely on the altered state of document to enable him to succeed therein do not make the alteration any the less material. Gour Chandra Das v. Prasanna Kumar Chandra, I. L. R. 33 Calc. 812, followed. Decroix, Verley et Cie. v. Meyer & Co., 25 Q. B. D. 343, distinguished. LAKSHMAMMAL v. NARASIMHARAGHAVA AIYANGAR (1913)
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 746

DEED—contd.

———————— "Easements, advantages, appurtenances, held and enjoyed as part of the house," meaning of. Words in a sale-deed of a house, such as the following:—"All my right, title and interest in and to the said house and ground with all the buildings, fixtures, rights, easements, advantages and appurtenances, whatsoever to the said house and ground appertaining or with the same held and enjoyed or reputed as part thereof or appurtenant thereto," are wide enough to convey not only actually existing easements but also (a) a way formerly enjoyed as an easement, but as to which the right had been suspended by unity of possession of the two tenements, and (b) a way, which during the unity of possession, had never existed as an easement but was in fact used for the convenience of one of the tenements afterwards served. Chunder Coomer Mookerji v. Koylash Chunder Sett, I. L. R. 7 Calc. 665, followed. If on a disposition of property belonging to the same owner, tenements are served and conveyed to different people either simultaneously or at different times but as part of one transaction, quasi easements, apparent and continuous and necessary for the enjoyment of the several tenements as they were enjoyed at the time of severance, will pass to the grantees thereof. In either case the conveyances are regarded in equity as one transaction, and each grantee who takes his tenement with the knowledge that the other tenements are being conveyed at the same time or will be conveyed as part of the same transaction, is deemed, in the absence of express stipulation, to take the land burdened or benefited, as the case may be, by the qualities which the previous owner had a right to attach to the different portions of his property before severance. VENKIAH v. KRISHNAMOORTHY (1913)
I. L. R. 38 Mad. 141

DEED OF CONVEYANCE.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 362

DEED OF ENDOWMENT.

See RELIGIOUS TRUST.
I. L. R. 40 Calc. 251

DEED OF SALE.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 56

DEED OF TRUST.

See TRUST . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 232
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 19

DEFAMATION.

See ACQUITTAL I. L. R. 37 Calc. 604

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872), s. 132.
I. L. R. 40 All. 271
I. L. R. 43 All. 92

See LIBEL

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 880

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s. 498 . I. L. R. 37 Mad. 110

See PENAL CODE, s. 499.

DEFAMATION—contd.

See Privy Council, practice of.
I. L. R. 41 Calc 1023

See Tort . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 433

——— made outside British India—

See Tort . I. L. R. 39 Mad. 433

——— suit for—

See Civil Procedure Code, 1908, O. XXV, r. 1 . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 421

1.——— Subsequent prosecution—Acquittal under s. 182 of the Penal Code—Subsequent complaint under s. 500 by the person defamed, in respect of the same statement—Subsequent prosecution not barred—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), s. 403. An acquittal under s. 182 of the Penal Code in respect of false information contained in a petition to the manager of an estate is no bar to a subsequent prosecution for defamation under s. 500 of the Penal Code, on the same statements. Sharbekhan Gohain v. Emperor, 10 C. W. N. 85, distinguished. Ram Sebak Lal v. Muneswar Singh (1910)
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 604

2.——— By pleader—Questions put in cross-examination on instructions without ascertaining their truth or falsity—Absence personal malice—Presumption of good faith—Rebuttal of presumption—Duty of Advocate—Public good—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 499 Exception (9). A pleader is entitled to the presumption that the questions he his client's interest. Upendra Nath Bagchi v. Emperor, I. L. R. 36 Calc. 375 ; 13 C. W. N. 340, followed. It is the duty of the pleader to present his client's case, but it is not his duty to enquire whether it is true or false, so far, at any rate, as the purpose of a prosecution for defamation is concerned. It is for the public good that a person charged with the responsibility of an advocate should, as far as may be, feel unfettered by any control, other than that of the Court, in the use of every weapon placed at his disposal by law for the defence of his client Nikunja Behari Sen v. Harendra Chandra Singh (1913)

I. L. R. 41 Calc. 514

3.——— Expulsion from caste — Words imputing loss of caste, when actionable—Privilege —Caste usage. It is open to one member of a caste to refuse to associate with another for what he considers to be an infringement of caste rules; and no Court can call upon him to assign a reason for not associating. It is not however open to one member to call another an outcaste. The caste or the majority of them may expel a member from the caste. The Courts will interfere if he is so expelled without being given a proper opportunity for explanation. Words which impute unworthiness to remain a member of the caste are defamatory and give rise to a cause of action; and where the words used are ambiguous, it must be decided on evidence whether they were intended to bear a libellous meaning. Where a libellous communication is made regarding a member of a caste, the mere fact that the person making such communication is a member of the caste, will not of itself suffice to make the communication privileged. Cooposami Chetty v. Duraisami Chetty (1909)
I. L. R. 33 Mad. 67

4.——— Pleader's comment in Court that the Plaintiff forged documents by means of fraud if amounts to—Suit for defamation against pleader—Defence pleader's comment that "the Plaintiff forged documents by means of fraud," if amounts to defamation—Legitimate comments, privilege of—Question of malice and of personal charge. In a suit for rent the defence pleader, while commenting on certain exhibits, used the expression that "the Plaintiff (a lady) forged documents by means of fraud." In a previous rent suit brought by the husband of the Plaintiff, the collection papers were held to have been manufactured. Held— necessarily imply any personal charge against the lady, who might have had nothing personally to do with the suit beyond the fact that she was was in in good is client and his remarks were not irrelevant but were pertinent to the enquiry which was being made before the Judge and had a direct bearing on the case. Shiva Kumari Debi v Becharam Lahiri

25 C. W. N. 835

5.——— Statement by accused—made in application to District Magistrate for transfer of case—Absolute or qualified privilege—English law, applicability of, in the mofussil—Construction of Statues—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 499. S. 499 of the Penal Code is exhaustive; and if a defamatory statement does not fall within the specified Exceptions, it is not privileged. The English common law doctrine of absolute privilege does not obtain in the mofussil in India. A defamatory statement made in bad faith by an accused, against whom a trial is pending in a Criminal Court, and contained in a petition to the District Magistrate for a transfer of the case, is not absolutely privileged, but is punishable under declares the law, and it is not the province of a Judge to disregard or go outside the letter of the enactment according to its true construction: Gokul Mandar v. Pudmanund Singh, I. L. R. 29 Calc. 707, followed. KARI SINGH v. EMPEROR (1912) . . . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 433

[illegible] Mugneeram Choudhary, 11 B. L. R. 321, Bhikumber Singh v. Becharam Sircar, I. L. R. 15 Calc. 264, Woolfun Bibi v. Jesarat Shaikh, I. L. R. 27 Calc. 262, Golap Jan v. Bholanath Khettry, I. L. R. 38 Calc. 880, distinguished. Haidar Ali v. Abru Mia, I. L R. 32 Calc. 756, referred to. Kari Singh v. Emperor, I. L. R. 40 Calc. 441 (note), explained. The proper course in construing an Act is to ascertain the natural meaning of its language, and not to assume that it was intended to leave the existing law unaltered, except when such intention is stated: Bank of England v. Vagliano, [1891] A. C. 107, and Norendra Nath Sircar v. Kamalbasini Dasi, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 563, followed. The essence of a Code is to be exhaustive in the matters in respect of which it

DEFAMATION—contd.

6. ——————— Defamatory statements by a party to a judicial proceeding—Absolute or qualified privilege—Distinction between civil and criminal liability—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) Preamble and ss. 1, 2, 5 and 499—Charter Act (24 and 25 Vict. c. 104) s. 9—Letters Patent, 1865, cl. 30—Common Law of England as to defamation—Reference to previous history of legislation—Construction of Codes—Illustrations as aid to construction—Refusal of sanction not bar to prosecution for defamation—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s. 403—Powers of the Supreme and High Courts in contempts. A defamatory statement, on oath or otherwise, by a party to a judicial proceeding falls within s. 499 of the Penal Code, and is not absolutely privileged. Under cl. 30 of the Letters Patent, 1865, the provisions of such Code must be followed, and the Court cannot engraft thereon exceptions derived from the Common Law of England or based on public policy. The civil liability for defamation in India does not stand on the same basis as the criminal. A suit for damages for a defamatory statement, made on oath or otherwise, by a party to a judicial proceeding, in the absence of statutory rules on the subject, is governed by the principles of justice, equity and good conscience, which according to a large preponderance of judicial opinion, are identical with the corresponding relevant rules of English Common Law. The preamble to the Penal Code and ss. 1 and 2, read with s. 5, prescribe that all acts or omissions contrary to the provisions of the Code, or of special and local laws, or other laws enumerated in s. 5 of the Code and none others are punishable as offences. H. C. Pro. 22 Sept. 1866, 3 Mad. H. C. Ap. XI, XVII, referred to. Reference to the previous history of legislation is legitimate only when there is a reasonable doubt as to the construction of a statute. Ishuree Persad Narain Sing v. Lal Chutterput Sing, 3 Moo. I. A. 100, 130, Brown v. McLachlan, L. R. 4 P. C. 543, 550, referred to. But in the construction of Codes the language of the statute and its natural meaning must be first examined, uninfluenced by any consideration of the previous law on the point, and an interpretation cannot be placed on the plain language of a statute inconsistent therewith on the supposed policy of the Legislature not to depart from the English Law on the subject. Bank of England v. Vagliano Bros., [1891] A. C. 107, Robinson v. Canadian Pacific Ry. Co., [1892] A. C. 481, Narendra Nath Sircar v. Kamalbasini Dasi, I. L. R. 23 Calc. 563, followed. The history, however, of the Penal Code shows an intention to deviate in many respects from the English Law of defamation. Drafts of the Penal Code, 1837, Note R of 1846 and 1847, Chap. XXXV, referred to. The Court must administer the law as prescribed by the Legislature and neither enlarge nor restrict its scope. Egerton v. Brownlow, 4 H. L. C. 1, 123, referred to. An illustration is a useful indication of the intention of the Legislature but is not binding when inconsistent with the language of the section. Dubey Sahai v. Ganeshi Lal, I. L. R. 1 All. 34, 36, Queen-Empress v. Fakirapa, I. L. R. 15 Bom. 491, Koylash Chunder Ghose v. Sonatun Chung Barooie, I. L. R. 7 Calc. 132, referred to The Court should accept the illustrations when it can do so in aid of construction and they should not be rejected for inconsistency with ideas derived from another system of jurisprudence, nor, except in a very special case, for an assumed repugnancy. Mahomed Syedol Ariffin v. Yesh Ooi Gark [1916] 2 A. C. 575, referred to. The refusal of an application for sanction to prosecute a party to a judicial proceeding, under ss. 182, 193, I. P. C., is not a bar, under s. 403, Cr. P. C., to his prosecution for defamation. Ram Sebak Lal v. Munesuar, I. L. R. 37 Calc. 604, referred to. The Supreme Court had power to punish summarily for contempts under the Common Law of England, such part thereof having been introduced into the Presidency Towns by their Charters; and the High Courts have the same power either by inheritance under s. 9 of the Charter Act 24 and 25 Vict. c. 104), replaced by the Government of India Act, 1915 (5 and 6 Geo. V. c. 61), s. 106, or as inherent in them as Courts of Record, unrestricted by cl. 30 of the Letters Patent, 1865. Surendra Nath Banerjee v. C. J. and Judges of the High Court, I. L. R. 10 Calc. 109, 131, McDermot v. Judges of British Guiana, 5 Moo. P. C. (N. S.) 466, 497, Legal Remembrancer v. Matilal Ghose, I. L. R. 41 Calc. 173, and Re Motilal Ghose, I. L. R. 45 Calc. 169, referred to. Similarly the power and authority exercised by the Supreme Court outside the Presidency Towns, as indicated in Re Maharanee of Lahore, (1848) Tay 428, has become vested in the High Court subject, however, to the provisions of the Letters Patent and the legislative power of Governor-General in Council. Authorities reviewed. SATISH CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v. RAM DOYAL DE (1920)

I. L. R. 48 Calc. 388

DEFAULT.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908, O. IX

See CONSENT DECREE.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 544

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879), s. 15B, CL. (2).
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 190

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I. L. R. 38 Calc. 482

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 39 Mad. 981

See WAIVER . . 15 C. W. N. 10

——————— dismissal of suit for—

See APPEAL . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 426

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), s. 10 . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 867

——————— in filing annual list of members—

See COMPANY . I. L. R. 45 Calc. 490

——————— in payment of instalments—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 38 Mad. 374

DEFAULTER.

See INCUMBRANCE.
I. L. R. 37 Calc. 322

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.
I. L. R. 41 Calc. 1092
I. L. R. 44 Calc. 412

DEFECT.

See CHARGE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 66

DEFECTIVE DECLARATION.

See INSURANCE I. L. R. 41 Calc. 581

DEFECTIVE INSTALLATION.

See GAS COMPANY . 14 C. W. N. 158

DEFENCE.

See HABEAS CORPUS.
I. L. R. 39 Calc. 164

———— opportunity for—

See MUTT . I. L. R. 40 Mad. 177

———— struck out—

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT.
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 95

DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915.

See CONTRACT ACT 1892 s. 23.
I. L. R. 44 Bom. 6

———— s. 2—

1. ———————— Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules, 1915, rr. 23, 29 and 30—Procedure—Criminal Procedure Code, s. 191. Upon a statement made to a District Magistrate, not upon oath and not signed by the informant, the Magistrate issued warrants against four persons in respect of an offence under r. 23 of the Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules, 1915. These four persons were tried for and convicted of such offence, and were sentenced to twenty months' imprisonment: Held, that the trial was bad. Either the Magistrate was acting under s. 191 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in which case he was bound to ask the accused if they objected statement upon oath. Furthermore, with reference to rule 30 of the rules in question, the Dis- ... corded a formal ... that the initia- ... e persons impli- ... nent was advisable: Held, also, that the rule under which the conviction had been recorded was inapplicable to the facts of the case, because it is not possible to "dissuade" a person from doing something which he has already done. EMPEROR v. MAHADEO SINGH (1918) . . . I. L. R. 41 All. 164

2. ———————— Rules framed under, creating offences—Time from which acts specified in rules are offences—Special tribunals, no creation of—Trial by Magistrates as under Criminal Procedure Code, validity of—Sanction for prosecution by Acting District Magistrate, validity of—General Clauses Act (X of 1897), s. 17, cl. (1). Rules framed under s. 2 of the Defence of India Act must be read as part of that section and are effective from the date of their publication and are not dependent on the remainder of the Act being brought into operation. Held, accordingly, that a person in the Presidency of Madras, who, in contravention of the rules, dissuades anyone from entering into His Majesty's Military Service, is guilty of an offence though the remainder of the Act had not been brought into operation in this province: Held, further, that in the absence of a notification creating special tribunals for the trial of such offences under the Defence of India Act, such offences are triable by the ordinary Magisterial Courts of the country in the manner provided by the Criminal Procedure Code as 'offences against other laws' within schedule II of the Code. By virtue of s. 17, cl. (1), of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897) an Acting District Magistrate is competent to sanction a prosecution in all cases where a District Magistrate can sanction the same. KANDASAMI PILLAI v. EMPEROR (1918) . I. L. R. 42 Mad. 69

DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT, 1915—contd.

———— s. 2—contd.

———— s. 4— Power to create Courts— S. 22 of the Indian Councils Act read with s. 9 of

...

A High Court has power to declare an Act of the Indian Legislature ultra vires. PARAMESWARAHIR v. EMPEROR . . . 3 Pat. L. J. 537

———— ss. 7, 8 and 11—Jurisdiction of High Court—Held, that the High Court had no jurisdiction to superintend the proceedings of Commissioners appointed under the Act. SHEONANDAN PRASAD SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR.
3 Pat. L. J. 581

———— rules 23, 29 and 30—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT, 1915, s. 2
I. L. R. 41 All. 164

DEFENDANT.

See PROBATE . I. L. R. 41 Calc. 519

———— addition of—

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 48

———— changing character of—

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 37 Calc. 229

———— duty of—

See PLEADINGS I. L. R. 37 Calc. 856

———— misdescription of—

See PLAINT . I. L. R. 43 Calc. 441

———— right to offer evidence—

See PRACTICE . I. L. R. 40 Calc. 119

———————— Death of — Legal Representative not brought on record—Decree subsequent to such death, validity of—Objection to such decree in execution. A decree passed after the death of the defendant and before his legal representative was brought on the record is a nullity. Janardhan v. Ramachandra, I. L. R. 26 Bom. 317. Radha Prasad Singh v. Lal Sahab Rai, I. L. R. 13 All. 53, and Imdad Ali v. Jagan Lal, I. L. R. 17 All. 478, followed. Goda Coopooramier v. Soondrammall, I. L. R. 33 Mad. 167, distinguished. Objection to that effect can be taken in the execution proceedings. SUBRAMANIA v. VAITHINATHA (1913) . . . . I. L. R. 38 Mad. 682

DEITY.

See PARTIES . I. L. R. 46 Calc. 877

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM. XVII OF 1879).

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), ss. 2, 97, O. XXVI, rr. 11, 12 (2). I. L. R. 38 Bom. 392

s. 11 . . I. L. R. 36 Bom. 548

See DECREE . I. L. R. 34 Bom. 260

See MORTGAGE. I. L. R. 43 Bom. 703

——— Wife of an agriculturist—Status— Suit by mortgagee to recover possession—Prayer for payment of principal and interest at certain rate—Decree—Payment of principal and interest—Payment of interest at certain rate till the principal is doubled—Contractual relation not superseded by the decree—Redemption suit—Accounts. Under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) the wife of an agriculturist cannot claim to be an agriculturist. A decree obtained by a mortgagee in the year 1867 to recover possession of the mortgaged property set out that the plaintiff (mortgagee) was suing for possession of the mortgaged land with a prayer that until possession should be delivered over, or until the mortgage money was paid off, interest should be awarded at the rate of 2 per cent. per mensem. The decree then ordered that the mortgagor "should pay to the plaintiff (mortgagee) R390 and interest, R27, in respect of his claim. Until payment of the moneys, or until the principal is doubled, interest should be paid at the rate of 2 per cent. per mensem from 30th July 1867; and until payment of the moneys the land mortgaged, which was asked for in suit, should be handed over according to agreement. And the defendant should redeem the land by paying the plaintiff's money." Subsequently the mortgagor having brought a suit for redemption and accounts it was contended that the plaintiff's right to have accounts taken from the mortgagee in possession was lost by reason of the aforesaid decree: Held, that the terms of the decree did not deprive the mortgagor of a right to accounts. The decree did not supersede the contractual relation, but by putting the mortgagee into possession merely carried out the terms of the contract which for the rest it preserved and kept alive. There was no foreclosure either in fact or in intention, and it was in his capacity as mortgagee entitled by the contract to possession that he was put into possession by the said decree. RADHABAI v. RAMCHANDRA VISHNU AND RAMCHANDRA VISHNU v. RADHABAI (1910) . . . . I. L. R. 35 Bom. 204

——— Redemption suit—Tagavi advance by Government,—Nature of—Auction sale for non-payment of the advance—Benami purchase by the mortgagee—Advantage gained in derogation of the rights of the mortgagor—Purchase ensures for the benefit of the mortgagor—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882), s. 90—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 76, clause (c)—Land Revenue Code (Bom. Act V of 1879), ss. 56, 153—Land Improvement Loans Act (XIX of 1883), s. 7. One B passed a San mortgage of the properties in suit in favour of N on the 20th September 1894. After B's death his widow K, for herself and on behalf of her minor daughter, the plaintiff, executed a fresh possessory mortgage in favour of defendant No. 1, in 1903, and put him in possession. Before the date of this mortgage, K had obtained a tagavi advance from Government on survey

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM. XVII OF 1879)—contd.

